When in Melbourne I personally inspected the "Sobraon" in company with Captain Elmslie. So far as I can form a judgment, the vessel is admirably suited to replace the "Vernon." The particulars of the ship and of her history are herewith. If Mr. Carruthers approves, I will instruct the Agent-General to negotiate for her purchase.—II.P., 26/2/20.

I quite approve of the "Sobraon" as a ship to replace the "Vernon." Will Mr. Johnson see Mr.

Walker and ask him to urge the negotiations forward through the Agent-General, as in Sir Henry Parkes' minute.—J.H.C., 25/2/90.

Ship "Sodraon."

The "Sobraon," 2,131 tons register, was built by Messrs. Alexander Hall and Sons, of Aberdeen, and was launched in September, 1866. Her dimensions are:—Length of keel, 286 feet; beam, 40 feet 3 inches; depth of hold from upper deck, 28 feet 6 inches; length of topgallant forecastle, 85 feet; length of poop, 29 feet 6 inches. The upper deck is of great length and flush, excepting the two houses, which could be narrowed nearly half, to give greater width on the deck for training of guns.

The ship was originally constructed for auxiliary steam power, and intended for the China trade. In consequence of the financial disturbance of 1866 the promoters were in difficulties, and could not carry out the scheme of building this ship and others for their trade, and made arrangements with Messrs. Devitt and Moore, colonial brokers in London, to place the ship as one of their fleet of packets to Sydney. The original plan of giving steam power was then dropped, and the ship completed and launched as a sailer.

She is built on the composite principle, having double frames of great strength, 16 inches apart, and bound together by wide longitudinal and diagonal plates, only a few feet apart. The outer planking is of Malabar teak, ranging in thickness from 11 inches at garboard streak to 6 inches on the top sides. All the fastenings are of gun metal, except a few streaks of the top sides, which are of galvanized iron.

The ship has three complete decks fore and aft. The height of the upper between deck is 7 feet 3 inches to 9 feet at ends. The lower between deck has an average height of 7 feet 3 inches, rising a little at the ends. The beams and stanchions of both decks are beyond the required strength, and are in keeping with the substantial construction throughout.

keeping with the substantial construction throughout.

The upper or main between decks are fitted with cabins throughout. The lower has no fittings, and, with the exception of a store-room in the centre, is quite clear.

The ship was classed at Lloyd's Registry A1 seventeen years when built. This class was continued on examination for cleven years from December, 1883. The whole of the upper deck was renewed in August_ 1884.

In August, 1889, the ship was submitted to a special survey by Lloyd's, was thoroughly and carefully caulked from keel to gunwale, and coppered.

The anchors and cables were tested, and some lengths renewed which were worn a little under the required size.

The masts and yards, which are of steel (excepting the topgallant and royal masts and yards), are in perfect order. A certificate of condition was obtained from Lloyd's last year after a most thorough examination. The rigging has all been renewed within the last few years, and is of steel wire,

The "Sobraon" has been except from accident on her voyages; has not at any time been on the ground or in collision.

We consider the "Sobraon," if, after survey, she is found staunch and sound, a suitable vessel to replace the "Vernon."—Francis Hixson, Fredk. W. Neitenstein.

Sir,

Colonial Secretary's Office, Sydney, 28 February, 1890.

J have the honor to inform you that circumstances have made it a matter of urgency to replace the N.S.S. "Vernon" by another larger and more suitable vessel. The ship "Sobraon," now on her passage from Melbourne to London, has been inspected and is considered a very eligible ship for our purpose. She will arrive in London about the end of April.

Captain Jas. A. Elmslie (who has sailed the "Sobraon" from her launch) is a large owner of the ship, and it is within the knowledge of the Government that he wishes to retire from the sea, and, as one of the owners, would much rather sell than see the ship placed in new hands. In Melbourne he mentioned the sum of £10,000 as the possible price, but this is only to guide you as a maximum.

the sum of £10,000 as the possible price, but this is only to guide you as a maximum.

