NEW SOUTH WALES.

REGISTRATION OF BIRTHS, DEATHS, & MARRIAGES.

(SEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT.)

Presented to both Houses of Parliament, by Command.

THE REGISTRAR GENERAL to THE HONORABLE THE COLONIAL SECRETARY, transmitting Abstracts of Births, Deaths, and Marriages for the Year 1862, with prefatory Report.

Registrar General's Office,
Sydney, 1 June, 1863.

SIR,

In presenting to you the Annual Tables of Births, Marriages, and Deaths registered during the year 1862, under the provisions of the Act 19 Victoria, No. 34, I would take leave to preface them, as on former occasions, with a few analytical remarks explanatory of the results of the year's operations.

2. The year 1862 forms the seventh in which the system of a Civil Registry of Births, Marriages, and Deaths has been in existence in New South Wales. During this period the births of 93,614 children, the marriages of 41,948 persons, and the deaths of 38,306 of the population, of all ages, have been entered on the National records, forming a total of 173,868 registrations. (See Table at foot.)

Results of the system for the last seven years.

This vast mass of information, collected in all parts of the Colony, has been brought together in the Central Office, and bound up in volumes—the births by themselves, the marriages by themselves, and the deaths by themselves.

Complete indices, arranged alphabetically from the first to the last letters of each name, have been carefully compiled for each year, and the whole work forms a valuable record of the different events incident to human existence, during the period to which they relate. These labours will probably be viewed in future years with an interest far exceeding that which attends them during the process of collection, whilst each succeeding year will enhance the value of the records—by multiplying the number of ascertained facts, by extending the basis of comparison, by storing up and supplying unquestionable evidence upon

TOTAL number of NAMES recorded in the Registers, from 1st March, 1856, to 31st December, 1862, inclusive.

YEAR.	BIRTHS.	PERSONS MARRIED.	DEATHS.	TOTAL NAMES.
1856	8,546	4,584	3,506	16,636

upon points of importance that may arise as to heirship and inheritance, and, finally, by throwing light upon the laws and progress of population during the period in which the present generation is acting its part on the human stage, and working out the history of the country.

Results of registration in 1862.

3. The births of the year 1862, as recorded in the registers, were 15,434, viz. :— 7,946 boys and 7,488 girls. The marriages numbered 3,326, that is: 6,652 men and women were married, whilst the deaths amounted to 6,524, of which 3,905 were males, and 2,619 were females.

The increase by the excess of births over deaths was 8,910 souls, that is 2·436 per cent. on the estimated population, or 24 to each 1,000 persons living. The births exceeded those of the previous year (1861) by 753. The marriages by 104, and the deaths by 1,181.

Estimate of population, and per centage of births, marriages, and deaths.

4. Estimating the population of the Colony at the middle of the year, at 365,741, at which amount the increase by immigration over emigration, and by births over deaths justifies me in placing it, the birth rate was 4·219 per cent., the marriage rate was 0·909 per cent., and the death rate was 1·783 per cent. of the population.

The birth rate was 0·064 per cent. above that of 1861, but 0·097 per cent. under the average of the five years (1857 to 1861.)

The marriage rate was 0·002 per cent. under that of 1861, and 0·043 below the average of the five years. The death rate was 0·271 per cent. over that of 1861, and 0·029 per cent. above the average of the five years.

The following figures, placed in a tabular form, will exhibit these results more clearly. The calculations are made per 1,000 of the estimated population, for greater simplicity:—

	Births.	Marriages.	Deaths.
1861.....	41·55 per 1,000.....	9·11 per 1,000.....	15·12 per 1,000
1862.....	42·19 per 1,000.....	9·09 per 1,000.....	17·83 per 1,000
Average of five years (1857 to 1861) ...	43·28 per 1,000.....	9·52 per 1,000.....	17·54 per 1,000

The Table at foot, marked A, shews the number of births, marriages, and deaths registered in each quarter of the year, separately arranged for the city, suburban districts, and country districts, respectively.

BIRTHS.

5. Taking the population, as has been stated, at 365,741, on the 30th June, 1862, the increase of the year (15,434), by births, was at the rate of 4·21 per cent., or 42 to every 1,000 of the population. The male children (7,946) formed 2·17 per cent., and the female children (7,498) formed 2·05 per cent., or, in other words, to every 100 boys there were 94·3 girls born, or 106 boys to 100 girls. Comparing the births of 1862 with those of the five previous years, they are found to be 0·097 per cent., or very nearly one to every 1,000 persons living below the average of the five preceding years. Increase of population compared with former years.

The births registered in Sydney, shew a decrease of 92 on the registrations of the preceding year; those in the Suburban Districts shew a decrease of 13, whilst the births in the Country Districts exhibit an increase of 858. Abundant evidence is hereby afforded of the exodus of families from the Metropolitan to the Country Districts.

6. Table B, at foot, shews the number of births registered in each quarter of the year, for the six years (1857 to 1862). From these figures it would appear that the birth rate in the City was 2·06 per thousand below that of the year before, and 2·83 below the average of the five years, 1857 to 1861, viz:— Birth rate compared with previous years.

* Queensland separated in November, 1859.

The Country birth rate was 1·75 per thousand above that of the previous year, and 0·30 per thousand above the average of the five years, viz. :—

Taking the whole together, we find the birth rate of 1862 to have been 0·64 per thousand above that of 1861, but 1·09 per thousand below the average of the five years, 1857 to 1861, viz. :—

Calculations subject to readjustment.

7. It should be observed that the above calculations are based upon an estimated population at the middle of the year, the estimate being arrived at, as I have previously stated, by taking the excess of births over deaths, and of immigration over emigration seaward, and adding the results to the population of the preceding year. There is, however, no means of ascertaining the actual movement of the people from Census to Census, between one division of the Colony and the other; nor yet have I the means of ascertaining the overland migration between New South Wales and the adjacent Colonies. The calculations must therefore be accepted as approximations only, to be re-adjusted when the recurrence of the next Census year affords more certain data to go upon.

Illegitimates, twins, and triplets.

8. There were 505 births entered as illegitimate,—this is 3·27 per cent. of the entire births. The births so entered at the Central Office were 115, or 5·10 per cent. of the children born in Sydney. Those in the suburbs were 52, or 2·85 per cent. of the suburban births, whilst those in the country numbered 338, or 2·93 per cent. of the country births. There were three instances of triplets at a birth, and 133 of twins.

MARRIAGES.

Comparison with previous years.

9. The number of marriages celebrated during 1862 was 3,326, being 104 in excess of the marriages (3,222) of 1861, and 255 over the average (3,071) of the five years, 1857 to 1861.

The marriages celebrated in the City of Sydney numbered 983, or 29·56 per cent. of the whole. Those in the Suburban Districts numbered 214, or 6·44 per cent., and those in the Country Districts 2,129, or 64·00 per cent.

The Table at foot (marked D) exhibits the number of marriages in each of the last six years, arranged quarterly for Sydney, Suburban, and Country Districts.

10. The marriage rate per 1,000 of the population was, for each of the six years, as follows, viz.:— Cause of decrease of marriage rate.

1857.	1858.	1859.	1860.	1861.	1862.
10·00	9·66	9·96	8·90	9·11	9·09

It would appear from these figures that the depression in wages, which is found in all countries prejudicially to affect the matrimonial hopes of the industrial classes, still operates to keep down the marriage rate below what it exhibited in 1857.

11. But there is another, and a more serious cause, to which the decrease of the marriage rate may be assigned. By the Census of 1856 there were found to be 831 females to each 1,000 males in the Colony; by the Census of 1861, the proportion was reduced to 821 females to each 1,000 males;—and it was shewn that the deficiency was confined to females of 20 years old and upwards, the sexes being as nearly as possible equal up to that age.* From 20 years old up to 40 there were, in 1861, exclusive of the Chinese population, 67,454 males to 47,418 females—a deficiency of 20,036 females—giving a proportion of only 297 females to each 1,000 males. Further cause of decrease in the disproportion of the sexes.

* Males, 83,494; females, 83,073.

Deficiency in female immigration.

12. Upon reference to the Returns of Immigration (see Statistical Register for 1861, page 139), it will be seen, that during the five years, 1857 to 1861 inclusive, the adult immigration exhibits a deficiency of no less than 27,851 females; this fact alone is sufficient to account for the decrease in the annual marriage rate since 1857, and it is to the same cause doubtless that the annual birth rate has suffered, as has been shewn in paragraph 6 of this Report.

13. The statement below shews the proportion of marriages celebrated according to the rites of the different Churches in the Colony, as well as those performed by the Registrars, viz.:—

	Marriages.	Per cent.
Church of England	921	27·69
Roman Catholic.....	824	24·47
Presbyterians.....	962	28·92
Wesleyan	219	6·58
Methodist	71	2·13
Congregationalists	69	2·07
Baptists	22	0·66
Unitarian	2	0·06
Hebrew	12	0·36
Registrars	224	6·73
Totals.....	3,326	99·67

The numbers signing the registers with marks were, males, 646, or 19·42 per cent.; females 1,018, or 30·60. I would avail myself of this opportunity to direct attention to the necessity for modification of the Marriage Act, 19 Vic., No. 30, in the following particulars:—1stly,—with the view to requiring a certain notice to be given by the Registrar, when applications are made to him for the celebration of the civil ceremony, so as to prevent clandestine marriages; 2ndly,—with the view of obtaining a more perfect form of marriage certificate, particularly with regard to the ages of the parties, so as to place some check upon the marriage of minors without the consent of their parents. In both these respects the present law is defective, and needs alteration.

DEATHS.

Comparison with former years.

14. The number of deaths registered during the year 1862 amounted to 6,524, viz.,—3,905 males, and 2,619 females.

This number exceeds the registered deaths of 1861 by 1,181, but it is 38 below the mortality of 1860.

The death rate of 1862 was 17·83 to each 1,000 of the estimated population—the average of the five previous years was 17·54 per 1,000.

The comparison will, perhaps, be more clearly exhibited if placed in the following shape, viz:—

In 1857 there died 1 in 60.
1858 „ 1 in 53.
1859 „ 1 in 58.
1860 „ 1 in 50.
1861 „ 1 in 66.
1862 „ 1 in 56.

Table

Table E., at foot, exhibits the deaths in each quarter of the year for the last six years, in City, Suburbs, and Country, respectively.

15. The average mortality of England and Wales is found to be rather over 22 in every 1,000 living—the average of New South Wales is rather over 17, shewing a difference of 5 to every 1,000 persons living, in favour of the Colony; or putting the comparison in another form, in England and Wales about 1 in 46 is the annual average mortality, whilst in New South Wales it is 1 in 57. Comparison with England and Wales.

16. Comparing the deaths in the winter and summer seasons of the year, we find that they confirm the results of previous years, I mean as to the higher rate of mortality in the summer season. The year 1860 is the only exception. The winter of that year was marked by a severe influenza epidemic, followed by measles, which proved unusually fatal to both old and young. The deaths of the two winter quarters of 1862, from the 1st April to 30th September, numbered 3,060, whilst those of the summer quarter (from 1st January to 31st March, and from 1st October to 31st December) reached 3,464—a difference of 404 deaths in the two periods. Comparison of the winter with the summer mortality.

Comparing the quarters, the third (1st July to 30th September) exhibits a remarkably favourable, and the fourth (1st October to 31st December) an unfavourable, comparison with the others, as the following figures will shew, viz.:—

1st Quarter.	2nd Quarter.	3rd Quarter.	4th Quarter.
1,697	1,671	1,389	1,767

17. We will now shortly proceed to compare the Metropolitan with the Country Districts. We find that in the three divisions—City, Suburban, and Country—there was a pretty equal increase in the death rate of the year 1862 over its immediate predecessor. Comparison Metropolitan with Country.

City. Beginning with Sydney we find the ratio of deaths for the two years to have been as follows, viz. :—

	Estimated Population.	Deaths.	Ratio per 1,000 living.
1861.....	56,532	1,249	22·09
1862.....	57,151	1,382	24·18

The average of the five years (1857 to 1861) was 26·92 per 1,000 living, with which the mortality of 1862 compares very favourably. The average of the entire six years, over which the returns extend, is 26·47 per 1,000. The average of London is about 25 to each 1,000 of the inhabitants, or somewhat under the mortality of Sydney.

Suburbs. 18. Passing on to the Suburban Districts, we find the deaths for the two years to have been as under, viz. :—

	Estimated Population.	Deaths.	Ratio per 1,000.
1861.....	37,300	596	15·98
1862.....	39,575	789	19·93

Shewing an increase in the last year of very nearly 4 in each 1,000. The death rate of 1862 did not, however, reach the average of the five years, 1857 to 1861, which was 21·03 per 1,000 living. The average of the six years, over which period the returns extend, was 21·18, or 5·29 per 1,000 below the mortality of the City.

Metropolitan. Throwing the City and Suburbs together, we deduce the following results for the six years :—

	Estimated Population.	Deaths.	Rate per 1,000.	Ratio.
1857.....	84,280	1,943	23·05	1 in 43

1862.....	96,726	2,171	22·44	1 „ 44

The average of the six years is 1 in 41 of the population.

Country. 19. The number of deaths registered in the Country Districts was 4,353, viz. :—2,737 males, and 1,616 females. This is the heaviest annual mortality yet recorded; it is no less than 855, or 2·70 per 1,000 living in excess of the deaths of 1861, and 1·43 per 1,000 above the average of the five years, viz. :—

Mortality topographically compared. 20. In my last Annual Report I entered into an investigation of the relative mortality in the nine great divisions of the Colony. In 1861, however, I had the advantage of the Census upon which to base my calculations. This will not avail me for the same purpose on the present occasion. I have no means of determining the movement of the population between one division of the Colony and another, and must therefore content myself with exhibiting merely the increases of the several divisions respectively. They are as follows, viz. :—

The

* Decrease owing to Separation of Queensland.

The very large increase in the deaths registered in the north-western division is attributable to the accession of population at the Lachlan Gold Fields.

Infantile mortality.

21. An inquiry into the proportion of the deaths of infants under two years of age to the number of births registered is one of no mean importance, since upon the degree of care bestowed by parents upon their offspring, during infancy, depends, in a great degree, the annual increment to the population.

Sydney.

With regard to the City of Sydney, it would appear, from the following figures, that whilst the deaths under two years were 3·19 per cent. in excess of the mortality of 1861, they were 4·79 per cent. below that of 1860, and 1·74 per cent. below the mortality of the five years, 1857 to 1861.*

Suburbs.

22. In the Suburban Districts a similar Table exhibits the infantile mortality of 1862 as 4·29 per cent. in excess of the previous year, but 1·63 per cent. below that of 1860, and 0·52 over the average of the five years.†

Country.

23. In the Country Districts there is a considerable increase in the infantile mortality observable on the returns of the last and preceding years. The increase over the year 1861 was at the rate of 2·28 per cent., and at the rate of 1·61 per cent. over the deaths of the five years, 1857 to 1861. ‡

Comparison—Metropolitan with Country.

24. If we compare the deaths of infants under two years, in the City and Suburbs, with the infantile mortality in the Country Districts, we cannot fail to observe the very serious sacrifice of infantile life in the Metropolitan division. The results of the registration for the six years, 1857 to 1862, shew an annual average excess at the rate of 13·25 per cent.

that is to say: the mortality of children under two years, averages nearly one-fourth the annual births in the City, rather more than one-fifth the annual births in the Suburbs, and somewhat over a tenth the annual births in the Country.

Deaths under one year, to the births.

25. We will now proceed to compare the annual deaths with the annual births, and see the proportion of infants that die before they attain the age of twelve months; the Tables at foot, marked F., 1, 2, 3, distinguishing males from females, exhibit the following interesting results, namely: that on the average of the six years, 1857 to 1862, the deaths of boys within the year of birth were at the rate of 17·60 per cent. of the boys born in the City of Sydney; and that the deaths of girls within the year of birth, were at the rate of 16·01 per cent. of the girls born in the City. That 15·27 per cent. of the boys, and 13·79 per cent. of the girls, born in the Suburbs, die within the first year of their existence, and that only 9·18 per cent. of the boys, and 7·56 per cent. of the girls, born in the Country Districts, die within the same period. The difference is more clearly shewn below, viz. :—

26. By the foregoing figures we learn further that, in early infancy, male life is more liable to disease of a fatal character, than female life, or at all events, is not so well able to resist its attacks; and the remarkable uniformity in the proportions throughout affords ample testimony that this is not a mere casual result, but it would seem to establish the fact as a law of nature. That infantine life is less easy of preservation in towns than it is in the country, is a fact borne out by the experience of all countries, but that male life, whether urban or rural, is more difficult of preservation than female, is a fact which has not commanded such general acceptance.

Infantile mortality to total deaths.

27. The comparative Table at foot exhibits the number of deaths under two years, from two to five years, and the totals under five years, with the per centage that the deaths of each period relatively bear to the total deaths. From this table we glean the following information, namely: that of the total deaths registered in the City of Sydney, during the last six years, 38·16 per cent. referred to infants under two years of age, and 8·48 per cent. to children between two and five years, together making up the mortality of children under five years of age to 46·64 per cent. of the total deaths. Comparing the mortality of children under five years, during 1862, with that of the five previous years, we find a decrease of 3·26 per cent. on the average of those years, viz.:—

City of Sydney.

1857 to 1861 ..... 47·18 per cent.
1862 ..... 43·92 „

28. In the Suburban Districts the average mortality of children under five years, to the total deaths, for the six years, was as follows, viz.:—

Suburban.

Under two years ..... 51·09 per cent.
Two to five years ..... 9·24 „
Average under five years... 60·32 „

Comparing the deaths under five years, of the year 1862, with those of the previous five years, we produce the following results, viz.:—

1857 to 1861 ..... 60·49 per cent.
1862 ..... 59·56 „

shewing a decrease of nearly 1 per cent.

Country.

29. In the Country Districts, if we enter upon a similar inquiry, we find the average of the six years to be as follows, viz.:—

Under two years	31·58	per cent.
Two to five years	7·10	„
Average under five years...	38·69	„

of the total deaths. Comparing 1862 with the five years, 1857 to 1861, we find an increased infantine mortality as follows, viz.:—

1857 to 1861	37·96	per cent.
1862	42·36	„

These figures give an increase of 4·40 per cent. on the average deaths of children under five years of age, during the previous quinquennial period.

Increase of infantine mortality in the Country, evidences the dispersion of families in the interior.

30. It is a noticeable fact, in the Returns of 1861 and 1862, that whilst the proportional mortality of children to the total deaths has decreased in the Metropolitan Division, it has increased in a corresponding ratio in the Country Districts. This is a satisfactory feature, in a social point of view, indicating, as it does most clearly, the exodus of families from the centre to the extremities, and the dispersion of children more equally throughout the Country Districts.

31. To the Appendix Tables I must refer those who wish to pursue the inquiry further, for all the information which the Registers supply, and which it is necessary for them to know. I will merely add, that I have every reason to be satisfied with the careful and complete manner in which the facts are generally registered and furnished by the District Registrars to the Central Office.

I have, &c.,

STATISTICAL REGISTER

OF

New South Wales,

FOR THE YEAR

1862.

COMPILED FROM OFFICIAL RETURNS IN THE REGISTRAR GENERAL'S OFFICE.

Presented to both Houses of Parliament, by Command.

STATISTICAL REGISTER, 1862.

REGISTRAR GENERAL'S REPORT

TO THE

HONORABLE THE COLONIAL SECRETARY.

Registrar General's Office,
Sydney, 24 September, 1863.

SIR,

Introductory.

The volume of Statistics for the year 1862, to which this Report is prefixed, differs from former volumes in this—that it is confined exclusively to tabular statements. Hitherto it has been customary to include in the "Statistical Register" a great deal of matter altogether foreign to Statistics, and improperly placed in a volume designated by that name. I have, therefore, under your sanction, separated the nominal Returns of the Civil, Ecclesiastical, and Military Establishments from the Statistical Returns, and presented them to you in a distinct volume, copies of which, under the name of the "Blue Book," were placed upon the Tables of the two Houses of Parliament, on the 9th July last.

2. I propose to offer a few remarks on the Tables embraced in this volume, in explanation of their general arrangement, and in illustration of the results which they exhibit.

Classification of the Tables.

The Tables will be found classified under seven heads or parts.

Part I. embraces those Returns which relate to Population and Vital Statistics.

Part II.—To Religion, Education, and Crime.

Part III.—To Trade and Commerce.

Part IV.—To Mills and Manufactures.

Part V.—To Production (Mining, Pastoral, and Agricultural).

Part VI.—To Monetary and Financial matters.

Part VII. embraces a number of Miscellaneous Returns, not properly coming under any of the six previous heads.

The arrangement of the different Returns under the foregoing heads will, it is hoped, be found natural, and easy for reference.

Index, &c.

3. The Returns are preceded by a Table of Contents, and by a copious Index; to which is added, a Table exhibiting a complete statistical view of the progress of the Colony, from the year 1821 to 1862, inclusive, compiled from authentic records.

It is to be regretted that this Table cannot safely be carried further back. The defective state of the public records relating to the earlier period of the Colony's history, presents insuperable obstacles to the compilation of reliable Returns previous to the year 1821.

Fragmentary Statistics may be gathered from the books of early historical writers; but as I cannot authenticate them by reference to official data, it is thought better not to admit them into the Table.

PART I.

POPULATION, IMMIGRATION, &c.

Population.

4. The Tables classified under this head embrace all those Returns which refer to the number, condition, and progress of the People, to the rates of Wages, and prices of Provisions and Clothing.

They are nineteen in number.

Page 2.

The first Table gives the estimated Population at the end of the year, which is arrived at by adding to the numbers of the preceding year the excess of Births over Deaths, and the excess of Immigration over Emigration. The figures stand thus:—

	Males.	Females.	Total.
Estimated Population on 31st Dec., 1861.....	202,099	156,179	358,278
Increase by Births over Deaths	4,041	4,869	8,910
Increase by Arrivals over Departures	...	916	916
	206,140	161,964	368,104
Decrease by Departures over Arrivals	609	...	609
Estimated Population on 31st Dec., 1862.....	205,531	161,964	367,495

The net increase was 9,217 souls, or at the rate of 2·57 per cent.

The Males increased 1·69 per cent., and the Females 3·70 per cent., on their own numbers respectively.

There are no means by which the overland Migration with the adjacent Colonies can be ascertained, and it is impossible, except by a general Census, to determine to what extent the numbers are affected from year to year by this disturbing cause.

Looking to the Returns of the last decade, it may be interesting to compare the increase of population in the two quinquennial periods. From 1852 to 1857, inclusive, there was an accession of 97,233 souls to the population, that is, 47· per cent., or at the rate of 9·2 per cent. per annum. The Males increased from 118,687 to 171,673, or 45· per cent.; the Females from 89,567 to 133,814, or 49· per cent. From 1857 to 1862 inclusive the increase was 62,008 souls, that is, 20· per cent., or at the rate of 4· per cent. per annum.* The Males increased from 171,673 to 205,531, or 19· per cent.; the Females from 133,814 to 161,964, or 21· per cent. During the first period we were indebted to Immigration for the largest share of our annual increase; during the latter period we owe more to the natural increase of the population by Births.

At the end of 1852, the Females bore a proportion of 755 to each 1,000 Males; at the end of 1857, they bore a proportion of 779 to each 1,000 Males; at the end of 1862, they bore a proportion of 788 to each 1,000 Males.†

5. The Tables relating to Births, Marriages, and Deaths having lately formed the subject of a special Report, need but passing comment in this place. BIRTHS, MARRIAGES, AND DEATHS.

The increase to the population by Births was 15,434, being at the rate of 42· per 1,000 on the estimated population,‡ at the middle of the year. This was nearly 1 to every 1,000 below the average of the five previous years. The Marriages numbered 3,326, or at the rate of 9·09 per 1,000, being rather under the average of the five previous years. The Deaths numbered 6,524, or at the rate of 17·83 to every 1,000 of the population—rather over the average of the five previous years. The net increase, by excess of Births over Deaths, was 8,910, or at the rate of 24· to each 1,000 of the population. Page 2.

6. The addition to the numbers of the people by arrivals seaward, inclusive of 1,030 Chinese Immigrants, was 15,386, but against this we have to write off departures to the extent of 15,079; the gain, therefore, from outward sources, was very small indeed—only 307 souls. IMMIGRATION. Page 2.

The efflux is due, in part, to the rush which commenced about the middle of the past year to the Otago Gold Fields, for it appears that no less than 3,445 people§ left the Colony for New Zealand, before the end of the year, but few of whom have as yet returned. 1,118 Chinamen, moreover, took their departure for home; and both to Victoria and Queensland there was a considerable migration.

The least unsatisfactory feature of this Emigration is, that it has been confined principally to Males. Out of the numbers which took their departure during the year, there were 3,114 Females only to 11,965 Males.

* The separation of the Northern Districts took place during the second quinquennial period, viz.:—1st December, 1859.

† Eliminating the Chinese population, amounting to 12,986 souls, all Males, the Census of 1861 exhibited the proportion of 821 Females to every 1,000 Males.

‡ 365,741.

§ 3,094 Males, 351 Females.

Page 4.

7. The Returns of Immigration for the ten years, 1853 to 1862 inclusive, exhibit the results shewn in the following Table, viz.:—

	Assisted.		Voluntary.		Total.
	Male.	Female.	Male.	Female.	Male.	Female.
5 years—1853 to 1857	24,248	25,455	14,311	9,017	38,559	34,472
5 years—1858 to 1862	9,967	9,372	57,982	14,571	67,949	23,943
Totals—10 years....	34,215	34,827	72,293	23,588	106,508	58,415

From these figures it would appear, that whilst the Assisted Immigration has been conducted with due regard to the equalization of the sexes, the Voluntary Immigration sets at naught this important social consideration. A preponderance of 48,705 Males, or over two-thirds of the arrivals at their own expense during the ten years, would seem to indicate the necessity for greater attention to Female Immigration, in order to promote the proper balance of the sexes.

Charitable Institutions.

8. The Statistics of Charitable Institutions are interesting in two points of view—first, as indicating the extent of eleemosynary aid afforded by the community; and secondly, as exhibiting the proportional amount of helplessness and distress to the great body of the people—taxing as it were the industry of the strong and active for the maintenance of the decrepit, maimed, and indigent.

Page 6.

Turning to Table 10, it will be seen that there were at the end of 1861, in the different Hospitals, Asylums, and Orphan Schools, as follows, viz.:—

	Sex not stated.	Males.	Females.	Total.
In-door	...	1,785	1,303	3,088
There were receiving out-door relief ...	*488	1,533	1,109	3,130
Totals	488	3,318	2,412	6,218

For the support and accommodation of these people, there was received—

	£	s.	d.
From the Government.....	54,683	19	4
From private contributions...	17,044	17	1
Together	£71,728	16	5

The actual Disbursements were £200 short of this sum, the average cost per head of the numbers relieved being about £11 10s. each. The proportion of alms-people to the total population was 17 in each 1,000, and the cost of their maintenance distributed over the entire community was at the rate of 4s. per head.

9.

* Families.

9. I have referred to the Statistics of 1861, in order to institute a comparison with those of the succeeding year. It appears then, that at the end of 1862 there were, in the several Hospitals, Asylums, and Orphan Schools in the Colony— Comparison—1861 and 1862.

	Sex not stated.	Males.	Females.	Total.
In-door	...	1,908	1,228	3,136
Receiving out-door relief	*1,805	1,495	917	4,217
Totals ...	1,805	3,403	2,145	7,353

These figures shew an increase of 1,135 on the Returns of the previous year.

Towards the support of these 7,353 alms-people there was contributed—

By the Government.....	59,812	13	8
By private subscriptions	13,203	18	9
Together	£73,016	12	5

The falling off in the amount received from private sources is very remarkable, being £3,841 less than it was in 1861. The actual disbursements were £5,491 short of the receipts, and the average cost per head was £9 3s. 8d.—that is, 46s. per head within the expenditure of 1861. Whether these results are owing to the fact of the Government having taken into their own hands the Asylums for the Infirm and Destitute I am not prepared to say, but they are noticeable traits in the Returns.

The proportion of alms-people to the population was 20 in each 1,000, being an increase of 3 on the Returns of the previous year; whilst the cost to each person in the Colony was at the rate of about 3s. 8d. per head, or 4d. less than in 1861.

I should state that the Return is defective, inasmuch as it does not embrace the particulars with regard to the Maitland Hospital, and St. Vincent's Hospital, Sydney. Several fruitless applications were made to the Officers of these Institutions, and I could not keep the Returns longer open.

10. The prospect held out to the labouring classes at Home by the rates of wages, prices of provisions and clothing, and the principal articles of consumption in the Colony, being a question of some importance to our countrymen, may not be deemed unworthy of passing notice; and as being intimately connected with the subject of population, the Tables have been introduced at the end of this part of the work. The Return No. 18, which exhibits the average rates of Wages obtaining during the last ten years, shews a decided increase in the remuneration to female servants employed in the performance of domestic offices. The skilled artizan commanded an average daily wage of 10s., without board or lodging; and farm labourers and shepherds, from £30 to £40 per annum, with board and lodging. Wages. Page 9.

The

* Families.

The wages of female domestic servants ranged from £20 to £40; cooks, laundresses, and upper nurses commanding the higher rates.

PRICES. 11. The prices of clothing and provisions ruled, on the average, Page 10. somewhat lower than is shewn in the Return of the previous year.

Wheat averaged	.....	7s. per bushel.
Bread „	.....	4d. the 2lb. loaf.
Rice „	.....	3d. per lb.
Tea „	.....	2s. per lb.
Sugar „	.....	4d. per lb.
Meal „	.....	4d. per lb.
Butter „	.....	1s. 6d. per lb.
Cheese „	.....	9d. per lb. for Colonial.
Potatoes „	.....	8s. per cwt.
Candles „	.....	7d. per lb.

As the dissemination of knowledge with regard to our social economy is one of the chief objects in view in publishing the Annual Statistics, I need not apologize for giving such prominent notice to the Tables which are framed by the Immigration Department, to supply information on a subject of such paramount importance to intending Emigrants in the Mother Country. I may state that the information upon which the Table is based is collected from all parts of the Colony, and the average is struck upon the results of the whole.

PART II.

RELIGION, EDUCATION, AND CRIME.

RELIGION. 12. The Ecclesiastical Return embraces the number of Ministers, the amount of Salaries paid from Public Funds, the Church accommodation and number of Persons usually attending, to which are added the Statistics of Sunday Schools.

Number of Ministers. The number of Ministers of Religion officiating in the Colony
Page 12. was 354, being an increase of 27 on the Returns of the previous year, distributed as follows, viz.:—

	1861.	1862.	Increase.
Church of England	119	127	8
Roman Catholic	64	73	9
Presbyterian	51	59	8
Methodists	56	54	...

The

The sums paid out of State Funds for religious purposes, principally in salaries, were as follows, viz. :— State Aid. Page 12.

Church of England	£17,932	17	2
Roman Catholic	10,161	1	5
Presbyterians (Synod of Australia)	3,527	0	0
Wesleyan Methodists	1,835	7	7
Total	£33,456	6	2

There were 270 Churches and 447 Chapels, or buildings used as such, providing accommodation for 119,075 people—that is rather under one-third of the total population—having an average attendance of 86,674, or under one-fourth of the population. Church accommodation. Page 12.

The proportion of persons incapacitated by extreme youth and old age from attending Public Worship, may be put down at 20· per cent., or one-fifth of the people.

13. The Statistics of Sunday Schools exhibit a decrease of five on the numbers of the preceding year, but there is a small increase in the number of Scholars. Much difficulty is experienced in the collection of these Returns. Sunday Schools. Page 12.

They shew the following results, viz. :—

Denomination.	Schools.	Teachers.		Scholars.
		Male.	Female.	Male.	Female.
Church of England	128	381	542	3,476	4,017
Roman Catholics	66	130	150	2,063	2,287

Education.

14. The total number of Educational Establishments in the Colony was 925, an increase of 76 on the Return for 1861. Schools. Page 14.

The

The Returns for the two years are as follows :—

Schools.	1861.	1862.	Increase.
Denominational	278	305	27
National	178	208	30
Private Schools	387	405	18
University and Colleges	2	3*	1
Increase			76

The number of Scholars under tuition exhibits an increase of 4,337, as appears by the following comparison, viz. :—

	1861.	1862.	Increase.
Orphan Schools and Destitute Asylum ...	652	659	7
Denominational	16,572	18,584	2,012

	37,711	42,089	4,378
University and Colleges	163	122	Decrease 41
		Increase	4,337

It should be noticed that in no one year of the last decade do the Returns exhibit so large an addition to the number of Children under tuition.

Estimate of number of Children not receiving education.

15. By the Census of 1861, from 5 years of age up to 10, there were 41,664† Children. From 10 years up to 15 years of age there were 35,717,‡ together 77,381 Boys and Girls of the educable age. Of this number many, perhaps, may be considered by their parents too young to go to School, and many are taken from School and put out into the world before arriving at the age of 15. It is impossible to ascertain with any degree of accuracy the numbers in either case. Many children receive instruction at home. Many, moreover, whose parents are incapable of imparting instruction, and who would gladly pay for it for their children, are so situated as to be beyond the reach of a School, and the number of these we cannot fairly estimate. All that we know for a certainty is, that between the ages of 5 and 15 years there are from 77,000 to 78,000 Boys and Girls in the Colony, and that there were under some degree of instruction, during last year, other than home teaching, 42,211§, or 54 per cent. Deducting the 9,454 Scholars educating at Private Schools (expense not stated), the total cost of their education for 1862 was £135,314 12s. 1d., or at the rate of £4 2s. 7d. per head.

CRIME.

16. The Criminal Returns (embraced in Tables 24 to 37) are surrounded with much interest at all times, and more especially at this period, when the public mind is agitated with conflicting statements and opinions as to the degree of criminality which the state of society in the Colony presents. Crime.

I will endeavour, from the data before me, to set forth the number of offenders during the last five years who were committed for trial in the Superior Courts of the Colony, the number of convictions, and the numbers acquitted; and I will further shew the proportion of crime to the population in each year, and compare it with the Criminal Statistics of England and Wales and with the sister Colony of Victoria.

I will further shew the number of persons laid hold of by the police, and dealt with in the Summary Jurisdiction Courts of the Colony, for the four years 1859 to 1862.

17. With regard to the more serious offences tried at the Criminal Sittings of the Supreme Court and Courts of Quarter Sessions, during the last five years,* the Returns exhibit the following results, viz.:— Felonies, &c., tried by Judge and Jury.

Year.	Felonies.			Misdemeanors.			Total Number of Commitments.
	Supreme Court.	Courts of Quarter Sessions.	Total.	Supreme Court.	Courts of Quarter Sessions.	Total.
1858	234	382	616	53	111	164	780
1859	156	441	597	48	108	156	753
1860	127	412	539	40	106	146	685
1861	146	486	632	61	127	188	820
1862	151	526	677	48	154	202	879

It will be seen by the foregoing figures that the number of commitments decreased from 780 in 1858 to 685 in 1860; and that they then expanded again from 685 in 1860 to 879 in 1862. But there has been a considerable accession to the population since 1860.

We

* Prior to 1858 there are no records of commitments for trial; the inquiry therefore cannot be pushed further back.

We must therefore, to arrive at an accurate conclusion, ascertain what ratio the commitments bear to the population in each year.

Year.	Population at middle of Year.	Commitments.	Ratio
			Per 1000.	Or
1858	309,790	780	2·518	1 in 397
1859	330,860	753	2·276	1 in 439
1860	330,840	685	2·070	1 in 483
1861	353,332	820	2·321	1 in 431
1862	365,741	*879	2·403	1 in 416
Mean of the 5 years			2·317	1 in 433

These figures go to prove (in so far as the commitments may be admitted as an index of crime) that the moral state of the community was better in 1862 than it was in 1858.

Comparison with England and Wales.

18. We will now compare the results of our investigation with the Criminal Statistics of the Mother Country. The last Returns published by order of the Secretary of State for the Home Department for England and Wales, give the following results for the six years 1856 to 1861, viz. :—

Year.	Population.	Commitments.	Ratio
			Per 1000.	Or
1856	19,045,000	19,437	1·020	1 in 980

Excess of commitments to population in New South Wales } 1·391 to each 1,000.

It is proper here to state that the Criminal Justice Act of 1855, which authorized Justices to pass sentences for short periods with the consent of the prisoners, instead of committing them for trial to the Sessions, had the effect of decreasing the commitments to no less an extent than 34·8 per cent., as compared with the average of the two preceding quinquennial periods. In order, therefore, to form a fair estimate of the moral state of the Colony, as compared with the Mother Country, we must push the inquiry further back through the ten years preceding 1856. The

* The Returns from the Benches of Magistrates, state the number of commitments for trial at 998. If this is correct, it will give a different result. The ratio for 1862 would be 2·729 per 1000, or 1 in 366, and the mean of the 5 years would be 2·383 per 1000, or 1 423.

The Table at foot* shews that for the ten years, 1846 to 1855, the committals for trial ranged from 1·382 per 1,000 of the population to 1·683; the average being 1·550, or 1 in 647. We find then the comparison to stand as follows, viz.:—

New South Wales, 1858 to 1862 ... 2·317, or 1 in 433.
England and Wales, 1846 to 1855 ... 1·550, or 1 in 647.

Difference..... 0·767 per 1,000 of the population.

19. The Statistics of the Colony of Victoria enable me to extend the comparison with that Colony, for the three years 1859 to 1861. Comparison with Victoria.

Year.	Population.	Commitments.	Ratio
			Per 1,000.	Or

1861	541,800	1,283	2·368	1 in 422
	Mean of three years		2·510	1 in 375

These figures exhibit the following comparative results, viz.:—

Victoria, 1859 to 1861 ..... 2·510, or 1 in 375.
New South Wales, 1858 to 1862..... 2·317, or 1 in 433.

It would appear by these figures, that out of the total number committed for trial in the five years, 55·5 per cent. were prosecuted to conviction, and 44·5 per cent. were either acquitted or not placed upon trial—which of the two the Returns do not specify.

Summary Jurisdiction. Page 37.

21. The Summary Jurisdiction Returns shew that 15,410 persons (11,767 males and 3,643 females) were laid hold of by the police, and dealt with in the manner shewn in the following Table, viz. :—

Comparison with former years.

22. A comparative view of the number of offenders brought before the several Courts of Petty Sessions in each of the four years, 1859 to 1862, is presented in the following Table, viz. :—

Nature of Offence.	*Taken into Custody.	Convicted.	Committed.	Discharged.

Drunkenness	10,166	8,184	.....	1,982
Totals for the year 1860	19,193	13,228	737	5,228
Offences against the Person, Property, &c.	7,920‡	4,390	828	2,701

Offences against the Person, Property, &c.	10,535	5,921	994	3,620
Drunkenness	4,875	1,555	4	3,316
Totals for the year 1862	15,410	7,476	998	6,936

From this Table, we find that the number of persons taken into custody in 1862 was below that of either of the three previous years. The great decrease is attributable to the smallness of the numbers apprehended for Drunkenness, which are put down at 4,875 against 8,817 in 1861, 10,166 in 1860, and 9,419 in 1859.

The increase in the number of Offences against the Person, &c., (namely, 10,535 against 7,920 the previous year), is attributable to the operation of "The Sale of Liquors Licensing Act of 1862," which contains no penal provisions against drunkenness. The police were therefore compelled to take proceedings against drunkards, under such other enactments as the circumstances of each case might warrant. The effect of this has been to swell up the offences against the person and property in a corresponding ratio to the reduction in the numbers apprehended for drunkenness. 23.

* The Returns do not shew how many persons were apprehended more than once during the year, and therefore the figures must be read as referring to the number of offences and not to the number of individuals, as one person may have been brought up possibly two or three times.

† Of this number no record kept of 22 as to how disposed of.

‡ Of this number one effected his escape from the lock-up.

23. There is a singular feature in the Metropolitan Returns which is deserving of notice. It appears that out of 1,314 persons brought before the Magistrates at the Central Police Court, for offences "against the person," the Females outnumbered the Males to the extent of 128; and in 1,597 Drunkards cases, the Females again outstripped the Males to the number of 115; whilst in 983 cases for offences "against property," the Males preponderate to the number of 311. Metropolitan Returns. Page 38.

The education of these people may prove of some interest, as it appears that out of 2,481 Males, 109 or 4·39 per cent. can read and write, 1,956 or 78·83 per cent. can read only, and 416 or 16·76 per cent. can neither read nor write; of 2,413 Females, 47 or 1·94 per cent. can read and write; 1,598 or 66·22 per cent. can read only; and 768 or 31·82 per cent. can neither read nor write.

The numbers apprehended and brought before the Justices in the Metropolitan District amounted to 6,908, or nearly 45 per cent. of the total apprehensions throughout the Colony; but it should be remarked, that 909 of these were for offences committed at sea or on board of vessels in the Harbour.

24. The Returns published by the Police Department of Victoria, for the three years 1859 to 1861, enable me to make the following comparison as to the numbers laid hold of by the Police in the two Colonies. Comparison with Victoria.

It appears by the figures in the Tables below, that whilst the apprehensions by the Police in Victoria bore a mean of 1 to every 18 of the population for the 3 years, the apprehensions by the Police of New South Wales, for the 4 years 1859 to 1862, bore a mean of 1 to every 19 of the population.

With regard, however, to the comparison of the Criminal Statistics of different Countries, it is necessary, in order to arrive at a fair conclusion, to take into consideration the state of the law in each case. For instance, I have shewn that an alteration in the Criminal Law of England in 1855 had the effect of decreasing the number of commitments for trial to the Superior Courts by no less than 34 per cent. Those persons, therefore, who may be interested in tracing the matter to an accurate conclusion, will have to study not only the Criminal Laws both in England and Victoria, but any other exceptional circumstances affecting the question, before they can apply with any degree of certainty the comparison I have drawn. My duty is ended in presenting the facts as I find them.

The number of Certificates issued for Publicans Licenses was 2,122, against 1,733 granted the year before. This gives a Public House to every 173 souls in the community.

TRADE AND COMMERCE.

25. In order to convey some idea of the progress of Trade, and to illustrate the development of our commercial relations with other Countries, a glance at the Imports and Exports for the year under review will be attended with advantage.

The Exports thus shew an increase to the extent of rather more than a million and a half on those of the preceding year, and more than two millions and three quarters* upon the average† annual exports of the ten years 1852 to 1861.

26. The estimated value of Exports, the produce of the Colony, as compared with 1861, was as follows, viz. :— Exports, the produce of the Colony.

General Total .. £	4,678,658	5,798,891	1,234,529	114,296

By the foregoing statement the net increase in the value of the Exports of 1862 over those of 1861 appears to have been £1,120,233.

The most remarkable increase is observable in the export of Gold, amounting to the large sum of £824,129.

The decrease in the dairy produce is attributable to the severe drought which visited the Colony in 1862, and to the depression in the Wool market at Home is traceable the lower value placed upon the export of that article seaward.

In the Overland Traffic an increase to the extent of £191,114 is recorded, the total Exports, viâ Albury, Moama, and the Murray, having exceeded a million in value, against £875,997 the year before.

Wool.

27. Of our great staple produce, Wool, the Export during 1862, as compared with the previous year, was as follows, viz. :—

	1861.	1862.	Increase.
	lbs.	lbs.	lbs.
Seaward	12,745,891	13,482,139	736,248

Totals	18,171,209	20,988,393	2,817,184

The most remarkable feature in this statement is, the great increase in the Export of Wool, by way of Melbourne and Adelaide, from what are called the "Riverine Districts," amounting as it appears to more than one-half the quantity shipped seaward from the Ports of the Colony.

Shipping.

28. The Returns of Shipping Inwards, as was to be expected, afford ample evidence of the increased trade which has been brought under notice. The number of vessels which entered the different Ports of the Colony during 1862 was 1,493, with an aggregate tonnage of 454,837 tons. In the year 1861 the number of vessels arriving inwards was 1,327, and the aggregate tonnage 366,236 tons.

The Inward Shipping, both in numbers and tonnage, exceeds that of any year of the last decennial period.

The Shipping Trade Inwards, with Great Britain, was in excess of either of the four previous years, but did not reach the average of the five years 1853 to 1857, whilst the Outward trade appears to have diminished, as is shewn below, viz. :—

	Inwards.		Outwards.

PART IV.

MILLS AND MANUFACTURES.

Mills, &c. Page 106.

29. There is little to notice in the progress of our manufacturing industry. By slow degrees, horse, wind, and water mills are giving way to steam. In 1853 there were 72 steam mills for grinding and dressing grain; in 1862 there were 131.

In 1853 there were 141 manufactories or works conducted by machinery; in the ten years ending with 1862 they had increased to 859.

Five years ago the Pastoral Districts could boast of no more than 23 machines to economize labour, or establishments worked by machinery, 10 of the number being appropriated to converting sheep and cattle into tallow; in 1862 the number had increased to 155.

30. The manufacture of Woollens in 1862 exhibits a decrease on the Returns of the previous year. In 1861 there were 8 establishments in work, producing 145,393 yards of cloth and tweed. In 1862 there were only 5 in work, producing 128,720 yards. Since the year 1854, the woollen manufacture seems to have declined, the quantity produced in that year being 184,555 yards. The Returns of the last 3 years, however, afford evidence of its revival, although it has not reached what it was nine years ago. Woollen Cloth. Page 108.

31. The manufacture of Soap and Candles does not exhibit so marked an increase as the progress of the population would lead one to expect. In 1854 there were 18 establishments, producing 74,878 cwt.; whilst in 1862 there were 30 establishments, producing only 79,117 cwt. During the intermediate years, the manufacture gives evidence of a fitful pursuit of this useful branch of industry, in 1859 the quantity produced being as low as 32,768 cwt. Soap and Candles. Page 109.

It may be fairly presumed that the manufacture is regulated and kept down by importations from the Mother Country.

32. The manufacture of Tobacco would appear to have taken a start since the supply from America has fallen short. The production in 1862 was 3,755 cwt., against 1,587 cwt. the previous year; indeed in no year of the preceding decennial period has the manufacture of this article shewn so great activity. Tobacco. Page 109.

33. The manufacture of Refined Sugar is also greatly on the increase. In 1853 there were 3 establishments in operation, producing 81,200 cwt.; in 1862 there was 166,900 cwt. produced by 2 establishments. The average annual production of the last 5 years has been 147,684 cwt., or 19,216 cwt. below that of 1862. Refined Sugar. Page 110.

34. The manufacture of Tallow, although the number of cattle boiled down exceeded by nearly 18,000 the number so disposed of during 1861, fell short of the produce of that year by more than 2,000 cwt. Tallow. Page 110.

The number of Sheep and Cattle rendered into Tallow in the two years, and the produce, were as follows:—

	1861.	Produce. cwt.	1862.	Produce. cwt.
Sheep	6,901	43,353	3,241	41,287
Cattle	30,528		48,097

Since the year 1853, the Returns do not shew so great a slaughter of Horned Cattle for Tallow as took place during last year. The deficiency in the quantity of Tallow produced is attributable to the inferior condition of the stock, owing to the severe drought.

PART V.

PRODUCTION.

35. We come now to the consideration of our Mining operations. And first as to the Collieries, which afford evidence of unwonted activity. It is satisfactory to find that the production of Coal has Collieries. Page 115.

more than recovered the ground it lost in 1861, owing to the disagreement which unfortunately prevailed during a part of that year, between the principal Coal Companies and their Miners. The number of Mines in actual working operation in 1862 is stated at 30, producing 476,522 tons of Coal, of the value of £305,234. It seems that no less than 15 new Mines have been added to the number which were in operation in 1861, and that the result was an increased production of 134,455 tons.

The development of the Coal Fields of the Colony during the last decade is a very remarkable feature in these Returns. The production of the Mines for the five years 1853 to 1857 was 750,921 tons, whilst the production for the five years 1858 to 1862 was 1,712,061 tons, shewing an increase of very little short of a million tons in the five years.

The Export of Coal in 1862 amounted to 308,782 tons, against 207,780 tons the previous year. Our principal customers are Victoria, South Australia, and New Zealand, and large shipments are made to China and other Foreign Countries. The shipments to the neighbouring Colonies average about two-thirds of the Total Exports.

The price of good screened Coal at Newcastle ranged from 12s. to 14s. per ton.

Silver, Iron and Copper. Page 115.

36. A Silver Mine was opened near "Moruya" on the Southern Coast of the Colony, on the 13th August 1862, and 266 tons of Ore was taken from it before the end of the year, but the value is not stated.

The Fitz Roy Iron Mine was not worked.

Two Copper Mines in the District of Orange produced 2,200 tons of Ore, of the value of £12,000 sterling.

Gold. Page 114.

37. The total results of our Gold Mining operations for the year manifest increased success.

The Western Gold Fields more than doubled the production of the previous year, whilst the Northern and Southern Gold Fields shew a decrease, as will be seen by the following Statement, viz. :—

Gold Fields.	1861.		1862.
	Ounces.	Value.	Ounces.	Value.
Western	134,375	513,790	321,720	1,219,752
Northern	35,266	132,931	28,242	106,065
Southern	232,993	907,908	225,576	836,717
Totals	402,634	1,554,629	575,538	2,212,534

The increase in the quantity of Gold produced was 172,904 ounces, in value £657,905.

The Quartz Reefs in the Western Districts afford evidence of extreme richness; and it is probable that their resources will receive extraordinary extraordinary development, through the application of capital and machinery which is being brought to bear upon them.

38. Connected with the production of Gold, there is a Return, No. 143, included in Part 7, shewing the number of Miners' Rights and Business Licenses issued in the year 1862, to which in this place it may be interesting to refer, as evidencing the increased amount of industry engaged in bringing about the results set forth in the last paragraph. The following figures represent the number of Licenses issued to Miners in each of the two last years, viz. :— Miners Licenses issued. Page 199.

	1861.	1862.	Increase.	Decrease.
Western Gold Fields	7,050	17,183	10,133	.....
South-western Gold Fields	6,118	4,517	.....	1,601
Southern Gold Fields	1,242	1,543	301	.....
Northern Gold Fields	1,834	1,795	.... ..	39
Totals	16,244	25,038	10,434	1,640

There is thus shewn to have been a net increase of 8,794 upon the number of Licenses issued in 1861.

Assuming that each Miner's Right or License represents an individual, and that its possessor was occupied during the whole year in the search for Gold, it would appear by the Return of Production that, as nearly as possible, 23 ounces of the precious metal (supposing it to be equally divided) would fall to the lot of each man. This, at the Mint value (£3 17s. 10½d. per oz.), would produce an average wage of £88 13s. per annum, or at the rate of £1 14s. 1d. per week per man.

Agriculture.

39. There is no subject of more general interest than the occupation and cultivation of the soil. It has been my endeavour, since the Statistics of the Colony were placed in my hands, to render the Agricultural Returns as perfect as possible, so that the annual progress made in this important branch of industry might be clearly indicated. I have endeavoured, on the present occasion, to distinguish Freeholders from Leaseholders, and the extent of holding owned or occupied by each. I have tried, moreover, to ascertain, in addition to the extent of land in cultivation, the quantity enclosed but not in cultivation, as well as the extent of holdings unenclosed. I regret, however, that the Returns do not enable me to present the information with any confidence. The figures which relate to the total extent of holdings can only be accepted as an approximation to the truth, but as regards the extent of land under tillage, the Returns are as accurate, probably, as it is reasonable to expect under the present system of collection. We will first glance at the number of holders of land, and the estimated total extent of holdings. Number of holders and extent of holdings. Page 122.

FREEHOLD AND LEASEHOLD. Page 122.

40. The following results, distinguishing the Pastoral from the Settled Districts, are elicited by the inquiry, viz. :—

	Freeholders.*	Leaseholders.	Freehold.	Leasehold.
	No.	No.	Acres.	Acres.
Pastoral	5,185	1,343	1,113,227¾	51,883,286
Settled	9,246	6,615	3,123,770½	3,081,658
Totals	14,431	7,958	4,236,998¼	54,964,944

According to this statement, the extent of purchased land averages 215 acres to each Freeholder in the Pastoral Districts, and 338 acres to each Freeholder in the old Settled Districts, whilst the extent of leasehold land averages 41,610 acres to each Leaseholder in the Pastoral Districts, and 466 acres in the Settled Districts.

Comparison with former year.

41. In the Returns of the previous year, the Free and Leaseholders were not separately distinguished, but putting the two classes together, the comparison stands thus :—

31st March, 1862..... 21,175 holders.
31st March, 1863..... 22,389 „

Shewing an increase of ... 1,214 holders.

Putting the extent of holdings lease and freehold together, a small deficiency is noticeable in the latter Returns. The extent was estimated, on 31st March, 1862, at ..... 63,536,457 acres,
And on 31st March, 1863, at ..... 63,201,943 „

Shewing a decrease of ..... 334,514 acres.

The area of Squatting Runs has but in a few cases been accurately defined, and therefore these figures can only be regarded as a rough approximation to the truth.

Acreage under tillage. Page 122.

42. With reference to the extent of Land actually under tillage, and the produce thereof, we may regard the Returns with more favour. I have no doubt they convey as fair a picture of the quantity of land in crop, and of its estimated production, as the nature of the inquiry and former experience would seem to justify us in expecting.

The extension of Agriculture in the Pastoral Districts is one of the most prominent features in the Returns, as will appear by a glance at the following statement, shewing the acreage in crop on the 31st March, 1862, and 31st March, 1863, viz :—

Districts.	1862.	1863.	Increase.
	acres.	acres.	acres.
Pastoral	43,228	55,490	12,262
Settled	254,347	246,648	7,699 decrease.
Totals	297,575	302,138	4,563

There

* It should be borne in mind that the inquiry extends only to holders of land exceeding one acre, and not to small Town or Suburban proprietors.

There is here a decrease of 7,699 acres in the exhausted soils of the old Settled Districts, and an increase of 12,262 acres in the virgin soils of the Pastoral Districts, leaving a net increase of land under tillage to the extent of 4,563 acres.

43. We will inquire now how this area has been cropped, and compare it with the previous year. Nature of Crop.

The following tabular form is perhaps the most simple way of conveying the results:—

	31st March, 1862.	31st March, 1863.	Increase.	Decrease.
	acres.	acres.	acres.	acres.
Wheat	129,375¾	117,854¾	.....	11,521
Maize	59,149¼	78,232¾	19,083¼	.....
Barley and Oats	41,799¾	50,001	8,201¼	.....
Rye, Millet, and Sorghum ..	1,496	741	.....	755
Sown Grasses	43,292¼	32,010	.....	11,282¼
Potatoes	10,039¾	9,282¾	.....	757
Vineyards	1,130	1,459½	329½	.....
Gardens	8,707¾	8,410	.....	297¾
Tobacco	223¾	895¾	672	.....
Cotton	.....	54¾	54¾	.....
Other Crops	2,360½	3,196¼	835¾	.....
Totals	297,575	302,138½	.....	.....

This statement exhibits a falling off in the breadth of land sown in wheat to the extent of 11,521 acres, and in sown grasses to the extent of 11,282 acres, attributable without doubt to the dryness of the season. On the other hand, we notice an increase in the maize crop to the extent of 19,083 acres, which the breaking up of the drought towards the end of the year afforded farmers the opportunity of planting. There is also an extension of vineyard of 329 acres, and of tobacco of 672 acres, owing to the interruption of our regular supplies from America, and the consequent increase in price; and with these must be noticed an entirely new feature in the Returns, namely, 54¾ acres of cotton, 17 acres of which were sown in the Clarence District, 12 acres in the County of Macquarie, and the rest in small quantities in other parts of the Colony.

Produce.

44. The acreage sown in wheat for grain in 1862 was 108,136 acres, against 123,468 acres in the previous year, shewing a decrease of 15,332 acres. The produce of the sowing of the two years was as follows:— Wheat. Page 122.

	Bushels.	Bushels per acre.
1861.....	1,606,034	13
1862.....	1,054,954	9
Decrease ...	551,080	4

The serious effects of the drought of 1862 are here manifested, in the diminished production by no less than 551,080 bushels, or at the rate of 4 bushels per acre.

45. The average yield of wheat for the five years 1854 to 1858 was estimated at 15 bushels per acre, and for the three following years, Average yield of former years.

1859 to 1861, at 13 bushels per acre. We have therefore to write down a loss of at least 5 bushels per acre on the yield of the last year.

The yield was at the rate of not quite 3 bushels for each head of the population, whilst the average consumption per head (including wheat for seed) is estimated at 7½ bushels per head. We have therefore to make up, by importations, for the large deficiency of 4½ bushels.

Importation of Bread-stuffs.

46. We will look to the importations, to see how far this deficiency has been met. It seems that we imported during 1862, of Flour and Bread 14,673 tons, of the declared value of £210,936, and of Wheat 446,640 bushels, of the value of £128,382. If we turn this Wheat into flour, at the rate of 45 bushels to the ton, we get 9,925 tons, making a total importation of 24,598 tons of Bread-stuffs, to the value of £339,318. In addition to which, we imported—

Of Barley and Oats to the value of.....	£20,322
Of Rice.....	100,012
And of Gram, Pollard, &c.....	4,538
Making a total sum of.....	£464,190

or at the rate of £1 5s. 3d. per head of the population sent out of the Colony for Grain and Bread-stuffs during the year.

Of this large sum, £268,835 went to South Australia.

The foregoing calculations are for Sea-borne Importations only. The River-borne and Overland Importations, viâ the Murray, from Adelaide and across the frontier from Melbourne, exceeded £20,000 in value.

Maize.

47. The crop which maintains the second place in the Returns of New South Wales Agriculture, is Maize. It appears that the breadth of land sown in this description of crop for Grain in 1862 was 75,991 acres, against 57,959 acres the previous year—an increase of 18,032 acres.

The yield last year is estimated at 2,559,258 bushels, averaging 33¾ bushels per acre, against 1,727,434 bushels the year before—averaging 30 bushels per acre, which, taking one year with the other, may be taken as the average yield.

Barley and Oats.

48. The breadth of land sown in Barley and Oats for Grain was 12,535 acres, against 10,147 the previous year—an increase of 2,388 acres.

The produce exhibits a corresponding increase; having been returned in 1861 as 193,480 bushels, or at the rate of 19 bushels per acre, and in 1862 as 232,051 bushels, or 18 bushels per acre.

Potatoes.

49. The Potato crop shews the effects of the dry season, in the extent of land planted, as well as in the yield. The area planted in 1862 was 9,282 acres, against 10,039 acres the previous year. The produce in 1861 was 30,941 tons, or at the rate of 3 tons to the acre. The produce in 1862 was 24,167 tons, or at the rate of 2½ tons to the acre.

in

50. The production of Tobacco, it will be noticed, has taken a jump from 296,464 pounds in 1861, to 1,715,333 pounds in 1862. This is from an increased area of 672 acres. TOBACCO.

51. The produce of the new Cotton Fields must not be passed without notice. It appears that off 54 acres 7,743 pounds were picked, that is at the rate of 143 pounds per acre. Considering the extreme dryness of the season during the infancy of the crop, and the heavy rains which fell about the time of its maturity, these results are sufficiently encouraging to induce extended efforts. COTTON.

52. The extension of our Vine culture is a subject of much interest and importance to the Colony, and it is satisfactory to notice a steady increase from year to year in the breadth of land planted. The Returns shew the number of acres used for Wine-making and for Table use separately, also the extent newly planted and as yet unproductive. VINEYARDS. Page 122.

The following figures will afford a correct view of the progress of this important branch of industry during the last year, viz. :—

	Wine-making.	Table use.	Unproductive.	Total.
	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
1861	561¾	278¾	289½	1,130
1862	794¾	307½	357¼	1,459½
Increase	233	28¾	67¾	329½

By this statement there appears to be an increase in the total extent of Vineyard of 329 acres, and it should be noted that the Returns do not embrace the small Garden Vineyards under one acre.

53. The produce of the last year's Vintage was highly satisfactory, having exceeded in quantity per acre that of either of the three previous years, viz. :— Vintage.

	Acres.		Wine. Gallons.		Gallons per acre.
1859	577	.....	96,100	.....	166
1860	622	.....	99,791	.....	160
1861	561	.....	85,328	.....	152
1862	794	.....	144,888	.....	182

This comes up very nearly to the average produce of the Vineyards of France.* In addition to the wine, 2,749 gallons of brandy were manufactured last year, a quantity also greatly in excess of previous years.

54.

* 190 gallons per acre.

Grapes for table use.

54. Of grapes for table use the crop was also very prolific, 420 tons having been taken from 307 acres—that is, over a ton and a quarter per acre—whereas in no previous year has the crop quite averaged a ton per acre.

Comparison with South Australia.

55. Although the Returns of last year shew an increase in the breadth of land planted, it is by no means what it ought to be. Our fellow-colonists in South Australia are far outstripping us in this most important and profitable branch of industry. They had 4,777 acres of Vineyard last year, against 1,459 acres in New South Wales. They produced 472,297 gallons of wine, against 144,888 gallons in New South Wales. Their increase in the last year was 859 acres; our increase the same year was only 329 acres. They exported over 20,000 gallons of wine last year; we exported 10,062 gallons.

Their population is 135,329, against our 367,495.

Further comparison with South Australia.

56. It will be profitable, perhaps, before leaving the Agricultural Statistics, to extend the parallel a little further, to see what this active and industrious community is doing, as compared with ourselves. They had 494,511 acres of land under tillage last year; that is equal to 3·65 acres to each individual in the community. We had but 302,138 acres, equal to 0·82 acres to each person; that is, they had more than four times the extent of land under tillage to each head of the population than we had.

They had 320,160 acres under wheat last year, that is 2·40 acres to each person; we had, both for hay and grain, only 117,854, or 0·32 acres to each person; that is, they made more than seven-fold provision for the staff of life than we did.

Their wheat harvest produced 3,841,824 bushels, at the rate of 12 bushels per acre; ours produced 1,054,954 bushels, at the rate of 9 bushels per acre. But this with us was an exceptional year. The average yield in New South Wales is about 15 bushels; the average yield in South Australia is about 12 bushels.

They exported 51,092 tons of wheat and flour, of the value of £633,241; we imported 24,598 tons, of the value of £339,318.

This little digression from the subject in hand is not out of place. It may be useful in stimulating the agricultural industry of this Colony, and may be turned to profitable account in leading our people to the pursuit of that steady and persevering industry which, under great disadvantages of climate, so largely characterizes our neighbours in South Australia.

Live Stock.

57. In the face of the severe losses occasioned by the protracted drought of 1862, the increase in the amount of Live Stock was considerable. These Returns are taken at the same time with the Returns of Agriculture on 31st March, in order to embrace the Lambs of the previous Spring, which are generally weaned in February.

