ANNO SEXAGESIMO

VICTORIÆ REGINÆ.

No. .

An Act to repeal so much of the Camperdown and Randwick Cemeteries Act of 1867 as relates to the Randwick Cemetery and to the interment of bodies therein, and to prohibit burials in the said Cemetery.

WHEREAS by the “Camperdown and Randwick Cemeteries Act of 1867” provision is made for the interment in certain cases of bodies in the burial ground known as the Randwick Cemetery: And whereas it is expedient in the interests of the public health that burials in the said burial ground should be discontinued: Be it therefore enacted by the Queen’s Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and Legislative Assembly of New South Wales in Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

1. On and after the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven, burials in the burial ground known as the Randwick Cemetery shall be illegal.

2. Any person who after the date aforesaid knowingly and wilfully buries any body or in anywise acts or assists in the burial of any body in the said burial ground contrary to the provisions of this Act shall be liable to a penalty of one hundred and fifty pounds, to be recovered in a summary way before a stipendiary magistrate or any two justices of the peace.

3. So much of the Camperdown and Randwick Cemeteries Act of 1867 as relates to the said burial ground and to the interment of bodies therein is, from the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven, hereby repealed.

4. This Act may be cited as the “Randwick Cemetery Act, 1896.”
