COMMUTER PARKING IN NORTH-WEST SYDNEY

Commuter parking is a major issue in Sydney's North-West, particularly at the Schofields and Quakers Hill train stations. There is a chronic lack of commuter parking at these stations, causing daily frustration for residents.

These stations service a large and increasingly growing population, including the suburbs of Acacia Gardens, Kellyville Ridge, Quakers Hill, Schofields, Stanhope Gardens and The Ponds.

COMMENTS

The parking is ridiculous for the amount of people in the area - including 100's of new houses going up monthly. You have to be at the station for 6-30am to park your car & when you start work in Parramatta at 9:30am its annoying to have to waste so much time.

Multi storey car parks are the only way to go. Also the pick up zone is overcrowded & spreads across the roundabout impacting on all traffic.
