8. THE GOVERNOR'S OPENING SPEECH:—Mr. Speaker reported that the House had this day attended the Governor in the Legislative Council Chamber, when His Excellency the Governor was pleased to deliver an Opening Speech to both Houses of Parliament. For greater accuracy he had obtained a copy, which he laid upon the Table of the House, and ordered that it be recorded in the Votes and Proceedings, as follows:—

HONOURABLE MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL, AND MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY,—

It gives me great pleasure to meet you at the opening of this, the Fourth Session of the Thirty-Third Parliament of New South Wales.

We have just passed the fourth anniversary of the outbreak of the second world war. For four years Australia, in association with the British Commonwealth and the United Nations has put all her strength into the struggle. The fight still rages with unabated intensity, it may still have its ups and downs, but the certainty of final victory has never left us and has recently been substantially fortified by our successes in the Mediterranean, in Russia and closer to home in New Guinea and the Solomons. The surrender of Italy, in particular presages the downfall of those forces of oppression which constitute our principal enemy.

When you were last called together, this country was in imminent danger of invasion by enemy forces. Japan had acquired bases in close proximity to the Australian mainland, and our shores were already being subjected to attack from sea and air.

To-day, through the magnificent courage and heroic efforts of our fighting services and those of our Allies we have halted the enemy's advance, we have wrested the initiative from him and the armies of freedom are now driving forward to the relief of the lands still held in thrall. We extend our heartfelt sympathy to those who have lost their loved ones in this titanic struggle, and we trust that those who are now prisoners of war will soon be liberated.

The spirit of fellowship and sacrifice on the home front as well as in the line of battle is needed to the full for the success of the tremendous task that still faces the United Nations.

During the past Session, I have noted, with deep regret, the decease of several Members of this Legislature, which exemplifies the severe physical and mental strain borne by those who have devoted their life to the service of the community. To the relatives of the late the Hon. J. F. Coates, the Hon. J. Culbert, the Hon. E. Grayndler, the Hon. E. M. Mitchell, the Hon. T. J. Tyrrell, Mr. R. N. Beale, Mr. G. P. Evans and Mr. E. L. Sanders, I extend the most sincere sympathy.

Since I last addressed you, my advisers have continued to co-operate actively with the Commonwealth Government in organising the resources of the nation for the most effective prosecution of the war.

With the collaboration of Departments and Instrumentalities under the control of my Ministers, important defence works costing millions of pounds have been constructed, the production of foodstuffs has been increased, men and women have been trained as technicians for munition industries, and the manufacture of fuels as substitutes for petrol has been maintained. In short, whenever and wherever the Government has been able to assist the Commonwealth in discharging its heavy responsibilities to the United Nations, it has done so.

Although the threat of invasion and enemy attack on our coastal areas has diminished, the National Emergency Services and the Civilian Aid Service are prepared for instant action should the occasion arise. Adequate equipment and supplies have been provided so that the Civil Defence Units will function efficiently whenever they may be required, and I join with my advisers in paying tribute to the excellent voluntary services rendered by the members of these organisations.

28th September, 1943.

The New South Wales Government Engineering and Shipbuilding Undertaking has made considerable progress since I last addressed you. Vessels launched recently constitute valuable additions to the Australian Navy and the United States Army Transport Service. The floating dock, assembled as a single unit for the first time by the Government of this State, has been in constant use, and to date nearly 1,000,000 tons of shipping have been docked and repaired there.

Expenditure on hospitals and health services has been generously increased. Last year the sum of £269,000 was distributed to hospitals to enable them to wipe out all deficits as at 30th June, 1942. £100,000 has been provided for the establishment of a Cancer Research Institute, and an eminent authority of world-wide fame in this field, Dr. Ralston Paterson, of the Holt Radium Institute, Manchester, has accepted the invitation of my Ministers to assist in the fight against this dread scourge. A sum of £100,000 has also been made available to provide additional accommodation and services at maternity hospitals. My advisers expect to be able to provide further amounts for hospital purposes during the current financial year.

A comprehensive programme of child welfare work has been prepared and is being put into operation by my Ministers as quickly as conditions will allow. New buildings have been constructed, or are in course of construction, so that contemplated reforms in administration and procedure may be instituted in the near future. The aim of my Ministers is to prevent child delinquency by improving environmental conditions, developing parental and child guidance activities, and improving institutions and methods for the rehabilitation of delinquents.

