(v) by omitting subsection fifteen of the same section;

(b) (i) by omitting from paragraph (b) of subsection one of section seven the words “An interruption of or deviation from any journey shall not be deemed to be substantial if, in the circumstances of the particular case, the nature, extent, degree and content of the risk of injury were not materially changed or increased by reason only of any such interruption or deviation” and by inserting in lieu thereof the words “Provided that a worker (and in the case of the death of the worker, his dependants) shall be entitled to receive compensation under this paragraph notwithstanding that the injury was received during or after any substantial interruption of, or substantial deviation from or other break in any journey, if, in the circumstances of the particular case, the risk of injury was not materially increased by reason only of such substantial interruption, substantial deviation or other break.”

Sec. 7.
(Liability of employers to workers for injuries.)

(ii) by inserting next after subsection (2A) of the same section the following new subsections:—

(2B) Compensation shall be payable in accordance with the provisions of this Act to a worker in respect of any period of incapacity incapacity notwithstanding that the worker has received or is entitled to receive in respect of such period any payment, allowance or benefit for holidays, annual holidays or long service leave under any Act (Commonwealth or State), award or industrial agreement under any such Act, or contract of employment, and the amount of compensation so payable shall be the amount which would have been payable to the worker had he not received or been entitled to receive in respect of such period any such payment, allowance or benefit.

(2c) Where in respect of any period of incapacity a worker receives or is entitled to receive any payment, allowance or benefit for sick leave under any Act, award, industrial agreement or contract of employment he may elect to receive compensation in lieu of such payment, allowance or benefit, and the amount of compensation so payable shall be the amount which would have been payable to the worker had he not received or been entitled to receive in respect of such period any such payment, allowance or benefit.

Such election shall be made by the worker informing the employer of his election—

- (a) where such payment, allowance or benefit has been received by the worker, within a reasonable time after such receipt;
- (b) in any other case at any time before the receipt of such payment, allowance or benefit.

Where the worker has received any such payment, allowance or benefit and has elected to receive compensation in lieu thereof thereof such payment, allowance or benefit shall be refunded before compensation shall be payable to the worker.

Where a worker makes an election pursuant to the provisions of this subsection—

(i) the employer, notwithstanding anything contained in any Act, award, industrial agreement or contract of employment, shall not be under any obligation in relation to sick leave to such worker in respect of any period to which such election relates; and

(ii) the worker shall, in respect of any entitlement to sick leave or payment, allowance or benefit in respect thereof accruing after the expiration of the period to which such election relates, be deemed not to have been entitled to or granted, or to have received any payment, allowance or benefit for, sick leave during the period to which such election relates.

(iii) by inserting next after subsection four of the same section the following new subsection:—

(4A) Where the injury is a disease which has been aggravated or accelerated by the worker's employment with two or more employers compensation shall be payable by that employer who last employed the worker in such employment.

Any employers who, during the twelve months preceding a worker's incapacity, employed him in any such employment shall be liable to make to the employer by thousand pounds in respect of his liability independently of this Act for any injury to any such worker”;

(ii) by omitting from the same subsection the words “the liability to pay compensation to his own workers” and by inserting in lieu thereof the words “the liability referred to in this subsection”;

(iii) by inserting at the end of the same subsection the words “In this Act—

‘policy of insurance or indemnity’ means a policy of insurance or indemnity which an employer is required to obtain in pursuance of the provisions of this subsection”;

(iv) by omitting subsection three of the same section and by inserting in lieu thereof the following subsection:—

(3) (a) Every policy of insurance or indemnity shall, in so far as it relates to any liability referred to in subsection one of this section, contain only such provisions as are prescribed, but may contain such other provisions relating to any other liability at common law or under any Act or Commonwealth Act as are appropriate to any particular case.

Any contravention of this provision shall not annul such policy or diminish or affect the liability of the insurer to the person insured under such policy.

Every such policy shall provide that the insurer shall as well as the employer be directly liable to any worker insured under such policy and in the event of his death, to his dependants, to pay the compensation or other amount for which the employer is liable, and that the insurer shall be bound by and subject to any judgment,

Workers' Compensation (Amendment).

judgment, order, decision, or award given or made against the employer of such worker in respect of the injury for which such compensation or amount is payable.

In this paragraph the expression "other amount" means an amount not exceeding the amount for which the employer has obtained a policy of insurance or indemnity in respect of his liability independently of this Act for any injury to any such worker.

