FIRE BRIGADES ACT, 1884.

(GOULBURN FIRE BRIGADES BOARD—FIFTH ANNUAL REPORT.)

Presented to Parliament pursuant to Act 47 Vic. No. 3, sec. 7.

The Chairman of the Goulburn Fire Brigades Board to The Colonial Secretary.

Sir,

Goulburn, 31 January, 1890.

We have the honor to present you with the fifth Annual Report of the Goulburn Fire Brigades Board.

We regret we are unable to report that the erection of the new fire-station has been commenced. A suitable site has been purchased by the Government, and for some time has been vested in the Crown, but in consequence of the decision of the Supreme Court in the Deniliquin case this Board has not seen their way to proceeding with the building, though having the necessary funds in hand. They had, however, accepted a tender for the building just before the decision referred to was given, but with the consent of the contractor the commencement of the work has been delayed. As the new station is much needed they have suggested that the formal contract may be made nominally with your department, the Board undertaking to pay for and to supervise the work. To this proposal no answer has been received. This Board has several times urged upon the Government the desirability of amending the Fire Brigades Act, 1884, so as to put the position of the country Boards into an efficient state of working.

We also beg to report not having received any contributions from the Insurance Companies during the year as provided for in the Fire Brigades Act, 1884. The Government and the Municipal Council have however, hitherto paid their respective contributions. The payments made by the Government and the Municipal Council have enabled the Board to meet current engagements, but if the contributions of the Insurance Companies continue to be withheld, it will become necessary to limit expenditure, and the Board do not see how this is to be done without the risk of decreasing the efficiency of the Brigade, and the certainty of neglecting repairs and renewals of the apparatus. The Companies in refusing to pay are availing themselves of a technical objection to evade an obligation the Legislature intended to impose upon them; and this Board cannot refrain from pointing out that if the country Brigades were to be disbanded the Companies would be the greatest sufferers by fires. In one or two cases Brigades have passed resolutions against working at fires where the property is covered by insurance, and although this Board cannot recommend that a similar course should be generally followed, they yet see that its adoption is but the natural result of the short sighted policy the Companies have chosen to pursue.

The Board have again much pleasure in reporting on the thorough efficiency of the Brigade, which at present numbers 26. The plant is sufficient for all requirements, and is in good order.

The Board have held ten meetings during the year, which have been attended as follows, viz. :—
Mr. Betts, 10 ; Mr. Riley, 10 ; Mr. Gannon (Mayor), 6.

Eight fires have occurred during the year, viz. :—

FIRE BRIGADES ACT, 1884.

(WOLLONGONG FIRE BRIGADES BOARD—FIRST ANNUAL REPORT.)

Presented to Parliament pursuant to Act 47 Vic. No. 3, sec. 7.

The Wollongong Fire Brigades Board to The Colonial Secretary.

Sir,

Wollongong Fire Brigades Board Office, Wollongong, 19 June, 1890.

We have the honor to present you with the First Annual Report of the Wollongong Fire Brigades Board, for the year ending 31st March, 1890.

The Wollongong Fire Brigade was duly registered under the Board, dating from 1st April, 1890. The Brigade consists of sixteen members, including captain, foreman, engineer, and caretaker.

The Board labour under great disability through not having a centrally situated site upon which to erect a suitable fire station. The building at present used as a fire station is erected upon a site held only on sufferance, a most unsatisfactory tenure, as orders might be received at any moment for its removal, in which event the Board would be put to great inconvenience. This being so, the Board respectfully urge upon the Government the necessity of providing, without delay, a suitable site upon which to erect a fire station and office.

The Board regret to report that they have not received any contributions from the different Fire Insurance Companies holding risks in the Borough during the year. The Fire Brigades Act of 1884 provides that they shall contribute one-third of the annual amount required by the Board for the carrying on of its operations. This they refuse to do. The Government and Borough Council have paid their respective contributions, which have enabled the Board to meet their engagements, but their operations have been more circumscribed than would have been the case had the Insurance Companies fulfilled their obligations. These Companies, in thus refusing to pay their share of expenditure, are taking advantage of some technicality to evade an obligation the Legislature most certainly intended to impose upon them when the Fire Brigades Act of 1884 was passed into law. As the Insurance Companies are invariably the greatest sufferers in the event of fire, it seems most extraordinary that they should be so short-sighted as to refuse to contribute towards the support of a thoroughly-equipped and efficient brigade, to cope with any fires that may occur. In one instance during this year the Wollongong Fire Brigade, through their efforts and exertions, without doubt saved buildings covered by insurance to the amount of £4,000 from destruction by fire. Had there been no fire brigade in the Borough the Insurance Companies would have been called upon to pay this sum. The Board most respectfully impress upon the Government the necessity that exists for the passing of the proposed amended Fire Brigades Act, in order that the Fire Insurance Companies may be compelled to contribute their share towards the carrying on of the operations of country Fire Brigades Boards.

The Board have pleasure in reporting upon the efficiency of the Brigade, the plant being also in good working order.

The Board have held thirteen meetings during the year.

Three fires occurred during the year, viz. :—

C. B. Smith's skating rink, totally destroyed, estimated loss	...	...	£600.
T. G. Dobinson's room, damaged	...	...	£25.
A. McKenzie's barn, totally destroyed	...	...	£50.

The Board herewith append statement of receipts and expenditure for the year.

No. 1.

T. T. Ewing, Esq., M.P., to The Minister of Justice.

Sir,

Parliament House, 31 May, 1889.

I herewith present petition asking for remission of fine passed on A. J. Simpson, Mayor of Lismore.

There is a strong public feeling that the whole matter originated in misapprehension, and I know it would be a right thing to act in accordance with wishes of petitioners.

Your obedient servant,

THOS. EWING.

[Enclosures.]

To the Honorable The Minister of Justice for New South Wales.

The humble Petition of the undersigned Ratepayers of the Borough of Lismore, on the Richmond River—

SHOWETH,—

1. That on Wednesday, the 31st day of October last, Alexander James Simpson was charged with a breach of section 38 of the “Municipalities Act of 1867,” by supplying goods to the Council of Lismore, he being a member of the Council at the time.

2. That when the case was called, upon the morning of the above date, the said Alexander James Simpson asked for a postponement until Saturday, the 3rd of November, on the ground that Mr. Norrie, who was engaged for the defence, had telegraphed that he would be unable to attend at Lismore before the Saturday following (November 3rd).

3. That, on the Bench deciding to go on with the case (the application for adjournment having been refused on the ground that there had already been one adjournment of four weeks), the said A. J. Simpson objected to the Police Magistrate sitting and adjudicating on the case, stating at the same time that he had good grounds for making the objection; but the Police Magistrate insisted upon adjudicating upon the case, notwithstanding the objection raised.

4. That the Bench adjourned the case until 1-30 p.m. of the same day to enable the said A. J. Simpson to obtain legal assistance.

5. That, at ten minutes to 2 o'clock on the same day, the Court was reopened, and the case called, when Mr. Conly Dickey, solicitor, appeared for Mr. Simpson, and asked the Bench to adjourn the case for seven days, to enable him to prepare a defence; but the Bench refused the application, and Mr. Dickey retired from the case, as he was not allowed to prepare for the defence.

6. That the said A. J. Simpson was compelled to defend the case himself, without professional assistance, and submitted that the 38th section of the Municipal Act referred to continuous contracts, and not to small sales across the counter, quoting the late Chief Justice, Sir James Martin, in support, and contended that he, the said A. J. Simpson, had not knowingly committed any breach of the Act in question.

7. That the Bench convicted the said A. J. Simpson of the offence with which he was charged, and fined him in the sum of £50, but did not insert in the order made anything about the said A. J. Simpson being disqualified from the office of Mayor, nor did the said Bench notify the Lismore Council that the said A. J. Simpson had been convicted on the charge brought against him, and was therefore disqualified from filling the office of Mayor.

Your Petitioners, therefore, being fully convinced that the said A. J. Simpson did not knowingly commit the offence with which he has been charged, and considering that he has been very hardly and unjustly dealt with, humbly request your honorable Minister of Justice as follows:—

- (1.) To cause the £50 fine to be remitted to the said A. J. Simpson.
- (2.) To waive and condone that part of the penalty which refers to disqualification from office of the said A. J. Simpson for 7 (seven) years—in case such disqualification follows by implication after a conviction under the 38th section of the Municipalities Act, as your Petitioners are of opinion that if the said A. J. Simpson is excluded from the Lismore Council, and disqualified from representing your Petitioners in Council, the interests of the town of Lismore must suffer very seriously in consequence.

And your Petitioners will ever pray, &c., &c.

JOHN FITZGERALD.
MATTHEW O'CONNALL.
EDWIN JONES.

Barrie v. Simpson.

With reference to a petition from the Honorable the Minister of Justice in the above case, I desire to make the following remarks in explanation:—

1. My objection to the P.M. (Mr. J. Bray) adjudicating in the case was based on the notorious fact that Mr. Bray had actively and energetically opposed my election to the Lismore Council by addresses to the ratepayers from the balcony of the "Royal Hotel," and from the stage of the Albert Theatre, at an electioneering meeting, as well as in other ways endeavouring to prejudice my candidature.
2. That whether from defects in the merits of the cases or otherwise, verdicts were seldom given in favour of the Council by Mr. Bray during my mayorship.
3. That I had been called upon to give evidence in the inquiry as to Mr. Bray's conduct as a Magistrate, and was treated by Mr. Bray and his solicitor as a hostile witness. Incidentally, I may mention that for making the objection referred to Mr. Bray lectured me in very severe terms, and threatened to commit me for contempt of Court, as he also did subsequently for being a few minutes late in my attendance, while he himself detained the Court for a longer time the previous day.
4. In the conduct of the case, I felt aggrieved at the fact of the prosecutor, Mr. Barrie, and the P.M., Mr. Bray, being constantly in intimate association during the trial, generally coming together to the Court, remaining together in the Magistrate's room before the case was called upon, and usually going together to various hotels in town, where they were frequently in company for considerable periods of time. Indeed, so intimate was the association that I had every reason to believe that I was being tried by one of the prosecutor's warmest friends (these facts are incontrovertible), while I, on the contrary, rarely exchanged a word with any member of the Bench.
5. The absence of the solicitor, Mr. Norrie, greatly prejudiced my case, and I might have had other legal aid but for the fact that the majority of the ratepayers specially urged me to employ that gentleman, and his inability to attend was known too late to allow the local solicitors time to prepare a defence.
6. During the hearing of the case I was persistently denied the right to introduce any evidence to prove that the prosecutor had himself committed a breach of the Act by supplying goods to the Council, as had also other aldermen, friends of the prosecutor, or of introducing evidence to prove that an intention of getting me out of the Council had been publicly expressed by prosecutor's friends. The decision in Pinkstone v. McBeath seems to allow this right.
7. The evidence proved that no account was rendered to the Council by A. J. Simpson (myself), nor any money paid to him.
8. Accounts were admitted and examined of an older date than three months prior to the issue of the summons.
9. The penalty and disqualification prove that the intention was not that now ascribed to the Act.
10. No intimation of the disqualification or penalty was given to the Council in any legal way.
11. The Council's seal was not on this so-called contract.
12. The police demanded the fine, and came to enforce a distress warrant before the time allowed by law for appeal had elapsed, having been urged by some persons interested in the prosecution.

ALEX. J. SIMPSON.

Lismore, 25 April, 1889.

The Under Secretary of Justice to T. T. Ewing, Esq., M.P.

Sir,

Department of Justice, Sydney, 1 June, 1889.

I am directed by the Minister of Justice to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 30th ultimo, forwarding a petition from certain residents of Lismore, praying for a remission of the fine of £50 imposed upon Mr. A. Simpson, and to inform you that the same will receive due consideration.

I have, &c.,

ARCH. C. FRASER,
Under Secretary.

No. 3.

The Police Magistrate, Lismore, to The Under Secretary of Justice.

Sir,

Court-house, Lismore, 2 July, 1889.

I have the honor to inform you that, in compliance with your instructions, I convened a meeting of all resident Magistrates of the district to take into consideration the petition of certain ratepayers ratepayers re fine and disqualification inflicted on Mr. A. J. Simpson, and to favour you with a report thereon. At the said meeting the following resolution was proposed by Dr. Bernstein, J.P., and seconded by A. Johnstone, Esq., J.P., and carried unanimously, viz. :—

“That this meeting of Magistrates decline to report about the petition, or review the decision of the Bench of the 31st October; but that the Minister of Justice is respectfully requested to exercise any powers he may have under the Act to meet the wishes of the Petitioners.”

The depositions in the case, Barrie v. Simpson, are forwarded herewith.

I have, &c.

EDWARD JONES, P.M.

The following Magistrates were present at the meeting :—Dr. E. H. L. Pratt, J.P. (sat on case, Barrie v. Simpson); Dr. Bernstein, J.P. (also Alderman); A. Johnstone, Esq., J.P.; George Larkins, Esq., J.P.; D. M'Donald, Esq., J.P.; W. H. Gray, Esq., J.P. (sat on case, Barrie v. Simpson); W. Walmsley, Esq., J.P.

EDWARD JONES, P.M.,
Chairman.

Resubmitted.—A.C.F., 9/7/89.

Bench should be informed that it was not intended that any report should be obtained from the Magistrates other than those who adjudicated, and that it is a most unusual course for any Magistrates adjudicating upon a case to decline to report to the Minister when desired.—A.J.G., 1/8/89.

P.M., Lismore, 8/8/89.

Mr. Ewing may be informed that I cannot review the legality of the conviction of Mr. Simpson, or suspend the operation of the disqualification contained in the latter portion of section 38 of the Municipalities Act, but that if exception were taken to the legality of that conviction application should have been made to the Supreme Court for a writ of prohibition; and, further, that as the Municipalities Act provides that all fines, penalties, and forfeitures imposed and recovered under that Act shall be paid into the corporate fund of the municipality (vide section 194), and so long a time has elapsed since the date of prosecution, I must decline to recommend any refund or remission of the penalty inflicted on Mr. Simpson by the Bench, unless the municipality desire such recommendation. Attention of P.M. who adjudicated in this case should be directed to the serious charges contained in paragraphs 1 to 4 in Mr. Simpson's letter of 25th April, with a request for a report thereon (vide endorsement on letter from P.M., Lismore, of 2nd July).—A.J.G., 2/8/89.

No; I refuse to produce them; my father objected to my doing so; I look at exhibit E, £7 12s. 9d.; it is in my handwriting, and I can't say if it is an extract from father's books, and will not swear the goods were got in my father's store; I believe portion of the goods in exhibit E were in my father's stock, but I can't state which of them I supplied, but I supplied some of them to the Council as my father's goods; the Council Clerk paid me the account, and it belonged to me, and I will not say whom I gave it to; I got the money; it belonged to me for the time; I received it as my own; I got a cheque, and I will not tell you what I did with the cheque; I made out the account in the name of A. M. Simpson, as I had an idea it would be better; I carry on some business on my own account at times; I can't say if I paid the cheque into the bank or gave it to father.

By Mr. Simpson: I have had business transactions in my own name entirely, and kept the account at the A.J.S. Bank apart from my father's; I am 19 years of age.

V. J. NORRIS.

BARRIE v. SIMPSON.

May it please your Worships,—

I RELY in my defence in the above case upon the following points, which I will here briefly submit :—

First. With reference to the accounts produced between Mr. Larkin and the Council, and to which I objected at the time, I believe it will be found that the latest item in those accounts is over six months prior to the 1st of October, the date upon which the information was laid, and in any case the 1st April and 1st October cannot be included in one six months ; therefore these accounts, even if they were between myself and the Council, should not have been admitted and examined upon.

Secondly. There is no evidence to show that I supplied any of the goods in the account furnished by M. A. Simpson ; on the contrary, I think it will be found that all the witnesses swore that I did not sell them any goods. Nor is there any evidence of their having paid me ; therefore there is no proof of any contract with me, as no contract was completed by me, nor could I have compelled its completion in a court of law.

Thirdly. I submit that the question of whether section 38 of the Municipalities Act refers to ordinary sales out of one's store in the usual course of business is not yet so absolutely and unquestionably decided that there can be no difference of opinion with reference to it. Clearly, if I had been brought before Sir James Mairtin he would unhesitatingly have declared the charge against me one showing no contravention of the Act ; therefore, the innocent man before the greatest lawyer New South Wales, or indeed Australia, has ever had, would be a guilty man before Judges Windeyer and Faucett ; but then, again, Judge Windeyer held that a mayor could not even supply goods to a contractor with the Council, an opinion opposed to that of Sir J. Martin and Sir W. Manning. I would also refer to the decision of the Bench in the case of Mr. Crouch, who, at Casino, was charged with selling goods to the Council. In that instance there was a very intelligent Bench, who read the Act as nine out of every ten would do, and dismissed the information. Under these circumstances, and until the matter is positively settled by the highest legal tribunal, I think the Bench are justified in taking the common-sense view of the matter, and deciding that ordinary sales out of the store of an alderman do not constitute an offence (even if proved).

I would specially remind your Worships that there was no previous arrangement in any instance as to where any goods were to be bought by the Council's employees, nor was there any agreement or contract as to price, nor any instructions of any kind with reference thereto.

Fourthly. I respectfully submit that I must be proved to be wilfully and knowingly contravening the Act before I can be convicted of committing a breach of it (as well as being wilfully and knowingly engaged in a contract). There is no proof that I had any knowledge of the decisions of Judges Windeyer and Faucett on this point ; in fact, the contrary is true—the only books ordinarily available for the Council not having this case (which is a recent one) cited. My accusers even attempted to prove me as having given public expression through the Press to this opinion, and to have acted upon it. If necessary, I can bring witnesses to prove that I was quite unaware of the interpretation of this section of the Act adopted by the Judges above referred to, and I also think that the Bench will at once recognize the difference between "knowing the law" and knowing the most recent interpretation of an obscure passage of it.

Fifthly. Your Worships decided that I could not call evidence as to the previous practice of aldermen in the Council in the matter. With all due deference to your decision, I think that the case of M'Beath versus Pinkstone shows that I should at least have been permitted to examine witnesses with reference to the doings of the prosecutor. In the case referred to M'Beath condoned an offence committed by Pinkstone over two years previously, and afterwards attempted to have him ousted on the ground of his previous disqualification. The Full Court decided that M'Beath was not competent to proceed against Pinkstone, as "he did not come into Court with clean hands."

Finally, had such evidence been admissible, I could have produced either witnesses or documentary proof that Aldermen in the Council have for years past sold goods to the Council, possibly under an impression that it was perfectly legal ; and if such a course had no other effect, it was at least calculated to put myself and other Aldermen off our guard in this matter. The Council Clerk prepared an abstract of transactions between the Aldermen and the Council, and that body as a Corporation, and I believe there were other transactions of an indirect nature, of which proof could have been given, as some of my witnesses were prepared to swear to such dealings.

In addition to the foregoing, I had proof that this prosecution was not got up in the interests of justice, or for the public good, as it has been publicly stated by some of the late members of the Council that the object in view was to remove me and others from the position we occupy in the Council.

Had it been otherwise, some friendly suggestion as to the possibility of myself or any other Alderman committing an offence against the Act in the way charged might have been made to us, but it was not given, nor, apparently, was there any desire to follow so neighbourly a course.

To the Editor of the Northern Star.

Sir,

Mr. Barrie's letter needs a reply from me only upon one point, but before I come to that I cannot resist the temptation to say that Mr. Barrie's deprecation of any desire to enter into a controversy on municipal questions with me is as absurd as unnecessary. If he will trail his coat offensively I claim an Irishman's privilege of treading on its tail. This is not an uncommon course of procedure with that gentleman, however, and if my letters are "characteristic," as Mr. Barrie invariably describes them, I am confident that his correspondence will never cause posterity the same difficulty that the famous "Junius" letters did as to their authorship.

The statement in Mr. Barrie's letter to which I specially take exception, and but for which I need not have answered it, is that "If Mr. Simpson continues to be as wise in his day and generation as he is said to be in making the most of his opportunity to benefit himself by bringing what grist he can to his own mill through them," i.e., the gasworks and water-works. Most people will agree with me I think that such phrases as "It is said," "They say," "It is reported," and so on, are generally used in cases of this kind by persons who make a cowardly attack upon their opponents while they wish to shirk the responsibility. In this instance "it is said" falsely, whoever is the author. I have supplied some goods to the Council out of my store in the ordinary course of business; so have others, while in the Council during Mr. Barrie's time of office. I do not see anything in the Act which would lead me to suppose I must refuse to supply the Council in this way. But if it is wrong, why was it not discovered years ago? And as for the general principle of the thing, why not apply it in other matters? I should like to exchange my municipal account for Mr. Barrie's hospital account, for instance. So far as my objection goes it is not customary for the officers of public institutions in Lismore to ignore their own interests, and while I do not profess to be doing so in municipal matters, I emphatically deny ever instructing anyone connected with the Council to procure their goods from me. They go where they choose.

A couple of other points I will allude to, only because strangers who may read these letters may be deceived by the half-truths in some of them. The bulk of the people know better. They are these:—I did not oppose the construction of works for a water supply for Lismore. On the contrary, I suggested and advocated it over five years ago. Not the existing scheme, however. Next, "The well-merited rebuke" from the Minister of Works. (That sentiment has been trotted out before.) Some 120 or so of the ratepayers sent their petition to the Minister for Works direct, instead of through the Council, because the Council had declined just previously to forward on a petition sent in to them upon the subject of the 3-chain road. This petition was rescued from the wastepaper-basket, and we did not want a second one similarly treated. There was no time for fooling, as tenders were being called for the work. The Minister requested the Council to ascertain the wishes of the ratepayers, as they "did not wish to force the water-works upon an unwilling people." We could have put up with the "well-merited rebuke" if the Minister's instructions had been acted upon, instead of the petition being returned with a document affirming that the statements contained in it were untrue, and advising its being ignored.

I am, &amp;c.,

A. J. SIMPSON.

Lismore, 22 November, 1888.

In paying in the amount of the fine (£50) and costs (16s. 10d.) imposed upon me at the instance of James Barrie, for an alleged breach of the 38th section of the Municipalities Act, I do so under protest, for the following reasons amongst others:—

- 1st. The distress warrant was put in force before the twenty days allowed by law for appeal had elapsed.
- 2nd. The Bench gave no instructions as to the time of issuing a distress warrant.
- 3rd. The case was heard before a Bench to which I objected, as being one that might be reasonably supposed to be prejudiced.
- 4th. Accounts beyond the limit of time which could legally be admitted were received in evidence, and made use of, notwithstanding my objection.
- 5th. Witnesses were improperly examined upon the accounts referred to.
- 6th. My reasonable application for a postponement for three days to obtain legal assistance was refused.

J. Simpson, late Mayor of Lismore, under the Municipalities Act, and the removal of his disqualification, I am directed by the Minister of Justice to inform you that he cannot review the legality of the conviction or suspend the operation of the disqualification contained in the latter portion of section 38 of the Municipalities Act, and that if exception were taken as to the legality of the conviction application should have been made to the Supreme Court for a writ of prohibition.

The Minister further desires me to add that as the Municipalities Act provides that all fines, penalties, and forfeitures imposed and recovered under that Act shall be paid into the corporate fund of the Municipality (vide section 194), and as so long a time has elapsed since the date of the prosecution, he must decline to recommend any refund or remission of the penalty inflicted on Mr. Simpson by the Bench unless the Municipality desires such recommendation.

No. 8.

The Police Magistrate, Wollombi, to The Under Secretary of Justice.

Sir,

Wollombi, 25 August, 1889.

I do myself the honor to acknowledge receipt of your letter of 8th instant, conveying to me a complaint made by Mr. Simpson, a late Mayor of Lismore, wherein he makes twelve objections to a decision of the Lismore Bench, when he was fined £50; and judging from the manner in which some of the charges are aimed at me, it would appear as if I sat alone. Dr. Pratt and Mr. Gray sat with me, and we were unanimous.

This complaint has taken me by surprise, as nearly twelve months have elapsed since the case was tried, and nearly six had elapsed before he discovered he had any grievance.

At this distance of time it is not an easy matter for me to call to mind all the circumstances surrounding the case. I have no records or dates to refer to, but on a day about September, 1888, Mr. Simpson appeared before the Court to answer a charge of having supplied goods to the Council while holding the office of Mayor. The evidence went to show that Mr. Simpson's store had supplied the goods, and Mr. Simpson had sat as Mayor and passed the accounts. These accounts had been sent into the Council by others, not Mr. Simpson, and, if I remember rightly, the cheques were traced to Mr. Simpson's account. I think there were three bills before the Court, but two, being over six months, were not considered in giving the verdict.

Complaint (1.) I do not remember having said a single word against him publicly. I took the chair for a candidate, and after the election was over and Mr. Simpson was elected Mayor, I told him I had voted against him, but was prepared to give him all support as Mayor, and as far as I know we continued on the same friendly terms as previously.

(2.) I presided over a very large district at Richmond—six towns—three incorporated—and never heard any complaint against my decisions except from Lismore, and I do not hesitate to say that several of the Council's by-laws are ultra vires. I stated so from the Bench, and if I was wrong, why did not he take steps to set me right? I do not think he signed a single information while Mayor, and I feel sure his predecessor, Dr. Bernstein, lost more cases than he did from the same cause. I now ask that Mr. Simpson be called on to name his cases, and let the depositions and by-laws be perused by a competent person, and I feel sure it will be found I was not in error.

(3.) Mr. Simpson made an objection to me. I did not threaten to commit him. I doubt the power. I informed him that litigants could not pack the Bench to suit themselves. That my duty was a very sacred one. I was sworn to do my duty without fear or favour, and I would do it. My remarks were copied into the Northern Star that week. My remarks were very similar to those of the Chief Justice in reply to Mr. Salomons in re Winifred Butler, 22/8/89, a copy of which I attach. Mr. Simpson, as a Magistrate, should know that we are not sworn for each case like a juror; if he goes on the Bench unmindful of his oath, I do not.

I never kept the Lismore or any Court in my district waiting a minute except Coraki, and that only when the steamer was late.

The "Royal Hotel" was my place of call. I always dined there. He, as well as Mr. Barrie, has frequently been in my private parlour. Mr. Barrie's place of business joins the "Royal," and I have sometimes stood under the colonnade in conversation with Mr. Barrie. I was never at Mr. Barrie's private house, and was not more intimate with him than with any of my other brother-Magistrates. Mr. Barrie never alluded to Mr. Simpson's case in my presence. I am not conscious of having walked to the Court with Mr. Barrie, or met him in the Magistrates' room, but may have done so in company with others; but this is too frivolous for serious consideration.

Unless

Unless at a public dinner, I feel confident I did not any time meet Mr. Barrie at any other hotel, and there was no intimacy to be worthy of remark. We were friends, and that was all. I always got the credit of being a most impartial Magistrate; even Mr. Bagot, who perhaps persecuted me more than any other man there, was never satisfied unless I was on the Bench, and on one occasion wrote to the Ballina Bench stating that he would not appear to a summons unless I was on the Bench. Several of my cases were brought under the notice of Judge Dowling, who found no fault with me or my administration of the law.

Mr. Simpson had every opportunity to get Mr. Norrie, or any other lawyer. He asked for a postponement, and got several weeks. When the case came on for hearing, seeing he was undefended, I once or twice told him his line of cross-examination was really an admission, for which he thanked me, and the people in Court who had heard him object to me applauded my conduct; and if there was the slightest foundation for his charges, why did he not go for a prohibition? Surely this would have helped him.

I did shut out the evidence as to whether other aldermen had been guilty of the same act—it had nothing to do with the charge against him. Two wrongs cannot make a right.

I think he is in error as to the police demanding the fine. I do not think any distress warrant was issued. He asked me when he would be required to pay it, and I told him he would not be hurried.

He gave some evidence against me at the inquiry, and stated at the same time that he was only there in obedience to a summons to do so. My lawyer was not present.

In conclusion, and with great respect, I ask that the Hon. the Minister peruse the information and depositions in this case, for the purpose of ascertaining if it were possible for the Bench to regard their oath and not convict; and as the charge of malice against any Magistrate is a serious one, may I ask that the serjeant of police at each of the towns in that district be requested to state whether the public did not always consider me a most just Magistrate.

I omitted to observe, with regard to this objection, "that the seal was not on the papers," I presume it was the Mayor's duty to affix it, and the omission gives it the appearance of premeditation.

[Enclosure.]

Sir,
In compliance with your request, conveyed to the Police Magistrate of Lismore, under date of 8th August, 1889, we, the undersigned Magistrates, who sat in the case of A. J. Simpson, with Mr. Bray, Police Magistrate, who is now at Wollombi, beg to report that we are in favour of the prayer of the petition for A. J. Simpson being granted, as, although we had to administer the law as we found it, we felt that the case was a very hard one, and that the law had probably never been intended by its framers to apply to such cases.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry should be supported by a valid receipt or invoice. This ensures transparency and allows for easy verification of the data.

In the second section, the author outlines the various methods used to collect and analyze the data. This includes both manual and automated techniques. The goal is to ensure that the data is as accurate and reliable as possible.

The third part of the document provides a detailed breakdown of the results. It shows that there is a significant correlation between the variables being studied. This finding is supported by statistical analysis and is consistent with previous research in the field.

Finally, the document concludes with a series of recommendations for future research. It suggests that further studies should be conducted to explore the underlying mechanisms of the observed correlations. This will help to build a more comprehensive understanding of the phenomenon being studied.

George

George Edward Harrison having been sworn, states:—I am a constable of Police stationed at Parramatta; about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, from information received from Mr. McMillan, I proceeded to Wentworthville, and about a quarter of a mile from Mr. McMillan's residence, on a bush track leading on to the Western Road, I found the body of the deceased; he was lying on his back near some bushes; his coat was off, lying on the ground near the body; his shirt-sleeves were rolled up above the wrist, and a walking cane was on the ground near the body, and in a piece of metal-plate under the handle the name of O. Sinclair was scratched; at the bottom of his right foot I found the revolver now produced; it is an English constabulary revolver, six-chambered; two chambers had been discharged, and the other four are still loaded; the chamber under the hammer had been recently discharged, the other not so recently; on examining the body I saw a bullet wound on the right side of the head, over the right ear, which appeared to have been recently done; the right arm was scarred by the black ants, of which there were a quantity on the body; there were also marks, caused by the ants, on other parts of the body; they are the marks seen on the body now; on the ground underneath where the wound in the head was there was fresh blood, but not much in quantity; the body was perfectly dead, stiff, and cold; on searching the clothing I found twopence in the right hand trousers pocket, two keys and a tweezers in the left trousers pocket; in the coat-tail pocket I found a pipe, a knife, and a box of matches; in the breast pocket of the coat I found a small Sands' diary and also a written statement, without a date, signed Ossian St. Clair; the diary contains two or three addresses, but no other entries of any importance; I also found two North Shore Ferry tickets and one tram ticket; I produce the whole of the articles mentioned; there were no signs of any struggle about the place; there is not much traffic in the place at the present time; there used to be some time ago; I have made inquiries at the addresses contained in the diary, but nothing was known of deceased, and he has not been identified as yet; I brought the body to the mortuary of this hospital in a cart belonging to a man named Weekes; deceased was about 5 feet 5 inches, light-brown bushy hair, very little light moustache; he was dressed in light fancy tweed vest and trousers, black walking coat, black hard felt hat, lace-up boots, considerably worn, pink and cream coloured necktie, white shirt, bone studs and solitaires with a monogram O.S.; I should take him to be about 30 years of age; he is not known to the Parramatta Police.

GEO. E. HARRISON.

The Coroner read the statement referred to by Constable Harrison.

William McMillan having been sworn, states:—I am a merchant and reside at Dunmore, Wentworthville; about a quarter to 3 o'clock on yesterday (Sunday) afternoon, I was taking my usual stroll in the grounds known as the Wentworthville Estate, and was returning by a track which has not been in use for the last couple of months; I came across the body on which this inquest is being held, lying just outside the track; at first I thought it was an ordinary case of death from exposure, but on seeing the revolver lying at feet of deceased I more closely examined the body; I then found that the head was lying in a pool of blood, and every appearance of a bullet wound just above the right ear; I returned to my house; I placed the gardener, Benjamin Jacob, in charge of the body, giving strict instructions that nothing should be moved until the Police were communicated with; I then drove into Parramatta and gave the necessary information to the police; I never saw deceased before; deceased was about one-eighth of a mile from the Western Road on this deserted track; there were no signs of any struggle where the body was lying.

W. McMILLAN.

George Henry Phillips having been sworn, states:—I am a legally qualified medical practitioner, and reside at Parramatta; I have examined the body of the deceased on which this inquest is being held; it is that of a man from 30 to 35 years of age, about 5 feet 5 inches in height, dark complexion, black hair, blue eyes, clean shaven cheeks, front teeth sound, body well nourished; externally I found a wound over the right ear penetrating into the skull; the arms, neck, and about the face had been partly eaten by ants; I found no other marks of violence; there were vaccination marks on the left arm; on removing the scalp I found a quantity of clotted blood, and the skull was fractured on both sides, some of the cracks being quite 3 inches in length; on opening the skull I found a penetrating wound nearly half-an-inch in diameter passing through the right parietal bone; in the left parietal bone there was a stellar fracture, the broken pieces being pushed outwards; small pieces of lead were attached to the fragments of bone; I found the bullet produced lying in the base of the skull; it is such as would have produced the injuries described, and had passed completely through the brain, and had caused injuries which would probably have produced instantaneous death; it appears to be a similar kind of bullet as would be fired from a pistol such as that produced; from the appearance of the wound, and the direction the bullet took, I am of opinion that the wound was self-inflicted; the hair round the wound was scorched as if from the discharge of the pistol close to deceased's head; the direction of the wound was across the head, and slightly upwards; deceased was a short man, and if the pistol had been fired by any other person the wound would probably have had a downward or straight direction.

All the above informations were severally taken and acknowledged } the day, year, and place first above mentioned, before me, — }

EXHIBIT A.

WHAT is there in life?—Nothing; it is a blank. There is nothing in this world to make me happy now. Five years ago I was as happy as anyone; then I took to the sea and went to the Brazils, and whilst there I done a deed which has caused me a life of terror and misery ever since. That hellish curse of mankind, drink, was the cause of it all. Having a good pay, and being in a good position on board ship, with very little work and plenty of time to myself, I used to spend all my money on keeping up a great style of dress, and as I had learnt a good deal of the Portuguese language, I used to mix rather freely with the passengers on board. During one of our voyages from Monte Video to the port of Rio de Janeiro, I attracted the attention of a beautiful young lady passenger named Isadora de Alvinez. We soon formed an acquaintance, but she, being a first-class passenger, our meetings were always kept secret. Every night it was the duty of one of the stewards to keep watch in the saloon, and then be allowed to sleep all day. This is the duty I took, so that I should be able to talk with the young lady whom I madly loved. When the other passengers had retired to sleep we would sit on deck and talk love as much as my Portuguese would allow me to. This thing went on until we reached Santos, the next port to Rio de Janeiro, where the young lady went ashore. I kept up a correspondence with her, and in several of her letters she hinted about marriage; but I only regarded them as jokes. When I had made the next trip, and had once more arrived in Santos, I got an invitation to go up to the house of her brother, Senor Leale De Alvinez, with whom Isadora was staying. She looked more beautiful than ever. In the evening we both went out for a walk. I told her of my love, proposed, and was accepted; but her brother would not hear of such a thing as a marriage between us, in consequence of which my betrothed left her brother's house and went to a hotel, whilst I proceeded in my ship to Rio de Janeiro, where I left.

left. I told everyone I was going to England, and as they had no suspicions of me, they believed me; but instead of going to England, I took the first steamer for Santos. On my arrival there I went to the hotel where Isadora was staying and got married to her. Along with my bride I received the sum of £5,000, her father having died and left £16,000 between her and her brother. After our marriage we went to an island some distance from Santos, called San Sebastian. Here my wife, being well known, bought a good-sized house, a large coffee plantation, and a number of slaves. We had a manager and two overseers. They done all the working of the plantation. I began to think I was in Fairyland, but alas, for me, the spell was broken. About three months after our marriage my wife's brother condescended to pay us a visit. When he saw how comfortably we were situated he became very friendly to me, and together we used to drink a lot. One day, after having drank more wine than we could stand, he went into the house and insulted my wife. I called him outside, and as he made to draw his knife on me, I drew my revolver and shot him. As he fell I rushed into the house, kissed my wife, who was crying like to break her heart. I snatched her photo. off the table, and then I ran to the wharf, got a boat to the mainland, and then I changed my name, and went to Rio de Janeiro, where I hid myself, as I wanted to hear what would be done before I left for England. Then I saw in the papers a paragraph to this effect: "A few days ago, whilst Senors De Alvinez and Santa Clara were amusing themselves, the latter's revolver accidentally went off, the bullet lodging in the thigh of Senor De Alvinez. It is not believed to be a fatal wound. Senor Santa Clara, thinking he had killed his brother-in-law, fled, and it is feared that he must have committed suicide, as no trace of him can be found. The affair is causing great excitement in the Island of San Sebastian."

Later.—Senor Leale De Alvinez is dead. Mortification set in. He was past medical aid. Later.—We regret to announce the death of Senora Santa Clara, who died this morning. It is believed she died of grief, through her brother's death and the strange disappearance of her husband. My brain reels as I write this. I went on board an English ship, and took a passage to Liverpool, via New York. My God, far better had I drowned myself at once. I have never had a night's rest since; only in the mornings have I been able, for a few hours. As soon as I reached home I was laid up with the terrible excitement. I told my people it was fever and ague. Thinking to drive it out of my mind, I took to the sea again, and sailed almost all over the world. It was no good. Then I came ashore in Australia. Since then I have squandered all my money, and as this thing is killing me, I have lost all heart to work, so that it is far better for me to put an end to myself at once. The loss of my wife makes me do it. When I think of her it makes me mad. If I lived any longer I should do some desperate act. All this will explain to my friends and relations the reason of my strange ways at times. May God forgive me for what I am going to do. Behind the photo. of my wife, in the large frame, will be found a lock of hair. Place it with my body. All my things my relations can claim, with the exception of my oil portrait and my wife's photo. and frame (large), which will go to Miss Bella Stephens, and my banjo and music to Mr. Rhodes, in payment of board. My last wish is, may God bless my father, sisters, and brothers, and may they never know how I met my death. Justice will be served—a life for a life. Beware of drink, even in small quantities. It has ruined me.

W. J. Lyne, Esq., M.P., to The Minister of Justice.

Dear Sir,

7, Norwich Chambers, Sydney, 18 June, 1890.

Enclosed I submit a petition which I have received from my constituents in the Corowa district, asking that a portion, if not the whole, of the sentence passed upon one Clayton at the Albury Court be remitted. I have known Clayton personally for a number of years, and was never more surprised in my life than when I heard of the sentence he had received. He was always considered a somewhat peculiar man, but not one that would deliberately attempt the life of another, excepting in self defence. His character, as far as I have ever known, has always been of the best, and I must say it seems to me that he laboured under very great disadvantage in not having counsel to defend him when the case was tried. The names, which number nearly 400, to the petition, contain those of all sections of the community in which Clayton has resided for so many years, and the feeling is very widespread amongst all those who know him that he has got into this trouble more through error of judgment than wilfully and deliberately intending to do injury. I do not desire to cast any reflection whatever upon the Judge who awarded the sentence (and at this moment I do not know which Judge it was), because, even if I had not known the man and his character so well, I think it more than likely I should have been led away by his peculiar manner and the many peculiar characteristics (which no doubt showed themselves in Court) to think that he was, perhaps, a dangerous character; but such an impression would be entirely erroneous, and it is not my desire to do more than seek fair justice for this unfortunate man that I now write. I trust you may see your way clear to take such steps as will verify, or otherwise, the opinion expressed in the petition and in this letter, and, if verified, I hope you will take steps to give effect to the prayer of the petition.

I have for some time past, unfortunately, been completely prostrated through illness, or should have personally presented this petition, but it is a matter that should not be delayed one hour, and I will call upon you in reference to it as soon as I can leave my room.

Yours, &c.,

WILLIAM JOHN LYNE.

[Enclosure.]

Corowa, April, 1890.

To the Honorable the Minister of Justice, Sydney,—

The humble Petition of the undersigned residents in Corowa and the surrounding District,—

RESPECTFULLY SHOWETH :—

1. Your Petitioners desire to bring under your notice the case of one Edward Clayton, the elder, a resident of this town, who, at the Circuit Court at Albury on the 10th instant, was sentenced to three years penal servitude upon a charge of shooting at Benjamin Brame, with intent to murder.

2. Your Petitioners desire at the outset to assure you that they have no sympathy with indiscriminate and unreasonable attempts by petition or otherwise to interfere with the ordinary course of Justice; but they justify the following Petition by the peculiar circumstances that it sets out, and they particularly disclaim any intention or desire to find fault with the conduct of the trial by anyone engaged in it.

3. Edward Clayton, the elder, has been a resident in this town and district for twenty-five years. Many of your petitioners have known him for the whole of that period, and your Petitioners can all attest that during the time that they have known him, he has been a reputable and respectable person, whose mode of conduct and life make it hard for them to believe that he was guilty of the crime with which he was charged.

4. His financial circumstances at the time made it impossible for him to obtain legal assistance in the preparation and conduct of his defence. Your Petitioners believe that had he had such assistance, and had the evidence for the defence been properly marshalled and adduced, the result of his trial would have been an acquittal.

5. At the trial, owing to the want of legal assistance, the prisoner pleaded "justification," and "not guilty," meaning and intending by the plea of justification (as he informed your Petitioner, Edward Reginald Nicholson, solicitor, Corowa, who was present at the trial) that he was justified in having firearms in his possession, but not intending to admit the act of shooting. The Jury, however, in the absence of explanation, probably, as was natural, presumed that the plea of justification was intended to go to the charge before the Court, and thus admitted the act.

6. The prisoner, to the knowledge of your Petitioners, has been for some time living in a cottage on the bank of the Murray River near the Corowa and Wahgunyah Bridge, a spot where tramps and doubtful characters are constantly camped, and the prisoner would naturally and reasonably feel that he might at any time be called upon to defend his property, or even his person. He is an old man, not very strong, and it is within the knowledge of many of your Petitioners, and can be evidenced by the Corowa police, that about _____, 1889, he was set upon at this very place and brutally maltreated. Had this been properly explained to the Jury and the Judge on behalf of the prisoner, the act of his buying the revolver would have been naturally accounted for, and the presumption of deliberate preparation to shoot at any particular person rebutted.

7. It is the firm opinion of your Petitioners that the prisoner, conscious of his innocence of any attempt to murder, viewed too lightly the charge, and so did not take the necessary steps to procure the evidence that might have exonerated him.

8. The prisoner is about sixty years of age, and, as has been previously stated, has hitherto borne a good character. He has a family residing at Corowa who are greatly esteemed and respected. It is feared by your Petitioners that if he has to undergo the punishment imposed by the Court, his health will be entirely shattered, or at least greatly impaired.

Your Petitioners, therefore, humbly pray that, in the exercise of a merciful discretion consistent with the due administration of Justice, you may take this, their Petition, into your favourable consideration, and take such steps as you can and may to procure the remission of the whole or such part of the sentence in this case as may be thought to be just and right.

And your Petitioners will ever pray, &c.

Edward Clayton, charged with shooting with intent to murder one Benjamin Brame.

Thomas William Bedingfeld, on oath, states: I am a sergeant of police stationed at Corowa; I saw accused at Dellifson's "Union Hotel," at Wahgunyah, Victoria, about 4 p.m. to-day, and told him I wished to see him at the police station at Corowa; he replied, "Oh, indeed," and came along with me; in the charge-room at the police station, at Corowa, I read the warrant which I now produce to him, and which charges him with shooting at one Benjamin Brame with intent to murder him; in reply, accused said, "What is the charge?" and I said, "Shooting at one Benjamin Brame with intent to murder him"; he replied, "Shooting at him, ah"; I then arrested him and locked him up.

Condition.

The condition of the within recognisance is such, that if the said Edward Clayton shall personally appear, on Friday, the 7th day of February, at ten of the clock in the forenoon, at the Corowa Police Office, in the Colony of New South Wales, before such Justices of the Peace for the said Colony as may then be there, to answer further to the charge of shooting with intent to murder instituted against the said Edward Clayton, and to be further dealt with according to law, and there attend from day to day until the said charge shall be disposed of,—then the said recognisance to be void, or else to stand in full force and virtue.

M. DULHUNTY, J.P.

Benjamin Brame, on oath, states: I am a cook, residing in Corowa; I know the accused now before the Court; I remember the day before yesterday, the 5th instant; I was standing at my own door of a house situated on the bank of the Murray River, near the bridge; accused was standing at his door, and beckoned to me; I sent my wife over to see what he wanted; she returned, and told me something, and I went to him and asked him what he required; he said, "You owe me 15s., and 5s. for a week's advance"; I am a tenant of his; I said, "I don't owe it to you"; he put the key in the door and locked it, and then put his right hand into his shirt and said, "I must have key or money"; he took a revolver out of his shirt, and pointing it at me, fired one shot, and I heard something whistle by my ear—the right ear; I then tried to take the revolver away from him, and in struggling to obtain it it again went off, and I felt the wind of the shot go past my hand and thigh; my wife was standing close to me at the time; I said to her, "Take this revolver, and take it to the police, for he (the accused) may do some damage if he gets it again"; she then went away with the revolver; I was very excited, and sat down on the ground; nothing further took place between myself and accused after my wife went away; I then went to Mr. Freyer; I saw the barman and asked him for the revolver, which he refused to give me; I then went up to the police station, but could not see any of the police; I returned a second time and saw no one, but on going a third time I saw Sergeant Bedingfeld and reported the matter to him, and accompanied him to Mr. Freyer's "Terminus Hotel" in Corowa, where I pointed out the revolver to him, and saw him take possession of it; my wife accompanied me to the police station.

By Prisoner: You beckoned to me from your door; I did not go to you myself at first; my wife met you outside your door; when I met you it was outside your door; the door you locked was the one facing the river; I will swear that what I have said did not happen in the large room in your house; I was not in your house, and did not throw you down in the house; when I wrenched the revolver from you you were outside the house; I did not strike the door in your face, or threaten that I would hang for you; I was not in your house that day.

Emma Brame, on oath, states: I am the wife of the last witness, Benjamin Brame; I know the accused; I remember Wednesday, the 5th instant; my husband and I were standing at the door of our house near the Murray River; accused was standing at his own door, about 20 or 30 yards from us, and I saw him beckon to us; I went over to him, and he said, "I don't want you, but I want your husband"; I returned and told my husband, and we both went over to accused; he said to my husband, "I want 15s. and 5s. in advance, and I must have the money or the key"; my husband said, "I don't owe it to you"; accused then took a revolver out of his shirt and said, "Take that," and fired a shot; my husband then tried to take the revolver away, and while they were struggling another shot went off; my husband then gave me the revolver, and told me to take it to the police; I went to the house to get my hat, and when I was coming out of the house I met my husband at the door; we both went away from the house, but my husband took bad and sat down under the bridge, and I took the revolver up to the "Terminus Hotel," and the barman there took it away from me; I then went up to the police station, but could not see any of the police; I returned to my husband and accompanied him back to the police station, but finding no one there we went away and returned a third time, and saw the sergeant, and reported what had occurred, and went with him to the "Terminus Hotel."

By Prisoner: The struggle took place outside your door, on the side facing the river; I am quite certain it was not in the big room inside your house; I am quite certain I was not in your house at any time that day; the paper which I am now shown I gave to you when you were standing at your own door; I gave it to you earlier in the day than when the occurrence I have stated took place; I am not in the habit of standing at your door; when I first went to live in the cottage I used to tidy up your kitchen; I was not in your house on Sunday; did not see you in bed, or ask you what was the matter with you; did not take a handkerchief from your hat containing money; I cannot say where the shots from the revolver went to; I did not see any shots fired but the two I have stated in my evidence as having been fired by you; if my husband has said you locked the door of your house before you fired the revolver he has stated the truth; to my knowledge no notice to quit the house we are living in has ever been given to us by you; I did not come to you on Wednesday and abuse you for giving my husband notice to quit; it is not true that you have complained to me about the bad character of the house; we were not singing on Sunday night; I don't owe you any rent, if the 13s. owing for washing is taken off.

By Prisoner: I heard two shots fired; they appeared to have been fired within a few minutes of each other; where we are camped is about 200 or 300 yards from the houses; I was outside the waggon when I heard the reports.

Allan Gordon, on oath, states: I am a cook, and at present am a tenant of Mr. Clayton, in one of the houses on the bank of the Murray; the house I occupy is under the same roof as those occupied by Mr. Clayton and Brame; my room faces the township of Corowa; the rooms Clayton and Brame live in face the river; I remember Wednesday, the 5th instant; about half-past 1 or 2 o'clock heard something like two reports, as if made by bags being filled with wind and bursted; the reports appeared to me to come from the next room, at the back; I did not go out to see what was the matter; I know Brame and his wife; they live just at the back of my room.

By Prisoner: The two reports appeared to be about a minute and a half between them; about a week or ten days since I remember hearing loud words and screaming from some one in the room occupied by Brame and his wife; heard singing in the same room on Sunday night about 11 p.m., and fancied it was the voices of Brame and his wife.

Edward Joseph Cronin, on oath, states: I am a grocer, living in Saugar-street, Corowa; I know the accused; remember Wednesday last; accused came to me on that day between 1 and 2 p.m., and said, "I want a revolver"; I showed him one, and he said he wanted ammunition; I showed him a box containing fifty revolver cartridges; he asked me to show him how to load the revolver, which I did, by putting in a couple of cartridges and taking them out again; he then asked me to load all the chambers, which I did, and he said he hoped he would never have occasion to use it; he then paid me for the revolver, and went away; I had no conversation with accused other than what I have stated in my evidence; the revolver produced is the one I sold to accused.

By Prisoner: You did not appear to be labouring under any excitement at the time I sold you the revolver.

James Brown, on oath, states: Am a barman at the "Terminus Hotel," Corowa; remember the 5th instant; saw Mrs. Brame on that day, between 3 and 4 p.m., coming across the bridge near the "Terminus Hotel," and leading to Saugar-street; she came to the "Terminus Hotel," and went into the parlour, and presented a revolver at me, and asked me how I would like a little of this; I said I would not care much for that sort of thing, and, walking over to her, I asked her to give me the revolver; she refused to do so, and I took it from her; she was under the influence of spirits at the time; I heard a report as from a revolver, apparently from under the bridge, between 3 and 4 p.m.; this was prior to my taking the revolver away from Mrs. Brame; I saw Brame under the bridge, and he was staggering about as if under the influence of drink; the bridge I refer to is about 50 yards from the hotel verandah; have known Brame and his wife about two months; I know nothing against the character of Mr. Brame and his wife, with the exception that they are both addicted to drink; I have known them about two months and know nothing about how they get a living; I have no knowledge of Mrs. Brame having pointed a revolver at her husband any further than from hearing the report of the revolver.

By Police: I cannot swear that Brame was drunk when I saw him staggering about under the bridge, but was under the impression that he was; when I took the revolver away from Mrs. Brame she said it belonged to Mr. Clayton; she never told me what she was going to do with the revolver; from the time I heard the report of a revolver until I took the revolver away from Mrs. Brame might have been about fifteen minutes interval.

Statement of the Accused.

EDWARD Clayton stands charged before the undersigned, one of Her Majesty's Justices of the Peace in and for the Colony aforesaid, this 7th day of February, in the year of Our Lord 1890, for that he, the said Edward Clayton, on the 5th day of February instant, at Corowa, in the said Colony, did shoot at one Benjamin Brame, with intent to murder him, and the examinations of all the witnesses on the part of the prosecution having been completed, and the depositions taken against the accused having been caused to be read to him by me, the said Justice, (by or) before whom such examination has been so completed; and I, the said Justice, having also stated to the accused and given him clearly to understand that he has nothing to hope from any promise of favour, and nothing to fear from any threat which may have been holden out to him to induce him to make any admission or confession of his guilt, but that whatever he shall say may be given in evidence against him upon his trial, notwithstanding such promise or threat; and the said charge being read to the said Edward Clayton, and the witnesses for the prosecution being severally examined in his presence, the said Edward Clayton is now addressed by me as follows:—"Having heard the evidence, do you wish to say anything in answer to the charge? You are not obliged to say anything unless you desire to do so; but whatever you say will be taken down in writing, and may be given in evidence against you upon your trial." Whereupon the said Edward Clayton saith as follows:—

For certain reasons I desired to get rid of Brame and his wife from my premises; on Tuesday, the 4th instant, I called Brame into my house, and desired him to make fresh arrangements for a domicile, and to return to me all the furniture he had belonging to me; next morning his wife came into my room and asked me why I should speak to her husband when she was the person who had taken the house from me; she got very excited; Brame followed her in, and became very excited also, threatening that he would hang for me, wait for me, and do for me; he struck the inside door with his closed fist on several occasions, and appeared to be half frenzied; this was about 10 a.m. on the 5th instant; being in an isolated condition I did not consider my life safe, and came into Corowa and purchased a revolver, which I had loaded, and took it home with me; I was sitting at my office table, after writing a business letter, when Mrs. Brame came in and handed me the paper, which has been produced at the trial, and marked A, which she had previously compounded for by having a week's rent taken off; I refused to take the paper, and while talking to her, Brame came into the room in a very excited state, shook his fist in my face, and repeated the threats he had formerly used; I told him I was not going to be knocked about, and drew a revolver from my shirt, upon which he closed and grappled with me, his wife assisting him; I was thrown on the floor, and the revolver taken from me by Brame, who gave it to his wife; immediately afterwards I heard a shot fired, as from a revolver, and immediately after that Mr. Brame came running up towards me in a very excited manner, and said, "Why, you bloody dog, it was loaded; if there had been another shot in it I would have shot you, or 'I would shoot you.'"

Re attached Telegrams from Goondiwindi.—Escaped Prisoner.

SERGEANT POUNTNEY (No. 2,927) begs most respectfully to report re attached. On Monday, 27th, Constable Millane arrested a man answering the description of the escaped prisoner in every respect. The prisoner when arrested gave the name of Henry Williams, and stated he came from Goondiwindi, via Kunopia. The sergeant had the prisoner remanded, and wired to Sergeant Johnson, Goondiwindi, who sent Constable M'Kenna to identify the prisoner. The constable arrived at 4.30 p.m. on the 30th instant, and after looking at the prisoner swore he was not identical, but answered the description of the escaped prisoner, including the burn on his nose. The prisoner was at once brought up and discharged.

At 6 a.m. on the 31st instant the constable stated that he had made a mistake, and was sure he was the escaped prisoner. The constable also informed the Police Magistrate he had made a mistake in not identifying the man, and was quite sure he was the escaped prisoner.

The sergeant declined to rearrest the man, or have anything further to do with the case, but informed the Queensland constable he would not prevent him from rearresting the man on his own responsibility.

The constable appeared to be a man of experience, but after he first swore in the Court that the prisoner was not identical, and then to say he was, the sergeant had no confidence in him.

W. H. POUNTNEY,

Sergeant.

P.S.—When discharged, this man stated he would bring the matter of his detention in Moree lock-up under the notice of the Minister for Justice.—W.H.P., Sergeant.

Sergeant Pountney acted right in not rearresting the supposed escaped prisoner after the evidence of the Queensland constable.—M. BURNS, Sub-Inspector, 3/6/89. Mr. Inspector Creaghe. Sergeant Pountney could not have acted otherwise.—D.F., Sergeant. Forwarded for the information of the Inspector-General of Police. I consider Sergeant Pountney was perfectly justified, under the circumstances, in declining to rearrest offender.—RICHARD CREAGHE, Inspector, 6/6/89. The Inspector-General of Police.

As the Brisbane police are aware of the matter, it is now submitted as to whether it will be necessary to communicate with the Queensland Government.—C.W., 1/8/89. Copies of papers to be forwarded to the Government of Queensland, requesting their attention may be given to the case.—H.P., 31/1/90.

Mr. Henry Williams to The Minister of Justice.

Dear Sir,

Balmain, 21 June, 1889.

