

This PUBLIC BILL originated in the LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY, and, having this day passed, is now ready for presentation to the LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL for its concurrence.

I. P. K. VIDLER,
Clerk of the Legislative Assembly.

*Legislative Assembly Chamber,
Sydney, 16 November, 1972.*

New South Wales

ANNO VICESIMO PRIMO

ELIZABETHÆ II REGINÆ

Act No. , 1972.

An Act to make further provision for pensions for retired judges and for the widows of deceased judges and of deceased retired judges; to make provision for pensions for retired masters of the Supreme Court and widows of deceased masters and deceased retired masters; for these and other purposes to amend the Judges' Pensions Act, 1953, and the Supreme Court Act, 1970; and for purposes connected therewith.

BE

Judges' Pensions (Amendment).

BE it enacted by the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty, by
and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and Legislative Assembly of New South Wales in Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as 5 follows :—

1. This Act may be cited as the "Judges' Pensions Short title.
(Amendment) Act, 1972".

2. This Act shall be deemed to have commenced on 1st Commence-
July, 1972. ment.

10 3. The Judges' Pensions Act, 1953, is amended—

Amendment
of Act No.
41, 1953.

(a) by inserting at the end of section 3 the following new subsections :—

Sec. 3.
(Pension to judge retiring
at age
seventy.)

15 (2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), where an amount equal to seventy-five per centum of the pension that would be payable under subsection
(1) to a person if he were to retire from the same judicial office, having had the same judicial service,
as another judge who has previously retired is 20 greater than the annual pension to which that other judge would, but for this subsection, be entitled under subsection (1), that other judge shall be entitled to an annual pension equal to that amount.

25 (3) Subsection (2) has effect from time to time
whenever it would operate to increase the pension
of the other judge referred to in that subsection.

(4)

Judges' Pensions (Amendment).

(4) A person who is entitled to a pension under subsection (2) is not entitled to a pension under subsection (1).

5 (b) by inserting at the end of section 5 the following new subsections :—

Sec. 5.
(Pension to judge retiring on account of ill-health.)

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1) (b), where an amount equal to seventy-five per centum of the pension that would be payable under subsection (1) (b) to a person if he were to retire in the same circumstances from the same judicial office, having had the same judicial service, as another judge who has previously retired is greater than the annual pension to which that other judge would, but for this subsection, be entitled under subsection (1) (b), that other judge shall be entitled to an annual pension equal to that amount.

(3) Subsection (2) has effect from time to time whenever it would operate to increase the pension of the other judge referred to in that subsection.

20 (4) A person who is entitled to a pension under subsection (2) is not entitled to a pension under subsection (1).

(c) by inserting at the end of section 6 the following new subsections :—

Sec. 6.
(Pension to widow on death of judge before retirement.)

25 (2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), where an amount equal to seventy-five per centum of the pension that would be payable under subsection (1) to the widow of a deceased judge if he were to die whilst holding the same judicial office, having had the same judicial service, as another judge who has previously died is greater than the annual pension to which the widow of that other judge would, but for this subsection, be entitled under subsection (1), the widow of that other judge shall be entitled to an annual pension equal to that amount.

Judges' Pensions (Amendment).

(3) Subsection (2) has effect from time to time whenever it would operate to increase the pension of the widow of the other judge referred to in that subsection.

5 (4) A person who is entitled to a pension under subsection (2) is not entitled to a pension under subsection (1).

(d) by inserting at the end of section 7 the following new subsections :—

10 (2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), where an amount equal to seventy-five per centum of the pension that would be payable under subsection (1) to the widow of a deceased retired judge if he were to die after retiring from the same judicial office, having had the same judicial service, as another judge who has previously retired and died is greater than the annual pension to which the widow of that other judge would, but for this subsection, be entitled under subsection (1), the widow of that other judge shall be entitled to an annual pension equal to that amount.

Sec. 7.
(Pension to widow on death of retired judge.)

15 (3) Subsection (2) has effect from time to time whenever it would operate to increase the pension of the widow of the other judge referred to in that subsection.

20 (4) A person who is entitled to a pension under subsection (2) is not entitled to a pension under subsection (1).

(e) (i) by omitting section 8 (1) and by inserting instead the following subsection :—

Sec. 8.
(Prior judicial service.)