The

The following figures will exhibit the increase in each description of Stock upon the Returns of the preceding year:—

Settled Districts	1,400,940	1,709,314	308,374
Totals	5,615,054	6,145,651	530,597

Horses shew an increase at the rate of 17· per cent., Cattle at the rate of 15· per cent., and Sheep at the rate of 9· per cent. The serious effects of the drought are perceptible in the very small increase of Sheep, particularly in the Pastoral Districts. In many parts of the Colony the Lambs were destroyed, to save the lives of the mothers.

The number of Pigs in the Colony was 125,541, against 146,091 the previous year, exhibiting a decrease of 20,550, or at the rate of 14· per cent.

PART VI.

MONETARY AND FINANCIAL.

58. The Tables connected with the Monetary and Financial concerns of the Colony present themselves next for consideration.

The course of Exchange on London during the year was 7· per cent. on Bills under 95 days currency, 8· per cent. on Bills from 95 to 125 days currency, and 9· per cent. on Bills having a currency exceeding 125 days. The minimum purchase rate by the Banks was $\frac{1}{2}$ discount, the maximum was $1\frac{1}{4}$ premium. Exchanges. Page 130.

The minimum Selling Rate was $\frac{3}{4}$ premium, the maximum $2\frac{1}{2}$ premium. Both the purchase and selling rates ruled higher than they did in 1861 by fully 1· per cent.

59. The rates of Interest allowed by the Banks on fixed deposits were— Interest. Page 130.

For 3 months, 2 to 4 per cent. per annum.
„ 6 „ 3 to 5 „ „
„ 12 „ 4 to 6 „ „

The Savings' Bank allowed 5 per cent. to Depositors, and lent on Mortgage at 7 per cent.

60. The average amount of Coin and Bullion held by the Banks was £1,625,897, against £1,547,390 the previous year; whilst the amount held at the end of the year was £1,404,715,* against £1,527,991 at Coin and Bullion. Page 131.

* Including Coin and Bullion in the Branch Royal Mint.

at the end of 1861—a decrease of £123,276. In connection with this subject, it may be remarked that in no year of the last decennial period, excepting 1857, has the amount of Coin and Bullion held by the Mint and by the Banks, been so small as it was at the end of 1862.

Paper currency. Page 132.

The average Paper Currency in circulation was £901,779, against £887,429 in 1861; whilst the Notes in circulation on the 31st December, 1862, were £857,486, against £868,359 at the end of the previous year.

Bank Deposits and Discounts. Page 133.

61. The Quarterly average of the Deposits in the several Banks, and of the Discounts for the two years 1861 and 1862, will be found by the following statement to exhibit an increasing accumulation of capital, and a larger amount of paper under discount, as well upon the year as upon each succeeding Quarter of the year under review, viz.:—

	Deposits.	Discounts.
1st Quarter, 1861	5,278,964	5,567,780
1st Quarter, 1862	5,267,137	5,842,110
Decrease	11,827	Increase 274,330
2nd Quarter, 1861	5,235,947	5,450,537
2nd Quarter, 1862	5,381,601	6,004,485
Increase	145,654	Increase 553,948
3rd Quarter, 1861	5,109,883	5,475,872
3rd Quarter, 1862	5,501,360	6,270,793
Increase	391,477	Increase 794,921
4th Quarter, 1861	5,029,691	5,764,059
4th Quarter, 1862	5,544,780	6,602,297
Increase.... £	515,089	Increase 838,238

From the foregoing figures it will be noticed, that at the end of the last year the amount of Cash Deposits in the several Banks exceeded by half a million what they did at the end of 1861; and that, to meet the increasing requirements of Trade, the Notes and Bills under Discount exceeded by £838,238 what they amounted to at the end of 1861.

Savings' Bank. Page 135.

62. As the Statistics of Savings' Banks may be taken to some extent as an index to the prosperity of the industrial classes, we will look into this Return somewhat closely. It appears that the Deposits at the end of the year, with accumulated interest, amounted to £782,612 5s. 7d., to the credit of 14,956 Depositors, classed as under, viz.:—

	Depositors.	Amount.	Average per Head.

* It should be observed that interest is not allowed on sums exceeding £100.

The comparison with the year 1861 stands as follows, viz. :—

	Depositors.	Amount.	Average per Head.
		£ s. d.	£ s. d.
In 1861.....	13,282	615,408 17 1	46 6 8

In 1862.....	14,956	£716,381 16 6	47 17 11

We observe by this statement an increase in the number of Depositors to the extent of 1,674, and in the Deposits to the extent of £100,972 19s. 5d., or at the average rate of £1 11s. 3d. per head. This may be taken as a fair indication of increasing prosperity or of greater providence amongst the industrial classes. To whichever cause it is to be attributed—perhaps to both—the result of the comparison may be viewed with satisfaction.

63. As everything connected with the working of such admirable Institutions as Banks for the Savings of the working classes must be viewed with interest, I subjoin a Table shewing the number of Depositors, amounts Deposited, the average to each Depositor, and the proportion of Depositors to the total population of the Colony for the 7 years 1856 to 1862, by which it will be seen, that whilst the average amount per head is not so large as it was in the earlier years, yet the number of Depositors has increased from 1 in 27 in 1856, to 1 in 24 in 1862. 64. In connection with the monetary affairs of the Colony, the operation of the Sydney Branch of the Royal Mint demands passing attention. The increased production of Gold noticed in a former part of this Report has, as a matter of course, affected the Coinage, as well as the Bullion issued from the Mint. We find, on reference to the Table No. 117, the comparison between 1861 and 1862 stands as follows, viz. :— Coinage, Royal Mint. Page 136.

The Revenue of the Mint was £32,806 18s. 1d. in 1862, against £22,568 1s. 11d. the previous year.

Since the opening of the Mint, on the 14th May, 1855, there have been received for Coinage 3,025,348 ozs. of Gold, of the value of £11,790,417; and there has been issued—

In Coin	£10,912,250
In Bullion	871,399
Total value...	£11,783,649

The total Revenue derived from the Mint, during the eight years, has been £142,920 9s. 10d.

PUBLIC ACCOUNTS.

REVENUE. 65. The state of the Public Accounts, in so far as relates to Revenue and Expenditure, forms a proper subject for consideration in analysing the year's Statistics. The Tables are compiled from the statement of the Auditor General, and are numbered 120 to 125.

Page 140. The Revenue and Receipts for 1862 were £1,557,639 16s. 8d., against £1,421,831 5s. 2d. the year before, shewing a net increase of £135,808 11s. 6d. The following comparative statement will afford an insight into the sources of income from which the total Revenue is derived, and shew the increase or decrease respectively under each general head, viz.:—

DEBENTURES. Page 142. The amount realized by the sale of Debentures in 1862 was £644,285 9s. 6d., against £394,457 5s. 6d. the previous year—that is, £249,828 4s. 0d. in excess of 1861. It should be understood that Debentures are only issued to meet the exigencies of the Services for which which Loans are authorized by Parliament. They are issued in sums of not less than £100, having, for the most part, thirty years currency, and bearing interest at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum.

66. The Disbursements out of Revenue, in 1862, amounted to £1,369,328 15s. 2d., besides an unclassified expenditure, consisting of interest on loans, &c., to the extent of £224,459 7s.; together, £1,593,788 2s. 2d. Expenditure. Page 144.

The total Expenditure in 1861 was £1,529,788 3s. 2d.; the increase in 1862 was therefore £64,000, minus 1s.

The Receipts for 1862 were at the rate of £4 5s. 2d. per head of the population, and the Disbursements at the rate of £4 7s. 2d.

According to the Return No. 125, which will be found at page 148, the actual liability of the Colony, on account of Loans, at the end of 1862 (secured upon the Consolidated Revenue), was £4,143,180, the annual interest payable on which amounts to £206,954.* The debt was as near as possible at the rate of £11 5s. 6d. per head of the population at the end of the year, and the interest at the rate of 11s. 3d. per head. Public Debt. Page 148.

67. At the end of the 6th part of the work will be found Tables of Taxes, Duties, Fees, &c. The Customs Duties remain the same as they have been since the remodelling of the Tariff in the year 1855, with the exception of the duty on unmanufactured Tobacco, which has been reduced from 2s. to 1s. per lb., by Act of Parliament, 25 Vict., No. 10, taking effect on 1st January, 1862. These duties, as heretofore, form the only item of general taxation to which the people of the Colony are subjected. The amount of duties received at the Custom House on Imports in 1862 was £609,372, and the duty paid on distilled Spirits £35,643; together £645,015, or at the rate of £1 15s. 3d.† per head of the estimated population at the middle of the year. Taxes, Duties, &c. Page 151.

PART VII.

MISCELLANEOUS.

68. Part 7 of the Volume consists of a number of Miscellaneous Returns which do not properly find a place under any of the previous heads.

The principal Tables have reference to Lands Sold, Granted, and Selected; to Mortgages on Lands and Live Stock; to Railway Receipts and Expenditure; Public Works; Meteorology; Post Office; Military and Municipal matters; Political Franchise, &c.

* The actual amount of interest paid on Loans, in 1862, was £186,676.

† The Customs Revenue in England amounts to 18s. 7d. per head, and in Ireland to 7s. 11d. per head; but other sources of taxation bring up the annual average per head of the population in England to £2 11s. 7¼d., and in Ireland to £1 2s. 11d., viz.:—

Land Sales.

69. The quantity of Land sold (otherwise than conditionally) during the year, exhibits a considerable decrease on the Returns of 1861, as will be seen by the following statement, viz. :—

	1861.		1862.
	Acres.	Amount.	Acres.	Amount.
Pastoral Districts	107,129	123,251	38,870	50,217

Conditional purchases. Page 214.

It appears, however, by the Return No. 161, that 357,280 acres have been sold conditionally, under the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, upon which the first instalment of 5s. per acre has been paid, amounting to £89,320, together making £188,049.

The balance payable in 1865, upon the Lands conditionally sold, amounts to £267,960.

Area and average price of Lands disposed of under all conditions. Page 212.

It would further appear by the same Return, that the following Lands were disposed of under the several conditions established by the Lands Alienation Act of 1861, at the average price stated, viz. :—

Condition.	Area.	Average Price per Acre.
	a. r. p.	£ s. d.
Auction—Town Lands	489 1 4	25 5 6
„ Suburban	1,420 2 2½	10 13 5

Sold under Return of Water Reservation	2 2 0	6 8 0
Specially sold at appraised price	6 3 0½	10 16 4
Reclaimed Land sold at appraised price	2 0 9	24 16 0
Sold by Pre-emption	30,619 3 14	1 0 11
Sold "Conditionally"	357,280 2 21	1 0 0
Total	445,367 0 35¾	.....

The figures in this Return differ materially from those given in Table 156, which gives the area sold, "otherwise than conditionally," 67,292 acres, whereas we have here, exclusive of conditional sales, an area of 88,087 acres. This, I am informed, is owing to the Pre-emptive purchases "actually paid" being included in one, and those "sanctioned but not paid," in the other.

Actual Treasury Receipts for Land in 1862, and quinquennial comparison." Page 212.

The actual receipts at the Treasury, from the Sale of Lands in 1862, amounted to £216,988, against £222,594 the year before.

Looking to the decennial Table and comparing the receipts of the two quinquennial periods, we find that the receipts of the first five years averaged £251,419 per annum, and of the second five years, £217,632 per annum.

The total receipts during the latter five years amounted to £1,994,332; and of this sum £1,088,158, or 54·60 per cent., was derived from Sales, and £906,174, or 45·40 per cent., from Rents, Assessments, and Licenses.

Public Works.

70. The Return of Public Works carried on during the year exhibits a total expenditure of £687,895, classified as under, viz. :—

Railways	£293,234
Electric Telegraphs	23,162
Main Roads	60,891
Bridges	12,860
Harbours and River Navigation ...	84,381
Public Works and Buildings	105,040
Minor Roads and Bridges	57,138
Works not under the immediate supervision of the Government	51,189
Total	£687,895

Of this sum it appears that there was some £295,901 paid out of the General Revenue, and £391,994 charged to Loans Account.

Railways, Telegraphs, and Post Offices.

Railways.

71. The Railway Returns for 1862 exhibit a largely increased traffic, both passenger and goods, compared with 1861.

Traffic. Page 193.

The number of Passengers (single and return) who availed themselves of this mode of travelling, on each of the great trunk lines, was as follows, viz. :—

Great Western	5,719	7,032	1,313
Totals	61,394	69,025	7,631

The general results from the foregoing statements may be summed up thus: that whilst the Receipts have increased 35 per cent., the Expenditure has increased only 12 per cent.

The Expenditure of the year 1862, in the construction and extension of Railways, was as under:—

Northern Line...	£110,096
Southern Line...	126,929
Western Line	72,337

Electric Telegraph. Page 194.

72. The working of the Electric Telegraph continues to exhibit marked success. The comparison with 1861 shews as follows, viz.:—

	1861.	1862.	Increase.
Number of Telegrams	74,204	104,660	30,456
Amount received	£16,931	£25,081	£8,150

The distance travelled by the telegraphic wire in 1862 was 2,539 miles.

Post Office. Page 195.

73. As Postal matters are made the subject of a special Report by the Postmaster General, I need only here notice the general results.

The number of offices was increased from 340 in 1861 to 368 in 1862, and the extent of Postal lines was increased from 9,569 miles in 1861 to 11,211 in 1862. The Income and Expenditure for each of the two years were—

	1861.	1862.	Increase.

Income	48,167	56,305	8,138
Expenditure	81,185	81,514	329

The

* Including trial surveys, compensation for land, &c., &c.

The excess of Expenditure over Income was £33,018 in 1861, and £25,209 in 1862, shewing a decrease of £7,809 on the working of the latter year, although the distance run was increased by 1,642 miles.

METEOROLOGY.

74. The following figures will afford a comparative view of the rain fall in the two years 1861–2 at the stations where observations were taken and recorded in an unbroken series.

	Height above Sea.	1861. Rain fall.		1862. Rain fall.		Difference.
	Feet.	Inches.	Days.	Inches.	Days.	Inches.	Days.
Armidale	3,278	41·08	143	17·17	99	23·91	44
Bathurst	2,333	29·82	91	16·67	59	12·95	32
Cooma	2,637	15·40	116	14·41	98	0·99	18
Goulburn	2,129	23·52	104	16·35	66	7·17	38
Sydney	145	58·36	157	23·99	109	34·37	48

The average fall of rain for the five places was 33·63 inches in 1861, and 15·87 inches in 1862. The average number of days in which rain fell was 122 in 1861, and 86 in 1862.

The observations taken at other places being incomplete, cannot be used for the purpose of comparison.

The average rain fall in the Colony, for each of the five years 1858 to 1862, would appear to present the fluctuations shewn below, viz. :—

	Number of Days.	Inches.
1858	123	30
1859	104	27
1860	124	43
1861	117	34
1862	79	16

The irregularity of the observations at different places, in different years, will however admit of this result being taken as an approximation only to the truth.

MORTGAGES.

75. The amount lent upon Mortgage of Real Estate was less in 1862 than in any year since 1856, owing, doubtless, to the depreciation in the value of land, which is particularly evidenced in the Returns of the last two years. The operations of the last five years, as exhibited in the figures below, will be found to support this view of the case, viz. :— MORTGAGES on land. Page 198.

YEAR.	MORTGAGES.		DISCHARGES.
	No.	Amount.	No.	Amount.
1858	1,334	705,337	386	228,468
1859	1,122	874,643	406	289,760
1860	1,240	904,230	462	310,751
1861	1,150	691,233	483	315,282
1862	1,103	682,693	495	371,983

76. The Liens on Wool in 1862 do not reach one-half the amount registered in 1861, whilst the Mortgages on Live Stock shew Liens on wool, and mortgages on live stock.

a result considerably in excess of the sum lent in that year. As the operations of the five years 1858 to 1862 may probably convey an approximate idea of the extent of capital invested in pastoral pursuits, by shewing the sums lent upon this species of property, I append a statement of them :—

Year.	Liens on Wool.	Mortgages on Live Stock.
1858	134,006	968,405
1859	195,670	1,516,710
1860	112,752	1,614,890
1861	178,797	1,120,384
1862	87,487	1,312,245

The actual amount of Mortgages on Live Stock registered in the General Registry Office during the five years was £6,532,635, and the discharges registered during the same period amounted to £2,615,695, leaving an undischarged balance of £3,916,940 at the end of the last year on the Register; but to what extent the balance may have been reduced by unregistered discharges I have no means of knowing.

Insolvencies.

77. The number of Insolvencies in 1862 was smaller than in either of the four previous years, and the amount of Liabilities under one half. The following statement will shew at a glance the improvement in trade indicated by these Returns, viz. :—

Year.	Number of Insolvencies.	Liabilities.	Assets.	Deficiency.
1858	386	689,112	453,189	235,923
1859	348	499,787	241,385	258,402
1860	511	835,825	541,745	294,080
1861	463	589,727	335,340	254,387
1862	314	263,867	155,593	108,274
Totals....	2,022	2,878,318	1,727,252	1,151,066

By this statement, we perceive that during the five years there have been 2,022 Insolvencies, the aggregate Liabilities amounting to £2,878,318, the Assets being estimated at an average of 60 per cent., and the Deficiency at an average of 40 per cent. Whether the actual results, on the winding up of the different estates, were as favourable as here indicated, there are no Returns to shew.

Military.

Volunteers. Page 201.

78. The number of Volunteers on the roll of the several Companies, at the end of 1862, was 2,044, exclusive of the Mounted Rifles, the strength of which Corps is not given in the Return.

The strength of the Artillery has increased from 267 in 1861, to 336 in 1862.

The

The Sydney Battalion of Rifles, consisting of 8 Companies, which mustered 769 men in 1861, are reduced to 742, averaging 93 men to each Company.

The Suburban Battalion, consisting of 6 Companies, can boast of a small increase in its strength, from 363 in 1861 to 371 in 1862, averaging 62 men to each Company.

The Local (Country) Corps, comprising 7 Companies, shew a small decrease in number, from 590 men in 1861 to 571 men in 1862, averaging 81 to each Company.

Political Franchise.

79. The number of Registered Electors on the Electoral Rolls was 107,081, against 106,189 in 1861—an increase of 892. It would appear that 29 per cent. of the total population of the Colony, and 52 per cent. of the total Male population, have the privilege of voting for Members to serve in the Legislative Assembly. By the Census of 1861, the proportion of Males under 20 years of age to the total Male population, was 42 per cent., leaving 58 per cent. of 20 years old and upwards. It would appear, therefore, seeing that 21 is the age entitling persons to the Franchise, that few, if any, who are entitled to vote, can be omitted from the Rolls, there being a margin of only 6 per cent. to include the Males of the age between 20 and 21, and such as may have escaped registration.

Miscellaneous.

80. Amongst the Returns remaining to be noticed are those which relate to Political and Municipal affairs, to Military Expenditure, and to Civil Justice. I shall leave these, however, to speak for themselves, as they appear to present no new features calling for particular notice.

The passing comments which the perusal of the Tables have called forth, and the figures which have been introduced to illustrate the results of the inquiry, will convey a general idea of the progress of the Country during the year that has passed. Whilst there has been no very extraordinary development in any of the known resources of the Country, nor any discovery of new fields of enterprise, excepting perhaps the opening of the Silver Mine at Moruya, the year has been marked by steady improvement in all the main branches of industry.

Trade has been more active, mining operations have been more successful, manufactures shew a steady increase, more land has been brought into cultivation, and more capital has been directed to pastoral pursuits. Exceptional circumstances, however, intervened to rob the husbandman and small stock-holder, in many parts of the country, of a fair return for their labour and capital. The drought which commenced in the early part of the year, and continued with almost unintermitting severity to its close, deprived the farmer in many districts of the fruits of his industry, and brought ruin to the door of many a small stock-holder.

The evil effects of this visitation cannot be reduced to figures, but the great deficiency in the Wheat and Potato Crops, and the small increase exhibited in the Live Stock Returns (in the number of sheep more particularly) afford ample indication of its sinister influence.

Recommendation for securing more prompt collection of Agricultural Statistics.

81. In bringing this lengthy Report to a close, I would take leave to recommend that a sum of money—say, two thousand pounds—may be asked for from Parliament, to enable the Registrar General to employ his own officers in the collection of the Annual Returns of Agriculture and Live Stock. This course has been pursued in Victoria with very satisfactory results. The Returns are more reliable, and are presented to Parliament with greater regularity than was possible when the collection was entrusted to the Police. The collection by the Constabulary is open to two serious objections—Firstly, it interferes with their ordinary duties, and therefore is treated as of secondary importance; and secondly, it challenges opposition on the part of those from whom information is sought, by reason of the feeling of compulsion associated in the minds of many persons with the functions of a policeman. Others again think the inquiry impertinent, or that the information may be used against their interest, in the shape of taxation of some sort or other.

All these objections have been overcome in the sister Colony, and the apprehensions of the farmers and stockholders for the most part allayed, by the employment of special collectors under the Registrar General, whose duty it is to explain the nature and purpose of the inquiry, and the importance of the results to the public at large, as illustrative of the settlement and progress of the Country, and who are enjoined to strict secrecy as to the information supplied to them.

Conclusion.

82. It is still a matter of regret that I am unable to present the Statistics to you at an earlier period of the year. There is no reason why the Returns, if promptly sent in at the time prescribed, should not be ready to place before Parliament by the middle of the year at the latest. The delay is not in the compilation, but in the difficulty of collection. Reminders have little effect, and when the Returns at last come in, they often bear evidence of having been prepared without due care, and not infrequently have to be returned for correction.

The compiler will take it as a favour, should any one discover any error or omission in the work, if he will point it out. It is not to be expected that the work can be preserved from the possibility of error; and the compiler would earnestly impress upon those who are charged with the duty of furnishing Returns, the necessity of looking carefully to their preparation. It is impossible for the compiler compiler to prepare accurate Returns from inaccurate data, and the necessary information to enable him to detect errors is rarely within his reach.

Statistics to be valuable must be accurate, and it has been my object, since the compilation of the Annual Tables was placed in my hands, to present them in a methodized shape, so as to be readily understood, and, by the exercise of every possible care, to impart to them such a degree of reliability as may fairly entitle them to public confidence.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

CHRIS. ROLLESTON,

Registrar General.

* The Census was taken in 1821, 2, 3, 5, 8, 33, 6; population as above.
2nd March, 1841, population 120,856
2nd March, 1846, " 189,609
1st March, 1851, " 187,243
1st March, 1856, " 266,189
1st March, 1861, " 350,860
The population from the year 1836 is estimated up to the end of each year.
† The reduction in the year 1851 was caused by the separation of Port Phillip from New South Wales.
‡ The reduction in the year 1859 was caused by the separation of Queensland from New South Wales.

§ These figures exceed those in previous tables by the addition of Boiling-down Establishments.
‡ The decrease in the value of Wool exported during 1827 is attributed to its low price in England.
¶ The value of the produce of the Fisheries was not included in 1828.
Price of land in 1825, 7s. 6d. to 10s. per acre.
The minimum price of land was 5s. per acre from 1833 to 1840; 12s. per acre, 1840-2. (20s. in Port Phillip, in 1841.) 20s. per acre from 1843 to present time.
Number of acres alienated to the end of 1862,—7,744,545 acres.
Number of acres unalienated, about .. .. 94,007,367 acres.

In 1822, 3, 4, 5, the accounts were kept in Spanish dollars and British money; generally in Spanish dollars.
Transportation ceased in 1840.
The Return of the Revenue and Expenditure previous to 1850 cannot be accurately ascertained. In addition to the above Expenditure, the Imperial Government paid large sums for the maintenance of Convicts and Military.
Gold discovered in May, 1851.
The General Revenue column exhibits the gross sum collected.
The Expenditure for Loans previous to 1853 cannot be shewn.

Observations taken with an uncorrected Barometer.

NOTE.—The adopted mean temperature is the mean of the maximum and minimum results.
The mean height of barometer is the mean of the 9 A.M. results reduced to 32° Fahrenheit.
The mean pressure of vapour is deduced from the readings of the wet and dry bulb thermometers at 9 A.M.

The resultant direction of the wind is obtained as follows:—
The direction and force are registered at 9 A.M. each day, the force being represented by numbers, according to the observer's judgment, from 0 to 6; the resultant force and direction are then determined on the principle of the resolution of mechanical forces.

* No Return could be obtained from this Municipality.

† The Mayor states—"There has been no business done by the Council for some months, in consequence of the Act being so defective as to leave the Council no power to distrain for rates unpaid."

‡ The Mayor states—"In addition to revenue from rates, the inhabitants have subscribed for improvements the sum of £154 14s. 4d. during the year.

§ The late Mayor states—"That in consequence of Mr. Berry's injunction against the Municipality, the Mayor and Alderman are restrained from acting or calling themselves by that name.

‖ No election for Councillors has taken place at this Municipality.

¶ Not contested.

ESTIMATES FOR 1863-4.

(MESSAGE RELATIVE TO.)

Ordered by the Legislative Assembly to be Printed, 27 November, 1863.

Message No. 8.

JOHN YOUNG,
Governor.

A change having taken place in the Administration since the transmission of the Estimates of Expenditure for the year 1864, and the Supplementary Estimates of Expenditure for the present year, which accompanied His Excellency's Message No. 1, of 17th July last, the Governor requests that those documents (except in so far as the Committee of Supply may have voted any sums therein submitted), may be returned to him, with a view to the substitution of other Estimates, which have been prepared under the advice of the present Administration.

20 July, 1863.

SIR,

I do myself the honor to submit, for the consideration of the Honorable the Treasurer, the following observations in regard to the Funds for Immigration purposes, during the years 1861 and 1862, and 1863.

2. The Act 24 Victoria, No. 26, passed 10th May, 1861, provided a sum of £50,000 for "promoting Assisted Immigration to this Colony," to be raised by Loan. Under that Act Regulations were issued, in June 1861, for the receipt of deposits, from persons desirous of introducing immigrants, towards the expense of their passage and outfit; and, in accordance with those Regulations, the sum of £12,143 was received during the year 1861 into the Treasury, and carried to the credit of the Consolidated Revenue Fund, under the head of "Immigration Remittances."

3. In the Ways and Means for 1861 no such head of receipt is shewn. The deposits, or "Immigration Remittances," being understood as aids to immigrants, should, it is considered, have been either remitted to the Land and Emigration Commissioners, as indicated in clause 2 of the Regulations, or carried to the credit of the Loans' Account, from which all remittances to the Commissioners have been made, and on which all refunds of deposits under clause 8 have been charged, together with the entire cost of the Emigration from the United Kingdom of all persons towards whose passages these deposits have been received.

4. The effect of this mode of dealing with the Immigration Account of 1861 is, that the entire cost of the Immigrants' passages to the Colony, together with the sums paid over to them as outfits by their friends, is paid out of money borrowed at 5 per cent. interest, while the Revenue gets credit for a large sum that does not appear to properly belong to it.

5. The same remarks apply to the Account of 1862, for which a second Loan Act for £50,000 was passed, except that the Ways and Means for that year include £20,000 as for Immigration Remittances—the amount actually received having been £21,145 8s. 6d.

But the same question occurs:—If the Loan Appropriation be to promote Immigration, the assistance received at the Treasury, to the amount of £21,145 8s. 6d., ought to be applied to the purpose, and carried to the credit of the Loans' Account, where all the expenditure is charged.

6. In the present year a sum of £80,000 has been appropriated out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund, for the "purpose of assisting Immigration to this Colony," and £25,000 are set down in the Ways and Means as for "Immigration Remittances." Amended Regulations for the receipt and disposal of such Remittances, were issued on 19th May, 1863.

By clause 3 of those Regulations it would appear that the additional £30,000 voted for 1863 is to be appropriated to the introduction of immigrants under the preceding clause 2; thus leaving, it is assumed, the remaining 50,000 to be expended as the votes for the two preceding years, the only difference being that it is not to be borrowed but paid out of current Revenue.

I have, &c.,
W. C. MAYNE,
A.G.

MINUTE OF TREASURER ON THE FOREGOING.

I QUITE concur with what I understand to be the opinion of the Auditor General—namely, that moneys received from the public, in aid of Immigration, belong not to the Consolidated Revenue but to "Loans Account," in all those cases where the Government Immigration Fund is derived from the proceeds of "Loans." Let the necessary transfer entries be made at once.

G. E.,
12/11/63.

SIR,

I have the honor to enclose a statement of sums received as "Immigration Remittances," under the Regulations of 21st June, 1861, from the 8th of July, 1861, to the 31st December, 1862, which have been credited at the Treasury to the Consolidated Revenue Fund, but which I have now the honor to request may be transferred to the credit of the "Loans' Account," for the reasons indicated in my letter of the 20th July last, and in accordance with the Honorable the Treasurer's minute thereon, dated the 12th instant.

I have, &c.,
W. C. MAYNE,
A.G.

STATEMENT of Sums received under the Immigration Remittance Regulations of 21st June, 1861, and carried to the credit of the Consolidated Revenue Fund, during the Years 1861 and 1862.

AUDITOR GENERAL to UNDER SECRETARY FOR FINANCE AND TRADE.

Audit Office, Sydney,
10 November, 1863.

SIR,

I do myself the honor to enclose herewith three Statements, numbered 1, 2, and 3 respectively, having reference to the adjustment of advances to the Commissioner for Railways, during the years 1860, 1861, and 1862.

It will be observed, that Statement No. 1 shews that the adjustments by the Commissioner on account of advances from the Consolidated Revenue Fund to the 31st December, 1862, are £14,984 2s. 8d. less than the advances, and that Statement No. 2 shews that the adjustments on account of Loan Services are £14,654 15s. 2d. in excess of the advances from the Loans Account. The difference between those sums, viz., £329 7s. 6d., is an unadjusted balance which remained at the debit of the Commissioner's advance account in the books of this Office on the 31st December last.

I have, therefore, to request that you will have the goodness to cause a transfer of the sum of £14,654 15s. 2d. to be made in the books of the Treasury, from the Loans Account to the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

Statement No. 3 shews the amount of the Stores paid from the Consolidated Revenue Fund during the three years ending the 31st December 1861, less the ascertained value of Issues, chargeable on the annual appropriation for working expenses of the Railways, from 1859 to 1862 both inclusive. The balance shewn by the Statement, viz., £43,663 9s. 9d. is a charge on the Railway Loans Store Advance Account, which amount you will also have the goodness to cause to be transferred from the Loans Account to the credit of the Consolidated Revenue Fund in the books of the Treasury.

I have, &c.,
W. C. MAYNE,
Auditor General.

CONSOLIDATED REVENUE FUND.—RAILWAY STORE ADVANCE ACCOUNT.

Memorandum of the Cost of Railway Stores paid from the Consolidated Revenue Fund, during 1859, 1860, and 1861, as a temporary arrangement—an adjustment of which was to be effected as soon as the value of Issues on account of Appropriations from the Consolidated Revenue Fund was correctly ascertained, which has now been done by the Examiner of Railway Accounts:—

	£ s. d.	£ s. d.
Purchased in the Colony by the Commissioner for Railways, in 1859...	14,769 12 6
1860...	24,784 17 7
1861...	39,543 3 4
Purchased in England by Messrs. Willis, Merry, & Co., in 1860 & 1861	10,338 8 6
		£89,436 1 11
Less, the following sums, being the value of Stores issued on account of Working Expenses, Consolidated Revenue Fund, viz:—
In the year 1859	9,595 14 6
1860	10,549 19 3
1861	12,817 19 10
		32,963 13 7
		£56,472 8 4
From this amount has also to be deducted the value of stores in 1862, and chargeable on that year's Vote for Working Expenses, the Store purchases from 1st January, 1862, having been made a "Loans Store Advance Account"		12,808 18 7
Balance, chargeable to the "Loans Store Advance Account" ...		£43,663 9 9

Making a Total of		£2,177,510	7 10

On this balance the Treasurer is entitled to receive credit for the following sums, viz. :—

Amount of Government Debentures deposited on account of the Police Reward and Superannuation Funds			£26,700	0 0
Goodlett and Smith—Debentures deposited as security for due performance of contract			50	0 0
Debenture Suspense Account { Oriental Bank	£824,600	0 0
{ Treasury	651,800	0 0
			1,476,400	0 0
Savings' Bank Deposits transferred to the Mint Bullion Account ...			60,000	0 0
In all			£1,563,150	0 0

These deductions will leave a balance of £614,360 7s. 10d. to be accounted for by deposits in the Banks, and cash in the Treasury Chest.

We have ascertained that the balances standing at the credit of the Government at the close of business, on the 21st instant, in the several Banks, were as follows, viz. :—

Bank of New South Wales—General Account	£445,137	19	11
Do. do. Suspense Account	9,547	17	5
Joint Stock Bank—General Account	123	2	7
Oriental Bank, Sydney	105,000	0	0
Do. London	54,631	9	6
	£614,440	9	5
This sum, together with	98	1	5
the amount of the cash in the Treasury Chest shews a balance of ...	£614,538	10	10

being in excess of that exhibited in the Treasury Books by the sum of £178 3s. This surplus is accounted for in consequence of the non-payment of cheques which have been issued from the Treasury, but not yet presented at the Bank. A list of these cheques is hereunto appended.

We have therefore no hesitation in stating that the whole of the balances exhibited in the Treasury Books are either available at the Banks, or otherwise satisfactorily accounted for at the date on which we were requested to make the inspection.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

NEW SOUTH WALES.

COLONIAL TREASURY ACCOUNTS.

(REPORT OF BOARD OF AUDIT.)

Ordered by the Legislative Assembly to be Printed, 2 December, 1863.

MEMORANDUM.

AT the request of the Honorable THOMAS WARE SMART, and of the Honorable GEOFFREY EAGAR, Esquires, we, the undersigned, met at the Treasury this day, for the purpose of ascertaining the amount at the credit of the Government, at the close of business on yesterday, the 15th instant, on the occasion of the transfer of the office of Treasurer and Secretary for Finance and Trade from the former to the latter named gentleman; and, after a careful examination of the several Cash Books kept under the supervision of the Accountant, found that the following Balances were at the credit of the several Public Accounts, viz. :—

PUBLIC REVENUE ACCOUNTS.

Debenture Suspense Accounts				1,149,500	0	0
TOTAL BALANCE				£1,618,357	19	11

From

From this Balance should be deducted the following Sums, viz. :—

	£	s.	d.
Police Reward and Superannuation Fund Debentures...	26,700	0	0
Debentures deposited in the Treasury by Messrs. Goodlet & Smith, as security for the due performance of a contract	50	0	0
Savings' Bank Deposits due by Mint Bullion Account	40,000	0	0

These deductions will leave the sum of £402,107 19s. 11d. to be accounted for, by deposits in the Banks and Cash in the Treasury Chest.

We have ascertained that the balances at the credit of the Government in the several Banks, at the close of business on the 15th instant, were as follows, viz. :—

	£	s.	d.
Bank of New South Wales—General Fund Account... ...	222,793	10	9
Joint Stock Bank	123	2	7
Oriental Bank, Sydney...	110,000	0	0
Oriental Bank, London...	42,650	17	4
	£375,567	10	8
To this sum must be added the Cash in the Treasury Chest and the amount of a Warrant under the hand of His Excellency the Governor, for the payments made by the Oriental Bank, London, on account of the Government, between the 27th June and 24th July, 1863, which have been brought to account by the Sydney Branch of that Bank, but not, as yet, carried through the books of the Treasury	123	18	3
	27,158	3	10
	£402,849	12	9

This Balance is in excess of that shewn in the Treasury Books by the sum of £741 12s. 10d., being the amount of Cheques which have been issued from the Treasury, but not presented at the Banks for payment. A list of these cheques is appended.

We have, therefore, no hesitation in stating that the whole of the Balances exhibited in the Treasury Books, on the 15th instant, are satisfactorily accounted for.

BOARD OF AUDIT to HIS EXCELLENCY SIR W. DENISON.

Sydney, 10 June, 1856.

IN pursuance of the instructions contained in your Excellency's Warrant of the 9th instant, we have the honor to report, that we proceeded to the Colonial Treasury at the hour of 12 o'clock on that day, and, having produced the Warrant to the Honorable the Colonial Treasurer, we examined the several Cash Books, and found that the following amounts stood to the credit of the several branches of Revenue and Receipts, as follows :—

REVENUE ACCOUNTS.

	£	s.	d.
Consolidated Revenue	43,297	3	5
Schedule A of Act 13 and 14 Vic., chap. 59	12,254	19	10
Territorial Revenue	3,645	5	11
Church and School Fund	9,324	7	2

LODGMENT ACCOUNTS.

Immigration Remittances	2,861	10	0
Police Reward Fund	7,763	9	5
Police Superannuation Fund	5,740	3	9
Poundage	15,062	1	0
Imperial Postage	5,381	15	10
Shipping Master	57	15	9
Savings' Bank Deposits	60,000	0	0
Revenue Suspense Account	2,536	2	5
Sundry Deposits	3,409	4	4
Making a total of	£171,333	18	10

On this amount the Treasurer is entitled to receive credit for the following sums, viz. :—

Overdraft under the "Scab in Sheep Act," 19 Vic., No. 27	1,743	14	5
Government Debentures belonging to the Police Reward and Superannuation Funds	7,500	0	0
Savings' Bank Deposits transferred to Mint Bullion Account, Bank of New South Wales	60,000	0	0
In all	£69,243	14	5

leaving a balance to be accounted for, by deposits in the several Banks and cash in the Treasury Chest, of £102,090 4s. 5d.

We accordingly sent to the Managers of the several Banks in which deposits are kept by the Treasurer, and ascertained that the balances standing at his credit, on the evening of the 7th instant, were as follows, viz. :—

Bank of New South Wales	34,032	9	9
Commercial Bank	15,060	12	3
Bank of Australasia	24,020	5	3
Union Bank of Australia	1,056	14	1
Joint Stock Bank	14,484	8	8
London Chartered Bank	14,665	7	2
Also, Cash in the hands of the Paying Teller	115	7	0
In all	£103,435	4	2

which shews a balance, in excess of that standing in the Treasury Books, of £1,344 19s. 9d.

This surplus is to be accounted for, in consequence of the non-payment of cheques which have been issued from the Treasury, but not presented at the Banks, amounting to £1,228 14s. 2d., a list of which is herewith appended. This reduces the difference to £116 5s. 7d., to which must be added the sum of £45 8s., the amount of two dishonored cheques, charged by the Joint Stock and Union Banks to the Treasurer's account, and not written off in his books. This makes the amount actually in excess of the Treasurer's balance to be £161 13s. 7d.

This sum is presumed to be made up of cheques issued from the Treasury, and, not as yet presented for payment, supposed to be lost or destroyed.

We have, therefore, to report that the whole of the balances, as exhibited in the Treasury Books, are either available at the Banks or otherwise satisfactorily accounted for, at the date on which we were directed to make the inspection.

Board of Audit to His Excellency Sir W. Denison.

Sydney, 28 August, 1856.

In pursuance of the instructions contained in your Excellency's Warrant of the 26th instant, we have the honor to report that we proceeded to the Colonial Treasury, at the hour of 2 o'clock this day; and, having produced the Warrant to the Honorable the Colonial Treasurer, we examined the several Cash Books, and found that the following amounts stood to the credit of the several branches of Revenue and Receipts, as follows:—

Revenue Accounts.	£	s.	d.

Savings' Bank Deposits...	60,000	0	0
Revenue Suspense Account	3,529	12	11
Sundry Deposits...	2,033	9	0
Making a total of	£126,426	14	1

On this amount the Treasurer is entitled to receive credit for the following sums:—

Overdraft on the Consolidated Revenue	18,990	18	10
Overdraft under the "Scab in Sheep Act," 19 Vic., No. 27	2,181	8	10
Government Debentures belonging to the Police Reward and Superannuation Funds	7,500	0	0
Savings' Bank Deposits transferred to Mint Bullion Account	60,000	0	0
In all	£88,672	7	8

Leaving a balance to be accounted for, by deposits in the several Banks and cash in the Treasury Chest, of £37,754 6s. 5d.

We accordingly sent to the Managers of the several Banks in which deposits are kept by the Treasurer, and ascertained that the balances standing at his credit, on the evening of the 26th instant, were as follows, viz.:—

Bank of New South Wales	12,779	2	8

Also, Cash in the hands of the Paying Teller... ...	161	14	3
In all	£40,226	14	9

Which shews a balance in excess of that standing in the Treasury Books, of £2,472 8s. 4d.

This

This surplus is to be accounted for, in consequence of the non-payment of cheques which have been issued from the Treasury, but not presented at the Banks, amounting to £2,377 5s. 3d., a list of which is herewith appended. This reduces the difference to £95 3s. 1d., to which must be added the sum of £45 8s., the amount of two dishonored cheques, charged by the Joint Stock and Union Banks to the Treasurer's account, and not written off in the List Books; this makes the amount actually in excess of the Treasurer's balance to be £140 11s. 1d.

This sum is presumed to be made up of cheques issued from the Treasury, and not as yet presented for payment, supposed to be lost or destroyed.

We have, therefore, to report that the whole of the balances, as exhibited in the Treasury Books, are either available at the Banks or otherwise satisfactorily accounted for, at the date on which we were directed to make the inspection.

Board of Audit to His Excellency Sir W. Denison.

Sydney, 6 October, 1856.

In pursuance of the instructions contained in your Excellency's Warrant of the 3rd instant, we have the honor to report that we proceeded to the Colonial Treasury, at the hour of 10 o'clock on the following day; and, having produced the Warrant to the Honorable the Colonial Treasurer, we examined the several Cash Books, and found that the following amounts stood to the credit of the several branches of Revenue and Receipts, as follows, viz.:—

Revenue.

REVENUE ACCOUNTS.

	£	s.	d.
Schedule A of Act 13 & 14 Vic., cap. 59	11,110	17	5
Territorial Revenue	1,952	5	2
Church and School Fund	7,358	19	6

LODGMENT ACCOUNTS.

Immigration Remittances	5,476	0	0
Police Reward Fund	8,441	15	5
Police Superannuation Fund	6,451	0	2
Poundage Account	15,949	17	11
Imperial Postage	5,894	10	9
Shipping Master's Account	63	15	2
Savings' Bank Deposits	60,000	0	0
Revenue Suspense Account	4,202	6	1
Sundry Deposits...	1,993	9	0
Making a total of	£128,894	16	7

On this amount the Treasurer is entitled to receive credit for the following sums, viz. :—

Overdraft on the Consolidated Revenue Account ...	1,477	17	2
Overdraft under the "Scab in Sheep Act," 19 Vic., No. 27	2,232	7	10
Government Debentures belonging to Police Reward and Superannuation Funds	7,500	0	0
Savings' Bank Deposit transferred to Mint Bullion Account	60,000	0	0
In all	£71,210	5	0

Leaving a balance to be accounted for, by deposits in the several Banks and cash in the Treasury Chest, of £57,684 11s. 7d.

We accordingly sent to the Managers of the several Banks in which deposits are kept by the Treasurer, and ascertained that the balances standing at his credit, on the evening of the 3rd instant, were as follows, viz. :—

Bank of New South Wales	2,011	16	4

Also, Cash in hands of Paying Teller	193	7	7
	£61,810	14	3

Which shews a balance, in excess of that standing in the Treasury Books, of £4,126 2s. 8d. This surplus is to be accounted for, in consequence of the non-payment of cheques which have been issued from the Treasury, but not presented at the Banks, amounting to £4,041 16s. 3d., a list of which is herewith appended. This reduces the difference to £84 6s. 5d., to which must be added the sum of £45 8s., the amount of two dishonored cheques, charged by the Joint Stock Bank and Union Bank to the Treasurer's account, and not written off in his book ; this makes the amount actually in excess of the Treasury balance to be £129 14s. 5d.

This sum is presumed to be made up of cheques issued from the Treasury, and not as yet presented for payment, supposed to be lost or destroyed.

We have, therefore, to report that the whole of the balances, as exhibited in the Treasury Books, are either available at the Banks or otherwise satisfactorily accounted for, at the date on which we were directed to make the inspection.

The Treasury,
6 October, 1856.

Sydney, 8 September, 1857.

In compliance with the request of the Honorable Stuart A. Donaldson and the Honorable Richard Jones, we proceeded to the Colonial Treasury, for the purpose of ascertaining the balance at the credit of the Government, on the evening of the 5th instant, after the close of business; and, having examined the several Cash Books, we found that the following amounts stood to the credit of the various branches of the Public Accounts, viz.:—

Revenue Accounts.

	£ s. d.	£ s. d.
Consolidated Revenue— Revenue Proper	35,714 19 6
Consolidated Revenue— Loans Account	83,610 18 11

the amount of Cash in the hands of the Paying Teller, shews a balance of	£227,546	3	2 being in excess of that exhibited in the Treasury Books by the sum of £2,668 18s. 6d. This surplus is accounted for, in consequence of the non-payment of cheques which have been issued from the Treasury, but not presented at the Banks, a list of which is hereunto appended, amounting to £2,550 17s. 5d., which reduces the difference to £118 1s. 1d.

This sum is presumed to be made up of cheques issued from the Treasury, but not as yet presented for payment, which are supposed to have been lost or destroyed.

We have, therefore, to report that the whole of the balances exhibited in the Treasury Books, are either available at the Banks or otherwise sactisfactorily accounted for, at the date on which we were requested to make the inspection.

				157,194	11	6
Debenture Suspense Account				10,000	0	0
Making a total of				£279,614	9	0

On this balance the Treasurer is entitled to receive credit for the following sums, viz. :—

	£	s.	d.
For amount of Government Debentures deposited in the Vault, belonging to the Police Reward and Superannuation Fund Board	16,500	0	0
Savings' Bank Deposits transferred to Mint Bullion Account	60,000	0	0

Collector of Customs' Cheque, paid into Treasury on 31st December, dishonored at Bank	6,977	15	0
	£93,477	15	0

Leaving a balance to be accounted for, by deposits in the Banks and cash in the Treasury, of £186,136 14s.

We accordingly sent to the Managers of the several Banks, and ascertained that the balances standing at the credit of the Government on the 31st ultimo, were as follows, viz. :—

Bank of New South Wales	£58	15	1
Commercial Bank	94	15	11
Bank of Australasia	12	8	2

Which, together with the amount of deposit at the credit of the Government, in the Oriental Bank, London	69,143	6	0
Shews a balance of	£196,600	3	7

being in excess of that exhibited in the Treasury Books, by the sum of £10,463 9s. 7d. This surplus is accounted for by the following circumstances, viz. :—

First,—the non-payment of cheques that have been issued from the Treasury, but not presented at the Banks, amounting to £6,994 6s., a list of which is hereunto appended; and secondly,—the Joint Stock and the Oriental Banks having given the Treasurer credit for the interest due on this Deposit Account to the close of the year, amounting to £3,074 19s. 3d., and £276 3s. 3d., respectively, which sums have not yet been carried through the Treasury Books.

The deduction of these sums from the Bank balances reduces the difference to £118 1s. 1d. This sum is presumed to be made up of cheques issued from the Treasury, but not as yet presented for payment at the Banks, and which are supposed to have been lost or destroyed.

We have, therefore, to report that the whole of the balances exhibited in the Treasury Books, were either available at the Banks or otherwise satisfactorily accounted for, at the date on which we were requested to make the inspection.

JNO. WELLS,
Accountant.

Sydney,

Sydney, 21 April, 1859.

In compliance with the request of the Honorable Charles Cowper and of the Honorable Elias Carpenter Weekes, we, the undersigned, met at the Treasury this day, for the purpose of ascertaining the balance at the credit of the Government, after the close of business on the evening of the 18th instant; and, having carefully examined the several Cash Books kept by the Accountant, we found that the following balances stood to the credit of the various Public Accounts, viz. :—

Public Revenue Accounts.

	£	s.	d.	£	s.	d.
Consolidated Revenue	321,407	2	3
Deduct overdraft on Loans	26,159	6	1
				295,247	16	2
Assessment on Sheep, 19 Vic., 27	9,674	6	11
Schedule B, 18 and 19 Vic., cap. 54	2	2	0
Church and School Fund	3,493	5	10
				13,169	14	9
				308,417	10	11

Lodgment Accounts.

Police Reward Fund	16,521	7	9
Police Superannuation Fund	9,412	18	3
Poundage Account	15,973	17	3
Imperial Postage	948	10	5
Shipping Master's Account	298	16	5
Savings' Bank Deposits...	40,000	0	0
Revenue Suspense Account (Old)	781	8	6
Do. do. (New)	7,126	0	4
Sundry Deposits	320	12	9
Trust Moneys Deposit Account	80,824	14	2
				172,208	5	7
Making a total of				£480,625	16	6

On this balance the Treasurer is entitled to receive credit for the following sums, viz. :—

Amount of Government Debentures deposited on account of the Police Reward and Superannuation Funds	£16,500	0	0
Bank Deposit Receipt ditto	7,385	0	0
And Savings' Bank Deposits transferred to the Mint Bullion account	40,000	0	0
In all	£63,885	0	0

These deductions will leave a balance of £416,740 16s. 6d., to be accounted for by deposits in the Banks and cash in the Treasury Chest.

We have ascertained that the balances standing at the credit of the Government at the close of business, on the 18th instant, at the several Banks, were as follows, viz. :—

Joint Stock Bank—General Account	£272,202	8	11
Do. Suspense Account	7,243	5	7
Do. Debenture Account	6,775	11	6
Oriental Bank, Sydney	130,000	0	0
Bank of New South Wales	80,000	0	0
	496,221	6	0
Less—Oriental Bank, London (overdraft)	79,373	19	6
	416,847	6	6
This sum, together with	93	19	8
the amount of Cash in the Treasury Chest, shews a balance of	£416,941	6	2

being in excess of that exhibited in the Treasury Books, by the sum of £200 9s. 8d. This surplus is accounted for, in consequence of the non-payment of cheques which have been issued from the Treasury, but not as yet presented at the Bank. A list of these is hereunto appended, amounting to £158 2s. 8d., which reduces the difference to £42 7s. This sum is the proceeds of four £10 debentures sold by the Joint Stock Bank, the sale of which was not duly reported to the Secretary to the Treasury.

We have, therefore, no hesitation in stating, that the whole of the balances exhibited in the Treasury Books, are either available at the Banks or otherwise satisfactorily accounted for, at the date on which we were requested to make the inspection.

REPORT ON THE TREASURY BALANCES OF THE 26TH OCTOBER, 1859.

Sydney, New South Wales,
28 October, 1859.

IN compliance with the request of the Honorable Elias Carpenter Weekes and of the Honorable Saul Samuel, we, the undersigned, met at the Treasury this day, for the purpose of ascertaining the balance at the credit of the Government, after the close of business on the evening of the 26th instant; and, after having carefully examined the several Cash Books kept by the Accountant, we found that the following balances stood to the credit of the various Public Accounts, viz. :—

PUBLIC REVENUE ACCOUNTS.

	£	s.	d.	£	s.	d.
Consolidated Revenue— Revenue Proper	426,890	10	11
Consolidated Revenue— Loans Account	129,562	5	2
Assessment on Sheep, 19 Vic., 27	9,525	19	3
Schedule B, 18 and 19 Vic., cap. 54	2	2	0
Church and School Estates Fund	3,493	5	10
				569,474	3	2

LODGMENT ACCOUNTS.

Police Reward Fund	14,522	9	7
Police Superannuation Fund	9,607	2	3
Poundage Account	17,102	4	8
Imperial Postage	1,296	3	2
Shipping Master's Account	276	15	1
Savings' Bank Deposits	40,000	0	0
Revenue Suspense Account (Old)	781	8	6
Do. do. (New)	15,171	19	9
Sundry Deposits	1,178	13	4
Trust Moneys' Deposit Account	85,244	2	10
				185,180	19	2
Making a total of				£754,655	2	4

On this balance the Treasurer is entitled to receive credit for the following sums, viz. :—

	£	s.	d.
Amount of Government Debentures deposited in the Treasury Vault, on account of the Police Reward and Superannuation Funds	16,500	0	0
Deposit Receipt of the Joint Stock Bank, on account of same funds	7,385	0	0
Amount of Savings' Bank Deposits transferred to the Mint Bullion Account in the Bank of New South Wales	40,000	0	0
In all	£63,885	0	0

These deductions will leave a sum of £690,770 2s. 4d. to be accounted for, by deposits in the Banks and cash in the Treasury Chest.

We

We have ascertained that the balances standing to the credit of the Government in the several Banks, at the close of business on the 26th instant, were as follows:—

	£	s.	d.
Joint Stock Bank—General Account	455,317	19	10
Do. Suspense Account	16,116	4	7
Do. Debenture Account	6,775	11	6
Oriental Bank, Sydney	150,000	0	0
Bank of New South Wales	100,000	0	0
Commercial Bank	50,000	0	0
	778,209	15	11
Less—
Amount of overdraft on Oriental Bank, London ...	86,540	2	4
	£691,669	13	7

This sum, together with £102 12s. 2d., the amount of cash in the Treasury Chest, shews a balance of £691,772 5s. 9d., being £1,002 3s. 5d. in excess of that exhibited in the Treasury Books.

This surplus is owing to the non-payment of certain cheques which have been issued from the Treasury, but not as yet presented at the Joint Stock Bank. A list of these cheques is hereunto appended.

We have, therefore, no hesitation in stating, that the whole of the balances shewn in the Treasury Books, are either available at the Banks or otherwise satisfactorily accounted for, at the date on which we were requested to make the inspection.

ASSISTANT MANAGER, AUSTRALIAN JOINT STOCK BANK, to UNDER SECRETARY FOR FINANCE AND TRADE.

Australian Joint Stock Bank,
Sydney, 27 October, 1859.

SIR,

I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your letter of this date, and beg to state, in reply thereto, that the balance at credit of the Honorable the Colonial Treasurer, at the close of business yesterday, was £455,317 19s. 10d.

I have, &c.,
F. ADAMS,
Assistant Manager.

Sydney, New South Wales,
12 March, 1860.

AT the request of the Honorable Saul Samuel and of the Honorable Elias Carpenter Weekes, we, the undersigned, met at the Treasury this day, for the purpose of verifying the balance at the credit of the Government, after the close of business on the evening of the 9th instant; and, having carefully examined the several Cash Books kept by the Accountant, we found that the balances standing to the credit of the various Public Accounts on the date above referred to, were as follows:—

PUBLIC REVENUE ACCOUNTS.

	£	s.	d.	£	s.	d.
Consolidated Revenue—Revenue Proper	353,049	15	6

Revenue Suspense Account (New)	7,747	15	10
Sundry Deposits	1,053	13	4
Trust Moneys' Deposit Account	70,132	4	3
				183,807	10	11
Making a total of				£881,594	15	2

On this balance the Treasurer is entitled to receive credit for the following sums, viz. :—

Amount of Government Debentures deposited in the Treasury Vault, on account of the Police Reward and Superannuation Funds	16,500	0	0
Deposit Receipt of the Joint Stock Bank, on account of same Funds	7,385	0	0
And Amount of Savings' Bank Deposits, transferred to the Mint Bullion Account in the Bank of New South Wales	60,000	0	0
In all	£83,885	0	0

These deductions leave a sum of £797,709 15s. 2d., to be accounted for by deposits in the Banks and cash in the Treasury Chest.

We have ascertained that the balances at the credit of the Government, in the several Banks, after the close of business on the 9th instant, were as follows :—

In the Bank of New South Wales, viz. :—
General Account	451,349	7	1
Suspense Account	7,940	13	5
				459,290	0	6
In the Oriental Bank, viz. :—
Sydney	150,000	0	0

In the Commercial Bank				50,000	0	0
				797,900	16	0
Which, together with				59	12	8
Shews a balance of				£797,960	8	8

being £250 13s. 6d. in excess of that exhibited in the books of the Treasury.

This surplus arises solely in consequence of the non-payment of certain cheques, which have been issued from the Treasury, but not up to the 9th instant presented at the Banks for payment. A list of these cheques is hereunto appended.

We have, therefore, no hesitation in stating, that the whole of the balances shewn in the Treasury Books, are either available at the Banks or otherwise satisfactorily accounted for, at the date on which we were requested to make the inspection.

SECRETARY,

SECRETARY, BANK OF NEW SOUTH WALES, to UNDER SECRETARY FOR FINANCE AND TRADE.

Bank of New South Wales,
Sydney, 9 March, 1860.

SIR,

In compliance with your request, I beg to hand you, at foot, statement of balance to the credit of the Treasurer, at the close of this day's business.

I have, &c.,
J. OSWALD GILCHRIST,
Secretary.

GENERAL MANAGER, AUSTRALIAN JOINT STOCK BANK, to UNDER SECRETARY FOR FINANCE AND TRADE.

Australian Joint Stock Bank,
Sydney, 9 March, 1860.

DEAR SIR,

I have noted at foot of your official letter, the Treasurer's balance at the close of business this day. You will, however, advert to the fact that the advance accounts approximate in amount to the balance, leaving little more than, say, £1,000 of Government money still in our hands. We have thus rendered back our charge of the public funds almost altogether.

Faithfully yours,
A. H. RICHARDSON,
General Manager.

UNDER SECRETARY FOR FINANCE AND TRADE to GENERAL MANAGER, AUSTRALIAN JOINT STOCK BANK.

The Treasury, New South Wales,
9 March, 1860.

SIR,

I have the honor to request that you will be good enough to state, below, the balance to the credit of the Honorable the Treasurer, at the close of business on this day (9 Mar.)

I have, &c.,
HENRY LANE.

Australian Joint Stock Bank,
Sydney, 9 March, 1860.

Balance at credit of the Honorable the Colonial Treasurer in Bank this day :— £7,475 17s. 10d.

A. H. RICHARDSON,
General Manager.

Sydney, 23 March, 1863.

IN compliance with the request of the Honorable Elias Carpenter Weekes and of the Honorable Thomas Ware Smart, we the undersigned met at the Treasury this day, for the purpose of ascertaining the balance at the credit of the Government, after the close of business on the evening of the 21st instant; and, having carefully examined the several Cash Books kept by the Accountant, found that the following balances stood to the credit of the various Public Accounts, viz. :—

PUBLIC REVENUE ACCOUNTS.

	£	s.	d.	£	s.	d.
Consolidated Revenue— Revenue Proper	286,536	14	7

Making a total of			£2,177,510 7 10

On this balance the Treasurer is entitled to receive credit for the following sums, viz.:—

Amount of Government Debentures deposited on account of the Police Reward and Superannuation Funds		26,700 0 0
Goodlett and Smith—Debentures deposited as security for due performance of contract		50 0 0
Debenture Suspense Account { Oriental Bank	£824,600 0 0

In all			£1,563,150 0 0

These deductions will leave a balance of £614,360 7s. 10d. to be accounted for, by deposits in the Banks and cash in the Treasury Chest.

We have ascertained that the balances standing at the credit of the Government at the close of business, on the 21st instant, in the several Banks, were as follows, viz.:—

Bank of New South Wales—General Account ...	445,137 19 11
Do. do. Suspense Account ...	9,547 17 5
Joint Stock Bank—General Account	123 2 7

Do. London	54,631 9 6
	614,440 9 5
This sum, together with ...	98 1 5
the amount of the Cash in the Treasury Chest, shews a balance of	£614,538 10 10

being in excess of that exhibited in the Treasury Books by the sum of £178 3s. This surplus is accounted for, in consequence of the non-payment of cheques which have been issued from the Treasury but not yet presented at the Bank. A list of these cheques is hereunto appended.

We have, therefore, no hesitation in stating, that the whole of the balances exhibited in the Treasury Books, are either available at the Banks or otherwise satisfactorily accounted for, at the date on which we were requested to make the inspection.

These deductions will leave the sum of £402,107 19s. 11d. to be accounted for, by deposits in the Banks and cash in the Treasury Chest.

We have ascertained that the balances at the credit of the Government in the several Banks, at the close of business on the 15th instant, were as follows, viz.:—

	£	s.	d.
Bank of New South Wales—General Fund Account ...	222,793	10	9

Oriental Bank, Sydney	110,000	0	0
Oriental Bank, London	42,650	17	4
	375,567	10	8
To this sum must be added the cash in the Treasury Chest and the amount of a Warrant under the hand of His Excellency the Governor, for the payments made by the Oriental Bank, London, on account of the Government, between the 27th June and 24th July, 1863, which have been brought to account by the Sydney Branch of that Bank, but not as yet carried through the books of the Treasury	123	18	3
	27,158	3	10
	£402,849	12	9

This balance is in excess of that shewn in the Treasury Books by the sum of £741 12s. 10d., being the amount of cheques which have been issued from the Treasury but not presented at the Banks for payment. A list of these cheques is appended.

We have, therefore, no hesitation in stating, that the whole of the balances exhibited in the Treasury Books on the 15th instant are satisfactorily accounted for.

NEW SOUTH WALES.

TREASURY BILLS.

(MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR, RELATIVE TO.)

Ordered by the Legislative Assembly to be Printed, 29 December, 1863.

JOHN YOUNG,

Governor.

Message No. 13.

It being found expedient to raise an amount of money not exceeding four hundred thousand pounds, for carrying on Services already sanctioned, or to be sanctioned by the Legislature, and it being considered advisable to provide such amount by the issue of Treasury Bills; the Governor submits the subject to the consideration of the Legislative Assembly, and recommends that provision be made accordingly.

GOLD FIELDS.

(ADDITIONAL REGULATIONS UNDER THE "GOLD FIELDS ACT OF 1861.")

Ordered by the Legislative Assembly to be Printed, 25 June, 1863.

Department of Lands,
Sydney, 31 December, 1862.

HIS Excellency the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, has been pleased to approve of the following additional Regulations under the "Gold Fields Act of 1861":—

From and after the 1st day of January, 1863, the following shall be the condition under which persons holding leases under the provisions of the Crown Lands Occupation Act of 1861, for mineral purposes other than gold mining, may become entitled to extract and retain gold from the minerals obtained from the lands so held by them, viz.:—Whenever it shall be found that the minerals obtained from lands leased under the Crown Lands Occupation Act contain gold, it shall be lawful, notwithstanding the same is reserved by any such lease, for the lessee or lessees of such lands to retain the said gold, upon paying by way of rent for such lands, in addition to the rent reserved by the lease or leases, a royalty of five per centum on the value of the gold so found as aforesaid.

JOHN ROBERTSON.

Department of Lands,
Sydney, 18 February, 1863.

GOLD FIELDS.

HIS Excellency the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, has been pleased to make the following further Regulations under the "Gold Fields Act of 1861."

JOHN ROBERTSON.

FRONTAGE SYSTEM.

1. Regulations 80, 81, 97, and 98, are hereby repealed. Repeal of former Regulations.

2. The mode of marking a claim on an undeclared lead shall be by the erection of a post, not less than three feet in height, at either end of the claim. Mode of marking on an undeclared lead.

