Seminar Outline

This full-day seminar is designed to provide public sector officials with an introduction to the role and functions of the Legislative Assembly of New South Wales, the 'House where Government is formed and from which the Government drives its legislative program'.

It will particularly interest those involved in the legislative process, the provision of information to committee inquiries, or the preparation of Ministerial responses, including answers to written questions.

Following a welcome from the Speaker, participants will hear from a variety of presenters, including Members, staff from the Premier's Office, and the Clerks. Our speakers will offer their perspective on the parliamentary process.

Seminars are conducted on Parliamentary sitting days to enable participants to observe the Parliament at work.

Topics include

- Conduct of proceedings
- The Legislative process
- The Legislative Assembly and Joint Committees system
