pounds, and such rate shall be based upon the unimproved capital value of the properties and works of each company, and shall be paid by each company accordingly within three months after date of demand.

For the purpose of such rate the unimproved capital value of the properties and works of each company shall be a sum equal to twenty per centum of the annual average saleable value of the output of the properties and works of such company during the three years preceding that in which any valuation is made, and shall be determined as such ore mineral or other derivative, or as the product itself, leaves the boundaries of the county of Yancowinna.

- (c) Each of the companies shall within three months after the commencement of each such period of twelve months submit to the administrator a statement as to the respective values of the properties or works determined as aforesaid, and if the companies fail to do so the administrator may appoint some person to make a valuation on the aforesaid basis, and the valuation so made shall for the purpose of the levying of any rate in accordance with this section be final and conclusive.

Each company shall afford the administrator or any valuator appointed under his hand every facility, by access to books and otherwise, to make a valuation in any case in which the companies fail to agree as to the respective values of their properties and works.

- (f) Each of the companies shall be entitled to receive without further charge a volume of water equal to the amount which its contribution would purchase at the rate of five shillings per thousand gallons, and when available water in excess of that quantity shall be supplied if required by any company, and shall be paid for at the rate of five shillings per thousand gallons.
- (g) In the event of any company paying any increased amount under paragraph (d) it shall be entitled to receive, without further charge, an increased volume of water equal in proportion to its increased payment.

17. At the expiration of the said three years, an account shall be made up by the Minister showing what balance (if any) of capital indebtedness remains unextinguished, and thereupon a fresh adjustment shall be made of the amounts payable by the mining companies, under paragraphs (a) and (b) of the last preceding section, as may be necessary having due regard to the conditions of the said section and to such representations as the companies may then deem it necessary to make.
