Bills

Members were reminded of the importance of a second reading speech, 14671 (06.05.09), 14672 (06.05.09), 16098 (17.06.09)

Speeches are constrained by the long title of the bill and should not be tedious or repetitious. The member with the call had not contravened the traditions of the House and was allowed to proceed, 16134 (17.06.09)

A member who had intended to speak to a bill was locked out of the Chamber at a time when, if present, he would have sought the call. Because no member sought the call, the Chair gave the call to the Parliamentary Secretary to reply to the second reading debate. That members are not present to participate in debate when the bells have been rung and the House begins to sit is neither here nor there: it is a matter for them. If members wish to contribute to a particular debate, they should be present when the debate is called on. However, if a member intends to speak but is physically unable to enter the Chamber, a matter of privilege arises. The Chair called off the division and gave the call as a matter of privilege to the member who was unable to enter the Chamber, 16468 (23.06.09)

By definition, and in accordance with tradition, in a House of review the second reading debate may be wide ranging. During the debate members had referred extensively to the bill, to previous governments and even to members in the other place. Equally, any reply to the debate may be wide ranging, 16691 (24.06.09)

A member may, subject to the standing orders, make a statement during debate on the third reading of a bill, 16709 (24.06.09)

The Chair reminded members that the purpose of the third reading of a bill is to ensure a last opportunity to oppose the legislation. Debate on the third reading should be confined to that question, 16710 (24.06.09). a member was asked to address the third reading of the bill, 16710 (24.06.09)

Debate

Members should not read their speeches. They should not read lengthy extracts from books, documents or other articles. Extracts should be read in as precise a manner as possible. However, it is the convention that members may refer to copious notes, 14370 (02.04.09), 14371 (02.04.09)

The Chair reminded members that President Johnson had said on a number of occasions that Presidents are given a lot of gifts but clairvoyance was not amongst them. Members who wish to seek the call should rise in their places and use words to the effect, "Mr President", 16615 (24.06.09)

Divisions

The Chair called off the division and gave the call as a matter of privilege to the member who was unable to enter the Chamber, 16468 (23.06.09)

THE PRESIDENT (THE HON. PETER PRIMROSE) (continued)Documents

A member claimed that another member came close to violating privilege by referring to certain documents. The Chair had not seen the material, but asked members to bear in mind that the material was confidential, 12886 (04.03.09)

A member had sought leave to incorporate two reports in Hansard. However, as the member was consulting with other members on the matter, the Chair would not put the question to the House until and unless the member renewed her request to have the documents incorporated, 13838 (26.03.09)

Interjections, interruptions and disorderConversation

Members who wish to conduct private conversations should do so outside the Chamber, 13659 (25.03.09), 13666 (25.03.09), 14349 (02.04.09)

There was too much audible conversation in the Chamber and the President's Gallery. People who wished to remain in the gallery were asked to cease conversing, 14572 (05.05.09)

The Chair had difficulty hearing the member with the call. Members were asked to have regard to the efforts of Hansard in trying to report the eloquent words of members, 15599 (03.06.09)

Members were asked to desist from having loud conversations, 16659 (24.06.09)

Interjections

Members should not respond to interjections, 13359 (12.03.09), 14349 (02.04.09), 14361 (02.04.09), 13827 (26.03.09), 14324 (02.04.09), 16295 (18.06.09).

Interjections are disorderly at all times, 13570 (24.03.09), 14175 (01.04.09), 14375 (02.04.09), 16135 (17.06.09), 16629 (24.06.09), and the most basic right of the member with the call is to be heard. The Chair would take appropriate action if members failed to give that respect, 14175 (01.04.09)

The Chair does not stop interjections when they are part of the flow of debate, except when they become disorderly. However, if a member bait another member it is difficult for the Chair to maintain order. Members will adhere to the standing orders, 14326 (02.04.09)

The Chair reminded members that the rules of the House do not provide for members to have afternoon sleeps. The Chair asked members who had the grizzles to leave the Chamber. The Chair asked members who remained to allow the member with the call to speak free of interjections, 14841 (07.05.09)

A member who was in fine voice was asked to tone down his interjections, 14972 (12.05.09)

Hansard had difficulty reporting the proceedings because members kept interjecting on the member with the call, 16444 (23.06.09)

A practice had developed in the House where members acknowledged interjections, which are disorderly at all times. In accordance with tradition, the Chair tolerates interjections that facilitate debate and argument. However, the fundamental privilege of the member with the call to speak freely and be heard is breached when other members continually interject. The Chair will not interfere to require members not to interject so long as the interjections facilitate debate and do not cause disruption and infringe on a member's fundamental privilege to be heard, 16631 (24.06.09)

Given members had agreed to a matter being debated, the Chair presumed that they were of the view that it was important. Therefore, the member with the call was entitled to contribute to the debate without interruption, 16657 (24.06.09)

The Chair thanked members for respecting the right of members to speak freely and be heard. The Chair invited a member to speak in reply and asked that she be accorded the same respect, 16659 (24.06.09)

Interruptions

The Chamber was a place for debate and members were required to observe its forms. While people in the public gallery may be concerned about a number of issues, they too must observe the forms of the House, 15737 (04.06.09)

3 March 2009 to 26 June 2009

THE PRESIDENT (THE HON. PETER PRIMROSE) (continued)Interjections, interruptions and disorder (continued)Order and decorum

Members should direct their comments through the Chair, 13563 (24.03.09), 14353 (02.04.09), 14361 (02.04.09), 15611 (03.06.09), 15779 (04.06.09), 16467 (23.06.09)

There was excessive jocularity in the Chamber, 14168 (01.04.09)

Members should refer to other members by their correct titles, 14844 (07.05.09)

Members were asked to allow the debate to continue with some decorum, 16147 (17.06.09)

Although debate is robust, members should treat the question before the House with the decorum it deserves, 16298 (18.06.09)

Points of order

A member was asked to make her point, 13355 (12.03.09)

A member was asked to state his point of order, 13535 (24.03.09), 13676 (25.03.09), repeat his point of order, 13559 (24.03.09)

The Chair was pleased that a member was not making debating points, 13692 (25.03.09)

The Chair had heard enough on a point of order, 15122 (13.05.09).

The Chair could not hear the point of order, 16425 (23.06.09)

A member took a point of order and made a statement as part of that point of order. The Chair ruled that there was no point of order. Accordingly, the Chair did not regard the statement made by the member to be a statement to the House. The member took a point of order and the Chair ruled it out of order, 16710 (24.06.09)

Questions without notice

The Leader of the Opposition will allow the Minister to answer the question, 14320 (02.04.09).

A member had asked an important question, which the Minister had been seeking to answer. Because of constant interjections the Chair had not heard most of the answer. Members were asked to allow the Minister to continue to be generally relevant, 15101 (13.05.09)

A member was skating on thin ice. If a question was worth asking, it was reasonable that the Minister be allowed to answer it, 15101 (13.05.09)

Hansard must be having difficulty reporting the proceedings. Members should allow the Minister to respond to the important question, 16085 (17.06.09)

A member was asked to cease interjecting and to allow the Minister to answer the question, 16635 (24.06.09)

Long bell

In accordance with precedent, as there was no Minister or Parliamentary Secretary in the House the Chair left the chair until the ringing of one long bell, 16728 (24.06.09)

Ministerial statements

The Chair reminded members of Standing Order 48 (2), which states that the Leader of the Opposition or a member nominated by the Leader of the Opposition may speak to a ministerial statement. Therefore, the Chair assumed that the member with the call was the person nominated by the Leader of the Opposition. It was in order for her to respond to the ministerial statement, 12758 (03.03.09)

Notices of motions

A member had given notice of a motion under Standing Order 52 calling for documents concerning the removal from office and withdrawal of commissions of Mr Tony Stewart, MP. The motion also called for documents relating to subsequent legal action. As documents related to the subsequent legal action fall within the administration of justice, under Standing Order 53 they may only be requested in the form of an address to the Governor. This part of the motion was therefore out of order. The Chair directed the Clerk to amend the notice accordingly, 16638 (24.06.09)

THE PRESIDENT (THE HON. PETER
PRIMROSE) (continued)*Offensive and objectionable remarks, imputations and aspersions

Members cannot reflect on other members except by way of substantive motion. Imputations of improper motives to, or personal reflections on, members are deemed to be disorderly at all times, 12989 (05.03.09), 14672 (06.05.09), 15795 (04.06.09), 15796 (04.06.09), 16298 (18.06.09), 16524 (23.06.09), 16632 (24.06.09), 16633 (24.06.09)

Members simply citing the fact that something is in a newspaper is not adequate in this House. If a member wishes to cite a matter as having been in the media as a basis for an allegation, then the member should be able and willing to say that he or she authorises and believes that to be the case, 12989 (05.03.09)

