Clause 13. Where—

(a) the landlord of a holding, without good and sufficient cause, and for reasons inconsistent with good estate management, terminates the tenancy by notice to quit, or, having been requested in writing, at least one year before the expiration of a tenancy, to grant a renewal thereof, refuses to do so; or the tenant upon quitting the holding shall, in addition to the compensation (if any) to which he may be entitled in respect of improvements, and notwithstanding any agreement to the contrary, be entitled to compensation for the loss or expense directly attributable to his quitting the holding which the tenant may unavoidably incur upon or in connection with the sale or removal of his household goods, or his implements of husbandry, produce, or farm stock, or on used in connection with the holding.

Provided that no compensation under this section shall be payable—

(a) unless the tenant has given to the landlord a reasonable opportunity of making a valuation of such goods, implements, produce, and stock as aforesaid;

(b) unless the tenant has within two months after he has received notice to quit or a refusal to grant a renewal of the tenancy, as the case may be, given to the landlord notice in writing of his intention to claim compensation under this section;

(c) where the tenant with whom a contract of tenancy was made has died within three months before the date of the notice to quit, or in case of a lease for years before the refusal to grant a renewal;

(d) if the claim for compensation is not made within three months after the time at which the tenant quits the holding.

and the time worked by them within any period of six consecutive days shall not exceed forty-eight hours, or in the case of underground workers in metalliferous mines forty-four hours.

Provided that—

(b) the working time of employees in underground occupations, or occupations in which the conditions as to temperature, ventilation, lighting, and limitation of approaches are similar to those obtaining in underground occupations, shall include permitted intermissions for rest and meals, shall be reckoned from bank to bank, and shall not exceed six hours per day unless a temperature of less than eighty degrees Fahrenheit thermometer, using a wet bulb, is maintained for at least a seven-eighths proportion of the working shift in the working place where the employee is occupied, upon any day, if for four hours of such day the temperature of the place where the employee is occupied shall have exceeded eighty degrees Fahrenheit thermometer, using a wet bulb.

(e) intermissions for rest, other than "smoke oh's", and for meals, in any day on which eight and three-quarter hours, or less, are worked, shall not exceed a total of one hour;

(d) overtime, that is time worked in excess of the times or hours above limited, or before or after the fixed or recognised times of starting or leaving off work in any industry or calling or where the provisions of subsection (g) of this section have been applied, in excess of the greater number of days or hours fixed by virtue of such subsection may be permitted by the terms of any award or "industrial" agreement at a rate of payment therefor of not less than double time in any industry or calling in or in connection with which more than one shift per day is worked or not less than time and a half in any other industry or calling.
(e) notwithstanding the terms of any current award or industrial agreement the court may by award from time to time, for the purpose of distributing the work available in an industry or calling so as to relieve unemployment, or for any other purpose which appears to the court to be good and sufficient, prohibit or restrict to any extent the working of overtime in any industry or calling;

(f) the court shall upon the application of an industrial union make an award prohibiting the working of overtime in any industry or calling in which the working of overtime is not permitted as aforesaid, but nothing herein shall prevent the amendment or making of any award so as to permit the working of overtime;

(g) notwithstanding the terms of any industrial agreement a greater number of days or hours or intermissions greater than above limited may be fixed by award if the court or board certifies that for reasons of paramount public interest such greater number of days or hours or greater intermissions should be worked or allowed in the industry or calling;

(h) subject to the last paragraph, where in any industry or calling the ordinary time of work is at the commencement of this Act fixed by award or industrial agreement or by well established practice in the industry or calling, such time shall not be exceeded in any award or industrial agreement made after such commencement in respect of such industry or calling.

(2) the Governor may, from time to time, by proclamation in the Gazette, suspend for any time during the war with Germany and her allies now being waged, the whole or any of the provisions of this section, either generally or limited to specified industries or callings, and subject to such conditions as may be thought proper to impose; and may in like manner rescind or amend any such proclamation.

Valuations for resumptions.

