8. Do you produce the Roll of Members of the present Parliament? I do. (The witness produced the same.)

10. That roll was signed by Mr. Edward Combes? It was.
11. As the elected Member for the Electoral District of Orange? Yes.
12. What is the date of the signing the roll? The date upon which each Member signs is not attached to his name, but the date of the roll itself is 27th November, 1877.
13. The date of the oath of allegiance would show the date on which Mr. Combes signed the roll, would it not? Yes, and it corresponds with the date of the roll.

15. And since Mr. Combes signed the roll has he continued to be a Member of the Legislative Assembly? He has.

23. You have no doubt that the original of the letter of which you have now handed us a copy was delivered to Mr. Combes? Not the slightest.

35. How do you know that this is a true copy (referring to the copy of the commission handed in)? Because it was struck off from the same form as the parchment commission which Mr. Combes has.
36. It was struck off at the time? Yes.
37. By whom was it struck off? At the Government Printing Office.
38. Whose is the writing matter? That is copied from the entry in the Register of Patents, in the Colonial Secretary's Office.

45. Mr. Copeland.] Do you know whether that £500 was received by Mr. Combes? I could not say.
46. Was it received by him before he could incur any expenditure? That advance I suppose was to cover the expenses of his journey to France.
47. Was it received by him before he left? I could not tell you. I should think Mr. Eagar would be able to tell you that.
48. Mr. McCulloch.] Have you any letter from Mr. Combes requesting payments to be paid into the Commercial Bank for him? I think that was a private letter.*
49. Chairman.] Do you produce another letter, dated 18th March, 1878, from the Colonial Secretary to Edward Combes, Esq., M.P., Executive Commissioner for New South Wales to the Paris Exhibition? Yes. (The witness handed in the same. Vide Appendix A 5.)
50. Was that letter forwarded to Mr. Edward Combes? Yes; it was forwarded in the ordinary course.
51. You have no doubt he received that? Not the slightest.
52. Do you produce any letter written to Mr. Edward Combes with reference to his appointment? No.
53. As to any payments he was to receive? No. There are two letters that were addressed to the Colonial Treasurer with reference to the date to which the money was to be paid to him, namely, to the close of the Exhibition. The first letter is dated 14th May, 1878. (The witness handed in the same. Vide Appendix A 6.)
54. That letter was forwarded to the Under Secretary for Finance and Trade? Yes.
55. Do you also produce a letter dated 8th January, 1879, directed to the Under Secretary for Finance and Trade? I do. (The witness produced the same. Vide Appendix A 7.)
56. Was that letter also forwarded to the Under Secretary for Finance and Trade? Yes.
57. Do you produce any other letter having any reference whatever to the appointment of Mr. Combes to this commission, or to amounts advanced to him? No. I think the letters handed in are all that is necessary to produce. I have corresponding letters to the Treasury about the advances.
58. Mr. Copeland.] Have you received any letter from Mr. Combes acknowledging the receipt of these advances? No receipts have been received in the Colonial Secretary's Office from him.
59. Chairman.] You produce also letters, of dates 25th February, 1878, 28th February, 1878, and 18th March, 1878, respectively? I do.
60. Relating to the appointment of Mr. Combes, and addressed to the Colonial Treasurer? Yes.
61. When I speak of the appointment, I mean the appointment of Mr. Edward Combes as Executive Commissioner for the Colony of New South Wales at the Paris Exhibition? Yes. (The witness handed in the same. Vide Appendix, A 8, A 9, A 10.)
62. In addition to the letters now produced and handed in, do you produce another letter addressed to the Agent General of New South Wales notifying the appointment of Mr. Edward Combes as Executive Commissioner of New South Wales at the Paris Exhibition? Yes. (The witness handed in the same. Vide Appendix A 11.)
63. Have you any other letters or documents in your possession in reference to the appointment of Mr. Combes? No. I think those I have handed in will give you the whole particulars of his appointment.
64. Mr. Day.] Can you tell us the date of his sailing from Port Jackson? Somewhere in the end of February. I think close upon the date of the letter, the 28th February.†
65. Not later than that? I think it was about that date.
66. Chairman.] Do you know from your own knowledge whether Mr. Combes still continues to occupy the position of Executive Commissioner for New South Wales at the Paris Exhibition? I could not tell you officially. I have heard privately that his family expect him back this month. I saw by this day's Herald that he was in Paris on the 19th December. A letter from Mr. Jules Joubert of that date speaks of the Executive Commissioner as being there.

* Note (on revision):—No; official, subsequently handed in.
† Note (on revision):—I now find that Mr. Combes sailed from Sydney on 18th March,

67. Can you afford the Committee any further information on the subject of the appointment of Mr. Combes? No, I cannot. M. R. Allan, Esq. 4 Feb., 1879.
68. Mr. McCulloch.] Have you no letters from Mr. Combes to the Government of New South Wales, or to the Colonial Secretary? I have several. Here is one signed, "Executive Commissioner, Paris Exhibition."
69. Chairman.] Have you any letter in your possession from Mr. Combes, accepting the appointment of Executive Commissioner? I think there is a private letter to Mr. Fitzpatrick. (The witness handed in the same. Vide Appendix A 12.)
70. Do you know that to be the handwriting of Mr. Combes? That I cannot say—I never saw Mr. Combes write.
71. Do you produce a letter dated 9th May, 1878, written by Mr. Combes, and signed by him as Executive Commissioner for New South Wales to the Paris Exhibition? I do. (The witness handed in the same. Vide Appendix A 13.)
72. You believe that to be the handwriting of Mr. Combes? Yes.
73. Do you produce all other correspondence and documents in your possession, relating to the appointment of Mr. Edward Combes as Executive Commissioner for New South Wales at the Paris Exhibition? I think they are all contained in this bundle.
74. You simply produce these? Yes. (The witness produced the same.)
75. Mr. Moses.] On what date was this sum of £500 paid? That is a matter on which Mr. Eagar will be able to inform the Committee.
76. You gave instructions to pay Mr. Combes £500—do you remember the date? The date is mentioned in one of the letters—the 25th February.
77. The instructions given were to pay £125 monthly: how soon after the first money was paid was this further sum paid to Mr. Combes? In May, I think. Very possibly Mr. Combes got the £500 when he was in the Colony.

The Honorable Geoffrey Eagar, having been sworn, was examined:—

78. Chairman.] What position do you occupy? My exact position is Under Secretary for Finance and Trade. The Hon. G. Eagar. 4 Feb., 1879.
79. Do you know Mr. Edward Combes, the elected Member of the Legislative Assembly for the Electoral District of Orange? I do.
80. Have you had any personal interview with him since his appointment as Executive Commissioner for the Colony of New South Wales to the Paris Exhibition? I think not—no personal interview.
81. Have you had any correspondence with him on the subject? None whatever.
82. Was the appointment of Mr. Combes as Executive Commissioner for New South Wales to the Paris Exhibition notified to you? It was, by letter from the Colonial Secretary's Office, dated 25th February, 1878.
83. Do you produce that letter? I may say that these (referring to a portion of the papers produced) are all original documents, forwarded from the Audit Office, and of these I will furnish certified copies to the Committee. This is the letter of the 25th February, 1878, and is our sole knowledge of the appointment. (The witness handed in the same. Vide Appendix B 1.) Attached to this is the receipt of the Commercial Bank for the payment of £500 to the credit of Mr. Edward Combes "for expenses on account of Paris Exhibition."
84. By whom is the receipt you produce signed? By the authorized receiving teller of the Commercial Bank.
85. Do you know from your own knowledge whether Mr. Combes received the £500 referred to in this receipt? I know nothing beyond the fact that we paid it to his credit at the Commercial Bank. I will subsequently produce the letter to the Commercial Bank, and their reply, which will fix the use of the money in Mr. Combes.
86. Do you produce any other papers? I do. On the 18th March, 1878, the Colonial Secretary addressed to the Colonial Treasurer another letter, arranging for the payment monthly of £125 to the credit of Mr. Edward Combes in the Commercial Bank. That I produce. (The witness handed in the same. Vide Appendix B 2.) On receiving authority to make this monthly payment, I thought I should take some precaution to ensure that the money should be headed as on the public account. With the authority of the Colonial Treasurer I wrote to the Commercial Bank on the 16th April last. I hand in that letter. (The witness handed in the same. Vide Appendix B 3.)
87. That is signed by you? That is signed by me.
88. Do you also hand in a letter addressed to you, signed by the Manager of the Commercial Banking Company? Yes, acknowledging receipt of letter last referred to. (The witness handed in the same. Vide Appendix B 4.) Then about May, 1878, as the Colonial Secretary's original letter fixed no term for these monthly payments, we thought it right and prudent to ask when they should terminate. In reply we got the letter of 14th May last, of which I hand in a copy. (The witness handed in the same. Vide Appendix B 5.) Then on the 8th January, 1879, the Colonial Secretary notified to us that there should be a cessation of these monthly payments. (The witness handed in a letter. Vide Appendix B 6.) Then I beg to put in a statement of the whole of the payments made, amounting to £1,625. (The witness handed in the same. Vide Appendix B 7.) On the 9th of January this year the payments were ordered to stop, and you will see that the last monthly payment was made in December of the preceding year.
89. In other words, this is an account of the aggregate amount received by Mr. Combes? Yes, that is the fact.
90. The aggregate amount received by Mr. Combes as Commissioner? Paid to his credit at the Commercial Bank.
91. Mr. Copeland.] Have you any acknowledgment from Mr. Combes showing that he received the money? No; under the Colonial Secretary's instructions we paid it into the Commercial Bank, and we hold the Commercial Bank's receipt.
92. You have nothing to show that the money was actually received by Mr. Combes? Except the obligation the Commercial Bank has signed to produce those receipts. At present we have none. (The witness witness produced the undertaking referred to. Vide Appendix B 4.) I may say further, that I hold in my hand the receipts of the Commercial Bank for all these separate payments, which, being the property of the Auditor General, I should prefer to put in certified copies. These will agree exactly with our statement, if you compare them.

The Hon. G. Eagar. 4 Feb., 1879.

93. But you have nothing to show that Mr. Combes has actually received any of this money? Nothing direct from himself.

94. Chairman.] Can you furnish the Committee with any further information with reference to the appointment, or to any payments that may have been made to Mr. Edward Combes, as Executive Commissioner for New South Wales to the Paris Exhibition? Nothing. We are only paymasters in the business, under the authority of the Colonial Secretary. Our function ceases with the payments thus made. I know nothing of the commission, or of the circumstances of the appointment. The Bank has given a guarantee that all the moneys lodged by us shall be placed to the credit of Mr. Combes.

95. The money could not be paid to any other Bank? The money could not be paid to any other Bank. No moneys were paid over and above those contained in the statement handed in. These are the whole of the moneys paid to the credit of Mr. Combes.

96. Mr. McCulloch.] You have never received any account from Mr. Combes? None whatever.

97. Nor have you applied for any to Mr. Combes or to the Bank? No.

98. But you do not regard the matter as closed, as far as the Treasury is concerned? There is no doubt that Mr. Combes, having received the public money, is bound to give some account of it.

99. Mr. Copeland.] A detailed account of expenditure? Yes.

100. Mr. McCulloch.] You do not know of any request of Mr. Combes with reference to this money? No request, except that of the Colonial Secretary contained in the letter I have referred to. There was no personal application to us.

101. Your payments were made simply on the authority of the Colonial Secretary, and you consider that you have yet to receive an account from Mr. Combes? Yes; some account.

102. Mr Copeland.] Do I understand that you expect to have an account showing the whole of the disbursements of this money, or simply that the trip to Paris has cost so much,—showing the expenditure in globo? I think, according to our practice, a minute account would not be required, but simply some account showing the expenditure;—in other words, that the Government would not give Mr. Combes £1,625 for his trip to Paris and that he should cry "quits"; he must furnish an account.

103. Mr. Day.] You have no control over him to compel him to render an account? We have no control over him more than over other persons to whom we advance public funds.

104. Have you any documents to show that he was under the impression that he was to keep an account? Not in the Treasury.

105. Would it be in any other department? That I cannot say.

106. From your long experience in public departments, do you know whether it is customary to take a document of the kind I have referred to? When advances are ordinarily made a full account is required, but in this case—I judge entirely from the contents of the first letters from the Colonial Secretary's Office—this was an advance to pay expenses.

107. The letter of the Colonial Secretary allows £125 a month for expenses? It allows £500 in the first instance.

108. And £125 a month afterwards? Yes.

109. That letter does not state that any account is to be kept? I think it is inferred from the terms of the first and second letter. A certain amount is advanced for travelling expenses incurred by the Commissioner. I do not think it is intended that he shall receive the money and cry "quits," but that he must give an account. No one could say beforehand what his travelling expenses would be.

110. There is no way of compelling him? Nothing except his position as a gentleman.

111. Suppose he kept no accounts? I could not answer for his supposed shortcomings.

112. You have seen no documents requiring Mr. Combes to keep an account of his expenditure? No.

113. Mr. Moses.] Altogether you made ten payments? Yes.

Maxwell Rennie Allan, Esq., further examined:—

M. R. Allan, Esq. 4 Feb., 1879.

114. Chairman.] Do you produce a letter dated 13th March, 1878, received by the Colonial Secretary, and signed "Edward Combes"? I do. (The witness handed in the same. Vide Appendix A 14.)

115. Is that letter in the handwriting of Mr. Edward Combes? Yes.

116. It forms a portion of the papers you produced when you were before the Committee just now? Yes.

TUESDAY, 11 FEBRUARY, 1879.

Present:—

H. Copeland Esq., G. Day, Esq., | A. H. McCulloch, Esq., H. Moses, Esq.

R. B. Smith, Esq., in the Chair.

Thomas Brocklebank Gaden, Esq., having been sworn, was examined:—

T. B. Gaden, Esq. 11 Feb., 1879.

117. Chairman.] What position do you hold in the Commercial Bank? Branch Inspector of the Commercial Banking Company of Sydney.

118. Do you know Mr. Edward Combes, the Member of the Legislative Assembly for Orange? I do.

119. Do you produce a statement of account of the Commercial Banking Company with Mr. Edward Combes, in his capacity of Executive Commissioner for New South Wales at the Paris Exhibition? I do. It is headed, "Edward Combes's public account. In account current with the Commercial Banking Company of Sydney." (The witness handed in the same. Vide Appendix C 1.)

120. Do you produce any authority from the Treasury Department of New South Wales, in reference to Mr. Combes's public account with the Commercial Banking Company of Sydney? Yes, I produce a letter dated Treasury, 16th April, 1878, enclosing a cheque for £125. (The witness handed in the same. Vide Appendix C 2.)

121. That is the original letter? Yes.
122. In pursuance of this letter, have sums of money been paid to the credit of Mr. Edward Combes to his account in the Commercial Bank? Yes, at various times. The first amount was paid on the 18th April, 1878—£125. T. B. Gaden, Esq. 11 Feb., 1879.
123. Was there not, on the 16th of the previous month, a sum of £500 paid into Mr. Combes's credit? No, these are the only operations on the public account, and this account was opened in pursuance of the letter from the Treasury I have handed in, and which was dated 16th April, 1878.
124. I suppose this (C 1) is a correct statement, taken from your books? Yes.
125. The first payment made on Mr. Cohen's account was on the 18th April, 1878? I think that is the date indicated by the statement. (The witness stated the several amounts set forth in Appendix C 1.)
126. The aggregate amounting to ——? £1,125.
127. All the sums referred to in this account have been remitted to Mr. Combes? Yes.
128. In pursuance of the previous arrangement made by Mr. Combes with the Bank? I am not aware that Mr. Combes made any arrangement with the Bank, but in pursuance of the instructions we received from the Treasury, our Manager at Home takes Mr. Combes's receipts for the sums remitted to and received by him. I can produce two of the receipts which I happened to find. (The witness handed in a receipt. Vide Appendix C 3.] That is the first, and refers to the first payment.
129. Does that receipt bear the handwriting of Mr. Combes? I believe that to be the signature of Mr. Combes.
130. Do you produce any other receipt? I produce one of date subsequent to that. (The witness handed in the same. Vide Appendix A 4.)
131. Does that also bear his signature? That has also, to the best of my belief, the signature of Mr. Combes.
132. Have you any other documents bearing on this matter? The only other documents are the paid-in slips.
133. The deposit slips? The deposit slips.
134. Do you produce them? Yes. (The witness handed in the same. Vide Appendix, C 5 to 12.)
135. I think you have already stated that the sums referred to in this account have been transmitted to London? Yes, to be paid to Mr. Combes upon his giving receipts similar to those which I have produced.
136. Have you any letters written by Mr. Combes respecting his public account, as Executive Commissioner for New South Wales at the Paris Exhibition? Not in my possession, and I do not think there is any in the Bank.
137. Can you furnish the Committee with any further information in reference to the inquiry now before them? I think not; I do not know of any.
138. Mr. Day.] Have you any account of £500 having been placed to the credit of Mr. Combes on the public account? These are the only entries on the public account.
139. Do you know anything of that document (handing a paper to witness)? I do not.
140. That is signed by one of your Managers, is it not? No, it is not signed by one of our Managers; it bears the name of T. Thomas, and we have a teller of that name.
141. Was that money placed to Mr. Combes's credit by the Treasury? That may have gone to Mr. Combes's private account at the Bathurst Bank. The statement I have handed in contains the only operations on the public account. This receipt is dated two months previous to our being directed to open a public account.
142. Have you any doubt as to the correctness of that receipt? This is not one of our forms of receipt. If I saw the original I could tell if it were Mr. Thomas's signature.
143. Chairman.] You have no doubt that the £500 was placed to the private account of Mr. Combes? I could not say that. Mr. Combes's private account is kept at Bathurst, and this may have been paid in for his credit there. The only thing I made myself acquainted with and which I consider necessary for this inquiry was the public account.
144. This amount must have been paid in before the public account was opened? Yes; for the Treasurer's letter authorizing us to open a public account was two months later.
145. Have you a clerk of the name of T. Thomas? We have a teller named Thomas Thomas.
146. You have no doubt that if he signed a receipt to the effect of that produced that it is correct? I have not the slightest doubt that if Mr. Thomas signed the receipt for the money as placed to Mr. Combes's credit, Mr. Combes got the benefit of it.
147. Having seen a copy of the receipt, you have no doubt the money was paid to the credit of Mr. Combes? This is not our form of receipt, but if Mr. Thomas Thomas as teller signed any receipt, as having received money on account of Mr. Combes, I have not the slightest doubt that Mr. Combes received the money.
148. Mr. Day.] There is no money now to the credit of Mr. Combes on public account in the Commercial Bank? Not in the Commercial Bank, Sydney. Of course I cannot say whether he has received the last remittance to London.
149. Had you any authority from Mr. Combes to transmit these monthly payments to London to his credit? Not that I am aware of. No doubt he gave verbal instructions on the subject. I am not aware of any letter having been written.
150. Would the Bank act upon verbal instructions? Yes, with the letter we received from the Treasury. We received the money for that purpose, and we had no alternative but to do with it as we were instructed.
151. There is no doubt about the money having been sent to London to his credit? None whatever, as is shown by the two receipts I have produced, and which I managed to find before I came here.
152. Have you any others in the Bank here? Probably they have not been sent out, but are retained by our Manager in London. The letter says "to be paid to Mr. Combes, and his receipt taken." So that the money can be paid to him only in the place where he is.
153. Mr. McCulloch.] Mr. Combes has another account at your Bank? He has a private account at Bathurst.
154. None of the public money has gone to his private account? Certainly not. This account shows that the whole amount has been paid to the public account.
155. This letter of instruction asks you to obtain vouchers from the gentleman who pays the money to

T. B. Gaden, Esq.

11 Feb., 1879.

Mr. Combes: has your Bank regarded that requirement as satisfied when you get a receipt for the full amount paid to Mr. Combes? Mr. Combes does not get the money until he gives his receipt.

156. You feel bound to give Mr. Combes the full amount in your hand upon his giving a receipt? Yes.

157. The letter goes on to say—"You are to obtain vouchers on behalf of the Government from that gentleman for the money when paid to him, and that in case of his death any unexpended balance in the hands of your Bank is to be returned to the Government." Would it not seem to be in accordance with the ordinary course of business for Mr. Combes to draw cheques as required against the sum deposited, rather than to withdraw the full amount standing to his credit? In accordance with the instructions £125 was sent home monthly, and this amount was to be paid Mr. Combes upon his giving a receipt. If Mr. Combes were to die before the £125 sent home in December reached London, that money would have to be returned to Government.

158. That would hardly come under the term of "unexpended balance"? The unexpended balance would be the £125 not paid to him. Mr. Combes might have his pocket full of money, and we could not possibly say how much of that (if any) was the unexpended balance of money received by him on this public account.

159. The only account that you will give to the Treasury, should you be called upon under this letter, will be the receipts from Mr. Combes for this money? Yes, the full amounts paid to him. In the event of his death before one or two of the amounts had been paid to him, and for which no receipts could be produced, we should feel bound to pay those amounts back, but if they had been paid to Mr. Combes we could not account for them beyond the production of the receipts.

160. You cannot say how many of these payments have been made to Mr. Combes? No, I cannot. I know the whole has been remitted home to be held at his disposal.

161. You do not know that they have been handed to him? No, I cannot speak from my own knowledge. I take it for granted if they were sent home they were paid to him, excepting the last two instalments.

162. Chairman.] Do you know when Mr. Combes left the Colony? No; I suppose about the time of the date of this letter.

163. He had a private account before he left the Colony? Yes, at our Bank at Bathurst for years.

164. Can you tell the Committee when the public account was opened? That is indicated on the sheet I have handed in. It was I think the 18th of April, 1878.

165. Was that after Mr. Combes left the Colony? That I cannot say.

COMMITTEE OF ELECTIONS AND QUALIFICATIONS.

In testimony whereof, we have caused these our letters to be made patent, and the Great Seal of our said Colony of New South Wales to be hereunto affixed.

Witness our trusty and well-beloved SIR HERCULES GEORGE ROBERT ROBINSON, Knight Grand Cross of our Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, our Governor and Commander-in-Chief of our Colony (L.S.) of New South Wales, and its Dependencies, this twenty-seventh day of February, in the forty-first year of our reign, and in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight.

HERCULES ROBINSON.

By His Excellency's Command,—

Sir, Commercial Banking Company of Sydney, Sydney, 18 April, 1878.

I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of 16th instant, enclosing cheque for £125, for credit of Mr. Edward Combes, in "Public Account," as Commissioner for New South Wales at the Paris Exhibition; and the money is received by us, as will the monthly similar payments to follow, on the understanding set forth in your letter.

Sir, Colonial Secretary's Office, Sydney, 14 May, 1878.

In reply to your letter of the 8th instant, in which you observe that the authority for the payment of the allowance of £125 a month to Mr. Edward Combes, Executive Commissioner at the Paris Exhibition, specifies neither the total amount that is to be so advanced nor the period for which the advances are to continue, I am directed by the Colonial Secretary to state, for the information of the Colonial Treasurer, that these advances may continue to be made at all events until after the close of the Paris Exhibition, when the matter will be again re-opened.

I have &c.,

Sir, Colonial Secretary's Office, Sydney, 8 January, 1879.

With reference to my letter of the 14th of May last, concerning the payment of advances to Mr. Edward Combes, Executive Commissioner at the Paris Exhibition, I am directed to state, for the information of the Colonial Treasurer, that the Colonial Secretary does not think that any further advance can be made to Mr. Combes until the Government is informed, definitely, as to the termination of his services, which appear to Sir Henry Parkes (as at present informed) to have been concluded with the close of the Exhibition.

I have, &c.,

MINUTES OF THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE COMMITTEE OF ELECTIONS AND QUALIFICATIONS.

In the matter of the Election Petition which has been addressed to the Honorable the Speaker of the Legislative Assembly by William Wilton and others, praying that, for the reasons therein stated, the election of Richard Rouse, Esquire, as the Member for the Electoral District of Mudgee, may be declared null and void, and that it may be further declared that David Buchanan was duly elected, and is entitled to take his seat as Member for the said Electoral District.

TUESDAY, 18 FEBRUARY.

MEMBERS PRESENT:—

Robert Burdett Smith, Esquire, in the Chair.

Dr. Bowker,	Mr. McCulloch,
Mr. Day,	Mr. Moses.

In attendance,—
The Acting Second Clerk Assistant.

1. The Clerk, by direction of the Chairman, read the extract from the Votes and Proceedings referring the Petition of William Wilton and others to the Committee.

2. Whereupon the Clerk, by direction of the Chairman, read the Petition of William Wilton and others, so referred, as follows:—

To the Honorable Sir George Wigram Allen, Speaker of the Legislative Assembly of New South Wales,—

The humble Petition of William Wilton, Montgomery Jennings Sheppard, John James Augustus Hake, Walter William Millett, William Bishop Ward, John Hodges, and James Fraser, Voters and Electors for the Electoral District of Mudgee, in the Colony of New South Wales,—

HUMBLY SHOWETH:—

That an election took place at Mudgee, in the Colony of New South Wales, on the 6th day of January, 1879, for a Member to serve in the Legislative Assembly of New South Wales, in the place or stead of the Honorable Sir John Robertson, who had resigned his seat as Member for the said electorate.

That two candidates were duly nominated for the said vacant seat at Mudgee aforesaid, namely Richard Rouse and David Buchanan, Esquires.

That the Returning Officer on the day of the declaration of the poll for the said electoral district declared the numbers of the votes polled for the respective candidates to be as follows:—For the said Richard Rouse, 895; and for the said David Buchanan, 894; and thereupon declared the said Richard Rouse to be duly elected as Member of the said Assembly for the said electoral district of Mudgee by a majority of one vote, and the said Returning Officer afterwards endorsed on the writ for the said election the name of the said Richard Rouse as the person so elected, and returned the said Writ to you as Speaker of the said Legislative Assembly.

That your Petitioners, who are duly qualified electors, and whose names are on the electoral roll of Mudgee in the Colony aforesaid, and who attended and voted at the said election on the said polling day, do respectfully object and protest against the election of the said Richard Rouse as a Member for the said electoral district of Mudgee at the said election.

And we respectfully submit that the said election of the said Richard Rouse is illegal and void, upon the grounds and for the reasons following, namely:—

1st.—That the said Returning Officer, William Richard Blackman, did illegally and improperly record his vote as an elector at the said election in favour of the said Richard Rouse, contrary to the Act of Parliament in that case made and provided.

2nd.—That a man named Patrick Stanners, No. 3,549 on the electoral roll, voted at 4 o'clock on the day of the said election, and when he struck the name of the candidate, David Buchanan, out on the voting-paper, he came forward and placed the said voting-paper quite open and exposed on the table before the scrutineering clerks, and then left the room. Mr. Buchanan's scrutineering clerk objected to the said voting-paper being placed in the ballot-box, the voter not then being present. This objection was overruled, and the Returning Officer put it in the box with the other voting-papers. This occurred at Hunter's booth, Gulgong.

3rd.—That at the polling-booth at Gulgong the poll clerk did not appear till 10 o'clock in the forenoon, the voting having begun at 9 in his absence.

4th.—That at the said election two young men, named respectively Robert Holland, junior, No. 1,696 on electoral roll, and Cornelius Mooy, No. 2,603 on electoral roll, are both minors, and each under the age of 21 years, and they respectfully admit and acknowledge that they did each vote for the said Richard Rouse at the said election, which said two votes of minors your Petitioners submit were valueless, and contrary to law.

5th.—That your Petitioners respectfully submit that the foregoing objections, or some or one of them, are fatal to the return of the said Richard Rouse as a Member for the Legislative Assembly of New South Wales, and that the said David Buchanan was the duly and legally elected Member at the said election, and not the said Richard Rouse.

6th.—

6th.—That your petitioners, pursuant to the "Electoral Act of 1858," have caused the sum of £100 to be paid into the Bank of New South Wales to the credit of the Speaker of the Legislative Assembly in relation to this petition, and the bank deposit receipt for such payment is hereto annexed.

Your Petitioners therefore humbly pray that this Petition may be dealt with according to law, and that the said return of the said Richard Rouse as a Member of the said Legislative Assembly for the said Electoral District of Mudgee, may be declared null and void, for the reasons aforesaid or for any or one of them; that it may be declared and determined that the said Richard Rouse, for the reasons aforesaid, was not lawfully elected, and is not such Member of the said Legislative Assembly for the said Electoral District of Mudgee.

And that it may be declared and determined that the said David Buchanan was duly elected at the said election to serve and be a Member of the said Assembly for the said Electoral District of Mudgee; and is entitled to take his seat in the said Legislative Assembly as such Member.

And that such further order and determination may be made in the premises as shall be just and lawful.

And your Petitioners will, as in duty bound, ever pray.

John Want, Esq., appeared as Counsel on behalf of the Petitioners.

Stephen Wilson Jones, Esq., having been sworn, was examined:—

S. W. Jones, Esq. 7 Mar., 1879.

1. Mr. Want.] What are you? Clerk of the Legislative Assembly.
2. Do you produce the writ for the Mudgee election? I do. (The witness produced the same.)
3. Is the return also endorsed on it or is it separate? The return is endorsed on the writ.
4. Do you also produce the ballot-papers? I do. These are the ballot-papers in two parcels. (The witness produced the same.)
5. Have you anything to show in what proportion the votes were? I have not.
6. It does not appear on any documents you have? No.
7. Has Mr. Rouse taken his seat? Yes.
8. Do you produce a document, showing that he has taken his seat? I produce the oath taken and subscribed to by Mr. Rouse when he took his seat. (The witness produced the same.)
9. Chairman.] Mr. Rouse has subscribed the Roll of Members of the Assembly? He has.
10. And is at the present time the sitting Member for the Electoral District of Mudgee? He is.

William Richard Blackman, Esq., having been sworn, was examined:—

W. R. Blackman, Esq. 7 Mar., 1879.

11. Mr. Want.] Were you acting as Returning Officer at the last Mudgee election? Yes.
12. Do you produce any document by virtue of which you were appointed? No. I have not the writ with me.
13. You acted as such? Yes. The documents were not particularized in the subpœna. It said, "Bring all papers connected."
14. Is that the authority under which you acted (handing writ to witness)? Yes.
15. During that election, and before the declaration of the poll, did you vote at that election? Yes.
16. For whom did you vote? I do not think I ought to answer that question. It is vote by ballot, and I do not think it would be right to answer. I have taken the opinion of a legal man, and am advised that I need not answer.
17. Chairman.] You state that you voted before the declaration of the poll took place? Yes.
18. Before you were aware of the equality of votes? Yes; about the middle of the day I think I voted.

[Mr. Want pressed his question. The Committee-room was cleared. The Committee deliberated.] The parties were again called in, and the Chairman informed the witness that he was not bound to answer the question.]

19. Mr. Want.] Did you as a matter of fact state from the hustings for whom you voted? No.
20. Do you know a person of the name of Wells? Yes.
21. Did you not tell him you had voted for Mr. Rouse? I do not think I did.
22. Will you say positively whether you did or not? I will not, for it is so long since, I do not recollect.
23. Did you not state from the hustings that you were in favour of Mr. Rouse, and had known him from his boyhood? Yes, I said I had known Mr. Rouse longer than I had known Mr. Buchanan; that I liked Mr. Buchanan as a friend, but the other I had known so long that I could not help but like him better than Mr. Buchanan.
24. Do you remember a person of the name of Stanners coming into the polling-booth? I do not recollect him.
25. Do you know Stanners? No, not personally.
26. Do you remember a person coming into the polling-booth, striking out a name on the ballot-paper, and leaving the ballot-paper on the table? I remember one person leaving a ballot-paper on the table.
27. And then leaving the room? Yes.
28. What became of that paper? I put it into the box.
29. Of your own free will? Yes, I folded it up and put it into the box.

W. R. Blackman, Esq. Mar., 1879.

30. It was left, I believe, on the table open, was it not? Yes.
31. Before you folded it up did you see for whom it was in favour? Yes.
32. For whom? Mr. Rouse. I saw who it was in favour of and so did the scrutineers; it was lying open.
33. It was in favour of Mr. Rouse; Mr. Buchanan's name was struck out? Yes.
34. You, of your own accord, put it into the box? Yes.
35. Whatever you did tell Mr. Wells at the time I presume was true, if you did tell him anything? Yes, it was true no doubt, I am not given to tell lies; whatever I told him was the truth.
36. Could you tell me what the result of the poll was—how many for Mr. Rouse, and how many for Mr. Buchanan? I could not tell you the number now.
37. What was the difference between them? Mr. Rouse was one ahead.
38. Mr. Buchanan was within one vote of Mr. Rouse? Yes, Mr. Buchanan reckoned them up; he was in the room as well as myself.
39. That was the correct number? Yes.

Mr. Henry Edward Alexander Wells, having been sworn, was examined:—

Mr. H. E. A. Wells. 7 Mar., 1879.

40. Mr. Want.] What are you? An agent for free selectors.
41. Residing in Mudgee? Residing in Mudgee.
42. Do you know Mr. Blackman, the last witness? Yes.
43. Do you know whether he was presiding or Returning Officer at the last Mudgee election? Yes.
44. Did you see him acting in that capacity? Yes, at least I saw him taking declarations, and performing the duties of Returning Officer prior to the polling-day.
45. Did you have any conversation with him after the declaration of the poll? Yes, the day of the declaration he went away with Father Chiniquy, and about a week afterwards he came back. It was when he came back.
46. When he came back you had some conversation with him? Yes.
47. Was it with reference to the election? Yes.
48. What was it? We were in the room, and he was doing up the rolls and one thing and another. He had a bad hand and I was assisting him. He came to me and we were talking about him voting. He said he wondered how he made such a mistake; that he had voted. I said, "Let us look to the roll and see if you have voted, just to see if your name is struck off." He said, "There is no occasion to look; I did vote, but I do not see that it will do any harm, because I should have had an opportunity of voting if I had not voted previously, because there would have been an equality of votes." And I said to him, "Yes, and you told them off the hustings that you knew Mr. Rouse from a boy, and that you would vote for Mr. Rouse." He said, "Yes." He did vote for Mr. Rouse, and I heard him say on the hustings that of course he knew the two candidates, and that if he had a vote he would vote for Mr. Rouse.
49. Are you clear that at this conversation he told you he had voted for Mr. Rouse? Yes.
50. Do you know a person of the name of Holland, one of the witnesses in attendance? Yes, I do.

53. You had some conversation with the father with reference to the son's age? Yes.
54. Can you tell what his father said was his age? Twenty years last November, and he had a certificate—he was born in England, and he had a certificate which he brought out from the old country with him. I said I thought he was younger by his appearance.
55. Did he say what he was going to do with the certificate? I advised him to let his son fetch it with him, as it was not heavy to carry, and he said he would.
56. You refer to one of the witnesses in attendance here? That is the person referred to as his son.

[The Chairman pointed out what the father had said to the witness in reference to the age of the son could not be received as evidence.
Mr. Want referred to the 72nd section of the Electoral Act.]

57. Mr. Moses.] Did the Returning Officer state that he was in favour of Mr. Rouse at the nomination or at the declaration of the poll? He did not state it directly at the nomination. If I have said nomination I should have said declaration of the poll.
58. It was at the declaration of the poll? Yes.
59. Mr. Copeland.] You say you examined the roll and found the Returning Officer's name struck out? Yes; I could not say whether the poll-clerk struck it out.
60. You could not say who struck it out? No, but I think I could identify the roll if I saw it.
61. But you could not say who struck the name out? No.
62. For instance you had access to the papers and you might have struck it out if you had pleased, and if you had access to them others might have had? No one had.
63. Can you swear that no one had access to them? Mr. Blackman locked them up and took the key with him. Yes; I think some one else had access to them. I remember that the messenger from the Court shifted them from one room to another.
64. Did you hear Mr. Blackman state positively who he had voted for? Yes; this was the conversation I had with him.
65. Was it a private conversation? Yes; only he and I were present.
66. He stated to you which of the candidates he voted for? Yes; he stated it the way I have said, that he had elected to vote at the wrong time.
67. Mr. Pilcher.] Did he say he had voted for Mr. Rouse? Yes, he did; but he said he would have voted.
68. Chairman.] What do you mean by saying "he would have voted"? He voted before the time, but he would have had a vote, as the numbers were equal. He would have had a casting vote, so that no damage had been done.
69. But he actually voted for Mr. Rouse? Yes.
70. Is that so? Yes.

222. What did he do with the paper when he had picked it up? He put it in—at least I could not say, because I left the room at once.
223. Had he the paper in his hand when you left the room? I could not say.
224. All you can say is that you marked out a name on the paper, folded it up, and left it on the table? Yes.
225. Chairman.] You struck out one name? Yes.
226. One name of the two candidates? Yes.
227. Mr. Copeland.] Do you still decline to answer the question we have put to you as to who you voted for? Yes, unless the Committee think proper to make me.
228. Mr. Day.] Suppose you refuse to give us the information we require, and suppose a witness comes and swears that you voted for Mr. Rouse, would that be true? No.
229. Remember what you are doing, and the caution the Chairman has given.
[Mr. Moses objected to the mode of examining the witness.]
230. Mr. Copeland.] Did you see any person do anything with this paper? As soon as I put it on the table some one picked it up, but I cannot say what he did with it, as I left the room.
231. Therefore you cannot swear whether you voted at all? No.
232. You cannot say what the person who took up your paper did with it, whether he put it into the box? No.
233. Chairman.] At this stage of the proceedings I think it right to state to you that you should answer the question as to who you voted for?
[Mr. Moses objected to the question. The Committee-room was cleared. Committee deliberated. Objection overruled. Parties were again called in. Examination continued.]
234. Chairman.] The Committee have given this matter very great consideration, and they are of opinion that you should answer the question? (The question was read.) I voted for Mr. Richard Rouse.

Mr. R. Holland, jun. 11 Mar., 1879.

235. Mr. Copeland.] You struck out Mr. Buchanan's and left Mr. Rouse's name? There were only two names and I struck out Mr. Buchanan's.
236. After you marked out Mr. Buchanan's name you say you folded the paper and laid it on the table? Yes.
237. One of the persons present took the paper up, and at this time you left the room? Yes.
238. Do you know what became of that paper? No, I do not.
239. You do not know whether he put it into the box or not? No, I walked out too quick, but I saw some person take it up.
240. And you did not see him put it into the box? No.
241. Mr. Dunn.] If you have said in your evidence that some person picked up the paper and put it into the box I suppose that was a mistake? Yes.

Mr. Cornelius Mooy having been sworn, was examined:—

Mr. C. Mooy. 11 Mar., 1879.

242. Mr. Dunn.] Where do you live? At Guntawang.
243. Do you know whether your name is on the Electoral Roll for the Mudgee Electorate? Yes, it is on.
244. Do you know the number? No.
245. Do you know whether it is No. 2,603? No, I do not know what the number is.
246. Did you vote at the last election? Yes.
247. At what polling-booth did you vote? Guntawang.
248. What age are you? Eighteen. (Mr. Dunn produced a certificate.)
249. See if you are the person referred to in that? (Handing certificate to witness.) Yes, I believe I am.
250. Will you tell the Committee for whom you voted? I decline to answer that.
251. Did any one tell you to decline? No.
252. Why do you decline? Because I always understood by ballot meant secrecy.
253. Did you ever read anything on the subject? No, but I have heard ballot was secrecy, that was all.
254. Mr. Copeland.] I suppose you are aware that being only of the age of eighteen you had no legal right to vote? No, I am not aware of that.
255. Mr. Dunn.] Do you swear that no one told you to say that you declined to answer? Yes.
256. It is entirely of your own thought? Yes.
257. Have you had any conversation with Mr. Blackman on the subject? No, not about voting.
258. Anything about answering? No.
259. You had no conversation whatever with him? No.
260. Not even outside here? Nothing about voting.
261. Concerning answering, as to whether you were to answer or not? No.
262. Chairman.] Did you, after the election, tell any one for whom you voted? No.
263. You did not tell any one? No.
264. The Committee think it desirable in the interests of justice that you should answer the question for whom you voted?

[Mr. Moses objected. The Committee-room was cleared. Committee deliberated. Objection overruled. Parties were again called in. Examination proceeded.]

265. Chairman.] The Committee have deliberated on the matter of your refusal to answer the question put by me, and are of opinion that inasmuch as you are a minor and disqualified under the provisions of the Electoral Act from recording your vote, you cannot claim any privilege in regard to answering the question, and that it is your bounden duty to answer any that may be put to you—therefore I now desire you to say for whom you voted? I shall have to answer?
266. Yes? I voted for Mr. Rouse.
267. Mr. Copeland.] You struck out Mr. Buchanan's name? Yes.
268. And left Mr. Rouse's name on the paper? Yes.
269. What did you do with the paper after? I put it in the box.
270. You did not hand it to any other person but put it into the box? Yes.
271. Who told you your name was on the Electoral roll? I saw it on the Electoral roll at the public-house. Everybody said when your name was on the roll you were entitled to vote, and I thought I was.
272. No one pointed out to you that your name was on the roll? No.
273. Did any one point out to you that you were not entitled to vote on account of your age? No.
274. Did not your father? No, my father is dead.
275. Did they ask your age when you went into the polling-booth? No.
276. Did they ask no questions at all? Only two questions.
277. Dr. Bowker.] What was your father's name? Jacob.

FRIDAY, 14 MARCH, 1879.

Present:—

R. R. S. Bowker, Esq., M.D., H. Copeland, Esq., G. Day, Esq., H. Moses, Esq.,
R. B. Smith, Esq., in the Chair.

John Want, Esq., appeared as counsel on behalf of the Petitioners.

Mr. Want intimated to the Committee that if necessary he should apply for a scrutiny.

Mr. James Foreman, having been sworn, was examined:—

Mr. J. Foreman. 14 Mar., 1879.

278. Mr. Want.] Where do you reside? I reside in Mudgee at present.
279. Were you Presiding Officer at the last Mudgee election, at Gulgong? I was at Hunter's Hill booth.
280. Was that one of the polling-booths for the election that day? Yes.
281. On the 6th of January I believe? Yes, I think it was.

