As to resignation of the office of Speaker, 14, 16
Opinions and Rulings of :
A motion to suspend the operation of the standing orders may be made without notice on the House passing a motion under standing order 98, declaring the matter to be dealt with one of "urgent and pressing necessity," 5
The ordinary course for obtaining supply can be varied by the decision of the House, 5 An hon. member should not discuss a subject on the notice-paper under cover of a motion for adjournment, 7, 8
The course to be taken in the absence of sessional orders, when no time for the adjournment of the House is named in the motion, is to follow the usual time of meeting, 13
The meeting of the House, point of order, 18
A decision of the Chair is the decision of the House unless dissented from, 19
Not in order to impute that hon. members dare not dissent from the ruling of the Chair, 20 ; or to say that an hon. member and his class are "insufferably below contempt," 24 ; or to accuse an hon. member of falsehood, 84 ; or to say that an hon. member took a certain course out of a desire to "hoodwink the Governor," 133

SPEAKER, Mr. (continued) :

- Opinions and Rulings of :
As to the right of the hon. member, Sir Henry Parkes, to address the Chair, 22, 23
A resolution, which is not a motion of privilege, but one expressing an opinion as to a question of constitutional propriety, should not be taken in the middle of the speech of the hon. member who is in possession of the House, 24
Hon. member, Mr. Shepherd, should refrain from interrupting, 26, 53 Question whether the hon. member, Sir Henry Parkes, has vacated his seat by acting in an office of profit under the Crown, is one purely for the House, and not for the Chair, 27
It is not for the Chair to say whether the methods of debate are fair or unfair, 56

order, 68, 70, 71, 72