Clause 68.—The valuation under this Act in force for the time being, or under a fresh valuation for the purpose of the Crown Lands Corporation Act, 1903, the Metropolitan Water Supply and Sewerage Act of 1912, and the Murray River Act, 1903, shall be the value of the land resumed or exchanged under the said Acts, and the improvements thereon and of the respective estates and interests referred to in such valuation, but shall not exclude the right of a claimant for compensation for forced sale or disturbance of business or otherwise, provided that where land has been resumed any person entitled to any estate or interest therein shall be entitled notwithstanding any such resumption to require a fresh valuation of the land so resumed as at the date of such resumption.

The valuation under this Act in force for the time being, or under a fresh valuation, of any land agreed to be purchased under the Closer Settlement Promotion Act, 1910, shall be the valuation of such land for all purposes of the said Act. Where the land resumed or exchanged, or agreed to be purchased, is part only of land included in one valuation, separate valuation shall be made under this Act in respect of such part, and such separate valuation shall be deemed to be the value of the said part.

(2) Provided that nothing in this section shall—

(a) affect the amount of compensation which in pursuance of a lease from the Crown is or may be payable on the resumption of such lease or part thereof, or on the appropriation of any of the land so leased; or

(b) affect the amount of compensation under section four of the Closer Settlement (Amendment) Act, 1912; or

(c) prevent a court, in determining the value of or amount of compensation payable for land resumed in pursuance of any Act, of any Act, and in particular—

(i) from excluding from such value or amount any added value accrued to the land from the construction or proposed construction of any public works; or

(ii) from having regard to any damage caused by severance; or

Clause 9. (1) In determining the fair rent the court shall first ascertain the capital value of the dwelling-house. Such capital value shall be the unimproved value of the land, plus the estimated cost of creating a similar dwelling house thereon at the time of the receipt of such application, less such fair and reasonable sum as may be estimated for any depreciation, capital sum which the fee simple of the land might be expected to realise if offered for sale on reasonable terms and conditions as a bona fide seller would require.

(2) On and after the first day of January, 1918, the rate of rent prescribed by any municipality or shire in which the dwelling house is situated shall be conclusive evidence of the unimproved capital value of the land.

(3) The court shall determine the fair rent at a rate of not less than five nor more than twenty and one-half per centum of the interest which is for the time being charged upon overdrafts by the Commonwealth Bank of Australia and not more than two and a half per centum above such last mentioned rate, of the capital value of the dwelling house determined as aforesaid, plus the annual rates and taxes on the same, plus the amount estimated to be required annually for repairs (including painting) maintenance and renewal and plus insurance of any buildings, and plus such amount (if any) as the court may deem proper to be allowed for the estimated time per year when the dwelling house may be untenanted, but the fair rent shall not in any case exceed ten per centum of the capital value as ascertained under this section and plus such other outgoings and allowances as the court may deem proper and equitable in the circumstances of the case:

Provided that, excepting where special circumstances which render an increase equitable are proved to the satisfaction of the court, the fair rent shall not exceed the rent at which the dwelling was let on the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

No. 7.
FAIR RENTS BILL (Consideration of Legislative Council's Message, dated 15 December, 1915).

The Legislative Council having had under consideration the Legislative Assembly's Message, dated the 9th December, 1915, a.m., in reference to the Fair Rents Bill,—

Believes that the words "the application" and inserts the words "such determination,"—because it makes more satisfactory provision than the clause in its original form.

Considers its amendment which omits clause 8 and inserts a new clause 8,—because it is not conducive to a correct estimate of value that books, in many cases admittedly inaccurate, should be received as conclusive evidence, and there is no certainty that this condition of affairs will be bettered by the 1st day of January, 1915.

Agrees to the Assembly's amendment upon the Council's amendment in clause 9, lines 37, 38, and 39, which omits the words "but the fair rent shall not in any case exceed ten per centum of the capital value as ascertained under this section," and inserts the words "and plus such other outgoings and allowances as the Court may deem proper and equitable in the circumstances of the case,"—because it is expedient that the Court be enabled to take into consideration the special circumstances of each case.

