FARMERS' RELIEF BILL:—

Short title and division
into Parts.

Clause 1. (1) This Act may be cited as the "Farmers' Relief Act, 1932," and is divided into Parts as follows:—

Part I.—Preliminary—ss. 1-7.

Part II.—Farmers' Relief—ss. 8-34.

Division 1.—Stay Orders—ss. 8-12.

Division 2.—Receivers—ss. 13-25.

Division 3.—Management and Administration of estates—ss. 26-34.

Part III.—Application to Court—ss. 35-37.

Part IV.—General Provisions—ss. 38-44.

Schedule.

Question proposed,—That the clause, as read, stand part of the Bill.

Motion made (Mr. Davidson) to leave out from line 56 the word "Relief" with a view of inserting the word "Bankruptcy."

[Read.]

The Chairman refused to accept the amendment, as he was of opinion that it was moved in a spirit of mockery and in order to cause obstruction.

The Assistant Treasurer having referred during discussion on the clause to the administration of the Rural Industries Board, and Mr. Stanley having drawn attention thereto, the Chairman allowed the Minister to proceed.

Mr. Stanley then moved, That the Chairman leave the Chair to report a Point of Order, and ask leave to sit again so soon as the Point of Order shall have been decided by the House.

The Point of Order is,—

That the Chairman was wrong in ruling that the Minister could, when discussing clause 1 (Short Title and Division into Parts) refer to the administration of the Rural Industries Board.

WEEKLY REPORT OF DIVISIONS

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE.

(EXTRACTED FROM THE MINUTES.)

WEDNESDAY, 23 NOVEMBER, 1932.

No. 1.

MORATORIUM BILL:—

Postponed clause 9.

Clause 9. (1) A mortgagee shall not without leave of the court exercise any of the rights, powers, or remedies expressly or impliedly given to him by the mortgage against the mortgagor or the mortgaged property for the recovery of the moneys secured by the mortgage or for the enforcement or realisation of the security: Limitation of rights of mortgagee. cf. Act No. 48, 1930, s. 4.

On any application under subsection one of this section founded upon default in the payment of interest, or of any rate, tax, or charge, the court shall have power to make such order as it thinks proper under the circumstances although such interest, rate, tax, or charge may not be in arrears for the period appropriate to the case mentioned in paragraph (a) or paragraph (b) of subsection two of this section.

Provided that nothing contained in this section or in any enactment by this Act repealed shall prevent the mortgagee—

- (a) from making any demand or giving any notice for payment of any moneys secured by the mortgage;
 - (b) from bringing any action for debt or damages or suit or other proceeding for an injunction in the case of a breach of any covenant, agreement, or condition in the mortgage expressed or implied—
 - (i) securing to the mortgagee some collateral benefit;
 - (ii) in the nature of a covenant for title;
 - (iii) in the nature of a restrictive covenant;
 - (c) from recovering by action the price of goods supplied or moneys payable for services rendered by a mortgagee to a mortgagor notwithstanding that the payment of such price or moneys may be secured by a mortgage;
 - (d) in the case of a mortgage of leasehold premises or of licensed premises within the meaning of the Liquor Act, 1912, from exercising any right, power, or remedy given to the mortgagee on the happening of any event whereby the lease may be forfeited or the license endangered.
- (2) Nothing contained in this section or in any enactment by this Act repealed shall preclude the mortgagee from entering into possession or appointing a receiver of the mortgaged property in any of the following cases:—
- (a) where interest is not paid within three months after the same becomes payable or within three months after any period of rest provided for by the mortgage, whichever shall be the later, notwithstanding any provision for capitalisation of interest in the mortgage contained;

(a) Where interest is or continues to be unpaid—

- (i) in the case of a mortgage of land occupied by the mortgagor for any grazing, dairying, poultry farming, viticultural orcharding, beekeeping or horticultural purpose or for the growing of crops of any kind or for vegetable growing or for any purpose declared by the Governor to be an agricultural purpose for the purposes of the Agricultural Lessees Relief Act, 1931—for a period of two years;
- (ii) in the case of a mortgage of any other land occupied by the mortgagor as his home—for the period of two years;
- (iii) in the case of any other mortgage to which this Act applies—for the period of one year after the same becomes payable:

Provided that where the terms of the mortgage provide for the capitalisation of interest, the date at which by such terms a rest may be taken shall for the purposes of this paragraph be regarded as the date upon which the interest becomes payable;