At the same time, the establishment of Kindergartens and Day Nurseries has been encouraged by granting increased subsidies to the organisations connected with this work.

In accordance with legislation passed in a previous Session, a Factory Welfare Board has been set up and is now active in its work of encouraging and assisting in the establishment of welfare committees in factories, directing and supervising the activities of such committees and giving consideration to any special measures necessary to secure the safety and health of the employees.

The Factories and Shops Act was amended to empower the Minister to give directions or make regulations with respect to matters referred to in recommendations made by the Factory Welfare Board. The late shopping night has been abolished permanently, and provision has been made for securing the safe working of boilers and pressure vessels. The Act also requires that accurate trade descriptions shall be appended to wood furniture and boots.

Under authority recently referred by Act of Parliament, the Government Insurance Office now transacts all classes of insurance business, and its operations during the past year have been very successful. Sums assured in the Life Department have reached a total of over £250,000 and in the Fire Department new covers have been issued for new sums insured in excess of £3,000,000. The lower rates charged by the Government Insurance Office in all branches represent a considerable saving to the community in insurance costs.

Believing that the decentralisation of industry would lead to greater national security and economic development in this State, my advisers have co-operated with the Commonwealth Government in setting up factories and munition works in country towns. Concessions in railway freights have also been granted to encourage manufacturers to pioneer secondary industries in rural districts and the establishment of country abattoirs and food dehydration plants has been facilitated.

The decreased output of dairy products caused concern to my Ministers in view of the necessity to maintain the supply of these commodities to the people of Great Britain as well as to meet civilian requirements and those of the Allied Forces in this theatre of war. The sum of £100,000 was provided free of interest, so that the advantages of mechanised farming and modern methods of production would be available to farmers through their co-operative organisations. My Ministers advise me that the project has been very successful.

The development of soil conservation methods is being pursued and arrangements are being made for additional research stations to be set up at strategic centres throughout the State.

In the process of making land in the western area of the State available for closer settlement, an area of approximately 5,000,000 acres will be withdrawn from large holdings under the provisions of the Western Lands (Amendment) Act of 1942. This area, together with a further 10,000,000 acres which are held under leases expiring through effluxion of time within the next five years, will come under review for disposal to returned soldiers and other qualified settlers.

28th September, 1943.

My Ministers have always felt strongly the need for effective preparation to meet the problems of the transition from war to peace. They believe that everything possible should be done now to ensure that these problems will be met in a way which will contribute to the progressive development of Australia as a nation and at the same time provide greater security of employment and higher standards of living for the Australian people.

Some two years ago the New South Wales Reconstruction Advisory Committee was established and, through its various sub-committees and in collaboration with the Commonwealth authorities working in the same field, much valuable preparatory work has been done.

By the Commonwealth Powers Act which was passed during the last Session of this Parliament, it was intended to transfer to the Commonwealth Government for a period extending up to five years from the cessation of hostilities, power to legislate with respect to employment, companies, monopolies, prices, air transport and other important matters.

The State, however, has heavy responsibilities in other directions, and my advisers are now taking steps to establish the post-war reconstruction organisation in this State on a more permanent basis. They are determined that, so far as lies within their power, nothing shall be left undone to ensure that there will be effective co-operation between the Commonwealth and State Governments in this work. In the same way as the full resources of the Government of this State have been made available to the Commonwealth Government in the prosecution of the war, so will the Government render the fullest possible assistance to the Commonwealth Government in the national planning for post-war reconstruction.

The immediate post-war problem of rehabilitation of members of the services is primarily the responsibility of the Commonwealth Government, but my advisers are taking active steps to assist the Commonwealth Government in this work and they have already undertaken to make available and to develop in whatever directions may be required the State's education facilities for the training and re-training of men and women released from the Services.

At the same time, and again in association with the Commonwealth Government, my advisers are giving close attention to the re-employment in other occupations of the many thousands of men and women who have left their normal occupations to undertake work directly associated with the prosecution of the war, and to the broader problem of so directing our activities in the future that they will contribute to the development of a sound economy designed to secure the maintenance of employment, the proper utilisation and development of our resources and the provision of adequate health, education and recreation services for the people of this State.

MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY,—

You will be asked early in the Session to consider the Budget for the present financial year.