Whilst travelling through Moree on May 27th, I was met by a man, who asked me if I wanted a job. I said, "Yes." He asked which way I had come. I said, "From Warwick, through Goondiwindi." He asked when I came through Goondiwindi. I told him on the previous Saturday week. He then asked my name, and I said, "You are pretty inquisitive; have you a job for me." He said, "I am a policeman." I told my name was Henry Williams. He asked if anyone in Goondiwindi knew. I said, "No; the postmaster is the only man that knows my name." I asked him to forward my letters to Mungindi, and he made an entry in a book to that effect. I told, in answer to questions, that I had called at the two blacksmiths' shops and asked for work, and had done a job to a lamp for one named Ryan, that I had camped in a hut with a man named Skelton, and had left Goondiwindi at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and came to Bobra Station, in New South Wales, and stayed with the only two men employed on the station that night, 12 miles from Goondiwindi. He then said he arrested me on suspicion of being identical with John Fitzmaurice, who escaped from Goondiwindi lock-up. I was taken to the Court, and remanded for eight days. I protested against the time being so long, and the magistrate remarked that owing to the flooded state of the country it would probably be longer. I then suggested that he would remand me to Goondiwindi, as it would save time, and be more satisfactory, but the Bench told me he wanted no dictation from me. I was then taken to the gaol, and as soon as I got inside I was caught of roughly by the warder, and told I was not in a lock-up, but in Her Majesty's gaol. When being annoyed, I used language not polite, and was deemed guilty of insubordination, and got twenty-four hours bread and water, my blankets being taken, and I was not even allowed to wash myself. On the 30th, at about half-past 4 o'clock, the constable came from Goondiwindi, and swore I was not the man, and I was discharged. On 1st June, at 12 o'clock, I was rearrested. On asking what for, the Queensland constable said, "On suspicion of escaping from Goondiwindi lock-up." I said, "I have already been tried for that." He then read a warrant, charging John Fitzmaurice with stealing a pair of boots, and escaping from Goondiwindi lock-up, and said he arrested me on suspicion of being Fitzmaurice. He then took me to Millie lock-up. On the 2nd I asked the policeman Sewell to serve some witness I wanted with summonses to attend the Court, and he said he was not going to kill horses for me. On the 3rd I was brought John Eckford, J.P., and asked to be allowed to call witnesses to prove I was not in Queensland at the time this man was apprehended, but he said he was not there to try me, only to grant a remand. I demanded to get justice, but he remanded me. I told him I was a sufferer from the piles, and it probably cause my death, but he took no heed, and remanded me at about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and I was forced to ride 30 miles, which took till 2 o'clock in the morning, with rusty handcuffs on me. On the following day we had to cross a flooded river in a boat, and the policeman refused to unhandcuff me till some of the bystanders interfered. That night we camped in a hut, among a lot of travellers, and my legs were fastened together, one ring being put through another, thus  $\odot$ , and the twist cutting into my legs, so that I could not sleep. On the next day I was ill with the piles, and vomiting. We got to an hotel at half past 11 in the forenoon, and they kept me there all day, although at first I begged, and afterwards demanded, to be taken on. I told them I would report them, when M'Kenna said he would chain me to a tree if I did not hold my tongue. The leg-irons were put on the same as the night before, and my arms were in a dreadful state with the handcuffs. The next day I had to ride 43 miles, it raining all the

the time, and got to Goondiwindi at about half-past 7 o'clock in the evening, and had to grope in a dark cell for blankets as best I could. I asked for something to eat, and was banded in some tea in a pint-pot, and a bit of bread and meat in my hand, although I heard the senior-constable tell his wife I was the wrong man. I never saw anyone till the next morning, at about 10 o'clock, when a Chinaman brought in some tea and bread and meat in such condition that I, being ill, could not look at. I was then brought into the Court, not being allowed to comb my hair, although I had a comb of my own. The same constable, Christopher M'Kenna, who in Moree swore I was not the man, went into the witness-box and swore I was the man. The other three witnesses swore I was not the man. The senior-constable then asked for a remand for three days, saying he was unable to procure his principal witness. On the following day I was brought into the Court, and the senior-constable said his principal witness had left the district, and he did not wish to go on with the case. I was then discharged. I then asked for some assistance to get back to where I was taken from, as I was ill, and told the magistrate so. He said he could do nothing for me; it was a case of mistaken identity. I afterwards went to get a warrant for perjury against M'Kenna, and then magistrate told me I would have to Warwick, some 130 miles, and swear an information through a solicitor. I then started, and got laid up on the Tuesday, and have been ill ever since. On last Saturday I called on Mr. Henry, the Police Magistrate at Moree, and he expressed his opinion that the Queensland authorities have been guilty of culpable negligence, as he has had the opportunity of seeing the man that got away, and the description sent does not tally with the man, and he requested me to refer the authorities to him. I have suffered both in point of character, in bodily health, and mentally, as has also my wife, in consequence of this occurrence, and I feel I am not asking half what would recompense me when I ask for the sum of five hundred pounds (£500) from whoever is to blame in this matter. As a reference of my character, I refer you Thomas Colls, Esq., M.P. for Yass Plains, who has known me all my life, and for whom I have worked. Trusting you will cause as full an investigation into this as possible.

I remain, &c.,

HENRY WILLIAMS,
20, Crystal-street, Balmain.

Might be referred to the Inspector-General of Police for favour of full report in first instance. Submitted.—A.C.F., 25/6/89. Approved.—A.J.G., 26/6/89. The Inspector-General of Police.—A.C.F., B.C., 26/6/89.

The writer of the within was arrested on suspicion of being an escaped prisoner from Queensland. The policeman from that colony said at first he was not the man, but after his discharge said he was mistaken, he was the right man, and he had him remanded back to Queensland, and escorted him there. I sent the reports I received to the Commissioner of Police, Queensland, but have no reply. It would appear that Williams' claim should be made in Queensland, but I will afford further information, if desired, when I get the papers back to refer to, as I write this, to save time, from recollection. The Benches of Magistrates might be asked for reports.—EDMUND FOSBERY, B.C., 27/6/89.

Jacob Garrard, Esq., M.P., to The Colonial Secretary.

Sir,

Balmain, 14 December, 1889.

I have the honor to direct your attention to the case of Henry Williams, the papers in connection with which are now in your Department. The facts are briefly these:—Williams, who had resided in Balmain for several years, and is a blacksmith by trade, owing to slackness of trade, left Sydney early in the present year, seeking work in Queensland and the northern part of this Colony. In the course of his travels he arrived at Moree, where he was arrested on the charge of being identical with a prisoner who had escaped from the lock-up at Goondiwindi, Queensland. After being imprisoned several days he was discharged, the constable from Queensland swearing that he was not the man wanted. The following day Williams was continuing his journey when he was rearrested by the Queensland constable on the same charge. He was taken to Goondiwindi, Queensland, and en route was treated in a most harsh manner, handcuffed and leg-ironed, and made to ride on horseback while suffering from piles. He was brought up before the Bench at Goondiwindi and again discharged, as he was in no way like the man that was wanted.

Williams, after great suffering (aggravated by the treatment he had received at the hands of the Queensland police), reached home, and was laid up for some time. He now seeks damages at the hands of the Queensland Government for wrongful arrest by their officer on New South Wales territory.

The papers have been sent on to you from the Justice Department, and I await with confidence your action in this matter, feeling sure you will not allow a resident of this Colony to suffer an injustice, however humble the individual may be.

I have, &c.,

J. GARRARD.

Refer again to the Inspector-General of Police.—C.W., B.C., 6/1/90. The attached papers explain the facts. The application ought to be made to the Government of Queensland, or by action at law.—EDMUND FOSBERY, I.-G.P., B.C., 7/1/90. The Principal Under Secretary.

PLEASE send me all papers returned to you on 28th June, re prisoner Fitzmaurice, alias Williams, arrested at Moree in May last. Williams' case referred by New South Wales Government to this Government.

The papers referred to herein were forwarded to the Principal Under Secretary on the 7th January last (C.S. No. 89-14,600). Will Mr. Walker please cause them to be returned to me.—EDM. Forwarded to the Commissioner of Police, Brisbane.—EDMUND FOSBERY, Inspector-General of Police, 25/2/90. The Commissioner of Police, Brisbane.

The Chief Secretary of Queensland to The Colonial Secretary of New South Wales.

Sir,

Chief Secretary's Office, Brisbane, 21 March, 1890.

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 13th ultimo, enclosing copy of correspondence relating to the arrest of one Henry Williams, a resident of New South Wales, by a member of the police force of this colony, on an alleged charge of escaping from the Goondiwindi gaol, and containing statement of a claim made by Williams for compensation for wrongful arrest and detention.

On receipt of your letter I caused the papers to be handed to the Colonial Secretary, by whose Department full inquiry was made into the matter, from the result of which it appears that Williams so closely resembled the escaped prisoner, even to certain burn-marks on the nose, and that other circumstances connected with the case pointed so directly to him as the escapee, that the policeman cannot be held guilty of acting negligently or without due care; and I have accordingly, while expressing the regret of the Government at the hardship experienced by Williams through a mistake of the constable, to state that they are unable to recognise his claim for compensation.

I have, &c.,

JOHN M. MACROSSAN,

For the Chief Secretary.

The Inspector-General of Police.—C.W., B.C., 28/3/90. Noted and returned. All the papers in the case are with the Queensland Government.—GEO. READ, pro I.-G.P., 1/4/90. The Principal Under Secretary. Inform Mr. Garrard.—C.W., 3/4/90.

The Principal Under Secretary to Jacob Garrard, Esq., M.P.

Sir,

Colonial Secretary's Office, Sydney, 11 April, 1890.

With reference to previous correspondence, I am directed by the Colonial Secretary to inform you that the papers relating to the arrest of one Henry Williams, a resident of New South Wales, by a member of the police force of Queensland, on an alleged charge of escaping from the Goondiwindi gaol, and containing statement of a claim preferred by Williams for compensation for wrongful arrest and detention, were duly brought under the notice of the Colonial Secretary of Queensland, and that a reply has been received, of which the following is an extract:—

Full inquiry was made into the matter, from the result of which it appears that Williams so closely resembled the escaped prisoner, even to certain burn-marks on the nose, and that other circumstances connected with the case pointed so directly to him as the escapee, that the policeman cannot be held guilty of acting negligently or without due care; and I have accordingly, while expressing the regret of the Government at the hardship experienced by Williams through a mistake of the constable, to state that they are unable to recognise his claim for compensation.

I have, &c.,

Principal Under Secretary.

Jacob Garrard, Esq., M.P., to The Principal Under Secretary.

Sir,

Balmain, 17 April, 1890.

I am in receipt of yours of the 11th instant, enclosing an extract from letter of the Colonial Secretary, Queensland, referring to the case of Henry Williams.

In reply, I have to state that I am informed that the supposed resemblance between Williams and the prisoner does not exist, which is proved by the fact that as soon as the Queensland constable went into the witness-box at Moree he swore that Williams was not the man wanted. And subsequently (after Williams' illegal rearrest on New South Wales territory by a Queensland constable), on being brought before the Goondiwindi (Queensland) Bench, he was at once discharged, as he was in no way like the man who had escaped from the lock-up, he being very dark, while Williams is very fair.

I have, therefore, to request that the whole of the papers may be sent on to the Police Magistrate, at Moree, for a report on the case, but especially as to the supposed likeness between the prisoner that was wanted and Williams.

I would also point out that since Williams' return to Sydney he has been suffering from the effects of the brutal treatment he received at the hands of the Queensland police when taken from Moree to Goondiwindi.

In conclusion, I would say that if this poor man is to get no compensation for the pain and disgrace he has suffered, then justice in New South Wales must not only be blind, but stone dead.

I am, &c.,

J. GARRARD.

These papers having now been returned from Queensland might be forwarded through the Department of Justice for a further report from the Police Magistrate, Moree, as to the illegal arrest of Williams by the police.—C.W., 15/5/90.

Sir,

Court-house, Walgett, 27 May, 1890.

In compliance with the request contained in your B.C., 90-7,165, of the 20th instant, and previous papers, re the arrest of one Henry Williams, by virtue of a warrant issued in Queensland, I have the honor to state, for the information of the Honorable the Minister of Justice, that it was an unfortunate fact for Williams that he so resembled the man wanted, both as to complexion, build, occupation, even to a mark on his nose, and the time that prisoner escaped gaol agrees with the date on which Williams left Goondiwindi. When the constable from Queensland first saw prisoner he said he was not the man, but like him, on which evidence I discharged him. Within an hour's time, however, the constable considered he had made a mistake, and wished the man to be rearrested, but as the Moree police rightly declined to do so, he was once more arrested by the Queensland man. I may say that I never had to deal with a more insolent fellow before whilst he was in the Moree lock-up, awaiting the arrival of the witnesses, his conduct being so bad that I had to give him solitary confinement and bread and water to eat. Of course his bad conduct did not tend to make me sorry for him, or consider that he was not guilty, which, after all, the unfortunate fellow's trouble, he proved to be.

I have, &c.,

Report herewith submitted with reference to Minister's minute of 21st ultimo.—A.C.F., 2/6/90. Colonial Secretary.—A.J.G., 3/6/90. The Principal Under Secretary.—T.E.M'N. (for U.S.), B.C., 4/6/90. (COMPLAINTS MADE AGAINST MR. T. R. ICELY, VISITING MAGISTRATE TO.)

Ordered by the Legislative Assembly to be printed, 28 November, 1890.

RETURN to an Order made by the Honorable the Legislative Assembly of New South Wales, dated 15th October, 1890, That there be laid upon the Table of this House,—

“Copies of the complaints made against Mr. T. R. Icelly, Visiting Magistrate to Lord Howe Island, and his reports thereon.”

(Mr. Toohey, for Mr. Traill.)

Celine Y. Moore to The Principal Under Secretary.

Sir,

Lord Howe Island, 8 January, 1890.

Kindly permit me to bring under your notice a matter which occurred here to-day.

Mr. Edmund Jeune had occasion to appear before the Visiting Magistrate, Mr. Icelly, to settle a dispute about some crops. Mr. Icelly, in giving a decision against Mr. Jeune, accused him of being a “mean contemptible man,” and of having seduced a young girl, he being already married.

In answer to those very grave charges, Sir, I beg to say that I am the young girl in question. I am 34 years of age, and Mr. Jeune and I have lived together for four years. We have two little children, and no man could be a kinder husband or better father than he is. We shall be married as soon as we legally can. We hope next month.

Mr. Icelly’s accusation was not only altogether false but also very cruel. We are on this little island quite penniless, and have to depend a good deal on the kindness of the people. Mr. Jeune is suffering from heart disease, as two leading doctors in Sydney can certify. What our position would be if Mr. Icelly succeeded in diverting the favour of this little community from us, I tremble to think. Apologising for troubling you.

I am, &amp;c.,

CELINE YVONNE MOORE.

Mr. E. Jeune to The Principal Under Secretary.

Sir,

Lord Howe Island, 8 January, 1890.

I have the honor to inform you that I came to Lord Island on 17th March, 1889, for the benefit of my health. After staying a short time I derived great benefit from the climate and change, and I determined to become a settler on the island. I entered into an agreement with one Perry Johnson, who had gardens. I was to receive a third of all remunerative productions from the said gardens, I to assist to work and cultivate the same. After the crops were in the ground, and I had laid the foundation of a house, the said Perry Johnson, without any fault of mine, or any breach of the said agreement, informed me he wished to dissolve partnership. I agreed, on conditions that I was to receive one-third of crops, as per agreement. Portions of such produce I did receive, except a share of forty bunches of bananas. When I applied for my shares of the said bananas he repudiated my claim, and I brought the matter before the Visiting Magistrate (Mr. Icelly), who decided the case against me, and who, in the presence of Mr. Robins and Stevens, two special constables, and my former partner, made use of the terms, “You are a mean, contemptible man, you have taken P. Johnson in;” and when I attempted to defend myself said, “Put him out! put him out!” I send you a copy of my stamped agreement, which was drawn out by Captain T. G. Nicholls, who is a particular friend of Mr. Icelly’s and the said Perry Johnson, and was also witnessed by him. I beg most respectfully to ask whether a visiting magistrate has a right to use insulting language, to wit, “You are a mean contemptible man, and seduced a woman above yourself,” which I aver is totally untrue and foreign to the case brought before Mr. Icelly. These remarks were said by Mr. Icelly to me in the presence of two special constables and Perry Johnson. I hope you will give the matter your serious consideration, and advise me at your earliest convenience. I would add that the respectable portion of the inhabitants who are acquainted with my case sympathise with me.

I have, &amp;c.,

EDMUND JEUNE,

Master Mariner.

The Visiting Magistrate, Lord Howe Island, to The Principal Under Secretary.

Sydney, 17 January, 1890.

THE writers of these letters are the people referred to by me in my report of the 20th May last. Upon my first interview with them they both told me all sorts of falsehoods, the woman, who is not only clever and accomplished, writing to me under a false name. Failing, however, in the object of the original deception by which the lady hoped to get the appointment of school-teacher, they induced Perry Johnson, an aged but hard-working black man, who has been upon the island for many years, and has nice gardens, to take them into partnership, Jeune putting nothing into the partnership, but agreeing to build a house, which house was to become the property of Johnson upon the dissolution of the partnership; before however the house was built the partnership came to an end,—lasting, indeed, only a little over three months.

Some weeks after the dissolution Perry Johnson shipped some forty bunches of bananas, upon which Jeune put in his claim for one third of the sum they realised. Johnson refused to give it to him, and the case coming before me, I decided that "inasmuch as Jeune had not either helped to plant the bananas or to pick them, that he was not entitled to any portion of them, and that although I thought the document of agreement then before me had no legal standing—that, equitably, inasmuch as it had induced him (Jeune) to do certain work that he (Jeune) was entitled to one-third of all such crops as he (Jeune) had helped to put in, but to none other."

It was upon Jeune becoming impertinent that I made use of the expression that "it was mean and contemptible of him to try and take advantage of the old man—that it was only in keeping with my experience of him; that he had commenced by telling me lies by the number; that he had not only told lies himself, but had induced a respectable woman whom he had seduced to write me lies also, until I did not know what to believe and what not to."

T. R. ICELY.
Visiting Magistrate, Lord Howe Island.

[Enclosures.]

Extract of Report of Visiting Magistrate, Lord Howe Island, dated 20th May, 1889.

Then, again, in the Echo of the 26th March last, appears this paragraph:—

"JEUNE v. JEUNE.—Mr. Ralston appeared for the petitioner (the wife), and moved to dispense with further service on the respondent, who had been served personally with the citation, but had not appeared. An affidavit was read stating that respondent, who had been a hotelkeeper in Sydney, had left the Colony and gone to Lord Howe Island. Further service was dispensed with, and the issues were settled as—marriage on the 10th December, 1882, and adultery between 1885 and 1889. The hearing was set down for the 4th June, without a jury."

Upon my arrival, sure enough I found a Mr. and Mrs. Jeune, who had shortly before been brought down to the Island in a little schooner called the "Index," by a Mr. Langley, a gentleman who has had some connection with the Island for some few years past.

Of my own observation I should have had nothing to say against either Mr. Jeune, or the lady who is with him, who calls herself Mrs. Jeune, but the islanders, upon discovering the above paragraph, quickly drew my attention to it, and are specially indignant at the idea of the lady offering herself as "school-misses." Having

Having brought these two instances of recent immigration to the Island specially under your notice, giving you at the same time a brief outline of my reason, &c. I shall be glad to have from you such direction as will convey to me the view you take of the matter, as also the general policy in the case of new arrivals upon the Island that you would wish me to pursue.

I have, &c.,
T. R. ICELY,
Visiting Magistrate, Lord Howe Island.

Sir,

Lord Howe's Island, 21 May, 1889.

You must have observed since your arrival how very desirable it is that the position of teacher, vacant since the resignation of Mr. Stevens, should be filled, and as it is probably your intention to mention the matter to the authorities in Sydney, I venture to call your attention to the fact that I have been engaged in tuition for several years, and that as I reside on the island it may be found advisable for many reasons to comply with my request for the appointment. In the first place, a female teacher is asked for by all the inhabitants who have an interest in the matter, and I fancy few women would care to come here where they would be entirely cut off from intercourse with their friends except at irregular intervals; and then the fact of my teaching needlework would decrease the expense. The last master's wife had £20 extra for this. It is true I do not hold a certificate, but then my being appointed without a certificate would not be without precedent, as there has been already one or two teachers on the island appointed by Captain Armstrong, neither of which were certificated.

Should the authorities consider my application I can refer them to the wife of Dr. Brady, Lyons' Terrace, and [also to Mr. Percy Johnson, of Annandale, in whose family I have taught; both, I am sure, would speak well of me. All the inhabitants, as you are aware, would be pleased at my appointment, and I would conscientiously try to do them justice.

Yours, &c.,
C. JEUNE.

MR. RALSTON, instructed by Mr. J. T. Gray, for the petitioner. This was a petition brought by the wife to obtain a dissolution of marriage on the ground of her husband's adultery. The parties were married at Brisbane in 1882, and lived together until September, 1884, when the petitioner, with respondent's consent, went on a visit to England, and on her return found that her husband was living with a woman named Celine Moore. His Honor granted a decree nisi, with costs against the co-respondent.

Certain Residents of Lord Howe Island to The Colonial Secretary.

To the Hon. Sir Henry Parkes, G.C.M.G., Premier of New South Wales, &c.

Sir,

Lord Howe Island, 18 March, 1890.

We the undersigned have heard with regret that an attempt has been made by a resident of this place to cast injurious reflections upon the conduct of our Visiting Magistrate, T. R. Icelly, Esq.

In justice to that gentleman and to ourselves as law-abiding colonists we desire to state that during all his visits here, Mr. Icelly has conducted himself as a gentleman impressed with a due sense of his position and the dignity and impartial characteristics of the magisterial office. Undoubtedly we have amongst us those who are antagonistic to the visitations of recognised authority, or the presence of controlling power; but we feel assured that unless the Government of New South Wales was in some way represented here the doctrine of "Might is right" would be exemplified to the injury of the more peaceable portion of the settlers;—indeed as a matter of fact we know that some of those who are opposed to magisterial visits or Government control have attempted to obtain land held by others, and public land without the authority of the Government representative.

We feel much pleasure in assuring you that so far as has come under our knowledge and observation, Mr. Icelly has discharged his duties with credit to himself and the Government, and that he possesses the confidence of the majority of the residents.

We would also, Sir, respectfully protest against any person or persons assuming the right to represent the opinions of this community unless authorised to do so at a public meeting of the settlers. It might also be advisable that, as far as possible, all meetings for the discussion of matters affecting the general welfare should be presided over by the official representing the central Government.

The Principal Under Secretary to Mr. T. G. C. Nichols and others.

Gentlemen,

Colonial Secretary's Office, 21 July, 1890.

With reference to your letter of the 18th March last, respecting certain injurious reflections alleged to have been cast upon Mr. T. R. Icely, Visiting Magistrate to Lord Howe Island, and expressing your implicit confidence in that gentleman's ability and impartiality, I have the honor to inform you that there is no official record of any aspersions being made against Mr. Icely.

Mr. W. E. Langley to The Colonial Secretary.

Sir,

Merchants' Exchange, Sydney, 18 July, 1890.

I regret to feel it my duty to call your attention to the administration of justice at Lord Howe Island. Never before was the place in such a disturbed state as when I left it, and I feel sure that unless some steps are taken by you matters will assume a more unpleasant aspect.

On Mr. Icely's first visit he found on the island a number of children named Douglas, whose mother and step-father had returned to Sydney. Numerous complaints were made about them, and Mr. Icely officially reported on the matter to the Premier. The children were afterwards removed, and about four months ago the whole family returned. Mrs. Harland at once began to cause disturbances of various kinds, and during Mr. Icely's last visit kept his time rather occupied. In her presence I applied to him for a summons or information on a charge of criminal libel, in that she had stated to two residents that a conspiracy was being hatched in my house between Captain Garth, of the "Mary Ogilvie," Messrs. Thompson, Wilson, Hamill, and myself, and that we were concocting villainous charges against Mr. Icely, in order to have him removed, adding that his life was not safe if it were known that she had talked about it. Mrs. Harland then positively denied that there was one word of truth in my statements. I then gave the names of my witnesses, and Mr. Icely fixed 2 p.m. of the 16th ultimo to hear my complaint. Before opening the case I asked him to take the evidence on oath, but he declined doing so, and after hearing the statements of Messrs. Captain Nichols and Mrs. Dathe, Mrs. Harland admitted she had made them, asserting at the same time that Captain Powell, mate of the "Mary Ogilvie," was her informant. Now, as it happened, Captain Garth, owner of that vessel, had heard prior to the opening of the Court, that Mrs. Harland had mixed Powell's name in the matter, and had sent him written notice that he must attend the Court and give evidence. Powell was therefore in attendance, and on being called, demanded that his evidence should be on oath, as from what he had heard his situation depended on his ability to disprove the statement he understood to have emanated from Mrs. Harland, and this he certainly could do; but again Mr. Icely refused to have the evidence on oath. Powell then positively asserted that "such a statement as that made by Mrs. Harland could never have entered his head, and that with the exception of Captain Garth, when on business, he had never even seen me speaking to the other alleged conspirators, much less seen them at my house." It was well known to all the residents that there were none of their number I kept at such a distance as Wilson, Thompson, and Hamill. The latter was in Court, and asked permission to make a statement, but Mr. Icely refused to hear him, alleging that he had nothing to do with it. He asserted that he had, as his name was mentioned as one of the conspirators, yet his statement was declined. Mrs. Harland was then asked if she had any evidence to disprove Powell's assertion, and called her husband, but all that he could say was that, acting upon his wife's information, he had asked Powell, and that the latter apparently did not know what he meant.

Then followed the strangest feature of the case. Mr. Icely stood up, and addressing me, said, "Mr. Langley, you are exonerated." I replied, "What do you mean, Sir?" He then added, "from this charge," and upon my saying, "Mr. Icely, there is a slight mistake; it is my charge of libel against Mrs. Harland," I was peremptorily ordered to sit down, as he would not hear another word from me.

I at once left the Court, and when Mr. Icely came out I said, "I think, Sir, I have fully proved my case; what are you going to do in the matter?" His reply was, "What can I do?" to which I rejoined, "Surely it is not my business to dictate to you your duty as Magistrate." As I saw that he did not intend taking any further action, I intimated my intention of taking the matter to higher quarters. While this case and others were pending against Mrs. Harland, Mr. Icely was constantly at her house, or walking about with her daughter, Miss Douglas, and I am credibly informed that on the evening of the day upon which he dealt with this case in such an extraordinary manner he dined with the family.

Equally strange has been his action in land disputes in which Mrs. Harland has been mixed up, and as the Islanders must at present have acquired a strange idea of how justice may be dispensed in the future, I would respectfully ask for an immediate inquiry, so as to prevent any further injustice being done.

Captain Hamill, now under committal for bigamy, against whom I am one of the principal witnesses, and Powell, of the "Mary Ogilvie," will, I am sure, bear out all I have said regarding the proceedings in Court.

Respectfully asking for early action in the matter,

I have, &amp;c.

WM. E. LANGLEY,

District Registrar,

Lord Howe Island.

I certify that the proceedings at the Police-court at Lord Howe Island, as described by Mr. Langley, as the accused, on the 16th day of June, 1890, are correct.

WM. POWELL.

Refer to Visiting Magistrate.—C.W., B.C., 21/7/90.

The Visiting Magistrate, Lord Howe Island, to The Principal Under Secretary.

In the matter referred to herein I acted as I thought most prudently.

The complaint was one originating out of "repeated conversations." Thus:—

Mrs. Nichols told Mr. Langley that Mrs. Harland had told her, that Captain Powell had repeated to her (Mrs. Harland) a number of scandals supposed to have originated in his (Mr. Langley's) house.

I listened to a long story (of, as I say above, nothing but "repeated conversations"), and when all had told me all they had to say, I summed up, saying:—

"There certainly is nothing to show that any such meeting was held in Mr. Langley's house—or, indeed, in any house—so Mr. Langley is most certainly exonerated from imputation.

"I can say no more. No doubt somebody started the story, but whether Mrs. Harland or Captain Powell, it is impossible for me to say—the one saying one thing, and the other quite the reverse."

Mr. Langley then interjected: "I consider it a case for criminal libel," to which I replied, "I won't hear any more of the case."

With reference to my refusal to put certain people upon their oath, I have to say that, at Lord Howe Island, many cases come before me, in which I deem it best to simply hear what people have to say. Of such nature was that case to which Mr. Langley refers, as also was that which, next but one, immediately preceded it.

It was a case originating in the fact that someone had one night made "a mess" in Mr. Langley's fishing-boat, and that someone else had said that it was done by Hamell's child, Hamell repudiating and bringing evidence to show that the colossal character of "the mess" was in itself proof that it must have been the act of some one bigger than his child, &c., &c., &c.

I listened, as before told, to all that had to be said; and then, expressing the conclusion at which I had arrived, said, "Although it is evident that Mr. Langley's boat has been dirtied, and in a very disgraceful way, nothing has been said to fix the disgusting act upon any particular person; but I certainly judge that it was not the act of the accused child."

So also, in the matter of the paper marked A. I told Mr. Langley I would not swear him; that this (alluding to the paper) was the first I had heard of it; but that, if he liked, I would accept the document as a declaration.

As to land questions, I settled before I left the Island all cases brought before me, save only that in the intestate estate of Charles Williams (referred to in my report of the 4th July instant), and an application from T. H. Wilson for extension of boundary, which, for local reasons, I postponed deciding upon.

Lord Howe Island.

I, WILLIAM EDWARD LANGLEY, make oath and say, that having been informed by three residents of this Island that Mrs. Mary Wilson and Mrs. Emma Meade have made certain slanderous statements regarding myself and Mrs. Johnson, wife of Perry Johnson, I distinctly and unequivocally assert that no improper relations have at any time existed between us, nor anything taken place that would in any way form a groundwork for the malicious falsehood that the said persons, Wilson and Meade, have uttered regarding the fair fame and character of the said Mrs. Johnson so far as I am concerned or am aware of.

This affidavit I make before R. T. Icey, Esq., Visiting Magistrate, in the hope that he will take some steps to put a stop to the lying slanders which are causing so much dispeace on the Island.

Mr. Langley may perhaps be informed that his complaint, with reference to the administration of Justice at Lord Howe Island having been reported upon by the Visiting Justice, the Colonial Secretary does not see any grounds for taking further action in the matter.—J.J.T., 28/7/90.

The Visiting Magistrate, Lord Howe Island, to The Principal Under Secretary.

Sir,

105, Pitt-street, Sydney, 23 July, 1890.

I have been told to-day that I have been accused of bringing sundries from Lord Howe Island for profit purposes.

I have never since I have been visiting the Island received for my own pocket one single farthing for any of the little things that I have brought from it with me, while in the gathering of such no Islander has ever worked for me for nothing.

With reference to your letter of the 18th instant, complaining of the manner in which justice is administered in Lord Howe Island, I am desired to inform you that the Visiting Magistrate has reported on your complaint, and there does not appear to be any grounds for action in the matter.

The Visiting Magistrate, Lord Howe Island, to The Principal Under Secretary.

Sir,

105, Pitt-street, Sydney, 12 September; 1890.

I have the honor to report my return this morning to Sydney, after paying a second visit, for the current year, to Lord Howe Island.

2. * * * * *
3. * * * * *

4. Referring to a hasty report, written by me upon the eve of my last leaving Sydney, in reply to a complaint emanating from the pen of Mr. Langley, I desire further to say, that at Lord Howe Island, a vast number of the cases that come before me have a character peculiarly their own. People upon the Island, proverbially for the most part of sober habits, do not fight, nor do they often meet and squabble, nor do they rob each other, but they are for ever repeating conversations and saying behind each other's backs things which, when retold, create the bitterest of feeling, followed by vicious complaints, revealing little other than crimination and recrimination, and rendering it frequently most difficult to decide which of the litigating parties is least in the wrong.

It is as much as anything to meet such cases that I usually ask complainants when they come to me what their case is, and, without putting them to the expense which attends the bringing of a case formally before a Police Court, fix a time when I will hear it. Under such circumstances I do not swear, for, the case not being thus in required judicial-form before me, I doubt if I should be doing right were I to examine the litigants and their witnesses upon oath.

It might be suggested that I should act otherwise, and have all cases brought properly and formally before me, but this would, in the first place, deprive me of a good deal of discretion, which I am now frequently enabled to exercise with advantage, and would, I fear, cause many of the people to say, "What is the use of a magistrate? we can't go near him unless we have money in our hands," which would, as I take it, frustrate to a certain extent one of the very objects of my visits, which is to bring me, as the representative of the New South Wales Government, as much as possible in direct contact with the people—and to keep them orderly, by deciding their sundry troubles in as simple and in as inexpensive a way to them as is possible—thus keeping them in mind of their position, viz,—that while permitted to "locate" upon Lord Howe Island, paying neither rent nor tax, their welfare is not forgotten by the Colony, of which the Island forms an outlying and distant part.

Then again—although it is true that I have the Statute books of the Colony to direct me, there is a practical impossibility of my carrying them out in simple cases, which will be evident when I say that there is not practically any money upon the Island to pay fines, nor is there any lock-up, so that, really, in nine cases out of ten, there is no other course open to me but to act, as in each particular case, I think most prudently, obeying statute directions as far as I can, but being at the same time careful, not, by doing so too closely to exhibit the absolute weakness of my position, and thus run the risk of upsetting authority.

I wish, however, these remarks to apply only to matters of simple character with which I have so many to deal.

In cases of crime of serious nature, being furnished with both handcuffs and leg-irons, my course is clearer.

I write this after an experience of eighteen months, during which time I have made special study of the interests and the best mode of managing the people of Lord Howe Island, who, having from the first, for a civilized community, been peculiarly situated, have engendered peculiarities which require peculiar management. No ownership of land, no rent, no tax, no church, no lockup, whilst, outside "talky-talky" scandal, there is but little vice.

Apart, however, from all these arguments, I was induced to treat the case of which Mr. Langley complains in the way that I did from the fact that I had only a short time before he brought it before me received a communication from him [annexed and marked B],* accusing Mrs. Harland of the very same thing that he in his case says Mrs. Harland accuses him, that is, of a conspiracy to induce the Government to remove me. The origin, however, of the major part of the subject matter of Mr. Langley's letter (if not in the fruitful mind of Mr. Langley himself) I am unable to imagine † Apart from Mr. Langley, I am not aware that there is anyone upon the Island who would think of making any such charges as are set forth in his letter to the Colonial Secretary; and I have the honor to suggest that unless he can substantiate in its meaning what he has written against me, that he, my subordinate officer, may be removed from the official position which he holds, viz, that of District Registrar of Lord Howe Island.

I have, &amp;c.,

T. Icelly, Esq.

Dear Sir,

B.

Lord Howe Island, 16 March, 1890.

A few days ago Mrs. Harland informed me that during a visit Thompson paid them while in Sydney he stated that one of the objects of his trip to the city was to endeavour to have you removed, and that he was having the aid of J. J. Taylor, who had made for him an appointment with some Member of Parliament whose name she forgets; that Thompson left Minto with the avowed object of that day meeting Taylor and said member, and boasted of his certainty in effecting his object. The details of his statement to Mrs. H. you will hear from herself. She appeared quite surprised when I said it was the first I heard of the matter, as she understood from Thompson that he represented the general wish of the islanders regarding your removal.

No doubt you may think it strange that I, who, of all others, seems to think I have had most reason for dissatisfaction, should have taken action in this matter; but through life I have always had an aversion to hitting foul blows, and in this case the blow appears to have been given behind your back. Jeune was made use of as the ostensible combatant, and Thompson appears to have come forward as a disinterested witness. I informed Captain Nichols of what I had heard, and he interviewed Mrs. H., who has also narrated the matter to him. As a result I have drawn up and had signed a letter to Sir H. Parkes in reference to the matter. Should you not be shown the original I have retained a copy.

Thompson, Wilson, Robins, Stevens, and King, have had several meetings at the school-house recently. Captain Nichols was invited, but wrote declining. Wm Nichols called and asked me to go, but as Wilson had sent written invitations to all the residents except myself I declined, and said to Nichols I thought it a most improper proceeding to take in your absence. He told them as much at the first meeting, and never went back. He understood that their chief object was to prevent any strangers from settling here, but nothing was done while he was present. I hear that Wilson drew

* This letter was marked "confidential," but Mr. Langley was in no way justified in so addressing me.
† See letter marked C, from Mr. Harland.

drew up a petition which goes by this mail, and if so you will probably see it. Of this you may be assured, Captain Nichols, his sons, his brother, Johnson, Wilson, Mosely, Darthe, and myself, disown any connection with the affair, and if you take away the acting forest-rangers, who have no right to be mixed up with the matter, it seems confined to the Thompson family that a hole and corner affair of this kind should have any influence at head quarters seems absurd—but it might. If my remarks on the subject are not excused from my letter to the Herald it may place their actions in a true light before others than those who may have been duped by Thompson. Will you kindly bring me papers in which it appears.

Thompson and Wilson have been found by Mrs. H. to have acted towards her with cleverly arranged duplicity and now neither she or her family hold any intercourse with them. Mosely has agreed to stand by his former lease so far as rental is concerned, leaving other details until your arrival. It is also partly arranged that the Harlands take up all Mrs. Field's gardens except that which I have, they agreeing to maintain her for the rest of her life, but she will sign nothing unless you are present. Mrs. H. has revealed a veritable crop of slanders emanating from one source and making relations here more strained than ever, but these things will probably come before you officially.

Taking all things into consideration, I must say that during my connection of eight years with the island, I have never known matters so unsettled as they now are; I sometimes wonder how it will end.

If this Thompson episode had not transpired it was my intention to have written to you regarding a libellous statement made to me before Captain Nichols in connection with certain letters Jeune is said to have sent to Sydney, one being addressed to Mr. H. Levien, M.L.A. However our joint communication to Sir H. Parkes covers all the ground. As from misrepresentations made to Mr. Levien, he may have promised to bring the affair before Parliament, it might be well for Mr. Street to ask him if it is so, and to say upon my authority that he has been wilfully misled. Levien knows me sufficiently well to feel assured that he will rely upon my word especially as I have no interest in the matter except to uphold the cause of truth. It is to be hoped that you will not find your path of duty here as thorny as that which Captain Armstrong travelled, but so long as I reside on the island I for one though I stand alone will not allow our malignants to attack the representative of the Government—whether it be yourself or a stranger—so long as I feel satisfied he is doing right. I shall raise my voice against it even though my protest may make me additional enemies.

Yours, &c.,
WM. E. LANGLEY.

P.S.—When Mrs. H. first came down I heard her say that the next magistrate would be a doctor a particular friend of hers. I replied, "I think the appointment will depend upon who is in power when a vacancy occurs"; upon this she said, "Oh no it is all settled." Since then and that she and Thompson have been washing their dirty linen, it turns out that both thought your removal assured. I fear that you will find that her return here has been the most baneful incident in the history of the island, a very firebrand amongst tinder.—W.E.L.

Received in April, 1890, with North Shore post mark upon it. Not acknowledged.—T.R.I.

T. R. Iccly, Esq., J.P.

C.

Minto, 21 April, 1890.

Dear Sir,
You were so courteous in replying to my last letter that it has encouraged me to trouble you still further to ascertain whether you are prepared to formally recognise me as a bona fide settler in the Island when I take up my abode there with my wife, and before I launch out into expense over buildings, &c. My solicitors told me some months ago that only you were empowered to do this, and only by this could I legally reside there.

It is greatly to be regretted I did know this earlier; it would have saved me much expense and anxiety, instead of foolishly accepting the opinions of parties who had interests on the island or by trading there. Could you, dear sir, kindly define somewhat my position on the Island as a settler there—that is, I presume Government could at any time dispossess me.

But do you think there is much probability of their doing so in our case, having antecedents that would not preclude us from any society. And if this should come to pass, do you think my improvements would be confiscated, or would I be able to remove them?

[In confidence.] I am sorry to inform you that Mrs. Harland in her letter to me says very grave things about certain of the islanders and their dissatisfaction with you. My wife expresses her indignation in such terms that she advised me to repeat her statements to you to put you on your guard. However, in the absence of proof on my part, I defer saying anything definite until our return to the island, when I expect Mrs. Harland will be her own newsbearer.

Yours, &c.,
A. E. HARLAND.

My dear Sir,

105, Pitt-street, Sydney, 22 April, 1890.

I have your letter of yesterday's date. In reply, I do not know of objection to any person of respectability going to Lord Howe Island.

I judge by your letter that you are aware that it is a reserve, as also of the terms upon which residence and improvement is permitted by the New South Wales Government.

That portion of the island fit for cultivation is, as you know, limited, and will support only a few families; this fact induces me to specially respect the claims of those already settled upon it—not, however, to the prejudice of all others, my duty being to study the greatest good for the greatest number.

Yours, &c.,
T. R. ICELY.

NEW SOUTH WALES.

CRIMINAL LAW AMENDMENT ACT OF 1883.

(AMENDED REGULATIONS FOR GIVING EFFECT TO SECTION 409, IN RESPECT OF LICENSES.)

Presented to Parliament, pursuant to Act 46 Vic. No. 17.

Department of Justice,
Sydney, 25th July, 1890.

His Excellency the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, has been pleased to approve of the following amended Regulations for giving effect to provisions of section 409 of the "Criminal Law Amendment Act of 1883" in respect of Licenses.

ALBERT J. GOULD.

AMENDED Regulations for giving effect to provisions of section 409 of the "Criminal Law Amendment Act," in respect of written Licenses to Offenders to be held at large within specified limits.

Prisoners under sentences to penal servitude and to hard labour on the Roads and Public Works, and to imprisonment with hard labour, will become eligible for licenses under the following conditions, viz. :—

1. Prisoners under sentences from three to five years, who have not been punished for misconduct within the previous six months and who are favourably recommended by the gaolers, at a period twelve months before they would become eligible for discharge under the ordinary remission regulations, and in anticipation of such discharge; in sentences of five to ten years, similarly at a period of eighteen months anterior to discharge; in sentences of ten years and upwards, at a period of two years.

2. The Governor may under exceptional circumstances grant a license to any offender at any period of his sentence.

3. Prisoners granted the privilege of licenses will be formed into the intermediate class, and will be designated license holders.

4. The license holders will be employed upon the works at Trial Bay Prison, in connection with the Department of Harbours and Rivers, and will be confined to the proclaimed boundary of that prison.

5. They will occupy such quarters as may be assigned to them, and they will be liable to ordinary prison punishment for any offences or disorder, in like manner as if they were serving their sentences, and will be subject to all the rules laid down for their treatment by the Comptroller-General, authorized by the Minister of Justice.

6. The licenses will be in the form hereto attached, and will be held by the prisoners.

7. License-holders will be supplied with rations according to the scale subjoined, and with clothing other than of the prison pattern.

8. They will further be allowed wages on accomplishment of specified tasks, or on the recommendation of the officers directing their work, according to the authorized scale. The wages will be credited to them until their discharge; but they will be allowed, at the discretion of the Superintendent, a certain proportion, not to exceed one-third, for the purchase of extra articles of consumption. Those who may wish to do so may also remit money, subject to the approval of the Superintendent, to any immediate relatives who are in destitute circumstances, but such remittances must not exceed one-third of the total amount earned. Those who may avail themselves of this concession will still be permitted to expend the proportion allowed for extra articles of consumption.

9. No license-holder will go beyond the proclaimed prison boundaries without a pass from the Superintendent, specifying the purpose for which it was granted, and any license-holder so going beyond will be an escapee as from ordinary imprisonment, and be liable to like arrest and penalties. Any infraction of this or other condition of the license will, apart from other penalty, involve forfeiture or suspension thereof, on the recommendation of a Justice, by authority of the Governor.

10. Any license-holder who, through misconduct, may have his license revoked, must defray the cost of his transfer to the gaol whence he came, to be paid from the wages which may have accrued during his servitude at Trial Bay.

11. All prisoners to be eligible for licenses will have to be passed as physically fit for quarrying, or other such labour, by the surgeons of the prisons, and the favourable recommendation of the gaolers must express a belief that the prisoner will conduct himself properly, and not abuse the privilege.

12. In case of prisoners who may not be eligible either from physical or other causes, and therefore have to serve their sentences in ordinary prisons, the consideration will be allowed of an additional remission period beyond that specified in the Prison Regulations, on the following scale:—

In sentences of from 3 to 5 years, 2 months.
5 to 10 years, 4 months.
10 years upwards, 6 months.

13. Prisoners under commuted sentences, and who are thereby debarred remission, may be allowed licenses as may in each case be determined by the Governor.

License in connection with the Public Works Prison at Trial Bay.

No.

His Excellency the Governor has been pleased to authorize the bearer of this License in terms of section 409 of the Criminal Law Amendment Act, to be employed on the works in connection with the Public Works Prison at Trial Bay, within the prescribed boundary of the portion of land at Arakoon, appointed as a place at which certain male offenders shall be detained, and be liable to be kept to hard labour, by proclamation dated 4th March, 1886, under the conditions specified in the Prison Regulations indorsed thereon.

Given this            day of            in the year 189            , under hand and seal, at the office of the Comptroller-
General of Prisons.

Comptroller-General.

Scale of Rations for License-holders, daily.

1 lb. bread, of fine wheaten and maize flour, in the proportion of  $\frac{1}{3}$  of the latter; 1 $\frac{1}{2}$  lb. fresh meat; 1 lb. vegetables;  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz. salt;  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz. soap; 1 oz. rice; 1 oz. sugar;  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz. tea; 2 oz. tobacco, weekly.

IN BANKRUPTCY.

RULES FOR PROCEDURE in Motions under Section 130 of the "Bankruptcy Act of 1887," made in pursuance of Section 119 of the "Bankruptcy Act of 1887."

Friday, the 29th August, 1890.

1. These Rules shall come into force on the 1st day of September, 1890.

2. Rule 11 of the Bankruptcy Rules of the 1st day of February, 1888, so far as the same applies to motions under Section 130 of the Act of 1887, is hereby repealed.

3. Any motion under Section 130 of the said Act may be set down for hearing on any Monday, Tuesday, or Wednesday, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, after the expiration of fourteen clear days from the filing and serving on the respondents of the notice of motion, and notice of the day of hearing shall be contained in such notice of motion: Provided that the Judge may upon application made ex parte direct that such hearing take place at an earlier date than herein provided, and give leave to serve short notice of hearing upon such terms and in such manner as the Judge shall think fit.

4. The applicant shall at the foot of any such notice of motion state whether he desires upon the hearing thereof to use oral evidence or affidavits, or partly oral evidence and partly affidavits, and shall in case he desires to use affidavits set forth at the foot of such notice of motion the names of the deponents thereof; and all affidavits intended to be used in support of any such motion shall be filed by the applicant with the Registrar of the Court, together with such notice of motion, or within such further time as the Judge may direct.

5. The notice of motion shall bear an indorsement in the form or to the effect set out in the Schedule to these Rules.

6. Any respondent to such notice of motion shall—if resident within 50 miles of Sydney within six clear days, or if resident more than 50 miles from Sydney, within eight clear days after service of any such notice of motion—cause to be filed with the Registrar a memorandum of appearance to the effect either that he disputes or admits the claim of the applicant or some part thereof, and specifying what part, or that he desires to submit to any order the Judge may think fit to make, or that he disclaims all right, title, and interest to and in the subject matter of the claim of the applicant.

7. Such memorandum of appearance shall in addition to the name and address of the respondent state some address (within one mile from the Bankruptcy Court), as an address for service; and service of all subsequent pleadings, notices, and documents at such place of address shall be deemed good service upon such respondent.

8. If such memorandum of appearance does not contain such address for service the same shall not be received by the Registrar, and if such address be illusory or fictitious the appearance may be set aside by the Judge on the application of the applicant.

9. If any respondent shall be desirous of opposing the claim of the applicant or any part thereof he shall at the foot of the memorandum of appearance state whether he desires to use in opposition thereto oral evidence or affidavits, or partly oral evidence and partly affidavits; and in case he desires to use affidavits he shall at the foot of such memorandum of appearance set forth the names of the deponents thereof; and all affidavits so intended to be used by him shall be filed with the Registrar, together with such memorandum of appearance, or within such further time as the Judge may direct.

10. If any respondent desires the matter to proceed on both sides by oral evidence alone (of which desire he shall give notice in his memorandum of appearance) the matter shall be so heard unless the respondent consents to the applicant using on the hearing of the motion any of the affidavits already filed by the applicant, and of such consent gives notice in his memorandum of appearance: Provided that the Judge may, on the hearing of any such motion, make any order he may deem fit as to the cost of any affidavits filed by the applicant as before directed.

11. When any respondent is duly served with a notice of motion and does not cause to be filed a memorandum of appearance within the time limited and in the manner provided by these rules, the Judge may, at the time appointed for hearing the said motion and upon proof of such service, make such order therein as he may deem fit: Provided that any respondent, notwithstanding such default of appearance, may at any time before the hearing of the said motion apply to the Judge for leave to file such memorandum of appearance upon such terms as to costs or otherwise as the Judge shall direct.

12. Where the matter is to be heard upon affidavits, either wholly or in part, the applicant shall, unless the Judge shall otherwise order, file with the Registrar and serve upon the respondent, or if more than one respondent, then upon each respondent, copies of all affidavits intended to be used by him in reply not less than two clear days before the day appointed for the hearing: Provided that no further affidavits shall be used upon the hearing unless the Judge shall so direct.

13. If either party desires that any deponent shall be in attendance for cross-examination, he shall give notice to the party relying upon the affidavit of such deponent not later than two clear days before the day of hearing. And if any deponent shall not be in attendance for cross-examination after such notice given as aforesaid, the party to whom such notice has been given shall not (unless the Judge shall otherwise order) in any way make use of the affidavit of such deponent.

14. It shall not be necessary for the party giving such notice to tender the expenses of any deponent required to be in attendance for cross-examination: Provided that the Judge may, at the hearing, make any order he may deem fit as to the expense and costs occasioned by such notice.

15. All rules now in force in Equity with reference to proceedings before the Master in Equity and regulating the mode of inquiries before such Master, and the time for and mode of appealing from such Master to the Chief Judge in Equity, shall, so far as the same are applicable, regulate inquiries directed under any motion under this section before the Registrar and appeals from any decision or report made by him thereon.

Such memorandum of appearance must state whether you dispute or admit the whole or any part, and if so, what part of the applicant's claim, or whether you submit to any order the Judge may think fit to make, or whether you disclaim all right, title, and interest in and to the subject matter of the claim. Such memorandum must also comply with the provisions of Rules 7, 8, 9, 10 of the Bankruptcy Rules of the 1st day of September, 1890. ## CHAPTER 37.

AN ACT TO CONSOLIDATE THE FOREIGN JURISDICTION ACTS. [4th August 1890.]

WHEREAS by treaty, capitulation, grant, usage, sufferance, and other lawful means, Her Majesty the Queen has jurisdiction within divers foreign countries, and it is expedient to consolidate the Acts relating to the exercise of Her Majesty's jurisdiction out of Her dominions:

Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

Exercise of jurisdiction in foreign country.

1. It is and shall be lawful for Her Majesty the Queen to hold, exercise, and enjoy any jurisdiction which Her Majesty now has or may at any time hereafter have within a foreign country in the same and as ample a manner as if Her Majesty had acquired that jurisdiction by the cession or conquest of territory.

Exercise of jurisdiction over British subjects in countries without regular governments.

2. Where a foreign country is not subject to any government from whom Her Majesty the Queen might obtain jurisdiction, in the manner recited by this Act, Her Majesty shall, by virtue of this Act have jurisdiction over Her Majesty's subjects for the time being resident in or resorting to that country, and that jurisdiction shall be jurisdiction of Her Majesty in a foreign country within the meaning of the other provisions of this Act.

Validity of acts done in pursuance of jurisdiction.

3. Every act and thing done in pursuance of any jurisdiction of Her Majesty in a foreign country shall be as valid as if it had been done according to the local law then in force in that country.

Evidence as to existence or extent of jurisdiction in foreign country.

4. (1) If in any proceeding, civil or criminal, in a court in Her Majesty's dominions or held under the authority of Her Majesty, any question arises as to the existence or extent of any jurisdiction of Her Majesty in a foreign country, a Secretary of State shall, on the application of the court, send to the court, within a reasonable time, his decision on the question, and his decision shall for the purposes of the proceeding be final.

(2) The court shall send to the Secretary of State, in a document under the seal of the court, or signed by a judge of the court, questions framed so as properly to raise the question, and sufficient answers to those questions shall be returned by the Secretary of State to the court, and those answers shall, on production thereof, be conclusive evidence of the matters therein contained.

Power to extend enactments in First Schedule.

5. (1) It shall be lawful for Her Majesty the Queen in Council, if She thinks fit, by Order to direct that all or any of the enactments described in the first schedule to this Act, or any enactments for the time being in force amending or substituted for the same, shall extend with or without any exceptions, adaptations, or modifications in the order mentioned, to any foreign country in which for the time being Her Majesty has jurisdiction.

(2) Thereupon those enactments shall, to the extent of that jurisdiction, operate as if that country were a British possession, and as if Her Majesty in Council were the Legislature of that possession.

Power to send persons charged with offences for a trial to a British possession.

6. (1.) Where a person is charged with an offence cognisable by a British court in a foreign country, any person having authority derived from Her Majesty in that behalf may, by warrant, cause the person so charged to be sent for trial to any British possession for the time being appointed in that behalf by Order in Council, and upon the arrival of the person so charged in that British possession, such criminal court of that possession as is authorised in that behalf by Order in Council, or if no court is so authorised, the supreme criminal court of that possession, may cause him to be kept in safe and proper custody, and so soon as conveniently may be may inquire of, try, and determine the offence, and on conviction punish the offender according to the laws in force in that behalf within that possession in the same manner as if the offences had been committed within the jurisdiction of that criminal court.

Provided that—

- (a.) A person so charged may, before being so sent for trial, tender for examination to a British court in the foreign country where the offence is alleged to have been committed any competent witness whose evidence he deems material for his defence and whom he alleges himself unable to produce at the trial in the British possession :
- (b.) In such case the British court in the foreign country shall proceed in the examination and cross-examination of the witness as though he had been tendered at a trial before that court, and shall cause the evidence so taken to be reduced into writing, and shall transmit to the criminal court of the British possession by which the person charged is to be tried, a copy of the evidence, certified as correct under the seal of the court before which the evidence was taken, or the signature of a judge of that court :
- (c.) Thereupon the court of the British possession before which the trial takes place shall allow so much of the evidence so taken as would have been admissible according to the law and practice of that court, had the witness been produced and examined at the trial, to be read and received as legal evidence at the trial :
- (d.) The court of the British possession shall admit and give effect to the law by which the alleged offender would have been tried by the British court in the foreign country in which his offence is alleged to have been committed, so far as that law relates to the criminality of the act alleged to have been committed, or the nature or degree of the offence, or the punishment thereof, if the law differs in those respects from the law in force in that British possession.

(2.) Nothing in this section shall alter or repeal any law, statute, or usage by virtue of which any offence committed out of Her Majesty's dominions may, irrespectively of this Act, be inquired of, tried, determined, and punished within Her Majesty's dominions, or any part thereof.

Provision as to place of punishment of persons convicted.

7. Where an offender convicted before a British court in a foreign country has been sentenced by that court to suffer death, penal servitude, imprisonment, or any other punishment, the sentence shall be carried into effect in such place as may be directed by Order in Council or be determined in accordance with directions given by Order in Council, and the conviction and sentence shall be of the same force in the place in which the sentence is so carried into effect as if the conviction had been made and the sentence passed by a competent court in that place.

Validity of acts done under Order in Council.

8. Where, by Order in Council made in pursuance of this Act, any British court in a foreign country is authorised to order the removal or deportation of any person from that country, that removal or deportation and any detention for the purposes thereof, according to the provisions of the Order in Council, shall be as lawful as if the order of the court were to have effect wholly within that country.

Power to assign jurisdiction to British courts in cases within Foreign Jurisdiction Act.

9. It shall be lawful for Her Majesty the Queen in Council, by Order, to assign to or confer on any court in any British possession, or held under the authority of Her Majesty, any jurisdiction, civil or criminal, original or appellate, which may lawfully by Order in Council be assigned to or conferred on any British court in any foreign country, and to make such provisions and regulations as to Her Majesty in Council seem meet respecting the exercise of the jurisdiction so assigned or conferred, and respecting the enforcement and execution of the judgments, decrees, orders, and sentences of any such court, and respecting appeals therefrom.

Power to amend Orders in Council.

10. It shall be lawful for Her Majesty the Queen in Council to revoke or vary any Order in Council made in pursuance of this Act.

Laying before Parliament, and effect of Orders in Council.

11. Every Order in Council made in pursuance of this Act shall be laid before both Houses of Parliament forthwith after it is made, if Parliament be then in session, and if not, forthwith after the commencement of the then next session of Parliament, and shall have effect as if it were enacted in this Act.

In what cases Orders in Council void for repugnancy.

