The Taxation Administration (Consequential Amendments) Bill 1996 is cognate with this Bill.

Overview of Bill

The object of this Bill is to reform and standardise the administration and enforcement of a number of New South Wales taxation laws. The Bill will apply initially to the following laws:

Debits Tax Act 1990 Health Insurance Levies Act 1982 Land Tax Act 1956 Land Tax Management Act 1956 Parking Space Levy Act 1992 Pay-roll Tax Act 1971 Revenue Laws (Reciprocal Powers) Act 1987

Explanatory note

a regulation under any of those Acts.

These laws and the proposed Act are collectively referred to as the taxation laws in this explanatory note.

Explanatory note

Outline of provisions

Part 1 Preliminary

Part 1 contains clauses 1-6 which make provision for the name of the proposed Act, its commencement and the definitions of certain words and expressions used in it. The Part lists the taxation laws to which the proposed Act applies and provides that the proposed Act is to bind the Crown.

Part 2 Purpose of Act and relationship with other taxation laws

Part 2 contains clause 7 which describes the purpose of the proposed Act and indicates how it is to relate to the other taxation laws.

Part 3 Assessment of tax liability

Part 3 contains clauses 8–17. The Part deals with the assessment or reassessment of the tax liability of a taxpayer under a taxation law. It confers a general power on the Chief Commissioner of State Revenue to make assessments (including reassessments) and specifies the information on which assessments are to be made. It provides for the issuing of notices of assessment. It enables the withdrawal of an assessment. An assessment is not invalidated because a provision of a taxation law has not been complied with.

Part 4 Refunds of tax

Part 4 contains clauses 18–20. The Part contains a general requirement that the Chief Commissioner make a refund of tax to a taxpayer if the taxpayer has paid more tax than is shown in a notice of assessment of the taxpayer's liability.

Part 5 Interest and penalty tax

Division 1 Interest

Division 1 contains clauses 21–25. It imposes interest on tax defaults (a tax default being defined by the proposed Act as a failure by a taxpayer to pay, in accordance with a taxation law, the whole or part of tax that the taxpayer is liable to pay). The interest rate comprises a market rate component (determined by reference to the rate applicable to tax defaults under the Commonwealth Income Tax Assessment Act 1936) and a premium component (currently proposed to be 8% per annum). The interest rate is to prevail over the interest rate otherwise payable on a judgment debt. The Chief Commissioner is given power to remit interest.

Explanatory note

Division 2 Penalty tax

Division 2 contains clauses 26–33. It imposes penalty tax on tax defaults. The initial amount is 25% of the amount of tax unpaid but this may be increased or decreased depending on the circumstances. The following Table contains a summary of the provisions of Division 2.

PENALTY CATEGORY	PRIME	VOLUNTARY DISCLOSURE		CONCEALMENT OR HINDRANCE IN
	%	BEFORE INVESTIGATION	DURING INVESTIGATION	ESTABLISHING UNDERPAYMENT
Failure to take reasonable care but no intentional disregard of the law	25	5	20	30
Intentional disregard of the law	75	15	60	90

The Chief Commissioner is given power to remit penalty tax.

Part 6 Returns

Division 1 General

Division 1 contains clauses 34-36. These provisions deal generally with returns that are required or permitted to be lodged under the taxation laws. They provide for the form of returns, the time of their lodgment and extensions of time for lodgment.

Division 2 Approval of special tax return arrangements

Division 2 contains clauses 37–42. These provisions enable the Chief Commissioner to approve of special arrangements for the lodging of returns and payment of tax under the taxation laws. They deal with applications for approval, determination of applications, imposition of conditions of approval, the variation and cancellation of approvals and the effect of approvals.

Part 7 Collection of tax

Part 7 contains clauses 43–47. It provides for the payment of tax to the Chief Commissioner, the recovery of taxes as a debt, recovery from persons who are jointly or severally liable, collection of tax from third parties, and the making of arrangements between the Chief Commissioner and taxpayers for the payment of tax within an extended period or by instalments, or both.