HONOURABLE MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL, AND MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY,—

In the previous Sessions of this Parliament, and in the general administration of the Government, my Ministers have acted upon the principle of proceeding with a policy of social and industrial reform to the utmost extent possible under present war-time conditions. It is their intention during this Session to continue this policy, and, to this end, numerous measures of great importance to the welfare and progress of the State will be placed before you.

Rural problems of the State have continued to engage the close and sympathetic attention of my advisers, and in this Session it is intended to submit further legislation which is expected to contribute materially to the welfare of primary producers.

Early in the Session you will have presented for your consideration a Closer Settlement Amendment (Conversion) Bill, to enable holders of Settlement and Group Purchases wishing to convert to leasehold tenures to do so. A measure will be introduced to extend the benefits of the Farmers' Relief Act for a further period, as well as a Bill directed to the relief of settlers in the West Bogan area in respect of certain indebtedness to the Crown.

Earnest consideration has been given to the preservation of lands for public use and recreation, and my Ministers propose to seek your approval to the passage of legislation to reserve for all time great areas of Crown land for National Park purposes. The Kosciusko State Park, of more than 1 million acres, the greatest in the Commonwealth, has recently been established. Whilst grazing will continue on these lands, their use will be closely regulated in order to protect the catchments of a great river system and at the same time to permit of the development of the snow countries for snow sports and winter recreation.

My advisers intend to submit for your consideration a Bill to provide facilities whereby individuals may raise personal loans at reasonable rates of interest. There has been a growing demand in this State for these facilities on terms less onerous than those at present available. It is proposed to provide this service through the medium of the Rural Bank of New South Wales, and my Ministers are confident that it will fill a definite public need.

It is the opinion of my advisers that the time has come when the privilege and responsibility of jury service should be extended to women, as well as men, and a Bill to effect this purpose, and to carry into force many other desirable amendments to the law, will be placed before you. Never have women played such an important role in the nation's life, and it is appropriate, therefore, that this measure should be introduced at this time.

It is of interest in this connection that my Ministers have recently approved of jurors' fees being increased from 9s. to 10s. per day. Witnesses' expenses are also to be increased from 6s. per day and in future may be allowed up to 10s. per day.

During this Session also my advisers intend to submit to you constitutional legislation of outstanding importance. My Ministers firmly believe that the present constitution of the Legislative Council is not consistent with the democratic way of life. Accordingly, a Bill will be introduced as early as possible altering the present constitution of the Legislative Council, and this measure will be followed by a Bill designed to give to the people the opportunity of determining whether that Chamber shall, in future, be elected directly by vote of the people or by Members of Parliament themselves as at present.

You will be asked, too, to approve of a measure of great importance to the Public Service. This is to provide for the establishment of an Independent Appeals Tribunal for these employees.

My Ministers propose to place before you legislation to provide more stringent penalties in cases of cruelty to animals. At the same time a number of other desirable amendments to the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals Act will be submitted.

In the field of local and municipal affairs, you will be invited to consider a Bill to effect general amendments to the Local Government Act.

My Ministers are conscious of the need for forethought in the development of this country, in both urban and rural areas. A Town and Regional Planning Bill will be brought forward, the beneficial effects of which should prove a true legacy to posterity. Legislation dealing with this important question has long been needed, and with the imminence of post-war reconstruction, the need is accentuated.

You will be asked to approve a Bill dealing with lay-by selling. This system of trading will receive much-needed revision in the interests of the general public, and at the same time the opportunity will be taken to regulate what is known as "group purchase."

Considerations of equity have also prompted my Ministers to resolve to seek your approval to a Bill to safeguard the interests of policy-holders under various types of insurance contracts.

In the field of public health you will be invited to consider a Bill for the purpose of reconstituting the Hospitals Commission on a full-time basis. This is considered to be necessary because of the growth of the public hospitals system in this State and as a preparation for future expansion of that system. My advisers propose also to submit measures for the revision and modernisation of the public health and pure food laws.

The Bills mentioned do not exhaust the programme of legislation which my Ministers plan to place before you. Other measures of importance, dealing for example, with such matters as the law of torts, hours of duty of firemen, education of blind children and incorporation of the Limbless Soldiers' Association, will come before you later in the Session, whilst exigencies which cannot now be foreseen may well demand the submission of other measures for your consideration.

MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY,—

We are living in grave and anxious times in which all must be united in purpose and in achievement.