The Chair reminded a member of a ruling of President Chadwick on 17 November 1998 in relation to improper reflections on the motives of members, 12989 (05.03.09)

If a member wished to withdraw the words referred to, the Chair would not need to rule on the matter, 13866 (26.03.09)

A member was reminded of the standing orders relating to accusations against other members, 14085 (31.03.09)

The Chair reminded members of a 1987 ruling by President Johnson, which stated:

... when a person is in public life and a Member of Parliament, the risk of being criticised in a political way must be taken. Politics is not an area for sensitive persons. In the course of debate when members canvass the opinions and conduct of their opponents, they must expect criticism. 14180 (01.04.09)

While the language of the member was unparliamentary, previous Presidents had ruled that objection must be taken by the member at whom the remark was directed, 15779 (04.06.09)

A member was asked to consider withdrawing the imputation, 16135 (17.06.09)

A member was sailing close to the wind with regard to using arguments, inferences and imputations. However, Standing Order 65 (1) had not been transgressed, 16636 (24.06.09)

THE PRESIDENT (THE HON. PETER
PRIMROSE) (continued)*Expressions withdrawn or required to be withdrawn

"The old faithful went off too quickly this time," 15121 (13.05.09)

Points of order

Not involved, 12768 (03.03.09), 12859 (04.03.09), 12861 (04.03.09), 13000 (05.03.09), 13351 (12.03.09), 13559 (24.03.09), 13676 (25.03.09), 13678 (25.03.09), 14085 (31.03.09), 14360 (02.04.09), 14361 (02.04.09), 14569 (05.05.09), 14679 (06.05.09), 15307 (14.05.09), 15779 (04.06.09), 16709 (24.06.09)

Upheld

Members cannot reflect on other members except by way of substantive motion, 12989 (05.03.09)

A supplementary question was ruled out of order because it repeated the original question, 13002 (05.03.09)

A procedural motion was before the House and that the only comments that were in order were those that related to why the matter should proceed, 15121 (13.05.09)

Interjections are disorderly at all times, 14375 (02.04.09)

The Chair allowed the section of the question that, correctly, asked the Minister to elucidate his answer. How the Minister chose to elucidate was obviously a matter for the Minister, 15292 (14.05.09)

Ministers are required to give a generally relevant answer to the question asked, 16447 (23.06.09)

Privilege

A member claimed that another member came close to violating privilege by referring to certain documents. The Chair had not seen the material, but asked members to bear in mind that the material was confidential, 12886 (04.03.09)

Procedure

When debating a procedural motion members should restrict their comments to the motion and not the substantive motion, 12885 (04.03.09), 13008 (05.03.09), 13690 (25.03.09), 13691 (25.03.09), 15087 (13.05.09), 16426 (23.06.09), and the only comments that are in order relate to why the item of business should proceed and other items should be delayed, 16649 (24.06.09), 16651 (24.06.09), 16652 (24.06.09). The Chair would not take up the time of members to again explain why the point of order was upheld, 15121 (13.05.09)

A member was asked to confine her remarks as to whether standing and sessional orders should be suspended, 12886 (04.03.09)

A member had sought leave to suspend standing and sessional orders to allow her to move a motion to seek precedence to introduce a bill. The standing orders do not provide that members be consulted in relation to bills. Members may consult with whomever they wish in relation to their bills. Bills are presented to the House when they are introduced, 12986 (05.03.09)

Arguing the importance of a matter is not the same as arguing its urgency relative to that of other items of business on the Notice Paper. A member was asked to bear that in mind as she proceeded, 13691 (25.03.09), 16651 (24.06.09)

A member arguing why a matter is urgent is not the same as a member making a case to establish its importance. The Chair presumed that members would not place items on the Notice Paper they did not believe were important, 15121 (13.05.09)

The Chair again presumed that members would not place items on the Notice Paper they did not believe were important. Arguing whether something is important was not the issue before the House. A procedural motion was before the House and, consequently, the only comments that were in order were those that relate to why one item of business should proceed and the other items of business should be delayed. Members must confine their remarks to that, rather than address the substantive motion, 15122 (13.05.09)

The Chair referred members to Standing Order 200, which states that members are required to establish a degree of urgency sufficient for the House to agree to the motion. Often in matters of this nature it is necessary to give some indication of the substance of the debate to follow in order to establish the degree of urgency necessary. In putting their case members should make statements that bear on the question of urgency rather than the substantive issue, 13692 (25.03.09).

Although a member had not given contingent notice to suspend standing orders to allow an item of business to proceed, as no point of order was taken and as the House agreed to the matter being called on, it proceeded, 15458 (02.06.09)

In accordance with precedent, as there was no Minister or Parliamentary Secretary in the House the Chair left the chair until the ringing of one long bell, 16728 (24.06.09)

Questions without notice

A question did not contain any more argument than would normally be found in a question asked in the House. Therefore, the question was not ruled out of order, 13137 (10.03.09)

Standing Order 95 requires the Chair to enforce the standing orders and rules of the House. The Chair had observed that thus far during question time a number of questions had contained argument, inferences, imputations, ironical expressions, hypothetical matters, and requests for expressions of opinion and statements of Government policy. The Chair urged members to refer to Standing Order 65 and, if further assistance was required, to consult the Clerks before drafting their questions, 13224 (11.03.09)

Earlier in question time a point of order had been taken in relation to a question seeking an announcement of Government policy. The Chair was guided by Odgers' Australian Senate Practice and ruled the question in order. The Chair asked the member to restate her question, 13358 (12.03.09).

The Chair advised a member that questions without notice is not a debate, 13355 (12.03.09), that members cannot debate questions, 13847 (26.03.09), 16637 (24.06.09), but they can debate the issue to which it refers, 16637 (24.06.09)

A Minister must not debate the question, but may debate the substance of the question, 15750

PRIMROSE) (continued)Questions without notice (continued)

(04.06.09). Ministers must not debate questions asked of them other than to refer to the actual issues raised in them, 16075 (17.06.09)

The Treasurer was not debating the question; he was debating the policies of another party, 13841 (26.03.09)

Question ruled out of order, 15749 (04.06.09), because it made inferences and contained argument, 13355 (12.03.09), 14177 (01.04.09), 14327 (02.04.09), because it did not relate to public affairs with which the Minister was connected, 14025 (31.03.09), 14177 (01.04.09).

Questions and answers to questions should not contain inferences or imputations against another member, 13355 (12.03.09)

The Government Whip argued that the question sought an announcement of Government policy. The Chair's understanding was that the question sought a statement on existing policy. The Chair would seek guidance and rule on the question before the conclusion of questions without notice, 13357 (12.03.09)

A member was asked to rephrase his question, 14024 (31.03.09)

While the Chair understood the concerns raised by the Government Whip, the question did not breach the standing orders and was therefore in order. The Chair asked the Minister to respond, 14174 (01.04.09)

The Chair understood the member's concerns about terms such as "will the Minister announce". However, having reviewed the question in its entirety, the Chair ruled it in order, 14673 (06.05.09)

The Chair asked members to bear in mind Standing Order 65 (1) and (2) before framing their questions. It is out of order for members to ask for expressions of opinions. However, the part of the question that asked the Minister to explain the rationale behind the decision was in order and the Chair invited the Minister to answer that part of the question if he wished to do so, 16279 (18.06.09)

PRIMROSE) (continued)Questions without notice (continued)Supplementary questions

A supplementary question was ruled out of order because it repeated the original question, 13002 (05.03.09), because it was a separate question, 16276 (18.06.09)

Supplementary questions may be asked at the discretion of the President. The Chair allowed the section of the question that, correctly, asked the Minister to elucidate his answer. How the Minister chose to elucidate was obviously a matter for the Minister, 15292 (14.05.09)

The Chair allowed the supplementary question, 15563 (03.06.09), 16276 (18.06.09), but the member could not take a point of clarification, 16276 (18.06.09)

A member had not asked a supplementary question, 16445 (23.06.09)

Minister's latitude

Ministers are required to give a generally relevant answer to the question asked, 12765 (03.03.09), 13004 (05.03.09), 13005 (05.03.09), 13224 (11.03.09), 13227 (11.03.09), 13353 (12.03.09), 13535 (24.03.09), 13841 (26.03.09), 13847 (26.03.09), 14174 (01.04.09), 14319 (02.04.09), 14324 (02.04.09), 14567, (05.05.09), 14569, (05.05.09), 14829 (07.05.09), 14998 (12.05.09), 15001 (12.05.09), 16075 (17.06.09), 16281 (18.06.09), 16282 (18.06.09), 16283 (18.06.09), 16447 (19.06.09), 16632 (24.06.09), rulings of former Presidents clearly defined what was meant by "generally relevant", 13200 (11.03.09), 15101 (13.05.09), 15285 (14.05.09), 15291 (14.05.09), members were asked to allow the Minister to continue to be generally relevant, 15101 (13.05.09)

