 DEPUTY SPEAKER AND CHAIRMAN OF COMMITTEES (H. T. FOWLES, ESQ.), RULINGS, OBSERVATIONS AND OPINIONS:
Adjournment: A motion for the adjournment of the House must not be of a type that will cause general debate, 2435, 2436, 2437; matters referred to in such a debate

24th August, 1960, to 16th March, 1961.

must affect an hon. member's electorate, 2435, 2438, 2439; and require immediate attention, 2437. Controversy will not be allowed, 2436. Matters of general interest may be dealt with, 2436, 2438; matters that require the moving of a substantive motion so that the House will debate them, may not be dealt with on the adjournment, 2437.

Amendments: A prior amendment must be disposed of before a further amendment may be moved, 1936; but the Chairman may preserve the right of an hon. member who wishes to move an overlapping amendment, by appropriately framing the question to the Committee on the amendment under consideration, 2118.

The proposing of an amendment to delete a whole clause needs no discussion, 2787, 2788.

Caucus and Cabinet Meetings: Secrecy, 859.

Chair: The Chairman, in Committee proceedings, may make a remark to a Minister sitting near him, 612.

Hon. members may not trifle with the Chair, 670; and they may not canvass a ruling of the Chair, 1469, 1470, 1473.

Hon. members must address the Chair, 631, 981, 1018, 1086, 1138, 1670.

The Chairman, and not an hon. member, determines whether the standing orders are being observed, 1474.

The Chairman has no jurisdiction over events that occurred when a bill was before the House, 2787.

An hon. member is not "bluntly put down" when his question of the Chair is answered in accordance with the standing orders, 2788.

Chamber: Presence of hon. member for South Coast, 671.

Debate: An hon. member should not be provocative, 981, 983, 1003, 1086, 1670; though he is entitled to defend himself against allegations made by another hon. member, 1018, 1021.

When a debate has proceeded on a high plane, it should be kept there, 3261.

Hon. Members Warned: Hon. member for Eastwood, 216; hon. member for Blacktown, 366; hon. member for Neutral Bay, 669; hon. member for Armidale, 1470; hon. member for Burwood, 2435.

DEPUTY SPEAKER AND CHAIRMAN OF COMMITTEES (H. T. FOWLES, ESQ.), RULINGS, OBSERVATIONS AND OPINIONS (continued):

Imputations, Aspersions and Offensive Remarks: It is the usual procedure for an hon. member to withdraw and apologise for a remark to which another hon. member objects, 371, 372.

An hon. member might omit personal matters to avoid engendering heat in the debate, 662.

An hon. member may not object to a remark of another hon. member and maintain, on behalf of an hon. member who is absent, that something the House knows nothing about is right or wrong, 669.

It is not imputing motives but merely giving an opinion for an hon. member to say, "Had there been an honest approach made." Any hon. member who receives the call has the right to put forward his opinion, 670.

It is not offensive to be told by an hon. member that one is asleep, 671.

When an hon. member finds offensive the remark, "He is merely playing out time", it will be withdrawn, 3234.

Interjections and Interruptions: An hon. member is entitled to be heard in silence, 613, 631, 673, 702, 983, 1003, 1018, 1021, 1134, 1136, 1138, 1455; especially the Treasurer when delivering his budget speech, 555; and he should ignore interjections, 1717.

Continual interjections are disorderly, 1717.

An interjector could be trying to be helpful, 3144.

Points of Order: The Chair may decide whether a point of order taken by an hon. member is merely an interjection, 363.

It is not a point of order to suggest that the Minister should mention specific matters when speaking in debate on a private member's motion, 1434.

Press: An hon. member may make a passing comment on a newspaper article without accepting responsibility for its accuracy, 237.

Relevance: An hon. member may deal only with the resolution before the Committee, 617, 618, 1469, 1729, 1730, 2597; or with the amendment until it has been resolved, 1470, 1472, 1473, 1474.

Though debate on the Budget may be permitted to continue on broad lines, hon.

An hon. member should confine his remarks to the bill, 2970, 2977, 3233.

When the Committee is debating a clause to exempt gifts to the Sydney Opera House from stamp duty and probate duty, only brief reference to a similar provision for other causes, such as the Spastic Centre, will be allowed, 2593.

Sub Judice: A question without notice that merely anticipates something that will happen in the court but has not yet happened, does not infringe the sub judice rule, 858.