3. Any person who may strike payable gold at a depth not less than sixty feet, shall immediately report to the Commissioner, who shall thereupon appoint a time, not less than two days thereafter, by a notice at the claim, and at his office, to proceed to the ground, in order to consider any application for the declaration of a frontage lead; and if it be the desire of the majority of the persons interested then present, he may, if he shall see sufficient reason, declare such lead. The Commissioner may also, at any time, declare to be a lead, any then existing line of alluvial or other workings upon which payable gold may, in any claim, have been obtained, provided that the general depth of sinking upon such line of works shall have reached a depth of sixty feet. And in declaring to be leads any such lines of works within any declared frontage field or division, the Commissioner shall declare all such leads in rotation, making the prior declaration in each case, according to priority of bonâ fide occupation by claims, not fewer in number than ten, upon the frontage of the lead to be declared. Declaration of lead.

4. Whenever machinery may be employed, or other sufficient reason may be shewn, the Commissioner may sanction the amalgamation of any number of claims. Where steam machinery may be employed, each horse power of the machinery shall be computed as equal to four men in representing the labour required to hold such amalgamated or any other claim. Amalgamation of claims.

5. The working of all claims shall be effectively commenced and carried forward continuously after the expiration of three clear days from the time of taking possession of the same; but in the case of a duly declared lead, the registered claim shall not be required to be so worked, except the twenty-five claims, whether amalgamated or not, on either line of lead next onwards from the prospect claim, and afterwards in advance of the last payable shaft. Working of all claims.

6. On the other claims upon a declared lead, the position of which does not require them to be so worked, every shareholder, or his representative, to the full number required by the dimensions of the claim, must be present from 9 till 11 o'clock a.m. daily. Claims on a declared lead may be held unworked.

GOLD FIELDS.

(ADDITIONAL REGULATIONS.)

Ordered by the Legislative Assembly to be Printed, 3 March, 1864.

Department of Lands,
Sydney, 25 February, 1864.

GOLD FIELDS.

HIS Excellency the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, has been pleased to approve of the following Additional Regulations under the "Gold Fields Act of 1861."

J. BOWIE WILSON.

EXTENDED ALLUVIAL CLAIMS IN WORKED OR ABANDONED GROUND.

1. Any miner may, by virtue of his miner's right, and subject to the conditions hereinafter stated, mark off and take possession of the following areas of worked or abandoned ground.

Sluicing.

2. Any miner cutting an expensive race, or erecting and forming an expensive dam and reservoir, shall be entitled to hold an area of ground not exceeding 5 acres: Provided that for each acre so held, at least two men shall be constantly employed in connection with the claim.

Puddling.

3. The extent of claim for a puddling machine and four miners shall be 210 feet square.

Machinery, &c.

4. When in an alluvial claim, other than sluicing or puddling, the proposed mode of working is such as to require expensive machinery or timbering, or to involve the necessity for an expensive race, cutting, or work, the following areas of ground may be occupied, namely:—

(1.) In dry alluvial sinking not to exceed 3 acres, and for each acre so held at least four men to be employed.

(2.) In wet alluvial sinking not to exceed 5 acres, and for each acre so held at least three men to be employed.

Extended claims in wet alluvial, &c.

5. Any miner or party of miners erecting efficient steam machinery, and keeping the same constantly employed on new ground, in wet alluvial sinking, shall be entitled to hold an area of 84 feet square for each miner employed—such areas not to exceed in the whole 3 acres, or a block 600 feet long by 216 feet in width.

Boundary pegs.

6. The boundaries of claims occupied under this rule shall be defined by firmly fixing in the ground at each corner of the claim, a post at least 4 inches square, and not less than 6 feet in height above the surface, such posts to be kept always visible during the working of the claim.

Registration.

Registration.

7. Every extended claim shall be registered with the Commissioner, and a notice of intention to apply for registration, stating the proposed mode of working the extent of ground applied for, and the number of men to be kept constantly employed, shall be posted on some conspicuous part of the claim, and at the Commissioner's office, and also advertised in the nearest local newspaper for seven clear days previous to registration. Any objection to such registration must be made in writing to the Commissioner, stating the nature of the objection, and the names and addresses of the persons objecting, within the prescribed seven days, at the expiration of which time the Commissioner and two assessors shall investigate and decide upon any objections which may have been made.

Guarantee, &c.

8. Previous to the registration of a claim under rule seven, the applicant will be required to shew, to the satisfaction of the Commissioner, that the steam machinery necessary to the proper and efficient working of the claim will be upon the ground within three months from the date of granting such registration.

Suspension of labor.

9. When from floods, or breakage of steam machinery, or from deficiency of the necessary supply of water, or other sufficient cause, a claim shall be unworkable, the shareholders shall be exempt from continuing the employment of the stipulated number of men by obtaining a certificate of registration from the Commissioner, and posting it on a conspicuous part of the claim, so as to be visible to the public—but the onus of proof in all cases shall lie with the shareholders claiming exemption.

Cost of works.

10. The machinery, dams, races, and other works required by rules two and four shall, in every case, be of not less value than in the proportion of £25 for each acre contained in the claim: Provided that in the event of a dispute arising as to the value of such works, the same shall be determined by a Commissioner and two assessors.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

NEW SOUTH WALES.

BURRANGONG GOLD FIELD.

(PETITION TO THE GOVERNOR RESPECTING RESTRICTIONS TO OPERATIONS OF CHINESE ON.)

Ordered by the Legislative Assembly to be Printed, 20 January, 1864.

To His Excellency the Right Honorable Sir John Young, K.C.B., G.C.M.G., &c., and the Honorable the Executive Council of New South Wales.

The Petition of the undersigned Bankers, Merchants, Storekeepers, and Tradesmen, of the Town of Young, and of the City of Sydney,—

HUMBLY SHEWETH:—

That the Burrangong Gold Fields are at present almost deserted, in consequence of the yield of gold not being generally sufficient to satisfy the wants of miners of European origin; but that, nevertheless, your Petitioners believe, a vast amount of gold is distributed in all directions within a radius of fifteen miles round the town of Young, and that the country thus neglected by European, would be found amply remunerative to Chinese miners.

That the soil and climate, within and beyond the limits mentioned, are peculiarly adapted to the growth of wheat and other grain, as well as for the cultivation of vegetables and fruit, and more especially for the finer qualities of the vine.

That the experience of the last two years has demonstrated that storm water can be saved in this district with facility; and that by sinking in the immediate vicinity of Young, or in the beds of the larger creeks, an almost inexhaustible supply of water can be obtained.

That, in view of the foregoing facts, your Petitioners believe that were the Chinese permitted to work the Burrangong Gold Fields generally, the Escorts hence would soon be doubled or tripled; an extensive market would be opened for all species of local produce; land in the neighbourhood would become valuable; and the external, as well as the internal, trade of the Colony would be stimulated to an extent equal to the additional yield of gold, which would be very great.

That at present, by reason of the constant diminution of the population of this district, the capital invested therein by a portion of your Petitioners is becoming less productive daily; and they fear that, unless measures be taken to develop the abundant resources of its miners and of its soil, their investments will be wholly lost.

That your Honorable Council have in your wisdom already conceded to the Chinese the right to work on the Gold Fields of Forbes.

Wherefore,

Wherefore, your Petitioners humbly pray your Honorable Council will take the premises into favourable consideration, and will remove the restrictions which now exclude the Chinese from working on the Gold Fields of Burrangong.

And your Petitioners, as in duty bound, will ever pray, &c.

ISBESTER AND HARRISON.

No. 1.

MR. GOLD COMMISSIONER MACLEAN to UNDER SECRETARY FOR LANDS.

Western Gold Fields Office,
Bathurst, 25 October, 1862.

SIR,

I have the honor to request that you will bring under the notice of the Honorable the Secretary for Lands the following circumstances:—

Harrison & Co. v. Isbester & Co.

2. In the month of December last, at the Lachlan, I myself decided the gold mining case noted in the margin, in favour of Harrison & Co.

3. Isbester & Co. lodged a notice of appeal, and obtained from me an order, as a further condition of my decision against Harrison & Co., appropriating certain auriferous earth taken from a part of the disputed ground, pending the hearing of the appeal. In terms of that order the auriferous earth was stored.

4. The appeal came before the Court, of which Dr. Palmer was Chairman. The decision of that Court was in favour of the appellants.

5. The respondents immediately took steps to bring the matter before the Supreme Court. The Court of Appeal, on their application, renewed the order impounding the earth, pending the action of the Supreme Court.

6. By mutual consent this earth was washed, and yielded gold to the value of upwards of £2,000, which was placed in the hands of Captain Browne.

7. The Supreme Court decided that the Court of Appeal had not been constituted according to law, and granted the rule nisi.

8. The legal advisers of the respondents (Harrison & Co.) therefore demand the gold, in virtue of my original decision in their favour, which now stands, and threaten Captain Browne with an action if he retains it.

9. The other side demand that Captain Browne shall retain it, alleging that the notice of appeal has yet to be dealt with, having been given in sufficient time, and not having, according to the ruling of the Supreme Court, come before a Court of Appeal at all.

10. Should this view of the matter be tenable, Isbester & Co. may still gain a decision in their favour from the reformed Court; and if the gold be delivered by Captain Browne to Harrison & Co. it may never be reached by such a decision, and he would be held to be culpable for having thus defeated the ends of justice.

11. Captain Browne has applied to me for instructions; but the matter seems to me to be one rather for the direction of the Honorable the Attorney General, to whom I would suggest an immediate reference on the subject, as steps are now being taken for the action by Harrison and Co. In the event of the Attorney General advising that Captain Browne shall retain the gold, I would request to be informed whether, in these circumstances, the Government will take the responsibility and defence of the threatened action against him, which might be of considerable cost.

I have, &c.,
HAROLD MACLEAN.

Crown Solicitor, B.C., 29 Oct.—M.F.

No. 2.

MR. REYNOLDS to SECRETARY FOR LANDS.

King-street, Sydney,
30 October, 1862.

SIR,

I have the honor to inform you that, in the month of April last, a case of disputed claim on the Lachlan Diggings, between "Harrison and party" and "Isbester and party" was heard by Mr. Gold Commissioner Maclean, and decided by him in favour of the former.

On the 1st of the following month Isbester and party appealed against that decision; and, on or about the 18th of June, the Court of Appeal sitting at Bathurst (after taking evidence at great length on either side, and after hearing counsel on behalf of either party) revoked the decision of Mr. Gold Commissioner Maclean, and decided in favour of Isbester and party.

Proceedings in the nature of a writ of prohibition were thereupon taken in the Supreme Court, at the instance of Harrison and party; and the Court, without going into the merits of the case, ordered that a writ of prohibition should issue, directed to the members of the Court of Appeal, and to the persons mining or working under the name

name of Isbester and party, to restrain them and each of them from further proceedings in respect of the decision or order of the Court of Appeal, on the sole ground that the Executive Government had not constituted the Court of Appeal according to law—inasmuch as the Chairman appointed by them had not held "Miner's Right" as required by the "Gold Fields Act of 1861."

In prosecuting the appeal, and in seeking to uphold the decision of the Court of Appeal in their favour, Isbester and party have necessarily incurred a very large amount of expense—having actually paid for law costs, expenses of witnesses, &c., &c., a sum of £620, and have lost much valuable time.

Under these circumstances, Isbester and party consider that they have a fair, just, and equitable claim upon the Government for compensation, and that they ought at least to be reimbursed the amount that they have actually, and as they believe, necessarily expended in the prosecution of the appeal, and in their endeavour to uphold the decision of the Court of Appeal.

I am, therefore, instructed by Isbester and party to place the above brief statement of facts before you; and I have the honor to ask that I may be favoured with the decision of the Government in the matter at your earliest convenience.

I have, &c.,
MAURICE REYNOLDS.

SIR,

I have the honor to inform you that I have laid before the Honorable the Attorney General the accompanying letter addressed to you by Mr. Gold Commissioner Maclean, and that the following is a copy of Mr. Attorney General's advising:—

"I gather from this statement that, partly by mutual consent, and partly from "mistaken views of their powers, the Court and Captain Browne have very much "embarrassed themselves as to their next proceedings. With the very meagre statement "before me, it is quite impossible to advise either Mr. Maclean or Captain Browne as to "their strict legal position; but looking at the matter as now before me, I think the safest "course will be for the holder of the auriferous ore to interplead, if either of the parties "brings an action against him."

SIR,

Referring to your letter of the 25th ultimo, in which you bring under notice certain circumstances connected with the gold mining case noted in the margin, I am directed to inform you that the matter has been referred, as requested by you, for the opinion of the Honorable the Attorney General, who has advised as follows:— Harrison & Co. v. Isbester & Co.

Crown Solicitor's Office,
Sydney, 17 November, 1862.

SIR,

I have the honor to return herewith Mr. Reynolds' letter to the Honorable the Secretary for Lands, of date 30th October last, and to state that I think the claim of Isbester and party, to be paid all reasonable costs which they have incurred in defending the decision of Mr. Commissioner Maclean, rests upon similar grounds to the claim made by the defendants in Berry v. Graham and others, which was acceded to by the Government.

I think, however, that it is impossible that the law costs and expenses of witnesses can have amounted to £600, as stated in Mr. Reynolds' letter; and if Government determine to pay Isbester and party's costs, they should be required to send in a bill of items, in order that it may be seen whether or not the sums paid are reasonable.

In order that the Honorable the Secretary for Lands may have some idea of the reasonableness of the claim now made, I may mention that Mr. Reynolds has informed me that, of the sum of £600 mentioned in his letter, £150 was paid to Mr. Solicitor Redman for his attendance before the Commission, and £300 for his coming to Sydney to hear the case argued before the Supreme Court.

I have, &c.,
JOHN WILLIAMS.

SIR,

I have the honor to inform you that, since writing to you on the 17th instant, relative to the claim of Isbester and party to be paid by the Government a sum of above £600 costs, expended by them in defending a decision of Mr. Gold Commissioner Maclean, I have received from Mr. Reynolds a list of items, shewing how such sum is made up.

I send you herewith a copy of this list.

MR. REYNOLDS to UNDER SECRETARY FOR LANDS.

6 May, 1863.

SIR,

Referring to my letter to you of the 30th October last, on behalf of Isbester and party, asking for compensation from the Government for damages sustained as therein stated, I have the honor to remind you that I have not received any reply to such communication, and to request that you will be so good as to favour me with one at your early convenience.

I may state that I called on the Crown Solicitor in the latter part of last week (to whom I was given to understand the papers had been referred); and whilst he would not not admit that my clients had a legal claim against the Government, yet was of opinion, as I understood him, that they had an equitable claim, though not for any such amount as that stated in my letter to you. Indeed, in forwarding to you the particulars of such amount, I had not myself intended to apply for payment thereof in full, but only wished to make the Government aware of the sum that had been actually expended by Isbester and party.

As my clients are very pressing, I would beg to suggest that the papers may be again referred to the Crown Solicitor, in order that he may report what sum he thinks would be a reasonable one for the Government to pay my clients; and I feel pretty sure that Isbester and party will feel perfectly satisfied with his decision.

CROWN SOLICITOR to UNDER SECRETARY FOR LANDS.

Crown Solicitor's Office, Sydney,
23 September, 1863.

SIR,

I have the honor to return, herewith, the papers connected with the application of Messrs. Isbester & Co., that certain costs incurred by them should be paid by you, which were received by me from your department, with instructions to report what ought to be paid. I beg to state, that Mr. Reynolds, Messrs. Isbester's agent, has furnished furnished me with a bill of costs, the amount of which is £777 0s. 10d., that I have gone over the papers with Mr. Reynolds, and think that £192 13s. 10d. might fairly be the amount paid for such costs.

The question of whether the claim made by Messrs. Isbester & Co. should be admitted is, however, I believe, still undetermined by the Honorable the Secretary for Lands.

Messrs. Isbester's costs can also, if the Honorable the Secretary for Lands thinks it desirable, be taxed by the Prothonotary of the Supreme Court.

I have, &c.,

CROWN SOLICITOR to UNDER SECRETARY FOR LANDS.

Crown Solicitor's Office,
Sydney, 20 October, 1863.

SIR,

I have the honor to return to you, herewith, the papers relating to the claim of Messrs. Isbester and Co., for the return to them of certain costs they have expended, and to suggest that it is advisable that the question, as to whether the costs when taxed shall be paid, be determined before any steps are taken towards taxation. If Mr. Reynolds is called upon to submit to a taxation of costs, he may fairly assume that the amount ascertained by such taxation will be paid to him. As yet, however, I do not see that the Minister has resolved that the costs shall be paid by the Government, by any direct minute—although possibly his instructions that the costs should be taxed may be taken as evidence that he so intended.

I would call your attention to the fact, that the Honorable the Secretary for Lands suggested that I should say what ought to be paid, and by the same minute enquires whether there is not a system of taxation. Thinking from this, that he wished me to go through the costs with Mr. Reynolds and ascertain the reasonableness of the charges made, I did so, and reduced the bill from £777 0s. 10d. to £192 13s. 10d.; and I do not think a greater reduction would be made if the bill were taxed in the usual way, by the Prothonotary.

See enclosure to No. 9. 1st column.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

NEW SOUTH WALES.

MR. SUB-COMMISSIONER COOPER.

(KIANDRA GOLD FIELDS.)

Ordered by the Legislative Assembly to be Printed, 1 July, 1863.

To the Honorable Members of the Legislative Assembly of New South Wales, in Parliament assembled.

The Petition of the Shareholders of the "Homeward Bound Company," New Chum Hill, Kiandra,—

HUMBLY SHEWETH:—

That your Petitioners are the proprietors of a certain water privilege at Kiandra, granted to them upon the 2nd November, 1860, by Mr. Chief Commissioner Cloete, for gold mining purposes.

That your Petitioners expended nearly £2,000 in the construction of a water-race, upon the assurance that the grant of Mr. Cloete would be guaranteed to them. That in the latter half of the year 1861, Mr. Sub-Commissioner Cooper deprived your Petitioners of this water privilege, by various oppressive orders and decisions. That, in addition to the loss of the water privilege, the effect of some of these orders and decisions was to injure and destroy numerous parts of your Petitioners' water-race; and that, in consequence of these acts of Mr. Sub-Commissioner Cooper, your Petitioners have suffered losses to the amount of nearly £3,000.

That, by the following references to the Parliamentary Papers, printed last Session, on the case of Mr. Sub-Commissioner Cooper, it will be seen that the principal charges of your Petitioners against Mr. Cooper were held to have been sustained by Mr. Chief Commissioner Griffin, and that in consequence, the Honorable Minister for Lands found it necessary to "reprimand" him for "misconduct." (See page 39, No. 21.)

That, at page 14, No. 3, Mr. Griffin acknowledges the justice of your Petitioners' demand upon Mr. Cooper to enforce the 19th Regulation in reference to gauges; and that when he left Kiandra, after the investigation, he "insisted" upon Mr. Cooper complying with it. That, at page 15, No. 6, Mr. Griffin admits that your Petitioners' race was "most unjustifiably cut" by order of Mr. Cooper, and that he had compelled your Petitioners to resign their water in order to make it flow up hill, which he admits was "vexatious, absurd, and impossible to be carried out."

That upon 31st July, 1861, Mr. Cooper decided that the words "sluice heads," meant "ground sluice heads"; that the effect of this decision was to double the water supply of certain miners; that, in order to obtain this doubled supply of water, he deprived your Petitioners of the water they had before enjoyed under the grant of Mr. Chief Commissioner Cloete; that when Mr. Cooper recorded this decision, he knew that he was opposing the views of his superior officers—Messrs. Cloete and Scott.

That, at page 14, No. 3, Mr. Griffin refers the question to the gentlemen who granted the disputed permits—Messrs. Cloete, Scott, and Lockhart. That these officers unanimously condemn Mr. Cooper's reading of the words. That, at page 7, No. 4, Mr. Cloete says, "A sluice head means a quantity of water measuring twelve inches by one "inch, whereas a ground sluice head is double that quantity; and had the permit meant to "have granted ground sluice heads, it would have been specially mentioned in the permit." That Mr. Scott says, at page 27, line 8, "Unless specially mentioned ground, all sluice heads are for one box head only." That Mr. Lockhart, in a letter to one of your Petitioners says, "Any permits of sluice heads of water, mean plank ordinary sluice heads, gauged

" in the usual way, measured as when defined, a stream running along a sluice box twelve " inches broad, one inch deep, with a fall of one in twelve. Whenever a sluice head is men- " tioned, it means that merely. When a sluice head for ground sluicing is meant, the words " used would be ground sluice heads, if water, which is double the other." That, notwithstanding Mr. Griffin's reference to these gentlemen, and their unanimous expression of opinion against Mr. Cooper's decision, your Petitioners are still compelled to resign their water to certain miners, to make good a supply which the grantees of their permits say that they never conceded to them, to the great and continued loss of your Petitioners.

That, as the whole of the losses of your Petitioners have been solely attributable to the unjust and oppressive proceedings of Mr. Sub-Commissioner Cooper, acting as the representative of the Government, and that as the unlimited and undefined nature of the discretionary powers with which the Gold Commissioners are entrusted, prevent all possibility of legal redress, your Petitioners humbly pray that your Honorable House will take the exceptional nature of their injuries into your favourable consideration, and devise such means of redress as your Honorable House may deem best fitted to meet the circumstances of the case.

And your Petitioners, as in duty bound, will ever pray.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

NEW SOUTH WALES.

MR. SUB GOLD COMMISSIONER COOPER.

(PETITION—MANUS STRAIN AND PARTY.)

Ordered by the Legislative Assembly to be Printed, 2 February, 1864.

To the Honorable Members of the Legislative Assembly of New South Wales, in Parliament assembled.

The Petition of Manus Strain and party, Gold Miners of Kiandra, New South Wales,—

HUMBLY SHEWETH:—

That your Petitioners obtained from Mr. Chief Commissioner Cloete, on the 1st September, 1861, two leases of auriferous ground in the Eucumbene River, Kiandra—one for eight (8) and the other for four (4) acres; that on the 4th February, 1862, Mr. Sub Gold Commissioner Cooper brought four (4) assessors on to the ground of your Petitioners.

That no case was gone into on this occasion.

That no evidence was heard, and that the assessors simply assisted Mr. Sub Commissioner Cooper in measuring your Petitioners' ground, as he (Mr. Cooper) directed, and that by this measurement your Petitioners were defrauded of nearly three (3) acres of their leased ground.

That your Petitioners have repeatedly applied to Mr. Chief Gold Commissioner Griffin for redress; that he referred their application to Mr. Cooper for his report; that Mr. Cooper reported that the case was "investigated" and "fully gone into" by the four assessors and himself, and that they had then pegged off the ground they considered Strain and party entitled to.

That on the 4th of February, 1863, three (3) of the assessors (the remaining one being in New Zealand) made a solemn declaration before F. D. Mant, J.P., that at the time they were summoned by Mr. Sub Commissioner Cooper to measure your Petitioners' ground that there was "no investigation of right gone into, no case stated, or witnesses "examined." "That they measured off the ground of Strain and party, as directed by "F. A. Cooper, and not in accordance with any decision arrived at by them." "And "that they were not identified with the decision arrived at by F. A. Cooper in dispos-"sessing Strain and party of a portion of their leased ground." That your Petitioners have expended £1,500 in the construction of a tail race and other preparatory works for the purpose of working this leased ground. That by the loss of the portion of it taken from them by Mr. F. A. Cooper their expenditure has been rendered valueless, and that they have been obliged to abandon their leases. That the losses which they have sustained in consequence have been entirely caused by Mr. Sub Commissioner Cooper, and that your Petitioners believe that the assessors were only summoned by him (Mr. Cooper) to afford him an opportunity of escaping from the responsibility of his actions.

That your Petitioners humbly pray that your Honorable House will cause their complaints to be investigated and their injuries to be redressed.

And your Petitioners, as in duty bound, will ever pray.

No. 1.

MR. STRAIN to SECRETARY FOR LANDS.

Kiandra, 27 December, 1862.

SIR,

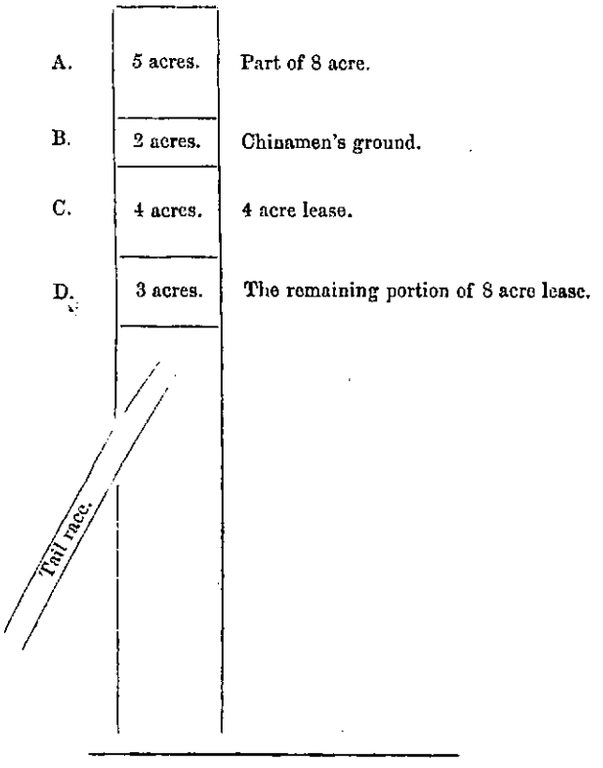

On the 1st September, 1861, myself and partners obtained two leases of auriferous ground in the Eucumbene River, one for 8 and the other for 4 acres. In order the more clearly to explain the matter, I enclose a rough sketch of our own and adjoining blocks. As we had not sufficient ground marked off to make up the 8 acre lease in one block, it was divided into two, of 5 and 3 acres each, with a considerable space between them. The first block, marked "A," is of 5 acres, the first portion of the 8 acre lease. The next below, marked "B," is about 2 acres, in the possession of some Chinamen; the next again, marked "C," is our small lease of 4 acres; and the last, marked "D," is of 3 acres, included with "A" in the 8 acre lease.

What I wish to call your attention to now is a decision of Mr. Commissioner Cooper's, by which we have been defrauded of nearly 3 acres of the block marked "C."

On the 4th February, 1862, Mr. Cooper brought four assessors on the ground, and removed the pegs of the block marked "C" about 150 yards lower down, so as partly to cover the ground marked "D," which was already in our possession, and gave this 150 yards (or nearly 3 acres) out of the block "C" to another party. No case was gone into, no witnesses on our side were called, and none of our party were examined in the matter. Mr. Cooper simply brought the assessors to assist him in measuring the ground as he directed: of the merits of the case they knew nothing. We had spent ten months labour in bringing up a tail race to work this ground of which we are dispossessed, and had incurred an outlay of over £1,500, and then were deprived of the benefit of our labour and outlay. As we understood that Mr. Chief Commissioner Griffin was expected up here almost daily, we contented ourselves with awaiting his arrival, in the hope of obtaining redress through him; but as time slipped by and he did not appear, I addressed him on the subject. In reply he says that he cannot disturb Mr. Cooper's decision, in the absence of any order from the head of the Department of Lands. I may as well remark, that my complaint in this matter was laid before Mr. Griffin long before Mr. Cooper's name was again so prominently brought before the public, as the letters passing between the former gentleman and myself will plainly shew. I address you now solely in consequence of Mr. Griffin's declining to move in the matter without the permission of the head of the Lands Department; this permission I urgently and respectfully request that you will grant. I shall then be in a position to prove that we have been unjustly deprived of a portion of a lease held directly from the Government, and have suffered the most serious losses in consequence.

I am, &c.,

Department of Lands,
Sydney, 12 January, 1863.

SIR,

I am directed by the Secretary for Lands to forward, for your report, the accompanying letter of the 27th ultimo, received from Mr. Manus Strain, complaining of a decision given by Mr. Sub Gold Commissioner Cooper, with respect to a certain mining lease. To be returned.

MR. GOLD COMMISSIONER GRIFFIN to UNDER SECRETARY FOR LANDS.

Braidwood, 24 February, 1863.

SIR,

In returning a letter, herewith enclosed, addressed to the Secretary for Lands, and signed "Manus Strain," I have the honor to forward copies of all correspondence on the subject, between Mr. Strain, Mr. Cooper, and myself.

2. By comparing my letter to Mr. Strain, dated 30th October, 1862, with the latter portion of his communication to the Secretary for Lands of the 27th December, 1862, you will perceive that Mr. Strain has omitted all mention of the real reason given by me for not entertaining his complaint—namely: that under the 29th section of the Regulations framed from the 25th Victoria, No. 4, his written notice of appeal should have been lodged with the Commissioner within seven days, it having occurred to me as a singular feature in the complaint, that the alleged injury was inflicted in February and not complained of until October, after a lapse of fully eight months.

3. My visit to Kiandra has been delayed, in expectation of the passing of some short Act of Council amending the clause in the Gold Act, with reference to present appointments; but had I ever proceeded there, I should, under the circumstances, have declined entertaining Mr. Strain's appeal, in the absence of special orders from the Secretary for Lands; my doing so, believing as I do that Mr. Strain is out of Court, would have been irregular in the extreme.

I have, &c.,
J. H. GRIFFIN,
Gold Commissioner.

[Enclosures in No. 3.]

Braidwood, 28 October, 1862.

Sir,

I beg to lay before you a mining case which took place on Kiandra. Myself and mates leased 4 acres of abandoned worked ground on the Eucumbene River, for two years. The lease was granted on the 1st day of September, 1861; we remained in possession up to February, 1862, when Mr. Commissioner Cooper gave away, or threw open for other parties to mine on, between 2 and 3 acres of the said ground. Our expenses in blasting through rock and other preparatory work have been over £1,500 sterling, so that the affair is very serious and unjust to us. The reason we did not come to you, sir, about this case is: we were repeatedly told you were expected weekly on Kiandra, and also the party was not in a position to bear expense. What I wish now by bringing the case before you, sir, is: that you will cause the case to be investigated, or to be otherwise dealt with as the case demands.

M. STRAIN.

To J. H. Griffin, Esq.,
Chief Gold Commissioner.

Kiandra, 30 October, 1862.

Sir,

Mr. Commissioner Cooper states in his report that, at the request of Strain and others, four assessors proceeded to the spot in dispute, and investigated the complaint of Strain and party. Sir, I deny that I have at any time, either directly or indirectly, consented to have assessors appointed in the case, for I considered it was the duty of the Commissioner to protect us in the ground we held under lease; I also distinctly deny that the case was investigated either by Mr. Commissioner Cooper or assessors. I can at any time prove the correctness of these statements.

MANUS STRAIN.

To J. H. Griffin, Esq.,
Chief Commissioner in charge of the Southern Gold Fields.

Kiandra,

Kiandra, 7 November, 1862.

Sir,

I beg to lay before you the following particulars of the case, in which Fitzpatrick and party have appealed against the decision of Mr. Commissioner Mant and two assessors, on the 21st October last: Myself and mates have been in possession of the extended river claim in dispute, since February last. About the 29th July we were obliged to unslip our water wheel, in order to save it from being carried away by a heavy flood; we then had the claim registered under, I believe, the by-laws of the Kiandra Local Court, up to the 1st September, the claim not being workable through excess of water. On the 1st September we had it registered again for a month. On the 20th October, and about three weeks after the second registry, we again took possession of the ground and commenced repairing the flood race. I must remark that three out of the four who were working in the ground on the 20th of October, were representatives. About one or two hours after my mate and the three representatives commenced work, two men (Bond and Hawkins) came up to them and said that my mate and the three representatives were working in their (Bond and Hawkins') ground, for that they (Bond and Hawkins) made application for the claim to the Commissioner on the 18th as abandoned ground. The Commissioner was brought on to the ground in dispute on the 20th, but would not decide the case. On the 21st the Commissioner came again, appointed two assessors, and decided the case in favour of Bond and Hawkins. I must here state that the three representatives above alluded to, only arrived on Kiandra about two days previous to the day on which they agreed to work for us, and that two of them had no miner's right; the third states that his miner's right is at the Lachlan. However, they only worked for us about two hours, when I ascertained that they had no miner's right. I went as soon as possible and bought them a miner's right each; for they stated that the whole three of them could not raise money enough to buy one. The decision of Commissioner and assessors was—first, that we did not work the claim on the 1st day of October; and second, that we employed men who had no miner's right. Sir, my mates and several other witnesses can prove that the claim was not workable on the 1st October; and as to the second part of the decision, I can only say, that the decision of Mr. Commissioner Cloete in a similar case, when on Kiandra, was that the shareholders were liable to a fine. These are the grounds on which, in my absence to Braidwood, my mates' have appealed, together with the fact that we were in possession of the claim. My mates have asked Mr. Commissioner Mant in the mean time to have the gold lodged in the Camp, or else to stop the parties from working; he told them he would do neither.

Chief Gold Commissioner,

Kiandra, 22 November, 1862.

Sir,

Please to forward a copy of the reasons adduced by Mr. Sub Commissioner Cooper, for giving away to other parties between 2 and 3 acres of the ground held under lease by myself and mates, as stated in my letter of 23th October. I also beg to state that, in consulting with my mates about the case, they have requested me to state that they will use every means in their power to have the case investigated.

M. STRAIN.

J. H. Griffin, Esq.,
Chief Gold Commissioner,
Southern Gold Fields.

P.S.—I also beg to take this opportunity of making the following additional remarks on Mr. Cooper's report on my letter of 28th October, in order that you may more fully understand the case. Mr. Commissioner Cooper states that the assessors and himself pegged off the ground they considered Strain and party entitled to by virtue of their lease. Sir, as Mr. Cooper pegged off the ground we were entitled to by virtue of the lease, when the lease was granted in September, 1861, it appears strange that he should consider us entitled to ground 150 yards lower down the river in February, 1862, by virtue of the same lease. Mr. Commissioner Cooper also states that the parties against whom the case was decided were permitted to take up the adjoining ground. As myself and mates lost between 2 and 3 acres of ground, and also had to pay the assessors £2, I believe we are the parties against whom the case was decided, so that I cannot understand this subterfuge.—M. STRAIN.

Camp, Araluen,
29 October, 1863.

Sir,

In returning the enclosed letter, signed by one M. Strain, forwarded for my report thereon, I have the honor to state that, some seven or eight months ago, at the request of Strain and others, four miners (who had the day previous been elected unanimously members of the Kiandra Local Court) and myself proceeded to the spot in dispute, and investigated the complaint of Strain and party.

After the case had been fully gone into, the assessors and myself pegged off the ground we considered Strain and party entitled to by virtue of their lease, and permitted the parties against whom the case was decided to take up the adjoining ground, which they did, the assessors and myself marking out their respective blocks.

For further particulars in this matter I would refer you to the assessors who acted on the occasion referred to above; their names, if my memory serves me at the moment, were Weston, Eastwood, Martin, and another whose name I do not remember. In conclusion, I would add that it does appear to me very strange that the Commissioner at Kiandra did not entertain Strain and parties' complaint, instead of referring Strain to me, more especially when I reflect that the whole of the assessors who acted in the case are at present residing at Kiandra.

Braidwood, 30 October, 1863.

Sir,

As soon as possible after the receipt of your communication of the 28th instant, complaining of an unjust decision of Mr. Sub Commissioner Cooper's, at Kiandra, in February last, I placed myself in communication with that officer, requesting an explanation in the matter, and have now the honor to forward, enclosed herewith, his report on the subject.

2. I must call your attention to the 29th section of the Rules framed from the 25th Victoria, No. 4, by which appeals are regulated; and, as it seems to me, that the instructions therein given, for the guidance of appellants, have not been complied with by you, I do not, under the circumstances, in the absence of any orders from the head of the Lands Department, feel myself authorized in disturbing Mr. Cooper's decision.

MR. STRAIN to SECRETARY FOR LANDS.

Forbes, 14 March, 1863.

SIR,

In my letter of the 27th December last I made certain statements, shewing how myself and partners have been defrauded of a portion of the auriferous land leased by us from the Government, in the Eucumbene River, by Mr. Sub Gold Commissioner Cooper. To prove the truthfulness of these statements, I enclose herewith a copy of the declarations made by three of the assessors who acted with Mr. Cooper on the occasion referred to. I again call your attention to the matter, and respectfully request that you will instruct Mr. Chief Commissioner Griffin to investigate the charges, the most serious only having been brought under your notice.

[Enclosure in No. 4.]

Kiandra, 4 February, 1863.

ON the 4th day of February, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, the undersigned, James Martin, Joseph Harper, and James Eastwood, appeared personally before me, Frederick Duncan Mant, Esq., one of Her Majesty's Justices of the Peace, and made the following declarations, under the provisions of the Act of the Governor and Council, 9th Victoria, No. 7 :—

On or about the 4th day of February, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two, we were severally summoned to attend as assessors in a case of dispute, Manus Strain and party—John Hawkins and party, working as miners in the Eucumbene River. We attended accordingly, but the only duty performed by us was that of assisting Mr. Sub Gold Commissioner Cooper, by whom we were summoned, to measure off from the ground, then in possession of Strain and party, 4 acres of land, as directed by him (F. A. Cooper), and not in accordance with any decision arrived at by us as assessors. There was no investigation of right gone into, case stated, or witnesses examined, on the occasion; that the proceedings, as directed by Mr. Cooper on the above occasion, had the effect of misleading us as assessors, apparently making us parties to the infliction of injury to a great extent on Strain and party; that we are not in any way identified with the decision arrived at by Mr. Cooper in dispossessing Strain and party of a portion of the ground leased by them from the Government in the Eucumbene River, then the subject of dispute between the before-mentioned parties.

We, the undersigned, James Martin, James Eastwood, Joseph Harper, do solemnly and sincerely declare and make this solemn declaration, conscientiously believing the same to be true, and by virtue of the provisions of an Act passed in the ninth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled, "An "Act for the more effectual abolition of Oaths and Affirmations taken and made in the various Departments "of the Government of New South Wales to substitute Declarations in lieu thereof and for the suppression of "voluntary and extrajudicial Oaths and Affidavits."

JAMES MARTIN.

MR. STRAIN to SECRETARY FOR LANDS.

Forbes, 15 June, 1863.

SIR,

As the Government have declined to direct any inquiry into my complaints against Mr. Commissioner Cooper, at Kiandra, I am debarred from proving clearly the nature and extent of the losses wilfully inflicted on me by that officer.

I will only refer to the statements of the assessors, made on oath before Mr. Commissioner Mant, at Kiandra, to shew clearly that Mr. Cooper appointed these assessors to screen himself in the unwarrantable and malicious act he was about to commit.

The assessors state—"That there was no case gone into or investigated, neither "were there any witnesses called or examined on the occasion; that we are not "identified with the decision arrived at by Mr. Cooper, in dispossessing Strain and party "of a portion of the land leased by them from the Government; that the proceedings, "as directed by Mr. Cooper, tended to mislead us, as assessors, apparently making us "parties to the infliction of injury on Strain and party to a great extent."

These are the statements of three respectable and intelligent miners, and members of the Kiandra Local Court, whom Mr. Cooper himself appointed to act as assessors on the occasion.

I will only add, that having adhered to the conditions set forth in the leases, except when an exemption was granted by the Commissioner, we considered the leases sufficient protection for the land, on the faith of which protection or leases we incurred an outlay on preparatory work and hired labour, of £1,500. This outlay, together with the benefit derivable from the work done, I consider to be the losses entailed on us by a Government officer, for which I respectfully request the Government will take the matter into consideration, and grant equitable compensation.

MR. GOLD COMMISSIONER GRIFFIN to UNDER SECRETARY FOR LANDS.

Braidwood, 20 July, 1863.

SIR,

In returning the letter signed "Manus Strain," I have the honor to forward copies of all correspondence between Mr. Cooper and myself.

2. I placed myself in communication with Mr. Cooper, relative to the charges made by Strain, on the 9th July instant; and being dissatisfied with his reply of the 13th, I again addressed him on the 15th, pointing out in what respect, as it appeared to me, he had failed in making explanation, and requiring further information, which elicited his letter of the 16th July instant.

3. You will observe that in paragraph 5 of Mr. Cooper's report, of the 16th July instant, he distinctly states that the measurement complained of by Strain was in direct opposition to his (Mr. Cooper's) wishes, and entirely at the instance of the assessors called on upon the occasion, who insisted upon working off a portion of the bed of the Eucumbene River, instead of, as directed by him, giving Strain 4 acres of the alluvial flat adjoining.

4. It is not an unusual occurrence amongst persons taking up blocks of ground, whether for agricultural or mining purposes, to lay claim to much more than they are legally entitled to, and the curtailment of the boundaries of which, on a dispute taking place, and actual measurement being resorted to, leading, as in this instance, to much litigation and ill feeling.

5. Not having perused the affidavits mentioned by Strain, I am unable to offer any opinion as to their contents.

I have, &c.,
J. H. GRIFFIN,
Commissioner in charge of Southern Gold Fields.

[Enclosures in No. 9.]

Braidwood, 9 July, 1863.

Sir,

I have the honor to request your immediate report on the charges contained in the enclosed letter signed "Manus Strain."

F. A. Cooper, Esq.,

Camp, Upper Araluen,
13 July, 1863.

Sir,

In answer to your letter of the 9th instant, requesting my report upon the letter accompanying it, signed by one Manus Strain, of Kiandra, I do myself the honor to state that, before I can comply with such request, I must beg to be furnished with the book now lying at the Kiandra Camp, in which all leases are entered; as also a copy of the lease now in Strain's possession, through which he claims to hold the ground in question.

I have, &c.,
F. A. COOPER.

James H. Griffin, Esq.,
&c., &c., &c.,
Braidwood.

Braidwood, 15 July, 1863.

Sir,

A letter, dated on the 13th instant, signed by you, and bearing my official address on its envelope, has this day been handed to me by a person who states that he found it lying on the public road, between Araluen and Braidwood; and in reply to its contents, I have the honor to inform you that I see no necessity for a reference to the Kiandra books, as copies of all leases granted in that locality are filed in my office; nor does it appear to me that your possession of a copy of the lease held by Strain, could at all affect the material points in the charges made against you, the most serious of which would seem to be Strain's statements, supported by, as he says, affidavits of three of the assessors called on upon the occasion of your giving the decision he complains of—that you purposely and maliciously mis-stated the facts of the case, and by this means led these assessors into such error as to cause them to commit a grievous wrong against Strain—a wrong, according to Strain, that these men now, not only say, but swear, was induced and brought about by your wilfully false mis-representations.

2. I am much surprised that you can affect to misunderstand the gravity of Strain's accusations; and I must now call upon you, without delay, to explain whether you did or not, in any way, directly or indirectly, attempt to tamper with these men called in as assessors in the dispute alluded to by Strain; the matter complained of being not only the illegality of their decision, but what is far more important to any one holding the position you then occupied, and still continue to fill, as a public officer, viz., the underhand way in which it is asserted this decision was arrived at.

I have, &c.,
J. H. GRIFFIN,
In charge of the Southern Gold Fields.

F. A. Cooper, Esq.,
Sub Gold Commissioner,
Araluen.

Camp, Upper Araluen,
16 July, 1863.

Sir,

In answer to your letter of the 9th instant, requesting my report on the letter accompanying it, signed by one Manus Strain, of Kiandra, wherein he states that, at the hearing of a mining case in which he was the complainant, I appointed assessors merely for the purpose of screening myself from the unwarrantable and malicious act that I was about to commit, viz., to dispossess himself and mates of certain land to which they were entitled by virtue of a lease signed by Mr. Commissioner Cloete, as also that he holds affidavits made by three of the four assessors who acted with me on the occasion referred to by Strain, to the effect that the proceedings, as directed by me when entertaining the aforementioned mining case, tended to mislead them (the assessors), apparently making them parties to the infliction of an injury on Strain and party to a great extent.

2. In order, therefore, that you may judge how far my conduct on that occasion is open to such charges, I do myself the honor to submit, for your information, a plain and unvarnished statement of the real facts of the case.

3. About the time of the establishment of a Local Court at Kiandra, a complaint was made to me by Strain, that several mining parties had pegged off and were working a portion of the bed of the Eucumbene River, to which he was entitled under lease. So soon as I could conveniently attend, which was a day or two after the election of members to serve in the Local Court, I proceeded to the complainants' claim, taking along with me as assessors four of the miners who had been elected members of the Local Court, to whose acting no objection was made by the complainants; and I may here state that it is my almost invariable rule never to act without assessors, no matter how trifling the complaint.

4. On arriving at the ground in dispute, I called upon Strain to produce his authority for holding other than an ordinary claim. Strain produced a lease under Mr. Commissioner Cloete's signature, entitling his party to hold 4 acres of alluvial land above the Falls. This lease not stating the points of commencement or termination, the question naturally arose where were the assessors to commence measuring off from? Strain and party urged that their leased alluvial claim should be measured along the bed of the Eucumbene River, and not upon the adjacent flat, commencing at a point 500 yards above the Falls, on the plea that they held a permit from Mr. Commissioner Scott, authorizing them to cut a tail race to their alluvial leased ground, along the bed of the Eucumbene River, 500 yards long, with a width of 40 feet.

5. The assessors and myself, on examining the tail race cut by the complainants, discovered that the complainants had, at a distance of about 100 yards from the falls, a face upon their work, viz.:— their boxes were set as though they had been sluicing, and a heap of tailings were on each side of their race. I at once gave it as my opinion that the measurement of the complainants' claim should commence from that point; in this, however, I was overruled by the assessors, who allowed them another 100 yards of the bed of the river, and then, instead of measuring off 4 acres in as nearly a rectangular as possible on the adjacent flat, as they should have done, they marked off 276 yards of the river bed in length, with a width of 69 yards, that is at the rate of 69 yards long and 69 yards wide per acre, in addition to a tail race of 200 yards long by 40 feet wide.

6. I need hardly remind you that such measurement is altogether illegal, as alluvial claims are separate and distinct from creek or river claims; consequently, the ground to which Strain and party are entitled should have been measured off on the adjacent flat. If therefore the assessors have made affidavits to the effect that, in directing them to measure Strain's claim on the flat, instead of the bed of the river misled them, thus making them parties to the infliction of an injury upon Strain and party to a great extent, as also dispossessing them of a portion of the land leased by them from the Government, I cheerfully submit to their accusation; and that so far from dispossessing Strain and party of a portion of their leased ground, they now hold, in lieu of the next to worthless ground their lease gives them, 476 yards of the Eucumbene River, at a point once conspicuous for its large yield of gold.

7. In conclusion I would mention that I have, on every occasion when applied to by Strain's party for an indulgence, such as allowing their claim to be worked with less hands than their lease sets forth, granted it to them; this I merely add to dispel the charge of being actuated by a malicious feeling towards Strain and party.

I have, &c.,
FREDERICK A. COOPER.

UNDER SECRETARY FOR LANDS to MR. GOLD COMMISSIONER GRIFFIN.

Department of Lands,
Sydney, 31 October, 1863.

SIR,

* Not required.

Referring to my *letter of the 26th instant, on the subject of Mr. F. A. Cooper's resignation of his office as Sub Gold Commissioner, I am directed to inform you that, under the peculiar circumstances of the case, and the unsatisfactory manner in which the serious charges against Mr. Cooper have been investigated into, the Secretary for Lands feels himself justified in accepting his resignation.

I have, &c.,
MICL. FITZPATRICK.

WORKING OF THE GOLD FIELDS ACT.

REPORT.

THE SELECT COMMITTEE of the Legislative Assembly, appointed on the 29th September last, "to inquire into and report upon the "cases of Messrs. Thompson and Farrell, of Merrendee, with "relation to the working of the Gold Fields Act, and to determine "what redress (if any) they are entitled to,"—"with power to "send for persons and papers," and to whom, on the 2nd February last, was referred, for consideration and report, "the "application by Robert Isbester and party, to the Government, for "compensation arising out of the illegal appointment of a "Chairman of the Appeal Court under the Gold Fields Act,"—have agreed to the following Report:—

Your Committee have examined several witnesses, whose evidence, together with other documents, will be found appended hereto; and after mature consideration, are of opinion that Messrs. Thompson and Farrell have suffered great loss, both of time and money, by the neglect of the late Government in not appointing Chairmen to the various Appeal Courts for the Gold Fields, in terms of the Act 25 Vic., No. 4, sec. 30.

Your Committee, therefore, recommend the cases of Messrs. Thompson and Farrell to the favourable consideration of the Executive.

Your Committee have also had, by order of your Honorable House, the case of "Isbester versus Harrison" referred to them for consideration and report; and as it appears to your Committee that this is another case of a precisely similar nature to those of Messrs. Thompson and Farrell, have declined taking evidence thereon; but, from the petition and documents before them,* have decided on recommending it also to the favourable consideration of the Executive.

Vide Appendix.

Finally, your Committee are of opinion that the contradictory evidence upon matters of fact, given before the Appeal Court by the two Officers of the Gold Fields, Messrs. Sibthorpe and King, is a matter of such gravity as to warrant their bringing it under the notice of the Executive.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

NEW SOUTH WALES.

MINUTES OF EVIDENCE

TAKEN BEFORE

THE SELECT COMMITTEE

ON THE

WORKING OF THE GOLD FIELDS ACT.

TUESDAY, 13 OCTOBER, 1863.

Present:—

MR. BUCHANAN,
MR. C. COWPER, JUNR.,
MR. GRAY,
MR. WILSON,
MR. WISDOM.

JAMES BUCHANAN, ESQ., IN THE CHAIR.

Harold M'Lean, Esq., called in and examined:—

H. M'Lean, Esq.

13 Oct., 1863.

1. By the Chairman: You are the Chief Commissioner of the Western Gold Fields? Yes.
2. Do you recollect a case being referred to you on appeal from Mr. Sibthorpe's decision of Mr. Thompson, of Merrendee? Yes.
3. Will you state what you know of the circumstances? The appeal was lodged against the decision given by Mr. Sub-Commissioner Sibthorpe. It was heard in the usual way, and the decision by Mr. Sibthorpe was reversed by the Appeal Court, consisting of myself and other two members, of which I was Chairman. I can state the grounds on which Mr. Sibthorpe's decision was given, and the grounds on which it was reversed, if the Committee desire it.
4. Will you state the nature of the case? The case was with reference to the right of possession of two water-races at Merrendee.
5. By Mr. Wilson: Were these water-races formed at any considerable expense? They must have been formed at some considerable expense.
6. Have you any idea what they cost? I have not; but I fancy some hundreds of pounds must have been expended. I have not seen the ground myself.
7. By the Chairman: Will you state what was Mr. Sibthorpe's decision? Mr. Sibthorpe decided in favour of a man named Symes, against Thompson, the appellant. Symes claimed by virtue of an alleged mortgage from the original possessors; and Thompson claimed on two grounds: one of having obtained the bare right of the holdings from the original party previous to Symes having come into any possession of them; and further, on the ground of his own right of possession, the races having been abandoned, not upheld, according to the Gold Fields Regulations. Mr. Sibthorpe decided against Thompson because he had not obtained a registry of the transfer from the original holders to himself, as required by the regulations. The Appeal Court decided in favour of Thompson, reversing Mr. Sibthorpe's decision, because it was established that Thompson had lawful possession, without reference to any gift or transfer as a forfeited holding; he had taken possession of it as a forfeited holding. It was on the second count of Thompson's claim that the decision was given in his favour.
8. Thompson or any one else could have walked in and taken possession without reference to any transfer? Yes, that was the ground on which he was upheld, by the decision of the

H. M'Lean, Esq.

13 Oct., 1863.

Appeal Court, in possession. The claim of Symes, I might mention, was that the right and interest of the original holders had been sold for him by order of the District Court, and he had purchased it; but the Appeal Court found that at the time the sale took place, these parties had no right or interest in that race to sell, and therefore we were compelled to give the decision in favour of Thompson.

9. On the strength of the decision of the Appeal Court did Thompson get possession given him again? Directions were given that he should be allowed possession, and then the matter was taken up by the Supreme Court.

10. By Mr. Wilson: The Appeal Court was decided by the Supreme Court to be illegally constituted? Yes, and the decision of the Appeal Court was set aside.

11. By the Chairman: Do you know the reason of the illegality of the Appeal Court? Yes; because the Chairman (myself) was not possessed of a miner's right, as required by the Gold Fields Act.

12. By Mr. Wisdom: Have you a miner's right now? Yes

13. Had you it six months since? Yes.

14. By the Chairman: So that the man has now lost possession of the race again, simply on this technical ground, although the merits of the case are in his favour? I would not go the length of saying that, as I think it was almost on a technical ground—on a point of law—he got possession, that he took this forfeited race. He had gone to no expense upon it, but this man, Symes, had lent money upon it, upon the labour of the original party.

15. Did not Thompson originally purchase it? No, he purchased nothing; he took possession under a deed of gift.

16. By Mr. Wisdom: Symes had security on the race? Yes.

17. That security would not be recognized by the Commissioner? Not unless the holder of the security conformed to the regulations on the gold fields.

18. By Mr. Gray: Are we to understand, as a fact, that Symes was the party who actually advanced the money for the construction of the race in the first instance? He might have advanced it or have lent it afterwards.

19. He was the person who found the money to construct the race? It may be said that the race had been constructed with Symes' money, whether he paid it in the first instance or afterwards. It is absolutely necessary that there should be a forfeiture of holdings on the gold fields that are now upheld, and it was under that provision of the regulations that Thompson obtained possession.

20. What is the length of time of absence from or neglect of any work of that kind that causes forfeiture? A work of that particular kind, fourteen days.

21. By Mr. Wilson: Unless the party can shew it was through inclemency of weather? Then he can obtain a registry of it.

22. By the Chairman: Do you know if Thompson held a miner's right at the time? Yes, he did; I can almost say so, as he could not have brought forward his case without it. I do not remember seeing it at the time.

23. It is stated here that he did not? I think Thompson did not produce his miner's right, but that he swore he was possessed of it. That is my impression. The Court was satisfied on the subject.

24. By Mr. Wisdom: What do you think was the value of the race—what did it cost? I do not know exactly what it cost, but I should say probably about £300. I fancy the value of it was about £200 or £250.

25. By the Chairman: Then he had to pay a deposit before he would appeal? Yes, he had to pay a deposit of £3.

26. By Mr. Wisdom: Who is in possession of the race now—Mr. Symes? I cannot say; I have not interfered with the matter since the Supreme Court took it up.

27. You are not aware who is in possession? I am so far aware of it, that I had a communication from the Commissioner, now in charge of the district, saying that the race was not being used, and that he had authorized certain parties to use it; and I wrote to him to tell him he was wrong, that he must not interfere in the matter in any way, it having come into the hands of the Supreme Court.

28. By Mr. Wilson: Are copies of all the depositions and papers in this case in your office? Yes, there are copies of the depositions before Mr. Sibthorpe, and copies of the notes of evidence in the Appeal Court; and also the correspondence with the parties; in fact, I have them in Sydney.

29. Will you hand them to the Committee? Yes. (Vide Appendix.)

30. By the Chairman: Do you know anything of the case of Thomas Farrell, of Burrandong? Yes.

31. Will you state to the Committee what you know of the case? There is a notice of appeal, waiting the re-formation of the Appeal Court, and which will be heard immediately the Court sits.

32. The appeal is against a decision of Mr. Sub-Commissioner King? Yes, there was a correspondence between myself, Mr. King, and Mr. Sibthorpe, on the subject.

33. By Mr. Wilson: Will you be kind enough to tell the nature of this case of Mr. Farrell's? There were two features in the case—one as to the right of possession of certain ground at all; the second feature, as to the extent of the ground which the party in whose favour Mr. King decided were entitled to.

34. It was a dispute between Mr. Farrell and other parties as to the possession of certain auriferous land? Yes; it was a very complicated case, because the ground was on the border of private property; and when the surveyor marked off the line of Crown lands both these parties hastened to seize possession of this land, which was formerly thought to be private property, but which proved to be Crown land. The question was, which of these parties first obtained legal possession of the land. It was originally in possession of the party now holding it—Mr. Brown—as private land. A correspondence passed between myself and Mr. King; and I caused him, as far as I could, to revise his decision, and remeasure the land. Some alterations were then made in favour of Farrell and another party, who were seeking possession of the same land; Mr. King would revise it no further, therefore it had to come to the Appeal Court. H. M'Lean, Esq. 13 Oct., 1863.

35. By the Chairman: Meantime was Mr. Brown working the claim? Yes. Farrell's party—the appellants, there were two parties—applied to me to stop the working of the claim, as Chairman of the Appeal Court; but not being qualified to conduct the business of the Court as Chairman, I did not feel myself qualified to act, and I therefore informed them it was not in my power to make any order on the subject.

36. By Mr. Gray: Have you held a miner's right long? Yes; and as soon as I am re-gazetted I shall be able to act.

37. By Mr. Wilson: You stated, in a former part of your evidence, that this Farrell's case would have to be brought before the Appeal Court—how long is it since the Appeal Court has sat? More than six months.

38. What is the reason it is not sitting now? Because there is no Chairman. Government were waiting until I was qualified to be re-gazetted.

39. How long have you been qualified? Since the end of the last month.

40. By Mr. Wisdom: Have you been gazetted yet? No; but I had to recommend other gentlemen to act as members of the Court, and the recommendation was sent down immediately before I came down the other day. If the decision of the Appeal Court should be in favour of Farrell, it will scarcely reach the gold that has been taken from the ground;—certainly a levy could be made.

41. By Mr. Wilson: Are you aware how long it is since he paid his £3 and lodged his appeal? Some months back—some considerable period; I do not remember the exact date.

42. He may have sustained a considerable loss from the circumstance of there not being an Appeal Court? He may, if his case were such as would succeed in a Court.

43. By the Chairman: As soon as your Appeal Court is appointed by Government this case will be heard? This case will be heard with the least possible delay.

44. By Mr. Wilson: Have you any papers connected with the case? No, I have brought no papers; it escaped my attention that Farrell's case was mentioned.

WEDNESDAY, 23 DECEMBER, 1863.

Present:—

MR. C. COWPER, JUNR., | MR. RUSDEN.

JAMES BUCHANAN, ESQ., IN THE CHAIR.

Luke Homan Sibthorpe, Esq., called in and examined:—

45. By the Chairman: You are Sub Gold Commissioner? Yes, at Stony Creek, Western Gold Fields. L. H. Sibthorpe, Esq. 23 Dec., 1863.

46. Do you recollect being called upon to decide a dispute between one Thompson and others? Yes.

47. In reference to races, I think? Yes.

48. Will you tell the Committee, shortly, the circumstances of the case? I took a memorandum from my registry-book, when I got the summons to attend the Committee, which I have here. This man, Symes, kept a store at Merrendee, and he upheld a party of men, who went by the name of Endicott and party, in cutting a race. I think the race was somewhere about five miles long. However, the dry weather set in, and they found they could not get water into this race. They had dipped very deeply into Symes' books, and bolted, and left him there. He followed them, wherever they went to—I believe to Mudgee—and put the case into the District Court, got a verdict against them, came over to me, and asked me whether he could seize on the races. I said, "I am quite a novice here, and would rather you asked Mr. M'Lean, the Chief Commissioner." He did so; and Mr. M'Lean replied, that races or claims were chattel property, and could be seized. The Bailiff of the District Court came out, seized on these races, sold them, and Symes became the proprietor. I made this memorandum in my registry: "By virtue of a decree given in "the Mudgee District Court in this case, I transfer the right and title of the defendant to "the race on Merrendee, and also that on Shawn's Creek, on Old Ridge, 24th July, 1862." Then Thompson appears on the stage. It appears that when these men, Endicott and others, were waiting outside, the Court at Mudgee, in order to deprive Symes of his right, made a present to this Thompson of the property. This is the case that was to have come before the Appeal Court. I gave my decision against Thompson; he appealed, paid me the money, and I sent it to the Chief Commissioner "on the 26th September, by order of the Appeal "Court, Yarrabone Creek"—which is the same as Shawn's Creek—"and Meroo River to "Merrendee, Old Ridge. Registered for William Thompson." That was in virtue of the decision of the Appeal Court. They reversed my decision. Then I have another registry: "Registered the above for the plaintiff"—that is, Symes—"on the 10th January, 1863, "by prohibition, in the Supreme Court—23rd December, 1862." They negatived the functions of the Appeal Court; and, as a matter of course, my decision held good, and at present it stands in the book as Symes'. At this last Appeal Court Thompson did not appear.

L. H. Sibthorpe, Esq.
23 Dec., 1863.

49. That is to say, he made no further claim? He made no further claim. I believe Symes allowed some other men to jump it, and he has lost it; but I should inform the Committee that I have nothing to do with Merrendee now; that part of the district is given over to Mr. Scott.
50. By Mr. Rusden: On what grounds did the Appeal Court reverse your decision? As I have heard—not that I know—Symes brought no evidence at all as to the registry of the claim, and failing in that they gave it against him. He never summoned me.
51. By the Chairman: "Thompson claims on two grounds"—Mr. M'Lean in his evidence says—(The Chairman read the evidence of Mr. M'Lean.) Did he possess the race before Symes took possession and came to you to register? The race was given to Thompson, as I considered, in a surreptitious way, by Endicott.
52. Did he what is called "jump" it, or take possession of it? It was before I took charge of the gold fields; but I presume he had possession, otherwise Symes would not have brought the charge against him. Symes had possession ab origine, for he was one of the shareholders. Any person holding a race that he cannot work, all he has to do is to go and register, and he gets an exemption for a certain length of time, till rain comes, and he can work the race. In that point of view you might call it jumping on Thompson's part; for although Symes was a part proprietor, he had not come into full possession till the verdict was given.
53. Then Symes did not apply for this exemption? No.
54. One of the disputed races has been jumped by some other person, and a decision has been given in their favour by Commissioner Scott? Probably.
55. At the time Endicott had lost possession, and it became disputed whether it was Thompson's or Symes', there was no water in the race? No.
56. It was not workable? No.
57. Do you know whether it was long after before it became of any use? I could not say long after, but a considerable length of time; that winter was a very very dry one.
58. The rule on the gold fields is, I believe, if from absence of rain a race is of no use, by registering, a man can retain it without keeping it in order? Yes; that is his own look-out.
59. He can register it until rain falls? Yes.
60. That is the protection to the owner from the race being jumped? Yes.
61. By Mr. C. Cowper, junr.: I understood you to say that Symes lost his claim to the race by neglecting to use it in any way? Symes never lost possession of it.
62. That is the reason given by Mr. M'Lean? I do not know anything about that; that was evidence in the Appeal Court.
63. That was the only reason that could be given for Symes losing his race? I am not aware of any other.
64. Do you think, considering the state of the weather, it was possible that Thompson could do any more than Symes had done in establishing the claim, by keeping it in order? He could not use it.
65. Do you think it was possible that Thompson could have done any more than Symes had done to establish the race? He could have done it, but it would have been throwing away money and labour, for an empty race, unless looked after every day, is liable to have the edges broken down by cattle.
66. Might not Thompson have been prepared to lose a certain amount of money, looking forward to the time when the race would bring him in £3 a week? He had not any money to lose. He might have done so if he had the money.
67. Looking forward to that time, he might have made greater exertion to keep the race in order than Symes had done? He might have done, but I never heard of his doing anything to the race.
68. By Mr. Rusden: Symes sued Endicott and Company? Yes, in Mudgee.
69. Do you know the date? No.
70. It is stated here, 30th April, 1862—I suppose it was about this time? Yes.
71. Did these men's miner's rights continue? Yes.
72. They still held rights for this claim; or by abandoning it, did their rights cease for that claim? The miner's right lasts for twelve months, and gives the possessor permission to dig in any part of New South Wales.
73. Did they receive any consideration from Thompson for the race? None; and when they abandoned the claim they did not give it to Thompson; it was a kind of nefarious proceeding as I considered it. When they were going into Court they then gave it to Thompson without any fee or reward.
74. Merely to prevent Symes' claim coming against this man, and had abandoned the claim without consideration? I am so positive in saying this, because at the time I heard the case I examined this man Endicott on oath, and I gleaned from him that they got nothing from Thompson. They put a most fictitious value on the race. Said I, "If you are only "mere diggers, how on earth can you afford to make a present of so much property to this "man for nothing; why not give it to your creditors?" They could assign no reason for that.
75. He states here, "I held no miner's right from that time till September of the same year." Did their rights expire? No, their rights stood till 31st December, 1862.
76. Do you recollect the date on which you ordered Thompson to quit, after your decision? No, I do not.
77. Was it about the 24th July? I registered it in the name of Symes on the 24th July.
78. That is the day on which he says he was ordered out? Yes, it was subsequent to that I heard the case.
79. Do you recollect the date on which the Appeal Court reversed your decision? It is here the 26th September, 1862.