The Chair had asked the Minister to be generally relevant. A member claimed that the Minister was flouting the ruling. The Chair took the point of order under consideration, 13227 (11.03.09)

The Chair cannot direct Ministers how to answer questions, 13229 (11.03.09), compel Ministers to answer questions in a manner different from that which they choose, 14829 (07.05.09), 15104 (13.05.09)

It is not for the Chair to direct a Minister how to answer a question. Standing orders require an answer that is relevant to the question, and members must not debate the question. Again, the Chair asked the Minister to be generally relevant, 14175 (01.04.09)

3 March 2009 to 26 June 2009

Relevance

Members will address the bill, 14168 (01.04.09), 16624 (24.06.09), confine their remarks to the long title of the bill, 14672 (06.05.09), speeches are constrained by the long title of the bill and should not be tedious or repetitious. The member with the call had not contravened the traditions of the House and was allowed to proceed, 16134 (17.06.09)

While debate on the second reading of a bill may be wide ranging, members will address the substance of the bill, 14361 (02.04.09)

The Chair extends considerable latitude to members during debate on private members' motions. The use of epithets, while contrary to the standing orders when asking questions, is not contrary to the standing orders when debating motions such as that before the House. However, it is contrary to the practice of the House for members to refer to other members by anything other than their correct title. The Chair urged all members to extend that customary respect to one another during the debate, 14844 (07.05.09)

A member was asked to address the question of urgency, 15086 (13.05.09)

Use of electronic devices

The Chair acknowledged that the use of electronic devices in the Chamber needed to be addressed. The Chair undertook to take up the matter and report back to the House. The Chair made it clear that it was not the intention to suppress the use of electronic devices but rather to have a general policy on the issue, 12763 (03.03.09)

THE DEPUTY PRESIDENT AND CHAIR OF COMMITTEES (THE HON. AMANDA FAZIO)Amendments

The Chair advised members that they would be called when their amendments were due to be moved, 13232 (11.03.09)

The Chair ruled in favour of the member speaking to the motion that the clause be agreed to, 13232 (11.03.09)

The Chair explained to the member that her amendment was consequential on the omission of part 5. As it was not omitted, Greens amendment No. 2 could not be moved, 13238 (11.03.09)

The Chair allowed a member to move her amendment, but pointed out that if it were agreed to the bill would look unusual, 13239 (11.03.09)

The amendment dealt with the Barangaroo Delivery Authority Bill 2009. Therefore, it was not appropriate for members to refer at length to another development that is not associated with Barangaroo headland park. The member's comments may have been relevant during the second reading debate, but they were not appropriate in the consideration of the amendment, 13704 (25.03.09)

A member was reminded of Standing Order 92 (1) and asked to confine her remarks to the amendment before the Committee. The member's comments in relation to extraneous matters were bordering on repetitious, 13705 (25.03.09)

It was not appropriate for a member to speak further at that time. The member could seek the call after the Parliamentary Secretary moved the Government's amendment, 16141 (17.06.09)

An amendment had not been moved. The Committee was dealing with part 1 of the bill, and members were speaking against the adoption of it, 16480 (23.06.09)

In Committee

The motion moved by a member was in order. In accordance with Standing Order 173 (6), the motion must be moved without debate and immediately put and determined, and it could not be repeated within 15 minutes, 16151 (17.06.09)

THE DEPUTY PRESIDENT AND CHAIR OF

An amendment had not been moved. The Committee was dealing with part 1 of the bill, and members were speaking against the adoption of it, 16480 (23.06.09)

It was not in order for a member to move that a clause be deleted. However, a member could argue that members should not vote to adopt the clause, 16726 (24.06.09)

Interjections, interruptions and disorderConversation

Members were asked to cease chatting or leave the Chamber. Members who were trying to follow the debate were having difficulty hearing the member with the call, 14378 (02.04.09)

Members will not engage in conversation in the Chamber, 16483 (23.06.09)

Interjections

Interjections are disorderly at all times, 13584 (24.03.09), 16477 (23.06.09)

Members who wished to participate in a discussion with the member with the call should do so after his speech and not interject during his speech, 14042 (31.03.09)

Members should not interject and the member with the call should not respond to interjections, 16712 (24.06.09), 16715 (24.06.09)

Interruptions

Members of the public are welcome in the public gallery of the Chamber. However, it is expected that they will observe the normal courtesies that the House demands and not attempt to participate in or disrupt proceedings. The Chair outlined the behaviour expected of visitors. People in the public gallery who did not abide by the standards of behaviour expected of them would be asked to leave, 15752 (04.06.09), the Chair reminded people in the public gallery of her earlier ruling, 15755 (04.06.09), 15758 (04.06.09), the Chair directed the attendants to remove the person who was interjecting from the public gallery, 15758 (04.06.09), 15764 (04.06.09)

THE DEPUTY PRESIDENT AND CHAIR OF
COMMITTEES (THE HON. AMANDA

If there were further interjections from people in the public gallery, the Chair would have no option but to clear the gallery. The Chair was reluctant to do that so implored people in the gallery to maintain the standards of behaviour required of them, 15758 (04.06.09), members of the public gallery were reminded that they could not interject on the proceedings of the House, 15763 (04.06.09), it was difficult for members of the public gallery to observe the rules of the House if members did not set a good example, 15763 (04.06.09)

Order and decorum

It was not appropriate for members to engage in discussions across the table. The member with the call was asked to speak to the amendment, 14411 (02.04.09), members were asked not to engage in slanging matches across the Chamber, 16478 (23.06.09)

Members should not make direct reflections on other members, 14865 (07.05.09)

Members should not address their remarks to people in the public gallery; they should address their remarks through the Chair, 15754 (04.06.09), 15762 (04.06.09)

Members should direct their comments through the Chair, 16478 (23.06.09)

Points of order

A member was asked to state his point of order, 14864 (07.05.09), 15764 (04.06.09), direct his comments to the point of order, 15763 (04.06.09)

The Chair would not hear further argument on a point of order, 16478 (23.06.09)

A member would not interrupt a member taking a point of order, 16480 (23.06.09)

Mobile phones

Members were asked to switch their mobile phones to silent in the Chamber. The Chair would be compelled to call members to order if their mobile phones were heard to ring in the Chamber, 16483 (23.06.09)

THE DEPUTY PRESIDENT AND CHAIR OF COMMITTEES (THE HON. AMANDA FAZIO) (continued)

Offensive and objectionable remarks, imputations and aspersions

Standing Order 91 (3) states:

A member may not use offensive words against either House of the Legislature, or any member of either House, and all imputations of improper motives and all personal reflections on either House, member or officers will be considered disorderly.

The Chair upheld the point of order because the member referred to matters that would be dealt with only by the Minister. The member was asked to refrain from contravening the standing order, 13704 (25.03.09)

A member must not canvass a ruling of the Chair. The Chair called the member to order for her flagrant challenge to the ruling. The member was advised to proceed with caution, 13704 (25.03.09)

Members cannot reflect on other members except by way of substantive motion. Imputations of improper motives to, or personal reflections on, members are deemed to be disorderly at all times 16473 (23.06.09), 16478 (23.06.09)

A member should speak to the bill and not reflect on other members, 16473 (23.06.09), 16474 (23.06.09), 16480 (23.06.09)

Expressions withdrawn or required to be withdrawn

A member was reminded of Standing Order 92 (1) and asked to confine her remarks to the amendment before the Committee. The member's comments in relation to extraneous matters were bordering on repetitious, 13705 (25.03.09)

Procedure

A member should not canvass a decision of the House, 16152 (17.06.09)

Relevance

The amendment dealt with the Barangaroo Delivery Authority Bill 2009. Therefore, it was not appropriate for members to refer at length to another development that is not associated with Barangaroo headland park. The member's comments may have been relevant during the second reading debate, but they were not appropriate in the consideration of the amendment, 13704 (25.03.09)

As other members had spoken unchallenged of their belief in the motivation for the bill, the Chair allowed the member with the call to continue with his similar point, 15763 (04.06.09), 15764 (04.06.09), but he was asked to be generally relevant and not stray from the subject matter of the bill, 15764 (04.06.09)

Bills

Debate during the second reading stage is quite wide ranging. However, the Chair asked the member to continue to be generally relevant, 20179 (01.12.09)

In accordance with Standing Order 92, members must not digress from the subject matter of the motion of the bill before the House. The comments of the member with the call were in order. In proceeding with his contribution, the member was asked to ensure that his comments were generally relevant to the subject matter of the bill before the House, 20180 (01.12.09)

Interjections, interruptions and disorder

Interjections

Members had expressed a desire that the proceedings in the House not be too rigidly controlled. However, the level of interjection should not be such that Ministers answering questions had to shout to be heard, 19648 (24.11.09)