SPEAKER, MR. (THE HON. R. S. MAHER), RULINGS, OBSERVATIONS AND OPINIONS:

Adjournment: When speaking on the motion for the adjournment of the House, hon. members should confine their remarks primarily to constituency matters, but they may briefly refer to matters of general importance. The debate is usually limited to ten minutes, but may be longer if the Government concludes its business earlier than the limit prescribed by the sessional order, 297, 417.

It is not necessary that a matter raised by an hon. member on the adjournment of the House shall refer to his own electorate, 3269.

It is improper for hon. members to indulge in filibusters, 2440. It would be unfair and in breach of the spirit of the adjournment debate to allow one hon. member to monopolise the time available. On a strict, literal interpretation of the standing orders he may discuss only "a specific matter", not a number of points, one divorced from the other, which he raises seriatim; taking advantage of the situation to trifle with the House, 2441.

The raising of two separate matters by one hon. member is not out of order, but after he has discussed two topics, Mr. Speaker will further consider the position, 3273.

If hon. members wish to express their grievances they may have recourse to the procedure under Standing Order 49, which has tended to fall into disuse, and the opportunity to speak on the motion for the adjournment of the House. If these procedures are found to be unwieldy or impracticable, Mr. Speaker will confer with party leaders to ascertain whether a recommendation that the standing orders be amended should be submitted to the House, 297.

On the motion for the adjournment of the House an hon. member may defend the reputation of a constituent, but it is improper for him to make any reference to an earlier question without notice on the same matter that was ruled out of order, or to debate the matter, 452.

24th August, 1960, to 16th March, 1961.

SPEAKER, MR. (THE HON. R. S. MAHER),
RULINGS, OBSERVATIONS AND OPINIONS

If an hon. member seeks to turn the motion for the adjournment of the House into a debate on a political basis, Mr. Speaker must treat the matter strictly and he will only hear him further if the hon. member insists that he has something to contribute, 453.

An hon. member may not speak on the adjournment debate in answer to the remarks of another hon. member unless he feels that aspersions have been cast upon him by the earlier speaker, 454.

An hon. member may not, on the motion for the adjournment of the House, attempt to debate what was said in a debate that has been concluded, 572.

An hon. member may not on the adjournment discuss a matter that obviously will give rise to general debate, 573, 2440, 3180, 3269, 3274.

Hon. members should not make the adjournment debate an excuse for an attack on the Government, 854.

On the motion for the adjournment of the House an hon. member should not seek to ask the Minister a question that he might have put at question time that day, 1583.

Amendments: No amendment may be proposed after an amendment to a later part of the question has been dealt with; and an hon. member may not resort to a subterfuge to try to overcome this standing order, 1068.

Anticipation of Debate: An urgency motion on one specific matter does not anticipate debate on a fivefold and general private member's motion already appearing on the business paper, 2449; it does not matter that the two motions deal with two facets of roughly the same subject, 2450.

A question without notice cannot be regarded as anticipating a motion, 3216.

Blind or Incapacitated Members: Assistance in voting at Legislative Council elections, 751, 1584.

Chair: Mr. Speaker is in charge of the House, 160.

Hon. members must address the Chair, 413, 3012; they may not canvass a ruling of the Chair, 1255; and they may not interrupt Mr. Speaker, 1528.

When a Minister is provoked into addressing another hon. member directly, he is not holding the Chair in contempt, 2523.

SPEAKER, MR. (THE HON. R. S. MAHER),

Mr. Speaker, without entering into the debate, may point out that an hon. member's inference is wrong: to say that aldermen were not confident of their ability does not mean that they are inefficient, 573, 1007.

The acoustics of the Chamber make it impossible at times for Mr. Speaker to hear all the remarks of an hon. member who speaks to another hon. member. No threats, browbeating, intimidation or coercion are likely to deter the Chair from doing what he believes to be correct. The Chair would be obliged to take the strongest possible action against any hon. member who, at any time, says openly and audibly in the Chamber what another might choose discreetly to say under his breath, 582.

Mr. Speaker has received no threat from any hon. member. So far as he is concerned, all hon. members are equal, 582.

An hon. member who criticises outside the House Mr. Speaker's rulings is acting in a manner which is to be deplored, 2554. Continuation outside the House of criticism of the Chair is against the best interests of the parliamentary institution, 2702.