282. Do you know a man named Patrick Stanners? No, I cannot say I do.
283. Do you remember a man coming in, marking something on one of the papers, and leaving it somewhere? Yes. Mr. J. Foreman. 14 Mar., 1879.
284. Tell us what he did? It was within a minute of 4 o'clock I think when he came in, and I handed him the paper; there were some other people coming in at 4 o'clock, and I shut the door, and waited there till he came, to let him out. As he was going I heard them sing out to him, and when I went back there was the paper lying on the table.
285. What do you mean? One of these ballot-papers—I did not know exactly what to do with it, and I asked Mr. Buchanan's scrutineer if he objected to its going into the box; he hesitated for a while, and I think after a while he did object; but I put it into the box as I thought that was the proper thing for me to do if a man voted—I looked to the book for directions, but could not see anything relating to a paper like that.
286. Then you put it into the box? Yes.
287. You were not asked by the man to do so? I was asked by Mr. Rouse's scrutineer.
288. You were not asked by the man who scratched out the name on the paper? No.
289. Can you tell who the vote was for? I will not positively swear, but to the best of my recollection it was for Mr. Rouse.
290. You say Mr. Buchanan's scrutineer objected, and Mr. Rouse's scrutineer wished you to put it in;—you have no doubt of that? I have no particular doubt about it.
291. That was put in after this man left the room? After he had left the room.
292. Do you know a man named John Budgeon? I know John Brigdon.
293. Did he act as poll-clerk on that day? Yes, he did.
294. At what time did the voting commence? At 9 o'clock.
295. At what time did Brigdon come? I do not know; he was not sworn in until half-past 9 or twenty minutes to 10 o'clock.
296. He was not sworn in, and did not come until half-past 9? No.
297. At all events not until some time after the poll commenced? No; I could tell if you liked how it happened: There was another poll-clerk appointed before him, named James Honeysett, and he did not come, and then Mr. Blackman telegraphed to me to get another sworn in by a Justice of the Peace.
298. Mr. Copeland.] Were you appointed as presiding officer? Yes.
299. Who appointed you? Mr. Blackman.
300. How did he appoint you? He appointed me by giving me a declaration to make.
301. You subscribed to that declaration? I signed the declaration, and I acted according to the declaration.
302. Clause 33 of the Electoral Act says (Mr. Copeland read the clause). Did you make a declaration before a Justice of the Peace? Mr. Blackman is a Justice of the Peace.
303. I suppose you signed your name to some form of declaration? I did. I had a written declaration; it was not printed.
304. Do you remember whether that declaration was in the form of Schedule C of this Act (Mr. Copeland read the form)? That was the form I believe.
305. You have stated that you saw a voting-paper laid upon the table? Yes.
306. Did you notice that Mr. Buchanan's name was struck out? I believe it was—Yes.
307. Was it struck out? Yes, I am positive.
308. Mr. Rouse's name was not struck out? No, his name was not touched.
309. Mr. Buchanan's name was struck out, and Mr. Rouse's was not? Yes.
310. That paper was afterwards put into the ballot-box? Yes.
311. Mr. Day.] Was the paper folded? No, it was open on the table. I think one of the scrutineers called the man back to put it into the box, and he did not heed him.
312. How do you know that any voter had used that paper? I gave him the paper.
313. Did you see him put it on the table? I believe I did see him, and asked him to come back, but he went through the door in a hurry.
314. You saw him put it on the table after he had come out of the polling-booth? Yes, I saw him when he came out; he went towards the box and put it near the box. I think he was in a hurry to get out and thought he had put it into the box. I believe he was not looking at the box, and that it dropped alongside the box.
315. It was not folded at all? He had folded it up so (describing a loose folding of a paper), and it blew open on the table. They were looking at it, and I think they called him back to put it in the box, but he did not stop.
316. You were satisfied that a voter had voted on that paper? I was perfectly satisfied of that.

Mr. John M'Leod, having been sworn, was examined:—

317. Mr. Want.] Were you acting as scrutineer for Mr. Buchanan at the last Mudgee election? Yes. Mr. J. M'Leod. 14 Mar., 1879.
318. At which booth? At Hunter's Hill, Gulgong.
319. At what time did the voting commence? At 9 o'clock.
320. Do you know John Brigdon, the poll-clerk? Yes.
321. Was he present when the voting commenced? No, not till 20 minutes past 10.
322. Had the voting been going on between 9 o'clock and 20 minutes past 10? Yes.
323. With no poll-clerk present? With no poll-clerk.
324. And it was not possible for the poll-clerk to have seen whether the ballot-boxes were empty or not? No; he did not make the declaration till 20 minutes past 10.
325. Do you know Patrick Stanners? Yes.
326. Did you see him vote on that day? Yes; his was the last vote that was polled.
327. What did he do with his paper? He did not put it in the box; he folded it loosely and threw it upon the table. It was 5 minutes past 4, and he threw it down in that way (describing the action), and ran out. I called after him to come back and put it into the ballot-box, but he did not come back.
328. Could he hear you? I am not aware whether he heard me.
329. Did you call out loud enough for him to hear? Yes.

Mr. J. M'Leod. 14 Mar., 1879.

330. Did you see any one do anything with that paper? Mr. Rouse's scrutineer picked it up, and was going to place it in the box, and I objected.
331. Who was the vote for? Mr. Rouse.
332. Did you see Mr. Buchanan's name struck out? Yes; it opened out as it fell down, he did not fold it properly.
333. You objected to it? Yes.
334. What was done with it? Mr. Rouse's scrutineer appealed to the Presiding Officer, and said the Presiding Officer should place it in the box; he objected at first, and then put it in. He said, "I will put it in and chance it." He said after the declaration of the poll, "That vote was worth a Jew's eye."
335. Who said that—the Presiding Officer? No, Mr. Rouse's scrutineer.
336. Mr. Copeland.] What time was it when that voting-paper was placed in the ballot-box? It must have been 10 minutes past 4 when it was placed in the ballot-box, because there had been some words about it.
337. What time was it when the paper was given in? About 5 minutes past 4; the doors were closed when he got that paper.
338. And about a quarter past 4 when that paper was put in? Yes, on or about.
339. Mr. Want.] You say there was some discussion about it at the time? Yes.
340. Mr. Day.] Did the voter come into the room before 4? I am not certain about that.
341. You said the door was closed at 4? Yes, but he was inside at the time; it may have been 2 or 3 minutes after 4 when the door was closed.
342. You took no objection to it? No.
343. Did you see that the ballot-box was empty before the polling commenced? Yes.
344. Mr. Copeland.] Was the question raised at the time this vote was put into the ballot-box as to the time? No; I did not make any remark about the time; I only raised the objection about its being put into the box.
345. You knew it was 10 minutes or a quarter past 4? I knew it was 5 minutes past 4.
346. How did you know that? Because I had my watch in my pocket.
347. Did you look at your watch? Yes.
348. Did any other official? Yes, we all looked at our watches.
349. Was there any remark as to their conformity? All the watches were alike. There were three watches, and we set them all together when we started. There was not 2 minutes difference between the three.
350. Was there any remark made by any of the officials as to the time when this vote was taken? Only they said it was after 4—everybody.
351. Who said so? Some of the scrutineers outside, at the door.
352. What scrutineers outside? There were men placed at the door with the roll to give each voter his number as he came in.
353. These were not scrutineers under the Act. Was any remark made by yourself, by the scrutineer for Mr. Rouse, the Presiding Officer, or the poll-clerk, about the time? Not that I know.
354. You swear that you know what time it was by looking at your own watch? Yes, because they sung out "past 4," and I took out my watch.
355. And no officer or official disputed the time? No; they did not say anything about it.
356. Were there any other votes polled after 4? No. I think that is the only one. There may have been another one. I think there was another one. They were in the room and we did not like to let them go out without voting.
357. Of course you are an elector on the roll? Yes.
358. Dr. Bowker.] You say you saw that this voter voted for Mr. Rouse? Yes.
359. Mr. Day.] Did the Returning Officer go away from the ballot-box to shut the door himself? No.
360. Did you object to proceed without a poll-clerk? No; but Mr. Rouse's scrutineer said he objected to him when he came in at 20 minutes past 10.

47. Is it paid from the Treasury? From the Treasury.
48. Have you not any vouchers showing the payment of this pension to Mr. Fitzpatrick? No; our daily vouchers are sent to the Audit Office, and they are there preserved as a matter of public record.
49. Have you no books of account having any reference to these payments? We have our own books—our cash book—which would show the payment.
50. You said just now that you had no papers that would show these payments? Not here—we have of course our own books which show the payments; but the vouchers being receipts for those payments, are sent in to the Audit Office, and are kept there.
51. You cannot afford the Committee any information whatever respecting this pension? Not any; but I have ascertained from the records kept in the office that a pension is paid.
52. Do you happen to know officially of your own knowledge that Mr. Fitzpatrick is in receipt of a pension of £426 13s. 4d. under the provisions of the "Superannuation Act Repeal Act of 1873"? I am aware of that fact.

54. And you do not produce any extracts from any books you have in your possession with reference to the payment of this pension? I do not, for I did not know for what purpose I was summoned.

Mr. Fitzpatrick said, he would admit that he was in receipt of a pension under the amended Act of 1873, that he had been so since the passing of that Act, save the period during which he was in office, when it was in abeyance, and that he was Member for Yass Plains.

I produce the voucher of the first payment made to Mr. Fitzpatrick, under the "Superannuation Act of 1864," 27th Victoria No. 11, together with a letter from the Colonial Secretary's Department addressed to the Under Secretary for Finance and Trade, informing him of a pension having been granted to Mr. Fitzpatrick "at the rate of two-thirds of his present salary of £800 a year from the above date, subject to the usual deduction," and also the assignment of the pension by the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council. (Vide Appendix.)
57. What do you mean by the assignment? The 15th section of the Superannuation Act, 27th Victoria No. 11, will explain that. (The witness read the section.)
58. Mr. Pilcher.] The words here are "was duly assigned"? Yes.

C. Rolleston, Esq.
28 Mar., 1879.

59. Mr. Fitzpatrick.] Do you know that to be the signature of Lord Belmore? To the best of my knowledge and belief it is his signature. The document is bound up with the records of the Government. I will send the Committee a certified copy. (Vide Appendix.)
60. Chairman.] Do you produce any papers or vouchers referring to any payments made to Mr. Fitzpatrick under the provisions of the "Superannuation Act Repeal Act of 1873," with reference to any pension conferred upon him by the Governor and Executive Council? I have not them with me—they are bound up with the vouchers in the Audit Department; I can produce them.
61. Have you searched for them? I have searched to see whether there were any papers with the vouchers, but there are none, but we can find the reduced pension vouchers. The pension was reduced from, £501 6s. 8d., under the Act of 1864, to £426 13s. 4d., under the Act of 1873.
62. Under the provisions of that latter Act Mr. Fitzpatrick is in the receipt of a pension of £426 13s. 4d.? Yes.
63. At the present time? Yes.
64. You know that of your own knowledge? Yes.
65. And you have the vouchers in your office showing these payments quarterly or monthly, in the aggregate amounting to £426 13s. 4d.? Yes.
66. I suppose the last payment was made to Mr. Fitzpatrick so recently as the 1st March instant? I am not quite sure, but I will look to that.
67. These payments are made monthly? They are usually made monthly.
68. Mr. Fitzpatrick.] The pension assigned to me was the two-thirds part of £800? Yes.
69. You say what I received was £501 6s. 8d.—will you explain what constitutes the difference? The deduction of 4 per cent. from the two-thirds, amounting to £32.
70. And I paid that deduction for five years from my retirement? Yes; under the 6th clause of the Superannuation Act.
71. And the rate was fixed at 4 per cent.? The rate was fixed at 4 per cent.

Michael Fitzpatrick, Esq., M.P., having been sworn, was examined:—

Michael Fitzpatrick, Esq., M.P.
28 Mar., 1879.

72. Chairman.] You are at the present time the elected Member for Yass Plains in the Legislative Assembly of New South Wales? Yes.
73. Mr. Copeland.] You understood at the time you commenced to receive your payments that you could commute the yearly pension for a fixed sum, did you not? I think there is a provision in the Bill that gave me the option of commuting it.
74. Section five of the Superannuation Act admits of such a payment—(reading the clause); were you aware of that clause at the time? Yes.
75. If you had felt inclined, you could have commuted your yearly pension for a fixed sum? Provided the Government agreed with me as to the terms.
76. You preferred to have a yearly pension to taking a fixed sum? If the Government had agreed with me as to the sum, I could have got a fixed payment instead of a yearly pension.
77. Dr. Bowker.] You are a pensioner for life? I am.

ELECTIONS AND QUALIFICATIONS.

SEAT OF JOHN SUTHERLAND, ESQUIRE, MEMBER FOR PADDINGTON.

WEDNESDAY, 13 MAY, 1879.

Present:—

H. Copeland, Esq.,
G. Day, Esq.,
A. H. McCulloch, jun., Esq.,
H. Moses, Esq.,
R. B. Smith, Esq.

Robert Burdett Smith, Esq., in the Chair.

John Sutherland, Esq., appeared as the Sitting Member.

S. W. Jones, Esq. 13 May, 1879.

1. Chairman.] You occupy the position of Clerk of the Legislative Assembly of this Colony? I do.
2. Do you produce the writ of election under which John Sutherland, Esq., the present Honorable Member for Paddington, was elected as Member of the Assembly? I do. (The witness produced the same.)
3. In consequence of that writ certifying to the return of John Sutherland to serve as a Member of the Legislative Assembly of New South Wales for the electoral district of Paddington, did that gentleman take his seat? Yes.
4. He having previously subscribed to the oath? Yes.
5. Mr. Sutherland is still the sitting Member for the electoral district of Paddington? He is.
6. His name is still on the roll? It is.

Gerald Halligan, Esq., having been sworn, was examined:—

G. Halligan, Esq. 13 May, 1879.

7. Chairman.] What position do you occupy in the service of the Government of New South Wales? I am Chief Clerk of the Public Works Office, and am at present Acting Under Secretary for Public Works.
8. You are personally acquainted with the sitting Member for Paddington, the Honorable John Sutherland? I am.
9. Do you produce any tender, acceptance of tender, approval of tender, specification, or contract, with reference to the supply of iron by Mr. John Sutherland or any other person to the Government of New South Wales? There is a specification for the supply of tramway iron which I have here, upon which Mr. Daniel Williams is the only one who has tendered; indeed we did not invite public tenders, but Mr. Williams undertook the work.
10. Is Mr. John Sutherland's name at all mentioned in connection with any tender or contract for the supply of railway iron to the Government of New South Wales? Not that I am aware of.
11. If that were the case, you would I presume be aware of it? I think so. I was summoned to produce all papers relating to this matter. I therefore asked for any papers that were in the office, and was furnished with these, which I now produce as the whole of the papers.
12. Have you gone carefully through the whole of these papers? Yes, I have, with the exception of the specification, which is a long document.
13. In the tender, the agreement, the bond, or any other of the papers you produce, do you see any mention of Mr. Sutherland's name? None whatever.
14. Do you know whether the name of the Lithgow Valley Iron-mining Company is mentioned in the tender, the specification, the articles of agreement, or the bond? No, it is not.
15. There is no mention whatever in any of the papers of the name of John Sutherland the sitting Member for Paddington, or of the Lithgow Valley Iron-mining Company? Not in connection with the tramway.
16. In connection with the contract which has been entered into with the Government for the supply of rails for the proposed tramway from Redfern to Hunter-street? Mr. Sutherland's name is not mentioned in any of the papers.
17. Nor the name of the Lithgow Valley Iron-mining Company, in any way whatever? No.
18. The only parties to the tender, the agreement, and the bond are Mr. Daniel Williams, Mr. John Taylor, and Mr. John Young? Yes; the latter are the two sureties.
19. And the Commissioner for Railways? Yes, he is a party to the bond.
20. And he is a party to the agreement? Yes.
21. Would you be good enough to produce the tender submitted by Mr. Daniel Williams to the Government for the supply of this iron? (The witness handed in the same. Vide Appendix A 1 and A 3.)
22. This is the tender you referred to in the previous portion of your evidence? Yes; the acceptance of the tender is indorsed upon it.

G. Halligan, Esq. 13 May, 1879.

23. Do you produce any articles of agreement entered into between Mr. Daniel Williams and the Commissioner for Railways? Yes. (The witness handed in the same. Vide Appendix A 2.)
24. I notice that these articles of agreement purport to have been made and entered into on the 3rd of April, 1879. The parties to the articles are Daniel Williams, of Sydney, contractor, of the one part, and the Commissioner of Railways of the other. Is this the only agreement that has been entered into by Mr. Williams, or any other person, for the supply and delivery of rails for this tramway to the Government? Yes.
25. You have gone carefully through this agreement, and found that neither the name of John Sutherland nor of the Lithgow Valley Iron-mining Company is mentioned? No. I may state that the Commissioner for Railways told me—and said that I could mention it here—that he was not aware where Mr. Williams was likely to get the iron from.
26. Do you produce a bond between Daniel Williams, of Sydney, contractor, John Young, of Sydney, also contractor, and John Taylor, of the same place, contractor, entered into with the Commissioner for Railways to secure the fulfilment of the contract for the supply of tramway rails to the Government? Yes.
27. Is the name of John Sutherland mentioned in that bond, or of the Lithgow Valley Iron-mining Company? No.
28. Do you produce any other papers having any reference to the matter now under the consideration of the Committee? I have papers in connection with the supply of iron to the Exhibition building.
29. Mr. Moses.] Are you aware that Mr. Sutherland is a contractor with the Government for the supply of iron? No.
30. Has the Lithgow Valley Iron-mining Company a contract with the Government for the supply of iron? Not that I am aware of.
31. Chairman.] Do you produce any other papers with reference to the supply of iron to the Exhibition Building? Yes, but there is no contract in this case at all. (The witness handed in the same. Vide Appendix B 1.)
32. Have you carefully perused the papers you now produce with reference to the supply of iron to the Exhibition building? Yes, and there is no contract.
33. Is Mr. John Sutherland's name mentioned in connection with the supply of iron to the Exhibition building? No.
34. He is no party to any arrangement made with the Government? No.
35. His name is not mentioned in any way with respect to supplying the Government with iron? It is not mentioned in any way.
36. Nor is the name of the Lithgow Valley Iron-mining Company mentioned in connection with this matter? No, there are some accounts here in the name of the Eskbank Iron Company.
37. Mr. Copeland.] Are you aware whether Mr. Sutherland has any contracts with the Government in connection with your department? No, I do not think he has any.
38. You would from your position as Under Secretary to the Works Department know if he had any? I think so; there might be some minor matters entered into without my knowledge, but they would be very small.
39. Are you aware whether the Lithgow Valley Iron Company have any contracts with your department? No, they have not.
40. Are you aware whether the Eskbank Iron Company have? The Eskbank Iron Company is mentioned in the accounts which were forwarded to me.
41. Mr. McCulloch.] Do you know whether there is such a Company as the Lithgow Valley Iron Company? No, I do not, nor did I know of the existence of the Eskbank Iron Company until I saw the name in these papers. (The witness handed in certain papers. Vide Appendix B 2 to B 8.)
42. Mr. Copeland.] Are you aware whether a Company called the Eskbank Iron Company, situated at Lithgow Valley, has any contracts with the Government in your department? No, I am not aware of any.
43. Are you aware whether a Company called the Eskbank Iron Company has any contract in connection with the supply of iron to the Exhibition building? No, I know of nothing except what is stated in these papers, and from these I gather that there is no contract. Without these papers I know nothing whatever of this matter.
44. You consider that there is no contract existing at present, and that none has existed between the Eskbank Iron Company and any branch of your department? There is no contract that I am aware of, unless that is so considered.
45. Chairman.] Have you any further information to afford the Committee in reference to this matter? No. I may add that the Commissioner for Railways told me I might state that, although he knew the iron was manufactured at Lithgow, as he had sent up an officer there to inspect it, he did not know the Company that supplied it.
46. There was no contract? No.
47. Except with Mr. Williams? With no one else.
48. He is the only contracting party with respect to the supply of iron to the Government? Yes.
49. Mr. McCulloch.] Who passes these accounts that are paid for the Exhibition? I think the Colonial Architect. I wrote to the Colonial Architect asking him for such documents as he had in his possession with reference to this matter, for the information of the Committee, and he forwarded these to me.
50. You really know nothing about how these are passed and paid? I believe they are passed by the Colonial Architect and then go to the Treasury, where they are paid.
51. Chairman.] Can you suggest the names of any persons who could afford information to the Committee in reference to the matter under consideration? No. I think I have all the papers that could be obtained from the department on the subject.
52. Mr. Day.] I suppose you have read over the agreement between the Government and Mr. Williams for the supply of these rails for the tramway? I have not read it through carefully. I have looked at the heading and principal portion. I have looked at the signature.
53. Is there anything in the signature of Daniel Williams that would lead you to believe he was contracting for anybody but himself? No.
54. There is nothing to lead you to believe he is acting for a Company? No.
55. Then it is patent on the face of the agreement that he is acting for himself? Yes, according to the agreement.
56. It is signed simply Daniel Williams? Yes.

57. Mr. Copeland.] Have you noticed on this document (referring to one of the papers last handed in) there is this statement—"All cheques received by me as Managing Director of the Eskbank Iron Company please notify to the Treasury.—DANIEL WILLIAMS."? Yes, that has reference to some arrangement with the Treasury I presume. I do not thoroughly understand what these arrangements are, and I have therefore produced all the papers I could obtain. G. Halligan, Esq. 13 May, 1879.

58. Is Mr. Williams in the habit of signing receipts as Daniel Williams simply, or as Daniel Williams, Managing Director of the Eskbank Company? I have not been in the habit of seeing his accounts. The name of Mr. Williams has often come before me as a contractor, but I have never seen it in connection with a Company in any way.

59. Then you know him only as Mr. Daniel Williams, and not as Managing Director of the Eskbank Iron-mining Company? Only as Daniel Williams.

60. Chairman.] You now perform the duties of Under Secretary of Public Works? Yes.

61. And all documents relating to contracts come under your personal knowledge? The Commissioner for Railways under authority of Parliament can enter into certain contracts, but all other contracts come under my notice.

62. You produce to the Committee all documents in your possession, and have also applied to the Commissioner for Railways for any that might be in his? Yes, and he gave me those I have handed in, stating that he had no others.

63. Mr. Copeland.] Have you any receipts in your department from Mr. Williams? No, I have not; the receipts do not come to my department.

WEDNESDAY, 21 MAY, 1879.

John Sutherland, Esq., M.P., having been sworn, was examined:—

64. Chairman.] You are the Sitting Member for the Electoral District of Paddington? Yes. J. Sutherland, Esq., M.P. 21 May, 1879.

65. You are aware of the terms of the resolution moved by the Honorable Member for the Upper Hunter, Mr. McElhone, with reference to your seat? Yes.

66. The allegation of your being a partner in the Lithgow Valley Iron-mining Company? Yes.

67. And that it has been remitted to this Committee to inquire into? Yes.

68. You are also aware of a subsequent resolution moved by Mr. McElhone, amending the terms of the resolution by substituting the word "Eskbank" for the words "Lithgow Valley"? Yes, I am aware of it.

69. You desire to give evidence before the Committee with reference to the allegation contained in the resolution moved by the Honorable Member for the Upper Hunter, Mr. McElhone? Yes; I wish to shorten the work of the Committee, if possible.

70. You have seen the allegation that you are a partner in the Lithgow Valley Iron-mining Company, which has a contract with the Government at the present time for the supply of tramway rails and other ironwork? There are two points to be considered by the Committee, as I understand.

71. I shall first direct your attention to the first resolution, and you can answer the question aye or nay: Are you a partner in the Lithgow Valley Iron-mining Company, which has at the present time a contract with the Government for the supply of tramway rails and other ironwork? They have no contract whatever with the Government. That I have denied in the House, and I now deny it on oath here. What I wanted to understand was whether you were making this inquiry upon the first resolution or upon the second amended resolution of the House. The latter leaves the Lithgow Valley Iron-mining Company out of the question altogether, if I am right in my idea.

72. Mr. Copeland.] I suppose you have not your deed of partnership with you? No, I have not.

73. Have you read the deed of partnership? I can tell you the substance of the deed of partnership.

74. What is the style of the Company in the deed of partnership? The "Lithgow Valley Iron Company, Limited."

75. Is it a registered Company? It has never been registered. I did not join it at first, but it has been wrought up to the present day as an unlimited Company, consisting now, I think, of only seven individuals.

76. These persons each representing one share? No; there are various interests in it.

77. How many interests are there in it? I cannot exactly tell you that. There are some that have nearly half the interest of the Company, by buying others out.

78. How many shares were there originally when the Company was formed? I think at the original formation of the Company there were only eight or ten, I really forget which, at £500 each. It was formed a Company just to test the mines.

79. Now there are only seven persons shareholders? Yes.

80. Holding different proportions in it? Holding different interests; all holding some interest.

81. Is the bill-heading there (referring to the account headed "Eskbank") the form you ordinarily use? No; I have not seen any of these bill-heads.

82. I suppose you have not a bill form about you with the style of the Lithgow Valley Iron Company? I have not, but I think I can explain how this form has crept in. There is a Company in the Lithgow Valley called the Lithgow Valley Coal Company, and the correspondence and communications that have been sent to the Lithgow Valley Iron Company have gone to the other Company, and have sometimes remained months before they reached us. It was therefore thought desirable to change the name of the Company to that of the estate, which is Eskbank.

83. When was this? Some considerable time ago, but it has never been done, and could not be done legally without altering the deed of partnership.

84. Were you ever in the habit of using bill-heads with the name of the Lithgow Valley Iron Company? Yes.

J. Sutherland, Esq., M.P.

21 May, 1879.

85. How long is it since you adopted this? I have very little knowledge of the financial working of the Company, or of how they sent out their bills.
86. Do you notice that the receipt is given to this bill by Daniel Williams, as "Managing Director of the Eskbank Iron Company"? Yes, I see that.
87. Not only is the bill headed Eskbank Iron Company, but Mr. Williams signs as managing director of that Company? There is no such Company in existence at all. I suppose Mr. Williams will give you his evidence if he is called.
88. There is no Company existing of the name of the Eskbank Iron Company? I am sure there is no such Company in existence in that part of the country.
89. Mr. Moses.] Is there any Iron Company in Lithgow Valley? None whatever, but the Lithgow Valley Iron Company.
90. No other Iron Company? No other Iron Company; and the Lithgow Valley Iron Company has supplied iron to the Exhibition building. I want nothing hidden in this matter.
91. Chairman.] The Company with which you are connected have not supplied any tramway rails to the Government? None whatever. The Company, through Mr. Daniel Williams, has supplied Mr. Young with iron from the Lithgow Valley Iron Company for the Exhibition building.
92. Not to the Government? Not to the Government.
93. Mr. Copeland.] They have supplied material to Mr. Young? Mr. Williams has supplied iron to Mr. Young for the Exhibition building.
94. How came he to supply that iron—was it let by contract? I do not know. I think it was delivered to Mr. Young's order. Mr. Young was a customer to the Company to a large extent before he had anything to do with the Exhibition building.
95. Is Mr. Young a shareholder of the Company? He is not. I do not know anything about how it was supplied, but I know that iron from the Company has gone there.
96. Chairman.] I understand you also to say that you have no knowledge of any contract with the Government? The Company has none.
97. Mr. Copeland.] You simply supply the Company at current rates? Below the current rates; that is the reason I believe that we have to supply the iron. Mr. Young requires for this work the iron in very long lengths, and it is not to be obtained in the ordinary stores in Sydney. The price, I believe, for ordinary lengths, that is from 12 to 18 feet, is £12 10s., and we have supplied the long lengths, or any length required, at £11.
98. Mr. Williams supplies on behalf of the Company any order that Mr. Young or the Government chooses to send to them? We would supply anybody; we supplied Mr. Young before this Exhibition building was commenced, and we have done so since.
99. Do you know whether there is any agreement between Mr. Young or any of the Government Departments and the Company to supply any fixed quantity of materials for the future? Not at all; there are some of Mr. Young's orders for as little as two tons or a ton, and they are supplied in the same way as they would be if one of the Members of this Committee sent an order.
100. Supposing it suited the Company's interest, could they refuse to supply any more of this material? Yes.
101. You have no undertaking to supply any given quantity? No; simply an order to deliver. Sometimes we have not been able to deliver it at the time when Mr. Young wanted it.
102. You admit that Mr. Williams does conduct this business on behalf of the Company? Yes, he having a large interest in the product of the Company.
103. You are not aware whether Mr. Young called for tenders for the supply of this material? I know nothing about it, except that I saw Mr. Young's order direct to the manager of the Company for certain sizes of iron. I know nothing more of it than that I know the Company has no arrangement or agreement with Mr. Young; his orders come to the works just as they did before he was connected with the Exhibition building, and he signs himself "John Young, contractor."
104. Have you any contract with the Government for the supply of rails for the tramway? None whatever.
105. Chairman.] The contract was entered into between Mr. Williams and the Government? Between Mr. Williams and the Government. Mr. Williams is the contractor; and the only knowledge I have of this affair at all is derived from a letter I received from the manager of the Company in February last, which I have here.
106. Mr. Copeland.] Mr. Williams is supplying rails to the tramway? Mr. Williams has a contract for supplying tramway rails.
107. Where are these rails being manufactured? At the Lithgow Valley Iron Company's Works.
108. The Company you are connected with? The Company I have an interest in.
109. Do you derive any profit from the Company so far—have you had any dividends from the Company? We have had no dividends, and we have never paid a sixpence for directors' fees. I as one of the directors go to Lithgow and pay my own way. There have been no dividends or direct payments from the proceeds of this up to the present time.
110. Do you know whether the Company keep two sets of books? No, only one.
111. What I refer to in this question is this: you say Mr. Williams has a contract with the Government for the supply of rails, and that this has nothing to do with the Lithgow Valley Iron Company? The contract has nothing to do with the matter. Mr. Williams gives his order for the rails in the same way as he gives orders for other works; he is a customer of the Company.
112. What other works? He has a number of works going on—for instance, the laying the rails at ——
113. Has the Company any interest in that contract? None whatever. He has ordered for other works he has going on—among others, for his coal mines at Newcastle.
114. Has your Company any interest in the coal mines at Newcastle? None whatever.
115. Mr. Williams has been in the habit of dealing with your Company for material? Yes, since ever we have been working he has been dealing with us for almost all that he has had.
116. For the supply of material to other works with which your Company was not connected? Yes.
117. Chairman.] The Company has no interest in this contract? None whatever.
118. That is the purport of your evidence throughout? Yes, that is it.
119. What you say is, that the contract is between Mr. Williams and the Government, and that you simply supply him with iron as you would any other customer? Just the same; he gives his order for it, makes an arrangement with the manager of the Company as to price, and is supplied with it. 120.

120. Mr. Copeland.] You have a manager of the Company independently of Mr. Williams? Yes; Mr. Williams is one of the directors, I am another, and there is a third. Three of the seven shareholders are directors.
121. Mr. Williams signs himself as managing director of the Company? He has had the management of the works and the sale of the iron.
122. Then he simply sells iron to himself on behalf of the Lithgow Valley Iron Company? No; when he wants iron for himself he sends to the manager, and the manager writes to me with reference to the price; but there is a standard price for ordinary iron.
123. Who is the manager? Mr. Hughes.
124. Mr. Williams is simply one of the directors? He is one of the directors.
125. And deals with your Company as an ordinary individual would? Just the same as any other person would. If he wants anything out of the usual class of iron, he makes a separate arrangement with the manager, and if the manager is in doubt he requests the directors to decide. Any ordinary iron Mr. Williams gets as anyone else would, and pays the same price for it.
126. Chairman.] Is not the Company supplying the iron direct to the Exhibition building? ——
127. Mr. Pilcher.] Is the iron supplied direct by you on contract, or sold by you as it would be to any other customer? It is simply supplied on an order from Mr. Young, who signs himself as contractor. Mr. Young had previously been a customer.
128. Did you know at the time you sold this iron that Mr. Young was merely representing the Government? I did not know or think anything about it.
129. You simply sold it to him as an old customer? Yes. I did not know anything about it till I went up on Saturday and saw the books. I go up there once a week.
130. The iron was supplied on orders signed by Mr. Young as contractor? Yes.
131. You say that at the time you first received the orders you did not know, or, as you say, you did not think, whether Mr. Young was representing the Government or not? No.
132. But whether he was or not, when an order came in it was supplied as it would be to any other customer? Just the same, he having previously been a customer.
133. Can you say whether at the time you got these orders from Mr. Young it was publicly known that he was merely representing the Government? I do not know anything about it; but I believe now technically he is not the contractor, but he represents himself as the contractor, and maintains that he was and is.
134. What I want to know is whether at the time you got these orders you knew that Mr. Young was only representing the Government? I did not know, nor did I suppose it was necessary to inquire about it.
135. Were you not aware from statements made in the House by Sir Henry Parkes that Mr. Young was being paid 5 per cent. upon the work? I am aware from statements made in the House that Mr. Young was receiving 5 per cent. for conducting this work; but I am aware, or understood, that Mr. Young was put in the position of a contractor to carry out the work in time, and to do as he would do for himself if he were carrying on a contract for his own profit—to buy in the cheapest market, and to carry out everything the same as a contractor would do. But when the iron was supplied at first these things were never thought of.
136. Then do I understand you to say that up to the present time—using your expression "technically"—you did not believe that Mr. Young was representing the Government? I believe he is representing the Government—that is, technically in law, but he believes himself to have the same control as if he had the contract, but his contract is a percentage instead of a given price.
137. Mr. Copeland.] Will you inform the Committee whether it is within your knowledge that Mr. Young has been supplied with material from your Company for any other works besides the Exhibition building during the time he has had the superintendence of this building? I could not answer that question, but I know that he has had a considerable quantity previously to that time. I know that he has got iron in lengths from us that he could not get elsewhere—some of it 42 feet long, and 5 inches by ⅛inch thick. What has been supplied to him for other works since he had the Exhibition building I could not say.
138. You tell us that the Company supplied iron of a special nature to Mr. Young for the Exhibition building? Yes, and for other works.
139. Was there any special agreement or contract entered into for the supply of this special iron? No agreement, only orders sent to the works. There was no agreement that I know of.
140. Was it supplied at the same rate per ton as the other? The same rate—the Company charged the same rate for the iron all round.
141. So that there was no necessity to make a special contract for the supply of iron of a particular length? I believe he was informed by Mr. Williams that we would charge him the same for long lengths as for short, and he sent for whatever lengths he wanted. He was paying £12 10s. for short lengths, and the Company let him have long or short lengths 30s. a ton cheaper than he could get it elsewhere.
142. Mr. Moses.] The letter written by Mr. Williams offering iron to Mr. Young, was it for the use of the Exhibition or for tramway rails? For the use of the Exhibition.
143. Mr. Day.] Supposing I was to send an order to the Eskbank Iron Company for a supply of iron, would the Company treat directly with me or through Mr. Williams? They would treat directly with you, or with any one who sent them an order. Indeed, three-parts of the orders do not come through Mr. Williams. Mr. Williams, having a direct interest in the Company, simply desires to sell the iron, and presses it upon any one whom he knows; but the orders are generally sent to the manager. On Saturday week, when I was up there, I found many of the orders were sent direct from Mr. Young; sometimes they are sent by telegram.
144. In case of any failure of payment, would the Company sue the Government? No; they would sue Mr. Young, who signs himself contractor.
145. Was there anything on the face of the first order to show that this iron was for the Exhibition building? I do not know.
146. Was there any difference in the order from the orders previously given by Mr. Young? I could not say, for I have not seen these orders. The Company has no contract with Mr. Young; he simply sends orders to us, whether through Mr. Daniel Williams or direct to the works. The orders I have seen have gone direct to the works.

J. Sutherland, Esq., M.P. 21 May, 1879.

147. You have not one of these orders with you? No, I have not; but if the Committee desire it, and there should be another meeting, I can send for them. Some of those I saw were telegrams.
148. Chairman.] Do you wish to make any further statement to the Committee? Not unless the Committee desire to ask any other questions.

Christopher Rolleston, Esq., having been sworn, was examined:—

C. Rolleston, Esq. 21 May, 1879.

149. Chairman.] You are the Auditor General of the Colony of New South Wales? I am.
150. Do you know the object of the inquiry upon which the Committee are engaged? It is stated upon the summons I have received, in which I am required to produce to the Committee some papers from my department.
151. The receipts of the managing director of the Eskbank Iron Company? Yes.
152. In connection with an alleged contract between the Government and the Company—Do you produce any documents or vouchers in relation to this matter? I produce three vouchers, which are the only ones that can be found in the office. (The witness handed in the same. Vide Appendix C 1 to C 3.)
153. Will you explain the purport of those documents? One is for the supply of bricks to the Railway Department, and the two others for the supply of iron to the Exhibition.
154. You have no personal knowledge of the matter under the consideration of the Committee? None whatever.

Daniel Williams, Esq., having been sworn, was examined:—

D. Williams, Esq. 21 May, 1879.

155. Chairman.] What is your occupation or profession? Contractor my calling is.
156. Are you the Daniel Williams referred to in the Articles of Agreement, made and entered into on the 3rd April, 1879, between the Commissioner for Railways of the Colony of New South Wales and yourself? Yes.
157. That is the document referred to, is it not (handing to the witness the Agreement before the Committee)? It is.
158. Is that your signature attached to that document? Yes.
159. Do you occupy any other position excepting that of contractor, as manager, or otherwise? I have various other interests in business.
160. Have you any contract with the Government of New South Wales? I have had eight or nine.
161. For the tramway rails and other ironwork to the Government? There is another contract in connection with the tramway, and another bond.
162. Which is the bond you refer to? There was one contract with the Government for the rails, and another for the fastenings.
163. Between you and the Government? Between me and the Government.
164. Will you explain to the Committee the nature of the contract? The deed will explain it.
165. It is set forth in the deed of the date mentioned by me? Yes.
166. This deed is the agreement you mean? Yes.
167. This is the bond (referring to the bond before the Committee)? Yes. The Commissioner for Railways is the person I deal with. John Young and John Taylor are sureties to the bond.
168. Mr. Copeland.] You say you have eight or nine other contracts with the Government? I have had.
169. Were these contracts taken on your own personal responsibility? Yes; no other name was ever joined with me in any contract I ever had under Government. I think I have had some of the heaviest works undertaken.
170. These contracts were taken on your own behalf—not on behalf of the Eskbank or the Lithgow Valley Iron-mining Company? No; I tendered myself, and the bond was made out in my own name, as shown here, and I found the money to carry it on.
171. Mr. Day.] You went where you liked to supply the iron? Yes.
172. Were you bound by this contract to take iron from the Eskbank Iron Company? No; I bought a great deal because the specification said that the top of the pile should be old rails, and I bought and paid for old rails from the Government in order to carry that out.
173. Did you ever supply any of these rails from any other iron mine or Company than the Eskbank Company? Yes, I have had some of the Fitzroy mine. I purchased from Mr. Keep myself, and I purchased some now being used in the rails.
174. When you enter into any contract with any one, you are not bound to obtain the iron from the Eskbank Company? I am not.
175. You go where you like? I go where I like.
176. And have gone? I bought a hundred tons from England last Friday week, which is now being used.
177. Mr. Copeland.] What is the nature of the other contracts you have at this present time besides supplying these rails and fastenings? I am supplying Mr. John Young at the Exhibition building.
178. By contract? By verbal contract.
179. What is the nature of that contract? That I was to supply him with all special lengths that he ordered, at a certain fixed price. He wanted long rods, 30 or 40 feet in length, and to save blacksmith's work I rolled special lengths, or cut it to any length he wanted.
180. You yourself supplied these? Yes.
181. Independently of the Company? The use of the mill excepted; I was obliged to use the mill.
182. But the Lithgow Iron Company have no interest in this contract? It is taken in my own name, and I receive the money.
183. The contract you allude to for the supply to the Exhibition you say was made in your own name, and the Company has no benefit or interest in the contract? On the first voucher, when I went to the Treasury for payment, Mr. Cronin refused to take my signature alone, and as I wanted the money I signed that form; but, last Friday, when I went for a further payment the account was written on a form of that kind; it was a clerical error, and I took the pen and struck out the name written on the heading.
184. Which heading do you mean—the Eskbank Iron Company? Yes; the heading was Eskbank Company, and I said it was a clerical error; that it should have been John Young, Esq., to Daniel Williams, and that the other name should have been struck out. Mr. Cronin refused to pay me on it, and said I was damaging a Government document. However, he did pay me. 185.