The Chair reminded members that interjections are disorderly at all times, 19813 (25.11.09), 19819 (25.11.09), 19997 (26.11.09), 20199 (01.12.09), 20534 (03.12.09), 20535 (03.12.09), Members were asked to cease interjecting and allow the Minister's answer to be heard, 19819 (25.11.09), If the Chair cannot hear the question being asked, the Minister to whom it is being asked cannot hear it either, 19997 (26.11.09), It is difficult for the Hansard staff to produce an accurate record of proceedings when the volume of interjection is at such an unacceptable level, 19813 (25.11.09)

It is not appropriate or in accordance with the standing orders for a member to interject, 20012 (26.11.09)

The member with the call should ignore interjections and her contribution should remain relevant to the motion before the House, 20541 (03.12.09)

Order and decorum

Placing bets in the Chamber is against the standing orders, 20536 (03.12.09)

Members must address their remarks through the Chair, not to people in the gallery, 20540 (03.12.09)

Points of order

Points of order must not contain argument, 19647 (24.11.09)

The Chair was not sure whether a member could take a point of order on a point of order, 19817 (25.11.09)

A member was asked to speak to the point of order rather than address the House on the issue, 20180 (01.12.09)

A member was debating the point, not taking a point of order, 20526 (03.12.09)

The Chair clarified a member's point of order, 20534 (03.12.09), whether a member was speaking to the point of order, 20536 (03.12.09)

The Chair advised the member that there is no such thing as a point of clarification. The Chair asked whether the member wanted to take a point of order, 20548 (03.12.09)

Opposition members should not engage in childish behaviour during question time, 19996 (26.11.09)

Members should abide by the standing orders and act in a parliamentary fashion during question time, 20535 (03.12.09)

Mobile phones

The Chair reminded members to place their mobile phones on the silent setting before entering the House, 19990 (26.11.09), 20381 (02.12.09)

Offensive and objectionable remarks, imputations and aspersions

A member took objection to comments made by a Minister and asked for them to be withdrawn. The Chair asked the member which comments he wanted withdrawn. The Chair advised the member that he could not take a point of order about comments that were made when the Minister was not addressing the House, 19647 (24.11.09)

The insult about which the Deputy Leader of the Opposition raised a point of order was made collectively to the Opposition, not to individual members. According to rulings of previous Presidents, that is not unparliamentary, 20526 (03.12.09)

The Chair reminded the member with the call that she could not make imputations against another member unless by way of notice on the Notice Paper for that purpose, 20584 (03.12.09), A member was making an accusation against another member. If she had a further contribution that did not impugn another member she could continue, 20584 (03.12.09), While the member's time had expired, she had not got to the point of making an imputation against a member that she had identified, 20584 (03.12.09), A member was allowed to continue provided she did not canvass matters referred to in the point of order, 20586 (03.12.09)

Questions without noticeQuestions

A question was in order, 19818 (25.11.09)

Supplementary questions

The question asked sought further comment on matters raised by the Minister in his answer and therefore was in order as a supplementary question, 19646 (24.11.09)

It is difficult for the Chair to rule on points of order when members on both sides of the House are guilty of interjecting and making so much noise that little can be heard of the Minister's answer. The Chair did not hear the Minister use the word "heatwave" and, accordingly, upheld the point of order. The supplementary question was ruled out of order because the member was not asking the Minister to elucidate any aspect of his answer, 20197 (01.12.09)

Members should be prompt in seeking the call to ask a supplementary question, 20199 (01.12.09)

Minister's latitude

Ministers are required to give a generally relevant answer to the question asked, 19647 (24.11.09), 19656 (24.11.09), 19820 (25.11.09), 20373 (02.12.09), 20535 (03.12.09), 20536 (03.12.09)

Bills

Members are granted considerable latitude to address matters that they believe are relevant when they contribute to debate on proposed legislation or when foreshadowing amendments to bills. However, the Chair reminded members that by tradition in the House contributions to debate on legislation are constrained by the long title of the bill before the Chair. Although the long title of the bill before the House made no mention of guns per se, it made specific mention of dangerous implements in public places. The member with the call was reminded that she should confine her remarks to the broad parameters of the long title of the bill, 18520 (22.10.09)

Although debates in the House may be wide ranging, the fact that a bill had in its title the words "education", "school" and "attendance" did not mean that members were free to range over anything to do with those topics. The long title of the bill was relevant. The Chair urged members with the call to be aware of the long title. The member with the call was allowed to continue provided he confined his comments to the scope of the long title, 18696 (27.10.09)

While traditionally second reading debates are wide ranging, the Chair reminded members that they were constrained by the long title of the bill, 18846 (28.10.09), Debate outside the long title of a bill is not in order, 18847 (28.10.09), Members were asked to bear in mind the long title of the bill, 18848 (28.10.09)

Debate

Wide-ranging debate is encouraged and members speak as broadly as possible. The Chair reminded the House that President Johnson ruled that when speaking in reply to a debate a member is entitled to reply to assertions that have been made by other members during debate. He ruled also that in reply members should relate their remarks as far as possible to the debate that had taken place. Accordingly, the Chair asked the member with the call not to introduce new material in her speech in reply. However, the member was free to reply to assertions made by members in their contributions, whether implied or specific, 17686 (10.09.09)

The member with the call was replying to assertions that had been made in the broad and wide-ranging debate, 17686 (10.09.09)

Documents

The Chair was not familiar with the material being quoted by the member. However, the Chair reminded members that material that is privileged remains privileged, 17265 (03.09.09), Given a matter of privilege may arise, the member with the call was asked to clarify the source of his material, 17265 (03.09.09), The Chair had given the member with the call the appropriate warning. Therefore, it was not appropriate for other members to question the member with the call. He had assured the House of certain matters and was allowed to proceed, 17266 (03.09.09)

Interjections are disorderly at all times, 17523 (09.09.09)

THE PRESIDENT (THE HON. PETER

It is extremely difficult for the Chair, let alone other members, to be fully aware of what is going on in debate when members insist on interjecting despite the Chair's repeated requests that they not do so. Members should allow the free flow of debate in the Chamber. The prime privilege of members is to be heard, and the Chair proposed to uphold that privilege. Members should not interject solely for the purpose of preventing another member from expressing a point of view, 18093 (24.09.09)

No point of order had been taken. The Chair urged members to pay the member with the call the courtesy of allowing him to speak, 18527 (22.10.09)

Members were asked to pay due courtesy to the member with the call, 18821 (28.10.09)

Given the topic of the debate, members were asked to display suitable decorum and to respect the ultimate privilege of all matters of the House, which is the right to be heard, 19477 (12.11.09)

The prime privilege of members is to be heard. Given the nature of the debate, the Chair asked all members to respect the right of members to exercise that privilege. In a House of debate and review, it is important for members to temper their emotions and respect the rights of other members when the House is dealing with emotional issues, 19482 (12.11.09)

A member wished to take a point of order, 19132 (10.11.09)

A member would not abuse the procedure for taking points of order, 19460 (12.11.09)

Questions without notice

So as to not take up the time of the House, the Chair allowed a member to continue, 17233 (03.09.09)

A Minister was asked to ignore interjections and to respond to the question, 17488 (09.09.09)

Members would respect the Minister's right to address the House, 19461 (12.11.09)

Offensive and objectionable remarks, imputations and aspersions

Imputations of improper motives to, or personal reflections on, members are deemed to be disorderly at all times, 17221 (03.09.09), 17263 (03.09.09), 17687 (10.09.09), 18135 (24.09.09), 18354 (21.10.09), and further breaches of the standing order would only result in further points of order being taken, 17263 (03.09.09)

The Chair reminded members of a ruling of President Johnson, who ruled:

When a person is in political life it is not offensive that things are said about him or her politically ... when a person is in political life and a Member of Parliament, the risk of being criticised in a political way must be taken. Politics is not an area for sensitive persons, 17242 (03.09.09)

Members should refrain from seeking to impugn the reputation of members of either House. The Chair realised that members were responding to the imputations of others, however the Chair reminded members that such responses were inappropriate and contrary to the standing orders, 18096 (24.09.09)

The Chair urged members to exercise their privilege of free speech with good sense and taste and to seek to distinguish between remarks that are offensive in a political, as opposed to personal, way. A member was asked to bear in mind that distinction—difficult though it was—as she proceeded with her contribution, 18135 (24.09.09)

Former Presidents had ruled that collective insults against political parties are not unparliamentary. The Chair referred members to the previous rulings, 18356 (21.10.09)

The Chair reminded members that Standing Order 91 (3) provides:

A member may not use offensive words against either House of the Legislature, or any member of either House, and all imputations of improper motives and all personal reflections on either House, members or officers will be considered disorderly.