Agrees to the Assembly's amendment upon the Council's amendment in clause 11, page 5, line 16 and 17, which omits the words "nor for three months thereafter," but proposes to amend same by adding at the end thereof the words "without reasonable cause,"—because cases may occur where the conduct of a tenant might be such that the landlord ought to have the power to evict him within that period.

Agrees to the Assembly's amendment upon its amendment in clause 14, page 6, lines 7 and 8, which omits the words, "or between the dates of application or determination," because it is consequential upon its amendment made in clause 6.

Considers its amendment in clause 24, page 8, which omits lines 13 and 14, and inserts a new paragraph,—because under the amendment the regulations become immediately effective on publication in the Gazette, and it reserves to either House of Parliament its undoubted right of disallowance.

And the Council requests the concurrence of the Legislative Assembly in such further amendments.

Agrees to the Assembly's amendment upon the Council's amendment in clause 3.

And does not insist upon its other amendments disagreed to by the Assembly in this Bill.

Sydney, 15th December, 1915.

Motion made (Mr. Griffith), That the Committee insists upon its disagreement from the Council's amendments, and upon its amendment upon the Council's amendment, and disagrees to the Council's further amendments.

DENTISTS (Amendment) Bill (Further considered).

Clauses 1 to 4 having been dealt with,—

Clause 5. The following new section is inserted next after section ten of the said Act:

(1) Any person who for a period of five years immediately preceding the commencement of the Dentists (Amendment) Act, 1915, has continuously practised in dentistry in New South Wales on his own account, may for three years after such commencement continue to so practise; and if before the expiration of such three years he passes before the board an examination in "surgical dentistry," mechanical dentistry, and materia medica (dental), he shall be entitled to be registered as a dentist under this Act.

(2) Any person who for a period of not less than five years immediately preceding the said commencement has been solely and continuously employed as operating dental assistant to a person practising in dentistry in New South Wales may, for three years after such commencement, work for any such person in such employment; and if, before the expiration of such three years, he passes before the board an examination in surgical dentistry, mechanical dentistry, and materia medica (dental), he shall be entitled to be registered as a dentist under this Act.

(3) Any person who for a period of not less than two years immediately preceding the said commencement has practised dentistry in New South Wales on his own account shall be entitled to "serve as assistant to a registered dentist, or a person authorised by this Act to" practise as a dentist, for a term which, with the period during which he has practised as aforesaid, would amount to five years. If he serves such term, and passes the prescribed examination before the board, he shall be entitled to be registered as a dentist under this Act.

(4) Any person who for a period of four years preceding the said commencement has served an apprenticeship in New South Wales in surgical and mechanical dentistry with a dentist, and who has passed an examination before the dental board in surgical dentistry, mechanical dentistry, and materia medica (dental), shall be entitled to be registered as a dentist under this "Act."

Provided that a person shall not come within the provisions of this section unless within three months after the said commencement he registers his name with the board, and satisfies the board that he has practised or has been employed, as the case may be, in the required manner and for the required period, and that he be of good character.

Provided also that all absences on military service by British subjects shall be accounted as part of the periods of dental practice mentioned in the preceding subsections. [Read.]

VALUATION OF LAND BILL (No. 2)—(Consideration of Legislative Council's Message of 15 December, 1915):—

Mr. SPEAKER,—

The Legislative Council having had under consideration the Legislative Assembly's Message, dated 23rd November, 1915, in reference to the Valuation of Land Bill (No. 2),—

Insists upon its amendment which omits clause 68,—

(1) Because the proposal in the clause is not equitable.

(2) Because the principle in the clause is contrary to those recognised as fair and equitable in the Acts relating to resumptions for public purposes.

(3) Because the clause may involve that in one resumption there may be two different tribunals dealing with one and the same matter, involving citizens in two actions at law in place of one as under the present law.

(4) Because as a general rule a resumption, e.g., for railways, &c., applies to only a portion of a parcel of land in which event a new valuation would be required, making the original valuation useless and superfluous. In these circumstances the main argument that the one valuation applies for taxation and resumption purposes alike fails.

Does not insist upon its other amendments disagreed to by the Assembly in this Bill.
