*2165 TRANSPORT AND INFRASTRUCTURE—NEW SUB-MEDIUM ELECTRIC STANDARD—Mr Graham asked the Minister for Resources, Minister for Energy and Utilities, Minister for Arts, Vice-President of the Executive Council representing the Minister for Transport and Infrastructure—

Regarding the new sub-medium electric standard that is proposed to accommodate the new intercity fleet through the ten tunnels deviation:

- (5) Will there be public consultation about the new standard and its reduced contingency before it is adopted?
- (6) Has a simulation of the new intercity fleet rolling stock been undertaken to determine its kinematic performance given the actual track geometry on the Lithgow-Mt Victoria line?
 - (a) If so, what speeds were used in this simulation?
- (7) Will tighter maintenance regimes on the Mt Victoria-Lithgow line be required to accommodate the new intercity fleet?

(a) If so, how will the maintenance regime change?

(8) When will the new intercity fleet start running to Lithgow?

Answer—

I am advised:

(1) to (7) The track used in the Ten Tunnels Deviation was originally ballast track. This type of track requires safety standards that factor in the range of sideways tilt that the trains may experience. The track in question was upgraded in the 1970's to accommodate the introduction of the V-Set trains. The upgrade lowered the tunnel floor, removed parts of the tunnel lining and replaced the existing ballast track with slab track. The proposed tunnel modifications to allow for the introduction of the New Intercity Fleet are similar to these works.

Slab track, compared to ballast track, has a much lower range of tilt and enables engineers to determine safety standards with more certainty as there is less natural movement of both the track and trains. Through detailed studies and computer simulations, the Assets Standards Authority has developed a set of standards for operating the new trains on this type of track. This allows the New Intercity Fleet to operate safely along the entire line. It is currently anticipated that these standards will be adopted in the latter part of 2018 and will be published on the Assets Standard Authority website when finalised.

(8) The first trains in the New Intercity Fleet will begin testing and commissioning in early 2019. New trains will start operating on the Blue Mountains Line to Mount Victoria in mid-2020, followed by Lithgow a few months later.

- (2) Does the Minister support the use of public money to employ an Independent Consultant to assist a Developer through the Gateway Process?

Answer—

I am advised:

- (1) A development application for residential flat buildings on the site was refused by Sutherland Shire Council in 2003 under the Sutherland Shire Local Environmental Plan 2000. The controls for the site were reviewed and updated in the Sutherland Shire Local Environmental Plan 2015. Answer—

- (1) 440 licensed game meat field harvesters.
- (2) 255 inspections of game meat field harvesters.

The licence categories of game meat field harvesting and game meat field chiller both attract a priority two risk classification, which for the Authority means audits are scheduled every two years for field chillers and inspections scheduled every three years for field harvesters. An annual report is prepared from the Authority's database to identify any facilities that have not been inspected within this period, and where gaps have been identified mandatory inspections are allocated to the local officer. This is indicative of the game meat field harvester inspection figures being less than the number of licenced facilities.

- (2) When was the Greyhounds as Pets facility at Wyee last inspected for compliance with the NSW Code of Practice No 5 - Dogs and cats in animal boarding establishments?
 - (a) What was the result of this inspection?

Answer—

- (1) The NSW Code of Practice No. 5 – Dogs and cats in animal boarding establishments (Code) is enforceable for businesses in the course of which dogs or cats are boarded for fee or reward.

Greyhound Racing NSW (GRNSW) advises that the Greyhounds as Pets facility at Wyee is used primarily for rehoming greyhounds and that in only limited circumstances the facility boards greyhounds for fee or reward. GRNSW advises that to the extent that it is considered that the Wyee facility is required to comply with the NSW Code of Practice No. 5 – Dogs and cats in animal boarding establishments, GRNSW confirms that the facility is compliant.

An industry specific code of practice for the welfare of greyhounds is currently being developed by the Greyhound Welfare and Integrity Commission, in consultation with the Greyhound Industry Animal Welfare Committee and Greyhound Racing NSW (GRNSW). While the Code is not yet finalised, it is likely to contain details of the welfare requirements for greyhound kennelling facilities, including shelters, pounds and breeding establishments.

- (1) The NSW Code of Practice No. 5 – Dogs and cats in animal boarding establishments (Code) does not apply to rehoming operations such as shelters and pounds or to breeding establishments including the Greyhounds As Pets (GAP) facility at Wyee.
- (2) GRNSW has developed detailed plans for the renovation of the Wyee facility, including the redevelopment of the rear kennel block. As it is imperative that these renovations meet the requirements of the code of practice for the welfare of greyhounds currently being developed by the Greyhound Welfare & Integrity Commission, a decision regarding the GAP renovations will be made when this industry specific code is available.
- (3) Two.
- (4) In addition to being turned out twice a day, the existing kennel block provides greyhounds with access to the outdoors and natural light conditions.
