(2) The Minister shall, after the commencement of this Act, be entitled to take into his possession or under his control, and to dispose of or deal with as he thinks fit, any property (other than the land described in the Second
5 Schedule to the Principal Act) that, immediately before that commencement, was vested in the trustees and any property that the trustees were, immediately before that commencement, entitled to take into, or keep in, their possession or to take or keep under their control.

10 (3) The Minister may, in respect of any property referred to in subsection (2), exercise or perform, or cause to be exercised or performed by any person nominated by him for the purpose, any power, authority, duty or function that the trustees could, immediately before that commence-
15 ment, have exercised or performed in relation to that property.

(4) Any legal proceeding that the trustees could, immediately before the commencement of this Act, have instituted or continued may be instituted or continued after that commencement by the Minister or by some person
20 nominated by him for the purpose.

(5) The Minister may, by notice in writing given to any person, require that person to transfer to the Minister within a time specified in the notice, possession or control of any property referred to in subsection (2) that is in the 25 possession or under the control of that person.

(6) The Minister may, by notice in writing given to a person who was one of the trustees, require that person within a time specified in the notice to furnish to the Minister information so specified that is information relating to the 30 administration of property that was vested in the trustees, or to the proceedings or accounts of the trustees.

Necropolis (Amendment).

(7) A person who fails to comply, within the time specified in a notice under subsection (5) or (6), with a requirement so specified is liable on summary conviction to a penalty not exceeding $200.

NECROPOLIS (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1972

EXPLANATORY NOTE

THE objects of this Bill are—

- (a) to divest the trustees of the crematorium site at the Necropolis of the reversion expectant on the lease of that site and to vest it in the Crown;
- (b) to enable the Minister, in relation to that site, to exercise and perform the powers, authorities, duties and functions at present exercised and performed by those trustees;
- (c) to authorise the constitution of the joint committee of Necropolis trustees on a permanent, rather than an annual, basis;
- (d) to increase the penalties that are imposed by, and may be imposed by regulations under, the Act;
- (e) to confer on the Minister certain powers and functions at present exercised and performed by the Governor;
- (f) to enable the Minister to delegate certain of his powers, authorities, duties and functions under the Act;
- (g) to enable the Governor to make regulations under the Act;
- (h) to make provisions consequential upon or ancillary to the foregoing.

PROOF

No. , 1972.

A BILL

To vest in the Crown the reversion expectant on the lease by trustees appointed by the Governor of land at the Necropolis set aside for the cremation of bodies; to enable the Minister to appoint a permanent joint committee of trustees for the Necropolis; to confer on the Minister certain powers and functions previously exercised and performed by the Governor; to increase certain penalties; for these and other purposes to amend the Necropolis Act 1901; and for purposes connected therewith.

[MR LEWIS—1 November, 1972.]

Necropolis (Amendment).

5 BE it enacted by the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and Legislative Assembly of New South Wales in Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

to be a member of the board of directors of the corporation in which he is a member of the board of directors.

Act No. 137A

Necropolis (Amendment).

- (iii) by omitting from section 8A (6) the words "subject land" and by inserting instead the words "land described in the Second Schedule";
- (c) by inserting next after section 8A the following New sec. 8B.
new section :—

8B. (1) On and from the commencement of the Lease of land in Second Schedule.
Necropolis (Amendment) Act, 1973—

- (a) the persons who, immediately before that commencement, held office as trustees of the land described in the Second Schedule shall cease to hold that office;
- (b) the reversion expectant on lease dated 7th September, 1926, and made between the Honourable John Mildred Creed, Alexander Livingstone Kerr, Edward Beeby, Arthur Ernest Dent and Colin Percy Earle of the one part and The New South Wales Cremation Company Limited of the other part of the land described in the Second Schedule is vested in Her Majesty and, for the purposes of the Conveyancing Act, 1919, shall be deemed to have been so vested by a conveyance;
- (c) the powers, authorities, duties and functions conferred or imposed on the lessors by that lease may be exercised and performed by the Minister on behalf of Her Majesty;
- (d) a reference in that lease to expenses assessed from time to time by the committee appointed in that behalf in pursuance of subsection four of section 18A of the

Necropolis

Necropolis (Amendment).

Necropolis Act 1901, as amended by the Necropolis (Amendment) Act, 1923, shall be construed as a reference to the contribution payable by the lessee under section 51C of the Public Health Act, 1902;

- (e) the Minister may, in relation to the land described in the Second Schedule, exercise or perform a power or function (other than a power or function conferred by subsection (2) of section 18A, or by section 19 or 27) that would, if that land were vested in trustees under this Act, be powers or functions conferred by this Act on those trustees in relation to that land;
- (f) the rent payable under the lease referred to in paragraph (b) shall be paid by the lessee to the joint committee constituted by section 18B, to be expended for the purposes of section 18A.