I enclose copies of letter from Captain Elmslie and a description of the vessel. You will, as a matter of course, make all necessary inquiries as to whether the ship has sustained any injuries during the voyage. If you purchase, the agreement must be to deliver the ship in Sydney in sound condition, (say) in August.

It will be best to have the ship examined by some competent person after her discharge in London. You will inform me by cable of the lowest price and other necessary particulars before entering by agreement.

Sir,

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th February last, in which you inform me that it is a matter of urgency to replace the Naval Training Ship "Vernon" by another larger and more suitable vessel, and that the ship "Sobraon," now on her passage from Melbourne to London, has been inspected and is considered a very eligible ship for the purpose.

I will, as directed in your above quoted letter, enter into negotiations, immediately upon the arrival of the ship here, for her purchase, and inform you by cable, in due course, of the condition of the ship and other necessary particulars before entering into any agreement.

Your letter states that the "Sobraon" will arrive in London about the end of April. I have, however, ascertained that she is not expected here until the end of May or beginning of June. ### The Agent-General to The Colonial Secretary.

Sir,

In continuation of my letter of the 25th April last, No. S 171-90, I have the honor to report that the "Sobraon" arrived in London on the 10th instant; and at my request Mr. T. L. Devitt and Captain Elmslie met me yesterday, with a view to discuss the question of the purchase of the ship in accordance with the instructions conveyed to me in your letter of the 28th February last.

Mr. Devitt are of the source informed by your letter of the 28th February last.

Mr. Devitt, one of the owners, informed me (as he had on a previous occasion) that Captain Elmslie was not authorised, when in Melbourne, to name any price for the purchase of the ship, and that the owners would not accept £10,000 for her. Captain Elmslie said that he had not named any

These gentlemen further informed me they were unable to name a price without consulting with other parties interested, and promised to write and inform me the lowest price they would take for the vessel. I now enclose a copy of their letter received by me this day, the purport of which I telegraphed to you this afternoon, as follows:—"Have seen T. Devitt and Captain Elmslie. They will not take £10,000 for 'Sobraon,' but write saying will accept £16,000 for ship delivered at Sydney, to leave here about 30th September. Please telegraph reply."

39, Fenchurch-street, London, E.C., 13 June, 1890. Dear Sir Referring to your conversation yesterday with our Mr. Devitt with reference to the "Sobraon," the matter has been fully discussed by the firm this morning with the result that we are prepared, in the event of the New South Wales Government making us an offer of £16,000 cash for the ship, deliverable in Sydney, we would undertake to accept the same for ourselves, and to use our influence with our coowners to concur. Permit us to say that we are by no means anxious to part with this vessel. She is a first-class property, more so than most people would imagine who are not intimately acquainted with her, and is paying us very handsomely, and having had so much done to her only last year she will run for the next five years without any expense except outfit. Moreover, if you compare the price that we name with that at which many vessels, much the same age as the "Sobraon," and of inferior class, have been sold within the last twelve months it is not a high one, and it will be with regret and a certain amount of reluctance that we next with the ship of all reluctance that we part with the ship at all.

In any case she could not sail from London before the 30th September for Melbourne, and we should ask the New South Wales Government to give us sufficient weight, shipped in London, to ballast her from Melbourne to Sydney. We are, &c., DEVITT AND MOORE.

Captain J. A. Elmslie to The Colonial Secretary.

