

Architects (Amendment) Bill, 1940.

EXPLANATORY NOTE.

THE Bill makes certain amendments to the provisions relating to the constitution of the Board of Architects consequent upon the Institute of Architects of New South Wales combining with the Architects Association of New South Wales and the incorporation of the Royal Australian Institute of Architects.

The qualifications for enrolment are extended to enable persons holding certificates, diplomas, etc., granted in any country to become registered under the Act subject to certain safeguards as to the degree of skill and knowledge necessary for the efficient practice of architecture.

The Bill also contains provisions as to the removal of names from the register for misconduct and other amendments of a machinery character.
