 - (a) What quantity of pulp logs?
 - (b) What quantity of sawlogs?

Answer—

- (1)
 - (a) and (b) The Environment Trust project is not a haulage subsidy. The NSW Government ceased timber harvesting in four State forests in the Eden Management Area as part of plans to conserve important Koala habitat in that area. Timber to meet long-term Government contracts with local customers is being sourced from forests further afield in the South Coast Management Area. The Environment Trust project is funding the additional costs which would have been incurred and passed onto customers in supplying timber from further afield. 373 tonnes of pulp logs and 311m3 of sawlogs have been supplied from compartments 147 and 148 of Mogo State Forest as part of this initiative.

*1858 ENVIRONMENT—SUSPENSION OF LOGGING IN MOGO STATE FOREST COMPARTMENT 148—Ms Walker asked the Minister for Resources, Minister for Energy and Utilities, Minister for Arts, Vice-President of the Executive Council representing the Minister for the Environment, Minister for Local Government, and Minister for Heritage—

 - (a) Did the registration of three (3) significant trees by the National Trust in Compartment 148 contribute to the decision to suspend logging?

 - (c) Did the public meeting held by CoastWatch in Moruya, where the community expressed their concerns about logging in Mogo State Forest, contribute to the decision to suspend logging?

Answer—

- (1) (2) and (3) I am informed that timber harvesting was undertaken in several compartments in Mogo State Forest on the south coast earlier this year. Mogo State Forest is a regrowth forest that has been producing timber for generations and Forestry Corporation's current operations are harvesting timber from an area it has worked in and regenerated several times in the past. I am informed that Forestry Corporation liaised with forest neighbours as part of standard procedures while planning the operation. Forestry Corporation met with interested community members on site to discuss its operations and specific questions they had about wildlife in the area. Where possible, Forestry Corporation works with community members to amend operations to address concerns raised. The operations were conducted in accordance with the Integrated Forestry Operations Approval (IFOA). Operations have not been suspended. Rather, timber harvesting operations in compartment 148 have concluded as per the harvest plan. Small areas were not harvested for silvicultural reasons (timber was either not mature or of poor quality) and some individual trees were protected as a result of feedback given during community consultation.

As the member may not appreciate, the NSW Government must balance a number of considerations regarding the placement of seating at train stations. This includes the need to provide adequate seating whilst ensuring safe pedestrian flow is not impeded.

The removal and relocation of seating at Strathfield Station is an example of work being completed across the network. This is in addition to a number of leaning bars being installed.

All work completed by the NSW Government is in accordance with our responsibilities under the Disability Discrimination Act 1992 and Disability Standards for Accessible Public Transport.

*1882 PLANNING—INDUSTRIAL NOISE POLICY—Dr Faruqi asked the Minister for Resources, Minister for Energy and Utilities, Minister for Arts, Vice-President of the Executive Council representing the Minister for Planning, Minister for Housing, and Special Minister for State—

When did the Department of Planning learn that the design for the Coal Handling and Processing Plant (CHPP) for the Maules Creek mine would be different to the design on which noise levels were modelled?

Answer—

I am advised:

- (1) The noise modelling undertaken for the 2011 Environmental Assessment (EA) of the Maules Creek Coal Mine assumed sound power levels and indicative location details associated with the proposed Coal Handling and Processing Plant (CHPP).

A modification to the EA in 2013 changed the orientation of the CHPP and associated facilities and further noise assessment confirmed that the noise predictions at receptors were consistent with the original EA.

The 2015 Annual Review for the Maules Creek Coal Mine identified that the sound power levels for the CHPP exceeded the levels used in the EA for the mine.

An official caution was issued by the Department on 8 June 2016 under the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979.

Since then, Whitehaven has implemented a range of mitigation measures to reduce noise levels at the mine, including installing additional panels around the CHPP.

Regardless of noise generated by specific plant and equipment, the mining operations must continue to meet strict off-site noise limits at surrounding residences.

The Department of Planning and Environment will continue to carefully monitor compliance with these limits to ensure the local community is adequately protected.

 - (b) Where will the unsuccessful officers be placed and how will this impact on community perception and expectations?

 - (d) Will you be considering a reserve/retained officer concept to attract former officers back to the streets to provide experience, flexibility in response to crime, major events, emergency management and most importantly address community expectation?