Dear Sir Henry,

I am only now in a position to inform you with tolerable certainty of my movements. The ballasting and lading of the ship will be completed on the 6th instant. I have secured the services of a new powerful tug steamer, and purpose starting from this port on the morning of the 7th, and under favourable conditions of weather should be in Sydney Harbour on the morning of the 10th (Tuesday). I shall take the ship up the harbour to Gillespie's Wharf to discharge some wheat that I have taken in place of ballast. When this is got rid of, the ship will be in a well ballasted condition to take to the moorings appointed for her, but I would suggest that she should be sighted in dry dock before mooring, to satisfy you of the condition of the under water part, and re-nail or repair any sheets of the coppersheathing that might have been grazed. The ship would then go for a good many years before dry docking was necessary again. The ballast left in the ship will be about 100 tons of kentledge or iron, and 400 tons of granite road metal—2½ inch cubos, which you consented to take over at cost price. My crew will unbend and put away the sails and do anything else required by the officer you appoint to take charge of the ship up to the time I will hand her over to you for good. Kindly direct, if you consistently can, that the port and pilot charges should be remitted. The cost of transfer from this port to Sydney has come to more than I estimated. The shipment of wheat to save ballasting gives nothing to the ship.

I hope and trust to find you in improving health

CITY OF SYDNEY IMPROVEMENT BOARD.

(TWELFTH ANNUAL REPORT.)

Presented to Parliament by Command.

City of Sydney Improvement Board, 131, Macquarie-street, Sydney, 31 August, 1891.

To the Honorable the Colonial Secretary,-

Sir,

Since the date of the last Annual Report the work performed by the Board may, it is thought, be regarded as continuing to be comparatively satisfactory, taking into consideration the existing unfortunate position which the Board occupies, hampered by a defective Act of Parliament, and impeded by want of power to initiate proceedings or proper authority to execute orders made, which defects have been so frequently and urgently brought under notice in previous reports and in other ways.

The Board has, during the past year, met on nineteen occasions, and, in addition to special surveys and inquiries connected with the condition of buildings, made under the provisions of the 10th section of the City of Sydney Improvement Act, fifty-six references, reports, or informations have been received and disposed of in respect altogether of eighty buildings, walls, or other structures, and in each case inspections and orders have been made by the assembled Board.

Also in two cases, rehearings, applied for by owners or occupiers, have been allowed, and two appeals for rehearings have been refused.

Theoretically the Board has had conferred on it, as may be seen upon perusal of the 6th clause of the City of Sydney Improvement Act "Power to determine any questions concerning the execution of this Act," but practically, its authority is found to be limited, circumscribed, or defeated in the manner clearly described and detailed from time to time and (to use the words of Mr. Attorney-General Simpson, contained in an opinion from him, already quoted in the tenth Annual Report, in which he recognises the difficulties contended against) "the Board cannot do much in the matter."

His Honor the Primary Judge in Equity, and eminent counsel after legal consultations, have dilated upon the many puzzles, incongruous embarrassments, and clashing of jurisdiction and authority contained in the "City of Sydney Improvement Act," and have also given expression to similar views respecting the duties and powers of the Board.

It can only be repeated that some alteration of the present law upon the subject is, in the opinion of members of this Board, most imperatively needed.

It may here not be out of place to say that you have more than once stated in Parliament that the "City of Sydney Improvement Act" requires amending, and to again remind you that several proposed Amending Bills have been drafted by the members of this Board and submitted, in the hope of their obtaining the necessary authority and means requisite to enable them, without going beyond their proper province, or without seeking new powers, merely to discharge those duties the Legislature evidently intended them to perform.

One

One of these draft Bills, transmitted to you on the 17th April, 1888, is a brief measure, and would, it is believed, if passed into law, and pending any larger reform, remedy some, at least, of the defects pointed out, render this Board more useful, and enable their decisions or orders to be more certainly and expeditiously given effect to.