The future presents great problems which I feel sure will be attacked with the same courage and in the same spirit of determination which has successfully brought us through the perils of the past year, and which has made our land a bright star in the constellation of the Commonwealth of free peoples.

28th September, 1943.

I now leave you to the discharge of your important duties with the earnest prayer that under Divine Guidance your labours may conduce to the welfare and happiness of all sections of the community.

Mr. Hill moved, and Mr. Finnan seconded the motion, That the following Address-in-Reply to the Speech which His Excellency the Governor has addressed to both Houses of Parliament on opening this Session of the Parliament of New South Wales be now adopted by this House:—

To His Excellency the Right Honourable JOHN DE VERE, BARON WAKEHURST, Knight Commander of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, Captain in the Reserve of Officers of the Territorial Army, Governor of the State of New South Wales and its Dependencies, in the Commonwealth of Australia.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY,—

We, His Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Members of the Legislative Assembly of New South Wales, in Parliament assembled, desire to express our thanks for Your Excellency's Speech, and to assure you of our unfeigned attachment to His Most Gracious Majesty's Throne and Person.

2. We beg to assure Your Excellency that our earnest consideration will be given to the measures to be submitted to us, and that the necessary provision for the Public Service will be made in due course.

3. We join Your Excellency in the hope that, under the guidance of Divine Providence, our labours may be so directed as to advance the best interests of all sections of the community.

Mr. Richardson moved, That this Debate be now adjourned.

Question put and passed.

Ordered, That the Debate be adjourned until To-morrow and take precedence of other business.

Referred by Sessional Order to the Printing Committee.

Mr. O'Sullivan laid upon the Table the following Paper:—Statement of traffic secured to Railway transport by the exercise of the powers conferred on the Railway Commissioner by Section 24 (3) and (4) of the Government Railways Act, 1912-1943, during the month of August, 1943.

2. PRODUCTION OF WHEAT:—The Order of the Day having been read for the resumption of the adjourned Debate, on the motion of Mr. Graham, "That, in view of the increasing demand for Australian wheat from Great Britain and countries in the Middle east in addition to the increase in local consumption and the urgent need for the conservation of fodder, it is the opinion of this House that the regulations restricting the acreage area for the growing of wheat should be periodically reviewed by the Federal Government with a view to ensuring sufficient production for future requirements, and to maintain a reasonable supply to meet emergencies."

And the Question being again proposed,—

The House resumed the said adjourned Debate.

Mr. Lawson moved, That the Question be amended by adding after the word "emergencies" the words "and that a minimum price of five shillings and two-pence per bushel nett be paid to growers on delivery."

Point of Order:—Mr. Carlton submitted that the terms of the motion bore no relation to the fixation of a price for wheat. The motion dealt with regulations restricting acreage and the amendment sought to introduce an entirely new principle and was consequently out of order.

Mr. Speaker said that the leading principle of the motion dealt with a request for a periodical review of the regulations governing the restriction of the acreage area for the growing of wheat. The question of the fixation of a price for wheat was irrelevant to the motion, and therefore he ruled the amendment out of order.

Debate continued.

Mr. Nott moved, That this Debate be now adjourned.

Question put and passed.

Ordered, That the Debate be adjourned until To-morrow.

VOTES AND PROCEEDINGS
OF THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

FOURTH SESSION OF THE THIRTY-THIRD PARLIAMENT.

THURSDAY, 18 NOVEMBER, 1943.

The House met pursuant to adjournment. Mr. Speaker took the Chair.

Mr. Speaker offered the Prayer.

1. CORRECTION OF INACCURACIES IN STATEMENTS MADE IN DEBATE:—Mr. Speaker informed the House that he had considered the following Question addressed to the Chair yesterday by the Honourable Member for Phillip, viz.:—

Whether it is a fact that last night the Honourable Member for Tenterfield stated that only nine anti-Labour members had been appointed to the Legislative Council since 1925? Is it not a fact that on the 7th November, 1932, the Stevens Government, of which the Honourable Member for Tenterfield was a member, appointed no fewer than seventeen members to the Legislative Council? If the statement of the Honourable Member for Tenterfield is incorrect, what power have you, Mr. Speaker, to alter Hansard to correct the misstatement made by the Honourable Member?

Mr. Speaker stated that he regarded the Question as of some importance to all Honourable Members, because in a general way it bore upon the question of Debate.