30 (1) In this section, "prior judicial office" means—

(a) any judicial office referred to in the definition of "Judge" in section 2; and

(b)

Judges' Pensions (Amendment).

(b) the office of—

(i) judge of the High Court of Australia;

5 (ii) judge of the Supreme Court of the Australian Capital Territory; or

(iii) judge of the Commonwealth Industrial Court,

10 which a judge held before he was appointed to the judicial office which he held immediately before his retirement or death before retirement, as the case may be.

(ii) by omitting from section 8 (2) the following words :—

15 Provided that, where the annual rate of salary payable to the judge immediately before his retirement or his death before retirement, as the case may be, is greater than the annual
20 rate of salary which would have been so payable to him had he continued to hold the prior judicial office, such part only of his service in that office as bears to his total service in that office the same proportion as 25 the annual rate of salary which would have been so payable bears to the annual rate of salary actually payable to the judge immediately before his retirement or his death before retirement, as the case may be, shall be computed as portion of his service as a judge in the

Judges' Pensions (Amendment).

the judicial office which he held immediately before his retirement or his death before retirement, as the case may be.

- 5 (f) by omitting section 9 and by inserting instead the following section :— Subst. sec. 9.

9. A person is not entitled to receive a pension under this Act if he is receiving a pension under a law of the Commonwealth which makes provision for the payment of a pension to a person by virtue of his having held the office of judge of the High Court of Australia, judge of the Supreme Court of the Australian Capital Territory or judge of the Commonwealth Industrial Court. Dual pensions.

10

- 15 (g) by inserting next after section 11 the following new section :— New sec. 11A.

11A. The provisions of sections 2 to 7, both inclusive, and of sections 9 and 10, apply to a person, or the widow of a person, who has held office as a master under the Supreme Court Act, 1970, in the same way as they apply to a judge, the widow of a judge or the widow of a retired judge and as if that person's office as master were a judicial office. Pensions to masters and their widows.

20

4. The Supreme Court Act, 1970, is amended—

- 25 (a) by omitting from section 14 (3) the words "The holder immediately before the commencement of this Act of the office of Master in Equity and any Amendment of Act No. 52, 1970. Sec. 14. (Masters.)

previous

Judges' Pensions (Amendment).

5 previous holder of that office and the widow of any of them” and by inserting instead the words “A person who held office as Master in Equity at any time before the person who held that office immediately before the commencement of this Act and the widow of any such first-mentioned person”;

(b) by omitting from section 112 the words “pension or otherwise” and by inserting instead the words “or otherwise, except as to pension”.

Sec. 112.
(Terms of appointment.)

BY AUTHORITY

V. C. N. BLIGHT, GOVERNMENT PRINTER, NEW SOUTH WALES—1972
[10c]

No. , 1972.

A BILL

To make further provision for pensions for retired judges and for the widows of deceased judges and of deceased retired judges; to make provision for pensions for retired masters of the Supreme Court and widows of deceased masters and deceased retired masters; for these and other purposes to amend the Judges' Pensions Act, 1953, and the Supreme Court Act, 1970; and for purposes connected therewith.

[MR McCaw—14 November, 1972.]

BE

Judges' Pensions (Amendment).

BE it enacted by the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty, by
and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and Legislative Assembly of New South Wales in Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as 5 follows :—

1. This Act may be cited as the "Judges' Pensions Short title.
(Amendment) Act, 1972".

2. This Act shall be deemed to have commenced on 1st Commence-
July, 1972. ment.

10 3. The Judges' Pensions Act, 1953, is amended—

Amendment
of Act No.
41, 1953.

(a) by inserting at the end of section 3 the following
new subsections :—

Sec. 3.
(Pension to judge
retiring
at age
seventy.)

15 (2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), where an amount equal to seventy-five per centum of the
pension that would be payable under subsection
(1) to a person if he were to retire from the same
judicial office, having had the same judicial service,
as another judge who has previously retired is
greater than the annual pension to which that other 20 judge would, but for this subsection, be entitled under subsection (1), that other judge shall be entitled to an annual pension equal to that amount.

25 (3) Subsection (2) has effect from time to time
whenever it would operate to increase the pension
of the other judge referred to in that subsection.

(4)

Judges' Pensions (Amendment).