Mr. Speaker is not the instrument of anyone; he must be fair in fulfilling his obligations to all hon. members and will not be browbeaten, 2404; or fooled about, 2630.

The standing orders apply equally to hon. members on each side of the House, 2630, 2631.

Dissent: A ruling by Mr. Speaker can be dissented from only by motion. Notice of such motion shall be given and set down to be considered within three sitting days (S.O. 161), 3034.

When an hon. member has the call at the appropriate time to give notice of a motion of dissent, he may not also ask a question, 3213.

Hon. Members Warned: Hon. member for Wollongong-Kembla, 543; hon. member for Mosman, 580, 1418, 2554, 2631, 3032; hon. member for Armidale, 1208; hon. member for Gordon, 1211, 1296, 1365, 1835; hon. member for Monaro, 1290; hon. member for Dulwich Hill, 1296; hon. member for Neutral Bay, 1490; hon. member for King, 1527; hon. member for Burwood, 1528, 3069; hon. member for Hornsby, 1553; hon. member for Wollondilly, 2060; hon. member for Maitland, 2133; hon. member for Cessnock, 2179; hon. member for Goulburn, 2630; hon. member for Barwon, 2950, 3067; hon. member for Tamworth, 3267; hon. member for Byron, 3267.

Hon. Member for Earlwood removed from Chamber: The hon. member was called upon three times to withdraw his remarks and was then asked to leave the Chamber on the ground that he defied the Chair, 3131. Standing Order 392 is applicable to Mr. Speaker's action, 3153.

Hunter, D.B., Esq., Hon. Member for Ashfield-Croydon: Parliamentary service record, 300.

Imputations, Aspersions and Offensive Remarks: The use of the word "malicious" to describe an hon. member's criticism imputes improper motives and is disorderly, 110. To suggest that a question without notice was engineered is imputing improper motives, 122.

The fact that a Minister smiles while an Opposition member is speaking does not indicate that the Minister was prompted by improper motives. Such an incident is often seized upon in debate so that it will be recorded in Hansard, 144.

It is no offence for an hon. member to smile, and it is no misrepresentation to say that he is smiling, though misunderstanding may occur about whether he is smiling or interjecting, 2471.

The description of certain legislation as "not worth a crumplet" is quite parliamentary, 523.

It ill becomes any member of the Opposition to criticise anyone for reflecting on the government of a sovereign State, 577.

Personal recrimination is unworthy of the House, 1295: an hon. member should not make any derogatory remarks about hon. members, 452.

When an hon. member asks a question during his speech, the Minister is entitled to answer at once or not at all; it is offensive to suggest that a most alert member of the House has gone to sleep, 2522.

An hon. member may not ask a question without notice that imputes improper motives, 693, 1491, 1648. He may not imply improper motives in debate, 1255; nor may he be facetious, 1256. To say that a Minister is introducing a measure simply because he was instructed by another body is imputing improper motives, 1255.

A statement on the housing shortage made by the Minister for Housing in answer to a question without notice and contrary to the opinion expressed by a witness at a Royal commission is not an attack upon the credibility of that witness and nothing needs to be withdrawn, 2855.

When an hon. member considers that his repute has been assailed by the manner in which a point of order is expressed, he is entitled to ask for withdrawal of the remarks and imputations against him, 2855.

When an hon. member casts aspersions upon the character of another hon. member in such a way as to give personal affront, the remarks will be required to be withdrawn, but no point of order on this ground can be taken on any remark that does not concern a member of the Chamber, 2856.

The word "deliberately," in the statement "The federal Minister responsible deliberately misconstrued my question and the Minister's answer", was withdrawn, 2478.

"The Wandering Jew of radio" was withdrawn, 2480.

Mr. Speaker will always insist upon the withdrawal of an objectionable or unparliamentary phrase, 2098, 2107; and an hon. member called upon to withdraw and to apologise for an objectionable remark must do so without qualification, 144.

At any stage an hon. member can rise to object to offensive remarks about him personally; no point of order is involved, 3130.

Statement that an hon. member is afraid to record his vote on a motion is an imputation against that hon. member, 3132.

Hon. members should not be so sensitive as to regard the expression "a dying kick", applied to a political party or a house of parliament, as offensive, 3211. Quite frequently exception has been taken to things said in the parry and thrust of debate which were not offensive, 3212.

24th August, 1960, to 16th March, 1961.