(2) The Minister may, whenever the land described in the Second Schedule is not the subject of a lease, grant on behalf of Her Majesty a lease thereof on such terms and conditions as he thinks fit, being terms and conditions that will enable the lessee effectively to use the land for the erection and maintenance of, or for the maintenance of, a crematorium, chapel, columbarium and such other buildings as the lessee considers are necessary for the cremation of bodies of the dead and the care of the ashes of those bodies.

(3) The Minister may, by a lease granted under subsection (2), confer or impose on the lessee any or all of the powers, authorities, duties and functions conferred or imposed on trustees by this Act.

Necropolis (Amendment).

(3) Where—

(a) before the commencement of this Act—

- (i) the Governor exercised a power by proclamation, being a power that is required or authorised by the Principal Act, as amended by this Act, to be exercised by the Minister by notification; or
- (ii) the Governor performed a function that is required or authorised by that Act, as so amended, to be performed by the Minister; and

(b) the exercise of the power or performance of the function by the Governor continued to have force and effect immediately before that commencement, that exercise of the power or performance of the function shall continue after that commencement to have force and effect as if it had been duly exercised or performed by the Minister after that commencement.

(4) The amendment by this Act of section 18A of the Principal Act does not affect the validity of, or obligation to pay, any levy duly made before the commencement of this Act by the joint committee constituted under that section of the Principal Act or the obligation imposed by or under any Act to pay an amount based on the amount of such a levy but where, immediately before that commencement, an amount was due and unpaid under the Principal Act in respect of such a levy, it shall be due and payable after that commencement to the joint committee constituted under section 18B of the Principal Act, as amended by this Act.

8. (1) In this section “the trustees” means the persons who, immediately before the commencement of this Act, were trustees of the land described in the Second Schedule to the Principal Act. Transitional provision.

Necropolis (Amendment).

(2) The Minister shall, after the commencement of this Act, be entitled to take into his possession or under his control, and to dispose of or deal with as he thinks fit, any property (other than the land described in the Second Schedule to the Principal Act) that, immediately before that commencement, was vested in the trustees and any property that the trustees were, immediately before that commencement, entitled to take into, or keep in, their possession or to take or keep under their control.

(3) The Minister may, in respect of any property referred to in subsection (2), exercise or perform, or cause to be exercised or performed by any person nominated by him for the purpose, any power, authority, duty or function that the trustees could, immediately before that commencement, have exercised or performed in relation to that property.

(4) Any legal proceeding that the trustees could, immediately before the commencement of this Act, have instituted or continued may be instituted or continued after that commencement by the Minister or by some person nominated by him for the purpose.

(5) The Minister may, by notice in writing given to any person, require that person to transfer to the Minister within a time specified in the notice, possession or control of any property referred to in subsection (2) that is in the possession or under the control of that person.

(6) The Minister may, by notice in writing given to a person who was one of the trustees, require that person within a time specified in the notice to furnish to the Minister information so specified that is information relating to the administration of property that was vested in the trustees, or to the proceedings or accounts of the trustees.

36. (1) Subject to this section the Minister may by instrument in writing delegate to the holder of any prescribed office the exercise or performance of such of the powers (other than this power of delegation), authorities, duties and functions conferred or imposed upon the Minister by or under this Act or the regulations as may be prescribed in relation to the holder of that office and may in like manner revoke wholly or in part any such delegation or any such delegation made by a predecessor in office.

Delegation
by Minister.

(2) Any power, authority, duty or function the exercise or performance of which has been delegated under this section to the holder of a prescribed office may, while the delegation remains unrevoked, be exercised or performed from time to time in accordance with the terms of the delegation by the person for the time being holding or acting in that office whether or not the Minister who made the delegation holds office at the time of that exercise or performance.

Necropolis (Amendment).

(3) A delegation made under this section may be made subject to such conditions or such limitations as to the exercise or performance of any of the prescribed powers, authorities, duties or functions delegated or as to time or circumstances as may be specified in the instrument of delegation.

(4) Where any prescribed power, authority, duty or function is exercised or performed by the holder of a prescribed office in relation to whom that power, authority, duty or function is prescribed and the exercise or performance of the power, authority, duty or function is evidenced in writing, signed by the holder of, or person for the time being acting in, that office in the name of the Minister or in his own name on behalf of the Minister, the power, authority, duty or function shall be deemed to have been exercised or performed by the Minister, whether or not an instrument delegating the exercise or performance of the power, authority, duty or function to that holder was, when the power, authority, duty or function was exercised or performed, in force and whether or not any conditions or limitations referred to in subsection (3) were observed by the person exercising or performing the power, authority, duty or function.

(5) Notwithstanding any delegation made under this section the Minister may continue to exercise or perform all or any of the powers, authorities, duties or functions delegated.

(6) A regulation under subsection (1) relating to the powers, authorities, duties or functions that may be delegated to the holder of a prescribed office may describe any power, authority, duty or function in general or particular terms and may so describe the power, authority,

duty