12. (1.) If any Order in Council made in pursuance of this Act as respects any foreign country is in any respect repugnant to the provisions of any Act of Parliament extending to Her Majesty's subjects in that country, or repugnant to any order or regulation made under the authority of any such Act of Parliament, or having in that country the force and effect of any such Act, it shall be read subject to that Act, order, or regulation, and shall, to the extent of such repugnancy, but not otherwise, be void.

(2.) An Order in Council made in pursuance of this Act shall not be, or be deemed to have been, void on the ground of repugnancy to the law of England, unless it is repugnant to the provisions of some such Act of Parliament, order, or regulation as aforesaid.

Provisions for protection of persons acting under Foreign Jurisdiction Acts.

13. (1.) An action, suit, prosecution, or proceeding against any person for any act done in pursuance or execution or intended execution of this Act, or of any enactment repealed by this Act, or of any Order in Council made under this Act, or of any such jurisdiction of Her Majesty as is mentioned in this Act, or in respect of any alleged neglect or default in the execution of this Act, or of any such enactment, Order in Council, or jurisdiction as aforesaid, shall not be or be instituted—

(a.) In any court within Her Majesty's dominions, unless it is commenced within six months next after the act, neglect, or default complained of, or in case of a continuance of injury or damage within six months next after the ceasing thereof, or where the cause of action arose out of Her Majesty's dominions within six months after the parties to the action, suit, prosecution, or proceeding have been within the jurisdiction of the court in which the same is instituted ; nor

(b.) In any of Her Majesty's courts without Her Majesty's dominions, unless the cause of action arose within the jurisdiction of that court, and the action is commenced within six months next after the act, neglect, or default complained of, or, in case of a continuance of injury or damage, within six months next after the ceasing thereof.

(2.) In any such action, suit, or proceeding, tender of amends before the same was commenced may be pleaded in lieu of or in addition to any other plea. If the action, suit, or proceeding was commenced after such tender, or is proceeded with after payment into court of any money in satisfaction of the plaintiff's claim, and the plaintiff does not recover more than the sum tendered or paid, he shall not recover any costs incurred after such tender or payment, and the defendant shall be entitled to costs, to be taxed as between solicitor and client, as from the time of such tender or payment ; but this provision shall not affect costs on any injunction in the action, suit, or proceeding.

Jurisdiction over ships in certain eastern seas.

14. It shall be lawful for Her Majesty the Queen in Council to make any law that may seem meet for the government of Her Majesty's subjects being in any vessel at a distance of not more than one hundred miles from the coast of China or of Japan, as fully and effectually as any such law might be made by Her Majesty in Council for the government of Her Majesty's subjects being in China or in Japan.

Provision as to subjects of Indian princes.

15. Where any Order in Council made in pursuance of this Act extends to persons enjoying Her Majesty's protection, that expression shall include all subjects of the several Princes and States in India.

Definitions.

16. In this Act,—
The expression "foreign country" means any country or place out of Her Majesty's dominions :

The expression "British court in a foreign country" means any British court having jurisdiction out of Her Majesty's dominions in pursuance of an Order in Council whether made under any Act or otherwise :

The expression "jurisdiction" includes power.

Power to repeal or vary Acts in Second Schedule.

17. The Acts mentioned in the Second Schedule to this Act may be revoked or varied by Her Majesty by Order in Council.

Repeal.

18. The Acts mentioned in the Third Schedule to this Act are hereby repealed to the extent in the third column of that schedule mentioned: Provided that,—

- (1.) Any Order in Council, commission, or instructions made or issued in pursuance of any enactment repealed by this Act, shall, if in force at the passing of this Act, continue in force, until altered or revoked by Her Majesty as if made in pursuance of this Act; and shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to have been made or issued under and in pursuance of this Act; and
- (2.) Any enactment, Order in Council, or document referring to any enactment repealed by this Act shall be construed to refer to the corresponding enactment of this Act.

Short titles.

19. (1.) This Act may be cited as the Foreign Jurisdiction Act, 1890.

(2.) The Acts whereof the short titles are given in the First Schedule to this Act may be cited by the respective short titles given in that schedule.

FOREIGN JURISDICTION CONSOLIDATION BILL.

MEMORANDUM.

The object of this Bill is to consolidate the Foreign Jurisdiction Acts with such amendments only as are necessarily incidental to the process of consolidation. The amendments appear from the following notes:—

Section 4.

The words "or held under the authority of Her Majesty" are added to include courts established under the Foreign Jurisdiction Acts.

Section 5.

The Evidence by Commission Act, 1865, has been added to the Acts comprised in the schedule to the Foreign Jurisdiction Act, 1878, as being an enactment amending the Acts in that schedule.

Section 6.

Words have been added giving power to define by Order in Council what is meant by the expression "supreme criminal court."

Section 7.

In consequence of the alteration of the law with respect to penal servitude, sections 5 and 6 of the Foreign Jurisdiction Act, 1843, cannot be exactly reproduced. The new section reproduces in substance the power given by those sections of removing offenders for punishment, but substitutes the machinery provided by the more recent Colonial Prisoners' Removal Act of 1869.

Section 12.

This section sets out the provisions of 28 & 29 Vict. c. 63 instead of applying them by reference.

Sections 17, 18.

The Acts 24 & 25 Vict. c. 31, as to territories near Sierra Leone, and 26 & 27 Vict. c. 35, as to certain portions of South Africa, are practically superseded by section 5 of the Foreign Jurisdiction Act, 1878 (41 & 42 Vict. c. 67), which would extend to the whole of Africa and not merely to the limited portions mentioned in the above Acts. Accordingly, an Order in Council could at any time supersede the provisions of those Acts. The Act 20 & 21 Vict. c. 75 as to Siam would have been unnecessary if the Order in Council to which it referred had been made since the passing of the latter Act, 29 & 30 Vict. c. 87, s. 1 (reproduced by section 9). The amending Act, 33 & 34 Vict. c. 55, merely declared what court was to exercise jurisdiction under the previous Order in Council. This might now be done by a supplemental Order in Council. Accordingly, it is proposed to repeal all these Acts as Acts, but to leave them in force as if they were Orders in Council issued under the present Bill. A precedent for this course may be found in 37 & 38 Vict. c. 29 s. 3.

Sections 6 and 7 of the Pacific Islanders Protection Act 1875 (38 & 39 Vict. c. 51), are in much the same position, but as the powers given by section 6 were mostly to be exercised by Orders in Council, slightly different language is required.

[Extract from the London Gazette of Friday, December 6, 1889.]

At the Court at Windsor, the 28th day of November, 1889.

Present :—

THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY.

Lord President.	Lord Ashbourne.
Earl of Zeatland.	Sir James Fergusson, Bart.
Secretary Lord Knutsford.	Sir James Caird.

WHEREAS by the "Extradition Acts, 1870 and 1873," it was amongst other things enacted that, where an arrangement has been made with any foreign State with respect to the surrender to such State of any fugitive criminals, Her Majesty may, by Order in Council, direct that the said Acts shall apply in the case of such foreign State; and that Her Majesty may, by the same or any subsequent Order, limit the operation of the Order, and restrict the same to fugitive criminals who are in or suspected of being in the part of Her Majesty's dominions specified in the Order, and render the operation thereof subject to such conditions, exceptions, and qualifications, as may be deemed expedient; and that if, by any law made after the passing of the Act of 1870 by the Legislature of any British possession, provision is made for carrying into effect within such possession the surrender of fugitive criminals who are in or suspected of being in such British possession, Her Majesty may, by the Order in Council applying the said Acts in the case of any foreign State, or by any subsequent Order, suspend the operation within any such British possession of the said Acts, or of any part thereof, so far as it relates to such foreign State, and so long as such Law continues in force there and no longer.

And whereas by an Act of the Parliament of Canada passed in 1886, and entitled "An Act respecting the Extradition of Fugitive Criminals," provision is made for carrying into effect within the Dominion the surrender of fugitive criminals. La demanda para la extradición de un acusado debe ir acompañada de la orden de arresto expedida por la autoridad competente del Estado que exija la extradición, y de aquellas pruebas que, conforme á las leyes del lugar donde se encuentre el acusado, hubieran de justificar su aprehensión si el delito hubiese sido cometido allí.

La sentencia dictada in contumaciam no se considerará como fallo condenatorio; pero la persona sentenciado de esta manera pueda tratarse como cualquier individuo acusado.

ARTICLE IX.

If the requisition for extradition be in accordance with the foregoing stipulations, the competent authorities of the State applied to shall proceed to the arrest of the fugitive.

ARTICLE X.

A fugitive criminal may be apprehended under a warrant issued by any Police Magistrate, Justice of the Peace, or other competent authority in either country, on such information or complaint, and such evidence, or after such proceedings as would, in the opinion of the authority issuing the warrant, justify the issue of a warrant if the crime had been committed, or the person convicted, in that part of the dominions of the two Contracting Parties in which the Magistrate, Justice of the Peace, or other competent authority exercises jurisdiction; provided, however, that in the United Kingdom the accused shall, in such case, be sent as speedily as possible before a Police Magistrate in London. He shall, in accordance with this Article, be discharged, as well in Colombia as in the United Kingdom, if, within the term of thirty days a requisition for extradition shall not have been made by the Diplomatic Agent of his country, in accordance with the stipulations of this Treaty.

The same rule shall apply to the cases of persons accused or convicted of any of the crimes or offences specified in this Treaty, and committed on the high seas on board any vessel of either country which may come into a port of the other.

ARTICLE XI.

The extradition shall take place only if the evidence be found sufficient according to the laws of the State applied to, either to justify the committal of the prisoner for trial, in case the crime had been committed in the territory of the same State, or to prove that the prisoner is the identical person convicted by the Courts of the State which makes the requisition, and that the crime of which he has been convicted is one in respect of which extradition could, at the time of such conviction, have been granted by the State applied to; and no criminal shall be surrendered until after the expiration of fifteen days from the date of his committal to prison to await the warrant for his surrender.

ARTICLE XII.

In the examinations which they have to make in accordance with the foregoing stipulations, the authorities of the State applied to shall admit as valid evidence the sworn depositions or statements of witnesses taken in the other State, or copies thereof, and likewise the warrants and sentences issued therein, and certificates of, or judicial documents stating, the fact of a conviction, provided the same are authenticated as follows:—

1. A warrant must purport to be signed by a Judge, Magistrate, or officer of the other State.

2. Depositions or affirmations, or the copies thereof, must purport to be certified under the hand of a Judge, Magistrate, or officer of the other State, to be the original depositions or affirmations, or to be true copies thereof, as the case may require.

3. A certificate of, or judicial document stating, the fact of a conviction must purport to be certified by a Judge, Magistrate, or officer of the other State.

4. In every case such warrant, deposition, affirmation, copy, certificate, or judicial document must be authenticated either by the oath of some witness, or by being sealed with the official seal of the Minister of Justice, or some other Minister of the other State; but any other mode of authentication for the time being permitted by law where the examination is taken may be substituted for the foregoing.

ARTICLE XIII.

If the individual claimed by one of the two High Contracting Parties in pursuance of the present treaty should be also claimed by one or several other Powers, on account of other crimes or offences committed upon their respective territories, his extradition shall be granted to that State whose demand is earliest in date.

ARTICLE XIV.

If sufficient evidence for the extradition be not produced within two months from the date of the apprehension of the fugitive, or within such further time as the State applied to, or the proper tribunal thereof, shall direct, the fugitive shall be set at liberty.

ARTICLE XV.

All articles seized which were in the possession of the person to be surrendered at the time of his apprehension shall, if the competent authority of the State applied to for the extradition has ordered the delivery of such articles, be given up when the extradition takes place; and the said delivery shall extend not merely to the stolen articles, but to everything that may serve as a proof of the crime.

ARTICULO IX.

Si la demanda de extradición estuviere de acuerdo con las anteriores estipulaciones, la autoridad competente de Estado al cual se dirija ésta, procederá a la aprehensión del prófugo.

ARTICULO X.

Un criminal fugitivo puede ser aprehendido por orden expedida por cualquier magistrado de policía, juez de paz, u otra autoridad competente en ambos países, por informes ó quejas, y por pruebas, ó después de procedimientos que, en opinión de la autoridad que dió la orden, justificarían la expedición de ésta, si el delito hubiese sido cometido ó el criminal condenado en aquella parte del territorio de los dos países contratantes en la cual el magistrado, el juez, u otra autoridad competente ejerzan jurisdicción; con tal, sin embargo, que en ese caso, en el Reino Unido el acusado sea enviado con la brevedad posible á un magistrado de policía en Londres. De acuerdo con este Artículo, el acusado será puesto en libertad, tanto en Colombia como en el Reino Unido, si en el término de treinta días no se solicitare su extradición por el Agente Diplomático de su país conforme á las estipulaciones de este Tratado.

La misma regla se aplicará en los casos de personas acusadas ó convictas de los delitos especificados en este Tratado, y cometidos en alta mar, á bordo de algún buque de cualquiera de los dos Estados que llegue á un puerto del otro.

ARTICULO XI.

La extradición solo tendrá lugar si las pruebas fueren suficientes conforme á las leyes del Estado de quien se solicita, bien sea para justificar el sometimiento del procesado á juicio, bien que el delito haya sido cometido en el territorio del mismo Estado, ó bien para probar que el reo es la misma persona sentenciada por los Tribunales del Estado que hace la demanda, y que el delito de que ha sido convicta es de aquellos respecto de los cuales podría haber sido concedida la extradición al tiempo de la sentencia, por el Estado de quien se solicita. Ningun criminal será entregado antes de haber trascurrido quince días desde la fecha en que fué reducido á prisión en espera de la orden de entrega.

ARTICULO XII.

En la investigación que hayan de hacer, conforme á las anteriores estipulaciones, las autoridades del Estado demandado admitirán como pruebas las declaraciones juradas ó las deposiciones de testigos tomadas en el otro Estado, ó sus copias, así como también los autos y sentencias producidos allí, y los certificados que acrediten el hecho de la condenación, ó los documentos judiciales que la establezcan, con tal de que tales piezas se hallen autenticadas como sigue:—

1. Toda orden debe llevar la firma de un Juez, Magistrado, ó agente público del otro Estado.

2. Las declaraciones ó atestaciones ó sus copias deben ser certificadas de puño y letra del Juez, Magistrado, ó agente público del otro Estado, con expresión de que son declaraciones originales, ó sus copias fieles según el caso.

3. Todo certificado de condenación, ó todo documento judicial en que conste el fallo condenatorio, debe ser certificado por un Juez, Magistrado, ó agente público del otro Estado.

4. En cada caso, la orden, declaración atestación, copia, certificado, ó documento judicial, debe ser autenticado, ora por el juramento de algún testigo, ora por el sello oficial del Ministro de Justicia ó de algún otro Ministro del otro Estado; pero cualquiera otro modo de autenticación permitido por las leyes vigentes al tiempo de la investigación puede sustituirse por el anterior.

ARTICULO XIII.

Si el individuo reclamado por una de las dos Altas Partes Contratantes conforme al presente Tratado fuere asimismo reclamado por otro ó otros Gobiernos, con motivo de otros delitos cometidos en sus respectivos territorios, la extradición se concederá al que primero haya hecho la demanda.

ARTICULO XIV.

Si dentro de dos meses contados desde la fecha de la aprehensión del prófugo no se hubieren producido pruebas suficientes, ó dentro de la prórroga que ordene el Estado de quien se solicita la extradición ó el Tribunal competente de él, entónces el detenido será puesto en libertad.

ARTICULO XV.

Todos los bienes embargados al tiempo de su aprehensión al individuo reclamado se entregarán también cuando tenga lugar la extradición, si la autoridad competente del Estado de que ésta se solicita lo ordenare; y la entrega no sólo se extenderá á los objetos robados, sino también á todos aquellos que puedan servir como prueba del delito.

ARTICLE XVI.

All expenses connected with extradition shall be borne by the demanding State.

ARTICLE XVII.

The stipulations of the present Treaty shall be applicable to the Colonies and foreign possessions of Her Britannic Majesty, so far as the laws for the time being in force in such Colonies and foreign possessions respectively will allow.

The requisition for the surrender of a fugitive criminal who has taken refuge in any of such Colonies or foreign possessions shall be made to the Governor or chief authority of such Colony or possession by the chief Consular officer of the Republic of Colombia in such Colony or possession.

Her Britannic Majesty shall, however, be at liberty to make special arrangements in the British Colonies and foreign possessions for the surrender of Colombian criminals who may take refuge within such Colonies and foreign possessions, on the basis, as nearly as may be, and so far as the law of such Colony or foreign possession will allow, of the provisions of the present Treaty.

Requisitions for the surrender of a fugitive criminal emanating from any Colony or foreign possession of Her Britannic Majesty shall be governed by the rules laid down in the preceding Articles of the present Treaty.

ARTICLE XVIII.

The present Treaty shall come into force ten days after its publication, in conformity with the forms prescribed by the laws of the High Contracting Parties. It may be terminated by either of the High Contracting Parties by a notice not exceeding one year and not less than six months.

The Treaty, after receiving the approval of the Congress of Colombia, shall be ratified, and the ratifications shall be exchanged at Bogotá as soon as possible.

In witness whereof the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed the same, and have affixed thereto their respective seals.

Done at Bogotá, this twenty-seventh day of October, in the year of our Lord One thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight.

(L.S.) W. J. DICKSON.
(L.S.) VICENTE RESTREPO.

And whereas the ratifications of the said Treaty were exchanged at Bogotá on the twenty-first day of August, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine.

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, and in virtue of the authority committed to Her by the said recited Acts, doth order, and it is hereby ordered, that from and after the sixteenth day of December, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, the said Acts shall apply in the case of Colombia, and of the said Treaty with the President of the Republic of Colombia.

Provided always, and it is hereby further ordered that the operation of the said Extradition Acts, 1870 and 1873, shall be suspended within the Dominion of Canada so far as relates to the Republic of Colombia and to the said Treaty, and so long as the provisions of the Canadian Act aforesaid of 1886 continue in force, and no longer.

C. L. PEEL.

ARTICULO XVI.

Todos los gastos relacionados con la extradición serán de cargo del Estado que la solicitare.

ARTICULO XVII.

Las estipulaciones del presente Tratado serán aplicables á las Colonias y á las posesiones extranjeras de Su Majestad Británica, hasta donde lo permitan las leyes vigentes en tales colonias y en tales posesiones extranjeras respectivamente.

La demanda para la entrega de un reo prófugo que se haya refugiado en alguna de tales Colonias ó posesiones extranjeras, se dirigirá al Gobernador ó á la autoridad principal de la Colonia ó posesión por el principal empleado Consular de la República de Colombia residente en ella.

Tal demanda pueda resolverse por dicho Gobernador ó por la principal autoridad, quienes quedan en libertad de conceder la extradición ó referir el asunto á su Gobierno, sujetándose hasta donde sea posible, á este Tratado en cuanto las leyes de la Colonia ó de la posesión extranjera lo permitan.

ORDER IN COUNCIL.

Extradition between Great Britain and the United States.
Windsor, 21st March, 1890.

At the Court, at Windsor, the 21st day of March, 1890.

Present:

THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY.
Lord President.	Lord Chamberlain.
Duke of Rutland.	Earl of Coventry.
Sir William Field.

WHEREAS by the Extradition Acts, 1870 and 1873, it was amongst other things, enacted, that where an arrangement has been made with any foreign State with respect to the surrender to such State of any fugitive criminals, Her Majesty may, by Order in Council, direct that the said Acts shall apply in the case of such foreign State; and that Her Majesty may, by the same or any subsequent Order, limit the operation of the Order, and restrict the same to fugitive criminals who are in or suspected of being in the part of Her Majesty's dominions specified in the Order, and render the operation thereof

subject to such conditions, exceptions, and qualifications as may be deemed expedient; and that if, by any law made after the passing of the Act of 1870 by the Legislature of any British possession, provision is made for carrying into effect within such possession the surrender of fugitive criminals who are in or suspected of being in such British possession, Her Majesty may, by the Order in Council applying the said Acts in the case of any foreign State, or by any subsequent Order, suspend the operation within any such British possession of the said Acts, or of any part thereof so far as it relates to such foreign State, and so long as such law continues in force there and no longer:

And whereas by an Act of the Parliament of Canada, passed in 1886, and entitled "An Act respecting the Extradition of Fugitive Criminals," provision is made for carrying into effect within the Dominion the surrender of fugitive criminals:

And whereas by an Order of Her Majesty the Queen in Council, dated the seventeenth day of November, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight, it was directed that the operation of the Extradition Acts, 1870 and 1873, should be suspended within the Dominion of Canada so long as the provision of the said Act of the Parliament of Canada of 1886, should continue in force and no longer:

And whereas a Convention was concluded on the twelfth day of July, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, between Her Majesty and the United States of America, for the mutual extradition of fugitive criminals, which Convention is in the terms following:—

"Whereas by the Xth Article of the Treaty concluded between Her Britannic Majesty and the United States of America, on the ninth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and forty-two, provision is made for the extradition of persons charged with certain crimes;

"ARTICLE VII.

"The provisions of the said Xth Article and of this Convention shall apply to persons convicted of the crimes therein respectively named and specified, whose sentence therefor shall not have been executed.

"In case of a fugitive criminal alleged to have been convicted of the crime for which his surrender is asked, a copy of the record of the conviction, and of the sentence of the Court before which such conviction took place, duly authenticated, shall be produced, together with the evidence proving that the prisoner is the person to whom such sentence refers.

"ARTICLE VIII.

"The present Convention shall not apply to any of the crimes herein specified which shall have been committed, or to any conviction which shall have been pronounced, prior to the date at which the Convention shall come into force.

"ARTICLE IX.

"This Convention, shall be ratified, and the ratifications shall be exchanged at London as soon as possible.

"It shall come into force ten days after its publication, in conformity with the forms prescribed by the laws of the High Contracting Parties, and shall continue in force until one or the other of the High Contracting Parties shall signify its wish to terminate it, and no longer.

"In witness whereof, the undersigned have signed the same, and have affixed thereto their seals.

"Done in duplicate, at the city of Washington, this twelfth day of July, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine.

"(U.S.) JULIAN PAUNCEFOTE.
"(U.S.) JAMES G. BLAINE."

And whereas the ratifications of the said Convention were exchanged at London, on the eleventh day of March, one thousand eight hundred and ninety:

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, and in virtue of the authority committed to Her by the said recited Acts, doth order, and it is hereby ordered, that from and after the fourth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and ninety, the said Acts shall apply in the case of the United States of America, and of the said Convention with the United States of America.

Provided always, and it is hereby further ordered, that the operation of the said Extradition Acts, 1870 and 1873, shall be suspended within the Dominion of Canada, as far as relates to the United States of America and to the said Convention, and so long as the provisions of the Canadian Act aforesaid of 1886 continue in force, and no longer.

His Excellency the Governor directs the publication for general information of the following Despatch dated the 30th April, 1890, from the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

ALBERT J. GOULD.

[Circular.]

Downing-street,
30th April, 1890.

Sir,

I have the honour to transmit herewith, for the information of your Government, copies of a memorandum, prepared in the Home Office for the information of Magistrates and Police Authorities in England, as to Procedure in Extradition cases, and cases under the Fugitive Offenders Act, 1881. The memorandum is based on circulars which have been issued from time to time by that Department, and as regards the Fugitive Offenders Act, on instructions to the Police issued shortly after the Act came into force; to this has been added information on various points on which enquiries are frequently made of the Home Office by Police and Prosecutors.

I have, &c.,
KNUTSFORD.

To the Officer Administering the Government of New South Wales.

[A 51139.]

EXTRADITION AND FUGITIVE OFFENDERS.

MEMORANDUM.

I. The return of fugitive criminals escaping from the United Kingdom may be obtained—

- (a.) from foreign countries with which there are Extradition Treaties.
- (b.) from British possessions.
- (c.) from foreign countries in which the Queen has jurisdiction, and to which the Fugitive Offenders Act has been applied by Order in Council as if they were British possessions.

The surrender of fugitives taking refuge in the United Kingdom is granted reciprocally in each of these cases.

The procedure is governed in the first case by the Extradition Acts, 1870 and 1873 (33 and 34 Vict. c. 52, 36 and 37 Vic. c. 60.), and by the terms of the Extradition Treaty in force with each country :

In case (b) by the Fugitive Offenders Act, 1881 (44 and 45 Vic. c. 69.) :

In case (c) by the Fugitive Offenders Act, 1881, and the Orders in Council applying it. In this case only British subjects and persons subject to the Queen's jurisdiction in the foreign country in question can be dealt with.

There have been a few cases in which a foreign country with which Great Britain has no extradition treaty has surrendered a criminal as an act of international comity : but there can be no reciprocal surrender of criminals by Her Majesty's Government in the absence of an extradition treaty.

Where a fugitive criminal charged with a serious crime has escaped to a country with which there is no treaty, Her Majesty's Government will generally be prepared to inquire whether his surrender can be granted, if they are satisfied that the indemnity and evidence required in extradition cases (para. IV.) will be furnished, and that, in the event of his surrender, it is intended to proceed with the prosecution.

EXTRADITION.—FUGITIVES FROM THE UNITED KINGDOM.

Cases in which Extradition can be applied for.

II. When a person charged with crime in the United Kingdom is believed to have fled to a foreign country, the questions to be considered before an application for extradition is made are—

- (1.) Whether the country to which he has fled is one with which there is an Extradition Treaty.
A list of the Extradition Treaties now in force (31st March, 1890) is given in Appendix A.
- (2.) Whether the crime with which he is charged is an extradition offence, and one included in the particular treaty.
A list of the extradition offences, showing the treaties in which each is included, is given in Appendix C.
- (3.) Whether the offender is a subject or citizen of the country to which he has fled.

Most Extradition Treaties provide that neither of the contracting parties may surrender its own subjects. The Treaties with the United States, containing no reference to nationality, extend to the subjects of each country equally with other fugitive criminals. The Treaties with Austria, Belgium (as amended by declaration), Russia, Mexico, and Colombia, allow each Government the option of surrendering at discretion its own subjects. The Treaties with Spain, Switzerland, and Luxemburg exclude the surrender of their own subjects by the Governments of Spain, Switzerland, and Luxemburg, but stipulate for the surrender of British subjects by Her Majesty's Government. In the Treaty with Ecuador there is no express exclusion from extradition of the subjects or citizens of either contracting party, though it contains a provision to the effect that naturalization is not to be a bar to extradition. In all the other Treaties the surrender of subjects by either party is expressly excluded.

Application for Extradition addressed to Secretary of State.

III. The application for the surrender of a fugitive criminal from a foreign country must be addressed by the prosecutor or the police to the Secretary of State for the Home Department, who will communicate through the Foreign Office and the proper diplomatic channels with the authorities of the place where the fugitive is supposed to be.

The chief officers of English police forces may communicate direct with the police of foreign countries for the purpose of giving or obtaining information, but under no circumstances should direct application be made to foreign police for the arrest of a fugitive. Serious difficulties have arisen in cases where this direction has been overlooked.

Where the apprehension of the fugitive is a matter of urgency, the Secretary of State will apply by telegram for his provisional arrest in anticipation of the formal demand for surrender.

Particulars and Documents to accompany application.

IV. The application to the Secretary of State should be made by letter, stating briefly the facts of the case, and giving in detail the information as to the fugitive's supposed whereabouts and the means of tracing and identifying him. It must be accompanied by—

- (a.) The warrant of arrest or a certified copy of it.
- (b.) The other documents to be used in support of the demand for extradition. (See para. V.)
- (c.) A description of the accused sufficient for purposes of identification, with, if possible, a photograph. (It is usually advisable that the description should form part of the formal evidence.)
- (d.) An indemnity for expenses. (See para. VIII.)

The letter should also state whether it is desired that the provisional arrest of the fugitive should be asked for by telegram.

In cases of urgency, if the information or depositions required to support the demand for extradition have not been completed, it will sometimes be sufficient, in order to obtain the provisional arrest of the fugitive, to furnish in the first instance only a warrant of arrest and the indemnity for expenses, provided an explicit undertaking be given to complete the informations and other documents, and forward them with the least possible delay.

Documents.—Warrant, Informations, &c.

V. A warrant for the arrest of the fugitive on the charge for which his extradition is sought, or a certified copy of it, must in every case form part of the documents to be used in support of the demand. As regards the other documents, the requirements of different treaties vary somewhat. In the case of France and some other countries, it suffices if the warrant is accompanied by an information showing exactly the nature of the offence charged, and by sufficient evidence of the identity of the person arrested. In most cases, however, informations or depositions containing prima facie evidence of the commission by the fugitive of the offence charged—such as in this country would justify committal for trial—are required.

The requirements of the various Treaties with regard to the documents to be furnished are quoted in Appendix D.

Documents.—Special requirements as to Warrants, Informations, &c.

VI. It is necessary that the utmost care should be taken in extradition cases to secure that the documents—warrant, informations, and depositions—are correct in form, and that the evidence is complete in material points. Several cases have occurred in which, after a fugitive criminal has been apprehended in a foreign country, inaccuracies in the warrant or defects in the evidence have led to his being set at liberty before steps could be taken to remedy the mistakes.

Where the flight of the accused is not known until after the warrant has been issued, and especially where an information is hastily laid in order to obtain his immediate arrest, it is in many cases advisable to issue a fresh warrant, on an amended information, before applying to a foreign country for his surrender.

The offence stated in the warrant should be set forth in the terms of the Treaty.

If copies of the informations or depositions are sent instead of the originals (as is usually the more convenient course, fresh copies of these documents being often required when the demand for extradition has to be made to several countries successively), the copies should be authenticated by a magistrate,—if possible by the magistrate by whom the originals were issued or taken.

In the case of extradition from the United States special care should be taken to have the evidence complete from the first.

Application

Application for Extradition on several charges.

VII. Where there are several charges against the fugitive, there should be evidence in the informations or depositions with regard to every charge on which it is proposed that he should be tried after his surrender. After his surrender he cannot be tried on any other charge than the charge or charges on which he was extradited, unless he is restored, or an opportunity given him of returning, to the country from which he was surrendered.

Indemnity for Expenses.

VIII. The indemnity for expenses, which is required in all cases except those undertaken by the Director of Public Prosecutions, must be in the form given in Appendix E, and must be signed by the prosecutor. It need not be stamped.

In the case of most Extradition Treaties (all those now in force, except the Treaties with the United States, Russia, Mexico, and Colombia) the foreign Government bears all the expenses which it incurs within its own territories. All expenses not so defrayed by the foreign Government, and not payable as police expenses under the ordinary regulations, must be borne by the prosecutor.

IX. It is sometimes considered desirable, when an application for extradition is made, that an English police officer should be sent out to assist the foreign police in tracing and identifying the accused.

When this is done the officer should take with him a letter of introduction, which he may present as occasion requires to British ministers or consuls abroad. He should attend for this purpose at the Home Office, with an introduction from the chief officer of his force; or, if it is not convenient that he should attend personally, the chief officer should apply to the Home Office by letter stating the name and rank of the officer about to be sent out. It is also generally advisable that he should be provided with a passport.

Home Office
Circular of
6 Nov. 1883.

He should, where possible, see the warrant and depositions signed, as cases have occurred where his evidence to this effect has removed difficulties.

An officer sent abroad in an extradition case must confine his action strictly to tracing the fugitive, and furnishing the foreign police with information. Under no circumstances may he himself attempt to arrest the fugitive, interfere in any way with his liberty in a foreign country, or endeavour by threats or undue pressure to induce him to return to England without awaiting the formalities of extradition. If a fugitive whose extradition has been demanded should voluntarily consent to return with the officer without formal extradition, the concurrence of the authorities of the foreign country must be obtained before this course is taken.

Home Office
25 Oct. 1884.

Further Evidence.

X. After the fugitive has been arrested, further evidence is sometimes required by the courts of the foreign country, which must be supplied by the prosecutors. Occasionally the attendance of a witness is required to prove the identity of the person arrested.

XI. When the decision of the Government of the foreign country to concede the surrender of the fugitive is notified, the conveyance of the prisoner to England is a matter of arrangement between the police of the two countries, and should be carried out with as little delay as possible. The Metropolitan Police have standing arrangements with the police of most continental countries with regard to the conveyance of extradition prisoners.

In United States cases it is necessary to send out an officer to bring the prisoner, if surrendered, to England; and it is usually convenient that he should be sent out as soon as information is received of the arrest of the fugitive, as the presence of an experienced officer who can furnish the United States courts with information they may require is found in some cases to facilitate proceedings.

In the case of extraditions from Spain an officer is usually sent out when the demand for extradition is made.

United States cases.

XII. Information as to the extradition proceedings in the United States, and as to the particulars required by the United States courts when an arrest on a charge of forgery is applied for by telegram, are given in the papers reprinted in Appendix G.

EXTRADITION—FUGITIVES FROM FOREIGN COUNTRIES IN THE UNITED KINGDOM.

XIII. For the arrest of a foreign criminal in the United Kingdom, two alternative procedures are provided in sub-section (1) and sub-section (2) respectively of section 8 of the Extradition Act, 1870.

XIV. The first—that under sub-section (1)—is adopted in cases where the arrest of the fugitive is not urgent.

A requisition for the surrender of the accused, supported by the warrant of arrest and documentary evidence, is addressed by the representative of the foreign Government to the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, and transmitted by him to the Secretary of State for the Home Department, who thereupon makes an order to the Chief Magistrate at Bow-street Police Court, requiring him, if satisfied as to the sufficiency of the evidence, to issue his warrant for the arrest of the fugitive. The Chief Magistrate's warrant is effective without endorsement throughout the United Kingdom (and also in the Channel Islands and the Isle of Man), and is usually executed by an officer of the Metropolitan Police, who brings the prisoner direct to Bow-street, where all the subsequent proceedings take place.

Provisional arrest.

XV. The alternative procedure, under sub-section (2), is adopted in cases where the arrest of the fugitive is a matter of urgency. In this case any police magistrate or justice of the peace in the United Kingdom* may issue the warrant for the apprehension of the fugitive "on such information or complaint, and such evidence, or after such proceedings, as would in the opinion of the person issuing the warrant justify the issue of a warrant, if the crime had been committed in that part of the United Kingdom in which he exercises jurisdiction."

In practice, a sworn information showing a reasonable suspicion of the commission of the crime and of the guilt of the alleged offender is required before the issue of a warrant under sub-section (2). This information may, according to the opinion of the Law Officers of the Crown (Sir Richard Baggallay and Sir John Holker, 25th March, 1875), and the practice of the Bow-street Police Court,† be based upon a letter or telegram purporting to be from a diplomatic, judicial, or police authority, stating—

- (a.) The alleged offence;
- (b.) That a warrant has been granted for the apprehension of the alleged criminal;
- (c.) That his extradition will be demanded.

The letter or telegram should in every case clearly specify the offence with which the fugitive is charged (which must be one within the Treaty with the country from which he is alleged to have fled), and must state in distinct terms that a formal request for extradition will be preferred.

There

* In Scotland, any sheriff, sheriff's substitute, or magistrate.

† See also the remarks of Jessel, M.R., in Reg. v. Well, 16 Cox. C.C. 193. "All that the Act requires is that the evidence should be sufficient 'in the opinion of the person issuing the warrant.' That is a matter of judicial discretion. There must be some evidence but very little will do, for it is merely for the purpose of detaining the man."

There is no restriction in the Act as to the person by whom the information is to be laid, and it may, where necessary, be laid by a police officer; but, as a rule, it is desirable that the information should be laid before the magistrate or justice by the consul or other accredited agent of the foreign Government, who should also produce the despatch, letter, or telegram on which the information is founded. A copy of the form of information in use at Bow-street is printed in Appendix F.

On the issue of the warrant of arrest under sub-section (2), the Justice forthwith sends to the Secretary of State "a report of the fact of such issue, together with the evidence and information or complaint, or certified copies thereof."

On the arrest of a fugitive by a warrant under sub-section (2), if the warrant was issued at Bow-street, the prisoner is at once brought to that court; if the warrant is issued elsewhere, the prisoner is brought before the justice who issued the warrant, or some other justice having power to issue such warrant, who immediately orders him to be brought before a police magistrate at Bow-street.

The evidence of the officer making the arrest is required in the examination at Bow-street. It is therefore usual, when the arrest has been made elsewhere than in London, that the officer who made the arrest should bring up the prisoner to London and attend with him at Bow-street.

See the remarks of Brett J. in ex parte Terraz & Ex. D. 63, 42 L. J., Ex. 214.

XVI. The arrest of an offender with a view to extradition should not take place without a warrant under section 8 of the Extradition Act, save in the most urgent and exceptional cases, and should then be guided by the ordinary law of arrest. If a person has been arrested without warrant, a warrant under section 8 (2) should be obtained as quickly as possible. Reg. v. Weil, 15 Cox, C.C., 193.

Proceedings at Bow-street Police Court.

33 & 34 Vic. c. 52 s. 11.

XVII. After the prisoner is brought to Bow-street, the subsequent proceedings take place in that Court, in accordance with the requirements of the Extradition Acts and of the several Treaties. If the prisoner is committed for surrender, a period of fifteen days is allowed him in which he may apply to the High Court for a writ of Habeas Corpus. If he makes no application, or if the application is made and refused, the Secretary of State issues his warrant for the surrender of the prisoner, and he is handed over by the Metropolitan Police to the officers of the Government demanding his surrender, either at an English or a foreign port according to the arrangement in force with the different countries.

Extradition of Convicted Offenders

XVIII. The proceedings for the arrest of an offender convicted in a foreign country and escaping to England are the same as those in the case of an accused person. The only difference is as to the nature of the evidence required in the hearing of the case at Bow-st.

Crimes committed at Sea.

33 & 34 Vic. c. 52 s. 10.

XIX. In cases of crimes committed on foreign vessels on the high seas, when the vessel comes into a British port, and the surrender of the criminal is sought, the stipendiary magistrate* having jurisdiction in, or in the place nearest to, the port, exercises the powers which in other cases are exercised by the chief magistrate at Bow-street. The Secretary of State directs to him the order made under section 7; the accused, if provisionally arrested, is brought before him. He hears the case with the same powers as the chief magistrate, and commits the prisoner for extradition. His warrant, however, is not effective without endorsement beyond his ordinary jurisdiction.

Expenses.

XX. The Governments of the United States, Russia, Mexico, and Colombia, under the terms of the treaties with these countries, defray all expenses incurred in connection with cases in which they demand the extradition of fugitives. In the case of all other countries, expenses incurred within the United Kingdom are defrayed by the English Government, those incurred outside the British territories are borne by the foreign Government.

The accounts for the expense incurred in each extradition case are submitted by the Metropolitan Police to the Secretary of State, who claims from the Treasury and foreign Government the sums payable by each respectively. Where a person whose extradition is claimed is arrested by provincial police, the expenses incurred in connection with the arrest, including the conveyance of the prisoner to London, and the attendance of the officer at Bow-street, should be reclaimed from the Metropolitan Police, who will include them in the accounts submitted to the Secretary of State.

FUGITIVE OFFENDERS ACT, 1881.—FUGITIVES FROM THE UNITED KINGDOM.

44 & 45 Vic. c. 69 s. 2.

XXI. When a person who has committed a crime in the United Kingdom has fled to any British possession (i.e. to any part of Her Majesty's dominions exclusive of the United Kingdom, the Channel Islands, and the Isle of Man), his surrender can be obtained, if the offence he has committed be treason or piracy, or any offence for the time being punishable in the United Kingdom by imprisonment with hard labour for a term of twelve months or more, or by any greater punishment.

No question of nationality arises in this case.

Application for Surrender.

XXII. The application for the surrender of a fugitive from a British possession should be addressed by the prosecutor or the police to the Secretary of State for the Home Department, who will communicate through the Colonial Office with the Governor of the British possession where the fugitive is supposed to be.

The Fugitive Offenders Act does not exclude direct applications by the prosecutor to the authorities of the British possession. The arrest of a fugitive (section 3) may be made on a warrant endorsed by a Judge of a Superior Court, or by the Governor of the British possession; and, by section 4, in cases of urgency, a magistrate in the place to which the offender is supposed to have fled, may issue a warrant for his apprehension, "on such information and under such circumstances as would in his opinion justify the issue of a warrant if the offence of which the fugitive is accused had been committed within his jurisdiction." Direct applications by the prosecutors or the police are, however, found to be attended with difficulties, as the colonial authorities usually refuse to take proceedings on applications from private persons, especially in the case of telegrams where they have no guarantee as to their genuineness, and no assurance that the expenses they may incur will be repaid. The practice is therefore that all applications are made through the Home Office and Colonial Office, and in cases of urgency a telegram asking for the provisional arrest of the fugitive is sent by the Colonial Office at the request of the Secretary of State for the Home Department.

Particulars and Documents to Accompany Application.

XXIII. The application to the Secretary of State should be made by letter, stating briefly the facts of the case, and given in detail the information as to the fugitive's supposed whereabouts, and the means of tracing and identifying him. It must be accompanied by—

- (a.) The warrant of arrest in duplicate;
- (b.) The documents (depositions, &c.) containing the evidence on which the surrender of the fugitive is claimed, with certified copies of the same (see para. XXIV.);
- (c.) A description of the accused sufficient for purposes of identification, with, if possible, a photograph. (It is usually advisable that the description should form part of the formal evidence).
- (d.) An indemnity for expenses (see para. XXVII.).

The letter should also state whether it is desired that the provisional arrest of the fugitive should be asked for by telegram.

In cases of urgency, if the depositions, &c., required to support the demand for extradition have not been completed, it will usually be sufficient in order to obtain the provisional arrest of the fugitive, to furnish in the first instance a warrant of arrest and the indemnity for expenses, an explicit undertaking being given to complete the depositions and other documents and forward them with the least possible delay.

Documents

* In Scotland, the sheriff or sheriff-substitute.

XXIV. The warrant, informations, and depositions are sent to the Home Office in duplicate, in order the two complete sets of documents may be authenticated with the Secretary of State's seal. One set (including the original depositions) is then returned, in order that if a police officer is sent out in connexion with the application, he may take them with him; the other set (which includes the copies) is despatched to the Governor, through the Colonial Office, to support the official request for the surrender. 41 & 45 Vict. c. 69, s. 29.

Requirements as to Warrant, Informations, and Depositions.

XXV. It is necessary that the utmost care should be taken in cases under the Fugitive Offenders Act to secure that the documents—warrant, informations, and depositions—are correct in form, and that the evidence is complete in material points. Cases have occurred in which after a fugitive criminal has been apprehended, inaccuracies in the warrant or defects in the evidence have led to his being set at liberty before steps could be taken to remedy the mistakes.

(a.) The evidence supporting the demand for the surrender of a fugitive must be such as "according to law ordinarily administered by the magistrate" before whom he is brought, "raises a strong or probable presumption that the fugitive committed the offence mentioned in the warrant," that is, generally speaking, there must be informations or depositions containing such prima facie evidence of the commission of the offences charged as in this country would justify committal for trial. 44 & 45 Vict. c. 69, s. 5.

(b.) Evidence necessary for the identification of the fugitive as the person named in the depositions must be furnished.

(c.) There should be a distinct allegation in the evidence, and, if possible, the warrant should also show on the face of it that the offence is one punishable in the United Kingdom, either on indictment or information, by imprisonment with hard labour for a term of 12 months or more, or by some greater punishment. Home Office Circular of 14 Dec. 1883.

Where the flight of the accused is not known until after the warrant has been issued, and especially where an information is hastily laid in order to obtain his immediate arrest, it is in many cases advisable to issue a fresh warrant, on an amended information, before applying for his surrender from a British possession. Home Office Circular of 2 Feb 1886.

Depositions, may for the purpose of the Fugitive Offenders Act, be taken in the absence of the accused. 44 & 45 Vict. c. 69, s. 29.

The copies of informations or depositions should, if possible, be authenticated by the magistrate by whom the originals were taken.

Application for surrender on several charges.

XXVI. Where there are several charges against the fugitive, there should be evidence in the informations or depositions with regard to every charge on which it is proposed that he should be tried after his surrender.

Indemnity for Expenses.

XXVII. The indemnity for expenses which is required in all cases, except those undertaken by the Director of Public Prosecutions, must be in the form in Appendix E, and must be signed by the prosecutor. It need not be stamped.

The whole of the expenses incurred, including the cost of telegrams and the expense of sending out an officer to bring home the prisoner, must be borne by the prosecutor.

English Police Officers sent out to British Possessions.

XXVIII. It is sometimes considered desirable when an application is made under the Fugitive Offenders Act that an English police officer should be sent out to assist in tracing and identifying the accused.

When this course is taken the Home Office should be informed of the name of the officer, and of the date of his intended departure, in order that the colonial authorities may be informed officially through the Colonial Office.

The officer sent out should, if possible, see the warrant and depositions signed, as his evidence to this effect sometimes removes difficulties. In any case he will take with him the warrant and original depositions, as mentioned in part XXIV.

Further Evidence.

XXIX. After the fugitive has been arrested, further evidence is sometimes required by the courts of the British possession, which must be supplied by the prosecutors.

Occasionally the attendance of a witness is required to prove the identity of the person arrested. If the evidence of identity can be given by a police officer, his services will also be available for the purpose of bring home the prisoner (para. XXX).

XXX. When the decision of the courts of the British possession to concede the surrender of the fugitive is notified, the conveyance of the prisoner to England is matter of arrangement between the police of the two countries. In practice the prisoner is almost invariably brought home by an English officer. If an officer has not already been sent out to trace the fugitive, one is usually sent as soon as the arrest is notified by telegram, as his evidence (see para. XXVIII. and XXIX) sometimes facilitates the proceedings in the courts, and his presence in the British possession prevents delay in bringing back the prisoner if his surrender is granted. The prisoner can claim his release if not removed from the British possession within one month after his committal, unless sufficient cause can be shown to the contrary. 44 & 45 Vict. c. 69, s. 7.

FUGITIVE OFFENDERS ACT, 1881.—FUGITIVES FROM BRITISH POSSESSIONS IN THE UNITED KINGDOM.

XXXI. For the arrest of a fugitive from a British possession in the United Kingdom, two alternative procedures are provided:—

(a.) Apprehension under an endorsed warrant (section 3).

(b.) Apprehension under a provisional warrant (section 4).

Apprehension on Endorsed Warrant.

XXXII. The first course, apprehension under an endorsed warrant, is adopted in cases where the arrest of the fugitive is not urgent.

The warrant may be endorsed in the United Kingdom, either by the Secretary of State, by a judge of a Superior Court (High Court or Court of Appeal, or by a police magistrate at Bow-street, provided the person endorsing is "satisfied that the warrant was issued by some person having lawful authority to issue the same." In ordinary practice applications for arrest under this section are addressed by the Colonial Governments to the Secretary of State for the Colonies, and are forwarded by the Colonial Office to the Secretary of State for the Home Department. An endorsed warrant may be executed either by any of the persons named in the endorsement, or by any of the persons to whom it was originally directed, or by any constable in any part of the United Kingdom, in the Channel Islands, and the Isle of Man; and the prisoner when arrested may be brought either before a police magistrate at Bow-street Police Court, or before any justice of the peace, who will then order him to be brought before such police magistrate. 45 & 45 Vict. c. 69, s. 3.

Id. s. 26.

Id. s. 30.

him to be brought before such police magistrate.

Apprehension on Provisional Warrant.

XXXIII. The process of apprehension on provisional warrant is intended for cases of urgency, and most cases from the colonies fall under this head. A provisional warrant may be issued (section 4) by any justice of the peace for the apprehension of any fugitive who is or is suspected of being in or on his way to the United Kingdom, "on such information and under such circumstances as would, in his opinion, justify the issue of the warrant if the offence of which the fugitive is accused had been committed within his jurisdiction."

In practice a sworn information, showing a reasonable suspicion that a crime has been committed, and that the alleged offender is the guilty party is required before the issue of the provisional warrant. This information may be based upon a letter or telegram purporting to be from the Government or from any judicial or police authority of a British possession, stating:—

(a) the alleged offence;

(b) that a warrant has been granted for the apprehension of the alleged criminal;

(c) that further proceedings in accordance with the Fugitive Offenders Act will be taken.

There

There is no restriction in the Act as to the persons by whom the information is to be laid, and in practice it is usually made by a police officer.

Id. s. 4.

A provisional warrant may, if necessary, be backed for execution.

The justice issuing a provisional warrant forthwith sends a report of the issue, together with the information, or a certified copy thereof, to a Secretary of State, who may, if he thinks fit, discharge the fugitive.

Id. s. 30.

The magistrate before whom the fugitive offender who has been apprehended under a provisional warrant is brought orders him to be brought before one of the police magistrates of the Bow-street Police Court.

The evidence of the officer making the arrest is required in the examination at Bow-street. It is therefore usual, when the arrest has been made elsewhere than in London, that the officer who made the arrest should bring up the prisoner to London and attend with him at Bow-street.

Remand of Prisoner.

Id. s. 5. ad fin.

XXXIV. The magistrate at Bow-street, before whom a prisoner arrested on a provisional warrant is brought, remands him for such reasonable time, not exceeding seven days at one time, as under the circumstances seems to him requisite for the production of the endorsed warrant.

After the production of the endorsed warrant, the proceedings are the same as if the arrest had been, in the first instance, on an endorsed warrant.

Proceedings at Bow-street.

45 & 46 Vict.
c. 63, s. 5.

XXXV. When the prisoner has been brought before the police magistrate, and the endorsed warrant produced, the magistrate proceeds to hear the case, in accordance with the provisions of the Fugitive Offenders Act, 1881, and subject to these provisions in the same manner and with the same jurisdiction and powers as if the prisoner were charged with an offence committed within his jurisdiction. If he is satisfied that the evidence produced raises, according to English law, a strong or probable presumption that the fugitive committed the offence mentioned in the warrant, he commits him for surrender. A period of 15 days is then allowed him in which he may apply to the High Court for a writ of habeas corpus. If he makes no application, or if the application is made and refused, the Secretary of State issues his warrant for the surrender of the prisoner, and he is either handed over to an officer deputed for that purpose by the Governor of the British possession, or is taken out to the British possession by an English officer, according to the arrangement that may be made in each case.

Id. s. 7.

The prisoner must be removed within one month of his final committal to await his surrender, otherwise a Superior Court, on application by the prisoner, will, unless sufficient cause is shown to the contrary, order him to be discharged.

Surrender of convicted Offender.

XXXVI. The proceedings for the arrest of an offender convicted in a British possession and escaping to England are the same as those in the case of an accused person. The only difference is as to the nature of the evidence required in the hearing of the case at Bow-street.

Scotland and Ireland.

Id. s. 30, 30.

XXXVII. In Scotland the powers exercised in England by a police magistrate at Bow-street, of hearing a case and committing a prisoner to await his return, are exercised by the sheriff or sheriff substitute of the county of Edinburgh; those of a justice of the peace (to issue a provisional warrant, &c) are exercised by any sheriff or sheriff substitute; and those of a Superior Court by the High Court of Justiciary.

In Ireland the powers of the police magistrate are exercised by one of the police magistrates of the Dublin Metropolitan Police District, and those of a Superior Court by the Court of Appeal and High Court of Justice at Dublin. The power of the Secretary of State may be exercised as regards Ireland not only by the Secretary of State, but also by the Lord Lieutenant, Lords Justices, or Chief Secretary.

Expenses.

XXXVIII. The expenses of arresting and surrendering a fugitive under the Fugitive Offenders Act are to be borne by the Government or the individual applying for his surrender, and cannot be charged either to imperial or police funds.

The police should, therefore, as a rule incur no expenditure, and take no steps,—as by causing an application to be made either for a provisional warrant or for an endorsement of a warrant, or by directing the execution of an endorsed warrant, unless they are either acting under instructions from the Secretary of State, or have obtained an adequate indemnity or pre-payment from the persons seeking the surrender. If, without such indemnity or pre-payment, the Metropolitan Police should receive from any private person, or directly from the Colonial Police, a request to take any of such steps, they should, wherever time admits, apply for instructions to the Secretary of State, who, where necessary, will cause inquiry to be made at the Colonial Office. Only in the event of emergency, where the loss of a few hours would be irretrievable, will they be justified in taking such action as may be imperatively required; but in that case the matter should, as soon as possible afterwards, be reported to the Secretary of State.

In the case of provincial police forces it is advisable that the same rule should be observed, so far as circumstances admit.

APPLICATION OF FUGITIVE OFFENDERS ACT, 1881, TO FOREIGN COUNTRIES.

XXXIX. By section 30 of the Fugitive Offenders Act, Her Majesty may, by Order of Council, direct that the Act shall apply to any place named in the Order out of Her Majesty's dominions, but in which Her Majesty has jurisdiction, as if such place were a British possession. The Order may provide for carrying out the application of the Act, which may be made subject to conditions, exceptions, and qualifications.

Under this section the Fugitive Offenders Act has been applied to various countries in which Her Majesty's Consular Courts have jurisdiction under the Foreign Jurisdiction Acts.

A list of these countries, with the section of the Order in Council applying the Fugitive Offenders Act in each case, is given in Appendix B.

The preliminary steps to obtain the surrender of a fugitive who has fled from England to any of these countries will be the same as in the case of a British possession, as will also the steps for the arrest within the United Kingdom of a fugitive from any of these countries. Only persons subject to the Queen's jurisdiction in the foreign countries can be dealt with under these Orders, and in most of them the application of the Fugitive Offenders Act is expressly restricted to British subjects.

MEMORANDA AS TO PROCEDURE IN EXTRADITION CASES IN THE UNITED STATES.

Foreign Office,
 April 19th, 1887.

Sir,

I am directed by the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs to transmit to you, to be laid before Mr. Secretary Matthews, a copy of a Despatch from Her Majesty's Minister at Washington, enclosing a copy of a minute which he has drawn up of the procedure in Extradition cases which now obtains in the United States.

I am, &c.,
 (Signed) J. PAUNCEFOTE.

The Under Secretary of State,
 Home Office.

MINUTE.

Procedure which at present obtains in Extradition cases under Article X of the Treaty of 1842 and Act of Congress of 1892:—

- I. The demand for Extradition is made under Article X of the Treaty of 1842.
- II. The reply thereto states that when the necessary forms of law have been complied with, the usual warrant of surrender will be issued.
- III. No warrant for the preliminary arrest of a fugitive criminal is issued by the Secretary of State.
- IV. The application for arrest is made directly to the Commissioner, or other judicial officer in whom the function of arrest and examination is specifically vested, by the Consular Officer in whose consular jurisdiction the fugitive criminal may be found, at the instigation of Her Majesty's Representative, and upon affidavit of the Consul of his identity.
- V. The depositions and warrants duly authenticated are then submitted to the judicial authority or Commissioner, who takes cognizance of the case under the Treaty and Act of Congress.
- VI. If held for Extradition thereunder, the papers and certificates are submitted to the Secretary of State.
- VII. If the Commissioner's decision in favour of Extradition is approved by the Secretary of State, the warrant of surrender is issued.
- VIII. The warrant of surrender is sent to Her Majesty's Representative, who authorizes the Consular Officer, or such person as he may designate, to receive the fugitive criminal.

OBSERVATIONS.

The demand for Extradition need not necessarily be made before the case is sent to the Secretary of State by the Commissioner, for it is only when he is satisfied that the forms of law have been complied with that the warrant of surrender can be issued.

It is when the case comes before the Commissioner that the defect in the legal procedure is seen to allow of the escape of criminals. To secure the preliminary arrest, it is only necessary for Her Majesty's Representative to instruct the Consular Officer to make the demand pending the arrival of the necessary papers, and that the Consul should have means of identifying the criminal. In places where there is no Consular Officer, a difficulty would undoubtedly arise in finding some person who could be authorized to act in the case, and it would be advisable therefore, that an officer should be sent out who could be authorized by Her Majesty's Representative to make the demand for the arrest, and to identify the fugitive. It is essential therefore for the preliminary arrest, that the Consular Officer or person authorized to make the demand should have the means of identifying the fugitive, in order to be enabled to make the necessary affidavit before the Commissioner.

Sir Julian Pauncefote presents his compliments to Sir A. F. O. Liddell, and begs to enclose for his information an extract from a letter from Messrs. Marbury, Counsel to Her Majesty's Consulate General at New York, concerning the particulars required by the United States Courts when a request for Extradition for the crime of forgery is transmitted by telegraph.

Foreign Office, July 24, 1884.

(Extract.)

