SPEAKER (continued):—

Informs the House that efforts that had been made to obtain conclusive evidence of death in action at the Dardanelles of Lieutenant-Colonel G. F. Braund and Sergeant E. R. Larkin, 83.

Informs the House of the proposed Lecture by Mr. C. C. Reade, Lecturer of the Garden Cities and Town-planning Association, and asks the House as to whether he should leave the Chair from 6 o'clock until 7 o'clock, 128-9.

Calls attention to Legislative Council’s amendments in Bills, as infringing the privileges of the Legislative Assembly, 225, 439.

Calls attention to the fact that the front Ministerial Bench was entirely for Cabinet Ministers—during Question time Members should be unimpeded as far as possible by interviews, 251.

Authorized to place within the Chamber a fitting Memorial to memory of Lieutenant-Colonel G. F. Braund and Sergeant E. R. Larkin, 257.

Directs Acting Clerk to read Report from Committee of Elections and Qualifications, 167.

Refers to presence of Honorable Member at Darling Harbour, Mr. Cochrane; in the Chamber, and reads extract from Votes and Proceedings relative to his suspension, 433; again refers to Mr. Cochrane’s presence and asks for an apology; Honorable Member refused; adjourned guilty of contumacy and suspended for remainder of session, 434.

Remarks on:—

That it was a matter of customs for notice of motion to be given by any Member having relation to the introduction of Bills, before the House had disposed of the Advertiser in Reply, 8.

That it was questionable whether the Parliamentary Standing Committee on Public Works had power to dictate the policy by which any work should be carried out, whether by steam, hydraulic, or contract, 59.

That it was quite competent for the Chairman of Committees, appointed in a previous Session, to act as Chairman without any formality as he was Chairman until a motion dealing with the Office for the Session had been dealt with, 61.

That an amendment be added words "and the House of Representatives" to a motion to amend the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Australia to provide for representation of the States in the Senate, according to a population basis, which was irrelevancy, and was therefore out of order, 69.

That Statutes had been passed by this House in which the Crown had been held amenable to the law—there was power under the Constitution Act to bind the Crown; therefore the provisions of clause 3 of the Fair Rents Bill were in order, 114.

That an amendment, in the Military and Naval Hospital Home Bill, leaving out the words "wounded during the present war," the scope of the Bill was perhaps slightly widened, though the object was not changed, and there had been no great infraction of the 46th section of the Constitution Act, 103.

That a motion respecting the expunging of any matter from the Records of the House could be put directly to the House, without notice by concurrence, 129.

That the House, having decided that the word "nine" should stand in an amendment to a motion to fix the hours for the closing of lobbies, it was competent to test the House on the hour—notice of which amendment had been indicated, 131.

That the Valuation of Land Bill (No. 2) did not exceed the Order of Leave, which was very wide and definite.—Clause 64 was well within the Order of Leave which definitely set forth an amendment of the Stamp Duties Act, 131.

That the question as to the Position of Business interrupted by Senatorial Order giving priorities of Government Business after 6 o'clock having arisen, he would, in future, when the moment of interruption arrived, take the Debate as adjourned by the Sessional Order, and the Member in charge of the Business would be required to name the date for the resumption of the Debate, 157, 158.

That the motion for adjournment under the 49th Standing Order respecting the moneys subscribed by the public to the various Relief Funds was all-embracing, the matter already interfered with, and definite,—clause 64 was well within the Order of Leave which definitely set forth an amendment of the Stamp Duties Act, 131.

That the motion for adjournment under the 49th Standing Order respecting excessive statements that might appear therein, 59.

That the motion for adjournment under the 49th Standing Order respecting excessive statements that might appear therein, 59.

The matter of Privilege raised by an Honorable Member in regard to a certain judgment of the High Court having reference to the Honorable Member for Paddington, Mr. O'Brien, had already been discussed this session, and was out of order, 129.

The matter of Privilege raised by an Honorable Member in regard to a certain judgment of the High Court having reference to the Honorable Member for Paddington, Mr. O'Brien, had already been discussed this session, and was out of order, 129.

That it was in order to discuss it motion for adjournment under the 49th Standing Order, in referring to the essence of the question which he wished at a later stage to debate,—the motion was in order, 492.

The matter of Privilege raised by an Honorable Member in regard to a certain judgment of the High Court having reference to the Honorable Member for Paddington, Mr. O'Brien, had already been discussed this session, and was out of order, 175.

That the Grain Elevator Bill was before the House in consequence of a resolution rescinding the Constitution Bill, the motion was in order, 402.

That the item “Agriculture—For the promotion of Agriculture, Agricultural Colleges, and Experiments and Demonstration Farms, £50,000” was in order, as the amount which consisted of sums which did not in any instance exceed £20,000, the provisions of the Works Act were not infringed, 200.

That the item “Agriculture—Purchase of Site for Horse-breeding Farm and Improvements, £50,000,” was in order, as this was not a work within the meaning of the Public Works Act, 200.

That the Naturalised Subjects Franchise Bill was not ultra vires—this State was entirely within its rights in making the discrimination proposed in the Bill—the Bill was in order, 358.