(4) A person who is entitled to a pension under subsection (2) is not entitled to a pension under subsection (1).

5 (b) by inserting at the end of section 5 the following new subsections :—

Sec. 5.
(Pension to judge retiring on account of ill-health.)

10 (2) Notwithstanding subsection (1) (b), where an amount equal to seventy-five per centum of the pension that would be payable under subsection (1) (b) to a person if he were to retire in the same circumstances from the same judicial office, having had the same judicial service, as another judge who has previously retired is greater than the annual pension to which that other judge would, but for this subsection, be entitled under subsection (1) (b), that other judge shall be entitled to an annual pension equal to that amount.

15 (3) Subsection (2) has effect from time to time whenever it would operate to increase the pension of the other judge referred to in that subsection.

20 (4) A person who is entitled to a pension under subsection (2) is not entitled to a pension under subsection (1).

(c) by inserting at the end of section 6 the following new subsections :—

Sec. 6.
(Pension to widow on death of judge before retirement.)

25 (2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), where an amount equal to seventy-five per centum of the pension that would be payable under subsection (1) to the widow of a deceased judge if he were to die whilst holding the same judicial office, having had the same judicial service, as another judge who has previously died is greater than the annual pension to which the widow of that other judge would, but for this subsection, be entitled under subsection (1), the widow of that other judge shall be entitled to an annual pension equal to that amount.

35

(3)

Judges' Pensions (Amendment).

(3) Subsection (2) has effect from time to time whenever it would operate to increase the pension of the widow of the other judge referred to in that subsection.

5 (4) A person who is entitled to a pension under subsection (2) is not entitled to a pension under subsection (1).

(d) by inserting at the end of section 7 the following new subsections :—

10 (2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), where an amount equal to seventy-five per centum of the pension that would be payable under subsection (1) to the widow of a deceased retired judge if he were to die after retiring from the same judicial office, having had the same judicial service, as another judge who has previously retired and died is greater than the annual pension to which the widow of that other judge would, but for this subsection, be entitled under subsection (1), the widow of that other judge shall be entitled to an annual pension equal to that amount.

Sec. 7.
(Pension to widow on death of retired judge.)

15 (3) Subsection (2) has effect from time to time whenever it would operate to increase the pension of the widow of the other judge referred to in that subsection.

20 (4) A person who is entitled to a pension under subsection (2) is not entitled to a pension under subsection (1).

(e) (i) by omitting section 8 (1) and by inserting instead the following subsection :—

Sec. 8.
(Prior judicial service.)

30 (1) In this section, "prior judicial office" means—

(a) any judicial office referred to in the definition of "Judge" in section 2; and

(b)

Judges' Pensions (Amendment).

(b) the office of—

(i) judge of the High Court of Australia;

5 (ii) judge of the Supreme Court of the Australian Capital Territory; or

(iii) judge of the Commonwealth Industrial Court,

10 which a judge held before he was appointed to the judicial office which he held immediately before his retirement or death before retirement, as the case may be.

(ii) by omitting from section 8 (2) the following words :—

15 Provided that, where the annual rate of salary payable to the judge immediately before his retirement or his death before retirement, as the case may be, is greater than the annual rate of salary which would have been so payable to him had he continued to hold the
20 prior judicial office, such part only of his service in that office as bears to his total service in that office the same proportion as the annual rate of salary which would have been so payable bears to the annual rate of 25 salary actually payable to the judge immediately before his retirement or his death before retirement, as the case may be, shall be computed as portion of his service as a judge in

the

Judges' Pensions (Amendment).

the judicial office which he held immediately before his retirement or his death before retirement, as the case may be.

5 (f) by omitting section 9 and by inserting instead the following section :— Subst. sec. 9.

9. A person is not entitled to receive a pension under this Act if he is receiving a pension under a law of the Commonwealth which makes provision for the payment of a pension to a person by virtue of his having held the office of judge of the High Court of Australia, judge of the Supreme Court of the Australian Capital Territory or judge of the Commonwealth Industrial Court. Dual pensions.

15 (g) by inserting next after section 11 the following new section :— New sec. 11A.

11A. The provisions of sections 2 to 7, both inclusive, and of sections 9 and 10, apply to a person, or the widow of a person, who has held office as a master under the Supreme Court Act, 1970, in the same way as they apply to a judge, the widow of a judge or the widow of a retired judge and as if that person's office as master were a judicial office. Pensions to masters and their widows.

