PETITION for AMENDMENT OF...
POINTS OF ORDER:
Reported from Committee of the Whole, 49 (3), 164.
Reported from Committee of Supply, 236.
RULINGS OF SPEAKER:
That motion, "That John McFarlane, Esquire, be Chairman of Committees of the whole House for the present Session," was in order, though notice had not been given, the practice of the House being followed, 24.
That motion in favour of State training its own civil engineers through the Railway Department was improperly before the House, as Standing Order in reference to precedence of business took effect immediately it was passed, 29.
That although the notice for adjournment to discuss the proposal of the Minister for Works, in reference to dealing with the unemployed, was not definitely set out in the motion, the mover, in his speech, had clearly indicated what the proposal was, and he would allow the motion to be amended to that effect, and the debate to continue, 44.
That so long as the Order of Leave disclosed the general scope of a Bill, that was all that was necessary, although if a Bill proposed definitely to alter an Act of Parliament, the Order of Leave must be made specific, 60; in order, therefore, 44.
That when the Deputy Speaker occupied the Chair of the House, his rulings had the same force and effect as those of the Speaker, 65.
That the procedure for adjournment under the 49th Standing Order was sufficiently definite, 65.
That the practice for the past ten years had been not to allow motions for adjournment on subjects which could be discussed on the Estimates; he did not intend to reverse that practice, though under it hardships occasionally occurred. He would give the matter consideration to see if in the future some decision could be arrived at to overcome the present state of affairs and enable the adjournment to be moved under similar circumstances, to draw attention to matters of very urgent importance, 72.
That in obtaining the assent of a Bill, the general principles of an Act proposed to be repealed could not be referred to in detail, 165.
That the amendment was out of order which proposed to substitute words of the same purport as the words it was proposed to leave out, 91. That the Estimates would be considered in Committee of Supply, and the item, Harbour Master, £700, could then be discussed, 227. That motion for suspension of Standing Order 199 was in order, 227.
That notice for suspension of Standing Orders 199 and 200 is necessary in order to have an amendment put on the Estimates, 227.
That amendment to leave out certain words in clause 4 of the Public Works Committee Bill would have the effect of increasing the charge upon the revenue, and was correctly ruled out of order by the Temporary Chairman, 50.

Report of Department for 1903, laid on Table, 12, 126.
Information respecting allowance for light to the Police Force, 205.

RESOLUTIONS:
- That motion, without notice, "That John McFarlane, Esquire, be Chairman of Committees of the whole House for the present Session" was in order, and stated that he was following the practice of the House, 24.
- That motion in favour of State training its own civil engineers through the Railway Department, was improper before the House, as the Sessional Order in reference to precedence of business took effect immediately it was passed, 29.
- That although the motion for the adjournment to discuss the proposal of the Minister for Works, in reference to dealing with the unemployed was not definitely set out in the motion, the mover having indicated what the proposal was, he would allow the motion to be amended, 44.
- That it was only necessary that the Order of Leave should disclose the general scope of a Bill, although it was proposed definitely to alter an Act of Parliament, the Order of Leave, as a matter of convenience, should state so; the Crown's Court Bill did not propose to alter any existing Act of Parliament, and was, therefore, in order, 44.
- That when the Deputy-Speaker occupied the Chair of the House his rulings had the same force and effect as those of Mr. Speaker, and motion to dissent from such ruling was in order, 60.
- That although it is proposed definitely to alter an Act of Parliament, the Order of Leave, as a matter of convenience, should state so; the Crown's Court Bill did not propose to alter any existing Act of Parliament, and was, therefore, in order, 44.
- That the practice for the past ten years had precedence of Business on Business Days, 28.
- That motion, without notice, "That John McFarlane, Esquire, he Chairman of Committees of the whole House for the present Session" was in order, and stated that he was following the practice of the House, 24.
- That the practice for the past ten years had precedence of Business on Business Days, 28.
- That motion, without notice, "That John McFarlane, Esquire, he Chairman of Committees of the whole House for the present Session" was in order, and stated that he was following the practice of the House, 24.
- That motion, without notice, "That John McFarlane, Esquire, he Chairman of Committees of the whole House for the present Session" was in order, and stated that he was following the practice of the House, 24.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON SELECTED chairmen, 170

ROLLING or (consumed) —

That in discussing the clauses of a Bill, the general principles of an Act proposed to be repealed could not be referred to in detail, 183.

That amendment was out of order which proposed to substitute words of the same purport as the words which it was proposed to leave out, 214.

That the estimates would be considered in Committee of Supply, and the item Harbour Master, £700, could then be discussed, 218.

That motion for suspension of Standing Orders as a matter of urgency with reference to the additional charge the House was in effect incurring Mr. Speaker’s ruling that item could be discussed in Committee of Supply, 219.

That Standing Order No. 236 could not be set aside by concurrence, and he had to decide whether concurrence had been granted; and as five separate departments had been dealt with by the Committee without objection, he must conclude that concurrence had been granted, and he ruled in that direction, 226.

DISTINCTION FROM RULING —

Motion made (Mr. Gask) in reference to ruling whereby notice, "That Mr. Speaker should be asked as Chairman of Committees, and of the House," was ruled in order, and negatived, 33.

Motion made (Mr. Sorensen) in reference to ruling that the omission of certain words from clause 4 of the Public Works Committee Bill, would increase the charge upon the revenue, and negatived, 60.

ROLLING or DEBATE SPEAKER —

That it was the duty of the Chairman to have put an amendment in such a way as would have tested the feeling of the Committee, but as he did not preclude another Honorable Member from moving his amendments. This rule is clearly laid down in "May," 19th edition, p. 457, 49.

That the amendment to leave out certain words in clause 4 of the Public Works Committee Bill would have the effect of increasing the charge upon the Revenue, and was correctly ruled out of order by the Temporary Chairman, 50.
