Question 15
I am advised:

The NSW Government has offered a range of financial and non-financial COVID-support available to temporary visa holders, including international students. International students were eligible to apply for the following financial support in response to the COVID-19 pandemic, including:
- Emergency Hardship Payments
- Pandemic Leave Disaster Payment
- Commonwealth COVID-19 Disaster Payment
- Test and Isolate Payments
- Energy Accounts Payments Assistance (EAPA) scheme
- Emergency Relief for Temporary Visa Holders, Refugees and Asylum Seekers.

The NSW Government is unable to provide data on the number of recipients of these programs that were international students.

The NSW Government offered a range of non-financial support available to temporary visa holders, including international students, in response to the COVID-19 pandemic, including:

Temporary Crisis Accommodation for International Students
- The NSW Government, through Study NSW, offered up to 20 weeks of crisis accommodation to international students and their dependents who were at risk of homelessness during the pandemic.
- Between June 2020 and July 2021, this program supported over 6,300 international students and their dependents across NSW with up to 20 weeks of crisis accommodation.
- Applications for the crisis accommodation scheme closed on 12 February 2021. The final students checked out of accommodation in July 2021.
- Study NSW partnered with 15 student accommodation partners to provide a safe home to students during the COVID-19 pandemic. The scheme was also supported by Service NSW and Department of Communities and Justice.

Legal support and advice for international students
- The NSW Government, through Study NSW, funds the International Student Legal Service NSW (ISLS) through which international students in NSW can access free legal support.
- NSW Government funding towards the ISLS helped:
- 500 international students from 60 different countries with 630 legal issues in 2020.
- 436 students from 20 countries with 632 legal issues in 2021.
- Study NSW has also subsidised the multilingual My Legal Mate app so that it can be freely downloaded by international students during the pandemic. It provides free access legal information to assist international students better protect themselves in key areas of student concern such as employment and tenancy.

Food hampers
- The NSW Government, through Study NSW and the Department of Communities and Justice, partnered with Foodbank and 22 education and charity partners to provide 55,000 free hampers to international students between July 2020 and November 2021.
- This represents about $4.4 million of food support, with each hamper valued at $80 and containing instant meals, coffee, and pantry staples such as breakfast cereal, long-life milk, rice, and sauces.
- During lockdown, free home delivery was provided for international students to help reduce the movement of people during COVID-19.

International Students Intake Support Service
- The NSW Government announced on 8 September 2021 the launch of the International Student Intake Support Service, a purpose-built website run by the Sydney Community Forum and funded via Study NSW, to connect international students with available support services.
- The Service has supported over 325 international students to connect with support to address areas of critical need, including food security, health and wellbeing, accommodation and employment issues.

Mental Health
- The NSW Government announced on 17 October 2021 a $130 million mental health recovery package to provide help for anyone in NSW whose mental health has been impacted by the pandemic.
- The funding provides for targeted and practical measures to support the mental health and wellbeing of NSW residents, including temporary visa holders.
- The mental health support package includes funding to establish a Multicultural Mental Health Line, to boost the mental health clinical workforce and provide additional services to young people through their local headspace centre.

Free Digital, Hotline and In Person Advice
- The NSW Government has made available a range of digital and other information resources to support individuals to access support during the pandemic.
- Temporary visa holders, including international students, can:
    o contact Service NSW in person at a service centre, online or via telephone for advice on available NSW Government and community support;
    o obtain further information about available support at www.nsw.gov.au/covid-19/support
- Study NSW has also created a COVID-19 Help Hub accessible via www.study.sydney with tailored advice for international students looking for support during the pandemic.
