 - (a) Have they all been contacted by WaterNSW?
 - (b) Was the contact prior to media reports of 14 and 15 September 2019?

Answer—

I am advised:

- (1) It is important to note that local councils and local water utilities are regulated by the Government through Department of Planning, Industry and Environment - Water. However, WaterNSW regularly deals with those local councils and local water utilities who are its bulk water customers. This year WaterNSW established River Operations Stakeholder Consultation Committees (ROSCCOs), which are valley based, ongoing committees formed with key stakeholders including local councils and local water utilities, to engage in discussions about river operations, as well as current storage levels and predictions under various scenarios. Meetings of each ROSCCO have occurred throughout the year. In addition to ROSCCOs, WaterNSW has a number of other forums such as Customer Advisory Groups and Drought Roadshows, where these issues are discussed with stakeholders including local councils. The Critical Water Advisory Panel also provides valley-specific advice to the Minister on the most appropriate management actions during an extreme event. The CWAP is made up of NSW Government officers and WaterNSW staff, with an option to include local council representation for local water utilities via a central/regional coordinating body. In addition, the Government has appointed James McTavish, Regional Town Water Supply Coordinator to engage with local councils and local water utilities to ensure New South Wales residents are able to access to safe and acceptable drinking water.
- (2) WaterNSW publishes a weekly water availability report, which keeps the community and stakeholders updated with information regarding water storage in New South Wales. Councils also receive regular updates via the forums outlined in the previous response, and on allocations from the Department of Planning, Industry and Environment - Water.
- (3) As a result of measures taken by WaterNSW and the Government, WaterNSW does not expect any towns on regulated river systems to experience of loss of surface water supplies in the next 6 months.

 - (a) Has this been getting more severe as the study has progressed?
 - (b) How long is the study expected to continue?

Answer—

I am advised:

- (1) WaterNSW's funding only commenced in August 2018, and the project is a long-term study that will run for 3.5 years. WRL has not provided any reports on this research project and is not expected to finalise a report until 2021.

 - (a) Are the deployed Corrective Services NSW staff replaced in the New South Wales gaol they are assigned to?
 - (b) Is there an additional budget allocation to allow for staff to be deployed interstate or is the cost borne by the gaol the prisoner is assigned to?

Answer—

- (1) Figures are provided for both movements from correctional centres and movements from court cells managed by Corrective Services New South Wales in Tables 1 and 2 in Appendix B.
- (2) The number of staff deployed to manage New South Wales inmates admitted to hospitals is dependent on the management requirements of each individual inmate and the type of shift roster used at the correctional centre housing the inmate. Most correctional centres operate eight-hour shifts, but some operate 12-hour shifts. Most commonly, two staff per eight-hour shift (six staff over 24 hours) are deployed to supervise inmates admitted to hospital.

*1300 GREYHOUND DEATHS—Ms Jodie Harrison asked the Minister for Better Regulation and Innovation—

What is the Government doing to prevent the killing of healthy greyhounds?

Answer—

The Greyhound Welfare & Integrity Commission's (Commission) responsibilities include initiating, developing and implementing policies relating to the welfare of greyhounds.

The Commission's Greyhound Re-homing Policy, available on its website, specifies that owners are responsible for re-homing greyhounds they are no longer able to retain and sets out a number of steps that owners must take in attempting to re-home a greyhound.

*1301 GREYHOUND RACING TRACK GRAFTON—Ms Jodie Harrison asked the Minister for Better Regulation and Innovation—

*1302 WATER SECURITY—Ms Jodie Harrison asked the Minister for Water, Property and Housing—

What is the Government doing to secure the state's water supplies for the future?

Answer—

I am advised:

WaterNSW is working to secure bulk water supplies in the short-term through a range of valley specific responses.

This includes the installation of a temporary weir at Dungowan, and the construction of a new Chaffey to Dungowan pipeline to extend supplies in the Peel Valley, as well as the raising of Warren Weir and accessing deep storage access at Burrendong Dam to extend supplies in the Macquarie Valley.

WaterNSW is also working to improve the state's long-term water security. In June 2018, WaterNSW released a 20 Year Infrastructure Options Study (rural valleys) which provides a strategic level qualitative assessment of potential infrastructure options in regulated river water supply areas across Rural NSW.

This Options Study identified preferred infrastructure options for end use water users that met objectives around water availability, infrastructure capacity and community/environmental benefits.

In addition to this, WaterNSW has also progressed State Infrastructure Strategy Priority Catchment studies in the Lachlan, Macquarie and Gwydir valleys to identify water security projects, as well as studies under the Commonwealth's National Water Infrastructure Development Fund.