SPEAKER, MR. (THE HON. R. S. MAHER),

It is reasonable for a Minister to ask an hon. member for an explanation of a phrase that could impute improper motives to him, 2106.

Point of order, that a question without notice imputed improper motives, not allowed, 896, 1964.

An hon. member should not refer to a distinguished character like the Prime Minister as being un-Australian, 1491.

An hon. member's reference to "Macquarie Street sailors" has no intention to impugn the magnificent war effort of any other hon. member, 1528.

Interjections and Interruptions: Inane and superfluous interjections, such as "Isn't that terrible", are disorderly, 67.

Numerous interjections are disorderly, 141, 145, 353, 421, 2636, 2935, 2965, 2969, 3031, 3267; especially if they are made by hon. members who have already made a contribution to the debate, 515, 1531, 1581, 2059; extremely disorderly interjection, 1041.

A constant barrage of interjections makes the debate inaudible and prevents the Minister from proceeding, 2466.

Interjections, apparently organised, from one section of the House will not be tolerated; full disciplinary action will be taken to maintain silence, 3267.

Reasonable interjections are permissible—indeed, welcomed by the Minister, 2466; but not irrelevant interjections, 1855.

When an hon. member apologised for an interjection that had led to a misunderstanding of his attitude, the hon. member who was speaking withdrew his retort to the interjection, 3267.

Useful and pertinent interjections are not disorderly, 1160; nor is a relevant interjection seeking clarification of a point, 1832.

An hon. member is entitled to be heard in silence, 141, 1045, 1526, 1866, 2178, 2737, 2775, 2812, 2947, 2965, 3026, 3028, 3032; especially a Minister when replying, 1581, 1834, 1836, 2108.

Interchange of remarks across the Chamber is disorderly, 2179, 3029.

Legislative Council: Issue of writ for triennial election, 2552; Ballot, 3276.

Ministerial Statements: A statement does not become a ministerial statement simply by a Minister's so describing it; that determination is the prerogative of Mr. Speaker, and ministerial statements must contain statements of policy, 2446, 2611.

Wherever possible, ministerial statements should be made immediately at the termination of question time, not during the time available to hon. members for asking questions without notice, 2400, 2401.

Ministers should not resort to making ministerial statements unless they are making statements of Government policy, usually about something that has not previously been known to hon. members; amplification of an earlier reply to a question without notice need not be in the form of a ministerial statement, 2401, 2403, 2446.

It is a misuse of the forms of the House to adopt the procedure of a ministerial statement to make a reply to press assertions, 2403.

Mr. Speaker determines whether the Premier's reply to a question without notice is a ministerial statement, 1004, 1495, 2634.

Statements in the House by the Premier in regard to the Rural Bank of New South Wales were ministerial statements on future Government policy, 2446.

Reply to a ministerial statement is normally confined to the Leader of the Opposition, but Mr. Speaker may, with the indulgence of the House, allow the Leader of the Country Party to speak on behalf of his party, 118, 1295.

The Leader of the Opposition, in answering a ministerial statement, is limited solely to answering points in opposition to or rebuttal of those raised by the Minister, 2405. He may not engage in general debate, 1295, 1360.

A ministerial statement about Peat and Milson Islands Mental Hospital does not open the door for the Leader of the Opposition to discuss mental hospitals generally, 2406.

Hon. members do not have an opportunity of engaging in any discussion on a ministerial statement, on which there is no debate, 1360.

Motions: A motion is expected to contain brief, commonsense, laconic statements, but not argument. The deletion of argument need not interfere with the import of the motion but will dispense with verbosity, 3010.

Volumes 32-35

SPEAKER, MR. (THE HON. R. S. MAHER),

Brief, sketchy and cursory references only may be made by hon. members to the subject matter of a motion on the notice paper, 3127.

It is in order to debate an intimation by a Minister of the Commonwealth Government that it refuses to accept a particular responsibility in relation to housing, though no formal agreement has been concluded, 3137. However, reference in a proposed motion to a new housing agreement not yet in existence, should be deleted, 3140.

Nott, the Hon. R. B., M.L.A., Minister for Agriculture: Good wishes on resignation, 2886.

Parliament House: Proposed site for new building, 61.

Efficiency of air conditioning of Chamber, 1158.

Personal Explanation: A Minister's failure to understand an hon. member's question cannot be resolved by a personal explanation; the hon. member may add something to his question when he next gets the call, 636.