It is of prime importance, where a person is apprehended upon a telegraphic despatch, to have as far as possible complete particulars of the character of the offence committed, to secure his detention until the deposition and documentary evidence shall be received. In cases of forgery, the despatch should contain a description of the instrument claimed to be forged, date, amount, if draft or bill, upon whom drawn, name of payee, place of utterance, name forged or character of forgery, and the person defrauded, or as much of these as can be furnished, and more to be supplied as soon as obtained. Where adequate particulars are contained in the despatch, which is the foundation for the complaint, there will be no difficulty in having the accused remanded until the arrival of the papers.

(3.)

AUTHENTICATION OF PAPERS.

Act of Congress "Regulating Fees and Practice in Extradition Cases," of August, 1882.

Section 5.—That in all cases where any depositions, warrants, or other papers, or copies thereof, shall be offered in evidence upon the hearing of any Extradition Case under title sixty-six of the Revised Statutes of the United States, such depositions, warrants, and other papers, or the copies thereof, shall be received and admitted as evidence on such hearing for all the purposes of such hearing, if they shall be properly and legally authenticated, so as to entitle them to be received for similar purposes by the tribunals of the foreign country from which the accused party shall have escaped; and the certificate of the principal diplomatic or consular officer of the United States resident in such foreign country shall be proof that any deposition, warrant, or other paper, or copies thereof, so offered, are authenticated in the manner required by this Act.

NEW SOUTH WALES.

COLONIAL COURTS OF ADMIRALTY ACT, 1890.

(DESPATCH RESPECTING.)

Presented to Parliament by Command.

Department of Justice,
Sydney, 1st December, 1890.

His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor directs the publication, for general information, of the following Despatch from the Principal Secretary of State for the Colonies, dated 20th September, 1890.

ALBERT J. GOULD.

(Circular.)

Downing-street,
20th September, 1890.

Sir,

Referring to the Earl of Derby's circular despatch of the 7th of March, 1885, in which the draft of a "Bill to amend the Law respecting the exercise of Admiralty Jurisdiction in Her Majesty's dominions and elsewhere out of the United Kingdom" was transmitted, I have now the honour to forward a copy of the Colonial Courts of Admiralty Act, 1890 (53 & 54 Vict. c. 27.), which has been passed into law during the recent session of Parliament. The passage of this measure has been delayed by various causes which I need not now detail, but for which Her Majesty's Government are not responsible.

2. Having regard, however, to the time that has elapsed since the date of Lord Derby's Circular Despatch it may be convenient that I should remind you of the state of things which led to the introduction of this measure, and that I should draw your attention to the changes which it effects, and to the more important provisions which are contained in it.

3. A Vice-Admiralty Court can be established by commission of the Admiralty in any colony, even though it has a representative legislature (30 & 31 Vict. c. 45); and the Court as you are aware, is an Imperial and not a Colonial Court.

4. If the Admiralty do not appoint a judge, registrar, or marshal of a Vice-Admiralty Court in a colony, the chief justice or principal judicial officer of the Colony is ex-officio judge (26 & 27 Vict. c. 24. s. 4); and the judge of the court, with the approval of the governor of the colony, appoints persons to act as registrar or marshal (26 & 27 Vict. c. 24. s. 5). In practice, appointments by the Admiralty have been rarely made.

5. This state of things was unsatisfactory in many ways, as, side by side with the Colonial Civil Court, it maintained another court with a separate judge, separate officers, a separate procedure, and separate fees; and although the same persons were usually judges and officers both of the colonial and of the Vice-Admiralty Court, yet the fact that they exercised jurisdiction by virtue of different offices tended to create difficulties.

6. A chief justice might appoint each of his puisne judges to be a deputy judge, but the Admiralty jurisdiction was exercised by each judge personally as judge or deputy judge of the Vice-Admiralty Court, and not as exercising the power of the civil court of the colony; and the appeal from one judge in Admiralty lay to the Queen in Council only, and not to the full court in the colony, so that there was no local appeal.

7. The inconvenient limitations on civil Admiralty jurisdiction which were removed in the case of the Admiralty Court of England by the Acts of 1840, 1854, and 1861, still existed as regards Vice-Admiralty Courts.

8. The main idea of the Act is to remedy this state of things and to confer on the chief court of every colony the whole of the civil Admiralty jurisdiction of the High Court in England, so that that jurisdiction may be exercised by the court and its officers, and not merely by a member or officer of the court in his individual capacity.

9. Inasmuch, however, as Admiralty jurisdiction is necessarily of an imperial character, because it deals with acts on the high seas all over the world, and affects the interests of foreign nations and the Imperial Government, some control over the Colonial Courts so far as regards the Admiralty jurisdiction conferred by the Act is important for the purpose, both of obtaining uniformity throughout the empire, and also of guiding the courts in the exercise of jurisdiction in matters of international law, wherein responsibility may ultimately rest with the Imperial Government.

10. The Act reserves this control partly by requiring the consent of the Queen in Council to the Rules of Procedure, and partly by reserving power to the Crown to establish a Vice-Admiralty Court; but in the case of India or a colony having a representative legislature (section 9), the latter control is retained only for certain special purposes, such as prize, slave trade, Foreign Enlistment Act, &c.

11. As regards the procedure, the colonial authorities are authorised to make the rules, subject to the approval of the Queen in Council. Matters of detail or local concern may, however, be left to be varied by the local authority without such approval, as otherwise a slight alteration of the ordinary rules of a Colonial Court could not be applied to Admiralty proceedings in the court without a reference to the Queen in Council. Colonial legislation affecting the Rules of Procedure is to be reserved for the signification of Her Majesty's pleasure, so as to maintain the imperial control.

12. The Act does not interfere with the present rule-making powers of Colonial Courts, and those powers will therefore remain exactly as heretofore with respect to the ordinary civil jurisdiction of the courts.

13. The intention is that the chief court of every colony shall have the same Admiralty jurisdiction as the High Court in England, and that inferior courts in the colony may have conferred upon them limited Admiralty jurisdiction, such as for instance, is exercised in England by the County Courts; but inasmuch as the judicial arrangements of different colonies vary, a general enactment to the above effect was impossible. Colonial legislatures are therefore authorised by the Act to make any court of unlimited civil jurisdiction in their colony a Court of Admiralty, and also to confer upon inferior courts partial or limited Admiralty jurisdiction.

14. Section 2 (c) excludes from the jurisdiction of the Colonial Court of Admiralty the criminal jurisdiction of the High Court of Admiralty, that is to say, the jurisdiction to try and punish a person for crimes committed on the high seas. This jurisdiction is exercised now by Colonial Courts under 12 & 13 Vict. c. 96.

15. The Act secures the same local appeal as in ordinary civil cases (section 5), and declares that where the local right of appeal is exhausted, the appeal shall lie to the Queen in Council, as do other appeals from Colonial Courts (section 6).

16. The Bill when circulated to the colonies by Lord Derby was generally accepted as supplementing the autonomy of the Colonial Courts, and was objected to by four colonies alone, viz., New South Wales, Victoria, British Honduras, and St. Helena. It will be observed that by section 16 (a) these four colonies are excluded from the operation of the Act, but that power is given to bring them hereafter within the Act by Order in Council, should they desire it.

17. As before mentioned, the power to establish a Vice-Admiralty Court is reserved to the Crown, as, owing to the circumstances of some of the colonies, or to complications with foreign nations, it may be desirable to establish such a court. In colonies with a representative legislature, however, such a court will only be established for purposes outside the ordinary Admiralty jurisdiction.

18. Thus, if a Vice-Admiralty Court were established in Canada or New Zealand for the purpose (say) of being a prize court, the Admiralty might assign to that court all jurisdiction in relation to the slave trade or the Foreign Enlistment Act, but could not assign to it Admiralty jurisdiction in relation to salvage, or collision, or similar questions.

19. In the case of some of the smaller colonies (for instance, those where the governor is the only court), Admiralty cases may arise of much greater importance than the ordinary civil cases, and therefore a judge of superior judicial training may be required to determine them. In such a case a Vice-Admiralty Court for all purposes might be established.

20. If a Vice-Admiralty Court is established, the Admiralty may confer on it, except in a colony with a representative legislature, the whole of the Admiralty jurisdiction conferred by this Act upon a Colonial Court of Admiralty or by colonial legislation on inferior courts. Thus, if a court were established in the Falkland Islands or Hong Kong for the purpose of the Foreign Enlistment Act, that court may have given to it not merely jurisdiction under the Foreign Enlistment Act, but either the whole jurisdiction of the High Court of Admiralty in England, or such portion of it as the Admiralty choose to assign.

21. It may be convenient by way of explanation to refer to some minor points which arise on particular sections:—

Section 2.

22. Sub-section (2) of section 2 confers on the Colonial Court the Admiralty jurisdiction of the High Court of Justice in England.

23. The words "by virtue of any statute" refer specially to 3 & 4 Vict. c. 65, 17 & 18 Vict. c. 78, and 24 & 25 Vict. c. 10, which enlarged the jurisdiction of the High Court of Admiralty in England.

24. Of the jurisdiction given to the High Court of Admiralty in England by the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, that given by ss. 217-18, 464, and 468 would, it is apprehended, not pass to Colonial Courts of Admiralty, but the jurisdiction given by s. 476 does pass. The important jurisdiction given by s. 527 of the same Act to the High Court of Admiralty is limited to ships found within three miles of the United Kingdom, and would therefore in practice not pass to the Colonial Court of Admiralty.

25. The words "regard to international law and the comity of nations" refer to cases connected with foreign vessels (such as a suit by the seaman of a foreign vessel for wages) in which the Admiralty Court has jurisdiction, but abstains from exercising it without the intervention of the consul or other recognised authority of the foreign country to which the vessel in question belongs. See The Agincourt, 2 Probate Division, 239.

26. It is assumed that the provisions of the above Acts respecting procedure will not apply to the Colonial Courts, and that even if they were held to be applicable, the rules of court under clause 7 of the Act will supersede them.

27. Sub-section (3) confers on the Colonial Court the jurisdiction given by imperial statute to a Vice-Admiralty Court, as, for instance, by the Slave Trade or Pacific Islanders Acts, and also the jurisdiction which is conferred by the law of a colony on a Vice-Admiralty Court in that colony.

28. Proviso (a) refers to those cases where the statutory jurisdiction of the Admiralty Court is limited by reference to England or Wales; as, for instance, in 24 & 25 Vict. c. 10, s. 5, where the jurisdiction is ousted if the owner of the ship is domiciled in England or Wales; and ss. 6, 8, where the jurisdiction exists only over goods carried into a port in England or Wales, or in respect of a ship registered in England or Wales.

29. Proviso (b) excludes from the jurisdiction of the Colonial Court of Admiralty the powers not at present possessed by Vice-Admiralty Courts owing to their being conferred (by the Acts here mentioned) on the High Court of Admiralty exclusively as a court for reviewing or enforcing a decree in another court, or as a court to control grants out of the Imperial Exchequer. See 27 & 28 Vict. c. 25, ss. 4, 13, 52, and 36 & 37 Vict. c. 88, ss. 19, 20.

30. The practice has been to establish prize courts ad hoc on a war breaking out. This it is proposed to leave untouched by the present Act, but a Bill to alter it has been prepared and is under consideration. The question is one of some difficulty as the decisions of prize courts may seriously affect both the Imperial Exchequer and our relations with foreign Powers.

31. I may observe that the Act 3 & 4 Vict. c. 65, s. 22 confers on the High Court of Admiralty jurisdiction to determine all matters concerning booty of war which it shall please Her Majesty to refer to the Court; and as the jurisdiction here depends on a reference by the Queen, the jurisdiction will not pass to a Colonial Court of Admiralty unless the Queen chooses to refer any such matter to it.

32. Proviso (d).—Contempt in Breach of Regulations for Her Majesty's Navy.—This refers to s. 11 of the Vice-Admiralty Courts Act of 1863.

33. Under the Naval Discipline Act (29 & 30 Vict. c. 109 & 30) officers of Her Majesty's ships appointed to convoy merchant ships, are liable in case of misconduct to pay to the owners of the ships such damages as the Court of Admiralty may adjudge. No definition is given of "Court of Admiralty," and, therefore, it might be contended that the jurisdiction can be exercised by Vice-Admiralty Courts. By this proviso in the Act the jurisdiction is restricted to the High Court of Admiralty unless the Queen confers it on the Colonial Court.

Section 8.

34. It is understood that the proceeds of condemned derelicts and of goods captured from pirates are droits of Admiralty, and that ships taken by private persons without letters of marque, also enemy's goods found derelict, also the proceeds of forfeitures under the Slave Trade Acts, the Pacific Islanders Acts, the Foreign Enlistment Act, or other Acts, are droits of or forfeitures to the Crown.

35. The Board of Trade is, under 17 & 18 Vict. c. 120, s. 10, the Receiver-General of droits of Admiralty, and the vice-Admirals have by their commission the duty of recovering droits of Admiralty. Either through the Board of Trade or Vice-Admiral, or through the Vice-Admiralty Court as an Imperial Court and the Admiralty Registry of the High Court in England, the droits of Admiralty and the droits of and forfeiture to the Crown are reported and remitted to England, and paid into the Imperial Exchequer; subject to the payment made either by custom or by statute to the persons concerned in the bringing in of the derelict or the capture of the pirate or other forfeited vessel. The droits are part of the hereditary casual revenues surrendered by the Queen during her life (1 & 2 Vict. c. 2).

36. As the court in which these droits and forfeitures will under the Act be condemned will be a Colonial Court and not a court appointed by the Admiralty, it was necessary to provide, as in this section, for their being accounted for and dealt with.

37. In many cases it will probably be more convenient that the proceeds of the droits and forfeitures should go to the Colonial instead of the Imperial Exchequer, and therefore the Queen is authorised to surrender the droits and forfeitures to a colony on such terms as may seem fit. It must, however, on any such surrender to a colony, be borne in mind that under section 9 a Vice-Admiralty Court may be set up in the colony, and in such a case a question may arise whether the droits and forfeitures are to revert to the Imperial Exchequer or are to be accounted for by the Vice-Admiralty Court to the Colonial Exchequer.

38. In the Circular Despatch transmitting the Bill to the colonies, Lord Derby, in drawing attention to section 8 of the Bill, which is similar to section 8 of this Act, intimated that any colony desiring to retain these droits and forfeitures would be required to assume responsibility for any damages which

Her Majesty's Government might become liable by reason of the exercise of the jurisdiction transferred under this Bill, and special reference was made to the 23rd section of the Foreign Enlistment Act.

39. The only colonies which have declared their acceptance of these terms are Canada, Tasmania, New Zealand, and the Cape of Good Hope. But the non-acceptance of these terms by a colony need not prevent the application of the Act to that colony, for the section has been so drawn as to leave matters in status quo, but to enable the Secretary of State from time to time to make arrangements with the several colonies. Thus the section providing for the transfer of droits and forfeitures has no immediate operation, and any changes to be effected by Order of Council under it will be dependent upon political and administrative considerations peculiar to the individual colonies.

40. It seems probable, indeed, that in New South Wales and Victoria the droits and forfeitures referred to have already been surrendered by Her Majesty. The New South Wales Act, 17 Vict. c. 41 (scheduled to 18 and 19 Vict. c. 54, the New South Wales Constitution Act) s. 50, provides as follows:— "The said several sums mentioned in Schedules A, B, and C, shall be accepted and taken by Her Majesty her heirs or successors, by way of civil list, instead of all territorial, casual, and other revenues of the Crown (including all royalties) from whatever source arising within the said colony, and to the disposal of which the Crown may be entitled either absolutely or conditionally or otherwise howsoever." The same provision is to be found in s. 47 of the Victorian Act scheduled to 18 and 19 Vict. c. 55; and it may be observed also that by a Customs Act of Victoria (21 Vict. No. 13, s. 67) "derelict, jetsam, flotsam, and wreck, brought or coming into the colony, and all droits of Admiralty sold in the Colony," are subjected to import duty.

Section 13.

41. As the slave trade is a peculiar matter outside the ordinary Admiralty jurisdiction, and the jurisdiction relative to it is exercised by consular courts and mixed courts as well as Vice-Admiralty Courts, the Act leaves the rules to be made by the Queen in Council so that there may be uniformity of procedure in the Courts. Vice-Admiralty Courts are mentioned having regard to action under section 9.

42. Sub-section (3) is required in consequence of s. 4 of 36 and 37 Vict. c. 53, referring, as regards appeals, to the Vice-Admiralty Courts Act, 1863, which is repealed.

Section 17.

43. Sub-section (3).—At present the judge, registrar, and officers of a Vice-Admiralty Court in a Colony are remunerated by means of fees. The holder of any of these offices is usually also a judge or officer of the Supreme Court of the colony, but performs his Admiralty business independently of his connexion with such Court, and consequently receives the fees in addition to the salary he receives as judge or officer of the colonial court.

44. The Act, by making the Admiralty business part of the business of the Colonial Court, will put an end to this system. The business will be transacted by the judge, registrar, &c., as part of the ordinary business of his court, and the fees will, it is presumed, go to the same fund as the other court fees.

45. Any injustice to an individual who at present receives fees should be prevented, and this may be done in two ways: compensation for this purpose may be given not merely by a money payment either as a lump sum or annually, but also by improving his official position, or by continuing to pay him the fees (whatever they may be), which are for the time being paid in respect of the business for which he at present receives fees. To effect this object sub-section (3) is inserted.

46. The work of the Vice-Admiralty Courts is in most colonies small and intermittent: and in but few is there sufficient to afford any basis upon which to settle compensation to officers whose appointments will cease with the abolition of the Vice-Admiralty Courts; and under these circumstances the great majority of the colonies propose that the fees shall be continued to the present holders of the offices. Where this is proposed the fees would be taken like other court fees, and paid into the Colonial Treasury, and the "compensation" would consist in the payment out of that Treasury of equivalent sums to the present holders of offices.

47. It has been represented that in cases where under section 16 (3) the Vice-Admiralty rules will be continued in the Colonial Court, a scale of prescribed fees will be in force, but there will, on the abolition of the Vice-Admiralty Courts, be no officers entitled to take such fees. That sub-section accordingly allows the fees to be taken in manner directed by the court, but the amounts are to be paid to the officers at present entitled to them.

48. Nearly all the colonial Governments recognise the obligation to be incumbent upon them of providing that the existing officers (who it is believed are in every case colonial civil servants) shall not suffer pecuniary loss by the abolition of the Vice-Admiralty Courts. It may be pointed out, with reference to the few colonies where a doubtful opinion as to this obligation has been entertained, that under the new state of things practically the same fees will be payable to the colonial Governments as have hitherto been payable to the officers of the Imperial Court, and that the compensation required to be made under section 17 (3) will not exceed the average amount of fees actually taken, and that the demand is subject to a continued performance of the duties.

COLONIAL COURTS OF ADMIRALTY ACT, 1890 (53 & 54 Vict., chap. 27).

An Act to amend the Law respecting the exercise of Admiralty Jurisdiction in Her Majesty's Dominions and elsewhere out of the United Kingdom. [25th July, 1890.]

BE it enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be cited as the Colonial Courts of Admiralty Act, 1890.

Colonial Courts of Admiralty.

2. (1.) Every Court of law in a British possession, which is for the time being declared in pursuance of this Act to be a Court of Admiralty, or which, if no such declaration is in force in the possession, has therein original unlimited civil jurisdiction, shall be a Court of Admiralty, with the jurisdiction in this Act mentioned, and may for the purpose of that jurisdiction exercise all the powers which it possesses for the purpose of its other civil jurisdiction, and such Court in reference to the jurisdiction conferred by this Act is in this Act referred to as a Colonial Court of Admiralty. Where in a British possession the Governor is the sole judicial authority, the expression "Court of law" for the purposes of this section includes such Governor.

(2.) The jurisdiction of a Colonial Court of Admiralty shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, be over the like places, persons, matters, and things, as the Admiralty jurisdiction of the High Court in England, whether existing by virtue of any statute or otherwise, and the Colonial Court of Admiralty may exercise such jurisdiction in like manner and to as full an extent as the High Court in England, and shall have the same regard as that Court to international law and the comity of nations.

(3.) Subject to the provisions of this Act any enactment referring to a Vice-Admiralty Court, which is contained in an Act of the Imperial Parliament or in a Colonial law, shall apply to a Colonial Court of Admiralty, and be read as if the expression "Colonial Court of Admiralty" were therein substituted for "Vice-Admiralty Court" or for other expressions respectively referring to such Vice-Admiralty Courts or the judge thereof, and the Colonial Court of Admiralty shall have jurisdiction accordingly.

Provided as follows:—

(a) Any enactment in an Act of the Imperial Parliament referring to the Admiralty jurisdiction of the High Court in England, when applied to a Colonial Court of Admiralty in a British possession, shall be read as if the name of that possession were therein substituted for England and Wales; and

(b) A Colonial Court of Admiralty shall have under the Naval Prize Act, 1864 (27 & 28 Vict., c. 25), and under the Slave Trade Act, 1873 (36 & 37 Vict., c. 82), and any enactment relating to prize or the slave trade, the jurisdiction thereby conferred on a Vice-Admiralty Court and not the jurisdiction thereby conferred exclusively on the High Court of Admiralty or the High Court of Justice; but, unless for the time being duly authorised, shall not by virtue of this Act exercise any jurisdiction under the Naval Prize Act, 1864, or otherwise in relation to prize; and

(c) A Colonial Court of Admiralty shall not have jurisdiction under this Act to try or punish a person for an offence which according to the law of England is punishable on indictment; and

(d) A Colonial Court of Admiralty shall not have any greater jurisdiction in relation to the laws and regulations relating to Her Majesty's Navy at sea, or under any Act providing for the discipline of Her Majesty's Navy, than may be from time to time conferred on such Court by Order in Council.

(4.) Where a Court in a British possession exercises in respect of matters arising outside the body of a county or other like part of a British possession any jurisdiction exercisable under this Act, that jurisdiction shall be deemed to be exercised under this Act and not otherwise.

Power of Colonial Legislature as to Admiralty jurisdiction.

3. The Legislature of a British possession may by any Colonial law,

- (a) Declare any Court of unlimited civil jurisdiction, whether original or appellate, in that possession to be a Colonial Court of Admiralty, and provide for the exercise by such Court of its jurisdiction under this Act, and limit territorially, or otherwise, the extent of such jurisdiction; and
- (b) Confer upon any inferior or subordinate court in that possession such partial or limited Admiralty jurisdiction under such regulations and with such appeal (if any), as may seem fit:

Provided that any such Colonial law shall not confer any jurisdiction which is not by this Act conferred upon a Colonial Court of Admiralty.

Reservation of Colonial law for Her Majesty's assent.

4. Every Colonial law which is made in pursuance of this Act, or affects the jurisdiction of or practice or procedure in any court of such possession in respect of the jurisdiction conferred by this Act, or alters any such Colonial law as above in this section mentioned, which has been previously passed, shall, unless previously approved by Her Majesty through a Secretary of State, either be reserved for the signification of Her Majesty's pleasure thereon, or contain a suspending clause providing that such law shall not come into operation until Her Majesty's pleasure thereon has been publicly signified in the British possession in which it has been passed.

Local Admiralty appeal.

5. Subject to rules of court under this Act, judgments of a court in a British possession given or made in the exercise of the jurisdiction conferred on it by this Act, shall be subject to the like local appeal, if any, as judgments of the court in the exercise of its ordinary civil jurisdiction, and the court having cognizance of such appeal shall for the purpose thereof possess all the jurisdiction by this Act conferred upon a Colonial Court of Admiralty.

Admiralty appeal to the Queen in Council.

6. (1.) The appeal from a judgment of any court in a British possession in the exercise of the jurisdiction conferred by this Act, either where there is as of right no local appeal or after a decision on local appeal, lies to Her Majesty the Queen in Council.

(2.) Save as may be otherwise specially allowed in a particular case by Her Majesty the Queen in Council, an appeal under this section shall not be allowed—

- (a) From any judgment not having the effect of a definitive judgment unless the court appealed from has given leave for such appeal; nor
- (b) From any judgment unless the petition of appeal has been lodged within the time prescribed by rules, or if no time is prescribed within six months from the date of the judgment appealed against, or if leave to appeal has been given, then from the date of such leave.

(3.) For the purpose of appeals under this Act, Her Majesty the Queen in Council and the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council shall, subject to rules under this section, have all such powers for making and enforcing judgments, whether interlocutory or final, for punishing contempts, for requiring the payment of money into court, or for any other purpose, as may be necessary, or as were possessed by the High Court of Delegates before the passing of the Act transferring the powers of such court to Her Majesty in Council, or as are for the time being possessed by the High Court in England or by the court appealed from in relation to the like matters as those forming the subject of appeals under this Act.

(4.) All Orders of the Queen in Council or the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, for the purposes aforesaid or otherwise in relation to appeals under this Act, shall have full effect throughout Her Majesty's dominions, and in all places where Her Majesty has jurisdiction.

(5.) This section shall be in addition to and not in derogation of the authority of Her Majesty in Council or the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council arising otherwise than under this Act, and all enactments relating to appeals to Her Majesty in Council or to the powers of Her Majesty in Council or the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in relation to those appeals, whether for making rules and orders or otherwise, shall extend, save as otherwise directed by Her Majesty in Council, to appeals to Her Majesty in Council under this Act.

Rules of Court.

7. (1.) Rules of court for regulating the procedure and practice (including fees and costs) in a court in a British possession in the exercise of the jurisdiction conferred by this Act, whether original or appellate, may be made by the same authority and in the same manner as rules touching the practice, procedure, fees, and costs in the said court in the exercise of its ordinary civil jurisdiction respectively are made:

Provided that the rules under this section shall not, save as provided by this Act, extend to matters relating to the slave trade, and shall not (save as provided by this section) come into operation until they have been approved by Her Majesty in Council, but on coming into operation shall have full effect as if enacted in this Act, and any enactment inconsistent therewith shall, so far as it is so inconsistent, be repealed.

(2.) It shall be lawful for Her Majesty in Council, in approving rules made under this section, to declare that the rules so made with respect to any matters which appear to Her Majesty to be matters of detail or of local concern may be revoked, varied, or added to without the approval required by this section.

(3.) Such rules may provide for the exercise of any jurisdiction conferred by this Act by the full court, or by any judge or judges thereof, and subject to any rules, where the ordinary civil jurisdiction of the court can in any case be exercised by a single judge, any jurisdiction conferred by this Act may in the like case be exercised by a single judge.

Droits of Admiralty and of the Crown.

8. (1.) Subject to the provisions of this section nothing in this Act shall alter the application of any droits of Admiralty or droits of or forfeitures to the Crown in a British possession; and such droits and forfeitures, when condemned by a court of a British possession in the exercise of the jurisdiction conferred by this Act, shall, save as is otherwise provided by any other Act, be notified, accounted for, and dealt with in such manner as the Treasury from time to time direct, and the officers of every Colonial Court of Admiralty and of every other court in a British possession exercising Admiralty jurisdiction shall obey such directions in respect of the said droits and forfeitures as may be from time to time given by the Treasury.

(2.) It shall be lawful for Her Majesty the Queen in Council by Order to direct that, subject to any conditions, exceptions, reservations, and regulations contained in the Order, the said droits and forfeitures condemned by a court in a British possession shall form part of the revenues of that possession either for ever or for such limited term or subject to such revocation as may be specified in the Order.

(3.) If and so long as any of such droits or forfeitures by virtue of this or any other Act form part of the revenues of the said possession the same shall, subject to the provisions of any law for the time being applicable thereto, be notified, accounted for, and dealt with in manner directed by the Government of the possession, and the Treasury shall not have any power in relation thereto.

Power to establish Vice-Admiralty Court.

9. (1.) It shall be lawful for Her Majesty, by commission under the Great Seal, to empower the Admiralty to establish in a British possession any Vice-Admiralty Court or Courts.

(2.) Upon the establishment of a Vice-Admiralty Court in a British possession, the Admiralty, by writing under their hands and the seal of the office of Admiralty, in such form as the Admiralty direct, may appoint a judge, registrar, marshal, and other officers of the court, and may cancel any such appointment; and in addition to any other jurisdiction of such court, may (subject to the limits imposed by this Act or the said commission from Her Majesty) vest in such court the whole or any part of the jurisdiction by or by virtue of this Act conferred upon any courts of that British possession, and may vary or revoke such vesting, and while such vesting is in force the power of such last-mentioned courts to exercise the jurisdiction so vested shall be suspended.

Provided that—

(a) nothing in this section shall authorise a Vice-Admiralty Court so established in India or in any British possession having a representative legislature, to exercise any jurisdiction, except for some purpose relating to prize, to Her Majesty's Navy, to the slave trade, to the matters dealt with by the Foreign Enlistment Act, 1870 (33 & 34 Vict. c. 90), or the Pacific Islanders Protection Acts, 1872 and 1875 (35 & 36 Vict. c. 19; 38 and 39 Vict. c. 51) or to matters in which questions arise relating to treaties or conventions with foreign countries, or to international law; and

(b) in the event of a vacancy in the office of judge, registrar, marshal, or other officer of any Vice-Admiralty Court in a British possession, the Governor of that possession may appoint a fit person to fill the vacancy until an appointment to the office is made by the Admiralty.

(3.) The provisions of this Act with respect to appeals to Her Majesty in Council from courts in British possessions in the exercise of the jurisdiction conferred by this Act shall apply to appeals from Vice-Admiralty Courts, but the rules and orders made in relation to appeals from Vice-Admiralty Courts may differ from the rules made in relation to appeals from the said courts in British possessions.

(4.) If Her Majesty at any time by commission under the Great Seal so direct, the Admiralty shall by writing under their hands and the seal of the office of Admiralty abolish a Vice-Admiralty Court established in any British possession under this section, and upon such abolition the jurisdiction of any Colonial Court of Admiralty in that possession which was previously suspended shall be revived.

Power to appoint a Vice-Admiral.

10. Nothing in this Act shall affect any power of appointing a Vice-Admiral in and for any British possession or any place therein; and whenever there is not a formally appointed Vice-Admiral in a British possession or any place therein, the Governor of the possession shall be ex-officio Vice-Admiral thereof.

Exception of Channel Islands and other possessions.

11. (1.) The provisions of this Act with respect to Colonial Courts of Admiralty shall not apply to the Channel Islands.

(2.) It shall be lawful for the Queen in Council by Order to declare, with respect to any British possession which has not a representative legislature, that the jurisdiction conferred by this Act on Colonial Courts of Admiralty shall not be vested in any court of such possession, or shall be vested only to the partial or limited extent specified in the Order.

Application of Act to Courts under Foreign Jurisdiction Acts.

12. It shall be lawful for Her Majesty the Queen in Council by Order to direct that this Act shall, subject to the conditions, exceptions, and qualifications (if any) contained in the Order, apply to any Court established by Her Majesty for the exercise of jurisdiction in any place out of Her Majesty's Dominions which is named in the Order as if that Court were a Colonial Court of Admiralty, and to provide for carrying into effect such application.

Rules for procedure in slave trade matters.

13. (1.) It shall be lawful for Her Majesty the Queen in Council by Order to make rules as to the practice and procedure (including fees and costs) to be observed in and the returns to be made from Colonial Courts of Admiralty and Vice-Admiralty Courts in the exercise of their jurisdiction in matters relating to the slave trade, and in and from East African Courts as defined by the Slave Trade (East African Courts) Acts, 1873 and 1879. (36 & 37 Vict. c. 59; 42 & 43 Vict. c. 38.)

(2.) Except when inconsistent with such Order in Council, the rules of Court for the time being in force in a Colonial Court of Admiralty or Vice-Admiralty Court shall, so far as applicable, extend to proceedings in such Court in matters relating to the slave trade.

(3.) The provisions of this Act with respect to the appeals to Her Majesty in Council, from Courts in British possessions in the exercise of the jurisdiction conferred by this Act, shall apply, with the necessary modifications, to appeals from judgments of any East African Court made or purporting to be made in exercise of the jurisdiction under the Slave Trade (East African Courts) Acts, 1873 and 1879.

Orders in Council.

14. It shall be lawful for Her Majesty in Council from time to time to make Orders for the purposes authorised by this Act, and to revoke and vary such Orders, and every such Order while in operation shall have effect as if were part of this Act.

Interpretation.

15. In the construction of this Act, unless the context otherwise requires,—

The expression "representative legislature" means, in relation to a British possession, a legislature comprising a legislative body of which at least one half are elected by inhabitants of the British possession.

The expressions "unlimited civil jurisdiction" means civil jurisdiction unlimited as to the value of the subject-matter at issue, or as to the amount that may be claimed or recovered.

The expression "judgment" includes a decree, order, and sentence.

The expression "appeal" means any appeal, rehearing, or review; and the expression "local appeal" means an appeal to any Court inferior to Her Majesty in Council.

The expression "Colonial law" means any Act, ordinance, or other law having the force of legislative enactment in a British possession and made by any authority, other than the Imperial Parliament or Her Majesty in Council, competent to make laws for such possession.

Commencement of the Act.

16. (1.) This Act shall, save as otherwise in this Act provided, come into force in every British possession on the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one.

Provided that—

(a.) This Act shall not come into force in any of the British possessions named in the First Schedule to this Act until Her Majesty so directs by Order in Council, and until the day named in that behalf in such Order; and

(b.) If before any day above mentioned rules of court for the Colonial Court of Admiralty in any British possession have been approved by Her Majesty in Council, this Act may be proclaimed in that possession by the Governor thereof, and on such proclamation shall come into force on the day named in the proclamation.

(2.) The day upon which this Act comes into force in any British possession shall, as regards that British possession, be deemed to be the commencement of this Act.

(3.) If, on the commencement of this Act in any British possession, rules of court have not been approved by Her Majesty in pursuance of this Act, the rules in force at such commencement under the Vice-Admiralty Courts Act 1863, (26 & 27 Vict., c. 24), and in India the rules in force at such commencement regulating the respective Vice-Admiralty Courts or Courts of Admiralty in India, including any rules made with reference to proceedings instituted on behalf of Her Majesty's ships, shall, so far as applicable, have effect in the Colonial Court or Courts of Admiralty of such possession, and in any Vice-Admiralty Court established under this Act in that possession, as rules of court under this Act, and may be revoked and varied accordingly; and all fees payable under such rules may be taken in such manner as the Colonial Court may direct, so however that the amount of each such fee shall so nearly as practicable be paid to the same officer or person who but for the passing of this Act would have been entitled to receive the same in respect of like business. So far as any such rules are inapplicable or do not extend, the rules of court for the exercise by a court of its ordinary civil jurisdiction shall have effect as rules for the exercise by the same court of the jurisdiction conferred by this Act.

(4.) At any time after the passing of this Act any Colonial law may be passed, and any Vice-Admiralty Court may be established and jurisdiction vested in such Court, but any such law, establishment, or vesting shall not come into effect until the commencement of this Act.

Abolition of Vice-Admiralty Courts.

17. On the commencement of this Act in any British possession, but subject to the provisions of this Act, every Vice-Admiralty Court in that possession shall be abolished; subject as follows,—

(1.) All judgments of such Vice-Admiralty Court shall be executed and may be appealed from in like manner as if this Act had not passed, and all appeals from any Vice-Admiralty Court pending at the commencement of this Act shall be heard and determined, and the judgment thereon executed as nearly as may be in like manner as if this Act had not passed:

(2.) All proceedings pending in the Vice-Admiralty Court in any British possession at the commencement of this Act shall, notwithstanding the repeal of any enactment by this Act, be continued in a Colonial Court of Admiralty of the possession in manner directed by rules of court, and, so far as no such rule extends, in like manner, as nearly as may be, as if they had been originally begun in such court.

(3.) Where any person holding an office, whether that of judge, registrar, or marshal, or any other office in any such Vice-Admiralty Court in a British possession, suffers any pecuniary loss in consequence of the abolition of such court, the Government of the British possession, on complaint of such person, shall provide that such person shall receive reasonable compensation (by way of an increase of salary or a capital sum, or otherwise) in respect of his loss, subject nevertheless to the performance, if required by the said Government, of the like duties as before such abolition.

(4.) All books, papers, documents, office furniture, and other things at the commencement of this Act belonging, or appertaining to any Vice-Admiralty Court, shall be delivered over to the proper officer of the Colonial Court of Admiralty or be otherwise dealt with in such manner as, subject to any directions from Her Majesty, the Governor may direct:

(5.) Where, at the commencement of this Act in a British possession, any person holds a commission to act as advocate in any Vice-Admiralty Court abolished by this Act, either for Her Majesty or for the Admiralty, such commission shall be of the same avail in every court of the same British possession exercising jurisdiction under this Act, as if such court were the court mentioned or referred to in such commission.

Repeal.

18. The Acts specified in the Second Schedule to this Act shall, to the extent mentioned in the third column of that schedule, be repealed as respects any British possession as from the commencement of this Act in that possession, and as respects any courts out of Her Majesty's dominions as from the date of any Order applying this Act:

Provided that—

(a.) Any appeal against a judgment made before the commencement of this Act may be brought and any such appeal and any proceedings or appeals pending at the commencement of this Act may be carried on and completed and carried into effect as if such repeal had not been enacted; and

(b.) All enactments and rules at the passing of this Act in force touching the practice, procedure, fees, costs, and returns in matters relating to the slave trade in Vice-Admiralty Courts and in East African Courts shall have effect as rules made in pursuance of this Act, and shall apply to Colonial Courts of Admiralty, and may be altered and revoked accordingly.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

NEW SOUTH WALES.

ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE AT CATHERINE HILL BAY. (INFORMATION RESPECTING.)

Ordered by the Legislative Assembly to be printed, 19 August, 1890.

[Laid upon the Table of this House in answer to Question No. 2, of 19 August, 1890.]

Questions.

2. MR. STEVENSON asked THE COLONIAL SECRETARY,—

- (1.) Is it a fact that at Wallarah, Catherine Hill Bay, situate on the sea coast, between Sydney and Newcastle, there is a mining township, with a population of between 300 and 400 souls, and daily increasing?
- (2.) Is it a fact that a constable is stationed in the above township?
- (3.) Is it a fact that when anyone is arrested after 2 p.m. for drunkenness, or any petty offence, that the party has to be detained for twenty-four hours, and then has to be conveyed by land for 6½ miles, thence by steamer, train, and tram, a further distance of 25 miles, to Lambton, where he is again locked up for the night, and brought before the Court next day, thus causing a compulsory incarceration of three days?
- (4.) Is it a fact that, before the issue of the last two lists of appointments to the Commission of the Peace, the want of a resident magistrate at the above-named mining township was pointed out to him, and a gentleman, in every way qualified for the position, recommended by the Member for the Wollombi and by the Board of Directors of the Wallarah Coal Company; if so, has any notice been taken beyond a formal acknowledgment of the letters, or has any gentleman been appointed?
- (5.) Is it a fact that at the township of Swansea, a distance of some 6½ miles from Wallarah, situate on Lake Macquarie, in the same district, there is a resident constable and lock-up, but no magistrate, and is there also a constable and lock-up at Belmont, also situate on the Lake, 3 miles from Swansea; and has all police-court business of the said townships to be dealt with at Lambton?
- (6.) If it is found that the above state of things exists, will he have the gentleman recommended appointed as a resident magistrate at Wallarah, and cause an inquiry to be made, with a view to the establishment of a monthly Court of Petty Sessions at Swansea—for which the present police building could be used—and will the Police Magistrate of Brisbane Water be requested to attend and preside over such Court, and could the police business of the three townships named, as well as Toronto, and the whole of the Lake Macquarie District, be dealt with at Wallarah, and, at the same time, effect a saving to the revenue?

Answers.

- (1.) The present population of the Mining Township of Wallarah, Catherine Hill Bay, is between 300 and 400, and it is probable the number will increase.
- (2.) A constable is stationed at Catherine Hill Bay, and a lock-up cell will be erected there in the course of a few weeks.
- (3.) It is not a fact that any person arrested at Catherine Hill Bay has been detained twenty-four hours before being brought to Swansea, preparatory to being taken to Lambton for disposal. In fact, there has been but one arrest made at Catherine Hill Bay—a man deemed to be insane—and he was brought direct to Swansea, and thence to Newcastle.
- (4.) Mr. Thomas Parton, Manager of the Wallarah Coal Company, was recommended by Mr. R. Stevenson, M.P., and Mr. R. W. Saddington. This name was duly considered with other gentlemen, but it was not deemed necessary to appoint a magistrate in the locality.
- (5.) There is a constable stationed at Swansea, where there is a police-station and also a lock-up, but there is neither constable nor lock-up at Belmont, which is situated about 5 miles distant. The police business of Catherine Hill Bay, Swansea, Belmont, and Toronto has up to the present been dealt with either at Lambton or Wallsend. Mr. James E. Hannell, J.P., resides in the Lake Macquarie District.
- (6.) It would be a matter of great convenience if a Court of Petty Sessions were established at Swansea, which is centrally situated, although not so populous as Catherine Hill Bay. The matter will receive attention.

The Principal Under Secretary to W. N. Willis, Esq., M.P.

Sir,

Colonial Secretary's Office, Sydney, 19 November, 1890.

I am desired by the Colonial Secretary to inform you that the attention of the Government has been drawn to a paper called Truth, of which you are announced as the sole proprietor, containing in its issue of the 16th of November instant an article which is a direct incentive to sections of the population to rise in armed rebellion against the laws and institutions of the Colony. A copy of this article, taken from your paper, is attached hereto.

I am to point out that, as a Magistrate, you have sworn allegiance to the Queen, and have bound yourself to uphold the laws and usages of the Colony; and I am further to inquire whether, in face of this treasonable publication, you have any statement to make against your removal from the Magistracy, as a person unfit to hold Her Majesty's Commission.

I have, &c.,

CRITCHETT WALKER,
Principal Under Secretary.

[Enclosure.]

"REPEATING RIFLES AND AMMUNITION."

SIR,—Now that the strike is drawing to a close, I would advise the Unions to close up their ranks and set to work to renew the struggle at the earliest opportunity. It was quite evident the Unions were not prepared for such a struggle as they have been engaged in. A great many of them have only recently been formed. They are all in an impoverished state, and one and all were too young and too poor to stand the strain of a long strike. My advice then to all the Unions is to set to work with a will and organize your forces. Let each member contribute to his Union the sum of £5 per twelve months for three or four years. After each member has got £15 or £20 to his credit he is to be in possession of a good repeating rifle and 200 rounds of ball cartridge. Then they should call a conference with the employers, and lay down their proposals for the "Reconstruction of Society." There are about 40,000 shearers, all men in the prime of life, who know the interior of the country well. They are nearly all in possession of a horse, and, if gathered together, would make a splendid cavalry force. Then we have about an equal number of Unionists belonging to the other trades in the Colonies. We have thousands of the hardy, sunburned, horny-handed labouring class of men who would, no doubt, play their part with energy and patient perseverance. It would not be beyond the mark to state that in four years the Unionists could be made to number 1,000,000 strong—1,000,000 of the real workers, the real wealth-producers, educated in the cause of working out their own social destiny. What power is there that could prevent them from compelling their oppressors and tyrants to give them a more equal share of the wealth which the worker in the sweat of his face produces? The axiom if you want peace be prepared for war, is as applicable to Trades Unions as it is to the state of affairs in Continental Europe. I appeal to every Trades Unionist, to every man who has to earn his bread by the sweat of his brow, to come forward and stand shoulder to shoulder until the "Reconstruction of Society" is an accomplished fact. Who is to take the initiative in this great and noble work but the leaders of the powerful Unions that exist all over the world at the present day? Will the leaders show themselves worthy of the trust that is placed in their hands, and will the workers show that they are worthy of the cause entrusted to them? Time alone will tell.

Yours, &c.,

BATHURST BURR.

*Read at room in the G.S. Dept 90

Dear Sir,

4 December, 1890.

I have to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 2nd instant, in which you inform me that my name has been removed from the Commission of the Peace.

I must, however, protest against the indecent haste of the Premier in this matter, especially as I had already caused him to be notified that I would forward him a statement. I kept my promise, and forwarded the enclosed statement on the 25th of last month by a careful and trusty messenger, with instructions to deliver it directly into the hands of Sir Henry Parkes. As you know, the Premier refused to see the messenger, who was, moreover, prevented by you from delivering the enclosed letter.* Your own knowledge of the actual facts of the case, as stated above, will be confirmed by the enclosed sworn declaration of the messenger himself.

* I have no recollection of any messenger interviewing me in this office from Mr. W. N. Willis, M.P., with a letter for Sir Henry Parkes; and my statement is borne out by the messengers in the Department, who positively assure me that no such individual was refused admission to the Premier on the days mentioned in the declaration.—CRITCHETT WALKER, P.U.S. 6/12/90.

I shall be pleased, therefore, to have the matter again brought before the Governor-in-Council, with a view to the revision of the decision so hastily come to, on insufficient grounds.

Personally, I am not greatly concerned about the position of J.P., but I trust that the present action of the Premier will be submitted to close scrutiny and revision, in order that it may not in future serve as a precedent, or warrant for unconstitutional proceedings for persons, who like Sir Henry Parkes, are inclined to abuse positions of public trust.

Yours, &c.,
W. N. WILLIS.

[Enclosures.]

The Principal Under Secretary, Colonial Secretary's Office, Sydney,—

Sir,

Sydney, 25 November, 1890.

In reply to your letter of the 19th instant, calling my attention to a letter in the issue of Truth of the 16th instant, signed "Bathurst Burr," I beg to state that, although the sole proprietor of that newspaper, I had not either read or heard of the letter in question until you sent it to me. The Hon. the Colonial Secretary, as an old newspaper proprietor, knows that although, technically, a proprietor is responsible for everything which appears in his journal, such as libel, &c., yet, practically, almost everything which is published is authorised solely either by the editor or sub-editor on his own individual responsibility.

Having,

Having, now, carefully perused the letter, and having consulted my editor and sub-editor about it, they pointed out that the letter is a mere satire on some wild and foolish proposal made by someone lately for the "reconstruction of society." The idea of seriously suggesting that 40,000 shearers should violate the laws they themselves make is too ridiculous for serious comment. And, if possible, still more absurd is the statement in the letter that in "four years the unionist could, by some magical process, be increased to one million strong."

The letter of "Bathurst Burr" merely "pokes fun" at the foolish man who recommended that Utopian absurdity, the "reconstruction of society," in this free country, where, in reality, the working classes have the supreme power to make and repeal laws and to elect or reject candidates for Parliamentary position, thereby making or unmaking Ministries at their mere will and pleasure.

I am not surprised that Sir Henry Parkes should for his own purposes "pretend" to take the letter seriously. It is mere "pretence," and nothing else. But if he takes my advice he will not attempt to pose before the country as its sole Protector, for the purpose of indirectly avenging himself on me, one of his most determined political opponents, by striking my name off the Commission of the Peace.

The portion of this letter marked with asterisks has been excised by direction of the Colonial Secretary and returned to the writer as having nothing whatever to do with the matter in hand, being only a tirade of abuse of Sir Henry Parkes.—C W., 8 12 90.

* * * * *

I was appointed as a Justice of the Peace by Sir Patrick Jennings, "a man of honor" and a gentleman of unblemished private and public character, and it would indeed be the irony of fate to be removed by such an individual as Sir Henry Parkes on the miserable subterfuge mentioned in your letter.

Yours faithfully,

W. N. WILLIS.

I, WILLIAM KNIBB JEFFERY, of Sydney, in the Colony of New South Wales, do hereby solemnly and sincerely declare as follows:—That I did, acting under the instructions of Mr. W. N. Willis, M.P., proceed to the Colonial Secretary's Office to deliver into Sir Henry Parkes' hands a letter from Mr. Willis. I duly sent in my card, but was informed Sir Henry Parkes would not see me. On this the Under Secretary interviewed me, but he absolutely refused to allow me to see the Premier. My instructions being imperative, I told him I could give the letter to nobody except the Premier, and left the building. On the 26th and 27th of the same month I tried to again endeavour to deliver the letter to Sir Henry Parkes, but failed. After this Mr. Willis left Sydney for Bathurst, and his letter to Sir Henry Parkes has been in my care since that date. And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true, and by virtue of the provisions of an Act made and passed in the ninth year of the Reign of her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the more effectual abolition of Oaths and Affirmations taken and made in various Departments of the Government of New South Wales, and to substitute Declarations in lieu thereof, and for the suppression of voluntary and extrajudicial Oaths and Affidavits."

Subscribed and declared at Sydney, this sixth }
day of December, 1890, before me, }

W. K. JEFFERY.

WM. P. SMAITH, J.P.

The Principal Under Secretary to W. N. Willis, Esq., M.P.

Sir,

Colonial Secretary's Office, Sydney, 8 December, 1890.

I am directed by the Colonial Secretary to say, in reference to your letters of the 25th November and 4th December, that both these documents were delivered at this office at noon on the 6th inst.

As directed, I informed you of the intention of the Government to recommend your removal from the Commission of the Peace before the step was taken to submit such recommendation to the Governor in Council, namely, on the 19th November. The recommendation for your removal was made on the 25th—six days afterwards—but was not confirmed until the 2nd December, in all thirteen days, during which period no statement was forwarded to this office by you.

In respect to the "sworn declaration" that a messenger from you endeavoured on several successive days to obtain access to Sir Henry Parkes to deliver your letters, that statement is inconsistent with the fact that neither of your letters was addressed to him, but both to the "Principal Under Secretary."

I have been desired to extract from your letter of the 25th ultimo the enclosed sheets, which have no bearing on the action of the Government in removing you from the Commission of the Peace, but are charged exclusively with infamous abuse of Sir Henry Parkes, which he refuses to receive as an official communication.

I have, &c.,

CRITCHETT WALKER,

Principal Under Secretary.

REMOVAL OF MR. WILLIS, M.P., FROM THE COMMISSION OF THE PEACE.

(PETITION FROM CERTAIN CITIZENS AND RESIDENTS OF THE COLONY OF NEW SOUTH WALES.)

Received by the Legislative Assembly, 11 December, 1890.

To the Honorable the Members of the Legislative Assembly of New South Wales, in Parliament assembled.

The humble Petition of the undersigned citizens and residents of the Colony of New South Wales,—

HUMBLY SHOWETH:—

That a Member of your Honorable House, William Nicholas Willis, has been removed from the list of Magistrates by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, acting on the advice of the Executive.

That this step has been taken in consequence of an alleged treasonable publication in the newspaper Truth, then owned by the said William Nicholas Willis.

That the publication in question was a letter to the editor of Truth, published in the correspondence columns of that journal, without note or comment, and that if it was treasonable neither the writer, the editor, nor the publisher, have been prosecuted according to law.

That the said William Nicholas Willis was not responsible for the publication of that letter, and that he disclaimed promptly, and in the most public manner in the columns of Truth, all sympathy with the sentiments contained in the said letter.

Therefore, your Petitioners humbly submit that to remove the said William Nicholas Willis' name from the Magisterial roll for alleged treasonable utterances contained in a letter for the publication of which he was not responsible, or even cognisant, and with the sentiments of which he has disclaimed all sympathy, is harsh and unjust.

Wherefore, your Petitioners pray that the name of the said William Nicholas Willis may be replaced on the Magisterial roll.

And your Petitioners, as in duty bound, will ever pray.

MR. MANNING, CHAIRMAN OF LICENSING BENCH AT RYDE.

REPORT.

THE SELECT COMMITTEE of the Legislative Assembly, appointed on the 30th April, 1890,—“with power to send for persons and papers to inquire into and report upon the charges made by Mr. O'Maley against Mr. Manning, the Chairman of the Licensing Bench at Ryde,” and to whom was referred “the Return to Order—‘Mr. Manning, Chairman of the Licensing Bench at Ryde’—laid upon the Table on the 4th December, 1889, together with the Minutes of Proceedings of and Evidence taken before the Select Committee on this subject during the second Session of 1889”; and before whom John Edyc Manning of Ryde had leave to appear and “be heard personally and by Counsel and Attorney,”—have agreed to the following report:—

Your Committee having examined the witnesses named in the list*, and having made as careful and painstaking an investigation and consideration as the importance of the inquiry demanded, find as follows:—

See List, p. 7

1. That Mr. Manning is the Chairman of the Licensing Bench at Ryde, and a Justice of the Peace for the Colony of New South Wales.

2. That, on the 5th October, 1889, Mr. P. O'Maley addressed a letter to the Minister for Justice containing charges of a grave nature against Mr. Manning in his capacity as a Licensing Magistrate. These charges may be briefly stated as follows:—

“1. That Mr. Manning, in his position of Licensing Magistrate, improperly met an intending applicant and discussed the intended application.

“2. That Mr. Manning used his position and power as such Licensing Magistrate to endeavour to dissuade a Mr. Cuneo from leasing O'Maley's property, known as the ‘Fig-tree Inn,’ by informing him that the house would never be licensed while he, Mr. Manning, had a seat on the Bench.

“3. That Mr. Manning, as an inducement to the said Cuneo to purchase a block of land known as Bennett's corner, promised that on the completion of the purchase he would call a special meeting of the Licensing Bench and grant him a license.

“4. That the circumstances surrounding the refusal of the application for the renewal of the license of the ‘Fig-tree Inn’ showed that Mr. Manning used his position to injure O'Maley, for the purpose of enabling a license to be granted for Bennett's corner.”

3. That Mr. Manning, on the 12th October, 1889, replied to the charges contained in Mr. O'Maley's letter, and that the statements contained in such reply are not borne out by the evidence.

4. That the “Fig-tree Inn” had been licensed for ten years, and no sufficient reason has been shown for closing the house.

5. That the requirements of the neighbourhood justified a renewal of the license, as shown by the fact that the Bench, of which Mr. Manning was Chairman, granted a license for an hotel a few hundred yards from O'Maley's premises, and that Cunco, the applicant for the conditional license, was a fit and proper person to hold a license.

6. That Mr. Manning improperly met Mr. Cunco on several occasions, and discussed with him the question of granting a license at Hunter's Hill.

7. That Mr. Manning was desirous of closing O'Maley's place.

8. That Mr. Manning was anxious to grant a license for Bennett's corner, and even went so far as to write out a recommendation to the Bench, of which he was Chairman, in favour of granting a license for the said corner. That he then had this copied by his son, alleging as a reason that he did not wish his brother-Magistrates to recognize his handwriting, and then had the copy signed by Solomon.

9. That Mr. O'Maley's charges are substantially sustained, and your Committee are of opinion that Mr. Manning should not hold a seat on the Licensing Bench at Ryde.

- Mr. J. E. Manning. 15. When was that? I do not remember.
- 14 May, 1890. 16. Mr. Kidd.] March, 1882? No; the first Bench for the district was that at Parramatta. I am an ordinary member of the Licensing Bench there.
17. Do you remember how often you have been reappointed? I think I have been reappointed once. I am in my second term for Ryde, I think, and my third term for Parramatta.
18. About when will your term for either expire? I could not tell you. We are appointed for a term of three years.