- (b) where the mortgagor is or continues to be in default for a period of not less than one year under the provisions of any covenant or agreement in the mortgage expressed or implied for the payment of rates, taxes or other charges on or in respect of the mortgaged property.
- (c) where the mortgagor is in default under the provisions of any covenant, agreement, or condition in the mortgage expressed or implied for the insurance, maintenance, or cultivation of the mortgaged property, or the ~~payment of rates, taxes, and other charges thereon, including~~ in the case of lands held under the Crown Lands Consolidation Act, 1913, the Returned Soldiers Settlement Act, 1916, or the Closer Settlement Acts, the ~~payments~~ for the payment of moneys due to the Crown thereon, or for the doing of any act for the preservation of the security;
- (d) where the mortgagor has abandoned possession of the mortgaged property;
- (e) where a sequestration order has been or is made against the mortgagor;
- (f) where the mortgagor has executed or executes a deed of assignment or of arrangement under the provisions of any bankruptcy law for the time being in force;
- (g) where an order has been or is made, or a resolution has been or is passed, for the winding-up of the mortgagor being a company;
- (h) where the mortgagor being deceased and his estate insolvent, the same is being administered by or under the direction of any court, but the court may, on the application of the mortgagor made within three months after the mortgagee has entered into possession or appointed a receiver, order the mortgagee to vacate possession or determine the appointment of the receiver either absolutely or on such terms or conditions as it thinks fit.

Unless the court otherwise orders no such order shall prevent the mortgagee from entering into possession or appointing a receiver on the commission or omission by the mortgagor subsequently to the order of any act or thing entitling the mortgagee under the provisions of this subsection so to do.

(3) The court shall not grant any application for leave to commence or continue proceedings for the recovery of the whole or any part of the principal sum secured by the mortgage, or for foreclosure, unless the court is satisfied that, having regard to all relevant circumstances, it would be unjust and inequitable not to grant it.

(4) In any case where, after the date fixed by the mortgage for repayment of the principal sum, the principal sum or any part thereof remains unpaid, and the mortgagor satisfies the court that he is unable to redeem the property, or to repay a portion of the principal sum, as the case may be, the court shall not grant leave to take any proceedings to recover such principal sum or part thereof or for foreclosure unless the court is satisfied—

- (a) that, by reason of the wasting nature of the security, ~~or the absence of a sufficient margin between the amount of the debt and the value of the security,~~ the continuance of the mortgage would seriously affect the security; or

- (b) that the conduct of the mortgagor has, in respect of the non-performance by him of any covenant expressed or implied in or by the mortgage, or in respect of any dealing with the mortgagee or the mortgaged property, been such as to render him undeserving of the benefit or protection of this Act; or
- (c) that by reason of any such non-performance and due great hardship will be inflicted on the mortgagee.

(5) In any case where, after the date fixed by the mortgage for payment of the principal sum or any part thereof, the principal sum or part remains unpaid, the time for payment of the principal sum or part, shall, unless and until an application for leave is dealt with by the court under this section, be by force of this Act extended to the prescribed date for repayment upon the terms that interest shall after the commencement of this Act continue to be payable at the close of the same intervals of time as are provided by the mortgage with respect to the interest thereby secured, or, if no provision is so made, then quarterly, and at the following rate:—

- (a) in the case of a mortgage the obligation to pay interest whereunder has been affected by the provisions of the Interest Reduction Act, 1931, as amended by subsequent Acts, at the rate provided in the mortgage as reduced by the provisions of section five and subsection one of section six of that Act, or if and so far as any order has been made under section seven of that Act, at the rate determined by such order;
- (b) in the case of a mortgage the obligation to pay interest whereunder has not been affected by that Act, at the rate provided in the mortgage.

Provided that in any case the rate of interest payable shall not exceed seven per centum per annum, unless the court on the application of the mortgagee fixes a higher rate, but not exceeding the rate provided in the mortgage.

(6) Where a mortgagee obtains a decree absolute or an order under the provisions of the Real Property Act, 1900, for foreclosure and sells the foreclosed property within six months of the making of the decree or order for foreclosure, the mortgagor shall be entitled to recover in a court of competent jurisdiction the amount, if any, by which the net purchase money received by the mortgagee exceeds the amount of the moneys due to him under and by virtue of the mortgage after deducting therefrom all moneys reasonably spent by the mortgagee in improving the mortgaged property.

Question proposed,—That the clause, as read, stand part of the Bill.

Motion made (Mr. L. O. Martin) to insert after the word "Security" in line 5, page 1, the words—

"On any application under subsection one of this section founded upon default in the payment of interest, or of any rate, tax, or charge, the court shall have power to make such order as it things proper under the circumstances although such interest, rate, tax, or charge may not be in arrear for the period appropriate to the case mentioned in paragraph (a) or paragraph (b) of subsection two of this section."

Postponed clause 42.