The Chair reminded members that a number of Presidents had made rulings dealing with the question of what is an offensive expression. The Chair then referred to a number of rulings of President Johnson. It was clear to the Chair that there was a distinction between expressions applied to an individual member and those applied to a group of members. However, it was also clear that some expressions may be so offensive that even when applied to a group of members rather than an individual they may be regarded as unparliamentary. The Chair referred members to May's Parliamentary Practice:

Good temper and moderation are the characteristics of parliamentary language. Parliamentary language is never more desirable than when a member is canvassing the opinions and conduct of opponents in debate.

The Chair asked all members to observe that statement. If not, the Chair would take the matter further, 18988 (29.10.09), 18989 (29.10.09)

A Minister was asked to consider withdrawing his remark, 19466 (12.11.09), A Minister had not had an opportunity to respond to the Chair's request, 19466 (12.11.09)

Not upheld

The Chair took the advice of the Leader of the Opposition that it was a different question. The supplementary question was ruled out of order, 17069 (02.09.09)

A member claimed that a supplementary question was a new question. However, the question was ruled out of order as it simply repeated the original question, 18361 (21.10.09)

Upheld

A point of order was upheld to the extent that debate should relate to policy and not be directed to individuals, 17221 (03.09.09)

A supplementary question was ruled out of order because it did not ask for an elucidation of the answer, 17229 (03.09.09)

A question must not ask for a statement or announcement of Government policy, 17490 (09.09.09)

The member with the call was asked to speak to whether his/her item of business was more urgent than other business on the Notice Paper, 17961 (23.09.09), 19472 (12.11.09)

A member was debating the substantive bill, not addressing the question of urgency, 18349 (21.10.09), rather than the adjournment of the debate, 18355 (21.10.09)

Procedure

The second reading debate of a bill was discharged from the Notice Paper. The standing orders were silent on whether members could contribute to the procedural motion. However, the Chair was of the view that the House of review should be able to debate such a motion. Accordingly, the Chair allowed members to contribute to the debate, 17064 (02.09.09)

The Chair had stated on numerous occasions that arguing that a matter is urgent under Standing Order 198 (1) is not the same as making a case for why it is important. The Chair presumed that members would not place items on the Notice Paper if they did not believe them to be important. The matter before the House was a procedural motion. Therefore, the only comments that were in order were those that related to why the matter should proceed. Other matters should be delayed. Members should confine their remarks as to why their item was more important than other items on the Notice Paper rather than address the substantive issue, 17348 (08.09.09)

The Chair reminded members that a procedural motion was before the House. Substantive issues were relevant only to the extent that they aid the case that the member is seeking to make as to why this matter is more important than that of any other member and, indeed, than any business item on the Notice Paper. The member with the call should confine her remarks as to why this matter should proceed and other items should be delayed; she should not debate the substantive matter, 17349 (08.09.09)

The Chair again reminded members of Standing Order 198 and what was required when they debated procedural motions, 17357 (08.09.09)

The member with the call was asked to speak to whether his/her item of business was more urgent than other business on the Notice Paper, 17357 (08.09.09), 17358 (08.09.09), 17528 (09.09.09), 17921 (23.09.09), 17961 (23.09.09), 18246 (20.10.09), 19472 (12.11.09)

When contributing to debate members must address the item of business or question that is before the House, 17528 (09.09.09), 17529 (09.09.09)

The Chair reminded members that the point of a procedural debate is not to argue whether

1 September 2009 to 3 December 2009

any item of business is important. Presumably members would not place matters on the Notice Paper that they believe to be unimportant. The issue is whether one item of business is more urgent than, and therefore should be debated before, other items on the Notice Paper. The member was asked to confine her remarks to that issue, 17921 (23.09.09), 17960 (23.09.09)

The Chair reiterated the point the Chair kept making when ruling on points of order on procedure. The various precedents relating to the relevant standing order require members to say why it is more urgent that one item of business is debated before all other matters on the Notice Paper, not why the item of business is important and, therefore, the House should pass it. That would be the subject of a subsequent debate, if the House chose to deal with it. Despite continual rulings to this effect, members continued to present arguments of a substantive nature. Accordingly, the Chair intended to take a different approach and advised members that the Chair would not allow rulings to be ignored. The member with the call was asked to bear the ruling in mind as she proceeded with her speech, 17960 (23.09.09)

A member was debating the substantive bill, not addressing the question of urgency. If members continued to flout the rulings of the Chair on this issue, the Chair would have no choice but to direct members to sit down, 18349 (21.10.09), if the House wished to change the standing orders, it was free to do so, otherwise the Chair was obliged to enforce them, 18349 (21.10.09), the Chair reminded members of the earlier ruling, 18350 (21.10.09)

Members were again reminded to address the question before the Chair, 18352 (21.10.09). The member with the call was reminded that she may reply to debate on the substantive matter at the appropriate time. However, this was a procedural matter and the member was asked to confine her comments to debating whether this matter should or should not be adjourned, 18352 (21.10.09)

Clearly it was impossible for members, when debating a motion to adjourn debate on a matter, not to refer to the substantive motion. However, making reference to the substantive motion was a different thing entirely from engaging in extensive debate on the pros and cons of the substantive motion. Members should address whether the motion should be adjourned. The Chair was obliged to uphold the rules of the House. If members flouted the rules, they would be directed to resume their seats. The member with the call was asked to bear in mind the ruling as she continued her contribution, 18353 (21.10.09)

Members were referred to the earlier rulings of the Chair. Those who read the debate in Hansard would make up their own minds about the intention of the motion of the member. However, the House would ultimately decide whether to support the motion, 18354 (21.10.09)

Although the Chair is obliged to enforce the standing orders, ultimately the decisions of the House are made by the majority of members. The question before the Chair was whether debate should be adjourned, and ultimately a decision would be made by the House. Members were asked to confine their remarks to that question. Members who continued to address the substantive issue would be directed to resume their seats, 18354 (21.10.09)

The Chair had ruled on the point of order. The member would address whether the House should adjourn the debate, 18354 (21.10.09)

The Chair gave a final warning to members. It was not the wish of the Chair to direct members to resume their seats, but the Chair has an obligation to enforce the standing orders that the House has imposed on itself. Members would be asked to address the question before the Chair or resume their seats, 18355 (21.10.09)

A member had alluded to a matter that is relevant to the substantive motion, which the Chair had ruled was in order. However, the member should address the specific question before the House, 18355 (21.10.09)

The member with the call should address the question before the House, not address the substantive motion, 18355 (21.10.09)

THE PRESIDENT (THE HON. PETER

The debate was somewhat complex. The Chair had ruled that it was appropriate in the debate for a member to allude to the substantive matter. However, the member with the call was asked to address the procedural matter that was before the House, 18355 (21.10.09)

The Chair again reminded members that the procedural debate was about relativities. The issue is why this item of business is urgent and should be debated before any other item on the Notice Paper, 18821 (28.10.09). The member was asked to bear in mind the earlier ruling relating to relativity. The member should address why this item of business is more important than any other item on the Notice Paper, 18821 (28.10.09)

The Chair again reminded members of previous rulings. In November 2007 and May 2009 the Chair ruled that members, when seeking to make a case for the suspension of standing and sessional orders, should not address the substantive issues of the matter any more than is necessary to justify the suspension of standing and sessional orders to allow the matter to be debated. The Chair was happy to provide the House with a much more extensive ruling if members required the Chair to do so, 18822 (28.10.09)

The question before the House was whether a matter was more important and more urgent than other matters. The member with the call was arguing why the matter was critical in relation to the date. Hence, the timing of the debate was relevant as to why the matter was more urgent than other matters on the Notice Paper, 19472 (12.11.09)

Questions without noticeQuestions

Ministers will not debate the question, 17076 (02.09.09), 17495 (09.09.09)

While a member had asked a very highly detailed question, the Chair allowed the Minister to answer it, 17078 (02.09.09)

A question was ruled out of order, 18266 (20.10.09), because it asked for a statement or announcement of Government policy, 17490 (09.09.09), because it contained imputations, 18268 (20.10.09)

Although Ministers are not specifically restricted in the way that they answer questions, their responses must be generally relevant to the question asked and they must not debate the question. However, Ministers may debate the actual issue to which the question refers. The rules of debate have regularly been interpreted as also applying to the answering of questions. For example, it has been ruled that answers containing imputations of improper motives and personal reflections are out of order, 17495 (09.09.09)

The Chair reminded members that although there are various rules governing the asking of questions, the standing orders are largely silent with regard to rules relating to the answering of questions. The only specific restriction on answers is that they must be generally relevant to the question asked and that Ministers must not debate the question. However, Ministers may address the actual issue to which the question refers. If the Minister is seeking to address the actual issue to which the question refers, he is in order. However, if he is debating the question, he is out of order, 17824 (22.09.09)

Upon seeking advice a member withdrew her question. Therefore, the Chair did not rule on the matter, 17826 (22.09.09)

A member was asked to complete her question so the Chair could rule on it, 18263 (20.10.09), the Chair allowed the question, 18263 (20.10.09)

