GAS AND ELECTRICITY (INDUSTRY SAFETY)
AMENDMENT BILL 1986

NEW SOUTH WALES

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Explanatory Note relates to this Bill as introduced into Parliament)

The Search Warrants (Gas and Electricity) Amendment Bill 1986 is cognate with this Bill.

The object of this Bill is to amend the Gas and Electricity Act 1935 so as—

- (a) to empower inspectors appointed under that Act to enter and inspect any place where gas is manufactured, produced, distributed, supplied, stored or consumed or where the death of or injury to a person or damage to property has occurred involving gas;
- (b) to make further provision concerning the safe installation and maintenance of gas plant and facilities;
- (c) to state more precisely how that Act applies in relation to gas; and
- (d) to make provision for the protection of gas companies from liability for certain interferences with the supply of gas.

Clause 1 specifies the short title of the proposed Act.

Clause 2 provides for the commencement of the proposed Act.

Clause 3 is a formal provision that gives effect to the Schedule of amendments.

Schedule 1 (1) makes it clear that the Principal Act applies only to and in respect of gas supplied by means of a pipe or system of pipes.

Schedule 1 (2) defines "Authority" to mean the Energy Authority of New South Wales and "inspector" to mean a person appointed by the Minister for Industrial Relations to carry out inspections for the purposes of the Principal Act. The definition of "gas" is substituted so that the meaning of that term is more accurately stated. Under the definition as substituted the Minister will be empowered to extend the meaning of that term by order published in the Gazette.

Schedule 1 (3) is consequential on the substitution of the definition of "gas" by Schedule 1 (2) (b).

Schedule 1 (4) substitutes section 25 of the Principal Act and inserts proposed sections 25A-25C into that Act:

- (a) As currently in force, section 25 provides for the appointment and powers of gas examiners. As proposed to be substituted, section 25 will provide for the appointment of inspectors by the Minister for Industrial Relations and will require inspectors to produce evidence of their appointment when exercising the powers of entry and inspection conferred on them.
- (b) Proposed section 25A empowers an inspector to enter a place used for the manufacture, production, distribution, supply, storage or consumption of gas and while there to—
  - (i) search for, inspect and test gas production and distribution equipment;
  - (ii) take samples of gas for testing;
  - (iii) inspect, require the production of and take copies of, books and records relating to gas production and distribution;
  - (iv) require information from certain persons in relation to gas production and distribution; and
  - (v) give directions to gas companies in relation to the operation of any plant or equipment in order to prevent the death of or injury to a person or damage to property.

The proposed section also authorises an inspector to enter land and make inquiries where the death of or injury to a person or damage to property has occurred and gas is involved. The proposed power of entry does not authorise entry of a dwelling except—

- (i) with the occupier's consent;
- (ii) pursuant to a search warrant under proposed section 25B; or
- (iii) where there is imminent danger of death or injury or of substantial damage to property.

- (c) Proposed section 25B makes provision for the issue of a search warrant to enter a dwelling where the dwelling contains gas distribution or consumption equipment which is believed on reasonable grounds to be unsafe.
- (d) Proposed section 25C creates an offence of wilfully obstructing or delaying an inspector and of failing without lawful excuse to comply with a lawful requirement or direction by an inspector. The proposed section also requires a gas company to provide reasonable assistance to an inspector in the exercise of the inspector's functions.

Schedule 1 (5) inserts proposed section 28A into the Principal Act which protects a gas company from criminal liability under the Principal Act, and civil liability, arising from an interference with the supply of gas by the company where the interference is caused by compliance with the Principal Act or the regulations or is caused by anything not within the control of the company. Where the interference is caused by maintenance of gas plant, the protection from civil liability only operates where those affected are given notice in advance, except in the case of an emergency.

Schedule 1 (6) inserts proposed Division 4 of Part IV (proposed sections 34A-34C) into the Principal Act:

- (a) Proposed section 34A requires a person who carries out work in the course of installing, maintaining, altering or repairing gas storage and distribution equipment and gas appliances to do so in accordance with the Principal Act and the regulations.
- (b) Proposed section 34B requires a gas company to maintain adequate engineering records of its manufacturing and distribution system, to carry out a comprehensive maintenance programme for that system and to ensure that the system is operated and maintained in accordance with the regulations made under the Principal Act.
- (c) Proposed section 34C requires a gas company to forward an annual report to the Energy Authority concerning the maintenance of, and safety practices relating to, its gas facilities.

Schedule 1 (7) (a) enables regulations to be made for the purpose of ensuring safe manufacturing and distribution systems for gas.