On the back of these studies, work is currently underway to progress a number of water security projects, including the Lostock to Glennies Creek pipeline, a new reregulating storage on the Mid-Macquarie and the Lake Rowlands to Carcoar pipeline.

*1303 WATER SHORTAGES—Ms Jodie Harrison asked the Minister for Water, Property and Housing—

What is the Government doing to stop towns in New South Wales running out of water?

Answer—

I am advised:

The Department of Planning, Industry and Environment is closely monitoring the drought situation and its impact on towns and communities throughout regional NSW. The Department employs a risk-based approach to reporting and management of critical water shortages in regional NSW towns.

Financial and technical assistance is available to Regional NSW's Local Government water utilities to support the continued delivery of town water services when a town or village supply is threatened by an extreme event such as drought. Funding is provided for the cost of water carting or emergency infrastructure.

Since the beginning of this drought, the NSW Government has committed more than $130 million to water infrastructure projects, water carting and emergency works projects to ensure communities have

- *1306 DOMESTIC VIOLENCE REDUCTION MEASURES—Ms Jodie Harrison asked the Attorney General, and Minister for the Prevention of Domestic Violence—

What is the Government doing to reduce the level of domestic violence in our community?

Answer—

I am advised:

In 2016, the Government announced the New South Wales Domestic and Family Violence Blueprint for Reform 2016-2021. The Blueprint provides the framework for building an effective system that addresses the causes and responds to the symptoms of domestic and family violence. It includes strategies to prevent domestic and family violence, intervene early with individuals and communities at risk, support victims, hold perpetrators to account, and improve the quality of services and the system as a whole. The Blueprint is available at www.women.nsw.gov.au.

The Government is investing $431 million over four years to tackle domestic violence through a range of initiatives. This is in addition to the hundreds of millions of dollars the Government spends each year to combat domestic and family violence through mainstream services in justice, police, health, child protection, social housing and homelessness services.

The Government's commitment to reducing domestic and family violence is reinforced by the Premier's Priority to reduce the number of domestic violence reoffenders by 25 per cent by 2023. More detail about the Premier's Priority is available at <https://www.nsw.gov.au/improving-nsw/premiers-priorities/>.

- *1308 ASBESTOS-FREE SCHOOLS IN CHARLESTOWN ELECTORATE—Ms Jodie Harrison asked the Minister for Skills and Tertiary Education representing the Minister for Education and Early Childhood Learning—

What is the Government doing to ensure schools in the Charlestown electorate are asbestos free?

Answer—

The Department of Education has a rigorous system of maintenance and monitoring at all schools across the State.

The Department has a panel of contractors that specialise in asbestos materials including carrying out necessary investigations, overseeing and reporting on remedial works.

Whitebridge and Warners Bay high schools have works scheduled over the January school holiday period to remediate vermiculite ceilings containing asbestos material.

In the majority of cases, asbestos-containing materials (ACM) are typically bonded products that do not readily release fibres (non-friable) and are considered safe if left undisturbed. Any known friable ACM, which can readily release fibres, is immediately removed.

Members of the community with concerns regarding the presence of asbestos in schools can visit the Asbestos Register section on the Department's website at <http://www.dec.nsw.gov.au/about-us/supplying-to-us/asbestos-register>.

- *1311 OUT OF SCHOOL HOURS PROVIDERS LEASES—Ms Jo Haylen asked the Minister for Skills and Tertiary Education representing the Minister for Education and Early Childhood Learning—

- (2) What is the total increase in revenue raised through the renegotiation and issuing of new leases in each of the 2014-15 to 2018-19 financial years?
- (3) How does the Department notify and inform providers of changes to the formula governing teacher-student ratios and other measures in the OOSH sector?
- (4) Why is the category of lessee (A, B or C) not included on leases issued to OOSH providers?

Answer—

- (1) 2014-2015 financial year: 108; 2015-2016 financial year: 63; 2016-2017 financial year: 108; 2017-2018 financial year: 91; 2018-2019 financial year: 110. These figures represent licence start dates. They do not include deed of variations or extensions to previously existing licence agreements issued during these dates. Additionally, the figures may not reflect the actual number of providers operating in Government schools, only those that have been issued new licences. A number of these would also be renewals of existing licences that had expired.
- (2) The data requested is not held centrally.
- (3) As the national statutory authority, it is the role of the Australian Children's Education and Care Quality Authority (ACECQA) to advise the children's education and care sector of changes to the Early Childhood Education and Care National Quality Framework including the National Law. Further questions should be referred to ACECQA. Additionally, within NSW, the Department communicates with the sector via the newsletter, EC Extra, circulated by email and published on the Department's website and at biannual Sector Roadshows. All education and care services in NSW also have access to the Information and Enquiries Hotline.
- (4) The Department issues a standard lease to its outside school hours care providers. The category of lessee is only used by the Department to determine the licence fee.