185. However, you have received money on many similar vouchers to this, bearing the name of the Eskbank Iron Company? Yes.
186. You never struck off the name before last Friday? Yes, that is the only one, and I had no alternative to get the money.
187. You mean that the only means you had of getting the money was by signing as you have here, stating that you were the "Managing Director of the Eskbank Iron Company"? Yes.
188. You received the money as Managing Director of the Eskbank Iron Company? According to that; but I had no alternative but to put that, or I could not get the money. He refused to let me have the money on my own signature.
189. Now you assert that the Eskbank Iron Company have no interest in the supply of iron? They have not had the money.
190. You, as one of the directors, received the money—you will have to account to the Company for that money? I am working in my own manner, and if you turn up the other papers you will find the sheets signed by John Williams alone.
191. Is the Committee to understand that you are the Eskbank Iron Company? They would not be wrong in estimating that it was mine.
192. We wish to know whether you have any partners in this Eskbank Iron Company? There are seven gentlemen interested.
193. Are you one? I am one; but in these special cases I took advantage of my position to take this work on my own account, without consulting them at all.
194. Which work are you referring to—the supply of rails, or the supply of the Exhibition? To both. I never consulted any one at all. I saw the thing would stop, and I acted upon my own judgment, and undertook the supply.
195. Supposing there is a profit made out of the supply of iron to the Exhibition, will you derive the whole of the profit yourself, or will the Company share in the profit? They will be paid the rent of the mill.
196. Have you any agreement with them to that effect? No.
197. No verbal agreement? No.
198. Have they ever been paid previously for the use of the mill under similar circumstances? No such circumstances have ever occurred before.
199. How much will be paid? I do not know yet.
200. It is not a settled question? No.
201. Mr. Day.] How do you know that they will agree to your terms;—are there not certain directors who manage this Company? I seldom see them.
202. Is the sole management left to you? No; there is a manager there.
203. From what you say it seems you can do as you like? I had to act, or else the thing would have stopped.
204. Then if they want payment for the iron you will pay only for the rent of the mill? It is my iron—I bought part of it.
205. Bought it from the Company? No; partly the iron I bought at Newcastle.
206. The Committee are asking you with reference to the iron sold to Mr. John Young for the Exhibition, and not to the iron bought at Newcastle.
207. Mr. Copeland.] This old iron you allude to—did you pay for that iron with your own money independently of the Company's funds? Yes, I gave my own cheque for it.
208. Was the item entered in the Company's books? Not at all.
209. Mr. Day.] How many men have you employed at Eskbank? Eighty to a hundred.
210. Who pays them—out of what funds are the wages paid? The last payment came out partly from the sale of iron to the Exhibition—partly out of my pocket.
211. Mr. Copeland.] The proceeds of the sale of iron to the Exhibition—is that entered in the Company's books? Yes.
212. So that although you receive the money as your own individual right, it is entered in the books of the Company? I use the clerks ——
213. Mr. Day.] Is this particular iron debited to you for the Exhibition building and the Sydney Tramway? It is booked to the Exhibition—that is all the heading, and it is with my young man the arrangement is made; and the other account is headed "Tramway Rails."
214. Then the Company look to you for the payment of this iron? Yes.
215. And you look to Mr. Young? Yes, my dealings are with Mr. Young and the Commissioner for Railways.
216. Have you been in the habit of carrying on business in this way with the Company? I have to do it to protect myself.
217. When did this arrangement commence? The first I think was that Mr. John Young wanted to know if we could roll special lengths that he could not buy elsewhere.
218. Is there anything on the face of the order to show that this iron was for the Exhibition building? The first order was given to myself, but it is now done by one of the clerks who calls round.
219. Was the order given to you in writing? No, verbally.
220. Mr. Copeland.] Do I understand that the clerk called round, saw you personally, and asked the price of the iron? No; I called at the Exhibition building, and saw Mr. John Young. I told him I had the means to give him any length he wanted, whether short or long lengths, and smooth rods, and it would save blacksmith's work. He agreed to give me £11 a ton all round. It was a verbal agreement between John Young and myself.
221. After that, whenever Mr. John Young wanted any iron how did he order it? The clerk generally went round and saw the foreman of Mr. Young, and he gave an order initialled by Mr. Young and addressed to Daniel Williams.
222. Whenever he wanted any iron he sent an order for it and initialled it? Yes.
223. The iron was delivered to that order? Yes. Sometimes a telegram was sent to the works, and sometimes to the yard in Terminus-street, where I have a yard of my own.
224. Mr. Moses.] In the purchase of iron for the Exhibition building, does Mr. Young act for the Government? I do not know who he acts for.
225. Who pays the money? I go to the Treasury for it.
226. Then the Government pay for it? I go to the Treasury for it.
227. Then Mr. Young must be ordering this iron for the Government? Yes, he does order it for the Government.

D. Williams, Esq.
21 May, 1879.

228. In the manufacture of this iron, do you mix any new material with the old? Yes.
229. Did that new material form part of the property of the Company? I do not know whether it is their material.
230. If it is taken from the property of the Company it must be theirs? They could not work it.
231. Have you taken it from them by any agreement? No.
232. There was no arrangement that you should take it off their hands? No.
233. Then this new material which you use to mix with the old must be the property of the Company? Well, I suppose it is.
234. Mr. Day.] Have you entered into these two contracts—I am speaking with reference to the supply of iron to the Exhibition building and Tramway—for your own special benefit? Yes.
235. What is the difference between what you pay the Company and what you receive from the Government? I do not think I ought to be asked as to my private affairs.
236. You refuse to answer the question? I do.
237. Does the Company get £11 a ton for the iron supplied to the Government? I am not obliged to say what I give for it, or how I make my arrangements. I have given all the information I can to the Committee.
238. Mr. Copeland.] Do you pay the Company anything for the iron you use—the new iron? No special arrangement has been made.
239. You pay nothing for it, but use it as circumstances require? I use it as I want it.
240. Do you keep a separate account? We know what iron I have purchased or used, and the price at which the pig is sold will be arranged.
241. The pig is the Company's iron? Yes.
242. You have an arrangement for taking pig from the Company at a price? There has been no special arrangement.
243. Do you keep any account of the quantity you use? Yes; everything could be dissected from the books.
244. Are you in the habit of keeping your own accounts in connection with this contract in a separate set of books? No.
245. They are all kept in the books of the Lithgow Valley Iron Company? At the works.
246. So that in point of fact your own private affairs and the Company's affairs are mixed up in the books—they are not kept separate? Yes, the ledger accounts are kept separate.
247. Mr. Moses.] Do you use the Company's plant in manufacturing the iron? Yes.
248. Mr. Copeland.] There is no difference between the contract for the supply of tram-rails and the contract for the supply of iron to the Exhibition? One is verbal and the other written.
249. You consider that both of them are your own private affairs and not the affairs of the Company, and that the Company is not interested in either of them,—is that what I understand you to say? They are interested so far as the use of the plant is concerned. I cannot describe the position without telling you my private affairs in connection with the Company.
250. We do not want to know your private affairs, except so far as they bear upon the question before the Committee. You assert that the Lithgow Valley Iron Company has no interest in the agreement in supplying iron to the Exhibition? I do not say so.
251. Has the Company any interest in it? They will have, because I shall have to pay.
252. They must have an interest now if you are using their plant—the interest is accruing now. What is the nature of the interest the Company will have in this agreement for supplying iron to the Exhibition? I never could get them to meet—I never met them—I did it on my own responsibility.
253. Chairman.] And without the knowledge of Mr. Sutherland, the sitting Member for Paddington? Without the knowledge of Mr. Sutherland; I do not think I ever consulted him at all; he is here to answer.
254. Mr. Day.] Did the directors give you authority to act upon your own responsibility? I took it.
255. Without their authority? They are in all parts, and there is the greatest difficulty to get them together. There was an opportunity, and I took it upon my own authority to do it.
256. Have you ever met since? No.
257. Do they know you have entered into these contracts? I do not know that they even know that.
258. Mr. Pilcher.] Is this interest which you say the Company have in the agreement with reference to the supply of iron to the Exhibition building something which you have to pay them when it is determined what quantity of iron you have taken from them? Yes, that is what I mean—I shall have to pay the Company.
259. Mr. Copeland.] Supposing you were to make a loss in supplying these tram-rails, would the Company bear any proportionate amount of that loss? I should not ask them.
260. Where are you getting the material from to supply these tramway rails? I have said that part was made from the old rails I purchased, part from the Fitzroy that I bought of Mr. Keep, part from some I purchased on the wharf at Newcastle, 100 tons, and there is only 180 tons. This is all purchased with my own money, and any portion I have taken from the Company I shall have to pay for.
261. You will have to pay them for the use of the mill? Yes.
262. Mr. Pilcher.] Would this give you pretty accurately what you would have to pay for, within a few pounds—taking the ultimate weight of the iron used, and deducting from it the weight of that paid for by you to Mr. Keep and others, would the difference be the quantity you had received from the Company? Yes, within a few pounds.
263. Mr. Copeland.] When you are making these rails at the works, are you also making any other kind of iron? No.
264. The whole machinery is used at one time simply in making these rails? Yes.
265. What are the men doing when they are not making these rails? They are preparing various works for sale—tiers and other ironwork.
266. Do you keep separate accounts of these works? Every man's time is booked four times a day, whether on the mill, furnace, or foundry work.
267. Do you keep a separate account of the time they are working in making these tram-rails? They are paid for rails according to the size of the iron, they are paid separate for rails, and different prices for the iron that goes to the Exhibition. They are all paid piece work, and it is easy to take from the books the amount paid for each kind of work—so much money for rolling-rails and so much for other work.

268. One part of the day they may be making rails to supply this contract of your own with the Commissioner for Railways, and another part of the day in other work? No, because the heat they require must be obtained in the morning. D. Williams, Esq. 21 May, 1879.
269. One part of the week then they may be employed in making iron solely on the Company's account, and another in making these rails for you—is that so? Yes.
270. And you are able to distinguish between the work they do for the Company and the work they do for you? Yes.
271. Do you distinguish? It is booked whether they are at work on the rails or on other iron, that is booked every night.
272. You have not had a settlement on this account? No, I have had no money from the Government.
273. Did this mixed-up system commence with the Exhibition building work? With the Exhibition.
274. Prior to the time of making the agreement with Mr. Young, were the men working simply on behalf of the Company? Yes.
275. You had no separate arrangement? No, the Company was in difficulties; there was an opportunity, and I took it upon myself without reference to them.
276. Chairman.] Have you any deed of settlement in your possession? No.
277. Was there any deed of settlement on the formation of the Company? Yes.
278. Where is it? In the City Bank.
279. Were you a party in that deed? Yes; it is a mortgage.
280. Is Mr. Sutherland a party to that deed or mortgage? It is mortgaged to the City Bank.
281. Mr. Copeland.] Is there any deed of partnership? No, none whatever. The Company was intended to be limited, but there was a disagreement, and I had to purchase two out, and the deed has never been signed.
282. Whatever partnership agreement there may be between you, it is a verbal agreement? That is it.
283. Is Mr. Sutherland one of the partners? He is a partner in the works; he is a shareholder in the works of the Lithgow Valley Mining Company.
284. And in the mine? Yes, of course, in the mines; there are several.
285. I suppose Mr. Sutherland is a partner in the produce of the mines? In the mines and working, but not in this contract.
286. These contracts are exclusively yours? Yes.
287. If you make a loss by these contracts, will a portion of that loss fall upon the Company? No, upon myself.
288. If you make a profit, the Company will not derive a portion of that profit? I would not offer it to them. I pay what the iron is valued at, and I would charge myself for the use of the mill.
289. Could any other person make the arrangements with the Company you have made—for instance, could I, if I desired it? Yes, if you had the iron to roll they would lease the mill to you.
290. Has any such thing been done with any person besides yourself? No, not at this mill.
291. Chairman.] Has this Company been registered? No.
292. No deed of co-partnership has been signed? The lease has been signed.
293. By whom? I think it was from Thomas Brown, to Philips, Denny, and another, in Bathurst, and transferred to the City Bank.
294. I think you have said that this Company sold the iron to you, and you sold it to Mr. Young? That is simply the substance and truth of the matter. What they could not give me I bought from others—some from Mr. Keep, and some imported from England.

James Barnet, Esq., having been sworn, was examined:—

295. Chairman.] You are Colonial Architect to the Colony of New South Wales? Yes. J. Barnet, Esq.
296. You have been summoned to produce several receipts and vouchers with reference to the matter under the consideration of the Committee? Yes. 21 May, 1879.
297. That is, the question as to whether John Sutherland, Esq., the Honorable Member for the Electoral District of Paddington, is a partner in the Lithgow Valley Iron-mining Company, and whether that Company has a contract with the Government at the present time for the supply of iron;—do you produce those documents? Yes. (The witness handed in the same. Vide Appendix D 1 to D 11.)
298. These are the vouchers which you have in your possession having reference to the supply of iron to Mr. John Young? Yes.
299. The contractor for the Exhibition building? Yes.
300. These vouchers are all in the name of John Young? Yes; they are initialled by John Young and my foreman.
301. Can you afford the Committee any information with reference to this contract or alleged contract? I know no more about the matter than these papers will show.
302. I notice that this voucher (referring to the same) is in the name of the Eskbank Iron Company? I think one is in the name of the Eskbank Iron Company.
303. And the others are all in the name of Mr. Williams? Yes.

WEDNESDAY, 28 MAY, 1879.

Present:—

H. Copeland, Esq., | A. H. McCulloch, junr., Esq.,
G. Day, Esq., | H. Moses, Esq.

Robert Burdett Smith, Esq., in the Chair.

John Sutherland, Esq., appeared as Sitting Member.

John Young, Esq., having been sworn, was examined:—

304. Chairman.] Could you inform the Committee the exact position you occupy in connection with the erection of the building for the International Exhibition of New South Wales? I have a contract with the Government to erect it for them. J. Young, Esq. 28 May, 1879.
305.

J. Young, Esq. 28 May, 1879.

305. Then you are the contractor? I am the contractor for the erection of the building. I have an agreement.
306. Could you mention the nature of your duties in connection with that contract? I have to superintend the construction of the Exhibition building as contractor.
307. Is it part of your duty to enter into contracts, or are you empowered by the Government to enter into contracts with any persons for the supply of goods or materials for the erection of the building? Yes.
308. You are acquainted with the Honorable Member for Paddington, Mr. John Sutherland? Yes.
309. Have you entered into any contract with Mr. John Sutherland for the supply of any materials or goods for the erection of the Exhibition building? No.
310. There is no contract existing between you and Mr. John Sutherland for the supply of any materials or goods for the erection of the Exhibition building? No.
311. There is no contract existing between you and Mr. John Sutherland for the supply of any iron work for the Exhibition building, for which you are the contractor? No.
312. Have you entered into any contract with any other person for the supply of iron for the Exhibition building? No.
313. Have you had any transactions with any other person for the supply of iron for the Exhibition building? A great number.
314. Have you had any transactions with any Company with which Mr. Sutherland is connected? Yes—at least I do not know of my own knowledge whether Mr. Sutherland is connected with it.
315. What is the Company? I presume you mean the Lithgow Valley Company, or I think it is called the Eskbank Iron Company.
316. Could you explain to the Committee the nature of the contract, or of any arrangement you have entered into with the Eskbank Iron Company for the supply of iron to the Exhibition building? I have ordered iron of them.
317. Could you mention the date of your first transaction with the Company? The first transaction would be in January I think. (The witness referred to a book.) Not in January—I have gone through the orders for January.
318. Have you any document—anything in writing, showing any transaction with the Company? I have nothing beyond these orders. These are the butts of the orders. (Referring to the book.) The first is dated 6th February, 1879:—"Please deliver thirty-six 1¼ wrought iron bars, 27 feet long each; two tons of 1 in. round iron bars; two tons ¾, one ton 1½ in. bar iron." That is ordered by myself.
319. Addressed to whom? To the Lithgow Valley Works—I do not think that is the right name—I think it is the Eskbank Iron Works; but either would find it—there is only one there.
320. Did any letter accompany the order? No.
321. To whom was that delivered? It was posted to the Company.
322. And beyond that nothing further occurred? Nothing further occurred at that date.
323. No contract appeared in writing? No.
324. That is the only document that appeared in connection with the supply of iron to the Exhibition building? At that particular date.
325. Was the iron referred to in that order supplied to the Exhibition building? Yes. The ⅝ths and ½-in. they had not got, so did not supply.
326. When you say "they" did not supply, you mean the Company? The Company did not supply it.
327. You had no interview or conversation with Mr. Sutherland respecting this matter? No. I saw Mr. Williams, and asked him what he was going to charge. He said he would do it at £11 a ton. I was then paying £12 10s.
328. The only party to the transaction was Mr. Williams? Mr. Williams said he would charge £11 a ton for it. This order was sent, not in consequence of that conversation, because it was sent before that. The next order was: "February 10th, ½ ton ½-inch square iron bars, ½ ton ⅝ ditto, ¾ ditto ⅞."
329. Addressed in similar terms to the previous order? Just the same.
330. In pursuance of that order the iron was supplied? Yes.
331. Did you give any vouchers to Mr. Williams to enable him to be paid at the Treasury? I did.
332. Beyond that you had nothing whatever to do with it? Nothing.
333. You had no interview with Mr. Sutherland, or negotiation with him, in reference to this iron? I never mentioned it to him.
334. He was no party to any arrangement? No.
335. You say there was no contract? No; because if there had been a contract they must have supplied it; and in this case they did not supply the whole of the order. At this particular time the price of iron was £12 10s. a ton. That is what is termed the current market rate, and I ordered this, knowing very well that they would not exceed the market rate whatever it was; but when I saw Mr. Williams, he said they would charge £11 per ton, being 30s. under the market rate. In consequence of this other parties were willing to supply at the same price, but previously at Lassetter's and all over Sydney the price had been £12 10s. When, however, it leaked out that we were being supplied at £11, the price came down to £11, and £11 has since been the current rate all through. One was bidding against the other.
336. Up to what time did you continue to give orders? Up to the present time. I do not think there has been anything very lately. I notice here, on February 14th, there is an order to the Lithgow Valley Company for 7 tons of 1¼ round iron bars. They were made an express length, and saved me about £2 a ton for welding. They served me because they could roll them to order.
337. Mr. Williams you say is the only gentleman with whom you negotiated the matter of the supply of this iron? He is the only person, except Mr. Hughes, who came once or twice.
338. Who is Mr. Hughes? I think he is the manager; he came down to see whether the quality of the iron suited, and to let us know what they could do at the place, so that in the event of our wanting anything unusual we could get it. This was a great convenience, because in purchasing the imported iron you must have it of certain lengths, and then you have to weld it to the length required, whereas at the works they could roll it to order.
339. It was quite optional on the part of the Company to supply this iron or not? Quite. In fact there was some ordered that they thought they could set their rollers to, but they found they could not, and they did not supply the iron ordered. I find here Lithgow Valley again (referring to book), 20th February, 4 tons 1¼, 24 feet length.

340. You gave that order in the ordinary course of business, just the same as you would to anybody else? Just the same as to anybody else.
341. Mr. Copeland.] You say you have seen Mr. Hughes in connection with this business? Yes. He called down to see whether the iron was suited and to tell us what they could roll at the Company's works.
342. Mr. Hughes is the manager of the works? Yes.
343. Is he the manager for Mr. Williams, or is he the manager for the Company? That is more than I can tell you.
344. You do not know? No.
345. Mr. Hughes saw you in connection with this business? Yes; and spoke of the quality of the iron, the lengths, and what they could roll at the works—what they were competent to do.
346. Was it understood that the contract was taken on Mr. Williams's own responsibility, or that you were going to get the iron from the Company? Well, it was sent to the Company, but Mr. Williams did all the transaction and received the money. I looked to Mr. Williams, and he arranged it all. I did not know anything about the Company in any shape or form.
347. Was there any arrangement as to the quality of the iron that was to be supplied at £11 a ton when the price was supposed to be £12? No; they were going to charge me £12 a ton for anything I chose to take. They were soliciting orders and said, "If you will give us orders we will supply you at that price." I gave them some and gave other orders to other parties. I dare say fourteen or fifteen persons are supplying it, and Mr. Macintosh is supplying me with as much as anybody.
348. Mr. Day.] What Mr. Macintosh? The Member.
349. Member of the Legislative Assembly? Yes. In just the same manner. For instance, there is an order (referring to book) just the same.
350. Mr. Copeland.] In fact there is no difference in this transaction from ordering a pound of nails? Just the same.
351. You would send the same kind of order if you wanted a pound of nails? Just the very same. It is not to their interest to charge too much. If they did I would not pay it.
352. You say you have a contract for the erection of the Exhibition building? Yes.
353. Have you a written contract? Yes, a written contract drawn up by the Crown Solicitor.
354. Would you be compelled to carry out the building against your will supposing you wished to discontinue the work? I think if I did not carry it out they could come down upon me for heavy damages; at least, I fancy so; I should not like to try it.
355. You do not look upon yourself as merely a superintendent of the building, but as a contractor? It expressly says so in the agreement.
356. Mr. McCulloch.] What is the nature of your contract with the Government? I have to build the Exhibition building for them, and to do certain things set forth in the agreement, and to get the building completed by the 1st of September.
357. What is the price? No price is mentioned.
358. What have you to do? It is set forth in the agreement, which I am willing to produce at any time. It is now at my house.
359. In what way do you contract with sub-contractors? I use my own judgment in any way I think fit.
360. Who pays them? The Government, on my certificate.
361. Is the amount paid charged to an account against you, or charged to the Exhibition? Charged to the Exhibition, but if I go to the Treasury I have to sign for the money.
362. Is not the course you adopt with regard to this money the following:—Do you not sign a certificate with reference to the article supplied, the price at which it has been supplied, does not that certificate go to the Colonial Architect, who initials it, from him to the Treasury, and does not the Treasury then pay the person? Yes; but it comes to me first, and I have to give a certificate as to the correctness of the account.
363. You have no contract with the Government to pay for these materials? Not to pay for them myself personally—that is not part of my contract.
364. I want to know how the arrangement with Mr. Williams first came about—you say you did not ask him anything about the price for the first lot of goods you sent for? Previous to giving him an order at all he solicited an order, he said, "I hope you will give us a turn"; and I said "Yes."
365. Did you ask him anything about the price then? No; because if the price did not suit, and the quality were not the best, I would not have had it at all.
366. On that you ordered some goods, and he stated the price? Afterwards he stated what he was going to charge. I asked him what he was going to charge for that iron; he said, £11. I said, "That is satisfactory"; because I was looking at the quality of the iron, and the unusual lengths which we should require. If he had wanted to charge £14 or £15 I should have said, "I will not have any more."
367. He told you he would supply you at £11—was there no written memorandum at any time? Not at all.
368. On that you used to send orders without asking the price of any of the articles? Yes.
369. Supposing he had sent down iron, and after that had sent in his bill for it at £13 or £14 a ton, what would you have done? I should have refused to pay, though I suppose I must have paid if he had done so; but I should have stopped there and then, and have refused to give him any more orders.
370. All the orders you sent him after that first were upon the basis of £11 a ton, the price he agreed to charge? Yes. I knew the price for iron of a certain quality at that time was £12 10s. a ton, and if Lassetter had in the same month sent me a bill charging £12 and £12 10s. for the same iron I should knock off the extra amount, although there is no understanding as to the price, but from my knowledge of the market price I could say whether it was wrong. Just in the same way I should have acted with this Company.
371. In this case you could not have knocked off anything from the £11? There is the current market price of goods which we know well, and we will not exceed that—I do not exceed that to anybody. If any one charges more I knock it off the account, and it is not disputed.
372. Mr. Moses.] Did Mr. Williams submit the price to you in writing? No.
373. You say you are the contractor for the erection of Exhibition building? Yes.
374. Do you get paid a commission upon the cost of the erection of the Exhibition building? Yes.
375. That is the contract? Yes.

J. Young, Esq. 28 May, 1879.

376. Mr. Day.] Do you know the shareholders in the Eskbank Company? Only Mr. Williams.
377. Were you in the habit of sending orders to the Eskbank works previous to the building of the Exhibition building? Yes, for myself.
378. Was there any difference between these orders you sent for yourself and those you sent for the Exhibition building? They were precisely the same. These (producing them) are my orders for other buildings, and these (producing another book) are my orders for the Exhibition building.
379. Then the contract for the supply of this iron, whether verbal or written, is between you and Mr. Williams simply? Yes, if it is a contract.
380. Do you regard it as a contract? No, certainly not. I could show you, I think, eighteen or twenty accounts for iron. For instance, Lassetter's, Friend's, Macintosh's, Drysdale and Roberts's, Fletcher's, and any quantity of others. They are all precisely the same kind of orders, and if you asked them if they had any contract with me for iron they would smile at you, and there are some of these who have supplied me with ten times as much as the Lithgow Valley Company.
381. Chairman.] You have had great experience as a builder? Yes.
382. Extending over many years? Yes.
383. According to the usage of trade, would you regard this transaction as a matter of contract? No. A contract for materials, as I would understand, would be where you wanted a special thing of a certain quality and a certain quantity, a certain scantling in a given time, and as a rule where you would get half-a-dozen persons to compete, and you would take the lowest tender.
384. If Mr. Williams had refused to supply this iron to you, would you have resorted to any remedy against him? None whatever. In fact it was so; they did not supply what was ordered because they could not, and I have not got it.
385. Then I understand you to say that in your opinion this transaction was not binding either upon you or upon Mr. Williams? Certainly not.
386. For that reason you do not regard it in the light of a contract? Yes. In the ordinary acceptation of the term, if a man says, "I will do this for you at such a price," it is a contract. If you go strictly by the word contract, it is giving your word for a thing, and it ought to be the same as entering into a written agreement. But if I go into a shop and say, "What is the price of this sugar?" the shopman says, "4d.," and you get it, it is scarcely a contract to supply the sugar at 4d. a pound.
387. Mr. Sutherland.] Is it not your custom to have for every building you undertake a separate order-book? Yes, I have a separate order-book for every contract.
388. Mr. Copeland.] Would you suffer any penalty if you were not to complete the erection of the Exhibition building within a certain time? Of course I am not a lawyer, and can hardly give an opinion on the matter, but I should not like to give the Government an opportunity.
389. Is there any provision in the contract to that effect? No, there is none named.
390. Are there any sureties? No. Any person who sent me in an account without specifying what contract it was for—I will not receive an account unless it is for a specific contract. Some tradesmen have ten or fifteen accounts against me, but none of them are intermixed; they are each for separate contracts.
391. Your agreement with the Government is simply an ordinary agreement to superintend the erection of the Exhibition building? No, it is not an ordinary but an extraordinary agreement. You will see that the accounts are made out in my name. I would not receive any account in the name of the Government.
392. There is no stipulation that such should be the case in your agreement with the Government? Yes, there is. I do not receive any account unless it is made in the name of John Young. Even the water at the place I had to give a bond for before they would lay it on.

John Sutherland, Esq., M.P., further examined:—

J. Sutherland, Esq., M.P. 28 May, 1879.

393. Chairman.] You have already been sworn? Yes.
394. Do you desire to give any further evidence on your own behalf in this matter? I desire to put in a letter that I showed to the Committee the other day, as it is a material point of the charge against me that the Lithgow Valley Company is a contractor for the tramway rails for the Government—all that I know of that matter is from the letter addressed to me by the manager of the Company, which I wish to have published with the evidence. I wish to retain the original letter, but this is a copy, certified by your clerk. (The witness handed in the same. Vide Appendix E.) That is all I know with reference to the tramway contract. The Company supplied the rails to Mr. Williams in accordance with the manager's arrangement with him. With reference to supplying the Exhibition building, I have already stated in evidence that I am a member of a Company that has supplied the Exhibition building with iron, but that has been supplied to Mr. Young as contractor. We have not supplied a great deal, but we have saved the Government a considerable amount of money by that supply, because we have supplied lengths that Mr. Young could not get in the Colony, and we have supplied it at the same price as he pays for ordinary iron. The Constitution Act supposes that no Member of Parliament shall make a profit out of any contract entered into with the Government, and the Company has never paid a dividend—has never paid a director's fee; and it is uncertain whether the shareholders will be able to get a profit out of the iron supplied to either the Exhibition building or to the tramway. At all events they have not received any as yet, and are not likely to have any for some time to come.
395. Mr. Copeland.] When did you receive this letter? On the day after the date of it. They have a travelling post office on the train, and if it were given to the guard at Lithgow in the morning I would receive it at 10 o'clock in the morning. I have the minute-book of the Company with me, and I can show that no member of the Company or manager of the Company is permitted to enter into any contract on behalf of the Company, and I suppose the gentlemen of the Committee will know that there is good reason in some Companies for such a provision. Our Company took the precaution of preventing the Company or any member of the Company entering into any contract without the permission of the Directors. The manager is to do all he can and to be assisted by the directors to supply iron from the mine, but to guarantee nothing but the quality of the articles supplied; and, as a matter of fact, Mr. Young sent an order for a quantity of iron of a certain description that was not supplied, which proves there was no contract.
396. Mr. McCulloch.] Who authorized Mr. Williams to solicit an order from Mr. Young? Mr. Williams having having such a deep interest in the Company as he has, I suppose would solicit orders from anybody likely to become purchasers of the article. There was no authority, for there was no knowledge of it, and there were orders supplied before Mr. Williams knew anything about it, and before I knew about it. I did not know about it for a month afterwards, until I went to the works to pay the men. J. Sutherland, Esq., M.P. 28 May, 1879.

397. What is the nature of the arrangement that Mr. Williams has made with you about this iron that is supplied for the tramway? The arrangement made with Mr. Williams is simply that he is to be supplied with it at the same price as he was paying for the rails previously supplied to him, and the manager in his letter stated that to me. I did not say anything to the contrary, and it stands at that. I believe I stated in the House openly what the arrangement was, and that is the reason I am here.

398. Mr. Copeland.] Has Mr. Hughes any clerks in the office? Yes, he has a clerk and time-keeper.

399. I suppose the clerk conducts the correspondence? Generally, not always; you will oftener see the letters in Mr. Hughes's handwriting. That is written by the clerk and signed by Mr. Hughes.

400. Mr. McCulloch.] How are these tramway rails made—do the Company buy the old iron? No, Mr. Williams buys the old iron, or has bought; what has been purchased from the Government has been bought by Mr. Williams. He having large works at Newcastle, has picked out that which is suited to his purpose; for instance, some of the old rails for sidings to his mine there; he has also sold some to people at Newcastle, and that which has been left undisposed of he sells to the Company I believe.

401. He sells that to the Company? I suppose the Company has purchased it of him; but I cannot say that, because we have not had a meeting of the Company since the transaction, but I know that what Mr. Williams purchased at Newcastle was used as I have said.

402. Mr. Copeland.] Is Mr. Williams in the habit of trafficing with the Company—selling them material and buying from them? Yes, he buys and sells in the way I have stated.

403. Has he ever done so previous to the erection of the Exhibition building? This was previous to the Exhibition altogether. Of course the Company are not obliged to purchase of him, but as he has a number of works and purchases largely, it is an advantage to the Company to be supplied with small quantities at the price he has paid in purchasing a large quantity, as he lets us have the iron at the price he has paid for it. But this is a matter between Mr. Williams and Mr. Hughes, and the Company knows of it only when it goes through the books. Mr. Williams is a large shareholder, and has supported the Company with money when it has been short and could not provide it.

404. Mr. Moses.] Has Mr. Williams bought the iron for the tramway from the Company? The tramway iron has been supplied to Mr. Williams at the price named in the manager's letter. It is the same price as he has paid for other iron which he has bought for himself for other works.

405. Then he sells again to the Government? When I first saw the manager's letter I thought Mr. Williams was the contractor for the tramway, laying it down and everything, but we find now that he is only contractor for the rails.

406. He buys the rails from your Company? Yes.

407. And any profit he makes the Company do not get? Nothing whatever.

THURSDAY, 29 MAY, 1879.

Present:—

H. Copeland, Esq.,
G. Day, Esq.,
A. H. McCulloch, junr., Esq.,
H. Moses, Esq.

Robert Burdett Smith, Esq., in the Chair.

John Sutherland, Esq., appeared as Sitting Member.

John Young, Esq., further examined:— J. Young, Esq. 29 May, 1879.

408. Chairman.] You produce an agreement entered into between "Her Most Gracious Majesty Queen Victoria" on one part, and yourself on the other part, for the erection of the International Exhibition building? Yes. (The witness handed in the same. Vide Appendix F.)

409. Your signature is appended to that document? Yes.

410. I notice that Sir Henry Parkes, Colonial Secretary of New South Wales, signs on behalf of the Queen? Yes, and it is witnessed by the late Mr. Maxwell Allan, the Principal Under Secretary.

411. This is the only agreement you have with the Government of New South Wales? That is the only one.

412. Mr. Day.] Will you read the fourth clause of the agreement? (The witness read the same.)

413. In accordance with this fourth clause, do you consider yourself in every respect the contractor in the erection of this building? Yes; it says so distinctly in this clause.

414. The agreement between you and the Colonial Secretary gives you full power to purchase all materials you may require for the erection of this building, in the same way as if you were the contractor for it? Just the same—there is no difference; I would not take the work in any other way. That is the result of a letter I sent to the Government, stating that I would not take the work in any other way than as contractor.

415. In accordance with that agreement you stand as contractor for this building? Yes.

416. Mr. McCulloch.] How do you arrange about the weights of the iron? It is always weighed at the railway—we get the railway certificates on every load. I am not quite certain whether it is weighed up at Lithgow or below. At all events the railway authorities furnish us with the certificates of weight on each load.

417. What is the arrangement you make with regard to other iron that comes to you from other places? Just the same.

418. Supposing you bought the iron from Drysdale and Roberts, or other firms? We weigh it ourselves, or sometimes take their weight.

419. This taking the railway rates is part of the arrangement? Yes. It is not necessary to take the weights in many cases, because we know the weights of iron of a certain length and diameter to a pound.

420. What are the principal lengths and sizes you get for the Exhibition building from the Eskbank Company? Generally 26 feet long—a great many at least of that length, as they are wanted for tie rods.

421. What sizes would they be? 1¼ inch. I could not buy them imported without welding, and the Company rolled them of the lengths required without welding. 422.

J. Young, Esq. 29 May, 1879.

422. That is of course the special advantage in dealing with the Company? Yes, that is the advantage; in fact it is £2 a ton advantage, as it would cost that amount to weld it.
423. Are there any greater lengths than that you have mentioned you have got from them? I think we have had some thirties.
424. Would it be more expensive to get it in short lengths, say 12 or 9 inches? It would be only to nip them off by the shearing machine, and I have one of these. It is done very quickly.
425. Would the persons from whom you get the iron charge a little extra for that? The importers would sell it only as they received it, unless they charged a little extra; but they are not supposed to cut iron.
426. What is the market price of iron at the present time? I can purchase BBH iron at £11, but I can purchase some other kinds as low as £9. BBH is a good brand. I think it is this Company that has brought down the price to £11, for I did not get it for less than £12 10s. before.
427. Mr. Copeland.] Is the Company's iron equal to BBH? For some purposes it is better. It is better for bolts and bars; is more easy to work, more malleable.
428. Had you been in the habit of getting iron from this Company before you undertook the superintendence of this building? Yes.
429. What price did you pay for it then? £12 I think. I have paid various prices, because the market price of iron varies.
430. Mr. McCulloch.] You never got it at a lower price than £12 until this Exhibition building was commenced? I think not; I am not quite certain.
431. Did you buy large quantities from them? I bought a good deal of iron.
432. And you used to pay about £12 a ton for it? I have paid as high as £13 for iron, and I have never paid less than £11.
433. Were there any trade allowances or discounts? That would depend upon circumstances. If I bought a lot at £12 10s. I should expect 2½ per cent.

WEDNESDAY, 11 JUNE, 1879.

MEMBERS PRESENT:—

G. Day, Esq.,
A. H. McCulloch, jun., Esq.,
H. Moses, Esq.,
C. E. Pilcher, Esq.,
R. B. Smith, Esq.

Robert Burdett Smith, Esq., in the Chair.

John Sutherland, Esq., appeared as the Sitting Member.

Mr. Enoch Hughes, having been sworn, was examined:—

Mr. E. Hughes. 11 June, 1879.

434. Chairman.] What occupation do you follow? Ironmaster.
435. Are you employed by any Company in this Colony? I am manager for the Lithgow Iron Company, and am a shareholder in that Company.
436. Do you know Mr. John Sutherland, the Sitting Member for the Electoral District of Paddington? I do.
437. Mr. McCulloch.] Your Company is supplying some iron for the Exhibition? Not the Company, that I am aware of. We supply Mr. Williams for the Exhibition.
438. What price do you get from Mr. Williams for it? Different prices for various sorts of iron, according to the quality; from £10 to £14, according to the length and size.
439. You know that we have examined Mr. Williams? I do not know anything at all about it.
440. We have certain information on the subject that the iron is supplied at £11? I cannot say anything about that. We supply Mr. Williams, and I fix the price up there and give orders to my clerk up there, but our cash books are kept in Sydney.
441. Do you never receive money up there? I receive cheques and sometimes cash, but they are forwarded to Mr. Williams direct.
442. It is never paid in to your own account? Not that I am aware of; all moneys are forwarded to Mr. Williams.
443. Will you tell me this—do not you sometimes pay cheques you receive for the Company in to your own account, and send up your own cheque for the amount due to the Company? Never; I always pay during the month all the moneys I receive to Sydney to Mr. Williams, and I receive a cheque for the total amount at the pay day.
444. Do you supply Mr. John Young with iron from time to time? Yes.
445. On account of the Exhibition, and of other works as well? I have supplied him with iron for various works. I do not know where it has been taken to.
446. What price has been charged for that? It is according to the length and width. I have supplied him privately at £14, £12, £11, and £10, according to the quality and size of the bars.
447. Do you know whether Mr. Williams made any arrangement with Mr. Young about the price of iron for the Exhibition? I cannot tell.
448. Do you remember Mr. Williams saying to you that the price of the iron must be £11 a ton, as Mr. Young must have his commission? Never; we always charge £1 a ton upon the regular thing for matched lengths—that is, lengths out of the ordinary run.
449. Did you ever allow Mr. Young any commission? Never. I do not know anything about the thing. I never took a farthing of Mr. Young's money—I never had a cheque from him.
450. Do you remember writing, or causing to be written, a letter to Sir Henry Parkes about the iron for the tramway? I do.
451. Do you remember what the effect of that letter was? I do.
452. It was asking that the order for the rails might be given to the Company, was it not? No; the effect of that letter, as far as my memory serves me, was this: I saw from the papers an account of the proceedings in the House with respect to the tramway that was to be laid, and that all the rails and cars were to be imported from America, and as we had works which we had erected at considerable cost, I pointed out that it was only just that colonial manufacturers should have a fair chance. I afterwards received a letter from one of the departments (I cannot say which) stating that Mr. Williams had tendered for the supply of rails to the Government—the Company never tendered at all.

pointed

453. How did Mr. Williams come to tender for it? I do not know; that was his own business as a contractor.
454. You are making these rails? I am.
455. What is the arrangement you have entered into with Mr. Williams for making those rails? To supply him with a certain quantity in a given time.
456. At what price? At £10 per ton. Mr. Williams supplies money for wages for manufacturing them.
457. Do you remember in February last Mr. Williams saying to you that he had seen Mr. Mason, who said that he (Mr. Williams) was to get the Zigzag? Never; I never heard of such a thing.
458. You know of that contract in connection with the Zigzag? I know of the contract; I know nothing of the conversation you have referred to.
459. Did you ever say that you had seen Mr. Mason, who said that Mr. Williams was to get the Zigzag, and that the Company would have the tramway contract? Never; I do not believe I have spoken two words to Mr. Mason these twelve months except this morning, when he was introduced to me by Mr. Williams. I should not have known the man; Mr. Mason was a perfect stranger to me until this morning—I should not have known him if I had met him anywhere.
460. About these rails for the tramway that are being made at your place now, you say that Mr. Williams supplies the money for wages? He does.
461. Whose material is it that is used—is it the Company's material? The Company's material of course; he supplies the wages according to the number of rails we turn out—he gives us an advance upon the order.
462. All the material used belongs to the Company? No, it belongs to the Company if the Company make from their own furnace, but we have certain material that Mr. Williams bought from the Government at Newcastle, and we give him credit for any of that used by us, and take it off his account. It is in the specification that the rails should be made partly from old scrap-iron.
463. Have you had any of that iron of your own at the Company's place? Yes, we have had a thousand tons. We produce from 14 to 15 tons a day of bar iron from our furnaces.
464. I mean of this purchased iron? Only the old iron that is from the Government and used for the rails.
465. Are these all purchased by Mr. Williams? Yes, they are purchased by Mr. Williams, and sent to the Company by him—these old rails are paid for by him as the contractor.
466. You never paid for this iron yourself? Never, except for a private contract which I have of my own, and which I have had for the last ten years. That has nothing to do with the Company.
467. Previously to your supplying this Exhibition or Mr. Williams with iron, used you to supply Mr. Whately, Mr. Rowntree, the 'bus Company, Mr. Lewis, Hudson Brothers, and Fletcher Brothers? Yes, with bar iron.
468. What price used you to get from them? According to what the iron was that was supplied to them—from £10 to £14 a ton.
469. Have the men agreed to a reduction in their wages of 20 per cent.? Yes, in order to compete with the English manufacturer.
470. After that reduction did you supply these persons with bar iron similar to that with which you are now supplying the Exhibition at £10 a ton? We did; we found that £10 a ton did not pay, and that was the reason we took the reduction from the men.
471. After this reduction you supplied these firms with iron at £10 per ton? Yes, and we supply them now at £10.
472. Is that similar iron to that with which you are supplying the Exhibition? It is the same quality.
473. There is a little difference in the lengths, is there not? If we have to cut 12 feet lengths we lose 2 feet. It is a rule to charge an additional £1 a ton upon all matched lengths.
474. Do you supply Hudson Brothers from 9 inches upwards, at £10 a ton? As much as they like, for we can only lose 9 inches.
475. There is more labour connected with 9-inch lengths than the other? Not the slightest. A man does not get more for cutting one length than another.
476. You remember that you were supplying all these persons at £10? Some at £10, and some matched lengths at £11, and some at £12.
477. We have it in evidence that the Exhibition iron is £11? It may have been; some at £11, some at £10, and some at £12. I cannot tell any more than that I give orders to my clerk up there, and we made some very long rods—24 feet.
478. Mr. Pilcher.] You simply order the stuff, and do not know anything about the price, which is regulated down here? Just so. We have an order for 15 tons of 24 feet, which could not be got in the country anywhere else.
479. The prices are determined here? Yes, it is settled down here, if anything has to be rectified. I know nothing whatever of the prices.
480. Mr. McCulloch.] Look at these accounts (handing witness Appendices B 2—8? I see here $1\frac{1}{4} \times 24$ feet, $2\frac{1}{2} \times \frac{1}{2}$, all this is charged £11; that is £1 a ton for matched lengths.
481. There is $3 \times 1\frac{1}{4}$? I never supplied a bar of $3 \times 1\frac{1}{4}$.
482. Look at D 9? I have a memory, and am sure that I never supplied Mr. Young with $3 \times 1\frac{1}{4}$ (referring to the Appendix). I see that this was supplied from Terminus-street and not from the works; I never made a bar for him of $3 \times 1\frac{1}{4}$.
483. They are all sent from Terminus-street? What is sent from Terminus-street is not sent from Eskbank.
484. Mr. Pilcher.] You mean that all the iron sent from Terminus-street does not come from Eskbank? Yes; we have a private rack there for the benefit of the trade, and if Mr. Young or any other person wanted a bar of iron of any particular dimension he could obtain it there.
485. Mr. McCulloch.] All these dimensions are £11 a ton? As to the prices there, I have nothing to do with it; I fix the price for extraordinary lengths, say 24 feet, at £11 a ton. That price may be increased here, but I do not sell it to Mr. Young.
486. Mr. Pilcher.] They modify the price here as they choose? Yes; we simply supply it to our rack at a price, and we charge for an extraordinary length £1 a ton extra.
487. Mr. McCulloch.] The iron sent to the Exhibition, is that made out of material supplied by Mr. Williams or by the Company? Mr. Williams buys all the scrap iron to mix with our iron. 488.

Mr. E. Hughes. 11 June, 1879.