Answer—

I am advised:

- (1) Access to 100% of the accrued benefit remains unaltered. Officers now also have the option to voluntarily access the benefit at a reduced rate before they would otherwise be eligible.
- (2) Re-engineering will result in more police on frontline duties to meet the needs of their communities. Principles have been developed and agreed to regarding the placement of police during the re-engineering process. Full consultation will occur with any affected officers.
- (3) The command structure will continue to meet the need for community access to senior management, as it has previously. *1935 REGIONAL WATER—WATER EXTRACTED FROM THE BARWON-DARLING RIVER SYSTEM—Mr Mookhey asked the Minister for Primary Industries, Minister for Regional Water, Minister for Trade and Industry—

How much water has been extracted from the Barwon-Darling River system between the Queensland border and Wilcannia?

Answer—

The Barwon Darling is an unregulated river system and extraction from year to year is highly variable it depends on rainfall and river flows (not storage releases).

High extractions correspond with high flow events, particularly when on farm storages can be used to temporarily store water. Below are the annual usage figures from the Barwon Darling river system from 1993/94 to 2016/17.

To put this into context, it is worth noting that, although some years have very low or no flow, the average annual flow at Wilcannia (near the bottom of the unregulated system and effectively the inflow to the Menindee system), measured for over 100 years, is greater than 1,730,000 megalitres per year, meaning more than a full Menindee system every year on average.

Annual usage figures from the Barwon Darling river system 1993/94 to 2016/17.

- (1) Does the Government have a plan to attract solar power plants to Bourke Shire?
- (2) What is the Government's plan to attract solar power plants to Bourke Shire?

Answer—

I am advised:

- (1) The NSW Government supports a private sector led energy market. In 2013, we released the NSW Renewable Energy Action Plan to increase renewable energy at least cost to energy consumers and with maximum benefits to the state.

NSW leads Australia in large-scale solar with 211 MW of installed capacity. The Nyngan Solar Plant in the state's North-West is the largest solar farm in Australia.

The North-West region is also home to two approved solar farms at Walgett and Bogan River. The North-West region, including the Bourke Shire, has an excellent solar resource by international standards. Households and businesses are taking advantage of this opportunity by installing rooftop solar systems. As at November 2017, around one in every five households in the Bourke Shire local government area had installed rooftop solar.

- (2) The Government does not have any specific plans to attract solar farms to individual localities in NSW but continues to support the development of solar farms through the implementation of the NSW Renewable Energy Action Plan. There are currently seven major solar farms under construction across the state totalling over $400 million of investment into regional NSW and a further $7.5 billion of solar projects that are either approved or under construction.

Access to available network capacity is a key consideration for solar farm developments in NSW. The government is supporting the work of the Australian Energy Market Operator to identify and map prospective renewable energy zones and identify potential transmission routes to efficiently connect new renewable energy projects in NSW.

I refer to the Minister's answer to Question 1843 published in Questions and Answers Paper No 136.

- (1) Is the Minister aware of the comments by Sutherland Shire Council specific to the proposed Bundeena Coast Eco-Lodge at 60-70 Bournemouth St in their submission to the draft Planning for Bushfire Protection 2017 which include the statement "With regards to the assessment of the Bundeena Scout Land (DA14/1238), Council raised significant concerns regarding the use on the site as a recreational camp in an area of high bushfire risk. While the use obviously did not meet the objectives and sound planning principles of reducing the risk to life and property, the Rural Fire Service (RFS) did not recommend refusal of the proposed development application based on these principles."?
 - (a) What is the Minister's response?
- (2) Why did the RFS issue a Bush Fire Safety Authority for the proposed Bundeena Coast Eco-Lodge (Council reference DA14/1238, RFS reference DA14/3551) on 26 June 2015 without having been referred the submissions made to Sutherland Shire Council during their public exhibition of the proposal as required by regulation 61 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Regulation 2000?
 - (a) Why did the RFS issue an amended Bush Fire Safety Authority for the amended development proposal on 18 May 2016 without having been referred the submissions made to Sutherland Shire Council during their public exhibition of the proposal as required by regulation 61 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Regulation 2000?

- (3) Is the Minister satisfied that the Bush Fire Safety Authority issued for the proposed Bundeena Coast Eco-Lodge, complies with the Rural Fires Act 1997 (NSW) and the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 (NSW)?

Answer—

I am advised:

- (1) The NSW RFS received a submission from Sutherland Shire Council on 14 July 2017 in relation to the draft Planning for Bush Fire Protection 2017.
- (2) In this matter the NSW RFS is not a concurrence authority, rather an approval body under section 91 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 (NSW). The NSW RFS is therefore not subject to the regulation cited in the question.
- (3) The proposed development has been managed in accordance with the relevant provisions of the Rural Fires Act 1997 (NSW) and the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act. The proposal was assessed in consideration of Planning for Bush Fire Protection 2006 and was deemed to comply, subject to the conditions of the most recent Bush Fire Safety Authority dated 26 January 2017.