An hon. member, in a personal explanation, may explain, not something that other hon. members have said, but something that he himself has said or done, 907; and having concluded his personal explanation he may not debate the question, 908.

An hon. member may not make a personal explanation merely to complain that he disagrees with a statement by a Minister, 909.

A Minister may make a personal explanation at question time, though it might be preferable for him to wait until after question time, 2351.

Points of Order: It is not necessarily a point of order for an hon. member to suggest that a Minister is not employing the most appropriate means to reply to an inquiry, 578.

An hon. member may take a point of order on a Minister who has concluded his reply to a question without notice, 1210.

A point of order can be taken at any stage, even in the middle of a sentence, 3031, 3032, 3130; and it may be taken on a point of privilege, 3032.

A point of order can be based only on an alleged infraction of the standing orders,

SPEAKER, MR. (THE HON. R. S. MAHER),

1210, 3136; otherwise it becomes merely argument and is more appropriate as a contribution to the debate, 3032, 3130, 3131.

An hon. member, on receiving the call for a point of order, may not state a point that could not possibly be the one on which he rose to speak, 1210.

A point of order may not canvass a ruling from the Chair, 1255, 1429.

A point of order based on a wrong premise is invalid. The basis of a question was not a partly debated motion, but another question asked earlier, 3208; a reference to the number of houses built in a particular place does not amount to giving information in the same way as does the quoting of statistics for housing throughout the State, 3208; a question wholly within the province of the Minister for Health to answer cannot reflect on any legislative house, 3210; when an hon. member refers to finance companies generally, a supplementary question on a particular finance company is in order, 3214; the effect of imports on the New South Wales broiler chicken industry cannot be exclusively a federal matter, 3270.

Press: An hon. member may make brief reference to press reports without any necessity to vouch for their accuracy. If it were necessary for hon. members to vouch for the accuracy of press articles, the press would be free to publish whatever it liked and often to traduce a Minister, who would have no opportunity of denying the statements in the article, 262.

Despite the fact that a question without notice was disallowed, a newspaper the following day published in full the matter raised in the question, 453.

In replying to a question by the Leader of the Opposition, Mr. Speaker expressed the strong view that the Minister for Health had been misreported in the press. No member would so lower himself and his dignity as to attack another hon. member, let alone the Speaker, through the columns of the press. The Minister for Health would be the last person to do so; his personal disposition and character have been impeccably ethical in every field, 2445.

Mr. Speaker declined to ask the Minister for Health to make any statement on a press report, 2447.

A press statement by the Minister for Health making it clear that he had not been misreported in the press caused Mr. Speaker to deplore the statement first attributed to the Minister; at the same time it exculpated the journalists concerned and restored blameless and unsullied their reputations. The magnification of an incident out of all proportion to its importance and the absence of severe disciplinary action do not justify an interpretation of unreasonable leniency, 2554; and continuation outside the House of the criticism of the Chair is against the best interests of the parliamentary institution, 2702.

The reading of newspapers in the Chamber is disorderly, 3271; but when the business before the House is a motion relating to a specific article in a specific newspaper on a specific day, no objection can reasonably be taken to an hon. member reading it, 2938.

Privilege: On a question of privilege, a distinction must be drawn between criticism and threats, 2943, 2949, 3033. Extracts from newspapers purporting to illustrate breaches of privilege must contain threats, not criticism, which is regarded by the public and the parliament as legitimate, 2944.

The existence of a threat is not determined by the sensitivity of an hon. member. Whether privilege has in fact been breached and the rights of hon. members invaded is determined by the House, whether any matter could be one of privilege is determined by Mr. Speaker, 2944, 3034.

The long-standing rules of the Australian Labor Party do not involve privilege, 3033.

Procedure: Notice of motion under Standing Order 49 is unacceptable if it infringes Standing Order 39, which prescribes that while the motion for the adoption of the Address-in-Reply is before the House only formal business may be introduced. However, while that motion is before the House, Mr. Speaker is obliged under statute to permit a motion under Standing Order 113A for the disallowance of a regulation, 360.

The introduction of the formal Law of Evidence Bill is part of the procedure to establish the inalienable right of the House of Commons to conduct its own business, and is expressly provided for by Standing Order 35. It does not conflict with Standing Order 39 for at that stage the motion for the adoption of the Address-in-Reply is not before the House, 361.