488. When he supplies it, does he do so at a fixed price? He supplies it at a fixed price, and we credit him with it.
489. In fact you buy it from him? We buy it from him.
490. Mr. Sutherland.] Have you any control over Mr. Williams in fixing the price of the iron? Never.
491. I understand from you, when you speak of your price you mean only the money price at the works? Yes; whatever he sells here I have nothing to do with.
492. Mr. Pilcher.] I understand, with reference to the rails, that Mr. Williams is the contractor, that he buys from the Company and supplies the Government? He buys from the Government, and supplies the Company with the scrap, and buys from the Company and supplies the Government with the rails.
493. As to the iron supplied to Mr. Young for the Exhibition, is that supplied by a contract, or is it done in this way, that whenever Mr. Williams wants any iron he sends an order to the works, or goes and chooses the iron from the Company's rack? He sends an order to me for any iron he requires, and that is sent to the yard; then he goes to the rack and picks out any he requires.
494. There is no contract for any special quantity? Never; he takes what he wants from day to day; he orders what he wants as he wants. We treat Mr. Williams the same as we would a stranger.
495. Is Mr. Williams the person who sends to the Company for iron supplied to Mr. Young, or Mr. Young himself? Mr. Young.
496. The course of dealing is that Mr. Young sends to the Company for what he requires, and pays for it once a month? Yes.
497. Mr. Young sends an order to the Company for what he wants, and gets it as he wants; he has no contract to deliver any specified quantity? Just so.
498. Could the Company or Mr. Williams stop supplying the Government at any moment they chose? Yes.
499. Then Mr. Young's purchases of you are of the same kind as yours would be if you went into a shop and bought a pound of nails or a pound of sugar at a given price? Yes, we treat Mr. Young as we would any wheelwright or blacksmith who might come to the works to buy a bar or two of iron.
500. There is no contract to buy, beyond each particular purchase? No.
501. Mr. Day.] You have a contract to supply Mr. Williams with the iron for the Exhibition? We have no contract for the Exhibition—there never was one.
502. Still you supply Mr. Williams with iron for the Exhibition? Yes.
503. And you also supply him with iron for the tramway? We do.
504. Is Mr. Williams a partner in the Lithgow Iron-mining Company? Yes.
505. Is it customary for Mr. Williams to enter into contracts on his own behalf, and to have the material supplied by the Company? Yes, Mr. Williams has been our principal customer, and has bought our whole machinery.
506. Mr. Williams has nothing to do with the leasing of the plant? Not the slightest.
507. If Mr. Williams has said that in supplying these rails for the Sydney tramway he was paying so much a week for the use of the plant, would that be true? Not that I am aware. We supply Mr. Williams according to what he wants, and our price to Mr. Williams is £10.
508. Mr. Williams never paid you so much a week or day for the use of your plant? Not that I am aware.
509. You supply the iron, and Mr. Williams pays you? Yes.
510. In point of fact you do not look to Mr. Young or to the Government for payment for this iron, but to Mr. Williams? To Mr. Williams. We have nothing to do with the Government or with Mr. Young either, not so far as I am aware; I never make out an invoice to any one but to Mr. Williams.
511. Chairman.] The sale of iron I suppose has been effected by you on behalf of the Company? I have always sold the iron to Mr. Williams—I never sold it to any one else. If a party orders iron it is paid for by a cheque, which is sent to our clerk and paid in to our credit.
512. You negotiate all transactions between Mr. Williams and the Company for the sale of your iron? Yes.
513. Mr. Sutherland has nothing to do with the sale of iron to Mr. Williams—you do it on behalf of the Company? Yes.
514. Do you know of Mr. Sutherland being a party to any contract for the supply of iron to the Government of New South Wales? I do not.
515. If he had been would you have known it? Yes.
516. You have the sole control and management of the works? Yes.
517. Every transaction between the Company and purchaser takes place through you? Yes; every letter and every transaction both for purchases and sales.
518. In no instance has Mr. Sutherland been connected with any sale either to the Government or to any one else? No, I do not know of any—it has never been mentioned.
519. Mr. Day.] You are quite sure if Mr. Williams had said that he would have to pay so much for the use of this plant while the tramway rails were being made, it is not correct? (The evidence of Mr. Williams with reference to this point was read to the witness.) That must have been said with reference to a purchase of iron which was in anticipation from the Fitzroy Company. There was a negotiation between Mr. Williams and Mr. Keep for the purchase of a thousand tons of iron at the Fitzroy. We got one truck only of that, and the matter was never completed—the negotiation fell through. If Mr. Williams had got that he would have paid. That must be what Mr. Williams referred to; but we never got it, and it is now being worked up at Blaydon's, Pyrmont Bridge.
520. This answer has reference to supplying the tramway iron, and if so, it is not correct? It is not correct, so far as I am aware.
521. In point of fact, Mr. Williams pays so much a ton for the tramway iron, and it is therefore untrue that he rents the plant? So far as I am aware—I am not aware of any rent. Whatever Mr. Williams may have arranged I know nothing about. We have a contract to supply 180 tons of rails with fastenings and chairs. I know nothing of rent—I have not heard anything of so much a week. Mr. Williams asked me respecting the rails, and I wrote a letter stating the price, because I thought it would be a good thing to introduce the iron to the Colony, but I did not think it would pay.
522. How many shareholders are there in the Company? Seven.
523. What is the greatest number of shareholders you have ever had in the Company? Nine: but Mr. Williams bought two of them out—Mr. Denny and Mr. Phillips. They were in before we started to make the iron, but there have been only seven since.

Articles of Agreement, made and entered into this third day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine, between Daniel Williams, of Sydney, in the Colony of New South Wales, contractor, of the one part, and the Commissioner for Railways, a corporation sole created and incorporated by an Act of Council passed in the twenty-second year of the Reign of Her Majesty Queen Victoria, number nineteen, intituled, "An Act to make more effectual provision for the construction by the Government of Railways in the Colony of New South Wales and for the regulation of the same"—

Witness that the said Daniel Williams, hereinafter styled or referred to as "the contractor," doth hereby for himself, his heirs, executors, and administrators, covenant, promise, and agree with and to the Commissioner for Railways aforesaid and his successors—

That he, the contractor, shall and will find and provide all the materials, labour, carriage, tools, implements, and every other thing requisite and necessary for, and do and perform all the work required in and about the manufacture, construction, completion, and delivery of one hundred and eighty tons of tramway rails, and will deliver same at the Railway Station Yard at Redfern, Sydney, aforesaid, in accordance in all things with the specification and general conditions hereunto annexed, and marked respectively "A" and "B," and with the plan or drawing relating thereto, now in the office of the Engineer-in-charge, and marked "number 1," and complete, finish, and deliver the same at or for the rate or price of eleven pounds per ton, including the drilling of holes, as mentioned in the tender of the contractor hereto annexed, and marked "C."

That the said specification and general conditions hereto annexed, and marked respectively "A" and "B," shall be taken to be and be read as incorporated in and forming part and parcel of this contract: And all work therein mentioned shall be done and performed, and all conditions, agreements, stipulations, and directions therein contained and required, or intended to be done, by the person or persons tendering or contracting, shall be made, done, observed, performed, and kept in all things by the contractor, as if the contractor had hereby expressly covenanted to do, perform, and observe the same, and as if the said specification and general conditions had been written in and formed part of these presents: And all powers and authorities in the said specification and general conditions mentioned, and given or intended to be given to the Commissioner for Railways aforesaid, shall be held and deemed and taken to be given to and exercisable by the Commissioner for Railways and his successors, and where given to the Engineer-in-charge shall be held and deemed and taken to be given to the Engineer-in-charge for the time being of the Commissioner for Railways aforesaid, as if the said powers and authorities had been expressly created and given in or by the said articles of agreement.

That the whole of the said works in the construction, completion, and delivery of the said tramway rails comprised in this contract shall be completed and finished in all things and delivered to the satisfaction of the Engineer-in-charge, at the rate of forty tons per month from the first day of April next, as specified in the said tender: And that if the said rails shall not be completed and finished in all things and delivered at the rate or times in the said tender of the contractors, and in accordance with these presents, and the said specification and general conditions, the contractor shall forfeit and pay the sum of twenty pounds sterling per week, or for every part of a week, that shall elapse after such specified time for the delivery of the said rails shall have expired until the delivery of the same, which sum or sums of money may be deducted from any money payable to the contractor under this or any other contract: And wherever the word "Engineer" is used in these presents, or in the said specification and general conditions, it shall be held and deemed and taken to mean the Engineer-in-Chief for the time being of the Commissioner for Railways aforesaid: And wherever the word "Commissioner" is used in the said specification and general conditions, it shall be deemed and taken to mean the Commissioner for Railways aforesaid and his successors.

And it is also agreed and declared by and between the parties hereto, that payment shall be made once in every month, up to the time specified in the tender of the contractor for the completion of the contract, on the Engineer's certificate as the work proceeds, in the proportion of ninety per cent. of the value of the work satisfactorily executed, and the remaining ten per cent. shall be paid after the Engineer has certified that the whole of the work has been completed to his satisfaction: And it is expressly declared that the obtaining such a certificate shall be a condition precedent to the contractor having any right or cause of action or claim to the payments from time to time to be made hereunder, as well as to the final payment upon the whole of the work being completed.

In witness whereof, the said Daniel Williams hath hereunto set his hand and seal, and the Commissioner for Railways hath affixed his official seal, the day and year first before written.

Signed, sealed, and delivered, by the said Daniel Williams, in the presence of— F. Harte. } DANIEL WILLIAMS. (L.S.)

BOND to secure fulfilment of contract for supply of tramway rails.

KNOW all men by these presents, that we, Daniel Williams, of Sydney, in the Colony of New South Wales, contractor, John Young, of Sydney, aforesaid, contractor, and John Taylor, of the same place, contractor, are jointly and severally held and firmly bound unto the Commissioner for Railways, a corporation sole created by the Act of Council passed in the twenty-second year of the reign of Her Majesty Queen Victoria, No. 19, intituled "An Act to make more effectual provision for the construction by the Government of Railways in the Colony of New South Wales and for the regulation of the same," in the penal sum of two hundred pounds sterling, to be paid to the Commissioner for Railways aforesaid, and his successors; for which payment well and truly to be made we bind ourselves, and each of us, our and each and every of our heirs, executors, and administrators, jointly and severally, firmly by these presents.

Sealed with our seals, dated this third day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine.

WHEREAS by Articles of Agreement under seal bearing even date herewith, and made between the above-bounden Daniel Williams of the one part and the Commissioner for Railways aforesaid of the other part, the said Daniel Williams contracted and agreed with the Commissioner for Railways aforesaid and his successors, to find and provide at his own expense, all the materials, labour, carriage, tools, implements, and every other thing requisite and necessary for and to do and perform and complete all the works required in and about the construction, completion, and delivery at the Railway Station Yard at Redfern, of one hundred and eighty tons of tramway rails, in accordance in all things with the specification and general conditions marked respectively "A" and "B" to the said Articles of Agreement annexed, and with the plan or drawing relating thereto in the office of the Engineer-in-charge, and marked "No. 1"; and to complete and deliver the said rails at the rate of forty tons per month from the first day of April next, at or for the price or rate of eleven pounds per ton, as mentioned in the tender of the said Daniel Williams to the said agreement annexed, and marked "C": And whereas the said John Young and John Taylor have severally agreed to become and be bound with the said Daniel Williams for the performance and fulfilment by him of the said contract and agreement:

Now the condition of the above-written bond or obligation is such, that if the said Daniel Williams do and shall well and truly observe, perform, fulfil, and keep all and every the terms, conditions, provisoes, stipulations, and agreements of the said articles of agreement and of the said specification and general conditions, and do and shall in all things perform, execute, complete, and perfect the whole of the said rails, and deliver the same in accordance with the said tender, specification, and general conditions, and at the rate or times in the said tender in that behalf provided, then this obligation shall be void and of non-effect, otherwise to be and remain in full force and virtue.

The Chief Clerk, Department of Public Works, to The Colonial Architect.

Department of Public Works, Sydney, 10 May, 1879.

My dear Barnet,

I am summoned by the Committee of Elections and Qualifications respecting the question of the Seat of Mr. Sutherland, and am required to produce the papers relating to the contract of Daniel Williams for the supply of iron for the Exhibition building. Will you kindly let me have the necessary documents by Monday morning early, as I wish to be ready.

Yours faithfully,
GERALD HALLIGAN.

I have no written contract with Daniel Williams in reference to the price of iron. Mr. Williams offered me wrought bar iron, rolled to the lengths required by me for the Exhibition, and I accepted his offer, as it was lower than I could get dimension iron elsewhere.—JOHN YOUNG. £11 per ton was the price agreed.—J.Y.

Will Mr. Young be kind enough to let me have the papers herein applied for, that I may forward them as requested.—J.B., 10 May, 1879.

Herewith are all the papers I have in regard to this matter, which please return when done with.—J.B., 12 May, 1879.

Mr. Enoch Hughes to John Sutherland, Esq.

Dear Sir, Eskbank, 24 February, 1879.

Mr. Williams has informed me that he is tendering for the proposed tramway to the Exhibition, and asked if the Company can supply him with rails, and at what price.

I have informed him that we would supply for the same price as he has already paid us for rails supplied. For this class of rails and the small quantity (about 130 tons) it will not pay, as it is the most difficult rail to make; but we must try and stop their importation at present, and look to the extension of this new branch of trade and better times before we can look for a living profit.

If you disapprove of this price, please inform me or Mr. Williams at once, and allow them to be imported.

I remain, &c.,

ENOCH. HUGHES,
Manager, Lithgow Valley Iron Works.

MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT made this twenty-second day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine, between Her Most Gracious Majesty Queen Victoria, of the one part, and John Young, of the city of Sydney, in the Colony of New South Wales, Esquire, of the other part.

2. That the said John Young shall purchase on account of the Government of the said Colony, upon his own judgment and opinion as to value, and by tender or private contract as he may think fit, all materials required in and about the erection of the said buildings, excepting only such materials as the said John Young shall be informed that he is not to purchase. In making such purchases the said John Young is to use the utmost care in securing material of the best quality and at the lowest market prices payable at the time of the making of the said purchases, and is to obtain for the benefit of the Government all such discounts or reductions in price as are usually or can by special agreement be obtained upon such purchases.

3. If it should be found that a portion of the said building can in the opinion of the Government be advantageously erected under small contracts, the said John Young shall and will, when required by the Colonial Secretary for the time being so to do, let such portions of the said works as are to be done in small contracts to persons willing to take the same, such contracts to be entered into by the persons willing to contract for the said works with the said John Young on the terms for which the said works are to be done by them.

7. Messieurs Hudson Brothers, of Redfern, contractors, having expressed their desire to assist and co-operate in the works herein mentioned, it is the desire of the Government that the said John Young shall, so far as he may find it expedient so to do, avail himself of Messieurs Hudson Brothers' offer to so assist, by employing workmen from their workshops, or by making use of the machinery in their workshops, or obtaining from them materials for the said building, care being taken by the said John Young that, in acting upon the offer so made by Messieurs Hudson Brothers, that no undue expense is incurred or occasioned.

HANSARD,
OR OFFICIAL REPORTS OF THE PROCEEDINGS AND DEBATES OF PARLIAMENT.

No. 1.

The Colonial Secretary of New South Wales to The Chief Secretary of Victoria.

Sir, Colonial Secretary's Office, Sydney, 13 May, 1878.

I have the honor to request that you will favour me with information in answer to the following questions concerning the Hansard or Report of Proceedings and Debates in the Parliament of your Colony:—

1. Is your Hansard an official record or only a private undertaking patronized by the Government?
2. Is the issue daily or weekly?
3. How many shorthand writers are needed for both Houses of Parliament?
4. What is the annual cost?

I have, &c.,
MICHAEL FITZPATRICK.

No. 2.

The Colonial Secretary of New South Wales to The Colonial Secretary of Queensland.

[Similar letter was, on the same date, addressed to the Colonial Secretary of Queensland.]

No. 3.

The Colonial Secretary to The Speaker of the Legislative Assembly.

Sir, Colonial Secretary's Office, Sydney, 13 May, 1878.

With reference to the Address adopted by the Legislative Assembly on the 3rd instant, praying that His Excellency the Governor would be pleased to cause to be placed on the Supplementary Estimates for 1878, a sum of money sufficient to defray the expenses necessary to establish and carry on a Hansard or Official Report of the Proceedings and Debates of Parliament,—I have the honor to request that you will be so good as to obtain for me, from the Principal Parliamentary Shorthand Writer, a report on the following matters:—

1. The number of shorthand writers required to report for both Houses for a weekly Hansard?
2. The annual cost of such a staff?
3. Whether a sufficient number of shorthand writers would be obtainable in the Colony.

I have, &c.,
MICHAEL FITZPATRICK.

No. 4.

The Speaker of the Legislative Assembly to The Colonial Secretary.

Sir, Legislative Assembly Chamber, Sydney, 15 May, 1878.

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 13th instant, requesting me to obtain from the Principal Parliamentary Shorthand Writer a report on certain matters connected with the establishment of a Hansard or Official Report of the Proceedings and Debates of Parliament.

Having obtained Mr. Palmer's report on the matters submitted, I transmit it herewith for your information.

I have, &c.,
G. WIGRAM ALLEN.

[Enclosure.]

Mr. J. H. Palmer to The Speaker.

Shorthand Writer's Department, Legislative Assembly Office,
Sydney, 15 May, 1878.

Sir,

I have the honor to acknowledge through you the receipt of a letter from the Honorable the Colonial Secretary, requesting you to obtain "from the Principal Shorthand Writer a report on the following matters" in connection with an "Official Report of the Proceedings and Debates of Parliament":—

1. The number of shorthand writers required to report for both Houses for a weekly Hansard.
2. The annual cost of such a staff.
3. Whether a sufficient number of shorthand writers would be obtainable in the Colony.

I may premise that I have no personal experience of Parliamentary Gallery reporting, my duties, both here and in England, having throughout my professional life been confined to the taking in shorthand of evidence before the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, Select Committees of the Legislature, and in some cases of an important nature, in the Courts of Law; I can, therefore, give only such information as I have derived from other sources.

1. If it be intended to secure a report in full of all debates in both Houses, I am confident, having regard to the occasionally heavy pressure of business and the necessary temporary absence, from illness or other cause, of one or more of the staff, that a smaller number than eight would be insufficient to perform the duty. I may add that upon the "London Times," which ordinarily reports in the third person, and condenses, a staff of fifteen Parliamentary reporters is maintained.

2. To secure men of the first class, I think the chief should be paid not less than £700 per annum, the second £600, and the rest of the staff £500 each.

3. I have only a limited acquaintance with gentlemen in the profession, but so far as my personal knowledge extends there are not more than four in Sydney whom I should regard as competent to undertake the duty who would be likely to seek official employment.

I have, &c.,
J. H. PALMER.

No. 5.

The Chief Secretary of Victoria to The Colonial Secretary of New South Wales.

Sir, Chief Secretary's Office, Melbourne, 27 May, 1878.

In compliance with the request contained in your letter of the 14th instant, No. 284, I have the honor to furnish the following information concerning the Victorian Hansard :—

1. Hansard is recognized as an official record, and is produced by an authorized staff.
2. It is published weekly.
3. Three shorthand writers are employed for both Houses of Parliament.
4. The average cost of printing, &c., is £1,550
   Salaries, &c. ... 1,550

   Total annual cost... £3,100.

I have, &c.,
GRAHAM BERRY.

No. 6.

The Colonial Secretary of Queensland to The Colonial Secretary of New South Wales.

Sir, Colonial Secretary's Office, Brisbane, 14 June, 1878.

Referring to your communication dated 13 May last, requesting to be furnished with certain information concerning the Hansard reports of this Colony, I have the honour to inform you, in answer to the questions contained in your letter, that—

1. Hansard is an official record.
2. The issue is daily as regards the Assembly, and weekly as regards the Council.
3. The permanent staff at the Assembly is as follows—Principal Shorthand Writer, two assistants, one of whom acts as Clerk of Select Committees. The Sessional staff consists of three competent reporters engaged for five months. A cadet class, whose studies have been nearly perfected under the superintendence of the Principal Shorthand Writer, will form an element in arrangements next Session. They are aiding this year in the transcription of notes. There is one shorthand writer attached to the Legislative Council.

The total expenditure for the Legislative Assembly for 1878–9 is, for reporting, £2,918; for the Council, £500. It must be borne in mind that the Council reporter acts also as Clerk of Select Committees for the Council.

5. The estimated cost of printing Hansard daily and weekly is £1,700.

No. 7.

The Government Printer to The Under Secretary for Finance and Trade.

Sir, Government Printing Office, Sydney, 30 July, 1878.

With reference to my recent visit to Queensland for the purpose of inquiring into and reporting on the organization and working of the Hansard or Report of the Debates of Parliament in that Colony, I do myself the honor to inform you that, through the courtesy of Mr. Senior, the Principal Shorthand Writer, and of Mr. Beal, the Government Printer, I had ample opportunities afforded me of seeing in detail the operations of both branches of the service of reporting and printing.

The Queensland Hansard is divided into two parts, the one a weekly issue for the Legislative Council the other a daily issue for the Legislative Assembly. The report is not verbatim, but it is a very substantial one, and all important speeches made in Committee are given at considerable length.

Assuming that if a Hansard be started here it will be a daily one, and will embrace the debates of both Houses of Parliament, I shall confine my remarks chiefly to what relates to a daily issue.

The annual cost of the Queensland Hansard according to the figures supplied to me, is as follows :—

Reporting Legislative Council...	£500
„ „ Assembly	2,918
Printing	1,700
Total	£5,118

Connected with the reporting staff there is a corps of cadets in training, who receive a small fee for each attendance in the gallery.

The

The printing is done in the Government Printing Office at night, by a staff told off for the purpose, and special machinery adapted for rapid work is employed.

The quantity of matter issued daily is not supposed to exceed eight pages demy folio, which is equal to twenty columns of the Sydney Morning Herald, set in brevier type; and to insure this limitation, there is a tacit understanding in the Assembly, which is generally adhered to, that the sittings are not to continue later than 10 o'clock on business nights. If such an understanding could be arrived at in our House of Assembly, the Hansard would be worth all it could cost on that ground alone.

In order to ensure a popular distribution of the Hansard an arrangement has been made with several newspaper proprietors to supply them with copies for issue as supplements to their papers. The charge for these copies is fixed at a low rate, so that although there is a considerable return from the sale of the reports, it is doubtful whether any profit accrues on the transaction. It is more probable there is a slight pecuniary loss than a profit; but this is regarded with indifference, the primary object being to secure the widest possible circulation for the reports amongst the people. I gathered from conversations with Members of Parliament and other influential people in Queensland that the Hansard there is generally looked upon with great satisfaction, and that it has the reputation of being most admirably managed both by the reporting staff and the Government Printer's Department.

With regard to the establishment of a Hansard in this Colony, I do not think, in view of the foregoing facts, that any better principle could be adopted here than that which obtains in Queensland. Our different circumstances will, however, probably necessitate other arrangements in some of the details.

In the first place it would not, in my opinion, be desirable to make any distinction between the debates of the Legislative Council and those of the Legislative Assembly. The Hansard, in whatever shape it may be published, should be—as its name is understood to indicate—a complete report of the debates of Parliament.

Secondly, as it has not been necessary hitherto to employ for ordinary Government printing the costly rapid machines required for newspapers, it would not be possible at present to adopt the Queensland practice of furnishing newspaper proprietors with copies for distribution as supplements; nor, in my opinion, would it ever be desirable to follow such a course. But there is another means by which the same end might be attained, and that is, to furnish the newspapers every evening with slips of Hansard as fast as it is set up; for which accommodation—as it would enable them to dispense almost entirely with a Parliamentary reporting staff, and as a matter of principle—a moderate charge should, I think, be made.

The greater number of Members of Parliament that there are in this Colony, as compared with Queensland, and the more numerous and later sittings, as well as the greater length of the Sessions, will make the cost of a Hansard proportionately heavier in this Colony.

With regard to the cadets, I consider it very desirable that a number (six or more) should be employed and trained by the Government, with the object not only of using them to assist and recruit the Hansard staff, but also of importing them into other official positions. There can be no doubt that the services of a shorthand writer would be invaluable in most of the principal Government Offices. I would propose to article these cadets for three years, with salary (say): 1st year, £25; 2nd year, £50; 3rd year, £75; and with promise of employment ultimately on Hansard or in some other branch of the Public Service, on condition of their rendering themselves thoroughly efficient.

My estimate of the cost of Hansard is as follows:—

If published weekly	£4,850
If published daily (1,000 copies)	£6,350

and in subsequent book form 400 copies, and binding 200 copies of the latter.

Enclosure 1. The details of this estimate I handed to the Honorable the Treasurer on the 15th instant, and I beg to append a copy of it together with specimen pages in the form which I propose for the daily and weekly issues respectively.

In the Sydney Morning Herald the reports of the debates of Parliament last Session (1877–8) average five and a half columns daily. My estimate for Hansard is based on an average of thirty columns of the Herald set in brevier type daily (i.e., four days a week)—a quantity of matter which I think may be regarded as the maximum; and should the quantity be greater or less, the cost of printing would of course be increased or diminished proportionately.

I would propose to issue the Hansard to Members of Parliament, to the principal Government Departments and to subscribers, every morning, concurrently with the Proof Votes, and to reserve the unissued balance for casual sale—and I anticipate there would be a fair demand for them. A good sale for a daily Hansard might, I think, be reckoned upon, but little or none for a weekly one.

It would not be desirable, with the present appliances of the Office, to undertake to print more than 1,000 copies per day; but if it should be found that there is an increasing demand, there would be little or no difficulty in meeting it. Under any circumstances, however, it would be necessary eventually to expend about £1,500 in the purchase of type and machinery on account of Hansard, in order to avoid interfering with the ordinary work of the department, which is always on the increase.

The only obstacle that seems to stand in the way of starting a daily Hansard in the manner suggested, at the commencement of next Session, is that of obtaining an adequate and competent staff of reporters; but there would be no difficulty on that score probably in starting a weekly issue then—if it should be thought advisable to make a beginning in that way—as there seems to be a sufficient number of competent reporters available for the purpose at present.

But whether the Hansard be started next Session or not, I would strongly recommend to the attention of the Government the system of cadets before mentioned. Besides being a proper first step towards the initiation of a Hansard, its introduction would, I am sure, be a great benefit to the Service, and especially to Ministers, who being hampered with excessively heavy and various duties, require frequently to commit their views to paper in the most expeditious manner possible. I found the system of drafting by shorthand at work in many large commercial houses in London, and feel confident from what I observed, that before long it will entirely supersede the present cumbrous, expensive, and dilatory system system of drafting by longhand. In the principal departments of Governments especially it must soon find a place; and the appointment of a first-class shorthand writer, in connection with some one of our public departments, would be the necessary prelude to the official adoption of the system in this Colony.

In addition to the annexure already mentioned, I beg to append the following documents relating to Hansard:—

1. Questions put by the Government Printer, New South Wales, to the Government Printer, Victoria, on the subject of Hansard, and Mr. Ferres's replies thereto. Enclosures 2, 3, and 4.
2. Letter from Mr. Senior, Principal Shorthand Writer, Queensland, to the Honorable the Speaker of the Legislative Assembly, Queensland, on the training of cadets.
3. Memorandum by Mr. W. V. Robinson, a reporter, on Hansard, offering "suggestions to the Select Committee upon reporting Proceedings of Parliament" (Victoria).

I have, &c.,

THOS. RICHARDS,
Government Printer.

[Enclosure 1 to No. 7.]

ESTIMATED Cost of publishing a Hansard or Report of the Debates of both Houses of the Parliament of New South Wales:—

Chief Shorthand Writer and Editor, per annum	£650
Shorthand Writer and Instructor of Cadets, per annum	500
Two Shorthand Writers, at £450 each	900
Six Sessional Shorthand Writers, at £8 8s. per week, for six months (say)	1,300
Cadet Corps, first year (say)	300
Printing in daily form (1,000 copies) and in subsequent book form (400 copies), and binding 200 copies of the latter	2,700
(Every additional 1,000 copies in daily form would cost £250 per annum.)
Total	£6,350

This estimate is based on the issue, each sitting day of a Session lasting six months, of a quantity of matter equal to about thirty columns of the Herald set in brevier type.

If the issue be weekly only, the cost would be reduced by £1,500 per annum, i.e., to £4,850.

THOS. RICHARDS,
Government Printer.

[Enclosure 2 to No. 7.]

Questions put by the Government Printer, New South Wales, to the Government Printer, Victoria, on the question of Hansard, and Mr. Ferres's replies thereto (24 August, 1872).

(1.) When was it (Hansard) started? 12th February, 1866.
(2.) Was it not at first printed at a newspaper office? Yes, it was made up from the Argus, and published in demy 8vo. size.
(3.) If so, what were the reasons that led to its being transferred to the Government Printing Office? To insure an unbiased report of the debates of both Houses.
(4.) Under what department is the reporting staff? The Chief Secretary.
(5.) Is it subject to the same Governmental control as any ordinary department? Yes.
(6.) In whose discretion is it, or in what way is it decided, to report some speeches at full length, and to curtail others? All are fairly reported; the reporters have sole control; they exercise their own judgment.
(7.) What is the cost of Hansard in every branch? Three reporters: two at £525, one at £450 (£1,500), and incidental expenses, £50; the cost of printing, of course, depends on the length of the Session. The number of pages in a Session has varied considerably—the minimum being 250 pages, the maximum 2,800.
(8.) What is the mode of distributing the copies? It is issued every Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock; the first copies being enveloped and sent to Members. On the following morning it is sent by post to the departments, to all the public libraries, mechanics' institutes, reading rooms, and all the newspapers published in the Colony, free. Members are supplied with bound copies at the end of the Session in addition to the weekly copy.
(9.) Are any copies sold to the public? No, but it can be had, the subscription being fixed at £2 2s. the Session.
(10.) Is there any desire to purchase copies? Not the least.
(11.) What is the number of copies printed? 620 copies.
(12.) How is Hansard issued—in weekly parts? Weekly.
(13.) Are proofs ever submitted to Members for revision? No, except it may be the Treasurer's Financial Statement, and then merely for the purpose of checking the figures.

[Enclosure 3 to No. 7.]

Letter from Mr. W. Senior, Principal Shorthand-writer for the Queensland Hansard, to the Honorable the Speaker of the Legislative Assembly, Queensland, respecting the Training of Cadets.

Sir, Legislative Assembly, April 6th, 1876.

I have the honor, acting upon the suggestion of the Clerk of the Legislative Assembly, to offer the following suggestions with respect to that part of my duties which relates to the training of Cadets in the art of Parliamentary Reporting:—

The number of pupils should not, if possible, be less than 12, since it would be but reasonable to calculate upon a considerable percentage of failures, or partial failures, and because the work of issuing a full daily Hansard in connection with other Government Reporting, will eventually require an efficient corps of from eight to ten shorthand-writers.

The chances are that only half of the pupils instructed will (at least for a while) attain sufficient skill to take their places in the gallery. They may, however, do good service by receiving dictations from the competent note-takers. Indeed, for fully two Sessions, this will probably be the extent of their actual acquirements; and it need scarcely be said, that even under these conditions, their assistance would be most valuable. Perhaps I may add, that in this part of the scheme I have hope of great success.

Any Cadets who, after fair trial, proved unable, from physical or other causes, to attain the maximum degree of skill, might still be utilized to some such purpose as shorthand clerks to Governmental Departments.

Every Cadet should be subjected to some educational test. What that test should be, is a matter upon which (naturally) I can express no opinion beyond this:—Every pupil, to begin with, should have some knowledge of English composition—some acquaintance with the meaning of words and the structure of phrases. In this test I should hope to be my own examiner.

The scale of fees, and the particular time and method of meeting the Cadets, are amongst the minor details which must be shaped very much according to circumstances hereafter.

May I suggest the importance of beginning work as soon as it may be possible. The acquisition of shorthand is rather a matter of perseverance in practice than depth of study. A very brief explanation will start the Cadets in a course, the success of which will depend much more upon their own individual patient diligence, than upon their intellectual cleverness, or my tuition.

Therefore, it has occurred to me that, without unnecessary loss of time, the class should be started to meet during the Session, say, twice a week, at regularly specified times, unless the business of the House should prevent; also that the best penmen amongst the Cadets should, from the outset, be employed in assisting myself and colleagues in the transcription of our reports—a pursuit, which would at once familiarize them with the mode of Parliamentary reporting, with Parliamentary subjects and Parliamentary language. In my experience, some of the best note-takers have been the most incompetent renderers of summarized reports or obscure speeches, through lack of the training which would thus be furnished to the Cadets.

In conclusion, I take the liberty of observing, that I shall enter into this branch of my duties (as in all others) with earnestness, and in confidence that a scheme so admirable will meet with the result it deserves.

I have, &c.,

To the Honorable the Speaker, Legislative Assembly. W. SENIOR.

[Enclosure 4 to No. 7.]

Memorandum of Mr. W. V. Robinson, a Reporter for Hansard, offering suggestions to the "Select Committee upon Reporting Proceedings of Parliament," Victoria. (29 November, 1877.)

As I had the honor of submitting to the Government the proposal which led to the establishmen of the present Hansard, I feel it my duty to state, for the information of the Select Committee appointed "to inquire into and report upon the best method of securing correct reports of the proceedings of Parliament, with the view of publishing them daily," a few facts which may assist the Committee in their investigation.

In the first place I may correct an impression prevailing in some quarters that the object of Hansard is to record everything that is said in Parliament. For four or five years previously to 1866 an arrangement was in operation whereby a sum of £600 per annum was paid by the Government for 150 copies of the Argus parliamentary report, republished in book-form. It was understood, when the agreement was entered into, that the average length of the reports would be equal to ten columns of the Argus for each sitting of Parliament. That condition, however, was not fulfilled, and the arrangement was superseded by the present Hansard, the projectors of which undertook to furnish faithful and impartial reports of the debates in both Houses of Parliament, and estimated that the average length of their reports would be equal to ten columns of the Argus for each sitting. That average has generally been somewhat exceeded.

In my opinion, the only way to secure correct reports of the proceedings of Parliament (whether to be published daily or otherwise) is to employ a special staff for reporting the debates in both Houses. The establishment of the existing Hansard is primâ facie evidence of the correctness of this view.

The daily newspapers are frequently compelled, by the multiplicity of demands made upon their space and their reporting staffs, to report the proceedings in Parliament in a different way from what they do when they are less hampered. As purveyors of news, they do not hesitate to curtail their parliamentary reports whenever they think it necessary in order to find room for other items of intelligence which they consider of more public interest.

The

The exigencies of the press, in fact, frequently seriously affect the report of the proceedings of Parliament published in the daily journals. By the term "exigencies of the press," I mean a variety of circumstances, some of which are in operation at one time and some at another, such, for instance, as the parliamentary reporting staff of a newspaper being crippled by two or three of its members being absent from the gallery, engaged in reporting an important public meeting or some other matter of public interest; or the reporters present not being able to give their undivided attention to the proceedings of Parliament, in consequence, it may be, of having to write paragraphs about some deputations which they have attended during the day; or orders being received from the editor that the parliamentary report for the night is not to exceed a certain length, no matter what the character of the proceedings be; or the report being cut down after it is in type, in order to bring it within the limits of the space available. These and other causes necessarily impair the character of the reports; and sometimes the exigencies of the press are very severe. I will give one or two examples that occur to my recollection.

On 22nd December, 1870, both Houses of Parliament sat until after eleven o'clock, and the whole report in the Argus next morning occupied a little over six columns. The proceedings in the Assembly included a debate on a motion, by Sir James McCulloch, for the introduction of a Public Instruction Bill, brought forward with the view of being submitted to the country at the next general election. That debate, as reported in Hansard, would make rather more than a column in the Argus; as reported in the Argus it occupied seventeen lines, and only two of the twelve members who took part in it had their names mentioned. The Hansard report of the whole of the proceedings of that night is equal to about sixteen columns of the Argus.

On 19th May, 1871, the Assembly sat until eleven o'clock, the greater portion of the sitting being occupied with an important debate on the second reading of the Mining Companies Law Amendment Bill. The report in next morning's Argus was less than two columns in length; that in Hansard is equal to between ten and eleven columns of the Argus.

I refer only to the reports in the Argus, as that journal, as a general rule, reports all the proceedings of Parliament fuller than does any other newspaper. These two instances are cited as notable samples in which parliamentary reports, as given in newspapers, suffer by the exigencies of the press. Not only do these exigencies cause the newspapers to compress their reports now and then into a very brief space, but also to condense the remarks of some Members far more than they otherwise would do, and sometimes to omit speakers altogether. Omissions, of course, may entirely prevent the arguments on a question being fairly submitted to the readers of the newspaper in which they occur. As an illustration I may refer to a discussion which took place on 6th December, 1876, on a clause in the Public Houses Bill, prohibiting the issue of any new publican's license for a period of three years. In the Argus report of that discussion Mr. Mackay's remarks occupy twenty-eight lines, of which I quote a portion, as follows:—

"He must enter his protest against the insertion in this Bill or any Bill, of a clause which utterly disregarded the class of rising towns such as Echuca."

Mr. Mirams replied to this argument as follows (I quote from Hansard):—

Mr. MIRAMS stated that not long since he visited Echuca, and made enquiries as to the number of public-houses there. He found that there were 80, and as the population were not more than 4,000, there was one public-house to every 50 inhabitants. When there was only one to every 500, which would be when the population had increased to 40,000, would be time enough to begin to provide more public-houses; but he did not think Echuca was likely to have a population of 40,000 persons within the next three years. The Honorable Member for Sandhurst (Mr. Mackay), was rather unfortunate in selecting Echuca as an illustration of the necessity for prohibiting the granting of new publicans' licenses during the next three years; and, if that were the best example which could be cited, the amendment certainly ought to be negatived."

In the Argus report none of these remarks are given; indeed Mr. Mirams does not appear to have taken part in the discussion, as his name is not mentioned.

It has several times happened that observations made by a Member during one debate have been quoted by another Member on a subsequent occasion, and then reported in the newspapers, although previously published only in Hansard. For instance, Mr. Stephen, in moving the second reading of the Education Bill in 1872, quoted in full the speech made by one Member on the debate that took place on the introduction of Sir James McCulloch's Bill in 1870. It was then published in the Argus, although not a word of it originally appeared in the Argus.

I have given a few out of a large number of illustrations that I might have adduced in support of the view I take as to the proper mode of "securing correct reports of the proceedings in Parliament." As to the expense of a staff for that purpose it is not necessary for me to say anything, my colleague, Mr. Hadley, having furnished an estimate on that point.

With respect to the publication of such reports daily, the opinion I entertain is that they ought to be published by the Government, on a principle somewhat similar to that adopted in connexion with the Queensland daily Hansard.

I may add that the principle upon which the proceedings of Parliament are reported for the Victorian Hansard differs in some respects materially from the rules which newspapers ordinarily adopt for their guidance in reporting Parliament. In Hansard each speaker is reported as faithfully as possible, irrespective of the position which he occupies. Newspapers are often influenced more by the man than by the character of the speech he makes. When I first joined the Argus reporting staff, at the beginning of 1862, I found that it was a rule often acted upon, in reporting the present Chief Secretary, who then sat on the second Opposition bench, to "knock him into a cocked hat," to use a reporter's phrase; and the Honorable W. M. K. Vale himself told me that he believed he would not have been a Minister of the Crown for a considerable time after he first occupied that position, but for the republication of the report of one of his parliamentary speeches—I think it was during the Darling crisis—from Hansard, the ordinary newspaper reports, I presume, not having done him justice.

PARLIAMENT OF NEW SOUTH WALES.

SECOND SESSION OF THE NINTH PARLIAMENT.

THURSDAY, 9 DECEMBER, 1863.

Legislative Assembly.