(b) The regulations made under the provisions of subsection three of this section as enacted immediately before the commencement of the Workers' Compensation (Amendment) Act, 1953, shall continue in force as if made under the provisions of this subsection but may be amended or repealed.

(Worker's right to information.)
- (d) by inserting in paragraph (b) of subsection four of section nineteen after the word "Act" the words "and at common law". Sec. 19.
(Deposits by insurers.)
- (2) Any policy of insurance or indemnity against liability under the Workers' Compensation Act, 1926, or any amendment of that Act, being maintained in force at the commencement of this Act shall—
 - (a) where such policy does not insure the employer against his liability independently of the Principal Act for an amount of at least three thousand pounds for any injury to any worker employed by him, be deemed to insure the employer against his liability independently of the Principal Act to the extent of three thousand pounds in respect of any injury to any worker employed by him; and
 - (b) be deemed to contain such provisions as were, immediately before the commencement of this Act, prescribed under subsection three of section eighteen of the Principal Act.
- 7. (1) The Principal Act is further amended— Further amendment of Act No. 15, 1926.
 - (a) (i) by inserting in subsection one of section thirty-one after the words "Workers' Compensation Commission" the words "which shall be a court of record"; Sec. 31.
(Appointment of Commission.)
 - (ii) by inserting at the end of subsection (6B) of the same section the following new paragraph:—
 - (c) A member shall, whilst the duties and powers of the chairman devolve on him, have the same salary as the chairman.
 - (b) by inserting at the end of subsection two of section sixty the words "Provided that the failure to make an application for a review within six months after the worker attains the age

Workers' Compensation (Amendment).

age of twenty-one years shall not be a bar to such review if it is found that the failure was occasioned by ignorance, mistake, absence from the State, or other reasonable cause”;

Sec. 63.
(Negligence.)

- (c) (i) by omitting subsection two of section sixty-three and by inserting in lieu thereof the following subsection:—

(2) In such case the worker may proceed both under this Act and independently of this Act but where he obtains judgment against his employer independently of this Act he shall not be entitled to any compensation under this Act other than compensation paid to him before such judgment.

- (ii) by omitting from paragraph (a) of subsection three of the same section the words “twelve months” where firstly, secondly and thirdly occurring and by inserting in lieu thereof the words “three years”;

- (iii) by omitting paragraph (c) of the same subsection;

Sec. 63A.
(Notice of election.)

- (d) by omitting section 63A.

(2) The amendment made by paragraph (a) of subsection one of this section shall be deemed to have commenced upon the twentieth day of May, one thousand and nine hundred and fifty.

(3) The amendment made by subparagraph (i) of paragraph (c) of subsection one of this section shall apply to and in respect of workers who have received an injury before the commencement of this Act and who have not signed a notice of election pursuant to section 63A of the Workers' Compensation Acts, 1926-1951, as well as to workers receiving an injury after such commencement.

Further amendment of Act No. 15, 1926.

6. (1) The Principal Act is further amended—

Sec. 18.
(Compulsory insurance.)

- (a) (i) by inserting in subsection one of section eighteen after the word "him" the words "and for an amount of at least three thousand

Workers' Compensation (Amendment).

thousand pounds in respect of his liability independently of this Act for any injury to any such worker”;

- (ii) by omitting from the same subsection the words “the liability to pay compensation to his own workers” and by inserting in lieu thereof the words “the liability referred to in this subsection”;
- (iii) by inserting at the end of the same subsection the words “In this Act—‘policy of insurance or indemnity’ means a policy of insurance or indemnity which an employer is required to obtain in pursuance of the provisions of this subsection”;
- (iv) by omitting subsection three of the same section and by inserting in lieu thereof the following subsection:—

(3) (a) Every policy of insurance or indemnity shall, in so far as it relates to any liability referred to in subsection one of this section, contain only such provisions as are prescribed, but may contain such other provisions relating to any other liability at common law or under any Act or Commonwealth Act as are appropriate to any particular case.

Any contravention of this provision shall not annul such policy or diminish or affect the liability of the insurer to the person insured under such policy.

Every such policy shall provide that the insurer shall as well as the employer be directly liable to any worker insured under such policy and in the event of his death, to his dependants, to pay the compensation or other amount for which the employer is liable, and that the insurer shall be bound by and subject to any judgment,

Workers' Compensation (Amendment).

judgment, order, decision, or award given or made against the employer of such worker in respect of the injury for which such compensation or amount is payable.