A question was in order, 18362 (21.10.09), The Chair allowed the question, 18508 (22.10.09)

The Chair asked the member for a copy of the question. The Chair then allowed the question to be asked in full, 18667 (27.10.09)

A question is in order if it relates to public affairs with which the Minister is officially connected, but it must not relate to private matters involving the Minister. The time for asking the question had expired. However, the Chair extended the same level of fairness extended to another member earlier and allowed the member to complete his question, 18669 (27.10.09)

1 September 2009 to 3 December 2009

It was in order for the Minister to refer to legislation that had been carried or previously considered by the House, but not to a matter that was on the Notice Paper, 18675 (27.10.09), the Chair had made the ruling and invited the Minister to continue, 18675 (27.10.09)

A member asked the chair of a committee a question. The Chair sought advice from the Clerk. The Chair was happy to receive submissions from members on the matter. The Chair advised the chair of the committee of the constraints that apply should she seek to answer the question. The Chair did not propose to rule the question out of order. President Willis had ruled:

It is not competent ... for members to canvass the findings of a committee in relation to a matter upon which it had not reported. It is, however, competent for a member to ask of a committee chair questions relating to the administrative operations of the committee. 18950 (29.10.09)

The Chair had advised that the Chair was prepared to take submissions from members in relation to the matter. However, the Chair further advised that in the usual event of a question being asked of a committee chair, the Chair would ensure that the member is fully cognisant of any matter that may restrict any response from her. A point of order had been taken and the Chair would hear that point of order, 18950 (29.10.09)

The Chair was cognisant of the concerns raised on all sides. However, the Chair was also cognisant that any suggestions of a discrepancy in the argument are based upon records as opposed to any assertion that those records are correct or otherwise. The Chair advised the committee chair that she may answer the question if she chose to do so, 18950 (29.10.09)

Supplementary questions

A supplementary question was ruled out of order because it was a different question, 17069 (02.09.09), because it did not ask for an elucidation of the answer, 17229 (03.09.09), because it repeated the original question,

18361 (21.10.09), 18509 (22.10.09), because it was a new question, 19471 (12.11.09)

The Chair reminded members that restrictions that apply to the form of supplementary questions are restrictions that the House has placed upon itself; they are not imposed by the Chair. The Chair would continue to rule out of order as a supplementary question any question that does not seek elucidation of a Minister's answer. Members must not ask new questions or merely repeat their original question. A supplementary question must arise out of the answer given by the Minister, 18513 (22.10.09)

There was no supplementary question arising out of the answer given by the Treasurer, 18669 (27.10.09)

Minister's latitude

Relevance

When contributing to debate members must address the item of business or question that is before the House, 17528 (09.09.09), 17529 (09.09.09), 18248 (20.10.09), however, by tradition debate in the House may be broad ranging, 18248 (20.10.09)

While second reading debates are wide ranging, they are constrained by the long title of the bill, 17988 (23.09.09)

The member with the call was asked to address the matter before the Chair, 18094 (24.09.09)

Use of props

The degree to which aids and devices may be used in debates rests at all times with the common sense and will of the House, 18947 (29.10.09)

THE DEPUTY PRESIDENT AND CHAIR OF
FAZIO)*Debate

Members must have regard to the entire wording of Standing Order 94 (1). The standing order refers to continued irrelevance and tedious repetition of a matter already presented in debate. The member with the call was making a second reading speech in relation to a bill he had introduced and, therefore, no other matters had been presented in the debate in this regard. The standing order is used infrequently. If it were to become common practice for the standing order to be used, it would be a more used point of order than the one relating to relevance, 18116 (24.09.09)

The member with the call had made a detailed comment on each item in the motion before the House. Members would find that repetitious only if they had read the motion. The member introduced material that had not already been presented in debate, 18124 (24.09.09)

Interjections, interruptions and disorderConversation

If a member did not wish to hear the speech of the member with the call, she should retire to the members lounge, 18114 (24.09.09)

The Chair had noted members gathering at the back of the Chamber to chat while members with the call were addressing the Chair. Although a point of order had not been taken about this disturbing practice, the Chair observed that audible private conversation in the Chamber made it difficult for the Chair and members to hear the debate. Members should retire to the members lounge. The Chair would have no hesitation in calling them to order. Such behaviour was disrespectful not only to the member with the call but the Chamber as a whole, 18114 (24.09.09)

Interjections

A member did not have the call, 17245 (03.09.09), 17398 (08.09.09)

A member was asked to state his point of order, 18123 (24.09.09)

A member should speak to the point of order, which related to relevance, not to the substantive comments that were the subject of the point of order, 18397 (21.10.09)

A member was no longer speaking to the point of order. The Chair reminded the member that her contribution must be generally relevant and that she must confine her remarks to the bill, not to extraneous matters, 18398 (21.10.09)

THE SPEAKER (THE HON. RICHARD

an example to other members, 15227 (13.05.09), it was inappropriate for the Leader of the Opposition to abuse the standing orders. The Leader of the Opposition was well aware of the forms of the House available to him, 15227 (13.05.09), the Chair had extended a degree of latitude to the Leader of the Opposition, but he would come to order, 15679 (03.06.09), the behaviour of the Leader of the Opposition did him no credit, 16358 (18.06.09)

The Leader of the Opposition would continue with his question, 13289 (11.03.09), the Leader of the Opposition had asked his question and would allow the Premier to answer it, 14101 (31.03.09), 14257 (01.04.09), 16196 (17.06.09)

The community would see the behaviour in the Chamber today as a very poor reflection on this place. Conduct of members was inappropriate. It is rare for a Leader of the Opposition to be ejected from the Chamber. It is also rare to have continual interjections. It reflects poorly on this place, 13081 (05.03.09)

The Chair noted the Minister's support for a member, 13080 (05.03.09)

Members would allow the Premier to respond to the question, 14101 (31.03.09), 14109 (31.03.09)

3 March 2009 to 26 June 2009

The Chair would not tolerate members deliberately making noise to interrupt the flow of debate, 14255 (01.04.09)

Although the Chair appreciated that it was the final question, the Minister would be heard in silence, 14267 (01.04.09)

A member was asked to repeat the question, 14625 (05.05.09), restate the question, 14904 (07.05.09), as it was outside the standing orders 15229 (13.05.09).

A member would remain silent for the remainder of question time, 14905 (07.05.09)

A member had been called to order three times in the first five minutes of question time the previous Thursday. The member was on track to repeat that today, 15031 (12.05.09).

If a member asked those sorts of questions he would get those sorts of answers, 15371 (14.05.09).

A member had asked her question, 15494 (02.06.09)

Members' conduct

The Chair had heard enough from the member. The Chair would investigate the matter and report back to the House, 13169 (10.03.09)

The Chair had allowed both members to make a statement. The Chair would consider the issues and report back to the House. The Chair reminded members that it was the role of the Chair to maintain order in the House, 13169 (10.03.09)

A matter had been raised concerning a member approaching the staff of the Leader of the Opposition sitting in the adviser's area behind the Chair. The Chair advised that the matter was not an issue of privilege. First, Government and Opposition staff have an obligation to conduct themselves professionally in the precincts of Parliament House. Persons occupy the area behind the Chair at the discretion of the Chair. Second, if members have concerns about the conduct of staff in the adviser's area they should raise them with the Chair. They should desist from challenging staff directly. The Chair had spoken to the member, who had offered an apology to the Chair, which the Chair conveyed to the House. The member had also apologised in writing to the staff member involved. The Chair reminded members to conduct themselves in accordance with community expectations, 13300 (11.03.09)

The Chair advised a member that the Chair had met with the staff members involved and they were aware of the actions they may or may not wish to take, 13300 (11.03.09)

The Opposition would have an opportunity to respond to the ministerial statement, 14479 (02.04.09)

A ministerial statement contained important information, 15042 (12.05.09)

THE SPEAKER (THE HON. RICHARD TORBAY) (continued)*Mobile phones and electronic devices

The Chair ruled in relation to the proper use of mobile phones and devices such as BlackBerrys. The Chair reminded members that it is in order for them to refer to notes on their BlackBerrys, but not to read verbatim from them. Referring to a BlackBerry is no different to referring to hard copy written notes, to which the same rule applies in order that the authorship of material not be brought into question. BlackBerrys and mobiles may be used to send messages and emails in the Chamber so long as they are set on silent mode. It is not in order for the camera function on mobile devices to be used to take unauthorised photographs in the Chamber. The rules that apply to photography in the Chamber was contained in guidelines tabled by the Chair on 11 March 2009, 14271 (01.04.09)

Offensive and objectionable remarks, imputations
and aspersions

When a member seeks to have a matter retracted, the Chair has to put that to the member who made the remark. The Chair asked the member to retract his comment, 12942 (04.03.09)

A member is entitled to raise an issue, particularly when unparliamentary language has been used. The member had made his point and had asked for the comments to be withdrawn. The Chair would convey those remarks to the member concerned, 13441 (12.03.09)

A member is entitled to ask another member to withdraw unparliamentary language, 13622 (24.03.09)

Members cannot attack other members except by way of substantive motion, 16002 (16.06.09)

Personal explanations

A member was asked to make her point, 13441 (12.03.09). was making a personal explanation, 14633 (05.05.09).

