Security Industry Amendment (Regulation of Training Organisations) Bill 2015

Explanatory note

This explanatory note relates to this Bill as introduced into Parliament.

This Bill is cognate with the Firearms and Weapons Prohibition Legislation Amendment Bill 2015.

Overview of Bill

The object of this Bill is to amend the Security Industry Act 1997 to preserve the operation of State security industry training organisation provisions. Section 6A of that Act (which was enacted in 2012) declared that State security industry regulation provisions were an excluded matter for the purposes of section 10 of the National Vocational Education and Training Regulator Act 2011 of the Commonwealth (the Commonwealth Act). That declaration did not extend to certain Commonwealth national registration provisions, which may result in the State provisions in the same area being inconsistent and therefore not operative under section 109 of the Australian Constitution. Pursuant to a power conferred by section 11 of the Commonwealth Act, this Bill displaces the Commonwealth Act to the extent that it would render inoperative State security industry training organisation provisions that are inconsistent with the Commonwealth Act.

Outline of provisions