Thursday, 8 December, 1859.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

Mr. SAMUEL, in moving that the sum of £80,784 4s. 9d. be granted out of the Consolidated Fund of New South Wales, to meet the supply granted to Her Majesty, spoke as follows:—I take, Mr. Piddington, the earliest opportunity that the forms of the House will permit, to state to the Committee the estimated expenditure for the year 1860, and the manner in which I propose to provide ways and means to meet it. I feel that I labour under some disadvantage in so soon following the honorable Member for West Maitland, who recently made a similar statement to the Committee; but I trust that when I have concluded I may be so fortunate as to have made my statement in as clear and lucid a manner as did that honorable gentleman. It is only two short months since the honorable gentleman made that statement, and it is therefore unnecessary that I should take up the time of the Committee in travelling over precisely the same ground as my predecessor then travelled over. The honorable gentleman on that occasion informed the House of the state of the commerce of the country, and of many other matters which it is hardly necessary that I should now refer to, as they must be fresh in the memory of honorable Members. I shall endeavour to confine my observations to-night as closely as possible to the matter immediately before us—I mean the estimated revenue and expenditure for the coming year. I regret that the statement I have to submit to the House does not exhibit so large a surplus as that which was shown by the honorable gentleman opposite, but I shall endeavour briefly to point out how the difference has arisen. It will no doubt be still in the recollection of honorable Members that in the statement of the honorable gentleman he estimated his surplus in round numbers at £101,000; my surplus is only £16,359 8s. 9d. This difference has been occasioned by several causes, the most important of which is the separation of the new Colony of Queensland; and I regret to state that after deducting the estimated expenditure from the estimated revenue a balance is left in favour of that Colony of £33,463, which is to that extent a loss to our revenue. If honorable Members will refer to statement No. 7A, they will find a detailed estimate of the revenue that would have been derivable from the District of Moreton Bay (now the Colony of Queensland) in 1860, the amount of which I have had to deduct from the estimated revenue of this Colony. The amount of the probable revenue of Queensland for the ensuing year is £133,107, while the expenditure, as extracted from the Estimates of the late Government, is £99,644, leaving the balance I have just stated. I may as well state here that, in consequence of that separation it has been necessary to re-frame the Estimates, more for the convenience of dealing with them than for any other cause, because the whole of the items relating to Moreton Bay are mixed up with other items, and it would have been inconvenient to have dealt with them in that form. That is the principal cause why these Estimates have been reprinted; but it has also been done in order to balance them with those of the honorable gentleman opposite. In another statement hon. Members will find an estimate of the whole revenue derivable from the Colony, as it stood before the separation of Queensland, and this statement I may at once say is precisely similar to that of the honorable gentleman opposite. Although the amounts are exactly the same, I cannot be accused of having borrowed his figures, because the same sources from which he derived his information, namely, from the operations of previous years, and the heads of the various departments, were those which were open to me. For instance, I applied to my honorable friend the Minister for Lands to furnish me with a statement of what would probably be the land revenue for the ensuing year, upon which he put himself in communication with the Acting Surveyor-General, with whom I have also been in communication myself, and the result was that I received an estimate (based upon the existing land law) precisely the same as that furnished to my predecessor. I cannot, therefore, be charged with borrowing the honorable Member's figures any more than with borrowing his speech. I make this statement to show that I have endeavoured to ascertain whether the estimated revenue of my predecessor was to be relied upon, and I have no hesitation in saying that I believe it to be a fair and just estimate of the sums likely to be derived, in 1860, from the various sources of our income. As I before stated, the surplus brought down by the honorable gentleman was £101,000, from which, deducting the deficiency occasioned by the separation of Queensland, the balance will be £67,519. I have now to account for the difference between that sum and the balance that I have brought down, viz., £16,359 8s. 9d.; and if honorable Members will bear with me for a short time, I will endeavour to give them the figures as nearly as I can, and shall afterwards be happy to give them any further details that may be desired. The honorable gentleman's balance was £100,982. To that I have added £8,000 as a further saving on an appropriation for steam postal service viâ Panama, after reserving £2,000 thereon for any expenses that are likely to arise. Then there is a difference of £15,943 17s. 1d. between the Further Supplementary Estimate for 1859 of my honorable predecessor and the amount passed by the Assembly. This sum added to the £8,000 makes a reduction of expenditure to the amount of £23,943 17s. 1d. This would have increased his surplus to £124,925 17s. 7d., from which I deduct £33,463, the excess of revenue over expenditure, consequent upon the withdrawal of the Queensland items. We have, however, an excess of additions over deductions in my honorable predecessor's estimates for 1860 of £48,511, and I will explain how this addition occurs: The ordinary way would have been to have had the sum brought down by an Additional or a Supplementary Estimate, but the later period at which our Estimates were prepared has enabled us to include some of these amounts; others would have been thus brought down by the late Ministry. Then there is one amount which I have transferred from the Loan Account to the General Revenue Account—that of £3,000 for a deodorizing apparatus, which I thought we were not justified in putting down to the Loan Account, and have therefore transferred it to the General Revenue Account. There is also an Additional Supplementary Estimate for 1859 of £14,587 8s. 10d., which has been brought down and laid on the Table of the House. That amount includes the sum of £7,500, again submitted as compensation to Mrs. Want. I now come to an entirely new item in this Colony, that is a sum of £12,005 which I propose to set aside as an investment to meet debentures which we shall necessarily have to issue. I am anxious to make a few observations to the Committee on this subject, but before doing so it will be better perhaps that I should explain some of the most important new items on the Estimates, and show how the additions and deductions have occurred. In the first place, the Government have felt it their duty to place £50,000 upon the Estimates for increased gaol and work-house accommodation in those parts of the country where Courts of Quarter Sessions are held; and I may state, for the information of Honorable Members, that, where there is not adequate accommodation of that kind at present, the operation of these Courts has been modified so as to prevent the inconvenience which was felt on that account. This is one of the largest items the Government has put on the Estimates. Another item added is one which was left as a legacy from the former Government, namely, £500 as a pension to Colonel Barney. It appears that an engagement was entered into with Colonel Barney to leave his office on condition that he would receive a pension of £500 a year. This amount was, I believe, accidentally omitted from the Estimates of the late Ministry, but, seeing that the Government was pledged to carry out this engagement, that sum has been put upon the present Estimates. The next item of importance I come to is £600 as a salary for a Police Magistrate for the city of Sydney. As this matter was so fully discussed a day or two ago, it is not necessary to delay the House now by any additional arguments in its favour. There is one item of £10,000 which the Government has taken off; this was intended to provide for the new education scheme of the late Ministry, but as the present Government do not intend to interfere with the existing systems of education until the question can be dealt with in a proper manner, the amount has been withdrawn. The sum I have referred to as a balance of the deductions and additions—namely, £16,359 8s. 9d.—is arrived at in this way: deductions from the expenditure, £108,566 8s. 10d.; additions to the expenditure, £124,925 17s. 7d.; thus leaving the above-stated balance of additions in excess of reductions. Now I will go back to the item of £12,000, to be made an annual charge upon the Consolidated Revenue Fund, for the purpose of paying off at maturity the debentures which we shall be compelled to issue during the present year. These debentures are intended to provide for public works—(of course subject to a vote of the House)—to the extent of £200,000, and to pay off debentures falling due in 1860 to the amount of £365,600. Hon. Members will not deny that the system which requires debentures to be paid off by the issue of others is a bad one, into consideration. I am aware that there is a great objection to sinking funds; but we are not open here to the same objection in this respect as they are in the Mother Country. We have no war taxation, and our loans are principally for public works, which are reproductive. I feel, too, that if we make an engagement for a certain period we ought, at the same time, to make provision to meet that engagement. I know that sinking funds are objected to on the ground that they are liable to be used for other than the originally intended purposes. This, however, is rather an argument in their favour, as the money, which would be constantly accumulating, could in the event of any extraordinary necessity arising be placed at the command of the Treasurer, and thus obviate the necessity for borrowing that which he otherwise could not raise without much delay and inconvenience. It is proposed that Government debentures should be purchased to the amount of £12,000, retained in the Treasury, the interest regularly taken into account, and that interest reinvested. I think the question a simple one, and without a practical difficulty—still I am open to conviction; and if any hon. Member can show that the proposition is objectionable I am not so wedded to the scheme as not to be prepared to give way. I have no hesitation in expressing my belief that such a scheme, if carried out, would raise the value of our securities in the Mother Country. There are £365,000 worth of debentures falling due next year, and we are now at the end of 1859. Imagine what would have been our position now if we were subject to the same fluctuation in the money market that we were a few years ago, when our debentures would not go off at any price. I ask the House to consider my proposition well, and say whether it is not our bounden duty to make provision for our engagements. Now I come to another very important question: Hon. Members will see that our surplus is very small indeed. Such a surplus as that we have to show, I regard, I regret to say, almost as a deficit, and I hope, when dealing with the Estimates, honorable Members will try to make as large a reduction in the general expenditure as will be consistent with the efficiency of the Public Service, and to that extent we shall be prepared to go with them. It is not our intention to interfere with the present taxation of the country. I am fully alive to the necessity for its revision, and sensible that it requires great improvement. I am also prepared to go with those gentlemen who desire the repeal of the tea and sugar duties, if it can be shown how we can provide an unobjectionable substitute. I am of opinion, too, that the gold duties should be abolished, but this would involve a loss of revenue which I do not see my way clear to make up, and I am not willing to come down to the House with a revenue insufficient for carrying out the improvements of the country; for if it is to make any progress at all the people must be prepared for an increase of taxation. Still, I am desirous of seeing taxation placed where it can best be borne, that is, upon property. It is not fair, however, to expect that questions of such magnitude and importance could be decided during the one short month we have been in office. We should have been working in the dark, and guilty of a dereliction of duty to the country. We did attempt to go through the Estimates, with the object of making reductions, but on all hands we were met by impossibilities; and, having had so brief an opportunity for carrying this out, we could not rashly strike our pen through items without having given them the consideration they deserved. This could not be expected. (MR. JONES: It was expected.) Then such an expectation was unreasonable; and I would rather resign my office this night than undertake such a duty. I have already come to the conclusion that I am not in a bed of roses, and rather than be badgered by hon. gentlemen opposite, I would at once give up my position as Minister were it not that I feel my duty to the country requires that I should retain it. Their conduct may in their own minds be perfectly justifiable, and I give them credit for thinking so; but they may be mistaken, and we are at issue, though they may consider themselves right on every important question. I can say this, however, that as far as I have gone with this statement, I am indebted to hon. Members for the patient hearing they have given me, and that there has been no want of courtesy on the part of any hon. gentleman in the House. I do not mean to go over the ground again with reference to the loss the revenue would sustain by the repeal of the tea and sugar duties. I have no doubt the hon. gentleman opposite thought he was right in proposing that repeal. (MR. ROBERTSON: It was the Premier who proposed it.) However that may be, I am dealing with the hon. gentleman opposite, who proposed to sweep away £150,000 of revenue by taking off these duties, and I will show that he was not justified in doing this unless he provided a substitute from some unobjectionable source. He would reduce the revenue by the withdrawal of these duties, at the same time congratulating the country upon the flourishing statement of its finances, as made by the late Colonial Secretary in his exhibition of a large credit balance, while the separation of Moreton Bay swept off that, and left no surplus at all. I do not want to make the position of the country one jot more serious than what it is, for I think its resources, aided by systematic reductions, will meet all our requirements, as well as provide for any emergency that may arise; but to secure this we will certainly require a wise and discreet treatment of our finances. If our reductions are to be made wisely they must be made deliberately and guardedly. The late hon. Premier told us that the separation of Moreton Bay would make no difference in our revenue. I speak subject to correction, but that was, I think, the statement he made. But it has made a difference, and one that would increase every year. (MR. IRVING: You have not made any allowance for what is voted for Moreton Bay.) If the hon. Member had listened to me he would have found that I did make that allowance. I think I went fully into the INFLUX OF CONVICTS FROM NEW CALEDONIA.

No. 1.

Telegram from Colonial Secretary, New South Wales, to Colonial Secretary, New Zealand.

[Private and Confidential.] Sydney, 16 August, 1876.

It is the intention of New Caledonia to pardon 600 Communists, who may, if they please, come to Australia. Please say if you have any law to prohibit their going to New Zealand, and if so, its date and number; also what course you will pursue in the matter. I think the Australias should unite in a remonstrance, which I have reason to believe France will respect. Reply speedily, matter is urgent.

Similar telegrams were on the same date addressed to the Colonial Secretary, Queensland, Colonial Secretary, Tasmania, Chief Secretary, Victoria, Chief Secretary, South Australia.

No. 2.

Telegram from Colonial Secretary, New Zealand, to Colonial Secretary, New South Wales.

Wellington, 21 August, 1876.

We will join with the other Colonies, and authorize you to act on our behalf, in protesting most strongly against pardoned prisoners from New Caledonia being allowed to come here. We have no law in force to prevent it, but would at once introduce Bill if one could be made effective. In order to do so, will you cable at once—First—Are the prisoners to receive absolute or conditional pardons? Second—Are you advised that Colonial Parliaments have power to legislate effectively? Third—Nature of such legislation. Please reply quickly.

No. 3.

Telegram from Colonial Secretary, Queensland, to Colonial Secretary, New South Wales.

Brisbane, 16 August, 1876.

We have no law in force which would meet the case; and the Attorney General does not think any Act could be passed prohibiting the landing of foreign criminals which would not require to be reserved for the Royal Assent. We shall be glad to join with you in any remonstrance.

No. 4.

Telegram from Colonial Secretary, Tasmania, to Colonial Secretary, New South Wales.

Hobart Town, 17 August, 1876.

There is no law in Tasmania to prohibit Communists coming to this Colony. This Government cordially unites with the Australian Governments in proposed remonstrances.

No. 5.

Telegram from Chief Secretary, Victoria, to Colonial Secretary, New South Wales.

Melbourne, 17 August, 1876.

We have no law applicable, and do not see grounds on which we could reasonably base such remonstrance.

No. 6.

Telegram from Chief Secretary, South Australia, to Colonial Secretary, New South Wales.

Adelaide, 18 August, 1876.

Your telegram re Communists received. We have "Law Convicts Prevention Act," No. 9 of 1865; amended by No. 14 of 1865. Applies to British Colonies or Possessions. Convicts liable to imprisonment, captains to penalty. If they are only political offenders, should we remonstrate against their being set at liberty, as political refugees find shelter under the British flag. If it is intended to release criminals, we will heartily join in remonstrance.

No. 7.

The Private Secretary to The Under Secretary, Colonial Secretary's Department.

Colonial Secretary,—

Will you let me know the views of Ministers upon the matter referred to in the accompanying letter from the French Consul, a translation of which is enclosed.—H.R., 17/8/76.

The Principal Under Secretary, B.C., 17/8/76.—W.H.H.

[Translation.]

The Consul General of France to Governor Sir Hercules Robinson.

Monsieur le Gouverneur, Sydney, 16 August, 1876.

I have been informed that as the Communists who have been transported to New Caledonia have been authorized to petition for remission of their sentences, the Government of our penal Colony expected to have collected about 600 of these petitions by this time, and intended forwarding them to France for further examination and approval.

When once pardon has been accorded, the exiles would be allowed to return to France, but possibly some of them may prefer taking up their abode in Australia, or rather in such of the Australian Colonies whose laws do not oppose their desire to immigrate.

I am aware, sir, and your Excellency was pleased to inform me this morning, that such was the case with regard to the laws of New South Wales; still I am convinced that if you saw any serious inconvenience likely to arise from their admission to this country, the French Government and that of New Caledonia, without undertaking to prevent their landing, would at the same time take the necessary steps to turn them from the direction of Australia.

Therefore I should be much obliged to your Excellency if you would put me in a position to acquaint my Government with your views on this subject.

I have, &c.,
G. EUG. SIMON.

Minute of Colonial Secretary.

The Cabinet thinks it desirable that His Excellency should thank the French Consul for his courtesy and consideration in making this communication.

Immediately on my being informed of the matter I ordered the following telegram to be forwarded to Victoria, South Australia, Queensland, New Zealand, and Tasmania:—

"Colonial Secretary, Sydney, to Colonial Secretaries * * * * *

"[Private and confidential.]

"It is the intention of New Caledonia to pardon 600 Communists, who may, if they please, come to Australia. Please say if you have any law to prohibit their going to ———, and if so, its date, and what course you will pursue in the matter. I think the Australias should unite in a remonstrance, which I have reason to believe France will respect. Reply speedily. The matter is urgent." 23/8/76.

To this I have received answers from the five Colonies mentioned, copies of which herewith.

Of the five Colonies, on behalf of three I am authorized, as your Excellency will see, to express a hope that the prisoners alluded to by Mons. Simon may not be facilitated or permitted, so far as it can be avoided, to come over to Australia; and, on behalf of this Colony, the Cabinet will be glad if your Excellency will convey the same views.

John R., 23rd August, 1876.

His Excellency.—John R.

The Private Secretary, B.C., 21/8/76.—H.H.

Letter to French Consul.—H.R., 24/8/76.

No. 8.

[Translation.]

Sir, Sydney, 22 August, 1876.

After the private interview which I had the honor to have with your Excellency last Thursday on the subject of the Communist prisoners of New Caledonia who have sent in their petitions for remission of sentence, I hastened, as you advised me, to repeat to you in writing what I had said in that interview, but my letter necessarily was, like my visit, of an altogether private character. Nevertheless, the Sydney Morning Herald of the following morning gave an account of certain telegrams on the same subject, addressed by the Honorable Mr. Robertson to the Governments of Queensland and Victoria. I could not but feel a certain amount of astonishment at seeing a communication made public which was communicated both verbally and in writing to your Excellency in terms which of themselves rendered it essentially private; and I was also surprised at the inaccuracy of the account given. I immediately repaired to Government House to express my sentiments to you, and as you were absent, I thought I ought to call on the Colonial Secretary, who betrayed great irritation at the indiscretion committed at Melbourne and at Brisbane, and declared himself scandalized at the violation of diplomatic usages which had taken place, adding that he would complain about it.

Nevertheless, sir, the Sydney Morning Herald of yesterday contained a leading article which is nothing but a commentary, and an aggravated commentary, on the telegrams from Brisbane and Melbourne. In that article the French Government is represented as intending to pardon 600 Communists, and to allow these 600 individuals to go to Australia. I explained on the contrary in the interview which I had the honor to have with your Excellency, and in the letter which followed it, that the figure of 600 is only the number of the remissions petitioned for, of which a certain number only will be granted, and that we can decide that of this latter number who shall have the right to return to France. Some individuals only may desire to go to Australia. I explained also that although the laws of New South Wales do not oppose themselves to the arrival of individuals who have the right to reside in their own mother country, the French Government would be disposed to take into consideration the sentiments of your Government, and to take, if necessary, all measures to turn the pardoned Communists from the direction of Australia.

The articles in the newspapers to which I have drawn your Excellency's attention, seeking to create useless agitation, are therefore contrary to the spirit of my communication; and I should feel much obliged to your Excellency if you would be good enough to let me have a reply which would justify me with my Government as to the indiscretion which has been committed, an indiscretion for which, I hasten to recognize, your Government is not responsible. I should be glad also if your Excellency would kindly cause to be rectified in the newspapers these accounts, which would tend by their character to destroy the reserve of my communication of Thursday last, and the spirit in which they were made.

I have, &c.,
G. EUG. SIMON.

Colonial Secretary.—H.R., 23/8/76.
The Principal Under Secretary.—W.H.H., B.C., 23/8/76.

Minute of the Colonial Secretary.

I do not know what to ask your Excellency to say to the French Consul on this unfortunate subject, of the conduct of which I feel he has so much right to complain, excepting to express my most sincere regret that so great a cause of annoyance should have occurred. The communication of M. Simon was in its very nature a private and confidential one, and, although not directly made so by him to the Government, was, in the words of that gentleman, "In terms which of themselves rendered it essentially private." I am glad to find that M. Simon is kindly willing to exonerate this Government, he having read the telegrams as they went from this office. It is only right, however, that I should say, on behalf of the Governments of Victoria and Queensland, that since the visit to me of M. Simon it has been ascertained that the telegraph operator at the Sydney station omitted to insert the words "Private and confidential" in the telegram that went to them. Still, I shall think it necessary to address a letter to each of these Colonies, as even without those words it certainly was a communication that I might have expected would have been held to be private.—JOHN R., 24/8/76, His Excellency.

No. 9.

The Private Secretary to The Consul General of France.

Sir, Government House, Sydney, 24 August, 1876.

I am desired by His Excellency Sir Hercules Robinson to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 10th instant, in which you were so obliging as to communicate the probability of pardons being granted to certain Communists transported to New Caledonia.

His Excellency having forwarded your letter for the consideration of his Ministers, has been requested by them to convey to you the expression of their best thanks for your courtesy and consideration in making the communication, and to request you to be so good as to represent to the French Government that this Government would be glad if they would take any steps in their power to divert the pardoned men from Australia.

I am directed to add that Ministers here have reason to think that several of the neighbouring Colonies share in this view.

The Private Secretary to The Consul General of France.

Sir, Government House, Sydney, 24 August, 1876.

I am desired by His Excellency the Governor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 22nd instant, drawing his attention to the unauthorized publication in the newspapers of an incorrect version of the subject brought under his notice by you personally, as well as in your letter of the 16th instant.

In reply, I am directed to inform you that Ministers have requested His Excellency to convey to you the expression of their sincere regret for the inadvertence of which you so justly complain. On the 16th, Ministers being anxious to ascertain the views of the neighbouring Colonies upon the subject of your communication, addressed telegrams to the different Governments, which were marked "Private and confidential," but it appears that through the carelessness of the clerk at the Telegraph Office the words "Private and confidential" were omitted in transmission.

His Excellency, however, thinks that even without this precaution the promulgation of a communication so obviously confidential in its nature was not justifiable, and remonstrance to this effect will be addressed by this Government to those who are responsible for the error.

EXTRACT of a despatch from His Excelleney the Governor to the Earl of Carnarvon, dated 25th August, 1876.

THE French Consul called upon me a few days ago, to mention that the Government of Paris are about to take into consideration the cases of 600 Communists recommended for free pardons by the Government

Government of New Caledonia, and that if the pardons are granted, the men will be at liberty to return to France, but that some may prefer to settle in Australia. M. Simon wished to know whether this Government would, under the circumstances, object to receive the pardoned men, saying that although he knew we could not legally exclude free men, still the French Government would not wish to take any course in such a matter which might be distasteful to this Government.

"I brought the French Consul's communication under the consideration of my Ministers, who requested me, while thanking M. Simon for his courtesy, to express their wish, in which they believed some of the neighbouring Colonies joined, that steps should, if possible, be taken to divert from Australia the men proposed to be liberated from New Caledonia."

No. 12.

The Colonial Secretary, New South Wales, to The Chief Secretary, Victoria.

Sir, Colonial Secretary's Office, Sydney, New South Wales, 30th August, 1876.

I have the honor to forward for the consideration of your Government a copy of a letter which has been received from the French Consul, drawing the attention of His Excellency the Governor to the publication in the newspapers of what purported to be the substance of a communication of a confidential nature which he had addressed to His Excellency on the subject of the proposed remission of the sentences of certain Communist prisoners in New Caledonia. (With translation. See No. 8.)

2. I enclose also a copy of the reply, which has, by His Excellency's directions, been returned to M. Simon.

3. This Government thinks itself justified in taking exception to the course apparently adopted by you in giving immediate publicity to my telegraphic message of the 16th instant upon the subject. It is true that the words "private and confidential," which were prefixed to my telegram, were inadvertently omitted in transmission; but as the subject on which I was desirous of conferring with you was obviously of a delicate international character, it appears to me that reticence with regard to it would have been judicious, at all events while the matter was under consideration.

4. I may add that this Government would not have felt itself at liberty to give publicity to any similar telegram from Victoria without, in the first instance, having ascertained whether such a course would be likely to cause embarrassment to you, or otherwise; and I trust we may in future be able to continue when necessary to communicate unreservedly by telegraph without any danger of a repetition of the course apparently pursued in this instance, a course which appears to me scarcely calculated to facilitate or to dignify the transaction of public business.

I have, &c.,

Sir, Downing-street, 1 January, 1877.

Lord Lyons to Duc Decazes, 13th September, 1876.

I have the honor to transmit to you, for your information and for that of your Government, a copy of a note which, in obedience to instructions from the Imperial Government, Her Majesty's Ambassador at Paris has addressed to the Government of France, drawing attention to the objections entertained by the Australian Colonies to the resort to their territories of pardoned convicts from New Caledonia.

The instruction to Lord Lyons to make a further representation to the French Government on this subject, of which a copy is likewise enclosed, was based upon a request received from the Governor of Queensland.

Extract from Journal Officiel.

I enclose for your information an extract from the Journal Officiel, giving the notification issued in August last upon this subject, to which allusion is made in Lord Lyons' note to the Duc Decazes.

I have, &c.,

[Enclosure.]

Lord Lyons to the Duc Decazes.

M. le Ministre, Paris, 13 December, 1876.

Your Excellency is well aware that the local Colonial authorities strongly object to the arrival in Australia of pardoned convicts from New Caledonia, and indeed the French Government was so considerate as to insert in the Journal Officiel of the 29th of August last a notice to that effect.

Since I had before the honor of addressing your Excellency on the subject, Her Majesty's Government have received from the Governors of Her Majesty's Australian Possessions further despatches pointing out that the feelings of the Colonists are strongly opposed to the reception of persons of this class, and they have accordingly instructed me once more to press upon the attention of the French Government the objections entertained in those Colonies to the resort to the territory of released French prisoners.

I am, &c.,

The Earl of Derby to Lord Lyons.

My Lord, Foreign Office, 8 December, 1876.

I have to acquaint your Excellency that I caused to be communicated to the Colonial Department the extract from the Journal Officiel which accompanied your Excellency's despatch No. 711, of the 29th of August last, notifying that the French Consul at Sydney had informed the French Government that the Australian authorities object to the arrival of pardoned convicts from New Caledonia.

On the 26th of last October I transmitted to your Excellency, with my despatch No. 922, an extract of a despatch from the Governor of New South Wales upon this subject.

Other despatches have been subsequently received at the Colonial Office from the Governor of Queensland, relating to the resort to the Australian Colonies of French Communists from New Caledonia.

For your Excellency's information I transmit this correspondence herewith, requesting that it may be ultimately returned to this department. In Colonial Office letter of Dec. 27. Ditto of Dec. 2.

Although the French Government have already been made aware by your Excellency's representations of the feeling which exists in Australia upon this subject, Lord Carnarvon has suggested to me that it may be advisable to impress still further upon them the objections which are entertained in those Colonies to the resort to their territory of released French prisoners, and I have accordingly to request that your Excellency will take an opportunity once more of drawing the attention of the French Government to this matter.

I am, &c.,

With reference to my circular despatch of the 1st of January, I have the honor to transmit to you, for your information and for that of your Government, a copy of a letter from the Foreign Office, enclosing a copy of the reply returned by the Duc Decazes to the note in which Her Majesty's Ambassador in Paris drew attention to the objections entertained by the Australian Colonies to the resort to their territory of pardoned convicts from the penal settlement of New Caledonia. 19th February, 1877.

Her Majesty's Government have received with great satisfaction the assurance of the Duc Decazes that it is the desire and intention of the French Government to endeavour to meet the wishes of the Australian Colonies on a matter of much interest to them.

Sir, Foreign Office, 19 February, 1877.

With reference to my letter of the 18th of last December, I am directed by the Earl of Derby to transmit to you, for the information of the Earl of Carnarvon, a copy of the reply which has been returned by the Duc Decazes to the note in which Lord Lyons pressed upon the French Government the remonstrances of the Australian authorities against the resort to their territory of pardoned convicts from New Caledonia. In Lord Lyons, No. 126.

The Duc Decazes states that the French Government will do all it can to deter these released convicts from going to Australia, but that it has not the power to control their movements by force.

Monsieur l'Ambassadeur, Versailles, 13 Février, 1877.

Votre Excellence m'a fait l'honneur de m'écrire le 13 Décembre dernier, pour appeler l'attention du Gouvernment Français sur les objections élévées par les autorités et la population de l'Australie contre l'arrivée dans ce pays d'individus qui ayant été déportés à la Nouvelle Calédonie obtiennent leur grâce. J'ai fait part de cette communication à mon collègue, M. le Ministre de la Marine et des Colonies, en le priant d'examiner dans quelle mesure il lui serait possible de prêter son concours aux vues indiquées par votre Excellence. M. l'Amiral Fourichon est disposé à prendre toutes les précautions afin d'éviter, autant qu'il dépendra de lui, les fuissements dont vous m'avez entretenus. D'après ce qu'il m'a écrit, il se proposerait de recommander aux autorités de la Nouvelle Calédonie de veiller à ce que les individus dont il s'agit soient prévenus à l'avance des dispositions qu'ils sont exposés à rencontrer en Australie, de manière à les détourner de se rendre dans ce pays. Il est naturellement impossible d'user de mesures de coercition pour déterminer des personnes devenues libres de leurs mouvements à prendre une direction autre que celle qui leur convient, mais du moins les autorités Coloniales Françaises s'abstiendront soigneusement de faciliter aux individus visés par votre communication des embarquements qui les conduiraient dans les Ports Australiens.

No. 25.

The Consul General of France to Governor Sir Hercules Robinson.

Sir,

Consulat de France, Sydney, 31 January, 1878.

On the demand of the Governor of New Caledonia, I have to call again the attention of your Excellency on the subject of the liberated French déportés who desire to come over to Sydney.

I beg to submit that these men are not common criminals, but are political offenders, who have during their forced residence in New Caledonia constantly behaved in a respectable way; for no others such demands have ever been made.

Admiral Pritzbuer states that those men nearly all follow useful trades, that some are capital workmen, and for all they are banished from France they would become most useful members of society.

The Governor adds, that they are in all cases much less objectionable than the large quantity of Australian miners who arrive in New Caledonia by every vessel. Nearly the whole of those men have no trade whatsoever, and with the uncertainty of mining speculations they are very apt to fall at the charge of the local administration.

It must also be allowed that many of them are addicted to drink, and have more than once caused difficulties with the native tribes.

No objection till this day has been made to their influx in the Colony, but the Governor of New Caledonia considers that it would be a mark of kind and neighbourly feeling for reciprocity to be shown by your Excellency in granting the same facility to men who only desire to live in a useful and respectable manner.

If anything in my previous letters can have led your Excellency to believe that such demands have been made for persons who did not thoroughly deserve such favour, it must only be attributed to some clerical error.

I beg your Excellency to reconsider the decision taken in his despatch of the 21st November, 1877, and to allow the men for whom I asked this favour to come over to Sydney.

I am, &c.,
F. DE CASTELNAU.

Sydney, 26 February, 1878.

I have received, and will forward to New Caledonia by the first opportunity, the documents you did me the honor to forward to me.

I beg your Excellency to send me an answer to the letter I had the honor of addressing to you on the 31st January last, as I know the Governor of New Caledonia is waiting for it with interest.

I have, &c.,

Col.

Col. Secty.—H.R., 27/2/78.

The reasons which induced a former Government to object to the introduction into this Colony of déportés from New Caledonia are as cogent to-day as they were in times past, and the present Administration feel assured that they correctly represent the feelings of the people of this Colony when they record their strong dislike to any such immigration. We have not in this Colony (perhaps unfortunately) any law to prevent the influx of these people, and I am therefore somewhat at a loss to know what Count Castelnau means when he asks the Governor to grant "facilities" to these men. Of course if only here and there persons were arriving, the obligation would be reduced to a minimum; but if they are to come in considerable numbers, and especially if the authorities at Noumea are to offer them "facilities" to come, then the objections of this Government remain in full force. I venture respectfully to suggest that the parallel sought to be drawn between the déportés from New Caledonia and Australian diggers who may visit that settlement is not sustainable. The diggers may possibly be drunkards, and may cause difficulty and expense to the Colony, but they are not criminals. They have not, so far as is known, outraged any law. They are free citizens, who come and go as they list; and if while in New Caledonia they sin against any local Act, or are guilty of drunkenness or other impropriety, they are of course amenable to the laws of the Colony.—M.F., 28 Feb.

This Government has been much gratified at receiving lately from the Secretary of State for the Colonies a despatch, a copy of which I enclose, conveying the assurance of the Duc Decazes that the French Government, although it has not the power to control the movements of released convicts by force, will do all it can to deter them from going to Australia.

I have received the despatch your Excellency did me the honor to forward on the 4th March, 1878, and I will transmit it to the Governor of New Caledonia.

Of course it will guide our further communications on this subject; but there is one individual case on which I beg to call your particular interest,—it is the one of the man Kwiatozinski, for whom the Governor of New Caledonia desires your leave of residence in Australia.

This man, who has always well behaved, has sent for his wife, who has lately arrived here with three children. They are in the most awful state of destitution, and can only be saved by the presence of the father of the family.

I should consider this exception as a real favour, and particularly if you would kindly grant it in time for an answer to be sent by the "Seudre," which would probably sail on Monday or Tuesday next.

Believing that some of the men had been convicts, I sent them all to the French Consul, with an interpreter, in order that their circumstances might be inquired into, with a view to some recommendation being made in each case by the Consul.

His letter to me on the subject, with a report respecting each applicant, I submit herewith for the information and consideration of the Colonial Secretary, as I believe there has been some correspondence on the subject of expiree convicts being sent to this Colony, and it certainly appears that they would be undesirable colonists.

My colleagues think that the facts disclosed in this report will justify the Governor in again addressing the Secretary of State for the Colonies, and begging that he will, in view of the promise made in the despatch of the Duke Decazes, dated 13th February, 1877, once more urge the French Government to prevent the influx of criminals from New Caledonia.—M.F., 13/9. His Excellency.

I scarcely think that these papers contain sufficient information to justify me at present in addressing the Secretary of State on the subject. They show simply that eight men applied for railway free passes who are noted by the Consul as having been "liberated convicts—good conduct men." But the questions arise: When did these men come to this Colony? If since my letter to Consul, of 4th March last, and his reply of 27th March, he should of course be communicated with as to such a violation of his promise. But if they have not come here since March last, then the further question arises, Did the local Government of the day grant permission to them to come?—as from time to time for many years applications have been favourably entertained for good conduct men to come to this Colony in small batches. Mr. Fosbery might I think be instructed to ascertain at the French Consulate when these eight men left New Caledonia, and whether they came to this Colony with the sanction of the Government.—H.R., 13/9/78

In accordance with the instructions of the Colonial Secretary, conveyed in your letter of the 16th instant, No. 78/7,803, I have the honor to report that I have ascertained from the French Consul General that he is unable to afford any information regarding the eight liberated convicts from New Caledonia referred to, as they avoid the Consulate as much as possible until they absolutely want; and further, I am given to understand that the Government of New Caledonia has not the power to prevent liberated convicts from leaving New Caledonia for this Colony, as at the expiration of their sentences they are free to go anywhere, with the exception of France or any French colony.

I have, &c.,

His Excellency.—M.F., 18/9/78.

Colonial Secretary,—This report leaves the matter just where it was before; and I do not think that it would be right to remonstrate with the French Government in Paris, unless we are sure that these eight men have come here since March last, and that the promise of the Duke Decazes has not been kept by the authorities in New Caledonia. I do not myself think that these men can have come here very recently; but if the Colonial Secretary thinks it desirable to take further steps in the matter, I can address the Consul General officially, sending him the names of the eight men, and asking him to ascertain by reference to Noumea when these men were set free and were allowed to leave New Caledonia. This might at all events have one good effect, and could do no harm. It would show we are alive and anxious in the matter, and that if the promise made is not adhered to we mean to make a further representation to Paris on the subject.—H.R., 20/9/78.

I think it would be well to make the proposed reference to the French Consul.—M.F., 21/9/78.

The Governor of New Caledonia to The Consul General of France at Sydney.

A Monsieur le Consul Général de France, à Sydney. Nouméa, le 27 Octobre, 1878.

Monsieur le Consul Général,

J'ai l'honneur de vous accuser réception de votre lettre du 14 Octobre, par laquelle vous me communiquez une note de Sir Hercules Robinson, au sujet de Français rencontrés errants à la recherche de travail dans l'etat de la Nouvelle Galles du Sud.

Je pense comme vous, Monsieur le Consul Général, qu'il pourrait bien être question ici de quelques libérés de la Nouvelle Calédonie.

Il est très exact que les courriers emportent de Nouméa un certain nombre de ces individus qui quittent le pays à leurs frais pour aller chercher fortune ailleurs.

C'est une situation à laquelle il ne m'est pas permis de porter remède.

Le libéré que je suis tenu de surveiller pendant son séjour dans la colonie est absolument libre de s'en aller où bon lui semble, et je n'ai nullement le droit de l'en empêcher.

Dont ce qui peut être fait, et j'y tiens la main, c'est de ne pas favoriser son départ.

Je vais plus loin—les autorisations de quitter la Colonie ne sont accordées qu'à ceux dont la conduite a été bonne depuis l'expiration de leur peine.

Recevez, Monsieur le Consul Général, l'assurance de ma haute considération.

Le Gouverneur,
L. OLRY.

Pour copie conforme. Le Consul Général.—F. DE CASTELNAU.

Colonial Secretary,—You will see that the Governor does not reply to my questions. The position he takes up is that convicts whose sentences have expired, or who may be pardoned, are absolutely free, and he has no power to prevent them leaving the Colony at their own expense to seek their fortunes elsewhere, if they think proper to do so. I should like to speak to you on this subject before further action is taken upon it.—H.R., 6/11/78.

Colonial Secretary,—I have seen General Trintinian on this subject, and given him a copy of the Duc Decazes' letter. He has promised me to speak to Governor Olry on his arrival in New Caledonia, and to endeavour to concert with him measures for giving effect to the Duc's request.—H.R.

Sir,

Referring to my report of the 10th September last, No. 78/676, having reference to expiree French convicts coming into New South Wales, I have now the honor to submit for the information of the Colonial Secretary copy of a letter received from the Acting French Consul, which refers to eight Frenchmen, convicts from New Caledonia, who have applied to me for railway passes, with a certificate from the Consul that they are new arrivals and in destitute circumstances.

This makes a total of about fifty Frenchmen who have applied for passes during the last three months, and I believe most of the men were ex-convicts.

I have, &c.,

[Enclosure.]

The Acting Consul of France to The Inspector General of Police.

Dear Sir, Sydney, 29 November, 1878.

In answer to your letter of this date, I have the honor to inform you that the men in question are all liberated convicts, and also new arrivals in this Colony. I can readily understand your hesitation to grant them free passes; but I send these men to you because I am convinced that it is better to have them away in the interior than to keep them in the city, where they would be most likely to give your department a great deal of trouble.

As to their destitute situation, they are made to swear before me that they do not possess any means of living, and I take their answer for what it is worth, as I have no means of inquiry to prove their truthfulness. If afterwards, being arrested by the police, such sums of money as you state in your letter, and as was previously stated to me by an officer of your Department, to have been found on the man you arrested, are found on them, they then and there fall completely under your control, and they are liable to any penalty according to your code of laws if theft or such charges as that of obtaining money under false pretences can be proved.

I have, &c.,
The Acting Consul of France,
CH.-L. DE-LA-FOREST.

It is quite clear to my mind that we shall receive no satisfaction from the French authorities either here or in New Caledonia. The enclosed letter is a fair specimen of the way in which our complaints are treated. The number of expirees now arriving from New Caledonia is becoming alarmingly large, and there is reason to fear that some of them are of the very worst class of criminals.

I think the time has arrived when the Governor might with propriety invoke the aid of the Home Government, in the hope that an earnest representation should be made to the French Government.

It is not fair or reasonable that this Colony, which years ago successfully freed itself from the importation of British criminals, should be against its will made the receptacle for the scum of France.

His Excellency. M.F., 4/12.

Col. Sec.,—As I have written unofficially to the Consul at Noumea on this subject, and also conferred personally upon it with General Trintinian who has promised to speak to Governor Olry, I think this matter might now stand over until after the arrival of the next mail steamer from New Caledonia. If you will then be so good as to have these papers resubmitted I will deal with them.—H.R., 8/12/78.

Resubmit end of month.—10/12. His Excellency.—H.P., 28/12/78.

I have not yet received a reply. May stand over for a few weeks.—H.R., 30/12/78.

H.P., 31/12/78.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

NEW SOUTH WALES.

WAYS AND MEANS.

(EXPLANATORY STATEMENT.)

Ordered by the Legislative Assembly to be printed, 6 November, 1878.

EXPLANATORY Statement of the Public Accounts of New South Wales, as embodied in the Ways and Means for 1879.

CONSOLIDATED REVENUE FUND.

No change of Administration having taken place since the last Financial Statement was made, nor anything of importance having occurred, beyond the passing of a Further Supplementary Estimate for 1877 and previous years, and an Additional Estimate for 1878, to disturb, to any great extent, the results exhibited in the accounts attached to the Ways and Means of 31st January last, the explanation of the differences between these and the accounts now submitted will be found less complicated than usual.

Accounts were submitted with the last Ways and Means showing the revenue and expenditure for the years 1876 and 1877 respectively and the probable revenue and expenditure of the year 1878. As the account for 1876 has since been closed no necessity now exists for again submitting it, the more especially as the final result differs but little from that previously shown. In the last account submitted for that year the accumulated surplus at the end of 1876 was estimated to amount to £2,096,321 19s. 2d., but on closing the account finally the actual surplus was found to be £2,112,199 6s. 2d., a sum only £15,877 7s. 0d. in excess of that previously stated. This excess arises entirely from the unused appropriations of 1876 having turned out more than was estimated in January last.

The present Ways and Means contain the following accounts relating to the Consolidated Revenue Fund, viz. :—

An account of Revenue and Expenditure for 1877, marked No. 1.

An account of actual and estimated Revenue and Expenditure for 1878, marked No. 2.

An account showing the proposed Expenditure in relation to the estimated Income for the year 1879, marked No 3.

In

In order to show clearly wherein the two first-mentioned accounts differ from those formerly submitted it will be necessary to refer to them separately and somewhat in detail. The first of these is the

ACCOUNT FOR 1877.

From which it will be seen that the accumulated Surplus at the close of 1877 is now estimated to amount to				£2,331,610 13 7
Whereas in the Account formerly submitted it was estimated at				£2,317,343 10 10 thereby showing a small increase of ...				£14,267 2 9 which is accounted for in the following manner:—
To the larger Surplus brought from the account of 1876, as already explained, viz.				£15,877 7 0
has to be added an increase on the amount of appropriations for Services of 1877 estimated as not likely to be required, viz., from £310,000 to £360,000, equal to a further credit of				£50,000 0 0
which gives a gross additional credit of ...				£65,877 7 0
From this has however to be deducted the following additional charges, since found necessary, viz.—
Debentures paid off, further sum	£500	0	0
Charges on Collections, further sum ...	3,191	19	2
Pensions under the Superannuation Act Repeal Act, further sum	1,049	7	10
Amount of Supplementary Appropriations during the last Session of Parliament in excess of the amount charged in the last account submitted	28,475	19	0
Amount of the Further Supplementary Estimate for 1877 and previous years, now before the Assembly	18,672	15	9
	51,890	1	9
Less Premium on Debentures since transferred from the 1877 to the 1876 Account to which it more properly belongs	279	17	6
				51,610 4 3
Leaving the difference above stated, viz.,				£14,267 2 9

The new clause, inserted in the "Appropriation Act for 1877" giving a currency of two years to all the Parliamentary appropriations for that year, renders it impossible to state, at the present time, with absolute accuracy, the probable savings which will finally accrue thereon. Although the votes and balances of votes for that year remaining unexpended on the 30th September last (the latest date up to which they could readily be ascertained), amount to the large sum of £1,030,053 6s. 9d, it has not been deemed advisable to estimate these savings, at this time, at more than £300,000

£300,000 (exclusive of the Treasurer's Advance Vote of £60,000), which is only £50,000 in excess of the estimate last made. It is however anticipated that at the close of the year when all the unexpended appropriations must be written off, except those in connection with which contracts exist, that the savings will be found to amount to a sum considerably larger than that now estimated.

Account for 1878.

This account is necessarily composed of both actual and estimated revenue and expenditure, as a portion of the year has yet to run. In the account submitted with the Ways and Means of January last it was estimated that the accumulated surplus would amount to £2,467,404 6 8

In the present account it is only estimated at 2,306,525 11 1

Thus showing a decrease of £160,878 15 7

which is the result of certain necessary alterations in the account since the last Financial Statement was made.

These alterations are as follows:—

1. Additional charges—

Under the Additional Estimate submitted after the Financial Statement was made, appropriations were sanctioned for the Services of 1878, in excess of the amount charged in the last account submitted for this year to the extent of	£144,610	0	0
Special Appropriations, as per account now submitted, further sum	103,100	0	0
Amount of the Supplementary Estimates for 1878 now before the Assembly	218,819	18	4
Total additional charges	£466,529	18	4

2. Additional credits:—

Increase in surplus from the year 1877, as already explained	£14,267	2	9
Revenue as now estimated for 1878 in excess of former estimate	41,384	0	0
Amount of estimated Savings on appropriations for 1878 (exclusive of the Treasurer's Advance Vote of £30,000 taken credit for in last account) ...	250,000	0	0
Total additional credits	£305,651	2	9

Deducting the additional credits from the additional charges there is left a debit balance of £160,878 15s. 7d., which is the amount of the reduced surplus for 1878, as shown above.