SPEAKER, MR. (THE HON. R. S. MAHER),

The mover of a motion closes debate when he replies, 1067.

The forms of the House provide a means whereby an hon. member may discuss the comments of the Auditor-General in regard to hospitals, 1069. The mover of a motion may, on a Minister making a declaration, elect not to proceed with the motion, or to proceed with it, as he chooses, 2858.

Standing Order 74 lays down the routine procedure that the House must follow; the appropriate time for bringing forward urgency motions is during question time, 2856, 2857.

Notice of a motion may properly be given before Mr. Speaker goes through the business paper with a view to taking formal business. Notice of a motion for leave to introduce a bill, given after that stage of proceedings, would not be in order, 3055. Nevertheless, any point of order must be taken contemporaneously. A point of order cannot be effective four or five hours after the event, and after a ruling has been made, no further point of order can be taken; the only action permitted is dissent from the ruling, 3059.

No question shall be asked forty-five minutes after the commencement of questions without notice, 2936.

The word "tomorrow" has a special parliamentary sense when used in giving notice of a motion for leave to introduce a bill, 3073.

Jocularly, 3272.

Motions have been moved and debated immediately, without a seconder, when the Opposition concurred in this procedure. If an hon. member insists on observance of this formality of seconding, Mr. Speaker will call for a seconder, 2940.

It is customary but not obligatory to show a red light as a warning that an hon. member's time has expired, 2108. The red light is switched on three minutes before an hon. member is due to finish his speech; he is not called to order until the full time allotted to him has passed, and he is not allowed to speak past that time, 2730.

Public Address System in Chamber: Mr. Speaker cannot direct any hon. member to speak into a microphone but those who have not stentorian voices would oblige the House if they did so, 2776.

SPEAKER, MR. (THE HON. R. S. MAHER),

Questions without Notice: A Minister may answer a question in his own way, and he is entitled to be heard in silence, 110, 897, 1005, 1101, 1157, 1160, 1413; an hon. member who disagrees with the reply may ask subsequent questions, 421, 897, 1157, 1160, 2103, 2269; and he may not keep up a running battery of continuing questions while the answer is being given, 1101, 1160. It is extremely improper to suggest that the Minister is making a farce of question time, 1005.

A question without notice may not seek a Minister's opinion, 111, 112, 293, 471, 580, 692, 1492; though it may seek the reason for the introduction of legislation, 1649; or ask what the Minister's attitude would be in certain circumstances, 693.

A question without notice must concern the administration of the Minister's department, 262, 351, 1011, 1043, 1967. A question whether a particular tune should be played at State functions comes within the administration of the Premier, 1492.

Obviously, a Minister when answering a question must make some controversial statements that could give rise to debate later on, and any hon. member affected can, if he so wishes, invoke standing orders and make a personal explanation, 2632.

A Minister may answer a question in the affirmative and then elaborate his affirmative answer, 3211.

A question cannot be regarded as anticipating a motion, 3216.

A question without notice relating to party politics concerns a Minister no more than it concerns a back-bencher, 351. If the points of policy of a political party may be discussed only by a member of that party, the majority of questions asked by the Opposition would be out of order, 1207. Almost every question without notice contains some political content, and it would be absurd to lay down that questions of a political nature should not be asked, 1208, 1782. Neither side of the House has a monopoly of propaganda questions, 1551.

When more than one hon. member seek to ask a supplementary question, it is incumbent upon Mr. Speaker to give the call to him who first catches his eye, and it is unworthy of the Opposition members to demur at his action, 111.

Supplementary questions must relate to the subject-matter of the original question, 112, 1539, 1157, 1158, 1493, 1498, 1917,

SPEAKER, MR. (THE HON. R. S. MAHER),

2032, 2100, 2182, 2270. A question about wheat silos at Mudgee is not supplementary to a question about wheat silos at Wallerawang, 257, 292. A question on the conversion of old-system titles to Torrens titles is supplementary to a question about delays generally in searches at the Registrar-General's Department, 354. A question about interstate comparisons is supplementary to a question on Commonwealth-State relationships affecting war-service land settlement in New South Wales, 422. A question about a marker post on the Prince's Highway on the outskirts of Sydney is not supplementary to a question concerning marker plates on the Victorian border, 474. A question about decentralisation is not strictly supplementary to a question about country housing, 576. To a question specifically referring to a bank's activities in regard to a named company, only questions referring to the bank's dealings with that company can be regarded as supplementary, 1008. A question about teacher shortage is not supplementary to a question about the Wyndham report, 1212. A question about the establishment of a university elsewhere is not supplementary to a question about the establishment of a university in a specified locality, 1415, 1417, 1493, 1494.