In this paragraph the expression "other amount" means an amount not exceeding the amount for which the employer has obtained a policy of insurance or indemnity in respect of his liability independently of this Act for any injury to any such worker.

(b) The regulations made under the provisions of subsection three of this section as enacted immediately before the commencement of the Workers' Compensation (Amendment) Act, 1953, shall continue in force as if made under the provisions of this subsection but may be amended or repealed.

- (v) by omitting subsection five of the same section and by inserting in lieu thereof the following subsection:—

(5) Proceedings in respect of a failure to comply with any of the provisions of subsection one of this section may be instituted at any time within twelve months after such failure.

- (vi) by omitting from subsection six of the same section the words "to pay compensation in respect of" and by inserting in lieu thereof the words "in respect of an injury to";

- (vii) by omitting from paragraph (a) of subsection seven of the same section the words "against liability under this Act";

Sec. 18A.
(Inspection of policies.)

- (b) by omitting from paragraph (a) of subsection one of section 18A the words "indemnifying him against his liability under this Act";

(c)

Workers' Compensation (Amendment).

- (c) by omitting from section 18B the words "against his liability under this Act";
- Sec. 18B.
(Worker's right to information.)

- (d) by inserting in paragraph (b) of subsection four of section nineteen after the word "Act" the words "and at common law".
- Sec. 19.
(Deposits by insurers.)

(2) Any policy of insurance or indemnity against liability under the Workers' Compensation Act, 1926, or any amendment of that Act, being maintained in force at the commencement of this Act shall—

- (a) where such policy does not insure the employer against his liability independently of the Principal Act for an amount of at least three thousand pounds for any injury to any worker employed by him, be deemed to insure the employer against his liability independently of the Principal Act to the extent of three thousand pounds in respect of any injury to any worker employed by him; and
- (b) be deemed to contain such provisions as were, immediately before the commencement of this Act, prescribed under subsection three of section eighteen of the Principal Act.

7. (1) The Principal Act is further amended—

Further amendment of Act No. 15, 1926.

- (a) (i) by inserting in subsection one of section thirty-one after the words "Workers' Compensation Commission" the words "which shall be a court of record";
- Sec. 31.
(Appointment of Commission.)

- (ii) by inserting at the end of subsection (6B) of the same section the following new paragraph:—

(c) A member shall, whilst the duties and powers of the chairman devolve on him, have the same salary as the chairman.

- (b) by inserting at the end of subsection two of section sixty the words "Provided that the failure to make an application for a review within six months after the worker attains the age
- Sec. 60.
(Review.)

Workers' Compensation (Amendment).

age of twenty-one years shall not be a bar to such review if it is found that the failure was occasioned by ignorance, mistake, absence from the State, or other reasonable cause";

Sec. 63.
(Negligence.)

- (c) (i) by omitting subsection two of section sixty-three and by inserting in lieu thereof the following subsection:—

(2) In such case the worker may proceed both under this Act and independently of this Act but where he obtains judgment against his employer independently of this Act he shall not be entitled to any compensation under this Act other than compensation paid to him before such judgment.

- (ii) by omitting from paragraph (a) of subsection three of the same section the words "twelve months" where firstly, secondly and thirdly occurring and by inserting in lieu thereof the words "three years";

- (iii) by omitting paragraph (c) of the same subsection;

Sec. 63A.
(Notice of election.)

- (d) by omitting section 63A.

(2) The amendment made by paragraph (a) of subsection one of this section shall be deemed to have commenced upon the twentieth day of May, one thousand and nine hundred and fifty.

(3) The amendment made by subparagraph (i) of paragraph (c) of subsection one of this section shall apply to and in respect of workers who have received an injury before the commencement of this Act and who have not signed a notice of election pursuant to section 63A of the Workers' Compensation Acts, 1926-1951, as well as to workers receiving an injury after such commencement.

received or been entitled to receive in respect 25 of such period any such payment, allowance or benefit.

Such election shall be made by the worker informing the employer of his election—

- 30 (a) where such payment, allowance or benefit has been received by the worker, within a reasonable time
after such receipt;
- 35 (b) in any other case at any time
before the receipt of such payment, allowance or benefit.

Where the worker has received any such payment, allowance or benefit and has elected to receive compensation in lieu thereof

Workers' Compensation (Amendment).

thereof such payment, allowance or benefit shall be refunded before compensation shall be payable to the worker.