Regarding the expenditure in connection with the Board it may be stated that members are not paid anything for their services from the public revenue. The meagre and intermittent amounts they receive for fees, to which, under the 12th, 27th, and 29th sections of the City Improvement Act, they become entitled, being a charge imposed directly upon owners of buildings, &c., dealt with. It will be remembered that the Board consists of five members, of whom the Act specially provides that one shall be a professional architect, one a practical builder, and one a medical practitioner; these fees, which are imposed, and are recoverable in a manner most repugnant to members, and objectionable to owners and occupiers, form the sole remuneration of the members of the Board, and are equally divided between them, neither the Chairman, or any one member, professional or otherwise, attending to deal with references or appeals, receiving more than another; but there is an unavoidable outlay for salaries of a Registrar and one clerk, and for other contingent expenses, provided for by annual Parliamentary vote, respecting which it is desired to be explained that had the Board power to initiate proceedings relating to one portion of their functions, viz., the dealing with buildings, walls, or other things appurtenant thereto in a ruinous state, or dangerous to the public, or to the occupiers of neighbouring buildings, and concerning which numerous complaints are made from time to time by citizens to the Board, which unfortunately is unable to take any very active cognisance of such complaints, through the Board not having proper and undivided control over the performance of the duties of the Executive Officer—the City Building Surveyor-appointed under a provision contained in the Act, its sphere of usefulness might be largely extended, and an increased amount of beneficial work might be performed by even the present small staff employed, which, however, must be efficiently maintained in readiness for any occasion which may arise.

As an illustration of the expedition sometimes necessary in dealing with a sudden emergency, it may be mentioned that when the extensive fire took place which produced such disastrous results in Pitt, Moore, and Castlereagh Streets, and contiguous thereto, within the Board year now under consideration, on the same morning it occurred, and whilst the fire was still burning, references were made and transmitted by the City Building Surveyor to the Board, and a meeting was convened, attended by the whole of the members, and a large number of dangerous buildings and walls were examined by the Board, and a variety of orders dealing with them were drawn up and issued. On other occasions, such as at the time of the collapse of a building known as the "Volunteer Artillery Hotel" in George-street North, or the fall of another building called the "Burrangong Hotel" in George-street, near the Haymarket, and when other similar accidents occur, it devolves upon the Board and its officers to act with promptitude and despatch, which can only be secured by retaining the services of reliable, experienced, and responsible persons to see that everything relating to this work,—only one of the branches of their duties,—is brought to, and kept in, such a state of completeness as will prevent the occurrence of any difficulty when such services are hastily called into requisition.

Mr. Benjamin Backhouse, the professional architect upon and lately the Chairman of the Board, having been granted leave of absence to permit him to proceed to England, it became necessary that another architect should, during such absence, be temporarily appointed a member of the Board, and Mr. Robert Clarence Backhouse has been so appointed by the Governor-in-Council.

The position of Chairman of the Board has been filled by members electing Mr. William Bailey, J.P., to that office.

We have the honor to be,

MUNICIPALITIES ACT OF 1867 AMENDMENT BILL (No. 2.)

PETITION FROM CERTAIN RESIDENTS OF THE MUNICIPALITY OF WELLINGTON IN FAVOUR OF.)

Received by the Legislative Assembly, 22 September, 1891.

To the Honorable the Speaker and to the Honorable the Legislative Assembly of New South Wales, in Parliament assembled.

The humble Petition of the undersigned residents of the Municipality of Wellington,-

RESPECTFULLY SHOWETH:-

That your Petitioners view with great satisfaction the proposal of Mr. B. R. Wise, M.L.A., to bring in a Bill to amend the Municipalities Act of 1867, particularly in respect of the present method of taxation, which your Petitioners consider opposed to the commercial and social advancement of Municipalities.

That the present method of taxing improvements upon land is injurious, as it is apt to prevent persons erecting good and substantial improvements, while those who hold their land unimproved benefit by improvements effected by their neighbours.

Your Petitioners therefore pray that the proposed Bill for taxing on a system of land values may receive the support of Honorable House, and be speedily passed into law.

And your Petitioners will ever pray.

(PETITION FROM THE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL OF BOURKE IN FAVOUR OF, BUT SUGGESTING AN AMENDMENT THEREIN.)

Received by the Legislative Assembly, 23 September, 1891.

To the Honorable the Speaker and the Members of the Legislative Assembly.