4. The Supreme Court Act, 1970, is amended— Amendment of Act No. 52, 1970.

25 (a) by omitting from section 14 (3) the words "The holder immediately before the commencement of this Act of the office of Master in Equity and any Sec. 14. (Masters.)

previous

Judges' Pensions (Amendment).

5 previous holder of that office and the widow of any of them” and by inserting instead the words “A person who held office as Master in Equity at any time before the person who held that office immediately before the commencement of this Act and the widow of any such first-mentioned person”;

- (b) by omitting from section 112 the words “pension or otherwise” and by inserting instead the words “or otherwise, except as to pension”.

Sec. 112.
(Terms of appointment.)

BY AUTHORITY

V. C. N. BLIGHT, GOVERNMENT PRINTER, NEW SOUTH WALES—1972
[10c]

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

On 10/15/71, the Board of Directors met and discussed the proposed acquisition of the assets of the former [Company Name] and the transfer of the same to the newly formed [Company Name]. The Board has approved the acquisition and the transfer of the assets to the newly formed [Company Name].

The Board has also approved the transfer of the assets of the former [Company Name] to the newly formed [Company Name] and the transfer of the same to the newly formed [Company Name]. The Board has also approved the transfer of the assets of the former [Company Name] to the newly formed [Company Name] and the transfer of the same to the newly formed [Company Name].

BY: [Name]

SECRETARY OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

PROOF

JUDGES' PENSIONS (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1972

EXPLANATORY NOTE

THE objects of this Bill are—

- (a) to amend the Judges' Pensions Act, 1953, so as to provide that where a judge retires from a judicial office, the pension payable to him will be not less than seventy-five per centum of the pension payable to a judge who retires from the same judicial office at a later time with the same length of service;
- (b) to make similar provisions with respect to the pension payable to a judge's widow;
- (c) to extend the meaning of "prior judicial office" as used in that Act to include the office of judge of the High Court of Australia, judge of the Supreme Court of the Australian Capital Territory and judge of the Commonwealth Industrial Court;
- (d) to prevent the payment of a pension under the Judges' Pensions Act, 1953, to a judge who is being paid some other pension arising from judicial service in an office referred to in paragraph (c);
- (e) to make provisions for pensions for masters of the Supreme Court and their widows similar to the provisions that apply to judges and their widows;
- (f) to provide that all the foregoing amendments shall be deemed to have commenced on 1st July, 1972; and
- (g) to make other provisions of a consequential or ancillary nature.

INDEX

...

...

(1) ...

(2) ...

(3) ...

(4) ...

(5) ...

(6) ...

(7) ...

(8) ...

(9) ...

(10) ...

(11) ...

(12) ...

(13) ...

(14) ...

(15) ...

(16) ...

(17) ...

(18) ...

(19) ...

(20) ...

(21) ...

(22) ...

(23) ...

(24) ...

(25) ...

(26) ...

(27) ...

(28) ...

(29) ...

(30) ...

PROOF

No. , 1972.

A BILL

To make further provision for pensions for retired judges and for the widows of deceased judges and of deceased retired judges; to make provision for pensions for retired masters of the Supreme Court and widows of deceased masters and deceased retired masters; for these and other purposes to amend the Judges' Pensions Act, 1953, and the Supreme Court Act, 1970; and for purposes connected therewith.

[MR McCaw—14 November, 1972.]

BE

Judges' Pensions (Amendment).

BE it enacted by the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty, by
and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and Legislative Assembly of New South Wales in Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as 5 follows :—

1. This Act may be cited as the "Judges' Pensions Short title.
(Amendment) Act, 1972".

2. This Act shall be deemed to have commenced on 1st Commence-
July, 1972. ment.

10 3. The Judges' Pensions Act, 1953, is amended—

Amendment
of Act No.
41, 1953.

(a) by inserting at the end of section 3 the following
new subsections :—

Sec. 3.
(Pension to judge
retiring
at age
seventy.)

15 (2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), where an amount equal to seventy-five per centum of the
pension that would be payable under subsection
(1) to a person if he were to retire from the same
judicial office, having had the same judicial service,
as another judge who has previously retired is 20 greater than the annual pension to which that other judge would, but for this subsection, be entitled under subsection (1), that other judge shall be entitled to an annual pension equal to that amount.