L. H. Sibthorpe, Esq. 23 Dec., 1863.

80. Then he says, "I arrived at Stony Creek from Bathurst, registered the races, and obtained the water permit"? I gave it him; then on the 23rd December I reversed it.
81. Then he states that he paid £3 to you for the appeal to the Appeal Court? Yes.
82. On account of some irregularity there was no Appeal Court held till a certain date? Yes.
83. Will you state when that was? I think some time in October.
84. I think you stated that Thompson made no appearance?. He made no appearance. He never gave me the second £3; he only gave me the original £3, which, as a matter of course, he has forfeited.
85. He says here, "I have written to Mr. Sibthorpe, asking him to be again heard by the Court of Appeal, according to the Gold Fields Act," and he states that he received an answer, dated 14th March, 1863. That will be the £3 for this last appeal? Yes, for the last appeal.
86. By Mr. C. Cowper, junr.: He did not give you £3 for the last appeal? No. My answer to him was—"In reply, I beg leave to inform you that I believe at the present time there "is no Court of Appeal, therefore I cannot give you the information required in your com- "munication of the 6th."
87. I understand you to say, that to establish his right to appear at this Appeal Court which was held in October last, he must have given you a fee of £3, and that he never offered it? Yes.
88. Therefore he forfeited his right to appear at that Court? Perhaps, through the irregularity of the business, he might have sent it to Mr. M'Lean, who might have accepted it. I do not know whether he did or not.
89. By Mr. Rusden: In a letter, dated 1st September, 1863, addressed to me, he says, "In "my communication to Mr. Sibthorpe, of the 6th of March, I wrote thus:—I, W. Thompson, "of Merrendee, miner, demand to be heard (my case, Thompson v. Symes) in the Court of "Appeal, and instructions thereon, namely, when and where that Court will be held, and "the name of the Chairman thereof; having deposited with you, on a former date, the "required sum of £3 sterling." Of course if there was only one payment that appeal was heard? Yes, and the money passed out of my hands.
90. Of course he ought to have sent another £3 when demanding another appeal? Had he demanded another appeal he must have sent another £3; had he done so I would have replied similarly to that letter I sent him back; although I was corrected by Mr. M'Lean, who stated that there was an Appeal Court in existence, though not regularly formed.
91. By Mr. C. Cowper, junr.: May not your letter to him, informing him that there was no Appeal Court in existence, have caused him to neglect offering you the £3? It was in answer to his letter that I wrote that.
92. He asked you for certain information preparatory to his taking steps for appealing, and you tell him there is no Appeal Court at all? Yes.
93. Might not he, acting upon your letter, have consequently neglected to send you the necessary fee of £3? No, he had been advised by his lawyer, that he formerly paid £3 which the Government still held, not having paid it back to him. That is a thing I know nothing about.
94. You clearly understood that he considered he had no right to offer you that second £3? By that letter evidently he considered that he could appeal the second time on account of the first deposit being in the hands of the Government.
95. By Mr. Rusden: By his having been put out of these races, through the informality of the Appeal Court, what loss do you consider he sustained? Nothing at all.
96. He states that now one of the races lets for £3? He is just what is called, in the country, a bush-lawyer—a most perturbed individual.
97. If one of the races lets for £3, and he would have had the rent, he would have made something by it? He could not have the rent of the race if he did not own it. If Symes had let it he must have been at some considerable expense to have put it in order, judging from the state it was in when I saw it.
98. He states here that he has been liable to pay some £40 law expenses, through the decision being upset in the Supreme Court? I do not think he replied at all in the Supreme Court.
99. Has he paid nothing? To my knowledge. My only means of knowing anything about that is the public papers. When the prohibition was asked there was no demurrer to it. At the Appeal Court he pleaded his own cause; there was no lawyer there.
100. By the Chairman: After the case was settled in Symes' favour by the Supreme Court, did Thompson complain to you of trespass by Symes? I was there shortly after, and he did not. He said, "I have lost it again," or words to that effect, and then there was no one working it.
101. By Mr. Rusden: These are the particulars (reading a power of attorney from William Deane, solicitor, to Henry James, to collect the sum of £40)? He incurred no expenses at all. That is Symes' attorney making a demand for the costs. I am sure Thompson never paid Symes a penny.
102. I should think he could have compelled him? He had nothing.
103. By the Chairman: To go back to the question of the race—It is your opinion, as the Commissioner there, knowing the circumstances, having dealt with the case, that Thompson never was entitled to the race, and suffered no loss by its being taken from him? It is my opinion that he never had a right to the race, and suffered no detriment from not having obtained it; and I might as well assign the reason why I think so: the weather was so very very dry that the river, in places, was not running, and the race was useless to any one.
104. Are you aware whether Endicott and party had their claim registered in your book? Yes.

L. H. Sibthorpe, Esq. 23 Dec., 1863.

105. At the time when they went to Court in Mudgee it was registered in their name? Yes.
106. And was then not workable? And was then not workable.
107. It could not have been jumped from Endicott? No, not if he were in possession.
108. He was legally in possession in your books? Yes, but by leaving the district he lost possession.
109. By Mr. C. Cowper, junr.: Did Thompson jump the race previous to the decision in the Court at Mudgee? No, subsequent to the decision.
110. After Symes was supposed to have taken possession? After Symes purchased from the bailiff.
111. By the Chairman: Was it long after he purchased that he got it registered in your books? I am not sure, but I think almost immediately.
112. By Mr. C. Cowper, junr.: You do not remember the date on which the Court was held at Mudgee? No; he merely shewed me the distress warrants that had been issued; I had nothing to do with it, and I took no notice of it.
113. By Mr. Rusden: I think you stated that, when you were hearing the case, you heard that this man had given the claim to Thompson? That was given in evidence by Endicott and his party.
114. By the Chairman: Was Symes in possession of a miner's right? Yes.
115. And the other parties also? Yes.
116. By Mr. Rusden: Mr. M'Lean says Symes claimed by virtue of an alleged mortgage from the original possessors; you have stated that he was a shareholder? So he told me.
117. He does not appear to have put in that claim before Mr. M'Lean? This mortgage makes him a shareholder; he advanced money and rations, and then they gave him a lien upon this claim.
118. He did not hold a miner's right? Yes, he must hold a miner's right, whether a sleeping partner or not.

THURSDAY, 14 JANUARY, 1864.

Present:—

MR. C. COWPER, JUNR., | MR. RUSDEN,
MR. WISDOM.

JAMES BUCHANAN, ESQ., IN THE CHAIR.

Mr. William Thompson called in and examined:—

Mr. W. Thompson. 14 Jan., 1864.

119. By the Chairman: You are a miner at Merrendee? Yes.
120. You became possessed of a water-race there? Two water-races, one from Yarraban Creek, the other from the Meroo River.
121. Will you tell the Committee the circumstances under which you became possessed of them? The party that originally commenced to cut these races in dispute, finished one—the Yarraban Creek race—but had not funds to finish the other, and they gave them up to me.
122. What were their names? One was named Ward; he was the principal man of the party that was left at that time; the other had gone away; the other men that were working with him then were taken in to work on tribute—Gash and Endicott.
123. How did they hand the races over to you? In the first instance, in the water permit belonging to these two races they had been added the one to the other; it was first intended that the big race should come round and join the other, but they cut it lower down to make a shorter cut of it. The party were indebted to a man named Symes, and he sued them in the District Court, at Mudgee, and got a verdict against them. Before this they gave the races up to me, and they also afterwards gave me the water permit. I went to Mr. Sibthorpe at Stony Creek, to get a transfer, but he refused it. I made a second application; he refused that. Nevertheless I posted notices on the ground, and still kept possession, and worked in the lower race till it was finished, and brought the water on to the diggings. In July there was a bailiff came out from Mudgee, and said he came to make a levy, and was going to take possession of these races. I was a little saucy with him, and told him I would not give them up. He made no levy then. Afterwards a sale was made in Mudgee, and Symes bought the races, I believe, for £45. I protested against it, and went over to Mr. Sibthorpe again after this, and the day I went to Mr. Sibthorpe—this time after the sale—Symes was there; it was raining very hard, and as the office was open I went in for shelter, as I saw people in it. Symes was then asking him if he could give him a miner's right dated back, and Mr. Sibthorpe was shewing him the book that he could not do it. I spoke then. "Well," says I, "If Mr. Symes can be supplied with a miner's right dated back, the Country will come to something." I was a little excited at the time. He shewed him the book in my presence that he could not give him one, because they were cut out of the book and the butts sent down to Sydney. He ordered me out of possession, did Mr. Sibthorpe, that day; he did not give me any written notice. I then wrote to Mr. M'Lean, the Chief Commissioner, and asked him if he would cause depositions to be taken on oath of the whole of the evidence with regard to these races; he summoned these men that had worked at these races to Stony Creek, and what depositions were taken I elicited the evidence myself, and it was taken there. Mr. Sibthorpe did not write Ward's evidence as it was given, neither would he do so, as regarded his being the bonâ fide owner of the races when abandoned; and furthermore he fought very hard to omit the time the miner's rights were taken out and when they lapsed. Well, he made a decision against against me at the time these depositions were taken. This was the first time any depositions were taken at all, or any decision given, although he had ordered me out of possession before. I then said I should appeal to the Court of Appeal. Mr. Sibthorpe said there was no Court of Appeal. "Well," says I, "there is one somewhere." He then referred to Hollings, who was Acting Sergeant there, to know who was Chairman of the Court of Appeal, and then he said Judge Cary was the Chairman.

124. Who did? Mr. Sibthorpe. Hollings said the Court of Appeal was in Mudgee; "Yes," says Mr. Sibthorpe, "it is in Mudgee, and Judge Cary is the Chairman." I knew very well he was not the Chairman of the Court of Appeal. I left then. I went myself to Stony Creek, and deposited the required fee of £3 and the notice of appeal, three or four days after, with Mr. Sibthorpe, for the Court of Appeal. That was forwarded to Bathurst, and I got a summons in a week or two after, and went to Bathurst. The case was heard before Mr. Harold M'Lean, the Chief Commissioner, and Mr. Campbell and Mr. Morgan, two assessors, and was decided in my favour. I left Bathurst and returned to Merrendee then, and took possession of the races; went to work, put up the required notices on the ground,* and got two water permits—one for the river race, for two ground sluice-heads, and one for Yarraban Creek for one ground sluice-head. Well, Symes brought the case into the Supreme Court, and got the decision of the Court of Appeal reversed, in consequence of the Chairman not being duly qualified—not holding a miner's right. I was therefore put out of possession, and have been out ever since.

125. By Mr. Wisdom: Has Symes got the race now? There is an injunction on them now.

126. Has he worked it since? Symes had men working in it for a time.

127. By whom was the levy made when the bailiff came out from Mudgee? I saw no levy made at all.

128. Who was the person who put the bailiff in motion? Symes. At the time there was supposed to be a sale, these parties that Symes sued had no miner's rights; they had lapsed on the last day of June, 1862; therefore nobody had any miner's right connected with those races.

129. Were they working in the race at the time? They were not. Mr. Symes swore in Bathurst that they were, and I had no witnesses to disprove it; but they never worked in that race, or either of those races, since the month of March, 1862.

130. When did you take possession first? In the latter part of March, 1862.

131. Soon after they left? I took possession the day they left off working. They owed me some money for tools and one thing or another.

132. Were any of the persons who had the races before you, examined at Bathurst? No, their depositions were taken at Stony Creek, and they had those depositions in the Court at Bathurst.

133. By the Chairman: Have not these races been unworkable for months in consequence of the drought? They have had water on the Meroo these twelve months now.

134. Have not the races you complain of been for months unworkable? There is one race that sometimes there is no water in—the Yarraban Creek race; but there has been an enormous quantity of water this year—more than has been known there for ten years. The river race has been running now for about twelve months and never stopped. The Yarraban Creek race has not been running for the whole time.

135. By Mr. Wisdom: Did both of these races belong to Ward's party? Yes.

136. By the Chairman: Was there not some question between you and the Commissioner with reference to registering these races? Yes. Previous to this the Commissioner had registered them in behalf of Symes, actually when he was no shareholder. It was proved by the man's own oath that he never worked in the race, never had any share of gold in the race, and never employed a man in the race, nor had he a miner's right at the time this register was entered.

137. What occurred between you and the Commissioner when you went to register the race? He told me these men owed Symes some money, and that he should not register the races in my name, as Symes had a claim on them. The answer I made was this:—"Is there any-"thing in the regulations that binds a man to stick to a claim or a race?—there is nothing "binding on a man that he shall stop and work it if it does not suit." "Well," says he, "I will not register it for you"; and that I was not to come there to bother him any more.

138. Did any consideration pass between you and Ward's party for these races? None; I never gave them a shilling; but previous to this I had made them some tools and repaired some for them, but I never made any charge to them, because the men were hard up.

139. They were in the Court at Mudgee, were they not, at the time they made the transfer to you? No; the time they gave me the races was previous to Mr. Symes summoning them to Mudgee.

140. Symes summoned them for debt, and got a verdict? Yes.

141. Was it not after the decision of the Court in Mudgee that you got the water permit? Yes.

142. On getting the water permit from these men, did you go to the Commissioner's quarters to get it transferred? I asked him to do it, but he would not do it.

143. What did you say? I told him I should keep possession.

144. What did he say? He said, "The races are Symes' according to law"—those were the words he made use of—"and he shall have them. The answer I made was, "He shall "not have them; I am expending money and labour there, and I will stick there till I am "put out by force."

145. You never registered the races? I never registered them till I came from the Court of Appeal. Mr. Sibthorpe never would register them for me before.

146. So that, if I understand you right, you did not get the transfer registered in the Commissioner's

* NOTE (on revision):—registered the races, Sept. 30, 1862.

Mr. W. Thompson.

14 Jan., 1864.

missioner's books, from Ward to yourself; neither did you get them registered in your name until the Court of Appeal gave the decision in your favour? No, he never would do it. I omitted to tell you that I went to have these races registered before I got possession of the old water permit, and he would not register them because I had nothing to shew for them. When I got the water permit I took it to him, and he said it was an old thing of no use at all. He said, "Who gave you that?" I said, "Ward gave it me"; and I said, as he would not register the races before; because I brought nothing to shew, perhaps he would do it now; he said, no, he would not. Ward wrote on the back of this that he had made a deed of gift of these races and this water permit to me, and signed it "William Ward." I presented that to the Commissioner, and he said it was no good—it was too old. I said the older the better. He was going to stick to it, but I asked him for it back again.

147. Was not Symes one of the original shareholders in the race? He never had a share. When he gave credit to these men, the promise to him was that they would give him a fifth working—not a sleeping—share, after the work was completed, as a bonus for the credit he had given them, after he was paid all due demands from the gold. I believe they gave him £90 worth of gold two or three weeks previous to him suing them; they kept one ounce of gold—that was all they kept—to buy some powder to finish out these races, and in the mean time he sued them—before they had the water run out in this Yarraban race—and as soon as they found he was going to sue them they left off work at once.

148. Symes got a verdict against them for some sum of money? Yes.

149. And a bailiff came out but did not levy? He made no levy.

150. How long before the verdict did you get possession of the races? Some time in March—a long time before the verdict.

151. How did you get possession before you got the water permit? I went to work at once.

152. That did not give you legal possession? If one party goes out of a work on the gold fields and abandons it, and another goes in, that gives them possession. I really think the month of March was not out when I went; it was either the latter end of March or the very early part of April that I went to Stony Creek, to endeavour to get them registered in my name without this old water permit. In fact they did not know who had the water permit at that time; they thought little Harry had it—one of the party who had gone away—but he had left it behind him, and Ward found it in the hut and gave it to me, thinking it might be of some use to me.

153. Must it not be apparent to you that it was absolutely necessary to shew your authority from the former occupiers, to the Commissioner, before he could give you possession? They had abandoned it and took to alluvial sinking to get a little gold, and they said to me, "We are going to leave these races, and if you like you may have them"; so I went to work and got three or four other men to work with me on tribute.

154. You were in possession how long before the trial at Mudgee? From the latter part of March until July; I was never disturbed until July, by Symes or anybody else.

155. By Mr. Wisdom: Was it in July you got the permit? No, it was later than that. I got the original water permit some time in April, I think.

156. Before Symes attempted to levy? Yes.

157. By the Chairman: Was not Endicott one of the party? Yes, Endicott, Ward, and Gash.

158. Did Mr. Sibthorpe, the Commissioner, tell you, in any of the applications you made, to register or transfer these races, that Symes had previously made an application of a similar nature? He opened the book, and he told me that Symes had had his name registered there some months before—I cannot tell how many months—as being the owner of that race along with Endicott, but Endicott and the whole party denied they ever had anything to do with Symes. Endicott was not the original owner of the race—he was only working on tribute.

159. You say the bailiff never took possession of these races? No, he never did.

160. And they were not sold? Not by him. They made a sale in Mudgee, in what way I cannot tell you. The bailiff came there, stopped one day, and went away. The question was asked in Bathurst, did he disturb anything, or take anything away, or even throw out a shovelful of earth, and Symes swore he never removed anything.

161. By Mr. Wisdom: How long after that was it when you were dispossessed? It was shortly after the bailiff came that I was ordered out of possession by Mr. Sibthorpe. After that I was put in possession again by the Court of Appeal.

162. Did you go out of possession? Yes, I went out when I was ordered.

163. How long were you out of possession altogether? I have been out of possession ever since they got the decision of the Court of Appeal reversed in the Supreme Court.

164. How long were you out of possession between the time of Mr. Sibthorpe dispossessing, and the local Court giving you possession again? I cannot say.

165. By the Chairman: Will you state at what amount you estimate your loss from the time of your being dispossessed up to the present? With such a run of water as there has been this year in those races, I believe, to speak within bounds, there could have been £1,000 obtained. What could have been cleared no man could estimate.

166. By Mr. Wisdom: Is the race running now? Yes, Meroo River has been running these twelve months, but it is not running to the far end because the fluming is broken down. Symes would not pay labour for working it.

167. What was the cost of that portion of the race that you completed? I think it cost us about £60. The other part of it cost about £400.

168. The part that Ward did? Yes, it cost them £400, besides their own labour.

169. You gave Ward no consideration? No, I gave him nothing. It cost them £400 in other labour besides their own, and in tools and powder.

170. I suppose you do not know whether they owed Symes any money? The latter part of the time they were working there he wanted a share in this race, and they would not sell him him one; I believe he made all sorts of offers to get a share. He was to get a fifth share after it was completed. Mr. W. Thompson.

171. Then he must have advanced them money or goods, or something? They got goods.

172. By the Chairman: I believe, according to the usual practice on the gold fields, in the absence of rain a man can register his race until rain falls? Yes. 14 Jan., 1864.

173. When you got possession, in the first instance, were the races workable? No; after the Court of Appeal it was dry weather; there was no water; there was a drought at the time.

174. By Mr. Wisdom: What month was that? I think the Court of Appeal was in September.

175. By the Chairman: Was Symes present at the Court of Appeal? Yes.

176. Had he witnesses? No, he brought no witnesses; he wanted some men to go for witnesses, but I believe they would not go; he wanted them to do things that were not exactly right—they were not going to tell a lie for him.

177. By Mr. Cowper, junr.: There has been a second Court of Appeal? I applied to the second Court of Appeal, but they refused to entertain the application.

178. By Mr. Wisdom: Why? I do not know.

179. By Mr. Cowper, junr.: Did you ever pay the three guineas for that application? I paid the usual fee the first time, and it was considered it was not necessary to pay it a second time, because, although I gained the case in the other Court of Appeal, which was pronounced not a duly established Court, I never had the money returned according to the regulations. Here are two letters I got the other week, in answer to applications I made to the second Court of Appeal. (Handed in. Vide Appendix.)

180. By Mr. Rusden: You only made one payment? Only one.

181. By Mr. Cowper, junr.: That was to entitle you to be heard in the first Court of Appeal? Yes.

182. You never offered Mr. M'Lean a second fee of £3 to entitle you to be heard in the new Court of Appeal? No; my solicitor, Mr. Jones, of Mudgee, advised me that it would not be required, as I had already paid £3, and they had that still in hand. I wrote three or four different times, requesting to be heard in the second Court of Appeal.

183. By Mr. Rusden: Did this Court of Appeal ever sit the second time? Yes, not long ago. The last application I made, I made through Commissioner Scott, and sent it round by the "Louisa," and then I got an answer, but I could not get an answer before.

184. By the Chairman: Did Ward's party consider the property in these races of any value when they gave them up to you? They considered that if they had had any friends with money to back them, the thing was worth a couple of thousand pounds; but they got so disgusted with the affair and laughed at by other people for wasting their labour, and then this Harry, the chief man of the party, going away and leaving them, that they gave it up.

185. They were hard-up? Yes; they had worked eighteen months and hardly got anything.

186. And by this time they were sued by their quasi partner, the storekeeper, Mr. Symes? Yes.

187. Sued for some debt? For rations, I believe.

188. And he got a verdict in Mudgee? Yes.

189. Does it not strike you as an extraordinary proceeding that these men, who seem to have been hard-up gold diggers, should make you a present of valuable property like this? But they were all for going away at the time—they could not sell it to anybody—nobody had money to buy it of them.

190. They might have got enough to have paid their debts for it? They could get nothing for it; it was considered useless labour; it was thought the water never could be brought along that way.

191. It was considered, then, when it was handed to you, as useless labour? It was in my estimation very valuable property, and I always considered it such.

192. There seems to have been differences of opinion about it, then? There was plenty of people that did not think the thing was worth a farthing, because they did not think the water could be brought in.

193. By Mr. Cowper, junr.: Still it might have been valuable to Symes, as payment of his debt? When he got possession he did not make anything of the big race; he never worked it only for two or three days or a week altogether; he had some of those fellows going about public-houses, and they let leaks get in it where the crabs or lobsters had dug holes, and let the water out. In fact the bottom race has been jumped since that, and decided against Symes altogether, by a man of the name of Warren, or Wallins, or something of that sort. I dare say it would take £100 now to put it in repair.

194. By Mr. Wisdom: If you got possession now, it would cost you a good deal to work it? Yes; there are hundreds of tons of soil that have slipped down into it, and a lot of the fluming broken down.

195. By Mr. Cowper, junr.: You have handed in a letter from Mr. M'Lean, refusing your request to be heard at the second Appeal Court—do you recollect writing a letter to Mr. M'Lean before the 20th November, respecting the advertisement by Mr. Symes of the sale of Shawn's Creek race? Yes.

196. What did you state in that letter? I cut a piece out of the Mudgee Newspaper and sent in the letter, to shew that Mr. Symes had advertised a race for sale, by the name of Shawn's Creek, and I stated that this was really the Yarraban Creek race—one of the races in dispute, and asking him to put an injunction on it, and to entertain the case in the Court of Appeal; and that letter I have put in was the answer I got.

197. This letter of the 20th November? Yes.

Mr. W. Thompson. 14 Jan., 1861.

198. By Mr. Rusden: Were you not sued to pay £40 for expenses? Yes.
199. Have you ever paid it? No.
200. Who did pay it? It never was paid, I believe. There was a clerk came out to me from Mudgee, with a demand for payment, and said they would issue execution if I did not pay. I said I would pay nothing.
201. By Mr. Cowper, junr.: It appears by the evidence, that Mr. Symes got £3 a week for this race at one time—What do you think it cost him to put it in order before he got £3 a week for it? That is the Yarraban Creek race—I do not suppose it cost him a pound. It is a race that does not damage so soon as the other.
202. By Mr. Wisdom: The men working it would keep it in repair? Yes, if it got choked up with any stuff off the ridges they would clean it out.
203. How long did he get £3 a week for it? I cannot say; I never interfered with them at all; there have been three or four different parties at it.
204. Are you working up there still? Yes.
205. By Mr. Rusden: What do you consider you have been out of pocket altogether since you first took possession of these races? I spent about £60 in labour. Altogether, running about the country, and in one way or another, I am more than £200 out of pocket, counting loss of time and so on.

WEDNESDAY, 20 JANUARY, 1861.

Present:—

MR. RUSDEN, | MR. GARRETT.

JAMES BUCHANAN, ESQ., IN THE CHAIR.

Mr. Thomas Farrell called in and examined:—

Mr. T. Farrell. 20 Jan., 1861.

206. By the Chairman: Will you just tell us briefly, and to the point, the whole of the circumstances connected with your case—what was the date? The 13th March; on that day myself and party took up a claim on Burrandong; we were four in number.
207. You took up a claim on Burrandong? Yes, on the 13th March.
208. And there were four of you? There were four of us. Well, we took up this claim on the 13th March, and on the 14th there was a dispute as to the ground—another party disputed our title to it. Mr. King came, and gave a decision against us in the matter. I told him that I would appeal against his decision. He told me to go to Stony Creek. On the 16th I went to the office, and told Mr. Sibthorpe that I had come to appeal against Mr. King's decision. I tendered him a written notice of appeal, and £3. He said there was no such thing as an Appeal Court in existence. I told him that I understood that there was. He said, "There is not." So, I said, "What am I to do?—I must have some guarantee that I have tendered this appeal"; and he wrote me out a document saying that there was no such Court in existence, and that therefore he declined to receive the fee tendered to him. He told me that perhaps Mr. King would take it, as he had decided the affair. I saw Mr. King at Mr. Isaacs' place, where he was stopping, and I asked him whether he would give me a written copy of his judgment. He said no, he would not. I then asked him whether he would hear the case again. He said, "No." "Well," I said, "will you receive my appeal?" He said, "No, I will have nothing more to do with Sullivan's party."
209. Sullivan was your mate? He was one of my mates; he was supposed to be the principal at the time. I said to Mr. King, "You will not give me a copy of the judgment?" and he said, "No, I will not." I said, "I do not know what I shall have to do. I shall have to go back and stop on the ground, and keep possession." He said, "Then I shall have to put you off." I said, "I cannot give up my position." I went back to the ground on the 17th, and we commenced sinking a shaft; that was on the following day. On the 24th again I was in Stony Creek, at the Commissioner's place. Mr. King served us with a notice—three of the party—to desist from further working on the claim in dispute, and on the same afternoon I was served with a summons to appear, on the 27th March, on Stony Creek.
210. A summons for what? To answer a charge of trespass preferred by Mr. King, for working on the ground against his decision. I appeared on the 27th, and there was no second Magistrate, and the case was not heard. After I had appeared in the Court, and the case had been put off, I sent in to Mr. M'Lean, the Commissioner at Bathurst. I started on the 28th, and got to Mr. M'Lean's on Monday morning, the 30th. I told him the way it was, and he said that "the Commissioner was in the wrong; he had a right to receive your appeal." He said, "Did you offer it?" I said, "I did." He said, "They were mistaken; you had better go back again, and make an offer of the appeal again." "Is that your advice?" I said. He said, "That is my advice—to go back and offer the appeal again." I told him that I had been summoned. "Is the case tried yet?" he said. I said, "It is not; I appeared on the 27th, but there was no second Magistrate, and the case was put off." I told my mates, if the case was called on again to get it adjourned, if I was not back from Mr. M'Lean's, for a day or two. During my absence in Bathurst the case was called on and adjourned ——
211. In consequence of your absence? In consequence of my absence. It was adjourned from the 30th March to the 4th April, and then again until the 7th, when it was tried and dismissed. The case was not tried on the 4th, because there was no second Magistrate.

Mr. T. Farrell. 20 Jan., 1864.

212. What Magistrates sat on the Bench when your case was tried and dismissed? Mr. Cousins and Mr. Sibthorpe. They dismissed the case on the ground that I was misled by both Commissioners, and they said they believed that had my appeal been received there would have been no trespass committed by us. Immediately after the Bench had given this decision, I went to Mr. King, and asked him if he would receive my appeal? He said, "No; go to Mr. Sibthorpe." I went to Mr. Sibthorpe again, and asked him if he would receive it. At first he said "No," and then he asked me if I had got it ready, and I said, "Yes." I had the notice written out, and so I handed it to him with the £3, and he received it and enclosed it in a letter, and I carried that letter to the post office myself and posted it to Mr. M'Lean. That was on the 7th April, and I went home in the afternoon. I came to the conclusion then to go to Mr. M'Lean, and cause an injunction to be put on the ground, to prevent parties working it until the hearing of the case in the Court of Appeal. On the 9th our windlass and rope, and all the things belonging to our party, were pitched off the ground, and some of Brown's party commenced to sink a shaft about twenty-five feet from where we were working. I went into Bathurst and waited on Mr. M'Lean, and told him the way it was. "Well," he said, "I cannot do anything in the affair; the Court is not properly organized."

213. Who said that? Mr. M'Lean; and he said, "I am not qualified to act in causing an injunction to be laid on the ground." I said it was very hard to be kept running from one to another without getting to know what to do. I told him I had come for advice, but he told me he could not do anything—that he could not act to cause an injunction to be put on the ground. I then said that I would go to Mr. Macintosh (solicitor) and see what he said. I went to him, and he told me that the best thing I could do was to get a writ of prohibition from the Supreme Court. He proceeded in the matter, and after a certain time he told me that no writ would lie. This ran away with some time, up to the 30th April. On the 30th April I wrote to the Minister for Lands, giving him a statement of the matter, and I received answer from the Minister for Lands that he would give it due attention. I think I have a copy of that letter with me. It was on the 15th May I received that answer. Then again, on the 15th June, I received another letter from the Department of Lands, saying that it seemed to be a case which would have to be settled by an Appeal Court. After I got this letter from the Minister for Lands I had no more to do with the claim. I waited all the time. There was no injunction, and they were left in possession of the claim to work it until I think it would be about the middle, or at any rate some time in October. It was not very long before the sitting of the Appeal Court, and then they were prohibited from working these two claims disputed.

214. By Mr. Rusden: They worked them up to a certain date? Yes.

215. Up to about October? Yes, somewhere about October.

216. And then? Then they were allowed to work one of the three claims they had taken; which was justly their rights; and there was an injunction laid upon the other two which were disputed by my party and by Nolan's party.

217. By the Chairman: By whom—by Mr. M'Lean? Yes.

218. And that was in October? Yes; in March I commenced, and the injunction was not laid until October.

219. And was the land worked then? Yes. This injunction was laid on the two claims which were disputed, some time in October. It may have been two or three weeks previous to the hearing of the case in the Supreme Court. The hearing of the case took place on the 27th November, and this might have been about the 1st November.

220. How did the matter go on after the injunction? They did no more work upon those two claims until the Court sat in Bathurst on the 27th November. Mr. M'Lean said we were entitled to an eighty feet claim out of those three, as there never was an amalgamation of the party. He told Mr. King first that he marked out three claims as being for an amalgamated party of twelve; but it was proved that there never was any amalgamation. There was no registry of it for eleven days after we took possession.

221. By Mr. Rusden: Have you got any copy of that decision in Bathurst? No, I never got it.

222. By the Chairman: They decided that you were entitled to a claim? Yes, they decided that we were entitled to a claim out of those three, and Brown was first to get his choice of the ground.

223. Brown was first to get his choice? Yes, he got first choice out of this block of ground, and Nolan's party were to get the next choice. They marked out the ground about an hour before we did, and we were to get the other claim.

224. And was there ground enough for the whole of you? Oh! yes; the top was there, but the bottom was gone. The surface was there but the bottom was taken out. That was done while I was trying to get an injunction, and that was the reason why I tried to get an injunction at first—to prevent them doing so.

225. By Mr. Rusden: You desired to obtain an injunction in order to restrain them, so that the gold should not be taken out? Yes, that was our object—to prevent them taking out the gold until the matter was decided.

226. But when the injunction was obtained the ground had been worked? Yes; and then they had their pick of the three claims, and they knew where to choose that which had not been already worked.

227. And what was allotted to you? The ground that they had worked.

228. Eighty feet by eighty feet? Yes, eighty feet by eighty. But they could take their choice where they liked. There were three blocks of eighty feet, and they could select their claim so as to leave a small portion on the one side, and a small portion on the other.

229. By the Chairman: But how did they take the ground? They took part of the ground that

Mr. T. Farrell. 20 Jan., 1864.

that I had pegged out, and part of that which Nolan had pegged; and Nolan took part of the ground he had pegged out and part of the ground that I had pegged out.

230. By Mr. Rusden: And you had the third choice? Yes.

231. By the Chairman: And did you work the ground? No.

232. You did not go into it? No, I entered a protest against the decision of the Court, and stood upon the validity of my appeal.

233. You entered a protest against the decision of the Appeal Court? Against their taking this ground. I was asked by the Commissioner what I was going to do; I said, "It is no use taking that which is valueless to me: the top is there, but the bottom is gone." I stood upon that ground. The rules were to give the in-coming man his choice of ground, and the object of this was to prevent parties from taking too much. The in-coming man always gets his choice. We pegged out this ground on that rule. It was always the rule to give the in-coming man his choice.

234. I do not understand you exactly? Suppose I go and take up three claims, and am not entitled to more than one; if another man comes in and sees that I have no title to that land, he has a right to mark out his eighty feet where he likes on that block.

235. No doubt of it? That is according to rule.

236. If you have more than your right, an in-coming man can claim it? No doubt he can. He does not give you your choice of the eighty feet, but he takes his just where he likes. The object of this regulation is to prevent others from taking out more than their fair quantity.

237. That is about the history of the case? Yes.

238. Now, will you tell us on what grounds Mr. King, who originally settled the dispute, dispossessed you? Upon the ground that Brown's party was amalgamated—that they had three amalgamated claims.

239. By Mr. Rusden: He gave them the full complement? It was over the complement he gave them. He never measured it—he told them the piece of ground was theirs.

240. You were dispossessed by Mr. King on the ground that there was an amalgamated claim? Yes, that the claim was amalgamated, and that they were entitled to twelve men's ground.

241. But I think you state in your papers, that you were the first person that took up any ground? No.

242. Then I am under a mis-impression—I thought that Brown came in; there were pegs on the ground when you went? There were no pegs on this portion of ground that I took.

243. By Mr. Garrett: Was it not within pegs? It was within two pegs—private and Government ground pegged into one block. One peg was on private ground, and the other peg was on Government ground.

244. Did these opposite parties ever say who were the three parties amalgamated? They did not in my presence. They handed in a lot of miners' rights to Mr. King.

245. Did you hear the evidence given before the Appeal Court on the 27th November, 1863? Yes.

246. It appears that this amalgamated claim was there upset? Yes, it was.

247. Did you hear what defence they made for saying that they were amalgamated? They said that they applied for an amalgamation, and that it was refused them; but at the same time the miners' rights that they said they applied for amalgamation, were not applied for at the time—the men whose names they put in were not holders of miners' rights at the time.

248. By Mr. Rusden: Will you produce the letters to which you alluded in your evidence? This is the first, from Mr. M'Lean; it is a notice to Sullivan and party. (Letter handed in. Vide Appendix.)

249. By the Chairman: Do you know where Mr. King resides now? No, I do not.

250. He is not at Burrandong? No, he has not been at Burrandong since this case was tried, last April. I did not know that he had anything to do with the gold fields in that part until he came up and settled this case. I have here also a letter from the Department of Lands. (Letter handed in. Vide Appendix.)

251. By Mr. Rusden: And here is a copy of your protest against the decision of the Appeal Court? Yes, I brought a copy of it. (Document handed in. Vide Appendix.) Here is also a copy of the proceedings on the trial of the case at Stony Creek. (Document handed in. Vide Appendix.)

252. By the Chairman: Were these claims rich—any of them? They were very good claims. We had good prospects; we were on the poorest of the dirt, I believe, but we were not allowed to work it.

253. Was it very deep sinking? About fifty-three feet. There were about five or six pennyweights to the load where we bottomed; it was considered poor, but there were six feet of wash-dirt. It was considered at the outset rather a poor place, but there were some places very good, yielding an ounce to the load, with the same amount of wash-dirt.

254. Was it far from water? About 150 feet.

255. At Burrandong? At Burrandong.

256. Do you know what is called the potato ground? Yes, it was about two miles from that. You know the old ford?

257. Yes? Suttor's place, right on the ford—a paddock that Lake had.

258. Lake's paddock? Yes. Well, at that time, they claimed the outside ground, but they threw it up in a month after. We stood upon our appeal, and some parties came and took that ground, and they are doing very well on it. The Friday before I left they had made a division for four days' work, of £28.

259. How many men were there in the party? Five. They told me they could make about 30s. a day on that ground—the outside ground. It was a very good claim for a working party party that could do their own work, and do it to advantage. I consider it was worth £500 a man, to any man who could do his own work, taking it at the lowest scale. Mr. T. Farrell. 20 Jan., 1864.

260. Had the Appeal Court heard your case in the first instance, directly the decision of Mr. King was given against you, your ground would not have been worked; and according to the decision they have arrived at, Brown would have had first pick, Norton second, and you third, but the ground would have remained unworked? There would have been no choice then; the ground would have been equal in value, for one claim was as good as another, and would have remained so had an injunction been put on the first week we applied.

261. There would then have been no loss, except the loss of time to all parties? That is all.

262. But as it really was, Brown's party gutted some of the ground, and then got the new land on that decision when it did come; is not that the fact? Yes, they were allowed undisturbed possession of it from the 14th March until—I would not be sure whether it was the 7th November or some time about the latter end of October, but it was two or three weeks before the trial.

263. Who brought Mr. Commissioner King on to the ground? Brown did.

264. He objected to you coming, and brought the Commissioner? He did not "object" to us. He brought the Commissioner before we knew anything about it; Mr. King came up; Brown brought him on to the ground, and Mr. King told him that the ground was his, but he never measured it. In fact, it was thirty days from the time of King giving his decision until the ground was measured.

265. Did Mr. King take any evidence? He swore Brown, and asked him to produce his miners' rights. Brown produced a lot of miners' rights. I asked Mr. King to take a copy of them, and told him that I desired to see into the matter. He made a rather ungentlemanly observation—he told me to "dry up." After he looked at the miners' rights, he said, there are three miners' rights here, and if you cannot prove that they had miners' rights before this, I must give the decision of three shares against you. I said, "If they "have got them now they must have had them all the time, because the miners' rights are only "issued twice in the year—in January and June." He handed them back to Brown again, and said, "The land is yours." I told him that I would appeal against his decision; and he said, "Well, go to the office." That was all the conversation I had with Mr. King, until I asked him on the Monday following whether he would receive my appeal, and he said, "No."

266. And you have never worked the ground since? No; we were served with a notice on the 24th to desist from further working it.

267. By Mr. Rusden: There were no names of the holders, or numbers of their miners' rights posted on their claim, which should be done where a claim is amalgamated? When a claim is amalgamated that should be done.

268. And in this case there was nothing of the kind? No.

269. By the Chairman: The depth of the sinking was about 53 feet? From 50 to 55 feet.

270. Did you inquire whether they had registered their claim? They did not until eleven days after this. King registered it eleven days from the 13th.

271. The Act says, that when the depth of sinking for which the nearest shaft bottomed shall be taken as a test, shall not be less than 50 feet, any two adjoining claims can amalgamate, by registration and posting on the non-working claim a notice of registry, having thereon the names of the holders and numbers of their miners' rights; and that any number of claims, where difficulties of working are occasioned by water or otherwise, may, in like manner amalgamate by sanction of the Commissioner—Do you know whether the Commissioner gave his sanction or not, and whether their claims were in point of fact registered? They were not; it was proved in Bathurst.

272. Then the 18th clause of the Act was not complied with, in reference to the posting of the names of the holders and the numbers of their miners' rights? No.

273. By Mr. Garrett: That is when you went on? Yes.

274. Were notices put up subsequently, after they were registered? No, no notice was put up on the claim before I left, and for perhaps six months after that. I had to leave and go to other gold fields; I could not stop there.

275. By Mr. Rusden: You say here, in your written statement of your case, "Mr. Sub-"Commissioner Sibthorpe declined to accept it (that is, the money you tendered for appeal), "saying, 'There is no Court in existence.' He (that is Mr. Sibthorpe) gave my party a "document, specifying that there was no Court of Appeal in existence, and that therefore "he declined the fee tendered to him." Have you got that? That was sent to the Honorable John Robertson, Minister for Lands. I have got a copy of the letter I sent to him. That document was forwarded on the 13th April.

276. By the Chairman: You were of course provided with miners' rights, you and all your party? Yes, and we produced them there. Mr. King said he did not want to see them—that he did not doubt that we had them.

277. By Mr. Garrett: To what extent do you lay your damages? I valued the claim, as near as I could go, at £2,000. I could not think it would be worth less. That is a low estimate.

278. By Mr. Rusden: Do you know what Brown realized out of it? He said he would not answer that question, when in the Appeal Court.

279. By Mr. Garrett: Has it been worked out yet? Yes, they went through the three claims, making a cut twelve feet wide. When the injunction was laid they were working out the one originally belonging to themselves, and when they got the decision of the Court they took part of the middle claim and part of the other. The other party got a piece at one end and a piece of ours, and we had to take that which was worked out by them. The ground was measured on the 14th April. He gave his decision on the 14th March. The ground was claimed to high-water mark, but they did not run their side lines down to the river.

Mr. T. Farrell. 20 Jan., 1864.

river. There were 2,000 and some odd feet more than the complement for twelve men. The Commissioner said we could take our choice on the ground, which was open to any other party, but it was no use—it was worked out.

280. How do you arrive at the estimate of £2,000 as being the amount of your damages? I calculated it that there were over 2,000 loads.

281. And you reckoned it at £1 per load? Yes.

282. And from that you deduct the expense of living? Yes.

283. What time would it have taken you to work out that claim? Nine months.

284. How many were there in your party? Four.

285. And how much per week would it cost you to live there? The cost would be about ——

286. £2 a week at least for the four of you? Oh! more than that; it would cost nearly £1 a man.

287. £16 a month? Yes.

288. Then there would be the wear and tear of tools? That would not be much; the timber would be most expensive.

289. What would that cost? Upwards of £100; I mean the timber for the ground.

290. About this £1 per load—how do you calculate it would be that—there are five pennyweights you say to the load? There would be upwards of five pennyweights to the load; there would be about four grains to the bucket, and there are about forty buckets to the load. I got upwards of that, but I put it at four and reckoned it at sixpence, so as to take a low estimate.

291. Was it all fine gold? Yes, it was all fine gold.

292. There were no nuggets? No, it was something like the gold from Read's Creek, on the Ovens—it was something like the Rocky River gold.

293. By the Chairman: Was it wet working? Not very wet. When there was a flood in the river the water would rise, but as soon as the river receded it would go down again.

294. Did you slab going down? No, there is no slabbing required.

295. By Mr. Garrett: You had to prop? Yes, but no slabbing was required going down in that part.

296. Do your mates join you in seeking this mode of redress? Yes. Two of them are laid up, and are now under the doctor's care.

297. By Mr. Rusden: Where is Sullivan now? He is sick. He met with an accident, and is still on Burrandong.

298. Where is Shroseby? He is sick too. I have a certificate from the doctor.

299. Where is he living? At Burrandong.

300. Where is Greenway? He had nothing to do with the ground.

301. You mention him as a witness? Yes, but he had nothing to do with the ground.

302. Where is Gray? He is there now.

303. Gray, Shroseby, and Sullivan, are seeking redress as well as yourself? Yes; I am acting for them, and have been from first to last. I have got their signatures to a document to that effect.

304. By Mr. Garrett: It was declared by the Appeal Court that there was no amalgamation? Yes.

305. How did they take the eighty feet afterwards? They took part of the ground we had pegged out, and part of that which Nolan had taken up. I asked Mr. M'Lean, "Supposing I were to take that ground, and to go down and find it worked out, what am I to do?" He said, "You would have to apply to your solicitor about that. The ground had been in their undisturbed possession for eight months."

306. And they had cut through the three claims? Yes.

307. And worked right and left? Yes, they had worked every place where they thought it would pay. They were entitled to only eighty feet square, and if that decision had been arrived at before the working had been allowed to continue, there would have been no loss, except the loss of time, and they would have had to put up with that the same as we; but they were allowed to remain in undisturbed possession and to take away the gold.

WORKING OF THE GOLD FIELDS ACT.

APPENDIX.

(To Evidence given by Mr. W. Thompson, 14 January, 1864.)

A. No. 1.

Western Gold Fields Office.
Bathurst, 20 November, 1863.

Sir,

Your letter of the 15th instant, respecting an advertisement by Mr. Symes of the sale of Shawn's Creek race, has been forwarded to Mr. Sub-Commissioner Scott, with instructions that, if this be one of the races forming the subject of trial at the late Court of Appeal, it is not to be transferred to any purchaser, pending the determination of a question now before the Crown Law Officers, as to whether the case of yourself v. Symes can be again entertained.

I am, &c.,
HAROLD MACLEAN,
Chief Commissioner.

Mr. Wm. Thompson,
Merrendee.

A. No. 2.

Western Gold Fields' Office,
Bathurst, 8 December, 1863.

Sir,

Adverting to your renewed application for a rehearing before the reconstituted Appeal Court, of your appeal against the decision of Mr. Sibthorpe in the case of Thompson v. Symes, I have to inform you that the Court are not prepared to rehear the case applied for.

I am, &c.,
ALEX. M. NAYLOR,
(For the Chairman.)

Mr. Wm. Thompson,
Merrendee.

(Paper referred to the Committee, 19*th January*, 1864.)

(Appeal in re Thompson v. Symes.)

OPINION.

IF the Court of Appeal should hear this appeal, and the decision should be against the respondent, there is no doubt that he would apply to the Supreme Court to restrain proceedings, having first objected to the jurisdiction of the Court. It would, therefore, probably save expense if the Court of Appeal would at once refuse to hear the case. The appellant might then apply to the Supreme Court for a mandamus to compel the Court of Appeal to proceed on a rule nisi to shew cause why the appeal should not be proceeded with. In my opinion, therefore, the Court of Appeal ought to refuse to go on with the appeal.

C. No. 1.

Western Gold Fields Office,
Bathurst, 9 April, 1863.

MESSRS. Sullivan and party are informed, in reference to former communications, that I have received from Mr. Sub-Commissioner King a report to the effect that application was made by Brown's party to amalgamate, by 12 o'clock, a.m., on the 13th March; that the boundary line between the Crown and private lands was not laid by the surveyor until 3 o'clock on that date; and that the measurement of the amalgamated three claims of Brown's party is 230 feet, fronting the river, by a mean depth of eighty-five feet, being something less than their full area.

I see no reason, therefore, to take action in the case, leaving it for the adjudication of an Appeal Court.

With reference to their letter of the 7th instant, they are further informed that I am not aware of any means, at the present time, of stopping the operation of the Commissioner's decision, pending a revision by an Appeal Court.

HAROLD MACLEAN,
Chief Commissioner.

Messrs. Sullivan and party,
Ironbarks.

C. No. 2.

Department of Lands,
Sydney, 15 June, 1863.

Sir,

With reference to your letter of the 30th April last, complaining of a certain decision given by Mr. Sub-Commissioner King, at Burrandong, I am directed by the Secretary for Lands to inform you that, from the report of the Chief Commissioner, to whom reference was made, the case appears to be one in which redress can only be sought from an Appeal Court.

I have, &c.,
MICHL. FITZPATRICK.

Mr. Thomas Farrell, Burrandong.

C. No. 3.

PROTEST against the decision given by the Appeal Court, held at Bathurst, on the 26th and 27th of November, 1863.

Burrandong, 4 December, 1863.

I, THOMAS FARRELL, for myself, and on behalf of my partners, in a party known in the said Court of Appeal as Sullivan and party, do protest against the decision of the said Court of Appeal, given on the 27th ultimo, and put in force this 4th day of December instant, whereby Brown's party are allowed their choice of an eighty feet square block of ground, after being in possession and working the ground allotted to them for a period of eight months subsequent to Mr. King giving his decision in their favour. On the 14th March last, we having stood on the validity of our appeal against Mr. King's decision on a certain block of ground, and in consequence of Harold M'Lean, Esq., the present Chairman, not having been duly qualified to act at the time our appeal was forwarded to him—had he been duly qualified he would would be empowered to cause an injunction to be laid on the ground in dispute—therefore, when the decision of the Court of Appeal would have been made known, the gold would not have been taken from the ground in dispute as it has been done.

The grounds of our protest are, that after Brown's party and Nolan's party selected their respective blocks of ground, the residue is rendered perfectly valueless in consequence of having been worked by Brown's party previously.

T. FARRELL.

C. No. 4.

New South Wales, to wit. } Stony Creek Police Office.

Present:—L. H. Sibthorpe, Esq., J.P., and W. H. Cousins, Esq., J.P.

Defendant, Thomas Farrell, does not appear.

Henry Sullivan and George Gray appear on summons to answer the complaint of Johnson George King, Esq., Sub Gold Commissioner, for a breach of the 21st c. of 25 Vict., No. 4, by encroaching and trespassing on a claim, the property of Ward Brown & Co., at Burrandong, and in opposition to the decision of said Commissioner.

Johnson George King, being duly sworn, deposeth:—I am a Sub Gold Commissioner, and have been stationed for some time back on these Gold Fields; on or about the 14th of this month I was called on to settle a dispute betwixt Ward Brown & Co. and the defendants; I gave my decision in favour of Ward Brown & Co., since which time the defendants have put my authority at defiance, by working the ground and thereby encroaching; I therefore have summoned them under the 21st c. of the Gold Fields Act.

Examined by Sullivan: I have not measured the ground; you have not appealed; I will answer no question bearing on my decision.

JOHNSON GEO. KING, S.G.C.

Sworn before us, this 30th March, 1863,— } L. H. Sibthorpe, J.P. W. H. Cousins, J.P.

At the request of the defendants, this case is postponed till Saturday next, the 4th of April proximo.

Present:—L. H. Sibthorpe, Esq., J.P., and W. H. Cousins, Esq., J.P.

King v. Sullivan, Gray, and Farrell.

Ward Brown, being duly sworn, deposeth:—I am a miner residing at Burrandong; I am a shareholder in a certain claim known as Brown, Hunter, & Co.; I know and recognize the defendants; they jumped a portion of our claim on the 13th of March last; on the 14th, Commissioner King decided in favour of Brown, Hunter, & Co.; on the 17th, between 9 and 10 o'clock in the morning, they (the defendants) rejumped the same ground that they had disputed with us on the Saturday previous; from the 17th and until the following Monday, they sank and bottomed a shaft; I informed Mr. King of the matter on the following Thursday.

Examined by Farrell: On the 13th of March the party consisted of fourteen individuals; the pegging was made before taking out four of the miners' rights; at the time of the dispute we held ground in Lake's paddock, and also Government ground adjoining, between the purchased ground and the river; I had not nor have not measured the ground—not to exactness; I was aware that part of it was Government land; I know the surveyor has struck a line; he struck it late in the afternoon of the 13th March; we are now working on the Government ground and purchased land; the shaft is on Government ground; I do not know there is a Government road there; I saw one or more of you working in the shaft until the Monday sworn to.

Examined by Sullivan: The whole of our shaft is in Government ground, according to the present line; the land Sullivan and party claim is a portion of our claim; on the 1st December, 1862, our party rented from Lake eighty yards square, and after rented twenty feet more from Lake; I took the disputed claim as Government land, although I did not know the lines; I mean the land between the purchased land and the river; the Government land and private property is pegged in one block to the river; I mean the parallels or side lines.

WARD BROWN.

Sworn before us, this 7th April, 1863,— } L. H. Sibthorpe, J.P. W. H. Cousins, J.P.

George Cook, being duly sworn, deposeth:—I am a miner residing at Burrandong; I am a partner in the claim known as Brown, Hunter, & Co.; I know the defendants; they had jumped a portion of our claim; the dispute was settled by the Commissioner, who gave his decision in our favour; after such decision I saw the defendants working on the disputed portion; they commenced sinking a shaft about twenty yards from our working shaft; if they took up the ground they claim and got possession of it, it would take up a great portion of the second claim.

Examined by Farrell: All the claimholders were either on the ground or in the bush, getting timber, the day the Commissioner gave his decision; we told the Commissioner the extent of our claim; there were some pegs put in down to the river; it was not measured, as we did not know how the lines would run; our shaft is on Government ground; I don't know whether it is reserved or unreserved; I was a qualified shareholder on the 13th March, indeed ever since the company was formed; there were five of us shareholders which formed the company, and we had fourteen or fifteen men employed; they all had miners' rights; two or three were taken out prior to the ground being measured by the surveyor; the line was run about 3 or 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the same day that Sullivan first jumped the claim in the morning; the men who represented our labourers all held miners' rights; subsequent to Mr. King's decision I saw Sullivan working on the disputed land.

GEORGE COOK.

Sworn before us, this 7th April, 1863,— } L. H. Sibthorpe, J.P. W. H. Cousins, J.P.

Johnson

Johnson George King, being duly sworn, deposeth:—None of the defendants tendered me money to appeal, or made any offer of appeal; I have no recollection of seeing Sullivan on the 13th of March; subsequently neither Sullivan or his party made me any notice of appeal; I have no recollection of any conversation with Sullivan about the land the surveyor had measured; I have some faint recollection, but I cannot state what it was.

Examined by Farrell: I have no recollection of your tendering an appeal to me on the 16th of March, at Mr. Isaacs'; I never saw the document produced marked A.

By the Court: It is possible that they might have offered me the money to appeal, but I have no recollection of it; I told defendants that if they lodged with me a written notice I would pay the money for them.

Defence.

Joseph Nolan, being duly sworn, deposeth:—I am a miner, residing at Burrandong; I gave Mr. Commissioner King notice of appeal in a disputed claim with Brown and Co.; I did not see defendants offer any money; I saw Farrell hand a document to Mr. King, marked A.; I heard Farrell ask Mr. King would he receive his appeal, and Mr. King said, "No"; this was at Mr. Isaacs' door, on the 16th of March last; I tendered my appeal, first on the 14th of March, again on the 16th; it was not received until the 25th; it was made out on the 21st of March; it was in the afternoon Mr. Simpson finished surveying the ground—to the best of my knowledge, about 1 o'clock.

Examined by Mr. King: I applied to you to appeal on the 16th; I did not hand you a notice of appeal; Farrell was present; you told me to send in a written notice of appeal, and you would pay the money into Court yourself; Farrell could have heard you say this; I acted on what you said, and sent in a written notice; I did not see Farrell tender any money to Mr. King, but I heard him ask Mr. King would he receive his appeal, and Mr. King said, "No," without assigning any reason.

JOSEPH NOLAN.

Case dismissed.

The grounds of dismissal are based on the defendants being misled by both Commissioners; and the Bench believes that had the appeal been received there would have been no trespass; and the defendants were merely upholding their rights.

Western Gold Fields Office,
Bathurst, 23 January, 1864.

Sir,

In compliance with the request contained in your letter of the 20th instant, I have the honor to enclose copies of the proceedings before the Western Gold Fields Appeal Court, and its judgment in the case noted in the margin. Sullivan & party v. Brown & party.

2. With reference to the signature of the Chairman alone to the proceedings and judgment, I may explain that they are signed by the Chairman in pursuance of an order of the Court (which is empowered to regulate its mode of procedure), making the signature of its Chairman equivalent to those of the whole Court.

3. I would further desire to remark that the Court, in delivering its judgment, expressed strong regret at the circumstance of such contradictory evidence upon matters of fact having been given by two officers of the Gold Fields Department—Messrs. King and Sibthorpe.

I have, &c.,
HAROLD MACLEAN,
Chairman of Court of Appeal for Western Gold Fields.

J. Buchanan, Esq., M.L.A.,
Chairman of Select Committee on Working of Gold Fields Act,
Legislative Assembly, Sydney.

P.S.—The decision of the Court was carried out, under directions from myself, by the Resident Commissioner. Sullivan and party, however, it appeared, declined to take up the portion of ground falling to them.—H.M'L.

Endorsement.

I have received this note on the 16th, about 2·30 p.m. The claim not being registered I cannot comply with Mr. King's request, as I cannot possibly be cognizant of Mr. King's decision in the matter.

The bearer of this note, Mr. Hunter, informs me that Mr. King has, or is about starting to Mr. Kater's; I therefore cannot communicate with that gentleman by letter.

NOTICE OF APPEAL.

Ironbarks, 7 April, 1863.

Sir,

We, the undersigned, beg to enclose the fee with this notice of appeal against Commissioner King's decision in the claim disputed by Ward Brown and party, situated at Burrandong.

No. of Right	329	..... HENRY SULLIVAN
,,	100	..... GEORGE GRAY.
,,	251	..... THOMAS FARRELL.
,,	252	..... JOHN SHROSBERY.

L. H. Sibthorpe, Esq.,
Sub Gold Commissioner,
Stony Creek.

New South Wales, to wit.

Stony Creek Police Office,
30 March, 1863.

Present:—L. H. Sibthorpe, Esq., J.P., and W. H. Cousins, Esq., J.P.

Henry Sullivan and George Gray appear on summons to answer the complaint of Johnson George King, Esq., Sub Gold Commissioner, for a breach of the 21st clause of 25 Vict., No. 4, by encroaching and trespassing on a claim, the property of Ward Brown & Co., at Burrandong, and in opposition to the decision of said Commissioner.

Third defendant, Thos. Farrell, does not appear.

Luke Homan Sibthorpe, being duly sworn, states:—I know the appellants in this case; I remember the appellants coming to my office at Stony Creek; they tendered me an appeal in writing; a man named Gray was present; I refused the appeal because I thought the Court was not in existence; I gave a document to that effect; I read their notice of appeal.

Examined by Mr. Colquhoun: I do not recollect the day of the month the appeal was tendered; the appeal was tendered in the prescribed time; the appeal was, I think, signed by Farrell and party; I know from my own memory it was before the 20th of March, 1863.

L. H. SIBTHORPE.

Sworn before us, at Bathurst, this 26th day of September, 1863,—
(For the Court), HAROLD M'LEAN.

Johnson George King, being duly sworn, states:—I am a Sub Gold Commissioner; in March last I was stationed at the Stony Creek Gold Field; on the 14th March I decided the case now before the Court; my decision was in favour of the respondents; I know the plan produced marked A.; the plan* shews land belonging to a person named Lake and the Crown Lands; I know the ground marked No. 2; it is claimed by Sullivan and party; it is on Crown Lands; I awarded it to respondents, as being one of three amalgamated claims; I decided the matter judicially; I took evidence on oath; the respondents produced, I think, fourteen miners' rights; I am positive they produced twelve; the respondents established before me that they did not exactly know the line between the Crown and private lands; pegs of the respondents were proved at B. and C., and another at a distance of 130 feet from C.; there was only one general marking, and not in separate claims; subsequently to the decision I made a measurement of the Crown Lands; at the time of my decision I believe that the marking went to the letter D. on the surveyor's line; I did not measure the ground on first making my decision; on measuring it I finally

* See Separate Appendix.

finally allotted to the respondents 248 feet from B. to C., and 130 feet from C. to F., and sixty-one feet from F. to E.; I calculate the whole area, after the final measurement, to be an excess of ground of eighty square feet; I believe that the appellants made no application for the excess of ground; the sinking was about fifty feet; the question as to priority of marking was not mooted; the question was as to whether the respondents had properly amalgamated, and as to their miners' rights; to the best of my belief they were not working the private lands; I treated the claims as being amalgamated, because it was established before me, that the application was made before the surveyor's line was made on the 13th of March, 1863; I was set in motion by the respondents to decide the case on the 14th March, 1863; if the excess held by the respondents had been taken on the ground No. 2, claimed by the appellants, it would have been a great hardship to the respondents—it would have been equivalent to destroying their holding; it was established by me that the line was laid before between 3 and 4 o'clock; the appellants jumped the ground before the line was laid; I have reason to believe that previous to the survey being commenced, the ground was supposed by both parties to be private lands; the surveyor was engaged generally in running lines shewing the Government and private lands in that locality.

JOHNSON G. KING.

Sworn before us, this 26th day of September, 1863,—
(For the Court), HAROLD M'LEAN.

Luke Homan Sibthorpe being recalled:—I produce the registry of amalgamation; I know the respondents in this case; the document produced is in my handwriting, marked B.; the three names marked underneath with red ink had miners' rights taken out on the 13th of March, 1863, between the hours of 3 and 4 in the afternoon; they were taken out by the respondents; the names are, John Coulson, William Day, and Edward Connelly; no application was made to me for an amalgamation of the claims in dispute by the respondents at any time; the registry book of amalgamation is in my custody; I know nothing about the amalgamation as entered in the registry book; I remember Ward Brown coming to my office on the 13th March; he then made no mention of the amalgamation; no amalgamation was applied for to me by any of Ward Brown's party; I consider the entry of the amalgamation in the book as good; it was after my dinner Ward Brown came to me for the miners' rights; I dine generally about 2 o'clock; I produce the papers marked G.; they are copies of depositions taken in an encroachment case under the Gold Fields Act. Copies objected to by Mr. Colquhoun.

