

Answer to question on notice – SSI

We haven't had too many issues regarding finding interpreters, so we do not have specific data to report on this. However, we have had some challenges with smaller emerging communities (ie. such as the Bengali speaking community) where the family knows the interpreter. This presents issues around privacy, disclosure of concerns etc. Additionally, some communities do not understand the concept of child protection in NSW and the meaning can get lost between the interpreter and the receiver.
