POLICE REGULATION (SUPERANNUATION) AMENDMENT BILL, 1984

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Explanatory Note relates to this Bill as introduced into Parliament)

The following Bills are cognate with this Bill:—

- Police Regulation (Rules) Amendment Bill, 1984;
- Police Association Employees (Superannuation) Amendment Bill, 1984.

The object of this Bill is to amend the Police Regulation (Superannuation) Act, 1906 ("the Act"), so as—

- (a) to clarify, for the purposes of determining the amounts payable to or from the Police Superannuation Fund ("the Fund"), the definition of "salary of office" and, in particular—
 - (i) to ensure that the ordinary pay of the position, as well as the rank, of a member of the police force is included in that definition;
 - (ii) to specify the allowances that are not included in that definition; and
 - (iii) to enable the regulations to declare that any specific remuneration is included in, or is not included in, that definition,
- (Schedule 1 (1) (b));
- (b) to provide that, where a member of the police force ceases to be paid an allowance (otherwise than for disciplinary reasons) and his or her salary of office is thereby reduced before death, retirement, resignation or discharge, the amount of any superannuation allowance or gratuity under the Act is not similarly reduced (Schedule 1 (1) (c));
- (c) to enable the Police Superannuation Board ("the Board")—
 - (i) to delegate certain of its functions to any officer of the Police Department in addition to the secretary of the Board; and
 - (ii) to delegate its functions to grant certain gratuities under section 12D of the Act to members of the police force hurt on duty and its functions under proposed sections 11C and 13A of the Act,

(Schedule 1 (6));

- (d) to provide that, during special leave without pay (namely, sick leave, maternity leave and certain other leave) a member of the police force is required to continue to contribute the requisite part of his or her salary of office to the Fund (Schedule 1 (9));
- (e) to provide that, during an initial period (to be prescribed by regulation) of leave without pay (not being special leave without pay referred to in paragraph (d)), a member of the police force is required to continue to contribute the requisite part of his or her salary of office to the Fund and to provide that so much of any single period of any such leave as exceeds the initial period is not a period of service for the purposes of calculating benefits under the Act (Schedule 1 (9));
- (f) to increase the superannuation allowance payable on retirement or discharge under section 7 of the Act and the gratuity payable on death under section 13 of the Act by providing for the calculation of that allowance or gratuity on completed months of service instead of completed years of service (Schedule 1 (10) and (20));
- (g) to require the notification given by a member of the police force who is hurt on duty to be in or to the effect of the form prescribed by the regulations (Schedule 1 (15) (c));
- (h) to provide that the widower of a female member of the police force who dies after having been granted a superannuation allowance under the Act is entitled to a superannuation allowance in the same circumstances, and of the same amount, as the widow of a male member of the police force, except that—
- (i) the widower is to satisfy, and continue to satisfy, a dependency test prescribed by the regulations; and
 - (ii) the aggregate amount of the superannuation allowance and certain other income of the widower is not to exceed the maximum rate prescribed by the regulations,
- (Schedule 1 (18));
- (i) to provide that, where a member of the police force dies as a result of being hurt on duty, the member's widow (or certain other beneficiaries) may be paid, in addition to a superannuation allowance of 55 per cent of the salary of office of the deceased member, an additional amount of not more than 7.5 per cent of that salary of office which, in the opinion of the Board, is commensurate with the risks to which the member was required to be exposed (an additional amount is paid for similar reasons to a member of the police force who is discharged after being hurt on duty) (Schedule 1 (19) (a) and (b));
- (j) to provide that, where a former member of the police force dies as a result of having been hurt on duty, the former member's widow (or certain other beneficiaries) may be paid a superannuation allowance equal to the amount payable to the widow of a former member who dies otherwise than as a result of having been hurt on duty if that other superannuation allowance exceeds the existing superannuation allowance (Schedule 1 (19) (a) and (b));

- (k) to ensure that the Board is required to pay the minimum gratuity of 24 months' pay to the widow (or certain other beneficiaries) of a member of the police force who dies otherwise than as a result of being hurt on duty and to a member who is discharged medically unfit but is not entitled to a superannuation allowance under the Act (Schedule 1 (20) and (22));
- (l) to provide that the amount payable under section 17 (1) of the Act as a refund of contributions is payable to the estate of a member of the police force who dies but in respect of whose death no superannuation allowance or gratuity is payable under the Act (Schedule 1 (21));
- (m) to make specific provision in the Act in connection with the constitution and procedure of the Police Medical Board (Schedule 1 (23));
- (n) to provide that interest, compounded annually at the rate of 4.5 per cent, is payable on a refund of contributions under section 17 (1) of the Act where the member of the police force has served for a period of 5 years or more and was not dismissed (Schedule 1 (25));
- (o) to allow a re-appointed member of the police force an additional period of 6 months to repay any refund of contributions under section 17 (1) of the Act in order that the previous service of the member may be included in the calculation of future benefits from the Fund (Schedule 1 (25) (d));
- (p) to authorise the Board to pay a superannuation allowance or gratuity to a person other than the beneficiary if the payment is to be used for the maintenance, care and support of the beneficiary (a similar provision is at present contained in the rules under the Police Regulation Act, 1899) (Schedule 1 (26));
- (q) to limit the period within which a person may appeal to the Workers' Compensation Commission under section 21 of the Act to the period of 90 days after the person is notified of the decision appealed against (Schedule 1 (27) (a));
- (r) to authorise regulations for the purposes of the Act to be made under the Act (at present rules are made for the purposes of the Act under the Police Regulation Act, 1899) (Schedule 1 (29)); and
- (s) to make other provisions of a minor, ancillary or consequential nature.

The Bill also contains provisions of a savings or transitional nature and a provision to validate certain matters (Schedule 2).