Examined by Mr. Colquhoun: The depositions were taken on the 30th March, 1863; I believe Ward Brown took four miner's rights on the 13th March; I am not positive; he did not take out more than four; I do not recollect the amount of money paid to me on the 13th of March, by Ward Brown, for miners' rights; I have no recollection of the way in which Brown paid for the rights; he took away all the rights that he paid for; I do not recollect making out a miner's right that day, and detaining it until called for; I have no recollection of his taking out a miner's right in the name of Adam ——, whose surname he could not recollect at the time; I recollect no one being present at the time; I know no person of the name of Wyley; issued other miners' rights between 3 and 4 o'clock than those alluded to; I recollect no conversation with Brown on the occasion of his taking the right out; I swear that Adam Fletcher's miner's right was issued on the 13th of March; I believe the miner's right was handed to Ward Brown on that day; I have no recollection of Ward Brown coming to me after for a miner's right, or having any altercation with him as to whether it was paid for or not; I do not recollect on any occasion of Ward Brown asking for a miner's right when Mr. King was present; the five miners' rights, in favour of Edward Connelly, Henry Whitehead, Adam Fletcher, William Day, and John Coulson, are all in my handwriting; the name of Adam Fletcher was written all at the same time, to the best of my belief; the rights applied for by Brown were the first I issued after dinner; I swear Ward Brown never asked to have his claim amalgamated; I never mentioned to Mr. King that such an application had been made; I have never amalgamated claims in the same locality as the one in dispute; I do not know any persons by name of Dawson and others; I have no recollection of the paper marked H.; the remark in the corner is my handwriting; I do not recollect a man named Wyley applying for an amalgamation of claims; I know nothing of the measurement of the claims in dispute; I recollect a conversation with Mr. King, relative to the taking out of miners' rights by Ward Brown; I told him Ward Brown took them out after 3 o'clock, p.m.; no one applied for an amalgamation on the 13th March; I have heard of a man named Wyley; he goes by the name of Dr. Wyley; I recollect a subpœna for Dr. Wyley sent to me; I delivered it to Sullivan and others for service.

Examined by Court: The claim in dispute is about fourteen miles from my office; at the time of taking out the miners' rights, I think Ward Brown said something about the surveyor being there, viz., in the locality of the disputed claims; I am positive no application could have been made by Ward Brown on the 13th of March for an amalgamation.

L. H. SIBTHORPE.

Sworn before us, this 26th day of September, 1863,—
(For the Court), H. M'LEAN.

Thomas Farrell, being duly sworn, states:—I am one of the appellants in this case; I see the plan before the Court; it is not quite correct, according to my ideas; I took up the claim in dispute on the morning of the 13th of March; I took it up according to the Gold Fields Regulations; I put in substantial pegs; I marked out eighty feet by eighty feet; I saw no other pegs near; I took the claim up about 9 o'clock; Sullivan commenced sinking; I saw Brown and Cook on the ground; Mr. King came on the ground on the morning of the 14th March, and told me that the ground was in dispute; he then proceeded to investigate the case; he swore Brown and asked him for his miners' rights; Brown produced them; Mr. King told Brown that some of the rights were taken out the day before; Mr. King said if the three men, viz., Coulson, Day, and Connelly, could not prove that they had miners' rights prior to that date, he would be obliged to give it against them; no evidence on oath was taken from any other parties but Brown; Brown deposed that he took up the ground in December, knowing it to be Government ground; Brown was examined about three minutes; I was not called upon for the defence; I was allowed to ask Brown questions; Mr. King did not state his reasons for his decision; I first heard of the amalgamation in Mr. Sibthorpe's office some time after Mr. King's decision; I commenced sinking a shaft on the 17th March; the pegs put up were removed; after I came from Stony Creek I adjusted them; after I appealed I gave up the working of the claim.

Examined by the Court: I understood up to the night of the 12th that the ground was rented by Brown as private property; the point D. was the only point pointed out as pegged while Mr. King was there; we did not ask Mr. King to swear us; there was no work done by the respondent, on our block, after Mr. King's decision.

Examined by Mr. Colquhoun: I saw no pegs on the eighty feet taken up by me besides my own; I first became acquainted with the ground on the evening of the 12th of March; I do not know that Brown rented any private property; I saw the surveyor on the 13th March in the locality; I saw the surveyor surveyor walking along, and dragging a chain, about 10 or 11 o'clock, on the side line; I went away at 1 o'clock, and did not return to the ground that day; I know nothing about the side line between B. and C.; the respondents claimed down to the river when the decision was given; I did not have occasion to move any pegs after the surveyor laid the line.

By Mr. Wright: I saw no notice of amalgamation on the ground at any time.

THOMAS FARRELL.

Sworn before us, this 26th day of September, 1860,—
(For the Court), H. M'LEAN.

27th September, 1863.

Case resumed.

George Gray, being duly sworn, states:—I live at Burrandong; I am a miner; I am one of the appellants; I am one of a party of four; on the 13th of March I went on to the ground in dispute; it was pegged out; this was about 11 o'clock, a.m.; I saw several people there; I saw that 80 ft. by 80 ft. was pegged out; I saw Mr. Commissioner King on the ground on the 14th March, deciding the dispute, the subject of the present appeal; Mr. King swore Ward Brown; Brown produced several miners' rights; I objected to several of them; the investigation lasted three or four minutes; we were not called upon for our defence; no one was heard but Ward Brown; the words of Mr. King's decision were merely, "The ground is your's, Brown"; I tendered a notice of appeal to Mr. Sibthorpe; I went to Mr. Isaacs to tender one to Mr. King; I heard the respondents claim the whole of the ground down to the river; I first became acquainted with the ground on the 13th March; I objected to miners' rights because some of them were of a new colour; I did not see a man named Draper on the ground; I did not ask Ward Brown where his pegs were; I know that the land I claimed adjoins Lake's property; I saw the surveyor on the ground on the 13th March; I do not know at what time the surveyor laid off the side-line; I do not know the extent of the ground now in dispute; the ground was not measured by Mr. King until about a month after his adjudication.

GEO. GRAY.

Sworn before us, this 27th of September, 1863,—
(For the Court), H. M'LEAN.

Edward Greenaway being duly sworn, states:—I am a miner, and live at Burrandong; I have no interest in the present appeal; I know the ground in dispute; I remember a surveyor being on the ground on the 12th of March; I had a conversation with him; he shewed me a boundary line and a gum tree; the tree was marked; I afterwards had a conversation with my mates; in consequence we pegged off a claim on Government ground, which is the subject of an appeal; I saw several parties on the ground; I remember Mr. King coming on to the ground on the 14th March, to decide a dispute; I heard him ask Brown for his pegs; I could distinguish one of the pegs Brown pointed out; to the best of my belief it was at the point marked L.; the other one shewn by Mr. Brown was near the point marked D.; I saw Mr. King swear Brown; he asked him for some miners' rights; he produced them; the case lasted eight or ten minutes; I never heard Mr. King call for any defence to the dispute; I was one of the parties summoned to Stony Creek to answer a charge of encroachment; I was discharged; I was present when Mr. King measured the ground on the 14th April.

By Mr. Colquhoun: I am not interested in the present appeal; I am interested in Nolan's claim; I have been digging in the locality since last Christmas; I knew Mr. Brown had occupied the ground in dispute for a long time; I have seen them at work there; the surveyor laid the line off on the 13th of March, about the middle of the day; this was some hours after we pegged off our claim.

By Mr. Wright: Brown's party were not working the ground in dispute; it was not touched.

By Mr. Colquhoun: It might have been tunnelled by Brown's party; I do not believe Brown had tunnelled.

By Court: No pegs were shewn at points B. and C.; Brown claimed down to the river.

EDWD. GREENAWAY.

Sworn before us, this 27th day of September, 1863,—
(For the Court), H. M'LEAN.

Richard Williams, being duly sworn, states:—I am a gold miner, and live at Burrandong; I first heard that the land in dispute was Government land about 2 o'clock on the 12th March; myself and mates pegged out ground about 7 o'clock a.m. on the 13th March; I saw the appellants peg out their ground about 9 or 10 a.m.; Brown saw the miners on the ground and took no notice; I saw Mr. King on the ground on the 14th March; he came to decide a dispute, now the subject of the present appeal; no one was called upon but Brown; no defence was called for by the Commissioner; Mr. King made some remark as to miners' rights taken out by Ward Brown on the previous day.

By Mr. Colquhoun: The decision was given in favour of respondents; I have been in the locality twelve months; I know they rented some land from Mr. Lake; they were in occupation of this land some three or four months before the dispute; it was between 7 and 8 o'clock that Brown saw the rush; I cannot say that Brown saw the claim that was marked, but he saw the rush; about 10 or 11 o'clock my party broke ground; one of Brown's partners named Cook told us we were trespassers; he said he would apply to the Commissioner, and we would stop work.

By Court: At the time of the dispute Brown pointed to pegs on the southern end; there were no pegs down at the river; I had myself in the locality marked B. a peg; it might have been answering for Brown and party; it could not have been for a corner of Brown's, because he claimed to the river.

Witness—A. M. NAYLOR.

Sworn before us, this 27th day of September, 1863,—
(For the Court), H. M'LEAN.

Johnson George King being recalled:—I made a complaint before the Stony Creek Bench against the appellants; I heard the evidence given on that occasion; I examined one witness relative to the dispute now the subject matter of the present appeal; I made no measurement of the ground in dispute at the time of my decision; I know Ward Brown, one of the respondents; I have known him for some time, for eight years I think; Sullivan and party called my attention to three miners' rights produced by Ward Brown and party, having been taken out on the previous day; Brown, on oath, stated to me that they had been taken out about 12 o'clock the preceding day—the 13th March.

Examined

Examined by Mr. Colquhoun: Brown distinctly pointed out the pegs at B., C., and D.; he pointed out the line between B. and G. as the northern boundary that he claimed; I allotted the triangular piece under regulation 54; I find by the subsequent measurement that I had allotted to respondent, in excess of the three claims that I intended to give them, 2,235 feet, or somewhat over 1 and ½ single claim; I had a conversation with Mr. Sibthorpe relative to the taking out of a miner's right; he stated that Ward Brown had taken them out between 11 and 12 o'clock, nearer 12; I made the inquiry officially; I heard a conversation between Mr. Sibthorpe and Brown relative to a miner's right that had been left in a book; they had some dispute as to the payment of the stipulated fee; I had a conversation relative to the amalgamation of claims with Mr. Sibthorpe; Mr. Sibthorpe stated to me that Brown had made an application for the amalgamation, but that he had refused in consequence of no lead being declared, and that other parties had applied to jump the ground should it prove to be Government land; I shewed him a report to Chief Gold Commissioner M'Lean, dated 24th March, containing a reference to the refusal to amalgamate, when Mr. Sibthorpe stated the report was correct; the previous conversation took place at the Government Office, Ironbarks; the working shaft of Brown and Hunter was some twelve feet on the Crown Lands; I amalgamated the claims held by Ward Brown and party on the 24th March; the amalgamation was made to me on the 16th March; in consequence of Mr. Sibthorpe's refusal I ultimately amalgamated them; it was proved to me that Ward Brown occupied the ground some three months before the dispute.

(For the Court), HAROLD M'LEAN.

Luke Homan Sibthorpe being recalled, states:—I wrote the memo. marked I. on the letter produced marked I.; I never spoke to Mr. King about taking out the miners' rights; I never spoke to Mr. King about the miners' rights being taken out about 11 or 12 o'clock on the 13th March; I swear that it was after 2 o'clock on the 13th March that Ward Brown took out the miners' rights; I am positive I had no conversation concerning those miners' rights until the 2nd April, when he made an official inquiry about them; I am positive I had no conversation relative to the amalgamation with Mr. King; Mr. King never shewed me a report, dated 24th March, containing a reference to the amalgamation, to the Chief Gold Commissioner.

L. H. SIBTHORPE.

Sworn before us, this 27th day of September, 1863,—

(For the Court), HAROLD M'LEAN, Chairman.

For Respondent:—

Ward Brown, being duly sworn, states:—I am one of the respondents in the case before the Court; in November last year I rented and marked out a portion of land supposed to be the property of Mr. Lake, and a portion Government; I marked out eighty yards square; I marked out the line between B. and G. as the northern boundary of the ground I intended to work; at the time I was not aware which was Crown Lands and which was private lands; I put the peg C. so as to include what I thought to be a small portion of Crown Lands; my party were in possession of the ground we marked out up to the time of our dispute; from the commencement we worked our shaft, marked as the working shaft, till after the 13th of March; I know the ground Sullivan and party pegged out on the 13th of March; he drove towards the ground marked as Sullivan and party; one of my party, named Cook, had a hut and a garden on part of the Crown lands marked by me; no line was marked out by a surveyor previous to the 13th March; I went and took out other miners' rights; I left the claim for Stony Creek, to take out other miners' rights, between 9 and 10 o'clock; it is about fourteen miles away; I reached the Commissioner's office about 12 o'clock; when I got to the office I saw two of Nolan's party there; directly I went in Nolan's party told Mr. Sibthorpe that they would "jump" a portion of my ground, if it was proved to be Government ground; I took out five miners' rights on that occasion; I took four away with me; I left one in the office, paid for; I left this one because I could not recollect his surname; at the time I mentioned his Christian name as Adam. Mr. Sibthorpe wrote Adam —— in the miner's right; I was again at the office about the 24th March; I asked Mr. Sibthorpe for the miner's right; I gave him the name of Fletcher; Mr. Sibthorpe took down the book, filled in the name of Adam Fletcher, and handed it to me; Mr. King was present at this time, writing at the table; there were some words as to the payments for the miners' rights on the 13th March; I convinced Mr. Sibthorpe that I had paid him previously; Mr. King asked to look at the miner's right, saw the date, and inquired at what time it had been taken out; Mr. Sibthorpe answered at 12, and I said between 12 and 1; the miner's right referred to is one of those taken out on the 13th of March; when I took them out a Mr. G. F. Wyley was with me; on the 7th April, in the Police Court, I was asked by Mr. King at what time the miner's rights were taken out on the 13th March; a conversation took place between myself and Mr. Sibthorpe, with regard to amalgamation; I applied for the amalgamation of three four-men's claims; I produced nine miners' rights, and took out five more, three of which were to make up the twelve miners' rights; Mr. Sibthorpe refused to amalgamate, in consequence of no lead being declared, and that another party had applied to "jump" the claims; I am aware that the ground was pegged out before I left, on the 13th of March; the appellants' pegs were first put beyond the surveyor's line on the private land; the surveyor's line was not then laid; the south-east corner peg was afterwards moved to the surveyor's line, before the dispute was heard; we were working in the shaft marked 3 on the 13th of March; the whip road ran over and partly on to the ground marked by Sullivan and party; we also had timber on it; at the time of hearing I produced fourteen miners' rights; I never claimed down to the river beyond the points B. and C.; I shewed pegs to Mr. King at those points; I had sluices and pumps on the banks of the river.

By Mr. Wright: I was examined on the 7th April, at the Police Court, Stony Creek; I was examined by Farrell; on the morning of the 13th of March I had some conversation with Williams; when I amalgamated I had not marked three claims off.

By Court: We formed one working party for the claim; there were five proprietors, viz.:—W. Brown, Thos. Hunter, Geo. A. Cook, James Andrews, David Ducat, and William Hunter; there are now only four, Andrews having been bought out by the remainder; at the time of the hearing before Mr. King, I told him I had applied to amalgamate; I was upwards of an hour at the camp when I took out the miners' rights; my party have expended in the working of the whole claim previous to the dispute; we have derived proceeds from it, but I decline to state the amount.

WARD BROWN.

David

David Ducat, being duly sworn, states:—I am one of the respondents; I saw the surveyor on the 13th March last; I saw him about 3 o'clock in the afternoon; he was measuring the side lines dividing the Crown Lands from private property; I saw him run the line twice; Brown started between 9 and 10 o'clock in the morning to the Ironbarks, on the 13th March.

D. DUCAT.

David Ducat being recalled, states:—I was not present at the pegging off the ground between B. and C., but I have frequently seen the pegs between B. and C., and know they represent the ground originally pegged out by us—that include the private and Government land.

D. DUCAT.

Thomas Hunter, being duly sworn, states:—I am one of the respondents; I recollect the 13th of March; I saw the surveyor lay off the line between 3 and 4 o'clock that day; the points B. and C. represent the northern boundary.

JUDGMENT by the Court of Appeal for the Western Gold Fields, in the case of Sullivan (or Downey) and others v. Ward Brown and others.

THE case for trial is an appeal against a certain decision given by Johnson George King, Sub-Commissioner for Gold Fields, at Burrandong, on the 14th March, 1863.

By such decision, and a subsequent further definition by measurement thereof, was awarded to the respondents a piece of ground shewn in the plan A., being an area somewhat in excess of that for three claims, each for four men, and bounded by "surveyor lines"—line from B. to C. 248 feet, from C. to F. 130 feet, and from F. to E., 61 feet.

It has been established that the ground described had been for some time previously to the 13th March occupied by respondents as leased land of a private proprietor, but in uncertainty as to whether any or what portion might prove to be Crown Lands; and in such uncertainty, nine miners' rights were taken out by them, to create a title to any portion as might prove to belong to the Crown.

The "surveyor's line," dividing the Crown and private lands, and admitted by both parties, was laid on the afternoon of the 13th March.

In anticipation of the marking by the surveyor, about 9 o'clock on the morning of the 13th March, appellants marked out and took possession of block No. 2. On the same day (as to the hour the evidence is conflicting) respondents took out five additional miners' rights (their party being fourteen) at the office, fourteen miles distant, evidently further to protect their holding. At the same time, it is alleged, they applied to have three claims, each for four men, amalgamated. On this point the evidence likewise is conflicting, and in the view of the Court, for the decision of the matter, it is not necessary to determine the preponderance.

In the view of the Court it is immaterial upon what supposition, whether as to being private or Crown Lands, the ground was occupied, and that the prior occupation by respondents, existing on and before the 13th March, was valid, so far as it accorded with the Gold Fields Regulations.

The Court is not prepared either to uphold or to reverse the decision of the Commissioner, but to exercise its power to revise the same.

The Court recognizes priority of occupation in favour of respondents, but finds that no amalgamation for their one working party, of three separate claims, not existing as such, was or could have been made in terms of regulation No. 18, and that consequently respondents were, at the time of the decision, entitled only to one claim of eighty feet by eighty feet, according to regulation 54, notwithstanding that their party on the 13th consisted of nine authorized persons.

The Court is of opinion that the prior occupation by respondents gave to them on the 14th March, and gives to them now a clear and equitable right, within their occupied ground, to a claim for one party, namely, eighty feet by eighty feet, and to a selection of such claim.

The Court therefore decides that the respondents shall be entitled to make an absolute selection of an ordinary claim, to measure eighty feet by eighty feet, within the ground indicated by the marks at B., C., F., and E., bounded by the surveyor's line, and that the residue of the block be allotted, to an extent of area not to exceed that of eighty feet by eighty, in each case, and in such form and measurement as may be practicable, to the two parties being the next first claimants, the choice being given according to priority of marking, viz.:—(by admission of appellants) to other appellants regarding the same ground—Nowlan and party; and then to present appellants—Sullivan and party.

HAROLD MACLEAN,
Chairman.

E.

Mr. Gold Commissioner Maclean to Under Secretary for Lands.

Western Gold Fields Office,
Bathurst, 25 October, 1862.

Sir,

I have the honor to request that you will bring under the notice of the Honorable the Secretary for Lands the following circumstances:—

Harrison & Co. v. Isbester & Co.

2. In the month of December last, at the Lachlan, I myself decided the gold mining case noted in the margin, in favour of Harrison & Co.

3. Isbester & Co. lodged a notice of appeal, and obtained from me an order, as a further condition of my decision against Harrison & Co., appropriating certain auriferous earth taken from a part of the disputed ground, pending the hearing of the appeal. In terms of that order the auriferous earth was stored.

4. The appeal came before the Court, of which Dr. Palmer was Chairman. The decision of that Court was in favour of the appellants.

5. The respondents immediately took steps to bring the matter before the Supreme Court. The Court of Appeal, on their application, renewed the order impounding the earth, pending the action of the Supreme Court.

6. By mutual consent this earth was washed, and yielded gold to the value of upwards of £2,000, which was placed in the hands of Capt. Browne.

7. The Supreme Court decided that the Court of Appeal had not been constituted according to law, and granted the rule nisi.

8. The legal advisers of the respondents (Harrison & Co.) therefore demand the gold, in virtue of my original decision in their favour, which now stands, and threaten Capt. Browne with an action if he retains it.

9. The other side demand that Capt. Browne shall retain it, alleging that the notice of appeal has yet to be dealt with, having been given in sufficient time, and not having, according to the ruling of the Supreme Court, come before a Court of Appeal at all.

10. Should this view of the matter be tenable, Isbester & Co. may still gain a decision in their favour from the reformed Court; and if the gold be delivered by Capt. Browne to Harrison & Co. it may never be reached by such a decision, and he would be held to be culpable for having thus defeated the ends of justice.

11. Capt. Browne has applied to me for instructions; but the matter seems to me to be one rather for the direction of the Honorable the Attorney General, to whom I would suggest an immediate reference on the subject, as steps are now being taken for the action by Harrison & Co. In the event of the Attorney General advising that Capt. Browne shall retain the gold, I would request to be informed whether, in these circumstances, the Government will take the responsibility and defence of the threatened action against him, which might be of considerable cost?

I have, &c.,
HAROLD MACLEAN.

Crown Solicitor, B.C., 29 Oct.—M.F.

Mr. Reynolds to Secretary for Lands.

King-street, Sydney,
30 October, 1862.

Sir,

I have the honor to inform you that, in the month of April last, a case of disputed claim on the Lachlan Diggings between "Harrison and party" and "Isbester and party" was heard by Mr. Gold Commissioner M'Lean, and decided by him in favour of the former.

On the 1st of the following month Isbester and party appealed against that decision; and, on or about the 18th of June, the Court of Appeal sitting at Bathurst (after taking evidence at great length on either side, and after hearing counsel on behalf of either party) revoked the decision of Mr. Gold Commissioner M'Lean, and decided in favour of Isbester and party.

Proceedings in the nature of a writ of prohibition were thereupon taken in the Supreme Court, at the instance of Harrison and party; and the Court, without going into the merits of the case, ordered that a writ of prohibition should issue, directed to the members of the Court of Appeal, and to the persons mining or working under the name of Isbester and party, to restrain them and each of them from further proceedings in respect of the decision or order of the Court of Appeal, on the sole ground that the Executive Government had not constituted the Court of Appeal according to law—inasmuch as the Chairman appointed by them had not held "miner's right" as required by the "Gold Fields Act of 1861."

In prosecuting the appeal, and in seeking to uphold the decision of the Court of Appeal in their favour, Isbester and party have necessarily incurred a very large amount of expense—having actually paid for law costs, expenses of witnesses, &c., &c., a sum of £620, and have lost much valuable time.

Under these circumstances, Isbester and party consider that they have a fair, just, and equitable claim upon the Government for compensation, and that they ought at least to be reimbursed the amount that they have actually, and as they believe, necessarily expended in the prosecution of the appeal, and in their endeavour to uphold the decision of the Court of Appeal.

I am, therefore, instructed by Isbester and party to place the above brief statement of facts before you; and I have the honor to ask that I may be favoured with the decision of the Government in the matter at your earliest convenience.

I have, &c.,

Sir,

I have the honor to inform you that I have laid before the Honorable the Attorney General the accompanying letter addressed to you by Mr. Gold Commissioner M'Lean, and that the following is a copy of Mr. Attorney General's advising:—

"I gather from this statement that, partly by mutual consent, and partly from mistaken views "of their powers, the Court and Captain Browne have very much embarrassed themselves as to their "next proceedings. With the very meagre statement before me, it is quite impossible to advise either "Mr. M'Lean or Captain Browne as to their strict legal position; but looking at the matter as now "before me, I think the safest course will be for the holder of the auriferous ore to interplead, if either "of the parties brings an action against him."

Sir,

Referring to your letter of the 25th ultimo, in which you bring under notice certain circumstances connected with the gold mining case noted in the margin, I am directed to inform you that the matter has been referred, as requested by you, for the opinion of the Honorable the Attorney General, who has advised as follows:— Harrison & Co. v. Isbester & Co.

Crown Solicitor's Office,
Sydney, 17 November, 1862.

Sir,

I have the honor to return herewith Mr. Reynolds' letter to the Honorable the Secretary for Lands, of date 30th October last, and to state that I think the claim of Isbester and party, to be paid all reasonable costs which they have incurred in defending the decision of Mr. Commissioner M'Lean, rests upon similar grounds to the claim made by the defendants in Berry v. Graham and others, which was acceded to by the Government.

I think, however, that it is impossible that the law costs and expenses of witnesses can have amounted to £600, as stated in Mr. Reynolds' letter; and if Government determine to pay Isbester and party's costs, they should be required to send in a bill of items, in order that it may be seen whether or not the sums paid are reasonable.

In order that the Honorable the Secretary for Lands may have some idea of the reasonableness of the claim now made, I may mention that Mr. Reynolds has informed me that, of the sum of £600 mentioned in his letter, £150 was paid to Mr. Solicitor Redman for his attendance before the Commission, and £300 for his coming to Sydney to hear the case argued before the Supreme Court.

I have the honor to inform you that, since writing to you on the 17th instant, relative to the claim of Isbester and party to be paid by the Government a sum of above £600 costs, expended by them in defending a decision of Mr. Gold Commissioner M'Lean, I have received from Mr. Reynolds a list of items, shewing how such sum is made up.

I send you herewith a copy of this list.

Sir,

Referring to my letter to you of the 30th October last, on behalf of Isbester and party, asking for compensation from the Government for damages sustained as therein stated, I have the honor to remind you that I have not received any reply to such communication, and to request that you will be so good as to favour me with one at your early convenience.

I may state that I called on the Crown Solicitor in the latter part of last week (to whom I was given to understand the papers had been referred); and whilst he would not admit that my clients had a legal claim against the Government, yet was of opinion, as I understood him, that they had an equitable claim, though not for any such amount as that stated in my letter to you. Indeed in forwarding to you the particulars of such amount, I had not myself intended to apply for payment thereof in full, but only wished to make the Government aware of the sum that had been actually expended by Isbester and party.

As my clients are very pressing, I would beg to suggest that the papers may be again referred to the Crown Solicitor, in order that he may report what sum he thinks would be a reasonable one for the Government to pay my clients; and I feel pretty sure that Isbester and party will feel perfectly satisfied with his decision.

Crown Solicitor to Under Secretary for Lands.

Crown Solicitor's Office,
Sydney, 23 September, 1863.

Sir,

I have the honor to return, herewith, the papers connected with the application of Messrs. Isbester & Co., that certain costs incurred by them should be paid by you, which were received by me from your department, with instructions to report what ought to be paid. I beg to state that Mr. Reynolds, Messrs. Isbester's agent, has furnished me with a bill of costs, the amount of which is £777 0s. 10d., that I have gone over the papers with Mr. Reynolds, and think that £192 13s. 10d. might fairly be the amount paid for such costs.

The question of whether the claim made by Messrs. Isbester & Co. should be admitted is, however, I believe, still undetermined by the Honorable the Secretary for Lands.

Messrs. Isbester's costs can also, if the Honorable the Secretary for Lands thinks it desirable, be taxed by the Prothonotary of the Supreme Court.

I have, &c.,
JOHN WILLIAMS.

Minute of Secretary for Lands.

THE costs alluded to in the last paragraph may be taxed.—JOHN R., 9 Oct.
Crown Solicitor, B.C., 9 Oct.—M.F.

Crown Solicitor to Under Secretary for Lands.

Crown Solicitor's Office,
Sydney, 20 October, 1863.

Sir,

I have the honor to return to you, herewith, the papers relating to the claim of Messrs. Isbester & Co., for the return to them of certain costs they have expended, and to suggest that it is advisable that the question, as to whether the costs when taxed shall be paid, be determined before any steps are taken towards taxation. If Mr. Reynolds is called upon to submit to a taxation of costs, he may fairly assume that the amount ascertained by such taxation will be paid to him. As yet, however, I do not see that the Minister has resolved that the costs shall be paid by the Government, by any direct minute—although possibly his instructions that the costs should be taxed may be taken as evidence that he so intended.

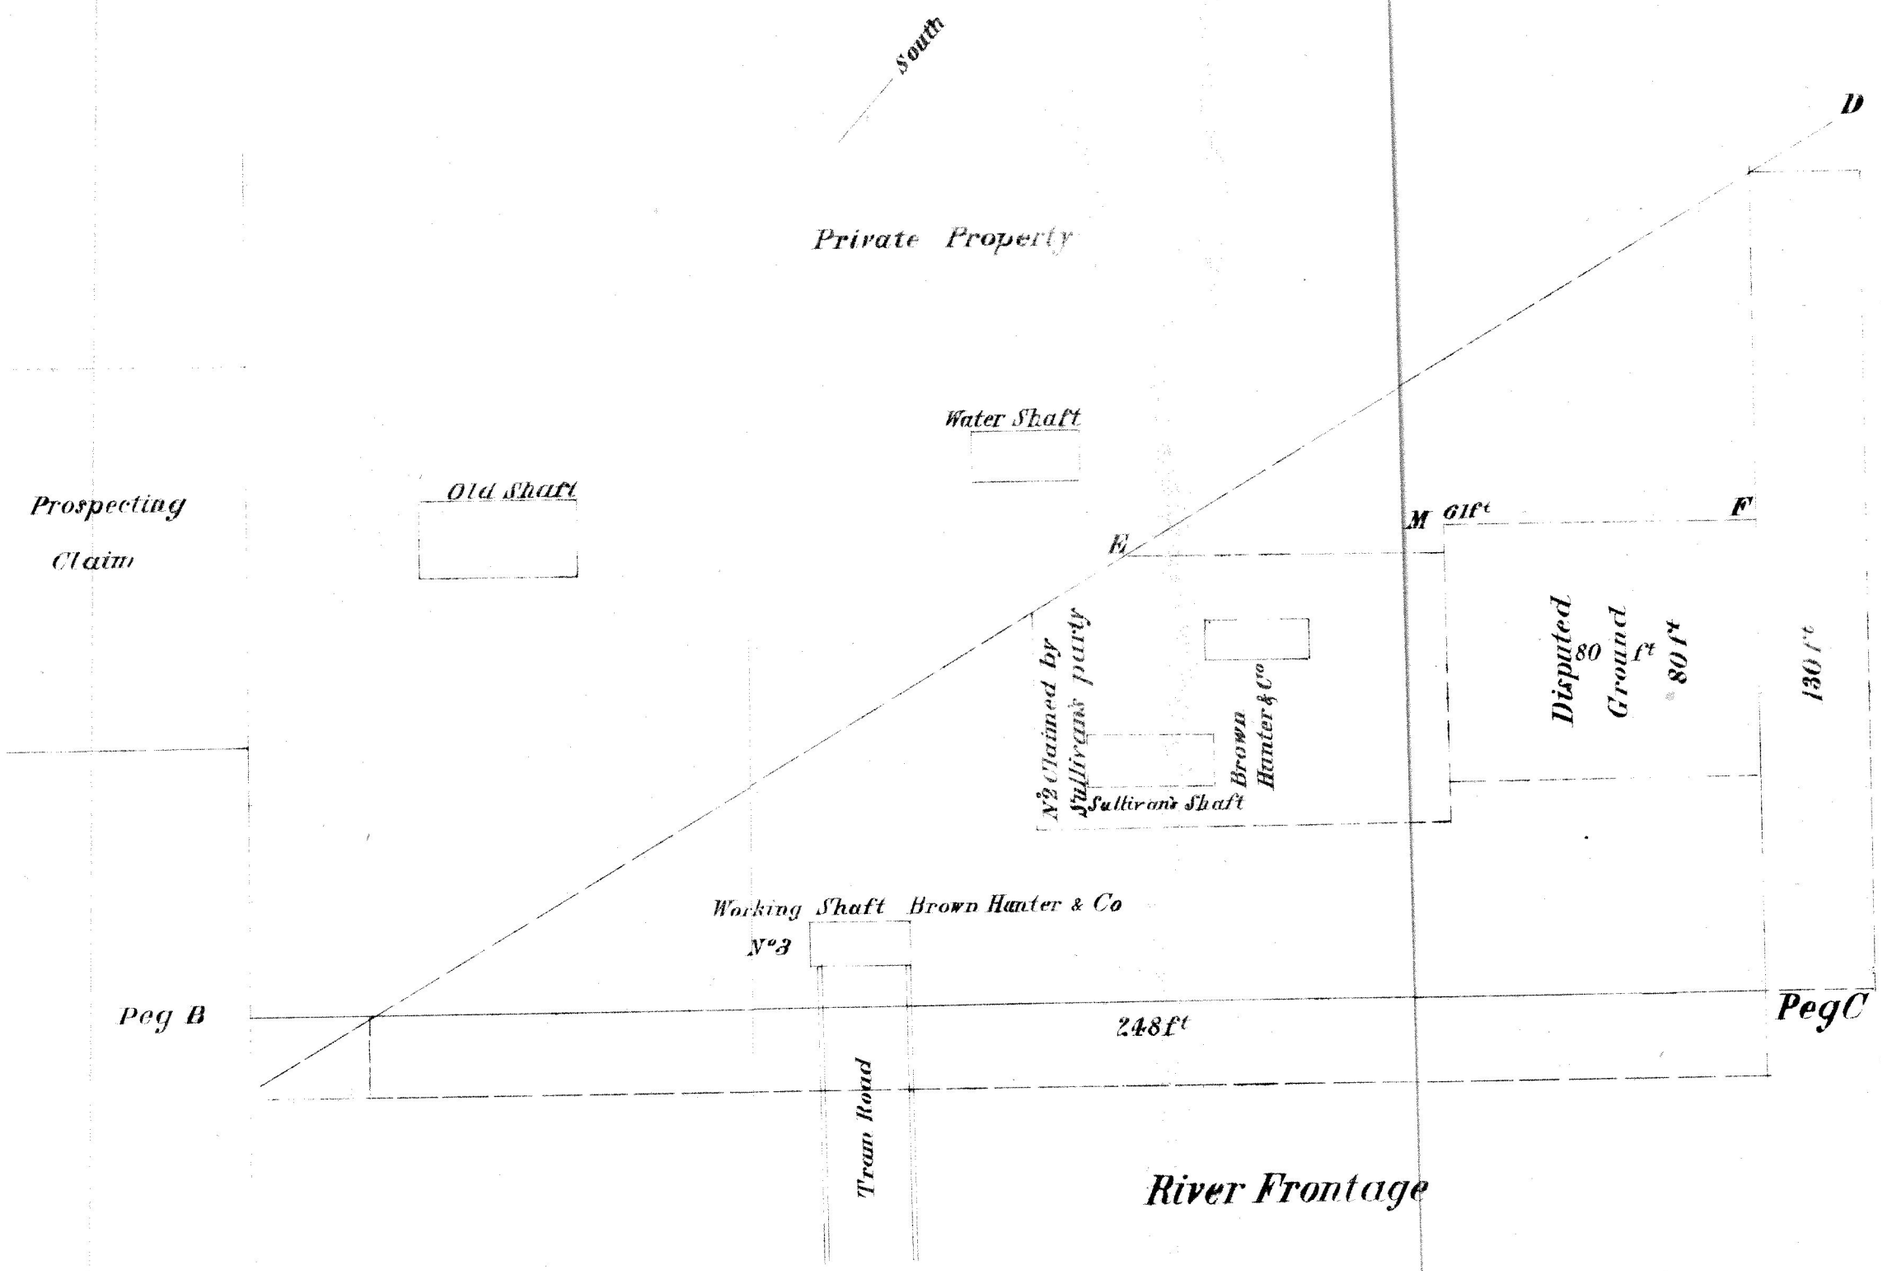

I would call your attention to the fact, that the Honorable the Secretary for Lands suggested that I should say what ought to be paid, and by the same minute inquires whether there is not a system of taxation. Thinking from this, that he wished me to go through the costs with Mr. Reynolds and ascertain the reasonableness of the charges made, I did so, and reduced the bill from £777 0s. 10d. to £192 13s. 10d.; and I do not think a greater reduction would be made if the bill were taxed in the usual way, by the Prothonotary.

See enclosure, page 11, 1st column.

I have, &c.,
JOHN WILLIAMS,
Crown Solicitor.

Sir,

In conformity with the instructions from the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, communicated to me in Sir Charles Trevelyan's letter of the 9th November, 1855, I have now to submit an account of the weight and fineness, as ascertained here, of Gold Coins struck at the Sydney Branch of the Royal Mint, and sent Home by the Governor of New South Wales, during the year 1862. These Coins were conveyed from Australia in closed packets, bearing the Seal of the Colonial Treasurer, and were received by me under cover of letters from the Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, of the 5th April, 1862, and later dates.

My last report on the Governor's Pieces was dated 25th April, 1862.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

NEW SOUTH WALES.

SYDNEY BRANCH ROYAL MINT.

(DESPATCH RESPECTING.)

Ordered by the Legislative Assembly to be Printed, 29 September, 1863.

SECRETARY OF STATE FOR THE COLONIES to GOVERNOR SIR JOHN YOUNG, BART., K.C.B.

Downing-street,
26 June, 1863.

SIR,

I communicated to the Board of Treasury a copy of your Despatch No. 8, of the 21st January, together with the memo. prepared by the Deputy Master of the Sydney Mint, respecting the admission of the Coin struck at that Mint to a currency co-extensive with that of Imperial Coin; and I transmit to you, for your information, a copy of the answer returned by the Lords Commissioners' desire, from which you will be apprised of the views and intentions of their Lordships. 24 June, 1863.

I have, &c.,
NEWCASTLE.

[Enclosure.]

Treasury Chambers,
24 June, 1863.

Sir,

With reference to your letter of the 4th April last, on the subject of measures for giving general currency to Coins struck at the Sydney Branch of the Royal Mint, I am directed by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to request, that you will inform the Duke of Newcastle, that my Lords have had under their consideration the arrangements which it will be necessary to adopt, for the purpose of carrying into effect the recommendations of the Select Committee of the House of Commons of last Session on the Sydney Branch Mint.

The first point raised in the Report of that Committee regards the locality of the Branch Mint. It states that "the Committee have abstained from entering into any "other question than the one referred to them, and have, therefore, avoided the contro- "versy which appears in the correspondence placed before them, as to whether the Mint "would have been better placed at Melbourne than at Sydney, or if a Mint should not "also be placed at Melbourne."

My Lords would have been ready to have entered into this question, if required to do so, as preliminary to any measure for declaring Sovereigns, and other gold money, coined in Australia, a legal tender of payment in the United Kingdom; but as it has not been raised by the Colonies immediately concerned, though ample time has been afforded for its consideration, since the publication of the Report, their Lordships feel themselves warranted in passing it by, and applying themselves to the proposition now before them from the Colony of New South Wales.

It will be convenient to take the six recommendations with which the Report of the Committee concludes, as the basis of the arrangements to be considered. They are as follows, viz.:—

1. That Gold Coin be issued from the Branch Mint at Sydney, having currency in all parts of the British Dominions where gold coin minted in London is current.

2. That the coin struck at the Sydney Mint should have, as nearly as possible, the same alloy, and the same quality of execution and durability as that struck at the Royal Mint in London.
3. That the coin should also have a Mint mark sufficient to indicate, at least to Bankers and others, the Mint whence it issued.
4. That an adequate Mint charge, or seignorage, should continue to be levied, and that the Imperial Government should stipulate for its being kept at such an amount as to prevent any undue inducement to the importation into the United Kingdom of gold in coin rather than in bars.
5. That arrangements should be made for withdrawing from circulation, as speedily as possible, the existing Sydney gold coinage.
6. That the charge for the Branch Mint should be provided for by permanent appropriation by the Legislature of New South Wales, rather than by an annual vote.

Of these propositions the last is properly regarded by the Government of New South Wales as the first in order of action, since a permanent appropriation for the charge of the Branch Mint, by the Legislature of that Colony, with the view of giving Her Majesty's Government an immediate control over the establishment, is considered to be a necessary preliminary to the recognition of the Branch Mint as an institution adopted for Imperial objects.

My Lords are satisfied with the disposition shewn by the Legislature of New South Wales to pass an Act for this purpose, the Bill introduced this year having been withdrawn only on account of a technical objection, not affecting the principle of the measure, and they are willing to submit a Bill to Parliament, as proposed by the Governor of New South Wales, conditionally enabling Her Majesty to declare by proclamation Coins to be issued from the Branch Mint of New South Wales, corresponding in the essential particulars regarding the standard of value and denomination with those issued from the Royal Mint of London, a legal tender of payment in the United Kingdom. The effect of such an enactment will be to enable Her Majesty to give currency to the Sydney gold coins in all parts of Her Dominions in which gold coins issued from the Royal Mint in London are a legal tender.

It will be necessary, however, that this measure should be guarded by the precautions recommended by the Committee; of these the fourth proposition, regarding the imposition of an adequate Mint charge or seignorage, is the one of most immediate importance. The object of the Committee, as my Lords apprehend, in making this proposition, is that by the imposition of a reasonable charge for the cost of coinage, a wholesome check should be established on requisitions for coin for transmission to this Country, in excess possibly of the quantity required for the purposes of circulation, which might therefore tend to derange the system by which gold coins are issued from the Royal Mint on requisitions from the Bank of England, which requisitions are founded on the ascertained requirements of the public.

The local dues levied on the export of gold might appear at first sight to have some bearing on this question. By the Act of the Legislature of New South Wales, 26 Vic., No. 5 (a copy of which was enclosed in your letter of 9th ult.), the gold duties were reduced from the 1st January, 1863, to 1s. 6d., payable at the Customs for every ounce troy weight of gold about to be exported, and at the Royal Mint, Sydney, upon gold imported thither, the duty of 1s. 3d. for every ounce troy weight of standard fineness so imported. There is thus a difference of 3d. between the duty imposed on gold exported through the Customs and that levied at the Mint; but it will be observed that the former is imposed on gold generally, and the latter on gold reduced to standard fineness. My Lords understand that this difference is intended to equalize the charge upon the two descriptions of metal; the raw gold, as produced from the mines, being considered generally better than standard gold to the extent of 3d. the ounce. It is obvious that the inducement, so far as this differential duty operates, to take the gold to the Mint for the purpose of its being refined, or to export it in its crude state, will depend on the correctness of the average valuation on which the distinction is based.

On consideration of the subject, however, my Lords are of opinion that Her Majesty's Government may leave the question of the export duty on gold to the unfettered discretion of the local Government, and confine their attention to the imposition of a proper charge for coinage, as distinguished from the operations of the refining attached to the Branch Mint. It may be taken for granted that, in the interest of the local revenue, the duty on gold imported into the Mint will be rendered, as nearly as circumstances will admit, equivalent to the export duty on gold which has not passed through the Mint, i.e., that the difference in the duty, when levied on standard gold at the Mint, and the export duty when levied on crude gold at the Custom House will, as is obviously requisite, be solely regulated by the excess in value, so far as it can be ascertained, of the average crude gold of New South Wales over and above standard gold. In this view it is only necessary to provide a statutory security against the creation of inducements to demand coin from the Branch Mint, in preference to bar gold from the refinery department.

My Lords propose, therefore, that a Mint charge shall be imposed, sufficient to cover the cost of coinage on all gold returned in coin to the importer, over and above the charge, if any, which may be incurred for assay and refining; and over and above the duty, if any, imposed by Colonial Act on gold imported into the Mint as the equivalent of an export Customs duty.

The

The Mint charge to be thus imposed should be fixed at such an amount as to check excessive and useless coining, without creating an impediment to proper applications for coin. The actual cost attending the fabrication of the coin would, so far as it can be ascertained, be the proper measure of the charge, with a small allowance for error, it being mainly requisite that the charge should not be less than the cost.

By communication with the Master of the Mint, My Lords have learnt that it is estimated that the wages of the workmen, cost of materials, and waste of metal in coining gold at the Royal Mint are covered by one-sixth per cent. of the value coined; but this does not include the salaries of the officers of the establishment, nor the outlay for buildings. The charge at the French Mints "pour frais de fabrication" is, for gold 2·161 milliemes or 2·0185 pence per oz. Taking into consideration the higher cost of the process at Sydney over that incurred in Europe, the charge for coining at the Sydney Mint may be fairly taken at three milliemes (0·3 per cent.), which is about equivalent to 3d. per oz. on the coin.

On these data My Lords propose that the Mint charge for coining in the Sydney Mint should be, for the present, fixed at 3d. per oz. of gold coin. The proposed charge may be open to revision hereafter, and it will be sufficient to provide in the Bill to be submitted to Parliament for the imposition of a Mint charge for coinage of 3d. per oz. troy of standard gold, with a power to Her Majesty in Council to augment that charge if found insufficient with reference to the principle which has been laid down; or on the other hand to reduce it, if it shall be found to be unnecessarily high.

It will be understood that this charge will be exclusive of that which is now made at the Branch Mint at Sydney for prompt returns whether in coin or bar gold, and which is analogous to the charge of 1½d. allowed by law at the Bank of England for immediate payments in exchange for bullion.

The second and third recommendations in the Report of the Committee will be subject for future consideration, when the necessary statutory powers shall have been obtained.

My Lords think it right however, to observe, that although identity in quality of execution and durability, between the coin struck at the Sydney Mint and that struck at the Royal Mint of London, may properly be kept in view as an object of ultimate attainment, it would not in their opinion be expedient to lay down, in connection with the measure now contemplated, any positive regulation regarding the character of the alloy to be employed. The second recommendation of the Committee on this point was probably founded on a suggestion, in evidence given before them, that the silver which is contained in the native gold of Australia might probably lead to the re-exportation of the coin made from it immediately on its importation into this country, with the view of its being melted down on the Continent, for the purpose of extracting the silver. In the same evidence it is however shewn, that the separation of the silver from the gold would be at present too costly an operation in Australia, on account of the deficiency of chemical aids, to render it profitable; a strict and immediate compliance with the recommendation of the Committee might therefore in effect put a stop to coinage in Australia.

My Lords consider, therefore, that it would be inexpedient to establish any positive regulation with regard to the coinage of gold at the Sydney Mint, for circulation in the United Kingdom, which would not agree with the law applicable to the coinage conducted at the Royal Mint. The only enactment defining the weight and fineness of the gold money circulating in the United Kingdom is contained in the 11th section of the 56th George III, cap. 68, which enacts that "the gold coin of this realm shall be, "and shall be considered, and is hereby declared to be the only legal tender for payments "(except as hereinafter provided) within the United Kingdom of Great Britain and "Ireland, and that the said gold coin shall hold such weight and fineness as are prescribed "by the present Indenture with His Majesty's Master and Worker of the Mint, for "making gold moneys at His Majesty's Mint in London."

The provision on this point in such Mint Indenture is as follows:—"Every pound "weight, troy, of all the moneys of gold aforesaid, shall be in value £46 14s. 6d., and "shall be in fineness at the trial of the same, 22 carats of fine gold, and 2 carats of alloy "in the pound weight, troy, which standard aforesaid of 22 carats of fine gold, and 2 "carats alloy, in every pound weight, troy, our Sovereign Lord the King doth will and "ordain and establish by these presents to be the right standard of crown gold."

It follows from these terms that the only legal requirement, in respect of standard gold, is that each pound weight, troy, shall contain 22 carats of fine gold, and that the remainder shall be of alloy, the nature of which is left to the discretion of the Master of the Mint. My Lords are unwilling to propose legislation for Sydney which should go beyond the regulation thus in force in England, and consequently an equal amount of discretion will remain in respect to the coinage to be conducted for imperial purposes at the Sydney Branch Mint. It may not be unimportant to observe, in illustration of this principle, that by the Mint law of the United States it is expressly provided that not more than one-half of the alloy in the gold coins may consist of silver.

The 5th recommendation of the Committee, regarding the withdrawal from circulation of the existing Sydney gold coinage, does not call for any immediate action on the part of Her Majesty's Government, and may be left to the regulation of the Colonies concerned.

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM on the foregoing, by the DEPUTY MASTER of the Sydney Mint.

THE Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, having in view the introduction of the Sydney sovereign as a legal tender into the United Kingdom, propose in their letter to Sir F. Rogers, dated 24 June, 1863, to submit to Parliament a Bill which shall, inter alia, fix, for the present, a charge for coining at the Sydney Mint, at 3d. per ounce of gold coin, and shall give a power to Her Majesty in Council to augment that charge, if found insufficient with reference to the principle which has been laid down in the Report of the Select Committee of the House of Commons, or on the other hand, to reduce it, if it shall be found to be unnecessarily high.

Assuming that by this time the above Bill has passed into law, I propose to shew that the charge indicated is too high, even on the principle laid down; and that the imposition of it will act detrimentally to the interest of the Colony.

A charge is proposed "to prevent any undue inducement to the importation into the United Kingdom of gold in coin rather than in bars." If I knew what result would be considered as an indication of an undue inducement, I should probably be able to shew that a much less charge would remove it. As, however, it appears to have been assumed by those who have undertaken in England to arrange the details for the fulfilment of this condition, that a charge sufficient to cover the cost of coinage will be sufficient to remove the inducement apprehended, I will accept this conclusion as the basis of my argument.

Independent of its effect in removing an undue inducement, a charge to this extent is defensible on economical grounds. For though it may cause a loss to the revenue of the same extent for every ounce of gold removed uncoined, yet the same amount of expenditure will be saved, and thus the loss will be balanced by the saving. It is probably this reason that has led to a charge of this extent being proposed.

It is stated by the Master of the Mint that the cost of coining at the Royal Mint in London is about 1¾d. per ounce, at the Mint in Paris at 2·0185 pence per ounce, and from these data it is assumed that the cost in New South Wales must be about 3d. per ounce, and that a corresponding charge can be imposed without detriment to the Colonial Revenue. The latter, however, cannot be done.

It may be that the cost of coining, if a fair proportion of the salary of every official concerned be charged against it, is not less than 3d. per ounce. But I submit that the practical question is, what proportion of the Establishment can be dispensed with, if the amount of coinage be reduced either permanently or at uncertain periods according to the demand. The subjoined estimates shew the cost of an establishment for coining £20,000, and that for coining £60,000 a week, and the difference of the two sums shews that the additional £40,000 a week can be coined at an expenditure of about ½d. an ounce.

To reconcile the small sum here shewn as the cost of coining, with the larger sums estimated as the cost in countries where labour is cheaper, it may be necessary to draw attention to the fact that, at the Mints of London and Paris, gold is received in the shape of bullion only, from one or two importers, in large quantities (in London, I believe, in quantities not less than £10,000, or about 2,500 ozs. in weight,) of or near to standard purity, and is delivered coined, at specified periods, in equally large amounts. In Sydney, rough gold of almost any character is accepted from any one of the public, and in lots as low as 12 ounces in weight. A large portion of the business of the Sydney Mint consists of that which the other Mints do not undertake. Here, we have to receive from importers, melt, assay, value, and pay, before we arrive at the point at which the other Mints commence. This heaviest portion of our duty would not, in any degree, be diminished by a diminished coinage, and therefore the establishment employed on it could not be reduced on that account. The only reduction possible is that of the staff of the coining department, and of one or two lads in the melting-house, and even this must not be carried so far as the dismissal of mechanics skilled in the use of special machines.

Assuming it then to be admitted that the saving which can be secured by a diminished coinage is practically the cost of extra coinage, and that this is not more than ½d. an ounce, it follows that a charge of 3d. an ounce will entail a loss of 2½d for every ounce removed uncoined.

The annual loss to the Colonial Revenue which may thus be entailed, I cannot with any certainty predict. It may lead to the whole of the gold being removed. I have but little doubt that it will cause the withdrawal of four-fifths of it. Assuming then that, in future years, the amount imported to the Mint will be £2,500,000 annually, and that £2,000,000 will be removed uncoined, the loss to the Revenue will not be less than £5,000 per annum.

Such a loss would, of course, soon lead to a request from the Colony for a reduction of the coinage charge, and the request would no doubt be complied with; but in the mean time interests in connection with gold would have sprung up, and these would claim consideration of their vested rights which a reduced charge would, of course, affect.

For these reasons I submit, that the coinage charge should, in the first place, be fixed at one half-penny an ounce; an amount which may be depended on as sufficient to keep the annual production of coin below £2,000,000. Should it however, after trial, be found insufficient, with reference to the principle laid down in the Report of the Select Committee of the House of Commons, a higher charge can at any time be imposed.

I have, in all I have said, argued on the supposition that the Bill alluded to in the Treasury letter has by this time become an Act of Parliament. Should it, however, have been postponed to next Session, it would, in my opinion, be better to amend it so as to make it a Bill granting the Queen in Council the power of conferring the boon sought, on the Colony undertaking to act as the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury may think necessary to satisfy the conditions laid down in the Report of Select Committee; and also the power of withdrawing the boon at any time, should the undertaking or conditions not be satisfactorily fulfilled.

The conditions mentioned in the Report might be recited in the Bill, but no detail as to the method of satisfying them should be introduced; that should be left to the Treasury to prescribe and alter from time to time as circumstances may suggest.

SIR,

With reference to my despatch, No. 51, of 26th June, I transmit to you, for your information, a copy of an Act passed in the recent Session of the Imperial Parliament, entitled, "An Act to enable Her Majesty to declare Gold Coins to be issued "from Her Majesty's Branch Mint at Sydney New South Wales a legal tender for pay- "ments and for other purposes relating thereto."

The object of this Act will be found fully explained in the recital.

CAP. LXXIV.

An Act to enable Her Majesty to declare Gold Coins to be issued from Her Majesty's Branch Mint at Sydney, New South Wales, a legal Tender for Payments; and for other Purposes relating thereto. [28*th July*, 1863.]

WHEREAS by an Act of the fifty-sixth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, chapter sixty-eight, intituled "An Act to provide for a new Silver Coinage, and to regulate the currency of the Gold and Silver Coins of this Realm," it is amongst other things provided, that after the date of the passing of that Act the gold coin of the Realm should be the only legal tender for payments (except the silver coins of the Realm to the extent of forty shillings) within the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland: And whereas by the same Act it is declared that the gold coin of the Realm should hold such weight and fineness as are prescribed by an indenture therein referred to, and made with His Majesty's master and worker of the Mint for making gold monies at His Majesty's Mint in London, and with such allowance called the remedy as is given to the said master by the said indenture, which weight and fineness are by the said Act declared to be the standard of the lawful gold coin of the Realm, so far as relates to the gold coins of the denominations in use at the time of the passing of the said Act and specified in the said indenture: And whereas gold coins, of the weight and fineness and of the denominations mentioned in the said Act, and specified in the said indenture, have, from the date of the said Act up to the present time, continued to be issued from Her Majesty's Mint in London, and to be the only legal tender for payments, except as aforesaid, within the United Kingdom: And whereas Her Majesty has by proclamation established at Sydney, in New South Wales, a branch of the Royal Mint for making gold coins of the same weight and fineness, and of the same denominations as the gold coin issued by Her Majesty's Mint in London, and has appointed a Deputy Master of the said Branch Mint; and it is expedient that power should be given to Her Majesty to make the gold coin so issued by Her Majesty's Mint at Sydney a legal tender for payments in the United Kingdom: Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:— 56 G. 3, c. 68.

1. It shall be lawful for Her Majesty, by Proclamation issued with the advice of Her Privy Council, to declare that, after a date specified in such Proclamation, gold coins made at the said Branch Mint, of designs approved by Her Majesty, at Sydney aforesaid, and being of the same weight and fineness as are required by law with respect to gold coins of the same denominations made at Her Majesty's Mint in London, are to be a legal tender for payments within the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland; and upon such Proclamation being issued, gold coins made of such designs, and being of such weight and fineness as aforesaid, shall be a legal tender for payments accordingly. Power to Her Majesty to declare gold coins made at the Branch Mint at Sydney a legal tender in the United Kingdom.

2. It shall be lawful for Her Majesty, by Proclamation issued with such advice as aforesaid, from time to time to impose on the coinage of gold at the said Branch Mint at Sydney a charge sufficient to defray the expenses of coinage, over and above the expenses of assay and refining; and it shall be incumbent on the said Deputy Master to coin gold at the charge so imposed. Power to Her Majesty to impose a charge on coining gold.

3. This Act may be cited for all purposes as "The Sydney Branch Mint Act, 1863." Short Title.

EXTRACTION OF SILVER FROM COINED GOLD.

No. 1.

MR. CHARLES WATT to COLONIAL TREASURER.

Glebe Road,
13 August, 1863.

SIR,

You are doubtless aware that the coin issued at the Sydney Branch of the Royal Mint, contains, as a portion of its alloy, a considerable proportion of silver; and that the coin made at the English Mint is almost free from silver.

Upon reference to a Report made to the English House of Commons, by the authorities at the Imperial Mint, you will find that mention is made of the existence of silver in the coin issued in this Colony, and also of the two objections, which arise from that fact, to its circulation in the British Empire.

These objections are:—

1st. That the coin made here will not wear so well, as, containing silver, it is not so hard as the British coin.

2nd. That the coin has a different value; a Colonial sovereign being worth about 1d. more than an Imperial one.

It is perhaps as well that I should state, that it is admitted by all who understand the subject, that the removal of the silver, and substitution of copper, would much improve the appearance of the Colonial coin, which now cannot be compared with that made at the Imperial Institution.

From the best calculation which I have the materials for making, I estimate that the silver contained by the coin issued from the Sydney Mint, in a year, is worth at least from £5,000 to £6,000.

I am fully aware that it has been urged that it will not pay to extract the silver from the gold previous to its coinage, in this Colony, and being practically acquainted with the subject, I admit that certain known methods of accomplishing this object would, probably, leave no profit upon the transaction.

My object in making this communication to you, is to state that I am prepared to submit a method for carrying out the above-named object, and one which I have every reason to believe will leave a large profit, after paying all the working expenses. I shall be happy to submit my proposal to the authorities at the Mint, if some gentleman unconnected with the Institution (say Prof. Smith, of the Sydney University) is appointed to consider the matter with them; and, in the event of my proposal being accepted, my being guaranteed a proper remuneration.

Perhaps I ought to call your attention to the fact, that almost all the coin made in this Colony is re-melted in England, the silver extracted, and the gold re-coined, with the addition of copper as alloy, in little more than three months after its issue from the Sydney Mint.

I have, &c.,
CHAS. WATT,
Analytical Chemist and Assayer.

Deputy Master of the Mint.—T.W.S.—18/8/63.

No. 2.

DEPUTY MASTER OF MINT, SYDNEY, to COLONIAL TREASURER.

Royal Mint, Sydney,
28 August, 1863.

MR. WATT, in drawing attention to the silver in the Sydney sovereign, has stated the disadvantages which, he assumes, result from the fact. I will consider these seriatim:—

Disadvantages.	Answer.
1st. That the Sydney coin will not wear as well.	1st. The absence of silver in the alloy of the Imperial coin is due to economical reasons only. So far as the wear of the coin is concerned, it has been proved by Hatchett's elaborate experiments, that a mixture of silver in the alloy, say in the proportion of one-half, is very advantageous. The injury to the coin from wear in circulation is by no means in proportion to the softness of the metal of which it is composed. There is no complaint of the wear of the Sydney coin.

2nd.

2nd. That the coin has a different value, a Colonial sovereign being worth about one penny more than the Imperial one.

2nd. I submit this is a decided advantage. The Sydney sovereign has thus a purchasing power of one penny in excess of the Imperial one; or one million of Sydney sovereigns will exchange for 1,004,166 Imperial sovereigns.

3rd. The removal of the silver, and the substitution of the copper, would improve the appearance of the Colonial sovereign.

3rd. If this be even admitted, it follows that the coin without silver would become less acceptable, as compared with the Imperial coin, by some £4,000, in one million sovereigns. I submit it is not desirable to sacrifice such a substantial advantage to improve the appearance of the coin.

4th. The silver left in the coin is estimated to be worth five to six thousand pounds.

4th. Seven thousand five hundred pounds may be taken to be the gross value of the silver in two millions of sovereigns. A Refinery to extract annually the silver from two millions worth of gold by any known method would entail a first outlay of about £10,000 in buildings and plant, and an annual expenditure of about £7,000 in labour, materials, and interest on outlay. Thus the profit realized here on the transaction would not exceed £500 per annum. If Mr. Watt has discovered a cheaper method (though he does not say so) it should be sufficiently cheap to more than balance the depreciation in value which the coin would suffer, before it can with advantage be adopted.

5th. Almost all the coin made in this Colony is re-melted in England, the silver extracted, and the gold re-coined, with the addition of copper alloy, a little more than three months after its issue from the Sydney Mint.

5th. This indicates that the Colonial coin has a commercial value in England superior to that of the Imperial coin—a decided advantage to the Colony.

For these reasons I cannot, under existing circumstances, advise the Government to attempt the extraction of the silver. The question may be again considered when the Sydney sovereign has been admitted as legal tender in the United Kingdom.

E. W. WARD.

UNDER SECRETARY FOR FINANCE AND TRADE to MR. CHARLES WATT.

The Treasury, New South Wales,
31 August, 1863.

SIR,

In reply to your letter of the 13th instant, in which you state that you are in a position to submit, on certain terms, a method for extracting the silver at present appearing to exist in Australian gold, and for substituting copper during the process of coinage, in order to assimilate the result to that obtained at the Royal Mint in London, I have the honor to enclose a copy of a Report received on the subject from the Deputy Master of the Mint (to whom your communication was referred), from which you will perceive that he does not deem it expedient, under existing circumstances, to recommend any alteration in the system as at present carried out.

I have, &c.,
HENRY LANE,
Under Secretary.

No. 4.

MR. CHARLES WATT to COLONIAL TREASURER.

Glebe Road,
2 September, 1863.

SIR,

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter enclosing Captain Ward's report, which I suppose was intended to close the correspondence, but I can hardly, in fairness to myself, allow it to do so, although I incur the risk of being regarded as troublesome to you.

I number the following paragraphs to correspond with Captain Ward's, for facility of reference.

No. 1. In stating that the Colonial coin would not wear so well as the English, I was perfectly aware of Mr. Hatchett's observations, which have reference to quite a different alloy to that which exists in the Colonial sovereign—my statement is therefore unanswered.

No. 2. How the assertion can be proved, that this Colony, giving a sovereign and a penny for a sovereign, gains by the transaction, I am totally at a loss to discover. If the answer means to convey the idea that the coin finds a more ready market for re-melting, &c., then I would ask, does not the gain go into the hands of those who separate the metals? Under these circumstances, why coin the gold? It would be equally as valuable in bars; and why ask the Imperial Government to make it current in England, while it has a ready market at the English refineries, for re-melting, &c.?

I have shewn this statement of Captain Ward's to commercial gentlemen in Sydney, who, like myself, were quite unable to understand it. I contend that a Colonial sovereign gives the value of a sovereign and a penny to those who extract the silver.

No. 3. This is answered in the above.

No. 4. As regards plant, materials, &c., Captain Ward's calculations have nothing whatever to do with the plan I propose. I estimate the cost of the plant that I should require for the quantity of gold stated by Captain Ward, at a quarter the sum he has named, and the profit of the transaction as at least six times the amount he states.

