Local Government and Community Development

The first part of the report deals with the general situation in the country and the role of the local government. It is pointed out that the local government is the only body which is directly concerned with the day-to-day life of the community. It is therefore essential that it should be able to meet the needs of the community in a timely and effective manner. The report then goes on to discuss the various functions of the local government, such as the provision of public services, the maintenance of public order, and the promotion of community development. It is stressed that the local government should be able to act in a flexible and responsive manner, so as to be able to meet the changing needs of the community. The report concludes by stating that the local government is the key to the success of any community development programme.
