f. How is the NSW Government assisting communities who may be impacted by any proposed Very Fast Train corridor?
g. Has the NSW Government made financial assistance available for any Very Fast Train projects?
h. If yes, how much and which projects?

ANSWER

a-h. Regarding transport infrastructure projects more broadly, the NSW Government has established Infrastructure NSW and tasked it with developing a 20 year State Infrastructure Strategy and five-year State Infrastructure Plans. It is anticipated that Infrastructure NSW will submit both to the Premier mid-2012 as is required pursuant to sections 18 and 19 of the Infrastructure NSW Act 2011.

The NSW Government meets with the Federal Government regularly to discuss infrastructure priorities. In relation to the Very Fast Train, the Minister for Regional Infrastructure and Services is responsible for the Very Fast Train (Route Investigation) Act 1989. The Act has not been statutorily reviewed in the past five years, nor have any of its provisions been activated. The Government has therefore commenced a review of the Act and make recommendations on how it can be improved to better fulfil its objectives.

For example, assistance was provided to Wagga Council to assist the development of the Bomen industrial precinct and intermodal terminal. Similarly Albury Council was assisted in the expansion of the Ettamogah industrial precinct.

QUESTION 6. - Hunter Infrastructure

a. Do you consider funds going into Hunter Infrastructure and Investment Fund to be funding for 'Regional' infrastructure?
b. Will the Hunter Infrastructure and Investment Fund include investments into Newcastle?
c. Is Newcastle considered by the Coalition Government to be 'Regional'?
d. Will all future claims by the Coalition Government of 'Regional Investment' include funding to Newcastle?

ANSWER

a-d. The NSW Government is committed to policies that assist and encourage whole-of-state growth. These plans are articulated and funded in the 2011-12 Budget and NSW 2021. Actions to support job growth in NSW include:

- Delivering the Jobs Action Plan to assist business investment and growth to target 100,000 new jobs - 40,000 in regional NSW.
- Investing in new infrastructure through Infrastructure NSW and the Restart NSW fund – at least 30% of which has been earmarked for regional NSW and to tackle the backlog in infrastructure projects there.
- Implementing Resources for Regions policy, with up to $160 million allocated to infrastructure programs such as road repairs for mining-affected communities.
- The Hunter Infrastructure and Investment Fund for projects in and around the Hunter.
- Developing Regional Action Plans which harness business opportunities and address impediments to growth in each region.

The Government has also amalgamated 12 assistance funds into two new programs – the State Investment Attraction Scheme (SIAS) and the Regional Industries Investment Fund - to ensure better alignment with the Government’s priorities, as outlined in the NSW 2021 Plan. $130 million funding has been set aside for these new funds which will capture emerging businesses, productivity, innovation, export and industry development opportunities, regional or industry restructuring needs and will be able to offset costs related to infrastructure or other establishment or expansion costs which would otherwise prevent a project from proceeding in NSW.

Applicants in the Newcastle City Council Local Government area can apply for the Regional Relocation Grants program in the event they relocate to eligible local government areas. Projects in the Newcastle region will continue to be eligible for assistance through the Hunter Infrastructure and Investment Fund, the State Investment Attraction Scheme (SIAS), the Regional Industries Investment Fund (RIIF) and the Jobs Action Plan. The NSW Government will also work with the Hunter community to develop a regional action plan and will support applications from the area for Federal infrastructure funding made by Regional Development Australia – Hunter.

QUESTION 8. - Regional Relocation Grants

a. Why is Newcastle not included, in fact it is explicitly excluded, in the Regional Relocation Grants?

ANSWER

a. The NSW Government is committed to policies that assist and encourage whole-of-state growth. These plans are articulated and funded in the 2011-12 Budget and NSW 2021. Actions to support job growth in NSW include:

- Delivering the Jobs Action Plan to assist business investment and growth to target 100,000 new jobs - 40,000 in regional NSW.
- Investing in new infrastructure through Infrastructure NSW and the Restart NSW fund – at least 30% of which has been earmarked for regional NSW and to tackle the backlog in infrastructure projects there.

