Potato Growers Licensing Bill, 1940.

EXPLANATORY NOTE.

THIS is a Bill to require potato growers to be licensed for the purpose of carrying on the production of potatoes.

Growers who use one acre of land or less than that area for the production of potatoes are exempted from this requirement.

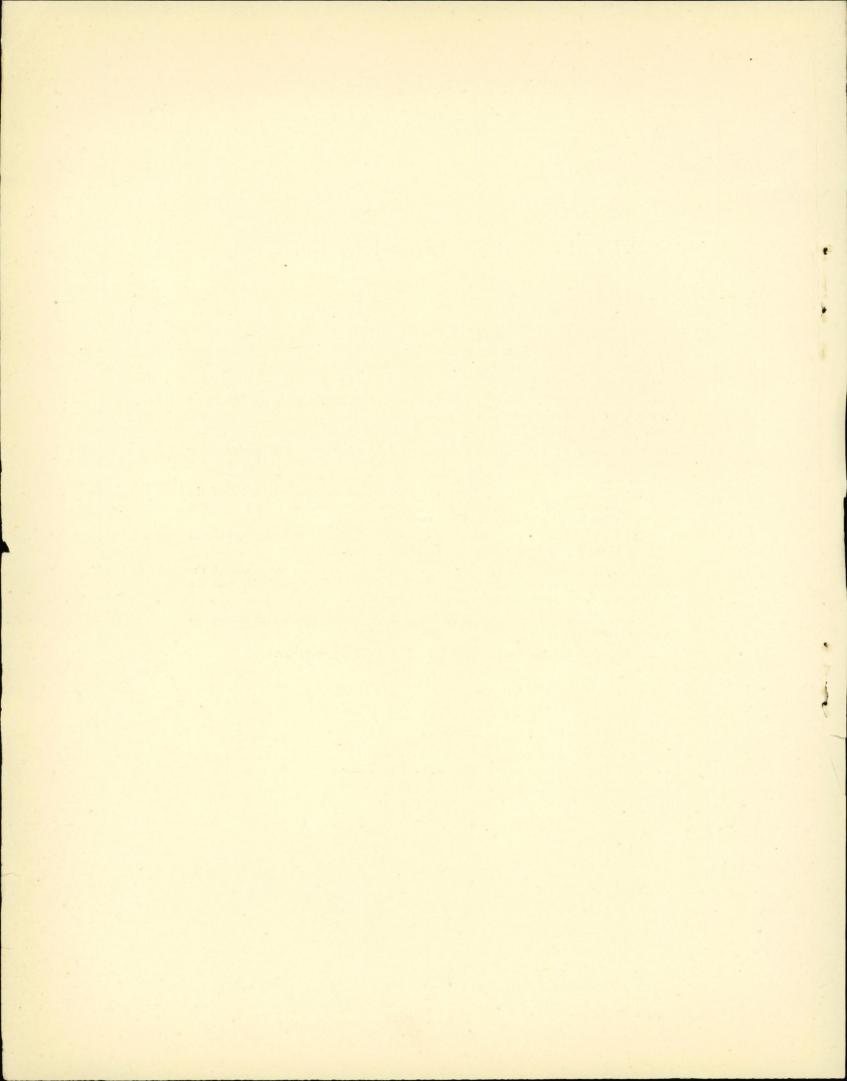

The license fee is to be ten shillings for a period of twelve months. Three months after the commencement of the Act is allowed for obtaining the first license. The license fees are to be paid to the Department of Agriculture and are to be paid into a special account at the Treasury. The moneys in such account may be paid—

- (a) to any co-operative society or association which, to the satisfaction of the Minister, will wholly apply such moneys to the promotion of the production, marketing, treatment and sale of potatoes;
- (b) for use in any other manner which the Minister deems to be best calculated to develop or protect the potato-growing industry.

Any money so paid shall be expended for such purposes in furtherance of the interests of the potato growers in New South Wales as in any particular case the Minister may approve or generally as may be prescribed.

The expenditure of any moneys so paid shall be accounted for in such manner as may be prescribed.

The Bill also contains various provisions of an ancillary character.