Members would appreciate that it was not the duty of the Chair to decide what was a correct or incorrect statement made during the course of a Debate. Provided Honourable Members observed the Standing Orders and Rules of Debate they were allowed to make their speeches in their own way. If a Member made an incorrect statement, succeeding speakers from the floor of the House had the opportunity to challenge the statement as they pleased.

In their own interest Members were individually responsible for the accuracy of their statements, and if a statement made in good faith by an Honourable Member should happen to be incorrect in any respect it was not the Speaker's duty to interrupt the Debate and attempt to make a correction, even if he were in a position to do so.

It was, however, the duty of the Speaker to prevent irrelevance and repetition.

In the ordinary cut and thrust of Debate, misstatements were at times made by Honourable Members, but the very freedom of Debate which this House had always so zealously preserved offered ample opportunity for challenging any apparent misstatement.

OF THE

FOURTH SESSION OF THE THIRTY-THIRD PARLIAMENT.

THURSDAY, 13 APRIL, 1944.

The House met pursuant to adjournment. Mr. Speaker took the Chair.

1. MESSAGES FROM THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL:—Mr. Speaker reported the following Messages from the Legislative Council:—

(1.) Law Reform (Miscellaneous Provisions) Bill:—

Mr. SPEAKER,—

The Legislative Council, having had under consideration the Legislative Assembly's Message, dated 31st March, 1944, in reference to the Law Reform (Miscellaneous Provisions) Bill,—

Insists upon its Amendment No. 1—because neither in principle nor in practice can a situation be justified whereby a person's pain and suffering or his personal injuries or the curtailment of his expectation of life can be made a ground for the legislature conferring financial benefits on individuals in addition to those conferred by the Compensation to Relatives Act and other Acts merely because they happen to be beneficiaries under the will of deceased or his next of kin under an intestacy.

Insists upon its Amendments Nos. 4, 5 and 6—because—

(1) Their effect, while permitting damages to be received for injury arising wholly or in part from mental or nervous shock, is to confine the proposed extension within ordinary reasonable limits, and the legislature would not be justified in providing separate causes of action merely for such injury to each of the numerous persons within the statutory designation "member of a family," however far removed they might be from the actual occurrence.

(2) In no case do the Council's Amendments negative liability now existing under the common law. The clause in question is an extension of existing liability and not a substitute therefor either in whole or in part.

Sydney, 5th April, 1944, a.m.

BUSINESS UNDISPOSED OF AT THE CLOSE OF THE SESSION.

(DISSOLVED 24th APRIL, 1944.)

QUESTIONS:—

1. Councillor J. O. Cramer:—Mr. Matthews asked the Premier and Colonial Treasurer,—

(1.) Is it a fact that Councillor J. O. Cramer, recently appointed Publicity Officer of a new political party, is the same Councillor Cramer who was recently fined the sum of £20 for a breach of the Traffic Act under the National Security Regulations?

(2.) Is it further a fact that, when apprehended by a certain police officer in the execution of his duty, Councillor Cramer is alleged to have said that, when he is returned to Parliament, he will personally see that this officer is sent fifty miles the other side of Bourke?

(3.) If these are facts, will he say whether intimidation and victimisation are part of the policy of the new Liberal Democratic party; and will this Labour Government do all in its power to see that threats of this nature are never allowed to be given effect to?

Answer deferred.

2. Mines Department—Use of Rooms by Miners' Federation:—Mr. Richardson asked the Premier and Colonial Treasurer:—

(1.) Is it a fact that the Central Council meeting of the Miners' Federation was held at the Mines Department, Bridge-street, Sydney, from Tuesday, 1 February, to Thursday, 10 February, 1944?

(2.) If this is a fact, will he inform the House on whose authority rooms were made available for the use of the Miners' Federation for their private business, and what rental, if any, was charged?

(3.) Will he also inform the House if this precedent is to be followed by all other Departments, with the following result:—(a) The Railway Union will hold union meetings in the Commissioner's private offices; (b) the Police Association will hold their meetings in the Commissioner's office; (c) the Teachers' Federation will hold their meetings in the Education Department; and so on ad infinitum?

(4.) Is it the intention of the Minister for Mines to make these rooms in the Mines Department available permanently for the Miners' Federation to conduct their private business?

(5.) Will he inform the House what precedent was followed in the case of the Mines Department, if any, in allowing Government property to be used by private people without payment?

Answer deferred.