Schedule 1 (7) (b) empowers regulations to be made prescribing fees to be paid in respect of the exercise of any functions of an inspector.

Schedule 1 (7) (c) is a consequential amendment which changes a reference from "gas examiner" to "inspector".

Schedule 1 (7) (d) and (e) empower regulations to be made prescribing the fee to accompany the annual report of a gas company under proposed section 34C.

Schedule 1 (7) (f) enables regulations to be made which adopt rules, codes or specifications made by certain organisations concerned with gas fitting or approved by the Minister and published in the Gazette. The regulations may also empower the Energy Authority to determine standards for particular matters and may require that certain work be carried out only by a person with specified qualifications.

(4) Sections 25–25C—

Omit section 25, insert instead:

Inspectors

5       25. (1) The Minister administering section 31 (powers of inspectors) of the Dangerous Goods Act 1975 may appoint a person as an inspector to carry out inspections for the purposes of this Act.

(2) That Minister shall issue to an inspector a certificate of authority in the prescribed form.

10       (3) Where on or in any land, premises or place an inspector is about to exercise or is exercising any function under this Act and a person apparently in charge of the land, premises or place requests the inspector to produce the inspector's certificate of authority, the inspector is not entitled to exercise or to continue to exercise the function unless the inspector complies with the request.

Powers of inspection

20       25A. (1) An inspector may enter and remain on or in any land, premises or place which is or are, or which the inspector believes on reasonable grounds is or are, being used for the manufacture, production, distribution, supply, storage or consumption of gas and may, while in or on the land, premises or place—

25       (a) search for, and inspect and test, any apparatus, equipment, pipes, fittings and appliances used or capable of being used in connection with the manufacture, production, distribution, supply, storage or consumption of gas;

30       (b) take, without payment, samples of any substance which the inspector believes on reasonable grounds to be gas for the purpose of examining and testing the samples;

- 5 (c) search for and inspect, or require a person found there to produce, any book, record, document, map or plan relating to the manufacture, production, distribution, supply, storage or consumption of gas and take copies of or extracts from any such book, record, document, map or plan;
- 10 (d) require any person found there to furnish information and answer questions relating to the operation and maintenance of apparatus, equipment, pipes, fittings and appliances found there and used or capable of being used in connection with the manufacture, production, distribution, supply, storage or consumption of gas; and
- 15 (e) where the inspector believes on reasonable grounds that it is necessary to do so to prevent the death of or injury to a person or damage to property, give a direction to a gas company concerning the operation of, or any work being carried out in connection with, any plant or equipment of the gas company.
- 20 (2) Where an inspector is satisfied on reasonable grounds that the death of or injury to a person, or damage to property, has occurred on or in any land, premises or place and that gas was involved in that death, injury or damage, the inspector may enter the land, premises or place and there make inquiries concerning that death, injury or damage.
- 25 (3) An inspector is not entitled to enter a dwelling-house or other residential premises pursuant to this section or to exercise any of an inspector's functions under this section in a dwelling-house or other residential premises unless—
- 30 (a) the inspector does so with the consent of the occupier;
- (b) the inspector does so pursuant to a search warrant issued under section 25B; or
- (c) the inspector believes on reasonable grounds that there is an imminent danger of the death of or injury to a person or substantial damage to property.

*Gas and Electricity (Industry Safety) Amendment 1986*SCHEDULE 1—*continued*AMENDMENTS TO THE GAS AND ELECTRICITY ACT 1935—
continued

(4) An inspector may give a direction to a gas company for the purposes of subsection (1) (e)—

(a) by giving the direction by instrument in writing served on the gas company;

5 (b) by giving the direction to a person nominated for the purpose by the gas company, being a nomination of which the Minister administering section 31 (powers of inspectors) of the Dangerous Goods Act 1975 has been informed in writing; or

10 (c) where no such nomination is in force or it is not reasonably practicable for the inspector to give the direction to a person so nominated—by giving the direction to any officer or employee of the gas company apparently charged with the operation or maintenance of 15 the plant or equipment to which the direction relates.

(5) Such a direction may be given to a person orally or in writing and may be given by telephone, telex, radio or any other communication device.

Search warrants

20 25B. (1) In this section, “authorised justice” means—

(a) a Magistrate; or

(b) a justice of the peace employed in the Local Courts Administration, Attorney General’s Department.

25 (2) An inspector may apply to an authorised justice for the issue of a search warrant if the inspector believes on reasonable grounds that any apparatus, equipment, pipe, fitting or appliance in a dwelling-house or other residential premises which is used or capable of being used in connection with the distribution, supply, storage or consumption of gas is unsafe.

continued

(3) An authorised justice to whom an application is made under subsection (2) may, if satisfied that there are reasonable grounds for doing so, issue a search warrant authorising an inspector to enter the dwelling-house or premises and there to exercise any functions of the inspector under section 25A.

