CRIMES (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1966

---

EXPLANATORY NOTE

THE object of this Bill is to increase penalties for offences relating to robbery and breaking and entering a house or other building and committing a felony therein, making particular provision for cases where such offences are committed when the offender is armed with an offensive weapon or in company with a person so armed.

THE LIFE OF (CICERO) CINCINNATI

CHAPTER I

The first part of the life of Cicero is devoted to his early years and his education. He was born in the city of Arpinum, in the province of Campania, in the year 106 B.C. His father was a wealthy landowner and a member of the equestrian order. Cicero was educated at the law in Rome, and he spent a considerable part of his life in the study of the law and the oratory. He was a brilliant speaker and a successful lawyer, and he rose to the rank of consul in the year 63 B.C. His political career was marked by his opposition to the tyrannical rule of Julius Caesar, and he was eventually forced into exile. He returned to Rome in the year 58 B.C., and he continued to oppose Caesar until his death in the year 43 B.C. His works, which include several treatises on the art of oratory and a number of speeches, are still regarded as some of the finest examples of Latin prose.