It is not likely that I should have troubled you with receiving, and myself with writing these letters, if I had only to propose those methods of accomplishing the object under consideration which, I am fully aware, are perfectly known to the scientific gentlemen who have charge of this department at the Sydney Mint; and I can hardly feel that I have had fair treatment from Captain Ward, when he reports that a method should not even be submitted, with which I have every reason to believe he is perfectly unacquainted.

In conclusion, I would call your personal attention to the fact, that I expressed my willingness to lay my plan before the authorities at the Mint, if some scientific gentleman, unconnected with the institution, was allowed to consider the matter with them. This, I think, shews that I am not afraid of a careful and searching investigation. Had the plan I proposed, and which I will still leave open for a few days, been adopted, it would have been to the advantage of this Colony; for no one is better acquainted with the fact that the silver must be extracted from the Colonial coin, before that coin is allowed to pass current in England, than the Deputy Master of the Sydney Mint; this done, and all the objections in England are removed.

I have, &c.,
CHAS. WATT,
Analytical Chemist.

SIR,

With reference to your letter of the 2nd instant, commenting on the observations made by the Deputy Master of the Mint, on your proposal to submit a method for extracting the silver existing in Australian coin, I am directed to inform you, that Captain Ward, having been again applied to on the subject, has not considered it necessary to amend his former Report.

JOINT STOCK BANKS IN ENGLAND.

Presented to both Houses of Parliament, by Command.

CIRCULAR Despatch from His Grace the Duke of Newcastle, relative to the establishment of Joint Stock Banks in England, with Limited Liability, for carrying on business in the Colonies.

SECRETARY OF STATE FOR THE COLONIES to GOVERNOR SIR JOHN YOUNG, BART.

(Circular) Downing-street,
31 December, 1862.

SIR,

I have the honor to transmit to you, for your information, a copy of a letter from 11 Dec., 1862.
the Treasury, with a copy of a case which had been submitted to the Attorney and Solicitor General, and their opinion thereon, as to the establishment of Joint Stock Banks in England, with limited liability, for carrying on business in the Colonies.

I have, &c.,
NEWCASTLE.

The Right Honorable F. Peel to Sir F. Rogers.

Treasury Chambers,
11 December, 1862.

Sir,

With reference to the various communications which have passed between the Treasury and the Colonial Office, on the subject of the incorporation of Colonial Banking Companies, and more especially as regards Canada and the Australian Colonies, I am directed by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, to request that you will inform the Duke of Newcastle, that the attention of my Lords having been drawn to proceedings for the establishment of banks for carrying on the business of banking in Her Majesty's Colonies or Possessions abroad, under the Joint Stock Banking Companies and Limited Liabilities Acts, their Lordships considered it right to ascertain the legal status of such Corporations in the Colonies or Possessions in which they may establish themselves.

I am to transmit herewith, for the information of His Grace, copy of a case which has been laid by their Lordships' orders, before the Attorney and Solicitor General, with the opinion of those officers on the questions submitted to them. As it appears to be within the power of Colonial Legislatures to pass laws to prevent, regulate, or restrict the operations of banks of this description, my Lords do not consider it necessary for Her Majesty's Government to interfere in the matter, but they suggest that copies of the case and opinion should be forwarded to the Governors of the several Colonies, for their information and guidance.

I am, &c.,
F. PEEL.

Sir F. Rogers, Bart.,
&c., &c., &c.

CASE.

As to the establishment of Joint Stock Banks with Limited Liability, for carrying on Banking Business in the Colonies.

The following is a copy of a letter from the Secretary of the Treasury.

Treasury Chambers,
1 November, 1862.

Sir,

I am desired by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to transmit the enclosed copy of their Lordships' minute of the 31st ultimo, on the subject of Joint Stock Banking Companies; and I am to direct you to submit a case for the opinion of the Attorney and Solicitor General, according to the instructions contained therein.

I am, &c.,
GEO. A. HAMILTON.

The Solicitor.

1922

The following is the copy of the minute referred to:—

Copy of Treasury Minute, dated 31st October, 1862.

THE Assistant Secretary brings under the notice of the Board an advertisement which has appeared in the public papers, of the establishment of a Joint Stock Bank, under the Joint Stock Banking Companies Amendment Acts, by the title of "The London and Colonial Bank (Limited)"; likewise an advertisement of the Standard Bank of British South Africa (Limited).

In the memorandum of the first-mentioned Association, registered under the Joint Stock Companies Acts, 1857 and 1858, it is stated that the object of the establishment of the Company is the "transacting of every kind of banking business in India, and the Colonial Dependencies of Great Britain beyond the limits of the United Kingdom."

But it appears from the advertisement, that "in the first instance it is intended to confine the operations of the bank to Canada," and it is announced that "the management of the bank will be in London, and a branch office will in the first instance be established in Montreal, under the control of a local Board of Directors."

On referring to the Acts relating to Joint Stock Companies and Joint Stock Banking Companies, my Lords observe that a distinction was drawn by the Legislature in the earlier enactments between the two descriptions of undertakings. An Act was passed in 1844 for the regulation of Joint Stock Companies generally, and in the same year another Act was passed for the regulation of Joint Stock Banks in England.

7 & 8 Vic., c. 110.

7 & 8 Vic., c. 118.

In the year 1846, an Act was passed extending the provisions of the last-mentioned Act to Scotland and Ireland.

9 & 10 Vic., c. 76.

"The Limited Liability Act, 1855," applies only to Joint Stock Companies formed under 7 and 8 Vic., c. 110.

18 & 19 Vic., c. 133.

The Joint Stock Companies Act of 1856 excepts from its operation Banking and Insurance Companies.

19 & 20 Vic., c. 47.

Thus far legislation relating to banking in the United Kingdom was kept distinct from that relating to Joint Stock Companies for other description of business.

A further Act was, however, passed in the year 1857, for the regulation of Joint Stock Companies, construed as one with the Act of the preceding year, and which may be cited with it as the Joint Stock Companies Acts, 1856, 1857.

20 & 21 Vic., c. 14.

In the same session, an Act, entitled "Joint Stock Banking Companies Act, 1857," was passed, which repeals the second section of "Joint Stock Companies Act, 1856," and incorporates with its enactments the "Joint Stock Companies Acts, 1856 and 1857," except that it does not permit banks to be registered with limited liability.

20 & 21 Vic., c. 49.

This latter restriction was removed by an Act passed in 1858, except as regards banks of issue in the United Kingdom.

21 & 22 Vic., c. 91.

From the foregoing recital of enactments, it would seem that the intention of Parliament had been, in the first instance, to provide a different system of legislation for Joint Stock Banking Companies in the United Kingdom from that applicable to other Joint Stock Companies; and it may be presumed that by the later legislation which removed that distinction (with exception of Banks of issue in the United Kingdom), Parliament had in view only Joint Stock Banking Companies in England, Scotland, and Ireland, which formed the subject of the Acts of 1844 and 1856.

A more extended view of the operation of these Acts was, however, taken by the "Agra and United Service Bank (Limited)," which having obtained a charter under the Act of 1844, reciting a deed of settlement, which purported to recognize a power of carrying on the business of banking beyond the limits of the United Kingdom, was afterwards registered under the Limited Liability Acts.

My Lords understand also that proposals have been made for the establishment of other Banks under the Joint Stock Banking Companies Acts, for the purpose of carrying on the business of banking abroad or in the Colonies, under the control of Boards of Directors in London.

The "London and Colonial Bank (Limited)," now advertised, is, however, as far as this Board is aware, one of the first establishments which have been organized under the Joint Stock Banking Companies Acts, for the avowed object of carrying on the business of banking in Her Majesty's Possessions beyond the limits of the United Kingdom; and my Lords apprehend that very serious considerations may arise from that proceeding, as affecting legislation for local purposes under powers conferred by Parliament on many of Her Majesty's Colonies and Possessions.

In the case of a bank established for the purpose of carrying on business in a foreign country, as in that of the London and Brazilian Banking Company, the same questions would not arise. Whatever may be the propriety or legality of an understanding of this nature, promoted under the assumed authority of Acts of the Imperial Parliament, the authority of those Acts cannot extend beyond the limits of the British Empire, and persons carrying on business in a foreign country under the direction of a Company incorporated in London, must be subject to the laws of the country in which the business is transacted.

But in the case of a British Possession, the authority of the Crown and of Parliament may still have force, notwithstanding the concession of the right of separate legislation.

As for example, it has been held that even after Parliament had conferred on the East India Company the power of granting Charters of Incorporation to Banking Companies in India, the inherent right of the Crown to grant similar charters was not thereby restrained. A company incorporated, therefore, under the laws of this country may possess the rights of an incorporated body in British Possessions, although governed by independent Legislatures, in a more extended sense from that which it could obtain in a country out of the limits of Imperial legislation.

It becomes important, in this view, to ascertain how far the Acts of Parliament referred to authorize the incorporation of Banking Companies for the purpose of carrying on business beyond the limits of the United Kingdom.

As the "London and Colonial Banking Company (Limited)," propose to confine their operations in the first instance to Canada, the condition of the legislation affecting banks in that country will afford the best illustration of the questions to be considered.

The Act 3 and 4 Vict., cap. 35, for the union of Upper and Lower Canada, confers powers on the Legislature there, which may be applied to the regulation of the trade of banking to an extent, at least, which may not be inconsistent with the prerogative of the Crown, or the rights of the Imperial Parliament. In virtue of these powers, the Parliament of Canada passed an Act some years ago for the regulation of the issue of promissory notes, by which the privilege of issue was reserved under certain restrictions to banks incorporated by Royal Charter or by local enactment.

Since the passing of that enactment, many Acts have been passed by the Canadian Parliament for the incorporation of local banks, on the principle of the liability of the shareholders to half the amount of the subscribed capital; the concession of limited liability to this extent being accompanied by various restrictions for the security of the public, regarding the management of the banks and the nature and extent of the business to be carried on by them.

The position of banks incorporated by Royal Charter in reference to Canadian legislation has, on several occasions, formed the subject of communication between the home and local Governments. On the occasion of an application from the North American Bank for a renewal of its charter, the term of which was about to expire, it was represented by the Canadian Government that a general revision of the banking regulations of the Colony was contemplated at the termination of the period to which the privileges of the local incorporated banks were restricted; and in deference to a wish expressed to that effect, my Lords (in concurrence with the views of the Secretary of State for the Colonies), recommended recommended that the term of the renewed charter, granted by the Queen in Council to the North American Bank, should be restricted to the same date. On two subsequent occasions, Her Majesty's Government refused compliance with applications for the grant of charters to London Companies for banking in Canada, in consequence of a disinclination expressed by the Canadian Government to an interference with their independent control over the banks in the Colony.

In these proceedings Her Majesty's Government has been governed by the policy of allowing Colonies possessing representative institutions, free power of regulating their own concerns.

This policy would be seriously prejudiced in the case of banks if the enactments above referred to enable Companies to obtain the privileges of a corporation for banking in Colonies without the sanction of the local Governments, and without conforming to the principles by which the Colonial Legislatures may have been governed in the establishment of their own banking institutions.

As the London and Colonial Bank (Limited) has been associated for the purpose of transacting every kind of banking business in the Colonies, it is obvious that the issue of notes may be included in such business; and supposing that the power of issuing notes in a Colony may be derived from the Imperial enactments referred to, it is possible that claims might be preferred on the part of the bank, inconsistent with Colonial regulations. In the matter of the duration of the corporation, the establishment of this bank would be opposed to the expressed wish of the Canadian Government; and in regard to the limitation of liability in a more restricted degree than that which has been allowed by the Canadian enactments in the case of other banks; and without the restrictions imposed by those enactments, the constitution of this bank would be at variance with the course of legislation adopted in the Colony.

My Lords think it desirable, in order that they may be enabled to consider fully the course which should be followed in this matter, that the true legal force of the enactment of 1858 should in the first instance be ascertained; and they desire that the Solicitor will prepare a case for the opinion of the Attorney and Solicitor General, on the following points:—

1. Whether the effect of the Acts referred to has been to authorize the establishment of banks of the character of the London and Colonial Bank.
2. If the Statutes do not apply to such a bank, whether any and what means are open for restraining the promoters.
3. Whether the Canadian Parliament has the power of passing an enactment to prevent, regulate, or restrict the operations of the bank, if established as proposed in the Colony.

When the above minute was written, the Acts above mentioned were in force.

Upon the 2nd of November, "The Companies Act, 1862" (Stat. 25 and 26 Vict., cap. 89) came into operation.

That Statute repeals almost entirely the above-mentioned Joint Stock Acts (see sections 205, 206, and 3rd Schedule), re-enacting in substance the greater part of their material provisions.

In addition also to the banking projects mentioned in the minute, a variety of other banks have been projected and advertised, to which the same observations apply as to the London and Colonial Bank; for example, the Bank of Canada, Nova Scotia, and New Brunswick (Limited), whose head establishment is to be in London, with the Right Hon. Sir Edmund Head, K.C.B., late Governor-General of Canada, and Lord Bury, M.P., late Civil Secretary in Canada, at the head of the direction; the Bank of Queensland (Limited), with an ex-Chief Justice of Jamaica for Chairman; besides various others for carrying on banking operations with limited liability, out of Her Majesty's Dominions, such as the Union Bank of England and France (Limited), the London and Brazilian Bank (Limited), with influential mercantile names in the direction.

As to the particular bank in question (the London and Colonial Bank), the following is an abstract of what has been hitherto registered:—

The Company is registered under the "Joint Stock Banking Companies Acts, 1857 and 1858."

It was registered on the 17th March, 1862, and its number is 2610.

The documents at present registered are:—

1. Memorandum of Association, signed by John Barnard Locke and six others, all of whom subscribe for twenty shares each.
2. Articles of Association, signed by the same seven persons.
3. Notice of situation of registered Office, No. 2, New Palace Yard, Westminster.
4. Notice of change of situation of registered Office to No. 83, Lombard-street.

In the Memorandum of Association, the object of the establishment of the Company to be the "transacting of every kind of banking business in India, and the Colonies and Dependencies of Great Britain beyond the limits of the United Kingdom."

"The Head Office shall be in the City of London."

The Attorney and Solicitor General are requested to favour the Lords of Her Majesty's Treasury with their opinion:—

1. Whether the effect of the Acts referred to (including the late Act of 25 and 26 Vict., cap. 89) is to authorize the establishment of banks of the character of the London and Colonial Bank.
2. If the Statutes do not apply to such a bank, whether any and what means are open for restraining the promoters.
3. Whether the Canadian Parliament has the power of passing an enactment to prevent, regulate, or restrict the operations of the bank if established as proposed in the Colony (see Stat. 3 and 4 Vict., cap. 35).

1st. We think that the effect of the Act 25 and 26 Vict., c. 89, is to permit the establishment in this country, upon the footing of other Companies regulated by that Act, of banks such as the projected London and Colonial Bank. The Act, however, would not authorize them to carry on the business of banking in any Colony or Foreign Possession of the British Crown in any manner not authorized and permitted by the local law prevailing from time to time in such Colony or Possession. It would, we conceive, merely invest them throughout the British Dominions with the character of English corporations domiciled in England with limited liability (which, it is to be observed, is the normal condition of corporations as such, the individual members of corporations not being, by the common law, liable for their engagements); and subject both as to the nature and extent of their corporate powers and management, and as to the conditions on which they may be dissolved and wound up, to the rules and provisions of that Statute.

2nd. Whether the Act applies or not, we think that as to everything which such Companies or their promoters may propose or attempt to do elsewhere than in the United Kingdom, they may be restrained in such manner as may be thought expedient by local legislation.

3rd. Our answer to this question is in the affirmative, the question being confined to the operations of the bank in the Colony, and not extending to its corporate capacity or constitution as defined by the Imperial Statute.

COLONIAL ACTS FOR THE INCORPORATION OF BANKING COMPANIES.

(DESPATCH RESPECTING.)

Presented to both Houses of Parliament, by Command.

SECRETARY OF STATE FOR THE COLONIES to GOVERNOR SIR JOHN YOUNG, BART.

(No. 13.)

Downing-street,
25 February, 1864.

SIR,

With reference to your Despatch No. 93, of the 20th of October, I have the honor to inform you that Her Majesty will not be advised to exercise Her power of disallowance in respect of the private Act of your Government, entitled "An Act to amend an Act intituled 'An Act to incorporate the Proprietors of a certain Banking Company called "The Commercial Banking Company of Sydney" and for other purposes therein mentioned.'" 20 February, 1864.

At the same time I transmit, for your information, a copy of a letter from the Board of Treasury; from which it will be seen that their Lordships are of opinion that there are no longer any grounds for requiring that the operation of Colonial Acts for the incorporation of Banking Companies, should be confined to the Colonies by whose Legislatures they are passed.

I have, &c.,
NEWCASTLE.

[Enclosure.]

Treasury Chambers,
20 February, 1864.

Sir,

The Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury have had before them your letter of the 28th December last, enclosing a copy of an Act (herewith returned) of the Legislature of New South Wales, entitled "An Act to amend an Act entitled 'An Act to incorporate the Proprietors of a certain Banking Company called "The Commercial Bank of Sydney" and for other purposes therein named'"; and I am directed by their Lordships to acquaint you, for the information of the Duke of Newcastle, that, adverting to the opinion of the Attorney and Solicitor General, communicated to the Colonial Office by the letter of this Board of the 11th December, 1862, on the subject of Banking Companies incorporated under the Companies &c. Act of 1862, my Lords are of opinion that there are no longer any grounds for requiring that the operation of Colonial Acts for the incorporation of Banking Companies, should be confined to the Colonies by whose Legislatures they are passed.

My Lords see, therefore, no reason for advising Her Majesty to exercise Her power of disallowance in respect of the Act now under consideration. As, however, this recommendation is at variance with previous decisions, their Lordships suggest that the Governor of New South Wales should be informed of the grounds on which the Act is left to its operation.

I am, &c.,
F. PEEL.

TAKEN BEFORE

THE SELECT COMMITTEE

ON THE

COMMERCIAL BANKING COMPANY'S ACT AMENDMENT BILL.

FRIDAY, 14 AUGUST, 1863.

Present:—

MR. COWPER, | MR. LEARY,
MR. COWPER, JUNR., | MR. PIDDINGTON.

CHARLES COWPER, ESQ., IN THE CHAIR.

George Slade, Esq., appeared as Solicitor for the Promoters of the Bill, and was examined:—

G. Slade, Esq. 14 Aug., 1863.

1. By the Chairman: Will you state to the Committee the objects which are desired to be accomplished by this Bill? The objects desired to be accomplished by this Bill are stated in the preamble. By the second clause of the Act of Incorporation, it has been doubted whether or no the business of the Company was or was not restricted to its operation in this Colony—whether, in other words, the privileges conferred by the Act were not in consideration of the confinement of the business of the Company to this Colony. Such effect as I have alluded to could not have been the intention of the Act, inasmuch as this Bank has branches in other Colonies; and it is desirable, while making amendments of another kind, to prevent any possible doubt upon that point. The words to which I refer are at the end of the second clause of the Act of Incorporation.

2. Are these words included in the Acts of Incorporation of other banks, or are they confined to the Commercial; because the Bank of New South Wales has a branch in London? There is a difference in the form of enactment as regards the various banks, and I believe this restriction is peculiar to this bank—it is clearly not the intention.

3. You desire, by this amendment, to be placed upon the same footing as the Bank of New South Wales and other Colonial banks which have branches elsewhere, as the construction you put upon this is that it is a restriction? I do not say that it is a restriction, but that it is doubtful; and as there is a possibility, and we are amending upon other points, I am desirous of avoiding the possibility of such doubt.

4. In what respect do you desire to amend the law with regard to the taking of security? That is the subject of another branch. The 13th clause of the Act of Incorporation is not on a par with a similar clause which appears in other Acts of Incorporation with reference to all other institutions; and, in effect, according to the construction of some, is so restrictive as to defeat its own object. The object of such a clause, of course, would be to prevent a bank dealing in matters which were not within the intention of the Legislature; but in effect, supposing the construction alluded to were correct, it might prevent them really from carrying on their legitimate bill operations with that security which ought to attend such operations; and we do not ask anything which is not given by other Acts to other banks. When the clause comes to be considered, I shall be able to shew that every portion of it is based upon similar legislation with reference to other banks. I produce the deed of settlement. (The witness produced the same.) The original capital was £120,000, divided into 4,800, and it has subsequently been increased on four different occasions, so as to amount at the present moment to £320,000, divided into 12,800, the whole of which is paid up. The Company commenced its operations in 1848, and is now carrying on extensive business in this city, and in other portions of this Colony, as well as elsewhere.

5. You find, if I rightly understand you, that your Act, as it at present stands, places you in a disadvantageous position, as regards other banks which have been incorporated since your bank was incorporated? Or simultaneously with it.

6. And you desire that it should be placed upon the same footing as other banks? Yes.

7. By Mr. Piddington: There is nothing in this proposed amendment with reference to the power of issuing promissory notes? No, it is simply as to the legal point.

8. To extend the operations of the bank beyond the Colony? Yes, and to give increased facilities with regard to advances on securities.

ON THE

BANK OF NEW SOUTH WALES INCORPORATION ACT AMENDMENT BILL.

FRIDAY, 12 FEBRUARY, 1864.

Present:—

MR. DALGLEISH, | MR. MACLEAY,
MR. MARTIN, Q.C.

THE HON. JAMES MARTIN, ESQ., Q.C., IN THE CHAIR.

George Wigram Allen, Esq., called in and examined:—

G. W. Allen, Esq. 12 Feb., 1864.

1. By the Chairman: You appear as Solicitor for the promoters of this Bill? I do.
2. Will you state to the Committee the objects desired to be accomplished by the Bill? The clauses of the Incorporation Act which we wish to amend, are the third clause and the twelfth. A question has been raised on the third clause, whether or not the business of the Company was restricted in its operations to the Colony of New South Wales. I do not think this could have been the intention of the Act, nor has it been so understood generally, inasmuch as the Bank has branches in other Colonies. But it appeared desirable to prevent any possible doubt on the matter—more particularly as the Legislature have already passed an Act to remove any doubt on this point in reference to another Bank—I mean the Commercial Bank. The restrictions placed by the third clause upon the Company's operations are greater than those placed upon the operations of any other Banks, by their Acts of Incorporation, except the Commercial Banking Company; and those restrictions were found by the last-named Bank so inconvenient, and to interfere so greatly with its operations, that a Bill for the amendment of their Act has been introduced and passed during the present Session of Parliament. The Bill now introduced is similar to that already passed for the Commercial Bank. The amendments now sought, have also been introduced into the Bill lately passed for the incorporation of the City Bank. The enactments to which I have referred, more particularly the third clause as regards the taking of securities on landed property, have been found very prejudicial to the operations of the Bank, and have interfered considerably with its business.
3. Is it the fact that, as the Bank of New South Wales Act at present stands, that Bank is placed in a disadvantageous position as regards other Banks which have been incorporated since that Bank was incorporated? Yes. I allude to the Joint Stock Bank, the City Bank, and now, with the amendments which they have lately obtained, the Commercial Bank.
4. And the object of the Bill now before the Committee is to place the Bank of New South Wales on the same footing as the Banks to which you have just referred? Yes.
5. Do you produce the deed of settlement of the Bank? I produce a printed copy. (Produced.)

POST OFFICE.

(EIGHTH ANNUAL REPORT, BEING FOR 1862.)

Ordered by the Legislative Assembly to be Printed, 8 July, 1863.

THE POSTMASTER GENERAL to THE UNDER SECRETARY FOR FINANCE AND TRADE, TREASURY, transmitting the Eighth Annual Report on the Post Office Department, being that for 1862.

General Post Office,
Sydney, 16 June, 1863.

SIR,

In accordance with former instructions, I have the honor to transmit, for the information of the Honorable the Minister for Finance, the Eighth Annual Report on the Post Office Department, being that for the year 1862.

No. 1.—INCREASE DURING PAST YEAR OF POST OFFICE SERVICE.

On the 31st December, 1861, the extent of postal lines was 9,569 miles; on the 31st December, 1862, it amounted to 11,211½ miles, shewing an increase of 1,642½ miles of postal route.

The extent of new post route organized was 1,858½ miles; the postal lines discontinued amounting to 216 miles; an increase in the communication on existing postal lines, to the extent of 938 miles, has also been arranged during the year.

Returns of the new and of the discontinued postal routes, and of the increased and decreased postal accommodation on existing lines, will be found in the Appendix. Appendix A, B, C, and D.

The number of miles travelled in 1862 was 2,165,426, being an increase of 182,928 miles on that of the previous year.

At the end of 1861 there were 337 post offices; on the 31st December, 1862, there were 368, giving an increase of 31. 36 were established, 2 re-established, and 7 discontinued during the year; the particulars are given in the Appendix. Appendix E.

Seventy-six new postmasters have been appointed during 1862, and two additional letter-carrierships have been established; one for the town of Mudgee, the other for St. Leonard's (North Shore).

The increase in the number of vendors of postage stamps is thirty-three, a comparatively large increase on that of previous years, and is owing to licenses being granted for the first time to persons resident in the principal country towns; heretofore such licenses were limited to Sydney. Appendix F.

In the correspondence branch, exclusive of printed time bills, returns, &c., 13,048 communications referring to the business of the office were received and registered during 1862, and 4,517 letters and 4,563 blank covers transmitted in reply.

The Cashier has received 6,955 remittances, and has paid away 3,502 cheques.

Ninety-three new accounts have been opened, with contractors and other parties, in the Accountant's ledger.

No. 2.—

No. 2.—Colonial Mail Service.

The amount voted for the conveyance of mails during 1862 was £63,150, whilst the disbursements were £54,933 19s. 7d., and may be classified as follows:—

Mail conveyance by stage and horse	£50,937	17	7
Do. by rail	909	13	6
Do. by steam and sailing vessels ...	2,387	0	8
Do. to railway station, and porterage...	469	17	10
Transmission of supplementary mails to Melbourne...	56	0	0
Gratuities for sorting Hunter River mails	100	0	0
Cost of three boats on the Namoi and Gwydir Rivers, and at Bateman's Bay	73	10	0
	£54,933	19	7

The disbursements under the above heads, during 1861, amounted to £55,906 16s. 10d., shewing a saving during the past year of £972 17s. 3d.

There were 227 distinct mail contracts during the year; on these, 25 transfers were effected, whilst eleven contracts were cancelled.

The fines levied on mail contractors amount to £231 10s.

The cost of Colonial mails conveyed by land, compared with that of preceding years, is shewn by the following tabular statement:—

Year.	Extent of Postal Lines by Rail.	Average Cost per Mile.	Extent of Postal Lines by Coach.	Average Cost per Mile.	Extent of Postal Lines by Horse.	Average Cost per Mile.	Total Extent of Postal Lines.	Total Cost of Conveyance.	Average Cost per Mile.

The extension of railway is from Blacktown to Penrith on the Western line, and from Lochinvar to Branxton on the Northern line.

The last return does not take account of fines levied, or of special contracts.

No. 3.—Revenue.

The following is a Return of the Revenue of the Post Office Department, for the years 1861 and 1862:—

Year.	Sale of Stamps.	Fees for Private Boxes.	Postage on Unpaid Letters.	Total.
	£ s. d.	£ s. d.	£ s. d.	£ s. d.
1861	46,751 19 5	238 17 6	1,177 1 7	48,167 18 6
1862	54,771 1 3	221 0 6	1,313 3 6	56,305 5 3
Increase	8,019 1 10	.....	136 1 11	8,137 6 9
Decrease	.....	17 17 0	.....	.....

The increase in the whole revenue, during the past year, as also in the sale of stamps, has been 17 per cent.

The fees for private boxes have decreased 7½ per cent., whilst the receipts from unpaid postage shew an increase of 11½ per cent.

No. 4.—

No. 4.—Expenditure.

The following Return shews the Expenditure of the Department, for the years 1861 and 1862, under the heads of salaries, contingencies, and conveyance of mails:—

Year.	Salaries.			Contingencies.			Conveyance of Mails.			Totals.
	£	s.	d.	£	s.	d.	£	s.	d.	£	s.	d.
1861	23,821	11	4	1,456	15	10	55,906	16	10	81,185	4	0
1862	25,033	15	0	1,546	13	4	54,933	19	7	81,514	7	11
Increase	1,212	3	8	89	17	6	.....			329	3	11
Decrease	.....			.....			972	17	3	.....

The increase in the whole expenditure is at the rate of $\frac{2}{5}$ per cent.

The augmentation under the head of "salaries" is about 5 per cent., and is caused by the increased number of postmasters; the additional remuneration paid, from 1st September, 1862, to official postmasters, appointed in connection with the Money Order Department; and to the appointment of two additional letter-carriers.

Under the head of "contingencies" the increase is at the rate of 6 per cent, which is attributable to an allowance for forage having been granted to the Postal Inspector, to the official post offices being supplied with furniture, and to the employment of a temporary mail-guard during the sickness of an old servant, who died on the 30th December last.

There is a decrease of about $1\frac{3}{4}$ per cent. under the head of "conveyance of mails," which is owing to the reduced rate of tenders accepted, for wheeled carriage and horse mails, as already shewn in the tabular statement given under the head of "Colonial Mail Service."

The subsidy towards the English Mail Contract is not paid for through the department, and is not, therefore, included in the Post Office Expenditure Return.

No. 5.—Steam Communication with England.

Return of the specified and actual days of Arrival and Departure of the Mail Contract Steamers during 1862, shewing the number of days taken in the passage to and from Southampton, and to and from Marseilles.

The

The mail due in Sydney on the 15th February did not arrive until the 25th March, in consequence of an accident which happened to the "Bombay."

Three supplementary mails were made up during the year, and despatched by Colonial steamers to be transhipped at Melbourne, the cost of which, including transhipment, was £56.

No. 6.—Letters, Newspapers, and Parcels.

The three following tabular statements shew the approximated number of letters, newspapers, and parcels, posted throughout the Colony during 1862, compared with those for 1861.

LETTERS.

Year.	Posted for Town Delivery.	Posted for Country Delivery.	Posted for Foreign Despatch.	Total Posted during the Year.
1861	352,801	3,150,196	440,812	3,943,809
1862	396,420	3,750,879	481,133	4,628,432
Increase	43,619	600,683	40,321	684,623
Decrease	.....	.....	.....	.....

The letters for town delivery have increased at the rate of about 12½ per cent.; those for country delivery at the rate of about 19 per cent.; those for Foreign despatch at the rate of about 9 per cent.; whilst the total increase has been at the rate of 18 per cent.

NEWSPAPERS.

Year.	Posted for Country Delivery.	Posted for Foreign Despatch.	Total Posted during the Year.

Increase	11,709	8,422	20,131
Decrease....	.....	.....	.....

The newspapers posted for country delivery have increased at the rate of ½ per cent.; those for Foreign despatch at the rate of 1¾ per cent.; the total increase being at the rate of about ¾ per cent.

PARCELS.

Increase	11,449	50,755	2,262	64,466
Decrease	.....	.....	.....	.....

According to this return, the parcels closed at the ends, posted for country delivery, have increased 42½ per cent., and those open at the ends, at the rate of 72½ per cent.; while the parcels posted for Foreign despatch shew an increase of about 35½ per cent.

cent.; the total increase being at the rate of 64 per cent. This increase is so remarkable that I have taken some pains to ascertain how it has arisen, and have come to the conclusion that the parcel return from the letter branch for 1861 was incorrect, and the number therein understated; though I have no doubt that the real increase in the book packets during the year has been very considerable.

The following returns shew the number of letters, newspapers, and parcels, divided into three classes, which have been despatched to and received from Foreign parts.

With reference to the letter return, it will be seen that there is, under every head, an increase in the letters both despatched and received. Such increase is at the following ratio, viz.:—

Australian Colonies.

Despatched..... About $2\frac{3}{4}$ per cent.
Received ..... „ $7\frac{1}{2}$ „

United Kingdom.

Despatched..... About 10 per cent.
Received ..... „ $8\frac{1}{4}$ „

Foreign Countries, &c., &c.

Despatched..... About $6\frac{3}{4}$ per cent.
Received ..... „ 28 „

The

The newspaper return shews an increase in every item but that of papers despatched for the Australian Colonies, in which there is a decrease of about 6¾ per cent. The ratio of the increase is as follows, viz.:—

Australian Colonies.

Received ..... About 15 per cent.

United Kingdom, &c.

Despatched..... About 4 per cent.
Received ..... „ 12 „

Foreign Countries.

Despatched..... About 76 per cent.
Received ..... „ 34½ „

With respect to the parcel return, there is an increase under every head, except that of parcels received from the Australian Colonies, the number of which has slightly decreased.

22,347 letters were returned as unclaimed in 1861, against 31,939 returned in the past year; the increase being 9,592. 19,139 of the returned letters were originally addressed to this Colony; 5,839 to the neighbouring Colonies; 6,626 to the United Kingdom; and 335 to other places. The general increase in the number of unclaimed letters is caused by the unclaimed letters from beyond seas having been made returnable, during 1862, in six instead of twelve months. This change necessarily augments, during the first year, the number of such returned letters.

The number of unclaimed registered letters returned was 348, being 47 less than in 1861; and the number unregistered, but containing articles of value, 277; being an increase of 45 on the previous year.

The letters returned to this Colony from abroad, unopened, as being unclaimed, were originally addressed as follows:—

To Australian Colonies	3,697
To the United Kingdom	1,451
To other places.....	63
	5,211

In 1861 the numbers were, respectively—3,892; 4,700, and 229.

The number of letters returned as unstamped, insufficiently stamped, and irregularly posted, was 8,927, being 1,223 more than in the preceding year.

95,119 registered letters passed through the office in 1862, against 84,437 in 1861.

There were 1,836 ounces of gold received through the office in 1862, against 572 ounces in 1861.

Appendix H. & I. In the Appendix will be found a Return shewing the Post Office statistics, from the year 1853 to 1862, both years inclusive; and also a Comparative Return, shewing the average number of letters annually posted by each person resident in the Colony of New South Wales, during the same period.

MISCELLANEOUS.

At the early part of 1862 His Excellency the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, appointed a Board, consisting of Messrs. Jacob L. Montefiore (Chairman), John B. Watt, M.L.C., T. W. Smart, M.P., Edward Knox, and George King—"for the "purpose of instituting a thorough and searching inquiry into the whole management "and general working of the Post Office Department, of reporting thereon, and recom- "mending such changes as they may deem necessary to ensure its efficiency, to meet the "increased requirements of the Colony."

As the Report of these gentlemen has been before the Government and the public, it is unnecessary that I should advert to the recommendations therein made, some of which have been adopted, whilst others are in the course of adoption. I insert, however, in the Appendix, the remarks of the Board as to the present General Post Office building, which remarks are strictly correct, and were imperatively called for.

Appendix L.

The

The General Post Office continues to be carried on in the same dilapidated, inconvenient, and unwholesome building. Not only is the efficiency of the department seriously impaired by the want of space and the unsuitable accommodation, but the health of all employed in the Central Office is found to be more or less injuriously affected; which is attributable to the defective drainage and malaria consequent thereon, and to the effluvia arising from the Post Office and Telegraph stables in the rear.

A remark has been long made by the Post Office officials, and the remark is apparently borne out by the facts of the case, that more deaths occur in proportion in that portion of the department compelled to work in the Post Office building than in any other department of the Colonial service.

I sincerely trust that the erection of a Post Office befitting the metropolis of this Colony will no longer be delayed.

In October, 1862, the Superintendent of the Letter Branch was detached from the Post Office Department, in order that preliminary arrangements might be made for bringing into operation, on the 1st January, 1863, the system so long advocated of post office money orders.

To facilitate the arrangement, eighteen post offices (named in the Appendix) were made official ones; that is to say, the postmasters of these offices now receive adequate salaries as remuneration for their services, and are not permitted to connect themselves with mercantile pursuits, nor do they receive any commission on the sale of postage stamps. Appendix J.

It is anticipated that the establishment of these offices will prove of considerable benefit, and increase the efficiency of the postal service, by enabling constant reference to be made to these Government officers, as to all postal matters connected with their neighbouring districts.

The actual working of the money order system will doubtless be duly reported on by the officer at the head of the department.

The system of purchasing postage stamps from the public, to which I referred at length in my last Annual Report, continued during 1862; the amount paid for stamps thus obtained being £291 19s. 10d. It is probable that the accommodation thus afforded will be less generally made use of so soon as the money order system is fully developed.

In consequence of the sudden increase of population at the Gold Fields at Forbes and Young, it was found necessary during 1862 to attach Assistant Clerks to those offices—the appointment of the Clerk at the former place dating from May, and at the latter from October, 1862.

Two additional iron pillar boxes for newspapers were erected in Sydney during 1862. A list of the letter and newspaper receivers now in use in the Colony will be found in the Appendix. Appendix K.

I regret to state that the number of mail robberies has increased to an alarming extent during 1862, nor have such robberies been confined to any one part of the Colony.

The loss to the public, and the inconvenience caused to the department, by the perpetration of these robberies, can hardly be overestimated.

One mailman was shot dead, and another wounded, whilst in the performance of their duties; and on some particular postal routes a disinclination to tender for the conveyance of mails, owing to the prevalence of mail robberies, has been manifested.

The Report of the Postal Inspector, hereto attached, will fully explain the nature of the duties of that officer during the year that has closed. Appendix M.

I have, &c.,

W. H. CHRISTIE,

Postmaster General.

Copy of the first six clauses of the Report of the Board of Inquiry.

1. We are of opinion that few of the recommendations of this Report can have any practical or permanent value, unless a new Post Office, suitable in every way to the requirements of the department, be erected with as little delay as possible.

2. It is difficult to imagine a locality more completely unsuited to the increasing wants of the office than the buildings now occupied by the Postal Department. The different branches are scattered, rendering complete surveillance almost impossible, and the employes are, consequently, unable to render that effectual assistance which is required in any other branch when a momentary pressure of business may need their aid; letters are carried in baskets from building to building, across an open yard; nor is it possible that the same unity of direction can exist as if the entire business of the department were carried on under one roof.

3. The offices are also for the most part miserably unhealthy. That portion of the business of the department which comes most immediately in contact with the public, is carried on in a wooden building, badly drained and ventilated, and close to the stables and Tank Stream.

4. In all other countries the health of the officers employed appears to be a primary consideration; but in this Colony, where the great changes of temperature and extreme heat should render such attention more than ever necessary, it appears to have been entirely ignored.

5. The store room and newspaper sorting room are damp unwholesome cellars. It is in these cellars, which are quite unfit for occupation, that a large portion of the business is carried on.

6. There is no public department in which the community have so direct a personal interest as in the Post Office, and we have no hesitation in declaring that a new building is of perhaps more importance than any other public work.

M.

General Post Office,
Sydney, 30 June, 1863.

Sir,

In compliance with your instructions, I have the honor to furnish you with my Report for 1862.

I was appointed Postal Inspector on the 1st March of that year. During the months of March and April I remained in Sydney, principally in consequence of the large amount of office work on hand, but also because I was required to give evidence before the Board of Inquiry. In May I was absent in the Southern District, and inspected the post offices at Bateman's Bay, Mullenderree, Moruya, Bodalla, Nerrigundah (Gulf Diggings), Crown Flat, Braidwood, Monga (Little River), Nelligen, Jembaicumbene, Major's Creek, Ballalaba, Oranmeir (Stony Creek), Boro, Goulburn, Marulan, Murrumbah (Paddy's River), and Berrima. During June, and to the 10th July, I was in Sydney, engaged on office work. From the 11th July to the 1st November, I was absent in the Western, South-western, and Southern Districts. During that period I inspected the offices at Parramatta, Prospect, Eastern Creek, St. Mary's, Penrith, Emu, Little Hartley, Hartley, Bowenfells, Meadow Flat, Kirkconnell, Frying Pan, Kelso, Bathurst, Guyong, Frederick's Valley, Orange, Ironbarks, Black Rock, Wellington, Montefiores, Dubbo, Cobbera, Guntawang, Mudgee, Cunningham's Creek (Kean's Swamp), Rylestone, Mitchell's Creek, Forbes (Lachlan Diggings), South Wangan, Cowra, Carcoar, Peel, Limekilns, Wattle Flat, Sofala, Tambaroora, Bald Hills, Louisa Creek (Hargraves), Windeyer, Long Creek, Avisford, Merrindee, Burrendong, Molong, O'Connell, Mutton's Falls, Fish River Creek, Caloola, Long Swamp, Rockley, Lagoons, Evan's Plains, Blayney, Canowindra, Young (Lambing Flat), Marengo, Burrowa, Binalong, Yass, Gunning, Muttbilly, Goulburn, Marulan, Berrima, Nattai, Picton, Camden, Narellan, and Campbelltown; so that in 1862 I inspected 89 post offices. I travelled 2,262 miles, 82 by railway, 200 by steamer, 387 by coach, and 1,593 on horseback. In November and December I was in Sydney, preparing and revising time tables for the ensuing year, and attending to other office work.

One of the main objects I have had in view, during the past year, has been the acceleration of the mails. I have had to contend with no little opposition from various sources, chiefly interested (except in a few instances, where the opposition arose from ignorance of facts, or misapprehension), but I have, nevertheless, been able, by doing away with unnecessary detentions, and increasing the rate of travelling, to accelerate more or less the communications between Sydney and the post offices on the following lines. The communication between the country offices on such lines has likewise in many cases been accelerated.

Southern District.

1. Campbelltown and Goulburn.
2. Goulburn and Braidwood.
3. Nelligen and Braidwood.
4. Braidwood and Moruya.
5. Braidwood and Major's Creek.
6. Major's Creek and Oranmeir.
7. Braidwood and Monga (Little River).

Western District.

1. Penrith and Bathurst.
2. Kirkconnell and Mitchell's Creek.
3. Bowenfells and Mudgee.
4. Kean's Swamp and Rylestone.
5. Bathurst and Sofala.
6. Peel and Limekilns.
7. Sofala and Tambaroora.
8. Bathurst and O'Connell.
9. O'Connell and Fish River Creek.
10. Bathurst, Caloola, and Long Swamp.
11. Bathurst and Rockley.
12. Rockley and Tuena.
13. Rockley and Swatchfield.
14. Bathurst and Orange.
15. Orange and Molong.
16. Orange, Ironbarks, and Montefiores.
17. Orange and Forbes.

The acceleration of the mails is still going on, and I entertain no doubt of it being practicable to accelerate them throughout the Colony, at little (if any) increase of expense; and that by gradually increasing the rate of travelling, by the adoption of night travelling (where the roads will permit), and by avoiding any detentions beyond what are absolutely necessary for the sorting of the mails, the course of post between Sydney and all the post offices in the Colony may be considerably reduced. The mail contractors over whose lines I have travelled seem on the whole to have carried out their contracts fairly; but if a little more care were observed by some postmasters in noting upon the time bills any irregularities, and in sending in the "Monthly Contract Reports," the contracts would be still better performed.

My

My inspection of the post offices I have enumerated has led me to the conclusion that there is still room for much improvement, even after allowing for the local circumstances which interfere with and (in some cases) render impossible a strict adherence to the rules. What I mostly have to object to are, the loose arrangements made for the safety of letters, the absence of requisite appurtenances, and a want of uniformity in the mode of performing the duties. I must say, however, that in most cases these defects do not appear to arise from unwillingness to do better, but from want of proper instruction and accommodation.

The establishment of official offices in the larger towns has been productive of good, and I think such offices may be made the means of increasing the efficiency of the unofficial offices in their vicinity. I see no reason why the official postmasters should not be made the medium of communication with offices within a certain distance of them, and exercise over the latter a certain amount of superintendence. Such an arrangement would also cause a saving of labour as regards the interchange of mails.

I think the classification of the unofficial offices also a matter deserving of attention. At present the postmasters of these offices are all on an equality as regards their functions, and a large proportion of them, in respect to their salaries, and yet their duties are very far from being equal. There are many parts of the Colony where post offices more limited in their operations than those now existing would afford all the accommodation required, and where it is almost impossible to carry on properly a post office as post offices are now constituted; and it seems to me that, by classifying the offices, not only would the Government be able to establish offices according to the nature and requirements of the locality, and grant offices in cases where it would not under the present system feel justified in doing so, but that such a classification would simplify the working of the service and promote its efficiency. The plan would, moreover, enable the Government to distribute more equitably the vote for country postmasters' salaries.

I have, &c.,
AUGUSTUS DILLON.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

NEW SOUTH WALES.

POST OFFICE.

(NINTH ANNUAL REPORT, BEING FOR 1863.)

Ordered by the Legislative Assembly to be Printed, 22 April, 1864.

THE POSTMASTER GENERAL to THE UNDER SECRETARY FOR FINANCE AND TRADE, TREASURY, transmitting the Ninth Annual Report on the Post Office Department, being that for 1863.

General Post Office,
Sydney, 19 April, 1864.

SIR,

In accordance with former instructions, I have the honor to transmit, for the information of the Honorable the Minister for Finance and Trade, the Ninth Annual Report on the Post Office Department, being that for the year 1863.

No. 1.—INCREASE DURING THE PAST YEAR OF POST OFFICE SERVICE.

The increase of the Post Office Service during 1863, as regards the extent of postal route, the number of miles travelled, and the number of Post Offices established, is shewn by the following statement:—

YEAR.	Extent of Postal Route, 31st December.	Number of Miles travelled during the year.	Number of Post Offices on 31st December.
1862	11,211 miles	2,165,426	368
1863	11,505 „	2,357,408	397
Increase ...	294 miles	191,982	29

The extent of new post route organized was 396 miles, and the extent of lines discontinued amounted to 102 miles.

An increase in the communication on existing postal lines, to the extent of 497 miles, has been arranged during the year; whilst it has been deemed expedient to decrease the communication on other existing lines to the extent of 55 miles.

Returns of the new and of the discontinued routes, as also of the increased and decreased postal accommodation on existing lines, will be found in the Appendix. Appendix A, B, C, and D.

The number of post offices established in 1863 was twenty-seven. Five were re-established and three were discontinued, thus making an actual increase of twenty-nine post offices, as shewn in the above return. A list of the country post offices is given in the Appendix. Appendix E.

Ninety-one new postmasters were appointed during 1863, and four letter-carriers have been added during the past year. One was appointed to the city of Sydney, as it was found necessary to divide two of the larger beats, in order to expedite the delivery of letters. The remaining three were disposed of as follows:—

One to Singleton;
One to Woollahra;
One to West Maitland.

From the importance and extent of the last-named town, the employment of two letter-carriers therein has been found requisite.

Thirty-nine licenses for the sale of postage stamps have been granted during 1863; twenty-six to persons residing in Sydney, and thirteen to persons residing in the country districts. The number of licensed vendors of stamps at the end of 1863 was 105; and the names of the parties so licensed will be found in the Appendix.

Appendix F.

No. 2.—Colonial Mail Service.

The amount voted for the conveyance of mails during 1863 was £62,820, whilst the disbursements were £57,856 17s. 7d., which may be classed as follows:—

		£	s.	d.
Mail conveyance by stage and horse	...	53,433	13	0
Do. by rail	...	1,235	9	7
Do. by steam and sailing vessels ...	...	2,353	18	2
Do. from and to railway station, and porterage		513	16	10
Transmission of supplementary mails to Melbourne ...		200	0	0
Gratuities for sorting Hunter River mails		120	0	0
		£57,856	17	7

The disbursements under the above heads, during 1862, amounted to £54,933 19s. 7d., shewing an increase during the past year of £2,922 18s.

Appendix G.

There were 236 distinct mail contracts during the year; on these, thirteen transfers were effected, and fourteen contracts were cancelled.

The fines levied on mail contractors amount to £696 2s. 1d.

The cost of Colonial mails conveyed by land, compared with that of preceding year, is shewn by the following tabular statement:—

Year.	Extent of Postal Lines by Rail.	Average Cost per Mile.	Extent of Postal Lines by Coach.	Average Cost per Mile.	Extent of Postal Lines by Horse.	Average Cost per Mile.	Total Extent of Postal Lines.	Total Cost of Mail Conveyance.	Average Cost per Mile.
	Miles.	£ s. d.	Miles.	£ s. d.	Miles.	£ s. d.	Miles.	£ s. d.	£ s. d.
1862	88	11 10 0	2,270	12 5 0	8,853	2 16 0	11,211	53,637 7 0	4 15 8
1863	122	11 10 0	2,243	13 5 3	9,140	2 13 1	11,505	55,395 0 0	4 16 2

Decrease..	..	....	27	....	....	0 2 11	....	.....	....

The extension of railway is from Branxton to Singleton (15 miles), and from Campbelltown to Picton (19 miles).

The above return does not take account of fines levied or of special contracts.

No. 3.—Revenue and Expenditure.

The following is a Return of the Revenue of the Post Office Department, for the years 1862 and 1863:—

Year.	Sale of Stamps.	Fees for Private Boxes.	Postage on Unpaid Letters.	Total.
	£ s. d.	£ s. d.	£ s. d.	£ s. d.
1862	54,771 1 3	221 0 6	1,313 3 6	56,305 5 3
1863	56,034 14 10	370 13 0	1,336 18 7	57,742 6 5
Increase	1,263 13 7	149 12 6	23 15 1	1,437 1 2

The

The increase in the whole Revenue during the past year has been about 2¼ per cent., which is made up as follows:—

Sale of Stamps.....Increase about 2¼ per cent.
Fees for Private Boxes ..... do. 67½ do.
Postage on Unpaid Letters ..... do. 1¾ do.

The large increase in the fees for private boxes is caused by the charge, during 1863, of two guineas instead of one guinea, which charge is in accordance with the late Postal Regulations adopted by the Executive Council. I may state that such fee includes both letter and newspaper private boxes, and that I understand the charge continues less than that made in Victoria for a similar privilege.

The following Return shews the Expenditure of the Department for the years 1862 and 1863, under the heads of salaries, contingencies, and conveyance of mails:—

Year.	Salaries.	Contingencies.	Conveyance of Mails.	Total.
	£ s. d.	£ s. d.	£ s. d.	£ s. d.
1862	25,033 15 0	1,546 13 4	54,933 19 7	81,514 7 11
1863	27,521 3 2	2,378 13 3	57,856 17 7	87,756 14 0
Increase	2,487 8 2	831 19 11	2,922 18 0	6,242 6 1

The increase in the whole expenditure is at the rate of about 7½ per cent.

The augmentation under the head of salaries is about 9½ per cent., and is caused by the increased number of postmasters and letter-carriers—by the payment, during the whole of the year, of the salaries allowed to official postmasters appointed on the 1st September, 1862—and by several increases to country postmasters, from the 1st January, 1863.

As the increased salaries allowed to the official postmasters is the chief cause of the large augmentation noted, it is right to state that this additional expenditure is caused by the introduction of the money order system, and should, in strictness, be borne by that department. I give in the Appendix a return shewing the salaries of the official postmasters in 1862 and in 1863; but it is fair to state that in the latter year no commission on the sale of stamps has been allowed to such postmasters, and to that extent the return over-estimates the increase of expenditure. Appendix H.

The increase under the head of contingencies is about 53 per cent., and is attributable to the forage and travelling allowances granted to the Postal Inspector, and to an amount which has been allowed to official postmasters, for rent. (Vide Appendix.) Appendix I.

There is an increase of about 5 per cent. under the head of "conveyance of mails," which is owing to the increased rate of tenders accepted for wheeled carriage mails, as already shewn in the tabular statement given under the head of "Colonial Mail Service."

The subsidy towards the English Mail Contract is not paid through the department, and is not, therefore, included in the Post Office Expenditure Return.

It will be seen that on three occasions, viz., in May, September, and October, the mail steamer arrived before the specified time, but that on every other occasion except in August the steamer was behind time.

The specified time of departure from Sydney was strictly observed, except in February and March, in which months the steamer was detained for one day, in consequence of the late arrival of the inward mail.

Supplementary mails were made up during the year, and despatched to meet the English mail steamer at Melbourne, as follows:—

Date.	Name of Colonial Steamer by which the Mail was conveyed to Melbourne.	Cost of Conveyance to Melbourne.
1863.
24 March	Rangatira	£80.
24 June	Wonga Wonga	£70.
22 August	Wonga Wonga	½d. per letter.
22 September	Wonga Wonga	½d. per letter.
23 December	Wonga Wonga	£50.

The revenue derived from late fees on letters despatched by the supplementary mails during 1863 was about £180.

No. 5.—Letters, Newspapers, and Parcels.

The three following tabular statements shew the approximated number of letters, newspapers, and parcels posted throughout the Colony during 1863, compared with those for 1862:—

With reference to the letter return, it will be seen that there is under every head an increase in the letters both despatched and received. Such increase is at the following ratio, viz. :—

Australian Colonies.

Despatched ... ... About 9 per cent.
Received ... ... „ 6 „

United Kingdom.

Despatched ... ... About 5 per cent.
Received ... ... „ 9 „

Foreign Countries, &c.

Despatched ... ... About 22 per cent.
Received ... ... „ 34 „

The newspaper return shews an increase in every item but that of newspapers despatched for the Australian Colonies, in which there is a decrease of about 2½ per cent. The ratio of the increase is as follows, viz. :—

Australian Colonies.

Received ... ... About 10 per cent.

United Kingdom.

Despatched ... ... About 9 per cent.
Received ... ... „ 7 „

Foreign Countries, &c.

Despatched ... ... About 23 per cent.
Received ... ... „ 24 „

The increases and decreases shewn in the parcel return are at the following ratio, viz. :—

Australian Colonies.

Despatched—Increase ... ... About 46 per cent.
Received— „ ... ... „ ½ „

United Kingdom.

Despatched—Decrease ... ... About 11 per cent.
Received— „ ... ... „ 14 „

Foreign Countries, &c.

Despatched—Decrease ... ... About 6 per cent.

31,939 letters were returned as unclaimed in 1862, against 24,014 returned during the past year. In 1862 the increase was large, and is accounted for in my Report for that year, as follows :—" The general increase in the number of unclaimed letters is caused " by the unclaimed letters from beyond seas having been made returnable, during 1862, in six

" instead

"instead of twelve months. This change necessarily augments during the first year the "number of such returned letters." The increase over 1861 is 1,667. Of the letters returned during 1863, 18,264 were originally addressed to places within the Colony; 4,227 to the neighbouring Colonies; 1,452 to the United Kingdom; and 71 to other places.

The number of unclaimed registered letters returned was 367, being 19 more than in 1862, and the number unregistered, but containing articles of value, 323, being an increase of 46 on the previous year.

The letters returned to this Colony from abroad unopened, as being unclaimed, were originally addressed as follows:—

To the Australian Colonies	4,639
To the United Kingdom	6,153
To other places	157
	10,949

In 1862 the numbers were respectively—3,697, 1,451, and 63.

The number of letters returned as unstamped, insufficiently stamped, and irregularly posted, was 8,813, being 114 less than in the preceding year.

74,439 registered letters passed through the office in 1863, being a considerable decrease in the number shewn by the corresponding return last year. The introduction of the money order system accounts for such decrease to some extent.

There were 1,080 ozs. of gold received through the office in 1863, against 1,836 ozs. in 1862.

In the Appendix will be found a return shewing the Post Office statistics from the year 1854 to 1863, both years inclusive; and also a comparative return shewing the average number of letters annually posted by each person resident in the Colony of New South Wales during the same period. Appendix J. Appendix K.

No. 6.—Staff of Officers, &c.

The number of officers and servants of the department on the 31st December, 1863, exclusive of mail contractors, was as follows:—

Postmaster General	1
Secretary	1
Accountant	1
Chief Clerk of the Letter Branch	1
Postal Inspector	1
Cashier	1
Clerks	27
Shipping Officer	1
Mail Guards	2
Stampers, Letter-carriers, Messengers, &c.	55
Country Postmasters	397
Assistant Clerks to Postmasters	3
	491

Of the above staff seventy-eight are attached to the General Post Office, Sydney.

Mr. T. K. Abbott, up to the 31st May, 1863, with the assistance of a junior clerk, performed the duties of Secretary and Cashier. These duties, however, frequently interfered with each other, to the prejudice of the service, and I recommended that they should be divided. On the 1st June, 1863, Mr. Nightingale, then in the Account Branch, and consequently well conversant with the general routine, was appointed to the office of Cashier; and as some duties that the Accountant was formerly responsible for were added to those he was now instructed to perform, his vacancy in the Account Branch was not filled up.

The

The duties of the Secretary are quite sufficient exclusively to occupy the attention of one person, and none but a very zealous and efficient officer could have filled the two offices for so long a period with any degree of satisfaction.

When the above changes took place, it was also decided that, acting under the Postmaster General, the supervision of the department in all its branches should for the future vest in the Secretary, and the Government sanctioned an addition to that officer's salary of £70 per annum, to commence on the 1st July last.

At the same period the salary of Mr. F. W. Hill was raised £75 per annum, and he was appointed to discharge the duties formerly required from the Superintendent of the Letter Branch, and was styled Chief Clerk of Letter Branch.

As the appointment of Superintendent of the Letter Branch was not filled up, a saving of £385 per annum was effected by these arrangements.

The Postal Inspector has been absent from head quarters during a large portion of the year. He left Sydney on the 25th March and returned on the 16th June, during which period he inspected the following Post Offices, viz. :—Appin, Woonona, Wollongong, Charcoal Creek, Kembla, Dapto, Albion Park, Jamberoo, Kiama, Shellharbor, Gerringong, Shoalhaven, Broughton's Creek, Nowra, Tomerong, Wandandian, Milton, Ulladulla, Penrith, St. Mary's, Emu Ferry, Luddenham, Camden, Picton, Nattai, Berrima, Murrumbah, Marulan, Goulburn, Bungonia, Windellama, Sutton Forest, Bong Bong, Braidwood, Monga, Burragorang, Oaks, Campbelltown, Liverpool, Denham Court, Castlereagh, Richmond, Windsor, Pitt Town, North Richmond, Wheeny Creek, Sackville Reach, Lower Portland, Rouse Hill, and Baulkham Hills. This tour comprises his inspection of the Southern and Western Districts in 1863.

On the 20th July he left on a second tour of inspection in the Northern District; and up to the 31st December, 1863, he had visited the following Post Offices, viz. :—Raymond Terrace, Newcastle, Singleton, Camberwell, Muswellbrook, Scone, Murrurundi, Wallabadah, Quirindi, Goonoo Goonoo, Tamworth, Moonbi, Bendemeer, Uralla, Armidale, Currububula, Carroll, Gunnedah, Gulligal, Narrabri, Wee Waa, Walgett, Moree, Warialda, Myall Creek, Bingera, Upper Bingera, Barraba, Woodsreef, Inverell, Wellingrove, and Glen Innes.

During both tours the Postal Inspector reported on the different mail contracts on his route, and examined all cases of complaints that had reference to the postal lines traversed.

Of the twenty-seven Clerks set down in the return, eight are attached to the Correspondence Branch, two to the Account and Cash Branches, and seventeen to the Letter Branch.

Of the Correspondence Clerks, however, two are exclusively employed in registering the various records, and one has charge of the stores and their distribution.

During last year, in addition to printed time-bills, returns, contract reports, &c., 13,875 communications referring to the business of the office were received and registered, to which 8,778 replies were transmitted, 4,066 of these being by letter, and 4,712 by minutes written on the face of the documents.

The manuscript correspondence, however, shews but a small part of the business of this branch, the extent of which may be inferred from the following list of various communications and documents, partly printed, that have been sent out, in addition to the foregoing, in 1863 :—

Letters in reply to applications for letters ...	about	4,000
„ accepting tenders	„	236
„ declining tenders	„	678
„ on change of postmasters	„	155
„ with time-tables	„	700
„ accompanying bonds, &c.	„	274
„ requesting return of records under reference	„	500
Bonds and contract agreements prepared... ...	„	479

The

The extent of business of the Account and Cash Branches can be gathered from the fact that the number of ledger accounts at the end of 1863 was 1,450.

The amount of work performed in the Letter Branch of the General Post Office is shewn in previous sections of this Report. The distribution of the seventeen clerks attached thereto, is as follows :—

In the Registry Office...	2
„ Inland Office	6
„ Delivery Office...	4
„ Dead Letter Office	2
„ Foreign Office	2
„ Sale of Stamps Office...	1

A shipping officer is also attached to the Foreign Office.

I am glad to say that no clerks in the Post Office Department have left the Government Service during last year, to enter the employ of the Banks or private individuals, as was heretofore the case, much to the detriment of the department.

The reasons given by these clerks for so leaving the department were, that whilst the security and the advantages were at least equal, their incomes were augmented by the change, and their chances of promotion to high appointments in case of good behaviour very much increased.

When the contemplated arrangements as to the superannuation of Civil Servants is matured, an additional attraction will be given to the Government Service; and should this be followed up, as has elsewhere been the case, by a Civil Service Bill, classifying officers, conferring security of salary, providing against the liability of being passed over by strangers, and establishing judicious rules as to periodical leaves of absence, the Government Service, as it ought to be, would rapidly become the more popular one, and the Civil Servants would have every inducement to consider and make their appointments permanent ones.

It would probably not be desirable to return to the system which formerly prevailed of annually augmenting the pay of every clerk until the maximum salary of his class was attained; but I think it would be very desirable if heads of departments were empowered, when sending in their yearly estimate of expenditure, to bring under the notice of the Government the names of particularly deserving clerks, with the view of having their salaries somewhat increased, irrespective of the promotion that ordinary vacancies might give rise to.

Up to the 28th February, 1863, five mail guards were employed on the different railways, viz.,—two on the Northern and three on the Southern and Western lines.

The last have been discontinued, and from the 1st March, 1863, their duties have been performed by the servants of the Railway Department—the Post Office Department being debited, however, by the Railway, with the full amount of the salary of the three guards, in payment of such service.

Of the fifty-five subordinate officers on the staff of the Post Office Department, nine are employed in stamping letters and sorting newspapers for the mails; twenty-five letter-carriers are engaged in Sydney and the suburbs; eleven in the Country Districts (vide Appendix), and five messengers and three mail-boys are immediately attached to the General Post Office. Two of these messengers and the mail-boys are engaged in shipping and unshipping foreign and coast mails, in clearing the Sydney pillar-boxes, and in duties connected with the dispatch and receipt of the various inland mails. Appendix L.

MISCELLANEOUS.

In October, 1863, the old Post Office building in George-street was abandoned, and the department moved into a temporary building in Wynyard-square; but so far as I am aware, no steps have as yet been taken to procure tenders for the erection of a Post Office more befitting the metropolis of this Colony.

The plan for the Office, as settled by the late Government, was in every way suitable; but such plan contemplated the occupation of the old site only; and it has been strongly urged that the new building ought to take up the whole area between George and Pitt Streets, with the same frontage as at present, and thus be made to accommodate the Sydney public with a thoroughfare much required, by the continuation of Barrack-street to Pitt-street.

The prolonged occupation of the temporary building is highly to be deprecated, as it is in a dangerous position as regards the city in case of fire, and is built of inflammable materials.