Treasury Balances.

It is usual before entering into any explanation respecting the proposed expenditure of an ensuing year, in relation to its estimated income, to furnish a synopsis or abstract of the balances which stood at the credit of the various public accounts, according to the books of the Treasury, at the close of the month immediately preceding the delivery of the Financial Statement. These balances have therefore been made up, as indeed all the other statements with the present Ways and Means have, to the 30th September last, and will be found detailed in the statement commencing with page 113 of which the following is an abstract, viz. :—

Public Account :—
Consolidated Revenue Fund	£1,986,713 17 3

Total Cash Balance		£2,938,882	19 9
To which has to be added the amount of the Securities in the Treasury Chest, viz.		580,813	9 6
Making a total, as above shown, of... ...		£3,519,696	9 3

The Cash Balance in the London Branch of the Bank of New South Wales, as above shown, was the balance according to the accounts of the Treasury, which was, however, £140,923 13s. 9d. in excess of the balance shown by the Bank's own statements. This difference is the amount of certain payments made by the Bank, which had not been adjusted in the Treasury books on the 30th September last.

On

On the 1st July, interest on Debentures fell due in England to the amount of £237,452 10s. 0d., so that the true balance in London at the present time is probably not quite £250,000.

While dealing with these balances it may be convenient to refer here also to the position of the Consolidated Revenue Fund as a whole, in order to show what are its present and prospective assets and liabilities, with a view to arrive at the estimated surplus at the close of the present year, as shown in the account for 1878, marked No. 2. This information comes properly, however, under the head of

ASSETS AND LIABILITIES.

Assets.

The Assets are as follows :—

Liabilities.

The following are the Liabilities, actual and estimated :—

1. Appropriations of 1877 outstanding on 30th September, 1878 as per statement with Ways and Means marked B, page 54 ...	£1,030,053 6 9

2. Appropriations of 1878, including balances on additional special Appropriations, outstanding on same date	£2,296,180 13 1

3. Amount of Supplementary Estimates for 1878 and previous years		237,492 14 1
Total Liabilities		£2,983,726 13 11
Which deducted from the total Assets leaves an estimated surplus at the close of the present year, as shown in the account for 1878, of		£2,306,525 11 1

ESTIMATED

Estimated Account for 1879.

Bringing forward from the account for 1878 the accumulated surplus which it is estimated will exist at the close of this year, viz. :—	£2,306,525	11	1
there has to be added thereto the estimated Revenue for the year 1879, which it will be seen from Statement A of the Ways and Means, page 17, amounts to the sum of	5,031,155	0	0
thereby giving a total credit of	£7,337,680	11	1
From this credit there has to be deducted the estimated Expenditure for 1879, which will be found, according to the account for that year, marked No. 3, to amount to	5,331,070	4	6
which would leave at the end of 1879 an estimated accumulated surplus of	£2,006,610	6	7

The realization of this surplus depends, of course, in a great measure upon the future action of Parliament with regard to appropriations for Public Works of a permanent and reproductive character, such as in former years would probably have been provided for by borrowed money.

It will be observed from the foregoing statement that while the Expenditure of 1879 is estimated at	£5,331,070	4	6
which shows a difference of...	£299,915	4	6

This difference between the estimated Income and Expenditure for the year is the result, however, of an addition to the expenditure of £358,000, in connection with a large number of Public Works items, which in the absence of the surplus would have been provided for by Loan. The Government having considered that those items may fairly stand as a charge against the accumulated surpluses of previous years, and being in effect so charged, and the general expenditure from the year's revenue being reduced by the sum mentioned, viz., £358,000, there will be left a balance in favour of the revenue of 1879 of £58,084 15s. 6d.

The following is a list of the items referred to, viz :—

Breakwater, Clarence River	£20,000	0	0
Prison Buildings, &c., Trial Bay, further sum	10,000	0	0
Dredge for Rivers and Lakes	15,000	0	0
Dredge, Tug, and Punts, for Manning River, in the first instance	18,000	0	0
Punts for Dredge Service	13,000	0	0
New Dredge, &c., Sydney Harbour	15,000	0	0
Erection of Light-house, Cape Green	17,000	0	0
Towards the erection of a new Lunatic Asylum at Callan Park	25,000	0	0
Towards the completion of Public Offices for the Lands Department, further sum	35,000	0	0
For completion of new Public Offices for Department of Public Works and Colonial Secretary, further sum ...	45,000	0	0
Towards the erection of new Free Public Library	75,000	0	0
Towards the erection of new Law Courts	20,000	0	0
Towards the extension of the New General Post Office, including £13,300 payable to the Honorable Alexander Campbell under Arbitrators' award, for resumption of land in Pitt-street	50,000	0	0

The

With the Estimates for 1879 there is submitted for the first time a Schedule showing the total remuneration received by all Public Officers who hold more than one office, or who have any special allowance, quarters, fuel, or light in addition to their fixed annual salaries.

Although the information contained in this Schedule has been carefully compiled, and in the majority of cases revised by Heads of Departments, still it is possible it may not be found so complete as it ought to be. Any omissions or errors discovered in it while under the consideration of the Legislative Assembly will be rectified in the Schedule submitted with the next Estimates. The salaries, allowances, &c., given in this document are those provided and authorized for the present year.

LOANS ACCOUNT.

Statements containing full particulars respecting the various Loan Funds, to 31st December, 1877, were submitted with the last Ways and Means. Similar statements are attached to the present Ways and Means, showing their exact position on the 30th September last. At the close of 1877 the amount due to the Consolidated Revenue Fund for advances made on account of loans authorized but not then negotiated was £1,600,000 0 0

During the present year further advances have been made to the extent of £375,000, which has been reduced by a recent repayment of £200,000, to ... 175,000 0 0

Thereby making the sum now due £1,775,000 0 0

The following is a condensed abstract of the payments made on account of services authorized to be provided for by loans, from 1st January to 30th September, 1878, viz. :—

Electric Telegraphs	12,168	0	7

From the General Loans Account at page 55 the following abstract of liabilities and assets is taken, viz. :—

An abstract of payments made on account of loan services from the commencement of the Loan Account to 30th September, 1878, will be found at page 106 of the Ways and Means, from which it will be seen that they amount in the aggregate to £13,617,394 3s. 11d., and that £9,943,379 11s. 9d. of that sum was for Railways, and £430,186 13s. 0d. for Telegraphs.

TRUST FUND.

The statement of Balances on the Public Accounts of the Colony at page 113 of the Ways and Means shows that on the 30th September last, the aggregate balance at the credit of the various accounts composing the Trust Fund was £1,042,975 17s. 1d., and was represented by :—

Cash in Banks			£462,162	7 7
Securities in the Treasury Chest, belonging to the following accounts, viz. :—
Government Savings Bank ...	£385,666	13 11
Church and School Estates ...	153,181	19 3
Police Reward, and Superannuation Funds...	19,200	0 0
Assurance Fund—Real Property Act	16,300	0 0
Other Securities	6,464	16 4
			580,813	9 6
Making together			£1,042,975	17 1

As the balance on the Trust Fund on 31st December last was £1,006,425 8s. 8d., there has consequently been an increase during the first nine months of the present year of £36,550 8s. 5d.

It is not considered necessary to give at this time further details respecting the several accounts embraced in the Trust Fund, as a comprehensive review of those accounts was given in the last Explanatory Statement.

PUBLIC DEBT.

The statements attached to Ways and Means (pages 107–111), explanatory of the Public Debt of the Colony, show that on the 30th September last the Debt remained in much the same position as it was in on 31st December, 1877.

On that date it stood at	£11,724,419	9	2
On 30th September last it was	£11,724,019	9	2
Thereby showing a reduction of only	£400	0	0

This small reduction has been caused by the retirement of Debentures to the extent of £500, and a sale in the Colony of one Debenture of £100 under the Act 39 Vic. No. 18.

No new loan having been authorized by Parliament during the last Session, nor any fresh loan negotiated this year, beyond the £100 referred to, the amount still to be raised remains almost the same as stated in the Explanatory Memorandum of 31st January last, the particulars of which it may be useful to repeat here. They are as follows :—

Authorised Loans not yet negotiated—

Under 38 Vic. No. 2, passed in 1874 (full amount) ...	£806,200
Under 39 Vic. No. 18, passed in 1875 (balance)	112,095
Under 40 Vic. No. 12, passed in 1876 (full amount) ...	2,236,000
Under 41 Vic. No. 4, passed in 1877 (do.)	207,352
Under 41 Vic. No. 7, do. (do.)	1,120,000
In all	£4,481,647

This large amount of authorized Loans was granted for the following purposes, viz. :—

Railways	£3,558,257
Harbour and River improvements	215,190
Public Works and Buildings...	144,000
Bridges...	126,000
Electric Telegraphs	23,200
Fortifications	165,000
Repayment of Loans	250,000
	£4,481,647

To avoid delay in carrying out these services, many of which were of an important and urgent character, advances have from time to time been made from the Consolidated Revenue Fund to the extent of £1,975,000. In view of a large contemplated expenditure for Water Supply and Sewerage works in Sydney and its suburbs and in some of the principal towns of the Colony, as also in view of prospective engagements in England in connection with these works and otherwise, the Government recently decided to negotiate a loan in the London Market. For this purpose, debentures, bearing 4 per cent. interest, were prepared under the following Acts of Parliament for the nominal sum of £2,865,500, viz. :—

Under 38 Vic. No. 2 (in full)	£806,200
Under 40 Vic. No. 12 (in part)	1,852,000
Under 41 Vic. No. 4 (all but £52)	207,300

Debentures

Debentures for £1,500,000 of this sum were transmitted to the Government Financial Agents in London by the Suez Mail of August last, with instructions for their negotiation. Owing, however, to a sudden and unexpected change in the money market their sale has been temporarily postponed.

A sum of £200,000 has been drawn from the Bank of New South Wales, Sydney, by the negotiation of two drafts for £100,000 each, in anticipation of the sale of these securities, which has been credited to the Consolidated Revenue Fund as part payment of advances made for carrying out the services provided for by the Act 38 Vic. No. 2. The amount due by the Loan Fund to the Revenue Account has thus been reduced from £1,975,000 to £1,775,000, the sum at which it stood on the 30th September last. During the month of October further advances were made to the extent of £75,000, thus bringing the total amount up to £1,850,000.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

NEW SOUTH WALES.

WAYS AND MEANS.

(EXPLANATORY STATEMENT.)

Ordered by the Legislative Assembly to be printed, 12 February, 1879.

EXPLANATORY Statement of the Public Accounts of New South Wales, as embodied in the Ways and Means for 1879.

CONSOLIDATED REVENUE FUND.

WHEN the late Treasurer, Mr. Cohen, made his Financial Statement, on the 6th November last, he submitted Ways and Means in which the actual revenue for the first nine months of 1878 was shown, and in which he furnished an estimate of the probable amount that would be received during the last three. As the revenue of the whole of that year has now been ascertained, and as a change of Administration has since taken place, it has been considered necessary to submit not only new Ways and Means but fresh Estimates of Expenditure, as none of the Expenditure Estimates submitted by the late Government, excepting a few items included in a temporary Supply Bill, were dealt with by the Legislative Assembly prior to the resignation of that Government in December last.

In consequence of this backward position of the financial arrangements, the Accounts now submitted with the present Ways and Means are, with one exception, which will be referred to hereafter, necessarily of the same character, and for the same years, as those submitted by the late Treasurer. The main differences in the Accounts for the years 1877 and 1878 consist of such corrections and additions as the lapse of time has rendered necessary. For 1879 they are of a more varied character, and therefore require a fuller explanation, which will be given when the Account for that year is under review.

The Accounts embraced in the present Ways and Means, relating to the Consolidated Revenue Fund, are therefore as follows, viz. :—

1. An Account of Revenue and Expenditure for 1877.
2. An Account of Revenue and Expenditure for 1878.
3. An Account of the Estimated Surplus Revenue, 31 December, 1878, and of the proposed charges thereon.
4. An Account showing the proposed Expenditure in relation to the Estimated Income for the year 1879.

In

In explaining the difference between these and the accounts recently submitted by Mr. Cohen, it will of course be more convenient to deal with them chronologically, or in the order just stated. Under this arrangement the first to come under review is—

THE ACCOUNT FOR THE YEAR 1877.

It has been found impossible to close this account entirely and finally, as there are many important works and services now in progress, for the completion of which it is necessary to reserve funds, as the contracts or engagements for carrying them out were duly made within the time allowed by law. It will be seen by reference to the statement marked B, page 54 of the Ways and Means, that the sums reserved to cover these incompleted, and in some cases uncommenced works and services, amount to £504,323 10s. 11d. By a reference to the account for 1877 submitted by the late Treasurer, with his Ways and Means of 6th November last, it will be observed that £300,000 was taken credit for as the probable amount of appropriations for that year not likely to be required for expenditure. A more careful estimate has since then been rendered practicable by the expiry of the two years within which contracts or engagements could be made for the carrying out of public works or services of a special nature. That estimate has now been made, and, as will be seen from the Statement B above referred to, the appropriations written off as not likely to be required amount to the large sum of £409,597 10s. 10d., which, it will be observed, is £109,597 10s. 10d. in excess of the former estimate of these savings, exclusive of the Treasurer's Advance Vote of £60,000, which also lapsed by effluxion of time, and was written off on 31st December, 1878. Indeed, it is probable that a very considerable portion of the £504,323 10s. 11d. referred to as having been reserved for future expenditure will yet have to be written off from causes which are not at present foreseen. The authorized expenditure of 1877 (including the small Supplementary Estimate of £29,685 3s. 6d. now before the House) amounted to £5,903,492 16s. 1d., a sum very much in excess of any previous year, and even largely in excess of the authorized expenditure for 1878 and the proposed expenditure for 1879. Notwithstanding this unusually large expenditure for 1877, it is still considerably within the revenue of that year, which in its turn was larger than any preceding year; for while the actual expenditure is estimated to amount to £5,433,895 5s. 3d., the net revenue amounted to the large sum of £5,748,245 17s. 5d., thus leaving a surplus of £314,350 12s. 2d.

The following statement shows wherein the present account for 1877 differs from the one submitted by Mr. Cohen on the 6th November :—

The estimated accumulated surplus on the 31st December, 1877, as now shown in the account submitted, marked No. 1, amounts to		£2,425,754 5 0
The surplus shown in the corresponding account, submitted by Mr. Cohen with his Ways and Means of November last, was		2,331,610 13 7
Which shows an increase of		£94,143 11 5
Which arises in the following manner, viz. :—

Amount estimated by Mr. Cohen in statement above referred to ...	300,000 0 0

THE ACCOUNT FOR 1878.

In the Ways and Means submitted by the late Treasurer on the 31st January, 1878, when he made his first Financial Statement, the Revenue of that year was estimated at £4,873,750. On the 6th October last, when he made his second Financial Speech, and with nine months' actual receipts as a guide, it was estimated that the year's income would reach £4,915,134. Large as these estimates were considered at the time, it is satisfactory to find that they both fell considerably short of the actual outcome of the year, which amounted to the sum of £4,991,919, being £118,169 in excess of the former, and £76,785 6s. 6d. of the latter estimate. When it is recollected that the late Government not only reduced the sales of land by auction but stopped entirely the selections after auction from 1st April, 1878, this result must be admitted to be highly satisfactory, proving as it does that notwithstanding the prolonged drought of previous years the Colony was on the whole in a prosperous and progressive condition during the past year.

In the account for 1878, submitted on the 6th November last by the late Treasurer, Mr. Cohen, the expenditure for that year, including a Supplementary Estimate of £218,819 18s. 4d., was estimated at £4,940,219 2 6 and the Revenue as already stated at 4,915,134 0 0

thus showing a deficiency of £25,085 2 6

In the account now submitted for 1878 it will be seen that while the actual Revenue of the year amounts to £4,991,919 6 6 the Expenditure is estimated to amount to 4,942,749 12 8

leaving thereby a surplus of £49,169 13 10

This favourable change in the state of the account is chiefly the result of an increase in the revenue, as compared with the last estimate, of £76,785 6s. 6d., as the estimated expenditure in both accounts is nearly the same.

The

The following statement will, however, show more clearly wherein the present account for 1878 differs from the one submitted by Mr. Cohen :—

Estimated accumulated surplus, 31st December, 1878, as per account now submitted		£2,474,923	18 10
Estimated surplus on same date, as per Mr. Cohen's account		2,306,525	11 1
Increase of surplus		£168,398	7 9

which arises in the following manner, viz. :—

Additional credits—
Increased surplus brought forward from the account of 1877		£94,143	11 5
Revenue of 1878 in excess of Estimate		76,785	6 6
Total additional credits		£170,928	17 11
From which has to be deducted an increase in the estimated expenditure to the extent of...		2,530	10 2
thus making the increase above shown ...		£168,398	7 9

It is perhaps necessary to explain here the principal differences between the Supplementary Estimate for 1878 submitted by the late Treasurer and the Supplementary Estimate now submitted for the same year by the present Government.

Mr. Cohen's Estimate amounted to		£218,819	18 4
This has however to be reduced by certain items which were appropriated in December last under the Appropriation Act, 42 Vic. No. 4, viz. :—
Railways—
Working Expenses, further sum	£60,000 0 0
Additions and alterations to Stations, &c., further sum	10,000 0 0
Public Works—Harbours and and Rivers Department, further sum	8,500 0 0
Stores and Stationery, further sum...	8,000 0 0
In all		£86,500	0 0
Thus reducing it to		£133,319	18 4

Besides these reductions, there has been left out of the present Supplementary Estimate a sum of £36,000 for the purchase of 1,440 acres of land adjoining the Necropolis at Haslem's Creek for public purposes, which is now provided for on another Estimate. This amount and a few other unimportant changes have reduced the Estimate to £97,995 12s. 2d.

TREASURY

Treasury Balances.

Before proceeding to an explanation of the accounts which relate more particularly to the present year, it may be well to give here the usual particulars respecting the balances at the credit of the various Public Accounts at the close of the year, as exhibited by the books of the Treasury. In the last Explanatory Statement these balances were given as they stood on the 30th September, 1878. Since then the aggregate balance has somewhat diminished; but that arises from payments on account of Railways and other public works having been heavier than usual during the last quarter of the year. By a reference to page 135 of the present Ways and Means, the aggregate amount of these balances on 31st December last will be found to be £3,358,535 13s. 1d., whereas on 30th September preceding the aggregate amount was £3,519,696 9s. 3d., thereby showing a reduction of £161,160 16s. 2d.

The following is an abstract of the Treasury Balances as they stood on the last day of the year 1878, viz.:—

This amount was distributed as follows, viz.:—

Total Cash Balances		2,776,488	8 7

It

It is necessary to explain that the cash balance of £380,448 4s. 2d. represented to be at the credit of the Government in the London Branch of the Bank of New South Wales on the 30th September last was the balance according to the books of the Treasury, which was however £164,235 2s. 10d. in excess of the balance shown by the accounts furnished by the Bank. This difference is the amount of certain payments made by the Bank which had not been passed through the Treasury books on the 31st December last.

Surplus Revenue Account.

No account similar to this has ever been submitted with any previous Ways and Means. The object in view in presenting an account of this nature is to show clearly the manner in which it is proposed to absorb the accumulated surpluses of previous years. These surpluses began to accrue in 1872, and have been accumulating year by year up to the present time. Being almost entirely the proceeds of Land Sales, they have consequently varied in amount with the area of land disposed of annually. The following figures show exactly the gradual increase of these Surpluses during the last seven years:—

Year.	Revenue.			Expenditure.			Surplus.
1872	2,794,224	7	7	2,652,813	1	1	141,411	6	6
1873	3,323,229	19	6	2,739,066	10	11	584,163	8	7
1874	3,528,884	8	9	3,343,845	18	2	185,038	10	7
1875	4,121,995	11	3	3,377,301	6	2	744,694	5	1
1876	5,033,828	6	3	4,577,732	4	2	456,096	2	1
1877	5,748,245	17	5	5,433,895	5	3	314,350	12	2
1878	4,991,919	6	6	4,942,749	12	8	49,169	13	10
Making a total Surplus on the 31st December last of ...							£2,474,923	18	10

As this large sum simply represents so much of the Public Estate realized in excess of the annual requirements of the Government, it has been deemed right and proper that no portion of it should be used to meet the ordinary expenditure of future years, but rather that it should be used only for carrying out public works of admitted general utility, for the erection of important public buildings, and for other services which cannot fairly be considered a charge upon the revenue of any one year in particular, and which in the absence of such surplus would probably have to be provided for by Loans.

For the purpose of giving these views practicable effect, a separate Estimate has been submitted for the consideration and approval of Parliament, containing all those items (and a few others besides) which the late Government embodied in the Estimates-in-Chief for 1879, and which they considered fair and legitimate charges against the accumulated surpluses of previous years. Instead however of only charging against the surplus, as the late Government did, sums on account of several of these Services, the present Government have charged the full amounts which it is estimated by the proper officers will be required to complete them.

The account now submitted in connection with this surplus is divided into two parts, numbered respectively I and II. Part I is simply a statement of assets and liabilities, from which it will be seen that the assets exceed the liabilities by the sum of £2,474,923 18s. 10d., which is the same as the estimated surplus shown in the account for 1878. In part II that surplus is brought down on the credit side, and against it there is charged on the debit side the sum of £1,210,000, being the amount of estimated expenditure for Public Works and other Services which it is proposed in the separate Estimate now before the Legislative Assembly should be defrayed therefrom. Deducting this proposed expenditure from the surplus there is still left the large balance of £1,264,923 18s. 10d. This balance, or remaining surplus, is of course available under the arrangement proposed for any Service of a character somewhat similar to those above mentioned, and will be strictly reserved for the purpose.

The following are the Services which it is proposed to charge against the surplus, viz. :—

Towards the completion of the Prince Alfred Hospital...	£20,000	0	0
Special grant to Country and Suburban Municipalities equal to half the rates in each case for the Municipal Year ending 4th February, 1879	34,000	0	0

For the extension of the New General Post Office, including £13,300 payable to the Honorable Alexander Campbell under Arbitrators' award, for resumption of land in Pitt-street	150,000	0	0

ESTIMATED ACCOUNT FOR 1879.

The great difference between the estimated Account for 1879 now submitted and the one submitted by the late Treasurer is the elimination from the former of the accumulated surpluses of previous years. This account is now commenced as it were with a clean sheet, and contains on the one side the amount of the estimated Revenue, and on the other the amount of the probable Expenditure of the Government, as set forth in the Estimates-in-Chief, to which is added the sum of £50,000, appropriated by the Act 42 Vic. No. 6, passed in January last, towards the erection of a Building for the International Exhibition to be held in Sydney during the present year.

The Revenue as now estimated is in excess of the estimate of Mr. Cohen to the extent of only £65,000, which is an increase under the head of Balances of Conditional Purchases. Under the eighth section of the Crown Lands Amendment Act of 1875 it is provided that, where the balance is not paid in full at the expiration of three years from date of purchase, an instalment of one shilling per acre must be paid on all lands conditionally purchased subsequently to the passing of that Act (which took place on the 10th August, 1875), within three months after the said term of three years. In consequence of this provision it is estimated that balances will be paid up during the first quarter of this year to the amount of £65,000 over and above what it is anticipated will be received under the operations of the law of 1861. In other respects the two Estimates are alike.

There are, however, several variations in the Estimates of Expenditure, the most important of which is the transfer to the Surplus Account of those amounts for Public Works and Buildings, to which allusion has just been made, which the late Government considered fair charges against the surpluses of former years, although they did not deem it necessary to remove them from the Estimates-in-Chief and embody them in a separate Estimate.

The Estimates submitted by the late Treasurer for 1879 amounted to	£5,366,070	4	6
While those now before the House amount to	4,919,893	11	2
thus showing a decrease as compared with Mr. Cohen's, of	£446,176	13	4
Which is chiefly accounted for by the withdrawal from the late Government's Estimates of the following items, which are considered proper charges against the Surplus Revenue Account :—
Towards the completion of the Prince Alfred Hospital...	£20,000	0	0
Breakwater, Clarence River	20,000	0	0
Prison Buildings, &c., Trial Bay, further sum	10,000	0	0
Dredge for Rivers and Lakes	15,000	0	0
Dredge, Tug, and Punts, for Manning River, in the first instance	18,000	0	0
Punts for Dredge Service	13,000	0	0
New Dredge, &c., Sydney Harbour	15,000	0	0
Erection of Light-house, Cape Green	17,000	0	0
Towards the erection of a new Lunatic Asylum at Callan Park	25,000	0	0

Towards

Towards the completion of Public Offices for the Lands Department, further sum	35,000	0	0
For completion of new Public Offices for Department of Public Works and Colonial Secretary, further sum	45,000	0	0
Towards the erection of new Free Public Library ...	75,000	0	0
Towards the erection of new Law Courts	20,000	0	0
Towards the extension of the New General Post Office, including £13,300 payable to the Honorable Alexander Campbell under Arbitrators' award, for resumption of land in Pitt-street	50,000	0	0
Making a total of	£378,000	0	0
To which has to be added the following sums struck out of the Estimates, viz. :—
Locking the Darling	10,000	0	0
Interest on Public Debt not required in consequence of non-sale of the Debentures now in London... ...	45,000	0	0
thus bringing the withdrawals up to	£433,000	0	0

In addition to these there have been several other variations of minor importance that make up the difference between the two Estimates, but which it is considered unnecessary to specify here in full detail.

Deducting from the estimated Revenue of 1879, viz. ...	£5,096,155	0	0
The estimated Expenditure, which amounts to	4,969,893	11	2
There is left an estimated surplus of	£126,261	8	10

LOANS ACCOUNT.

Statements relating to the various Loan Funds will, as usual, be found attached to the Ways and Means, showing their position as a whole, as well as the position of each separate and distinct Fund, on the 31st December last. The General Loans Account, page 78, shows that the appropriations for Railways, Public Works, and other services remaining unexpended on that date, amounted to £2,774,040 1 10 and that the amount due to the Consolidated Revenue Fund for advances made therefrom pending the negotiation of authorized Loans was				1,950,000	0 0

Of which there has been repaid from time to time ... 1,115,000 0 0

Leaving due to the Revenue on 31st December last a sum of £1,950,000 0 0 which is £350,000 in excess of what was due at the close of the year 1877.

The usual abstract of payments made on account of Services authorized to be provided for Loans, which will be found at page 128 of the Ways and Means, shows that, from the commencement of the Loan Account to 31st December last, there has been a gross expenditure of £13,836,729 19s. 8d., of which the following is a brief summary, viz.:—

TRUST FUND.

The balances on 31st December last on the various accounts embraced in the Trust Fund will be found detailed in the Statement of Balances on the Public Accounts attached to the Ways and Means, page 113. These balances aggregated on that date, £990,284 2s. 11d. On 30th September, 1878, they amounted to £1,042,975 17s. 1d., consequently there has been a reduction during the last quarter of that year of £52,691 14s. 2d., which arises principally in connection with the adjustment of the Treasurer's Advance Account for 1877 and the refund of sundry deposits of a temporary nature. The large balance now at the credit of the Church and School Fund has been invested in Government Securities to the extent of £153,181 19s. 3d., which yields an annual revenue of £6,285 5s. 9d. Of the £478,436 9s. 6d. at the credit of the Government Savings' Bank on 31st December last, last, there has been invested in Debentures, and New South Wales 4 per cent. Stock, a sum of £385,666 3s. 11d., producing an annual interest of £15,426 13s. 4d. A sum of £16,300 out of the £27,253 18s. 8d. at the credit of the Assurance Fund, established under the Real Property Act, is also invested in Debentures. During the past month a further investment has been effected on behalf of this Fund to the extent of £5,700, which makes a total investment of £22,000.

The following Statement shows the exact distribution of the £990,284 2s. 11d. at the credit of the Trust Fund on 31st December, 1878, viz. :—

Cash in Bank			£408,236 18 5
Securities in the Treasury Chest belonging to the following accounts, viz. :—
Government Savings Bank ...	£385,666 13 11
Clergy and School Estates ...	153,181 19 3

PUBLIC DEBT.

No change whatever has taken place with respect to the position of the Public Debt of the Colony since the last Financial Statement was made. The Statements attached to the present Ways and Means (pages 107–111), explanatory of that national liability, will therefore be found precisely the same as those submitted by the late Treasurer. From these documents it will be seen that the Debt on the 31st December last stood at £11,724,019 9s. 2d.

It is noteworthy that, notwithstanding the large increase of population since the year 1870, and the great progress made since then in the construction of Railways and other Public Works of a permanent and reproductive character, the Public Debt of the Colony is at the present time only £250,000 more than it was in that year, when the population was estimated at only 502,000. On the 31st December last the estimated population was 694,000.

The following Statement shows the amount of the Debt at the close of each year, from 1870 to 1878 inclusive, viz. :—

1870	...	£11,470,637 9 11
1871	...	10,614,330 0 0
1872	...	10,773,230 0 0
1873	...	10,842,414 16 8
1874	...	10,516,370 15 7
1875	...	11,470,637 9 11
1876	...	11,759,519 9 2
1877	...	11,724,419 9 2
1878	...	11,724,019 9 2

Although

Although the sum last mentioned represents the amount due to the Public Creditor, it does not represent the entire indebtedness on account of Services authorized to be provided for by Loans.

To the Public Debt of	£11,724,019	9	2
must be added the amount advanced to Loans from the Consolidated Revenue Fund, pending the sale of Debentures, which on 31st December last amounted to	1,950,000	0	0
and the amount advanced by the Bank of New South Wales on the Debentures transmitted to London in August last for negotiation there, viz.	200,000	0	0
These together bring the total indebtedness on account of Loan Services up to	£13,914,019	9	2

Of this sum there remained, however, unexpended on 31st December last £442,072 9s. 7d.

The authorized Loans not yet negotiated are as follows, viz. :—

38 Vic. No. 2	1874	...	full amount	£806,200
39 Vic. No. 18	1875	...	balance ...	112,095
40 Vic. No. 12	1876	...	full amount	2,236,000
41 Vic. No. 4	1877	...	,,	207,352
41 Vic. No. 7	1877	...	,,	1,120,000
		Total	... ...	£4,481,647

These sums were authorized for the following Services, viz. :—

Railways	£3,558,257
Harbour and River Improvements	215,190
Public Works and Buildings	144,000
Bridges	126,000
Electric Telegraphs	23,000
Fortifications	165,000
Repayment of Loans...	250,000
	£4,481,647

As a large portion of these services has been defrayed out of the advances made from the Consolidated Revenue Fund, the proceeds of these Loans will be liable, of course, for the repayment of the amount due to the Consolidated Revenue Fund, and of the advance made by the Bank of New South Wales, as above shown.

The sale of the million and a half of Debentures forwarded to London last year is still postponed, as the money market has not sufficiently recovered to secure their negotiation at a price commensurate with the high rates which the public securities of this Colony commanded about this time last year.

None of the Debentures now outstanding absolutely mature until 1888, when £500,000 fall due, but there are certain interminable Debentures which can, at the option of the Government, be paid off in 1882, to the amount of £232,130.

SEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

AUDITOR GENERAL

ON

THE TREASURER'S STATEMENT OF THE RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURE OF THE CONSOLIDATED REVENUE FUND, AND OTHER MONEYS, FOR THE YEAR 1877.

(Under Act 33 Victoria No. 18.)

---

1. In transmitting the Treasurer's Annual Statement of Receipts and Expenditure for the year 1877, as required of me by the 38th clause of the "Audit Act of 1870," it is right that I should call attention, as I had reason to do in my last Annual Report, to the inconvenience occasioned by the delay in passing the Appropriation Act for the services of the year.

Temporary Supply Acts at the rates sanctioned for the previous year authorized the expenditure of £2,849,393—covering a period of nine months—as detailed below, viz. :—

The

The time has arrived when the amalgamation of the separate Loan Funds might with advantage, in my opinion, be sanctioned. The checks which the Audit Act provides upon the issue of Public Moneys are such as to prevent the mis-appropriation of Loan Funds to other purposes than those for which they are voted.

There are now, in addition to the "Old Loans Account," which is included with the Consolidated Revenue in the "Public Account," no less than ten separate Loan Accounts in the books of the Treasury and Audit Departments, involving multiplication of labour without any corresponding benefit.

PUBLIC DEBT.

8. On the 31st December the Public Debt stood at £11,724,419 9s. 2d., bearing interest at the rate of £560,604 1s. 8d. per annum, or a trifle over four and three quarters per cent. (£4 15s. 7½d.).

The prosperous condition of the Consolidated Revenue Fund has enabled the Government to postpone the realization of the "Railway Loan Act of 1877" (41 Vic. No. 4)—

Authorizing		£207,352	0 0
And the "Public Works Loan Act of 1877" (41 Vic. No. 7)—
Authorizing for Railways ...	£960,000 0 0
,, Fortifications ...	160,000 0 0
		1,120,000	0 0

Beside which, there is still authority to raise under the following Loan Acts:—

Public Works, 38 Vic. No. 2	806,200	0 0
,, 39 Vic. No. 18	112,190	0 0
,, 40 Vic. No. 12	2,236,000	0 0
£	4,481,742	0 0

It should be noticed that the sum of £175,838 13s. 1d. short-raised under the Railway Loan Act, 36 Vic. No. 17, to which attention was drawn in my Report of last year, has been made good out of the Revenue by special Vote No. 318 in the Appropriation Act for 1877.

9. I have to report that the Statutory Discharges of Receipts and Payments by the Treasurer, which, by the 28th section of the Audit Act, the Auditor General is required to issue, are still in abeyance for the months of October and December of the year 1876. And further, that I have been obliged to withhold similar Discharges for the months of April, November, and December of the year 1877.

The repeated applications which have been made to the Treasury for the return of the necessary vouchers and papers to enable me to prepare these Discharges have been disregarded, and to this day remain unsatisfied. Therefore, until these defects are made good, I am unable to certify to the accuracy of the Treasurer's Statements, in so far as those months are concerned.

10. Under an opinion given by Mr. Attorney General Martin, dated 10th April, 1872, the Auditor General has no power to surcharge the Treasurer, nor is there any Officer of the Treasury upon whom the Auditor can raise a surcharge. He is, therefore, powerless to exact compliance with the requirements of the Audit Act, and can do no more than invite the attention of the Legislature to the the shortcomings which he feels it his duty to bring under notice. The responsible Minister, in virtue of the opinion above quoted, is practically irresponsible, and the great Receiving and Pay Office of the State is free from the penalties for neglect, which the Audit Act imposes upon every other public accountant.

11. With a view to the establishment of a more effective control, on the part of Parliament, which seems to me to be wanting under the Audit Act of 1870, I would take leave to suggest the appointment of a Committee of Public Accounts, consisting of Members of one or both Houses, on the same plan and with similar duties as are discharged with such eminent success by the Committee of Public Accounts appointed by the House of Commons.

12. This Committee inquires into all differences between the Audit and Expenditure Departments of the State, and makes its Reports to the House upon them. It calls before it the principal Officers of the Departments with which the Audit Office is in conflict, questions them on the points raised, and gives its decision in favour of the Department which it believes to be in the right. An important moral support is thus given to the Audit Department, without which it could never hold its own against the powerful influence of the great State Departments brought to bear against it.

Appendix A.

13. In the Appendix will be found a Schedule of Transfers of Surplus Balances from one head of Service to another, authorized by the Governor in Council under the provisions of the 18th clause of the Audit Act.

Appendix B. parts 1 & 2.

14. In accordance with former practice, I also append separate Statements of the Receipts and Disbursements under the "Registration of Brands Act" (30 Vic. No. 12) and the "Public Abattoirs Fund" (14 Vic. No. 36).

These Accounts are mixed up with the general Accounts in the Treasurer's Statement, although directed to be separately shown as "Special Funds."

The Registration of Brands Account shows a Debit Balance of £456 6s. 5d. and the Public Abbatoirs Fund a Debit Balance of £2,185 15s. 2d.

15. The usual Schedule of Dis-allowances of Payments illegally made by the Treasurer without Warrants, as prescribed by the 11th clause of the Audit Act, forms Appendix C to this Report.

16. Under the provisions of the 17th clause of the Audit Act, the Trustees of Victoria Park were called upon to repay the Advance of £500 made to them for "Improvements" under a Vote of the year 1876.

As the grant had not been operated upon in that year, nor any engagement entered into for the employment of the money, the Vote was held to have lapsed on the 31st of March following, in terms of the clause quoted. The Trustees however demurred to the repayment of the money, claiming exemption from the operation of the 17th clause on the plea that the money had been issued to them, and was no longer under the control of the Treasury.

As the plea was a new one, and important in its bearing on similar grants, a case was submitted for the opinion of the Attorney General, and in accordance with the directions contained in the 37th clause of the Audit Act, I append a copy of the case, as stated, and of the Honorable the Attorney General's opinion thereon. The opinion is adverse to the view taken by me, and opposed to the construction which had guided the Department in dealing with similar grants from the time of the introduction of the Audit Act.

See Appendix D.

17. The terms of the 17th clause are explicit as to the lapsing of Votes for Services uncontracted for before the expiration of the year, or unexpended within the first three months of the following year. I cannot therefore recognise the mere issue of a Vote by the Treasury as being tantamount to the expenditure of it. The proper course to have been taken seemed to me to be this: that the money should have been refunded and placed again upon the Estimates as a "lapsed Vote" with others of a similar character. There would thus have accrued no loss to the Trustees, the law would not have been strained, the Accounts would have been kept clear, and Parliament would have been made aware of the reasons for the non-expenditure of the Vote in the year for the Service of which it was appropriated. In order that the view taken by the Trustees may be fully placed before Parliament, a copy of Mr. S. C. Brown's letter on their behalf will be found in the Appendix with the other papers in the case. The danger is, that a vicious principle may be established, and moneys voted for the Service of the year, when once issued by the Treasury, may be kept in hand by Trustees or others for irregular or indefinite periods, with the further risk of ultimate appropriation to purposes not contemplated when the Vote was taken.

18. There is great disinclination on the part of the recipients of public moneys, whether heads of departments or other persons, to incur the risk of losing a Vote once taken, by submitting it again to the crucible of Parliamentary discussion. The feeling is—if I may be permitted to say so—unreasonable, inasmuch as I am not aware that a sum once voted has been demurred to as a "re-vote," on reasonable cause for its non-expenditure being shown. Moreover, Parliament has a right to know to what extent its grants for the previous year have been unexpended, and the reason why.

19. Owing to the late period at which the Appropriation Act for the Service of the year 1877 was passed—nearly the middle of the tenth month of the year—it was found necessary to prolong the life of the Votes beyond the time fixed by the Audit Act, for Services which could not be undertaken until that measure was assented to. A clause was therefore introduced, extending the operation of the grants to the 31st December, 1878. Nevertheless, the following clause (No. 14) was allowed to stand, which provides that "Nothing in this Act contained shall affect, or in any manner alter or vary, any of the provisions of the Audit Act of 1870." Whether this clause nullifies the provision for extending the life of the Votes is a question which I have not thought it necessary to raise, recognising as I do the obvious intention of the Legislature in that regard. But I deem it my duty to invite attention to the clause, because it was enacted to remove the serious inconvenience which would have been felt had the Votes been allowed to lapse on the 31st of March. I wish, moreover, to point out to your Honorable House that a similar clause was re-enacted in the Appropriation Act for the present year, which was assented to on the 21st May, and therefore did not call for the same prolongation which, under such exceptional circumstances, was extended to the Votes of the previous year; and I would, very respectfully, beg to point out the danger of interfering with the operation of the Audit Act, in respect of the lapsing of Votes which are not protected by contract.

The continuance of such a clause is likely to lead to looseness in the treatment of the Annual Votes, and to confusion in the Accounts: a risk which can only, in my opinion, be justified by the occurrence of such exceptional circumstances as were exemplified in regard of the Appropriations for 1877.

20. I may be permitted to observe in support of this opinion, that it is impossible to place before Parliament correct Estimates of future Expenditure, if you have not correct Accounts of past Expenditure; and this important object you imperil, if you allow the Votes of one year to run into another. Loose Estimates, incomplete Accounts, tardy Audit, will assuredly attend the relaxation of this important principle of the Audit Act, and the consequence will be the absence of Returns of Expenditure showing how far the intentions of Parliament have been complied with, upon which your Honorable House can place any reliance, or at the least it will lead to a tardy examination of Accounts, which will delay the preparation of Audited Returns to a period when they will have little or no practical value.

21. Your Honorable House need not be reminded of the inextricable confusion in which the Public Accounts were involved prior to the introduction of the Audit Act of 1870, owing to the loose manner in which grants of Parliament had been treated. Balances of unexhausted Votes of years back, and for which credit had been taken over and over again in the Ways and Means, were hunted up and considered available for issue to meet demands for Services for which insufficient funds had been provided; and there were no means of repressing the irregularities which the exigencies of the times forced upon successive Treasurers until the wisdom of Parliament provided a remedy in the Audit Act.

This measure has given legal force to the improvements it was designed to introduce. It has controlled the issues of Public Moneys, it has checked misappropriation, it has systematized the dealings with Votes, it has secured prompt and accurate Statements of the Public Expenditure, it has subjected them to independent Audit, and it has ensured an effective Parliamentary control over the Public Finances, which should be jealously guarded from encroachment from whatever quarter, and under whatever guise, it may be attempted.

22. Before closing this Report, perhaps I may be allowed to bring under the notice of your Honorable House the difficulties under which I labour in maintaining the efficiency of the audit. It must be obvious that to maintain an effective control over the Public Receipts and Expenditure, the salaries of the officers employed on the duty should be so regulated as to present no inducement to its tried and experienced officers to desert the Department for more lucrative employment and better prospects in other branches of the Service. The Audit Office has suffered severely from this cause; and as from the nature of its duties it has few friends, I would beg to commend to the special protection of Parliament the interests of the Department upon which it relies for the control of its appropriations and for the faithful audit of the Public Accounts.

APPENDIX D.

S. C. Brown, Esq., to The Auditor General.

Sir, Sydney, 27 December, 1877.

