

Outsourcing Community Service Delivery

Date Received: 25/04/2012

Partially Confidential

Should this government neglect its fundamental and crucial role in the direct provision of human services we are surely likely to see further strain and cuts to spending in a sector already fraught with difficulties. Let's face it this is simply a cost cutting measure which will only bring about a reduction in quality services and accountability. I am absolutely opposed to the full privatisation of human services/disability services.