3. No decree shall be made by the said Court for a Divorce a mensâ et thoro but in all cases in which a decree for a Divorce a mensâ et thoro might have been pronounced in England according to the law in force before the passing of the Imperial Act twentieth and twenty-first Victoria chapter eighty-five the Court may pronounce a decree for a judicial separation. No Decree for Divorce a mensâ et thoro to be made hereafter but a judicial separation.
4. Any Judge of the Court shall have full authority either alone or with one or more of the other Judges of the Court to hear and determine all matters arising therein under this Act except petitions for dissolving or annulling Marriage and applications for new trials of questions or issues before a Jury bills of exceptions special verdicts and special cases and except as aforesaid may exercise all the powers and authority of the Court under this Act. Powers of Judges.
5. All petitions either for the dissolution or for a sentence of nullity of Marriage and applications for new trials of questions or issues before a Jury shall be heard and determined by the full Court. Petitions for dissolution or nullity to be heard before three Judges.
6. A sentence of judicial separation (which shall have the effect of a Divorce a mensâ et thoro under the said former law in England and such other legal effects as herein mentioned) may be obtained either by the husband or the wife on the ground of adultery or cruelty or desertion without cause for two years and upwards. Judicial separation.
7. Application for restitution of conjugal rights or for judicial separation on any one of the grounds aforesaid may be made by either husband or wife by petition to the Court and the Court shall hear and determine such petitions according to the rules and regulations which shall be made under the authority of this Act And the Court on being satisfied of the truth of the allegations therein contained and that there is no legal ground why the same should not be granted may decree such restitution of conjugal rights or judicial separation accordingly and where the application is by the wife may make any order for alimony which the Court shall deem just. Application for restitution of conjugal rights or judicial separation may be made by husband or wife by petition to Court &c.
8. In all suits and proceedings other than proceedings to dissolve any Marriage the Court shall proceed and act and give relief on principles and rules which in the opinion of the Court shall be as nearly as may be conformable to the principles and rules on which the Ecclesiastical Courts of England before the passing of the said recited Imperial Act acted and gave relief but subject to the provisions herein contained and to the rules and orders under this Act. Court to act on principles of the Ecclesiastical Courts.
9. Any husband or wife upon the application of whose wife or husband as the case may be a decree of judicial separation has been pronounced may at any time thereafter present a petition to the Court praying for a reversal of such decree on the ground that it was obtained in his or her absence and that there was reasonable ground for the alleged desertion where desertion was the ground of such decree And the said Court may on being satisfied of the truth of the allegations of such petition reverse the decree accordingly but the reversal thereof shall not prejudice nor affect the rights and remedies which any other person would have had in case such reversal had not been decreed in respect of any debts contracts or acts of the wife incurred entered into or done between the times of the sentence of separation and of the reversal thereof. Decree of separation obtained during absence may be reversed.
10. In all cases in which the Court shall make any decree or order for alimony it may direct the same to be paid either to the wife herself or to any trustee on her behalf to be approved by the Court and may direct any securities to be given and may impose any terms or restrictions which to the Court may seem expedient and may from time to time appoint a new trustee if for any reason it shall appear to the Court expedient to do so. Alimony may be paid to the wife or her trustee.

Matrimonial Causes.

11. In every case of a judicial separation the wife shall from the date of the sentence and whilst the separation shall continue be considered as a feme sole with respect to property of every description which she may acquire or which may come to her or devolve upon her
- 5 And such property may be disposed of by her in all respects as a feme sole and on her decease the same shall in case she shall die intestate go as the same would have gone if her husband had been then dead Provided that if any such wife should again cohabit with her husband all such property as she may be entitled to when such cohabitation
- 10 shall take place shall be held to her separate use subject however to any agreement in writing made between herself and her husband when separate.
12. In every case of a judicial separation the wife shall whilst so separated be considered as a feme sole for the purposes of contract
- 15 and wrongs and injuries and suing and being sued in any civil proceeding And her husband shall not be liable in respect of any engagement or contract she may have entered into or for any wrongful act or omission by her or for any costs she may incur as plaintiff or defendant Provided that where upon any such judicial separation
- 20 alimony has been decreed or ordered to be paid to the wife and the same shall not be duly paid by the husband he shall be liable for necessities supplied for her use Provided also that nothing shall prevent the wife from joining at any time during such separation in the exercise of any joint power given to herself and her husband.
- 25 13. It shall be lawful for any husband to present a petition to the Court praying that his Marriage may be dissolved on the ground that his wife has since the celebration thereof been guilty of adultery and it shall be lawful for any wife to present a petition to the Court
- 30 praying that her Marriage may be dissolved on the ground that since the celebration thereof her husband has been guilty of adultery And every such petition shall state as distinctly as the nature of the case permits the facts on which the claim to have such Marriage dissolved is founded.
14. Upon any such petition presented by a husband the
- 35 petitioner shall make the alleged adulterer a co-respondent to the said petition unless on special grounds to be allowed by the Court he shall be excused from so doing And on every petition presented by a wife for dissolution of a Marriage the Court if it see fit may direct that the person with whom the husband is alleged to have committed adultery
- 40 be made a co-respondent and the parties or either of them may insist on having the contested matters of fact tried by a Jury as hereinafter mentioned.
15. Upon any such petition for the dissolution of a Marriage it shall be the duty of the Court to satisfy itself so far as it reasonably
- 45 can not only as to the facts alleged but also whether or no the petitioner has been in any manner accessory to or conniving at the adultery or has condoned the same and shall also inquire into any counter charge which may be made against the petitioner.
16. In every case of a petition for a dissolution of Marriage it
- 50 shall be lawful for the Court if it shall see fit to direct all necessary papers in the matter to be sent to the Crown Solicitor who shall under the directions of the Attorney General instruct Counsel to argue before the Court any question in relation to such matter and which the Court may deem it necessary or expedient to have fully argued and the Crown
- 55 Solicitor shall be entitled to charge and be reimbursed the costs of such proceeding as part of the expense of his office.
17. In case the Court on the evidence in relation to any such petition shall not be satisfied that the alleged adultery has been committed or shall find that the petitioner has during the Marriage
- been