Explanatory note

Part 8 Record keeping and general offences

Part 8 contains clauses 48–59. It imposes requirements for record-keeping, the form in which records are to be kept, accessibility to records and the period for which records are to be retained. It creates offences for knowingly giving false or misleading information to a tax officer and for deliberately omitting information from a statement so that the statement is rendered false or misleading, for failing to lodge documents required to be lodged by a taxation law and for falsifying or concealing an identity or an address. A general defence is provided to a person who proves that reasonable care was taken to comply with the relevant requirement or that the requirement was contravened solely because of circumstances beyond the person's control.

Part 9 Tax officers, investigation and secrecy provisions

Division 1 Tax officers

Division 1 contains clauses 60–70. It creates the offices of Chief Commissioner of State Revenue and Commissioner of State Revenue. It confers on the Chief Commissioner the general administration of the taxation laws. It enables the appointment of staff and the use of consultants and contractors. It enables the delegation of the Chief Commissioner's functions. It provides for the appointment of persons to be authorised officers for the purposes of the taxation laws. It relieves the Chief Commissioner and tax officers from personal liability for things done in good faith for the purpose of executing the taxation laws.

Division 2 Investigation

Division 2 contains clauses 71–80. It confers investigative powers on the Chief Commissioner, including powers to require information, the attendance of persons to give evidence and the production of records, and a power of entry onto premises. It makes it an offence to obstruct an authorised officer in the exercise of an investigative function or to impersonate an authorised officer. A general defence is provided to a person who establishes that the person could not, by the exercise of reasonable diligence, have complied with the requirement concerned or that the person complied with the requirement to the extent of the person's ability to do so.

The provisions of Division 2 do not affect legal professional privilege.

Explanatory note

Division 3 Secrecy

Division 3 contains clauses 81–85. It generally prohibits tax officers from disclosing to others information obtained by the tax officers in the course of their duties and sets out some limited circumstances in which the disclosure of information is permitted.

Part 10 Objections and appeals

Division 1 Objections

Division 1 contains clauses 86–95. It confers a right of objection on a taxpayer who is dissatisfied with an assessment that is shown in a notice of assessment or with certain decisions of the Chief Commissioner under the taxation laws. The Division sets out the procedures for the making and determination of objections. The making of an objection does not prevent the recovery by the Chief Commissioner of the tax concerned pending the determination of the objection.

Division 2 Appeals

Division 2 contains clauses 96–103. It confers a right of appeal to the Supreme Court on a taxpayer who is dissatisfied with the Chief Commissioner's determination of, or failure to determine, the taxpayer's objection. The Division sets out the procedures for the making and determination of appeals.

Division 3 Refund of amounts and payment of interest following successful objection or appeal

Division 3 contains clauses 104 and 105. It requires the Chief Commissioner to refund amounts found, following a successful objection or appeal, to have been paid in excess of a lawful requirement together with interest.

Division 4 Chief Commissioner may state case

Division 4 contains clause 106 which enables the Chief Commissioner to state a case on a question of law to the Supreme Court.

