substances, articles, and things used in or in connection with the manufacture of cement, or with building on lands situate at Portland, and in order to facilitate communication between their works and quarries and the Mudgee railway it is desirous of constructing a
 5 railway from the said Mudgee railway to their said works, such railway, hereinafter called the said railway, to cross certain public roads referred to in the description of the route of the said railway as set out in the Schedule to this Act: And whereas the said mines are likely to prove beneficial to the State, and the public are concerned in 10 promoting such an increase in and facilities for the supply of cement for local usage and export as would result from the construction of the railway, and the traffic on the Mudgee line would be increased thereby: And it is desirable to authorise the said company to use so
 15 much of the roads mentioned in the Schedule hereto as may be required for the purpose of the said railway, subject to the provisions hereinafter contained: Be it therefore enacted by the King's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and Legislative Assembly of New South Wales in Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

20 1. It shall be lawful for the company in the construction of the said railway along the route described in the said Schedule to effect a junction with the said Mudgee railway at a point to be approved of by the Railway Commissioners, and to take and use so much of the roads as may be required for the purposes of the railway, but so that 25 the same shall not occupy in any part thereof a greater space in breadth than sixty-six feet, including the supports and foundations thereof.

Authority to connect railway with Mudgee railway and to cross roads.

2. For the purposes and subject to the provisions hereinafter contained it shall be lawful for the company, their deputies, agent, servants, and workmen, and all other persons by them authorised and 30 empowered, to divert or alter the course of any road or way crossing the railway, or to raise or sink any road or way in order the more conveniently to carry the same over or under or by the side of the railway.

Power to divert or alter roads.

3. If the company do not cause another sufficient road to be so 35 made before they interfere with any such existing road as aforesaid, they shall forfeit ten pounds for every day during which such substituted road shall not be made after the existing road shall have been interrupted, and such penalty shall be paid to the trustees, commissioners, surveyor, or other persons having the management of such 40 road, and shall be applied for the purposes thereof; and every such penalty shall be recoverable with costs by action in any Court of competent jurisdiction.

Penalty for not substituting a road.

4. If in the course of making the railway the company shall use or interfere with any road they shall from time to time make good 45 all damage done by them to such road, and if any question shall arise

as to the damage done to any such road by the company, or as to the repair thereof by them, such question will be referred to the determination of two justices, and such justices may direct such repairs to be made in the state of such road in respect of damage done by the 5 company, and within such period as they may think reasonable, and may impose on the company for not carrying into effect such repairs any penalty not exceeding ten pounds per day as to such justices shall seem fit; and any such penalty shall be paid to the surveyor or other person having the management of the road interfered with by the 10 company, and be applied for the purposes of such road.

5. Every bridge erected for carrying any road over the said railway shall be built subject to the approval of the Minister for Public Works. Construction of bridges over rail-roads.

6. Nothing in this Act contained shall be deemed to authorise
 15 the promoters to enter upon any lands belonging to the Railway Commissioners of New South Wales, or to alter or to interfere with the Government Railways or any of the works thereof, without the previous consent in writing in every instance of the said Railway Commissioners. Promoters not empowered to enter land of Railway Commissioners.

20 7. The Railway Commissioners of New South Wales shall from time to time erect such signals and conveniences incident to the junction of the said railway with the Government Railways, either upon their own lands or upon the lands of the promoters, and may 25 and other persons as may be necessary for the prevention of danger to or interference with the traffic at or near the said junction, and in all cases at the expense of the promoters. The working and management of such signals and conveniences wherever situate shall be under the exclusive regulation of the said Railway Commissioners. Signals, &c., at junction.

30 8. It shall be lawful for but not compulsory upon the promoters from time to time, and at any and all times, to carry passengers, goods, and live stock upon the said railway or any part thereof respectively, and to make, demand, take, receive, and recover such tolls or dues for carrying the same at such rates per mile or other scale of charges as
 35 shall be established from time to time by the promoters, with the approval of the Railway Commissioners, for or in respect of all such passengers, goods, and live stock which shall be conveyed upon the said railway or any part thereof. And the promoters are hereby authorised to make such by-laws and regulations, subject to the 40 approval of the Railway Commissioners, not inconsistent with this Act as may be necessary for the regulation of such traffic, and such by-laws or regulations shall be binding upon all persons using or travelling upon the said railway, and any person offending against such by-laws or regulations shall be liable to a fine not exceeding ten pounds
 45 for each offence, to be recovered in a summary way before any two justices Power to carry passengers, &c.