25 (3) Subsection (2) has effect from time to time
whenever it would operate to increase the pension
of the other judge referred to in that subsection.

(4)

Judges' Pensions (Amendment).

(4) A person who is entitled to a pension under subsection (2) is not entitled to a pension under subsection (1).

5 (b) by inserting at the end of section 5 the following new subsections :—

Sec. 5.
(Pension to judge retiring on account of ill-health.)

10 (2) Notwithstanding subsection (1) (b), where an amount equal to seventy-five per centum of the pension that would be payable under subsection (1) (b) to a person if he were to retire in the same circumstances from the same judicial office, having had the same judicial service, as another judge who has previously retired is greater than the annual pension to which that other judge would, but for this subsection, be entitled under subsection (1) (b), that other judge shall be entitled to an annual pension equal to that amount.

15 (3) Subsection (2) has effect from time to time whenever it would operate to increase the pension of the other judge referred to in that subsection.

20 (4) A person who is entitled to a pension under subsection (2) is not entitled to a pension under subsection (1).

(c) by inserting at the end of section 6 the following new subsections :—

Sec. 6.
(Pension to widow on death of judge before retirement.)

25 (2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), where an amount equal to seventy-five per centum of the pension that would be payable under subsection (1) to the widow of a deceased judge if he were to die whilst holding the same judicial office, having had the same judicial service, as another judge who has previously died is greater than the annual pension to which the widow of that other judge would, but for this subsection, be entitled under subsection (1), the widow of that other judge shall be entitled to an annual pension equal to that amount.

(3)

Judges' Pensions (Amendment).

(3) Subsection (2) has effect from time to time whenever it would operate to increase the pension of the widow of the other judge referred to in that subsection.

5 (4) A person who is entitled to a pension under subsection (2) is not entitled to a pension under subsection (1).

(d) by inserting at the end of section 7 the following new subsections :—

10 (2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), where an amount equal to seventy-five per centum of the pension that would be payable under subsection (1) to the widow of a deceased retired judge if he were to die after retiring from the same judicial office, having had the same judicial service, as another judge who has previously retired and died is greater than the annual pension to which the widow of that other judge would, but for this subsection, be entitled under subsection (1), the widow of that other judge shall be entitled to an annual pension equal to that amount.

Sec. 7.
(Pension to widow on death of retired judge.)

15 (3) Subsection (2) has effect from time to time whenever it would operate to increase the pension of the widow of the other judge referred to in that subsection.

20 (4) A person who is entitled to a pension under subsection (2) is not entitled to a pension under subsection (1).

(e) (i) by omitting section 8 (1) and by inserting instead the following subsection :—

Sec. 8.
(Prior judicial service.)

30 (1) In this section, "prior judicial office" means—

(a) any judicial office referred to in the definition of "Judge" in section 2; and

(b)

Judges' Pensions (Amendment).

(b) the office of—

(i) judge of the High Court of Australia;

5 (ii) judge of the Supreme Court of the Australian Capital Territory; or

(iii) judge of the Commonwealth Industrial Court,

10 which a judge held before he was appointed to the judicial office which he held immediately before his retirement or death before retirement, as the case may be.

(ii) by omitting from section 8 (2) the following words :—

15 Provided that, where the annual rate of salary payable to the judge immediately before his retirement or his death before retirement, as the case may be, is greater than the annual rate of salary which would have been so payable to him had he continued to hold the prior judicial office, such part only of his service in that office as bears to his total service in that office the same proportion as the annual rate of salary which would have been so payable bears to the annual rate of salary actually payable to the judge immediately before his retirement or his death before retirement, as the case may be, shall be computed as portion of his service as a judge in

the

Judges' Pensions (Amendment).

the judicial office which he held immediately before his retirement or his death before retirement, as the case may be.

- 5 (f) by omitting section 9 and by inserting instead the following section :— Subst. sec. 9.

10 9. A person is not entitled to receive a pension under this Act if he is receiving a pension under a law of the Commonwealth which makes provision for the payment of a pension to a person by virtue of his having held the office of judge of the High Court of Australia, judge of the Supreme Court of the Australian Capital Territory or judge of the Commonwealth Industrial Court. Dual pensions.

