*2097 LOCAL GOVERNMENT—CENTRAL COAST ANIMAL FACILITY—Mr Pearson asked the Leader of the Government in the Legislative Council, Special Minister of State, Minister for the Public Service and Employee Relations, Aboriginal Affairs, and the Arts, Vice-President of the Executive Council representing the Minister for Local Government—

- (1) Have complaints been received from members of the public about the operations of the Central Coast Animal Care Facility managed under contract for the Central Coast Council?
- (2) Is it the case that on 17 May 2020:
  - (a) The Central Coast Animal Care Facility took into its care a surrendered female Staffordshire Terrier with her puppies, and the mother dog was recovering from a caesarian section with stitches in her abdomen?
  - (b) The mother dog was placed into a cage but without standard veterinary practice being followed in that the mother dog was not put into a collared snood to prevent her from pulling out her stitches?
  - (c) The puppies were placed in with her, again this is against accepted practice given the risk that a post-operative mother may fall asleep, roll onto and suffocate her pups?
  - (d) During the night whilst she was not being observed, the mother dog pulled out her stitches and died from shock and blood loss, and her dead body crushed and suffocated several of the puppies?
  - (e) The manager of the facility described these events on her Facebook page and also admits in posts that dogs escape from the facility into the bush and also stray onto the busy roads and public areas?

    - (ii) Does the Minister have confidence in the ability of the Central Coast Animal Care Facility to discharge its responsibility to animals in their care, given the complaints raised?
    - (iii) What are the contractual relationships between the manager of the facility, the Central Coast Animal Facility and the Central Coast Council?

Answer—

- (1) I am advised that the Office of Local Government has received one representation about the facility from the public in July 2020.
- (2) Specific questions associated with the management and operations of the facility in question need to be referred directly to the Central Coast Council General Manager. Any concerns regarding the conduct or management of that facility specifically related to animal welfare under the care of the facility, should be directed to the RSPCA, Animal Welfare League or the NSW Police.
- (3) As this is an enforcement matter, this is the responsibility of the RSPCA, who are an independent enforcement agency.

  - (d) 2017/18?
  - (e) 2018/19?
  - (f) 2019/2020?

Answer—

The NSW Government does not conduct its own count of businesses in New South Wales.

The Australian Bureau of Statistics (ABS) issues an annual publication, 8165.0 Counts of Australian businesses, including entries and exits, which provides data, among other things, on the number of businesses by employment size ranges and by LGAs.

Data by state electoral district may be available by request from ABS.

The most recent issue of this publication covers June 2015 to June 2019.

The next issue covering June 2016 to June 2020 is, according to the ABS, expected for release on 18 February 2021.

According to this ABS publication, in June 2019 there were 805,986 businesses in NSW of which 785,886 (97.5%) were small businesses.

Of these 486,818 were non-employing small businesses and 299,068 were businesses with 1 to 19 employees.

These small businesses employed about $1.6 million workers - 41% of the private sector workforce.

The NSW Government appreciates the resilience of NSW small businesses through drought, bushfires and the COVID-19 pandemic and in order to support them, has:

- established a 24-hour hotline to enable businesses greater access to advice and support on non-health related COVID-19 matters;
- approved $643.44 million in small business grants with a further $3.57 million still in progress;
- deferred payment of payroll tax for six months for all businesses to assist with cash flow;
- waived 3 months' worth of payroll tax for businesses whose total grouped Australian wages for the 2019/20 financial year are no more than $10 million;
- brought forward payroll tax cuts, with the payroll tax threshold going from $900,000 to $1 million from 1 July 2020, saving eligible businesses thousands of dollars per year;
- waived a range of fees and charges, including up to $50 million worth of licence fees for up to 200,000 tradies and $19.5 million worth of fees for the entertainment and hospitality sectors;
- given effect to the National Code of Conduct for commercial tenancies impacted by COVID-19 to provide a framework for landlords and tenants to get through this crisis;
- boosted the NSW Small Business Commission with $10 million to increase mediation services between commercial landlords and tenants;
- accelerated the payment of our suppliers, injecting more than $2 billion into the economy;
- amended planning rules to allow food trucks and dark kitchens to operate on any land at any time with the landowner's consent;
- provided more flexibility to supermarkets and pharmacies to operate around the clock to meet the needs of customers;
- relaxed liquor licensing compliance (as set out in the Liquor Act 2007 and the Liquor Regulation 2018) to allow licensed venues (such as restaurants, cafés and small bars) to sell alcohol for off-site consumption;
- injected more than $14 million into Business Connect to engage 40 additional business advisors and to ensure the program continues for another 12 months to support businesses through these tough times;
- rolled out free webinars for small businesses, with topics including how to maximise cashflow and marketing to pivot your business;
- rolled out fee-free TAFE NSW short online courses to assist anyone who wants to upskill during the COVID-19 pandemic. Short courses include eMarketing for small business, social media customer engagement, writing and presentation skills and team leader skills;
- allowed construction sites to operate on weekends and public holidays to allow for construction projects to progress while workers follow social distancing guidelines, which potentially limits the number of workers on a site at a given time; and
- provided a $12.6 million support package for the taxi industry to provide operators with financial relief during the COVID-19 shutdown.
