The Commonwealth Parliament passed the Personal Property Securities Act 2009 . Normally a law of the Commonwealth prevails over a State law to the extent of any inconsistency between them (see section 109 of the Commonwealth Constitution). However, section 259 of the Personal Property Securities Act	34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41

(2)	Unless the contrary intention appears, expressions used in orders made under this Act, or in pursuance of the regulations, have the same meanings as in this Act.	29 30 31
(3)	Orders made in pursuance of the regulations are to be read subject to this Act and the regulations and so as not to exceed the power conferred by this Act and the regulations to the intent that, where such orders would, but for this subsection, have been construed as being in excess of the power conferred by this Act and the regulations, they are taken to be valid orders to the extent to which they are not in excess of the power conferred by this Act and the regulations.	32 33 34 35 36 37 38