The Chair has an open-door policy in relation to personal explanations. Members have a right to make personal explanations, but they must do so appropriately. Personal explanations will not be used or abused. Members who seek to make personal explanations should seek objective advice from the Clerks or the Whips as to the appropriate way in which to make them, 13441 (12.03.09)

The Chair drew members' attention to the proper use of personal explanations. A personal explanation enables a member to briefly explain any matter that reflects upon the standing, character or integrity of the member, or reflects upon that member in a personal way. Personal explanations must be confined to a statement of the precise reference and must not debate the issue. Personal explanations should not be used by members to refer to remarks made by other members during debate that simply do not conform with their own views, nor to refute allegedly inaccurate statements made about them or a Minister's answer during question time. A member may not introduce new material under the guise of a personal explanation. Members cannot use personal explanations to ask another member to withdraw words used in the House. Members should not be too sensitive about remarks made about them in the thrust and parry of debate. Personal explanations are made with the leave of the Chair. The Chair will not hesitate to withdraw leave if a member misuses or abuses the opportunity to make a personal explanation, 13605 (24.03.09)

Photographs

The Chair reminded photographers in the gallery that photographs of members should be taken only when members are at the lectern, 12941 (04.03.09), 13082 (05.03.09).

Strict procedures for photographing the Chamber are in place. The Chair would consider the issue and advise members of the exact requirements, 13085 (05.03.09).

A photographer had taken photographs of members who did not have the call. Such action is not authorised by the guidelines in place for still photography, by which photographers agree to abide when they seek approval for photography. However, the practice of file photography had taken place over the years, photographers having advised the Speaker of their intention. In such circumstances members had been advised accordingly. In this instance, the Chair had not been advised of the photographer's intention beforehand. The Chair had since received an apology for the lapse. The Chair tabled a copy of the rules currently in force. Photographers were asked to comply with the guidelines to ensure the orderly conduct of business in the House. Blatant disregard of the rules would be dealt with accordingly, 13288 (11.03.09)

If the Chair ruled argumentative questions out of order members would have a lot of time on their hands, 12820 (03.03.09)

It is difficult to interpret whether words are argumentative in relation to every aspect of a question. The question of the Leader of The Nationals was argumentative in a number of respects and also asked more than one question. The Leader of The Nationals was asked to restate his question and to ask only one question at a time, 12937 (04.03.09)

The Chair had not upheld a point of order; the Chair had asked the Leader of The Nationals to restate his question, 12937 (04.03.09)

A member was asked to restate his/her question so it was in order, 13292 (11.03.09), 13438 (12.03.09), the Chair ruled that the question was now in order, 13438 (12.03.09), 15038 (12.05.09)

A member was asked to restate his question in order as it was argumentative. There had been too many such questions of late, 15370 (14.05.09), questions can be asked in order and achieve the same objective, 15370 (14.05.09)

A Minister was asked to commence concluding the answer, 13435 (12.03.09), 13615 (24.03.09), 13786 (25.03.09), 13920 (26.03.09), 14111 (31.03.09), 14774 (06.05.09), the Chair was sure the Minister would conclude the answer, 13436 (12.03.09), 15040 (12.05.09), 15369 (14.05.09), 15690 (03.06.09), a Minister was urged to complete the answer, 13615 (24.03.09), a Minister had concluded the answer, 15040 (12.05.09)

The Chair was pleased there was a question at the end of the statement, 13782 (25.03.09)

The Chair reminded the Leader of The Nationals about the length of questions, 13782 (25.03.09)

orders. The question of the Leader of The Nationals was nothing more than a stunt. Such exchanges do not reflect well on the House. The question of the member was clearly out of order. The Leader of The Nationals was given three opportunities to get it right. He would be given an opportunity to ask his question in order later in question time, 15686 (03.06.09)

The Chair would consider the content of questions. The Chair had always extended a little latitude but, as controversy was continuing, would examine the standing orders and make a ruling. The Leader of the Opposition was asked to restate his question in order, 14255 (01.04.09), 14265 (01.04.09)

The Chair made a ruling in relation to the form and content of questions seeking information during question time. A number of rulings state that the only valid purposes of a question are to seek factual information or press for action. Standing Order 128 states that questions should not contain argument, inference, imputation, epithets, ironical expressions, expressions of opinion or hypothetical matter. Standing Order 128 also states that questions cannot be debated and therefore should not provoke debate, which happens when an opinion or provocative statement is offered in the text of a question. The Chair has always extended a degree of latitude during question time. However, the Chair would strictly enforce Standing Order 128 and only allow questions that seek factual information or press for action. Questions, while containing introductory remarks, should be brief and only contain sufficient to make them intelligible. Questions may be asked in parts, but they must be only one question. The Chair intended to enforce the standing orders and previous rulings in this regard, 14480 (02.04.09)

The Chair was sure a Minister was making introductory remarks, 14626 (05.05.09), 16763 (24.06.09), was about to commence his answer, 15677 (03.06.09)

The Chair drew the attention of a Minister to the length of the answer, 14907 (07.05.09), 15679 (03.06.09), 15680 (03.06.09)

THE SPEAKER (THE HON. RICHARD TORBAY) (continued)Question time (continued)

A question was not too lengthy. However, the Chair asked the member to reword the question and restate it in order, 15038 (12.05.09), and the Chair would speak to the member about the issue after question time, 15038 (12.05.09)

A Minister had responded to the question. However, the Leader of the Opposition had asked two questions, 15684 (03.06.09)

The Chair allowed the question, 15835 (04.06.09)

A member had asked her question, 15995 (16.06.09)

The Premier was asked a general question, 16355 (18.06.09), 16767 (24.06.09).

Minister's latitude

It is relevant in responding to a question for a Minister to comment not only on the Government's position but also on alternative proposals. Such information is relevant to the community. The Chair would listen carefully. If the Premier attempted to deviate, his attention would be drawn to the question, 13291 (11.03.09)

The Chair reminded members that under the standing orders it is appropriate for Ministers to touch upon alternative policies in their answers, 13429 (12.03.09), 13436 (12.03.09)

A member had been speaking for less than two minutes before a point of order was taken by another member. However, the Chair was pleased that, for a change, the member had attempted to adopt the proper procedures of the House, 16241 (17.06.09)

The Chair could pre-empt a point of order, 17436 (08.09.09)

A member would state the point of order, not debate it, 17871 (22.09.09), 18899 (28.10.09), 19180 (10.11.09), 19181 (10.11.09), 19373 (11.11.09), 19754 (24.11.09) or make reflections on the Chair, 19373 (11.11.09)

A member was asked to note how another member had taken a point of order, 18183 (24.09.09)

A member started to take a point of order, but lost his way, 18445 (21.10.09)

A member was asked whether he was rising on a new point of order, 18585 (22.10.09)

Members would remain silent. The Chair could not hear the point of order, 19038 (29.10.09), it was difficult for the Chair to make a ruling when the Chair could not hear the point of order, 20105 (26.11.09)

The Chair would hear further on the point of order, 19038 (29.10.09)

The Chair had heard enough on the point of order, 19038 (29.10.09), 19760 (24.11.09)

THE SPEAKER (THE HON. RICHARD

A member may have been taking the same point of order, but the Chair would listen to the member, 19183 (10.11.09)

The Chair reminded the member with the call that when a point of order was taken he was to resume his seat, 19385 (11.11.09)

The Chair had always allowed members to take points of order. However, the Chair would not allow members to take points of order in such a fashion, 19754 (24.11.09)

The Chair clarified whether a member was rising of a different point of order, 19903 (25.11.09), 19904 (25.11.09)

A member would take a point of order without reflecting on the Chair, 19903 (25.11.09)

A member should not take a point of order every three words. If the member would like the Chair to adopt a very literal interpretation of the standing orders the Chair would be pleased to take that on board, 19903 (25.11.09)

A member had taken a point of order in the proper way, 20086 (26.11.09)

The standing orders require a member to stand in his place when taking a point of order, 20088 (26.11.09)

Question time

A member was reminded that question time was not an opportunity for debate, 17011 (01.09.09)

Given the question that was asked, the Chair was reluctant to hear the point of order. However, the Chair heard the member on that occasion. The Chair advised members that if they asked those sorts of questions they could expect invective in reply, 17158 (02.09.09)

If members asked open-ended questions they would receive vague responses, 17158 (02.09.09)