Clause 42. (1) Notwithstanding anything in this Act or in the Moratorium Act, 1930, or any Act amending the same contained, where any person has whether before or after the commencement of this Act guaranteed the payment of any money or the performance or observance of any obligation, and such payment, performance, or observance, or such guarantee was or is secured by a mortgage of real or personal property, the person entitled to the benefit of the guarantee may give to the guarantor not less than ~~one~~ three calendar month's notice of his intention to exercise all or any of his rights, powers, and remedies against the guarantor or against any property mortgaged by the guarantor to secure the guarantee, and after the expiration of the said period of notice the person entitled to the benefit of the guarantee may, subject to the provisions of this section, exercise such of the said rights, powers, and remedies against the guarantor and against any property mortgaged by the guarantor to secure the performance of the guarantee as he would have been entitled to exercise if this Act, and the said Act as amended, had not been passed.

(2) Any guarantor who has been given any such notice may apply to the within the time limited by the notice apply to the Supreme Court for an order under this section.

Notice of the application shall be given in the manner prescribed by rules of court to the person entitled to the benefit of the guarantee, to any co-guarantor, and to the principal debtor or person the performance or observance of whose obligation the guarantor has guaranteed.

~~(2) The provisions of Division 4 of Part II of this Act shall apply to any application under this section.~~

(3) The provisions of section thirty of this Act relating to the exercise of the jurisdiction shall so far as applicable extend to any proceeding under this section.

(4) On any such application the court, if satisfied that the exercise by the person entitled to the benefit of the guarantee of such rights, powers, or remedies, or any of them, would inflict great hardship on the guarantor by reason of the operation of this Act or of any Act by this Act repealed upon his property or investments, or upon the realisation thereof, or by reason of the operation of the Farmers' Relief Act, 1932, on any remedy of the guarantor against the principal debtor, or by reason of any other cause whatsoever which such court in the circumstances of the case deems sufficient, may, in its discretion, if in all the circumstances it thinks it desirable so to do, order that the exercise of such rights, powers, and remedies, or any of them, be deferred for such time and upon such conditions as such court shall determine or order that such conditions as such court thinks fit be imposed on the exercise of such rights, powers, or remedies, or any of them.

(5) The court may impose upon any party terms relating to the enforcement of rights of reimbursement or of contribution and may extend the benefit of Part II of this Act or of any provision thereof to the mortgagor, guarantor or any co-guarantor, and may on the hearing of the application or at any time thereafter order that any right of any party arising out of the transaction may be exercised or enforced in such manner and subject to such conditions, or that any such exercise or enforcement be deferred for such time and subject to such conditions as to it seems just having regard to all the circumstances.

(5) (6) On any such application the court may order such notice as it deems sufficient to be given to the principal debtor or person, the performance or observance of whose obligation the guarantor has guaranteed or where satisfied that such principal debtor or person cannot conveniently be served may dispense with service thereof and proceed to hear and determine the matter.

(6) (7) In this section the term guarantor includes any person in whom the estate of a guarantor shall have become vested under or by virtue of any sequestration order or any deed of assignment or arrangement under the provisions of any bankruptcy law for the time being in force and the personal representatives of a deceased guarantor.

(7) (8) Where a guarantee has been given for the payment of money, upon default being made in the payment thereof upon demand or notice, nothing contained in this Act, or in any Act hereby repealed shall prevent a demand or notice for payment from being at any time made or given so that as between the guarantor and the person entitled to the benefit of the guarantee, such demand or notice shall have the same effect as regards default as if this Act and the Acts hereby repealed had not been passed.

(8) (9) Where a person entitled to the benefit of a guarantee can exercise any of his rights, powers, or remedies against the guarantor without obtaining the leave of the court pursuant to the provisions of section nine of this Act, this section shall not be deemed to impose on such person the obligation of giving to the guarantor the notice specified in subsection one of this section.

(10) Nothing in this Act contained shall in any of the following cases impose on a person who immediately prior to the date of commencement of the Moratorium and Interest Reduction (Amendment) Act, 1931, was liable under a contract whereby the payment of a debt secured by a mortgage of land was guaranteed, any liability to which he would not have been subject if this Act had not been passed—

- (b) in any case where the guarantor under a contract of guarantee is the husband or wife of the mortgagor and the mortgaged property is at the commencement of this Act the matrimonial home of the mortgagor and the guarantor and the principal sum owing under the mortgage at such commencement does not exceed the sum of two thousand pounds.

(11) Nothing in this Act or the Moratorium Act, 1930-1931, as amended by subsequent Acts, shall be construed to impair the right of a guarantor to reimbursement by a mortgagor or to contribution from any co-guarantor.

(12) This section shall apply only in respect of contracts of guarantee made prior to the commencement of this Act which were affected by the provisions of Part IV of the Moratorium Act, 1930-1931, as amended by subsequent Acts.