5 the said petition.

18. In case the Court shall be satisfied on the evidence that the case of the petitioner has been proved and shall not find that the petitioner has been in any manner accessory to or conniving at the adultery of the other party to the Marriage or has condoned the 10 adultery complained of or that the petition is presented or prosecuted in collusion with either of the respondents then the Court shall pronounce a decree declaring such Marriage to be dissolved. Provided that the Court shall not be bound to pronounce such decree if it shall find that the petitioner has during the Marriage been guilty of adultery 15 or if the petitioner shall in the opinion of the Court have been guilty of unreasonable delay in presenting or prosecuting such petition or of cruelty towards the other party to the Marriage or of having deserted or wilfully separated himself or herself from the other party before the adultery complained of or of such wilful neglect or misconduct as 20 has conduced to the adultery.

In what cases the Court shall pronounce a decree for dissolution of Marriage.

Its discretionary power therein.

19. Every decree for a Divorce shall in the first instance be a decree nisi not to be made absolute till after the expiration of such time not less than three months from the pronouncing thereof as the Court shall by general or special order from time to time direct and 25 during that period any person shall be at liberty in such manner as the Court shall by general or special order in that behalf from time to time direct to shew cause why the said decree should not be made absolute by reason of the same having been obtained by collusion or by reason of material facts not brought before the Court and on cause
30 being so shewn the Court shall deal with the case by making the decree absolute or by reversing the decree nisi or by requiring further inquiry or otherwise as justice may require and at any time during the progress of the cause or before the decree is made absolute any person may give information to the Crown Solicitor of any matter material 35 to the due decision of the case who may thereupon take such steps as the Attorney General may deem necessary or expedient and if from any such information or otherwise the said Crown Solicitor shall suspect that any parties to the suit are or have been acting in collusion 40 for the purpose of obtaining a Divorce contrary to the justice of the case he may under the direction of the Attorney General and by leave of the Court intervene in the suit alleging such case of collusion and retain Counsel and subpoena witnesses to prove it and it shall be lawful for the Court to order the costs of such Counsel and witnesses and otherwise arising from such intervention to be paid by the parties or such 45 of them as it shall see fit including a wife if she have separate property and in case the said Crown Solicitor shall not thereby be fully satisfied his reasonable costs he shall be entitled to charge and be reimbursed the difference as part of the expense of his office.

Collusion.

20. The Court may if it shall think fit on any such decree 50 order that the husband shall to the satisfaction of the Court secure to the wife such gross sum of money or such annual sum of money for any term not exceeding her own life as having regard to her fortune (if any) to the ability of her husband and the conduct of the parties it shall deem reasonable and for that purpose may settle and approve or 55 may refer it to the Master or any other proper officer of the Court to settle and approve of a proper deed or instrument to be executed by all necessary parties and the Court may in such case if it shall see fit suspend the pronouncing of its decree until such deed shall have been duly executed and upon any petition for dissolution of Marriage the Court shall have the same power to make interim orders for payment of money by way of alimony or otherwise to the wife as it would have in a suit instituted for judicial separation.

21. Any husband may either in a petition for dissolution of 5 Marriage or for judicial separation or in a petition limited to such object only claim damages from any person on the ground of his having committed adultery with the wife of such petitioner and such petition shall be served on the alleged adulterer and the wife unless the Court shall dispense with such service or direct some other service to be 10 substituted and the claim made by every such petition shall be heard and tried on the same principles in the same manner and subject to the same or like rules and regulations as actions for criminal conversation are now tried and decided in the Court And all the enactments herein contained with reference to the hearing and decision of petitions 15 presented under this enactment shall so far as may be necessary be deemed applicable to the hearing and decision of petitions presented under this enactment and the damages to be recovered on any such petition shall in all cases be ascertained by the verdict of a Jury although the respondents or either of them may not appear And after 20 the verdict has been given the Court shall have power to direct in what manner such damages shall be paid and applied and to direct that the whole or any part thereof shall be settled for the benefit of the children (if any) of the Marriage or as a provision for the maintenance of the wife.

Husband may claim damages from adulterer.

22. Whenever in any petition presented by a husband the alleged adulterer shall have been made a co-respondent and the adultery shall have been established it shall be lawful for the Court to order the adulterer to pay the whole or any part of the costs of the proceedings And any instrument executed pursuant to any order of 30 the Court at the time of or after the pronouncing of a final decree of Divorce or judicial separation shall be deemed valid and effectual in the law notwithstanding the existence of the disability of coverture at the time of the execution thereof.
