Memo. and Certificate to accompany the Necropolis Bill.

THE Act 11 Victoria No. 11, passed in 1847, apparently contemplated the granting of a piece of Crown land, within one mile of Sydney, to trustees for a burial ground. No grant has ever, during fifty-four years, been made under it; the Haslem's Creek Necropolis Act ignored it, and the Waverley Cemetery has (apparently) been dedicated under the powers in the Crown Lands Acts. The Act appears to be quite obsolete and dead. It is now omitted.

I certify that this Bill solely consolidates, and in no way alters, adds to, or amends the law as contained in the Statute therein consolidated.

Commissioner for the Consolidation of the Statute Law.

Section of repealed Acts.	Section of Consolidated Act.	Remarks.
11 VICTORIA No. 11.
This Act, passed in 1847, empowered trustees, to be appointed thereunder, to hold lands (which were apparently intended to be within one mile of the city of Sydney, and were to be conveyed to them by deed of grant from the Crown) for the purposes of a general cemetery, to be called "The Necropolis." During a period of fifty-four years no deed of grant has ever issued to trustees under the Act, and the subsequent legislation has rendered it of no value. The Act is, therefore, repealed, and not reproduced.