A question about the sale of wheat to Red China is not supplementary to one dependent on events before that sale occurred, 2479; cruelty to travelling stock is not supplementary to the abolition of road tax on stock transported by road, 3118; the condition of technical education accommodation and services in the Clarence electorate is not supplementary to a question about accommodation at Newcastle technical college, 3122; a question about the treatment in caucus of the Wyndham report on secondary education is not supplementary to one about the establishment of a university at Newcastle and the work of a committee on tertiary education, 3123; the appointment of a particular person as public relations officer for the board of directors of Sydney Hospital is not supplementary to the appointment of a select committee of the Legislative Council on the Public Hospitals (Amendment) Bill, 3213.

The Chair may allow the Minister to answer a question without notice though it is not truly supplementary, 539, 1291. A question about the maximum age for admission of recruits to the police force is not strictly supplementary to one about the 24th August, 1960, to 16th March, 1961.

retirement of a special officer of the force but, though doubtful, will be allowed, 2395.

Point of order, that a question was not supplementary, not allowed, 1007.

Questions without notice should be as brief as possible, 1587, 1964, 2031, 2033, 2102, 2176, 2935. Unduly long questions should be placed upon the Questions and Answers paper, 185, 545, 1209; as should questions seeking details which the Minister could not be expected to have at hand, 581. The measure of the length depends upon the interest aroused by the question, 693.

An hon. member asking a question should confine his remarks to the question, 2935.

Hon. members, when asking questions, have approached close to the line that divides a question from a speech, without crossing it, 2444.

An hon. member who wishes to ask a question that he knows will involve a detailed reply may take the logical course of advising the Minister beforehand of his intention to ask the question at the appropriate time, 578.

Mr. Speaker may decide to hear the full text of an hon. member's question before determining a point of order that it is not supplementary, 422, 1212; or that it is a breach of Standing Order 77, 1364; or that it is otherwise out of order, 1492, 1648.

Though questions without notice that allude to a current debate may not be asked at question time, 3213, 3216, questions on the Budget, the Estimates and on the Supply Bill, which do not come within the category of general debate, are in order, 636, 637.

Questions without notice should not give information, 2443, 2444, 3208; though it is difficult indeed to eliminate questions that seek to give information, 1207, 1213. No hon. member would ask a question about something unless he were sure that it was a fact, 1492.

Questions without notice commonly known as Dorothy Dixes are not a matter of general practice. Question time is valuable time and ought to be jealously regarded by hon. members. To fritter it away by taking frivolous, pointless and purely pedantic points of order is to give away a right that they have fought for. Many points of order are completely unnecessary and in future Mr. Speaker's attitude towards them will be more rigorous, 1551.

SPEAKER, MR. (THE HON. R. S. MAHER),

An hon. member who asks a forthright question should accept an equally forthright answer without interrupting the Minister, 3069.

Questions may not ask for confirmation of rumours, 1585.

When an hon. member states in a question without notice that a youth was convicted of manslaughter but guilty of premeditated, deliberate, cold-blooded murder, the question is doomed, without proceeding to consider whether it is sub judice because of a pending appeal, 3007, 3008.

To protect the reputation of respected members of the community, no question without notice may be asked about the employment of men with known criminal records unless the hon. member asking it is sure of his facts, 1644.

Read Speeches: It is no point of order to ask that the Minister be directed not to read every word of his speech. He is entitled to deliver his speech in any way he wishes, 520.

Relevance: The nature of the debate on the motion for the adoption of the Address-in-Reply allows almost anything to be discussed, but the Premier's reply to a question without notice concerning the police force has no connection with the speech of the Governor, 122.

An hon. member may not refer in debate to resolutions moved in the caucus of the governing party, 476.

It is relevant for a Minister, of whose administration an hon. member has been most critical, to reply that he is culpable or that he is not guilty, 857.

An hon. member must confine his remarks to the motion before the Chair, 1428, 2125, 2357, 2515, 2650, 3125, 3128.

