

Outsourcing Community Service Delivery

Date Received: 5/05/2012

Partially Confidential

It is estimated there are at least 5 to 7 thousand adults with intellectual disabilities living at home with aging parents. Those parents will over the next few years go into nursing homes or be unable to look after their children. Places will have to be funded for them and that should be the priority not sending ADHC group homes into the community basically cancelling out those beds.