The Chair advised a member to read the question that had been asked, 17160 (02.09.09)

The Chair again made the point that if members ask questions to score political points they would get those sorts of answers. A member was advised to re-read the question. He should anticipate such a response given his question. The Chair advised members to consult the Clerks in relation to their questions, 17160 (02.09.09)

The Leader of the Opposition had asked his question and would allow the Minister to answer it, 17306 (03.09.09), 17590 (09.09.09), 17726 (10.09.09), 20627 (03.12.09), the Chair would not tolerate outbursts from the Leader of the Opposition. While the Chair extended a degree of latitude to the Leader of the Opposition, the Chair would not allow him to abuse it, 17316 (03.09.09), the Leader of the Opposition was aware that he could not seek leave to table a document during question time, 17429 (08.09.09), The Leader of the Opposition would not abuse the forms of the House, 17438 (08.09.09), if the Leader of the Opposition wished to ask another question, he should seek the call, 18444 (21.10.09), the Leader of the Opposition would not make a mockery of the rules of the House, 18444 (21.10.09), the Leader of the Opposition would ask his question, 19032 (29.10.09), the behaviour of the Leader of the Opposition was unparliamentary, 19172 (10.11.09), the Leader of the Opposition would restate his question in order, 19901 (25.11.09)

The Chair had extended a degree of latitude to a member because the Chair thought she was entitled to one response, 17311 (03.09.09)

The Chair reminded members that this was the final question, 17318 (03.09.09)

A question was sufficiently broad as to warrant a broad answer, 17428 (08.09.09), was of a general nature, 19563 (12.11.09), 19567 (12.11.09), 19568 (12.11.09)

A serious question had been asked, 17598 (09.09.09)

1 September 2009 to 3 December 2009

THE SPEAKER (THE HON. RICHARD TORBAY) (continued)

That a member was acting as shadow Leader of the House did not give him the right to abuse the procedures of the House, 17730 (10.09.09)

A member should not use up all his calls to order in the first 10 minutes of question time, 17865 (22.09.09)

A member had asked her question and she would listen to the Minister in silence, 17868 (22.09.09), members were asked to listen to the Minister's response in silence, 18175 (24.09.09), 18727 (27.10.09)

While the Chair appreciated the sensitivity of some questions asked in the House, the Chair would not tolerate unparliamentary behaviour, 17871 (22.09.09), the Chair understood that it was a politically charged issue. However, the standards of the House would be maintained. Members ask questions and Ministers respond, 18442 (21.10.09)

The Chair reminded members that the proper forms of the House were available to them, 17871 (22.09.09)

The Chair extended a little leniency to a member. However, if she continued to interject she would be called to order, 18043 (23.09.09)

A member may succeed the next time he sought the call. He should not jeopardise that, 18181 (24.09.09)

To save time the Chair may place a member on three calls to order initially, instead of calling her to order a first and second time, 18303 (20.10.09)

The Chair reminded members that question time had not yet concluded, 18306 (20.10.09), 20448 (02.12.09)

A Minister's response was relevant to the question asked, 18449 (21.10.09)

Such questions were out of order. The Chair had made a number of rulings about questions asked by the Leader of The Nationals. The Chair allowed the question. However, the Leader of The Nationals should not test the good will of the Chair by asking questions clearly designed to provoke acrimony, 18583 (22.10.09)

The Chair had allowed the question. The Chair suggested that the member read the question, 18583 (22.10.09), 18585 (22.10.09)

The Leader of The Nationals had asked his question and would allow the Minister to answer it, 18726 (27.10.09), 18895 (28.10.09)

If members asked those sorts of questions, they would get those sorts of answers, 18584 (22.10.09)

If the member had been listening he would have heard the Minister refer to the black Honda, 18728 (27.10.09)

The Chair took the first part of what the member said to be the question, 18728 (27.10.09)

The Chair reminded members that they were still in question time, 18896 (28.10.09), 19033 (29.10.09)

The Chair allowed a member to conclude his question, 19038 (29.10.09)

The Chair allowed the question. However, such questions degrade the Parliament. Strictly, allegations can be raised in questions; they have been in the past. Members who ask questions should do so responsibly and uphold the dignity of the House, 19038 (29.10.09)

If members ask such questions, the Chair will extend a degree of latitude to the Minister who responds, 19039 (29.10.09)

Any member is entitled to ask the Minister for Emergency Services a question about an emergency. However, the Chair noted the point made by the Leader of the Opposition, 19180 (10.11.09)

A member would come to order. He had asked his question, 19375 (11.11.09)

A member would ask her question, 19565 (12.11.09)

A member had taken a number of points of order and the Chair had reminded the Premier of the question. The Chair extends a significant degree of latitude to the Premier and the Leader of the Opposition. That had been the convention for a considerable period of time, 19902 (25.11.09)

The Chair did not need the member to read out the standing order. The Chair had ruled in relation to the Premier's response, 19904 (25.11.09)

Members would come to order so the Chair could hear the Premier's answer, 19904 (25.11.09)

The behaviour of members on both sides of the House had been appalling. Members would behave in a manner that is in accordance with community expectations. The behaviour of members during question time had brought the House to a new low, 19905 (25.11.09)

The Chair upheld a point of order in relation to relevance and directed the Minister to answer the question, 19908 (25.11.09)

The argumentative nature of some parts of the member's question encouraged the type of response to which he objected, 20088 (26.11.09)

Members would extend some courtesy to the Minister and allow him to respond to the question, 20444 (02.12.09), complete his response, 20447 (02.12.09)

The Chair reminded members that it was the last sitting day of the year, 20624 (03.12.09)

Members would allow the member with the call to ask his question, 20625 (03.12.09)

Member removed

Member for Murrumbidgee, 19374 (11.11.09)

Motion accorded priority

A member would have five minutes in which to speak when he was given the call, 20105 (26.11.09)

The Chair always extended a degree of latitude during such debates. However, a member was stretching the patience of the Chair, 20106 (26.11.09)

A member moved a motion to adjourn the debate. The motion was ruled out of order pursuant to Standing Order 79. The House had determined that the member with the call would complete his reply, 20106 (26.11.09)

TORBAY) *(continued)Motion accorded priority (continued)

The Chair had looked carefully at the motion and consulted with the Clerk. While the motion moved by the member was similar in substance to a motion moved recently, a number of points varied. Therefore, the Chair allowed the motion to proceed, 20271 (01.12.09)

Notices of motions

A trend had developed where members gave notices of motions that are lengthy, contain argument, unbecoming expressions and at times are given in the spirit of mockery. Such notices are out of order. Under Standing Order 137 the Clerks are able to amend such notices under the authority of the Chair to ensure that they conform to the standing orders. If members persisted in giving notices that are out of order, the Chair would rule them out of order and they would not be published in the Business Paper. The Chair reminded members that a notice of motion should be self-contained and be drafted in such a way that the House is able to express a decision when the motion is moved. Members should avail themselves of the advice of the Clerks if they are unsure whether a notice is in an acceptable form prior to giving it, 18003 (23.09.09)

In accordance with the Chair's earlier ruling, the member's notice of motion was ruled out of order and she was asked to resubmit it in order, 18139 (24.09.09)

Offensive and objectionable remarks, imputations
and aspersions

Attacks on other members must be made by way of substantive motion, 17321 (03.09.09), 18187 (24.09.09)

The Chair would never accept the words "stench of corruption" as appropriate parliamentary language, 17431 (08.09.09)

A member had raised concern about a comment made by another member. The comment was unparliamentary. The Chair encouraged the member to return to the Chamber to withdraw the comment, 19385 (11.11.09), the Chair asked the member with the call whether he wanted a comment withdrawn, 19385 (11.11.09)

1 September 2009 to 3 December 2009

THE SPEAKER (THE HON. RICHARD TORBAY) (continued)

Personal explanations were not a matter for debate. The statement had been made, 18908 (28.10.09), The Chair would hear the personal explanation, 18908 (28.10.09), The Chair had heard sufficient. The matter was concluded, 18908 (28.10.09)

The member would correct the record, not debate the matter, 19912 (25.11.09)

A member must state how his reputation had been impugned, 20454 (02.12.09), the member should read the standing orders with respect to personal explanations. He must state how his character had been impugned. He was debating the issue. If his character had not been impugned, the member should resume his seat, 20454 (02.12.09), the member had corrected the record, 20454 (02.12.09)

The Leader of The Nationals was asked to restate his question in order, 17309 (03.09.09), the question of the Leader of The Nationals was out of order. The Chair assumed he had asked it knowing that it would be ruled out of order. In recent times a number of members had asked questions knowing that they would be ruled out of order in the hope that they would be given the opportunity to ask them again in order. The Chair would allow the Leader of The Nationals to ask his question in order later in question time, 17431 (08.09.09), the Leader of The Nationals would state his question, 19904 (25.11.09)