(4) Part III of the Search Warrants Act 1985 applies to a search warrant issued under this section.

Offences

25C. (1) A person shall not—

- (a) wilfully obstruct or delay an inspector who is exercising a function under this Act; or
- (b) fail without lawful excuse to comply with a requirement made or a direction given by an inspector under section 25A.

(2) Where an inspector enters any land, premises or place occupied by a gas company, the gas company shall provide the inspector with all reasonable assistance for the effective exercise of the inspector's functions under section 25A.

(5) Section 28A—

After section 28, insert:

Liability of gas companies—interference with supply

28A. (1) Where a gas company fails to maintain a supply of gas or the supply of gas by a gas company is otherwise interfered with and the failure or interference is caused by—

- (a) compliance by the gas company with a requirement made by or under this Act; or
- (b) anything not within the control of the gas company,

the gas company is not guilty of an offence against this Act or the regulations in respect of the failure or interference and is not liable to any person in respect of damage suffered by the person which was caused by the failure or interference.

5 (2) Where the failure or interference is caused by the maintenance (including the repair) of a gas company's gas manufacturing or distribution system as required by or under this Act, subsection (1) does not relieve the gas company from liability to a person in respect of the failure or interference
10 unless, except in the case of an emergency, the gas company gives the person reasonable notice that the failure or interference will occur.

(6) Part IV, Division 4—

After section 34, insert:

15 DIVISION 4—Standards and safety

Installation and maintenance standards

34A. A person who carries out work in the course of installing, maintaining, altering or repairing any apparatus, equipment, pipe, fitting, appliance or other thing used, or designed or 20 intended for use, in or in connection with the distribution, supply, storage or consumption of gas shall carry out that work—

(a) in accordance with such of the provisions of this Act and the regulations under this Act as relate to the carrying out of that work; and 25 (b) competently and with due regard to safety.

Maintenance of gas distribution system

34B. A gas company which operates a gas manufacturing and distribution system shall—

30 (a) maintain engineering records of the system which are, in the opinion of the Authority, adequate;

continued

(b) carry out a comprehensive programme for the maintenance of the system and review that programme at least once every 12 months; and

5 (c) ensure that the system is operated and maintained in accordance with the regulations under this Act.

Report as to maintenance and safety

10 34c. A gas company shall, before 31 March in each year, forward to the Authority a report in the prescribed form, relating to the period of 12 months ending on 31 December immediately preceding that 31 March, which reviews the activities of the gas company in relation to the maintenance of, and the safety practices carried out in relation to, plant and equipment used in the manufacture, production, distribution, supply or storage of gas by the company.

15 (7) Section 85 (Regulations)—

(a) Section 85 (1) (a)—

Before section 85 (1) (b), insert:

20 (a) for or with respect to the design, construction, operation, testing and maintenance of plant, apparatus, equipment, pipes and fittings used for the manufacture or distribution of gas;

(b) Section 85 (1) (g)—

After section 85 (1) (f), insert:

25 (g) prescribing the fees payable in respect of the exercise of any functions of an inspector under this Act;

(c) Section 85 (1) (h)—

Omit “gas examiners”, insert instead “inspectors”.

(d) Section 85 (1) (l)—

Omit “and” where lastly occurring.

(4) An inspector may give a direction to a gas company for the purposes of subsection (1) (e)—

- (a) by giving the direction by instrument in writing served on the gas company;
- (b) by giving the direction to a person nominated for the purpose by the gas company, being a nomination of which the Minister administering section 31 (powers of inspectors) of the Dangerous Goods Act 1975 has been informed in writing; or
- (c) where no such nomination is in force or it is not reasonably practicable for the inspector to give the direction to a person so nominated—by giving the direction to any officer or employee of the gas company apparently charged with the operation or maintenance of the plant or equipment to which the direction relates.

(5) Such a direction may be given to a person orally or in writing and may be given by telephone, telex, radio or any other communication device.

Search warrants

25B. (1) In this section, “authorised justice” means—

- (a) a Magistrate; or
- (b) a justice of the peace employed in the Local Courts Administration, Attorney General’s Department.

(2) An inspector may apply to an authorised justice for the issue of a search warrant if the inspector believes on reasonable grounds that any apparatus, equipment, pipe, fitting or appliance in a dwelling-house or other residential premises which is used or capable of being used in connection with the distribution, supply, storage or consumption of gas is unsafe.
