Valuation of Land Amendment Bill 2009

Explanatory note

This explanatory note relates to this Bill as introduced into Parliament.

Overview of Bill

The object of this Bill is to amend legislation relating to the valuation of land that is heritage restricted (including land listed on the State Heritage Register) to restore the previous practice of the Valuer-General in relation to that land before the decision of the Court of Appeal in Valuer-General v Commonwealth Custodial Services Ltd [2009] NSWCA 143.

Land value is ordinarily determined on the general assumption that there are no improvements on the land and that the land can be used for any purpose for which it is being used or could legally be used. Valuations of heritage restricted land are reduced by provisions that require the Valuer-General to assume that the land can only be used for the purpose for which it is being used and that the only improvements that can be made and continued are those that are on the land at the relevant date of valuation.

The Valuer-General's practice (which the Court found was not supported by the current provisions of the legislation) has been to treat any improvements on the land as new improvements without making any deductions because of the current condition of the improvements (such as deductions for repairs or future maintenance). The Bill reverses the Court decision and confirms the previous practice of the Valuer-General in respect of the valuation of heritage restricted land.