The ventilation is somewhat defective too; and during the summer months the rooms, from the wooden partitions and zinc roof, were found excessively hot and unhealthy. In winter they will probably be very cold.

As regards available space and the accommodation of the various branches, the new building contrasts very favourably with the old one, being superior for practical purposes in every respect.

Five additional iron pillar boxes—four in Sydney and one in Balmain—as also two newspaper receivers, were erected during 1863. A list of the letter and newspaper receivers now in use in the Colony will be found in the Appendix.

Appendix M.

The mail robberies, especially during the early part of the year, gave the Department great anxiety and a good deal of increased labour. As these have considerably decreased in number, however, it is to be hoped that this is the last occasion on which it will be necessary to advert to such a state of matters in connection with the Postal Department.

The amount of postage stamps purchased from the public has decreased from £291 19s. 10d. in 1862, to £162 19s. 8d. in 1863. This decrease is accounted for by the fact, that the Government have ceased to purchase such stamps in all post offices where money orders are procurable.

Some Government buildings as post offices have been erected during the past year; but as these are built without reference to this department, I am unable to give an account of those in progress. Great dissatisfaction has been expressed by some of the country postmasters, at the very limited accommodation afforded to the Post Office Department in some of these buildings; and it has been stated to me that there are instances in which more accommodation has been afforded to the Telegraph Department (which rarely works at night) than to the Post Office Department, even where mails are made up nightly; and it is a matter of grave importance that postmasters should reside and sleep under the same roof as the office, where the contents of the mails are posted, sorted, and despatched. Having brought this matter personally under the notice of the Government, I am informed by the Honorable the Minister for Finance and Trade that it is proposed, in future, that detached cottages shall be built for each department. Such a course will meet the case, so far as the future is concerned; but I trust that steps may also be taken to place on a better footing the postal accommodation afforded to country postmasters, in all instances in which the post offices, or postmasters' residences have already been built.

I have, &c.,

W. H. CHRISTIE,

Postmaster General.

POSTMASTER GENERAL OF NEW ZEALAND to COLONIAL SECRETARY, SYDNEY.

Sydney, 13 November, 1862.

SIR,

I have the honor to inform you that the Government of New Zealand, in accordance with the provisions of an Act of the Legislature of that Colony recently passed, are prepared to take measures for the establishment of Postal Communication with Great Britain by way of Panama. The Legislature has appropriated a sum not exceeding £30,000 a year, for five years, for the furtherance of this object, to be applied by way of subsidy; and the Act by which this appropriation is made contains provisions similar to those of an Act of the Parliament of New South Wales passed for the same purpose.

The object which the Government of New Zealand have in view is one which, if carried out, must be beneficial to the neighbouring Colonies; and its achievement can best be effected by the co-operation of those Colonies, aided by the Imperial Government. I have therefore been instructed to place the views and intentions of the New Zealand Government before you, and to inquire whether the Government of New South Wales will co-operate with them in the prosecution of an undertaking so important to both Colonies.

I am about to proceed to Great Britain, and am fully authorized to represent the New Zealand Government there upon this subject. If the New South Wales Government is prepared to move in the matter, I shall be happy to act in concert with any representative whom they may think fit similarly to authorize.

I have, &c.,
CROSBIE WARD,
Postmaster General of New Zealand.

THE UNDER SECRETARY to THE HON. CROSBIE WARD, ESQ.

Colonial Secretary's Office,
Sydney, New South Wales,
21 November, 1862.

SIR,

I am directed by the Colonial Secretary to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 13th instant, stating that you are about to proceed to England, authorized to represent the Government of New Zealand in making arrangements for the establishment of Postal Communication with Great Britain, viâ Panama, in accordance with an Act of the Legislature of that Colony, by which a sum not exceeding £30,000 a year for five years has been appropriated for the furtherance of this object, and that you have been instructed, in communicating the views and intentions of the New Zealand Government, to inquire whether the Government of New South Wales will co-operate with them in the prosecution of the undertaking.

2. Mr. Cowper desires me, in reply, to express the gratification which he feels in learning that the Government of New Zealand have now taken such decided steps for the establishment of a line of Postal Service by way of Panama, and to assure you that the Government of New South Wales are fully prepared to co-operate cordially with that of New Zealand in the efforts which are being made to accomplish what has so long been the anxious wish of the Government and Parliament of this Colony.

3. A communication will be made, by the present mail, to Edward Hamilton, Esq., 5, Cannon-street, E.C., the representative Agent for New South Wales, resident in London, requesting him to act with you in this matter, under the authority of the Act of this Colony of the 22nd Victoria, No. 15 (2nd November, 1858), a copy of which is enclosed for your information.

4. I am further directed to transmit to you copies of the correspondence on the subject of the Postal Service between the Australian Colonies and the United Kingdom, which has at different times been printed for the local Parliament, and to state that the Colonial Secretary will be glad if, by the co-operation of New South Wales with New Zealand and the other neighbouring Colonies, additional means shall be provided of intercourse with the Mother Country and other parts of the world.

I have, &c.,
W. ELYARD,
Under Secretary.

COLONIAL SECRETARY, SYDNEY, to EDWARD HAMILTON, ESQ.

Colonial Secretary's Office,
(100.) Sydney, New South Wales,
21 November, 1862.

SIR,

I have the honor to transmit to you a copy of a letter which has been addressed to me by Crosbie Ward, Esquire, Postmaster General of New Zealand, who is proceeding to England, authorized to represent the New Zealand Government in negotiating for the establishment of Postal Communication with Great Britain, by way of Panama; together with a copy of the answer, which, by my direction, has been forwarded to him, conveying my assurance that the Government of New South Wales are fully prepared to co-operate cordially with that of New Zealand, in the efforts which are being made to accomplish what has so long been the wish of the Government and Parliament of this Colony.

2. In introducing Mr. Ward to you, I feel confident that you will give him every assistance in your power towards carrying into effect the arrangements which may be required, in accordance with the local Act, 22nd of Victoria, No. 15 (2nd November, 1858), a copy of which is enclosed. A copy has also been forwarded to Mr. Ward, together with copies of all the correspondence on the subject of Steam Postal Communication between the Australian Colonies and the United Kingdom.

3. I trust that the co-operation of the Colony of Queensland will also be obtained in establishing this additional Postal Service, and I likewise entertain a sanguine expectation that before long this Colony and Queensland, in concert also with New Zealand, will be able to complete a Postal Communication with India by way of Torres Straits.

4. If, as is alleged, the Imperial Government is prepared to grant a subsidy for the performance of a fortnightly Postal Service by the Peninsular and Oriental Company, viâ Suez, it would be more acceptable to this Colony that the money should rather be expended in establishing a postal route such as is desired by New Zealand.

5. In conclusion, I cannot too strongly impress upon you how anxious I am for the success of Mr. Ward's mission, and for the early attainment of what has been so zealously contended for by yourself on behalf of this Colony since the year 1858.

I have, &c.,
CHARLES COWPER.

SIR,

I have the honor to acknowledge your letter of the 21st instant, informing me that the Colonial Secretary of New South Wales would instruct the representative Agent of that Colony to co-operate with me cordially in the efforts which I am instructed to make on behalf of the Colony of New Zealand, for the accomplishment of a Mail Service to and from Great Britain by way of Panama.

In reply, I have the honor to request that you will convey to the Colonial Secretary my thanks for the steps which he is about to take, and to state that my best efforts will be given to assist Mr. Hamilton in the undertaking.

I have, &c.,

23 January, 1863.

SIR,

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, and the enclosures above specified.

Mr. Crosbie Ward has written to me, announcing his arrival, but as he only passed through London, en route for Ireland, I have not yet seen him. On his return, the important matter in which I am directed to co-operate with him shall be forthwith taken up.

I observe that under the provisions of the Act above referred to, your Government cannot enter into any contract extending beyond the 2nd November, 1868, and that by the New Zealand Act the period of the subsidy is limited to five years.

The shortness of this period will, I apprehend, operate seriously against the success of the scheme; for even if the consent of Her Majesty's Government to grant one-half of the subsidy is obtained without material delay, the organization of the service, in which I include the building of appropriate vessels and placing them in position, will not be accomplished under two years. As this difficulty will impede the progress of the negotiation in its first stage, I think it right to call your attention to it, and beg to receive your further instructions upon the point.

On the termination of his mission, Mr. Merewether left with me copies of all his papers connected with this subject: these will be of great assistance to Mr. Ward and myself.

I have, &c.,
EDWD. HAMILTON.

SIR,

I am unable to report that any progress has been made in this matter, but there is no doubt that by next mail I shall be able to inform you of the issue of our negotiations with the Home Government.

Mr. Ward and I are to have an interview on Monday next, (March 2nd,) with Sir Stafford Northcote, Bart., and we hope to find that he still views with favour the establishment of a Steam Postal Service across the Pacific Ocean. On the former occasion, when Mr. Merewether represented the wishes and interests of New South Wales in this matter, Sir Stafford Northcote was the Financial Secretary of the Treasury, and he agreed to call for tenders, on the ground that the Home Government was pledged to establish the service, if the Colonies were ready to comply with the conditions attached to the promise previously made. I hope to find that in the interval he has not changed his opinion * * *

EDWARD HAMILTON, ESQ., to COLONIAL SECRETARY.

5 Cannon-street, London, E.C.,
25 March, 1863.

SIR,

I have the honor to enclose one copy each of two statements drawn up by Mr. Crosbie Ward and myself, and submitted to the Chancellor of the Exchequer, setting forth the grounds upon which the Governments of New South Wales and New Zealand ask for the co-operation of Her Majesty's Government, in the establishment of a Steam Postal Service between Panama and Sydney. Eight copies are forwarded under open cover. Mr. Gladstone has not yet fixed a time for granting me an interview, but I hear from his Private Secretary that he has already referred the question to the Postmaster General.

It is only due to Mr. E. C. Merewether to state, that I have derived the greatest assistance in the preparation of this statement from the papers drawn up by him in 1859, and especially from one which, but for his recall to the Colony, would have been submitted to the Select Committee of the House of Commons, appointed to inquire into the subject of Packet Contracts in 1859 and 1860.

I have, &c.,
EDWD. HAMILTON,
Rep. Agent of New South Wales.

[Enclosure 1 in No. 8.]

STATEMENT by Mr. Crosbie Ward, in favour of establishing Postal Communication with New Zealand, viâ Panama.

THE Legislature of New Zealand has granted a sum of £30,000 per annum, for five years, towards a subsidy for maintaining a monthly Mail Service with the United Kingdom, viâ Panama, mainly on the grounds that the existing route viâ Suez, places New Zealand at a serious disadvantage in point of postal communication, and that the Service maintained by that route is unduly expensive, unsatisfactory, and insufficient for the requirements of the Colony.

The Suez route to New Zealand places that Colony at an artificial distance from England—more than 2,000 miles greater than by way of Panama. This additional distance creates a serious delay in the carriage of correspondence, and causes an expense to fall upon the Colony quite disproportioned to the advantages received.

The delay complained of arises in the following manner:—The terminal station of the Service is in Australia, at a distance of about 1,200 miles from New Zealand; the times of arrival and departure at and from the terminus are arranged so as to afford a sufficient interval there for replies to be sent by the return packet; with this interval the course of post to and from the Australian Colonies is a little under four months; but the New Zealand mails do not arrive at their destination till it is too late to reply by the packet returning from Australia, and a delay of a whole month is the consequence, making the course of post five months in the case of New Zealand.

In addition to the ordinary delay thus caused, it is to be observed, that the times of departure of the homeward packets on the main line from Australia being, as is desirable, adhered to punctually, without reference to the New Zealand branch Service, the great distance to be traversed by the smaller packets from that Colony involves the alternative of either despatching its homeward mails at a very early date, or of risking the detention of those mails in Australia, as has sometimes happened, for another month.

In other words, New Zealand is not, and apparently cannot be satisfactorily included in a scheme of posts by way of Suez; as, unlike the majority of the Australian Colonies, which are practically on the main line, the certainty of communication essential to a mail service cannot in its case be secured.

A statistical statement is appended, which shews the extent of the correspondence between the United Kingdom and New Zealand, and of the trade which has arisen with that Colony. It is worthy of particular notice, that the number of letters passing between the two countries, which in the year 1857 was 77,900, or 5·7 per cent. of the whole Australian correspondence, in the year 1860 became 266,700, or 11·6 per cent.; and last year (1862) rose to 420,200, or 16·3 per cent. See Table A.

The value of New Zealand imports and exports, which in 1860 amounted to a little over two million pounds, in 1861 exceeded three and three-quarter millions; and by the last returns are shewn to have been at the rate of six millions in 1862. The gold discoveries, which have greatly augmented the population and trade of the Colony during the past year and a half, still promise to develop abundant sources of further prosperity.

The exports, and the great bulk of the imports of the Colony, go to and come from the United Kingdom, either directly or indirectly. The reduction to be effected in the time occupied by the course of post, as it would effect a proportionate saving on all business transactions between the two countries, may therefore be set down as a gain to be made of no inconsiderable sum of money on each side.

The

The expense complained of may be stated briefly as arising in the following manner:—The Colonial contributions to the general mail subsidy are assessed in the ratio—first, of the number of letters received and sent by each Colony; and, secondly, of the distance of each from England. New Zealand, which has a far larger correspondence, in proportion to revenue and population, than any other Colony, pays willingly in the former ratio, but objects to its correspondence being carried by a route which, in artificially increasing the distance from England by 2,000 miles, not only delays the mails, but loads the Colony with an additional charge for their longer carriage.

See Table B.

The statistical statements accompanying this paper shew that, last year, the population of New Zealand, numbering about 105,000 persons, sent and received 420,200 letters to and from Great Britain, or four letters per head per year; while the correspondence of the other Colonies of the group, numbering about 1,181,000 persons, was 2,155,500 letters, or less than two letters per head of population per year. In other words, the population of New Zealand was 8 per cent., and its correspondence 16 per cent. of the whole.

For this calculation, see Table C, annexed.

The charge on New Zealand for the year ended 31st March, 1862, for its share of subsidy to the main line, was nearly £10,000, out of a total on all the Colonies of £67,336. This proportion was based on the correspondence of the year 1860, when the per centage of New Zealand was 11·6 of the whole. The introduction of the element of distance therefore raised the contribution to be paid by New Zealand from 11·6 to above 14 per cent. The application of the same process to later returns will give a proportionately increased charge as that to be made for the year now current. This charge is for the main line subsidy alone, and is quite irrespective of the cost of any branch line connecting New Zealand with Australia.

See Table B.

To sum up this view of the case, and to shew at the same time with what right New Zealand calls attention to her requirements, it follows from the foregoing figures, that a population numbering only 8 per cent. is liable to a contribution of little less than 20 per cent. for the general advantage, in which it participates in a very inferior degree.

The maintenance by the Imperial Government, at a cost of £13,000 a year, of a branch service from Australia to New Zealand, without expense to the latter Colony, has not been either forgotten or undervalued in making the foregoing observations, which are not affected by it. But it must be said that the Colony cannot look forward to much longer exemption from this additional burden; and already it is at a charge of a more than equal sum each year to render this portion of its communication with Great Britain tolerably efficient.

The Colony of New Zealand therefore urges that, in consideration of the serious postal disadvantages under which it now labours, and still more in expectation of its largely increasing requirements for the future, immediate steps should be taken to establish a monthly Mail Service, uniting it with Great Britain by the direct route viâ Panama. In furtherance of this object, the Colony undertakes to guarantee a contribution, by way of subsidy, not exceeding £30,000 per annum, for five years, from the 1st January, 1864. And this guarantee is given without withdrawing from the engagement, together with the Australian Colonies, to contribute to the expense of the Suez Service in proportion to the number of its letters carried by that route.

Postmaster General and Special Representative of New Zealand in the United Kingdom.

[Enclosure 2 in No. 8.]

STATEMENT by Mr. E. Hamilton, shewing the grounds on which the Colonies of New South Wales and New Zealand claim the establishment of a Monthly Postal Service viâ Panama.

IN the year 1858 a notice was issued by the Admiralty, calling for tenders for a Steam Postal Service to Sydney viâ Suez, and to that notice the following postscript was attached:—

"It is to be observed that so soon as arrangements are completed, it is the intention of the "Government to call for tenders for a monthly steam communication with Australia viâ "Panama, in addition to the Service viâ Suez."

In the same year the Parliament of New South Wales appropriated towards this Service a sum of £50,000 a year for ten years, and the Government of that Colony sent Mr. E. C. Merewether to this country to arrange the organization of it in concert with Her Majesty's Government. Shortly after his arrival, in the early part of 1859, he entered into communication with the authorities at the Treasury, and by minute dated 19th April, 1859, the Lords Commissioners declared their opinion to be "that they ought no longer to delay fulfilling the intention which they formerly announced of inviting tenders for the Service," and they virtually pledged themselves to accept one of the tenders, provided the three conditions hereinafter mentioned were complied with. The words of the minute are,—

"In coming to this decision, however, it must be clearly understood that my Lords will not "consider themselves bound to accept any of the tenders unless they are fully satisfied—

"1. That the amount is reasonable, and such as they would be justified in incurring.

"2. That the times and rates of speed are such as to harmonize perfectly with the Suez "Service, so as to make the two alternate fortnightly with each other; and—

"3. That the Governments of the Australian Colonies will undertake one entire half of the "cost of both the Services viâ Suez, as well as viâ Panama, whatever that may be."

Shortly after the settlement of this minute, a notice calling for tenders was issued, and, in the beginning of the month of July, 1859, six tenders were sent in. By more than one of them the first of the above-named conditions was satisfied, as the understanding on the part of the Treasury was, "that £150,000 would be considered a reasonable subsidy." (Mr. W. H. Stephenson's evidence, 479, 480). As to the second, it was found that no practical difficulty existed, for the contractors agreed to perform the voyage each way between Southampton and Sydney in fifty-five days, including all necessary stoppages. As to the third, further reference to the Government of New South Wales became necessary, inasmuch as no one in this country was authorized to give the required guarantee that the Governments of the Australian Colonies would undertake one entire half of the cost of both Services, viâ Suez and viâ Panama.

It may here be remarked that the question as regards this third condition was unnecessarily complicated by the terms of the notice, and the then existing views of the Treasury; for at that time nothing short of a through Service from Southampton to Sydney by either route was contemplated; whereas the Australian mail is now carried by a branch Service starting from Point de Galle: and as to the Panama Service, the present proposal is only to form an extension or branch from Panama to Sydney. It is important to bear this in mind, in accepting the tenders sent in as a basis whereon to form an estimate of the costs of establishing an efficient Service between Sydney and Panama.

To resume:—

No further action in consequence of this reference has, up to the present time, been taken by the Government of New South Wales, for sundry reasons, of which the following are the most important:—

1. In the early part of July 1859, before the tenders had been sent in, the whole subject of Ocean Postal Contracts was referred to a Committee of the House of Commons.
2. The Panama scheme was much discouraged by the Treasury minute, May 15th, 1860; and,
3. The Government of New Zealand declined to bear a share of the Colonial subsidy.

On each of these heads I beg to submit the following remarks:—

1.—The Report of the Committee on Packet Contracts.

Immediately after the reference to the Committee of the House of Commons, Mr. Merewether addressed a letter to the Treasury (12th August, 1859), asking for information as to the course the Government would pursue in the event of their receiving from the Colonies a guarantee for the payment of a moiety of the cost of both Services, before the Report of the Committee was laid before Parliament; and on the 17th of the same month he received a reply from Mr. G. A. Hamilton, informing him that the Lords of the Treasury "considered the subject of the Panama, as well as of every other projected mail Service, to be under reference to the consideration of a Committee of Parliament, and that their Lordships were not therefore in a condition to enter into any explanations which might have the effect of apparently abridging the discretion of that Committee, which is wholly independent of that of the Treasury."

The Committee was re-appointed in 1860, and their first Report and Evidence was ordered to be printed on the 22nd May, 1860.

On reference thereto, it will be found that no part of the subject referred to them was more fully and attentively investigated than the Australian Postal Service, and more especially that viâ Panama, for the establishment of which the Treasury had taken such active measures in the early part of 1859. It is not, however, alluded to in the Report; and the omission leads to the inference either that the Committee mittee were not unfavourable to this extension of the Packet Service, or that they considered that there was no sufficient reason for taking the decision of the question out of the discretion of the Executive Government. If they had been unfavourable to the project, they would not have failed to express their dissent from the opinion deliberately expressed by Mr. W. H. Stephenson, who was "at the head of that department of the Treasury which takes cognizance of mail contracts." (See question 281.) Mr. W. H. Stephenson's opinion is given in the following words:—

"I think that Mr. Merewether, the Agent accredited by New South Wales, must have gone "back with the impression that there would be no impediment to that plan being carried "out, provided all those conditions (the three above mentioned) were complied with, and "the tenders were reasonable, because we named a sum to him which we should consider "a reasonable amount, and that sum was £150,000. I think, therefore, he might (must?) "have gone back with the full impression that it would be done, provided it could be done "within those terms."—(Question 570.)

2.—Treasury minute, May 15th, 1860.

It will be observed that this is not based on the Report of the Committee on Packet Contracts, for that Report was not laid on the table of the House of Commons till the 22nd of May—seven days after the issue of the minute.

Owing to the refusal of the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company to carry on the then existing contract between Suez and Sydney viâ Mauritius, it became necessary to take some immediate steps for preserving a Steam Postal Service with the Australian Colonies; and with this object, the Lords of the Treasury authorized the Postmaster General to enter into a new contract for a branch line between Point de Galle and Melbourne, which was eventually extended to Sydney; and it may be presumed that the special object of the minute was to set forth the grounds on which their Lordships had decided on this branch Service, as the one best calculated to meet the requirements of the case. It is pointed out very forcibly, that the Panama route cannot be looked upon as a substitute for a line by Suez; and the minute then goes on to say to what extent their Lordships would be prepared at some future time to assist in establishing a Service by the former route. As, however, the question was not then practically under the consideration of their Lordships (for it was at this time still in the hands of the Committee of the House of Commons, and no answer had been received to the further inquiries from the Government of New South Wales), I venture to hope that the minute does not express their final decision on the question.

3.—The want of co-operation on the part of New Zealand.

This difficulty is now removed, by an appropriation of an annual subsidy of £30,000 a year, for five years, by the Parliament of that Colony.

The Colonial subsidy thus amounts to £80,000 a year; and as the Government of New South Wales has not expressed any intention of withdrawing its contribution to the Suez Service, it is submitted that the third condition is virtually complied with, and that the Government of that Colony is entitled to claim the redemption of the pledge which Mr. W. H. Stephenson admitted was given by the Treasury in the early part of 1859, to establish the Panama Service, provided certain conditions, now fulfilled, were satisfied.

It is not, however, intended to press the claim now put forward by the Colonies of New South Wales and New Zealand, as one to which the faith of the Home Government is pledged, for it may be taken for granted that if the pledge has been given it will be honorably fulfilled, and it is more to the purpose to endeavour to shew,—

1. That the Australian Colonies are, by the extent of their trade, entitled to greater ocean postal facilities than they at present enjoy, and that the establishment of a Service viâ Panama is indispensable to New Zealand.
2. That the real cost of the Service to Australia is inconsiderable, and that it constitutes a legitimate charge on the public revenue.
3. That owing to the monopoly enjoyed by the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company, the cost of the present branch Service between Point de Galle and Sydney is higher than it need be, and that the most obvious means of reducing it is the establishment of a competing line.

As to the first point:—

In 1860 the value of the exports and imports of the Australian Colonies and New Zealand was nearly £49,000,000 sterling, of which the sum of £29,000,000 was the value of their trade with the United Kingdom (vide Statistical Tables relating to the Colonies, part VII.) These figures include no export of gold from New Zealand, which during the sixteen months ending November, 1862, amounted to £2,000,000 sterling, and as this export must at the lowest computation have been balanced by a corresponding import of the same amount, the whole trade of the Australian Colonies and New Zealand for the year 1862 may be estimated at £53,000,000 sterling, and their trade with the United Kingdom at £32,000,000 sterling.

The postal requirements incidental to a trade of so much magnitude, and such expansive buoyancy, must necessarily be large; and considering the remote and isolated position of these Colonies, it would not be surprising if the cost of maintaining even an inadequate Postal Service such as the present, were very heavy; but the fact is that it is not so, and this arises from the circumstance that the Indian Service is available for more than half the distance. What the precise amount of it is there is some difficulty in determining, for the last Report of the Postmaster General (the 8th) omits from the list of Foreign and Colonial Services (pp. 34 and 35) the subsidies paid for the branch Services to South Australia, Tasmania, and New Zealand. It may, however, be safely assumed that the gross payment by the Treasury does not exceed £90,000 a year; for the half of the whole subsidy paid for the main line is £67,336, the special payment by the Treasury on account of New Zealand is £13,000 (this amount is furnished by Mr. Crosbie Ward), and the special payments on account of South Australia and Tasmania are estimated at £9,664, making together £90,000, which is considerably less than one-tenth of the total amount of the subsidies paid by the Treasury on account of Foreign and Colonial Postal Services.

On reference to the Eighth Report of the Postmaster General, it will be found that in the year 1861 there were ten different Packet Services. Of these, seven were supported exclusively by the Treasury; the cost of two, viz.—the Indian and Australian, was divided equally between the Treasury and the Governments of these Dependencies; and as to the tenth, viz., that to the Cape, the Colonial Government only contributed £6,000 out of a total charge of £33,000.

Of the seven Services exclusively supported by the Treasury, it is only necessary to allude to two;

£177,000 a year is paid to the Cunard Company for a weekly Service to the United States, and £270,000 a year is paid to the Royal Mail Company for a fortnightly Service ending at the Isthmus of Panama, and a monthly Service to Brazil and the River Plate; and in both these cases the trade for the requirements and development of which these heavy postal subsidies are paid, is substantially a trade with foreign countries which collectively do not consume a larger amount of British manufactures than the Australian Colonies and New Zealand. The fact that these heavy charges are incurred by the Treasury in the interests of trade with foreign countries is most important, for it shews that postal subsidies are not favours arising out of the intimate relations between the Mother Country and its Dependencies, but that they are acknowledged to be essential parts of the machinery by which the general commercial progress of the United Kingdom is maintained; in fact, a reproductive expenditure, or a price paid for increased returns.

With

With these precedents, it seems unnecessary to urge further that the establishment of a fortnightly postal Service with Australia is due to the magnitude, and essential to the development of the trade between that country and the United Kingdom; but it may be observed that it is also necessary, as the only means of reducing within moderate limits the consequences of accident and interruption to the Service. In the month of December last, the steamer "Colombo," carrying the Australian mails, was wrecked on one of the Laccadive Islands, and the mails were not fully delivered for more than a month after time. The remittances and drafts forwarded by this mail were probably not less than £3,000,000, and as these are not only the means of paying existing obligations, but form the basis of new contracts even before maturity, the loss to the trade of the United Kingdom was, owing to the mails being dispatched only once a month, a suspension of payment of this large amount for fifteen days, and a delay of an equal amount of fresh transactions for the same period.

A question then arises as to the route of the second Service, and this appears to be conclusively settled by the geographical position of New Zealand. The imports and exports of that Colony already exceed £6,000,000 sterling, and it would be difficult to prove that the injury done to any of the Australian Colonies by selecting the Panama route, would be comparable to that which New Zealand would sustain by establishing the second Service on the Suez line; for the course of post, viâ Suez, between this country and New Zealand is five months; whereas, by the Panama route, New Zealand would gain a month, and the principal Australian Colonies would lose nothing.

It may be further observed, that it is most desirable to run a furrow across the Pacific, as the first step towards the reclamation and settlement of the fertile islands with which it abounds, and as a means of connecting the Australian Colonies and New Zealand with North and South America, between which countries it is certain that greater postal facilities would create a large commercial and social intercourse.

As to the second point, viz., the real charge upon the Treasury:—

Though the nominal cost of the Treasury of the present monthly Service to Australia is £90,000 a year, it is very materially reduced by the receipt of postage; but there is no means of determining the amount of the reduction with accuracy. Mr. W. H. Stephenson (evidence 557) estimates the whole postage received in 1859 on both sides, from Australian and New Zealand correspondence, at £90,000, of which at least £45,000 (probably more, for the outward correspondence is believed to be heavier than that from the Colonies) is received by the Post Office on this side. On the other hand, at p. 452 of the Report a return from the Post Office is given, estimating the amount of what is called sea postage received on this side in the same year at £29,000; but in the absence of the data on which this estimate is formed, and without knowing the basis on which the proportion of sea postage is calculated, these figures cannot be accepted as correct, even if the distinction between sea and inland postage is admitted to be sound; for on referring to Mr. Hill's evidence (from 3875 to 3895) it will be observed that he claims, on behalf of the Post Office, 1½d. on every half-ounce of correspondence forwarded by packet ship to the United States; and throughout his examination he seems to be more solicitous about the net revenue earned, than about the services rendered by his department. A correct apportionment of the various parts of the whole charge which is called postage involves considerations of great nicety, which are beyond the purpose of this statement; but it is perfectly clear that in estimating the cost to the Country of any Postal Packet Service, that Service must be credited with the whole postal receipts, less the mere cost of distribution, on the whole increase of correspondence which springs from the superior rapidity and regularity of the Service itself. For these reasons it appears to me that in the absence of more definite information, the figures given by Mr. W. H. Stephenson (evidence 557) must be taken as correct for the year 1859, and from them I assume that the receipts in 1862 from sea postage alone, if calculated on a fair principle, must have amounted to £45,000; so that the actual charge on the Treasury for the Suez Service to Australia and New Zealand did not, in the year 1862, exceed £45,000, and the excess of expenditure over receipts, according to the Postmaster General (vide Eighth Report, p. 21 and note), is not to be considered a charge on the Post Office, but is incurred for naval and political purposes. Without adopting this departmental view of the matter, it is submitted that the outlay, in proportion to the trade which it supports and encourages is not large, being less than 2s. 10d. per cent. on the value of that trade, which is but slightly in excess of the general average, for the net cost of the Packet Service in 1861 was £479,228, or more than 2s. 6d. per cent. on an export and import trade amounting to £377,000,000 sterling. (Vide Eighth Report of Postmaster General, p. 21, and "Trade and Navigation," 1861).

As to the real cost of the second monthly Service, viâ Panama, only an approximate estimate of it can be formed; for it is not improbable that, with the prospect of collateral advantages and a considerable passenger traffic, the Service may be undertaken for a very moderate subsidy, and the amount of receipts from sea postage is quite uncertain. On this latter point Mr. Hill expresses a very unfavourable opinion if the second Service takes the Panama route (vide his evidence 4140), but the reasons assigned are far from satisfactory, and it is directly at variance with his answer to the previous question, in which he says that the additional postal facilities which were afforded about ten years ago materially increased the amount of correspondence with Australia, and that experience has led him to believe that, as regards distant places, frequency, rapidity, and regularity of communication are the real stimulants of correspondence. This is evidently the more correct opinion, and there can be no doubt that if the Panama Service is efficient, the increase of receipts from correspondence will be at least as large as it would be if the second Service were established on the Suez route.

It is understood that in some quarters subsidies for Foreign and Colonial Postal Services are viewed with disfavour, and the reason is that the charge is palpable, while the indirect advantages lie concealed in the general results of increasing trade and enlarged resources. But it is submitted that the cost of these Services is much exaggerated; for, as has been already pointed out, the accounts of the Post Office as to this branch of its receipts are kept, or at least are rendered, on a principle which deprives the Service of its earnings; and it is not sufficiently borne in mind that in all cases such as that of Australia and New Zealand, where the population is rapidly increasing, the cost is at its maximum at the time of the establishment of the Service, and is subject to continual reduction by the progressive increase of correspondence; and, moreover, the expenditure is essentially reproductive, for the mail packet is the handmaid of trade, one of the agents by which its full development is encouraged and its incidental requirements are satisfied; and though it may fail to revive declining vigour, as in the West Indies, it hardly admits of a doubt that the expansion of trade with Brazil would have been retarded but for the postal facilities afforded by the Packet Service, which was first subsidized in 1850; neither can this expenditure be regarded as wholly exceptional; as a charge for a special purpose on the general revenues of the country, it is as legitimate as the redemption of the Sound dues and the Stade tolls; the object in the two cases being very similar—the encouragement of commerce by the creation of new facilities, or the removal of existing obstacles.

As to the third point, viz., the monopoly of the Peninsular and Oriental Company:—

The mileage paid to this Company for the existing monthly Service between Point de Galle and Sydney is 100 per cent. higher than the highest rate paid on steam packet contracts in other parts of the world.

On the West Indian line, where the navigation is peculiarly dangerous, and numerous vessels have been lost, the rate is 10s. 10d. (Evidence, 3,340.)

On the East Indian line, in spite of the losses which have been sustained in the Red Sea, the Service is found profitable, though the rate is only 6s. 2d. (ib.)

On the Cunard line, where at certain seasons of the year the navigation is difficult and hazardous, and many large steamers have been lost, the rate is 9s. 6d. (Evidence, 3,394. See, however, 3,340 and 4,279, where it is stated to be higher.)

On

On the Brazilian line, which traverses an open sea, the rate is 3s. 11d. (Ib. 3,340.)

Whereas on the Australian line, which as regards its navigation is the most favourably circumstanced of all, the rate is 21s. 7d.; the distance run in twelve months being 24 × 5,200 = 124,800 miles, and the annual subsidy £135,000, which is only £5,000 less than the tender of the same Company in 1856 for a complete through line between this Country and Sydney. (Report 1860, pp. 387 and 391.)

As no complaints have been made by the Colonies about the costliness of this Service, it is perhaps beyond my duty to call attention to it, but as the reply to the proposal now submitted to Her Majesty's Government will mainly turn upon the amount which the two Services (viâ Suez and viâ Panama) will cost, some notice of the fact appears to be called for.

On reference to the origin of this contract in 1860, it will be found that it was accepted as an escape from a pressing emergency, and a saving of expense (see Papers printed for the use of the Colonial Office, 18*th May*, 1860, and Treasury Minute, 15*th May*, 1860). At this time the Peninsular and Oriental Company had given notice of the immediate abandonment of the through Service from London to Sydney viâ Mauritius, and accompanied the notice with an offer to carry on a through Service viâ Point de Galle for £250,000 a year, or a branch Service from Point de Galle to Melbourne for £120,000 a year; and this latter alternative, which so far as the monthly transmission of postal matter was concerned, would meet, and has most efficiently met, all requirements, was accepted by the Treasury. The bait held out by the Company was a saving of £130,000 a year on the transmission of correspondence; and this, and the circumstance that the arrangement was considered to be provisional only (see Treasury Minute, 15*th May*, 1860), led to the immediate acceptance of the tender without scrutinizing the terms of it, whether in proportion to the Service to be performed they were reasonable or exorbitant. Having succeeded in obtaining £120,000 a year for this branch Service as far as Melbourne, the Company asked and obtained an additional £15,000 a year for extending it to Sydney, though in 1856 the same extension of the Service was offered for £5,000 a year (vide Tender of Peninsular and Oriental Company, Report, p. 387.)

The reason why the Colonial Governments have made no protest against the extravagance of the charge is, that the Service has been most efficiently performed. Their object was to get an efficient Service almost at any cost, and as the Treasury pays half the amount, they have naturally assumed, from the acceptance of the tender, that in proportion to the quality and quantity of the Service the bargain was not beyond customary rates.

The conduct of the Peninsular and Oriental Company, in reference to the Australian Mail Service, between 1853 and 1860, proves that their object has been to gain a close monopoly of steam packet traffic in the Indian Ocean. When the market has been thrown open to competition, they have tendered at a price at which the Service could not be profitably worked, and having run competitors off the line, they have made their own terms with the Government. The effect of this monopoly is, that postal communication between this Country and Australia is wholly inadequate; for the most is not made of the money appropriated to that object, as much being paid for one Service as ought to provide for that and a considerable portion of the one now pressed upon the consideration of Her Majesty's Government; and it is believed that the only chance of breaking down this monopoly, and thereby securing for the public full value for its money, is by subsidizing a monthly Service between Sydney and Panama, and entrusting it to a new, or, at least, a separate Company.

SIR,

I have the honor to inform you that, on the 14th instant, Mr. Crosbie Ward and I had an interview with Lord Stanley of Alderley, the Postmaster General, on the subject of establishing a monthly Steam Postal Service between Panama and Sydney, viâ New Zealand: Mr. F. Hill was present.

His Lordship listened very attentively to the representations we made to him, and it was clear that he had fully considered and was familiar with the question.

One of the first objections which he raised was that New South Wales was the only one of the Australian Colonies which was favourable to this route; that Queensland was in favour of a Service viâ Torres Straits, while the Southern Colonies supported one viâ the Cape of Good Hope; and he observed that it was hardly to be expected that the Home Government, which was bound to consider the interests of all the Australias impartially would, if it were eventually determined to subsidize a second monthly Service, apply that subsidy in favour of a route which would promote the interests and gratify the wishes of one Colony only. I replied that the primary object of a Panama Service was not to serve one Australian Colony, but to do justice to New Zealand, and that it was not open to His Lordship to discuss the proposal on Australian grounds, merely because New South Wales thought it conducive to her interests to subscribe towards a project which was indispensable to satisfy the requirements of New Zealand. I observed that it was not brought forward as a substitute for, but as supplemental to the Service viâ Suez; and that as it was not sought to disturb the immense advantages which the Southern Colonies derived from the Suez line, it was but fair that if a second monthly Service was to be established, the interests of the two Colonies which were so indifferently served by that line, should receive a preferent consideration; that it frequently happened that the mail left Sydney within twenty-four hours after its arrival, whereby great inconvenience and loss was entailed, especially upon those who were not resident at the port; and that as regards New Zealand, no Service going east from England, however efficiently performed, could give her the advantages to which she was entitled by her geographical position and the extent of her trade.

Mr.

Mr. Hill then observed, that a Service viâ Panama would be much less speedy than that by Suez, as it would occupy fifty-five days, whereas the letters dispatched viâ Marseilles were delivered at Sydney in forty-eight days, and that the mails by the Suez route would be further accelerated as soon as the communication by railway with Trieste was completed. In reply, I again urged that even this acceleration would not meet the wants of New Zealand, to which Colony it was indispensable that the course of post should be brought within four months, and that practically the mail viâ Marseilles was not usually delivered at Sydney much within fifty-five days.

The Postmaster General then alluded to the low rate of postage, 6d. per half-ounce, for letters sent viâ Southampton, and inquired whether the Colonies would object to an increased rate, say 1s. per half-ounce; Mr. Crosbie Ward replied that there would be no objection on the part of New Zealand, but I told His Lordship that as regards the Australian Colonies, such a change could only be made with their concurrence, and that it appeared to me that though the present rate was unreasonably low in proportion to the distance, the Colonial Governments might think it sounder policy to throw the loss upon the revenue than to discourage correspondence; that I was aware that the postage rate to China had been doubled in consideration of the concession of an additional Service, but that in that case the correspondence was exclusively confined to mercantile firms and persons of ample means, whereas a large proportion of that between this Country and the Australias emanated from the working classes, to whom, especially on this side, the increased charge would be a grievous burthen if not an absolute prohibition.

On this important point I beg that you will furnish me with instructions, as in the absence of your express authority I should not feel myself justified in acceding to the proposal.

I hope to be able to report further progress in this negotiation by next mail. The Chancellor of the Exchequer will not take up the question till he is in possession of a report from the Post Office, and that has not yet been sent in.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

NEW SOUTH WALES.

STEAM POSTAL SERVICE via PANAMA.

(CORRESPONDENCE.)

Ordered by the Legislative Assembly to be Printed, 2 September, 1863.

SECRETARY OF STATE FOR THE COLONIES to GOVERNOR SIR JOHN YOUNG, BART.

(No. 40.)

Downing-street,
14 May, 1863.

SIR,

Mr. E. Hamilton having brought under notice of Her Majesty's Government the desire expressed by your Government, that Steam Postal Communication with Great Britain should be established by way of Panama, I beg to transmit, for your information, the copy of a letter which has been received from the Secretary to the Treasury, in reply to a reference which was made to that Board, respecting an Act passed by the Legislature of New Zealand for effecting this object. 7 May, 1863.

You will learn from this letter, that their Lordships, for the reasons therein given, are not prepared to render any assistance towards the establishment of such a line of communication.

I have, &c.,
NEWCASTLE.

[Enclosure.]

Treasury Chambers,
7 May, 1863.

Sir,

The Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury have had before them your letter of the 30th March last, forwarding copy of an Act passed by the Legislature of New Zealand, intituled, No. 16, "An Act for establishing Postal Communication with Great Britain by way of Panama."

I am directed by their Lordships to acquaint you, for the information of the Duke of Newcastle, that they have had under consideration proposals made by Mr. E. Hamilton, on behalf of the Government of New South Wales, and by Mr. Crosbie Ward, on behalf of the Government of New Zealand, to the effect that Her Majesty's Government should assist in establishing a monthly mail to New Zealand, viâ Panama, by paying the cost of a packet service across the Pacific, and by agreeing to make no claim on the Colonies, for the conveyance of the Australian and New Zealand mails by the packets between Southampton and Colon.

Their Lordships have caused Messrs. Ward and Hamilton to be informed that this Board is unable to assist in the establishment of such a line, owing to the expense it would entail on this Country under the proposals above adverted to.

With regard to the Act No. 16, passed by the Legislature of New Zealand, their Lordships see no objection to its being left to its operation.

I am, &c.,
F. PEEL.

Sir F. Rogers, Bart.

EDWARD HAMILTON, ESQ., to COLONIAL SECRETARY.

5, Cannon-street, London, E.C.,
19 May, 1863.

SIR,

I have the honor to enclose a copy of correspondence with the Colonial Office and the Treasury, about the establishment of a Postal Service viâ Panama. I am unwilling to hold out much expectation that further negotiation and representation will induce the Lords of the Treasury to alter the decision communicated to me in the Secretary's letter of the 7th of May; but the question is to be brought on for discussion in Parliament; and Sir Stafford Northcote, Bart., who was Financial Secretary of the Treasury when tenders were called for in 1859, has informed me that he will support it on its merits. He is not prepared to admit that any pledge was given by the Government at that time, but after reading my letter of the 15th instant (herewith enclosed), to the present Secretary of the Treasury, he writes to say that he takes no exception to my statement of the case.

on

I have found it very difficult to shew that the postal interests of New South Wales would be much advanced by a service viâ Panama, for the minimum number of days by that route to Sydney would not be less than the maximum number of days by way of Suez, taking the 26th of the month as the day of departure of the present Australian mail from London, unless vessels of great power and speed are employed for the voyage across the Pacific. The contract time in the tenders of 1859 was fifty-five days; whereas between London and Sydney, viâ Marseilles, it is only forty-eight or forty-nine days, though I am aware that this limit is usually much exceeded.

Again, owing to the opposition of the Southern Australian Colonies to the Panama route, I cannot venture to call a meeting with a view to obtain the support of the public; for it is certain that a motion in favour of that route would be defeated by their friends and representatives. Apart from local interests, it appears to me that this route, for postal purposes, can only be advocated here with success on the ground that no other will serve New Zealand.

I shall propose to Mr. Ward to draft a petition to the Government on the subject, and I will endeavour to obtain the signatures of all the merchants in London whose principal Australian connection is with the Colony of New South Wales. Among them, however, a difference of opinion exists, as you are probably aware; but I have tried to impress upon them that, on a question of this nature, it is their duty to support the views of the Colonial Government, as representing the wishes of the majority of their fellow-colonists, and I have no doubt that, in the majority of instances, they will do so.

In my letter of the 15th, addressed to the Secretary of the Treasury, you will observe that, solely with the view to keep the question open, I have suggested that the Colonial Government might be willing to make concessions on points of detail; but I beg that it may not be supposed that I am in favour of an increased rate of postage. When this point was raised by the Postmaster General, I expressly said that no change could be sanctioned without reference to the Colonial Government, and that I saw many objections to such a course, which did not apply to the increase of charge between this Country and China.

I have, &c.,

Rep. Agent of New South Wales.

Sir,

I have the honor to inclose, for your information, a copy of a letter which I received in January last, from the Colonial Secretary of New South Wales, with reference to the establishment of Steam Postal Service viâ Panama. I also have the honor to inclose a copy of his letter to Crosbie Ward, Esq., therein referred to, and a copy of the Colonial Act, No. 15, dated 2nd November, 1858, authorizing the Governor of that Colony to appropriate, on certain conditions, and for a limited period, an annual sum of £50,000 to that object.

From the answer given by Mr. Chichester Fortescue in the House of Commons, on Monday, the 16th instant, to a question about the Panama Service, I am led to believe that you have not received an intimation of the wishes and views of the Government of New South Wales on this important matter.

I have, &c.,

Sir,

I am directed by the Duke of Newcastle to thank you for the information contained in your letter of the 18th instant, with reference to the establishment of Steam Postal Service between Australia, New Zealand, and England, viâ Panama; and I am to add, that His Grace has not received any official communication on the subject from the Governor of New South Wales.

Postal Service between Sydney and Panama.

32, Upper Brook-street, W.,
20 March, 1863.

Sir,

Having been instructed by the Government of New South Wales to bring again under the consideration of Her Majesty's Government, the question of establishing a monthly Steam Postal Service between Panama and Sydney, viâ New Zealand, and for that purpose to act in concert with Mr. Crosbie Ward, the Agent of New Zealand, I have the honor to inform you that, in the year 1858, the Parliament of New South Wales appropriated towards this object a sum of £50,000 a year for ten years, of which nearly six are unexpired, making, together with the sum of £30,000 a year which has been appropriated by by the Parliament of New Zealand towards the same object, a total Colonial subsidy of £80,000 a year; and having been informed by Mr. Crosbie Ward that it is your wish to have before you the facts of the case, before granting the interview which he has solicited on my behalf as well as his own, I have prepared, and have now the honor to submit the accompanying printed statement, which sets forth the negotiations that took place in 1859, and the grounds on which the assistance of Her Majesty's Government is now asked.

In that statement, for the length of which I feel that some apology is due, I have endeavoured to establish the following points, viz. :—

That the guarantee of an annual subsidy of £80,000 a year by the Governments of New South Wales and New Zealand, entitles them to claim the performance of the pledge given by the Treasury in 1859.

That one monthly postal service is inadequate to the requirements of the trade of Australia, and that a service viâ Panama is indispensable to New Zealand.

That the net cost to the Treasury of the present monthly service is very small.

That in proportion to the service performed, the subsidy now granted to the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company is exorbitant, and that it is important to put an end to the monopoly of that Company, by the organization of a distinct service viâ Panama.

Sundry documents having reference to the subject matter of my statement are herewith inclosed.

I have, &c.,
EDWD. HAMILTON,
Rep. Agent of New South Wales.

The Right Honorable
The Chancellor of the Exchequer.

Treasury Chambers,

Sir,

With reference to your letter of the 20th March last, addressed to the Chancellor of the Exchequer, on the subject of the proposal made by you on behalf of the Government of New South Wales, and by Mr. Crosbie Ward on behalf of the Government of New Zealand, viz.—that Her Majesty's Government should co-operate with those Colonies in establishing a monthly mail to New Zealand and Australia, viâ Panama,—I am directed by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to acquaint you that my Lords are unable to assist in the establishment of such a line, owing to the expense which it would entail upon this Country under the proposals made by you and Mr. Crosbie Ward.

I am, &c.,
F. PEEL.

Edward Hamilton, Esq.

[Enclosure 5.]

5 Cannon-street, E. C.,
15 May, 1863.

Sir,

I have the honor to invite your further attention to the subject of your communication of the 7th instant, in which I am informed that the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury have decided not to assist in the establishment of a Monthly Steam Postal Service between Panama and Sydney viâ New Zealand, owing to the expense which it would entail upon this Country.

I was not prepared to hear that this question had been disposed of without further reference to Mr. Crosbie Ward, the Agent for New Zealand, and myself; for the statements, which were drawn up at the request of the Chancellor of the Exchequer, were only intended to place before him the general outline of the claim which was to form the subject of consideration at the interview we had respectfully solicited.

I venture to submit that the proceedings of the Treasury in 1858 and 1859, with reference to this question, virtually constitute an engagement to establish the service, on certain conditions specified in the minute of 19th April, 1859; and that these conditions being now satisfied, the Colonies of New South Wales and New Zealand have good reason to expect that the engagement will be fulfilled. I am unwilling to say that the Home Government is pledged in the matter, and if there is any distinction between a pledge and a distinct intimation of opinion "that the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury ought no longer to delay fulfilling an intention," in which second parties were materially interested, I admit that no pledge has been given. It is however beyond question that an understanding was come to, and I respectfully urge that a claim arising out of that understanding cannot be dismissed on the ground stated in your letter of the 7th instant, viz.—that a compliance with it would entail a heavy expenditure on this Country. The conditions of acquiescence by Her Majesty's Government in 1859 were clear and explicit, viz.—a guarantee that one-half the whole cost of both services viâ Panama and viâ Suez should be defrayed by one or more of the Australian Colonies; and in reliance upon that understanding, one of those Colonies and New Zealand have made such financial arrangements as enable them substantially to give the required guarantee. I do not presume to offer any opinion as to the obligation arising out of such proceedings on the part of the Government, in respect of domestic objects; but it is hardly open to question, that in cases of engagements with other Governments, a change of circumstance or of policy on the part of the Home Government, is not a sufficient ground for disappointing the reasonable expectations arising out of such engagements.

Apart however from this consideration, I submit that it is premature to refuse to entertain the proposal of the two Colonial Governments on account of the expense of the service, for no steps have been taken to ascertain the amount of it. If the tenders sent in, in 1859, are to be relied on, they afford good ground for believing that a subsidy of reasonable amount might be found sufficient; and the fact is, that through the improvements of construction, the economy of fuel, and attention to the details of management, smaller subsidies than heretofore are found to be remunerative.

It is also possible that the two Colonial Governments, rather than forego the establishment of a service which they deem so essential to their interests, might waive the condition that one-half the whole cost should be provided by the Home Government. They might agree to contribute £80,000 a year, without any stipulation as to the amount of the contribution of the Treasury.

It is also possible that they might agree to an increased rate of postage.

These I respectfully submit are reasons for further inquiry and consideration, and against coming to the final decision communicated in your letter of the 7th instant.

In the printed statement submitted to the Chancellor of the Exchequer, I stated that one monthly postal service is totally inadequate to satisfy the requirements of the trade between this Country and the Australian Colonies and New Zealand; and from the information I have since received, on authority which is apparently undoubted, it would seem that this is conceded, for I am informed that communications either preliminary or official have been addressed to the Peninsular and Oriental Company, to ascertain

ascertain for what increase of subsidy they would run a second monthly service on the present line viâ Suez; and it would appear that the exorbitance of their present subsidy, especially alluded to in my statement, is admitted, by the offer to perform the second service for less than half the amount they receive for the present service. That the office and agency charges for two services will not be materially larger than for one is very probable, but the working charges will necessarily be doubled; and if these can be met by less than half the amount of the present subsidy, it follows either that the Company is enormously overpaid for maintaining a single service, or that, in demanding so low a rate for the second service, it is exceptionally influenced by feelings of moderation and liberality.

Lastly, I feel it my duty to say that it is not probable that the Colony of New South Wales will contribute towards a second service viâ Suez, or that it will acquiesce in any additional postal arrangements from which the southern Colonies will, as on the Suez line, derive the principal benefit; and Mr. Crosbie Ward distinctly stated to the Postmaster General that New Zealand will not be a party to them.

PANAMA ROUTE.

SIR,

I have the honor to enclose copy of my letter, dated 8th June, 1863, to the Secretary of the Treasury.

The negotiation on this subject with the Treasury, which was apparently brought to a close by the letter, already reported, of the Secretary of the Treasury, dated 7th May, 1863, was unexpectedly revived by an offer, made privately to me by Mr. Gladstone, to consider that letter withdrawn, and to grant an interview to Mr. Ward and myself, for the consideration of the question. The offer was accepted, and in reply to a communication from myself to Mr. Gladstone, he named Friday, the 19th instant, for receiving us and any other gentlemen interested in the establishment of the proposed service.

After consulting Mr. Ward, it was decided to prepare a memorial to the Lords of the Treasury, concisely setting forth the grounds of our application, and to get it numerously signed by all parties inclined to support it. Copies of this memorial are forwarded by this mail; and it is a source of satisfaction to me to be able to report to you that it was both numerously and influentially signed, as will be seen from the following classification of names.

A large deputation, consisting of at least forty gentlemen, waited upon Mr. Gladstone at the appointed time, and, in accordance with their wishes, I presented the memorial, and stated the general case at considerable length, leaving it to Mr. Ward to urge the special claims of New Zealand, and to shew that it would not be possible to do justice to that Colony by an increase of service on the Eastern Route.

The points to which I particularly directed the attention of the Chancellor of the Exchequer were,—the importance of completing the postal circuit of the Globe, by establishing a steam service across the Pacific; the inadequacy of a monthly postal service to satisfy the requirements of the trade of Australia and New Zealand; the insignificant amount of the net cost to the Treasury of the Australian service, compared with the cost of services maintained in the interest of other Colonies of less commercial value to the United Kingdom; the importance to the United Kingdom of encouraging, by postal facilities, emigration from the United States of North America, to Australia and New Zealand—the consumption of British manufactures in the former country being at the rate of 16s. per head, and in the latter, £12 per head of the population; and lastly, the engagement of Her Majesty's Government to co-operate in the organization of the service, on the fulfilment of certain conditions by the Australian Colonies and New Zealand, or some of them.

On this latter point, I represented to him, that the first recommendation of the Panama Route proceeded, not from the Colonies, but from a Committee of the House of Commons, in 1851,—that it was subsequently strongly advocated in the Treasury minute of the 15th November, 1858, and finally adopted by the Treasury minute of 19th April, 1859.

Mr. Ward then forcibly stated the case of New Zealand.

In reply, the Chancellor of the Exchequer observed, that he did not admit the existence of any engagement binding on Her Majesty's Government; that the proceedings referred to were expressions of opinion for the time being, and did not constitute a pledge of which the Colonies were entitled now or at any future time to claim the fulfilment; that it was stated, and not proved, that a monthly postal service to Australia was inadequate; that the determination of the quantity of postal accommodation to be given to different parts of the World rested with the Postmaster General, who had not advised Her Majesty's Government that the postal provision made for Australia is insufficient; and lastly, that he considered that if the Australian Mail was carried as far as Panama without contribution from those Colonies, they had no reason to complain that they were not liberally treated in the matter.

As the Chancellor of the Exchequer was pressed for time, I thought it better to abstain from disputing the soundness and fairness of these opinions, but it is my intention, immediately after the departure of this mail, which has exclusively occupied my attention since the day on which the deputation was received, to address a communication to the Financial Secretary of the Treasury, in reference thereto.

I ought to mention that several Members of Parliament were present at the interview, and that, in reply to Mr. Gladstone's denial of the existence of any engagement binding on Her Majesty's Government, Mr. Ker Seymer, Member for Dorsetshire, observed that in all cases affecting the Colonies, it was most important that the Government should scrupulously avoid even the semblance of escaping from obligations which it was found inconvenient to fulfil.

I have, &c.,

EDWD. HAMILTON,
Rep. Agent of New South Wales.

8 June, 1863.

Sir,

Since I had the honor of addressing you, on the 15th May, 1863, with reference to the establishment of a Postal Service between Panama and Australia, viâ New Zealand, I have seen the Ninth Report of the Postmaster General, dated 30th April, 1863, and I beg to offer a few remarks on that part of it in which the subject of the Australian Service is discussed (pp. 20-21).

For the purpose of comparison, the distances on the different routes to Australia are reduced to a uniform standard of statute miles, but so far from simplifying, the reduction only complicates the question; for as the whole voyage is not performed at uniform rates of speed, the length of it does not solely depend on the number of miles to be traversed. The only basis of comparison is the contract time.

Under the present contract with the P. and O. Company, the time allowed is—

By the Marseilles route—
To Melbourne	45 days.
To Sydney	49 days.
By the Southhampton and Suez route—
To Melbourne	52 days.
To Sydney	56 days.
By the Panama line, the time would be—
Southampton to Colon	20 days.
Stoppage at Isthmus	1 day.
Panama to Sydney, including one day at New Zealand	33 days.
	54 days.

Melbourne would be reached in fifty-five days, by separate branch from New Zealand.

It will thus be observed that there is no material difference in time between a service viâ Panama and the service viâ Southampton and Suez; and as a very large portion of the correspondence is now sent round viâ Southampton on the Suez line, in spite of the greater dispatch by way of Marseilles, there is no reason to apprehend that the public would not largely avail themselves of a service viâ Panama. By both routes the course of post is the same, viz.—an interval of four calendar months, and this is the real test of the eligibility of the different routes for postal service.

In the report the question is argued exclusively in the interest of Melbourne,—so much so that her preponderance, as a source of correspondence, is overstated, and one circumstance of great practical importance is entirely overlooked.

As to correspondence, the proportion contributed by Melbourne in 1862 was 49·3 per cent., that is less, and not more than half, whereas in 1857 it was 58·3 per cent., and in 1860 it was 54·6 per cent.; and it is not in the least probable that the present proportion of 49·3 per cent. will be maintained.

Dividing these Colonies into two groups—the one containing Victoria, Tasmania, South Australia, and Western Australia; the other containing New South Wales, Queensland, and New Zealand—it will be found that the proportion of correspondence is 628:372, or but little in excess of 3: 2 in favour of the Southern Colonies.

The other point to which I allude as being overlooked is, that Melbourne cannot be regarded as the terminus of either route, for Sydney is the only port where the ocean steamers can be docked and repaired. For this reason Sydney must be included in the Suez service, whereas, on the Panama route, it is not necessary and might not be expedient that the packet should go to Melbourne.

As the representative of New South Wales, I feel it my duty to call attention to the omission of all reference to the interests and wishes of that Colony, in this report. It is prominently stated that Queensland is in favour of a service, which may be set aside as for the present wholly impracticable, viz.—from Singapore viâ Torres' Straits; it is also pointedly observed that the Government of Victoria has refused to co-operate in establishing a packet service viâ Panama; but the fact that New South Wales has appropriated a sum of £50,000 a year for ten years to this object, and that the two Colonies of New Zealand and New South Wales have virtually guaranteed more than half the required subsidy, is not even alluded to.

I must also observe that the question is argued, in this report, as though the proposal submitted to Her Majesty's Government were the substitution of a service viâ Panama for the existing one viâ Suez; but such in not the case. The proposal really made is, that as the establishment of a second monthly mail is necessary to satisfy the requirements of the trade of Australia and New Zealand with the the United Kingdom, the Panama route should be tried; and in favour of this route, Mr. Crosbie Ward and I have endeavoured, in the various communications which we have had the honor of addressing to Her Majesty's Government, to shew that no other service can secure to New Zealand the advantages to which, by her geographical position and her expansive trade, she is entitled,—that the Treasury is under an engagement to establish a service on that route, and that as between the various Colonies of Australia and New Zealand it is but reasonable that those which derive the least benefit from the Suez service should receive a preferent consideration, in the determination of the route of the second service.

In conclusion, I beg to forward a statement of distances on the two routes, which I believe to be correct.

[Enclosure 2.]

To the Honorable the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury.

Statement, shewing that the establishment of a Monthly Steam Postal Service between Australia and Panama, viâ New Zealand, is urgently required, and ought no longer to be delayed.

We, the undersigned merchants and others, interested in the trade and general prosperity of Australia and New Zealand, beg respectfully to submit to the favourable consideration of Her Majesty's Government the establishment of a Monthly Steam Postal Service between Panama and Australia, viâ New Zealand, at the joint charge of these Colonies and the Treasury; and in support of this proposal we have the honor to make the following statement:—

That the export and import trade of the Australias and New Zealand, for the year 1862, exceeded £50,000,000 sterling in value, of which the direct trade with the United Kingdom amounted to £30,000,000 sterling.

That the value of the imports from these Colonies into the United Kingdom is far beyond its nominal amount, for they give in exchange for manufactured commodities a raw material, for which the demand in foreign Countries is certain, and practically unlimited.

That, with a view to the support and encouragement of trade with foreign Countries having no special claim on the Government of this Country, two postal services are maintained at the sole cost and charge of the Treasury, viz., a weekly service to the United States of North America, costing £180,000 a year, and a fortnightly service with Mexico and West Coast of South America, costing £230,000 a year; and that the claims of trade between the United Kingdom and its Colonies are at least entitled to equally favourable consideration.

That the present Australian Postal Service, which recurs at intervals of a whole calendar month, is inadequate, and that thereby great loss is sustained by the public, whether from the retardation of intelligence, the delay of remittances, or the consequences of accident.

That a second monthly service will partially remove these evils, and ought to be immediately organized.

That a considerable trade is carried on between Australia and New Zealand on the one part, and the United States and South America on the other; that its further development is checked by the want of direct postal communication, and that the United Kingdom, as the focus to which the transactions of trade ultimately converge, would be greatly benefited thereby.

That the trade of New Zealand for 1862 exceeded £6,000,000 sterling, and that it is increasing more rapidly than that of any of the Australian Colonies.

That by the eastern route this Colony is excluded from the course of the Australian post; for the return mail leaves Sydney (the terminus of the line) eight days after the contract time of arrival, and the double voyage between Sydney and Auckland cannot be performed in less than ten days.

That

That by a service averaging ten knots an hour from Panama, across the Pacific, New Zealand would be brought within forty-eight days, Sydney within fifty-four days, and Melbourne (by means of a distinct branch starting from New Zealand) within fifty-five days of Southampton.

That it is the opinion of practical men, that in the Pacific Ocean, vessels of moderate horse power (say 1 : 6) will give the required average speed of ten knots per hour, and that an annual subsidy of £150,000 a year will support the service, including the special branch between Auckland and Melbourne.

That more than one half of the subsidy is guaranteed by Act of Appropriation, viz.:—£50,000 a year by the Parliament of New South Wales, and £30,000 a year by the Legislature of New Zealand.

That the establishment of a postal service viâ Panama was recommended twelve years ago, by a Committee of the House of Commons.

That Her Majesty's Government has at various times announced its intention of carrying that recommendation into effect; that in the year 1859, the Treasury deliberately and expressly acknowledged that the service ought to be forthwith organized, that it communicated to the Government of New South Wales the conditions under which its acquiescence and support would be accorded, and that the fulfilment of these conditions entitles that Colony to claim the performance of the engagement entered into.

That the relative importance of the Eastern Colonies, as measured by correspondence, commerce, and population, has been steadily progressive, and that as the service viâ Suez is most favourable to the Southern Colonies, the interests of the other Colonies ought to determine the route of the second service.

That Sydney is the only Australian port at which large ocean steamers can be docked and repaired, and that consequently it must practically be the terminus of the trunk line, both on the eastern and on the western route.