Thomas Cuneo called in, sworn, and examined:—

- Mr. T. Cuneo. 19. Chairman.] You gave evidence before the Select Committee during the last session of Parliament? Yes.
- 14 May, 1890. 20. That Committee was appointed to inquire into and report upon the charges made by Mr. O'Maley against Mr. Manning, the Chairman of the Licensing Bench at Ryde? Yes.
21. Where do you live? At Hunter's Hill.
22. You were an applicant for a publican's license? Yes.
23. For where? For the "Fig-tree Inn," Hunter's Hill.
24. Is that in the Licensing District of Ryde? Yes.
25. Do you remember the date of your first application? Yes—12th June, 1889.
26. That was an application for what? For a conditional publican's license.
27. You put in certain plans with that application? Yes.
28. What sized house did they show? Twenty-six rooms.
29. Did those plans show a new house, or one which had already been licensed, with alterations? A house that had already been licensed for ten years, with alterations, so as to make a twenty-six-roomed house of it.
30. Who was on the Bench when the application came on? Mr. Manning and Mr. C. E. Jeanneret.
31. What became of the application? It was refused.
32. Upon what grounds? I do not know; no grounds were mentioned.
33. No grounds were given? No.
34. Mr. Kidd.] There was no license existing when you applied for a conditional license? Yes, there was.
35. Chairman.] You say that your first application was made on the 12th June, 1889. The license should not run out until the end of June, so that it was during the currency of the license that you applied for a conditional license? Yes.
36. That application you say was refused, and the Bench stated no grounds for their refusal? No grounds were stated.
37. Did you see Mr. Manning? Yes.
38. How did you come to see him? I went up to his house. I saw Mr. Manning before the first refusal.
39. How did you come to see him? I had heard that the house was going to be closed, and I went and saw Mr. Manning, and asked him if he would be agreeable to give me a renewal of the license when the license ran out, and he said "No," and that the house would be closed. I had to make application because I was under contract with O'Maley, and had paid a deposit.
40. This house was owned by O'Maley? Yes.
41. At that time—before the end of June, 1889,—who was the tenant? Mr. George Solomon.
42. His lease, I believe, ended on the 30th June? Yes.
43. On the same date that the license ran out? Yes.
44. You had made arrangements with O'Maley for a lease? Yes.
45. How far had you gone with your arrangements? We had the agreement drawn out, and I had made a deposit.
46. That being so, you went and saw Mr. Manning in the manner stated? Yes.
47. Can you remember the exact conversation you had with Mr. Manning on that occasion? I went to him and told him that I had bought a lease from Mr. O'Maley for the "Fig-tree Inn" for seven and a half years, and I asked him if he would be agreeable to give me a transfer and a renewal of the license, which was to expire when Solomon's term was up. He said, "No; you take my advice, and have nothing to do with that place; I will not be agreeable to giving it a license."
48. Mr. Kidd.] Was the house condemned? The house was never condemned—not to my knowledge.
49. Chairman.] Did he give any reason for saying that the house would not be licensed? No.
50. Did he say anything in reference to O'Maley? No; I do not think he did.
51. Were you at the Court when Solomon's term ran out? Yes.
52. Can you tell us what occurred there in reference to this house? Yes.
53. Did Solomon apply for a renewal? Yes.
54. What became of that application? It was refused.
55. Who sat on the Bench? Mr. Manning, and Mr. C. E. Jeanneret, I think.
56. Did you hear any reasons given by the Bench for the refusal of his license? Well, no; I could not say.
57. Did you then put in a subsequent application? Yes.
58. Mr. Manning.] For a renewal? No, for a conditional license.
59. Chairman.] On account of the refusal of the renewal to Solomon the house had to be closed? Yes, on June 30.
60. And you subsequently put in another application for a conditional license? Yes, on the 17th July, 1889.
61. What plans did you lodge? The same plans, for twenty-six rooms.
62. What became of that application? It was refused also.
63. Who were on the Bench? The same magistrates.
64. Did you then go and see Mr. Manning again? Yes.
65. I want you to tell the Committee, as clearly as you can recollect, what Mr. Manning said to you, and what you said to him? In the meantime I had come to terms—that if I could get the license on smaller plans I was to have three years more lease for £500. I drew a small plan and took it up to Mr. Manning. He was on the top of his stable at the time.
66. I suppose O'Maley would be agreeable to give you an extended lease, because it would cost him so much less to build a smaller house? Between £1,100 and £1,200 less. The first improvements would cost £1,800, and the second improvements £500 or £600.

67. You prepared a small plan, and went and saw Mr. Manning? Yes.
68. Tell us the conversation as nearly as you can recollect it? Mr. Manning said to me, "Well, license again." I said, "Yes." He said, "What is the matter now?" I said, "I have come to see if you would be agreeable to give me a license on these plans." He said, "What property?" I said, "O'Maley's." "No," he said, "I will have nothing at all to do with it." I had not unrolled the plans at that time. We were up on the stable loft at the time, and we went downstairs, and I said, "I suppose there is no harm in having a look at the plans?" He said "No"; and I opened them out and showed them to him. He said they were smaller than the others; and I told him they were quite large enough for the requirements of the district at the present time.
69. Mr. Kidd.] It did not strike you that it was an unseemly thing to go to a licensing magistrate, who was out of Court, to ask him about anything of the kind? Yes.
70. Is it the usual way you do business? No; but one wants to know before going to any great expense whether he has any show at all.
71. Chairman.] You were up in the loft, and you came down and you showed him the plans? Yes.
72. What was said? I said I would not mind giving £200 to M'Culloch, or any other solicitor, if I could get a license on those plans. We then walked towards the gate, and we stood talking there for some time. Then we went away, and got talking about O'Maley's property. Mr. Manning asked me how much he owed upon it. I said, "He does not owe anything." I was certain of that, because Mr. O'Maley had said, only a few days before, that if the license were refused he could let the property stand, as he owed no money, and it would not cost him anything. Mr. Manning said he wanted me to buy Bennett's property.
73. Follow the conversation as closely as you can remember it? I think it was before this day that he mentioned Bennett's property to me.
74. What did he say in regard to Bennett's property? He said, "I will tell you what you ought to do; you ought to buy Bennett's property." I said, "Yes."
75. Did you ask him where Bennett's property was? No; I knew where it was.
76. Tell us what was said? He said a person had got it from Mrs. Bennett for three months; they had three months to decide whether they would buy it or not.
77. Where is Bennett's property? About 100 yards or 150 yards from the "Fig-tree Inn."
78. He told you that a person had it under offer for three months? Yes; and he told me that if I went to Mr. M'Culloch, a solicitor in Sydney, I could get all the particulars from him. I did not know M'Culloch's address, so I wrote it on the cuff of my shirt-sleeve. He said, "It is no use you going to Mrs. Bennett, because she knows nothing at all about it." That was in the morning. Before I went home I went and saw Mrs. Bennett.
79. Had you any conversation with her? Yes. She seemed surprised that I knew so much about the property, and asked me to tell her how I got to know, and of course I would not do so.
80. Did you go to Sydney then? Yes.
81. Whom did you see? Mr. P. V. M'Culloch. I told him I had come to see him about the Bennett property, and I asked him what price was wanted for it. He said, "They want £1,000 for a twenty-five years' lease, and 30s. a week rent, you make your own improvements; or £2,000 would buy the property right out." I told him it was too much.
82. "£2,000 cash would buy the property right out?" He did not say cash, but £2,000. I told him I thought it was too much, but that I hoped there was no harm done, and I then left.
83. Did you see any one in connection with this property afterwards? Yes; when I went home that night Mrs. Bennett came down to my house. She said, "How did you get on?" I said, "They want too much; they want £2,000 for it." She said, "Yes, they do want too much; I wish they would give me one-half."
84. Is Mrs. Bennett still living? Yes.
85. Pass on to the time you saw Mr. Manning again? Yes.
86. Did you go up and see him after seeing M'Culloch? Yes.
87. What conversation had you with him? He said, "Did you go to M'Culloch?" I said, "Yes; they want too much money for the property." I also said I could not get £2,000. We had a long conversation.
88. Tell us what it was? He said, "I know a man who would build a house upon that property if he could get a good tenant." I said, "Yes." He said, "What would you be agreeable to give him for it?" I said, "£4 a week." He said, "Why you are giving that to O'Maley, besides a bonus." I said, "I would give £5 a week." He said, "That is better." The matter about building the place then dropped, and he said, "Go to M'Culloch again, and I will give you a note to take to him." He said, "Come inside and I will show you the plans of Solomon's house." Solomon had already applied for a conditional license for Bennett's property, and these were the plans he was going to use. We were looking at them, and he said, "I will tell you what you want to do." He held his hands out and said, "You want to draw a large plan like this, and draw a line through it to show the Bench, and only build a portion."
89. He said, "You want to put large plans before the Bench, and only build a portion of them?" Yes. A portion now, so that the other could be built when it was required. He went in and wrote the letter for me, and gave it to me.
90. Did he say anything to you? Yes; he said, "Go down and see M'Culloch. If you come to terms with him I will call a special meeting next month and grant the license—leave that to me."
91. What did you do? I went home. I did not go to see M'Culloch. I knew it was of no use, as I could not raise £4,000.
92. That was £2,000 for the place, and £2,000 it would cost you to build and furnish. The note he gave you I believe was in an envelope? Yes.
93. Did he tell you he had any interest in Bennett's property at all? No.
94. You opened that envelope, I believe? Yes. From the start I thought, in my own mind, he had an interest in the property.
95. Is this the note (produced) which was inside that envelope? Yes. The note is as follows:—

Dear Percy,

I have told Cunco that I thought you could arrange for him to have the Bennett property for £2,000 on paying £1,000 cash, the balance on interest. If he agrees to this, as he will, he will have to deposit £1,000 with you in trust till Mrs. B. can convey and he gets the other matter. He had better be told also to keep the matter quiet until he gets his conveyance, &c.

22 August, 1889.

Yours,
J. M.

96.

Mr. T. Cunco.
14 May, 1890.

- Mr. T. Cuneo. 96. That was the note in the envelope you opened? Yes.
- 14 May, 1890. 97. Do you know Mr. Manning's handwriting? No; I could not swear to it.
98. When did you see Mr. Manning again? About a week after.
99. What did he say to you? The first thing he said was, "Why didn't you go to M'Culloch." I said it was no use going, because I could not raise the money.
100. Did he say anything about the letter? Yes. He said, "Where is the letter?" and I said, "It is at home." He said, "Let me have it," and I said, "All right."
101. Mr. Kidd.] What letter did he refer to? The one just read.
102. Chairman.] That is the only letter you got from him? Yes.
103. Was that the occasion upon which he went on to speak about the man who would build the house? Yes.
104. Mr. Kidd.] Why did you not let him have the letter? I had it at home.
105. Chairman.] You have already said that you had opened the letter then? Yes.
106. And had read its contents? Yes.
107. Mr. Kidd.] And that letter was not sent to you? No, not to me.
108. Then you did not take the letter to the party it was addressed to? No.
109. Mr. Plumb.] But you went to the party? Yes, before I got the letter, but not after.
110. Chairman.] You had seen M'Culloch before receiving this letter? Yes.
111. Then you saw Mr. Manning, and he asked you to see M'Culloch again, and gave you this note? Yes.
112. Mr. Kidd.] Why did you not take it to the person it was addressed to? It was of no use me going to him, because I could not find the money.
113. Is it usual for you when you get a letter from anybody to stick to it? Well, I understood that all that was in it was in reference to myself and M'Culloch, and that I was to give a certain price.
114. But did you not think it was a wrong thing to open the letter? Well, I did, but from the conversation I had with Mr. Manning I thought that all was not straight.
115. Mr. Plumb.] You swallowed your scruples? Yes, I did.
116. Chairman.] You have already stated you had a suspicion that Mr. Manning was interested in the Bennett property? Yes; and I can bring proof in regard to it too.
117. Mr. Kidd.] Knowing that you could not undertake to purchase this property, was your motive to entrap Mr. Manning if you could? No.
118. Not even by opening and sticking to the letter? No. My intention was to try and get a license for the "Fig-tree Inn," which is the best position in the district, and has been licensed for ten years.
119. You did not hold the license before? No.
120. Then where was this building going to be put up in connection with which you applied for a conditional license? That was the old "Fig-tree Inn."
121. Then they were going to pull it down? They were going to extend it. There are more rooms there now than are required by the Act. The only fault in the house is in the kitchen.
122. However, they would not renew the license, and you tried to obtain a conditional license and failed? Yes. We had a plan of twenty-six rooms drawn out; we were given to understand that if we spent a certain amount on the place we would obtain a license, and we did it. I saw a telegram which came to Mr. Cornwell, which said "Tell Cuneo to put in his application; all right."
123. Mr. Plumb.] For what hotel? For the "Fig-tree Inn." That is the application I had in at the time.
124. Mr. Kidd.] Although that telegram was apparently from Mr. Manning, you have no evidence that Mr. Manning has sent it? Of course not; I could not say who sent it.
125. Mr. Plumb.] Whose telegram was it? It was a telegram to Mr. Cornwell, of the firm of brewers. They got a telegram in reference to the "Fig-tree" signed by J. E. Manning.
126. When was this? I had to have my application in for fourteen days, and it must have been between the 12th June and fourteen days previous to the application.
127. Chairman.] That was before your first application? Yes; before the first refusal.
128. Mr. Manning.] And that was signed "John E. Manning"? I would not swear to that.
129. You said you saw a telegram signed J. E. Manning? I may have made a mistake about the signature.
130. Mr. Plumb.] But you said you saw a telegram signed "John E. Manning"? I saw the telegram, but I would not swear I saw the signature.
131. Mr. Manning.] You said just now you saw a telegram signed "John E. Manning"? Well, it is so long ago; it is eleven months ago.
132. Mr. Kidd.] There is no doubt that the brewers would be very anxious that you should procure the license. You would be a good customer to them, if you had done so. They would have a motive in trying to get you to push on with your application? Yes; the application was in before I saw the telegram.
133. How long before the day of hearing must the application be in? Fourteen days.
134. Mr. Manning.] You say you saw this telegram within fourteen days prior to the 12th June? Yes.
135. Where did you see the telegram? At Mr. Cornwell's brewery.
136. Mr. Cornwell showed you it? Yes, Mr. Sam. Cornwell.
137. Chairman.] After the second refusal, did you take O'Maley up to Mr. Manning? Yes. On the day I had the plans with me Mr. Manning and myself were walking up towards the gate. A publican named Garland had recently come to Ryde, and Mr. Manning was telling me what a good trade he was doing. He said that he was spoiling the trade of Jordan, the other publican. At that moment Police-sergeant Banks came through the gate, and Manning said, "We have just been talking about Jordan's place." That was on the day he asked me to send O'Maley up. I said, "If I buy O'Maley's place, would I get a license," and he said, "No." After a time he asked, "What does O'Maley want for his place," and I said "About £2,000." He said, "Do you live near O'Maley?" I said, "Yes." He said, "When you see him send him up to me, as I know a man who would buy that property. If he does buy it you would have the first chance of getting a license for it, of course, on the same terms that anyone else would give."
138. Mr. Plumb.] That means, I suppose, that the house would have to be altered and put into a proper condition? Yes, I suppose so.

139. Mr. Kidd.] The expression "Same terms" did not mean that there was to be a consideration for getting the license;—you do not mean that Manning would get anything? No, not at all.
140. Chairman.] Did you bring O'Maley to see Mr Manning? Yes; I drove him up myself. O'Maley went inside, and I do not know what took place, excepting what he told me. Mr. T. Cunco.
14 May, 1890.
141. Was anything said that day about the letter Mr Manning gave you? Yes; when I was going away he said, "Don't forget to post that letter."
142. Did O'Maley hear him say that? No; this was on the first day when he asked me if I had the letter. When I was leaving he said, "Do not forget to post the letter."
143. Did you put in another application? I saw Mr. Manning again after that. I saw him on the Thursday. I drove O'Maley up on the Friday, and I saw Mr Manning again on the Monday.
144. What conversation did you have with him? I was speaking about licensing the "Fig-tree Inn" again, and he said, "No; the house will never be licensed whilst O'Maley or anyone belonging to him owns it." He said that if O'Maley built a house as big as a castle he would not be in favour of licensing it. That was the last day I saw him. Two or three days afterwards I put in another application upon small plans.
145. Whilst that application was in, was there a letter of complaint sent to the Minister? Yes.
146. And it was subsequent to this complaint being sent in by O'Maley that your application came on? Yes.
147. Did Mr. Manning take his seat on the Bench? Yes.
148. What was done? I do not think there was a Court on that day. Mr. Jeanneret was away.
149. The matter was adjourned? Yes.
150. It came on again afterwards—a fortnight or three weeks afterwards? Yes.
151. Who were on the Bench? I think Mr. Manning, Mr. Jeanneret, and Mr. D'Ardier.
152. Was the matter gone into then? I think it was.
153. The matter was then further adjourned upon some technical points? Yes.
154. Do you remember what it was—what Mr. Manning contended? Yes—that we had already been refused twice, and the matter could not be heard until after a certain lapse of time.
155. What decision was come to upon that point? They had to hear the case; they were wrong.
156. Then what was done in reference to Mr. Manning? I think he left his seat on that day.
157. Why? Well, there had been a complaint sent to the Minister of Justice, asking that he should not sit.
158. Did he say anything in regard to that matter? He did say something; but I could not state the exact words just now.
159. However, he did not sit? No.
160. And the matter was gone into? Yes.
161. The remaining two magistrates would be Mr. Jeanneret and Mr. D'Ardier? Yes.
162. The license was not granted on that day? No.
163. Was either of the magistrates in favour of granting it? Yes, strongly in favour.
164. Who? Mr. D'Ardier.
165. Do you know whether Mr. D'Ardier has sat on the Bench since with Mr. Manning and Mr. Jeanneret? No; I am nearly sure he has not.
166. Mr. Jeanneret was one of the magistrates who had before refused the license, in company with Mr. Manning? Yes.
167. Mr. Kidd.] Did Mr. D'Ardier express himself as being strongly in favour of granting the license from the Bench, or did he tell you that privately? He did not say it; but you could see he meant it.
168. He did not say anything of the sort from the Bench? No.
169. You have heard it second-hand some other way? No.
170. How did you come to know it? Well, that was my impression.
171. Chairman.] Did the magistrates go out to deliberate? No.
172. They sat on the Bench? Yes.
173. Where were you sitting during the time that they were deliberating? At the table in the front of the Bench.
174. What distance was there between you and the Bench? About 6 feet.
175. Did Mr. Jeanneret say that Mr. D'Ardier was in favour of granting the license? No.
176. Mr. Paul.] Did Mr. D'Ardier say so? No.
177. What was the decision? Mr. Jeanneret said, "One for and one against"; and the Chairman had the casting vote.
178. Mr. Kidd.] Who was the Chairman? Mr. Jeanneret. Mr. Manning was not on the Bench.
179. Chairman.] Did Mr. Jeanneret say, "I am opposed to granting the license; my colleague thinks otherwise"? Yes.
180. Did I then say, "Then your Worships will make no order"? Yes. Mr. Jeanneret's excuse was that the place was close to a church, and he had told me before that the church was going to be closed.
181. Did Mr. Jeanneret ever go down to look at these premises? He did.
182. In company with whom? He looked through them with me.
183. This house, you state, had been licensed for over ten years? Yes.
184. During the time this license was in operation, was a fresh license granted to a place near at hand by the Ryde Bench? Yes.
185. How far away? About 600 yards.
186. Was Mr. Manning on the Bench which granted that license? Yes.
187. How long have you lived in this district? Over twenty-seven years.
188. Has the district greatly increased in population and settlement during the last ten years? It has a good deal.
189. It is better now than it was when this license to O'Maley was granted? Yes.
190. What is O'Maley's house built of? Stone.
191. Substantial and well built? Yes; a well-built house, excepting the kitchen, which is weatherboard.
192. Is it situated on the straight road from Sydney to the North Shore? Yes.
193. Mr. Plumb.] Have you any arrangement with O'Maley in regard to this matter? No.
194. There is no collusion between you and O'Maley? No; I pay rent for the house I am living in.

- Mr. T. Cuneo. 195. Mr. Manning.] Is it a fact that you have been living in this house whilst you have been trying to get a license? Yes, I have.
- 14 May, 1890. 196. It is next door to O'Maley's? Yes; there is a fence between.
197. Mr. Kidd.] You said that one plan was to cost £1,800, and the amended plan was to cost from £500 to £600 less, or £1,100 or £1,200? Yes.
- 198-9. Then if you have already stated that the second plan was only to cost £700 it would not be correct. I notice that your previous evidence contains the following question by Mr. Plumb and your answer:—
You said that you would give Mr. M'Culloch or anybody else £200 who would get you a license? Not anybody else. I can tell why it would have paid us to give £200 to get a license. The first plan, if carried out, would cost £1,800, but the improvements according to the second plan would only have cost about £700, so that if we could have got a license on the smaller plan it would have paid us to give any solicitor £200.
- To-day you say the second plan would cost £500 to £600? The first plans were drawn by Mr. O'Neil, and he said the improvements would cost £1,800. The second plans I sketched out roughly, and I took them to Mr. Huntley, but he had not time to draw up any specifications. We thought these plans would cost from £500 to £600.
200. Chairman.] Before Mr. Manning gave you this note you had seen M'Culloch, and he told you it would cost you £2,000 to buy this property right out? Yes. When I went to Mr. Manning the second time I told him I could not find the money—it was too much.
201. Did he tell you, when he gave you this note, that you would have to pay £1,000 on trust to Mr. M'Culloch? No.
202. He did not tell you anything about the price at all? He just told me how Mrs. Bennett was situated, and that somebody had got the place for three months.
- 203-4. Mr. Paul.] Question 58 in your previous evidence is as follows:—
Did he make any remarks to the policeman in reference to the matter? No.
I understand you to say to-day that when the policeman came Mr. Manning told him you were just discussing Jordan's hotel? Yes; he said, "We are just speaking about these two hotels."
205. Chairman.] Again referring to this note—you knew then that £2,000 was the price of the land? Yes; I knew it before I got the note.
206. You had seen M'Culloch? Yes.
207. Did he tell you Mrs. Bennett would have any difficulty in conveying? He said there might be some difficulty. He said that she had not proved the will.
208. Was this the occasion upon which he said he would call a special meeting of the Licensing Bench? Yes; that was the time I got the note.
209. He told you she had not proved the will? Yes; he said she was a foolish woman.
210. Did he ask you to keep the matter quiet? No.
211. Mr. Kidd.] But you did keep it quiet by sticking to the letter? Yes.
212. Mr. Manning.] Is it not a fact that when you came back on the occasion upon which I gave you that note you stated you had seen Mr. M'Culloch about Bennett's land? Yes.
213. And that he had made some proposal to you which you could not carry out? Yes.
214. Did I not tell you that I could not understand what you were after at all, as it was impossible that Mrs. Bennett's corner could be licensed, as it had been already twice refused? No; it had not been twice refused.
215. Is it not a fact that Solomon was twice refused for Mrs. Bennett's corner; and is it not a fact that O'Maley's house has been twice refused, and Page's house, and Merry's house, and that this very corner, which you say I was so anxious to sell you, was actually shut out from the possibility of being licensed? Well, you never said anything about that to me.
216. But was it not twice refused? I would not swear to that.
217. Is it not a fact that Solomon, while he was a tenant of O'Maley, was twice refused for this very piece of land? No; I am quite certain he was not. It was refused once whilst he was a tenant, but I am sure he did not live there whilst there were two refusals, because the house was closed when the second refusal came on.
218. Was not Solomon refused a conditional license for this bit of land of Mrs. Bennett's on the 12th June? Yes; but I understand that it is not the whole piece of the property.
219. I am asking you whether Solomon was not refused a conditional license for this very piece of land of Mrs. Bennett's? I believe there was only part of it.
220. But was it Mrs. Bennett's corner? Yes.
221. That was on the 12th June? Yes.*
222. And on that same date was not Page refused? Yes.
223. And you were refused? Yes.
224. And had not Solomon been refused previous to that? I do not think so.
225. Do you know whether Solomon was refused twice for Mrs. Bennett's land? I could not say. I am sure he was not refused twice whilst he was living in O'Maley's.
226. Is it not a fact that Solomon was refused twice, the same as you and Page and Merry were refused? I have said before that I do not think so. I think he was only refused once.
227. You spoke about coming to ask me to give you a transfer and a renewal of Solomon's license? Yes.
228. How long before the expiration of that license;—it expired on the 30th June? There was a special meeting called on the 12th June. Before that I went up and saw you.
229. I am asking you if you did not apply to me for this transfer and renewal, and whether it was not just towards the end of Solomon's lease? Of course it would be during the month.
230. That was the month of June? Yes.
231. Was it a short time before the house was to be closed? Well, it would not be very long before.
232. What do you call very long—two or three weeks? More than that; inside of two months.
233. But you know that on the 12th June you submitted a plan yourself? Yes; it was before then that I saw you first.
234. Did you not come to me and say that O'Maley had at last come to some arrangement with the outgoing tenant, Solomon, and ask me whether the Bench would give me a transfer and a renewal? That was afterwards.

*NOTE (on revision) :—This is a mistake; it was not refused on the 12th June.

235. How long was that before the house was closed? About two weeks; but I saw you before that. Mr. T. Cuneo.
236. Were you not told that the Bench had refused a renewal, and that I had no power to comply with your wishes? No. 14 May, 1890.
237. Did I not say so? No; I am sure you did not.
238. Chairman.] Do I understand that Bennett's property was refused twice? I don't think it was.
239. Mr. Manning.] When you came to me a few days before the lease and license ran out, you asked me if I could transfer to you, and also give you a renewal;—what was my reply? You said, "No," and that the house would not have to be licensed again.
240. That this license had been refused at a quarterly meeting? Oh, no; I think Solomon's renewal had been refused.
241. That is the same thing. Solomon's renewal was refused at the quarterly meeting in April, was it not? Yes.
242. And towards the end of June you, having come to some terms with Solomon, came to me and asked me to grant you a transfer? Yes.
243. Did I not tell you then that it was perfectly impossible for me to do anything of the sort? No.
244. What did I say? You said, "The place will never be licensed again whilst O'Maley owns it." It was not the first time you said the same thing.
245. Did I not tell you that the renewal had been refused at the quarterly meeting, and that it was perfectly beyond the power of any magistrate to grant a renewal even if he wished to do so? No.
246. Do you not know, as a matter of fact, that it is so? I do not know. The granting of a conditional license is easy enough.
247. This is not a conditional license. You said just now you asked me for a transfer and renewal? The place was open before any improvements were made.
248. You said just now you asked me for the renewal and transfer, you having at the last moment come to terms with Solomon. Do you not know, as a matter of fact, that this renewal could only be granted at the quarterly meeting, and that it had been refused at the quarterly meeting? Yes, but there had been a special meeting. The license expired on the 30th June, and we could have got a new one.
249. You are not new to the public-house business? I was up to this time.
250. Is it not a fact that you were a barman in your father's hotel? No.
251. Then you have not served in it? I have; but my brother is the one who looked after it, and he is dead.
252. Were you never in the bar? I was very little in the bar.
253. When you got this note from me, did you not tell me that you had seen Mr. M'Culloch? Yes.
254. And that he had made some offer to you of the premises of Mrs. Bennett, and that you were unable to comply with it unless he gave you certain terms? No.
255. And did you not ask me to oblige you—as you did not know Mr. M'Culloch personally—by asking him if he would not do certain things for you, which I stated in the letter? No.
256. I want to know if you did not ask me, as a favour, to write that note for you to Mr. M'Culloch really to assist you in the matter? No, I did not. You first proposed the note to me.
257. How came you to get the note at all? You said, "If you will go to M'Culloch again I will give you a note. If you will come to terms I will call a special meeting next month and grant you the license."
258. Do you not know, as a matter of fact, that licenses cannot be granted at special meetings? I do not know.
259. You know that I have been a licensing magistrate for a great number of years? Yes.
260. Having been a licensing magistrate for a number of years, how do you suppose I could have said that I would call a special meeting? Well, there was a special meeting called.
261. To grant this license? Not this license. The first time that I, Solomon, and Page applied was at a special meeting on the 12th of June.
262. You say that I said I would call a special meeting to grant you a license? Yes; you said, "Leave that to me."
263. You say that after you came back to me I asked you what you had done with my letter? Yes; you said, "Where is the letter?"
264. Did you not tell me you had seen Mr. M'Culloch previously? The day you met me I told you I had seen Mr. M'Culloch.
265. You took the note and went away, and saw me again? Yes.
266. What occurred then? That was the day I came up with the plans, I think. I had a rough pencil sketch.
267. What happened? The first thing you said to me was, "Why don't you go to M'Culloch?" I replied that it was of no use, as I could not raise the money.
268. Did I not ask you if you had sent the letter to Mr. M'Culloch? No.
269. What did I say about the letter? You said, "Where is the letter?" and I said, "It is at home." You said, "Let me have it." The last thing you said was, "Don't forget to post that letter to me."
270. Did I not say it was usual when people had letters given to them—especially when they were given to oblige them—either to deliver them to the person they were directed to, or to return them to the person who gave them? No. You asked me to post the letter to you.
271. And you never did? No.
272. You have made a remark to the effect that I told you that if O'Maley's place was made as big as a castle you could not get a license? Yes.
273. Is it not a fact that I told you that the place having been twice refused it was perfectly impossible to grant you a license, no matter what you did to the place or how big you made it? No.
274. Is it not a fact that at one time you believed the house was shut out from a license because it had been refused twice? At one time I thought so.
275. That was your impression? You thought it was the third time; and I thought so too. You said, "One more refusal will put you out of Court for three years." That was as much as to say I could not apply for a fresh license.
276. Were you not under the impression at that time that two refusals shut a house up? No; I thought it was three refusals.

- Mr. T. Cunco. 277. Did I not tell you at the time that there was no possibility of any of these houses being licensed, even if the Bench were willing, because they had all been shut? No.
- 14 May, 1890. 278. Do you recollect the first time we had any conversation about Bennett—do you recollect me telling you that Bennett's property was in the same position as O'Maley's premises, which has been refused? No.
279. Will you swear it was never said? Yes, I will swear it.
280. When you came pestering me about this house, did I not ask you what on earth you had come about? No, you never did.
281. Did I not ask you why you came pestering me about the place, as it was quite impossible to license the premises? No, you never said that.
282. When you came to see me about the house, did I not, on each occasion, tell you that nothing could be done under any circumstances, as it was excluded by the Act? No; you told me O'Maley would never get a license until the time you proposed this person to buy the property, and that if he bought the property I should get a license.
283. That was quite recently you say—that was the last meeting of all? No; I saw you again after that.
284. Did I not on every occasion tell you it was quite impossible to license O'Maley's premises? No, you never did.
285. But you have stated in your evidence that I never would grant the license? Yes, but still it is not impossible for all that.
286. Did I not tell you O'Maley's place could never be licensed? You said it would never be licensed.
287. Did I never, on any occasion, give you any reasons for it? Yes, you did. You said that O'Maley, when he kept the premises himself, did not carry the place on properly, and that when he was taken to the Court at Parramatta it was through you that he had the chance of selling his license again, and that he did not seem to acknowledge the favour which you had done.
288. I do not quite understand you? What I understood was that you did O'Maley a favour in allowing him to sell his license, instead of having the house closed upon him five years ago.
289. That is a fact, is it not? Yes, it is a fact. The way in which I understood it was that he did not seem to acknowledge the favour.
290. That was the deduction you drew? That was what I thought.
291. You know, as a matter of fact, that I did save O'Maley's license for him? I do not know as a matter of fact, but from what you have told me. O'Maley said it was against the law for him to lose the license at all, because he was only fined once for allowing a man to be drunk on his premises. He had never been fined before, and the Act states you must be fined three times before you can lose your license.
292. You have stated that a remark was made to you about submitting another plan? Yes.
293. And that I showed you some plan of Solomon's? Yes.
294. Is it not a fact that the plan you saw on one occasion with the red line through it was a plan of Merry's for the opposite corner? I do not say there was a red line through it.
295. Is it not a fact that you saw a plan of Merry's in the Court? Yes.
296. And that had a red line through it? I would not swear it was red.
297. It had a line through it—is not that where you got the idea about the red line? No; I got that from you in your dining-room. I went in and you pulled the plans out and showed them to me, and said, "You want to have a large plan drawn to show the Bench," and that I should strike a line through and build a certain portion, and that the other portion could be built when required.
298. Did you not make a remark that the plans you originally exhibited were much too large, and did I not suggest to you that in any plans exhibited you should do the same as was done in Merry's case by showing the plans you proposed finally to carry out, and that a red line should be drawn showing how far you proposed to carry out the building at the present time? No. The only time you made reference to the big plan was when I came with the small ones, and I said, "They are quite sufficient for the present time; they show sixteen rooms."
299. You say Solomon's plans had no red line? I don't think so.
300. They were not very large plans? About fourteen rooms.
301. Then there would not be any possibility of a red line being drawn through plans of a small building like that? You were telling me to get a fresh plan drawn. You were telling me about the improvements which could be made on Solomon's plans, and that the stairs would be better in another place.
302. What is the width of the stairs in O'Maley's house which you are living in at the present time? There is one staircase, which is, I suppose, between 3 and 4 feet.
303. That is in the new building? Yes.
304. What is the width of the staircase in the original part? It is very narrow.
305. Is it 18 inches wide; can you come down them straight without going sideways? Yes. I have seen Solomon going up them, and he is a man of 16 stone.
306. Is that staircase 18 inches wide? I dare say it is.
307. And that is the sole means of access to the upper portion of the old premises? Yes; there are only two attics, and they have to come down.
308. Is it not a fact that that is the only means of access to that part of the building? Yes.
309. And the staircase goes from top to bottom without any break? They are straight stairs.
310. There is no landing on the top? The stairs are straight.
311. And that is the only means of access to that part of the house? That part of the house is never used at all.
312. But you count that part as rooms in the house? Hardly. They would not have been called rooms in the new plans. The house is up to the requirements of the Act without these rooms.
313. You have known O'Maley for many years? Yes.
314. Is he a sober man? I have never seen him anything else.
315. Have you never seen him drunk? No.
316. Have you not seen him drunk hundreds of times? No; I have not seen him drunk in my life.
317. Has he ever been in a private lunatic asylum? This is the first time I have ever heard of it.
318. You have never heard that he was other than a steady man? Of course you hear a lot of things.
319. Have you ever seen him the worse for liquor? I have never seen him drunk in my life, and I have known him a long time.

- Mr. S. Cornwell.
21 May, 1890
365. Whom did he say he had engaged? Slattery and Heydon, I believe.
366. Did you write to anybody on his behalf? No.
367. Did you tell him at any time to put in the application, that it would be alright, and that you had received a telegram? No.
368. And you again swear that you never received any such telegram? From Mr. Manning?
369. From anybody connected with the Licensing Bench, and in connection with this license? No.
370. From anyone at all? Not to my knowledge.
371. Did Cuneo speak to you twice in regard to this telegram? During the time the inquiry was proceeding?
372. Yes? No.
373. Has he at any time spoken to you twice about this telegram? No.
374. Only once? Only once.
375. Have you had any conversation with Mr. Manning? No; I do not know Mr. Manning.
376. Or anybody from Mr. Manning? No.
377. Has anyone besides Cuneo spoken to you about this telegram? No.
378. No one at all? No.
379. Which is the nearest telegraph office to where you live? I could not tell you.
380. Tell us the ones which are nearest? Waterloo, Redfern, and Surry Hills.
381. In what street is the one at Surry Hills? Crown-street.
382. And at Redfern? I do not know. The Crown-street office is the only one I am acquainted with.
383. What is your brother's name? John Cornwell.
384. Is there another brother in the firm? No.
385. Is there a brother at home? Yes.
386. Did you speak to him in reference to this telegram? No.
387. Have you the summons with you which has been served upon you? Yes.
388. Did you show it to your brother? Yes.
389. Had you any conversation with him in regard to the telegram mentioned in the summons? Yes.
390. Did your brother know anything about it? Nothing whatever.
391. Mr. Wall.] Were you, when this interview took place, on friendly terms with Cuneo? Yes.
392. Are you still on friendly terms with him? I only know him through his being a son of a person at Ryde, whom my brother knew personally.
393. Did he ask you civilly for the telegram? Yes.
394. Are you in the habit of turning your back upon people when they ask a civil question, and not giving an answer? No.
395. Why did you do it on this occasion? From what he told me about some letter with which I did not want to have anything to do.
396. From what he told you? Yes.
397. What did the letter refer to? I could not say distinctly. It was a letter from Mr. Manning to some one else which was intercepted or in his possession.
398. What was the question he put to you when he interviewed you in reference to the telegram? He spoke to me about the letter first.
399. But what did he say in reference to the telegram? I could not say the exact words.
400. You have a very bad memory, you are very clear as to turning your back upon him, and not replying? I could not say that I exactly turned my back upon him—I walked away.
401. Do you know anything at all about the interview which took place;—is your memory as defective upon every point as upon this? I know clearly what actually took place.
402. We want to know clearly what actually took place—what questions were put to you in reference to the telegram, and what your replies were (if any);—I ask you again, what was the conversation which took place between you when you were asked for the telegram? I could not tell you the exact words he used.
403. You may tell us the demand he made? He asked me if I had any telegrams or letters from Mr. Manning in my possession, and I believe I said no.
404. Did you receive any telegram in reference to this application? Not to my knowledge.
405. From no person whatever? From no person.
406. Did any member of your firm receive a telegram in reference to the granting of this license or application? Not that I know of.
407. You appeared to be in some doubt a little while ago when this question was put to you as to receiving a telegram from any person in reference to the application? Yes, because I have no knowledge of any.
408. Chairman.] When Cuneo called upon you on the second visit after this inquiry was ordered by the House, what did he say to you? I do not recollect him coming on a second visit.
409. Did he say he had come in reference to the telegram which you had received? No; I believe he asked me if I had any telegram or papers in my possession.
410. Mr. Wall.] You state in one part of your evidence that you did not reply, and that you turned round and walked away. In the latter part of your evidence you state that you said "No" when asked for the telegram—which is the correct statement? I could not swear exactly.
411. Then you are not certain as to whether you walked away or not? I know I went away abruptly.
412. You do not know whether you gave an answer or not. It is as well that we should know which part of your evidence we should rely on; I would like to know which of your statements we should take as correct? Both. I said "No," and walked away.
413. But you have stated that you made no reply whatever? Well, I would not be certain.
414. I should recommend you to correct your evidence. We want a clear statement in regard to the case, and what you have said is certainly very conflicting. In one instance you said you walked away without giving a reply, and in the other instance you say you replied "No," and then walked away. If your memory will not serve you in the matter it will be better for you to say so? [No answer.]
415. Was the first visit of Cuneo in reference to the proposed license made by appointment? No; O'Maley brought him. O'Maley did not think he could get a license himself for the house and he recommended Cuneo, and agreed with Cuneo to give me, I believe, £1,000 for a fresh lease, and he came to us to get a portion of the money advanced.

Mr.
S. Cornwell.
21 May, 1890.

416. On that occasion, did Cunco, after some conversation, tell you that his application was already in, so that it was all right. Do you remember advising him to put his application in? Yes.
417. And did he tell you it was already in, and that it was all right? Something to that effect.
418. How many visits has Cunco paid to you on this subject—two or three? I could not say exactly; it is more than two.
419. There was a third visit? There may have been a third visit.
420. Chairman.] You have already stated that there was only one visit? There was only one visit after the inquiry was instituted.
421. Mr. Paul.] In answer to the Chairman you have stated positively that you did not receive a telegram from Mr. Manning? Yes.
422. And then you are asked “did you receive one from anyone,” and you hesitated and said, “I could not say.” Does not that mean you did not receive one, or could not say that you received one? I have no recollection of one.
423. Mr. Kidd.] Did you tell O’Maley that you got a telegram from anybody? No, not to my knowledge; I do not recollect.
424. Did it not strike you as very strange for Cunco to come and inquire about a telegram which you had never received? Yes, very strange.
425. If you deemed the application such a strange one, why did you not tell the man you had not received a telegram? I believe I did tell him I had not received one.
426. Would it not strike you that Mr. Cunco must have obtained information from somebody that you had received a telegram. Supposing I came to you and inquired about a matter of which you were totally ignorant, would you not say, “It is impossible; you must be dreaming,” or something of that kind. You see that Mr. Cunco comes here and states that he saw a telegram, and that you stated you had received it? [No answer.]
427. Mr. Paul.] Did you tell Cunco that you would not give him the telegram, but would bring it to the Committee if required?—
428. Mr. Kidd.] You cannot account for not replying to him—you have no recollection? No; he made some remark to the effect that if it were not produced he could get a copy.
429. That would be an admission so far, on your part, that you had really got a telegram from somebody. Supposing anyone else charged you with having received a telegram, and stated that if you did not produce it he would get a copy, would it not induce you to say something in denial or as to the truth of the statement he was then making? Yes, it would.
430. Mr. Paul.] Was O’Maley in company with Cunco upon either of the visits? I believe O’Maley was with Cunco when he saw me in reference to the telegram, but he was not absolutely present, but on the premises.
431. Was O’Maley with him on a previous visit when you recommended him to put in his application? I could not say for certain.
432. Chairman.] Did not you say that O’Maley introduced him to you? O’Maley brought him before that.
433. Mr. Paul.] To where? To the brewery, before putting his application in.
434. So that you have now fixed at least three visits of Cunco’s? I could not say exactly how many visits there were. There must have been three at least.
435. Do you remember on the occasion of the second visit whether O’Maley was present or not? I could not say for certain.
436. Chairman.] You say O’Maley had brought Cunco to see whether you would advance the money;—were they to call again for an answer? I believe so.
437. In the meantime, of whom did you make inquiry? I saw my brother about it. I wanted to know if he knew Cunco, and whether he was willing to make the necessary advances.
438. Did you send anybody to see the premises? No.
439. Have you an agent at Ryde or Hunter’s Hill? No.
440. Who attends to your business up that way? We have no business up that way—at least we had not at that time.
441. You still swear that you did not receive from anybody a telegram in connection with this application of Cunco’s? To the best of my belief I did not.
442. Cunco told you that he was to give O’Maley £1,000 for the lease? I believe that was the amount.
443. So that you had some thought as to the conditions under which Cunco was getting the lease? Yes.
444. Was your brother present? No; not that I know of. I do not think he was on that occasion.
445. If Cunco has sworn that you showed him a telegram in connection with this application for the license, are you prepared to deny the correctness of the statement? I have no recollection of showing him any telegram; I may have had some telegram in my hand in connection with the business.
446. Do you remember having a telegram in your hand at any time when you were speaking to Cunco? No; but I might have had one.
447. Mr. Wall.] You say Cunco visited you on three occasions;—on how many occasions during the three did he refer to this telegram? Only once.
448. Was that on the last occasion? Yes, on the last occasion.
449. Mr. Manning.] Have you ever seen me before to-day? Not to my knowledge.
450. Not to know me? No.
451. Have you ever had any communication of any sort whatever from me in your lifetime? No.
452. Therefore you never could have received a telegram from me? No.
453. Did you ever receive any telegram in which my name appeared—I do not mean as a signature, but in which it appeared at all? No.
454. If Mr. Cunco states that you showed him a telegram from me, is that true or not? It cannot be true.
- 454½. It is not true? No.
455. If he says you showed him a telegram upon which my name appeared, is that true? He must have made a mistake.
456. If he says you told him you had received a telegram from me, is that true? It must be a mistake, for I never received one.
457. It is impossible, for you never received one? Yes.
458. Did you show him any telegram, and say, “Here you are; are you satisfied now?” Not to my knowledge.

- Mr. S. Cornwell.
21 May, 1890.
459. Did you show him any telegram and say, "Here you are; are you satisfied now?" I never showed him such a telegram.
460. You are Mr. Samuel Cornwell—are you not? Yes.
461. Cuneo says he went to you on the occasion of the last visit for a telegram. Did you reply, "No, I cannot give it to you; it was sent to me in confidence"? No.
462. Then that is not true? It is not true.
463. And did you tell him then that it came from me? No.
464. If he has stated that on two occasions he told you that he had received a telegram from me that also is untrue? It is a mistake.
465. When he came to you on the first occasion, did he say anything as to why he wanted help from you? I do not recollect him saying why he wanted help. I understood him that he had not got the whole of the money to purchase.
466. I am speaking in reference to O'Maley's premises. Did O'Maley say anything to you about wanting money to repair the building, or to make alterations? To make such alterations which would bring it up to the details of some plan which he had.
467. Did he say anything on either occasion about me being the objectionable magistrate, or anything of that kind? He seemed to think he was not being properly treated in regard to the hotel, and your name came into the matter in that way.
468. Did he make use of any threats against me? I do not know that he used any threats. He seemed to consider that you had treated him harshly in the matter.
469. Mr. Kidd.] Was that O'Maley? Yes.
470. Mr. Manning.] What were Cuneo's remarks? I do not recollect Cuneo making any remark about it. He only mentioned your name in connection with the matter.
471. I ask you again did you or your firm at any time receive a verbal or written communication at any time from me? No.
472. Or in my name? No.
473. Chairman.] Why do you swear your firm never received any such communication? I open all letters addressed to the firm.
474. Including telegrams? Yes.
475. And they are never opened by anybody but you? Well, they may be opened by my directions when I am away, but still I see them when I come back. They are put before me. My brother is never there to open letters.
476. Mr. Manning.] You swear positively you never showed anybody a telegram received from me, and that you never stated you received a telegram from me? Yes.
477. Mr. Kidd.] About what month did this interview between yourself, O'Maley, and Cuneo take place? I think it would be the early part of June.
478. Some time in June? Yes.
479. Mr. Plumb.] As a matter of fact, then, you never showed or told Cuneo that you had a telegram from Mr. Manning stating that the license would be all right? No.
480. Mr. Manning.] When these people applied to you for assistance, did you make any inquiry about them before you thought of lending the money? We asked Cuneo as to whether the police had any objection to him.
481. Did you make any inquiries outside? The only thing we can do is to find out if the police have no objection, and then, of course, we have no objection.
482. Are you in the habit of advancing money to anybody who applies to you so long as the police are not against him? Yes, so long as the police have no objection, and their general character is good.
483. Did you make any inquiries upon that point? Well, we have no means of inquiring. The only thing my brother took into consideration was the fact that he had a slight knowledge of him when he was serving his father, but personally I never knew anything at all about Cuneo.
484. Did you know anything about O'Maley? We know from what he told us some time ago that he blamed Mr. Manning for compelling him, as it were—I cannot recollect the exact words he used—to sell out; and that seemed to be still in his mind. It seems that he was fined for having, as he told us, a drunken man on his licensed premises. The man was fined first, and he was fined afterwards, and he said the police had an objection to him holding a license, and he was obliged to transfer the license to save the house from being shut up.
485. Mr. Plumb.] O'Maley did not stand well with the police then? We only know what he told us; we did not know the real facts of the case. He also said that recently his house had been condemned for some leaky roof.

Patrick O'Maley called in, sworn, and examined:—

- Mr. P. O'Maley.
21 May, 1890.
486. Chairman.] Where do you reside? At Hunter's Hill.
487. How long have you been residing there? I first went there in 1860, but I have been away for fourteen years since that time.
488. When did you first apply for a license for the "Fig-tree Inn"? In May, 1879.
489. Was it granted? Yes.
490. How long did you hold that license? For five years and a month or two.
491. What became of the license then? It was transferred to another man.
492. Do you remember his name? Charles Braddick.
493. How did that transfer come about? I was summoned for allowing a man to be drunk on my licensed premises, and I was fined a certain amount. That was in the month of June.
494. How much were you fined? £3 odd. I do not know exactly how much.
495. Had you ever been fined before that? Never.
496. Nor charged with any offence under the Licensing Act? Never.
497. What was your next proceeding in regard to your license after you were fined for allowing a drunken man to remain on the premises? In that same month the license had to be renewed at Parramatta. At that time I was a juror at Darlinghurst, and when the application for the renewal came on I sent my wife to the Court. She met the police-sergeant on the steamer, and he said to her, "You have no occasion to go up to-day, because there are no complaints against you." She replied, "My husband has sent me up for a certificate, so that we can get on with our business." I am told that when the policeman went into court he lodged a complaint against me as being an habitual drunkard.

498-9. Had you ever been fined for drunkenness? Never.

500. Can you tell us who were on the Bench on that occasion? Mr. John Manning and another magistrate—Mr. Byrnes, I think.

501. What was the result of the constable's objection? They postponed the application, I think, for a week or two until I could appear, and then the result was that I got leave to sell out.

502. They made that a condition of granting you a renewal? Yes; they gave me so many days to get another man to take the house.

503. The house was then held by tenants, and it came into the hands of a man named Solomon? Yes.

504. When would Solomon's lease terminate? On the 30th June, 1889.

505. Did Solomon make application for a renewal of that license? He did.

506. On the 30th June the license would expire? Yes. The lease and the license expired on the same day.

507. Before the expiry of the lease, had Solomon made proposals to you for its renewal? Yes.

508. How long had Solomon been in the house? Sixteen and a half months.

509. And he made application to you for a renewal of the lease? Yes.

510. Did he say for how long? He said for five years.

511. At the same rental? Yes.

512. He did not ask for a decreased rental? No.

513. Had he been doing well in the house? Very well indeed. If he had not he would not have asked for a new lease.

514. So that the house was wanted in the public interests? Yes.

515. It was well patronised by the public? Very well indeed. It is in the best position in the whole of the district.

516. Mr. Kidd.] Patronised for what? For accommodation.

517. Did many people put up there? Yes. It was at the corner of the main road from Sydney. You cannot go to the North Shore or North Willoughby without passing it.

518. Did many people lodge there? Occasionally.

519. How often? I could not say that.

520. Chairman.] You were not living in the hotel after you let it? Not for the last five years.

521. Mr. Kidd.] It was a handy place for refreshment for people passing? It was.

522. And that was the principal business, I suppose? That was part of it, I dare say.

523. Chairman.] Since your license was granted another has been granted to a place near at hand? Yes.

524. Who was that granted for? To a man named Nuttman.

525. For what place? The "Gladstone Hotel."

526. Is that a large hotel? Yes; it is eighteen rooms.

527. Did you hear the landlord say, on oath, in the Ryde Court that it was nearly always full? Yes; I heard him say that one time, but I heard him say differently another time.

528. You say that Solomon applied to you for a renewal of the lease? Yes.

529. Did you come to any arrangement with him? No.

530. Whom did you come to an arrangement with? Cuneo.

531. What was Cuneo to give you for the lease? £1,050 for a seven and a half years' lease, and £4 a week rent, and he was to keep the place in order.

532. Did you ever have any talk with Solomon with regard to the renewal of the license? No; I do not think so.

533. Was anything said about improvements wanted for the place? Solomon was only there for three or four months in the previous year, when he applied for a renewal of his license, and there was some objection, because of the leakage in the roof. Solomon got so many days to make the repairs, and he came to me to do it. There was a small staircase in the house, and it has been there since the day it was first licensed. Solomon came to me and said, "I have so many days to put the roof in order; will you do it?" I said I would, and I went and obtained men and put them on the work next day.

534. When the time for the next renewal was approaching, did you see Solomon in regard to the carrying out of certain repairs to the house? Yes.

535. What occurred then? I went to Solomon and asked him if he were willing to allow me to make some alterations and additions to the place. He said he had an objection, and that he would not allow me to shingle the roof or do anything to the place without coming to his terms. I asked him what were his terms, and he said, "I will give you £200 on a five years' lease if you like; or you give the money I paid on going into the house, and I will give up the place to you." I said, "I cannot take your £200, for I can get a lot more for it." "Well," he said, "I will keep on until my lease expires, and I will shut your house." He said, "Your place will never be open again as long as Mr. Manning has a seat on the Bench." I said, "How do you know that?" and he replied, "I know it," but he did not tell me how he knew it.

536. Did he say he had seen Mr. Manning at all? No; but that is what he told me. After the house was shut up I was speaking along with Cuneo to Solomon. Solomon said, "O'Maley, you must not blame me for your license running out. If I had allowed you to do anything to your place Mr. Manning would have cancelled my license." I replied, "That is pretty hard, Solomon; you never told me that before."

537. Mr. Kidd.] That was in the month of June, just before he was leaving? No. It was after the house was shut.

538. Was it in June that Mr. Manning held out that threat? That was some time before the license expired. I could not tell you in what month.

539. In making that statement to you he knew at the time that you would not agree to any compromise with him, or rather that you were not likely to agree? Yes.

540. Chairman.] How much of his lease and license was there to run when the Court for the renewal was held;—do you remember when the renewal Court was held? I think it must have been in June.

541. Was it not in April? Very likely. I am not sure.

542. The Court was held in April? I cannot say that it was held in April. April would be the quarterly licensing month, and in this instance the applications would be for renewals and transfers.

543. You are aware that Cuneo made application for a conditional license? Yes.

Mr.
P. O'Maley.
21 May, 1890.

- Mr. P. O'Maley. 544. What sized house did the plans show? About twenty-six rooms.
545. Is the house as it stands now substantial and well built? Yes; it is stone-built. When it was first licensed, after the new Act of 1882, I put on an addition which cost me over £500.
- 21 May, 1890. 546. Whilst you were holding the license the Bench thought there was room for another house, and granted another license? They granted the "Gladstone" license.
547. Do you remember whether Mr. Manning sat on the Bench which granted that license? Yes.
548. What was done in connection with the renewal of the license for the "Fig-tree"? It was refused.
549. Upon what grounds? They had some sort of charge that there was a leakage in the roof. There was the same complaint when I put the roof in order the year before, and they never withdrew the complaint, but left it as it stood.
550. Was Mr. Manning on the Bench when the license was refused? Yes.
551. And who else? Mr. Jeanneret, I think.
552. You subsequently put in an application yourself? Yes.
553. Who sat on the Bench then? Mr. Manning and Mr. Jeanneret.
554. They refused your application? Yes.
555. Upon what grounds? Firstly, that the reasonable requirements of the district did not justify it; secondly, that it was close to a place of public worship; and thirdly, that I was a person not fit to hold a publican's license. That was the sergeant's report.
556. Was the place of worship in existence when your house was licensed over ten years ago? Yes; it has been there for twenty-eight years.
557. And I believe it was there when you got your license? Yes.
558. What convictions and charges did they allege against you on the ground that you were not a fit person to hold a license? I was never summoned to a Court in my life except for allowing a man to be drunk on my licensed premises.
559. Mr. D'Ardier did not sit on the Bench with Mr. Manning and Mr. Jeanneret? Not the last time.
560. Do you know whether he has sat on the Bench at all since Mr. D'Ardier and Mr. Jeanneret sat together, and Mr. Jeanneret refused Cuneo's application? Mr. D'Ardier and Mr. Jeanneret sat together on one occasion, when Mr. Jeanneret did all he could to get Mr. D'Ardier to go with him in refusing the application.
561. But can you say whether Mr. D'Ardier has sat on the Bench since? I am not quite sure, but I don't think he has.
562. You say that Mr. Jeanneret tried to get Mr. D'Ardier to go with him? Yes.
563. That was the time when Cuneo's application was refused? Yes.
564. Have you seen Mr. Manning to speak to since your house has been shut up? Yes.
565. How did you come to see him? He sent for me.
566. Who told you he wanted you? Cuneo told me he wanted to see me.
567. Did you go? Yes; Cuneo drove me as far as the gate, and I saw Mr. Manning in the yard.
568. Did you go in, or did he come out to you? I went within the gate. The first words he said were, "Cuneo was here yesterday." I said, "Yes; he told me you wanted to see me." He said, "Yes, I want to see you—will you sell that property of yours: how much land is there to it?" I told him.
569. Did he wait for an answer when he asked you if you would sell the property, or did he immediately say, "How much land is there to it?" As soon as he asked me to sell the place I said, "No; I do not intend to sell it"; and he then said, "How much land is there to it; and in case you would sell it, what would you want for it?"
570. Did you make a reply? Yes; I said I was offered £4,000 for it, and he said, "You ought to jump at the half of it." He said, "I know the reason why you did not take that amount;" and I said, "What is the reason?" He said, "Because you do not want to rob people." I said, "I never robbed a man in my life." "Well," he said, "If you will sell it I know a person who will buy it." He also said, "We can get two or three other corners which will do as well." I asked, "Where are they?" and he said, "Why, there is Derham's corner, for instance," and I replied, "It is not for sale." He said, "That is all you know about it." I said, "Very well; I won't sell mine." "Very well," he said, "if you do not sell it, as long as you own it, or anyone belonging to you, it will never be licensed while I have a seat on the Bench, so you can make up your mind. I will give you forty-eight hours to consider."
571. Was Cuneo's name mentioned at all? He said, "Cuneo was here yesterday"; that is all.
572. Mr. Kidd.] Did the police report against the house when the renewal was sought for by Solomons? I have had no notice of any reports.
573. You are not aware that the police reported against the house? No.
574. Did the police report against you as being an improper person to hold a license when you made application for a conditional license? No.
575. Did they lodge any objections in the Court? They never gave me notice of what they did in the Court. They gave me notice to the effect that the reasonable requirements of the district did not justify the license, that the house was close to a place of public worship, and that I was not a fit person to hold a license. That was after I put in my applications for a conditional license.
576. Mr. Wall.] How long have you been a holder of a license? Five years.
577. Have you ever held a license anywhere else? Never.
578. Did you erect those premises? I did.
579. How many hotels were there in the vicinity when you erected it? Only the "Garibaldi" at that time; it was half a mile away.
580. Has the population increased since then? Terribly. It has increased one and a half times as much as it used to be. A great many buildings have been put up, and a great many alterations made.
581. Has the hotel accommodation increased with the population? Yes; two hotels have been built,—one of them about 2 miles away from me.
582. How long is it since those hotels were licensed? I think the "Gladstone" has been licensed for four years.
583. How long is it since the other hotel was licensed? I could not tell you, but it was about the same time, I think.
584. How long is it since your house was licensed? It was first licensed in May, 1879.
585. And it is four years since the other houses were licensed? It may be more, but I am not certain.

