ANNO QUINQUAGESIMO SECUNDO

VICTORIÆ REGINÆ.

An Act to authorize and empower Robert Dawson, the surviving Trustee of certain Church of England lands at Cooma, in the Colony of New South Wales, purchased from the Crown for the Church of England, at Cooma aforesaid, to sell the said lands and to provide for the application of the proceeds thereof.

WHEREAS at a sale of Crown lands, held at Cooma aforesaid, on ^{Preamble.} the seventeenth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, John Lambie, the said Robert Dawson, and Francis Smith, as Trustees of Christ Church, Church of England, became
5 purchasers of the land mentioned, described in the First Schedule hereto, to hold unto the said John Lambie, Robert Dawson, and Francis Smith, as Trustees as aforesaid, their heirs and assigns for ever. And whereas by Crown grant, dated the twenty-ninth day of December, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, the lands and heredita-
10 ments mentioned and described in the Second Schedule hereto, and known as the glebe, were granted unto the said John Lambie, Robert Dawson, and Francis Smith, to hold unto the said John Lambie, Robert Dawson, and Francis Smith, as Trustees as aforesaid, their heirs and assigns for ever. And whereas the said John Lambie died on or about 15 the third day of August, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two. And

Cooma Church of England Lands Sale.

And whereas the said Francis Smith died on or about the eighth day of December, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three. And whereas it was erroneously supposed on the part of the said Trustees that the lands mentioned in the First and Second Schedules hereto, 5 having being purchased from the Crown, it was not necessary to have them included in the Bill of Parliament hereinbefore mentioned and referred to. And whereas the parsonage having been removed into the town of Cooma from the land referred to in the said Act of Parliament, rendered the lands mentioned and described in the 10 Schedules hereto useless for church purposes, and it would be expedient to sell the same and to apply the proceeds arising from such sale towards reducing the debt on the present parsonage and for church purposes. Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legis- 15 lative Council and Legislative Assembly of New South Wales in Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

1. It shall be lawful for the said Robert Dawson, the surviving Trustee of the lands described in the First and Second Schedules hereto, his heirs or assigns, to sell the said lands by public auction, 20 either in one lot or in parcels as he may deem most expedient, and for such price or prices as can reasonably be gotten for the same. And upon such sale or sales to convey the said land or any part or parts thereof to the purchaser or purchasers thereof in fee-simple, freed and discharged from all trusts affecting the same, and the receipt 25 of the said Trustee, his heirs or assigns, for the purchase money of the said lands or any part or parts thereof upon any such sale or sales, shall effectually discharge the purchaser or purchasers therefrom or from the purchase money payable by him, her, or them respectively, and shall exonerate him, her, or them from seeing to the application 30 of the said purchase money, and from all liability in respect of any misapplication or nonapplication thereof.

2. The said Trustee mentioned and referred to in the first section of this Act, and his assigns, shall stand possessed of all moneys arising from all or any and every such sale or sales as aforesaid, upon 35 trust to apply within a period of five years from the passing of this Act the said moneys in and towards the liquidation of the debt now existing on the present parsonage, and for other church purposes. And the receipt or receipts of any person or persons to whom any moneys shall be paid under the provisions of this Act shall be a valid and 40 complete discharge to the said Trustee, his heirs or assigns for such moneys.

3. This Act may be cited as the "Cooma Church of England Lands Sale Act of 1888." Short title.

General Remarks on the State of the Republic

The first of the great principles of the Republic is the preservation of the Union. It is the duty of every citizen to support the Government in the maintenance of the Union, and to resist all attempts to divide the States.

The second principle is the promotion of the general welfare. It is the duty of the Government to provide for the common defense, to promote the progress of science, and to protect the rights of the people.

The third principle is the protection of the rights of the people. It is the duty of the Government to secure the enjoyment of the rights of life, liberty, and property, and to protect the weak from the oppression of the strong.

The fourth principle is the promotion of the education of the people. It is the duty of the Government to provide for the education of the youth, and to support the institutions of learning.

The fifth principle is the promotion of the moral and religious education of the people. It is the duty of the Government to support the efforts of the churches and other religious organizations to improve the character of the citizenry.

The sixth principle is the promotion of the health and safety of the people. It is the duty of the Government to protect the public health, and to regulate the commerce and industry of the Nation.

The seventh principle is the promotion of the peace and harmony of the Nation. It is the duty of the Government to maintain the peace, and to settle all disputes between the States and the people.

The eighth principle is the promotion of the prosperity of the Nation. It is the duty of the Government to regulate the commerce and industry of the Nation, and to provide for the general welfare.

The ninth principle is the promotion of the honor and glory of the Nation. It is the duty of the Government to support the efforts of the brave men and women who have sacrificed for the Nation.

The tenth principle is the promotion of the unity and solidarity of the Nation. It is the duty of the Government to bring all the people together, and to make them one people.
