ANNO DECIMO

GEORGII V REGIS.

Act No. 30, 1919.

An Act to amend the law with respect to superannuation allowances, pensions, and gratuities; to amend the Superannuation Act, 1916, the Superannuation (Amendment) Act, 1918, and the Acts relating to the Public Service; and for purposes consequent thereon or incidental thereto. [Assented to, 12th December, 1919.]

BE it enacted by the King's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and Legislative Assembly of New South Wales in Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

1. This Act may be cited as the "Superannuation Short title.
(Amendment) Act, 1919."
2.

Superannuation (Amendment).

- Definition. 2. The Superannuation Act, 1916, as amended by the Superannuation (Amendment) Act, 1918, is herein-after in this Act referred to as the Principal Act.
- Amendment of Principal Act. Sec. 2. 3. The Principal Act is amended as follows :—
- Sec. 3. (a) In section two after “Part II” omit “The State Provident Fund” insert “The State Superannuation Fund.”
- (b) In section three :—
- (i) In the definition of “Board” omit “State Provident Fund Management Board” insert “State Superannuation Board.”
- (ii) In the definition of “employee” add at the end of the definition the words “or a person who is paid at hourly, daily, weekly, or fortnightly rates, or by piece-work.”
- (iii) In the definition of “The Fund” omit “State Provident Fund” insert “State Superannuation Fund.”
- Sec. 4 (1). (c) In the short heading under “Part II” omit “The State Provident Fund” insert “The State Superannuation Fund,” and in subsection one of section four omit “State Provident Fund” insert “State Superannuation Fund.”
- Sec. 11 (1). (d) In section eleven :—
- (i) In subsection one add the following provisos at the end of the subsection :—
- Provided also that where the wife of an employee is also an employee the board may on her application made within three months after the commencement of the Superannuation (Amendment) Act, 1919, or from the date of the commencement of her employment or from the date of her marriage where such employment commences or such marriage takes place after the commencement of the said Act, reduce the number of units in respect of which she shall contribute or exempt her from contributing under this Act.
- Provided further that where a person who is also an employee is entitled by the terms of
- of

Superannuation (Amendment).

of his engagement but not as an employee within the meaning of this Act to a special pension on retirement from his employment, then if the value as actuarially determined of such pension equals or exceeds the value so determined of the pension under this Act for which he would, but for this proviso, be entitled to contribute, he shall not be entitled to contribute under this Act; but if the value as so determined of such pension is less than the value so determined of the said pension under this Act he shall only be entitled to come under this Act for the purpose of the difference.

(ii) In subsection two, paragraph (c), subparagraph (c), omit "or" insert "and" Sec. 11 (2).

(ii) In paragraph (c) omit clause (iii) and insert new clause:— Sec. 12 (c) (iii).

(iii) He may elect within the said twelve months to contribute for additional units in accordance with the prescribed table according to salary at rate for age, but so that the total number of units for which he contributes shall not at any time exceed six, or the number which under this section is set out in respect of his salary, whichever number is the less;

(iii) At the end of paragraph (e) add the following proviso:— Sec. 12 (e).

Provided that an election under this paragraph shall be invalid if made after the passing of the Superannuation (Amendment) Act, 1919, and within six months prior to the date of his retirement on the ground of physical or mental incapacity to perform his his duties, or within six months prior to the date of the commencement of leave of absence preparatory to such retirement.

Sec. 12, new paragraphs.

(iv) after paragraph (e) add the following new paragraphs :—

Sec. 12 (f).

(f) When in any case the salary of an employee fluctuates between two or more of the salary groups set out in this section, the board may, notwithstanding section thirteen, allow him to contribute for the number of units prescribed for any of such salary groups.

Sec. 12 (g).

(g) If the widow of an employee is or becomes an employee she may elect to come under the proviso in this paragraph, in which case she shall not be compelled to contribute for more than one unit, but may contribute for such number of units as she thinks fit, not being more than the number of units prescribed under this section for her salary.

Where the husband died before the commencement of the Superannuation (Amendment) Act, 1919, and the widow was an employee at such commencement, she shall so elect within three months after such commencement.

Where the husband died after such commencement, and the widow was an employee at the time of such death, she shall so elect within three months after such death.

In any other case such widow shall so elect within three months after the commencement of her employment.

Sec. 12 (h).

(h) Contributions for additional units on account of an increase of salary shall take