586. Has the population increased during the last four years? Not a great deal, I should think.
587. Mr. Kidd.] No new licenses have been granted since the refusal of yours? No.
588. Chairman.] You have never let a meeting of the Bench go by without having an application in? No.
589. Mr. Plumb.] You have put in an application at every licensing meeting since the license was refused twelve months ago? I do not know about every meeting.
590. Chairman.] But an application has been put in on behalf of your house? Yes, by Cuneo or somebody.
591. Mr. Wall.] Is this house, for which a license has been refused, an inferior or a superior house to those which have been licensed;—is the accommodation better or worse? I do not think the accommodation is so good as the house which was licensed since the refusal.
592. You think that the accommodation is better in the other house than in the new? Yes; I only speak what is true.
593. Is the accommodation in the two houses which are now licensed better than the accommodation in yours? I believe that both houses are larger than mine. In the Court, however, I showed plans of additions to my place which would make it larger than the others.
594. And you asked for a license in accordance with the plans produced? Yes.
595. Mr. Manning.] Were not the magistrates who sat upon your case at Parramatta, Mr. Byrnes (the Chairman), Mr. Stewart, and myself;—was there not a full Bench? I could not say. I recollect Mr. Byrnes and yourself.
596. You do not know whether Mr. Stewart was there? I do not know.
597. You were reported against by them as being of drunken habits, were you not? Yes.
598. Whom by? Sergeant Beatty.
599. That is the man that was shot the other day at Parramatta? That is the man whom you reported as an habitual drunkard.
600. I never did anything of the sort? You did; it was tried in the Court at Ryde.
601. He was Licensing Inspector in the Ryde District at the time? Yes.
602. And the Bench gave you two or three weeks to transfer your license to some one else? Yes.
603. And that was in consequence of this inspector reporting that you were of drunken habits? Yes.
604. How came you to say just now that it was because you had been fined through some drunken men being on your premises? I said I was summoned to the Ryde Court, and was fined a certain amount for allowing a man to be drunk on the premises. In the same month I had to make application at Parramatta for a renewal of the license, and Sergeant Beatty told my wife on the steamer that there were no complaints against me.
605. Was the reason of your license being taken from you at Parramatta because you had been fined for having drunken men on your premises? I could not say that it was. Sergeant Beatty once said to me, "Never blame me for taking your license away, for I had to do it; I was compelled to report you by Mr. Manning." Beatty is dead now.
606. Were you not frequently cautioned, and Solomon also, about putting your premises at Hunter's Hill in proper order? No; I never got notice at all.
607. You never got notice at any time from any policeman or official to put your premises in proper order at Hunter's Hill? No; Solomon told me you objected to a narrow staircase in the place, and that he was to see that that was altered before he again applied for a renewal to you. I wanted to make the alterations and additions, and Solomon refused to allow me. Solomon afterwards distinctly told me that if he had allowed me to make these alterations you had threatened to cancel the license.
608. Did Sergeant Dove, the inspector of the district, ever call upon you to put your house in proper order, and caution you that if you did not do so what would be the result? Could I do it when the tenant would not allow me?
609. Did Dove ever call upon you to put your house in proper order? No, he did not.
610. Did Sergeant Dove and Constable Harper at any time call upon you at Hunter's Hill in reference to your house? No.
611. Were you ever spoken to in open Court at Ryde, from the Bench, about putting your premises in order? No; but I asked the Bench if they would allow me to make these alterations, and I got no reply from them.
612. Chairman.] When was this? On the different occasions when we produced the plans.
613. Mr. Wall.] Do you know whether the police at any time directed Solomon's attention to the house, in consequence of its being in a bad state of repair? I was not aware of it.
614. Mr. Manning.] Do you know Mr. Pope, the Clerk of Petty Sessions at Ryde? Yes.
615. Did you ever have any conversation with him about the disputes between you and Solomon? No.
616. Did Mr. Pope ever caution you that your and Solomon's quarrelling in the way you were doing would probably result in the loss of the license? No.
617. Did you ever have any conversation with Pope upon that subject? I could not tell you; I cannot remember.
618. You say you never spoke to him, and that he never gave you any advice? I could not say whether I ever spoke to him.
619. But you say he never cautioned you as to what the result would be if you went on in the way you were going? I do not understand what you mean by saying the way in which I was going.
620. You say Pope never spoke to you? I do not say Pope never spoke to me.
621. Upon that subject? The only difference between Solomon and myself was because I would not give him a new lease.
622. Did Mr. Pope ever caution you as to what would be the result if you did not carry out certain repairs? No, he did not; and I did not consider it was any of his business. He told me if I did not give Solomon a new lease he was afraid my house would be shut.
623. After the house was closed, did you not say to Pope, "I see you were right after all in the advice you gave me"? I did not.
624. Chairman.] Do you know Cornwell, the brewer? Yes.
625. Did you ever go to their place with Cuneo? Yes, at different times.
626. How often? Five or six times, I daresay.
627. Do you know Mr. Samuel Cornwell? Yes.
628. Have you seen him outside to-day? Yes. I know him well, and he knows me.

Mr.
P. O'Maley.
21 May, 1890.

- Mr. P. O'Maley.
21 May, 1890.
629. Did you introduce Cuneo to him? I did.
630. Was that before an application had been made by Cuneo for the license? I think it was about that time.
631. Did you hear any conversation between Cornwell and Cuneo in regard to this license? Many a time. Mr. John Cornwell told me I could not get a better man than Cuneo to take the house.
632. Did you ever see Mr. Samuel Cornwell when he read or handed a telegram to Cuneo? Yes; we were together at the time.
633. Do you remember what that telegram was about? As far as I can remember it was, "Tell Cuneo to put in his application, all right."
634. After Parliament had ordered this inquiry, did you go down in company with Cuneo to Cornwell's? Yes.
635. Whom did you see? Sam. Cornwell.
636. What conversation took place? I cannot exactly remember, but Cuneo asked him for the telegram.
637. What did Cornwell say? He said, "No; I would not divulge anything which has been sent privately to me. I would not be mixed up in a dirty affair for what the brewery is worth."
638. That was the second time reference was made to the telegram in your presence? Yes.
639. Did you see the telegram? I saw it in Cornwell's hands.
640. You did not read it yourself? No.
641. And you cannot say who signed it? No.
642. Mr. Wall.] You are sure you were present at the conversation? Yes.
643. Chairman.] When Cuneo mentioned the telegram, did Cornwell turn on his heel and walk away without speaking? No. He said, "You will find things will be all right."
644. On the second occasion, when Cuneo said he wanted the telegram for the purposes of the Committee, did Cornwell turn on his heel and walk away? No. Cornwell was very friendly with him.
645. Mr. Paul.] Did he say whom the telegram was from? Yes. He said, "I have received a telegram from Manning this morning, stating, 'Tell Cuneo to put in his application—it is all right.'"
646. Mr. Kidd.] That was after Cuneo had put in his conditional application? Yes.
647. When you went down, did you introduce Cuneo to Mr. Samuel Cornwell? I am not sure I introduced him to him or his brother John Cornwell.
648. Are you certain you were in Cornwell's office with Samuel Cornwell when Cuneo was present? Yes; we were together—not in the office, but upstairs in the building. I was there.
649. And if he says you were not there he must have made a mistake? Yes, for I was there.
650. Was this shortly after he had put in the application for a conditional license? Yes.
651. Some months afterwards you went back again for the purpose of having the telegram given up? Yes, and he would not do it.
652. Mr. Wall.] Were you present at all the conversations which took place? Yes, both times.
653. If Mr. Cornwell states that when he was asked to give up the telegram he turned on his heel and walked away, is he making a correct statement? No; he said, "I would not do the like of that, because it was sent to me privately, and I would not be mixed up in this dirty affair for what the brewery is worth."
654. Mr. Manning.] Did you see my name upon the telegram? No; I did not read it.
655. What you say is that Mr. Cornwell read the telegram, and told you it came from me? Yes.
656. You are quite sure? Yes. He said, "I have received a telegram this morning from Mr. Manning."
657. You swear he said that? I do.
658. Mr. Paul.] Did he do anything with the telegram when reading it—did he hand it to any one? No; I do not think so.
659. Mr. Manning.] Did Cuneo have the telegram in his hand? I could not tell you that. Cornwell held it out so that Cuneo could read it. I do not think Cuneo had it in his hand, but I would not like to swear that he did or that he did not.
660. Mr. Kidd.] When Solomon first rented the hotel from you he did not give you any of the money which was to be the consideration for the purchase of the license? No.
661. What rent was he paying you then for it? £4 a week.
662. You did not intend to increase the rent? No.
663. What were you going to charge him the £1,050 for? It was Cuneo who agreed to give me that amount.
664. Chairman.] Why was Cuneo to give you this amount? For a lease of seven and a half years.
665. Mr. Kidd.] And you were to get £4 a week rent besides? Yes.
666. Chairman.] Were you to do anything to the house? I was to make some additions to it.
667. Mr. Manning.] I understand that you gathered from this telegram which Cornwell read to you, and which you state he said came from me, that I was going to assist you in getting a license for the "Fig-tree Inn"? That you were going to assist Cuneo.
668. How do you reconcile that idea with the statement that I am the person who has been opposing the license all through? I say you are opposing me all the time. If you ask my honest opinion, I think you are trying to shut the lot of them up, and that you are humbugging us.
669. Your idea then was that you were going to be humbugged in the same way? Exactly.
670. Mr. Kidd.] Did you believe when you saw the telegram that you were going to be humbugged? No; I thought he had changed his mind.
671. Mr. Manning.] Then you thought I was going to assist you to get the license? We could not think anything else. We thought that you had changed your mind.
672. How do you reconcile that idea with the fact that you had all along fancied I had been opposing you in some mysterious way or other? Well, there was good proof of it.
673. I ask you how you reconcile the two matters? People have been telling me that you would never grant the license.
674. Mr. Kidd.] Do you not think that Solomon would humbug you too, seeing that you were humbugging him, and were not going to give him the renewal of the lease? I was not going to humbug Solomon. He did not go in with the expectation of getting a renewal of the lease from me. He asked me what I wanted for the lease, and I said, "About £1,000," and he replied that it was a power of money, but he would take Mrs. Vaters' lease over.
675. What is the value of the house now? I daresay it has cost me about £1,600 to build it.

676. What is the ground worth? It ought to be worth £12 a foot. Ground which is not so well situated is sold at £9 and £9 10s. a foot.
677. Mr. Manning.] How many times did Solomon apply for a conditional license for Mrs. Bennett's corner? Once, and once for the corner just opposite Mrs. Bennett's.
678. You know Solomon was refused twice? Yes.
679. Do you know who were the magistrates on the Bench at the time? No; but I know you were there.
680. Do you recollect Mr. Rodd and myself? Mr. Rodd was there; Mr. Jeanneret was in England at the time.
681. Do you not know that Solomon applied subsequently in connection with the same land? The first time he applied was for the corner where the carpenters are, and he was refused; and the next time he applied for Mrs. Bennett's corner.
682. Will you swear he ever applied for any land at Hunter's Hill except Mrs. Bennett's? I will swear he did.
683. What was the land he applied for? The two corners—one opposite the other.
684. You swear that he never applied twice for Bennett's land? I cannot swear that, but he did once, and Davies applied once for it.
685. Since this Committee sat before—since last month, in fact—you applied for a license in your own name for your own house? Yes.
686. Who was your solicitor? Mr. Crick.
687. In connection with the previous applications, who appeared as solicitor for Cuneo? I believe Mr. Crick appeared on behalf of somebody else.
688. Who appeared for Cuneo on the last occasion? I could not say.
689. Has Mr. Crick appeared more than once? Yes.
690. How many times? I could not tell you.
691. When he appeared for you the other day, did you pay him? I paid his clerk.
692. Did you pay Mr. Crick when he was appearing for Cuneo? I did not.
693. When Williamson appeared for Cuneo, who paid him? I did not.
694. When Mr. Roberts appeared for Cuneo, who paid him? I did.

Mr.
P. O'Maley.
21 May, 1890.

Mr. Samuel Cornwell recalled and further examined:—

695. Mr. Plumb.] Were Mr. O'Maley and Mr. Cuneo together on a certain occasion when they asked you to give them a telegram which had been sent from Mr. Manning? As far as I recollect, Mr. Cuneo saw me personally, and Mr. O'Maley was out at the gate.
696. Was he not in the same room with you? I do not think so. When Cuneo spoke to me at the door of the office O'Maley was standing at the gate or behind the gate. I did not see him at the time.
697. Did you tell him on that occasion that the telegram referred to was a private communication, and that you would not show it on any account, and that you would not be mixed up with a dirty transaction like the refusal of his license? No; I did not. I said I did not wish to be mixed up in the opening of the letter.
698. Chairman.] How could you possibly be mixed up in the opening of the letter when Cuneo opened it? Well, Cuneo wanted me to assist in having an inquiry made. He wanted to know if I had any information which would go against Mr. Manning.
699. Are copies of telegrams usually kept in the office? They are usually piled away with letters.
700. I want you, if you can, to fix the month upon which you first saw Cuneo and O'Maley? I could not tell you.
701. Can you tell us within a month or two? It was sometime prior to June of last year.
702. Was your brother ever a traveller for Mr. Tooth? Yes.
703. That being so he would be pretty well acquainted with the innkeepers of Sydney, suburbs, and district? Yes.
704. And would have known Cuneo pretty well? I do not know whether he would know Cuneo, but he knew his father.
705. You said that O'Maley introduced Cuneo to you? Yes; he brought him to the brewery about the purchasing of the hotel.
706. You say that on the occasion they came about the telegram O'Maley stood behind the gate, and you did not see him? Cuneo told me O'Maley was there; but he was not with Cuneo when Cuneo spoke to me.
707. Did Cuneo ever see you without O'Maley;—were they not always together? Not always.
708. How often did Cuneo see you when O'Maley was not present;—do you remember the occasion of Cuneo coming to the brewery without O'Maley being with him? Yes.
709. When? I could not tell you the date.
710. Before or after Cuneo asked about the telegram? Before.
711. How often before? On one or two occasions.
712. Then that would be four or five occasions that Cuneo was at the brewery? I could not say. Between the beginning of the year and June they came on a good many occasions.
713. In the early part of your evidence you said you could not remember whether they had been once or twice, and you say now that they came on a good many occasions? I am speaking of O'Maley.
714. You say "them," and I take it when you say "them" you mean the two? I could not say on how many occasions O'Maley came to the hotel with Cuneo. I know he came two or three times, and he may have come more.
715. And, in addition to that, you said that Cuneo came once or twice by himself;—do you say that now? I believe he did.
716. Why would O'Maley stop behind when Cuneo came up to see you? I recollect on one occasion Cuneo made an appointment with O'Maley, and O'Maley did not turn up at the time.
717. What has that to do with the question I have asked you? I know on one or two occasions he came by himself.
718. Why did O'Maley not come along with Cuneo when he was there and see you in reference to this telegram? I do not know.

Mr.
S. Cornwell.
21 May, 1890.

Mr.
S. Cornwell.
21 May, 1890.

719. Both these men have sworn distinctly, and they closely corroborate one another, that on two occasions you told them you had received this telegram, and that on one occasion you showed it to Cuneo;—do you say now that what they have stated is not correct? I never showed them any telegram.
720. Of any sort? Not to my knowledge, and I am certain I never showed them any telegram from Mr. Manning.
721. You are certain you never showed them any telegram having any reference to the licence of the "Fig-free Inn"? Not to my knowledge.
722. When Cuneo came and asked you about that telegram, did he tell you that an inquiry was going to be held by a Committee of the House;—did you know at that time that the Committee could compel you to come here and give evidence? No.
723. You thought they could not? I did not think anything of the sort. I knew if they summoned me I would be bound to come.
724. Did you then say you would not be mixed up in the dirty affair for the value of the brewery? I said I would not be mixed up in the matter relating to the letter.
725. Did you say anything about the brewery? Not that I know of.
726. When did Cuneo tell you about the letter? Only on that day, to the best of my belief.
727. Do you swear you are not acquainted with Mr. Manning? Yes.
728. You never saw him before to-day? Not to my knowledge, to know him.
729. Do you know whether your brother is acquainted with him? I could not say, but I do not think he is.
730. Or with Mr. Jeanneret? No.
731. Mr. Manning.] If Mr. O'Maley has stated that you read out a telegram, and told him that telegram was received from me, is that statement true or false? It must be a mistake, for I never received any telegram.
732. Then it is not true? It is not true.
733. You say again, as you have done before, that you have never received any communication in any shape or form from me? No.

Patrick O'Maley recalled and further examined:—

Mr.
P. O'Maley.
21 May, 1890.

734. Mr. Manning.] You have stated in your evidence that upon the occasion you came to see me in consequence of being informed by Cuneo that I wanted to see you I asked you questions about the sale of the house;—is it not a fact that when you came in I asked you what you had come for? No; you knew what I had come for.
735. Did you not complain about the way Solomon had treated you? No.
736. Did you say anything about Solomon on that occasion? No.
737. And you swear that what I said to you that I could find someone to buy your premises, or some other corner, was said on that occasion? Yes; you said you knew a party who would buy it.
738. Did I ever bring any party to you to buy it? No; because I told you I would not sell it.
739. You still adhere to the statement that it was in regard to the purchase that I spoke to you on that occasion? Yes.
740. Was anyone there when you had the conversation with me? No.
741. How long did it last? I could not tell you, but it could not have lasted any length of time.
742. You swear you did not speak to me at all about the way in which you had been treated by Solomon? I never mentioned Solomon to you on that day.
743. You have spoken about him on other occasions? I could not remember.
744. Did you ever speak to me about the way you have been treated by Solomon? On one occasion after the Court was over I said, "It was a great pity I am treated like this; I am prepared and willing to make any alterations."
745. Treated whom by? I said it was a pity I was not allowed to do what was required to be done for the place, and your answer was, "Go and see your solicitors about it; I know nothing about it."
746. And you do not recollect at any time saying anything to me about the way you had been treated by Solomon? No; I do not.

Mr. J. E. Manning recalled and further examined:—

Mr. J. E.
Manning.
21 May, 1890.

747. Chairman.] You stated in your evidence, in answer to the questions I asked you on the last occasion, "Before you examine me I wish to point out that evidence has been given before the Committee by persons bringing charges against me, and I have had no opportunity of seeing this evidence nor is this evidence complete." Had you read the evidence which had then been given? No; I had seen it, but I had not read it through.
748. Where did you see it? I saw it here.
749. Did you ask the official in charge to allow you to have the evidence? Yes, to look at it.
750. How long were you here with the evidence? Five minutes, I should think.
751. Then it is not correct that you had not seen the evidence? I have not gone through the evidence; I saw that there was evidence.
752. You said, "I applied for a copy of the evidence"? Well, I applied to you, Mr. Chairman, by letter.
753. Was that the application you referred to? Yes.
754. Then Mr. Plumb said, "You have not seen a copy of the evidence?" and you replied, "No; and apparently the evidence is not complete." That is not correct; you had seen the evidence, but you had not read it? I had not read it.

THURSDAY, 29 MAY, 1890.

Present:—

MR. PAUL.

MR. PLUMB.

MR. WILLIS.

WILLIAM PATRICK CRICK, ESQ., IN THE CHAIR.

Mr. J. E. Manning attended on his own behalf.

Margaret Bennett called in, sworn, and examined:—

Mrs.
M. Bennett.
29 May, 1890.

755. Chairman.] Where do you reside? In Sydney at present.
 756. Did you live at Hunter's Hill? Yes.
 757. When did you leave there? About three months ago.
 758. I believe you own property there? Yes.
 759. Is it a corner block? Yes.
 760. Do you know the "Fig-tree Inn"? Yes.
 761. Is your property far away from the "Fig-tree Inn"? Not very far.
 762. Do you know a man named Cuneo? Yes.
 763. Did he come to you in reference to the purchase of your lease of that property? Yes; he seemed to know a great deal about my place. I asked him where he got his information from, and he replied, "The fountain head." I said, "That must be Mr. Manning."
 764. Tell us the conversation as well as you can remember it? There was nothing more then; but he was to go and see Mr. M'Culloch in reference to the property.
 765. You mean Mr. M'Culloch the solicitor? Yes.
 766. Did Cuneo say he would go and see Mr. M'Culloch? Yes, and that he would come back in the evening and tell me, but he did not come.
 767. Did you go to see him? Yes; I went to his house.
 768. Did he tell you what price Mr. M'Culloch had asked for the property? Yes.
 769. What did he say? £2,000.
 770. What did you say to that? I said, "Why did you not buy when you could have had it for £1,400." I offered him the corner for it—for £1,400.
 771. Was the property under offer at this time to anybody? Mr. M'Culloch had the sale of it. I had the deeds, but I never did anything with them after my husband's death.
 772. You did not administer your husband's estate? No.
 773. Did you have any conversation with Mr. Manning before this in reference to the property? Yes; I went to see Mr. Manning to ascertain whether he could do anything for me in reference to the corner.
 774. Do you remember what you said to him? Mr. Manning said I should apply to the Bench.
 775. For what? For a license.
 776. Did he tell you to go to Mr. M'Culloch the solicitor? Yes; and that I could do nothing until my husband's estate was administered.
 777. Did you go and see Mr. M'Culloch? Yes.
 778. Did you give Mr. M'Culloch or Mr. Manning the property for sale? Mr. M'Culloch.
 779. For how much? Not under £1,400.
 780. So that £1,400 was the price you were prepared to take? Yes, for the corner piece.
 781. Did you authorize Mr. M'Culloch to ask £2,000? He was to get as much as he could for it, but not to let it go under £1,400; and if the house I was living in was to be sold too it was not to go for £1,400, but to bring more.
 782. How much more? As much as he could get.
 783. How much were you to get when the corner was sold? I could not say. When all expenses were paid I was to get what was coming to me.
 784. Did you ever have any talk with Mr. Manning as to the amount you were to get for the property? No; I do not think Mr. Manning knew anything about the price of it.
 785. Did you know that Mr. M'Culloch was in any way connected with Mr. Manning? Not at that time.
 786. Did you know subsequently? Yes.
 787. What relation are they? Mr. M'Culloch is Mr. Manning's son-in-law.
 788. When Cuneo told you he had been asked £2,000 for the property, did you say you wished they would give you half that amount? No; I would not have been satisfied with half.
 789. Would you have been satisfied with £1,400 clear? Not if I had to leave the property altogether.
 790. I refer to that part for which a conditional license had been applied;—would you have been satisfied with £1,400 for that? Not if more could have been got for it.
 791. But if you could not get more you would have taken £1,400? Yes; on condition that I was to live in the house I was in.
 792. Did you say anything to Cuneo about taking the property out of their hands, and that you yourself would build an hotel? That was at the brewery.
 793. You said something about taking the property out of their hands? I do not think I said anything about that.
 794. What do you mean by making reference to a brewery? I said that the brewery could put it up for me.
 795. Do you remember Cuneo saying to you that it would be of no use, as if you took the property out of their hands you would never get a license for it? No; I never said that.
 796. Did he say anything about your chance of getting a license? No.
 797. You say that he stated he got it from the "fountain head"? Yes.
 798. And you then said that must be Mr. Manning? Yes.
 799. You knew at once whom he meant? Yes; because no one else knew anything at the time about my business excepting Mr. Manning.
 800. Is Mr. Manning known at Ryde as the "fountain head";—does he pass by that name? No; but that is what Cuneo said.

Mrs.
M. Bennett.
29 May, 1890.

801. Was that the first time you had heard him referred to as the fountain head? Yes.
802. And you knew at once whom it was? Yes.
803. Did you go next morning and see Cunco again? No.
804. Do you remember telling him that you and your son had calculated what it would cost to build a place, and that the interest would be too much for you? Yes.
805. When did you tell him that? Next day.
806. Did you go to see him, or did he come to see you? I went to him.
807. Therefore it is clear to you now that you did have a conversation about building a house on this land? No; it would be impossible for me to build a house.
808. It is clear to you, however, that there must have been some conversation between you and Cunco about building a house? There was something said about it, but it would be an impossibility for me to build a house; I could not do it.
809. So you found out afterwards? Yes; it might have been only talk.
810. Did Mr. Manning tell you that there was a man coming up to make you an offer for the property, and for you to ask as little as you could, as there were other corners for sale? No; he never said that.
811. What did he say in reference to that matter? I never heard anything about it before.
812. Did Mr. Manning tell you anybody was coming after the property? No.
813. Did he ask you the price? No.
814. Did you tell him the price? No.
815. Then he did not know the price you wanted? No. Mr. Manning never asked me any questions about it. He was passing one day, and I called to him and asked him to look at the place, and he did so, and then I showed him the deeds.
816. I want you to fix the date of that conversation? I could not tell you the date.
817. Could you tell us the month? No.
818. Could you tell us in what month Cunco went to Mr. M'Culloch? I could not. I have not a good memory.
819. Could you tell me when you got your letters of administration? I have not got them yet.
820. Have they been applied for? I could not say.
821. Who is acting for you now? Mr. M'Culloch is getting them for me.
822. Is that Mr. Percy M'Culloch? I do not know his Christian name. I went to see him this morning to ask him what I was wanted by the Committee for, and he said, "Simply to answer whatever questions they put to you. Answer them truthfully."
823. Did you then have a talk over this matter? No.
824. Did you ask him anything about your letters of administration? No; I asked him some time ago whether the expenses would be much, and he said he did not think so.
825. Is it twelve months ago since you gave instructions for your letters of administration? I could not say.
826. Is it six months ago? I could not tell.
827. You have no objection to Mr. M'Culloch giving us the information? No.
828. A man named Solomon applied for a conditional license for these premises? Yes.
829. Was that before or after Cunco saw you? Before.
830. How often did Solomon apply? Twice.
831. Did you have any talk with Mr. Manning about Solomon being refused the license? No.
832. What was Solomon to give you for the place? He was to give me nothing; it was the brewery.
833. What brewery? Marshall's Paddington Brewery.
834. What were they to give you? He was to allow me 10s. a week whilst the building was going up, and £1 for twenty-one years, and my own house to live in, and a portion of the yard.
835. Then you were to give him a twenty-one years' lease? Yes; and this property was to fall to me after that time.
836. What was the building to cost? I do not remember.
837. Who transacted the business with Solomon on your behalf? Some gentleman from the brewery.
838. Not Mr. M'Culloch? No.
839. So that it was after Solomon had these transactions with you that you saw Mr. Manning for the first time? No; I saw Mr. Manning before this.
840. Then it was necessary for you before you could give Solomon a lease to have your letters of administration? I do not know.
841. Do you not know that Mr. Manning told you so? Yes; he told me I could do nothing with it.
842. And he told you to go to Mr. M'Culloch? Yes.
843. And you went? Yes.
844. Then you did go to Mr. M'Culloch before Solomon had these transactions? I could not tell you when I went to him.
845. You saw Solomon, and had these interviews with him, after Mr. Manning had told you you could do nothing with the property until you got it in your own name? I could not say; I do not know whether Solomon's business was going on at the same time or not.
846. Was anything drawn between you and Solomon in the agreement? Yes.
847. Did you sign one? Yes.
848. Who brought that agreement? The clerk of the brewery.
849. Was it drawn by a solicitor? No.
850. And you cannot tell us how much they were to expend on the land for this twenty-one years and £1 a week? I could not tell you the amount, but I know it was to be a substantial and good building.
851. Would it have been £1,000 they were to spend upon it? I could not say.
852. Mr. Manning.] That property of yours at the corner is divided by a fence, and there are two cottages upon it? Yes.
853. You live in a cottage on the Gladesbury Road—a little shop? I did at that time.
854. Then there is another building, which used to be a police office? Yes.
855. When you say you were going to sell part of the property for £1,400, what property did you refer to—the part where you lived, or the other part? The corner piece.
856. On the Ryde Road? Yes.

857. Then you would still have had a piece with your house upon it? Yes.
858. And you wanted £1,400 for the other piece, and you would still have had the remainder to the good? Yes.
859. When you were told that £2,000 was asked for the land, what was to be included in the land;—was Cuneo to have the whole land? Yes; he was to have the entire block.
860. Mr. Plumb.] Both cottages? Yes.
861. Mr. Manning.] Was that an out-of-the-way price? No.
862. Is it not a fact that at this time there was a great deal of speculation in land in consequence of it being believed that Tarban bridge would be erected opposite? Yes.
863. And that was the reason that there was a rush for land at the time? Yes.
864. So that really land was worth more then than it is now? Yes.
865. I think you said in answer to the Chairman that I never entered into any negotiations with you for the purchase of your land, but simply advised you to take out your letters of administration, as you could do nothing with the property without them? Yes.

Mrs.
M. Bennett.
29 May, 1890.

George Solomon called in, sworn, and examined:—

866. Chairman.] Where do you reside? At the "Sir William Wallace Hotel," Balmain.
867. Did you ever reside at Hunter's Hill? Yes.
868. Do you know the "Fig-tree Inn" property? Yes.
869. You were a tenant of it once? Yes.
870. Who was the tenant before you? A person named Vaters.
871. I believe your lease expired on the same day as your license, in 1889? Yes.
872. Before the expiration of your lease, did you see the owner of the property, O'Maley, with a view to renewal? Yes.
873. What was the result of your negotiations with him? The result was that my price was not satisfactory.
874. So you did not come to terms for an extension of the lease by way of renewal? No.
875. Before your license expired, had you any conversation with Mr. Manning in reference to this house? The only conversation was that I made an application for a renewal, and a report went in against the house. The result of the report, and the dilapidated condition of the house, was that the application was refused.
876. Had you seen Mr. Manning before that? Yes.
877. Did you tell him that O'Maley wished to make some repairs? Yes; I told Mr. Manning that O'Maley wished to make some repairs. Mr. Manning told me that I had not the authority unless I made application to the Bench to make the repairs.
878. Did he say he would do anything if you did allow O'Maley to make the repairs? I think he told me that if I allowed him to make the repairs without consulting the Licensing Bench he would cancel the license.
879. Did he ever tell you that the "Fig-tree Inn" would never be licensed again while he was on the Bench? No.
880. Did he at any time have any conversation with you in regard to re-licensing the hotel? No.
881. Did you make application for Bennett's corner? Yes.
882. How often? Once.
883. Did you see Mr. Manning before you applied for the license for Bennett's corner? Yes.
884. What steps were taken to assist you in getting a license for Bennett's corner? I produced my plans to Mr. Manning.
885. Where at? At his private residence. He pointed out one or two defects, and asked me to get them remedied. I consulted an architect about the matter, and had them remedied.
886. Did Mr. Manning at any time write a letter to you in reference to Bennett's corner, recommending the corner to the Bench? Mr. Manning did not.
887. Who did? Some other gentleman.
888. His son? I could not swear that it was his son or not.
889. Was Mr. Manning there at the time? Yes.
890. Why did the young gentleman write it out;—did Mr. Manning ask him to do so, so that the Bench would not know his hand-writing? I could not swear to that.
891. What was in the note? It asked me to recommend Mrs. Bennett's corner as a site for an hotel.
892. And that was addressed to the Licensing Bench? I could not say whether it was.
893. Whom was it to go before? That I could not say.
894. What was it for? Just a recommendation for Mrs. Bennett's corner.
895. Would not the Licensing Bench at Ryde hear the application? Yes.
896. Is not Mr. Manning Chairman of the Bench? Yes.
897. So that the letter would go before him as Chairman if he was on the Bench? Yes.
898. This recommendation, then, was to himself, as a member of the Licensing Bench at Ryde? Yes.
899. And written in his own private residence, before the application came on? But there was no application came on.
900. What were the plans for? This occurred when I left. It was not any application for me, or anyone I have known since.
901. Who was applying at that time? No one.
902. And you were asked to recommend the corner as a fit place for an hotel, although nobody was applying for a license for it? That is a fact.
903. Did you know at that time that negotiations were being conducted between Mr. McCulloch and Cuneo for the sale of Bennett's corner? No.
904. Will you tell me how you came to sign this recommendation to the Licensing Bench at Ryde in favour of Bennett's corner;—who asked you to do it? Mr. Manning.
905. Where were you at the time he asked you to do it? In Mr. Manning's private residence.
906. How came you to be there? I had to go there on business to ask Mr. Manning for a character in reference to going into the house where I am living now.

Mr.
G. Solomon.
29 May, 1890.

- Mr. G. Solomon.
29 May, 1890.
907. And it was on that occasion he asked you to sign that recommendation to the Bench? Yes.
908. Will you swear he did not write it out first, and that then this young man to whom you refer copied it? Certainly Mr. Manning did write it out.
909. He did write it out, and then got this young man to copy it;—was that young man his son? I could not swear.
910. Do you think he was;—is he known as his son? I think so.
911. And you signed it? Yes.
912. And then Mr. Manning gave you a certificate of character? Yes.
913. I ask you again, did not you at that time, or some other time, in conversation with Mr. Manning, hear him say that O'Maley's corner would not be licensed again? Well, I could not exactly swear to the words.
914. Let us have the effect of what Mr. Manning told you in regard to O'Maley's corner? I saw Mr. Manning before I left, at his residence, and I asked him if he would sit on the Bench to renew the license for me, and he said no, he would not. I had seen Mr. Jeanneret in King-street, and spoke to him; and he told me to go and see Mr. Manning. I saw Mr. Manning, and he said he would not sit on the Bench to renew the license.
915. Did he say it would not be renewed? Yes; he said the license for the house would not be renewed again.
916. And that was before the matter came on in Court? Which matter?
917. Before your application for renewal came on in Court? It was a long time after.
918. You say you first asked Mr. Jeanneret to sit for your renewal, he referred you to Mr. Manning, you went and saw Mr. Manning, and yet you say it was after your application for your renewal? A long time after.
919. How could that be? Because I made application in April.
920. How could you ask them to sit in connection with your application for renewal if your application had been previously refused? O'Maley and Cuneo had come to terms with me to make the alterations. That was in the meantime.
921. Then it was after the application had been refused that you saw Mr. Manning? Yes.
922. Before that you saw Mr. Jeanneret? Yes. I asked him if he would sit on the Bench if Mr. Manning were agreeable to renew the license. He said, "Go and see Mr. Manning; if Mr. Manning is agreeable, I am."
923. You went and saw Mr. Manning? Yes.
924. Did you tell him what you had said to Mr. Jeanneret? No.
925. Did you mention that you had seen him? No.
926. Did you mention that you had come to terms with O'Maley and Cuneo, and that you intended to apply for a renewal? I told him I had come to terms with O'Maley, but I did not tell him what the terms were.
927. What did Mr. Manning say? He said he would not sit, and he would not renew the license.
928. Did he say that the house would not be licensed while O'Maley owned it? He did.
929. You denied that some time ago—I would like you to remember you are on your oath? On that occasion?
930. I asked you on any occasion? You were referring to a future occasion.
931. He told you the house would never be licensed while O'Maley owned it? Yes, on this occasion. I have spoken to Mr. Manning on two or three occasions.
932. You are not here to fence questions, but to tell the truth? I am speaking the truth.
933. What became of the plans you deposited when you applied for a license for Bennett's corner;—did you lodge them in Court? No; I did in connection with my own application.
934. I mean your own application;—did you take them out after your application was refused? Yes.
935. Can you explain how they came to be at Mr. Manning's private residence? When I lent them to Mrs. Bennett to make the application for the corner I requested Mr. Manning to look after them for me, or I sent word to him.
936. Whom did you send word by? I am not certain. I think I saw Mr. Manning.
937. Where did you see him? In Balmain, I think.
938. And you gave him the plans then? No; I gave the plans to Mrs. Bennett's son.
939. What did you say to Mr. Manning? I asked him to detain and look after the plans.
940. Did Mr. Manning tell you that Cuneo was negotiating for the purchase of Bennett's corner? No.
941. Who told you Cuneo was negotiating for the purchase of Bennett's corner? Cuneo came to my place and showed me a letter which had been written by Mr. Manning, and told me what the negotiations were between himself and Mr. McCulloch.
942. What did you say to Cuneo on that occasion in reference to Mr. Manning? Nothing more than that I had recommended the corner to Mr. Manning.
943. It was then that you told Cuneo about Mr. Manning writing a letter, and his son copying it? Yes; of course I was not certain about it being his son.
944. You say you asked Mr. Manning to look after the plans;—is it not a fact that you had some considerable difficulty in finding out where they were? Yes.
945. How do you reconcile that with the statement you have made just now;—you said first that you told Mr. Manning to look after them? It is easily accounted for. I gave the plans to Mrs. Bennett's son, for Mrs. Bennett to make an application for Davis. Of course I think Mr. Davis's application was illegal.
946. Then you had some trouble to find the plans, although you knew all along that Mrs. Bennett or Mr. Manning had them? Yes.
947. Is that your evidence? Yes.
948. Do you know a man named Merry? Yes.
949. Who is he? He keeps the "Gladstone Hotel."
950. Did he come to your house in Balmain not long ago? Yes.
951. What did he say to you when he came? He said, "Anything you know about Mr. Manning keep to yourself." He said it would do me no good, and that it would be a disadvantage to my future interests.
952. Did he ask you to meet Mr. Manning himself in Sydney next day? Yes.
953. What did you reply to that? I said no; I had no business to do it.

Mr.
G. Solomon.
29 May, 1890.

954. Did he refer to this inquiry? No. He said, "I have to see Mr. Manning in town; if you have no objections, I will see you also." I said, "No; I cannot leave my business."
955. Did he tell you about this inquiry? No.
956. Then why did he ask you to keep what you knew about Mr. Manning to yourself? That I could not say.
957. Did Mr. Manning sit on the Bench when Merry got his license for the "Gladstone Hotel"? The license to the "Gladstone" was granted before Merry took it.
958. And Merry got a transfer? Yes.
959. From Mr. Manning? Yes.
960. Mr. Jeanneret was quite agreeable to give Cuneo a license if Mr. Manning was agreeable? I could not say that.
961. What do you say? Mr. Jeanneret was agreeable to renew my license for the "Fig-tree Inn." He did not say anything about being agreeable to renew, but he was agreeable to sit. He said he would sit on Saturday if Mr. Manning would sit with him, and that he had no objection to the license being renewed if Mr. Manning had not.
962. Then if Mr. Manning was agreeable he was agreeable? Yes, he was agreeable to sit; but he made no reference to renewing, or anything else.
963. Who else has seen you in reference to this matter besides Merry? In what respect?
964. In reference to not giving evidence against Mr. Manning? No one that I am aware of.
965. Where was Merry to meet you and Mr. Manning—in Sydney? He did not mention the place.
966. You afterwards told Cuneo that Merry had asked you to see Manning? No; on one occasion I told him Merry had called upon me.
967. But did you tell Cuneo Merry had asked you to see Manning? Yes.
968. Whom else did you tell? No one.
969. Did you tell O'Maley? No.
970. Did you tell anybody that Merry had asked you to see Mr. Manning in Sydney? Yes; I told Cuneo; but no place was appointed for us to meet at.
971. And Merry said it would be against your interest to say anything against Mr. Manning? Exactly.
972. Have you ever seen the letter which was written by Mr. Manning, and copied by the young gentleman whom you believed to be his son, and signed by you, and addressed to the Licensing Bench at Ryde—have you ever seen that letter since? No.
973. Do you know whether it has been used at all since? No.
974. Do the requirements of the district justify another hotel? An hotel is urgently required. There is no other site at Hunter's Hill equal to that or to Bennett's corner.
975. You are quite satisfied that the hotel was doing well when you wanted a renewal? I am quite satisfied.
976. Mr. Manning.] How many days do you think the lease had expired when you came and told me you had at last come to some terms with O'Maley? Sixteen or seventeen.
977. Are you quite sure? I would not be sure; but I know it was near that time.
978. Did you not tell me that you had at last come to some arrangements with O'Maley? Yes.
979. And you asked to have the license transferred? No—renewed.
980. Can you tell me how such a thing could be possible, because your license was refused at the quarterly meeting in April. Supposing I had wished to do so, how could I have given you a renewal at the end of the few days before your lease ran out? You did it one year previously. You gave me a renewal on the 27th June.
981. At what meeting was that? The June meeting.
982. What notice is required for those meetings? You gave me fourteen days, if you recollect, to make certain repairs.
983. But what notice had to be given before calling a special meeting. Was it possible at that late stage to have granted you a renewal? I am not aware of that.
984. Was it possible to do it? It was possible to do it if you wished.
985. But I mean in accordance with the Licensing Act? I should think if you could do it one year you could do it another.
986. About the time you came to me for a character, as you say, did you not ask me to give you a reference to enable you to obtain a license in Sydney? Yes.
987. And did I not say, "Solomon, you are leaving the district; there has been a great deal of dispute, and you have been a resident in the neighbourhood; which do you consider the best position for an hotel in the neighbourhood?" Exactly.
988. And what did you tell me? I told you Mrs. Bennett's corner.
989. What did I ask you to do then? You asked me to write out a recommendation.
990. Did I not ask you to write a few lines stating that in your opinion Mrs. Bennett's corner was a good position? Yes.
991. What did you tell me? I told you that I could not write; that I could only sign my name.
992. Then I sketched out something from what you told me, got it copied, and you signed it? Yes.
993. Was there any question at all about any house being licensed at that time? No.
994. Chairman.] What month was this? I could not tell you exactly. It was either the 16th or 17th of last July, because I took possession of the house I am in now on the 19th.
995. Mr. Manning.] With reference to the repairs to the house,—did you not tell me quite late in the day that O'Maley wanted to take the roof off your house, or something to that effect, and that you did not wish to be inconvenienced for the remainder of your lease, and did you not ask me if he had power to do it? Exactly.
996. And then I told you I thought no alterations could be made without the consent of the Licensing Bench? Exactly.
997. Was that all that occurred? Yes.
998. Chairman.] You say that is all that occurred? On that occasion Mr. Manning had told me that if I allowed him to effect any repairs without consulting the Bench he would cancel the license.
999. Was that on the occasion Mr. Manning is referring to? Yes.
1000. Mr. Manning.] Did I not say to you that if a man did do it you, as tenant of the place, could prevent

- Mr. G. Solomon.
29 May, 1890.
- prevent it, and that if you brought the matter before the Bench the Bench would see that it was properly dealt with, or words to that effect? Nothing was said about bringing the matter before the Bench. I asked you if I should allow him to come in and effect these repairs, and you said no, I had better not, because if I did you would cancel the license.
1001. Then you came to me to find out what your position was, and that was the advice I gave you? Exactly.
1002. Chairman.] Then it was after Mr. Manning told you that O'Maley's house would never be licensed again while he was on the Bench that he got you to sign this recommendation for Bennett's corner? It was when I was leaving the district.
1003. Then it was after? Yes. This was the last interview I had with Mr. Manning.
1004. Bennett's corner is immediately opposite? No, further along the road.
1005. But in quite as good a position as O'Maley's "Fig-tree Inn"? If anything, O'Maley's corner is the better of the two.
1006. Mr. Manning.] With reference to the note,—did not I write it word by word from you in pencil? Yes.
1007. And then it was copied? Yes.
1008. Did Mr. Manning ask this young gentleman to copy it so that the Bench would not know his writing? Yes.
1009. Were you not pressed for time, and was not he to write it whilst I was writing something else for you? You had already written.
1010. You will recollect that you had to catch a train? I had to catch a 'bus.
1011. You were pressed for time, and I sketched the letter out, and called the young man in to write whilst I was writing out something else personally for you? You had written out the character for me and had laid it on the table.
1012. Chairman.] The recommendation as to your character was written first by Mr. Manning? Yes.
1013. Mr. Manning.] Were they not sketched out together and then copied? It was all done at one time.
1014. I know it was all done on one occasion; but is it not a fact that whilst he was writing one thing I was writing another, to save time? No; you had written the character out, and had called him in.
1015. Whilst I was writing the reference you required, and which I sketched out roughly, was he not writing the other matter? No; you called him in.
1016. You do not answer the question? He was not writing it out. He was not present at the time you wrote out my character.
1017. Was he not present copying one thing while I was writing the other;—was it not done to save time for you? Yes; but I know it was all done at one time.
1018. Mr. Paul.] Would it not have been a greater saving of time if Mr. Manning had handed you what he had written? Mr. Manning had written the character first, and of course the other matter was written afterwards.
1019. Chairman.] And then he called this young man? Yes.
1020. Mr. Paul.] Would it not have been a greater saving of time if you had signed the one Mr. Manning had written, instead of waiting for the second? Yes.

John E. Manning recalled and further examined:—

- Mr. J. E. Manning.
29 May, 1890.
1021. Chairman.] I wish to ask you a few questions in reference to your reply to the charges made by O'Maley. In your letter to the Minister you say, on page 4 of the printed documents:—"I am given to understand that Mr. Crick has been engaged for my special benefit to try and drive me off the Bench." Will you tell me upon what grounds you stated that to the Minister? I heard so.
1022. Will you tell me whom you heard it from? I could not tell you. I do not recollect.
1023. You cannot tell me who told you that? No.
1024. You then referred to some charges made by Mr. Farnell against you in the House, and you say:—"Since then some of these people here, who suffer for their misdeeds, or do not get what they want, run off to an M.P." Will you tell me who else has sought the aid of a Member of Parliament? I have heard of several instances.
1025. Will you enumerate them? Mr. Farnell told me they had been to him in this very case, and that he had refused to have anything to do with it.
1026. Any other case? I have heard of other cases.
1027. Could you name them? I do not know that I could. I have not been interested, but I have heard of several cases.
1028. And yet you cannot enumerate them? No, because I have not been personally interested.
1029. Mr. Paul.] You were speaking in that letter of your own actions in regard to people in whom you are interested? I did not mean it to have any reference to myself.
1030. You say:—"Since then some of these people here, who suffer for their misdeeds, or do not get what they want, run off to an M.P.";—when you said that did you mean it to refer to your own actions, and to persons who suffered for their misdeeds in connection with your capacity as a magistrate? I was not thinking of myself.
1031. When you penned those words, did you not mean the Minister of Justice to understand that they applied to your administration of justice at Ryde? No.
1032. Chairman.] Will you tell me the name of anybody who has sought the aid of an M.P., or who has made any complaint against any other magistrate sitting at Ryde? I do not know. I have heard of and seen comments in the paper.
1033. In what paper? I really could not tell you.
1034. Do you know what magistrate was complained of? No.
1035. Do you know all the magistrates sitting at Ryde? Yes.
1036. And yet you cannot tell what magistrate was complained of? No.
1037. On page 3 of the printed documents you say in your report:—"I have for some time been aware that the disappointed parties in reference to these premises were planning some charges against me, with a view of preventing my sitting in their particular case, which they are kind enough to say is all they care about; but I was not prepared for the barefaced falsehoods and perversion of facts stated as emanating from Cuneo." How long were you, before you wrote this reply, aware that the disappointed parties were planning charges against you? I could not say.

Mr.
J.E. Manning.
29 May, 1890.

1038. What were the charges they were planning against you? I did not hear. I heard that they simply wanted to get me off the Bench, and to get Mr. Jeanneret on to get the license.

1039. Can you tell me whom you heard that from? I have heard it at different times, but I could not tell you whom from. Many people spoke to me about the matter.

1040. Had you heard it for a couple of months before? I could not tell you.

1041. Did you ever hear it? Certainly.

1042. Could you give us an idea of how long before writing the report you heard it? I could not.

1043. Would it be two months before? I could not say.

1044. Do you think it would be more or less? I cannot say.

1045. Neither more nor less? I should think it would be less than two months, although I could not say. I pay very little attention, although I hear these things.

1046. I would point out to you that you gave a very confidential note, on the 22nd of August, to one of the disappointed parties, and this report was only written by you on the 12th of October? What was the confidential note?

1047. The letter you gave to Cuneo, to take to Mr. McCulloch, the solicitor. That was given on the 22nd of August, and this report was written on October 12th? I could not tell the date I heard it.

1048. You can neither tell the date, nor from whom you heard it? No. I heard it through the district.

1049. And, although you knew that they were planning charges against you, of an unfounded nature, and charges affecting your character, you did not think it worth while to pay any attention to them? No.

1050. Not so much as even to remember the names of the parties you heard it from? I heard it spoken of.

1051. Whom did you hear speaking of it? I could not tell you.

1052. You have heard the evidence given by Cuneo;—is that evidence correct or incorrect? Most of Cuneo's evidence is incorrect.

1053. You have heard O'Maley's evidence;—what do you say to that? I think there is only one matter in regard to which O'Maley's evidence comes into collision with me, and that is in regard to the interview at my house.

1054. What do you say to that? I say that there was nothing whatever said on that occasion about my purchasing O'Maley's property. He simply spoke about his trouble in losing his license.

1055. Did you tell Cuneo to bring him up, so that he might renew his lamentations to you? I did not tell Cuneo to bring him up at all.

1056. So that is incorrect? Yes.

1057. You have heard Solomon's evidence;—what do you say to that? In what way.

1058. In regard to the conversations you have had with him respecting O'Maley's house? Solomon is partly correct. He came to me, and asked whether O'Maley could force his way into the house and take the roof off, and I told him he could do nothing without the permission of the Licensing Bench.

1059. Did you tell him then that if he allowed O'Maley to touch a shingle of the roof you would cancel the license? No.

1060. Then, when Solomon swears that, he is not a truthful witness? That is not true.

1061. When Solomon swears that you said, in his presence, that you wanted that letter for the Bench in favour of Bennett's corner copied, so that the Bench would not know your handwriting, that is not true? That is not true.

1062. Mr. Paul.] Did you write that letter? I sketched it; the man was in a great hurry, and to save time I got my boy to copy it whilst I was writing the other letter.

1063. Chairman.] Was it your son who copied the letter? Yes.

1064. What do you mean by saying that you saved time by getting him to copy it out? The man was in a great hurry to get away.

1065. Has there been any application for Bennett's corner since that time? No.

1066. What have you done with that letter? I looked for it at home. I may be able to find it yet, but I could not find it.

1067. Whom is it addressed to? I do not think it is addressed to anybody.

1068. Whom would it come before? What I kept it for was to show my brother-magistrates.

1069. But there was no application, you say, in regard to that corner? No; but we always like to know the best positions, and I could have shown them that letter as bearing upon the question.

1070. Mr. Paul.] But you have had a long experience of Ryde;—did you need any such communication to strengthen your opinion? No, nor would Mr. Jeanneret; but we get such a variety of contradictory opinions that I thought that this man who had carried on the house, and was then out of it, would be able to give an opinion which would be worth more than the opinion of others.

1071. Mr. Jeanneret has a similar acquaintance with Ryde to yourself? Yes.

1072. Would a document of that character, suggested by yourself, be of any good at all to you or to Mr. Jeanneret in your official positions as Licensing Magistrates? I have not said it would. It would have been a matter simply for consideration between ourselves. Of course it could not have gone in as evidence, or anything of that kind.

1073. Chairman.] You got that document before giving the letter to Cuneo with regard to the purchase of Bennett's property, and in regard to which he was to go and see your son-in-law, Mr. McCulloch? I never asked Cuneo to go to Mr. McCulloch.

1074. Then do you deny the letter? No.

1075. Then why did you give him the letter? Because Cuneo had been to me, and had stated that he had been to Mr. McCulloch about the matter, and that Mr. McCulloch had asked him certain terms which he was not prepared to carry out unless he could get certain facilities. He urged me, as he did not know Mr. McCulloch, to give him that note.

1076. I think you have already stated that he had been to see Mr. McCulloch before coming to you? Yes, he said so.

1077. And you now say he did not know Mr. McCulloch? That was what he said himself; he did not know him sufficiently to get him to give him favourable terms, and he asked me to write that note, and it

- Mr. J.E. Manning. was virtually dictated by him. Everything was put in at his request. I refused to write it for a long while, but he kept bothering me, and said, "I wish you would write it; you know Mr. M'Culloch better than I do, and he will, perhaps, do what is wanted."
- 29 May, 1890. 1078. Then the letter was given by you, and addressed to your son-in-law, with the view of getting favourable terms to Cuneo? It was simply done at Cuneo's request.
1079. Why did you do it? Because the man simply "dunned" me to do it.
1080. You knew your son-in-law was acting for Mrs. Bennett? I knew he was her solicitor.
1081. Then you wished him to give Cuneo terms unfavourable to his client, and to Cuneo's benefit? I never dreamt of anything of the sort.
1082. Although this letter was appended to the report sent in to the Minister by O'Maley, you did not think it of sufficient importance to notice,—the Minister had to call upon you a second time to explain? Yes.
1083. In this letter you say:—"If he agrees to this, as he will, he would have to deposit £1,000 with you in trust till Mrs. Bennett can convey, and he gets the other matter." In your explanation to the Minister you say that "he gets the other matter," should read, "she gets the other matter." I wish to ask you whether you still advance this as your explanation of this peculiarity? Certainly; I see no reason for altering it.
1084. Then you say further on:—"Why I suggested that Cuneo had better be told to keep the matter quiet was because Mr. M'Culloch had told me that there might be some difficulty in taking out letters of administration for Mrs. Bennett, as her husband had been dead some years, and she had neglected to prove his will";—did Mr. M'Culloch tell you that? Yes.
1085. Did Bennett leave a will? Yes.
1086. Do you know that of your own knowledge? Yes; I saw it. Mrs. Bennett has told you that she came to me on one occasion and showed me the will.
1087. You say now that Mr. M'Culloch told you there would be difficulty in proving the will;—do you not know, as a magistrate, that there is a very heavy penalty attaching to people who do not prove wills? I do not; I know nothing about that.
1088. Do you know that before a person can take out either probate or letters of administration they must give fourteen days notice in the Government Gazette? I know that a public notice has to be given.
1089. And yet it was necessary to intimate to a solicitor who knew all the circumstances of the case that the matter had better be kept quiet? Yes; I made that remark in consequence of what he said to me, but whether there was anything in it or not I do not know.
1090. You say that Cuneo knew all about the contents of this letter? Yes.
1091. And you say it was written at his dictation? You can call it dictation. He knew the purport of every word in it, and I read it to him, and everything that was put in it was put in it at his request. There is something in it about "trust." He evidently is a suspicious man, and he was afraid of parting with his money, and that is why I put "in trust."
1092. You say that Cuneo suggested everything in this letter;—why did he ask you to tell M'Culloch to advise him to keep the matter quiet? Of course he would not have asked me that. That was spoken of, and that was a suggestion of mine to M'Culloch to renew the caution, as it were.
1093. To renew the caution with what object? Because M'Culloch apparently anticipated some difficulty about this will. I could not tell you what, because I do not know sufficient about it.
1094. You knew of your own knowledge that the reason Mrs. Bennett could not convey was that she had not administered to her husband's estate? Yes.
1095. I would draw your attention to this part of your letter:—"If he agrees to this, as he will, he will have to deposit £1,000 with you in trust, until Mrs. B. can convey, and he gets the other matter";—what do you mean by that? Cuneo was suspicious. He was afraid he might be paying money, and that Mrs. Bennett might not be able to give him any title, and he did not want to pay any money unless it was held in trust.
1096. The letter states "until Mrs. Bennett can convey." You knew she could convey immediately she proved the will? No, I did not; there was something beyond that.
1097. What was it? This property is held under the Act.
1098. What Act? Torrens' Act, so I understand.
1099. You know that property, although passing to a wife or son, has to be advertised in the same way as though it were passing to an utter stranger, so that there was no necessity for keeping matters quiet and confidential, because you knew that it would have to be advertised? I do not say that; I simply say I heard it had to be advertised.
1100. When you say further "until Mrs. Bennett can convey and he gets the other matter," you wish us to understand that that means the conveyance? Yes.
1101. Why do you say:—"He had better be told also to keep the matter quiet until he gets his conveyance"? Because I knew Mr. M'Culloch did not want anything done in the matter until he had got Mrs. Bennett's title.
1102. Then you had had a long conversation with Mr. M'Culloch about this matter? Not a long conversation.
1103. You saw M'Culloch, and talked the matter over? Yes.
1104. You knew Mrs. Bennett was not in a position to convey? Not there and then.
1105. Mr. Paul.] What is the meaning of this:—"If he agrees to this, as he will, he would have to deposit £1,000 with you in trust, till Mrs. Bennett can convey, and he gets the other matter. He had better be told also to keep the matter quiet until he gets his conveyance." The conveyances are distinctly referred to in the other paragraphs, but this seems to point to some other matter. What is the meaning of "he gets the other matter"? That is the conveyance.
1106. But this letter refers twice to the conveyance, and then to the other matter;—what is the other matter? Will you swear that the other matter refers to the conveyance? Undoubtedly. There is nothing else meant.
1107. Mr. Plumb.] I think you said just now that the other matter referred to the probates or administration? The words should be "she gets the other matter."
1108. Chairman.] Look at the original document. Do you say again that you meant to write "she gets the other matter"? The original document is "he gets the other matter." 1109.