SIR,

I have the honor to enclose the Times' report of the discussion that took place in the House of Commons on the 17th instant, with reference to the Panama Postal Service.

It does not escape my observation that Mr. Peel is inaccurate in his facts, for the tenders in 1859 ranged between £109,000 and £220,000, whereas he quotes £160,000 as the lowest limit. It was also unfair to say that the Colonies have not complied with the conditions, inasmuch as it was stipulated that half the cost of a through service between Southampton and Australia should be voted.

It was very tempting to call attention to these points in his speech, but on the whole I deemed it more prudent to allow the matter to drop for the present than to excite personal feeling against granting the co-operation that is required.

I also enclose a leader from the Times of the 20th instant. This has done us great service, and my impression is, that ere long the Government will be less disinclined to the scheme than they are at present.

I have been much pressed to promise the subsidy independently of all aid from the Treasury to the owners of the screw steamers formerly employed on the Australian Line, viâ the Cape of Good Hope, but the provisions of the Colonial Act, No. 5, Vict. , and the absence of instructions from you, prevent me from doing so, and I do not believe that these vessels are fit for the work. They are first-class vessels of their kind, but as their power is only auxiliary, they could not regularly perform the service in the given time, that is, thirty-three or thirty-four days between Sydney and Panama.

THE PANAMA ROUTE.

SIR S. NORTHCOTE, in rising to call the attention of the House to the proposals which had been made for the establishment of a route to Australia by way of Panama, referred briefly to the recommendations which had been made, and the steps which had been taken, for the establishment of routes by way of Suez and the Cape of Good Hope, and then went on to say that shortly after he had become connected with the Government of Lord Derby a gentleman named Merryweather had come over to this country from New South Wales in order to induce the Government to establish a route by way of Panama. He stated to Mr. Merryweather, who was anxious that the Treasury should put forward tenders on the subject, that difficulties seemed to him to lie in the way of the establishment of that route. He told him he was not sure whether all the Colonies would agree to bear their share of the expense in pursuing the route, or whether the service by way of Panama could be organized within such a time as to begin with the service by way of Suez, for which tenders had been invited. It appeared that these and other points could not be ascertained unless tenders were called for, and it was therefore explained to Mr. Merryweather that the Government would consent to call for them on the understanding that it was merely to ascertain the facts of the case. Tenders were accordingly called for, but they were sent in, not to the Government of Lord Derby, but to their successors in office, and and no steps were taken with respect to them for a considerable time. Since then he believed there had been several communications on the part of the Colonies with the Home Government, and the matter, he understood, was now about to be brought to a close. He had moved for papers in connection with it but they had not yet been produced, and he was therefore anxious to receive from the Government some explanation on one or two points. He did not, he might add, speak as the advocate or as the opponent of the Panama route, but he was at the same time anxious to know what were, generally speaking, the grounds on which the Government had come to a decision—if they had come to a decision—against it. It was quite evident that there were several points which it was desirable should be cleared up before such a route was established. He should like, for instance, to be informed whether the Government were of opinion that there ought to be a fortnightly service to Australia, or whether a monthly service was all that was required, and whether, if there was to be a fortnightly service, the Panama route would be made available for that purpose. He wished to know whether difficulties had arisen from the circumstances of the different Colonies. There were differences of interests as between Melbourne, Sydney, and New Zealand. No doubt Melbourne was very well served by the present service by way of Suez; Sydney was not so well, and New Zealand still less well served than Melbourne. It was the interest of New Zealand and Sydney that the additional service should be put on by way of Panama. Were the Colonies willing to pay one-half of the service if the second service was put on by way of Suez, and were the Government prepared to say that the Colonies would not bear their half if that second service were put on by way of Panama? The complaint of New Zealand seemed very well deserving of consideration—that by the present arrangement they were thrown out of the course of post, and lost a month. The course of post to Melbourne was four months; to New Zealand it was five months. They had also a very short time at Sydney to answer their letters. The importance of the trade of these Colonies was very great to England. The exports of British and Irish produce to foreign countries fell off between 1860 and 1862 from £92,000,000 to £82 000,000, while the exports to British possessions only fell off from £43,000,000 to £42.000,000, and to the Australian Colonies the exports had increased during the same period from £9,000,000 to £11,000,000. To come still nearer, the exports to New Zealand and New South Wales had increased from under £3,000,000 in 1860, to £4,750,000 in 1862. The progress of trade must, of course, be materially improved by postal facilities, and therefore it was important that those facilities should be given, as far as possible, to these Colonies. He did not wish to express any view of his own in favour of the Panama route, but it was fit that the case should be stated in the House of Commons. The Colonies were rather anxious and sensitive on the subject, and it was desirable that they should know from the Government what was the nature of the objections to the Panama route—whether they were fundamental or could be got over by arrangements among the Colonies. He hoped the right hon. gentleman, the Secretary of the Treasury, would be able to give them such a statement as would shew that the Government had given fair consideration to the subject, and explain the grounds on which they had acted. (Hear, hear.)

MR. PEEL said the question of establishing a second monthly communication with Australia, by way of Panama, had received the consideration of the Government on different occasions during the last few years, and they had recently had several communications on the subject with gentlemen representing the interests of New Zealand and New South Wales. Now, any one who recollected the difficulties which attended the first establishment of mail communication with Australia, must be gratified at the certainty and regularity, on which entire dependence might be placed, with which the mail service with Australia was now conducted, under the contract with the Peninsular and Oriental Company. The distance was very great; necessarily the expense also was very considerable, and it was not surprising that the receipts of this country from the postage in letters between Marseilles and Australia by no means covered the expense to which the country was put for the maintenance of that communication. He believed that last year our share of the receipts from postage did not amount to more than £33,000, while the sum we had to pay, giving credit for the expense of one-half of the entire cost of the service which we received from the Colonies, was not less than between £90,000 and £100,000, so that we lost not less than £70,000. No doubt were we to *doubt the present frequency of communication with Australia, such a measure would be attended with great advantage, both politically and commercially, and it was quite possible that the objection which some might entertain in respect of the additional loss resulting from that service to the country, might be obviated, were a measure, which was frequently recommended, and which, in his opinion, was perfectly reasonable in itself, adopted—namely, that of increasing the postage on letters to Australia. The present postage was only 6d. per half-ounce. He thought it might very reasonably be increased to 1s. the half-ounce. In that case the objection to a second monthly communication with Australia might be removed. The question would then arise as to the route—Would the route by Panama be preferable for the second route to the route by way of Suez? The late Government, as had been stated by the Honorable Baronet, particularly when he was Secretary of the Treasury, had expressed itself favourable to that route as a secondary communication with Australia. They called for tenders for the service by that route, and stated to the Colonies that if they were willing to provide one-half the expense of the service, and if the cost of that service was not immoderate, they would be disposed to regard the Panama route with favour. The New South Wales Government voted £80,000 for the establishment of the Panama route, but they had not altogether fulfilled the conditions laid down by the late Government, because the application made to us was that we should contribute one-half of the whole cost, and not make any claim on the Colonies in respect to the expenses incurred between this country and Panama. It was understood that they should contribute one-half of the entire cost, including the distance between this country and Panama; and we dealt with them on that principle with respect to the monthly communication by way of Suez. He might add that they did not consider that the communications which passed between the late Government and the representatives of the Australian Colonies, in any way amounted to engagements interfering with their own free and unfettered consideration of the question. Therefore they had looked at the question whether the route by Panama was preferential to that of Suez? There was no port in Australia nearer to this country by way of Panama than by way of Suez. Even the port of Sydney was nearer in point of distance to this country by Suez than by way of Panama, and if they took Melbourne as the centre of Australia—one-half of the correspondence being due to the Colony of Victoria—taking Melbourne as the centre, the route by Suez was preferable to that of Panama, to no less extent than 3,000 miles. They ought also to remember that at present we were able to communicate with Melbourne in forty-five days from this country, whereas we could not expect to communicate with Melbourne, if we adopted the Panama route, in less than fifty-five days. Then at both ends of the Suez route we had the means of anticipating the intelligence by telegraph. No doubt, if we had two fortnightly communications with Australia—one by way of Suez and another by way of Panama—the intelligence by Panama would be anticipated by means of the telegraph and the packet which should leave Australia a fortnight later. The next consideration was as to expense. New South Wales and New Zealand had voted £80,000 a year as a contribution of one-half of the expense of a mail between Panama and Australia. When tenders were called for by the late Government it was found that the amounts varied from £160,000 to £220,000, and he had no reason to suppose that the service could be performed for less. The Government did not consider that they would be justified in adding to the present expenditure so much as would be represented by one-half of the cost of an additional contract. He might state that within the last few days the Peninsular and Oriental Company had made what he considered was a very moderate and reasonable offer. That Company offered to double the communication between Ceylon and Australia for an additional sum of £60,000 a year. The present payment was £134,000 a year for a monthly communication between Ceylon and Australia, and for a fortnightly communication £50,000 additional was asked. That was an offer deserving of consideration, and upon which communications could be addressed to the Australian Colonies.

MR. CHILDERS thought the case had been very fairly stated by both the honorable gentlemen. The announcement of the offer of the Peninsular and Oriental Company, just made, was important, and he hoped the Government would fully consider it before coming to any determination; but he wished specially to call the attention of the Secretary of the Treasury to one point. The honorable gentleman implied that the Government had it under consideration to double the rate of postage upon letters between Australia and this country. He would urge upon the Government not to be hasty in adopting such a measure. There was a great difference in the character of the correspondence passing between this country and Australia and that with any foreign country. In most cases of postal communication with foreign countries on an increase in the rate of postage an increase of revenue might be looked for, because the correspondence generally was upon matters of business that must be continued. But a very large proportion of the letters passing between Australia and this country, were written by persons to whom the difference between 6d. and 1s. was considerable. If the rate of postage were doubled, not only would the revenue not be materially if at all increased, but it would be objected to by the Colonies as a breach of faith. When the Colonies agreed to contribute one-half the postal expenses, they had been called upon by the Government to fix the postage at the present rates. Three years ago the Government attempted to alter the rate of postage upon newspapers, and the result was such an outcry in the Colonies that they preferred to increase their contribution than to have the original contract disturbed. He thought it would be better to ask the Colonies to pay something more in money rather than to pursue a course which might have the effect of putting an end to the agreement between the Colonies and this country.

MR. BENTINCK wished to make a few remarks upon the subject of the post office packet service. He considered the estimates to be perfectly monstrous, and he could not but think it somewhat singular and unfortunate that an estimate of so large an amount and of so comprehensive a nature should have been postponed to the last moments of the Session. The total amount of the estimate was £956,800, and its object was to facilitate the transmission of letters between this country and various parts of the world. He should confine his observations to that part of the estimate which applied to the transmission of letters between this and foreign countries. He wished to know for the benefit of what class of persons was that enormous sum asked? [MR. AYRTON.—For the benefit of all classes.] He denied that it was for the benefit of all classes. It was true that all classes might occasionally indulge in the luxury of writing letters, but he contended that the vote was mainly for the purpose of saving the pockets of the wealthy mercantile community. The estimate was enormous, and had grown up from small beginnings, and from what had just been mentioned of an offer to add £50,000 more, it had not yet reached its maximum. The proposition was the more marvellous, coming, as it did from a Government which boasted of its free trade principles, and yet would not permit a free trade in the carriage of letters.

MR. WILLIAMS agreed with the honorable member for Norfolk that the whole system of postal subsidies out to be revised. The loss at present was about £400,000 a year, and it was most unjust to make the people pay for the convenience of the mercantile classes, who were most interested in cheap postage to the Colonies and other distant parts of the world.

MR. AYRTON said the class to which the honorable member for Norfolk belonged—the agriculturist—benefited at least as much, if not more, than any other class from these subsidies.

MR. HENLEY doubted very much whether the step indicated by the Secretary of the Treasury, of doubling these rates of postage, would be successful. Past experience was certainly against it. Merchants, perhaps, cared but little for additional postage, but to the humbler classes it was a matter of moment, and they would not write half as many letters probably if the rate of postage were raised. He hoped that the scheme would not be adopted without great consideration. As to the larger question of postal subsidies it was possible that since the great development of steam communication it was no longer necessary to pay such large subsidies as in its infancy. (Hear, hear.)

[Enclosure 2.]

"Times," 20*th July*, 1863.

AN incidental discussion which took place in the House of Commons on Friday night may serve as a good example of the magnificent scale on which the resources of modern science, and the vast capital and enterprise which this country has at its disposal, enable us to deal with the problems of Government. Twelve years ago a Select Committee of the House of Commons sat to consider the question of steam navigation to Australia. The question lay principally between two routes—that by way of the Cape of Good Hope, and that by way of the Isthmus of Panama. The Australian Colonies, though not exactly our antipodes, are still placed so completely at the other side of the globe that two mighty capes and two isthmuses, connecting enormous continents, are candidates for the honour of affording a line of transit between them and this country. The remote and inhospitable Cape Horn, the homeward track of sailing vessels, had no advocates, but many things were urged in favour of the Isthmus of Panama. The route was not so short as that by the Cape of Good Hope, but it had many advantages of its own. It included in the direct line of its course the northern island of New Zealand, the destined seat of perpetual wars with the Maori tribes, and adjacent to promising goldfields. The voyage round the Cape is boisterous and stormy, and for three-fourths of the year the wind between Africa and Australia blows very strongly from the west. The western side of the Australian continent is singularly barren and inhospitable, thinly settled, and without harbours. It is a lee shore, which is made after a run of 4,000 miles without seeing land, and in case of a shipwreck there would be a great probability that those who might reach the shore would perish by famine before they could find a settlement.

The Panama route, on the other hand, passes through the safest and most agreeable navigation in the world. The sea is calm, the weather constantly fine, and the wind, which blows from the south-east, is a favourable breeze both for going and returning. At Tahiti, at Easter Island, and at many other islands are convenient places for coaling. The destination of the steamer is the ancient city of Panama, with one of the finest harbours in the world, connected by four hours of railway with a harbour whence steamers are despatched at frequent intervals to America and Europe. The voyage between Panama and Australia might not unfairly be considered as a pleasure trip through the most charming climate and the smoothest sea in the world. Nevertheless, the Peninsular and Oriental Company exercised a very powerful influence over the deliberations of the Committee of the House of Commons. That influence was all against the Panama line, and the result was a decision in favour of the far less eligible route by way of the Cape of Good Hope. As it was foreseen, that line did not answer, and after several abortive attempts the service ultimately took its present form of a monthly mail by way of Ceylon and King George's Sound. It is only fair to say that this is the shortest route to Australia, and that, after several years of great irregularity, the packets have lately kept their time with quite as much punctuality as can be anticipated in so long a distance and under so many obstacles. The expense of the service to this country, after deducting the postage of letters and certain other matters, is £70,000 a year—a sum by no means exorbitant when we consider the vast distance that has to be traversed, and the immense benefit to England and her most flourishing dependencies which this postal service confers.

But Australia is not content with a monthly mail. Although the westerly Colonies seem anxious to preserve the route by Suez and Ceylon, the easterly settlements—New South Wales, Queensland, and New Zealand—cast looks of longing regret over the vast expanse of placid sea, studded studded with beautiful islands, and made, as it would seem, on purpose to be the favourite highway of nations, which may more properly be said to unite them to, than to separate them from, the great American Continent. Sydney has many claims to be the principal port of the South Pacific, and the commanding magnitude, fine harbours, and inexhaustible timber of New Zealand point it out as the dominant power in Oceania. It is not unnatural that these Colonies should view with some impatience the acts of Government by which the trade and influence of Eastern Australia are turned aside from their natural development, and destined to fall like a modest tributary stream into the vast river of Indian commerce. The colonists do not seem very earnestly to urge the substitution of the Panama route for that by Suez. What they seem to wish is a fortnightly mail reaching the Australian Colonies alternately by way of Suez and of Panama.

This is certainly a splendid proposition—enough to fire the imagination of a less plodding and phlegmatic race than our own. We are asked to put a girdle round the earth, and unite the two ends of it in one of our noblest Colonies. For the mere purpose of postal communication, as a dry matter of business, and without a particle of enthusiasm or poetical sentiment, we are requested to perform every month the circuit of the habitable globe, by English steamers, with the exception of a 100 miles of railway over the Isthmuses of Darien and Suez. Nor is the scheme in itself ruinously expensive. The outlay for a fortnighty line to Panama would be about £180,000, and subject to very considerable reduction by the postage of letters, and probably to a still further reduction when the line had been tested, and its immense superiority as a route for passengers over the Red Sea and the dreary and often stormy voyage from Ceylon to King George's Sound had come to be duly appreciated. It is difficult to imagine a more agreeable trip than a voyage from England to the Isthmus of Darien, through the beautiful scenery of the West Indies, with a digression to Callao or Valparaiso, under the shadow of the magnificent chain of the Andes, a stretch across the Pacific Ocean, a glimpse at Australia, and a return by Ceylon and India to England. That such a thing will be feasible in future we have no doubt, and it is not wonderful that ardent spirits should be found who are anxious to anticipate the period. But, unhappily, reason, speaking very appropriately by the mouth of Mr. Peel, suggests ground for pausing before we realize this delightful vision. The route by way of Suez is 3,000 miles shorter than the route by Panama. We can communicate with Melbourne in forty-five days by way of Suez, while it is estimated—somewhat too amply, we think—that fifty-five days would be required to communicate with Melbourne by way of Panama. Another undoubted advantage in favour of the Suez route is that we can communicate from Suez, and shall shortly be able to communicate from Ceylon, by electric telegraph. The tenders for the Panama route vary from £160,000 to £220,000 a year, while the Peninsular and Oriental Company have offered for £50,000 a year to give a second service, so as to make our communication with Australia fortnightly instead of monthly. So we suppose Mr. Peel and common sense must have their way, and the glorious enterprise of bringing the great Pacific Ocean and its innumerable islands into immediate and rapid communication with Western Europe must await a little longer that full accomplishment to which we do not doubt that it is destined.

We the more regret the postponement of the Panama route when we find that New South Wales and New Zealand are willing to contribute the very large sum of £80,000 a year towards its expenses. This is not only a very substantial aid, but also a most convincing proof of the great importance which these intelligent and enterprising communities attach to this line of communication. Few indeed are the applications to the Treasury which are accompanied by such a proof of sincerity. We cannot help thinking that, where so much genuine interest is felt, it might be possible to originate a company to run packets between Sydney and Panama, furnished with an auxiliary screw, so as to take advantage of the trade wind mentioned above, which, blowing from the south-east, furnishes fair wind both in going and returning. The subject is too important and interesting to be lost sight of.

POSTAGE ON LETTERS FROM ENGLAND.

(DESPATCH RESPECTING INCREASED RATES TO AUSTRALIAN COLONIES.)

Ordered by the Legislative Assembly to be Printed, 12 April, 1864.

SECRETARY OF STATE FOR THE COLONIES to GOVERNOR SIR JOHN YOUNG, BART.

(New South Wales.)
(Circular.)

Downing-street,
26 January, 1864.

SIR,

I have the honor to transmit to you a copy of a letter from the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury, stating that, on and after the 1st of July next, the postage on letters despatched from this Country to the Australian Colonies and New Zealand, viâ Southampton, will be raised to 1s. the half-ounce letter, and viâ Marseilles, to 1s. 4d., together with some other minor changes.

You will be good enough to lay this communication before your Responsible Advisers, for their consideration, and also in order that these changes may become publicly known.

I have, &c.,
NEWCASTLE.

[Enclosure.]

Treasury Chambers,
11 January, 1864.

Sir,

I am commanded by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to acquaint you, that the Postmaster General has called the attention of this Board to the question of raising the postage on letters to the Australian Colonies and New Zealand, with a view to diminish the loss at present sustained in this service, and my Lords concur with His Lordship in opinion that steps should be taken for this purpose.

I am to observe, that the increase from 6d. to 1s. the half-ounce, which took effect more than six months ago, in the charge upon letters between this Country and the West Indies, and the Cape of Good Hope and Natal—these last Colonies, like those in Australia, with a considerable emigrant population—has had a very satisfactory result.

The Cape service, which, at the lower rate of postage and the greater amount of subsidy paid, was until then attended with great loss, is now self-supporting, whilst the loss sustained in the service to and from the West Indies has been greatly reduced, very little diminution of correspondence having followed the increase in the rate of postage.

My Lords have every reason to believe that similar satisfactory results would attend an augmentation in the rate of postage on letters to the Australian Colonies and New Zealand; and they therefore request that the Duke of Newcastle will inform the Governments of those Colonies that, on 1st July next, the postage on all letters despatched

despatched from this Country to those Colonies, viâ Southampton, will be raised to 1s. the half-ounce letter, and the postage on letters sent viâ Marseilles will be raised to 1s. 4d. the half-ounce letter; but that, at the same time, with a view to relief being afforded to the correspondence of the poorer class of emigrants, the postage on letters conveyed by private ship will be reduced to 4d. the half-ounce letter.

My Lords further request that the Duke of Newcastle will, in making this communication to the Governments of the respective Colonies, observe to them, that each Colony will be at liberty to alter, to such extent as it may think proper, the postage on letters despatched to or through the United Kingdom.

I am to state further, that my Lords propose that, simultaneously with the raising of the postage on letters to the Australian Colonies and New Zealand, the scale of weights should be modified and made to correspond with the scale recently adopted in respect of letters exchanged with the British West Indies, Cape of Good Hope, &c. Under this amended scale, one rate of postage will be charged for each half-ounce that a letter may weigh, so that a letter weighing more than an ounce, but not more than 1½ ounce, will be charged three rates of postage,—a letter weighing more than 2 ounces, but not more than 2½ ounces, four rates of postage, instead of five and six rates respectively, as under the existing scale of progression.

It will, however, be for the Colonial Post Offices to decide whether they will adopt these changes with regard to letters despatched to or through the United Kingdom, or not, as they may feel disposed.

I am, &c.,
F. PEEL.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

NEW SOUTH WALES.

LOSS OF LETTERS AND MONEYS TRANSMITTED BY POST.

(PETITION RELATIVE TO.)

Ordered by the Legislative Assembly to be Printed, 2 February, 1864.

To the Honorable the Speaker and Members of the Legislative Assembly of New South Wales, in Parliament assembled.

The humble Petition of James Reid Maxwell, William Chisholm, John Cummins, and Edward Shorter, each of Sofala, Storekeepers; John Coulter, of the Lachlan, Storekeeper, and —— Simmonds, of Tambaroora, Storekeeper, and Walter William Millett, of Sofala, aforesaid, Storekeeper,—

SHEWETH:—

1. That your Petitioner, James Reid Maxwell, about the twentieth day of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two, enclosed in a letter addressed to his agents in Sydney, the sum of fifty pounds in bank notes, and posted the same at the Post Office, Sofala.

2. That your Petitioner, William Chisholm, on the same day, and in the same manner, remitted to his agents the sum of fifty pounds in bank notes.

3. That your Petitioner, John Cummins, on the same day, and in the like manner, remitted to his agent the sum of eighty-five pounds in bank notes.

4. That your Petitioner, Edward Shorter, likewise remitted to his agents eighty-five pounds in the same manner.

5. That your Petitioner, John Coulter, states that one Edward Shorter, of Sofala, remitted to your Petitioner, in a letter addressed to him at the Lachlan, the sum of sixty pounds in notes.

6. That your Petitioner, —— Simmonds, posted at Tambaroora, in a letter addressed to his agents in Bathurst, the sum of twenty-five pounds.

7. That your Petitioner, Walter William Millett, also transmitted through the Post Office, to his agent in Bathurst, the sum of twenty-five pounds.

8. That, on the night of the twenty-first of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two, the letters and money so addressed were lying at the Post Office, Sofala, for the purpose of being forwarded and delivered to their respective destinations.

9. That on that night the Post Office at Sofala was burglariously robbed by certain Chinese, some of whom were, in September, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two, tried before his Honor the Chief Justice, and convicted, but were subsequently discharged, owing to some technical defect or omission in the evidence.

10. That the sums above-mentioned have been wholly lost to your Petitioners, although a portion of the bank notes was, at the trial of the Chinamen, identified by one of your Petitioners, as, in the absence of a valid conviction, the moneys alleged to have been stolen were returned to the prisoners.

11. That, at the time of the said robbery, the Post Office was under the charge of one Charles Graham Smith, and was conducted in a room in a public-house, having a window opening to the street, without bars, shutters, or fastening of any kind whatever, not even entirely glazed, manifestly insecure and invitingly open to depredation.

12. That your Petitioners believe that the utter want of security of the premises occupied as the Post Office, to a great extent, if not entirely, induced the Chinese to commit the offence charged against them; and previous to the commission of which, representations had been made to the Postmaster General of the insecurity of the Post Office at Sofala, and application had been made to render the same secure, and to provide an iron safe for the security of registered and other valuable letters.

13. That your Petitioners maintain, with all due respect, that under the circumstances above detailed, the loss hitherto borne by your Petitioners has been occasioned by the neglect of Her Majesty's Government to provide ordinary and sufficient safeguards and precautions for the custody of property transmitted through the Post Office at Sofala.

Your Petitioners, therefore, humbly pray that your Honorable House will be pleased to take the above circumstances into consideration, and deal therewith as to your Honorable House may seem meet.

And your Petitioners, as in duty bound, will ever pray, &c.

For and on behalf of the other Petitioners,—
J. R. MAXWELL.

PROPOSED POSTAGE RATE ON NEWSPAPERS.

(PETITION—JOURNEYMEN PRINTERS.)

Ordered by the Legislative Assembly to be Printed, 2 February, 1864.

To the Honorable the Legislative Assembly of New South Wales.

The Petition of the undersigned Journeymen Printers, residing in Sydney,—

RESPECTFULLY SHEWETH :—

That your Petitioners have heard, with alarm, that it is proposed to impose postages on Newspapers.

That such a course will cause many of the country papers to be discontinued, and will cause the rest to diminish the number of their employés.

That the consequence will be that a great number of printers will be thrown out of employment, and will naturally find their way to Sydney, thereby greatly lowering the rates of wages, and otherwise doing much injury to trade, beside encumbering the city with unproductive hands.

Your Petitioners, therefore, pray your Honorable House to take the premises into consideration, and to refuse assent to the proposal in question.

And your Petitioners will ever pray.

NEW SOUTH WALES.

PROPOSED POSTAGE RATE ON NEWSPAPERS.

(PETITION—W. R. RILEY AND L. T. MELLIN.)

Ordered by the Legislative Assembly to be Printed, 2 February, 1864.

To the Honorable the Legislative Assembly of New South Wales.

The Petition of W. R. Riley, proprietor of the Goulburn Herald, and of L. T. Mellin, proprietor of the Goulburn Chronicle,—

RESPECTFULLY SHEWETH:—

That, in the absence of a postal rate on Newspapers, Petitioners purchased their respective journals at very high prices, which they would not have done had such a rate existed.

That the number of letters and money orders despatched and received in connection with the Herald and Chronicle considerably augments the revenue of the Goulburn Post Office.

That Petitioners directly pay between £200 and £300 a year for telegrams, and indirectly are the means of large additional sums being thus spent.

That Petitioners themselves will be quite unable to pay the proposed postal rate, while they have good reason to know that an increase in the terms of subscription would materially diminish the number of subscribers, in addition to which, agents' commission would have to be paid on such increase; and there would be an increased loss of twenty-five per cent. in the case of defaulters.

That hence, your Petitioners would be compelled either to abandon their businesses, after expending much capital and years of arduous toil on their purchase and improvement, or to materially reduce their expenditure, particularly in wages and in telegrams—thus decreasing the revenue of the Telegraph Department, and throwing some of their workmen out of employment.

Your Petitioners further respectfully submit, that it would be unfair to charge the same rate for the conveyance of a small paper some twenty miles, as for the conveyance of a large one to the very borders of the Colony.

Your Petitioners, therefore, respectfully pray that your Honorable House will be pleased to withhold your assent to the proposal to impose a postal rate on Newspapers.

And your Petitioners will ever pray.

The Petition of the undersigned persons employed in the Offices of the Goulburn Newspapers,—

RESPECTFULLY SHEWETH:—

That your Petitioners have heard with alarm, that it is proposed to subject Newspapers to the payment of postage.

That your Petitioners are fully convinced that such a step will cause many of the Papers to be discontinued, and the rest to materially abridge their expenditure.

That hence your Petitioners fear, that they, or some of their number, will cease to find employment, and that great distress will be general amongst those engaged on the literary and mechanical departments of the Newspaper Press.

Your Petitioners, therefore, respectfully pray your Honorable House to decline assenting to the proposal in question.

And your Petitioners will ever pray.

(PETITION—TARALGA.)

Ordered by the Legislative Assembly to be Printed, 2 February, 1864.

To the Honorable the Legislative Assembly.

The Petition of the undersigned Inhabitants of Taralga,—

RESPECTFULLY SHEWETH:—

That your Petitioners hear with regret, that it is proposed to subject Newspapers to a postal rate, which will involve an average addition of twenty-five per cent. to the cost of the provincial papers—an increase which will fall oppressively on your Petitioners, and in many cases necessitate their ceasing to subscribe.

That your Petitioners regard the Press as an active, and, in many parts of the interior, the principal agent for promoting education, diffusing useful knowledge, preserving order, and inculcating principles of loyalty and virtue, and they fear that any restriction of the kind now proposed will at once limit its sphere of usefulness, and lower its general tone.

That many of your Petitioners reside at a considerable distance from any township; and while contributing as much to the general Revenue as the inhabitants of towns and cities, they practically receive scarcely any of the consequent benefits enjoyed by the latter. Without the means of profiting by public educational establishments and Mechanics' Institutes supported from the public funds, and without the blessing of resident Clergymen, or the protection of a stationary Police Force, the free carriage of their paper constitutes the chief advantage they receive from the Government of the Country.

Your Petitioners, therefore, humbly pray that your Honorable House will refuse your assent to the proposal in question.

PROPOSED POSTAGE RATE ON NEWSPAPERS.

(PETITION—EMPLOYÉS, FREEMAN'S JOURNAL.)

Ordered by the Legislative Assembly to be Printed, 10 February, 1864.

To the Honorable the Legislative Assembly of New South Wales, in Parliament assembled.

The Petition of the undersigned Proprietor, Printers, and Employés of the Freeman's Journal Newspaper,—

HUMBLY SHEWETH:—

That your Petitioners, in common with other proprietors, printers, and employés of Newspapers published throughout this Colony, will have their interests deeply affected, should the contemplated measure, imposing a postage rate upon Newspapers, ever become law.

That the postage rate now sought to be re-imposed was taken off when the population was much smaller than it is at the present time, when the postal expenses for the conveyance of mails were comparatively much heavier, and the means of intercommunication less easy and frequent.

That the Government of that time considered it necessary for the public interests to remit the postage rate on the carriage of Newspapers, and that upon the faith of this remission being a permanent one, many Newspapers have been established in Sydney and other parts of the Colony, the calculation of whose profits is based upon the understanding that Newspapers should pass free through the Post Office.

That, if this measure should become law, the tax imposed on Newspapers, by way of postage rate, will exceed the profits of many of the Newspapers of the Colony, be a grievous burden to all, and doom many of them to certain extinction.

That a large quantity of unemployed labour will be thrown upon the Country, which, though skilled in its own business, cannot adapt itself to other modes of occupation, and that much distress will thereby be caused to workmen engaged in the printing business, and to their families.

That the difficulties thrown in the way of the circulation of Newspapers will, to a great extent, prevent the diffusion of knowledge throughout the Colony, thereby engendering ignorance and crime.

That the foundation and encouragement of a national literature should be one of the great objects of an enlightened statesmanship; that the Newspapers published in the Colony are the only approach to a literature we possess; and that, in all probability, when we do possess a literature of our own, it is from the Newspaper Press of the Colony it will have sprung.

That your Petitioners urge upon the consideration of your Honorable House the impolicy of passing a measure that will in any way prevent the free circulation of Newspapers throughout all parts of the Colony, and venture to hope that you will refuse your assent to any such measure.

And your Petitioners, as in duty bound, will ever pray.

ELECTRIC TELEGRAPHS.

(REPORT FROM SUPERINTENDENT.)

Presented to both Houses of Parliament, by Command.

REPORT by the Superintendent of Telegraphs, on the progress and general condition of Electric Telegraphs in New South Wales, to the end of the year 1862.

SUPERINTENDENT OF TELEGRAPHS to SECRETARY FOR PUBLIC WORKS.

Department of Public Works,
Electric Telegraph Branch,
Sydney, April, 1863.

I HAVE the honor to submit, for the information of the Honorable the Secretary for Public Works, the following Report on the progress and general condition of the Electric Telegraph Department to the end of the year 1862.

EXTENSIONS.

Since Captain Martindale's Report to September, 1860, the following new lines and stations have been opened:—

From Gundagai to Kiandra, ninety-eight miles in length; contract price, £50 per mile, and £25 per mile for twenty-two miles of wire on existing poles, which were erected as guide poles; cost, exclusive of stations, £4,726 4s. 4d. Stations opened—Tumut, 11 March, 1861; Kiandra, 16 October, 1860.

From Bathurst to Orange, thirty-five miles; contract price per mile, £45 10s.; total cost, £1,730 11s. 11d. Orange station opened 21 December, 1860.

From Bathurst to Mudgee, length of line, ninety-one miles; contract price per mile, £44; total cost, exclusive of stations, £5,887 7s. 7d. Mudgee station opened 16 May, 1861; Sofala, 15 May, 1861; Windeyer, 6 August, 1862; Tambaroora, 3 October, 1862.

From Gundagai to Deniliquin, viâ Wagga Wagga; length, 220 miles; contract price per mile, £46, and for a wire on existing poles from Gundagai to Tarcutta, thirty-five miles, at £16 10s. per mile. Wagga Wagga station opened 10 June, 1861; Deniliquin, 1 August, 1861; and Urana, 29 October, 1861.

On the 1st August, 1861, the line from Deniliquin to Moama, fifty-one miles, was purchased from the Deniliquin Telegraph Company at a cost of £2,820 8s., being 10 per cent. advance on the original outlay.

The completion of the above line to Deniliquin, and the purchase of the latter portion from the Company, supply two distinct routes between Gundagai and Melbourne, a result which has proved of great advantage when interruptions have occurred on the direct line viâ Albury.

The

1348

The next extension of importance is from Maitland to the Queensland boundary at Maryland, viâ Singleton, Muswellbrook, Scone, Murrurundi, Tamworth, Bendemeer, Armidale, Glen Innes, and Tenterfield; length, 375 miles; contract price—first section, from Maitland to Murrurundi, 100 miles, £46 per mile; second section, from Murrurundi to the boundary, 275 miles, £48 5s. per mile; total cost, £21,354 15s. 10d.

The stations were opened on the following dates:—Singleton, 25 February, 1861; Muswellbrook, 11 June, 1861; Murrurundi, 12 June, 1861; Tamworth, 10 October, 1861; Armidale, 14 October, 1861; Glen Innes, 20 December, 1861; Tenterfield, 8 November, 1861; and through communication to Brisbane was established on the 9th November, 1861.

From Goulburn to Braidwood, fifty-one miles; contract price per mile, £41; total cost, £2,494 15s. Braidwood station opened 25 November, 1861.

From Campbelltown to Wollongong and Kiama, fifty-eight miles; contract price per mile, £38; total cost, £2,830 8s. 2d. Wollongong Station opened 11 August, 1862. Kiama 15 October, 1862.

From Mudgee to Wellington, forty-eight and a half miles; contract price per mile, £43; total cost, £2,505 19s. 10d. Wellington Station opened 12 September, 1862.

From Grafton to Tenterfield, 112 miles; contract price per mile, £39; total cost, £4,570 14s. 11d. Grafton Station opened 17 December, 1862.

From Orange to Wagga Wagga, viâ Forbes (the Lachlan Gold Fields) and (Young) Burrangong, 225 miles; contract price per mile, £43. Forbes Station opened 27 October, 1862.

This line is drawing near completion, and when opened through to Wagga Wagga will form a second and distinct means of communication with Victoria, viâ Echuca, and Sandhurst, so that only under extraordinary circumstances can an interruption between the two Colonies occur, and which will render prolonged delays, from the crowded state of the lines, less frequent.

A second wire, between Muswellbrook and Scone, has also been provided for, to be worked by Wheatstone's alphabetical instruments. Contract price per mile, £20; total cost, £303 8s. 6d. The Scone station was opened 10 May, 1862.

PROPOSED EXTENSIONS FOR 1863.

A line from Deniliquin to Hay, an estimated distance of eighty miles.
From Braidwood to Queanbeyan, thirty-five miles.
From Wellington to Dubbo, thirty-five miles.
An additional wire from Sydney to Newcastle.

Tenders have been received for the above lines, at the undermentioned rates:—
Deniliquin to Hay, £43 per mile.
Braidwood to Queanbeyan, £37 per mile.
Wellington to Dubbo, £41 10s. per mile.

These extensions have been guaranteed by the inhabitants of the districts they are intended to connect, that they will be responsible for the annual payment of 5 per cent. (return by the lines) on the capital invested, after paying the working expenses.

The second wire to Newcastle has been contracted for at £15 per mile, to be completed in six months from the acceptance of the tender.

The last mentioned is a work urgently required, the business on the Northern Line having of late increased so rapidly that it has become an absolute necessity to increase the facilities for its accommodation. When this line is working, an increased revenue may be expected from Newcastle and Maitland; as at present, many messages, to the transmission of which early replies form a condition, are withheld in consequence of the crowded state of the line.

Tenders for two minor lines, for railway purposes, from Parramatta to Penrith and from Campbelltown to Picton, have also been called for.

WHEATSTONE'S INSTRUMENTS FOR RAILWAY LINES.

The Wheatstone's Instruments supplied from England in 1861, have not answered the purposes intended. They are too complicated and delicate in their construction to be used by inexperienced operators, and cannot be made to work satisfactorily when a number of stations are connected in one circuit. I have found, however, that for a short line, with two terminal stations only, they can be depended on, and will work short private lines or branches from main lines to places which will not pay for a trained operator.

I would recommend that alphabetical instruments of a more simple construction be adopted for the railways, and those now in use kept for short branch lines to minor stations.

BRANCH LINES FOR PUBLIC COMPANIES, PRIVATE INDIVIDUALS, &c.

The system determined on by the Government to erect branch lines to connect with nearest stations, by placing extra wires on existing poles, or constructing lines throughout, and charging an annual rental of 5 per cent. on the cost of construction, has at present been taken advantage of only in one instance (to the Bellambi Coal Mines), but will, I feel sure, when it becomes generally known, be more frequently adopted, and will increase the business of the main lines. The numerous Coal Companies at Newcastle will shortly, I have every reason to believe, avail themselves of this inexpensive means of connecting their mines with their metropolitan offices. The Wheatstone alphabetical instruments are well adapted for such lines, as no previous knowledge is required for their manipulation, and they work well when too many are not included in one circuit.

The length of lines now at work in this Colony is as follows, which, considering that it is only five years since Telegraphic communication was commenced in New South Wales, will shew that the spirit of enterprise has not been absent in this important matter, and it will be seen, by the Tables of Receipts and Expenditure (pages 4 and 5), that Telegraphs have been fully appreciated by the public.

Although in the year 1858 this Colony was far behind the sister Colonies of Victoria and South Australia in the length of its lines, it can now boast of not only a greater number of miles of wire, but that it is the only Australian Colony in which the Electric Telegraph returns a fair per centage on the capital invested.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURE.

The receipts, at nearly all the stations, shew a steady increase, which is most encouraging, and augurs well for further progress. The public appear to evince increased confidence in this simple and expeditious means of communication; and when the works, which are now in progress, are completed, delays of a serious nature will seldom occur, and a still further increase in the revenue of the Department may be expected.

(or 7¾ per cent. per annum.)

This I consider a very satisfactory result, considering that many of the stations, which are necessary for the maintenance of the through lines, return little or no revenue, and that several of the late extensions have not yet had sufficient time to develop themselves, it being always found that the branch lines pay better after the first year from their opening.

CONDITION OF THE LINES.

The Southern Line has now been constructed nearly five years, and has cost but a very trifling sum for repairs. The insulation, although inferior to that now adopted, has proved sufficient to admit of the line between Sydney and Albury being worked through in all weathers, without repeating.

The Western Lines have also worked well, and the expenditure for repairs has been insignificant. The first section of the Northern Line, which has been constructed over a rugged and badly timbered country, has been more troublesome, but when the repairs are completed, which are now contracted for, the line will work more satisfactorily. The submarine cable at Wiseman's Ferry, on the River Hawkesbury, has also been a source of great annoyance, the continuance of which has now been provided against by the substitution of masts and over-head wires.

The mode of insulating all but the early lines has been very much improved, highly glazed porcelain insulators, double umbrella, being now used, in place of the rough salt-glazed stoneware insulators. The superiority of the former is very manifest by the comparative ease and rapidity with which the lines so insulated can be worked in wet weather.

For all future lines, and for repairs to those already constructed, much longer and larger poles will be used, the first cost of which will, perhaps, a little exceed those now erected, but they will eventually prove more economical, as the same poles, if twenty-eight feet long, when decayed near the surface of the ground, can be re-set, and will still be of sufficient length to admit of ordinary traffic passing under the wires.

As an experiment, a number of wrought iron posts have been imported; they consist of a galvanized wrought-iron tube, fifteen feet long, tapering towards the top, in which is fitted a six feet wooden top carrying the cross-arm and insulators, the whole fitted into a cast-iron base four and a-half feet long, with cross-feet to keep the post in a perpendicular position; they are very light in appearance, and will be very durable. Some of them will be shortly put up in George-street, between the Post Office and the Railway Station. I fear that their expense will be too great to use them extensively in the country, but they might answer along the lines of railway.

On all the late extensions the buts of the poles have been coated with a serving of a patent cement, which, when mixed with a little coal tar, and applied immediately after the pole is charred (while it is still hot), cannot fail to add to the durability of the timber, but whether it will answer the sanguine expectations of the manufacturers can only be decided by a lengthy trial.

The ink-printing instruments have worked well, and are a great relief to the operators in the Chief Office. The writing on the tape can be read at any angle, which is an advantage at all times, more particularly when the light is indifferent.

THE TELEGRAPHIC MONEY ORDER BRANCH.

The transmission of money orders, by Telegraph, between Sydney, Windsor, Maitland, Newcastle, Goulburn, Yass, Gundagai, Albury, Bathurst, Mudgee, and Deniliquin, was commenced on the 2nd July, 1860, but the system did not prove remunerative, and was transferred to the Postal Money Order Branch in January, 1863, the Telegraph still being used for the transmission of the advice form on the payment of the minimum charge for a message—this mode of transmission being, of course, at the option of the sender.

METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS AND WIND AND WEATHER REPORTS.

Meteorological observations have been received daily, by Telegraph, with tolerable regularity, from Brisbane, Armidale, Newcastle, Windsor, Bathurst, Deniliquin, Albury, and Goulburn, and are registered in the Chief Office, Sydney.

I would recommend that Mudgee, Forbes, Tenterfield, Grafton, and Kiandra be added to the number, when I have no doubt some interesting results may be worked out. Copies of the tables are supplied monthly to the Astronomer for publication.

Wind and weather reports are posted at the Chief Telegraph Office every morning from the principal places throughout the Colonies, and are copied into the daily newspapers, so that, at a glance, the direction of the wind and state of the weather can be ascertained in every district connected by Telegraph. This is a matter of the utmost importance to the owners of coasting vessels and the mariner, and is of interest to the squatter, the agriculturist, and the traveller.

In England the Government have considered this a matter of such vital importance that a separate department has been established under the immediate direction of Admiral FitzRoy. Stations have been opened at all the most important coast towns, which are connected with a central office in London, to which office sudden changes in the reading of the barometer, and changes in the direction of the wind, are telegraphed. These reports are again communicated to the stations most likely to be visited by the coming storm; warning signals are then hoisted. One of these signals consists of a canvas drum, or cylinder, which has the appearance of a black square; another is in the shape of a cone, which appears like a triangle when suspended; the triangle, with the point upward, indicates a probable gale from the northward; a triangle, with the point downward, shews that a gale is probable from the southward; a drum alone shews that stormy winds may be expected from more than one quarter successively; a cone and drum are a warning of dangerous winds—point up above the drum for northerly winds—point down below the drum for southerly winds.

Night signals are arranged with lamps representing a square and triangles. For the drum or square four lanterns are fixed on two yards not less than four feet long; for the triangles one yard with three lamps are used.

The cautionary signals have been worked with great success, and as a warning is sometimes given at distant places two days before a storm reaches the point in question, much valuable life and property has been saved.

As the Telegraph lines in the Australian Colonies form a trunk line over 2,000 miles in length, and as several important coast stations are thereby connected, I propose that a system of warning signals, similar to the above, be adopted, which, by a simple arrangement of flags, the quarter in which the gale is raging can also be indicated.

PROPOSED EXTENSIONS.

An extension of the line from Mudgee to Muswellbrook, or Murrurundi, about 140 miles in length, should be provided for at an early date. This line would be of great value as an additional means of communication with the Northern Districts, in the event of temporary interruptions on the line viâ Wiseman's Ferry and Wollombi; if made to connect with the Northern Line at Murrurundi, Cassilis might be taken en route. The farther north such a line is carried the more its use will be felt.

A line from Braidwood to the Gulf Diggings, viâ Araluen, a distance of sixty miles, would, I think, be remunerative.

The direct line to South Australia, from Deniliquin, viâ the Murray, is still in abeyance, the South Australian Government not having as yet consented to an equitable division of receipts. The completion of this extension is becoming more requisite, not only in consequence of the increasing importance of the country through which it will pass, but that it will be the means of relieving the overburthened Southern Line, as all the Adelaide business would then be forwarded viâ Bathurst and Deniliquin.

LINES IN OTHER COLONIES.

In Victoria, since Captain Martindale's Report in 1860, the following additional lines and stations have been opened:—Tarangulla, 1 November, 1860; Creswick, 21 December, 1860; Clunes, 8 February, 1861; Wahgunyah, 8 February, 1861; Yackandandah, 28 February, 1861; Carisbrook, 6 March, 1861; Schnapper Point, 22 March, 1861; Hamilton, 23 March, 1861; Chiltern, 28 March, 1861; Cape Schanck, 6 September, 1861; Stawell, 7 October, 1861; Woodend, 23 October, 1861; Inglewood, 25 October, 1861; Spencer-street, 28 October, 1861; Taradale, 30 November, 1861.

The second Intercolonial wire has also been completed, and will shortly be in working order; this line will expedite the transmission of "through" messages between Sydney and Melbourne, so that replies to telegrams, under ordinary circumstances, should be received within an hour.

In South Australia considerable extensions have also been carried out, viz.:—

From Adelaide to Glenelg	$6\frac{1}{2}$	miles.
„ Mount Barker to Woodside	$11\frac{1}{2}$	„
„ Mount Gambier to Penola	$36\frac{1}{2}$	„
„ Aubuan to Walleroo	70	„
„ Mount Gambier to M'Donnell Bay ...	20	„
„ Willunga to Yankalilla	22	„
„ Woodside to Gumaracka	10	„

Other extensions have been proposed by Mr. Todd, which have not yet been provided for, viz., a line from Clare to Port Augusta, and the line from Gawler Town, or Kapunda, to the New South Wales boundary, to join the Murray Line from Deniliquin; the latter I consider a most important object for both Colonies. To this Colony it is requisite to relieve the pressure on the existing lines, and in South Australia it would place them in immediate communication with the principal places supplied by that Colony, and would also provide for them a second route, viâ Echuca, to Victoria; should their direct line, viâ Mount Gambier, be interrupted, the Adelaide and Sydney messages could then be transmitted as freely and expeditiously as between Sydney and Melbourne. I regret that the proportionate division of the amounts collected cannot be at once determined on, so that the work might be commenced without further delay. A meeting of the Superintendents of the Telegraph Departments of the several Colonies, either in Sydney or Melbourne, to settle this and other important matters connected with the Intercolonial lines, would be of infinite advantage to all, and I would suggest that the several Governments be requested to give the necessary authority at an early date.

It has been suggested that a reduction should be made in the present scale of charges, and that such reduction would materially increase both the number of messages and the receipts. In this I cannot concur, the existing rates not being excessive, while, if such a measure increased the number of messages, which I very much doubt, it would also require an increased expenditure, as the lines are now fully occupied, and an increased business could only be carried on by means of additional wires, instruments, and operators. I consider that the public generally will benefit more by further extensions than by any reduction in the tariff, which would only result in a proportionate reduction in the receipts.

As a proof that the above argument is a sound one, I append a Table shewing the receipts in Victoria for the years 1860 and 1861, by which it will be seen that, after a reduction in the charges made in that Colony, although thirteen additional stations were opened in the subsequent year, 1861, there was a considerable decrease in the amount collected.

Comparative statement of receipts in Victoria in 1860 and 1861:—

1861.	Do. do.	33,783	19	3

An

An uniform rate of charge for all messages has also been advocated, but experience shews that such would be impracticable, as telegrams never can be reduced to a prescribed length, and therefore a message, say of fifty words, occupying a much longer time in its transmission than one of briefer matter, must always be charged in rateable proportion to the minimum charge; besides which it would be a palpable injustice to exact, say 2s. 6d., for messages from Sydney to Parramatta, which has constant communication with the metropolis by boat and rail, and where dispatch therefore is comparatively of lesser importance, while only the same sum would be charged to distant places, such as Deniliquin, Tenterfield, Grafton, &c., where postal communication is necessarily tardy and irregular. I consider indeed it would be a serious absurdity to equalize the rates in such cases, and that in fact it would annihilate the business of the Telegraph for short distances, and would consequently reduce the receipts—without promoting its usefulness to the remote parts of the Colony.

REPORT of the Superintendent of Telegraphs on the Anglo-Australian Telegraph.*

I have the honor to submit, for the information and consideration of the Honorable the Secretary for Public Works, the following proposal for the extension of the line of Electric Telegraph to Northern Australia, and its ultimate connection with the Dutch settlements, India and Europe.

It will be seen that this is a work of the utmost importance to the Australian Colonies, from the following short digest of what has been already done, and is now in progress, towards the completion of a Telegraphic system between Europe and Australia, and that the time has now arrived for immediate action on the part of the several Colonial Governments.

Telegraphic communication at present exists, and is in daily operation, between London and Bagdad, and from Kurrrachee to Rangoon, in the Bay of Bengal. The gaps to be filled up are from Bagdad to Kurrachee, a distance of 1,410 miles, arrangements for which have been entered into; and the contract for the Persian Gulf cable has been given to Mr. Henley, to be ready and laid by the end of the present year. The next length to be provided for is from Rangoon to Singapore, a distance of 1,090 nautical miles. This section the Indian Government have consented either to subsidize or assist in carrying out coincidently with the other extensions. The Dutch Government have entered into arrangements with Mr. Gisborne for the supply and submersion of a new cable, on the most approved principle, between Singapore and Batavia, which, in connection with their existing land lines, will in less than two years establish communication to the east end of Java, and bring the Telegraph within our reach, and as will be presently seen, at a comparatively small cost.

The next link is the Australian section, which Mr. Gisborne proposes should terminate either at Brisbane or Broad Sound, but now that the northern Colony, Queensland, is daily becoming more settled, a land line would be much more suitable. The following perhaps would be the best route:—

The Queensland Government to extend their existing lines to Rockhampton, which I am informed, will be immediately provided for, and from thence to, say, Peak Downs or some other point to be determined on, within the Settled Districts, to be then continued jointly between the Colonies of New South Wales and Queensland, to say 138° east; from thence to Van Diemen's Gulf to be constructed by the South Australian Government, or in the event of that Government not approving of this proposal, the line should terminate at the Albert River, Gulf of Carpentaria (which would reduce the land line, to be constructed by the two Colonies, to 700 miles,) and there join the submarine cable, which would touch at Port Essington, and continue to Coepang and Cape Sedano, East Java.

Another route (which is proposed by Mr. Todd) is to carry a land line direct from Adelaide across the Continent to Van Diemen's Gulf, an estimated distance of 2,000 miles. This proposal would have been more feasible were the country settled, or any intermediate places of sufficient importance to assist the receipts;—this not being the case, I think the proposal to make the terminus of the submarine line at Albert River would be preferable as it would materially reduce the working expenses.

* Copy of Report placed before the Honorable the Secretary for Public Works, 9th of March, 1863.

There are other important reasons, besides those of economy, in favor of the Queensland route, as messages from Sydney, Brisbane, Rockhampton, and other important places, if the South Australian Line were carried out, would have to travel over an unnecessary length of line—in some cases from latitude 23° S. down to 38° S., making a circuit of nearly 3,000 miles to reach again the same degree of latitude. This would not be so seriously felt by the Southern Colonies, viâ the Queensland route, and South Australia would be placed in equally as good a position as Victoria by the completion of the Murray River Line.

The following will shew the advantages the Queensland extension would have over the South Australian Line, both in distance and economical working:—

Distances, &c., Land Line, viâ Queensland.

From Peak Downs to Albert River, 700 miles. Estimated Cost, £70,000.

Submarine Line.

From Albert River to Port Essington	660 knots.
From Port Essington to Coepang	525 „
From Coepang to Cape Sedano	590 „
Add for slack	200 „
	1,975 „
Total knots, 1,975, at £240	£474,000

Working Expenses.

Between Peak Downs and Albert River stations should be established every hundred miles, or say six intermediate stations. Each station should be provided with—

1 Operator, at	£350	per annum.
2 Line Men, at £250	500	„
Provisions	250	„
Contingencies	200	„
	£1,300
Or, per annum, for the six stations	£7,800
The two terminal stations, £1,000 each	2,000
	£9,800

For the submarine portions the following stations would be required, say Albert River, Port Essington, Coepang, and Cape Sedano. The two intermediate stations would require—

2 Operators, at £350	£700	per annum.
1 Assistant	200	„
Provisions	250	„
Contingencies	200	„
	£1,350
	£2,700	£2,700
The two terminal stations—
1 Operator	£350
1 Assistant	200
Provisions and contingencies	350
	£900
	2
	£1,800	£1,800
		£4,500
Or, total working expenses from Queensland to Java, per annum		£14,300

Mr.

Mr. Todd estimates the working and expenses of the land line alone, at £20,000 per annum, assuming that twelve stations only are established, but I feel satisfied that with a less number than eighteen stations the line could not be maintained in an efficient working condition.

The land line from Peak Downs to Albert River I would recommend should be constructed by the Government of New South Wales and Queensland jointly, and I am in a position to state that there are capitalists within the Colony who would immediately undertake the work, and provide everything complete for the opening of the line, at a reasonable rate, taking Debentures as payment for the amount of the Contract.

The entire management and maintenance should also be undertaken by the two Colonies, and a minimum rate demanded for the conveyance of messages, which would, I have no doubt, cover the working expenses and return a fair interest on the outlay. The advantages to New South Wales would be considerable, as a toll would be charged for messages from the Southern Colonies for their transmission over our existing lines.

For the construction of the land line I would recommend an entire alteration to the present system: Thus—instead of thirty posts, twenty-three feet in length to the mile, I would place only ten posts, forty feet high, with a light steel wire conductor of the same size as the over-house wires now used by private firms in London, No. 11 wire gauge. I would also substitute a bell-shaped ebonite insulator instead of the more expensive and fragile articles now in use, and a zinc rain shield round the post, about a foot from the top. By this means a dry zone can always be insured, and the highest points of insulation attained.

The light wire and insulators (which are not breakable) would effect a considerable saving in carriage and cost of repairs, and the long poles would always admit of being re-planted instead of providing new ones when they become rotten.

The subsidy for the submarine portion would, according to the above proposal, be reduced to £23,700 per annum for thirty years, which, to commence with, might be distributed between the Colonies, as formerly proposed by the resolutions passed by the Legislative Assemblies of New South Wales and Victoria in 1860, which were the same proportions as the present mail subsidy, but I think the Tasmanian and New Zealand contributions should be divided between the undermentioned four Colonies, and after the first year, in proportion to the number or value of messages transmitted by each Colony. At first the annual amounts payable would be—

Victoria	59,968	£14,212 14 0
New South Wales ...	24,406	5,784 2 0
South Australia	8,906	2,110 12 0
Queensland	6,720	1,592 12 0
		23,700 0 0

The subsidy at any rate would be merely nominal, as Mr. Gisborne proposes to convey free messages from the several Governments to the extent of the subsidy, and in case the Home Government does not contribute, to place the tariff value of their messages to the credit of the subsidy. This liberal offer reduces the whole matter to the construction and working of 700 miles of land line, the former of which (at a cost of £70,000, bearing an interest of 5 per cent.) would form an annual charge of £3,500, and with the working expenses, which are estimated at £9,800 per annum, would be provided by the two Colonies; against these would be placed the profits derived from the undertaking. The submarine cable, proposed by Mr. Gisborne, is one well adapted for the route intended; it has a much larger conductor than the original sample; it is much heavier, and is provided with an outer coating of equal parts of jute, bitumen, and hydraulic mortar, which will prevent the corrosion of the protecting wires, and admit of the cable being lifted for repairs without fear of fracture. The shallow soundings, throughout the entire distance, are also much in favor of the successful laying and working of the cable, a depth of more than fifty fathoms being seldom attained; the distances are also very convenient, being only 660 knots for the longest length—will admit a speed of not less than from twenty to twenty-five words a minute.

It

It is calculated that 40,000 mercantile and private messages would annually be transmitted over the Australian portion of the line; this number, at a 30s. rate per message of twenty words, from Queensland to Java, would produce an annual revenue of £60,000, to be divided as follows:—

Land Line.

		Annual Receipts.
40,000 Messages, at 10s.	.....	£20,000
Working expenses.....	£9,800
Renewal fund	1,750
		11,550
Profit		£8,450

Submarine Line.

40,000 Messages, at 20s.	.....	£40,000
Working expenses.....	£4,500
Renewal fund	11,850
		16,350
Leaving a profit of.....		£23,650

which will be nearly sufficient to cover the subsidy, without the aid of the service messages.

I consider that 40,000 messages per annum are a low estimate, being only 133 messages, or sixty-six each way, per working day, which, considering that nearly the entire World would be connected, would be below the actual result.

I am of opinion that the total through charge for a message of twenty words from Australia to England would not exceeds £6, viâ Asia Minor, as the most expensive part of the former (projected) route would be avoided, viz., the Red Sea and Mediterranean Line.

The advantages to be derived by the Australian Colonies from an International system of Telegraphs, instead of merely an Intercolonial system, even in the time of peace, are so numerous and manifest that it would be almost tedious as well as unnecessary to comment upon them; but it may be said that should it unhappily be ever again the fate of England to be at war with a maritime power, circumstances would very probably occur under which the entire cost of such means of communication would be saved in less time than it has taken to write the foregoing; and to shew that the line would be well supported, I need only refer to the existing lines in these Colonies, which are fully and profitably occupied.

I would further recommend, for the consideration of the Government, that a Telegraphic Conference be held in Melbourne at the same time as the Federal Conference, and that the Superintendents of the different Colonies should bring up a joint report for the information and guidance of the latter, during the discussion on the Intercolonial and International Telegraphic Systems.

ELECTRIC TELEGRAPH.

(CORRESPONDENCE RELATIVE TO REMOVAL OF STATION, WINDEYER.)

Ordered by the Legislative Assembly to be Printed, 16 March, 1864.

WM. B. DALLEY, ESQ., M.P., to SECRETARY FOR PUBLIC WORKS.

Monday Morning,
22 February, 1864.

MY DEAR HOLROYD,

I have received the enclosed from Mudgee, for presentation to you this day. I cannot do myself the honor of personally presenting it to you, as I shall be engaged at the Central Police Office all day, and I leave town to-night for Tamworth.

Will you cause a reply to be forwarded to Mr. Edward Clarke, of Mudgee?

Ever yours, &c.,
WM. B. DALLEY.

To the Honorable the Minister for Works.

The Memorial of the undersigned Traders and other Residents in the District of Windeyer and also in the Town of Mudgee,—

SHEWETH:—

That for the period of some two years and upwards there has been a station of the Electric Telegraph at Windeyer, on the Meroo.

That such station meets not only the requirements of the Town of Windeyer, but also those of a large district extending from Windeyer to the heads of the Meroo, a distance of ten miles, but also to Long Creek, Campbell's Creek, and the Pyramul, as well as those of the whole diggings on the Meroo.

That your Memorialists have heard with surprise and regret, that it is the intention of the Government to remove the Telegraph Station from Windeyer to Hargraves.

That your Memorialists beg most respectfully to call your attention to the geographical position of Windeyer in its relation to the Meroo Gold Fields, from which it must appear that it is not only the oldest but the most central point on the Meroo.

That the station at Windeyer is in every respect fit for the purpose and not inferior to any out of Sydney.

That in case of the removal of the station to Hargraves, all persons resident at Windeyer, Long Creek, Campbell's Creek, Pyramul, and all other portions of Meroo Gold Fields to the northward and eastward of Windeyer, would have to pass through Windeyer and then proceed to Hargraves, a distance of some seven or eight miles over a most rough country.

That your Petitioners (resident in Mudgee) believe that the retention of the Telegraph Office at Windeyer would be a greater convenience to themselves and the residents on the Meroo Gold Fields generally, than the removal of the same to Hargraves, and also that the Government would derive a greater revenue by such retention than by any removal.

Your Memorialists therefore respectfully request that you will be pleased to take this matter into your consideration, and that no orders may be given for the removal of the Telegraph Station from Windeyer.

[Here follows 52 Signatures.]

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF TELEGRAPHS.

THE receipts at the Windeyer Station have never yet covered the clerk's salary. The revenue for 1863 amounted to only £96 0s. 8d.

If the station is of so much importance to the district, I am surprised that it has not been better patronized; and if the Petitioners are really desirous for the retention of the office, I would respectfully suggest that they be requested to guarantee the Government against loss, as at Tambaroora.

E. C. CRACKNELL.

UNDER SECRETARY FOR PUBLIC WORKS to MR. EDWARD CLARKE, MUDGEE.

Department of Public Works,
Sydney, 2 March, 1864.

SIR,

I am directed to inform you that W. B. Dalley, Esq., M.P., in forwarding to this office a Petition from certain of the Inhabitants of Mudgee and neighbourhood, relative to the proposed withdrawal of the Telegraph Station at Windeyer, requested that the reply thereto might be addressed to you.

2. The Petitioners state that the retention of this station is required, in consequence of its importance to the district; but I am to state that the Secretary for Public Works fails to see that it can be of much importance, as it appears from the Report of the Superintendent of Telegraphs that the revenue derived from it in 1863 was only £96 0s. 8d., not sufficient to pay even the Station Master's salary.

3. If, however, the Petitioners are really impressed with the necessity for the retention of this station, the Secretary for Public Works will have no objection, provided they guarantee the Government against loss, as is done in other similar cases.

I have, &c.,
JOHN RAE.