THIS PETITION HUMBLY SHOWETH:-

That the Municipal Council of Bourke, in meeting specially convened for the purpose of considering the legislation proposed by the Municipalities Act Amendment Bill, as introduced by B. R. Wise, Esq., M.L.A., heartily endorsed the proposal therein contained to transfer the basis of municipal taxation from improvements to the unimproved capital value of land.

The Council further respectfully suggests to your Honorable House that more advantageous results would follow by the proposed amendment being made compulsory upon all municipal bodies, and not left to the option of separate Municipalities to adopt or reject, as now provided in the Bill above referred to.

And your Petitioners humbly pray that you will take the foregoing request into your favourable consideration.

And your Petitioners, as in duty bound, will ever pray.

That your Petitioners have had under consideration a Bill to amend "The Municipalities Act of 1867 (No. 2)"—Mr. Wise, 29th July, 1891.

USE OF CAMELS WITHIN MUNICIPALITIES.

(PETITION FROM CERTAIN FREEHOLDERS, HOUSEHOLDERS, COMMONERS, AND OTHERS, RESIDING IN THE TOWN OF BOURKE, AGAINST.)

Received by the Legislative Assembly, 30 September, 1891.

To the Honorable the Speaker and the Honorable Members of the Legislative Assembly of New South Wales, in Parliament assembled.

The humble Petition of the undersigned freeholders, householders, commoners and others, residing in the town of Bourke, in the Colony of New South Wales,—

RESPECTFULLY SHOWETH:-

- 1. That camels constitute a source of great danger to vehicular traffic upon the roads and streets within the municipal area.
- 2. That camels being allowed to depasture upon the town common render it useless for commoners' stock, as the said stock will not remain and feed where they have been running.
- 3. That at a meeting of the Borough Council of Bourke, held on Monday, the 31st day of August, 1891, the following resolution was carried unanimously, namely "That this Council expresses the opinion that the introduction of camels to the extent now going on is calculated to damage the interests of a large number of the community, to cause considerable danger to the travelling public, and, further, to cause much inconvenience to commoners' stock, rendering a portion of the common useless for grazing purposes as intended."
- 4. That at a public meeting convened upon Petition by his Worship the Mayor of Bourke, and held on Thursday, the 3rd day of September, 1891, the above motion was unanimously endorsed and a further motion, duly carried as follows, namely,—"That this meeting instructs the Members for Bourke to introduce a short Bill to Parliament prohibiting the use of camels as beasts of burden within any Municipal area."

DISTRICT GOVERNMENT BILL.

(PETITION FROM CERTAIN REPRESENTATIVES OF MUNICIPAL COUNCILS OF THE COLONY, IN ANNUAL CONFERENCE ASSEMBLED, PRAYING THE HOUSE TO PASS THE.)

Received by the Legislative Assembly, 24 September, 1891.

To the Honorable the Speaker and Members of the Legislative Assembly of New South Wales, in Parliament assembled.

The Petition of the undersigned representatives of Municipal Councils of the Colony, in annual conference assembled,—

SHOWETH:--

- 1. That the present law governing Municipalities urgently needs extension to meet the requirements of the Suburban and Country Districts, which have outgrown the present Act.
- 2. That for several years past this fact has been recognised by successive Governments making an extension of the Municipal law a feature of the programme submitted to your Honorable House for approval.
- 3. That up to the present time, although several Bills to effect this object have been introduced, none of them have passed the second reading stage, but have always had to make way for measures considered at the time of greater importance.
- 4. That your Petitioners are of opinion that there can be no more important matter brought before your Honorable House than the extension of the principle of local self-government, as embodied in the District Government Bill, introduced by the Honorable the Premier on the fifth day of August last.
- 5. Your Petitioners therefore humbly pray that your Honorable House may insist upon the Bill referred to in the preceding clause being proceeded with during the present Session, and being placed upon the Statute Book with such amendments as may to your Honorable House seem desirable.

And your Petitioners, as in duty bound, will ever pray.
