 - (a) a licence under the Pollution Control Act 1970 or, after the repeal of that Act, under the Protection of the Environment Operations Act 1997, or
 - (b) a licence under the Threatened Species Conservation Act 1995, or
 - (c) a licence under Part 7A of the Fisheries Management Act 1994.
- (2) Any such licence is referred to in this Division as a relevant licence.
- (3) The Act under which such a licence is granted is referred to in this Division as the relevant Act.

34 Approval may set out terms of relevant licence

- (1) An integrated forestry operations approval may set out the terms of any relevant licence. If the approval does so, any person carrying out forestry operations covered by the approval is taken to hold a licence in those terms under the relevant Act.
- (2) Any such licence has effect, for all purposes, as a licence granted under the relevant Act.
- (3) The Ministers granting the approval may rely on the information in the relevant regional forest assessment for the purpose of determining the terms of any relevant licence. In particular, a species impact statement or other separate environmental assessment is not required to be obtained for that purpose.
- (4) The terms of any relevant licence need not extend to all forestry operations covered by the approval.
- (5) Any licence previously granted under the relevant Act ceases to have effect to the extent that it deals with forestry operations covered by the approval and the terms of a relevant licence set out in the approval.
- (6) This section does not prevent the grant of a relevant licence under a relevant Act if it does not deal with forestry operations covered by the terms of a relevant licence set out in an integrated forestry operations approval.

35 Enforcement of relevant licence

- (1) The terms of a relevant licence set out in an integrated forestry operations approval are to be enforced (subject to this Act) in the same way as any other licence under the relevant Act. However, the terms of a relevant licence set out in an integrated forestry operations approval cannot be varied, and the licence cannot be revoked, under the relevant Act.

Note. A contravention of the terms of a relevant licence makes the person carrying out the forestry operations liable for offences for which the licence provides a defence (eg damage to critical habitat of threatened species under the National Parks and Wildlife Act 1974; offence of polluting waters under the Protection of the Environment Operations Act 1997).

- (2) The government agency responsible for the enforcement of a relevant licence must notify the Ministers who granted the approval of any contravention (of which it becomes aware) of the terms of the licence by the persons carrying out forestry operations covered by the approval.

Note. Section 31 provides that the Ministers may amend, suspend or revoke an approval at any time.

Division 4 Application of other legislation

36 Application of Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979

- (1) Part 5 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 does not apply in respect of the carrying out of, or the granting of approval in relation to, forestry operations during any period that an integrated forestry operations approval applies to those operations. That Part does not apply to the granting or amendment of any such approval or to the making or amendment of a forest agreement.
- (2) An environmental planning instrument under the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 cannot prohibit, require development consent for or otherwise restrict forestry operations during any period that an integrated forestry operations approval applies to those operations.
- (3) An order under Division 2A of Part 6 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 does not have effect to the extent that it prevents or interferes with the carrying out of forestry operations authorised by an integrated forestry operations approval.
- (4) Any approval of forestry operations that is in force under Division 4 of Part 5 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 has no effect during any period that Part 5 of that Act does not apply to the forestry operations. Any development consent for forestry operations that is in force under Part 4 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 has no effect during any period that development consent under Part 4 of that Act is not required for the forestry operations.

- (5) Subsection (2) applies to an environmental planning instrument made before or after the commencement of this section.

37 Application of National Parks and Wildlife Act 1974 and Threatened Species Conservation Act 1995

- (1) Part 6A (Stop work orders and interim protection orders) of the National Parks and Wildlife Act 1974 does not apply to the carrying out of forestry operations during any period that an integrated forestry operations approval applies to those operations.
- (2) However, subsection (1) does not prevent the making of an order for the purpose of protecting any Aboriginal relic or place.
- (3) Division 1 of Part 7 (Stop work orders) of the Threatened Species Conservation Act 1995 does not apply to the carrying out of forestry operations during any period that an integrated forestry operations approval applies to those operations.

38 Application of Local Government Act orders

An order under section 124 of the Local Government Act 1993 does not have effect to the extent that it prevents or interferes with the carrying out of forestry operations authorised by an integrated forestry operations approval.

39 Application of wilderness legislation

An area in which forestry operations authorised by an integrated forestry operations approval may be carried out cannot be proposed or identified as, or declared to be, a wilderness area under the Wilderness Act 1987 or the National Parks and Wildlife Act 1974.

40 Application of statutory provisions relating to proceedings by third parties

- (1) This section applies to the following statutory provisions:
- (a) section 25 of the Environmental Offences and Penalties Act 1989, or, after the repeal of that Act, section 252 or 253 of the Protection of the Environment Operations Act 1997,
 - (b) a provision of an Act that gives any person a right to institute proceedings in a court to remedy or restrain a breach (or a threatened or apprehended breach) of the Act or an instrument made under the Act, whether or not any right of the person has been or may be infringed by or as a consequence of that breach,
 - (c) section 13 (2A) of the Environmental Offences and Penalties Act 1989 or, after the repeal of that Act, section 219 of the Protection of the Environment Operations Act 1997.
- (2) Proceedings may not be brought under a statutory provision to which this section applies if the breach (or threatened or apprehended breach) to which the proceedings relate is as follows:
- (a) a breach of this Act (including a breach of any forest agreement),
 - (b) a breach of an integrated forestry operations approval (including a breach of the terms of any licence provided by the approval),
 - (c) a breach of an Act or law that arises because any defence provided by any such licence is not available as a result of a breach of the licence,
 - (d) a breach of the Act that includes the statutory provision (including a breach of an instrument made under that Act) if the breach relates to forestry operations to which an integrated forestry operations approval applies.

- (3) This section does not apply to any proceedings brought by:
- (a) a Minister, or
 - (b) the Environment Protection Authority or a member of the staff of the Authority, or
 - (c) in the case of the provision of an Act referred to in subsection (1) (b)—a government agency or any government official engaged in the execution or administration of the Act.

The Forestry Act 1916 is amended as set out in Schedule 8.
