COURTS LEGISLATION (CIVIL PROCEDURE) FURTHER AMENDMENT BILL 1991

NEW SOUTH WALES

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Explanatory Note relates to this Bill as introduced into Parliament)

The object of this Bill is to provide that civil proceedings in the Supreme and District Courts are to be tried without a jury unless:

- the court orders that the proceedings (or any issues of fact in the proceedings) should be tried with a jury in the interests of justice; or
- the proceedings arise from a cause of action based on fraud, defamation, malicious prosecution or false imprisonment.

Under the current provisions, motor vehicle accident cases are tried with a jury if both parties so request and may be tried with a jury at the request of one party only. Other common law cases may be tried with a jury if one party so requests. Fraud, defamation, malicious prosecution and false imprisonment cases are currently tried with a jury and this will continue to be the case under the proposed amendments.

The proposed amendments will apply to proceedings already commenced, except in one case. The exception is proceedings in which a jury has already been selected under the current provisions. Such proceedings will continue to be tried with a jury under those provisions.

Proposed section 5 repeals an unnecessary uncommenced provision.