1109. Mr. Plumb.] In your explanation to the Minister you say that the word "he" should be "she"?
Yes.
1110. Chairman.] Will you swear that the other matter does not refer to the license? Certainly; there was no reference to the license in any shape or form.
1111. What was your object in underlining the word "trust"? Because that was the very thing Cuneo wanted.
1112. Did he tell you to underline it? No, but he laid particular emphasis upon its being held in trust, and that is why I underlined it? I was not aware I had marked it, but I see that I have.
1113. What did he want with this corner? I do not know, excepting that it was on account of there being a great deal of speculation going on, but I understand now what he wanted it for.
1114. And you did not know until now? No.
1115. Have you not already admitted that you spoke to him in reference to plans for the hotel? No.
1116. I ask you if you have not already admitted that you had a conversation with Cuneo about plans for an hotel? Some time afterwards he spoke about some plans, and showed me some.
1117. Very long afterwards? When I say afterwards, I mean after he had been refused.
1118. I am talking about this note. Was it before or after you wrote this note that you had a conversation with Cuneo about plans? He wanted me to look at some plans.
1119. Will you answer the question;—was that before or after you wrote the note? What is the date of the note?
1120. August 22nd? Then I should say it was before that note was written.
1121. So you now say you and Cuneo had a talk about plans? Yes; he wanted me to look at them.
1122. In your reply to the Minister you say:—"As Cuneo states, shortly before the expiration of Solomon's license and tenancy, he, having then been refused a conditional license for the said premises, came to me and asked if I would grant him a transfer and renewal of license for these (O'Maley's) premises, if he came to terms with Solomon. I replied that the Bench had declined to renew, and that I had no power to do anything of the sort. On a subsequent occasion he saw me in reference to a second conditional application, and spoke about some plans, which he proposed submitting, but which he said were much too large for present requirements. I told him that I thought it much better that a plan should be submitted, showing what the whole building would be when completed, and that he could show by a red line what he proposed to erect at once, leaving it to the Bench to decide how much should be built." So you see you had conversation with Cuneo about plans? Yes; he wanted me to look at them.
1123. What I want to know is,—was that before or after this note was written? I have told you just now that I could not tell.
1124. Which do you think—before or after? I really do not know. If you ask me what I think, I think it was before.
1125. Where were the premises to be erected which he spoke about? At O'Maley's corner.
1126. Have I not just read to you, from your statement to the Minister, that you had told him you had no power to grant a license for O'Maley's place? Yes; but he was perpetually at me, and apparently he had found out from you that he had.
1127. What I want you to state is what occurred between you? I did not know he could do it, so that I could not understand why the man kept coming to me.
1128. You say that the premises he saw you about on the occasion that you talked about putting a red line across the plans, showing what was proposed to be erected, were on O'Maley's ground? He never spoke to me about any plans or premises of any kind, excepting for O'Maley's corner.
1129. Although you had told him it was of no use in speaking to you about them? Yes, I thought so, and I am still of the same opinion.
1130. There were considerable premises erected on O'Maley's ground? The premises occupied as the "Fig-tree Inn" had been put there.
1131. Has Mr. D'Ardier sat on the Bench lately? He sits very rarely.
1132. Have you heard any reason given why he will not sit with you? I heard a reason insinuated here the other day, and I spoke to Mr. D'Ardier, and he will be quite prepared to give his reason. I may tell you that he apologized for not being able to come, in the first instance.
1133. He must send an excuse according to the Licensing Act? I do not think so. He must not be absent two quarterly meetings in succession.
1134. Or send an excuse? What Mr. D'Ardier said in this instance was that the wife of one of his oldest friends—Mrs. Chisholm—was dead, and that he had to go and see Mr. Chisholm.
1135. Mr. D'Ardier was in favour of granting the license to O'Maley? I think he was in favour of a license for that neighbourhood.
1136. Have you not already stated in your report that he was in favour of granting it? Yes. With reference to this other matter, the quarterly meeting was adjourned. Mr. D'Ardier did not appear in the first instance, because of Mrs. Chisholm's death; and he did not appear at the adjourned meeting because of the chrysanthemum show. He is a great gardener and exhibitor, and he would not leave a flower-show at which he was exhibiting for all the Licensing Courts in the country.
1137. I wish to draw further attention to your letter on page 6 of the printed documents. You say there:—"I have replied to these questions fully, because I personally have nothing whatever to conceal; but at the same time I am not clear that I am right in disclosing a professional of Mr. M'Culloch's, especially when it is calmly admitted by Cuneo that he opened a private letter of mine to that gentleman in order to entrap me." Why do you refer to it as a private letter of yours to M'Culloch, when you say it was read to Cuneo, and written at his request? It is still a private letter.
1138. But he knew what was in it? He knew what was in it, because the contents were written at his instance; I do not say he knew every word in it.
1139. You remember the day Cuneo came to you with the plans? I recollect that he did come.
1140. Did he ever see you afterwards—was it afterwards that he drove O'Maley up to the gate? I think so.
1141. Did you see Cuneo that day? I did not know he was there until he stated so here.
1142. Did you ever have any conversation with Cuneo after he showed you the plans? I never saw the plans. He wanted me to look at them.
1143. How long was he talking to you on that occasion? I could not say; but I know that the statement he made about the constable coming in, and about his talking about offering £200, is false.

Mr.
J E Manning.
29 May, 1890.

- Mr. J. E. Manning.
29 May, 1890.
1144. Whom did he offer the £200 to? Well, he did not offer it to anybody by name. He said, "I will give any one £200 who will get me the license." He looked very hard at me, as much as to say, "There is £200 for you."
1145. What did you do then? I ordered him off the premises.
1146. And yet you admit you subsequently had conversation with this man who tried to bribe you? No, because that is the last time he came on the place.
1147. And that was the time he asked you to look at the plans? No, the last time he came on the premises was when he mentioned about the £200.
1148. And it was before that that he showed you the plans? I think so.
1149. You subsequently sat on the Bench in connection with Cuneo's application? Yes; the matter had been referred to the Minister, and he left it to my discretion.
1150. Did you then ask Cuneo, or have him asked, anything in reference to his offer of £200? No; that would have been an extraordinary proceeding. I think his attorney would have asked me what it had to do with the business before the Court.
1151. However, the last time you saw him was when he made reference to the £200, and it was on a previous occasion that he showed you the plans? I am not certain that it was on a previous occasion that he showed the plans. One thing is certain, and that is that the last time I saw him on my premises was when he referred to the £200, and I ordered him off. He says, in order to show that I did not order him off, that the police-sergeant came up and joined in the conversation about local public-houses; and I say that is false. Not only did he not come in then, but he never came in at any time and joined in any conversation.
1152. Was it on the day after he made this suggestion about the £200 that O'Maley came up? No; it was the last time he was there.
1153. Then why do you say in your letter to the Minister, on page 3 of the printed documents:—"I said, 'The best thing you can do, Cuneo, is to clear off the place at once,' and he went. Nothing was said about my getting a purchaser for O'Maley's premises, as stated by Cuneo, and when O'Maley came up the following day I did not know what he came for."—Why did you write that if it is not true? It was the last time Cuneo was there. He may have been there on the day before O'Maley's business. I may be mistaken whether it was before or after Cuneo's visit; but I thought it was after.
1154. Then it was clearly after you wrote this note and gave it to him that he made the suggestion about the £200? Yes.
1155. You say that it was on the last occasion he came to you that he made the offer? Yes.
1156. It was on the last occasion he came to you that you were friendly enough to give him this letter? I think he was there once after this letter was written.
1157. Only once? Yes.
1158. And that was the occasion on which he made the offer of £200 by inuendo? Yes.
1159. So that it was before you gave him this letter that he brought O'Maley up? No; I do not think so. I don't think we had seen O'Maley at all at that time.
1160. So that it was subsequent to this that O'Maley came up? I could not tell you. I only know O'Maley did come.
1161. This report was written on the 12th October when the facts were fresh in your memory? Yes.
1162. What I refer to is on page 3 of the printed document, and the sentence is:—"Nothing was said about my getting a purchaser for O'Maley's premises, as stated by Cuneo; and when O'Maley came up the following day I did not know what he came for."—So O'Maley did come up on the following day, and you say that was the day after you had ordered Cuneo off the premises? I don't think it was. Probably, I did not see Cuneo when he came up with O'Maley.
1163. Again, on page 3 of the printed documents, you say:—"At the quarterly meeting, on the 27th July, Cuneo, represented by Mr. Roberts, applied for a conditional license for the O'Maley premises, and was refused a second time unanimously, and Mr. Roberts was heard to tell him that they could not apply again for three years."—Did you hear Roberts tell him that? No; I was told so.
1164. Who told you? I think it was the Licensing Inspector, and I know that is the opinion held now by most of the profession.
1165. How long has Mr. Merry held the license of the "Gladstone Hotel"? Merry's mother has held the license, and Merry has been the manager for a long time.
1166. How long is it since Merry got a license in his own name? Quite recently. There was some objection on the part of the police about Mrs. Merry not residing there, and it was put into his name.
1167. Was it at the last quarterly meeting that Merry got the license transferred to him? I am not sure, but it is quite recently.
1168. You stated that Merry had offered, if you granted a conditional license, to close the "Gladstone Hotel"? That is what he said in Court.
1169. You knew as Licensing Magistrate that he did not hold a license? I did not know it for some time.
1170. But did you not grant the license to the "Gladstone"? Yes.
1171. And you did not know whom you granted it to? Yes, of course we knew Merry, but I was not aware how the thing was being worked. He did not get it originally.
1172. Did you not know that the license was in Mrs. Merry's name? I must have known.
1173. Then you must have known that Merry's offer to shut the "Gladstone" was useless, and that he had no power to do anything of the sort? I took it that he was working for his mother.
1174. You mentioned something to Cuneo about a red line being drawn across the plans? There was something said when he brought the small plans. I think he said something about previous plans, which had been put in. Then some reference was made to Merry, and I told him that if he at any time submitted plans which were beyond the requirements of the district he should do as Merry had done, and put a red line through, showing what he thought was sufficient, and leaving the Bench to decide in the matter. It is quite a common thing—at any rate it is more satisfactory to the Bench to see what the place will be like when completed.
1175. Then, at that time you were on very confidential terms with Cuneo? I have known him many years.
1176. Do you make it a practice to inquire into the merits of every matter before it comes before the Bench? Certainly not. We thought the whole thing was at an end, or I should not have spoken to Cuneo at all.

1177. Do you know Salter's property up there? I know Mr. Salter has or had property.
1178. Did you make any inquiries about that property? I did.
1179. Whom from? From young Mr. Mitchelmore, I think.
1180. Was that after Cuneo's second refusal? I cannot say. There was some speculation going on about the land on account of the construction of the proposed bridge, and I inquired from curiosity.
1181. Did you ascertain the price they wanted? I did, but I have forgotten what it was.
1182. Did you get any offer of the place in writing? No; it was under offer to somebody else.
1183. But you made inquiries about this property? I inquired because a great deal of speculation was going on, and I was curious to see what was doing.
1184. Before that, had not Merry applied for a conditional license, and been refused by you? No; Merry bought some land from Salter at the opposite corner, and I understand he owns that property now. Some adjoining allotments, also belonging to Salter, were those I inquired about.
1185. I ask you whether you inquired the particulars of Salter's property after Merry had been refused a conditional license? I cannot say when I asked about that.
1186. You will not undertake to deny that it was after Merry applied and was refused? I could not tell you when it was.
1187. Mr. Paul.] Question 72 in Cuneo's original evidence makes reference to the £200. Question 85 is:—"Pass on to the time you saw Mr. Manning again?" Yes.
1188. Did you go up and see him after seeing M'Culloch? Yes. That was the time he got the note from me.
1189. Then you admit after he had made the suggestion about the £200 that you saw him again? No, never; Cuneo has never spoken a word to me since I ordered him off the premises.
1190. Chairman.] You state that the plans which he referred to in regard to the £200 were for O'Maley's property? Yes; I understood so.
1191. Was it not after he had been informed that he could not get a license for O'Maley's property that you gave him the note about Bennett's property? I cannot tell you. He has always been of opinion that he could get a license for O'Maley's property, because he has always been at me about it.
1192. You have already sworn that when he made a suggestion about giving £200 to get a license on certain plans these plans referred to O'Maley's premises? I understood so.
1193. It was subsequent to his applications and refusals for O'Maley's premises that you gave him the note about Bennett's property? Some of his refusals. He has had four, I think.
1194. Mr. Plumb.] I understood you to say, not long ago, in the course of your evidence, that the letter you wrote to Mr. M'Culloch was written on a day previous to the offer in which was suggested a bribe, or an equivalent to it? Certainly it was;—it must have been, because I have never seen him since.

Mr.
J. E. Manning.
29 May, 1890.

THURSDAY, 24 JULY, 1890.

Present:—

MR. CRICK, | MR. PAUL,
MR. WALL.

WILLIAM PATRICK CRICK, ESQ., IN THE CHAIR.

John Murdoch called in, sworn, and examined:—

1195. Chairman.] You are a police constable? Yes.
1196. Where are you stationed? Peat's Ferry.
1197. Were you previously stationed at Hunter's Hill? Yes.
1198. Mr. Manning.] Do you know Patrick O'Maley, of Hunter's Hill? Yes.
1199. Do you recollect his making an application the other day for a publican's license at Ryde? Yes.
1200. Who appeared for O'Maley as solicitor in the case? Mr. Crick, I think.
1201. You gave evidence that he was of intemperate habits? Yes.
1202. Have you frequently seen him under the influence of drink? Yes.
1203. Did you state in your evidence that you had known him to be drunk for a week at a time? I think I did.
1204. He lives close to the "Fig-tree Inn," does he not? Yes.
1205. Did you state before the Licensing Bench that the landlord had often sent for you to remove him from his premises? I do not remember saying "often"; but I know of one or two instances in which I was sent for.
1206. The landlord, at all events, has sent you to remove him from the licensed premises known as the "Fig-tree Inn"? Yes.
1207. Did you remove him? No; he went before I got there.
1208. You did not remove him, in consequence of his being led away by his friends? Yes; I remember one occasion particularly.
1209. Did you state, in cross-examination by Mr. Crick, that you had seen O'Maley so drunk that it took two of his friends to take him away? Yes.
1210. Chairman.] You have seen O'Maley in two instances so much under the influence of liquor that he required assistance? Yes; I can remember one or two instances.
1211. How long ago? Over three years.
1212. Do you know a man named Cuneo who applied for a license for these premises? Yes, I know Thomas Cuneo.
1213. Have you anything to say against his character? No.
1214. He was a fit person to hold a publican's license? I should consider so, from what I know of him.
1215. Mr. Manning.] When you referred just now to seeing O'Maley twice drunk, you mean that you were twice asked to remove him from the house? It might be twice, or it might be more; it was at intervals. O'Maley would have a spell of drinking for a week or a fortnight, and then he would leave liquor alone for three or four months.
1216. When he had these fits on he was of drunken habits? Yes.
1217. Are you the officer whose duty it is to inspect the hotels in the locality? No.

J. Murdoch.
24 July, 1890.

1218.

- J. Murdoch. 1218. Was your evidence in the Licensing Court tendered by instruction from your superior officer? I was called on by my superior officer to give evidence.
 24 July, 1890. 1219. From your knowledge of this man, do you think him a fit and proper person to hold an hotel license? No.
 1220. And from your knowledge of his character you think the Bench were justified in refusing the license? Yes.
 1221. Chairman.] You cannot say the same thing in regard to Cuneo—Cunco was a fit man to hold a license? I do not know anything against Cuneo.

George Miller Pope called in, sworn, and examined:—

- G. M. Pope. 1221½. Chairman.] What is your occupation? Clerk of Petty Sessions at Ryde.
 24 July, 1890. 1222. Mr. Manning.] Do you produce the minute-book of the Licensing Bench at Ryde? Yes.
 1223. Do you know Patrick O'Maley? Yes.
 1224. He lately had his house under lease to Solomon? Yes.
 1225. Do you recollect his having to be cautioned by the Bench at different times to put his premises in proper order, and that there were complaints about his premises not being in proper order. Do you recollect me, as Chairman, speaking from the Bench in regard to O'Maley? Some remarks were made to Solomon about O'Maley's premises.
 1226. About their being in a bad condition? Yes, about their being out of repair.
 1227. Did you yourself have any conversation with O'Maley about his premises? Nothing more than that I tried to persuade him and Solomon to come to terms. I told them that if they did not I could see that the license would lapse. Solomon's lease expired on the 30th June, and of course he could not get a new license if he had not the property.
 1228. What did you mean by the lapse of the license—was it because of the repairs of the premises not being carried out? No, not because of the repairs. I do not know whether the police made any remark about the repairs; I do not think they did. I could see, however, that if Solomon did not come to some arrangement with O'Maley, Solomon would not have any claim to the premises.
 1229. You mean that the two quarrelled? Yes, and they came to me and they said that they would arrange matters between them; but they did not.
 1230. Did you give O'Maley any advice—did you urge him to get his premises put into repair? I did not say a word about his premises.
 1231. What did you urge him to do? To come to terms with Solomon, or the license would lapse.
 1232. After the license had lapsed, did you have any interview with O'Maley;—did he tell you he had wished he had followed your advice? Yes, I think he did, and he said that it had turned out as I had told him.
 1233. If O'Maley has stated that he never had any conversation with you on the subject at all, is it true or not? I had no conversation with O'Maley concerning repairs, because that is a matter I had no right to interfere with.
 1234. You had as much right to interfere in that matter as to give him advice concerning his arrangement with Solomon? No; I told him what was really a matter of fact, and what would certainly come to pass.
 1235. At that time the renewal had been refused to Solomon? Not at that time, I think; I was urging O'Maley to come to terms with Solomon, so that the license would not lapse.
 1236. When did this conversation occur? Some time before June, perhaps in April, when they were applying for a renewal.
 1237. Do you know why the renewal was refused? No reason was given why it was refused.
 1238. Chairman.] Will you look in the minute-book and see if any reasons are given for the refusal? It only states that it was refused—no reason was given.
 1239. Will you refer to the police objections—what are they? I do not think there are any police objections. I do not think that there was any objection filed by the police to the renewal of the license. There was no objection filed to Mr. Solomon's renewal.
 1240. Mr. Manning.] Since you have been summoned to appear before the Committee two meetings of the Licensing Bench have been held at Ryde? Yes.
 1241. When was the last meeting? 11th June, 1890.
 1242. Who were on the Bench? Yourself, Mr. Jeanneret, and Mr. D'Ardier.
 1243. That is the full Licensing Bench? Yes.
 1244. Are you aware whether any feeling exists between the members of the Bench. It has been implied here that one member would not take his seat because he objected to certain proceedings of the other members? I have not heard of it.
 1245. You have been Clerk of Petty Sessions ever since there has been a Licensing Bench at Ryde? Yes.
 1246. And I have been Chairman of the Licensing Bench ever since there has been a Licensing Bench at Ryde? Yes.
 1247. Has there ever been any appeal from any decision of the Licensing Bench since it was established? No.
 1248. Has there ever been any appeal against any case in which I have adjudicated in the ordinary Court at Ryde since I have been a magistrate? I do not think so.
 1249. Chairman.] Do you know whether such a thing would be possible? I do not think so.
 1250. Mr. Manning.] Have you ever known me to miss a single meeting at the Licensing Bench since it was established? Never, except when you were laid up with sickness.
 1251. Has there ever been a meeting of the Licensing Bench when I have not been there? You retired on one occasion; there was some objection to your sitting on the Bench, and you left it.
 1252. I ask you if there has ever been a meeting of the Licensing Bench since it was established at which I have not been present? No.
 1253. Therefore I have attended to my duties as Licensing Magistrate? Yes.
 1254. Have you ever heard any complaint, or has there been any cause for complaint known to you, with regard to my neglecting my duties? No.
 1255. Have I not always attended when there has been anything to attend to? Yes. 1256.

1256. Chairman.] You never heard Mr. Manning or any other member of the Bench caution O'Maley about these premises? No, I have never heard O'Maley cautioned about the premises. G. M. Pope.
1257. And the only conversation you had with O'Maley was when you advised him to come to terms with Solomon? Yes; he came to me two or three times about it. He came the second time, and said he had been trying to arrange, and had not been able to do so. I urged him to try and arrange before the licensing day came on, or he perhaps would lose the license. 24 July, 1890.
1258. Do you know these premises? I have never been in them, but I have passed them.
1259. Are they situated at a place where a license is necessary? I should presume so, for they have been licensed a great number of years.
1260. And the reason the house was shut up was because O'Maley and Solomon could not come to terms? In my opinion that is the only reason. I could not see any other.
1261. Mr. Manning.] You do not mean that the Bench shut up the house because these people could not come to terms? Yes. If you recollect you asked Solomon how he could possess a license when he had no claim at all to the premises.
1262. Chairman.] Then you state that Mr. Manning told Solomon that he could not have a license because he had no claim on the premises? Those are the exact words. He asked him, "Have you the premises after June 30?" and he replied "No." Mr. Manning then said, "Then how can we grant a license?"
1263. Mr. Manning.] When was that? At the licensing meeting when he applied.
1264. Mr. Paul.] Was that in April? Yes, on April 17.
1265. Chairman.] How long have you lived in the district? About forty years.
1266. It is a progressive district? Yes; it has progressed more during the last few years than during previous years.
1267. Since this license was first granted there has been a license granted for a large house within a short distance? Yes, the "Gladstone Hotel."
1268. Do you know whether the place is doing well? I cannot say, because I have never been there.
1269. Did you hear the licensee swear in Court that his place was generally full? I do not know that he said it was always full; but I think he said there was a fair trade.
1270. It is a very large house? Yes; the largest, I think, in the district.
1271. And the license was granted, I think, since O'Maley's was first granted? Yes.
1272. And by the same Bench which refused O'Maley's license? By the same Bench; but O'Maley's license was originally granted at Parramatta.
1273. Mr. Manning sat on the Bench which granted the license to the "Gladstone Hotel"? Yes.
1274. Mr. Manning was on the Bench which refused the license to O'Maley's house? Yes.
1275. Do you know a piece of property belonging to Mrs. Bennett? I only know it by Cuneo telling me about it.
1276. So far as you can see, had Solomon and O'Maley come to terms the license would have been renewed? I expect so. So far as I can know and judge, there was no objection.
1277. No objection excepting, as stated by the Chairman, that Solomon had not the lease? That Solomon had no claim to the premises, and could not consequently hold a license.
1278. As an old resident of the district, and knowing all the circumstances of the case, do you not consider that O'Maley has suffered a great injustice by his house being closed? It seems to me that he has been rather hardly dealt with through no fault of his own. As I have said, the license unfortunately lapsed on account of his not coming to terms with Solomon.
1279. Were you in Court on the day when Mr. Manning retired from the Bench and left Mr. Jeanneret and Mr. D'Ardier on the Bench? Yes.
1280. The Bench were divided on that occasion? Yes.
1281. Mr. D'Ardier, the new magistrate, was in favour of granting O'Maley the license? So he told me.
1282. Whereas Mr. Jeanneret, who had previously sat with Mr. Manning and refused the license, adhered to his former decision? Yes; as Chairman he had two votes, which Mr. D'Ardier rather complained of when there were only two present. He said he thought it was rather a farce.
1283. Mr. D'Ardier was strongly in favour of granting O'Maley the license? I do not know about his being strongly in favour of it. He told me the house had been licensed for so many years, and he did not see why it should not be licensed still if Solomon and O'Maley had come to terms, and particularly if they had made the improvements which I think they promised to make.
1284. Mr. Paul.] When Solomon made application in April he had two months' lease to run? Yes; the license terminated on the 30th June.
1285. Would it not have been a great advantage to him to have had the license renewed? Yes.
1286. So that he might have been able to sell out better? Yes; I have no doubt it was a loss to him.
1287. Is it customary for the Licensing Bench to take into consideration the terms of the lease? I cannot venture to give an opinion; I never heard of such a thing happening before, so that I cannot give any opinion as to what the Bench might do under such circumstances.
1288. Mr. Manning.] Is it not a fact that you are mistaken in stating that he originally got his license at Parramatta;—did he not get it at Ryde, before there was any Licensing Bench at all? Yes, probably. I thought at the moment that it was at Parramatta. I believe that originally he did get his license from the Ryde Bench.
1289. Chairman.] How long have you known O'Maley? Twelve or fourteen years.
1290. What can you say as to his character? I know nothing about his character; I only see him when he comes to the Court.
1291. Have you heard anything against him? I have only heard what cropped up in Court—that he was occasionally found drunk.
1292. That was the policeman's evidence? Yes.
1293. Beyond that you have heard nothing? No.
1294. And you have lived in the district over forty years, and have known him for twelve or fourteen years? Yes. I have not heard anything about him excepting from Harper, the constable, who once made a remark that he got too much drink occasionally.
1295. Mr. Manning.] That is another constable? Yes; I think it was Harper, but it is so many years ago since the remark was made that I cannot recollect.
1296. Chairman.] How long have you known Cuneo? Since he was a lad. 1297.

- G. M. Pope. 1297. Is he a man in every way fitted to hold a license? I have never heard anything against him.
 24 July, 1890. 1298. Is he a steady man? He seems to be a very steady young man, but he does not live near me, and I do not know much about him.
1299. As a matter of fact, the police lodged no objection to Cuneo personally? No; it was against the premises, I think.
1300. Mr. Manning.] When you say "the premises," do you mean that the premises were out of repair? I do not think that they had any objection to Cuneo personally. If there was any objection at all it would have been to the premises, I think.
1301. What is the good of saying you think—you are the Registrar of the Court, and have all the documents;—was not the license opposed for one reason—because the house was not required? That was in regard to O'Maley, not Cuneo.
1302. When Cuneo applied for a license, was not he objected to first because the house was not required? Yes; there were three reasons—that the house was not required, that it was next to a church, and that the premises were not in a fit condition. I was not aware that there was any trouble in regard to Cuneo.
1303. Chairman.] The objection was not that the house was next to a church, but in the vicinity of a church? Yes.
1304. That church was there when the license was first granted? Yes.
1305. Mr. Manning.] What was the third objection? I really could not say from memory. I was not aware that I should be asked anything in regard to Cuneo.
1306. Have you the official objections to Cuneo? No; because I was not aware I should be asked anything about him.
1307. Can you tell me from your papers what date O'Maley's last application for a conditional license was refused? Twenty-third April. The application was dismissed with three guineas costs, three grounds of objection being upheld.
1308. The third objection in O'Maley's case was that he was not a fit and proper person to hold a license? These are the objections [producing document]:—First,—That Solomon was refused a conditional license for a house to be erected at the corner of Ryde and Gladesville Roads, Bennett's land, twice, viz., 16th January and 12th June, 1889. Second,—That Solomon aforesaid was refused a renewal of license for the "Fig-tree Inn" on the 17th April, 1889. Third,—That on the 12th June, 1889, Page and Cuneo were refused conditional licenses, and on the 17th July, 1889, Page, Cuneo, and Merry were refused conditional licenses. Fourth,—On 13th November, 1889, Cuneo was refused a conditional license, and again on 5th January, 1890, making altogether four refusals for the same position. Fifth,—P. O'Maley was refused a conditional license on the 23rd April, 1890.
1309. Is that an extract which you made. You recollect me telling you that the Chairman required certain data? Yes.
1310. Is that an extract you made, and which was sent by you with the Licensing Bench stamp upon it? Yes.
1311. These positions were all close together? I do not know where Page's land is, but Cuneo, Solomon, and Merry were all in the immediate vicinity.
1312. If a house was wanted in one case it was wanted in the other—the objection as to their not being required would apply to either case? Yes.
1313. Therefore Cuneo and O'Maley were not the only ones who were refused, but others as well? Yes.
1314. Do you recollect seeing the plans which were submitted by Merry? Yes.
1315. Were they much superior to any others which were submitted? Yes; they were the best exhibited.
1316. And he was refused the same as the others? Yes.
1317. Mr. Wall.] Was the ground of refusal in all the other cases because the house was not required? Nothing was stated as to why they were refused.
1318. Mr. Manning.] What were the police objections? There was no objection to Solomon's renewal, but in regard to the conditional licenses there were objections lodged by the police in all cases.
1319. Mr. Wall.] Do you know what the nature of these objections were? Because it was against the peace of the neighbourhood, and that the house was not required.
1320. Chairman.] Have you any complaints which were sent in by Senior-constable Dove against these licenses of O'Maley? Not that I am aware of.
1321. Have you any quarterly reports? I cannot say whether I have a quarterly report. I could have brought the quarterly report, but I really cannot recollect whether there was anything in the quarterly report or not. To the best of my recollection, I think there was a remark that the premises were out of repair, but I do not think that there was much beyond that.
1322. Mr. Wall.] Do you remember Senior-constable Dove calling upon you in order to obtain some notes? To make a copy of the report.
1323. Have you a copy of the report with you? No. You asked me whether anything was said in the Court about these premises, and I do not recollect anything being said in Court, but if that is a copy there is some report concerning it.

George Dove called in, sworn, and examined:—

- G. Dove. 1324. Chairman.] What are you? Senior-constable, stationed at Parramatta.
 24 July, 1890. 1325. How long have you been in the force? Since the year 1869.
1326. Mr. Manning.] You were for a long time the Licensing Sub-Inspector for the Ryde district? Yes; and I have been twice at Ryde.
1327. When did you leave the Ryde district? In April, 1889.
1328. Did you know the "Fig-tree Inn," at Hunter's Hill? Yes.
1329. Who held the license of that hotel during the time you were last stationed at Ryde? A man named Solomon.
1330. Did you, as Licensing Inspector, make complaints about the condition of that hotel? Yes, several times.
1331. To whom? To the Licensing Bench, by way of report.
1332. In writing? Yes.

1333.

1333. Did you serve O'Maley with notice? I served Solomon with a copy of this notice in the Licensing Bench. G. Dove.
24 July, 1880.
1334. What notice did you serve on Solomon? That unless the defects complained of by me, as Licensing Inspector, were made good within a stipulated date, mentioned on the notice, objections would be tendered to the Licensing Court.
1335. Mr. Manning.] Against his renewal? Yes. I then went to Mr. O'Maley and advised him to negotiate to have the improvements made, and he said he would do nothing of the kind.
1336. Is it not a fact that you several times spoke to O'Maley, and urged him, not merely as Inspector, but as a friend, to get his premises put in order, so that he might be saved from losing his license? Yes; I went by night and by day to his residence, and spoke to him as a friend.
1337. On either of those occasions, were you accompanied by another constable, and by whom? Yes; on two occasions I was accompanied by Harper. I believe he is now a warder at the Goulburn Gaol.
1338. On those occasions, did you find O'Maley sober or drunk? I found him under the influence of liquor.
1339. What did he tell you when you urged him as a friend to do what you have stated? He became rather excited. I told him I was only acting as a friend, and he said he did not care for me or anybody else, as he had influence enough, and that he was not going to abide by my ruling.
1340. In point of fact you put yourself out of the way from a friendly feeling towards this man to urge him to save his own property? Having known him for such a long time, I did it as a matter of kindness.
1341. What was the state of the house? At that time it was very bad.
1342. Can you give us any idea of its condition? I have taken a note concerning it, and it is almost a copy of what was attached to the margin of my quarterly report. It states, "House out of repair in several of the public rooms; windows and skirting-boards eaten with white ants; also paper dilapidated; the guttering and spouting defective, causing insufficient supply of water to the house; stable not in conformity; rain comes through some of rooms' ceiling, creating a great dampness; and no privacy to some of the public rooms."
1343. What do you mean by that? According to the Act there should be so many rooms called public rooms, apart from private rooms, and in order to bring the house up to the standard required, one room was taken at the end of the bar as a public room, and to get to the public room you would have to go through the landlord's bedroom. Then I complained of the staircase; it is only about 1 foot and 8 or 9 inches in width, and you have to go up it sideways.
1344. And it is very steep also? Yes.
1345. Irrespective of other considerations, is that house fit to be licensed as an hotel? It was not then, without these improvements. I do not know what it is now.
1346. Chairman.] I do not think the house has been altered? I have not seen it lately. I am out of the district now, and stationed at Parramatta.
1347. Mr. Manning.] Were you there when it was originally a four-roomed cottage? I think it was little more than that; at any rate it was a small private place.
1348. Is it not a fact that the rain and the water poured down into the house? Yes, into some of the rooms. There were no boards, and the rain from the shingles on the western end fell inside, whereas if there had been a fascia board and spout the water would have been thrown off.
1349. Is it not a fact that people have had to put umbrellas up in the house in wet weather? I cannot say.
1350. Do you know Thomas Cuneo, of Hunter's Hill? Yes.
1351. Is he a fit person to hold a publican's license? That is a grave question to answer.
1352. What is your opinion? If I were a Licensing Inspector, and he were to make application, I would, doubtless, in the interests of the public, tender an objection.
1353. Upon personal grounds? Yes.
1354. On what grounds would you object to him personally? I do not know how to put it equitably.
1355. Put it straight—tell us what personal grounds you would have to Cuneo getting a license? I do not think he would be able to conduct the license in the way the Act requires.
1356. Why? Because he knows so many people at Hunter's Hill, as one naturally would who is born there. If he held a publican's license I think they would get the upper hand of him, and he would not be able to control his business in the way the Act requires.
1357. If you have any other such telling reason, let us have it? I do not wish it to be taken down.
1358. I insist on your answering the question to the fullest extent. You say he is personally unfit to hold a license, and one of the grounds is that he is a good fellow, that he knows so many people, and that they might get the upper hand of him. What is the other reason? The other reason is this—that most of these young fellows are in the habit of gambling, card-playing, and so on.
1359. Mr. Manning.] Is Cuneo addicted to gambling? I have known him to be in places where it is carried on.
1360. Chairman.] I suppose you have been on racecourses and in billiard-rooms yourself? Only in the discharge of my duty.
1361. Many respectable men frequent these places? Certainly.
1362. What other grounds would you lodge against Cuneo? I do not know of any other.
1363. Do you know Mr. Pope, the Registrar of the Court? Yes.
1364. He has lived in the district forty years? Yes.
1365. He is a very respectable man? Yes.
1366. And he gives an entirely different opinion of Cuneo to you? Yes.
1367. Is he not as capable of knowing Cuneo's character as you? Not by any means.
1368. He has known Cuneo from a boy? He may have.
1369. How old is Cuneo? I should say about 30 years; but Mr. Pope could have no knowledge of him.
1370. Mr. Wall.] You have stated that in consequence of the defective state of the spouting the water supply is inadequate—is there no other means of supplying the house with water but by spouting? Only by cart.
1371. Have you ever known a water famine to occur in the house in consequence of the defective state of the spouting? Yes, I have. I know of one occasion on which they had to cart water.
1372. But is it necessary that the supply of water for the purposes of the hotel should be obtained exclusively from spouting. You have stated that in consequence of the defective state of the spouting they had to cart water? Yes.

- G. Dove. 1373. But is it absolutely necessary that the water used for an hotel should come from the spouting;—is there any objection to carting water? No objection.
- 24 July, 1890. 1374. Another matter you have referred to is the narrowness of the staircase;—was this staircase there when the house was licensed, or has it been erected since? It is the original staircase.
1375. Then the house was licensed with this narrow staircase which you object to? It is too steep.
1376. But when the house was licensed the staircase was no wider than it is at present? No; I think the license was granted under the old dispensation?
1377. I believe there were some concessions granted to houses licensed under the old dispensation? Yes.
1378. You have stated that some of the private rooms had too much publicity? Yes.
1379. You have stated that people had to pass through a bedroom to get to a public room;—that, I presume, was one objection which would occur when the house was licensed. It was not in consequence of the erection of a bedroom or in any way altering the plans of the house that this objection arose? No.
1380. Have you any reason to suppose that any moral weakness attaches to Cuneo which would render him unfit to occupy the position of an hotelkeeper? If I had the power I would not grant him a license.
1381. I am not asking you about your power. You state that he is young? He is a man of the world; he has travelled a good deal, and what he does not know is scarcely worth knowing.
1382. Then you do not think that the young men of Hunter's Hill would get the best of him? That is all very well; but place him in a public-house, and then another question arises.
1383. Mr. Wall.] Are you in the habit of raising objections as to the probability of what would occur? No; but it is the customary thing to state to the Licensing Bench the character and the fitness of the applicant.
1384. It appears to me to be a very objectionable custom, if it does prevail. It appears from your statement that you have no objection to Cuneo's moral character, and the only objection is that, as a young man, he might be overcome by the influence of the people in the district? Yes.
1385. How long prior to the hearing of these applications were the quarterly objections raised? About a month.
1386. That would be in 1889? Yes.
1387. How long have you been inspector in the district? I went on the 1st April, 1888, and left on the 16th April, 1889.
1388. You were there about twelve months? Yes.
1389. What was the date of your first quarterly report? I cannot say exactly.
1390. From April, 1888, to April, 1889, there would be four quarterly reports, and they were all submitted to you? Yes.
1391. In how many of these reports were objections contained against this house? I may say that there were no actual reports which would injure the publican or the landlord, but I took a stand at last.
1392. Chairman] You referred to this house in your last report? Yes.
1393. Mr. Wall.] Did you refer to this house in any previous report? Yes; on the margin.
1394. You were responsible for four quarterly reports? Yes.
1395. In how many of them did you refer to the condition of this house? Two or three.
1396. Mr. Manning.] Can you tell us the ground of objection you made to the renewal of Solomon's license in your last report? [No answer.]
1397. Chairman.] Did you lodge objections as required by the Act to the renewal of Solomon's license? Yes, I did, upon foolscap.
1398. Notice of which would be given to the licensee? Yes.
1399. Mr. Manning.] If Mr. Pope says no objections were lodged against the renewal of Solomon's license he must be mistaken? Yes, because this is a copy produced of the notes taken from it.
1400. Then you, as Licensing Inspector, objected to the renewal of Solomon's license in consequence of the repairs which you had repeatedly said should be carried out not being effected? Yes.
1401. And the Bench refused the renewal upon your objections? Yes.
1402. Mr. Wall.] You stated that these were a copy of notes taken from the report sent in by you? Yes, abbreviated.
1403. And procured from Mr. Pope? Yes.
1404. When did you make these notes? The first time I was notified to come here.
1405. Chairman.] Before you sent in these objections, did you have any talk with Mr. Manning in regard to O'Maley's house? I think so.
1406. I want you to tell the Committee what that conversation was? I think I told Mr. Manning that I considered it was my duty to object to the house being licensed, on the ground that I could not get the lessee to do anything to it—that I had gone to the trouble of seeing O'Maley several times, and he refused to take any steps in the matter.
1407. Did you have any conversation with Solomon as to the repairs necessary? Yes.
1408. Did Solomon tell you he had seen Mr. Manning, and asked him about the repairs, and that Manning told him that if he allowed the repairs to be made he would cancel his license? No; I am positive he did not. Solomon and I were not in confidence.
1409. Why did you go to Mr. Manning and tell him you thought it was your duty to report against the house;—were you in the habit of going to talk to the Chairman of the Bench? No.
1410. Did Mr. Manning say anything when you told him this? It is so long ago that I cannot remember.
1411. Try and remember, as it is of some importance. Did Mr. Manning approve of the course you had taken? I know he said, "You have your duty to do, and I suppose you know it," or words to that effect.
1412. Did he then approve of you lodging your objections? Yes, I believe he did.
1413. That was before the objections were lodged, and subsequently he sat on the Bench, and heard those objections? Yes; I cannot really remember what he did say, but it was something to that effect.
1414. You do remember speaking to him and telling him you thought it was your duty to object to the house? Yes.
1415. And Mr. Manning approved of that? Yes.
1416. What else did he say? I do not remember anything else, it is so far back.
1417. Did you ever consult Mr. Manning off the Bench before in regard to any license in the district? I think so.

1418. Tell me the name of the person? Not in regard to objections, but with the object of putting before the Bench what was really necessary in regard to the house. Another thing, Mr. Manning would know that I would tender objections, because I have to place them before the Bench seven clear days before the hearing of the case. G. Dove,
24 July, 1890.
1419. And have you not to give the lessee equal notice? Yes, equal notice.
1420. Where are you stationed just now? At Parramatta.
1421. Do you find any magistrate there who will talk with you about cases before they come before him? I am not the Licensing Inspector there.
1422. But you have cases there? I do not know what they do in regard to the inspectors.
1423. You say you have been in the force since 1869—do you know of a magistrate discussing cases with you before they come before the Bench? Yes, frequently.
1424. Could you give me the name of any magistrate besides Mr. Manning? I would not like to.
1425. It would be of great public interest to know these men? They sometimes get accustomed to the sergeant of police, and they perhaps meet and talk matters over, not thinking that it will be made capital of.
1426. And not thinking that it is unfair to the question to be tried? I should not think that a gentleman would take any advantage.
1427. Don't you know that Mr. Manning wanted to shut up O'Maley's house? No. I did not know there was any ill-feeling between them. He has spoken in good terms of O'Maley to me.
1428. Do you know Bennett's corner, opposite the "Fig-tree Inn"? Yes.
1429. Who owns it? Mrs. Bennett.
1430. Does she know Mr. Manning? She must know him.
1431. Did she ever tell you that Mr. Manning had given her advice as to her property? No.
1432. It would have taken very little to make the repairs you speak about? It would not have taken much.
1433. The requirements of the neighbourhoods justified the granting of this license to O'Maley? If it did in the first instance I should think it would do so now.
1434. More so now? Well, the population is increasing.
1435. And, as a matter of fact, a large hotel has been licensed within the last few years? Yes, the "Gladstone."
1436. Knowing the district as you do, could you have lodged an objection that the reasonable requirements of the district did not justify the granting of a license to O'Maley? No; I could not have done that. The only objection was as to the house being out of repair.
1437. Mr. Manning.] Could you not lodge the objection that it was adjacent to a church? That was done in the first instance, and I was overruled.
1438. Were you there when the house was first licensed? Yes.
1439. Is it not a positive fact that when you spoke to me about the state of the house I urged you to do all you could to get these people to put it into proper order? Yes.
1440. Chairman.] If you remember these things, tell us what was said? I can remember this, because, to the best of my recollection, Captain Goodridge was with Mr. Manning at the time. It was outside the Court-house. When Mr. Manning saw my report in the Court-house he said something to the effect that I was to do all I could for O'Maley.
1441. Captain Goodridge was very favourable to granting O'Maley's license? Yes; he was then.
1442. And he would hear all that Mr. Manning was saying? Yes.
1443. Mr. Manning.] When you told me that they would not repair the premises, did not I urge you to do all you could to get O'Maley to put the house in proper order, and to point out to him what the consequence would be if he failed to do it? Yes; that was made use of several times.
1444. Have I at any time expressed any feeling inimical to O'Maley or his house? No to me—in fact, I thought you were both good friends.
1445. Chairman.] You say that advice by Mr. Manning was made use of several times;—how often did you talk this matter over with Mr. Manning? I could not say.
1446. You must have talked it over several times, if he gave you this advice several times? Sometimes he would say to me, "Well, Dove, has anything been done?" He appeared to be anxious that the house should be repaired before the lease expired.
1447. Then you had been talking over it a considerable time? Yes; and so did O'Maley and I, and from the way O'Maley spoke I thought he was on the best of terms with Mr. Manning, because he told me he had every confidence in him.
1448. Mr. Manning.] He told you he had every confidence in me? Yes; he told me before his own wife. His wife was there, and she said she had known you for a number of years.
1449. Chairman.] Then you frequently talked about this house of O'Maley's? Yes, several times.
1450. Mr. Manning.] If O'Maley states in his evidence that you did not say anything to him about repairing the premises, is it true or untrue? It is untrue.
1451. Do you recollect me speaking from the Bench of Solomon or O'Maley, either or both, about having these premises put in order? Yes, they were both there.
1452. When was this? This would be the quarter before the report I sent in on the 17th April.
1453. Chairman.] Why should the matter of O'Maley's license be mentioned the quarter before. There was no application for renewal in connection with the house, and what brought them to the Court when they were not wanted? I imagine, on the margin, we have the privilege of making remarks as to the condition of the houses.
1454. What brought Solomon and O'Maley there when they were not wanted, and there was no question as to their houses being considered, and they had no notice. Will you swear they were there? I will swear Solomon was there beyond a doubt.
1455. What brought him there? Curiosity.
1456. How far from the Court is this house situated? Two and a half or 3 miles.
1457. And from curiosity left his business and went there? Yes; he knew there was some complaint to be brought before the Court.
1458. Did he have any notice of it? I told him.
1459. How could he bring any complaint before the Court when there was no question of his license coming before the Court? This was the quarterly return, and I told him I intended bringing it before the Bench.

- G. Dove. 1460. What brought O'Maley there? I cannot say, but I am almost sure he was there.
 24 July, 1890. 1461. Mr. Manning.] Do you recollect, when the case was spoken of, O'Maley got up at the back of the Court and commenced some abuse of Solomon, and said they could not agree about the premises, or something of that kind? No, I do not recollect that.
 1462. At all events you recollect the fact that I, as Chairman of the Bench, spoke to Solomon or O'Maley or both? [No answer.]
 1463. Whom do you recollect me speaking to? To Solomon.
 1464. Do you recollect me speaking to him in open Court about the premises? Exactly.
 1465. Mr. Crick.] And that was at the January meeting, previous to the refusal of the renewal? Yes.
 1466. Then it was nothing new to Mr. Manning when you spoke to him and told him you were going to object to Solomon's renewal? No.
 1467. You have led the Committee to think that that was a justification why this matter should crop up between you shortly before the renewal meeting in April? No. When my returns were sent in Mr. Manning and I spoke several times upon the subject, and other Licensing Magistrates too.
 1468. Your memory seems to be good about this January meeting;—tell me who were on the Bench? Mr. Manning was one, and I believe Mr. Linsley was the other.
 1469. Who else? If I had my writing and returns I could tell you.
 1470. But you had not your writings to remind you that Solomon was there, and that Mr. Manning made a statement from the Bench, but you cannot remember who constituted the Bench? I know Mr. Manning was there for one, because I remember the remarks he made to Solomon about his house.
 1471. Mr. Manning.] Your quarterly report was then before the Bench? Yes.

THURSDAY, 7 AUGUST, 1890.

Present:—

MR. CRICK,		MR. PLUMB,
MR. PAUL,		MR. WALL.

W. P. CRICK, ESQ., IN THE CHAIR.

Mr. C. E. Jeanneret called in, sworn, and examined:—

- Mr. C. E. Jeanneret. 1472. Chairman.] You reside at Hunter's Hill? Yes.
 7 Aug., 1890. 1473. Mr. Manning.] You are a member of the Ryde Licensing Bench? Yes.
 1474. Did you take your sitting for the first time in April, 1887? About that time.
 1475. I believe you vacated your seat because of your leaving the Colony, and you were reappointed in March, 1889? Yes.
 1476. You know the old "Fig-tree Inn," Hunter's Hill? Yes.
 1477. You knew it before it was an inn? Yes.
 1478. Were you on the Bench along with myself when an application by Solomon for a renewal of the license of the "Fig-tree Inn" was refused? Yes.
 1479. Do you recollect why the renewal was refused? Because the place was in a very bad condition, and no arrangement could be arrived at between the lessee and the landlord. The lessee stated that the landlord would not allow him to repair the house, or something to that effect, and would not consent to a renewal of his lease. I recollect that the refusal was, in the first instance, owing to the bad condition of repair into which the place had fallen. It was frequently reported as being unfit.
 1480. Reported by the police? Yes.
 1481. And the police opposed the renewal? Yes.
 1482. Have you seen this house yourself? Yes.
 1483. In what condition was it at the time you saw it? Bad, very bad. It was leaking, and the place was in a dilapidated condition—in fact, the house never was properly fitted for an hotel as licensed in these days.
 1484. You inspected it yourself and saw it in that state? Yes, shortly before the application for the renewal was made.
 1485. Did you see it again? Yes.
 1486. After the license had been refused, or after the house had been vacated? After the house had been vacated.
 1487. Had anything been done to the house when you saw it the last time? Yes; it had been cleaned up.
 1488. Who was living there then? Cuneo.
 1489. You did not see it at the very last when Solomon vacated it? No.
 1490. Was Solomon represented by Counsel when he applied for a renewal? Yes.
 1491. Do you know whether it was Mr. Charles Bull? I believe it was.
 1492. The whole matter was thoroughly gone into by the Bench? Yes.
 1493. Consisting of whom? Yourself, myself, and Mr. Rodd, I believe.
 1494. And the reason of the refusal of the application was because of the bad condition of the premises to be licensed, and of the hopelessness of any arrangement being arrived at to put the place in proper order? Yes.
 1495. Was there any difference of opinion on the Bench as to the refusal of this license? There was no difference of opinion on the Bench at that time.
 1496. Did I, as Chairman of the Bench, attempt to use any influence to persuade you as to how you should decide in that case, or in any other case? Never.
 1497. Is it correct or not that no opposition was offered by the police to the renewal of Solomon's license? It is incorrect.
 1498. Do you recollect my giving as a reason for the refusal of Solomon's license that he had no lease beyond a certain period? Solomon himself raised a question about the lease. He said there was a dispute between himself and O'Maley as to the extension of the lease, and he gave that as a reason why the place was in such a bad condition.

1499. Solomon, personally, was not very anxious to get a renewal;—was he interested in getting a renewal? He would have been interested if he got a renewal of the lease.

1500. I am talking about the renewal of the license. It was stated in Court that they were bound to apply under the lease? Yes.

1501. They were not very warm about it? No.

1502. Chairman.] Did not Solomon come to you afterwards and ask you to sit on the Bench to grant the renewal, and you referred him to Mr. Manning. Did he not see you in King-street, and speak to you about this very renewal? I am not sure, but I think that he did speak to me once about it. He did not ask me anything very particularly about it. He asked me if I would be at the meeting, or something of that kind.

1503. He asked you to sit for the renewal? Well, supposing he did. I would be bound to sit whether he asked me or not.

1504. Mr. Manning.] I think when Solomon spoke to you that it was at the tail-end of his holding? Solomon never made any special request privately to me.

1505. Did Solomon at any later time, towards the end of his tenure—(say) during the last week or two in June—speak to you again? He never spoke to me more than once on the subject.

1506. Did I ever make the statement from the Bench that we refused the renewal of a license to Solomon because he had got no tenure of the premises? No.

1507. Do you recollect a person named Davis applying, with others, for a conditional license? Yes.

1508. For Mrs. Bennett's corner? Yes.

1509. What was the result? It was refused.

1510. Do you recollect any particulars? I recollect the application was refused. Davis proposed to put up some buildings, and he was asked if he had any interest in the land, and he said he had none.

1511. A letter was sent to the Bench stating that this person was applying without authority? Yes.

1512. And when he was put into the witness-box he was asked what title he possessed in regard to the land for which he was applying? Yes.

1513. He said he could not show any, and his case was not entertained? Yes.

1514. Do you recollect any other instance in which any question as to the title of the land arose? No; but I recollect perfectly well the dispute between Solomon and O'Maley.

1515. That was going on for a long time? Yes.

1516. Do you recollect both Solomon and O'Maley being spoken to in Court about these premises, and being cautioned about putting them in order? Yes.

1517. Publicly, from the Bench, by myself as Chairman? Yes.

1518. And you were present on the Bench? Yes.

1519. Now we come to the different refusals in regard to Cuneo for this house;—do you recollect the grounds on which those refusals were made? There were several grounds—first of all that the license had lapsed, that the premises were not suitable, and that they were near the church. Those are three of the principal grounds.

1520. Did you sit on the occasion of Cuneo's applications for O'Maley's house? Yes.

1521. Do you recollect that in the first instance the Bench were of opinion that this house having been twice refused was shut out under a certain clause in the Act? Yes.

1522. Mr. Crick appeared for Cuneo in that case? Yes.

1523. Mr. Crick stated that a decision had been given otherwise, and the Bench adjourned the case to consider the matter? Yes.

1524. On that occasion Mr. Crick had objected to my sitting on the matter? Yes.

1525. When the case again came on for hearing, did Mr. Crick object to my sitting? Yes.

1526. Did I state that the matter had been referred to the Minister and decided by him, and that it had been left to my discretion as to whether I should sit or not? Yes.

1527. And I announced my intention of retiring from the Bench? Yes.

1528. What occurred then? Mr. D'Ardier requested you not to retire, but you persisted in doing so.

1529. Did not Mr. D'Ardier decline to sit, because he said he had no experience as a Licensing Magistrate? Yes; but he first said he would not sit unless you sat.

1530. Was it not entirely owing to my pressing him that he remained? It was.

1531. Chairman.] Was it not because I told him if he did not discharge his duties I would get a writ of mandamus and compel him? I know something of that kind was said.

1532. Mr. Manning.] Irrespective of my feeling in the matter, did I not retire from the Bench at the earnest solicitation of Mr. Crick? Yes.

1533. Is it not a fact that, in the first instance, I continued sitting principally because we thought that the merits of the case would not be entered into, and that the house was actually shut out under a particular section of the Act? Yes.

1534. Subsequently there were other applications by Cuneo? Yes.

1535. In those instances you continued to sit with Mr. D'Ardier? Yes.

1536. What was the result? The license was refused.

1537. Did you return to Sydney on that day—on the same conveyance as Mr. Crick;—did you come down in a steamboat with him? I think I did. I know I have come down once or twice with him, and I think I did so on that day.

1538. Did he tell you that they thought all they had to do was to get rid of me, and that then they would be certain of getting a license from the Bench through you? Mr. Crick made some remark to me that he thought I would be favourable to the granting of a license.

1539. Chairman.] State whatever was said. A question is put into your mouth, and you give an answer which does not bear it out. The question is asked: "Did I tell you that all I wanted was to get rid of Mr. Manning, or anything like it?" I do not know that you said that.

1540. It was not on the boat at all that I referred to the matter, but on the prorogation or opening of Parliament, in the refreshment-room? I know it was somewhere, and you said you thought I was favourable to the granting of a license.

1541. And that was the remark? Yes. I am sure I did not express to any one an opinion in favour of the granting of a license.

1542. Mr. Manning.] Is it not a fact that a great deal of influence was brought to bear upon you to get you to grant a license? Yes.

1543. Chairman.] By whom? Not by you.

Mr. C. E.
Jeanneret,
7 Aug., 1890.

Mr. C. E.
Jeanneret.
7 Aug., 1890.

1514. Was it by anybody of any weight? It was. I could mention the name if desirable, but as it is a family affair perhaps I had better not.
1545. Mr. Wall.] It would be much better if the evidence is to be given at all that we should have no respect for family matters? If the Committee ask the question I will answer it.
1546. Mr. Manning.] Were there any applications for other conditional licenses in the immediate vicinity? Yes. One by a person named Merry, and by Page and Solomon, and the one we are speaking about; and they were all in a more eligible position, and they were more eligible in regard to structure.
1547. And they were all refused? Yes. Some of them were petitioned against.
1548. Chairman.] There was a large petition in favour of Cuneo's application? Yes.
1549. Mr. Manning.] And against it as well? Yes.
1550. Was any favour shown in regard to one house or the other;—were they not all refused on the ground that the license was not required? Yes.
1551. Merry, I believe, submitted plans for a very fine hotel? Yes.
1552. And he also offered to remove his license from the "Gladstone Hotel" to the new one? Yes.
1553. At that time was there a great deal of speculation in land in the neighbourhood? There was some speculation. There was an expectation that a bridge would be erected over the Tarban Creek.
1554. And that led to this sudden demand for hotels? Yes.
1555. And it increased the value of land there? Yes.
1556. You know the "Gladstone Hotel"? Yes.
1557. Was it specially built for an hotel? Yes.
1558. What was the position in regard to that hotel for a number of years? The license was refused.
1559. In what district was it refused? In Sydney.
1560. Is it not a fact that although specially constructed for an hotel the house stood for six years before a license was obtained? I know it stood a number of years.
1561. Is it not a fact that it stood without a license for some years under the very section in regard to which we acted in the case of O'Maley? Yes.
1562. Do you know how that house eventually came to get a license? When the application came forward the Bench thought there was a necessity for a house offering better accommodation than existed at the time, and the Bench gave some kind of a promise that if the building was enlarged to a considerable extent, and made into a first-class hotel, the license might be granted.
1563. No promise was made on that occasion? I was not present. I was not on the Bench then, but I understood there was a tacit understanding that if the house was made into a first-class hotel the license would be granted.
1564. And the house possesses good accommodation, and is well kept? Yes.
1565. And it is about half a mile from the other place? Yes.
1566. Chairman.] You submit to Mr. Manning's opinion as Chairman in most matters dealt with by the Licensing Bench at Ryde? I submit to his opinion on matters of law connected with the Licensing Act, and I also defer to his judgment, because I know he has taken an extremely active interest in the welfare of the district in regard to hotels. Since he has been there he has wonderfully improved their condition. No one could have done more for the improvement of the licensed houses in the district.
1567. Having once given a judgment against the "Fig-tree Inn," you will be disposed to be consistent and maintain that judgment? Not if I thought it was wrong.
1568. Why did you go and inspect these premises, and who asked you to go? On the first occasion I went of my own motion. There was some talk about the place, and I was asked my opinion about it.
1569. Who asked you? I think it was Mr. Goodridge, but I am not sure. After that I went at Cuneo's own request.
1570. He was the applicant, and desired you to see the premises? Yes.
1571. Did you say that the premises were fit to be licensed on that occasion? I said they were better than when I saw them before—they had been greatly improved.
1572. If Cuneo swears that you then said the place was fit to be licensed, was he telling the truth? I never expressed an opinion to Cuneo as to what the result of the application would be.
1573. I am not asking that question. Did you say that the place was fit to be licensed—not that you would license it? I do not think I said anything to Cuneo one way or the other.
1574. But you have just admitted that you said the place was in a better condition;—you must have said something? Yes, but I am quite certain that I never expressed an opinion to Cuneo as to the fitness or otherwise of the place.
1575. You remember Solomon seeing you in reference to this license? I have a dim recollection of it.
1576. Did he tell you he had already seen Mr. Manning? I do not know that he did.
1577. Did you say this to him, "I will sit on Saturday if Mr. Manning will sit, and I have no objection to the license being renewed if Mr. Manning has not"? No.
1578. Did you ever say to him that Mr. Crick told you he was completely upset in his calculations—that he thought he had only to get rid of Mr. Manning, with you in the chair, and that he would be successful? I do not think that I told him in those words. I told him the substance of what I have stated—that you said you were very much disappointed, and you thought I was favourable to the granting of a license.
1579. The conversation you allude to was a private one in the refreshment-room? I do not recollect where the conversation took place, but we had a conversation.
1580. Wherever it was, it was a private conversation? Well, it was a private conversation. There is some difference between what you say and what I really felt about the matter. I should not like to be in conflict with either you or Mr. Manning about it, because it is impossible to recollect the exact words; but the substance was that if Mr. Manning was not there the license would be granted by myself and Mr. D'Ardier.
1581. Mr. D'Ardier was in favour of granting the license? Well, he was, partly.
1582. Do you not know that Mr. Manning has already reported that he was in favour of granting it? Yes.
1583. In fact, did not he hold out and refuse to concur with you in refusing it? He said he saw a difficulty in the matter.
1584. Did he not refuse to concur with you in refusing it? Yes; he said he thought it was very hard upon the man.