In reply to your letter requesting the Trustees of Victoria Park to repay to the Treasury the balance in their hands of the £100 paid to them on the 29th November, 1875, and the whole of the £500 paid to them on the 30th December, 1876, for the reasons (as you state) that the further expenditure thereof is barred by the provisions of the Audit Act, I beg, on behalf of the Trustees, to say that they conceive they are not bound to comply with your request, and that the 17th section of the Audit Act, referred to by you, does not apply to this case.

As appears by the letter from the Treasury of 30th December, 1876, the £500 voted for the improvement of Victoria Park had been that day paid into the Bank of New South Wales to the credit of the Trustees (that portion of the usual printed letter which refers to the time for the expenditure of the money, and the payment of the unexpended balance, being struck out). In the first place, it would be absurd to suppose that this money having only been paid to the Trustees on the 30th December, they could expend it before the end of the year; but even if they could have done so, they, as I before stated, conceive they were not bound so to do, because the 17th section of the Audit Act refers (as they contend) to moneys in the hands of the Government for works authorized by Parliament, and not to moneys which have already been issued and paid away by the Government to a body like the Trustees of Victoria Park, to be expended by them at their discretion for improvements generally.

The

The Trustees do not for one moment deny that the Government have a perfect right, and indeed are bound to see that the money has been applied to the purpose for which it was voted, and they will therefore willingly forward you the vouchers; but they contend that the money having been once paid over to them by the Government, they are not limited to any particular time for its expenditure, or bound to repay to the Treasury any portion which may not have been expended within such time. As a matter of fact, improvements are going on under the superintendence of Mr. Moore, which will more than absorb the sums at the Trustees' credit; and I would submit that, if the Trustees so expend the money, there is not and ought not to be any process by which the Government could make them repay it.

The Trustees are most anxious to do that only which is according to law, and I shall be glad to hear from you at your very earliest convenience that you concur in their views, as any dispute with reference to this money would cripple their means of improving the Park.

The arguments with reference to the £500 also apply to the unexpended balance of the £100.

Yours truly,
S. C. BROWN.

Case for the Opinion of the Honorable the Attorney General.

The 17th clause of the Audit Act of 1870 declares that, unless expressly enacted to the contrary, Votes which shall not have been expended during the year for which voted, or within the first three months of the following year, shall lapse, except where a contract or engagement had been entered into prior to the close of the year.

The Trustees of the Victoria Park claim exemption from the operation of this clause in respect of moneys advanced to them, on the ground that it refers to moneys in the hands of the Government for works authorized by Parliament, and not to moneys which have already been issued and paid away by the Government to a body like the Trustees of Victoria Park, to be expended by them as they allege at their discretion for improvements generally.

As this is the first occasion on which such an objection has been taken, and as its determination will affect the dealing with all similar cases, I have to request the advice of the Honorable the Attorney General thereupon.

Department of Audit, 31 Dec., 1877. C. ROLLESTON.

Opinion.

As I understand the case on which my opinion is required certain sums were voted to be paid to Trustees for the improvement of the Victoria Park.

Had any part of these moneys remained in the Colonial Treasury, and not been paid over to the Trustees during the year for which it was voted and for the first three months of the next year, such part of such moneys would under section 17 of the Audit Act lapse, and be no longer available for the purpose for which they were voted; but in my opinion whatever part of such moneys has been paid to the Trustees the same has been expended, within the meaning of the Act, and can no longer be regarded as under the control of the Treasury or Audit Office, except so far as the Department of Audit may have to inquire into the proper outlay thereof.

The 17th section contemplates the retention, not the return, of moneys, and only forbids the issue or application by the Colonial Treasurer of moneys still under his control; it has therefore no application to money in the hands of the Trustees.

EIGHTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

AUDITOR GENERAL

ON

(Under Act 33 Victoria No. 18.)

In accordance with the directions contained in the 38th section of the Audit Act of 1870, I do myself the honor to transmit to the Legislative Assembly the Statement of the Public Accounts for the year 1878 furnished to me by the Colonial Treasurer, under the provisions of the 22nd section of the said Act, together with my Report thereupon.

2. The service of the first four months of the year was provided for temporarily by the following Supply Acts, viz.:—

For the month of January, 41 Vic. No. 9	£401,539	0	0
,, February, 41 Vic. No. 10	371,539	0	0
,, March, 41 Vic. No. 13	371,539	0	0

3. The Annual Appropriation Act (41 Vic. No. 24) was assented to on the 21st May. It provided as follows:—

For the Supplementary Service of the year 1877 and previous years—
1874	£1,541	13	11
1875	657	10	11
1876	8,344	14	9
1877	128,883	6	5
	£139,427	6	0
And for the Service of the year 1878	4,054,166	0	0
Total	£4,193,593	6	0	Vide Schedule Appendix A.
Add to this an appropriation under the Act (42 Vic. No. 4)	206,500	0	0
Carried forward	£4,400,093	6	0

Brought forward		£4,400,093	6 0
Fixed Statutory Charges		149,133	4 2
Unfixed do. do.		805,982	17 8
Pensions under Superannuation Repeal Act		9,221	2 0
		£5,364,430	9 10
Deduct Treasurer's Advance	£60,000
Railway Commissioner's Advance	2,000
		62,000	0 0
And we arrive at a total net liability for the year of		£5,302,430	9 10

4. There was on the 31st December, 1877, a Cash Balance to the credit of the Consolidated Revenue Fund	£2,529,988	18 7

Special Loans Fund	534,733	3 3
and
Trust Fund	1,006,425	8 8
	£4,071,147	10 6

Whilst the receipts in the year were—

On account of Consolidated Revenue
Fund	£5,243,863	16 4
Special Loans Fund	750,095	0 0
Trust Fund	1,464,183	9 1
		7,458,142	5 5
Together producing a total of		£11,529,289	15 11

It should be noticed, however, that of the sum of £750,095 credited to Special Loans Fund £95 only was actually realized, £200,000 having been advanced by the Bank of New South Wales against Debentures transmitted to London for negotiation and £550,000 advanced from the Consolidated Revenue Fund pending their realization.

5. The Payments in the year, including the £550,000 advanced to Loans Fund, amounted to £8,170,754 2s. 10d., under the following heads, viz. :—

Consolidated Revenue Fund (Arrears and Current Services)	£5,672,153	12 6
Old Loans Account	8,819	5 2
Special Loans	1,009,456	10 4
Trust Fund...	1,480,324	14 10
	£8,170,754	2 10

Thus the Cash Balances at the credit of the different Funds on the 31st December, 1878, amounted in the aggregate to £3,358,535 13s. 1d., as separately specified below, viz. :—

Consolidated Revenue Fund	£1,922,783	19 6
Old Loans Account	170,095	17 9
Special Loans	275,371	12 11
Trust Fund...	990,284	2 11
	£3,358,535	13 1

6. The distribution of these Balances at the end of the year is thus shown at page 12 of the Account:—

London Account, Bank N.S.W. ...	£380,448 4 2
Sydney „ „ ...	571,040 4 5
		£951,488	8 7
Special Deposits at Interest in the several Banks under the Agreement approved by the Legislative Assembly in May, 1876		1,825,000	0 0
		£2,776,488	8 7
Securities in the Treasury Chest		582,047	4 6
Total		£3,358,535	13 1

7. The Statement of the Public Debt at the 31st December, 1878, varies but slightly from that of the previous year, which stood at— £11,724,419 9 2

The only transactions during the year were the Annual Drawings under 31 Vic. No. 11	£20,000
Bonds purchased in reduction of the same	15,900
	£35,900
Interminable Debentures purchased	500
		36,400	0 0
		£11,688,019	9 2
And we arrive at a Total outstanding Debt at the 31st December, 1878, as per Treasurer's Statement, of...		£11,688,119	9 2

8. Obstacles have arisen in the course of Audit which have prevented a strict compliance with that provision of the Audit Act which requires me to give monthly Discharges to the Treasurer, and the Discharge for the month of June is still kept back waiting for information that has been asked for and not yet afforded. It must be understood that the Certificate of Discharge goes no further than this,—that the sums received have been found correctly credited to the Public Account, and the sums disbursed (supported by acquittances in terms of the Appropriation Act) have been debited under the Governor's Warrants to the proper Parliamentary Votes, the accuracy of details of the Vouchers being regarded as a responsibility appertaining to the Heads of the Departments who certify the accounts, and are liable to surcharge for any errors or omissions that may be subsequently discovered.

9. In the Appendix will be found copy of a case referred by me to the Attorney General under the 37th section of the Audit Act, together with his opinion thereupon. It had been intimated to me by the Manager of the Bank of New South Wales that the acquittance of certain officers of the Bank specially named would alone be held binding upon the Bank. See Appendix B.

Numbers of Treasury Vouchers came to me bearing the signatures of officers of the Bank not authorized to sign, and these had to be referred specially to the Manager for approval.

Representations

Representations were made by me to the Treasury as to this difficulty, but without any satisfactory result. I was therefore constrained to send the case to the Attorney General, to advise as to the responsibility of the Bank for moneys paid in although acknowledged by other than the recognized officers.

The opinion obtained was to the effect that the Bank authorities were perfectly justified in restricting their responsibility to the officers selected by them, and that the requirements of the Manager must be complied with. The rule thus laid down has since been observed.

10. Much misunderstanding and difference of opinion having arisen in consequence of the introduction of a new clause into the Appropriation Act for 1877, extending the vitality of the Votes to the end of the next year, an opinion from Mr. Attorney General Foster was sought as to the proper construction of the 13th clause of that Act. This clause was introduced to defeat the Lapsing Clause of the Audit Act, which limits the expenditure of the Votes to the first three months of the following year.

Many of the Public Accountants imagined that they might use Votes for Salaries and other fixed expenses promiscuously for 1877 or 1878 Services, as might be most convenient. This view was combated by me as defeating the objects of the Audit Act, and the question was submitted whether the terms of the Act justified such an interpretation.

The opinion given by the Attorney General held "that whilst the appropriations might be applied to the particular Service for which they were voted at any time up to the 31st December, 1878, yet it must be apparent that this will not apply to Salaries or any Service which, if performed in 1878, would not be the particular Service for which the money was voted, but only a new Service of a similar kind, but that it does apply to cases in which the specific Service contemplated to be performed in 1877 is in fact only performed during 1878."

11. A demand for a warrant was made by the Treasury for expenses in connection with the compiling and printing Electoral Lists and Rolls, for which insufficient Parliamentary appropriation had been provided.

The plea urged was that the 38th section of the Electoral Act itself sanctioned the appropriation. I demurred to this plea, and referred the case for the Attorney General's opinion.

Mr. Foster advised as follows:—"I do not think that expenses incurred under the 26th section in transcribing and printing the Electoral Roll for general purposes can be included in those provided for by section 38, consequently I think the Auditor General is right." Copies of the questions put and the opinions given will be found in the Appendix in each of the foregoing cases.

See Appendices C and D

12. Upon examination of the Accounts of the Bank of New South Wales (London Account) received in the early part of last year, it was found that there had been an apparent overcharge of one quarter per cent. for commission on certain payments made in terms of the 5th clause of the Banking Agreement of 1876.

This matter was brought under the notice of the Colonial Treasurer, in my letter of the 8th of June, 1878. The total amount of overcharge up to the end of the year 1877 was £1,652 19s. 11d.

A further representation was made on the 31st of October of a similar overcharge for the following half-year, amounting to £497 11s. 2d. I have not yet heard heard that these sums have been recovered, nor do they appear to have been credited in any later accounts to hand. I append copies of my letters and of the statements which accompanied them, for the information of the House. See Appendix E.

13. It is my duty to report the exercise by the Governor in Council of the power vested in him by the 30th section of the Audit Act in the case of a surcharge raised by me against the Chief Inspector of Distilleries, for a short collection of Duty on Colonial Distilled Spirits as far back as the year 1874, amounting to £28 7s. 9d.

After numerous and repeated applications to the Treasury, Collector of Customs, Chief Inspector of Distilleries, and Crown Law Officers, extending over a period of three or four years, the Governor in Council, on the motion of the Colonial Treasurer, at length directed the relief of the Officer from the surcharge.

The amount has accordingly been written off. A copy of the Executive Council Minute is appended for reference if desired. See Appendix F.

14. Up to the period of the late change in the office of Commissioner for Railways, the approval of the Secretary for Public Works had been required for all expenditure over the limit of five pounds. This rule had been laid down by Mr. Secretary Arnold, and had been in force up to the time of Mr. Rae's retirement.

Finding that the vouchers after that date bore no evidence of Ministerial sanction, I thought it my duty to inquire whether the rule had been abandoned under Ministerial approval.

After the lapse of some months, and frequent references on the subject, the information was conveyed to me by Minute of the late Secretary for Public Works, that the present Commissioner was to be considered as clothed with all the powers conferred on him by the Railway Act. Under this Minute, therefore, the vouchers for Railway Expenditure are now passed upon the Commissioner's responsibility alone.

15. It is my duty to report that no part of the Loan of £40,000 to the Corporation of the City of Sydney, voted by Parliament in the year 1875, to bear interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum, and to be repaid by annual instalments during the years 1876 to 1878, has to this date been repaid. On the 9th January, 1878, the non-compliance with the terms of the Vote was brought under the notice of the Colonial Treasurer, and on the 9th July a report was made to the Colonial Secretary on the subject, to which I received a reply "that a promise had been made to the Mayor of Sydney that the demand of the Government for the sums due should be postponed until some arrangements should be made, by means of legislation, for placing the Corporation in a position to meet its increasing liabilities."

16. I submit in the Appendix a Schedule of Transfers from one Head of Service to another, authorized hy the Governor and the Executive Council under the provisions of the 18th section of the Audit Act. Appendix G.

17. I have further to submit a Statement of unadjusted Advances at the close of the year, with the names of the Officers responsible for their adjustment, and in addition to this a Statement of Surcharges raised and recovered during the year 1878. Appendices H and I.

The amounts recovered were	£513	16	0
Still unsatisfied	1,810	14	9
Explained and withdrawn	1,367	14	8
Total	£3,692	5	5

Full particulars will be found in the Statements.

18. I have to report a case of defalcation which was discovered during the year under review in the Accounts of Mr. A. B. Armstrong, the Clerk of Petty Sessions at Parkes.

See Statement Appendix J.

The attested Accounts of this Officer for the March and June quarters of 1878, showed—

Collections to the extent of	£185	18	4
Whilst the credits at the Treasury were	32	3	2
Showing a deficiency of	£153	15	2

Mr. Armstrong was prosecuted for the embezzlement, and is now undergoing a sentence of incarceration for the offence. I have not yet been informed to what extent the Public will suffer, but there having been something owing to him for salary and commission, and some recovery from his sureties, it is believed that the deficiency will be nearly made up.

19. A defalcation which escaped notice in my Report on the 1877 Accounts should also be here mentioned. The case is that of E. Hanrahan, who was appointed Assistant Crown Lands Agent at Dubbo. This officer absconded with portions of the proceeds of two different sales of land,

July, 1877	£555	7	6
Together	£857	7	6

A warrant was issued for his apprehension, but I believe he has not since been heard of, nor have I learnt that anything has been recovered.

20. A deficiency to the extent of £3 0s. 6d., which was discovered in the accounts of the late Mr. J. F. McCarthy, Police Magistrate and Clerk of Petty Sessions at Boat Harbour, Bellinger River, was, upon the recommendation of the Colonial Treasurer, authorized to be written off by the Governor and the Executive Council. Copy of the authority confirmed by His Excellency the Governor on the 18th of March, 1878, will be found in the Appendix.

See Appendix K.

21. The Accounts of the Sydney Branch of the Royal Mint, and of the Post Office Savings Bank, have undergone the usual examination; but, with regard to the latter, I should observe that the examination was confined to a comparison of the gross amount of the year's transactions, and of the Balances shown in the Books of the Department with the Statement laid before Parliament.

It would be impossible to go into the minute details of every deposit and withdrawal, without great inconvenience to the Bank and a very large accession to the strength of the Audit Staff.

Appendix L.

22. A Schedule of Payments made without warrants, and disallowed in the Treasurer's Accounts, is appended to this Report.

23. In consequence of repeated irregularities in the Accounts of the Superintendent of Stores, I felt it my duty to bring the matter under the notice of the Colonial Treasurer, and to recommend a searching inquiry into the administration of the Stores Department.

As the Board appointed to conduct the inquiry has not yet brought up its final Report, it would not become me, in this place, to make any comment upon the subject matter of the irregularities referred to.

24. In continuation of former Statements of a similar kind, I beg to append an Account of the Receipts and Disbursements under the Registration of Brands Act (30 Vic. No. 12), as well as of the Public Abattoirs Fund under the Act (14 Vic. No. 36), which are not separately shown in the Treasurer's Statement. Appendices M and N.

25. Subject to the foregoing observations, it now only remains for me to submit the Accounts, and to certify that they agree with the postings in the Registers of this Department.

APPENDIX B.

CASE for the Opinion of the Honorable the Attorney General.

Re Liability of Banks on acquittances for moneys received by their Officers.

THE General Manager of the Bank of New South Wales declines to recognize as binding upon the Bank the acquittances of any other than two or three specially named officers for moneys paid in by the Treasury on account of contractors and others.

The Treasury officers decline to be bound by this restriction, and pay in large sums daily, obtaining the acquittance of some one or other of the officers of the Bank who may at the time be readily accessible, but not of those specially nominated by the Manager.

By this disagreement of the Bank with the Treasury, or vice versâ, unnecessary labor is thrown upon the Audit Department, in having to send to the Bank "for confirmation" all vouchers not acquitted in accordance with the Manager's directions.

Advice is requested as to the legality of the restriction, and as to the Bank's liability for all sums received and properly acknowledged by any officer in its employment.

8th March, 1878. C. ROLLESTON.

OPINION.

So long as the Bank refuse to recognize the acquittances of any but two or three officers as binding upon them, the Auditor General ought to require the signature of such officers.

The Treasury must conform to the requirement of the Manager, unless they find the arrangement so seriously to impede public business as to make a reference by the Honorable the Colonial Treasurer to the Executive necessary.

19/3/78. W. J. FOSTER, A.G.

APPENDIX C.

APPENDIX C.

CASE for the Opinion of the Honorable the Attorney General.

Re Interpretation of 13th clause of the "Appropriation Act of 1877."

THE object of this provision was to defeat the Lapsing Clause, No. 17, of the Audit Act of 1870.

It has been urged that the clause, as it stands, extends to "Payments" only, and not to "Services."

The question is whether it will not carry a wider interpretation, and sanction, up to the limit of the Votes, payment for Services rendered in 1878.

C. ROLLESTON,
Auditor General.

19th March, 1878.

OPINION.

THE 13th clause of the Appropriation Act 41 Vic. No. 8 enacts that no appropriation therein shall lapse until the end of 1878. This by itself would be unintelligible, and the meaning of the word lapse in this section can only be ascertained by a reference to the 17th section of the Audit Act of 1870 (33 Vic. No. 18.) By this section moneys appropriated to the Public Service for any year not expended during that year or within the first three months of the next shall lapse, and shall not be issued or applied in any future year to the particular service for which they were appropriated. This lapsing appears to be the only thing to prevent the moneys appropriated from being applied in any future year to the particular service for which they were voted, but the 13th clause of the Act of 1877 provides that the appropriations therein shall not lapse for twelve months. I am of opinion therefore, that they may be applied to the particular service for which they were voted at any time up to December 31st, 1878, even though the particular service was rendered not in 1877 but in 1878. It must be apparent that this will not apply to salaries or any service which if performed in 1878 would not be the particular service for which the money was voted, but which would only be a new service of a similar kind to that which was to have been rendered in 1877, but that it does apply to cases in which the specific service contemplated to be performed in 1877 is in fact only performed during 1878. Such appropriations must be actually paid out of the Treasury, on or before the 31st day of December, 1878.

26/3/78.

W. J. FOSTER, A.G.

APPENDIX D.

CASE for the Opinion of the Honorable the Attorney General.

Re Construction of 38th section of the Electoral Act of 1858.

THE Treasurer asks for a warrant over and above the Parliamentary Appropriation for the Service of "Compiling and Printing Electoral Lists and Rolls." The plea is urged that the Electoral Act itself provides the Appropriation.

It seems to the Auditor General that the 38th section of that Act is confined to expenses necessarily incurred by Returning Officers in conducting an Election, and cannot be construed to embrace the service of "Compiling and Printing Electoral Lists," for which an annual vote has always been taken.

The opinion of the Honorable the Attorney General is respectfully solicited.

20 May, 1878.

C. ROLLESTON.

OPINION.

Re Expenses under the Electoral Act.

THE 38th section of the Act 22 Vic. No. 20 relates to proceedings after an Election Writ has issued, and the expenses therein provided for are, I think, confined to those incurred in and about an Election, and do not extend to expenses incurred, not in and about any particular Election, but for the general purposes of the Act. I do not think therefore that expenses incurred under the 26th section in transcribing and printing the Electoral Roll for general purposes can be included in those provided for by sec. 38, consequently I think the Auditor General is right.

W. J. FOSTER, A.G.

APPENDIX E.

The Auditor General to The Under Secretary for Finance and Trade.

Sir,

Department of Audit, 8 June, 1878.

I do myself the honor to bring under the notice of the Colonial Treasurer an apparent overcharge by the Bank of New South Wales for commission on payments during the half-year ended 31st December, 1877.

By the Agreement of 1876, section 2, clause 5, whilst one-half per cent. is chargeable on payments of interest on the Public Debt, one-quarter per cent. only is allowed on "all payments involving verification of accounts or the transmission to the Colony of documentary evidence or vouchers."

In the account alluded to, the Bank has charged at the higher rate on the Agent General's cheques...	£210,428 1 5

Government Pensions	4,082 12 6
Disbursements...	61 5 0
	£214,571 18 11
Namely...	£1,072 17 2

Whereas,

Whereas, if I am right in supposing that these items come within the scope of payments subject to the lower charge, an over-payment of £536 8s. 7d. appears to have been passed to the credit of the Bank.

If this surcharge be established, a further demand on the Bank for an overcharge for the half-year dated 31st December, 1876, of £279 9s. 9d., and for the half-year ended 30th June, 1877, of £837 1s. 7d. should be made, as per statement enclosed.

I have, &c.,
C. ROLLESTON.

STATEMENT showing the Amount apparently overpaid to the Bank of New South Wales on account of Commission on Payments made by the London Branch during the period 1 July, 1876, to 31 December, 1877.

APPENDIX F.

At Government House, Sydney, 29th April, 1878.

PRESENT :—

His Excellency the Governor,
The Honorable the Colonial Secretary,
The Honorable the Colonial Treasurer,
The Honorable the Secretary for Lands,
The Honorable the Minister of Justice and Public Instruction, and
The Honorable the Postmaster General.

HIS Excellency the Governor lays before the Council a minute paper by the Honorable the Colonial Treasurer, on the subject of a surcharge raised by the Auditor General, in respect of Customs duty on certain Colonial distilled spirits in 1873 and 1874, which was paid for at the rate of 9s. 5d. per gallon in lieu of 10s.

After careful consideration of the subject, the Colonial Treasurer is unable to arrive at any other conclusion than that the amount £28 7s. 9d. should be written off, as it clearly appears that the error arose through some inter-departmental inadvertence, which cannot now be rectified.

2. The Council are of opinion (considering the lapse of time since the mistake at first occurred) that the course proposed be adopted and the necessary steps taken to write off the said amount in the Books of the Treasury and Audit office.

ALEX. C. BUDGE,
Clerk of the Council.

Certified copy.—ALEX. C. BUDGE. The Auditor General—B.C., 8/10/78.

PUBLIC LOAN.

Cablegram from Colonial Treasurer to Agent General.

27 June, 1878.

GOVERNMENT propose loan. Consult Larnach if advisable to reduce proportion hundred pound debentures. At present four thousand per million.

Cablegram from Agent General to Colonial Secretary.

1 July, 1878.

LARNACH recommends each million in future loans consist of 4,000 debentures of 100 pounds each; 800 debentures of 500 pounds each; 200 debentures of 1,000 pounds each.

The Under Secretary for Finance and Trade to The General Manager, Bank of New South Wales.

(S. 903.)

Sir,

The Treasury, New South Wales, Sydney, 3 July, 1878.

I have the honor, by direction of the Colonial Treasurer, to inform you that the Government have decided to avail themselves of the present highly favourable state of the London money market, by raising a loan in London of £2,865,552, being—£806,200 under 38 Victoria No. 2; £1,852,000 under 40 Victoria No. 12; and £207,352 under 41 Victoria No. 4.

The negotiation of which will be entrusted to your bank under the terms of the bank agreement, approved by Parliament on the 10th May, 1876.

The whole loan will be at 4 per cent., and the currency of the debentures thirty years, with interest payable as usual (half-yearly) in London or Sydney, at the option of the holder.

The Government would be glad if the loan could be negotiated so as to be called up in instalments extending over a period of twelve months, or, if this be inexpedient, over any shorter term, provided that (say) one and a quarter millions (£1,250,000) be in hand by the 31st December of this year, and the deposit be at least 10 per cent. of the loan. In giving expression to this desire, however, that the money should be called up by instalments, I am instructed to say that it must be made subordinate to the successful floating of the loan, with which primary object kept in view Mr. Larnach will determine whether any such suggestion should be acted upon or not. It may be that the debentures so payable would command a higher price than they would if the whole amount were called in at once; and thus the Government would be indirectly receiving interest upon money on which they would be paying interest themselves.

It may be well to add that this loan is being raised to pay for permanent public works (mainly railways now returning net 4½ per cent. on the capital invested), upon which a sum of about one and a half millions (£1,500,000) has been expended by advances from our local cash balances, which it is now thought expedient to reimburse, considering the particularly favourable opportunity for borrowing, and in view of further expenditure upon public works already sanctioned, in progress, and in contemplation.

The Treasurer hopes to be able to despatch the debentures at the latest by the next Suez mail; but in the meantime it will be well to inform Mr. Larnach, by cablegram or otherwise, of the determination of the Government, so that he may make all necessary preparations for the floating of the loan without delay.

I have, &c.,
G. EAGAR.

Minute for The Executive Council.

The Treasury, New South Wales, Sydney, 5 July, 1878.

Subject:—Issue of debentures under the Acts 38 Victoria No. 2, 40 Victoria No. 12, and 41 Victoria No. 4.

The Colonial Treasurer begs to recommend that the authority of His Excellency the Governor and the Executive Council be given for the issue, in such proportions as may seem to the Treasurer advisable, of New South Wales Government debentures to the value of two millions eight hundred and sixty-five thousand five hundred and fifty-two pounds (£2,865,552) under the provisions of the Loan Acts 38 Victoria No. 2, 40 Victoria No. 12, and 41 Victoria No. 4.

The Treasurer further recommends that authority be given for the use of His Excellency's engraved signature to the debentures, and that Mr. James Thomson of the Treasury be empowered to countersign the issue for and on behalf of the Under Secretary for Finance and Trade.

H. E. COHEN.

The provision of £384,000 in Loan Act 40 Victoria No. 12, for the extension from a point on the Great Southern Line near Junee to Narrandera, on the Murrumbidgee (64 miles), is excluded from this Loan.—H.E.C.

Minute of The Executive Council.

THE Executive Council advise that authority be granted for the issue of debentures to the amount herein stated, under the Acts specified.

The Council also approve of the recommendation of the Honorable the Colonial Treasurer as to the signature and counter-signature to the said debentures.

Clerk of the Council.

The Assistant Secretary, Bank of New South Wales, to The Colonial Treasurer.

Sir, Bank of New South Wales, Sydney, 9 July, 1878.

I do myself the honor to acknowledge your letter, S. 903, of the 3rd instant, in which you intimate to us that the Government have decided to avail themselves of the present favorable state of the London money market, by raising a loan there of £2,865,552, under various specified Acts, the negotiation of which will be entrusted to this Bank under the terms of its existing agreement with the Government.

We note the manner in which the Government would wish this loan negotiated—regard being had, however, to its being successfully floated,—and by the Suez mail on 6th instant we instructed the Managing Director of our London office fully upon the subject, at same time apprising him by telegram that debentures would be sent to him for sale by the mail of 3rd August, and asking him to prepare for them, and not to be forestalled by other colonies.

(S. 1,051.)

The Treasury, New South Wales, Sydney, 1 August, 1878.

Referring to my communication, S 903, of the 3rd ultimo, I have now the honor by direction of the Colonial Treasurer to hand you the undermentioned debentures, for transmission on account of the Government to your London office by the outgoing Suez mail, being portion of the loan of £2,865,552 already advised to you, say :—

Series	N 4,	Nos. $\frac{2401}{6500}$,	6,000	Bonds of £100	... ...	£600,000
„	O 4,	„ $\frac{2203}{3402}$,	1,200	„ 500	... ...	600,000
„	P 4,	„ $\frac{301}{600}$,	300	„ 1,000	... ...	300,000
			7,500	Bonds. Value	... ...	£1,500,000

Having a currency of thirty years, and carrying interest coupons from 1st October next.

These debentures you will observe are under the authority of three separate Acts, but are consolidated into one loan.

Guided by telegraphic advices from your London Managing Director, the Government have decided to place upon the market at the present time a moiety only of the loan, say one and a half millions, which amount it is considered will amply provide for our London engagements for some time to come.

The communications by cable, which have passed between Mr. Larnach and the Treasurer, sufficiently express the views which Mr. Cohen entertains respecting the floating and disposal of the loan, namely :—That, without unduly restricting Mr. Larnach's action for beneficially launching the loan, it will meet the requirements of the Government, if the proceeds are available—say one half on the 1st November, and the remaining half on the 1st December next—leaving the minimum to be finally advised to Mr. Larnach by cablegram, as the time for launching the loan draws near.

I have now to enclose, for transmission to Mr. Larnach, two certified copies of the Executive Minute authorizing the loan, six copies each of the Acts under which the loan is issued, three copies each of the Revenue Receipts and Expenditure for quarters ended 31st March and 30th June last.

I have also to confirm the attached copies of cablegrams addressed to Mr. Larnach on the subject of the loan ; and I am to request that the proceeds, when the transaction is completed, be placed to the credit of the Public Account of the Government in your London office.

I have, &c.,
G. EAGAR.

P.S.—You will please effect insurance on the value of the debenture paper—£50.

Treasury Minute.

Subject:—Loan, Re-sale of debentures.

The Treasury, New South Wales, Sydney, 13 January, 1879.

I HAVE carefully perused all the papers having reference to the loan proposed by my predecessor, and from these I find that in August, 1878, Mr. Cohen, "in view of the financial requirements of the Government," decided on availing of the borrowing powers, to a limited extent, conferred on the Government, and with this object, sent through the Bank of New South Wales to their London office, debentures for £1,500,000 for sale, under and by direction of the Agent General, Sir Daniel Cooper, and Mr. Larnach, who formed a Board for the purpose. General directions were given, but no minimum was fixed by the Government, and the London Board were requested to name a minimum, submitting same for approval of the Government before acting. Several cablegrams and letters confirmatory passed between the Government and the London Board as to the minimum and prospects of the loan being floated, and the latest official information is a cablegram from the Agent General, dated the 7th December, 1878, thus:—"Board twice met. Loan prospects no better. Canada, £3,000,000, four per cent yesterday—half only taken up. £96 10s., with half Imperial guarantee. Possibly ours succeed at £93. Shall we try."

The Government, against the debentures thus sent through the Bank of New South Wales, obtained an advance of—

£100,000 on 1st November, 1878,
£100,000 on 1st December, 1878, and
£300,000 to be paid 1st January, 1879.

The whole amount of £500,000 to be re-paid the Bank of New South Wales, in London, on 1st April, 1879, and such advances were to bear interest as made, and to be 1 per cent. above the Bank of England rate, during the currency of the advance, but not to be less than 5 per cent., and the advance was not in any way to be considered as suspending or altering the present agreement with the Bank of New South Wales, for the conduct of the general banking business of the Government.

Thus £500,000 has been obtained from the Bank of New South Wales in London against debentures for £1,500,000 forwarded for sale, and which under the agreement is repayable in London on 1st April, 1879.

It appears from the official message from the Agent General, as also from the cablegrams in the public press, that the London money market is very depressed, although the feeling is easier than it was a few weeks since, yet it is very doubtful if the minimum of £93, suggested in the message of the Agent General (and which I could not recommend being accepted) could now be obtained; but even supposing the loan could be placed on the market at £93, I think it would be injudicious to do so, in view of the fact that the Government has large cash surplus on special deposit in the various banks, as also in the general interests of the country.

I would therefore recommend that a message be sent to the Agent General, instructing him to suspend any action towards floating the loan, until further advised, or until the money market considerably improves.

The question now arises, how are funds to be provided in London, on 1 April, 1879, to recoup the Bank of New South Wales the special advance of £500,000 obtained against the debentures, if not sold in the meantime, which is not probable. The necessary amount cannot be withdrawn from the current revenue ("Public Account"), and to me there appear only two courses open; first,—

To withdraw from the banks holding special deposits, giving the usual thirty days notice as required by the agreement, say from £300,000 to £400,000, and withdrawing from the "Public Account," if at the time it will admit of this, and I think it will, the balance as required, and remit these amounts to London by draft, or as provided, thus covering the advance of £500,000; or second,—to continue the present special advance of £500,000 from the Bank of New South Wales, for a period to be arranged, or until the London money market improves, so that the debentures can be sold to advantage.

These appear to me the only two courses open, and having very carefully considered the subject, I have come to the conclusion that the second course, viz., to "continue the advance" is the one the Government should adopt, for the following, amongst other reasons:—

That this special advance was obtained against the debentures, and to be recouped after the sale of same, and that the special deposits and public accounts were not intended to be disturbed to repay this special advance.

That while having every confidence in the ability and readiness of the banks holding special deposits, to repay, in terms of the agreement under which such deposits were obtained, to the Government as required, yet having in view the general interests of the country, and the present depressed state of the money market in this Colony, I think it would be injudicious to call up at so short a notice as thirty days the large sum of £300,000 to £400,000, most probably the latter amount, and while I have every confidence in the banks paying this, or even a much larger amount, yet it would, there can be no doubt, have a very prejudicial effect on the trade and commerce and the banking operations of the Colony.

In recommending the second course, I do so also from the fact that the country will sustain no loss thereby, but on the contrary a financial advantage and an indirect, as well as direct gain; thus, suppose the Government continue the present special advance of £500,000 so obtained from the Bank of New South Wales, pending the sale of the debentures, for a period of (say) twelve months, a period much in excess of the time I anticipate necessary at 6 per cent. per annum, the rate now payable according to the latest cablegrams, and adopting this course and paying this rate of 6 per cent. in London, in preference to withdrawing the special deposits from the banks here, on which the Government receive only 4 per cent. for the purpose of remitting to London,—there will be, irrespective of any direct and indirect advantage to the country, an actual profit to the Government of 5s. 3d. per cent. per annum, or £1,312 10s. on the amount of £500,000.

We are receiving on our special deposits 4 per cent. per annum, and when notice is given to withdraw any portion of such deposits, under the bank agreement, interest ceases on the amount to be withdrawn from the date of such notice. For the amount so withdrawn we obtain from the Bank of New South Wales a draft on their London office at sixty days sight, for which the Government would pay 15s. per cent. premium, being 1s. 4d. per cent. under the current rate.

This

This draft will take about forty-five days to arrive in London, and sixty-three days afterwards to mature, or 108 days, and add to this the thirty days, on which, under the Agreement, the interest ceases here before the money is received, or in all 138 days before the money can be availed of in London. Thus, take—

£100 at 4% per annum is	4	0	0
£100 draft at ¾% premium...	0	15	0
(which of course is a saving, and, as such, must be taken into calculation) and the Government pay	£6	5	3

if the money is withdrawn from the banks here and remitted to London, as against £6 per cent. per annum on the present advance, if continued. And if the Bank of England rate fell to 4% (and by recent cablegrams there is every probability of this at an early date) the Government would then only pay 5% per annum, and at this rate, on the course recommended, there would be a direct profit to the Government on the transaction of £6,312 10s.

Putting aside the question of any pecuniary direct gain to the Government, but taking the larger grounds of the general benefit to the country, I recommend for the consideration of my colleagues, the desirability of continuing the special advance of £500,000 from the Bank of New South Wales in London, for such period as may be arranged, and at a rate not to exceed 1% above the Bank of England rate, or until the London money market improves, so that the debentures, against which such advance was specially made can be sold at a satisfactory price.—J.W.

Cabinet concur in the Treasurer's recommendation.—H.P., 13/1/79.

Cablegram from Colonial Treasurer to Agent General.

30 January, 1879.

TELEGRAM 9 December received. Suspend action towards floating loan until further advised or market considerably improves. In any event minimum to be suggested by Board for approval of Government here.

Treasury Minute.

The Treasury, New South Wales, Sydney, 15 March, 1879.

Subject: Loan—Further issue of Debentures.

Adverting to my minute of the 13th January last (loan—re-sale of debentures), I desire to bring under the notice of my colleagues a matter requiring some attention.

It will be remembered that my predecessor forwarded to London in the month of August last debentures of the nominal value of £1,500,000 for sale, but which have not yet been sold.

These formed a portion of the debentures authorized to be borrowed under the Acts 38 Victoria No. 2, £806,200; 40 Victoria No. 12, £2,236,000; and 41 Victoria No. 4, £207,352, or a total of £3,249,552, and my predecessor obtained the authority of the Governor and Executive Council to issue debentures for the sum of £2,865,552, being the full amount authorized to be borrowed under the Acts already quoted, less the sum of £384,000 for the construction of the railway from Junee to Narrandera, which when the authority was taken, was by special minute precluded from being borrowed.

Notwithstanding the authority so obtained, debentures to the amount only of £1,500,000 were issued, against which we have obtained an advance of £500,000.

The Acts already referred to gave the power to raise loans for the construction of the railway from Orange to Wellington, from Wellington to Dubbo, from Junee to Narrandera, from Tamworth to Armidale, and from Werris Creek to Gunnedah, and various other public works as therein enumerated.

Having in view the favourable condition of the London money market, and taking into consideration the prospective requirements of the Government in the construction of various public works which must be provided for by loan, and taking also into consideration the fact that if the debentures now in London were sold, the amount at the disposal of the Government would be under £1,000,000, which with the available surplus would be altogether inadequate for the construction of the works contemplated, and the Government would thus, at no distant date, be compelled to raise a further loan, which would not only be objectionable, but prejudicial to the interests of the Colony; and having considered the matter, I have come to the conclusion that the best course to pursue will be to take the authority of the Governor and Executive Council, to issue debentures for the full amounts authorized under the Acts, 38 Victoria No. 2, 40 Victoria No. 12, and 41 Victoria No. 4—in all £3,249,552; and that the debentures be forwarded to London by the earliest opportunity, so that advantage may be taken of the market at any time it may seem expedient and advisable to do so.

At present I refrain from suggesting any price, which will be a question to be considered hereafter when advices are received from the London agents, but in the meantime I recommend that every precaution be taken to be in a position to float the loan, and for the full amount referred to, when the London money market is in that position which may be considered advantageous, and I invite the concurrence of my colleagues herein.

Minute Paper for The Executive Council.

Subject:—Further issue of debentures under the Acts 38 Vic. No. 2, 40 Vic. No. 12, and 41 Vic. No. 4.

(No. 26.) The Treasury, New South Wales, Sydney, 20th March, 1879.

REFERRING to Executive minute No. 56, of 5th July 1878, authorizing the issue of Government debentures to the nominal value of two millions eight hundred and sixty-five thousand five hundred and fifty-two pounds (£2,865,552) under the provisions of the Loan Acts 38 Victoria number 2, 40 Victoria number 12, and 41 Victoria number 4, the Colonial Treasurer desires to inform His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor and the Executive Council that debentures were completed under the authority of that minute to the amount of only one million five hundred thousand pounds. These were forwarded to London for negotiation in August, 1878, but up to the present time no sales have been effected.

Having now in view the improved condition of the London money market, and the prospective requirements of the Government, the Treasurer considers it desirable that the whole loan should now be raised; he therefore recommends that the authority of His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor and the Executive Council be given for the issue of debentures to the amount of one million three hundred and sixty-five thousand five hundred and fifty-two pounds, being the balance of the said sum (£2,865,552), bearing numbers corresponding with the specification given on the face of the bonds transmitted to London in August, 1878.

The Treasurer further recommends that Mr. James Thomson, of the Treasury, be empowered to countersign the issue for and on behalf of the Under Secretary for Finance and Trade.

Minute of The Executive Council.

THE Executive Council approve of the issue of the debentures, under the Acts herein specified, as recommended by the Colonial Treasurer, and advise accordingly. The Council also advise that Mr. James Thomson be authorized to sign (in place of the Under Secretary) the said debentures.

The debentures in hand bear on face that loan is raised for £2,865,552, whereas Government authorize us to bring out £3,249,552. How can we reconcile this for satisfaction of Stock Exchange settlement—do they all mature 1st July, 1908?

Cablegram from Colonial Treasurer to Bank of New South Wales, London.

23 April, 1879.

DEBENTURES forwarded you in August last show that loan is under three Acts. £2,865,552 does not exhaust these Acts. Debentures going forward amounting to £1,749,500 include £384,000 balance under forty Victoria number twelve, and this is difference referred to in your telegram. The million and half debentures with you mature 1st July, 1908, those going forward 1st January, 1909. Report when advertised and date opening tenders.

The Under Secretary for Finance and Trade to The General Manager, Bank of New South Wales.

(S. 606.)

Sir, The Treasury, New South Wales, Sydney, 10 May, 1879.

Referring to Treasury communication, S. 1,051 of 1st August, 1878, I have now the honor, by direction of the Colonial Treasurer, to hand you the undermentioned debentures, for transmission on account of the Government to your London office, by the outgoing Suez mail, being the balance of the loan then advised to you, namely :—

(Under 38 Victoria No. 2, 40 Victoria No. 12, and 41 Vic. No. 4.)

Series N 4, of £100 each—
Nos. 8,403 at 13,867 =	5,465	£546,500
Series O 4, of £500 each—
Nos. 1,493 at 2,584 =	1,092	£546,000
Series P 4, of £1,000 each—
Nos. 384 at 656 =	273	£273,000
Series Q 4, of £100 each—
Nos. 13,868 at 15,407 =	1,540	£154,000
Series R 4, of £500 each—
Nos. 2,585 at 2,894 =	310	£155,000
Series S 4, of £1,000 each—
Nos. 657 at 731 =	75	£75,000
	1,925
Being 8,755 bonds, nominal value		£1,749,500
Which, added to the value transmitted on 1st August, 1878, namely 8,000 bonds, value		£1,500,000
Makes a total of 16,755 bonds		£3,249,500

You will observe that this amount, which exhausts the three Loan Acts already referred to, exceeds the amount advised to you on 1st August by the sum of £384,000—the increased amount being provision for the Junee and Narrandera railway, included in 40 Victoria No. 12, which the late administration had decided not to avail of, but which decision has not been adopted by the present Government.