Part 11 Miscellaneous provisions

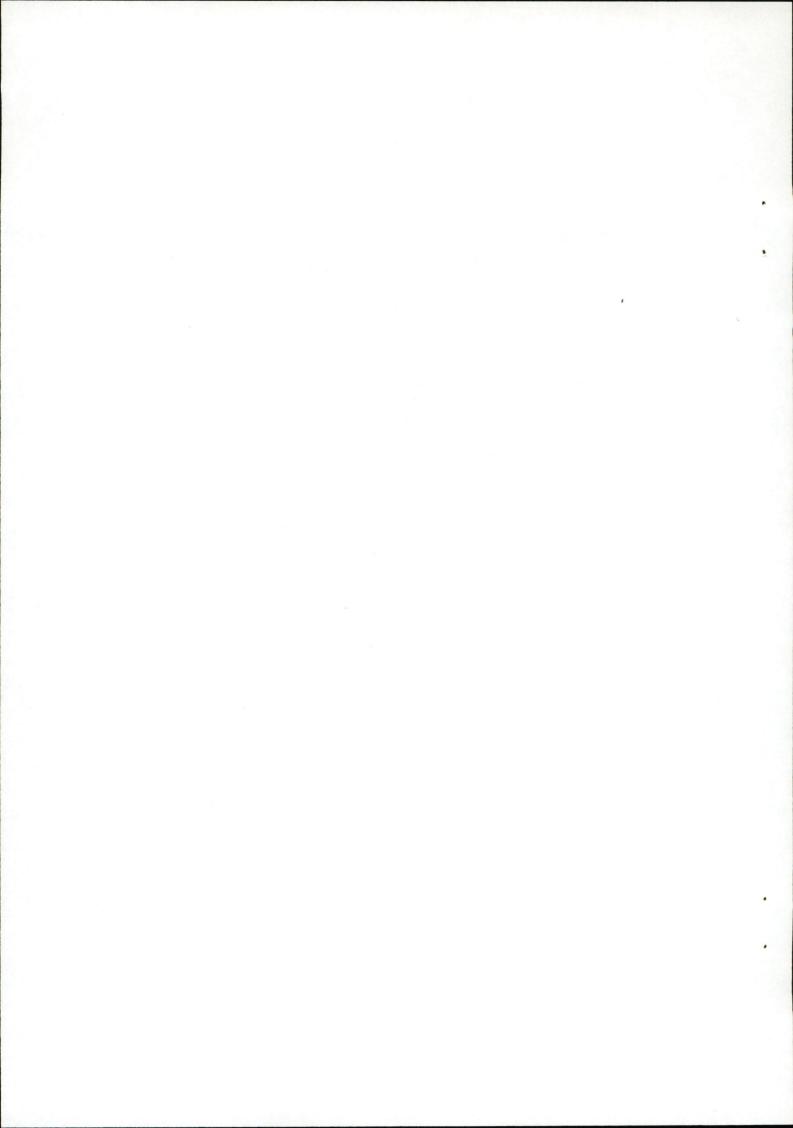

Part 11 contains clauses 107–128. The Part contains miscellaneous provisions relating to the administration of the taxation laws. It contains provisions for the manner in which payments of tax may be made to the Chief Commissioner, the valuation of amounts expressed otherwise than in Australian currency, the writing off of tax and the appropriation of the Consolidated Fund for amounts that the Chief Commissioner is authorised or required to pay under the proposed Act. It enables the Chief Commissioner to require a corporation to appoint a natural person resident in New South Wales as the corporation's public officer for the purpose of serving documents. It requires a liquidator to notify the Chief Commissioner of the liquidator's appointment. It provides for the service of documents on and by the Chief Commissioner. It contains a number of evidentiary provisions. It provides for the commission of offences by persons involved in the management of corporations and increases the maximum penalty that may be imposed for offences are to be taken. It contains a regulation-making power. It requires that a review of the proposed Act be undertaken after 5 years.

Schedule 1 Savings, transitional and other provisions

Schedule 1 contains savings, transitional and other provisions consequent on the enactment of the proposed Act.

- (6) Everything that the public officer is required to do and does in his or her representative capacity is taken to have been done by the corporation, but the absence or non-appointment of a public officer does not excuse the corporation from the necessity of complying, or from a penalty for failure to comply, with a provision of a taxation law and the corporation is liable to comply with the taxation laws as if there were no requirement to appoint a public officer.
- (7) A document served on or requirement made of the public officer is taken to have been served on or made of the corporation.

 - (a) the market rate component, and
 - (b) the premium component.

- (3) The premium component is 8% per annum.

23 Liability to payment of small amounts of interest

There is no liability imposed by a taxation law to pay an amount of interest if the amount is less than $20.

