

New South Wales

Crimes Amendment (Road Accidents) Bill 2005

Explanatory note

This explanatory note relates to this Bill as introduced into Parliament.

Overview of Bill

The object of this Bill is to amend the Crimes Act 1900 and various other Acts with respect to the obligations of drivers to stop and provide assistance where their vehicles are involved in accidents that cause death or injury.

Outline of provisions

Clause 1 sets out the name (also called the short title) of the proposed Act.

Clause 2 provides for the commencement of the proposed Act (with minor exceptions) on a day or days to be appointed by proclamation. The minor exceptions comprise consequential amendments that relate to the uncommenced Road Transport (General) Act 2005.

Clause 3 is a formal provision that gives effect to the amendment to the Crimes Act 1900 set out in Schedule 1.

Clause 4 is a formal provision that gives effect to the amendments to the Acts set out in Schedule 2.

Schedule 1 Amendment of Crimes Act 1900

Schedule 1 inserts a new section 52AB into the Crimes Act 1900. The proposed section makes it an offence for the driver of a vehicle that is involved in a collision causing death or grievous bodily harm to fail to stop and give assistance in circumstances in which he or she knows, or ought reasonably to know, that the vehicle has been involved in such a collision. Where the collision causes death, the maximum penalty for such a failure is imprisonment for 10 years. Where the collision causes grievous bodily harm, the maximum penalty for such a failure is imprisonment for 7 years.

Schedule 2 Amendment of other Acts

Schedule 2.1 amends the Criminal Procedure Act 1986 so as to provide that an offence against proposed section 52AB of the Crimes Act 1900 will be dealt with summarily unless the prosecution or person charged elects for it to be dealt with on indictment. If dealt with summarily, the maximum penalty that can be imposed for such an offence will be imprisonment for 18 months.

Schedule 2.2 amends the Road Transport (General) Act 1999 so as to provide for the disqualification of a person from holding a driver licence in circumstances in which the person is convicted of an offence under proposed section 52AB of the Crimes Act 1900.

Schedule 2.3 amends the (uncommenced) Road Transport (General) Act 2005 so as to provide for the disqualification of a person from holding a driver licence in circumstances in which the person is convicted of an offence under proposed section 52AB of the Crimes Act 1900.

Schedule 2.4 substitutes section 70 of the Road Transport (Safety and Traffic Management) Act 1999. The proposed new section, which replaces an existing section with respect to the giving of assistance at accidents involving death or injury, is in similar terms to proposed section 52AB of the Crimes Act 1900, but is intended to apply only where there is a collision where any injury appears to fall short of death or grievous bodily harm. As with existing section 70, the maximum penalty for failing to stop and give assistance is 30 penalty units or imprisonment for 18 months or both (for a first offence) or 50 penalty units or imprisonment for 2 years or both (for a second or subsequent offence).
