Proposed section 38B states what constitutes discrimination on transgender grounds.

Division 2    Discrimination in work

Proposed section 38L renders it unlawful to discriminate against another person on transgender grounds in the provision of access to public places and vehicles.

Proposed section 38M renders it unlawful for a person to discriminate against another person on transgender grounds in the provision of goods and services.

Schedule 1 [5] and [6] make consequential amendments.

Schedule 2      Amendment of Births, Deaths and Marriages Registration Act 1995

A similar application may be made by the parents or guardian of an unmarried child who satisfies the same requirements.

Proposed section 32C requires such an application to be accompanied by medical verification of the sexual reassignment surgery.

Proposed section 32D enables the Registrar of Births, Deaths and Marriages to determine an application and, if appropriate, to alter the record of the person's sex.

Proposed section 32E enables the Registrar, if the record of a person's sex is altered, to issue a new birth certificate showing the person's sex as altered.

Proposed section 32F specifies the circumstances in which the Registrar may, if the record of a person's sex is altered, issue a birth certificate showing the person's sex before the record was altered.

Proposed section 32G makes it an offence for a person to produce, for the purposes of the law of another jurisdiction, a new birth certificate issued for a transgender person unless the law of that jurisdiction expressly allows the new certificate to be produced or the person, in producing the new certificate, informs the person to whom it is produced of the transgender person's change of sex.

Proposed section 32H makes it an offence for a person to produce, with intention to deceive, an old birth certificate issued for a transgender person.

Proposed section 32I provides that a person the record of whose sex is altered under the Part is, for the purposes of, but subject to, New South Wales law, a person of the sex as so altered. The proposed section also enables the recognition in New South Wales of a sex change effected under the law of another Australian jurisdiction.