- 15 (g) by inserting next after section 11 the following new section :— New sec. 11A.

20 11A. The provisions of sections 2 to 7, both inclusive, and of sections 9 and 10, apply to a person, or the widow of a person, who has held office as a master under the Supreme Court Act, 1970, in the same way as they apply to a judge, the widow of a judge or the widow of a retired judge and as if that person's office as master were a judicial office. Pensions to masters and their widows.

4. The Supreme Court Act, 1970, is amended—

- 25 (a) by omitting from section 14 (3) the words "The holder immediately before the commencement of this Act of the office of Master in Equity and any Amendment of Act No. 52, 1970. Sec. 14. (Masters.)

previous

Judges' Pensions (Amendment).

5 previous holder of that office and the widow of any of them” and by inserting instead the words “A person who held office as Master in Equity at any time before the person who held that office immediately before the commencement of this Act and the widow of any such first-mentioned person”;

- (b) by omitting from section 112 the words “pension or otherwise” and by inserting instead the words “or otherwise, except as to pension”. Sec. 112. (Terms of appointment.)

BY AUTHORITY

V. C. N. BLIGHT, GOVERNMENT PRINTER, NEW SOUTH WALES—1972

THE STATE OF NEW YORK

In SENATE,
January 10, 1901.

REPORT
OF THE
COMMISSIONERS OF THE LAND OFFICE

1901

ALBANY: PUBLISHED BY THE STATE OF NEW YORK, 1901.

I certify that this PUBLIC BILL, which originated in the LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY, has finally passed the LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL and the LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY of NEW SOUTH WALES.

I. P. K. VIDLER,
Clerk of the Legislative Assembly.

*Legislative Assembly Chamber,
Sydney, 22 November, 1972.*

New South Wales

ANNO VICESIMO PRIMO

ELIZABETHÆ II REGINÆ

Act No. 69, 1972.

An Act to make further provision for pensions for retired judges and for the widows of deceased judges and of deceased retired judges; to make provision for pensions for retired masters of the Supreme Court and widows of deceased masters and deceased retired masters; for these and other purposes to amend the Judges' Pensions Act, 1953, and the Supreme Court Act, 1970; and for purposes connected therewith. [Assented to, 30th November, 1972.]

BE

I have examined this Bill, and find it to correspond in all respects with the Bill as finally passed by both Houses.

L. A. PUNCH,
Chairman of Committees of the Legislative Assembly.

Judges' Pensions (Amendment).

BE it enacted by the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and Legislative Assembly of New South Wales in Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

Short title. 1. This Act may be cited as the "Judges' Pensions (Amendment) Act, 1972".

Commence- 2. This Act shall be deemed to have commenced on 1st ment. July, 1972.

Amendment 3. The Judges' Pensions Act, 1953, is amended—
of Act No.
41, 1953.

Sec. 3.
(Pension to judge
retiring
at age
seventy.)

(a) by inserting at the end of section 3 the following new subsections:—

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), where an amount equal to seventy-five per centum of the pension that would be payable under subsection (1) to a person if he were to retire from the same judicial office, having had the same judicial service, as another judge who has previously retired is greater than the annual pension to which that other judge would, but for this subsection, be entitled under subsection (1), that other judge shall be entitled to an annual pension equal to that amount.

(3) Subsection (2) has effect from time to time whenever it would operate to increase the pension of the other judge referred to in that subsection.

(4)

Judges' Pensions (Amendment).

(4) A person who is entitled to a pension under subsection (2) is not entitled to a pension under subsection (1).

(b) by inserting at the end of section 5 the following new subsections :—

Sec. 5.
(Pension to judge retiring on account of ill-health.)

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1) (b), where an amount equal to seventy-five per centum of the pension that would be payable under subsection (1) (b) to a person if he were to retire in the same circumstances from the same judicial office, having had the same judicial service, as another judge who has previously retired is greater than the annual pension to which that other judge would, but for this subsection, be entitled under subsection (1) (b), that other judge shall be entitled to an annual pension equal to that amount.

(3) Subsection (2) has effect from time to time whenever it would operate to increase the pension of the other judge referred to in that subsection.

(4) A person who is entitled to a pension under subsection (2) is not entitled to a pension under subsection (1).

