PROOF

MONEYLENDING (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1975

EXPLANATORY NOTE

THE objects of this Bill are—

- (a) to extend the powers of registrars of courts of petty sessions and the registrar of the District Court so that they may enter up a judgment in proceedings relating to a money-lending transaction, as defined in section 20 (3) of the Money-lending Act, 1941, in which the amount originally lent does not exceed $1,000, just as registrars may enter up judgment in any other proceedings; and
 - (b) to require the registrar when entering up such a judgment to be satisfied that the judgment creditor was a licensed money-lender, just as the court is at present required to be so satisfied when giving a judgment in favour of a money-lender.
