Carbon Rights Legislation Amendment Act 1998 No 124

Act No 124, 1998

---

An Act to amend the Conveyancing Act 1919 to recognise that rights associated with carbon sequestered by trees and forests from the atmosphere may be a species of forestry right and be the subject of a forestry covenant; to amend the Forestry Act 1916 to enable the Forestry Commission to acquire and trade in such rights and to confer additional powers on the Commission; to amend various other Acts to enable electricity generators and distributors to trade in such rights; and for other purposes. [Assented to 26 November 1998]

Schedule 1    Amendment of Conveyancing Act 1919 No 6

(Section 3)

[1]    Section 87A Definitions

Omit “or” from paragraph (b) of the definition of forestry covenant.

[2]    Section 87A, definition of “forestry covenant”

Insert after paragraph (c) of the definition of forestry covenant:

- (d) the provision of access to or the maintenance of trees or forests on land that is the subject of any carbon sequestration right, or
- (e) the ownership of any tree or trees on land that is the subject of a forestry right to be vested in the person who owns the forestry right,

[3]    Section 87A

Omit the definition of forestry right from section 87A.

Insert in alphabetical order:

carbon sequestration by a tree or forest means the process by which the tree or forest absorbs carbon dioxide from the atmosphere.

carbon sequestration right, in relation to land, means a right conferred on a person by agreement or otherwise to the legal, commercial or other benefit (whether present or future) of carbon sequestration by any existing or future tree or forest on the land after 1990.

forestry right, in relation to land, means:

- (a) an interest in the land pursuant to which a person having the benefit of the interest is entitled:
  - (i) to enter the land and establish, maintain and harvest (or to maintain and harvest) a crop of trees on the land, or
  - (ii) to enter the land and establish, maintain and harvest (or to maintain and harvest) a crop of trees on the land and to construct and use such buildings, works and facilities as may be necessary or convenient to enable the person to establish, maintain and harvest the crop, or
- (b) a carbon sequestration right in respect of the land, or
- (c) a combination of the interest and right referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b).

[4] Section 88AB Forestry rights to be deemed to be profits à prendre

Insert at the end of the section:

- (2) If a forestry right consists in whole or in part of a carbon sequestration right, the profit à prendre deemed to exist by subsection (1) in relation to the carbon sequestration right consists of the following:
  - (a) the profit from the land is taken to be the legal, commercial or other benefit (whether present or future) of carbon sequestration by any existing or future tree or forest on the land that is the subject of the carbon sequestration right,
  - (b) the right to take something from the land is taken to be the right to the benefit conferred by the carbon sequestration right.

[5] Schedule 9 Savings, transitional and other provisions

Insert at the end of clause 1 (1):

Carbon Rights Legislation Amendment Act 1998

[6] Schedule 9

Insert in Schedule 9 (with appropriate Part and clause numbers):

Part Provisions consequent on enactment of
Carbon Rights Legislation Amendment Act
1998