- The Hunter Infrastructure and Investment Fund for projects in and around the Hunter.
- Developing Regional Action Plans which harness business opportunities and address impediments to growth in each region.

The Government has also amalgamated 12 assistance funds into two new programs – the State Investment Attraction Scheme (SIAS) and the Regional Industries Investment Fund - to ensure better alignment with the Government’s priorities, as outlined in the NSW 2021 Plan. $130 million funding has been set aside for these new funds which will capture emerging businesses, productivity, innovation, export and industry development opportunities, regional or industry restructuring needs and will be able to offset costs related to infrastructure or other establishment or expansion costs which would otherwise prevent a project from proceeding in NSW.

Projects in the Newcastle region will continue to be eligible for assistance through the Hunter Infrastructure and Investment Fund, the State Investment Attraction Scheme (SIAS), the Regional Industries Investment Fund (RIIF) and the Jobs Action Plan. QUESTIONS ON NOTICE: Budget Estimates – Regional Infrastructure & Services Portfolio
(Asked 25 October 2011)

Question asked by the Hon Amanda Fazio MLC.

QUESTION 9. - Previous Commitments

a. Can you confirm that most of the $63m for regional development programs to be spent in 2011/12 are actually carry over programs and commitments from the previous Government?
b. Please list all new funding for Regional Development in the budget? Please exclude carry over programmes from the previous Government and Commonwealth funding?

a-b. Upon coming into Government the NSW Liberals & Nationals were advised that the piecemeal approach to business assistance as developed under the previous government was sub-optimal and that a number of business assistance programs were over-subscribed over the forward estimates.

The advice to the incoming government was to establish two new programs – the State Investment Attraction Scheme (SIAS) and the Regional Industries Investment Fund (RIIF) – to ensure the best projects in the State were being progressed. This also provides for better alignment of these programs with the Government’s priorities as outlined in the NSW 2021 Plan. The Government’s view is that removing rigid eligibility criteria, especially based on geographic location, will allow greater flexibility in attracting investment and jobs to Illawarra and other parts of the state.

The Government has therefore amalgamated eleven investment attraction programs into two investment programs - the Regional Industries Investment Fund (RIIF) and the State Investment Attraction Scheme (SIAS). These two new programs will complement the Jobs Action Plan, which is targeting 100,000 new jobs, with 40,000 of those in regional NSW. In all program arrangements, expenditure reflects both past commitments and new commitments made during the current year. The timing of payments made to companies and organisations is dependent upon agreed milestones being met.

A portion of this – up to $160M over four years - will be directed to ‘Resources for the Regions’ to deliver infrastructure for mining-affected communities.

The first step – the assessment of the economic impact on mining-affected regions and on the contribution they make to the State in economic activity and production of revenue – is progressing on schedule.

This process has involved the Department of Trade and Investment; Office of Resources and Energy; Department of Premier and Cabinet; Department of Planning and Infrastructure; NSW Treasury; Department of Finance and Services; and Transport for NSW.

Restart NSW is being funded from appropriations by Parliament and the budget process, including any such money certified as ‘windfall tax revenue’; realisation of the capital invested in assets, such as from the Sydney Desalination Plant and Port Botany; and potentially borrowings, including the issue of special bonds to the people of New South Wales such as Waratah bonds.

ANSWER

a – b. NSW Government agencies provide grants to local government councils and a range of non-government, non-profit organisations for the purpose of providing a service to the community or undertaking a project of benefit to the community.

Grants administration in NSW occurs within the legal and regulatory framework in which the NSW Government operates.

All Government Departments and authorities are required to publish details of grants made to non-government organisations in their annual report. The requirements are set out in Premier’s Memorandum 91-34.

The policy has not changed since Labor was in Government.