1585. Although you deliberated for some time you could not bring him round to your way of thinking? I did not wish to bring him round at all. Mr. C. E. Jeanneret.
1586. I suppose it was your desire that the Bench should concur, and that you should not exercise a casting vote? I thought it was better to leave the matter open. 7 Aug., 1890.
1587. Have you any interest in any hotels? In what way do you mean?
1588. Pecuniarily interested? Do you mean directly?
1589. Directly or indirectly? What do you mean by directly or indirectly?
1590. You or your wife? I do not see that the question as to whether my wife has an interest, by trustees or otherwise, has anything to do with the matter.
1591. Do you say, in view of that, that you have not an interest, directly or indirectly, in licensed premises in this Colony? The question is how the expression "directly or indirectly" comes in. It would, perhaps, require the presence of my solicitors to explain the matter. I have already answered in the negative.
1592. Did you ask anybody to take one of your hotels at any time? Since when?
1593. During the last eighteen months? No.
1594. Or two years? No.
1595. How long ago is it since you did? Before I became a member of the Licensing Bench.
1596. Are you still interested in that property in the same way as you were then? No.
1597. Have you disposed of it? Yes.
1598. Then, is your evidence now that you are not directly or indirectly interested in licensed premises in the Colony? It may be a question of law of which I am not competent to judge. In my opinion I am not, but if you want that question answered you had, I think, better ask my solicitor. I have given an answer that I am not interested.
1599. Mr. Manning.] Do you recollect our having a discussion as to which was the best position in that neighbourhood in case it was desirable at any time to have an additional house there? Yes; I recollect a discussion about it.
1600. And it depended very much at that time whether this bridge was to be erected? Yes.
1601. Do you recollect me telling you that I would try and find out from Solomon before he left the district what he thought was the best position? Yes; something of that kind was said.
1602. Do you recollect me telling you afterwards that I had got a memorandum from Solomon? Yes.

[The following memorandum was handed in.]

Sir,

In reply to your inquiry as to which particular position in the neighbourhood of my old hotel, the "Fig-tree Inn," Hunter's Hill, I consider the best for a public-house, I have no hesitation in saying that I consider Mrs. Bennett's allotment at the corner of Ryde and Gladsville Roads is by far the best, both for the publican and the public.

16 July, 1889.

I remain, &c.,

GEORGE L. SOLOMON.

1603. That is the purport of what I afterwards told you? Yes.
1604. Have you ever seen that document before? No.
1605. Have we ever had that document before the Bench, or have you seen it before to-day? No; but I have heard the substance from you.

John Theodore Merry called in, sworn, and examined:—

1606. Chairman.] What are you? Hotelkeeper, living at Hunter's Hill. J. T. Merry.
1607. Mr. Manning.] You are the landlord of the "Gladstone Hotel"? Yes. 7 Aug., 1890.
1608. How long have you been in the district? Two years and three months.
1609. I believe the house first stood in your mother's name? Yes.
1610. Did you know what is known as the old "Fig-tree Inn" whilst it was conducted as a public-house? Yes.
1611. Who was the landlord at that time? Solomon.
1612. Have you been in the house at different times during Solomon's lease? Yes, frequently.
1613. Were you in Court when the renewal to Solomon was refused in April of last year? Yes.
1614. And you have been present at the different quarterly meetings since? Yes.
1615. Were you friendly with Solomon? Yes.
1616. In what condition was the "Fig-tree Inn" at the time you saw it? It was in a very dilapidated state, both inside and out.
1617. How far back has that condition extended? I remember being taken through it when I first went into the "Gladstone Hotel." It was very bad then, and it was getting worse up to the time it was shut up.
1618. How long back will that be? About twelve months before the license was cancelled.
1619. Were you there off and on from that time to the time the house was closed? Yes.
1620. Did the house get better or worse? It got worse towards the last three months.
1621. Were you ever in the house when it was raining? Yes. I have seen the rain running down the wall on to the floor next to the bar.
1622. That was a public room? Yes—the bar parlour.
1623. Have you seen anything else showing the state of disrepair? The walls were in a bad state.
1624. Was that from damp? Yes; I should say it would be from damp.
1625. Or from general disrepair and neglect? It wanted thoroughly repairing.
1626. Was the house in such a condition that it ought to be a licensed house? I should think not. I can honestly say that I have never seen a worse house for dilapidation in Sydney.
1627. You have been holding a license for a great many years? About twelve years.
1628. Did you ever see a public-house in Sydney, or out of Sydney, in the bush, in such a disreputable state as that public-house? I may have seen one or two as bad, but never worse. Of course, under the old Licensing Act they were not so particular as they are now.
1629. Did you ever speak to Solomon about the condition of his house? Yes, often.
1630. What did he say about it? He was continually complaining about it.
1631. The landlord would not do anything for him? No.
1632. Do you recollect whether the last application for renewal, in April, was opposed by the police or not? Yes, it was.

- J. T. Merry. 1633. Upon what grounds? The principal ground was that the house was in a very bad state of repair, and not fit to be licensed.
- 7 Aug., 1890. 1634. Did you see Solomon after he left the neighbourhood? Yes, once, at his own home.
1635. How came you to go to see him? I had met him once or twice in the city. I received two letters from him in reference to a claim by a man named Parker, at Hunter's Hill. I went to see him for that reason. I have heard that he had been doing a large business in Balmain, and I was anxious to see what he was doing. His wife came over to see a man who was owing him £2 5s. I told his wife that this man had had a draft from Ireland for £105, and that I would, if I could, see that he paid the money.
1636. When you were there, was any reference made to me in any way at all? Yes. We were in conversation for about an hour. The conversation was generally about this disturbance going on at Hunter's Hill in regard to public-houses.
1637. Was anything said about my conduct? Yes; I took it from Solomon's conversation, generally, that he had a strong feeling of antipathy against you.
1638. Tell us what occurred? It is a long time ago.
1639. Mr. Wall.] Tell us, as far as your memory will serve you, of any matters bearing upon the antipathy which existed between Solomon and Manning? Solomon certainly expressed himself very strongly against Manning.
1640. Chairman.] What did he say? One expression was, that Mr. Manning, in his estimation, was a bloody dog. He expressed himself in that way on two occasions—once there and once in the city.
1641. Mr. Wall.] Did he state why? I do not know that he made any particular statement, but he inferred that Mr. Manning had not acted altogether as fairly to him as he had anticipated. He was an unsuccessful applicant for a conditional license at the Ryde Licensing Court, and I know he made sure he would obtain it, and therefore he was very much cut up about it.
1642. Can you tell us when this conversation took place? I could not tell even the month, it was when I visited Solomon's house.
1643. What year? It would be nearly twelve months ago.
1644. That would be about this time last year, then? I am not certain about the date.
1645. It was about twelve months ago? I think so.
1646. Have you heard of this letter that Mr. Manning got from Solomon twelve months ago—on the 16th July, 1889? No.
1647. Supposing they were on sufficiently friendly terms for Mr. Manning to give him a character at that time, and he to give Mr. Manning a recommendation for Bennett's corner;—in that case the man was acting a double part? I believe that previous to Solomon's refusal he was on good terms.
1648. Solomon's refusal was in April? I am not sure about the month the conversation took place. Those words were used.
1649. Mr. Wall.] After the refusal of the license? Yes, on two occasions.
1650. Mr. Manning.] Was it after Solomon had left the district and had gone to live in Balmain? Yes.
1651. And he was refused a conditional license twice, was he not? I believe he was.
1652. Did you ever propose to him that he should come and see me, or ask him not to say anything about me? I did not. I have no doubt that in the course of conversation I told him it was not advisable for him to mix himself up with the affairs of the district when he was clean out of it, but I made no allusion to this particular case.
1653. Did you ever ask him to go and see me anywhere in Sydney? No.
1654. If he says you did, is it true or untrue? It is untrue.
1655. Mr. Wall.] You have been keeping an hotel about two years in Hunter's Hill? Yes.
1656. Do you know Inspector Dove? Yes.
1657. Is he an energetic officer;—does he make thorough inquiry as to the condition of houses and so forth? I do not know a great deal about Dove, but he seems to be a very popular man there.
1658. He seems to discharge his duties? I think so. He was very particular about the inspection of my place.
1659. And you take him to be a man who is very particular in regard to hotels? I do, from the manner in which he inspected my house. It has never been inspected like it since.
1660. If the house was in the condition you have stated it to be in twelve months prior to the refusal of the license, would the inspector be likely to omit the fact from his report? I should not think so.
- [Quarterly Reports put in by Mr. Manning.]
1661. Chairman.] You state that you have seldom seen a house in such a state of repair as was the "Fig-tree Inn" when the license was refused? That is a fact.
1662. Then it must have gone into this wretched state of repair from the time of the previous granting of the renewal of the license—you say that the officer is a careful man, and would not allow such an hotel as you have mentioned to have a renewal of a license, so that it must have gone into that state of repair within twelve months? I did not say anything of the kind. I may tell you that when I went to Hunter's Hill with a view of buying the "Gladstone Hotel" I heard that there was a probability of the "Fig-tree Inn" being closed unless it was repaired. I went round purposely, and I was so impressed with the state of the place that it was one of the main inducements to buy the "Gladstone."
1663. When did you hear that? I believe Brooks, the hotel-broker, mentioned it in the first instance. I am sure he did.
1664. What time was that? Two years and three months ago.
1665. Two years and three months ago you heard that there was a probability of the "Fig-tree Inn" being closed? Yes, owing to the bad condition it was in.
1666. From Mr. Brooks? I believe it was.
1667. Are you sure? Yes, quite sure.
1668. The "Fig-tree Inn" must have gone into this bad state of repair within twelve months? I cannot say as to that.
1669. Have you seen it lately? I have not been inside it.
1670. Is it not much in the same state now as it was then? It may be from the outside appearance. It is a stone building.
1671. It suited you very well to have this place closed up? I do not know that it has made a great difference.
- 1672.

1672. How far is it from your place? About half a mile.
1673. Did you not swear before the Court that it was a quarter of a mile? I do not think so. To be correct, I should say that it is about 600 yards away. J. T. Merry.
1674. You have been treated very well by Mr. Manning? Mr. Manning could not do otherwise with the references I hold, nor could any other Licensing Magistrate. 7 Aug., 1890.
1675. Was anything urged against Cunco's character? I do not think so; I do not remember hearing it.
1676. So that in point of character Cunco is as good a man as you? That will have to be proved. I do not know anything about him. My character was proved.
1677. You say you attended the meetings of the Court? Yes.
1678. Did you work up the petition against Cunco? Certainly not.
1679. Did you sign it? No; and I would not allow anyone in the house to sign it—not even the boarders. I asked them particularly not to sign it.
1680. Did you appear and give evidence against the license? No; I was in the Court, and was asked as a matter of favour to go into the box.
1681. Did you give evidence against the house? I did not.
1682. Is your name John Merry? Yes. I gave evidence in the Court, but not against the application—not in opposition.
1683. It was upon an application of Cunco's that you gave evidence? I could not say; there were four applications on the same day.
1684. Were you called by the police? I believe I was. The police did not know I was there until they looked round, and they asked me to go into the box.
1685. You were there I suppose as a candid friend, and it was with great regret you were put into the box to give evidence against Cunco's application? I did not give evidence against Cunco.
1686. Did you give evidence for him? No.
1687. Did you not swear that the place did not require another house? I do not think so.
1688. How long is it since you have visited Solomon? I have only been there once.
1689. And you went to see him in connection with a letter he had written, and out of curiosity? Yes.
1690. Was that since this Committee was appointed to inquire into Mr. Manning's conduct? Yes.
1691. Did you say to him, "Anything you know about Manning keep to yourself"? No.
1692. Did you ask him to meet Manning and you in Sydney on the next day? No.
1693. How long after he opened the house in Balmain was it before you called upon him? I could not say.
1694. He was refused in April? Yes; and then he got a license in Balmain about two months afterwards.
1695. That would bring it into July? That would make it about twelve months ago.
1696. And he was very much incensed against Mr. Manning? He was.
1697. Why did he say Mr. Manning was a bloody dog? The only reason I can assign is that he was an applicant for a license before the Court and was refused.
1698. I want to know what Solomon said—not what you infer;—he must have been saying something detrimental to Manning? He made it a point of being very close, and would not make any definite statement.
1699. And although he was so careful not to say anything which you might carry to Mr. Manning he wound up by calling him a bloody dog? Yes, twice.
1700. And yet you tell us he was very careful about what he said? He did not make any particular reference to the case.
1701. Did he say anything about Mr. Manning being mixed up in Bennett's corner? I believe he has made reference to it on one occasion.
1702. What did he say about it? I do not know. It was something in connection with the refusal of Cunco's license. Cunco made an application for a license for that corner.
1703. And it was then that the conversation took place about Manning being interested? He never told me he was interested.
1704. What did he say? I could not remember every word. The conversation took place twelve or fourteen months ago.
1705. Then you wish the Committee to believe that Solomon, when you saw him in Balmain, which would be about July, was so incensed against Mr. Manning that he called him, not only on that occasion, but on another occasion, a bloody dog? That is a positive fact, and I will positively swear to those very words.
1706. Did you tell Mr. Manning this? No; I have told Mr. Manning that I was sure Solomon was very much incensed against him.
1707. When did you tell him that? I met Mr. Manning some few months ago three or four times.
1708. Have you had any conversation with Mr. Manning since this inquiry was started? Yes.
1709. What about? I saw him twice in connection with the license of my house up country.
1710. Did you say anything to him about what Solomon had said? I do not think so, but I may have expressed words showing that Solomon was bitter against him.
1711. Did Mr. Manning tell you what Solomon had sworn before the Committee? Yes; he mentioned that Solomon had stated that I had been over there.
1712. It was quite true? Yes; he said that Solomon had made a statement to the effect that I went over there purposely to see him. I told Mr. Manning that it was contrary to common-sense, and that if Solomon was summoned as a witness he must attend as a matter of compulsion.
1713. Solomon swore that you came to his house in Balmain, and that you said, "Anything you know about Manning keep to yourself." He then goes on to state that you said it would do him no good, and that it would be to his disadvantage in the future, and that you then asked him to meet Mr. Manning and yourself in the city on the following day? That is what I deny.
1714. Then that is absolutely untrue? It is absolutely untrue. Possibly in the course of conversation I may have told him that it was inadvisable for him to mix himself up in the quarrels of the district.
1715. Why did you give him this particular advice? Because we were always friends.
1716. But you have only called on him once since he went to Balmain? But we were on the best of terms.
1717. Who started the conversation about the Committee? I believe Solomon did. I was in the parlour with my wife, and I believe Solomon called me out of the room and started the conversation.

- J. T. Merry. 1718. You give as a reason for visiting him that some letter was written? Yes; a man named Parker was indebted to Solomon for £2 5s., and Solomon could not get his money. The man got a remittance for £105, and could not get anyone to identify him, and I went into the city and paid it into my account.
- 7 Aug., 1890. 1719. What is the name of the Bank? The Mercantile Bank. He wrote to me twice, and his wife came over once to see this man. I wrote to Solomon and told him I had this money, and would endeavour to get him paid. I got permission from the man to pay him, and sent him a cheque.
1720. Was the draft paid into your account before you saw Solomon? Yes.
1721. And a cheque was sent after you saw him? Yes.
1722. What other conversation had you with Mr. Manning in reference to this inquiry? I told him of my perfect willingness to give evidence if it were required, and that I was in a position to contradict Solomon's statement.
1723. Had you seen a copy of the printed evidence? No.
1724. Did Mr. Manning show it to you;—did he read it to you? I believe he did read something to me.
1725. You are still of opinion that Solomon had a feeling against Manning? Yes; and I think he has now, judging from the last time I saw him.
1726. When did you see him last? I do not think I have seen him for five or six months.
1727. Where? In King-street.
1728. Did you start talking about this Committee again? Yes.
1729. Did you ask him what evidence he was going to give? No.
1730. Did you apply for a conditional license? Yes.
1731. Did you get it? No.
1732. When was this? When we all applied.
1733. Have you applied since? No.
1734. Who had the "Gladstone" at that time? My mother.
1735. Who has it now? I have.
1736. It would have been an advantage if you could have got a conditional license? It was my own land.
1737. Where is your own land? Opposite the "Fig-tree Inn."
1738. If you had a license granted there, you would have the whole sway of the place? No; I would not take it now if they offered it to me.
1739. What sort of an arrangement did the Bench make with you as to granting the license to the "Gladstone"? None whatever. I submitted my application, and it was granted immediately.
1740. Mr. Manning.] You mean the transfer? Yes.
1741. Chairman.] Who was the original holder of the license—who got the license first? Nuttman.
1742. How long ago was that? A little over three years.
1743. Have you heard that Solomon wrote a letter, at the request of Mr. Manning, recommending Bennett's corner? I do not think I have heard that before.
1744. Did Solomon ever tell you that Mr. Manning had written a letter, getting his son to copy it, and Solomon to sign it, recommending Bennett's corner? I may have heard it, but I am not positive.
1745. You say that in July last Solomon was so hostile that on two occasions he called Mr. Manning a bloody dog? Yes.
1746. Mr. Manning.] On how many occasions did you see Solomon in Sydney? I saw him once at the "George," and twice in King-street.
1747. Did he on each of those occasions display bitter feeling against me? He did.
1748. Did he express his intention of doing all he could against me? Yes—on one occasion particularly.
1749. Did you ever hear in your bar any reference made to catching me on licensing matters? Yes.
1750. By whom? I could not state by whom. This was some twelve months ago; I did not then know the names of the parties, nor do I now, but had I anticipated this inquiry would have been possessed of this information.
1751. Did I at any time ask you to see Solomon on my account, or have anything whatever to do with him? You did not.

Harrie Stuart Banks called in, sworn, and examined:—

- H. S. Banks. 1752. Chairman.] What are you? Senior police constable stationed at Ryde.
- 7 Aug., 1890. 1753. How long have you been there? Eighteen months.
1754. Are you a Licensing Inspector? Yes, and have been since the 26th April, 1889.
1755. Mr. Manning.] Do you know Thomas Cuneo? Yes.
1756. You live opposite to my gate? Yes.
1757. Did you ever enter my premises and join Cuneo and myself in conversation? No. I have seen him come out of the premises, but I do not think I was ever present at a conversation between him and yourself. I saw him once come out of your gate, and I had a conversation almost immediately afterwards, and he went away towards the Court. I have seen him leave the premises prior to that time.
1758. Did you at any time enter my premises whilst Cuneo was there and join in any conversation with me? No, I think not; I have no recollection of it.
1759. Did you ever join in any conversation with Cuneo about the two hotels at Ryde? No; I never spoke to Cuneo in your presence about any of the hotels in Ryde.
1760. Chairman.] You say you have seen Cuneo and Manning together, and Cuneo coming from Manning's place? Yes.
1761. Do you remember an occasion on which Cuneo and Manning were speaking together, and you went up, and Cuneo turned to go away, when Manning said, "We were just talking about these two hotels"? No, but I recollect the occasion. I was on the opposite side of the street waiting to see Mr. Manning, and when Cuneo was going I walked across, and Cuneo went towards the Court. I afterwards saw him at the Court.
1762. Do you recollect what remark Manning made on that occasion? No. I believe I went over to see him about an order for some property in connection with an inquest which had been held by him.
1763. Do you remember what Cuneo went to the Court for—was it a licensing day? It was not a licensing day. I think he went there to lodge plans, or to obtain some information.

J. E. Manning further examined :—

1764. Chairman.] You have heard Merry swear that Solomon was antagonistic to you? Yes.
1765. Is that correct? How can I possibly tell.
1766. You know nothing beyond what you have heard Merry say to bear it out? No; I have not seen Solomon except in this room.
1767. He was on good terms with you in July, 1889; he came to your house, and you gave him a recommendation? Yes, I did. I thought he was rather an ill-used individual. I thought he had been rather hardly used by O'Maley.
1768. Is that why you gave him a certificate of good character? No.
1769. You knew him to be a man of good character? I knew nothing to the contrary.
1770. On that occasion you got him to sign this document, which has been put in evidence? Yes.
1771. Recommending Mrs. Bennett's corner as the best site? That was his recommendation. I did not ask him to recommend it.
1772. Are you not aware that you wrote it out yourself, and got your son to sign it? Yes, but if you look back to the evidence you will see that we discussed the matter, and that that was the result of what he stated to me.
1773. Mr. Paul.] I think you have sworn that you dictated the letter? We talked the matter over, and I sketched the letter from what we said.
1774. Chairman.] You did not put upon the letter the name of anyone to whom it was addressed? No.
1775. Who wrote the figures "16th July, 1889?" I did. I noticed afterwards that it was not dated, and I put them on.
1776. You have nothing further to say as to your reason for getting this letter written? No.
1777. At this time, had you seen Cuneo and had some conversation with him about Bennett's corner? He came and spoke to me about it—I think it was after the letter was written.
1778. You have heard Constable Banks say that he has seen Cuneo coming from your place more than once, and that on this day to which Cuneo referred he saw him leave you and walk in the direction of the Court-house;—is that correct? I cannot tell what day he refers to.
1779. Do you remember the day which the constable refers to—when he walked over to see you about some matter immediately after Cuneo left? No.
1780. You cannot tell us what you were talking to Cuneo about on that day? No.
1781. Did you ever say that this property would not be licensed whilst O'Maley held it? No.
1782. Have you had any conversation with Merry as to the evidence he would give? I showed him what Solomon said the other day, and asked him what occurred.
1783. Did you show him the whole of Solomon's evidence? No. I think I read out two or three lines relating to Merry.
1784. Do you wish to offer any other explanation as to the letter you gave to Cuneo? No; it was given at his earnest solicitation.
1785. And you have nothing further to say as to the meaning of the words "he gets the other matter"? "She" gets the other matter.
1786. What other matter would that be? That has something to do with the letters of administration.
1787. You say, "If he agrees to this, as he will, he will have to deposit £1,000 with you in trust until Mrs. Bennett can convey, and he gets the other matter"—you meant, "She gets the other matter":—what is the other matter? Letters of administration.
1788. Why was this £1,000 to be deposited in trust? That was Cuneo's idea. He was suspicious of the position.
1789. And being suspicious he wanted to deposit £1,000 in trust;—would he not prefer to keep it in his pocket? I suppose he wanted to conclude the transaction.
1790. Did Mrs. Bennett tell you that £1,000 was to be paid down? No.
1791. Who told you that the price was to be £2,000? Cuneo.
1792. You had no talk with M'Culloch about it? No; I simply told him who the woman was—that she had never done anything about her husband's estate, and that I recommended her to go to him.
1793. Why should he keep the matter quiet? Because M'Culloch had some doubts about getting probate of the will, the matter having gone on so long.
1794. Did M'Culloch tell you he had any doubt? He told me something about it.
1795. Where was the necessity for keeping it quiet? His idea was that it would be foolish to do anything with the property until he had got the whole of her matters put through.
1796. You have heard O'Maley and Solomon swear that you told Solomon that if he allowed O'Maley to touch a shingle of the roof you would cancel the license;—do both of these people swear what is false? O'Maley does not swear it.
1797. O'Maley swears it, and so does Solomon? Then they both swear falsely. Solomon came to me, as I stated in my letter to the Minister, and complained that O'Maley wanted to do something to the house during his short balance of tenure, and I told him no alteration could be made without the permission of the Licensing Bench.
1798. Not even to do up the place? I think he said he wanted to take the roof off.
1799. And you were so anxious to protect Solomon that you refused a renewal? But the renewal was gone ages before that.
1800. What do you mean by ages? Six weeks or two months.
1801. In your report to the Minister you say, "The report of the premises was so unfavourable, and Solomon himself so complained of them, that the renewal was refused unanimously." That means that Solomon applied for his own renewal, and yet gave the Bench grounds for refusing it;—do you adhere to that? I know Solomon did complain of the premises. I did not say he did so on the application for his own renewal.
1802. What I have read is your report to the Minister—is it correct? Yes. I do not say that Solomon complained in connection with that particular application, but he had frequently complained.
1803. Mr. Wall.] Is there any other matter upon which you desire to give evidence? Some questions were asked about the "Gladstone Hotel." If the Committee wish to know anything about it, I can state the circumstances as to how it came to be licensed. I may say that I never knew anything about Cornwell Brothers in my life, and therefore the statement which has been made about the telegram is imaginary. I swear that I know nothing at all of Cornwell Brothers in any shape or form, nor did I ever see Mr. Cornwell excepting in this room.
1804. Chairman.] You never spoke to Cornwell before you saw him in this room? No; I never saw him before. I adhere to all my statements to the Minister of Justice; I see no reason for altering them.

- T. Cunco
18 Dec., 1889.
20. This was whilst the license which Solomon held was still in existence? Yes; he was in the house at the time.
21. His license would expire at the end of June? Yes, on the 30th.
22. So that this conversation with Mr. Manning, as Chairman of the Licensing Bench, was whilst the house was still licensed? Yes.
23. What further conversation had you? We did not have any more conversation, but I was under contract with O'Maley, and I had to apply for a license.
24. You had no further conversation with Mr. Manning until after the refusal of your application on the 12th June? No, not until the 17th July.
25. After your refusal on the 17th July, did you see him again? Yes.
26. What conversation took place between you then? I went to him to see if I could get him to grant a license for the "Fig-tree Inn."
27. What we want is not your construction of the conversation, but the conversation itself? I asked if he would grant a license to the "Fig-tree Inn," and he said, "No." He said, "I will tell you what you ought to do; you ought to buy Mrs. Bennett's corner."
28. Where is Mrs. Bennett's corner? About 100 yards further up the Gladesville Road.
29. What further conversation took place? He said it is no use you going to Mrs. Bennett. She has given it over into some other persons' hands, and they have three months to decide whether they will take the premises or not. He then told me the solicitor I had to go to. He said that Mrs. Bennett, the foolish woman, had not proved the will of her late husband, although the husband had been dead for some time, and he said, "You go to Messrs. M'Culloch and M'Culloch, solicitors, in Pitt-street, who will give you particulars as to price." I then left him. Mrs. Bennett's place is close to where I live, and when I went over I had some conversation with her on the subject. I afterwards came down to Sydney and saw the solicitors to whom Mr. Manning had directed me.
30. What was the next step after that? I went home, and Mrs. Bennett came down to my house and asked me how I had got on.
31. And you had some further conversation that night with Mrs. Bennett? Yes.
32. And when did you next see Mr. Manning? In about another week I went to see Mr. Manning.
33. Was any one with you? No. He said, "How did you get on?" and I said, "The price is too big for me."
34. Did you name the price? Yes. They wanted £1,000 for twenty-five years' lease, and 30s. a week rent, the tenant to make his own improvements, or they would sell the place out for £2,000.
35. What did Mr. Manning say to that? We had a good deal of conversation. He said, "You go to Mr. M'Culloch again, and I will give you a note to take to him." He went inside to write it, and he said, "I will show you the plan Solomon had for Bennett's property." Solomon had applied for a license for Bennett's property, but the license was refused. Mr. Manning took me inside, and brought out the plan, which he showed to me, showing me where they wanted a little alteration. Then he gave me the note.
36. You had some talk over the plan? Yes, and after a while he said, "Of course you have to produce a very large plan to show to the Bench; strike a line through it, and only build a portion of it." When I was leaving him he said, "Well, if you come to terms with Messrs. M'Culloch and M'Culloch I will call a special meeting of the Licensing Board next month, and grant you a license: leave that to me."
37. That was for Bennett's property? Yes.
38. What happened then? I did not go to Messrs. M'Culloch & Co.
39. Did Mr. Manning give you anything? Yes, he gave me a note.
40. Did you see the note? Not at that time. It was in an envelope addressed to Percy M'Culloch.
41. What did you do? I took the note, and I thought from the conversation that he had an interest in the property, and that I had a right to see what was in the note.
42. Then what did you do? I opened it.
43. Is this what you found inside? Yes. The note is as follows:—

Dear Percy,

22nd August, 1889.

I have told Cunco that I thought you could arrange for him to have the Bennett property for £2,000, on paying £1,000 cash, the balance on interest. If he agrees to this, as he will, he will have to deposit with you in trust till Mrs. B. can convey and he gets the other matter. He had better be told also to keep the matter quiet until he gets his conveyance, &c.

Yours,
J.M.

44. On that, what did you do? I did not go near Messrs. M'Culloch and M'Culloch.
45. Did you see Mr. Manning again? Yes, in about a week's time.
46. Under what circumstances did you see him? As soon as I met him he said, "How is it you did not go to Messrs. M'Culloch and M'Culloch?" and I said, "It was of no use, that I could not raise the money, and that it would cost £4,000 before the place would be open—£2,000 for the property, and £2,000 to build and furnish a house."
47. What did he say? He said, "Where is the letter?" and I replied, "At home." Mr. Manning then said, "Well, don't forget to send it to me," and I said, "All right." He then said, "I know a man who would build a house at that corner if he could get a good tenant—what would you be agreeable to pay him per week for it?" I said, "£4 a week." "Oh," he said, "You were giving O'Maley £4 a week and a bonus." I then said, "Well, I will give £5." Mr. Manning then said, "That's better." I then left him. He said that if I did not look sharp I should lose my chance, as a man was coming from the country who would buy Bennett's property. He did not know who the man was, he had forgotten his name, but he knew that he used to be a member of the Union Club. I saw him again a week or a fortnight after, and I had a small plan drawn representing a sixteen-roomed house. He said, "What have you got there?" and I said, "I have a plan which I should like to show you." He said, "Is it a plan for O'Maley's property?" and I said, "Yes." He then said, "It is of no use, I will have nothing to do with that place at all; you are only wasting your own time and my time too." I said, "I should like you to see it." "Oh, yes," he replied, "I suppose there is no harm in seeing it." When I showed the plan to him he did not say anything about it. He then said, "It is of no use trying for O'Maley's place, because whilst O'Maley, or anybody belonging to him, owns it it will never be a licensed house—not if he made the establishment as big as a castle." I said, "Suppose I bought O'Maley's property, would you give me a license?" and he said, "No." He asked how much O'Maley wanted for it, and I said, "About £2,000." He then said, "Do you often see O'Maley?" and I told him that I lived next door to O'Maley.
- He

- He said, "Would you mind sending him up to me. I know a man who will buy his place." I said, "Yes, I will send him up," and he said, "If he does buy you will have the first chance of getting a license for it. Of course," he said, "on the same terms that any one else would give." Then he asked me if O'Maley was going to apply again. I said, "Yes"; and he asked who was going to apply for O'Maley. I said, "I do not know." He said, "Don't you apply, or you will spoil your chance, because if you have three refusals you will not be eligible to apply for three years." We then had some conversation about two hotels in Ryde. At that moment a policeman came in, and I left him. I think that was on the 12th September. On the following day I drove Mr. O'Maley up to his gate. I did not speak to Mr. Manning on that day, but I saw him again on the 16th, when there was very little said. He said, however, that he would not be agreeable to give Mr. O'Maley a license.
48. Was that the whole conversation? There were a lot of other things said about the bridge. He said that Bennett's was the best corner; I said that O'Maley's was the best. I said that the bridge was intended to come across Tarban Creek in a line with the "Fig-tree Hotel."
49. Was that all the conversation that you had on that occasion? Yes.
50. There was something said in the reply of Mr. Manning in regard to £200? Yes; I can explain that. The day that I was showing Mr. Manning the plans, as I was opening them, I said, "If Messrs. M'Culloch and M'Culloch can get me a license on these plans I will give them £200."
51. Mr. Manning in his report says this, "I told him that it was quite out of the question for the reasons previously stated, when he turned round and said, 'I will give £200 to any one who will get me a license for O'Maley's place.' I said 'The best thing you can do is to clear off at once, and he went';—is it true that he said, "The best thing you can do is to clear off the place at once"? He never said a word of it."
52. To whom was the offer of £200? To Messrs. M'Culloch and M'Culloch.
53. Personally? I made it through the licensing magistrate.
54. Chairman.] Are Messrs. M'Culloch and M'Culloch relations of his? I believe so; I think one of them is a son-in-law.
55. You say that you did not offer a bribe of £200, as stated by Mr. Manning in his report? It is not true.
56. Mr. Plumb.] You said that you would give Mr. M'Culloch or anybody else £200 who would get you a license? Not anybody else. I can tell why it would have paid us to give £200 to get a license. The first plan, if carried out, would cost £1,800, but the improvements according to the second plan would only have cost about £700, so that if we could have got a license on the smaller plan it would have paid us to give any solicitor £200.
57. Chairman.] In connection with that, did you part from him in a friendly way on that day? Yes, the same as any other day; that was the day on which the policeman came in.
58. Did he make any remark to the policeman in reference to the matter? No.
59. Mr. Plumb.] Was anyone present at your conversation? No; not at any time.
60. Chairman.] On the following day you brought O'Maley up? Yes.
61. Where were you at the time you have spoken of? At the house gate. I saw him on the Monday again, and had a further conversation, which I have given.
62. When did you see him again after the last time you have mentioned? I have not seen him at all to speak to. When I was leaving him he said, "Don't forget to post the letter to me."
63. You then, with O'Maley, I believe, gave what you know to be the particulars of the case to O'Maley's solicitor? Yes.
64. And, I believe, that a letter of complaint was sent in to the Minister? Yes.
65. Dated the 5th October, 1889? Yes.
66. Whilst that matter was under consideration, did your application come on in the Licensing Court? Yes, on the 9th October.
67. Did Mr. Manning take his seat on the Bench? Yes.
68. And what was done? The case was postponed as there was no Bench.
69. When did it come on again? I am not sure whether it was a fortnight or three weeks after; it came on at a subsequent date.
70. And who were on the Bench? Mr. Manning was there, Mr. Jeanneret, and Mr. D'Ardier.
71. Was the matter gone into then? No.
72. Was objection taken to Mr. Manning's sitting? Yes.
73. Was there a further adjournment? Yes.
74. When the case came on again, who was on the Bench? Mr. Manning again.
75. Who else? Mr. Jeanneret and D'Ardier.
76. What took place? They raised an objection, and the case was again adjourned. On the third occasion Mr. Manning did not sit.
77. Did he take his seat? He did, but he said that there had been a complaint made to the Minister of Justice, and that it had been left to his discretion whether he should sit or not.
78. Mr. Plumb.] So he withdrew? Yes.
79. You said that you could make certain terms with Mr. Solomon on condition that you could get the renewal of the license? We came to terms with Mr. Solomon for the remainder of his lease, but before I paid him I wanted to make sure that I could get a renewal of the lease.
80. Chairman.] He was tenant for Mr. O'Maley, whose license expired on the 30th June? Yes.
81. Mr. Plumb.] I gather from your remarks that Mr. Manning did not positively say that he would give you a license? He said, "If you come to terms with Messrs. M'Culloch and M'Culloch, I will call the Bench together to give you a license."
82. Were you on friendly terms with Mr. Manning? Oh, yes.
83. You have no personal interest in O'Maley's house? No.
84. Mr. Willis.] Do you live at Ryde? No, at Hunter's Hill, 4 miles from Ryde.
85. Chairman.] Do you know anybody who received a telegram from Mr. Manning? Yes.
86. Will you give me the name of the gentleman? Mr. Cornwell, of the firm of Cornwell Brothers, brewers.

B.

[Handed in by John Edye Manning, Esq.]

To the special Committee appointed to inquire into the charges brought by Patrick O'Maley against Mr. Manning, as Chairman of the Ryde Licensing Bench.

Protest.

I respectfully object to the constitution of the Select Committee appointed to inquire into my conduct as the Chairman of the Ryde Licensing Bench, in connection with certain charges brought against me by Patrick O'Maley. My objection is against Mr. Crick (against whom I have no personal feeling) being on the said Committee, on the grounds that he has been the paid advocate of O'Maley on several occasions when applications have been made to me as such Licensing Magistrate in reference to the very matters now before the special Committee.

Further, Mr. Crick has quite recently—and since my case was gone into by the original Committee—again appeared before me as O'Maley's paid advocate, when O'Maley's application for a license was refused unanimously by the Ryde Licensing Bench.

Though in no way fearing inquiry into my conduct, I protest against such treatment, as being tried virtually by my accuser, who is not only appointed a member but the Chairman of the Select Committee, and who is professionally interested in establishing against me the charges referred to. Mr. Crick, in his letter to the Minister of Justice, No. 9 on the printed papers before the Committee, and dated 31 October, 1889, requests that I should not be allowed to sit in a case, "in the highest interests of justice, in keeping its administration above the breath of suspicion, &c." In the interest of the justice that he so refers to, I urge that he, Mr. Crick, should not act in any way on the special Committee.

Sydney, 14 May, 1890.

JOHN E. MANNING.

C.

[To the Evidence of Mr. C. E. Jeanneret.]

Sir,

In reply to your inquiry as to which particular position in the neighbourhood of my old hotel, the "Fig-tree Inn," Hunter's Hill, I consider the best for a public-house, I have no hesitation in saying that I consider Mrs. Bennett's allotment at the corner of the Ryde and Gladesville Roads as by far the best, both for the publican and the public.

16 July, 1889.

I remain, &c.,

ADMINISTRATION OF THE LICENSING LAW IN BATHURST.

No. 1.

Extract from Hansard of 17 July, 1890.

MR. PAUL: With regard to the supervision of public-houses by the Police Department, I do not wonder that the licensing inspectors do not perform their duties as they should do. In my own district the police received distinct instructions not to enforce the Act, particularly for the 11 o'clock closing or for the Sunday closing. It is right that I should say that this Government were not responsible for giving such instructions. I think the information was conveyed to me during the existence of the previous Government.

No. 2.

Minute by The Inspector-General of Police to The Principal Under Secretary.

Inspector-General's Office, Sydney, 18 July, 1890.

Police, New South Wales.

I APPEND, for the Colonial Secretary's information (and for transmission I suggest to the Minister of Justice), copy of a report by telegraph from Superintendent Sanderson in reference to Mr. Paul's statement attached. He might be requested to forward further particulars.

EDMUND FOSBERY,

Inspector-General of Police.

B.C., The Principal Under Secretary.

The Minister of Justice.—H.P., 19/7/90. The Under Secretary of Justice, B.C., 21/7/90.—C.W., P.U.S. Submitted. Mr. Colls, M.P., has given notice of a question in the Legislative Assembly for to-morrow, with reference to the subject of private bars.—A.C.F., 22/7/90.

Copy of Superintendent Sanderson's telegram may be sent; Mr. Paul and that gentleman requested to furnish further particulars.—A.J.G., 23/7/90. Mr. Paul, M.P., 23/7/90.

[Enclosures.]

Extract from "The Daily Telegraph" of 18th July, 1890.

MR. PAUL said it was no wonder such a state of affairs existed in public-houses when the police in his district were instructed not to enforce the closing of houses at 11 o'clock, or on Sundays.

No. 3.

The Under Secretary of Justice to W. H. Paul, Esq., M.P.

Sir,

Department of Justice, Sydney, 23 July, 1890.

With reference to the statements reported in the Daily Telegraph of the 18th instant to have been made by you in the Legislative Assembly on the 17th instant, to the effect that the police in the Bathurst District were instructed not to enforce the closing of public-houses at 11 o'clock, or on Sundays, I am directed by the Minister of Justice to forward, for your information, the enclosed copy of a telegram from Mr. Superintendent Sanderson to the Inspector-General of Police, respecting your statement, and to ask you to have the goodness to furnish the Minister with further particulars in the matter.

I have, &c.,

ARCH. C. FRASER,

Under Secretary.

[Enclosure.]

Telegram from the Superintendent of Police, Bathurst, to The Inspector-General of Police.

18 July, 1890.

MR. PAUL must evidently be labouring under a misapprehension. There is not a word of truth in the statement. Such an order never emanated from me, and I hope from no other officer.

C. SANDERSON.

No. 4.

W. H. Paul, Esq., M.P., to The Under Secretary of Justice.

Sir,

Sydney, 24 July, 1890.

In reference to yours of the 23rd instant, in which you draw my attention to a statement made by me in the Legislative Assembly on the 17th instant on the subject of the closing of "public-houses" in Bathurst (as reported by the Daily Telegraph), and enclosing for my information a telegram from Superintendent C. Sanderson, with a request that I would supply further information on the subject, I desire to say that my statement is, that long prior to Mr. Sanderson's time the Licensing Inspector in Bathurst was instructed not to strictly enforce the closing of public-houses at 11 o'clock or on Sundays. If this is denied I will then give my authority for making the statement.

I remain, &c.,

W. H. PAUL.

It will be seen by the enclosed report, which I have obtained from the Licensing Inspector at Bathurst, that he received no such instructions. I need scarcely remind the Colonial Secretary that Mr. Sanderson's predecessor is dead.—EDMUND FOSBERY, I.-G.P. B.C., The Principal Under Secretary, 26/7/90.

[Enclosure.]

Police Station, Bathurst, 21 July, 1890.

SENIOR-SERGEANT MUSGROVE reports, for the information of the Superintendent, that he noticed a paragraph in the Daily Telegraph of the 18th instant, from a speech made by Mr. Paul (Member for Bathurst), in which he states "that the police in his district were instructed not to enforce the closing of houses at 11 o'clock, or on Sundays."

The senior sergeant has been District Licensing Inspector for the Bathurst District for eight years, and he never received any such instructions from any person.

R. Sanderson, Esq., Superintendent of Police, Bathurst.

Sir,

Department of Justice, Sydney, 31 July, 1890.

Referring to your letter of the 24th instant, further respecting your statement in the Legislative Assembly to the effect that the police in the Bathurst District were instructed not to enforce the closing of public-houses at 11 o'clock p.m., or on Sundays, I am directed by the Minister of Justice to inform you that the senior sergeant of police at Bathurst, who has held the position of Licensing Inspector for that district for the past eight years, has reported that he received no such instructions from any person.

I have, &c.,

ARCH. C. FRASER,

Under Secretary.

No. 6.

W. H. Paul, Esq., M.P., to The Under Secretary of Justice.

Sir,

Sydney, 31 July, 1890.

Yours of the 31st instant to hand, informing me that senior sergeant of police in Bathurst, who has held the position of Licensing Inspector for eight (8) years in that district, reports that he has never received any instructions not to enforce the closing of public-houses at 11 p.m., or on Sundays.

As promised, I now give you my authority for making the statement. I attach a statutory declaration, made by Mr. James Bateup, a late resident of Bathurst, who gave me the first information. Soon after this, whilst in conversation with Senior-Sergeant Musgrove on the subject of the sale of liquor in Bathurst during prohibited hours, he informed me that he was instructed not to be too particular as to the 11 o'clock closing and Sunday selling. Subsequent to this, and, I think, not long after, a similar statement was made at a public meeting held in Bathurst.

I have, &c.,

W. H. PAUL.

[Enclosure.]

I, JAMES BATEUP, of Sydney, clerk, do solemnly and sincerely declare that about three or four years ago, while in conversation with Senior-Sergeant Musgrove, of Bathurst, the subject being the negligence of the police in enforcing the Licensing Act, he gave me to understand that the police were instructed not to strictly enforce the 11 o'clock and Sunday selling clauses of the Act. Soon after this, in conversation with Mr. W. H. Paul, I informed him of what I had been told. And I make this solemn declaration, conscientiously believing the same to be true, and in virtue of the provisions of an Act made and passed in the ninth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the more effectual abolition of oaths and affirmations taken and made in various departments of the Government of New South Wales and to substitute declarations in lieu thereof, and for the suppression of voluntary and extra-judicial oaths and affidavits."

Made and signed before me at Sydney, }
this 31st day of July, 1890,— }

JOHN ROSEBY, J.P.

JAMES BATEUP.

Submitted.—A.C.F., 4/8/90. I.G.P. A.J.G., 4/8/90. The Inspector-General of Police, B.C., 5 August, 1890.—T.E.M.N. (for U.S.) Immediate. Referred to Superintendent Sanderson for Sergeant Musgrove's report.—B.F., 5 August, 1890.

Senior-Sergeant Musgrove reports, for the information of the Superintendent, with reference to the attached letter from Mr. Paul, M.L.A., concerning the working of the Licensing Act in Bathurst, that, notwithstanding Mr. Paul's statement and Mr. Bateup's declaration, he must again most emphatically deny that he ever received, either from the late Superintendent, or the present Superintendent, verbally or otherwise, the directions re 11 o'clock closing of public-houses and Sunday selling referred to in the said statement; nor did he at any time make the statements that have been attributed to him. The facts are that Messrs. Paul and Bateup and the senior-sergeant were on friendly terms and often met in Mr. Paul's shop; the conversation occasionally turned to the provisions of the Licensing Act, and the alleged neglect of the police in enforcing it. It is very probable that the senior-sergeant (on its being remarked that the public-houses were not visited often enough) said, that a circular had been issued, stating that the police were not to harass the publicans, nor to enter licensed premises without they were satisfied that a breach of the law was being committed. The senior-sergeant begs to add that these conversations were intended to be of a purely private nature, and is not surprised that after a lapse of four or five years they have been so misconstrued.—R. MUSGROVE, senior-sergeant. Police-station, Bathurst, 7 August, 1890. C. Sanderson, Esq., Superintendent of Police, Bathurst.

No. 7.

Minute by The Inspector-General of Police to The Principal Under Secretary.

Police Department, Inspector-General's Office, Sydney, 4 August, 1890.

“MR. PAUL to ask THE MINISTER OF JUSTICE,—

- (1.) Was any order issued to the Licensing Inspector of Bathurst, or elsewhere, at any time during the last eight and a half years, with regard to the administration of the Licensing law, having special reference to their dealings with licenses?
- (2.) If so, will he lay a copy of the same upon the Table of this House?”

THE question has such a wide scope that it is impossible to reply to it definitely.

I attach copy of the order issued when the Act was passed. Other orders may have been given by some of the officers, but the Licensing Inspector of Bathurst states that no such order was given to him of the character referred to by Mr. Paul.

EDMUND FOSBERY, I.G.P.

The Principal Under Secretary.

The Under Secretary of Justice.—C.W., P.U.S., B.C., 6/8/90.

[Enclosure.]

(General Order, No. 639.)

Police Department, Inspector-General's Office,
Sydney, 2 February, 1882.

HAVING in view the serious consequence to the holders of publicans' licenses, should they be convicted of offences under the new statute it will be desirable to impress upon the police generally the necessity for exercising extreme discretion in proceeding in such cases. They should be well assured, not only that an offence has been committed but also that there is clear and sufficient evidence to support a prosecution.

Further, the members of the Police Force, authorised either generally or specially to enter licensed houses, should not exercise that right capriciously, or without being clearly satisfied that the law is being violated, and that it is their duty to act.

EDMUND FOSBERY,
Inspector-General of Police.

No. 8.

W. H. Paul, Esq., M.P., to The Minister of Justice.

Sir,

Sydney, 6 August, 1890.

Copy enclosed.

Would you please to inform me if the circular read in reply to my question No. 3, to-day, bears date February 12, 1882; if so, is it in the exact phraseology as that sent to the Bathurst Licensing Inspectors?

Will you also supply me with a copy of the circular No. 856, of January 3rd, 1889, issued by the Inspector-General of Police.

I remain, &c.,

W. H. PAUL.

[Enclosure.]

VOTES No. 44.—6TH AUGUST, 1890.

(3.) LICENSING INSPECTORS, BATHURST:—MR. HURLRY (for MR. PAUL), asked THE MINISTER OF JUSTICE,—

- (1.) Was any order issued to the Licensing Inspectors of Bathurst, or elsewhere, at any time during the last eight and a half years, with regard to the administration of the Licensing law, having special reference to their dealings with licenses?
- (2.) If so, will he lay a copy of the same upon the Table of this House?

MR. GOULD answered,—

(1.) Yes.

(2.) The following is a copy of a general order issued by the Inspector-General of Police when the Licensing Act of 1882 was passed:—

“Having in view the serious consequences to the holders of publicans' licenses should they be convicted of offences under the new Statute, it will be desirable to impress upon the police generally the necessity for exercising extreme discretion in proceeding in such cases. They should be well assured, not only that an offence has been committed but also that there is clear and sufficient evidence to support a prosecution. Further, the members of the Police Force authorised either generally or specially to enter licensed houses should not exercise that right capriciously, or without being clearly satisfied that the law is being violated, and that it is their duty to act.”

Submitted.—A.C.F., 7/8/90. May be referred to I.G.P., and also copy order of January, 1889, obtained.—A.J.G., B.C., 7/8/90. T.E.M.N., for U.S.

The date of the circular is the 2nd, not the 12th, February. The phraseology is exact. Circular order No. 856 contains instructions on police subjects generally. I should not feel justified in publishing it without instructions from the Colonial Secretary.—EDM. FOSBERY, Inspector-General of Police, B.C., 8 August, 1890. The Under Secretary, Department of Justice.

Reply from the I.G.P. herewith submitted.—A.C.F., 11/8/90. Seen.—A.J.G., 11/8/90.

Mr. Paul may be officially informed that the phraseology of circular was given exactly, and that as circular order No. 856 contains instructions on Police subjects generally it would appear undesirable to furnish copy of same.—A.J.G., 14/8/90.

Mr. Paul, 14/8/90.

No. 9.

The Under Secretary of Justice to W. H. Paul, Esq., M.P.

Sir,

Department of Justice, Sydney, 14 August, 1890.

Referring to your letter of the 6th instant, respecting the reply of the Minister of Justice to a question asked by you in the Legislative Assembly on that date, on the subject of the administration of the Licensing Acts at Bathurst, I am directed by the Minister to inform you that the circular read in the reply referred to bears date 2nd February, 1882, and that its phraseology was given exactly.

With reference to your request that you may be supplied with a copy of the circular No. 856, of 3rd January, 1889, issued by the Inspector-General of Police, I am to state that the circular contains instructions on Police subjects generally, and it would appear undesirable to furnish a copy of the same.

I have, &amp;c.,

Sir,

Department of Justice, Sydney, 15 August, 1890.

Referring to your letter of the 31st ultimo, further respecting the statement made by you in the Legislative Assembly with regard to the administration of the Licensing law in Bathurst, and giving your authority for such statement, I am directed by the Minister of Justice to forward, for your information, copy of a further report furnished by Senior-Sergeant Musgrove in the matter.

I have, &amp;c.,

ARCH. C. FRASER,

No. 11.

W. H. Paul, Esq., M.P., to The Under Secretary of Justice.

Sir,

Sydney, 20 August, 1890.

I have to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 15th instant, conveying to me the further report of Senior-Sergeant Musgrove, in which he denies that he made the statement attributed to him, re "the closing of public-houses at 11 o'clock and on Sundays in Bathurst." The probable case put by Senior-Sergeant Musgrove never took place. I attach a letter from Mr. James Bateup, in which he states that his conversation on this subject with the sergeant took place at the Police Court. It was in front of my shop that I met Senior-Sergeant Musgrove when he gave me the information I have stated; no other person was present.

I am, &amp;c.,

W. H. PAUL.

[Enclosure.]

My dear Sir,

Temperance Hall, Sydney, 20 August, 1890.

Mr. Musgrove's statement that it was in your shop that I received the information contained in the declaration made by me is not correct; it was given to me in the precincts of the Bathurst Police Court.

W. H. Paul, Esq., M.P.

Yours, &amp;c.,

JAMES BATEUP.

LICENSING ACT AMENDMENT BILL.

(PETITION FROM J. STRAUGHEN, CHAIRMAN OF BAPTIST UNION, IN FAVOUR OF.)

Received by the Legislative Assembly, 24 September, 1890.

---

To the Honorable the Legislative Assembly of New South Wales.

The humble Petition of the Baptist Union of New South Wales in Annual Session assembled,—
RESPECTFULLY SHOWETH:—

That your Petitioners are strongly of opinion that great and serious evils arise from the law which allows more than one bar in houses licensed for the sale of spirituous liquors.

That your Petitioners are also of opinion that no female should be allowed to labour in any public-house bar.

Your Petitioners, therefore, pray that your Honorable House will see fit to assent to the Bill intituled "A Bill to so amend the law regulating the Liquor Traffic as to enact that not more than one bar shall be allowed in each hotel, and to provide for the abolition of female labour therein, and for other purposes connected therewith."

And your Petitioners, as in duty bound, will ever pray, &c.

Signed for and on behalf of the Baptist Union of New South Wales,

To the Honorable the Speaker and Members of the Legislative Assembly of New South Wales.

The humble Petition of the residents of Castle Hill and surrounding district,—

HUMBLY SHOWETH:—

That, in the opinion of your Petitioners, private bars and the employment of females as barmaids in public houses should be prohibited, and we humbly pray that your Honorable House will support and pass into law the Bill introduced by Mr. Creer for that purpose.

LICENSING ACT AMENDMENT BILL.

(PETITION FROM MEMBERS OF THE COMMITTEE OF THE CONGREGATIONAL UNION OF NEW SOUTH WALES, IN FAVOUR OF.)

Received by the Legislative Assembly, 14 October, 1890.

To the Honorable the Speaker and the Honorable the Members of the Legislative Assembly, in Parliament assembled.

The Petition of the undersigned members of the Committee appointed by the Congregational Union of New South Wales in the interests of temperance and morality,—

HUMBLY SHOWETH :—

1. That your Petitioners regard with deep and earnest concern the fact that the existing licensing law permits the employment of barmaids in public-houses.
2. That past experience has clearly demonstrated that such a vocation for females has, for many of them, a most baneful influence, for the scenes and language that characterise the public-house bar are often such that they should not be witnessed or heard by any innocent or respectable girl or woman.
3. That in this Colony there are many honorable and suitable domestic and industrial vocations in which females may engage, and the prevention of this class of employment (proved to be so disastrous) would not therefore cause any serious difficulty.
4. That your Petitioners hail with extreme pleasure and satisfaction the fact that a Bill has been introduced into your Honorable House to prohibit the employment of females at the bars of public-houses and to abolish all private bars.
5. Your Petitioners therefore pray your Honorable House to take the said Bill into favourable consideration so that the employment of females at the bars of public-houses may be absolutely prohibited, and an incalculable benefit conferred upon a class in our community whose happiness and virtue and truest welfare are now so greatly imperilled.

And your Petitioners, as in duty bound, will ever pray.

WE, the undersigned, President and officers, on behalf of the members of the General Havelock Tent, Independent Order of Rechabites, at Auburn, in the district of Central Cumberland, humbly desire to bring before your notice :—

1. That, according to our knowledge and experience, intemperance is a great and growing evil.