These debentures, of course, will be handed over by your London office to the purchasers entitled to them under tenders of 2nd May.

I am to point out to you that while the loan has been negotiated with interest from 1st of July next, the debentures carry coupons of an earlier date those sent you in August last from 1st October, 1878, and those now sent you from 1st January, 1879. You will, therefore, please instruct your London manager before delivery of the bonds to cause these excess coupons to be cut off, cancelled, and returned to the Treasury.

The proceeds of the loan will, for the present, be carried to the credit of the Government of this Colony in a separate account in the books of your London office.

You will have the goodness to insure the debentures for £200 (two hundred pounds).

I have, &c.,
G. EAGAR.

Treasury Minute.

The Treasury, New South Wales, Sydney, 17 December, 1878.

Subject:—Cablegram from the Agent-General, London, dated the 7th instant, respecting sale of Debentures now in London.

The terms of this cablegram, in my opinion, would hardly justify the Government in launching this loan at 93, the minimum at which it is advised success is "possible," and for the following reasons:—(1) That considering our large existing Treasury balances, and that the most recent Stock Exchange quotations, as given in the Sydney Morning Herald, place our 4's at 99, it would not be in the interest of the public credit to appear to press our securities at 93; and (2) that as according to the cablegram under review, success at that figure is regarded as "possible" only, it would be highly injurious to the reputation of the Colony if failure in taking up the loan should be the answer to our invitation to accept it, a result which would certainly be risked by going into the market at present, relying as I do for this inference upon the terms of Mr. Forster's message and the local press telegrams as to the stringency of the home money market.

The Canadian 4 per cent. loan of £3,000,000 guaranteed as to one moiety by the Imperial Government has been taken up at 96½ to the extent of £1,500,000, but as I venture to think that the soundness of New South Wales bonds is by no means questioned, and that the guarantee of the Imperial Government can scarcely account for a difference of 3½% on the price, I cannot see why if Canada floats at 96½ we should accept 93.

Though the probability of other Colonies seeking loans at an early date may possibly affect any operations by New South Wales subsequent to them, and being first in the field must to some extent be advantageous, I do not think it would be wise for us to endeavour to anticipate their loans if it be at the cost of a probable large sacrifice of price or possible failure to launch and consequent loss of national prestige.

After carefully and anxiously giving the matter my best consideration I have arrived at the conclusion that in the present fitful and stringent state of the London money market the more prudent course is to bide our time and wait a more favourable opportunity for seeking for English capital.

The consideration of the Agent-General's cablegram has stood over in consequence of recent political difficulties.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

NEW SOUTH WALES.

BANKING BUSINESS OF THE GOVERNMENT.

(RENEWAL OF AGREEMENT WITH BANK OF NEW SOUTH WALES.)

Ordered by the Legislative Assembly to be printed, 26 June, 1879.

RENEWAL of Agreement with the Bank of New South Wales for the conduct of the local and London banking business of the Government of New South Wales.

No. 1.

Treasury Minute.

Subject:—Renewal of Bank Agreement.

The Treasury, New South Wales, Sydney, 13 January, 1879.

THE agreement entered into with the Bank of New South Wales for the conduct of the general banking business of the Government in the year 1876, was for a period of three years from the 30th June, 1876, unless under contingencies stated in such agreement and which have not arisen, and will consequently expire on the 30th June of the present year.

The present agreement having, I believe, proved fairly satisfactory to the Government—and in the present position of our financial arrangements I think it undesirable to alter the agreement—I therefore recommend, for the consideration of my colleagues, that the agreement now existing with the Bank of New South Wales for the conduct of the general banking business of the Government, be extended for one year certain from the 30th June next, and be continued for six months longer if desired by the Government or the Bank of New South Wales, provided six months notice has previously been given.

J.W.

Cabinet approved.—H.P., 13/1/79.

No. 2.

The Assistant Secretary, Bank of New South Wales, to The Colonial Treasurer.

Sir, Bank of New South Wales, Sydney, 21 January, 1879.

With reference to our recent interviews on the subject of the Bank agreement, I have the honor to inform you that the Bank is willing to extend the existing agreement relating to the Government banking business in the Colony and in London, on the terms and conditions set forth in the said agreement, subject only to the alteration that, instead of terminating on the 30th June, 1879, the agreement shall be extended for one year certain from that date, and be continued for six months longer, if desired by the Government or the Bank of New South Wales, provided six months notice has been previously given.

I have, &c.,
CHAS. M. PALMER,
Assistant Secretary.

This letter is the result of an interview with the General Manager of the Bank of New South Wales, and is in accordance with the verbal understanding then arrived at, and may be acknowledged and accepted.—J.W., 28/1/79.

No. 3.

The Under Secretary for Finance and Trade to The General Manager, Bank of New South Wales.

Sir, The Treasury, New South Wales, Sydney, 28 January, 1879.

I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your letter of 21st instant, on the subject of extending the existing agreement with the Bank, for the conduct of the Government banking business in the Colony and in London, and I am directed by the Colonial Treasurer to inform you that the Government accept the proposal of the Bank as set forth in the said letter.

I have, &c.,
G. EAGAR.

No. 4.

Executive Minute.

Subject:—Extension of the agreement with the Bank of New South Wales, for the conduct of the banking business of the Government.

The Treasury, New South Wales, Sydney, 19 May, 1879.

THE Colonial Treasurer recommends for the approval of His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor and the Executive Council, the accompanying minute providing for an extension, for a further period of one year certain, from 30th June next, of the agreement now existing with the Bank of New South Wales, for the conduct of the banking business of the Government in the Colony and in London—such extended agreement to be continued for six months longer, if desired by the Government or by the Bank of New South Wales—provided six months notice has previously been given.

JAMES WATSON.

[Enclosures Nos. 1, 2, and 3.]

His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor and the Executive Council.

THE Executive Council advise that authority be granted to continue the existing agreement with the Bank of New South Wales, for the conduct of the Government banking business in the Colony and in London, for a further period of one year from 30th proximo, and for a further period of six months—provided six months notice shall have been given by the Government or the Bank.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

NEW SOUTH WALES.

MURRAY RIVER CUSTOMS.

(CONVENTION BETWEEN NEW SOUTH WALES AND SOUTH AUSTRALIA.)

Ordered by the Legislative Assembly to be printed, 12 February, 1879.

Colonial Secretary's Office,
Sydney, 6th February, 1879.

HIS Excellency the Governor directs the publication, for general information, of the following Convention, made between this Colony and the Province of South Australia, relative to the operation of the Customs Laws on the river Murray.

HENRY PARKES.

CONVENTION made and entered into between the Honorable MICHAEL FITZPATRICK, Colonial Secretary, and the Honorable HENRY EMANUEL COHEN, Colonial Treasurer, for and on behalf of the Colony of New South Wales, of the one part, and the Honorable WILLIAM MORGAN, Chief Secretary, and the Honorable CHARLES MANN, Treasurer, for and on behalf of the Province of South Australia, of the other part.

FOR the purpose of enabling each of the Colonies of South Australia and New South Wales to receive the duties of Customs to which it is entitled on goods imported from one to the other by way of the river Murray or across the boundary between the respective Colonies without the actual collection of such duties by Customs officers on the occasion of each importation it is agreed as follows:—

1. That for a period of two years from the sixteenth day of December one thousand eight hundred and seventy-seven inclusive goods of all kinds including live stock shall be imported from South Australia into New South Wales and from New South Wales into South Australia by way of the river Murray or across the boundary between the respective Colonies without collection of Customs duties or charges of any kind upon any such importation save as hereinafter excepted.

2. That during such period there shall be paid to New South Wales by South Australia by equal quarterly payments the yearly sum of thirty-five thousand pounds (£35,000) as the consolidated rate payable by that Colony in lieu of the collection of Customs duties.

3. That the duties on goods which prior to the sixteenth day of December one thousand eight hundred and seventy-seven shall have been imported into New South Wales from South Australia by way of the river Murray or across the boundary between the respective Colonies and shall then be in any of the New South Wales bonded warehouses on that river or its tributaries and the duties on all goods which may hereafter during the continuance of this Agreement be placed in the present or any future bonded warehouse in New South Wales on the said river or its tributaries from South Australia shall be collected by New South Wales and paid over to South Australia without charge.

4. That should the Legislature of New South Wales during the period of two years set forth in the first clause of this Agreement reduce or repeal the Customs or Excise duties at present imposed by law the yearly sum to be paid to New South Wales shall in a corresponding manner be adjusted and reduced such adjustment to be determined by the amount of duties collected during the years 1877 and 1878 on the dutiable article or articles affected by such alteration of the law.

5. That should the said Legislature during the same period of two years increase the Customs or Excise duties at present imposed by law or impose new duties upon articles now admitted free the sum to be paid to New South Wales shall be adjusted and increased by the proportional amount received or receivable on the articles so subjected to Customs duties which shall be imported into New South Wales by way of the river Murray or across the boundary between the respective Colonies or be taken out of bond for consumption during the next succeeding six months after the Act imposing such duties shall come into operation.

6. That nevertheless it shall be optional for New South Wales or South Australia on the Legislature of either Colony passing any measure altering the Customs or Excise duties at present in force in such Colony to retire from this Agreement on giving thirty days' notice of its intention so to retire.

7. That the Government of South Australia shall afford all customary facilities for the transport under bond of goods destined for consumption in New South Wales to the boundary between the respective Colonies.

8. That all tobacco grown in either Colony and imported into the other Colony in leaf shall be subject to the duty payable on such tobacco by the Tariff of the Colony into which it is imported and all tobacco manufactured in either Colony and exported into the other shall be subject to the duty payable on manufactured tobacco in the latter Colony less the amount paid in the former upon the imported leaf such additional duty to be accounted for by the Colony collecting it to the Colony from which it is imported.

9. That nothing herein shall be held to prevent New South Wales making such arrangements not inconsistent with this Agreement with Victoria as it may think fit in reference to Custom duties on goods imported into New South Wales from Victoria by way of the river Murray or establishing and maintaining such Custom Houses and bonded warehouses and making such regulations as it may think fit for the collection of Customs duties on goods imported from or through Victoria by way of the river Murray but any goods imported into South Australia by the said river from Victoria or across the said river from Victoria viâ New South Wales shall be altogether exempt from the provisions of this Agreement and shall be chargeable with duty according to the South Australian Tariff then in force and the New South Wales officers of Customs shall co-operate with the South Australian Customs officers and take all proper steps to prevent the provisions of this Agreement being in any such way infringed.

10. That either Government shall be entitled to terminate the Convention at any time on giving to the other Government notice in writing of its intention three months prior to such termination.

I have the honor to inform you that the Honorable the Commissioner of Trade and Customs is desirous of having an interview with you on the subject of the Border Customs Duties, Postal arrangements, and other matters.

For this purpose he is prepared to visit Sydney in order to discuss these questions with yourself personally, and in the hope that a result may be arrived at equally advantageous to both of the Colonies.

I have, &c.,
BRYAN O'LOGHLEN.

The Commissioner of Trade and Customs, Victoria, to The Colonial Secretary, New South Wales.

Sir, "Petty's Hotel," Sydney, 31 January, 1879.

I have the honor as Commissioner of Customs of Victoria, to forward the enclosed brief memorandum on the subject of Border Duties for your consideration, which I venture to say I think should form a basis of any settlement of this matter that may be arrived at by the Governments of New South Wales and Victoria.

I desire here to invite your attention to the fact that there are some matters of detail not dealt with in the memorandum, which can perhaps be better provided for in a conference with the permanent head of the Customs Departments of each Colony; for instance, those cases where the duties on certain articles are higher in New South Wales than in Victoria.

I shall esteem it a favour if you will let me know your views on this matter when convenient.

I have, &c.,
PETER LALOR.

[Enclosure.]

MEMORANDUM regarding the collection of Border Customs Duties for the consideration of the Government of New South Wales, subject to the approval of the Government of Victoria.

ALTHOUGH the permanent settlement of this question can only be arrived at by the union of both these great Colonies, it is submitted that considerable relief would be afforded to the inhabitants of each Colony by such an equitable arrangement as is contained in the following suggestions:—

That on the part of Victoria the duties now being collected along the Border shall be relinquished on the following articles, namely:—

Live Stock.
Wine—Being the produce of	New South Wales.
Wheat	ditto.
Oats	ditto.
Maize	ditto.
Green Fruit	ditto.

That in consideration of the relinquishment of duties on the articles above enumerated, and the payment by the Government of Victoria to the Government of New South Wales of a sum to be hereafter agreed on, all goods from Victoria shall henceforth be permitted to enter New South Wales across the land and river borders free.

My dear Mr. Lalor, Colonial Secretary's Office, Sydney, 8 March, 1879.

I am not sure that I correctly understand the extent to which you suggested that our Customs officers should act for Victoria on the Border.

And have you the means in Sydney of giving me a return of the revenue collected by your Government on goods entering your territory across the Border from New South Wales?

Faithfully yours,

Memorandum by The Colonial Secretary, New South Wales.

MARCH 7.—I had a conversation with Mr. Lalor this morning, and, in reference to his communication of January 31st, he named £50,000 as the sum to be paid annually by the Government of Victoria, and at the same time proposed that the Customs Officers of New South Wales on the Border should also act for Victoria.

No. 7.

The Commissioner of Trade and Customs, Victoria, to The Colonial Secretary, New South Wales.

My dear Sir Henry, Monday, 10 March, 1879.

I only received your note late on Saturday night.

I will answer the latter query first, by stating that I enclose the only return I have on the subject, and which I think is the one you require.

Pray do not forget to estimate the great falling off in 1877 and 1878 owing to the destruction of the Riverina flocks.

Respecting the first paragraph in your note, I may state that what I suggested was, that our Victorian Customs Officers should be appointed by your Government to act for New South Wales, so as to be enabled to collect the duty imposed by your Customs Act when necessary for the protection of your own merchants, as against what would otherwise be the unfair competition of those of Victoria.

Take for example the case of sugar, which is liable to a much higher rate of duty in New South Wales than in Victoria. Our officers could only collect the Victorian rate, unless they were also appointed officers of Customs for New South Wales, and thus your merchants would be weighted by an extra £2 or £3 per ton.

Of course I contemplate that if an agreement be entered into on this matter that your officers of Customs shall be removed from the Border; and on account of the saving thus effected some reasonable consideration will be given to Victoria.

Believe me, &c.,

PETER LALOR.

Memorandum by The Colonial Secretary, New South Wales.

IT appears from Mr. Lalor's letter of yesterday that I misunderstood him as to the Customs Officers on the Border acting for both colonies. He explains that his suggestion was that our officers should be withdrawn, and that the officers of his Government should act for this colony as well as for Victoria.

No. 9.

Memorandum from the Colonial Secretary, New South Wales, to the Commissioner of Trade and Customs, Victoria.

YOUR proposal on the part of the Government of Victoria, as contained in your communication of January 31st, and your letter of the 10th instant, and as further explained in conversations, may be stated thus:—

In consideration of the free importation across the Border into New South Wales of all goods from Victoria, whether the growth or manufacture of Victoria or of foreign countries, and the withdrawal of our Customs' officers from the Murray, the Government of Victoria will relinquish the tax on live stock and the duties on wine, wheat, oats, maize, and green fruit, the produce of New South Wales, and to pay this Government a lump sum of £50,000 per annum.

I may point out in respect to your stock-tax and your Customs duties on wheat, oats, maize, and green fruit, that this Colony has no corresponding imposts on the produce of Victoria.

From the returns before me I find that the duties collected by our Border Customs Officers on goods from Victoria during the year 1878 amounted to £102,486 7s. 4d., and that the amount collected by the Victorian officers for the half-year ending December 31st, 1878, was £19,883, of which £19,771 was produced by the stock-tax alone.

I have considered your proposals in view of these facts, and of the extension, within a short time, of our railway system into the heart of the South-western Districts; and in the consideration I have given to them I have sought the advice and assistance of the Colonial Treasurer. I regret that I cannot see in these proposals any fair basis for an equitable agreement. Firstly, your proposals, while securing entire freedom of trade across the Border to Victoria, would not concede the same advantages to this Colony. Secondly, the sum of money you propose to pay for the non-collection of duties on our part would not be at all equivalent to the loss of revenue this colony would sustain.

Although I cannot undertake, and feel that it would be useless to submit your proposals in their present shape to my colleagues, I should be rejoiced if any equitable agreement could be arrived at for free commercial intercourse between the two colonies across the Border; and I hope you may yet be able to make some proposal which can be entertained.

HENRY PARKES.

Colonial Secretary's Office, Sydney, March 21st, 1879.

No. 10.

The Commissioner of Trade and Customs, Victoria, to The Colonial Secretary, New South Wales.

Sir, Reform Club, Sydney, 25 March, 1879.

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your memorandum of 21st instant, which I did not receive until Saturday last, and hasten at once to reply.

In the second paragraph you state what you consider to be my proposals. I regret to be obliged to differ from you in that statement, and as I have been so unfortunate as not to have made myself clearly understood in my former communications, I append to this letter another memorandum, in which, I hope, you will find my proposals on behalf of the Government of Victoria clearly set forth.

forth. For instance, the free importation across the Border, as evidently interpreted by you, is not what was intended to be conveyed by me, inasmuch as the duties are paid by the Government of Victoria in a lump sum, and the word "freedom" is only meant to apply to individuals who would not have to pay the Customs officers of New South Wales. On this point I may further add that it was clearly indicated in my letter of the 31st January, and fully explained in my note of the 10th March instant, that with a view of affording fair competition to the merchants of Sydney, no foreign goods should cross the Border from Victoria into New South Wales without having paid the same amount of duty as if they had been imported into New South Wales by sea. You also state that I require the withdrawal of the Customs Officers from the river Murray. You misunderstood me. I did not require their withdrawal, but I suggested that if this arrangement were entered into, as these gentlemen would then have nothing to do, their services might be availed of in the performance of other duties, and the amount thus saved to the Government of New South Wales should in part, at all events, be placed to the credit of Victoria in the consideration of this question.

In your next paragraph you point out that you have no tax on stock, nor Customs' duties on wheat, oats, maize, and green fruit, corresponding to the taxes imposed by Victoria on these articles, the produce of New South Wales. It was unnecessary for you to state that, as I was already aware of the fact, and I also fail to see how it bears on the question in hand.

The following paragraph sets out the amounts as collected at the Border on behalf of New South Wales and Victoria respectively, and needs no comment from me.

In the succeeding paragraph you state that you considered my proposals in the view of these facts, and the extension, within a short time, of your railway system into the heart of the South-western districts, and conclude by expressing regret that you cannot see in these proposals any fair basis for an equitable agreement. Firstly—Because my proposals secured entire freedom of trade across the Border into Victoria and would not concede the same advantages to New South Wales; and secondly—Because the sum of money I proposed to pay you for the non-collection of duties on the Border, "would not be at all equivalent to the loss of revenue that New South Wales would sustain."

As regards your objection to come to this agreement, because of your intended extension of the railway system into the heart of your South-western Districts, this intended extension must have been as well-known to you at the time of your receiving the official communication from the Acting Chief Secretary of Victoria proposing that I should see you on the subject of a Border Treaty as it is now, and you responded, as well as I can recollect, by expressing great desire on your part to have some such arrangement as that now proposed arrived at. If you intended then, as you appear to do now, to secure by your Railway expenditure a monopoly of trade with the South-western Districts to the Sydney importers, rather than to permit those of Melbourne, to whom geographically such trade naturally belongs, to enter into fair competition with them, then I think it would have been more candid and certainly more respectful to the Victorian Government to have said so in reply to that communication, and so have relieved me, as representative of that Government, from the inconvenience (as well as from the appearance of having been trifled with) of being compelled to wait nearly two months in order to enable you to assign a reason which existed with as much force then as it does at the present time.

This reason, I may further add, must be taken to mean, that the inhabitants of your South-Western districts are to be compelled, by your policy, to derive their supplies from a more expensive source, and to sell their produce in a less profitable market.

Your objection, that my proposals would secure entire freedom of trade across the Border into Victoria and would not concede the same advantages to New South Wales, is, as I have already pointed out, quite fallacious. You can under these proposals export into Victoria, if you think fit, by paying the Victorian duty,—whilst I claim for Victoria the right to export into New South Wales only on paying the New South Wales duty; but in order to remove unnecessary hindrances and obstructions to commerce, as well as for other reasons hereafter to be stated, I proposed that the duties heretofore collected by your Customs officers should be paid in a lump sum by the Government of Victoria to the Government of New South Wales. Further, I will point out that if what you appear to suggest were carried out, viz., that New South Wales and Victoria should respectively send their goods free over the Border, then you must certainly have intended that goods dutiable in Victoria and free in New South Wales might be sent from New South Wales into Victoria without charge, and thus not only seriously injure the revenue of that Colony, but ruin her commerce and uproot her policy.

I deem it unnecessary to argue this proposal any further, inasmuch as the sole reason for endeavouring to enter into the arrangement in question is because the tariffs of the two Colonies are essentially different; and the recognition of this fact by both Governments, together with the desire to overcome some of the evils arising therefrom, was the sole cause of my visiting Sydney to confer with you on this matter. In fact, the raising of this difficulty at this stage, by a gentleman of your experience and reputation, appears to me to be so indefensible, that it seems almost to indicate that you consider me unequal to the performance of the duties with which I have been entrusted.

Your next objection is that the sum of money I propose to pay for the non-collection of duties is too small. My reply is,—state the amount you are willing to accept on behalf of the Government of New South Wales, which information I think you ought to have given in the memorandum now before me.

You mention, in your concluding paragraph, that you cannot submit my proposals in their present shape to your colleagues, but that you would be rejoiced if any equitable settlement could be arrived at, to secure free commercial intercourse across the Border. I have to express my surprise that this matter was not placed before your colleagues, as I was, until the receipt of your memorandum, under the impression that they had already considered it; and as regards your desire to enter into an equitable agreement for free commercial intercourse between the two Colonies, I have to ask you to suggest any basis that may appear to you to be more just and politic than the one I have submitted.

I wish here to express my regret that I have not been met in that fair and conciliatory spirit which I anticipated, and which your early communications and our first interviews led me to expect.

I regret this all the more because, as you are aware, I did not regard the relief from Border Customs from its mercantile advantages exclusively, but conjointly with the hope that ultimately and rapidly it would lead to a union of the two Colonies. In furtherance of that view, I also mentioned to you that if this preliminary difficulty were got over we might be enabled to arrange a united ocean mail service, and also expressed a wish that you would allow me to communicate to the Attorney General and

Government

Government of Victoria; your desire (if you have such desire) to establish a joint Court of Appeal for both Colonies,—one Judge to be appointed by the Government of Victoria, one by the Government of New South Wales, and a third by the Lord Chancellor; and thus supply a great public want, which has long been felt, not only by litigants but by the members of both branches of the legal profession.

I feel satisfied that by pursuing such a conciliatory line of policy, thereby avoiding all causes of irritation, the union that I have above alluded to would be brought about much sooner than by following the opposite course, which you now appear to favour.

Do not forget that we have in these two Colonies a people exactly the same, speaking the same language, born under the same institutions, trained under the same laws, following the same pursuits in life, owning the same allegiance and yielding the same loyal obedience to the same Imperial Crown; and it looks to me to be almost criminal for public men to pursue a course that must tend to estrange them, and make them view each other rather as aliens and foreigners than as friends and brothers.

Let me then beg of you to use the weight of your long established reputation and high office, with a due care to influence the policy of your Government, not only for present convenience but for permanent good.

You will observe by the annexed memorandum, that I propose, in addition to what I have already set forth in my communication of the 31st January, to relieve you of the duties on maize, all other kinds of grain as enumerated, live stock and green fruit, exported by sea as well as across the Border. These remissions will amount to about £13,000 additional in favour of New South Wales.

In regard to the fact that little or no duty has been received by Victoria on wine, the produce of New South Wales,—you will bear in mind that such a result is owing to the fact that the Victorian duty may be said to be prohibitory, and the benefits arising from its removal should therefore be fairly estimated by you.

I have now, as representative of the Government of Victoria, to ask you to name the amount which you think that Government should pay to the Government of New South Wales as an equivalent for the duties collected on the Border, making due allowance for the advantages derived by New South Wales from the concessions which I now offer.

As all the facts are now and have been for a considerable time before you, and must be quite fresh in your memory, seeing that I only received your memorandum on Saturday last, I have to request that your reply to this communication may be forwarded to me without delay, and thus I may be permitted to take my leave.

I have, &c.,
PETER LALOR,
Commissioner of Trade and Customs,
Victoria.

[Enclosure.]

MEMORANDUM, as regards the collection of Border Duties, for the consideration of the Government of New South Wales, subject to the approval of the Government of Victoria.

ALTHOUGH the permanent settlement of this question can only be arrived at by the union of both these great Colonies it is submitted that considerable relief would be afforded to the inhabitants of each Colony by such an equitable arrangement as is contained in the following suggestions:—

1. That on the part of Victoria the duties now being collected along the Border shall be relinquished on the following articles, viz.:—

Live stock.
Wine, being produce of New South Wales.
Wheat, ditto
Oats, ditto
Maize, ditto
Green fruit, ditto

In addition to the above articles passing free over the Border it is further proposed that

Live stock.
Wheat, being the produce of New South Wales.
Oats, ditto
Maize, ditto

when exported by sea from New South Wales into Victoria should be free of duty.

2. That in consideration of the relinquishment of duties on the articles above enumerated, and the payment by the Government of Victoria to the Government of New South Wales of a sum to be hereafter agreed upon, all goods from Victoria shall henceforth be permitted to enter New South Wales across the Land and River border free.

Sir, Colonial Secretary's Office, Sydney, 27 March, 1879.

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your lettter of the 25th instant, enclosing a further memorandum on the subject of the non-collection of the Border Customs duties by the Officers of this Government.

Your communication was delivered to me late yesterday evening in the Legislative Assembly, and could not receive my attention until this morning.

I notice that you press for an early answer, and I now write to say that I will endeavour to have your communication considered, and a reply sent to you in the course of to-morrow.

Sir, Colonial Secretary's Office, Sydney, 28 March, 1879.

In further acknowledgment of your communication of the 25th instant on the subject of your proposals for the non-collection of the Border Customs' duties, I now have the honor to state that your letter and enclosure have been under the consideration of this Government.

It does not appear that any material difference exists between my understanding of the proposals submitted by you up to the 21st instant and your present explanation of them, certainly none that of itself need impose any difficulty in the way of negotiation.

I cannot do other than express my suprise and regret that the few words employed by me to inform you that among other considerations I had considered your proposals, as it was clearly my duty to do, in view of the extension within a short time of the means of railway communication to the South-western Districts, should be distorted from their obvious meaning to afford you occasion to indulge in language of censure and accusation against myself, and in hostile criticisms on what you assume to be the policy of this Government in the expenditure of its own revenues and the direction of its own affairs. As I cannot discern the relevancy of these observations to the simple matter of public business we are engaged upon, and as I have neither time nor inclination to reply to them, you must pardon me if I dismiss them from further consideration. I am equally at a loss to understand the bearing upon the matter in hand of the several large questions introduced towards the conclusion of your present letter, which, though they had been cursorily mentioned in conversation, could not in any sense have been regarded as connected with the Border Duties question.

Deducing from the extraneous matter of your communication the fresh elements available in considering your proposals and accepting the reasonable suggestion, now offered for the first time, that if I am not satisfied with what you propose, I should myself submit what I consider a fair basis of agreement, I proceed, after consultation with my colleagues, to explain the views of this Government.

In the first place, the expediency of our accepting the concession you offer of admitting the importation by sea of a number of articles, the produce of this Colony, into the ports of Victoria free of duty as one condition of the free admission of all exports from Victoria into this Colony across the Border, appears to be open to grave doubt, as it would in addition to complicating the questions affecting the Border trade, give a direct sanction to the policy of differential duties. Such a concession on your part would undoubtedly be a benefit to one portion of our settlers, but it is submitted that the evil of a fiscal arrangement so questionable in principle would outweigh any possible advantage arising from it.

In the second place, it appears to this Government that it may fairly be considered as a preliminary to any agreement between Victoria and New South Wales for the free importation of goods across the Border into either Colony, that your tax upon live stock should be repealed without reference to the Customs tariffs of the two Colonies. It would be difficult for the Government or the people of this Colony to overlook the fact that the Chief Secretary of Victoria was reported to have advanced as a principal reason in support of the imposition of this tax that he wanted something to give up in negotiating for the non-collection of the Border Duties by New South Wales.

If the way were thus prepared for agreement, it appears to this Government that a convention to continue for two years might be entered into by the two Colonies for the free importation across the land and river border into the territory of each, of all goods and produce from the territory of the other, on the payment by Victoria to New South Wales of a yearly sum of £100,000, which in view of the effect upon the intercolonial trade which must be produced by the extension of our railways towards the Border, would probably be below a fair equivalent for the amount of revenue to be given up. All matters of detail in any such convention are of course left for consideration and settlement hereafter, should the proposal I now submit be entertained; and I scarcely need add that any such convention must be subject to the approval of Parliament.

HENRY PARKES,

No. 13.

The Commissioner for Trade and Customs, Victoria, to The Colonial Secretary, New South Wales.

Sir, Reform Club, Sydney, 1 April, 1879.

In reply to your communication of the 28th ultimo, I have the honor to intimate that, as you repeat some of your objectionable proposals, as contained in your memorandum of the 21st ultimo, and do not answer the objections raised by me in my letter in reply to it, I have now only to state that it is my intention to place your last communication and all previous correspondence before my colleagues the members of the Cabinet of Victoria. Nevertheless, I feel bound to point out some of the inconsistencies set forth in your letter of the 28th ultimo.

I regret that you should in your third paragraph accuse me of distorting the obvious meaning of a passage in your memorandum, and I now only allude to the subject in order to inform you that such accusation is not well founded, as I believed it was the only construction I could put on the language as used by you.

In your fifth paragraph you raise an objection to your accepting relief for your producers of maize, green fruit, &c., if these goods were carried by sea, on the ground that it trenches on the strict principles which you entertain regarding differential duties, whilst at the same time you are willing to accept that relief for the producers of these same goods if transported by land across the Border. I confess I am unable to see any justification for such a distinction; and I am forced to the conclusion that as you appear to be unwilling to come to any arrangement with Victoria, you are consequently compelled to put forward difficulties which ought not to have any weight or effect.

I am all the more convinced of the correctness of this view by the unreasonableness of your own proposals. As for instance, you propose to accept £100,000 a year in a lump sum from Victoria, when all the duties you now receive amount only to £102,486 7s. 4d., thus estimating all the concessions which

I have proposed, at a money value of £2,486 7s. 4d., whereas the concessions arising from the removal of duty from live stock would be about £40,000, from all other articles as enumerated £13,000, and the advantage accruing from the admission of wine duty free, previously prohibited, would be of a value to your producers which you can better estimate than I possibly can. In addition, the saving effected in the collection of your revenue at the Border would, in itself, I will venture to say, amount to a much larger sum than the £2,486 7s. 4d. above mentioned; and above all, you repeat your unreasonable proposal that goods free in New South Wales but dutiable in Victoria should be admitted into the latter Colony without charge.

Again, you propose that we should do by Act of Parliament that which we have already taken the power to accomplish. As I informed you at our first interview, the Customs Act, 42 Victoria, 624, dated 21st November, 1878, empowers the Governor in Council of Victoria to repeal in effect the duty on stock, by entering into an agreement between the two Colonies such as I have submitted, and by means of which the relief you propose to give by the tedious process of passing an Act of Parliament, could be secured immediately by concluding a treaty on the subject.

I have, &c.,
PETER LALOR,
Commissioner of Trade and Customs, Victoria.

Sir,

Colonial Secretary's Office, Sydney, 3 April, 1879.

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 1st instant, informing me that you purpose laying before your colleagues the correspondence which has taken place between us on the subject of some agreement being arrived at if practicable for the non-collection of the Customs duties on the Murray River Border.

Perhaps the course you propose to take is the best under the circumstances, and it appears to me that the views of this Government have been explained with sufficient clearness to enable the Government of Victoria to submit some proposal, if it should appear to them desirable to do so, which might be accepted as a basis of agreement.

I have, &c.,

The Commissioner of Trade and Customs, Victoria, to The Colonial Secretary, New South Wales.

Sir,

Reform Club, Sydney, 4 April, 1879.

I beg to inform you that it is my intention to publish the correspondence that has taken place between us regarding the proposed Border Customs Treaty. I am aware that you can have no objection to this course, inasmuch as the documents are public property, and may be made public at any time by either Government. I feel, however, that it is due to me that the publication should take place now, particularly as you have given me no explanation of the complaint I made in my letter of the 25th ultimo, of your having withheld your reply to my communication of the 31st January last for such a long period. Neither have you explained why you did not reply to the letter of the Acting Chief Secretary of Victoria, in terms similar to those used in your recent communications, and so have relieved me from this great waste of time.

I have, &c.,
PETER LALOR,
Commissioner of Trade and Customs,
Victoria.

No. 16.

The Colonial Secretary, New South Wales, to The Commissioner of Trade and Customs, Victoria.

Sir,

Sydney, 4 April, 1879.

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of this date, informing me that you intend to publish the correspondence that has taken place between us in reference to the Border Duties question. It remains of course within your discretion to deal with the correspondence in any way you think most in accord with your own sense of propriety, and this Government can have no objection to its publication.

With regard to your reiterated complaint of your time having been wasted, permit me to remind you that soon after your arrival, and before your proposals had assumed any more definite shape than that of your letter of 31st January, you suddenly left the Colony for Melbourne, and remained absent, without any further communication with me, for a considerable period.

I do not understand the purpose intended to be served by your complaining that my replies to your first letters were not in the terms of my more recent communications. I replied in the first instance that I should be happy to entertain any proposal that might lead to an equitable agreement, and I have held similar language throughout. But it never occurred to me that I was expected to fall in with any proposal you might make without considering the interests of this country, and expressing with freedom my own views. How could I have informed your Government of my objections to your proposals before those proposals were made known to me.

I must further remind you that language calculated to irritate rather than conciliate was introduced into our negotiations by yourself in your letter of the 25th ultimo, to which I have refrained from making any direct reply, in order to avoid any misunderstanding between the two Colonies.

I have, &c.,
HENRY PARKES.

No. 2.

Mr. Landing-waiter Harper to The Acting Collector of Customs.

Sir,

Parbury's Wharf, 3 April, 1879.

I do myself the honor to address you respecting a seizure made by me on the 29th ultimo, in accordance with the Act 9 Vic. No. 15, sec. 86, of a case, the property of Messrs. A. Hordern & Sons, marked HD § 23 over 550, passed by free warrant No. 3,701, of 29/3/79, and said to contain silk reels, gloves, blankets, and clothing, but which actually contained 100 boxes of perfumed spirits, subject to a duty of 10s. per gallon.

I

I have been unofficially informed that the above case has been released by you on the payment of duty.

Should such be the case, I would respectfully ask, as a guidance in my capacity as a seizing officer, whether such seizure was not good in accordance with the above-recited Act.

I have, &c.,
SAMUEL HARPER,

Inform Mr. Harper that he was justified in seizing the case.—A.B., 4/4/79. Done.—4.

The Acting Collector of Customs to Mr. Landing-waiter Harper.

Sir,

Custom House, Sydney, 4 April, 1879.

In reply to your letter of the 3rd instant, I beg to inform you that you were justified in seizing the case referred to.

I have, &c.,

Acting Collector of Customs.

No. 4.

Mr. Landing-waiter Harper to The Acting Collector of Customs.

Sir,

Parbury's Wharf, 7 April, 1879.

I do myself the honor to again address you respecting the case containing 100 boxes perfumed spirits seized by me on the 29th ultimo, and which seizure you have informed me, by your letter of the 4th instant, "I was justified in making."

The matter appeared to me to be a deliberate attempt to defraud the revenue, and the surrounding circumstances strengthened me in that belief, and when I was informed the case had been given up I declined to believe the statement until I saw the duty paid entry.

I have no doubt satisfactory explanations have been made to you to bring about the result, but the Act 9 Vic. No. 15, sec. 109, giving me a pecuniary interest in this seizure, I would respectfully ask if there is any objection to my being informed of the explanation afforded, and the ground upon which it was released from seizure.

I have, &c.,
SAMUEL HARPER,
L.W.

The Acting Collector of Customs to Mr. Landing-waiter Harper.

Sir,

Custom House, Sydney, 8 April, 1879.

In reply to your letter of 7th instant, re seizure of a case containing 100 boxes perfumed spirits, I beg to inform you that on an investigation of the case I was fully satisfied that there was no intention on the part of Messrs. Hordern & Sons to defraud the revenue, and released the seizure accordingly.

I have, &c.,

Mr. Landing-waiter Harper to The Acting Collector of Customs.

Sir,

Parbury's Wharf, 9 April, 1879.

I do myself the honor to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 8th instant, and in so doing desire to assure you that I never entertained a doubt in the sincerity of your belief that you had sufficient grounds for releasing the seizure made by me on the 29th ultimo; but while giving you my assurance on this head, I beg most respectfully to differ with you in your decision, and also with the mode in which you arrived at it.

1st. Because, as the seizing officer, I was in possession of facts which led to the seizure, and I respectfully submit that, had I been given the opportunity, I could have furnished you with information which I am informed you are not aware of, and which was to the interest of the importers to keep from you.

2nd. That when Mr. Robertson was instructed to proceed to Messrs. Hordern & Sons' establishment, to re-examine a case already examined by me, and delivered in accordance with your verbal instructions, he was not in a position to identify it; and I respectfully submit that it would only have been justice to myself had I been allowed to accompany him for this purpose, as any case, with any contents, might have been shown to him.

I further submit, as an officer of some seventeen years standing, and holding one of the most important positions in the department, I have a right to expect that I may be properly represented in all cases whose adjudication is necessary by my official action, and when I am to the best of my ability endeavouring to check what I consider to be an attempt to defraud the revenue.

I again assure you that this respectful communication does not emanate from an insubordinate disposition, on the contrary, it is my desire to uphold your position and to respect your decisions.

I have, &c.,
SAMUEL HARPER,
L.W.

Treasury Minute.

The Treasury, New South Wales, Sydney, 19 April, 1879.

Subject:—Alleged seizure of a case of Perfumed Spirits.

THE enclosed memo. has been handed to me, with reference to the seizure and return to Messrs. Hordern & Sons of a case of perfumed spirits entered as drapery. I shall be glad to know the particulars and to have all the papers on the subject.—J.W.

The Collector of Customs.—G.E., B.C., 21/4/79. Urgent.

The seizing note for Messrs. Hordern & Sons' case of perfumed spirits, ex the "Macedon," was received by me on the 31st March last.

The same day a representative of that firm called on me with his Custom House Agent, Mr. John Bros. He produced his invoices, and explained that their clerk finding two invoices (without marks) for drapery goods had supposed that they represented the contents of the two cases which had arrived, and passed entry according to the marks in the bill of lading and manifest.

He had also an invoice for a case of perfumed spirits, but of a different mark, which did not appear in the manifest or bill of lading, and which therefore he concluded had not arrived, and consequently did not enter.

At the interview, Messrs. Horderns' representative evidently thought there were three cases, and that instead of the case of spirits one of the drapery cases must have been short shipped; however, on examination it proved that the seized case bore the mark as entered from the B.L., and the mark in the invoice as well.

At length Mr. Bros suggested that possibly the drapery case contained the goods in both invoices. To set this question at rest, I at once commissioned Mr. Landing-waiter Robertson to go and examine the goods, comparing them with the invoices. He did so, and reported that they agreed, thus showing that the supposition of Mr. Bros was correct.

It being thus obvious how the mistake arose, and that it was the consequence of a clerical blunder of the shippers, and showed no attempt at fraud by the importers, I released the seizure on payment of expenses and duty.

I submit herewith the original papers and the correspondence instituted by Mr. S. Harper, with the view of impugning my action in the matter. No doubt that to Mr. Harper, as expressed in the memo. attached to T. M. 36, the correspondence was unsatisfactory, as he did not obtain the share of the proceeds of the sale of the goods, which he had already counted upon as his own. But there is another aspect in which it may be viewed. If Mr. Harper is entitled to act and write in the tone and manner he has adopted, why not every other officer, but if every other subordinate officer did cavil at and dispute the legitimate action of the head of his department, could the Public Service be carried on?

In his letter dated the 9th instant, Mr. Harper claims to be an officer of seventeen years standing; this is an error. He was an extra tide-waiter for some years, and was then dismissed from the Service for misconduct. The papers in his case were laid before Parliament, which fully endorsed the ministerial action. After that he was a considerable period before he again obtained a footing in the Service.

I respectfully submit that the bad example set by Mr. Harper should be prevented from spreading, to the destruction of all subordination in the department, and beg to recommend that he be severely reprimanded with a caution for the future.

A. BERNEY,
Acting Collector of Customs.

Minute of the Colonial Treasurer.

The Treasury, New South Wales, Sydney, 24 April, 1879.

Subject :—Seizure of a case of perfumed spirits imported by Messrs. Hordern & Sons.

My attention having been directed to the seizure of a case of perfumed spirits, imported by Messrs. Hordern & Sons, and the subsequent return of the same to the importers, and having called for the papers, which I have carefully perused, I approve of the action of the Collector of Customs in the matter, who, as appears by his minute, inquired fully into the facts of the case before giving his decision.

The seizing officer, Mr. Harper, whose zeal and energy in this case I cannot but commend, has, by the action subsequently taken, adopted a course which, if allowed to pass without some notice, discipline in the Public Service could not be maintained. While upholding Customs' officers in the performance of their duties, yet where an officer, as in Mr. Harper's case, presses his claim to have the goods confiscated through having a pecuniary interest in the seizure, and addresses the Collector on the performance of his duties, and dissents from the course taken by him, in a tone and manner quite uncalled for, it is desirable and necessary in the interests of the Public Service, and of strict discipline, that such a course, if generally adopted, should be prevented, and Mr. Harper may be informed that a repetition of the course he adopted in this case subsequent to the seizure may lead to other measures being taken.