Considering a number of schools in the Wallsend electorate have been flagged for obtaining asbestos, when will the asbestos be removed?

Answer—

The Department of Education has a rigorous system of maintenance and monitoring at all schools across the State.

The Department has a panel of contractors that specialise in asbestos materials including carrying out necessary investigations and overseeing and reporting on remedial works.

When the presence of asbestos is reported, immediate action is taken by the Department to protect public health, including isolating the area and engaging a licensed contractor to remediate the site in line with NSW Work Health and Safety legislation.

In the majority of cases, asbestos-containing materials (ACM) are typically bonded products that do not readily release fibres (non-friable) and are considered safe if left undisturbed. Any known friable ACM, which can readily release fibres, is immediately removed.

Members of the community with concerns regarding the presence of asbestos in schools can visit the Asbestos Register section on the School Infrastructure NSW website at <https://www.schoolinfrastructure.nsw.gov.au/about-us/workingwithus/schoolsasbestos-register.html>.

*1332 PENSIONER CONCESSIONS LOCAL COUNCIL RATES—Ms Janelle Saffin asked the Minister for Local Government—

Will the Government consider increasing pensioner concessions for local council rates and charges to reflect the inflation rate and to be in line with rate increases?

Answer—

The New South Wales Government understands the importance of continuing to assist pensioners to meet cost-of-living pressures. This is why the Government has invested $79 million in the 2019-20 budget to ease cost-of-living pressures on pensioners through subsidising council rates and charges.

Each New South Wales council has the discretion to provide further concessions above the legislated maximum concessions for pensioners.

*1333 AIR CONDITIONING INSTALLATION COOLER CLASSROOMS LISMORE ELECTORATE—Ms Janelle Saffin asked the Minister for Skills and Tertiary Education representing the Minister for Education and Early Childhood Learning—

What protection from possible asbestos exposure will there be for the school students, parents, teachers and staff of the schools across the Lismore electorate during the installation of air conditioning under the Cooler Classrooms program?

Answer—

The Cooler Classrooms Program operates in strict accordance with SafeWork NSW protocols and all applicable legislation, regulations, policies and guidelines including the Department of Education's Asbestos Management Plan for NSW Government Schools.

When the Cooler Classrooms Program delivers an air conditioning and fresh air ventilation system in a room where the Department's Asbestos Register has records of bonded asbestos, the Program, wherever possible, designs and installs the air conditioning systems to avoid disruption of hazardous materials.

If friable asbestos is found during the course of installation, the program pauses the delivery of the project until the appropriate remediation or removal work is completed in accordance with the Department's Asbestos Management Plan and SafeWork NSW protocols.

Installation works recommence after the required remediation or removal work is complete.

 (a) Within Wollongong there are two current Green Leases (Table 1). Both were signed prior to 2019 and are therefore subject to the 4.5 star NABERS rating. Both of these sites meet the applicable minimum requirements. A third site (Table 2) does not have a Green Lease requirement as its leases were signed before 2014 or were below the NLA trigger level. However, the relevant leased area is compliant with the target 4.5 NABERS Energy rating target.

- *1348 WOMEN'S FINANCIAL LITERACY PROGRAMS—Ms Liesl Tesch asked the Minister for Health and Medical Research representing the Minister for Mental Health, Regional Youth and Women—

What programs does the Government offer to develop women's financial literacy to improve personal and business outcomes?

Answer—

As Minister for Women, I am passionate about empowering women and girls of all ages. Developing women's financial literacy and capability is critically important to achieving women's personal as well as professional goals.

In my role as Minister for Women, I chair the Council of Women's Economic Opportunity. The Council's role is to advise the Government on barriers and opportunities related to women's economic opportunity and empowerment. After the discussion at my first meeting as Minister in May 2019 I instigated a piece of work around financial literacy resources for women in New South Wales. Women NSW has been working with members of CWEO to establish a web-based resource that will make relevant financial information more visible and accessible to women in different life stages. It is estimated th is will be published by December 2019.

I am also pleased women can access free, confidential, independent financial counselling through the Financial Counselling Association of NSW (FCAN), which receives funding from the Government through the Fair Trading Financial counselling services program. For more information visit <http://www.fcan.com.au/>.

The Government is also committed to working across Government to address some of the hurdles women may face on the journey whilst starting and growing their own businesses including financial literacy barriers.
