ANSWERING OF QUESTIONS, 126.
BUSINESS OF THE HOUSE, 135, 1449.

CHAIRMAN OF COMMITTEES AND DEPUTY-SPEAKER (WILLIAM WHALEY HEDGES, ESQ.), RULING, OPINIONS AND OBSERVATIONS:

Architects (Amendment) Bill: It having been moved that the Committee disagree to an amendment made by the Legislative Council providing that appeals should lie to the Supreme Court instead of to a court of petty sessions or a District Court, the Minister in charge of the measure submitted that the Leader of the Opposition, in addressing himself to the motion, was out of order in referring to the alternative courts to which an appeal might lie, as in doing so he was discussing a problem already decided by the Committee during the current session. The Chairman ruled that it was not in order to contradict a principle already agreed to during the current session, but that would not occur if the motion were carried, as the position would then stand as it was when the bill was sent to the Legislative Council, 2315-16.

- SPEAKER, MR. (THE HON. R. W. D. WEAVER), RULINGS AND OPINIONS:
Abbeo Allegations: Personal Explanation:
When making a personal explanation refuting alleged misrepresentation by another hon. member, an hon. member may not enter into a controversy upon the subject, but must confine his explanation to the allegations made against him. Nor can there be a personal explanation except with the indulgence of the House, 2186-8.
Address-in-Reply: Motion of Censure:
There can be no discussion on the motion for the adjournment when the House is dealing with a motion of censure on the motion for the adoption of the Address-in-Reply, 126.
An hon. member is not entitled to employ the word "lying" in describing a speech made by another hon. member, 151.

ASSEMBLY (continued):

- SPEAKER, MR. (THE HON. R. W. D. WEAVER), RULINGS AND OPINIONS (continued):
Adjournment: On the motion for the adjournment hon. members may not engage in a general debate; their remarks must be of a specific character, 2490.
Adjournment: Point of Order: An hon. member desiring to raise a point of order upon what he considers to be objectionable remarks by another hon. member should do so at the time that the incident arises. He may not re-debate the subject on the motion for the adjournment of the House, 971.
Eastern Suburbs Railway, m.: The word "trick," when used to describe an action of the Government, is an unparliamentary expression and must not be used by an hon. member, 530.
Food Relief Scales: An hon. member may not read the contents of a letter to the House unless he divulges the name of the writer to hon. members, or hands the letter to the Minister, 449.
Horse-breeding Bill: The remark that the House is about to have "an exhibition" from the hon. member for Newtown does not necessarily imply a personal reflection upon that hon. member, 1229.
Local Government (Elections) Bill: An hon. member is entitled to express his opinion, and in stating that in his opinion the Government has broken the law, he is not transgressing the standing orders, 761.
Military Censorship, m.: When submitting a motion of urgency, an hon. member must confine himself to the reasons for urgency, and may not discuss the merits of the case, 481.
National Emergency Bill: It is not permissible for an hon. member, not even a Minister, to read the whole of his speech. This ruling must be obeyed, 1649.
Petitions remain a permanent record of Parliament, q., 74.
Questions: Common courtesy and decency should compel hon. members to remain silent until a Minister has completed his answer to a question. Mr. Speaker will have removed from the Chamber those hon. members who refuse to remain silent while a Minister is answering a question, 250, 1582.
An hon. member, having been requested to place a lengthy question on the Questions and Answers paper, may 24 September, 1940, to 18 April, 1941.

ASSEMBLY (continued):

not circumvent the ruling of the Chair by endeavouring later to submit it orally, 337.

The Minister for Education brings interjections upon himself by deliberately disregarding the statement of the hon. member for Botany who, having asked a question of the Minister, is entitled to a reply, 341.

An hon. member may ask a question if he seeks information, but, unless he can vouch for its accuracy, he may not quote a newspaper as his authority for the matter to which he directs attention, 423, 522.

An hon. member is not entitled to preface a question by stating facts, 426.

When a question is asked in the House it becomes the property of the House, and hon. members other than the one who asks a question are entitled to know the Minister's reply. It has become the practice of some Ministers, upon being asked a question, to promise to furnish a reply personally to the hon. member who asked it. This creates a hiatus in the journals of the House, which contain a record of the question, but no answer. It also denies to hon. members generally an opportunity to learn the contents of the reply. Ministers are asked, therefore, to be good enough to furnish through the House itself their answers to questions, 448.

The length of the answer given by a Minister to a question raises no issue that requires a ruling by Mr. Speaker. Nor can the Minister's answer be restricted because of the fact that the debate on the Budget is proceeding, a circumstance that affords the Minister an opportunity to address himself to such a subject during the course of that debate, 720.

Unemployed Delegation: The allegation that access to the precincts of the House had been denied delegates from an unemployed organisation who wished to present petitions to their parliamentary representatives, will receive consideration, q., 79.

Valedictory Observations: 2488.