5

Where a worker makes an election pursuant to the provisions of this subsection—

10

(i) the employer, notwithstanding anything contained in any Act, award, industrial agreement or contract of employment, shall not be under any obligation in relation to sick leave to such worker in respect of any period to which such election relates; and

15

(ii) the worker shall, in respect of any entitlement to sick leave or payment, allowance or benefit in respect thereof accruing after the expiration of the period to which such election relates, be deemed not to have been entitled to or granted, or to have received any payment, allowance or benefit for, sick leave during the period to which such election relates.

A BILL

To provide for certain increases in amounts payable by way of compensation under the Workers' Compensation Act, 1926, and the Workers' Compensation (Silicosis) Act, 1942, as amended by subsequent Acts; for this and other purposes to amend the said Acts; and for purposes connected therewith.

[Mr. LANDA;—22 September, 1953.]

Workers' Compensation (Amendment).

BE it enacted by the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty,
by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and Legislative Assembly of New South Wales in Parliament assembled, and by the authority of 5 the same, as follows:—

1. (1) This Act may be cited as the "Workers' Com- Short title pensation (Amendment) Act, 1953". and citation.

(2) The Workers' Compensation Act, 1926, as amended by subsequent Acts, is in this Act referred to 10 as the Principal Act.

(3) The Principal Act, as amended by this Act,
may be cited as the Workers' Compensation Act, 1926-1953.

2. The Principal Act is amended—

15 (a) (i) by omitting from paragraph (a) of the definition of "Worker" in subsection one of section six the words "one thousand two hundred and fifty pounds" and by inserting in lieu thereof the words "two thousand 20 pounds";

indemnity which an employer is required to obtain in pursuance of the provisions of this subsection”;
- (iv) by omitting subsection three of the same 25 section and by inserting in lieu thereof the following subsection:—
- (3) (a) Every policy of insurance or indemnity shall, in so far as it relates to any liability referred to in subsection one 30 of this section, contain only such provisions as are prescribed, but may contain such other provisions relating to any other liability at common law or under any Act or Commonwealth Act as are appropriate to any particular case.

Any

Workers' Compensation (Amendment).

Any contravention of this provision shall not annul such policy or diminish or affect the liability of the insurer to the person insured under such policy.

5 Every such policy shall provide that the insurer shall as well as the employer be directly liable to any worker insured under such policy and in the event of his death, to his dependants, to pay the compensa-
10 tion or other amount for which the employer is liable, and that the insurer shall be bound by and subject to any judgment, order, decision, or award given or made against the employer of such 15 worker in respect of the injury for which such compensation or amount is payable.

(b) The regulations made under the provisions of subsection three of this section as enacted immediately before the 20 commencement of the Workers' Compensation (Amendment) Act, 1953, shall continue in force as if made under the provisions of this subsection but may be amended or repealed.

25 (v) by omitting subsection five of the same section and by inserting in lieu thereof the following subsection:—

WORKERS' COMPENSATION (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1953.

EXPLANATORY NOTE.

THE objects of this Bill are to—

- (a) extend the definition of "worker" to include referees engaged for fee or reward in boxing or wrestling contests;
- (b) increase the amounts payable to dependants of a worker upon his death from injury;
- (c) increase the weekly payments in the case of incapacitated workers;
- (d) enable increased benefits of medical and hospital treatment and ambulance service and funeral expenses to be provided for;
- (e) provide for payment of compensation to an injured female worker in respect of her dependent husband;
- (f) increase the amounts payable under section sixteen in respect of injuries specified therein;
- (g) provide for payment of weekly compensation as well as holiday pay and long service leave pay, and enable compensation to be paid in lieu of sick leave in certain cases;
- (h) provide for the compensation of members of bush fire brigades for injuries and certain losses resulting from bush fire preventive operations;
- (i) require employers to insure against common law liabilities for injuries sustained by workers up to a minimum coverage of £3,000;
- (j) provide for the payment of compensation to injured workers pending the decision of their common law actions;
- (k) extend the Act to workers whose remuneration exceeds £1,250 per annum but does not exceed £2,000;
- (l) raise the limitation on the age of dependent children in respect of whom compensation is payable from the school leaving age to sixteen years;
- (m) make other amendments of an ancillary or machinery character.

As the rates of compensation payable under the Workers' Compensation (Silicosis) Act, 1942-1946, are those prescribed by the Workers' Compensation Acts, 1926-1951, such rates will accordingly be increased upon the enactment of the provisions of this Bill.

No. , 1953.

A BILL