(c) by inserting at the end of section 6 the following new subsections :—

Sec. 6.
(Pension to widow on death of judge before retirement.)

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), where an amount equal to seventy-five per centum of the pension that would be payable under subsection (1) to the widow of a deceased judge if he were to die whilst holding the same judicial office, having had the same judicial service, as another judge who has previously died is greater than the annual pension to which the widow of that other judge would, but for this subsection, be entitled under subsection (1), the widow of that other judge shall be entitled to an annual pension equal to that amount.

(3)

Judges' Pensions (Amendment).

(3) Subsection (2) has effect from time to time whenever it would operate to increase the pension of the widow of the other judge referred to in that subsection.

(4) A person who is entitled to a pension under subsection (2) is not entitled to a pension under subsection (1).

Sec. 7.
(Pension to widow on death of retired judge.)

(d) by inserting at the end of section 7 the following new subsections :—

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), where an amount equal to seventy-five per centum of the pension that would be payable under subsection (1) to the widow of a deceased retired judge if he were to die after retiring from the same judicial office, having had the same judicial service, as another judge who has previously retired and died is greater than the annual pension to which the widow of that other judge would, but for this subsection, be entitled under subsection (1), the widow of that other judge shall be entitled to an annual pension equal to that amount.

(3) Subsection (2) has effect from time to time whenever it would operate to increase the pension of the widow of the other judge referred to in that subsection.

(4) A person who is entitled to a pension under subsection (2) is not entitled to a pension under subsection (1).

Sec. 8.
(Prior judicial service.)

(e) (i) by omitting section 8 (1) and by inserting instead the following subsection :—

(1) In this section, "prior judicial office" means—

(a) any judicial office referred to in the definition of "Judge" in section 2; and

(b)

Judges' Pensions (Amendment).

(b) the office of—

- (i) judge of the High Court of Australia;
- (ii) judge of the Supreme Court of the Australian Capital Territory; or
- (iii) judge of the Commonwealth Industrial Court,

which a judge held before he was appointed to the judicial office which he held immediately before his retirement or death before retirement, as the case may be.

(ii) by omitting from section 8 (2) the following words :—

Provided that, where the annual rate of salary payable to the judge immediately before his retirement or his death before retirement, as the case may be, is greater than the annual rate of salary which would have been so payable to him had he continued to hold the prior judicial office, such part only of his service in that office as bears to his total service in that office the same proportion as the annual rate of salary which would have been so payable bears to the annual rate of salary actually payable to the judge immediately before his retirement or his death before retirement, as the case may be, shall be computed as portion of his service as a judge in

the

Judges' Pensions (Amendment).

the judicial office which he held immediately before his retirement or his death before retirement, as the case may be.

Subst.
sec. 9.

- (f) by omitting section 9 and by inserting instead the following section :—

Dual
pensions.

9. A person is not entitled to receive a pension under this Act if he is receiving a pension under a law of the Commonwealth which makes provision for the payment of a pension to a person by virtue of his having held the office of judge of the High Court of Australia, judge of the Supreme Court of the Australian Capital Territory or judge of the Commonwealth Industrial Court.

New sec.
11A.

- (g) by inserting next after section 11 the following new section :—

Pensions
to masters and their widows.

11A. The provisions of sections 2 to 7, both inclusive, and of sections 9 and 10, apply to a person, or the widow of a person, who has held office as a master under the Supreme Court Act, 1970, in the same way as they apply to a judge, the widow of a judge or the widow of a retired judge and as if that person's office as master were a judicial office.

Amendment
of Act No.
52, 1970.

4. The Supreme Court Act, 1970, is amended—

Sec. 14.
(Masters.)

- (a) by omitting from section 14 (3) the words "The holder immediately before the commencement of this Act of the office of Master in Equity and any

previous

Judges' Pensions (Amendment).

previous holder of that office and the widow of any of them” and by inserting instead the words “A person who held office as Master in Equity at any time before the person who held that office immediately before the commencement of this Act and the widow of any such first-mentioned person”;

- (b) by omitting from section 112 the words “pension or otherwise” and by inserting instead the words “or otherwise, except as to pension”.

Sec. 112.
(Terms of appointment.)

In the name and on behalf of Her Majesty I assent to this Act.

Government House,

A. R. CUTLER,
Governor.

Sydney, 30th November, 1972.