An hon. member, in reply to his own motion, may not raise matters that were not dealt with by the Government in speaking to his motion, 1429.

In speaking to a motion of urgency, the Premier may deal with matters raised by the mover, notwithstanding that they were not strictly relevant to urgency, 2109.

In debating whether standing orders should be suspended to permit debate on a motion of urgency, brief, sketchy and cursory references may be made to the subject matter of a motion already appearing on the business paper. If hon. members were permitted to debate the pros and cons of the urgency motion and the other on the business paper when the motion before the House is for the suspension of standing orders, chaos would ensue, 3127, 3128, 3133.

Seasonal Felicitations: 2386.

Special Adjournment: Consent is not necessary when moving a motion without notice for a special adjournment, 2356.

Standing Orders: Mr. Speaker has no authority to convene the Standing Orders Committee of his own initiative. An hon. member who wishes to have specific matters discussed by the committee should move a motion to that effect and, if the House agrees, Mr. Speaker will see that the committee is convened, 297.

At times hon. members want to stretch the standing orders too far. Such an occasion is when an hon. member objects to a Minister, when replying to his question without notice, touching on the subject of take-home money when the Budget is under consideration, 577.

Mr. Speaker interprets standing orders and is not the arbiter of who is right or who is wrong, 3136.

Sub Judice: A question without notice may be sub judice in part where it deals with the effects of rent increases on the community, in view of a Royal commission inquiring into the operation of the Landlord and Tenant Act, but portion of the same question referring to a housing shortage is not sub judice, 2852.

A statement denying a housing shortage, made by a witness at a Royal commission on rents, does not make sub judice parliamentary comment on the housing shortage, 2853.

It would stretch the sub judice rule too far to regard it as preventing comment in parliament on any one of the subjects that must be covered in thousands of questions and answers at any inquiry, 2854.

It would not be right for an hon. member spontaneously to reflect upon the integrity of any witness before a current Royal commission, but if a matter has been brought into the discussion, an hon. member is entitled to reply, 3240.

Urgency: A motion of urgency seeking the appointment of a select committee to inquire into hospital fees and administration is in order, notwithstanding current debate

SPEAKER, MR. (THE HON. R. S. MAHER),

on the motion for the adoption of the Address-in-Reply. Discussion on a motion of urgency that raises a grievance and seeks an expression of opinion of the House and, if possible, immediate action, is different from discussing the motion for the adoption of the Address-in-Reply to His Excellency's speech, when an hon. member might seek to air a grievance, irrespective of whether it applies to his constituency or to the State generally, and does not necessarily seek immediate action following his remarks, 475.

It is not urgent for the House to discuss something in the Auditor-General's Report when it could be raised in the debate on the Estimates later in the same day, 958.

Too often hon. members use the time available to ride a hobby horse, 2106.

Vacant Seats: Paddington-Waverley, issue of writ, 2393; return of writ, 2695. Liverpool Plains, resignation of the Hon. R. B. Nott, 2936.

Words and Expressions required to be Withdrawn: "Apparently the Deputy Premier thinks that what I am saying is funny. I hope that when he goes to the soldier settlers' conference he will not laugh in their faces and ignore their plight", 144.

"(The hon. member for Earlwood) was a member of the Left Book Club", 160.

"The history of this Government clearly indicates that when big industrialists approach it, it is not their pale faces but their green backs that seem to sway the decision", 2106.

"He is not game to vote on it", 3132.

"Of course, it is rot", 3134.

TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN OF COMMITTEES (W. E. WATTISON, ESQ.), RULINGS, OBSERVATIONS AND OPINIONS:

Chair: An hon. member who disagrees with a ruling of the Chair may move a motion of dissent, 1467; he may not canvass the ruling, 1468.

Hon. members should address the Chair, 1542.

Hon. Members Warned: Hon. member for Tamworth, 1468; hon. member for Hornsby, 3045.

Interjections and Interruptions: An hon. member who is speaking should disregard interjections, 1542; should make his own speech without the assistance of other hon. members, 2882; and must be heard in silence, 3046.

Irrelevant interjections are disorderly, 1543.

Relevance: Debate on the Loan Estimates is restricted to the items appearing on those Estimates, though a certain amount of latitude is permitted, 1467, 1468.

An hon. member must confine his remarks to the bill, motion or amendment under consideration, 1542, 2653, 2654, 2882, 2883, 3044.