24 Interest rate to prevail over interest otherwise payable on a judgment debt

If judgment is given by or entered in a court for an amount of unpaid tax (or an amount that includes an amount of unpaid tax), the interest rate determined in accordance with this Division continues to apply, to the exclusion of any other interest rate, until the tax is paid. Section 25 Taxation Administration Act 1996 No 97

Part 5 Interest and penalty tax Division 1

25 Remission of interest

 - (a) interest under Division 1, or
 - (b) penalty tax previously imposed under this Division.

27 Amount of penalty tax

- (1) The amount of penalty tax payable in respect of a tax default is 25% of the amount of tax unpaid, subject to this Division.
- (2) The Chief Commissioner may increase the amount of penalty tax payable in respect of a tax default to 75% of the amount of tax unpaid if the Chief Commissioner is satisfied that the tax default was caused wholly or partly by the intentional disregard by the taxpayer (or a person acting on behalf of the taxpayer) of a taxation law.
- (3) The Chief Commissioner may determine that no penalty tax is payable in respect of a tax default if the Chief Commissioner is satisfied that:
 - (a) the taxpayer (or a person acting on behalf of the taxpayer) took reasonable care to comply with the taxation law, or
 - (b) the tax default occurred solely because of circumstances beyond the taxpayer's control (or if a person acted on behalf of the taxpayer, because of circumstances beyond either the person's or the taxpayer's control) but not amounting to financial incapacity.

29 Reduction in penalty tax for disclosure during investigation

The amount of penalty tax determined under section 27 is to be reduced by 20% if, after the Chief Commissioner informs the taxpayer that an investigation relating to the taxpayer is to be carried out and before it is completed, the taxpayer discloses to the Chief Commissioner, in writing, sufficient information to enable the nature and extent of the tax default to be determined.

30 Increase in penalty tax for concealment

- (1) The amount of penalty tax determined under section 27 is to be increased by 20% if, after the Chief Commissioner has informed the taxpayer that an investigation is to be carried out and before the investigation is completed, the taxpayer took steps to prevent or hinder the Chief Commissioner from becoming aware of the nature and extent of the tax default in whole or part.
- (2) For the purposes of this section, a taxpayer takes steps to prevent or hinder the Chief Commissioner if the taxpayer:
 - (a) deliberately damages or destroys records required to be kept under the taxation law to which the investigation relates, or
 - (b) refuses or fails (without reasonable excuse) to comply with a requirement made by the Chief Commissioner under Division 2 of Part 9 for the purposes of determining the taxpayer's tax liability, or

110 Writing off of tax

- (1) The Chief Commissioner may write off the whole or any part of any unpaid tax if satisfied that action, or further action, to recover the tax is impracticable or unwarranted.

- (3) This section has effect despite the provisions of the Public Finance and Audit Act 1983 or another taxation law.

111 Appropriation of Consolidated Fund

the Chief Commissioner may appoint a person as the public officer of the corporation by written notice served on the person and the corporation.

- (4) Service of a document on the public officer of the corporation is sufficient service on the corporation for the purposes of a taxation law, and, if at any time the corporation does not have a public officer as required under this section, then service on a person acting or appearing to act in the business of the corporation is sufficient.
- (5) The public officer is answerable for the discharge of all obligations imposed on the corporation under a taxation law, and, in case of default, is liable to the same penalties.
- (6) Everything that the public officer is required to do and does in his or her representative capacity is taken to have been done by the corporation, but the absence or non-appointment of a public officer does not excuse the corporation from the necessity of complying, or from a penalty for failure to comply, with a provision of a taxation law and the corporation is liable to comply with the taxation laws as if there were no requirement to appoint a public officer.
- (7) A document served on or requirement made of the public officer is taken to have been served on or made of the corporation.
- (8) Any civil or criminal proceedings brought under a taxation law against the public officer are taken to have been brought against the corporation, and the corporation is liable jointly with the public officer for any penalty imposed on the public officer, or for compliance with any order made against the public officer.
